Arizona man dies in I-10 accident

BY MELISSA PERNER
THE OZONA STOCKMAN

A 76-year-old man from Phoenix, Ariz. died in an accident last week traveling on Interstate-10.

James Edward Park was pronounced dead at the scene by Crockett County Justice of the Peace Evelyn Kerbow, according to a report from the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Preliminary investigation shows Park, driving a 2000 Mercury Mariner, was entering eastbound Interstate-10 from the 337 exit on ramp on Aug. 9 at 2:54 p.m., approximately 27 miles west of Ozona.

A 2010 International Truck-Tractor was traveling eastbound in the outside lane of I-10. Park's vehicle entered the interstate at a reduced speed, prematurely by turning across the on ramps safety zone, and into the path of the truck-tractor, the report said.

Commissioners approve third wind farm agreement

BY BRENNHA HALE
THE OZONA STOCKMAN

County Commissioners held a public hearing concerning an application to establish a reinvestment zone known as the "High Lonesome Wind Power Reinvestment Zone No. 2".

Notice of the hearing was posted in the Aug. 8 edition of The Ozona Stockman. The proposed wind farm project satisfies the Crockett County tax abatement guidelines, as it should add to the county's tax base and increase employment.

The commissioners approved the order. Pleas Childress abstained from voting. As of now, three companies have launched wind power projects in Crockett County - Apex, High Lonesome and Rancho.

Commissioners also voted to correct typographical errors in the legal description of the first High Lonesome Wind Power Reinvestment Zone by replacing the description of section 10 with section six.

They also voted to adopt a memorandum of understanding between the county and the Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service, since their office is located in a county-owned building and they voted to allow Guardian Security to install a security system in the wellness center.

Cameras will be placed near all entrances, in the foyer area, both workout rooms, and in the pool area. The commissioners opted to wait another month to take action on a landscaping bid for the center and Commissioner Eligio Martinez requested a copy of the minutes of the wellness center board meetings.

The commissioners voted to accept the 2019 budget that will be serviced by a tax rate of $.95 per $100 valuation. Public hearings concerning the new tax rate will be held on Aug. 22 and Aug. 27 at 5:30 p.m. Notice about the hearings and the tax rates can be found on page 5 this edition of The Ozona Stockman.

The 2019 proposed budget includes a $2,700 yearly raise for all full-time county employees and elected officials.

The commissioners will officially approve the 2019 budget and 2018 tax rates at the Sept. 10 regular meeting. They also approved the auditor's and treasurer's reports, voted to keep all benefits for county employees the same as in 2018 and paid bills.

They also agreed to match the Texas Forest Service Grant for the Ozona Volunteer Fire Department.

Jennifer Jennings, a representative from West Texas Counseling Services' Veterans Outreach Program, delivered a presentation on mental health services available to veterans in Crockett County. Their office is in San Angelo, but they provide services in Ozona dealing with anxiety, depression, and psy-chos for veterans and their families in cooperation with the Ozona United Methodist Church on Tuesdays and Fridays.

Veterans Outreach Services can also provide peer to peer mentoring and official diagnosis for the VA. Commissioner Frank Tambunga will be hosting a mental health program for veterans in the Crockett Room on Aug. 21 and Aug. 23.

Commissioners rejected Linus Construction's bid of $506,000 to pave the parking lot of the new jail in concrete and opted instead for the road department to pave areas in asphalt that aren't done in concrete. The jail is

