ROSCOE NOSES OUT TAHOKA

Locals Given Royal Welcome; Was Best Game of Season; Draws Praise of Supt.

(By M. L. H. Baze)

On Friday of last week the Tahoka Bulldogs paid Roscoe a visit, accompanied by Coach Lewis, Mr. Baze and family, G. H. Nelson, Mr. Adams, Mrs. G. M. Stewart, and six high school girls. The entire town and school seemed to be waiting to give the Tahoka crowd a welcome to their town. The chief event toward which attention was centered was the football game. This was called at three thirty at the new ball park. Both teams were pointed for the game and were on the edge when the whistle blew. The game was a classic from start to finish.

To give details of the game and the thrilling moment would require considerable space. For the first few minutes of play it looked as if the Tahoka team was destined for a good beating. Tahoka received and failed to make first down. The ball was punted to the Plowboys, who immediately began their long-famed off-tackle drives. This and a forward pass brought Roscoe to the enemy two yard line. Here, however, the famous Roscoe jinx came into play. The Roscoe team became too anxious, and twice a back field man was in motion. This set the Plowboys back ten yards and possibly saved the day for the Bulldogs. After this the Bulldogs ran true to their name and played superior ball for the remainder of the game. Time and time again the mighty Plowboys plunged at the Tahoka line, only to be stopped for short gains on thrown behind the line. Bennett, Barnes, King, Cook, Hedwin, Williamson, Hackney, Evans, Wells, all played as they never had before. The general comment from the sideline was: "This is the best line and the best bunch of tacklers we have met this year." While the Bulldogs played great ball, so did the Plowboys. Gray, fullback of the Plowboys, made the sensational run of the game and when he caught a 75 yard punt off the toe of Bennett and ran 85 yards through the entire Tahoka team for a touchdown. Nemir kicked goal. It was a beautiful interference that protected Gray on this run. A mowing machine could not have cut grain better than the Plowboys cut down the would-be tacklers. Tahoka tightened and held the Plowboys for the remainder of the game. Gray fumbled on Roscoe's forty yard line, and Bennett recovered for a touchdown. Hackney failed to kick goal. The score rested at 7 to 6 in favor of the Plowboys. Neither team had enough punch left to put over an-

SAND! SAND! SAND! SAND!

Sand! Sand! Sand! Sand! Sand! Sand! Sand! Sand!

Yes, we've had a sandstorm! The first real sandstorm of the season swept the plains Tuesday night. For two or three days each afternoon the wind had been rising to velocities that gave just a hint of what it could do but until Tuesday night did it really undertake to show its old-time strength. All the afternoon the wind had been high, but it died down late in the evening. Then just when everybody was thinking that we were going to have a quiet night, slam! bang! whiff! the wind came suddenly with terrific force from the northwest. Wash tubs and tin cans and buckets began chasing one another across the townsite and the winds roared and fought their way up and down the trees and chimneys in a manner to make one think of air demons. It was the consensus of opinion that this first sandstorm was one of the worst type, and it is hoped that not many more of equal intensity will visit this section soon.

Some cotton was blown out and swept away by the fury of the winds

Cold Checker of Draw Pleads Guilty

A citizen of the Draw community was brought before His Honor Judge Cain, on Friday on a charge of having given a "cold" check to an O'Donnell filling station man. He pleaded guilty to the charge and the judge assessed his punishment at a fine of $10.00 and two hours in jail. The gentleman paid the fine and costs and for the first time in his life learned how one feels when he hears the prison doors clamp behind him. It was not a pleasant experience by any means. He will probably go and sin no more.

MIDLAND ROAD TO BE JUNKED

Long Litigation Ends in Abolishing Hopes of Midland-Seminole Rail Line

DALLAS, TEXAS, November 15.—The Midland & Northwestern railroad, familiarly known as the "Old Man of the T.P.," as a result of 4 years of litigation in State and Federal courts, will not be rehabilitated by the Texas & Pacific Railroad Company.

The fact became known at the general offices of the railroad company here Monday on receipt of decision of Federal Judge Duval West at Austin, granting an injunction prayed for by the T & P Railroad and directed against the State of Texas Railroad Commission preventing them from enforcing an order for the larger system to rebuild and operate the West Texas Railroad.

The property under dispute extends from Midland on the Texas & Pacific 65 miles to Seminole. It has not been operated for several years. At the time of Federal court foreclosure and sale of the railroad in 1923 the Texas & Pacific, which had advanced rails and other materials

Letters to Santa Claus

Children of the county are invited to send in their letters to Santa Claus immediately in order that Old Santa Claus will have plenty of time to read them in the News. We are glad to publish these letters and our only requirement is that they be written legibly.

