Dean Bishop, manager of National Alfalfa Dehydrating & Milling Co. plant here, said first harvest began on the farm of S. L. Jackson, northeast of Muleshoe, who had 33 acres ready for cutting.

But Mr. Jackson said if weather permits the harvest in succeeding days will be continuous, as the crop is ready on many farms. A day crew was operating Monday, but day and night shifts will be the rule before the week is out. The mill employs a skeleton crew during winter months and about 20 persons during the haying season.

Mr. Bishop recently took over the management of the local mill, coming here from Hereford to succeed Arlys Leverage, who resigned to enter the insurance business.

Hoped For 300 Acres Cucumbers Turns Into More Than 400 Acres Locally

Setting out to obtain a hoped for 300 acres contracted to cucumber production, a Garland, Texas pickle manufacturer found himself swamped with applicants wanting to plant cucumbers in the Muleshoe area.

Two weeks ago, a representative of the Craddock Food Manufacturing Company of Garland approached the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce with an idea of securing contracts for about 300 acres of cucumbers for their pickling factory.

Senn Slemmons, Chamber manager brought the plea to The Journal, and a story appeared that week. The next morning calls began coming in from folks wanting to learn more about the cucumber contracts.

A check this Monday morning revealed that 407 acres have been contracted for, and only the shortage of seed has caused a halt in contracting for further acreage.

Slemmons expressed his satisfaction with the project, stating that it is another step forward toward obtaining further industry in Muleshoe.

"That old common-grade oil I used to use in these irrigation engines sure did let the dirt and dust and rust cake up in those engines! But worse than that, with butane or propane, it thickened up when it looked almost like gear-grease! Man, what a change with this AMALIE L. P. G. Oil!"

AMALIE L. P. G. is more than just a good oil, it's a super oil. When you burn butane or propane (Liquid Petroleum Gas), ordinary oil won't do. It must be ENGINEERED for L. P. G. And AMALIE L. P. Pointers On Speeding Mail Service Given By Arnold Allcorn

Postmaster Arnold Allcorn, gave pointers today on how mailers may speed mail and take advantage of postal services.

Plan A Mailing Schedule By mailing a little earlier, the mail may make an outgoing transportation connection that will have 24-hours or more in delivery time.

Don't Over-Staff Envelopes Envelopes too small for contents frequently burst open, resulting in delays or even loss.

Use Correct Postage In case of underpayment, mail is returned to the sender for additional postage or "Postage Due" is collected from the addressee with resulting dissatisfaction.

Use Air Mail Wisely Use Air Mail on important mail that would not get next-day delivery if sent otherwise.

Questions Don't hesitate to contact your local Post Office when you have a question or problem.

The Mule Is Losing As Work Animal

OUT OF THE PICTURE
 The long-eared mule is being pushed out of the picture on Cotton Belt farms. Since 1940, more than two and a half million workstock have disappeared from the Belt, and a million tractors have taken their place.

If you've had the slightest contact with the American mule, you know one thing for sure. Pushing the long-eared creature around isn't an easy job.

Yet that is exactly what is happening today in the Cotton Belt. The mule is being pushed off cotton farms at a rapid clip by mechanical monster — the tractor. Since 1940, more than two and a half million workstock have disappeared from the Cotton Belt, and a million tractors have taken their place.

Substitution of tractors for workstock has run a large part of its course, the National Cotton Council reports. Only on small farms, primarily in the Southeast, is the substitution running into difficulty. Even so, it is estimated that 90 per cent of the land preparation, 60 per cent of the planting, and 80 per cent of the cultivation in the Southeast are presently done with tractors.

Elsewhere in the Belt, the replacement of workstock is virtually complete.

Mule numbers in this country reached their peak in the mid-twenties, when there were nearly six million on the nation's farms. Texas, alone, had more than a million of the long eared and sox-eyed animals.

Missouri, a traditional mule state, has gone out of the mule business very rapidly. During one 8-year period, the mule population there was reduced by 129,000 head.