Newspapers: more than meets the eye

When I began my internship in June, I was amazed by how much work and time goes into publishing our weekly paper. My first day of work was a Tuesday, so it was paper day for The Ozona Stockman. Learning the six-step process that develops the pages of our paper onto plates that are ready to be fitted onto the press was one of the most interesting parts of my job. I never knew that so much was involved in physically printing the paper. I guess I just assumed that all the printing and stuffing was done by a machine, so I was really surprised when I learned that the paper's staff stuffed the grocery store inserts in every individual newspaper and labeled them all by hand. Before this summer, I wasn't really aware of what all is printed in the paper other than a few articles, photos, and classified ads. I learned how to navigate the newspaper archives and the meaning of terms like "tear sheet" and "postal report." By typing up all the reports that get sent to the paper, I know now that there is so much more included in our 10 pages. Writing for the newspaper is so different from the articles and stories I had previously written in high school in UIL and yearbook. I had a sheet of facts and quotes given to me to use in an article in UIL, but this summer I had to go out and get information, take pictures, and talk to people myself. I'm so glad I've had Melissa and Susan to help fill in gaps and teach me how to cover things, like commissioners' court meetings, that I'd never even been attended before. I learned what actually makes a newspaper during my internship and I have a new appreciation to all the time and work that is put into the publication every week. BRENNHA HALE is a 2018 graduate of Ozona High School and summer intern at The Ozona Stockman. She will attend Texas Tech University this fall and major in communication studies.

Newsprint tariffs hurt small town newspapers

It isn't that easy to drop everything in the middle of the week and fly to Washington. If you're a community newspaper publisher, going anywhere in the middle of the week is a challenge. That is when the newspaper has to be edited, wrapped up in color, printed, labeled and distributed to readers. People in Mayville, WI, where I publish the Dodge County Pionier, count on my paper. It is how they find out what is happening in town. We don't have a local TV station. Facebook and Google are here, but the internet has no journalists in my town.

NNA NEWS
ANDREW

its profits. The ITC allowed the tax to stay in place while it investigates. For much of this year, American publishers have been receiving continual price increases from their printers, who have been trying all year to adjust to tariffs of more than 30 percent on the paper they use to print our editions. In early August, the federal government said the tariffs could be lowered somewhat in September, but they still would be about 20 percent. This newsprint price increase is very hard for small town newspapers to absorb.

It is the ITC that ultimately decides whether these tariffs will continue at all. Its job is to figure out whether tariffs would help U.S. producers. U.S. producers—the five U.S. mills—certainly face challenges. But those come from the fact that most large newspapers have dramatically cut back on paper usage. There is less demand for newsprint in the U.S., so lower prices have resulted. It is not unfair competition, but natural market forces, while digital editions take over the larger newspaper world that affect the papermakers. A tariff to punish Canada won't create more U.S. papermaking jobs. Larger publications will move faster to digital so they can buy less paper. Smaller ones like mine, will simply shrink and may go away entirely, leaving their towns with no local paper. This tariff just hurts the Pionier, and newspapers like it.

The ITC will accept comments on this tax until Aug. 20. If you want to let the commissioners know what you think, you can find a contact form at www.usitc.gov.

ANDREW JOHNSON, publisher of the Dodge County (Wis.) Pionier and Incoming President, National Newspaper Association.

But it is. In fact, this commission holds in its hands the future of local journalism in Mayville. It holds the same reins for the future of news and information in thousands of small towns across the U.S. I went to ask the commissioners to stop taxing our paper. This tax is hurting the Pionier, its readers and Mayville. The paper we print on is newsprint, known in the industry as uncoated groundwood paper. Most of it comes from Canada. Although there are five paper mills in the U.S. that make this paper, American newspapers have also used Canadian paper for more than a century. It simply isn't possible in the continental U.S. to make enough newsprint to supply the needs of U.S. newspaper readers. Last January, the Department of Commerce slapped a tax, better known as a tariff, on this Canadian paper, and then hit it again in March. The government was responding to a lawsuit by a single paper mill, owned by a New York investment firm, alleging that the Canadian competition was affecting

I Don't Brake For Cows

I don't know why my friend Joan sent me Allen Swift's obituary, other than the fact he was the oldest living owner of a vehicle that had been purchased new. I suspect it's because she thought I held that title because I drove a truck that's so old it didn't have a heated steering wheel, although it did have a heated seat whenever I ate beans for breakfast. Even though my truck dated back to 1985, I'm a piker compared to Mr. Swift who owned his 1928 Rolls Royce for 82 years and drove it until the day he died at 102 years of age. (I could say something sarcastic here about the safety of 100 year old drivers but I don't want to offend my target audience.)

