Bunger, Medina win commissioner races; CCCSD Bond passes

BY MELISSA PERNER
THE OZONA STOCKMAN

Crockett County will have two new commissioners in 2019.

G.L. Bunger and Michael Medina Jr. won their races during Tuesday's General Election.

Bunger defeated Slate Williams with 236 votes to 99 to be the next County Commissioner of Precinct 2.

"Thank you to the citizens of Crockett County, and most importantly Precinct 2, for all of your continued support. I look forward to working with the members of our local government and every citizen of the county to keep our town, and county, a great place to call home."

Medina defeated Rudy Martinez 145-113 in the Precinct 4 Commissioner's race.

Medina will replace current Precinct 4 Commissioner Eligio Martinez who lost in the Democratic Primary Run-off earlier this year.

Bunger and Medina will take office in January 2019.

"I am very pleased with the overall voter turnout. It was great to see so many community members get involved. I'd like to congratulate Rudy Martinez on a great campaign and a tightly contested race. I'm thankful for all the support I had along this journey and for the voters putting their trust in me. I look forward to January and getting the opportunity to serve Crockett County and represent Precinct 4," Medina said.

The Crockett County CCSD School Bond passed by a large margin with 773 voting for and 279 voting against.

The bond will move funding from the district's Qualified School Construction Bond loan from the maintenance and operation budget to the interest and sinking budget in order to pay off the loan faster, and not subject the loan payment to recapture under the Robin Hood plan.

It will add $231,000 a year to the maintenance and operations budget, save taxpayers $446,511 in interest and there is no tax increase to the taxpayers of Crockett County, said Superintendent Raul Chavarria.

"On behalf of the CCCSD Board of Trustees, I want to thank the voters of Crockett County for making the smart choice in approving the bond.

This is truly a win for our taxpayers and a huge benefit for the students of our school district," Chavarria said.

Voter turnout surpassed the 2014 midterm results with 1,302 ballots cast out of 2,484 registered voters in Crockett County for a 52 percent turnout.

Early voter turnout hit 800 on the last day.

In 2014 877 total ballots were cast.

"Very proud of Ozona for getting out, voting and making a difference," said County and District Clerk Ninfa Preddy.

Veterans Day events, closings

Veterans Day events will take place Sunday and Monday.

The annual Veterans Day Appreciation Meal will be held at 1 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 11, at the Civic Center. The meal is free for veterans and their spouse. All others guests $5 donation.

Crockett County CCSD has planned a morning full of events on Monday, Nov. 12:

- 8:30 a.m. Hero Parade from the OES Cafeteria to the OES Library at 8:30 a.m., followed by breakfast at the OES Library provided by Ozona High School.

- 9:15 a.m. Program presented by OES Fifth Grade at OES Gym.

- 11:30 a.m. Lunch provided by OMS at the Ozona Middle School Library.

"We encourage everyone wherever you are at to take the time to pause on Nov. 11 at 11 a.m. from whatever you are doing and remember all those veterans that are among us that served our country, our fallen heroes and always remember those that are still currently in arms way," said Frank Tambunga, Crockett County Veteran. "Their involvement in the communities is central to our nation's success."

Businesses that will be closed Monday, Nov. 12, in observance of Veterans Day are Crockett County Offices, the Crockett County Public Library, U.S. Postal Service and local banks.

Many county offices and the library will close at noon Friday, Nov. 9.

Small tactics to defend against cybersecurity attacks

We have all heard the words cybersecurity, but what does that really mean and how does it affect your business. Cybersecurity is the act of securing cyberspace. This includes working to protect internet-connected systems, including software, hardware, and data. As a small business owner, you probably rely heavily on your technology. Every aspect of your business can be affected by cybercrime. According to the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), the theft of digital information has become the most commonly reported fraud, surpassing physical theft. Many small businesses feel that they will not be targeted because their business is not a major corporation. As technology has progressed business owners can no longer afford to leave themselves unprotected. Here are a few tips to help protect against cyber-attacks. Train your employees in basic security principles. An example of this would be requiring employees to change passwords frequently and asking them to store the password information in an unsecured location, such as their top desk drawer. Another action step would be to provide basic personal and business cyberattack prevention training. One of the most troubling attacks is that of email phishing. This is when a cyber-criminal will send an email from an account that they have manipulated to look as if it is coming from someone inside the organization. This email might say something along the lines of "the director, Jim has asked for us to transfer $5,000 into this Account 555-12345 to pay a past due invoice." Train your employees to be naturally suspicious. This type of attack could be denied with a simple confirmation call to the director to make sure the request is legitimate. We also don't think much about physical access to technology devices. I recently attended a conference in which the keynote speaker discussed cybersecurity. In a matter of just 20 minutes prior to his presentation, he was able to access 15 technology devices of people in attendance, because they left their bag on the chair or their phone at a charging station along the wall. Encourage employees to properly secure devices both in the office and while on the go. Pay special attention to your cell phone. A cell phone contains a lot of very personal information and for many small business owners, they typically are used in running the business. I encourage you to be cognizant of the growing issues and empower your employees by providing them with basic cybersecurity awareness training. There are many resources to assist you in providing this training. Reach out to the Angelo State University Small Business Development Center for additional access to resources that can provide cybersecurity training for you and your employees.