Dear Santa:—I want a sidewalk bike. I will not ask for much this year but I want some fire works, and send mama a coconut and me a pair of hose. I am a big boy eight years old. Thank you Santy. A merry Christmas.

CECIL JOHNSON

Dear Santa:—Please send me a nice pair of gloves this Christmas and 3 pair of hose and some bloomers I am a little girl 6 years old. Thank you Santy. A merry Christmas.

ETHEL MAE JOHNSON

C. B. Gregg of Grassland was in town for the first time Wednesday after having undergone an operation for appendicitis in the West Texas Hospital at Lubbock about four weeks ago. He was released from the hospital two weeks ago, however. His many friends are glad to see him out again.

O'Donnell School Building Completed

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the O'Donnell Independent School District, Wednesday night, the new $70,000.00 high school building was accepted.

A few small details are yet unfinished due to the delay in material, but the board accepted the building holding out of the contract price enough to have these attended to when the material arrives. The contractors were paid off and all workmen released from the job. O'Donnell can now boast of having one of the best school buildings in this section of the state.—O'Donnell Index.

BREEDLOVE IS NEW PASTOR

Comes From Rule; Eldridge Transferred to Methodist Church At Miami

Rev. and Mrs. Jno. E. Eldridge returned Tuesday from Childress where they attended the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist church in session last week.

Rev. Eldridge was sent to Miami on the north plains for next year. Miami is the county seat of Roberts county and is just on the outskirts of the big Panhandle oil field. A number of wells are being drilled in Roberts county now and it is possible that Miami will itself soon have an oil boom. In that event the Eldridges will have plenty of material to work on. They will have a splendid field in any event, and their former friends and parishioners here will wish them a year of most joyous and successful work in their new charge. They have been in Tahoka two years and have done a good work here.

Rev. R. T. Breedlove comes as Bro. Eldridge's successor. He comes from Rule, one of the splendid towns of Haskell county. We find that he is not well known here but we are sure he will receive a royal welcome. He is expected to be here for the first service next Sunday morning.

Rev. W. B. Hicks was returned to O'Donnell, and Rev. W. C. Hart was returned to his charge at Draw and Grassland. Brother Dunn of Wilson, who is one of the veteran members of the Methodist ministry and of the Northwest Texas Conference, was placed on the supernuminate list and will reside in Lubbock. He retires from the active ministry with the love of his brethren and a great host of friends throughout this section. Rev. J. B. Thompson comes to Wilson as Pastor.

Rev. J. T. Howell, formerly pastor at Tahoka, going from here to Crosbyton two years ago, was sent to Wheeler.

Fined for Hunting Without License

Two otherwise good citizens who are non-residents of this county could not resist the temptation to do a little hunting out in the T-Bar pasture one day last week. Accordingly they put their guns in their car, went out to one of the lakes, and were just about ready to bag their game when two deputy game wardens happened along. Those who told us the story did not explain to us how the game wardens knew the offenders were non-residents and had no license to hunt in this county, but at any rate they tapped the offenders on the shoulder and invited them to come with them to town. They drew a fine of $20 each in Uncle Ike's court.

Rev. J. P. Calloway of Best was a visitor in Tahoka the first of the week. Rev. Calloway is the father of Mrs. J. R. Donaldson and was formerly Methodist pastor here.

NO BOY CAN SMOKE AND DRINK AND BE A GREAT ATHLETE IS OPINION OF 'RED' GRANGE

I spent two years of my boyhood working on the farm. At the time I thought I was very much abused and being forced to do more work than I should, but I look back now and realize that I can attribute a great deal of my football success to the hard work that I did upon the farm.

To be a successful athlete, you must work hard the entire year. Out-of-door work is always the best. You cannot become a great athlete by training only two or three months a year.

My suggestion to boys, if you desire to improve physically, is to do all the work on the farm that you can. It will build you physically faster than anything else in the world.

Cleanliness is a very important factor. Good habits are essential.

NEGRO WOMAN DRINKS POISON

Cotton Picker on Tippitt Farm Drinks Lysol; Came Here Recently From Waco

A negro woman, whose name is given as Mary Allen, committed suicide by drinking a bottle of lysol on the Tippitt farm four miles east of Tahoka last Friday. The family came here from Waco to pick cotton several weeks ago.

The cause of the rash act is assigned as jealousy. The woman and her husband and some other negroes had been picking cotton on the Tippitt place for several weeks. On Friday morning the woman picked cotton a short time and then quit and went to the house. When the husband and some negro boys came in at dinner they found her asleep and did not attempt to awaken her. Coming back to the house later in the afternoon, the husband found her still sleeping and his attempts to awaken her were futile. About dark he called a physician but it was too late. She died within an hour after the physician's arrival. An almost empty bottle of lysol was found in the room. If there had been any serious domestic troubles since coming to the Tippitt farm, Mr. Tippitt has no knowledge of it.