Mr. Swift got his Rolls Royce as a graduation present and drove it around the world several times. (I tried that in my old truck but it always died when it got sea water in its muffler.) I paid $14,000 for my 1985 three quarter ton, long bed, Chevy pickup and it too was in immaculate condition except for a door made entirely from Bondo and alfalfa that grew through the seat covers. I think it would qualify as the oldest ranch truck owned by the original owner that could still go zero to sixty in three months.

I've always said that life is a series of dogs, horses, trucks and spouses and in my 66 years I've had 14 dogs, one lovable horse, one wonderful wife and five pickups. Sadly, only the wife is still with us.

IT'S THE PITTS

LEE PITTS

I called Homeland Security and turned them in for using weapons of math destruction.

Since I literally drive my vehicles till their wheels fall off, it had been 33 years since I'd last bought a truck. I was amazed by all the wonderful new features such as cruise control, heated mirrors, rear window defoggers and keyless entry. My 1985 Chevy truck had keyless entry too but that was just because thieves had broken a wind wing. Remember those?

I was puzzled by one feature on the new trucks and that was the braille on the steering wheel. I'll admit, I haven't been to town for awhile but are we now allowing the blind to drive? I also wondered about features called Sirius/XM and Bluetooth, which sounded to me like the truck needed deworming. But I had to admit, I liked the TV screen in the dashboard. The only time my old truck had a TV in the cab was when we bought a new one at Costco and hauled it home inside the truck because the rear end was filled with toilet paper, dog food and soda pop. Sadly, I finally had to retire my old truck because it was leaking oil worse than the Exxon Valdez and if I filled both tanks with cheap gas when I drove down Main Street it backfired like an artillery barrage and folks on the sidewalk were ducking and diving for cover.

My old truck didn't have air conditioning because neither window would roll down and the only "entertainment center" it had was a radio that only received one station: Static 101FM. It had a heater but it was unusable because a calf called Squirty lived up to his name when we put him in the cab to warm him up, so if you turned on the heater you were blasted with the nauseating smell of sour milk. It didn't have brakes either so if I wanted to stop I had to hit something cheap. There were no trees on the place but if I ran into fence posts it meant more repair work for the wife. That meant that in an emergency I had to brush up against an old cow to stop. I believe this is where the term 'cow-punching' originated.

TEA releases preliminary financial accountability ratings

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS By Ed Sterling | Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Some 80 percent of public school districts and charters earned the highest-possible preliminary financial accountability rating, according to figures released by the Texas Education Agency on Aug. 8.

The "superior" ratings were calculated using 15 financial indicators, such as administrative cost expenditures, the accuracy of a district or charter's financial information submitted to TEA and any financial vulnerabilities or material weaknesses in internal controls, as determined by an external auditor.

Created by the 77th Texas Legislature in 2001, the School Financial Integrity Rating System of Texas encourages public schools to better manage their financial resources to provide the maximum allocation possible for direct instructional purposes, the TEA said.

Any district or charter wishing to appeal its rating must submit a written appeal with supporting evidence to the TEA by Sept. 10. Final ratings will be released in October.

BAIL LAW CHANGES ASKED
Gov. Greg Abbott on Aug. 7 released a set of proposals to reform the state's bail system.

Abbott urged the Legislature to pass legislation he named the "Damon Allen Act" in honor of a state trooper who was killed in the line of duty last Thanksgiving Day.

If passed, the bill would tie the setting of bail to community safety concerns. A magistrate would be required to consider the criminal history of a defendant and other relevant information, including impact on law enforcement, when setting bail.

In cases involving either felony or misdemeanor charges of sexual offenses and assault, the setting of bail would be handled by state district judges and their associate judges.

To protect communities from repeat offenders, the bill would add steps to the bail process, such as required notification of various other agencies through the case management system.

REVENUE IS DISTRIBUTED
Texas Comptroller Glenn Hegar on Aug. 8 announced his office would send cities, counties, transit systems and special purpose taxing districts $842.7 million in local sales tax allocations for the month of August.