BUSINESS TIPS

CSPRA promotes principle of public records access

The Coalition for Sensible Public Records Access (CSPRA) is a non-profit organization dedicated to promoting the principle of open public record access to ensure individuals, the press, advocates, and businesses the continued freedom to collect and use the information made available in the public record for personal, governmental, commercial, and societal benefit.

There is an occasional story or editorial that decries that "the government is profiting by selling your personal information to companies." The truth in Texas and most states is that the government is not selling your personal information but responding to public record requests and is allowed to charge a reasonable fee to recover its administrative costs in providing the public record. Government agencies under Texas law cannot make a profit on responding to public record requests.

Statements like, "But companies are making a profit from public records!" are also seen. This is misleading. Profits are not made from public records, but from value-added services that use public and commercial data combined with smart software for societally beneficial purposes. Texans should support such value-added services as they deliver real benefits to the State of Texas and her citizens alike.

There appears to be a lack of understanding and appreciation of the value and benefit that is gained by all Texans from access to and use of public records and I want to set the record straight. The information in the public record is foundational to many important life events and transactions of Texas residents. Many persons and entities create value-added services from the records they obtain from public sources and use them for a variety of personal, commercial, legal, socially desirable, and essential civic and governmental purposes. Examples of these value-added services include risk management, property title protection, transparent and accurate news, protection of vulnerable populations from offenders, the administration of justice, law enforcement, monitoring government spending, fighting government corruption, enforcement of court orders and child support collection, and economic forecasting. Texans depend on these services that access, combine, and add value to public and commercial data every day and in ways that benefit every resident in the state whether they are aware of it or not.

GUEST COLUMN

There should also be support from Texans for persons and businesses that leverage public resources to increase the value of the public investments. Pizza delivery drivers, truckers, and many others make money from the roads that are supported by gas tax and tolls paid by all. Soft drink bottlers, brewers, and other beverage makers turn water from public utilities into saleable products. Housing and businesses expand using new and improved public roads, transit, sewers, and utilities. Anyone with a commercial or personal license to use public lands to hunt, fish, or harvest from public lands can make money with what that get from public lands or just get a good meal. Residents with a Texas public education use it to advance their knowledge and careers.

Texans would never dream of saying these people or entities are wrong for leveraging these public resources to earn a living or improve their lives. So why the outrage when a newspaper or data company pays the full or marginal cost for a copy of public record, adds value to the data, and makes money?

When something works well, it is often taken for granted and becomes invisible to us—like the systems and services that use public records to protect, serve, and help us in our daily lives.

They work well, and we are very dependent on them for the quality of life we enjoy. We would like to see more defenders of the right to access and use public records and fewer careless attacks on the many persons and entities that use and depend on Texas public records to provide services that meet important societal needs.

RICHARD J. VARN, is the executive director of the Coalition for Sensible Public Records Access. His email is rjvvarn@msn.com.

Riding With The Big Boys

One of the best perks about being a cow writer has been that it served as a gateway to visit many of the biggest and best ranches in America. The highlight came when I got to sleep in the legendary Big House at the King Ranch and dine at a table whose centerpiece was a big silver bowl awarded in 1943 to the seventh Triple Crown winner in history, the King Ranch's own Assault.

During a time when many cowboys are without cows and anyone with a good sized flower garden calls itself a "ranch", I got to visit ranches in West Texas that were measured in sections, not acres, and anything less than 40 sections was considered a hobby farm. I climbed all over Arizona's big spreads like the ORO's, Pruett and Wray and John Wayne's 26 Bar. I've written about many of California's old land grant ranches and find it sad that I can think of only one that's still in the same family it was granted to. I got to ride out with the cowboys for a branding on the Bell Ranch in New Mexico. At night we slept in our bedrolls and they told me to cover by boots with my cowboy hat so snakes or scorpions wouldn't climb in them and surprise me the next morning.

Every year I got to go to Nebraska's Haythorn Ranch for a video sale and in Oregon I got to visit and write stories about Oregon's MC and part of Peter French's former empire. As part of Western Video Market I also got to take part in selling the cattle off many of the biggest spreads in the west like the 1,000 head lot of ZX calves we auctioned off in a grand total of 31 seconds.

IT'S THE PITTS

I've always been awed by the great cattle barons in history like Henry Miller of Miller and Lux who, it was said, could ride in his buggy from southern California into British Columbia and sleep on his own land every night. It was also said of the notorious tightwad that not once along the way would he eat his own beef because the beef he ate always wore a neighbor's brand.