It is a very rare thing for a negro to commit suicide, but the suicide of this poor woman proves that negroes can suffer mental agony the same as white folks.

BALLINGER—The More Food and Conservation Campaign of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is to be launched at the Central West Texas District Convention of that organization which meets here November 15. The movement for living at home and encouraging thrift through more livestock for West Texas farms, involves a contest in which prizes aggregating $2,500 will be awarded by the regional chamber of commerce to farmers of its territory.

Prominent Texas Woman Died Mon.

Mrs. Cone Johnson died Monday afternoon.

The announcement brought sorrow to numerous friends throughout the state and nation, for Mrs. Johnson was scarcely less prominent in public life than her distinguished husband, who survives her. She had been president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, president of the Texas Division of the Daughters of the Confederacy, president of the Missionary Society of the Marvin Methodist Church of Tyler, her home town, and was a national committeewoman for the state at the national Democratic convention held in San Francisco in 1920. She was born in the historic old college town of Salado, Bell county, and was the daughter of Sterling C. Robertson, one of the signers of the Texas Declaration of Independence.

She was married to Cone Johnson 37 years ago and died on her 58th birthday.

Officers Make War on Gaming

County and city officers report that they have picked up a number of gambling cases in town recently. Some of the participants have entered pleas of guilty and paid their fines while others indicate that they expect to fight their cases. All of these are mature men, but the officers say that there are some boys who have been gambling and unless it stops they expect to capture a bunch of them some of these days. A hint to the wise should be sufficient.

BOY IS SHOT IN SHOULDER

Estes Moorefield Accidentally Shot By Billie Speight While Hunting in T-Bar Pasture

While Bill Speight and Estes Moorefield were out in the T-Bar pasture hunting Friday afternoon, a .22 calibre rifle in the hands of young Speight was accidentally discharged and the ball plowed its way through the shoulder of his companion. Speight, who was on the front seat of the car, had discharged the gun once, killing a jack rabbit, and while he was attempting to reload it, Moorefield jumped out of the car to get the rabbit. Just as he did so the gun was fired accidentally with the above result. Young Moorefield was evidently in a stooping position at the time, for the ball entered near the pit of the ear at the back, ranged upward, and made its exit near the top of the shoulder at the front. It barely missed the big artery that carries the blood from the heart to the arm, and had this been severed the accident in all probability would have been fatal. The wounded boy bled profusely and fainted several times from loss of blood, but the wound was promptly dressed by a physician and the patient is recovering nicely.

Boys with Airguns Beware!

To the mothers and fathers of Tahoka who have boys and air guns: Some time last week your boys practiced up on marksmanship. Now there may be another war some day, but they won't use air guns, and Uncle Sam may not like that kind of training. It will cost the Church of Christ several dollars to replace the window lights that were shot out last week. Now, Daddy, you bought the boy the gun. Will you please furnish him window lights, to shoot out? Now we don't want to put Daddy to too much expense, so just pay for the lights and spank Sonny. That will do good and save the some trouble. I have spoken to the law force of the town; and they will be on the look-out for Sonny. So don't get mad if you get a call from the Court House to come and pay your boy out. It is our duty to help protect our church building of our town and save our good name and possibly some eyeballs and some trouble and money. Now I know that money is not very easy to get, and window lights cost money. We know that boys are boys, but what kind of boys have we, who will just for mischief shoot window lights out of a church building? So Fathers and Mothers, attend to Sonny before Wesley has to and save us all trouble and money. Submitted in love to Fathers and Mothers of Tahoka.

15,866 BALES GINNED NOV. 1

Government Report Shows Lynn County Holding Third Place on Plains in Number Bales

Crosby county lead all the south plains counties in the number of bales of cotton of the 1926 crop ginned prior to November 1, according to the report issued by the U. S. Department of Commerce. Lubbock was a close second, Lynn stood third and Dawson fourth on the list. Two weeks prior to that time Dawson was second and Crosby was fourth. It is believed, however, that more cotton has been produced in either Lynn county or Dawson county than in Crosby county but that Crosby's lead is due to the fact that more cotton has been pulled both by hand and by alides than in this county. The figures for these four counties are as follows:

Crosby	18,496
Lubbock	18,298
Lynn	15,866
Dawson	14,597

Nueces in south Texas leads all the counties of Texas and Hidalgo in the same section of the state counties of the state are as follows:

Nueces	100,588
Williamson	80,773
Ellis	74,296

Jones county leads all west Texas counties, with Rummels a close second. The four leading counties in West Texas are as follows:

Jones	49,897
Rummels	46,181
Taylor	37,628
Coleman	35,429

Picking is practically over in south Texas and the larger portion of it is picked in central Texas, while picking is far advanced in north Texas and central west Texas. A rather small portion of the crop on the plains had been gathered prior to November 1 to which date the above figure apply.