The amount is 8.2 percent greater than the amount reported in August 2017. The allocations are based on sales made in June by businesses that report tax monthly. For those filing quarterly, the allocations are based on sales made in April, May and June.

EXTRA VIGILANCE IS URGED

The Texas Department of Public Safety on Aug. 8 posted a reminder to all drivers to slow down in school zones and to be aware of children walking to

Community service hours opportunities available

BY MARY WILLIAMSON
 ASSISTANT ACTIVITIES DIRECTOR

Residents enjoyed fruit with their lunch for Independence Day. A few of them sat on our enclosed porch to watch the fireworks across the highway.
 Our bulletin board with the calendar was decorated with flag print material, red and blue paper rolls on the borders, and the smaller one had a red background with a flag pinned in the middle, a shooting star in the upper left corner, a star in the lower right, and blue stripes on each side.
 For anyone wanting community service hours for honor society, confirmation, or a scouting badge, we play bingo on Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays, and Saturdays at 10 a.m. We have some people who need help with their bingo cards. On Thursdays, we play poker and some help is also needed for that game.

 We have started the music and memory program here and we need a few tech-savvy volunteers to be music detectives and help download music from iTunes to the computer and onto the residents' MP3 players. We have splitters so you can listen I with residents when they are listening to their music. This is a great opportunity to see the magic of music and bond with senior citizens.
 Marta conducted a few sessions with the residents painting pictures on canvas. The residents enjoyed the painting. Residents and staff also played Loteria with some really great prizes.

 Thank you to the various churches that come weekly to conduct bible study for the residents that wish to continue in their faith, but are not able to go to church. Also, thank you to The Ozona Stockman for providing the residents with a weekly paper.
 We will accept donations of prizes to give the residents when they win games. To make arrangements for volunteering, contact Marta De La Garza at 325-392-3096 ext 31.

Meals for Vets available in Ozona

Meals for Vets (MFV), a program of Honor Veterans Now, reaches veterans all across Texas who are in need of a hot meal a day. MFV provides consistent access to healthy, nutritious meals for veterans under age 60 who served honorably and are struggling financially. MFV partners with Veterans Service Officer, Frank Tambunga, who can assist in referring a veteran to receive meals.

Honor Veterans Now was founded by Tom Wollny in 2015 after he learned that there were veterans who were going hungry but did not qualify for assistance because of their age. Since then HVN and Meals for Vets has expanded throughout Texas and has been blessed to be able to provide over 100,000 meals to veterans in need who otherwise would not know when their next meal would be.

Veterans needing the services of MFV, or to refer a veteran, please call (800) 676-1389 or visit the HVN website at www.honorveteransnow.org. VSO Frank Tambunga may also be reached at (325) 392-1321 between 8 a.m.- noon and 1-5 p.m.

Inflammation: your best friend or worst enemy

HERE'S TO YOUR HEALTH
JIM FISH

Inflammation is a normal bodily function for self-protection. It is how the body deals with harmful debris such as damaged or dead cells, irritants, and microorganisms. When an irritant affects any part of the body, its response is to try to eliminate it. The symptoms of inflammation indicate the body is trying to heal itself, it is not "infection." Infection is caused by bacteria, virus and fungus, and inflammation is the body's response to them.

Inflammation is not complex, it is a perfectly evolved, biological process that protects us from microscopic aggressors. Nevertheless, when our body is continually exposed to injury by malnutrients in our foods and toxic elements in our environment, chronic inflammation occurs and is just as harmful as acute inflammation is beneficial.

Chronic inflammation is the major contributor to heart disease, atherosclerosis and many other western diseases. Why so many physicians still fixate on cholesterol as even a factor in cardiovascular disease is not only archaic but incomprehensible.

Dr. Ron Rosdale said, "The fixation on cholesterol as a major cause of heart disease defies the last 15 years of science and deflects from real causes such as the damage (via glycation) that sugars such as glucose and fructose inflict on organs and tissues, including the lining of arteries, causing chronic inflammation and resultant plaque."