One writer has suggested that the American language will lose something when a generation comes along that does not realize the full implications of calling an obstinate person "mule-headed."

Despite the switch from mule to tractor, the cotton industry still has a long way to go to reach complete mechanization. Problems must be solved, and needs must be filled in order for the industry to lower production costs and improve the quality of cotton.

Such factors are pointed to as ways of easing the cost-price squeeze for growers and as a means of improving the competitive position of the commodity.

An outstanding need is to supplement hand methods of weed control with mechanical and chemical techniques. When developed successfully, such techniques would perhaps replace as much as 50 per cent of the labor now associated with weed control. They are potentially applicable to probably 85 per cent tailed planning to coordinate cotton farming practices. In order to reap fully the benefits of mechanization, the grower must mold production practices into a smooth package.

In the area of harvesting, a need exists for development of more satisfactory, smaller machines, a price range suitable to a greater number of farmers, and concentration on machine performance to harvest quality cotton under a wider range of conditions.

Cotton producers in each cotton-growing state need to be impressed with the vital importance of securing the highest cotton quality possible as a result lives in Castlepeak community close to Abilene, has made 1,087 quilts in the last ten years.

Sewing for her family and neighbors, "Granny" Baccus turned out a quilt on the average of every three days. She used a sewing machine, a practice frowned upon in most quilting circles. Her designs are simple, and her workmanship is neat and sturdy.

During her ten years of quilting, Granny Baccus figures that she used more than 10,870 yards of cotton material. This includes cotton feed and flour sacks, domestic prints, and outing. She used approximately 300 pounds of lint cotton and 1,500 spools of cotton thread.

Granny can tell you the whereabouts of just about every wooden spool that furnished thread for her quilts. Some 1,200 decorate the walls of her homestead, and another hundred lie in a box ready for stringing. Hundreds more have been given away as children's playthings.

Just recently Granny Baccus quit quilting. But she already has a new hobby—serious reading. In addition to magazines and newspapers, she's read more than 100 books, and her friends

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

By Raymond Euler

Kenneth Rudd, director, and Ed Dzuick, president of Deaf Smith County Farm Bureau were in attendance at PCFB's regular directors meeting a week ago last Monday night. Your directors are always glad to have visitors from anywhere attend their meetings on the first Monday night of each month in the Farm Bureau office in Friona. You will not be requested to keep quiet, but will be asked to say what ever you may desire to say regarding farm problems or relative problems.

The cotton meetings held at Lazbuddie, Bovina and Friona were pretty well attended, and interest was shown in the facts presented by the Cotton Council representatives. Gilbert Kaltwasser is submitting a report regarding these problems and possible solutions to Parmer county newspapers. We believe you will find it good reading.

Donald Christian and Billy Joe Foster were the boys who brought bedding for the recent stock show. The truck and labor were their contribution to the success of the show, as co-workers with Farm Bureau. The Fair Association pays for the bedding. The Grain Dealers Association which met in Amarillo a week ago was good on some points. One resolution they voted on causes us to question their interest in their farmer benefactors, however. They voted to request the redemption date of farm-stored grains to be changed to coincide with that of commercial warehouses "because farmers are able to hold their grain until warehouses "because farmers are had to turn their commodities to CCC and the farmer is thus able to get better prices for his farm-stored commodities on the free market". Though there is some question about this supposition, we thought the program was instituted for the benefit of producers rather than warehousemen.

Babson Discusses . . .

SPECULATIVE TRUSTS

Babson Park, Mass., May 16— I believe in Trust Funds, for both children and grandchildren. The ideal method is to leave one half of your money in trust, and one half outright. In the case of children or grandchildren, you save an inheritance tax by leaving the money in trust for them and providing that your wife will have a life interest in the income. There are three reasons for forming such trusts: (1) For the protection of your estate; (2) for the saving of inheritance taxes; and (3) to be sure your children and grandchildren get what you want them to have. All of this will be explained to you without charge by the trust officer of my bank.