I rode over ground once known as Swan Land and Cattle that was owned by a bunch of Scotsmen that covered 3,250,000 acres and had so many brands they had their own brand book. And I live within a couple hours drive from the epicenter of what was once known as the Kern County Land Company that operated in multiple states and was the largest ranch in the world at its height with 3,750,000 acres under its control. Folks around here just called it "the Land Company" and everyone knew who you were talking about.

When we lived in New Mexico I often found myself on ground once owned by Maxwell Cattle Company that had 1,750,000 acres in New Mexico and Colorado and was so large the Atchison and Topeka Railroad had six stations on the ranch. The Chiricahua Cattle Company was on the San Carlos Apache Reservation and ran 45,000 head of cattle at one time! They were known simply as "the Cherries". I always wondered how they could possibly run on so many acres or look after so many cows. I was always of the belief that you should never run more cows than your wife could take care of.

Another famous Texas ranch I enjoyed writing about was the 101 Ranch that had its own wild west show. Few people knew it was so named because it consisted of 101,000 acres.

Whenever I visited one of these monster ranches I always felt intimidated and felt I had to somehow justify my little 100 head cow/calf operation and somehow try to compete with them. I remember horseback riding on a huge Arizona border spread with the owner who told me, "I've got so many cattle there are thousands here that have never felt a rope around their neck."

"Yeah," I commiserated, "that's the quality of ropers I get at my place too." And I remember being on another huge Texas ranch in the Permian basin whose owner told me, "My place is so big it takes three days to ride around it."

Not to be outdone, I said, "Yeah, I had a pickup like that once too."

Secretary of State Pablos applauds early voting turnout

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS By Ed Sterling | Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Statistics compiled by the office of the secretary of state show Texans cast ballots in record numbers during the early voting period before the Nov. 6 midterm general election.

Of the 12,255,607 registered voters in the 30 most-populous counties of Texas, some 4,884,528 individuals voted in person or by mail during the early voting period of Oct. 22 through Nov. 2. That comes to nearly 40 percent of registered voters for those counties. If not a record, that is unusually high in comparison to early voting in previous non-presidential elections.

Texas Secretary of State Rolando Pablos, the state's chief elections officer, on Nov. 2 encouraged the 11 million registered voters who did not take advantage of early voting to get to the polls and vote on Election Day.

"As you head to the polls, please be prepared to join the millions of Texans who are eager to cast their votes," Pablos said. "I ask you to be patient and respectful as Texans celebrate this privileged event of civic duty to exercise their fundamental right to vote."

Pablos addressed rumors that electronic voting machines might be inaccurately processing ballots. He assured voters that each of their choices on their ballots would be counted accurately and securely and that "every polling place in Texas is staffed by trained elections officials and personnel who are there to help you, are ready to assist and can ensure that you are able to successfully cast your vote."

ABBOTT REQUESTS DECLARATION

Gov. Greg Abbott on Oct. 30 sent a letter to President Donald Trump requesting a presidential disaster declaration for counties especially hard-hit by severe weather and flooding that caused widespread damage across the state in mid-October.

More counties may be added to the declaration as local, state and federal agencies continue to assess damages, Abbott said.

"The magnitude of recent severe weather and flooding has taken a serious toll on Texans across the state. With such widespread flooding and devastation, additional resources are needed to help Texans recover," Abbott said.

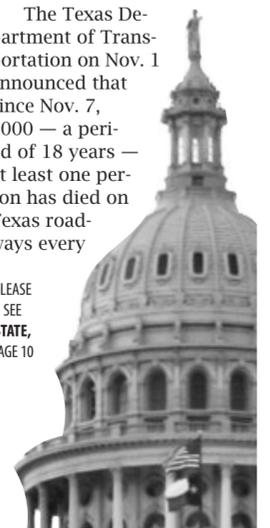

In addition to his request for a presidential disaster declaration, Abbott on Oct. 30 expanded his state disaster declaration to cover some 111 Texas counties. Abbott has authorized the use of all available resources of state government and of political subdivisions to aid in the response efforts.

Confessions of a heart surgeon

HERE'S TO YOUR HEALTH
JIM FISH

The latest science has shown there are numerous causes of chronic inflammation that damage the heart and arteries.

Many beneficial fatty acids are oxidized or glycated by way of the sugars we consume, like glucose and fructose.

This does not mean we should avoid omega-3 fatty acids, but such is the logic of some of our health care authorities when it applies to our cholesterol.

In the article, "Heart Surgeon Speaks Out on What Really Causes Heart Disease," Dr. Dwight Lundell, a heart surgeon with 25 years of experience, having performed over 5,000 open-heart surgeries, informs us via the "PreventDisease" website:

"We physicians with all our training, knowledge and authority often acquire a rather large ego that tends to make it difficult to admit we are wrong. So, here it is. I freely admit to being wrong. As a heart surgeon with 25 years' experience, having performed over 5,000 open-heart surgeries, today is my day to right the wrong with medical and scientific fact."