START RURAL ROUTE SOUTH

Delivery Begun Tuesday; People Must Get Boxes Immediately, Says Parkhurst

Delivery of mail on Route No. 8, the new route recently established out of Tahoka, was begun Tuesday. Mail will be delivered three days each week on this route for the time being, as is the case with all new routes, but daily service will probably be installed after a few months. The route extends southward thru the T-Bar and Midway communities. Robert Reid is the carrier temporarily.

Some of the people who will be served on this route have not yet procured mail boxes, according to D. A. Parkhurst, postmaster, and he says that it is important that these boxes be placed at the earliest date possible.

This new route will serve a large number of patrons and will be a great convenience to them as well as the business men of Tahoka. Mr. Parkhurst is to be congratulated upon his successful efforts for the establishment of this route.

Judge W. H. Crunk of O'Donnell had professional business in the city Monday.

C. of C. Encourages Turkey Raising in Dawson County

The Agricultural Department of the Chamber of Commerce met last Thursday evening and concluded plans whereby 1,500 Turkey hens will be preserved to the County another year. It was pointed out that some $40,000 will be made in Dawson county by this move. Plans were also made to organize a poultry association for the purpose of increasing poultry production in the county.

A questionnaire is being prepared and will be placed in the home of every farmer of the county asking such information as how many hogs, chickens, cows and other articles for sale. Other valuable information will be asked for and when compiled will aid both the farmer in exchanging his products and the county agent as well. The acreage question will be touched in the questionnaire also. It is hoped that every farmer will respond as soon as he gets the questionnaire. The sooner this information is returned to the County Agent the sooner the farmer will begin to get results.—Lamesa Reporter.

Car is Used in 'Bulldogging' Steers

The automobile has invaded another realm of the horse, the dangerous game of "bulldogging" steers which has been popular in the Lone Star State ever since the vast herds of cattle first roamed its prairies.

The stunt was successfully performed recently for the first time by a daring cowgirl at the rodeo held at Bandera, Texas.

Crouched on the running board of a Chevrolet touring car, she rode in pursuit of a wild Texas steer. A group of yelling cowboys mounted on horses joined in the chase. The driver of the Chevrolet adroitly avoided a frenzied charge when the steer suddenly stood his ground and attempted to gore his pursuers.

The car then whirled in a swift circle and ran along the galloping steer. The cowgirl leaped from the running board to the animal's shoulders, locked one arm around his neck and threw him into the ground. She suffered no injury.

Veteran cowmen in Bandera county, the heart of the western ranch country, declare the "bulldogging" from a car appears to be safer than when the rider is mounted on a horse

CONSTIPATION

And Attendant Ills Relieved By Taking Black-Draught.

The Rev. Granville Edwards, who lives at Schoolfield, near Danville, Va., was troubled for a long time with constipation and its attendant ill, which kept him from feeling fit. He writes:

"Luckily I then, which was about twenty years ago, heard about Black-Draught and began to take it. After taking Black-Draught for a little while I noticed that my trouble began to disappear. The poisons, which had accumulated in the body, as a result of constipation, were eliminated, and I felt a hundred per cent. better. The dizzy feeling, which I had felt almost every morning before breakfast, was gone."

5,361 Bales Have Been Weighed Here

At Sunrise Thursday morning 5,361 bales had been weighed at the local cotton yard, according to the books of public weigher R. C. Wood. At noon on Thursday, November 19 last year, 7,725 bales had been received at the local yard, according to report published in this paper of that date, which is 2,364 bales more than weighed to date this season, or about 44 per cent more. Only 6,864 bales were ginned up to that date last year, however. We have not collected the ginning data this week but the ginnings will probably run closer up to the yard receipts than they did last year.

Unfavorable weather for gathering the crop and scarcity of pickers probably accounts for the decrease in this year's receipts from those of last year. With fair weather the crop will be gathered more rapidly hereafter, for many farmers have begun gathering their crops with slides which are improvised cotton picking machines. These slides are provided with hooks, and as the contrivance is drawn along astride the rows, the hooks strip the stalk of cotton, burr and some limbs. This, of course, lowers the grade of the cotton, but some farmers are in desperate conditions on account of the continued bad weather and must resort to all means available to get the crop gathered.

ERROR IN DATE LINE

Pay no attention to the date line at the top of the front page of this paper, dear reader. This paper is being issued on November 18 and not on November 11 as indicated by the date line. Just an omission of the printer to make the change from last week. If you want to get the right date and keep the record straight, just glance at the date line on any other page.