In the article, "Heart Surgeon Speaks Out on What Really Causes Heart Disease," Dr. Dwight Lundell, a heart surgeon with 25 years of experience, having performed over 5,000 open-heart surgeries, informs us via the "Prevent Disease" website: "The only accepted therapy was prescribing medications to lower cholesterol and a diet that severely restricted fat intake. The latter of course we insisted would lower cholesterol and heart disease. Deviations from these recommendations were considered heresy and could quite possibly result in malpractice. These recommendations are no longer scientifically or morally defensible. The discovery that [chronic] inflammation in the artery wall is the real cause of heart disease is slowly leading to a paradigm shift in how heart disease and other chronic ailments will be treated."

Processed sugar and flour, and high-fructose corn syrup (HFCs) are at the top of the list of inflammatory foods causing not only chronic inflammation but numerous other western diseases stemming from carbohydrate intolerance.

Sugars activate the release of inflammatory messengers called cytokines, according to the American Journal of Clinical Nutrition. Any word ending in "ose"; such as fructose, dextrose, lactose, maltose or sucrose are sugar, and goes by many other names in most of the processed foods we eat every day.

Sucrose is the most common type of sugar, called "table sugar," it is a naturally occurring simple carbohydrate found in most fruits and plants. Usually extracted from sugar cane or sugar beets, it consists of 50 percent glucose and 50 percent fructose. Sucrose is found in ice cream, candy, pastries, cookies, soda, fruit juices, canned fruit, some processed meats, breakfast cereals, ketchup, cooked starchy foods like potatoes, and that's just to name a few.

High-fructose corn syrup is the most widely used, inexpensive sweetener in the US. It is industrially produced from corn starch and consists of both fructose and glucose in varying amounts, but the most common type is 55 percent fructose and 45 percent glucose. In 1970, the average consumption per person was a pound per year before it replaced sugar as an industrial sweetener. In 2010, the average person consumed 60 pounds of HFCs per year; add sucrose consumption and it is 175 pounds of sweetener per person/per year, in 2014.

Other inflammatory foods and ingredients include; trans fats, omega 6 fatty acids, refined carbohydrates (white flour products - breads, rolls, crackers, white rice, white potatoes, instant mashed potatoes, and french fries), mono-sodium glutamate (MSG), gluten and casein (proteins found in dairy and wheat), soy beans, aspartame (a non-nutritive, neurotoxin, intense artificial sweetener found in more than 4,000 products worldwide) and alcohol.

When chronic inflammation is rampant, as with rheumatoid arthritis, it can damage the body and has a role in Type-2 Diabetes, Alzheimer's disease, obesity, heart disease, and cancer.

Foods high in sugar and the carbohydrates listed above can spur inflammation. "They cause overactivity in the immune system, which can lead to joint pain, fatigue, and damage to the blood vessels," says Scott Zashin, MD, clinical professor at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center in Dallas.

More than who you know, it's what you know about chronic inflammation that will assure your health and wellness.

OBITUARIES

Manley Lewis Holmes

SHEFFIELD, TX - Manley Lewis Holmes, known to his friends as "Buddy", went to be with his Lord and Savior on August 13, 2018, at the age of 77. Manley was born on May 24, 1941, in Iraan, Texas to local ranchers, Millard Merrell (Tom) and Kathleen Winona Holmes.

On February 9, 1970, Manley married the love of his life, Julia Mae Brazee. Together, they shared 48 wonderful years of friendship and marriage.

In 1964, Manley enlisted in the Texas Army National Guard and served honorably as a medical corpsman until 1970. After that, Manley served 40 years in the education field, teaching, coaching and as principal, impacting the lives of many children, primarily in Sanderson and Ozona.

Manley loved the Lord, and enjoyed his ranching activities on the Pecos River. He also loved 4-H, FFA, and BSA youth organizations, cooking authentically on his 100 year old chuckwagon, and cowboy and western swing music.

Manley was preceded in death by his parents, Millard and Winona Holmes; brother, Richard Lackey; sister, Betty Alldredge; and grandson, Zachery Wayne Rankin.