Inflammation is not complex, it is the body's natural defense to malicious bacteria, toxins and viruses. It is a perfectly evolved, biological process that protects us from these microscopic aggressors. Nevertheless, when we continually expose the body to injury by the refined sugars, fructose, and other malnutrients in our foods and toxins our body did not evolve to process, chronic inflammation occurs and is just as harmful as acute inflammation is beneficial.

Other inflammatory foods and ingredients include; trans fats, omega 6 fatty acids, refined carbohydrates (white flour products - breads, rolls, crackers, white rice, white potatoes, instant mashed potatoes, and french-fries), mono-sodium glutamate (MSG), gluten and casein (proteins found in dairy and wheat), soy beans, aspartame (a non-nutritive, neurotoxin, intense artificial sweetener found in more than 4,000 products worldwide) and alcohol.

Without inflammation being present in the body, cholesterol would not accumulate on the wall of the blood vessels, nor is it the villain causing heart disease and strokes. It would simply function as the vital serum it is and move about the body creating hormones, maintaining brain health and all the purposes for which it was designed... to assure our good health and wellness.

Dr. Dwight Lundell continues, "I trained for many years with other prominent physicians labelled "opinion makers." Bombarded with scientific literature, continually attending education seminars, we opinion makers insisted heart disease resulted from the simple fact of elevated blood cholesterol.

"The only accepted therapy was prescribing medications to lower cholesterol and a diet that severely restricted fat intake. The latter of course we insisted would lower cholesterol and heart disease. Deviations from these recommendations were considered heresy and could quite possibly result in malpractice.

"It Is Not Working!" "These recommendations are no longer scientifically or morally defensible. The discovery a few years ago that inflammation in the artery wall is the real cause of heart disease is slowly leading to a paradigm shift in how heart disease and other chronic ailments will be treated.

"The long-established dietary recommendations have created epidemics of obesity and diabetes, the consequences of which dwarf any historical plague in terms of mortality, human suffering and dire economic consequences."

When chronic inflammation is rampant, as with rheumatoid arthritis, it can damage the body and has a role in Type-2 Diabetes, Alzheimer's disease, obesity, heart disease, and cancer.

Dr. Lundell concludes with, "The cholesterol theory led to the no-fat, low-fat recommendations that in turn created the very foods now causing an epidemic of inflammation. Mainstream medicine made a terrible mistake when it advised people to avoid saturated fat in favor of foods high in omega-6 fats. We now have an epidemic of arterial inflammation leading to heart disease and other silent killers.

"What you can do is choose whole foods your grandmother served and not those your mom turned to as grocery store aisles filled with manufactured foods. By eliminating inflammatory foods and adding essential nutrients from fresh unprocessed food, you will reverse years of damage in your arteries and throughout your body from consuming the typical American diet."

OZONA SENIOR HAPPENINGS

Bridge every Monday, bingo on Thursday

BY BRENDA NEWTON
SENIOR CENTER DIRECTOR

The bridge games have been a lot of fun. They didn't even have to use me as a fourth. That is a good thing for them because I'm not good at bridge. This is not a private club. If you would like to learn to play bridge, don't be shy, come on out and learn.

Niki was back last Tuesday and she had a couple to exercise with her. Come exercise with her at 10 a.m. Tuesdays.

I wasn't here Friday, but I heard they had a good time with the jewelry fixing. You should come try to fix jewelry at 10 a.m. Friday. If you have broken jewelry or something that you don't like anymore, bring it with you and we can all work together to get it fixed. Come join in!

Please use the new exit on the south side of the center. It is a little hard to see, but it is the crossing that is across from Avenue D. It has been paved so it is really smooth. The exit in front of the center is dangerous because of truck traffic. We do not want any of you to be in an accident leaving this facility. Please pay closer attention to traffic when leaving from town. Remember there is a curve there that blocks vision until it is too late.

I love my quilting ladies. They come at 9:30 a.m. Thursday. I am always amazed at the fun they have creating the beautiful quilts and deciding who should be the recipient of their creations. The one they have been working on for the raffle is really cute. Come by and get your tickets for the drawing for this quilt. They would love to have you come join in the fun.

We will have afternoon bingo each Thursday. Bring your nickels and play as many cards as you can handle at a nickel a card per game. If you bingo for that game, you get all the nickels. We serve cokes and popcorn and have a good time. Then we have blackout bingo for a little prize for the lucky winner.

The center will open at 8:30 a.m. and close at 4:30 p.m.