W. M. Harris, Happy Smith, C. T. Tankersley, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Briley left Sunday for Alpine with the intention of spending this week hunting deer in the Davis Mountains. Mr. Tankersley has a brother who resides there and knows the habits and the habitat of these fleet-footed animals. As we think about this bunch of Tahokites shooting game over in the mountains of the Trans-Pecos country, we begin to feel awfully hungry for venison.

C. W. Tolver and J. W. Mitchell of Oklahoma City were here on business Wednesday. Mr. Mitchell represents the service department of the Chevrolet Motor Company and while here these gentlemen were the guests of W. G. Briley.

ALL OF US SHOULD DO HEAD WORK

There is a fine season in the ground for small grain crops and it is claimed a vast acreage will be sown to wheat another year by farmers in this part of Lubbock county. Good idea. We have a great country—too great for its wonderful agricultural possibilities to be limited to the production of any one thing. Wheat, oats, cotton, corn, barley, rye, all kinds of forage crops, and the cow, sow and hen all grow to perfection in this country. No reason in the world why the South Plains farmer should not be the most independent human living. A little head work is all that is needed. —Idalou Echo.

Head work is right. Most of us would have done just exactly what the farmer has done. If we had been farming we would have planted a big cotton crop, for cotton was worth 20 cents per pound and most of us thought that the price would remain around that figure through the selling season. If the remainder of us had been in the farmer's shoes we would have been fooled just as the farmers have been. We can all see the mistake now. Too much cotton. It is not the government reports that have run the price down. It is the big crop. We believe it is all right for the Government to gather and disseminate the information as to the probable cotton production. But why not authorize and require the Government to likewise gather and disseminate information early in the year as to the probable cotton acreage. This would give the farmer information of the right kind when he needs it and could better profit by it. In the mean time, the farmer is going to do, without any advice, what everybody else has been advising him to do—he is going to plant more land in wheat and other grains and less of it in cotton; that is, some of the farmers are going to do this. Some of them are not in position to do so. But with worlds of feed, a lot of chickens and turkeys, and milk and butter ought to be produced throughout the plains country next year to supplement the cotton crop.

A drunk man is a pitiful sight, a contemptible sight. Two strangers drove up and stopped in front of our office one day this week. One of them seemed to be dead to the world; all crumpled up in the car beastly drunk. His companion kept him in the car and remained only a few minutes; decided it was time no doubt to be fleeing from the presence of respectable white folks. There is no bigger fool than the man who will tank up on booze. We are truly glad that this particular kind of fool is becoming rare. Twenty-five years ago, when there was a saloon on every corner in most of the cities and towns of Texas, the drunk fool was much in evidence. He has become an almost extinct species, with another generation of prohibition and education and decency, the drunk fool will be as rare as pig tracks in a parlor. So may it be.

It has been frequently said that Tahoka needs some fathers and mothers. The same probably has been said of every other town; and it is probably true in every case. It is evident that too many parents permit their sons and daughters to go at will and keep practically no "line" on them at all. Possibly if the parents knew about the conduct of their children, there would be fewer disturbances of religious worship by thoughtless or rude boys and girls.

Every governor has a big problem to deal with in making his—her—appointments. Sometimes a governor will use this power simply to reward political friends, regardless of their qualifications. Sometimes he—she—will will appoint men to positions simply in order that they may be used for the governor's own political advancement of financial gain. Sometimes the appointive power is used to buy off or to hush the opposition of the appointee. All these are unworthy motives. The matter of rewarding political friends should be a secondary matter with the governor of a great state. His first and paramount purpose should be to find men, or women, who are best qualified and fitted for the positions to be filled and who are scrupulously honest. The governor who will hew strictly to the line in these respects and will then be able to exercise good judgment in appraising the ability, fitness, and honesty of the respective applicants for office will render his state invaluable service. We hope that Dan Moody, when he becomes governor, will raise the highest standards possible and will use the keenest judgment in making his appointments. It is expected that he can do this and yet appoint no one who is not in sympathy with his administration. But if he finds it necessary to go outside the realm of his political friends in any case to find the best man for any given position we hope that he will have the courage and independence to do so. No man, in whom there is the slightest taint of dishonesty, should be appointed to any office. We hope that Dan Moody will prove to be great in the selection of his official family.

MR. AL SMITH

Bonham Favorite: Al Smith is as certain of the Democratic nomination for President as the Texas farmer is of getting rich this year on ten-cent cotton.