WHAT ABOUT DIVERSIFICATION?
A trust officer will properly diversify your holdings as to securities. This is also true of any money you put into Mutual Funds. Such Trust Funds, however, do not provide for diversification of management. My appeal this week is that you have several Trust Funds, each in a different bank so as to get diversification of management, as well as diversification of securities.

Trust officers are supposed to protect you against inflation. To do this they buy either convertible bonds or common stocks. Buying common stocks today, however, may be rather risky. This especially applies to the "Blue Chips," which trust officers like to buy in order to protect their own reputations. This also applies to bankers and committees who are investing Pension Funds for corporations. Few of these trustees invest with the idea of making a profit for you or your heirs, but rather with the sole purpose of providing safety and protection against possible inflation.

INVESTING FOR PROFIT
In previous weeks this column has shown how you can build $10,000 up to $1,000,000 in 25 years without borrowing any money or without buying anything on margin. This would be by investing in new industries before the brokers and the public woke up to their possibilities. To accomplish this I believe that the $10,000 should be divided into four Trust Funds of $2,500 each in order to get competition between the different Trustees. A bank does not wish to be bothered with such small Trust Funds. Hence, it will be practically impossible to get four banks to do this. This means that you must get four individuals to serve as Trustees.

These individuals should be young college instructors, — one in physics, one in chemistry, one in biology, and one in business administration. If you have a son or daughter who is in college, have him or her pick out four bright, forward-looking instructors to serve as such trustees. Otherwise, write the United Information Service, 6 Maiden Lane, New York City, which will help you. These individuals should be paid a good commission for their services, based on the results which they secure for you. This will make them more interested in serving you. Having a number of trustees will also create competition and rivalry between these four college instructors.

IMPORTANCE OF YOUTH
I advise a selection of young college instructors, rather than old professors, because the older men are usually more interested in their own reputations and have more fear of making a mistake. The Trust Agreements will, however, provide that the Trustees will not be held responsible for any losses. It will be assumed that one or two of the four trustees will lose money; but your goal will be in the total result of the four. No one person can foresee in advance which of the four will "hit the jackpot." This is the principle upon which you must work if you expect to turn $10,000 into $1,000,000 in 25 years.

I am interested in having young people as Trustees for these "speculative" funds for another reason. Older men are constantly looking backward rather than forward. They want to see the audits of companies for previous years. These audits are more like autopsies. They are useful in helping a person to save his money; but are of very little use in helping him make a fortune by investing in new industries. Youth looks forward; youth is willing to take a chance; and youth is the hope of America, especially as to new developments and new industries. I would also like to see one of these Trustees a young woman. The President of the well-known investment house, A. M. Kidder & Co., is a woman. In fact, the majority of our nation's stockholders are women.

INVESTING FOR PROFITS
This is especially important for people in high income brackets who are compelled to pay a tax of 30% or more on general income but would need to pay only 25% on profits from securities. Furthermore, I am not advising that all your Trust Funds be of a speculative nature specializing in new industries. If, however, you plan to leave $50,000 to some grandchild in trust, I certainly advise that $10,000 of this be left with four forward-looking trustees, leaving the remaining $40,000 in a Trust Fund with a bank, to be operated in the usual orthodox manner.

Sandhill Philosopher Wants . . . A Closer Look At Farmer Who Knows What's Coming Up In '57

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is trying to find a short cut to a farming profit, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:
Everybody is talking about the budget these days, and though budget trouble were something new, and they may be for some people, but not for me — I've been having budget trouble ever since I can remember — and I was especially interested in an article I read in a copy of a newspaper which I picked up in the road near my house yesterday morning. I think somebody had thrown it out the night before with some tin cans wrapped up in it.

According to it, officials in Washington are worried about the size of the budget and worried more about what'll happen to them if they cut out the wrong items, and consequently they've decided to call in a bunch of economists to tell them if the budget is so big it might break the country, and if not, whether the national economy is going to continue up or start down or hold its own.