He is survived by his wife, Julia Mae Holmes; son, Hal Rankin and wife Tammy of Kermit; son Wayne Holmes and wife Carrie of Iraan; daughter, LaSonja Hildebrand of San Angelo; his grandchildren, Cody Rankin of Monahans, Lane Smith of Kermit, Shane Holmes and wife Audrey of Sanderson, Travis Holmes and wife Kelsie of Canyon; Kayla Nunez and husband Nikko of Austin, Sean Hildebrand and wife Rebecca of Midland, and Tristen Hildebrand and wife Isabel of San Angelo; brother, Tommy Joe Holmes and wife Margaret of Iraan; and four great-grandchildren.

FROM THE PULPIT...

The Foolish Gospel

1 Corinthians 1:18 "For to them that perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God."

How foolish to believe that a ninety-year-old woman (Sarah) could ever conceive and give birth to a son!

What would we think if someone were to tell us that, on the cross, Christ said - it is finished? What if that person were to say that God has freely given to us all things in Christ Jesus? And if He told us that all is grace? Would we laugh at the foolishness of these declarations? Would we conclude that nobody in their right mind would believe such nonsense?

Yes, to some, the preaching of the cross is foolishness, but unto us which are saved, it is the power of God. It is the power of God because we know, beyond a shadow of a doubt, that all (not just part) of our righteousnesses are as filthy rags. We know that if God, in Christ Jesus, does not justify, sanctify and bless us, then we will never obtain these things. The only thing we have to offer God are our tattered rags. And in exchange for these rags, He has given to us His perfect and complete salvation.

We have placed all our

eggs in the basket of God's scandalous and redeeming grace; we know whom we have believed and are persuaded that He is able to keep that which we have committed unto Him against that day. Because of this, the laughter of Isaac floods our souls. We no longer march to the beat of the Law, but dance to the praise of the glory of His grace.

In my hand no price I bring, simply to thy cross I cling.

TOM SLOAN is the pastor of Friendship Baptist Church in Ozona, Texas. Mona and Tom have been missionaries in Mexico since 1994. She was raised in a preacher's home in Austin, and Tom was raised in a missionary's home in Chiapas, Mexico. Mona and Tom have been married for 24 years and they have five children with the oldest being 22 and the youngest being 10.

A NICE SLOW WONDERFUL RAIN

Recently my wife asked me if I was praying for rain. I told her not earnestly because I had not really thanked Him enough for the last rains He sent earlier this summer. It has been dry and so hot lately but we are trusting in the Lord to provide. I do not attentively watch the sky or whole heartedly listen to the weather men. I put my faith in God who is all powerful, (1 Chronicles 29:11&12) and able to do anything, (Psalm 115:3 & 135:6). Sure enough this morning it started raining and kept on. I was such a good slow rain. My wife and I are different when it comes to rain. She gets all excited and praises the Lord. She will even go outside and play in the rain and as soon as it stops she will ride around and to see where it has rained. I really think she just like to drive through the mud puddles and see the water splash. I like to drive around a few days after the rain and look around and because I am in a lot more thankful mood then. I came to the conclusion before the rain that God was in control, not me and I would accept whatever he had for us, (Philippians 4:11-13). Lately I have been going around looking for different things that I can thank God for, (Psalm 9:1&2).

Abbott sets runoff to replace state Sen. Carlos Uresti for Sept. 18

BY PATRICK SVITEK AND ALEX SAMUELS
TEXAS TRIBUNE

Texas Gov. Greg Abbott has picked Sept. 18 as the date of the special election runoff to replace convicted former state Sen. Carlos Uresti, D-San Antonio.

Early voting will run Sept. 10-14.

The runoff pits Republican Pete Flores against Democrat Pete Gallego. They were the top two finishers in the first round of the special election, which was held July 31 and included six other candidates.

The runoff date was first revealed Monday by lawyers appearing in Travis County court for a case challenging the eligibility of Gallego, the former congressman and longtime state lawmaker from West Texas.