He is that certain, and may be certain. A man who can be elected Governor of New York four times by great majorities, is not one to be dismissed with a shrug. Al Smith is the only man who has ever had that distinction in all the annals of New York State. DeWitt Clinton, who was given the credit for the Erie Canal, was elected three times on the strength of his imposing popularity and pre-eminent ability. It is certain, if he lives, that Governor Smith will appear at the next Democratic convention with the solid backing of New York Democracy and the Democracy of most of the other heavily populated Eastern States. It must be remembered that he was a conspicuous and greatly respected man in politics before the prohibition issue arose. He has been consistently opposed to the 18th Amendment and still is. He has not played on both sides. While an anti-prohibitionist in his way of thinking, he is known as a sober man personally, one of clean life, and clear of any scandal, private or public. He was a typically poor city boy and won his way in the world over a typically difficult road. It is apparent to all who take the trouble to examine the facts that Governor Smith has mightily improved his chances for the nomination since 1924. It is doubtful if Mr. McAdoo is as strong now as then. Should Governor Smith become the Democratic standard bearer his election will not hinge on the differences between the Democratic party and the Republican. It will hinge on the difference between prohibition and anti-prohibition. Prohibition is certainly embedded in the Constitution, but it is not certain that it is embedded in the hearts of the majority. The lines are being drawn. Let no man mistake them. —State Press in Dallas News.

When Uncle Joe Cannon died a few days ago one of the most picturesque figures that ever entered American politics passed from the stage of action. Uncle Joe was a member of Congress for about fifty years and was one of the most influential and powerful members of that body for most of the time. As speaker of the house he wielded a wicked whip, according to his political enemies in that body. They hated him in the Speaker's chair but loved him in the cloak room. Uncle Joe was intensely human and strictly a man of the world. But his associates say that he was scrupulously honest and had a big heart beneath his vest and that should cover a multitude of sins. A man of strong personality he ran his courses and gone on to join the ranks of our distinguished dead.

"Yes though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff, they comfort me."—Ps. 23:4.

A mischievous boy with an air gun can sometimes do a lot of property damage. Fathers who permit their children to wander around with weapons of destruction should keep a closer watch over the children. In any event they should be required to pay for the damage done. Recently there has been considerable complaint about boys shooting window lights out of a church and puncturing electric light globes no the streets. If this kind of vandalism should continue, some little fellow will possibly land in jail, and then the parents will feel that the officers have done them a great injustice. Better look after the boys.

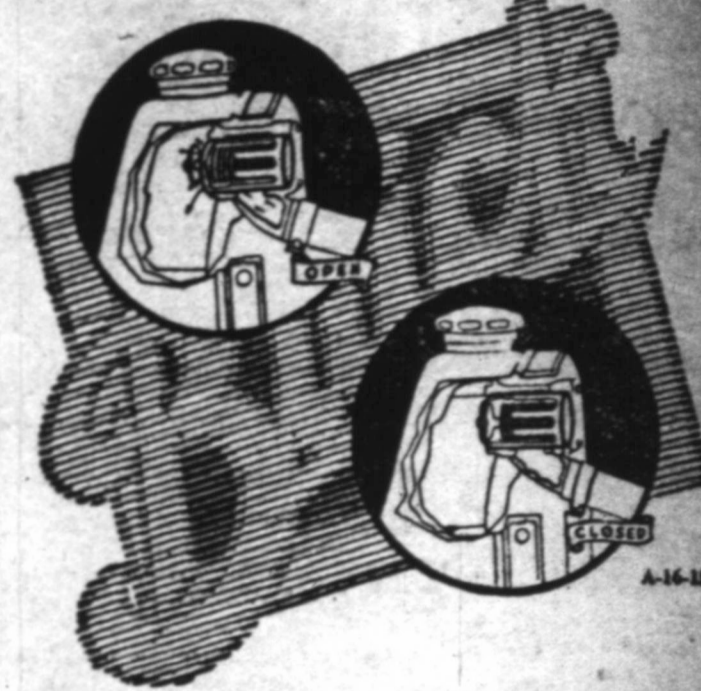

Every cloud has a silver lining. We probably will not have much silver in our pockets this winter but we all have that which is better than silver; we have good friends and neighbors, the best people on earth to live among, and a merciful Father who sees even the sparrow's fall. He has not let any of us starve to death yet. Let's all smile.

Say, men, for the sake of our town and our boys, let's not gamble. These little card games can do us no good and they may lead to much harm. Most of us have something of the gambling spirit within us, but let's keep it in subjection for the sake of others if not for our own good.

The children are already thinking of Santa Claus, as is evidenced by the fact that the News this week contains two letters addressed to him. All this reminds us that Christmas is again coming and will soon be here. A merry Christmas to everybody!

Lord, we are thankful for the sand storms.