Now the thing about this move that interests me is that among the economists and leaders invited to the conference is a farmer. They didn't say what farmer, but just added that in addition to leading economists, professors, business advisors, etc., there'd also be included a farmer. What I want to know is: who is this farmer who knows what the economy is going to do in the next twelve months?

Furthermore, does he believe in it strong enough to plant by it? And if so, does it work? And if so, how come he's been keeping this information to himself?

That is, you take me, I've been trying to guess what the market 12 months away is going to be on the products from this farm out here for years, and I can count on the fingers on one hand the times I've hit it right. I don't know about this farmer that's going to Washington, but I don't have anymore idea at planting time what the market is going to be at harvesting time than what the weather will be like next Tuesday. Moreover, if there are any other farmers that know, they don't live close to me.

If Washington ever identifies this farmer that knows what the national economy is going to do in the next twelve months, I'd like to start a collection to bring him to Muleshoe and let the rest of us get a close look at him. There are several questions I'd like to ask him about this year's crops, not to mention what the cattle market will be like this fall.

Yours faithfully,

THIS WEEK

—In Washington

With

Clinton Davidson

A Washington official doesn't have to be a contortionist to put his foot in his mouth, although it helps. Several in recent years have become quite adept at it.

But something happened recently that you'll seldom see, or hear about: The President of the United States with a farmer's foot in his mouth. It proved to be both uncomfortable and embarrassing.

Mr. Eisenhower was talking with newsmen at his press conference when he let go with the off-hand remark that farmers are getting government subsidies at the rate of more than $1,000 each per year.

What the President didn't foresee was that his remark would stir up a hornet's nest and bring down on the White House a swarm of angry congressmen and farmers. The word "subsidy" still is resented by many farmers.

It may have been Agriculture Secretary Benson's most embarrassing moment in Washington when he had to publicly tell Mr. Eisenhower he didn't know what he was talking about, and make him admit it. But that is what happened.

The assumption around Washington was that Mr. Eisenhower had been reading too many big city newspaper editorials. The inside story of how the boner really happened hasn't, up until now, been told. The President failed to check his source of information, something he frequently charges newsmen fail to do.

The fact is a Presidential advisor, who might as well remain anonymous, added two and two and came to the conclusion that the total was four. And, as everybody who has been around Washington very long knows, that isn't always the correct answer.

This mathematical neophyte took Census Bureau figures showing there are 5 million farmers. Then he divided that number into the USDA's 1958 fiscal year budget of $3.3 billion. The result, on the face of it, seemed to Mr. Eisenhower to be logical.

The facts, as farmers learned long ago, frequently don't jibe with Washington bureaucratic deductions. It was the loose use of that nasty word "subsidy" that was like a red flag to farmers. It sounded almost as if he had said "charity."

Secretary Benson rushed to the White House, through the back door, to tell the President some of the facts of life on the farm. He said, in effect: "I hate to tell you this, but you shouldn't have said that. The word we use down at the Department is 'incentive.'"

And besides, Benson added, the statement was not factually accurate. Congress, despite his opposition, Benson explained, had ordered supports at specified percentages of a fair price.

Furthermore, Benson may have added, it was Mr. Eisenhower who urged Congress in 1956 to pass the $1.2 billion a year Soil Bank. He probably didn't remind the President that he, Benson, thought at the time that it was unwise.

Mr. Benson may have had some difficulty himself in explaining just which items in the budget are subsidy, and which are not. Probably he couldn't improve on Mr. Webster's definition of subsidy as "a government grant to assist a private enterprise deemed advantageous to the public."

Anyway, Mr. Benson insisted, farmers would never see $4 out of every $5 in the USDA budget. Most of it would go for such non-farm uses as salaries for Department employees, research and regulatory work, losses on cut-rate sales to foreign consumers, loans to REA and FHA, and various other USDA activities ordered by Congress and approved by the President.

Mr. Eisenhower said he was sorry and that he hoped farmers would forgive him and that he'd never, never use that naughty word again.