- Bridge 1:30 p.m. Monday
- Exercise with Niki 10:30 a.m. Tuesday
- Mexican Train at 1:30 p.m. on Wednesday
- Prayer Group at 3 p.m. on Wednesday
- Quilting at 9:30 a.m. on Thursday
- Bingo from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Thursday
- Jewelry repair 10 a.m. Friday
- Come on out, the coffee is on.

Ozona Lodge #747 A.F. & A.M.
Next meeting 1st Monday in December at 7:30 p.m.

WE WILL CELEBRATE MONDAY THE 12TH

The fighting finally stopped when an armistice went into effect between the Allied Nations and Germany on the 11 day, 11 hour, 11 month, in 1928. The next year President Wilson designated November 11 as a day to remember our victory and to honor those who had given their lives and served in the armed forces. It has been celebrated with parades, public meetings, speeches and a brief suspension of business. Flags are flown on all government buildings and homes, churches and schools are encouraged to display our National Flag. Next Sunday is the 11th but we will celebrate Monday the 12th at 11 am, let us honor those that have served and are serving so bravely. I am also reminded of those who were called and have served God in many ways and to take the message or Gospel of Jesus Christ in to all the world, (Romans 1:9). We will never know them until we get to Heaven and yes, there are many unmarked graves, (Acts 7:59-8:2). Not only have others served God in times past but those who are serving today. We may not know who they are but rest assured God knows and His eyes are upon them, (Colossians 3:23&24). I am also reminded of Jesus Christ who gave His life for us that we could be free from the penalty of sin, (John 3:16, Romans 6:22&23).

Hope for intense sinners

"If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us." 1 John 1:8

"What shall we say then? Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound? God forbid. How shall we, that are dead to sin, live any longer therein?" Romans 6:1-2

How are we expected to live and what are we supposed to do if on one hand, sinless perfection is not possible and yet Paul says - how shall we that are dead to sin, live any longer therein? John says that if we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves. But Jesus said - go and sin no more.

What is the happy medium ground between these two positions? How are we, as intense sinners who have believed in Christ, supposed to live between the two without losing our faith or pulling our hair out?

We are not confused about the reality of our sin, we know very well that it is bad. Everything in our world tells us that sin is destructive, unbiblical, and the transgression of the Law.

FROM THE PULPIT
TOM SLOAN

As a sinner, I am not looking for every excuse to continue in sin, I am looking for every reason to believe that Christ has forgiven it all.

Do I as a sinner have a right to believe, or does my sin cancel faith?

Does faith make me sinless? Does my sin constitute me as faithless?

Does sinlessness validate faith or does faith validate the sinner?

Our part in salvation is to sin and God's part is to save. Hold on just a minute before you hear something I didn't say. I did not say that God agrees with our sin, I am saying that Christ died for sinners.

Are you a sinner in need of Jesus?

TOM SLOAN is the pastor of Friendship Baptist Church in Ozona, Texas.

Food Handlers Certification Course
Nov. 20 in Ozona

The Crockett County Extension Office will host a Food Handlers Certification Course at 9 a.m. Tuesday, Nov. 20, at the Crockett County Extension Office.

The Food Handlers course is required (effective September 2016) for all food service employees to help promote the service of safe food.

It is a basic overview of food safety principles and practices that are necessary to ensure you serve safe food at your establishment.

Cost is $20 per person (check or money order only). For more information, call (325) 392-2721.

The course may also be completed online at <https://foodsafety.tamu.edu/courses/food-handlers-course>.

Prayer

Dear Heart of Jesus, in the past I have asked for favors. This time I ask you this very special one (mention favor). Take it dear Jesus and place it within your own broken heart where your father sees it. Then in your merciful eyes it will become your favor not mine. Amen.

Say this prayer for three days, promise publication and the favor will be granted. Never known to fail.

San Angelo District wins prestigious award for I-10 job

BY KAREN A. THRELKELD
TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

Junction Area Engineer Lewis Nowlin accepted an award, on behalf of TxDOT, from the Asphalt Emulsion Manufacturers Association (AEMA) at a recent Texas Asphalt and Pavement Association meeting in Austin.

Along with TxDOT, Kiewit Construction and Ergon Asphalt & Emulsions, Inc. were the recipients of AEMAs 2018 Past Presidents' Award for Emulsion Excellence for a 2016 project that improved 10 miles of eastbound and westbound Interstate 10 in Crockett County.

Projects submitted were judged based on criteria such as: customer satisfaction, technical solution, cost effectiveness and impact to the environment.

The original idea was to use a cement-treated base process for the full depth reclamation of the travel lanes, but after visiting with other pavement design professionals, the San Angelo District decided to use asphalt emulsion.

This decision was based on the fact that emulsion treatment allows the pavement to be more flexible and provides greater moisture resistance.