ANDVIEW BOYS
MADE GOOD GAIN FROM TWO SOWS

John and Willie Towns, sons of W. Towns of the Grandview community have demonstrated that hogs pay. These boys are members of the Grandview farm boy's club on June 9 they borrowed $65 from the First National Bank of Lamesa and with the money bought two sows. Recently eleven pigs were sold for the amount of one hundred dollars. The boys still have the two sows and one shoat left. They plan to kill one of the sows for meat this winter and will also kill the shoat. The feed for this bunch of hogs has cost ten dollars and Chas B. Martin, county agent has gone over the records kept by the boys and has found that the hogs made one hundred dollars clear money for their owners in the five months they had them. They have paid back the borrowed money and will buy a purebred sow soon, and plan to go into the hog business right for next year. Mr. Martin says that the Towns boys have shown that there is money in hogs and he says there are many other men and boys in Dawson county who can do the same thing these boys have done.—Dawson Co. CIGARETTE MANUFACTURER

SHOULD LET THE WOMEN ALONE

An article in "Liberty" says that the women of the United States are using cigarettes in increasing numbers, but that tobacco manufacturers have been afraid to advertise directly for this trade because of possible resentment. The article says that the use of cigarettes has increased from around 17 billion in 1914 to 80 billion in 1925, and asserts that 2 out of 5 women have cigarettes on their persons—"in the big cities, a larger proportion." This statement is nonsense. Not two out of five women in New York and Chicago use cigarettes; not one in the 100 in the country districts and smaller towns use cigarettes and not one in ten in the urban communities outside of the big cities have the habit. The use of cigarettes has grown among men because of the influence of the war and because millions of men who formerly smoked pipes and cigars now use cigarettes.

The use of tobacco in any form is not vice. The question of prohibition is not involved except in case of minors, but if it be true, as this writer says, that the cigarette makers are afraid to promote the habit among women, they are wise in their generation, for they will certainly be hunting trouble if they do. Nine out of ten men of native birth in the United States, who themselves use tobacco, not only disapprove its use by women but would quickly manifest an intense and very practical resentment against any trade which tried to make the typical American wife or daughter a cigarette smoker.

The reasons are few and simple: First, the American man likes the American woman as she is. He does not want her to take up a habit which for generations was closely associated with prostitution. Second, the American woman is the mother of the American sons and daughters and the American father does not allow his little one to lie in the bosom of a woman whose blood is tainted with tobacco. Cigarettes may be relatively harmless for men; it is certain they are not relatively harmless for babies. American babies have a right to be well born and that right is more important than the dividends of tobacco companies.

The writer in Liberty insinuates that the tobacco companies are trying to suggest in an unobtrusive way the use of cigarettes by women. He says: "Smart advertising writers and artists for sometime past have been getting their messages across to the women and in one of the most adroit campaigns I have ever noted. Pick up any magazine or newspaper or look around you at the cigarette advertisements on the billboards and almost without fail you will find a woman somewhere in the picture. One recently showed a hand undoubtedly feminine holding a cigarette. Another has a girl asking her boy friend to 'blow some her way'. These all link up the woman and the cigarette, yet none of them offers her a package for sale."

No, the American girl does not smoke as yet. Smoking by women in America is largely confined first to prostitutes; second to "high society" women who have money, but have not, or are not loyal to family traditions, third to poor little flappers with holes in the stockings who want to imitate the society dames. But these unfortunate girls and women are comparatively few in number. Tens of millions of typically American girls get along without tobacco and there are tens of millions of tobacco-using men who will see to it that this condition continues if anything they can do will avail.—Board of Temperance, M. E. Church.

REPORTER

INDEPENDENCE HALL

Many of the memorable events held in connection with the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition in Philadelphia during the last five months have taken place within the political sanctuary of America—Independence Hall.

Distinguished men and women from all parts of the globe have entered its portals to view the halls where early patriots affixed their signatures to the document which has given us 150 years of freedom, and to see the ancient Liberty Bell which proclaimed it.

The State House is beautiful both in mass effects and minute details. Its facade is centered exactly and winged and arched alike at right and left. Simplicity and balance are the outstanding features.

It is a Colonial now is the timemmm
Seen from Independence Square it is a Colonial structure of time-mellowed brick with white window stones. The clock tower is square at the bottom and rises in eight-sided diminutions to a six-sided narrow pinnacle topped by a trident-like gilt weathervane.

The rooms are serenely beautiful; they are dignified, large and light. There are panels and charming cornices; there are pillars and pilasters.

At the foot of the magnificent stairway now stands the Liberty Bell upon which may still be read the Bible verse which was cast upon it by its makers long before the Revolution:

"Proclaim Liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof."

The Hall of the Signers possesses a matchless nobility of effect. Here is not only the chair of Hancock, but here, too, is the desk which he used and the silver inkstand into which he dipped his pen, with quill holder and sand box.

The Hall of Independence has seen many important scenes aside from those connected with the Declaration. It was here that thousands of excited citizens, assembled to hear the news of Concord and Lexington

It was here that Washington was made Commander-in-chief. The Constitution was debated, agreed to and signed in this building.