A survey conducted by the Super Market Institute revealed that mature housewives make better checkers than younger girls.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

Humanity's need for spiritual growth and progress will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Mortals and Immortals" is the Golden Text from I Corinthians (15:53): "This corruptible must put on incorruption and this mortal must put on immortality."

Readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (265:5): "Mortals must gravitate Godward their affections and aims grow spiritual,— they must hear the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite— in order that sin and mortality may be put off." Scripture selections to be read include the following from Psalms (89:15): "Blessed is the people that know the joyful sound they shall walk, O Lord, in the light of thy countenance."

the enforcement of an egg grade and standards law.

Recent passing of the Texas Egg Law brings the state in line with all other states which already have active egg programs, making possible the protection of Texas egg producers and consumers alike from misrepresented and mislabeled eggs.

The law became effective immediately upon its passage although it will not become operative in full for a six-months period. This, presumably is to allow for the preparation of persons and firms for compliance with the law in full.

With a few minor exceptions, the new egg law provides that eggs sold for human consumption must be graded according to consumer grades and weight classes set up by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The new law also makes it illegal to sell or advertise shell eggs below the quality of Grade A as "fresh," "yard," "selected," "henery," "newlaid," "cage," or other words which represent such eggs to be fresh. This does not include the sale of eggs from a producer's own flocks. The labeling provisions are among those which will not become effective until 180 days following the law's effective date, or in about six months.

TODAY'S MEDITATION

Loving Our Neighbor
Read Matthew 19:16-22.
Thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, walk ye in it, when ye turn to the right hand, and when ye turn to the left, Isaiah 30:21.

"This would happen to me" I heard a young man mutter. He had locked up his car and left the keys inside. "Do you have another key?" I asked.
"Yes, but at home," he replied.
"May I take you home to get it?" I asked.
"Well, surely, but you're a stranger."

The trip was spent in discussing generalities. While I waited for him to get his key, the voice said to me: "Witness about the Lord to him." As he reentered the car, he asked: "Why did you do this for me, a stranger?" My answer was: "Because I am a Christian. Are you a Christian?" I asked.

The answer came about three years later. A man asked: "Do you remember me—the man who needed a key?" I just stopped to tell you that I can answer your question now. I am a Christian, my wife is a Christian. Our whole family goes to church and Sunday school.

PRAYER
Father, may we be so sensitive to the leading of the Spirit that we may hear His promptings. Help us to be good stewards of opportunities to witness to Thee as well as to give of our time and funds. Thru Christ our Lord. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Before YOU settle for a small car...

READ THIS STARTLING FACT

5 out of 10 smaller cars wear a Pontiac price tag - yet none give you any of Pontiac's advantages

PONTIAC GIVES YOU MORE SOLID CAR PER DOLLAR THAN THE BIGGEST OF THE SMALLER JOBS!

The so-called "low-price" numbers just aren't in it—Pontiac gives you up to 8.9% more solid car per dollar! And your Pontiac dealer can prove it—with official specifications. Check them yourself. Starting with Pontiac's rugged X-member frame and continuing through every inch of the car, you'll discover engineering advances and advantages the smaller cars haven't even thought of. Then put the facts and figures to a test—with you behind the wheel. Feel the safe, solid security of Pontiac's extra-rugged left... the way it holds the road... the absence of bounce and shake. More important, you'll discover that this big heavyweight handles like a dream in traffic or on the open road, because only Pontiac offers you Precision-Touch Controls for almost effortless steering and braking. No doubt about it—here's driving that puts the smaller cars in the shade!

NO SMALLER CAR EVEN APPROACHES PONTIAC'S 122-INCH WHEELBASE!

You can't ride on overhang—but you can on wheelbase! Pontiac gives you from 4 to 7 inches more length between the wheels where it counts! From bump-smoothing comfort to interior stretch-out room, this is real man-size bigness! Add to this extra length Pontiac's exclusive Level-Line Ride and you have a car that makes the smaller jobs seem like toys!