Abbott issued a proclamation officially setting the date of the runoff shortly after the hearing was over.

The Republican Party of Texas is suing to remove Gallego from the ballot, alleging he does not live in the district as required by state law.

"Pete Gallego has established a longtime pattern of misleading the voters of Texas regarding his place of residency. It's common knowledge Gallego does not live in Senate District 19," Texas GOP Chairman James Dickey said in a statement. "He has for years lived with his family in Austin, where his wife has a homestead exemption; this well-known and well-documented."

At the hearing, a lawyer for the state party unsuccessfully sought to block the Texas secretary of state from certifying the candidates for the runoff.

Under state law, a candidate has to reside in the district he or she hopes to represent for a year before election day. Residency claims are notoriously hard to prove, however, because that doesn't always mean that a candidate actually lives in the district.

Gallego campaign manager Christian Archer responded to the lawsuit in a statement, calling it frivolous and saying the state GOP "should be fined for even filing it."

"Pete Gallego has lived in Alpine since 1989 when he returned home to become a local felony prosecutor," Archer said. "Pete is registered to vote in Alpine, where he has always voted, and where he pays his utilities. This lawsuit is a desperate move on behalf of a failing campaign."

The final results of the race showed Flores — who racked up endorsements by U.S. Sens. Ted Cruz and John Cornyn, Gov. Greg Abbott and Lt. Gov. Dan Patrick — leading Gallego by 5 percentage points, 34 percent to 29 percent. At 24 percent, state Rep. Roland Gutierrez, D-San Antonio, came in third in the eight-way race.

Uresti resigned earlier this year after being found guilty of 11 felonies, including securities fraud and money laundering, prompting a special election to replace him.

still on schedule to be completed in the middle of September.

They also voted to purchase tow trucks for the road department. The department's old vehicles will be transferred to the county's wildlife and livestock protection specialists.

Because of recent rains, the road department will also work to make several county roads that washed out passible and finish paving streets in town.

The commissioners lifted the burn ban and voted to make no change to the sheriff's and constable fees and to impose no optional county fees in 2019.

They took no action to purchase a new copier for the annex building, as there is $10,000 in the 2019 budget to cover the new equipment.

Library Director Susan Williams reported that the Friends of the Crockett County Library will be selling raffle tickets at Davy Crockett Day on Sept. 15.

Care Center Administrator Dewayne Atwood reported that Stephannie Schroeder was hired as the new Director of Nurses for the care center and has already cut down their supply costs by $3,000. He also plans to replace the floors in the hallways and residents' rooms in 2019.

OZONA SENIOR HAPPENINGS

Jewelry making Friday

BY BRENDA NEWTON
SENIOR CENTER DIRECTOR

Wow, what a wonderful trip we had to see our granddaughter graduate from Texas A&M. She really made us proud with a cum laude Bachelor of Science degree in Agricultural Communications and Journalism. I just wish her grandfather, Johnny Jones, could have been there to see this. He was so proud of his grandchildren. We are also so proud.

We tried it before and we are going to try it again. On Friday at 10 a.m. we are going to put some jewelry together. If you have broken jewelry, or things that you don't like anymore, bring it with you and we can all work together to get it fixed. I have some tools to work with and a piece of material to spread it out on and the thread to string it on. Then, you can have a new piece of jewelry to wear. Lisa and I have tried it and had a really good time. Come join in!

Please use the new exit on the south side of the center. It is a little hard to see, but it is the crossing that is across from Avenue D. It has been paved so it is really smooth. The exit in front of the center is dangerous because of truck traffic. There will be signs put up on this new entrance shortly. We do not want any of you to be in an accident leaving this facility. Please pay closer attention to traffic when leaving from town. Remember there is a curve there that blocks vision until it is too late.

We had a visit from the Concho Valley Community Action Agency which is the agency that helps you with Utilities. They left some applications for utility assistance. Come by the center and we will give you an application to fill out and send in to the agency. They said they would not be coming to the area facilities anymore and they only way to receive help is through their office in San Angelo or through mail-in applications. Please check the website for the required documents or call the number listed: <http://cvcaa.org> or (325) 653-2411.