The emulsion was the best treatment for this area

JUNCTION AREA ENGINEER LEWIS NOWLIN recently accepted an award on behalf of TxDOT from the Asphalt Emulsion Manufacturers Association for a 2016 project that improved 10 miles of I-10 in Crockett County.

as portions of this section of Interstate 10, originally constructed in the late 1970s, were built through a playalake region which had clay subgrades.

After finishing the emulsion treatment of the travel lanes, Kiewit milled the treated base to ensure the best ride.

Next, two inches of hot mix was placed on the travel lane.

Then Kiewit seal coated the roadway and finally overlaid the section with another two inches of hot mix.

With the completion of the job, the ride quality on this stretch of Interstate 10 improved substantially.

San Angelo Health Foundation releases third quarter grants

Board Chair Marilyn Aboussie announced the San Angelo Health Foundation has awarded $398,738 to five area nonprofits.

With the addition of these five grants, 206 organizations and 695 projects have benefited from Foundation funding.

Grants Chair David Lupton said the following grants encompass education, health care, services for the elderly, youth enrichment and disaster assistance:

- Sonora Emergency Relief Fund was awarded $50,000 to help those affected by the recent flooding. Over 200 homes experienced flooding displacing hundreds of families in the community. Relief efforts are being coordinated through the Sonora Ministerial Alliance and the San Angelo Area Foundation which is accepting donations to provide emergency assistance.

- Angelo State University was awarded $24,985 to purchase treatment tables for the Athletic Department. The Athletic Training Department provides sports medicine treatment for 450 student athletes. Angelo State University averages 25 students in their Athletic Training Department.

- Texas Southwest Council of Boy Scouts was awarded $60,000 to renovate Camp Sol Mayer's First Aid Lodge. The Council serves over 1,000 youth in a 23 1/2 county territory covering the Concho Valley. Every year Camp Sol Mayer accommodates over 1,000 campers.

- Cook Children's Health Foundation was awarded $38,753 to purchase medical equipment for the San Angelo Specialty Clinic. The Clinic provides multiple pediatric specialty services to San Angelo including Cardiology, Endocrinology, Hematology/Oncology and Neurology. The San Angelo Clinic served 1,065 patients in 2017.

- Menard County Hospital District was awarded $225,000 for renovations to Menard Manor. Menard Manor is a skilled nursing and rehab center in Menard. The Manor provides services to the elderly, disabled and physical therapy patients as well as independent living accommodations.

Grant application and financial information can be found at www.sahfoundation.org. Contact Tom Early (tomearly@sahfoundation.org or Deborah Watson (dwatson@sahfoundation.org) at the Foundation office at 426 West Avenue B, San Angelo, TX. Phone (325) 486-0185, PO Box 3550, San Angelo TX 76902-3550.

that," said Head Coach Kyle Freeman. "Turnovers killed three drives and gave Winters opportunities and they capitalized on two of those."

Once again Abraham Rodriguez had another great rushing game with 199 yards and 1 touchdown on 19 carries. That makes it six straight good games in a row from Rodriguez.

"He had one long touchdown run of 99 yards which must be, or tie, a school record for longest touchdown run from scrimmage," Freeman said.

Zachary Talamantez had 73 yards on two carries and one touchdown for the Lions.

Ozona had more than 350 yards of offense with 300 rushing yards.

Additional support came from defensive powerhouse junior Lazaro Rodriguez, who racked up 12 tackles, including one for a loss.

Talamantez had eight tackles and Joe Salas and Rodriguez had seven tackles each.

Ozona (2-6, 1-2) now prepares for its final regular season matchup against Hawley. The Bearcats (8-1, 2-0) sit atop the District 3-2A standings and have averaged 35.42 points over the course of their past three games.

Hawley defeated Forsan 45-0 Friday night.

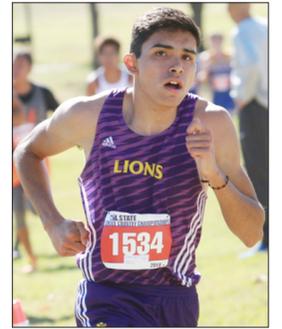

The Lions are currently setting in fourth place in District 3-2A. The top four teams in each district advance to the playoffs.

Freeman said the Lions will face Seymour in the first playoff round with location yet to be determined.

Kickoff will be 7:30 p.m. Friday in Hawley.

ABRAHAM RODRIGUEZ sprints down the field for a 99-yard touchdown during Friday's game against Winters. Rodriguez also had 199 yards rushing on 19 carries.

ished as the fifth and sixth highest finishers from Region I, as well as the top two finishers from our district," said Coach Jeff Shelton. "As a team we talked all season that competitors run their best at the big meets, and the twins did just that. They've done a great job of taking on the leadership role of the team this year. We watched the awards ceremony and discussed the possibilities of our team bringing home hardware next season. The boys know that we have the runners and that they must provide the leadership to get Ozona on the medal stand in Round Rock next season."