NOTHING ON WHEELS PERFORMS LIKE A PONTIAC... THE SMALLER CARS DON'T EVEN COME CLOSE!

Your Pontiac dealer can show you on-the-record proof that Pontiac is America's Number One Road Car. And he can give you a point-by-point comparison to show you why no smaller car can hope to imitate Pontiac's alert, effortless response to every driving demand from stop-and-go traffic to superhighway cruising... why Pontiac loafs while smaller cars strain... how Pontiac's all-around performance superiority has made it the talk of the automotive writers! But don't stop with facts and figures—prove it yourself behind the wheel. You'll be spoiled for the smaller cars forever!

PONTIAC'S TOP TRADE-IN VALUE IS FAMOUS!

Pontiac's high trade-in value is a tradition in the industry! A quick check with your Pontiac dealer for his eye-opening offer will prove beyond a shadow of a doubt that you're getting not only a wonderful buy but a wonderful investment! So, before you spend your hard-earned dollars on a smaller car—check Pontiac and discover the easy way to break the small-car habit.

FACTS ABOUT THE CAPITAL STOCK INSURANCE COMPANIES NEW COTTON HAIL POLICIES

- There are only two kinds of hail insurance policies written. One, the Capital stock companies with unlimited resources who can and will pay full loss — any time — year in and year out. The other, the policy holders constitute the company, and losses can only be paid out of premiums paid in any particular year, and if losses exceed premium paid, the available funds are PRO-RATED among claimants as far as it will go.
- The advantages of the Capital stock companies hail policies:
  - No pro-ration clause whereby one may not collect all of his damage.
  - No step ladder clause as has been heretofore. Full loss is paid when it occurs.
  - Improved method of adjustment where one can be assured of proper adjustment of loss and full payment or damages at time of loss.
- The full damage occurring by hail to cotton from the day it is up to a stand, unless the loss is total. This is in contrast with the old step ladder clause now eliminated from Capital Stock company policies.

Compare these advantages with other policies that have the said pro-ration clause referred to above and still have the old step ladder clause.