We will have afternoon bingo each Thursday. Bring your nickels and play as many cards as you can handle at a nickel a card per game. If you bingo for that game, you get all the nickels. We serve cokes and popcorn and have a good time. Then we have blackout bingo for a little prize for the lucky winner.

The center will open at 8:30 a.m. and close at 4:30 p.m.

Exercise at 9 a.m. on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

Mexican Train at 1:30 p.m. on Wednesday

Prayer Group at 3 p.m. on Wednesday

Quilting at 9:30 a.m. on Thursday.

SCHOOL ZONES and BUSES

The Texas Department of Public Safety cautions drivers to slow down in school zones, be aware of children walking to and from school or waiting for buses. Drivers should be especially alert and careful around school buses - which make frequent stops - and always follow traffic laws regarding school buses and school zones. The start of the school year also generates an increase in overall traffic in many areas, and drivers should take extra precautions.

"With school districts across Texas returning to classes in the coming weeks, DPS is urging drivers to slow down and be alert in school zones and wherever children are present," said DPS Director Steven McCraw. "Motorists who disregard the law and illegally pass stopped school buses put our schoolchildren in harm's way - and that reckless and irresponsible behavior will not be tolerated by DPS."

The moments when students are entering or exiting the bus can be one of the most dangerous times during a child's trip on a school bus. Accordingly, DPS reminds drivers to reduce speed and be aware that children may unexpectedly step into a roadway without checking for oncoming traffic.

State law requires that drivers stop when a bus is stopped and operating a visual signal - either red flashing lights or a stop sign. Drivers should not proceed until the school bus resumes motion; the driver is signaled by the bus driver to proceed; or the visual signal is no longer activated. Approaching drivers do not have to stop for a school bus that is operating a visual signal if the roadway is separated by a physical barrier or an intervening space. (If a highway is divided only by a left-turning lane, the roadways are not considered separated, and drivers must stop for school buses.)

As a reminder, school buses, by law, must stop at all railroad crossings.

Drivers who illegally pass school buses face fines up to $1,250 for the first offense. For individuals convicted of this offense more than once, the law allows the individual's driver license to be suspended for up to six months. (A ticket for illegally passing a school bus cannot be dismissed through defensive driving.) Additionally, this offense could potentially include criminal charges if they cause serious bodily injury to another.

and from school or waiting for buses.

With the new school year beginning, drivers should be especially alert and careful around school buses and to expect an increase in overall traffic, DPS Director Steven McCraw said.

"Motorists who disregard the law and illegally pass stopped school buses put our schoolchildren in harm's way, and that reckless and irresponsible behavior will not be tolerated by DPS," McCraw said.

Drivers who illegally pass school buses face fines as high as $1,250 for the first offense. For individuals convicted of that offense more than once, the law allows the individual's license to be suspended for up to six months, the DPS said.

PAXTON AIMS TO STOP DACA

Texas Attorney General Ken Paxton on Aug. 8 asked a Brownsville U.S. District Court for a nationwide injunction to curtail the issue or renewal of permits under its Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program while Texas' multi-state coalition lawsuit, filed in May, is pending.

Created by an Obama administration executive order in 2012, DACA has granted lawful presence and work permits to about 700,000 non-citizens who reside in the United States.

The attorneys general of six other states joined Paxton in the request. All jointly expressed an ultimate goal of having the court declare the entire DACA program unconstitutional. Paxton said he believes DACA is unconstitutional because it took effect without congressional approval and allowed the president "to unilaterally set aside any duly enacted law."

THE ARMADILLOS HAVE EMERGED IN NASHVILLE

The Outlaw phenomenon produced powerful music and everlasting bonds between Nashville and Texas. Willie and Waylon, Bobby Bare, and Kris Kristofferson demanded and got greater creative freedom and the movement was real—not just a marketing term, but a creative flowering, a confluence of art and revelry, whiskey and poetry.