Humberto Torralba also earned the Cross-Country Coaches Association of Texas All-Region I honors for his 15th place finish at the Region I Meet on Oct. 22 in Lubbock. This is given to the top 15 finishers in each region.

"I'm very proud of the job that all of our boys did this season, and we'd like to thank everyone for their support," Shelton said.

Día de los Muertos

IN HONOR OF DÍA DE LOS MUERTOS, or Day of the Dead, Mrs. Franco's OHS Classes have made ofrendas, or altars. An ofrenda is meant to welcome spirits back to the realm of the living. As such, they're loaded with offerings—water to quench thirst after the long journey, food, family photos, and a candle for each dead relative. If one of the spirits is a child, you might find small toys on the altar. Marigolds are the main flowers used to decorate the altar. Scattered from altar to gravesite, marigold petals guide wandering souls back to their place of rest. Day of the Dead festivities unfold over two days in an explosion of color and life-affirming joy. Sure, the theme is death, but the point is to demonstrate love and respect for deceased family members. In towns and cities throughout Mexico, revelers don funky makeup and costumes, hold parades and parties, sing and dance, and make offerings to lost loved ones.

OMS Lions end season with outstanding game

WINTERS - The Ozona Middle School Lions traveled to Winters and faced the Blizzards in a whirlwind of a game on Thursday, Nov. 1.

When the dust settled, the final score of 26-26 provided much excitement for the visiting Lion fans.

The defense has played stellar football the whole year, but on this night, it was tested and tested hard.

The offense was able to put together four come from behind lead deficits to tie the game with 3:28 left in the fourth quarter.

The scoring began with a Robert Barrera run off left guard at the 1:30 mark of the first quarter with the two-point try unsuccessful.

The second score came on a Max Everett 3-yard run with less than a minute before half and the two-point try being successful by Barrera to knot the score at 14-14 at the half.

The third quarter provided a kickoff return for a touchdown by Dusty Smith which was nullified by a block in the back penalty at mid-field.

The Lion offense still was able to score on the drive by another Barrera score with the two-point try being unsuccessful and the score 20-20.

The Lion offense found themselves down 26-20 with 3:28 left in the game.

The final game tying drive began at the Blizzards 45-yard line after a kickoff return by Smith. After a couple of short runs, Barrera broke free for a 25-yard scamper to pay dirt that tied the score 26-26 with 2:27 left in the game.

The Lion coaching staff called a time out to game plan the final play that would determine the outcome of the game. After a short staff discussion, the play was called off tackle lead. The ball was snapped and after what seemed minutes with the pile of players pushing against each other the Lion sideline official signaled good by raising his arms.

The Lion sideline went wild with whoops and hollers, but at that moment the officials changed their decision because the Winters' sideline official said the ball was stripped from the runner before crossing the goal line.

"How this was seen in the crowd of players is still a mystery to me," said Coach Rhonnie Lester.

The final 34 seconds of the game was played with the Lion offense trying to create a miracle after Logan Thompson recovered a Francisco Ozuna caused fumble.

After the game, the players were thanked for an outstanding year by their coaches.

"I am thankful to have been a part of these young players experience of playing football and I know Lion football is in good hands," Lester said. "Thank you cheerleaders for the outstanding pep rallies and game support this year and to all the parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles and family friends who traveled to home and away games to support the Mighty Lions."

San Angelo man dies in three-vehicle crash

SAN ANGELO — A San Angelo man died in a three-vehicle crash on U.S. Highway 67 last week, according to a news release by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

At about 6 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 1, troopers responded to a crash on U.S. 67 about 8 miles west of San Angelo, according to the release.

Investigators determined a 2018 F-350, driven by Oral Kevin Thorp, 51, was traveling east on U.S. 67 "at a very high rate of speed" when it struck the rear of an east silver 2014 Chevrolet pickup driven by Roy Flores Carrillo, 48, according to the release.

Carrillo's silver pickup "was forced off the left side of the roadway as a result of the collision," according to the release.

After striking Carrillo's pickup, Thorp struck the next vehicle traveling east, a 2003 Chevrolet pickup occupied by Gus Andrew Daniel, 71, and forced Daniel off to the right side of the road, according to the release.

Thorp's F-350 came to rest on the right side of the roadway, according to the release.

Both Carrillo and Daniel were transported to Shannon Medical Center, according to the release.

At about 7 p.m., Carrillo was pronounced dead by Justice of the Peace Eddie Howard "due to the injuries sustained during the crash," according to the release.

Carrillo was not wearing his seat belt, the release notes. Weather conditions at the time were listed as clear and dry.

Details about the initial cause of the crash were not revealed by DPS at this time. An official with DPS stated the crash is still under investigation.

Keep pets from mushroom poisoning

COLLEGE STATION - Although commonly underestimated, mushroom intoxication ranks near the top of the list of pet poisonings each year. Of these deadly fungi, Death Cap mushrooms are the number one cause of fatal mushroom poisoning worldwide.