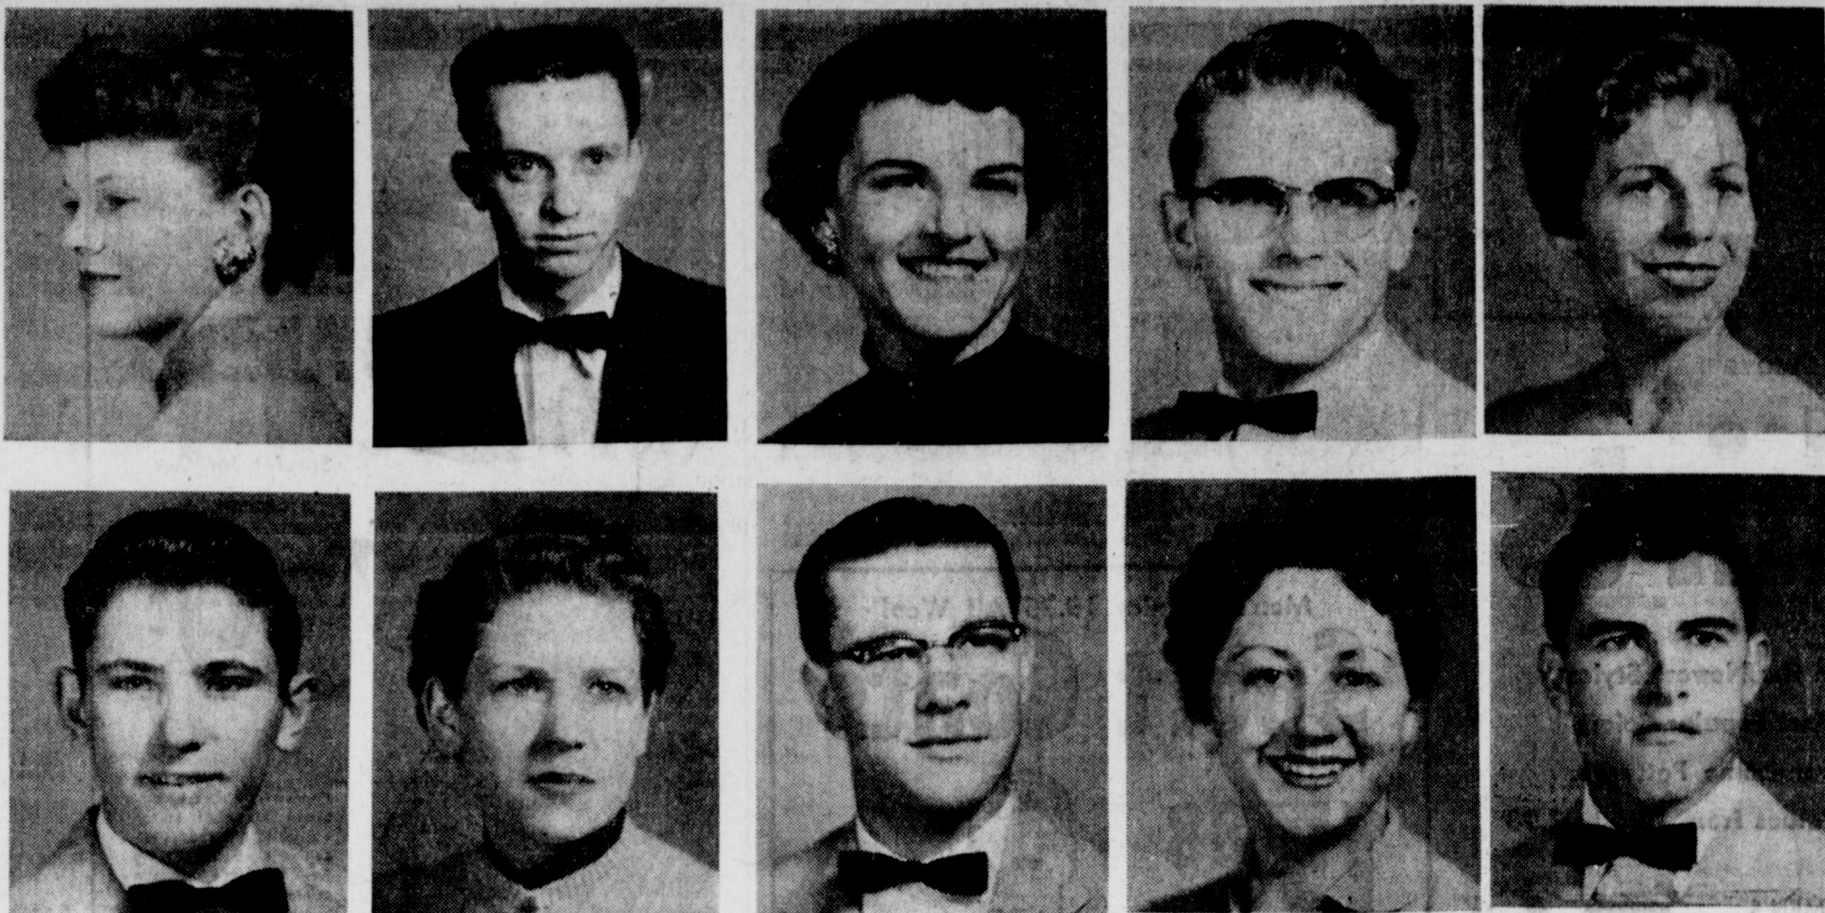

The following firmly established agencies handling only old time tested, capital stock, companies solicit your hail business. Insure now — with date of stand to be supplied when up. Get the advantage of the full season's insurance.

Bailey County Farm Bureau News

By W. T. MILLEN, Pres.