Death Cap mushrooms are an invasive species that favor oak and pine trees. While they can be found across Texas, Death Cap mushrooms tend to thrive in cool, damp climates and are usually seen during rainy seasons.

Unlike some poisonous plants, most mushrooms present an initial identification issue for pet parents. Although it can be difficult to tell the difference between a toxic and non-toxic mushroom, a common identifier of a Death Cap is a yellowish-green cap that grows large and flat as the mushroom ages.

Another important characteristic of the Death Cap mushroom is the fish-like odor it emits while decaying. This odor seems appealing and appetizing to dogs and cats and typically leads to the mushroom's ingestion.

Dr. Justin Heinz, an assistant professor at the Texas A&M College of Veterinary Medicine & Biomedical Sciences, urges pet owners to contact their veterinarian immediately if they believe their pet has ingested a mushroom.

"We don't necessarily see a lot of cases that we can directly attribute to ingestion, but the development of clinical signs are usually delayed by six to 12 hours," Heinz said. "Initial clinical signs are usually gastrointestinal in nature, resulting in vomiting and diarrhea, and blood may occasionally be noted in either."

Heinz added that these signs will typically resolve within 24 hours. However, it is important for owners to understand that this does not mean that their pet is in the clear.

"Unfortunately, after about 48-72 hours following resolution of these signs, the patient will develop liver and kidney failure, with liver failure being far more common," he said. "Prognosis at that point is pretty guarded."

According to Heinz, all mushrooms vary in toxicity. Some cause self-limiting gastrointestinal distress, while others cause neurological effects such as tremors and seizures. A misidentification can lead to serious illness or death in your beloved pet.

"Identification of some of these mushrooms may actually require a mycologist," he said.

"For this reason, I recommend keeping pets away from any mushrooms in the yard or on walks. Better safe than sorry."

As always, pet owners should contact their veterinarian if they believe their pet has eaten anything suspicious. By removing mushrooms from your path and keeping a close eye on your pet during walks and outings, you can ensure their good health will remain intact.

To increase awareness, TxDOT called for Texans to post photo and video testimonials using the social media hashtag #EndTheStreakTX.

"We all have the power to end the streak of daily deaths on Texas roadways," said Texas Transportation Commissioner Laura Ryan. "Don't drink and drive; put away the cell phone; buckle up; and obey traffic laws. Be the driver you would want next to you, in front of you or behind you. Together, we can end the streak."

"It's heartbreaking to know that every day for the past 18 years someone has lost a spouse, child, friend or neighbor on our state's roadways," said TxDOT Executive Director James Bass. "Ending this deadly daily streak is a shared responsibility. We will continue to engineer our roads to be more forgiving of drivers' errors, but we all must work toward ending such preventable contributing factors as distracted driving, speeding and drunk driving."

REVENUE TOTAL INCREASES

State sales tax revenue totaled $2.6 billion in October, an amount 7.3 percent more than the amount reported in October 2017, Texas Comptroller Glenn Hegar said on Nov. 2.

Total sales tax revenue for the three months ending in October 2018 was up 12.6 percent compared to the same period a year ago. The sales tax is the largest source of state funding for the state budget, accounting for 57 percent of all tax collections.

However, revenue from other major taxes on motor vehicle sales and rentals, motor fuel and oil and natural gas production were mixed for the month, as follows:

- Motor vehicle sales and rental taxes, $438.4 million, down 2.6 percent compared with October 2017;
- Motor fuel taxes, $298 million, down 4.2 percent compared with October 2017; and
- Oil and natural gas production taxes, $439.9 million, up 52.4 percent compared with October 2017.

PROFESSIONAL TRUCK DRIVERS

As the freight market fluctuates, your paycheck and miles shouldn't have to.

Some carriers are scrambling for freight to keep drivers moving. At Schneider, drivers keep rolling, racking up reliable paychecks made possible by year-round customer freight.

It's because of the great work our drivers do that shippers keep Schneider busy.

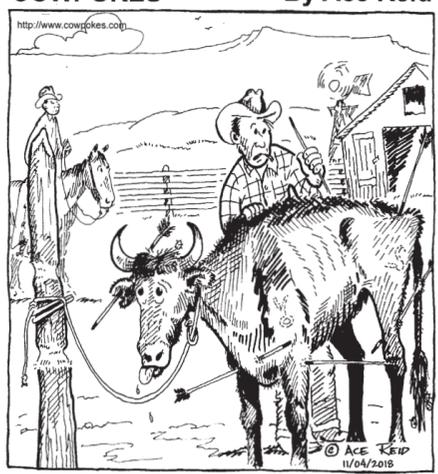

Don't get stuck in neutral. Make the smart move, and get your career in gear with the busy carrier: Schneider.