By Lonnie M. Bass

The Bailey County Farm Bureau directors met Tuesday evening, May 7 in the Farm Bureau office in Muleshoe. Directors present were W. B. Kittrell, Partin Austin, W. E. Meyers, Joe Sooter, J. D. Black, A. Lester Howard, Sam Hooper, D. J. Cox, Bill Millen, Robert Blackwood, Horace Hutton and Cass Stegall. Service agents W. R. Carter, and Lonnie Bass, and the guest speaker, Kline Buhman.

Officers elected for the coming year were: W. T. Millen, president; W. T. Parker, vice-president; and W. E. (Jinks) Meyers, secretary-treasurer. The policy execution committee was combined with the legislative committee with Joe Sooter as chairman; Pete Black and Partin Austin. Publicity chairman is Lonnie Bass, with Robert Blackwood and J. P. Weidel to assist. Membership chairman is Donald Cox, with Sam Hopper and Lester Howard. The entertainment committee consists of Betty Burel-smith, Mary Scoggins, Mae Henderson, Mrs. Jack Lowe, Mrs. Donald Cox, Mrs. Lloyd Pollard, Mrs. W. T. Parker, and Mrs. Robert Blackwood.

Kline Buhman made a report of the cotton meeting held recently in Dallas. The following six questions were brought before the group.

Is more acreage needed for a healthy cotton economy?

Do we need to expand markets in order to maintain acreage as cotton yields increase? If so, what rate of expansion in markets will be necessary to take care of anticipated increase in yield?

What kind of price policy is needed to keep cotton competitive in the domestic market? What price, basis middling 1 inch cotton does this policy indicate to be desirable under present conditions?

How many bales of cotton does the United States need to export per year? How much export subsidy per pound should the tax payers be asked to support as a continuing policy on this volume of exports? What would be the total cost of such an export subsidy?

Are producers willing to accept a lower level of price support in exchange for a higher national allotment? If so, how much increase in allotment is needed for 1958? And how much reduction in support level are producers willing to accept for each 1 million acres increase in the national allotment?

How much of any proposed increase in cotton allotments should we expect to buy back under the soil bank?

Seven speakers were on the program. In leading representatives from National Cotton Council, Textile Mills, and Bob Fougus, who is chairman of the Agriculture Committee.

An estimated 250 people were present, with approximately 1/3 of them being non-farmers.

Directors discussed what type of farm program they wanted, whether they wanted short acreage and high support or high acreage and lower support.

Directors voted to support an optional type of farm program to be voted on in the forthcoming referendum, not only marketing quotas, provided a suitable farm program could be had.

The president read correspondence to and from the County Farm Bureau to Federal and State Legislatures for the past month.

Pending legislation was discussed concerning farm labor becoming part of the minimum wage law. Should farm labor come under the minimum wage law, the farmer would be affected more than any farm legislation in the past. This would mean you would have to pay $1 per hour or more for irrigation hands, cotton choppers, etc., plus time and a half for overtime.

How many of you farmers can pay this wage and overtime without feeling the blow? If you are against farmers becoming part of the labor organization, where they tell you when

Third Generation at the Wheel!

"Like father, like son", the poets say. And never was it truer than in the case of a great many fine Cadillac families.

For there are, in our land today, a number of families that currently boast as many as three generations at the wheel.

We mention this simply to underscore a great and dramatic truth about Cadillac—that, of course, is its unchanging goodness and quality.

For fifty-five years, the Cadillac name has signified one and the same thing to motorists everywhere—a motor car created at the highest level that automotive science would permit.

Over that time, Cadillac has attracted to the ranks of its owners the finest list of names to be found anywhere on the American motoring scene.

And, those who have followed the path to Cadillac in 1957 are enjoying the most abundant blessings of this ceaseless crusade for quality.

The new "car of cars", with coachcraft by Fleetwood, is beautiful and luxurious to an unprecedented degree. And its performance and handling ease are a revelation!

Certainly, the Cadillac car has now become an even wiser investment for an even wider circle of America's motorists.

If you have yet to acquaint yourself with these brilliant Cadillac virtues for 1957, your dealer will be delighted to tell you how easily you can make Cadillac a fine family custom of your own!