Farmer Can Solve Cotton Problem Says J. S. Wells

Legislation is not needed to solve the cotton problem, says J. S. Wells. If every farmer would keep two good milk cows, one brood sow, and 100 hens, they would have no grocery bill to pay in the fall, he declares. Two cows will furnish all the milk and butter any family can use and enable them to sell quite a bit besides. One good brood sow would raise two litters of pigs and furnish meat for the family and to spare. One hundred hens would each produce at least $2.00 worth of eggs each year, which would be $200.00, besides the meat they furnish the family table. Our people must learn to live at home, he declares. They do not need legislation. They need to raise their own bread and meat, do more canning, and use more cotton.

Preacher Money Gets Pounded

Rev. W. M. Mooney reports that he got a terrible pounding Sunday afternoon. He has been preaching at regular intervals out at Edith for several months. On last Sunday afternoon he went out and filled his regular appointment. When he came out of the building he found a man fumbling around in his car. At first he could not imagine what the culprit was up to, but it did not take him long to find out. The fellow and others of his community, had piled his car full of all sorts of good things to eat. Brother Money called the list over to us, but it is too long for us to undertake to repeat.
 The preacher says it was the most pleasant pounding he ever got, and he thinks it will do him good. He says those Edith people are the best people on earth.

LET'S KEEP THE C. OF C. ALIVE

(An Editorial)
 A canvass of the business men of the town is now being made by the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce to determine whether or not they are willing to contribute enough monthly to keep the work going. Owing to the business depression resulting from the low price of cotton, a few have decided to discontinue their contributions to the organization and others are cutting down the amount of their contributions, while still others have indicated that they will continue to contribute the same amounts they have been contributing heretofore.
 While it may be deemed necessary to cut down the expenses, yet it is hoped that the business men of the town will keep this organization alive. There is much that a chamber of commerce can do even now. It may be that there will be vital need for one a few months hence. But if the present organization is permitted to die, it would be hard for another to be organized any time soon, however great the need might be.

KINCAID & SON
—THE HELP YOURSELF STORE—

Thieves Busy at O'Donnell Last Week

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gillespie, who live nine miles southeast of town was broken into Sunday by thieves while the family was away at church. The intruders helped themselves to all the clothing the family possessed save what they had on their back, leaving Mr. Gillespie only one pair of old overalls and one sock. Mr Gillespie stated that if the robbers would call for it they could have the other sock as he is afraid to wear one without the other. Besides their clothing, Mr. Gillespie's watch was missing with a few other small articles. Officers were notified immediately but so far there has been no trace of the thief or thieves.

It seems as though this neighborhood is receiving more than its share of trouble as only last week two petty thefts were reported in that section.

Burglars again made their appearance in O'Donnell Wednesday night. A number of thefts were reported Thursday morning the automobile owners of the city being the principal losers. Carl Thompson reported the loss of a casing and radiator from his car which was parked at his home during the night. Ed Russell lost three casings from his truck and Hugh Thomas lost a casing and all the tools from his car.

It is supposed that the thefts were committed by the same party or parties. So far the officers have not made any arrests or have any clue as to the identity of the guilty parties.

Such practices are getting to be common occurrences in and around O'Donnell lately and it is hoped that justice will be given the guilty in due time. —O'Donnell Index.

ELEVEN CENT COTTON

Eleven cent cotton and forty cent meat,
How in the world can a poor man eat?
Flour up high, cotton down low,
How in the world can we raise the dough?
Our clothes worn out, shoes run down,
Old slouch hat with a hole in the crown,
Backs nearly broke, fingers all sore
And cotton going down to rise no more.
Eleven cent cotton and ten dollar pants,
Who in the world has got any chance?
We can't buy clothes, we can't buy meat,
Got too much cotton and nothing to eat.
We've got no homes, we've got no wealth,
Losing our credit and ruining our health.
Can't help each other, what shall we do?
I can not solve it, so its up to you.
Eleven cent cotton and a load of tax,
The load's too heavy for our poor backs.
We're a good set of farmers, as all know well,
But something is wrong as sure as well.
All worked hard; we've groaned and sweat.
Now we are ruined—we're a blowed up set.
No use talking, any man's best,
With eleven cent cotton and forty cent meat.

BROWNFIELD FOLKS ARRESTED SATURDAY

Last Saturday night a party of young people motored over from Brownfield to take in the dance over at the natatorium and incidently got a little prescription whiskey and having found a doctor who does not live in Dawson county willing to write the prescription as one of the number was supposed to be sick, and according to reports, they took the whiskey to the dance and from all accounts others in the crowd felt badly and imbibed in the prescription and the result was that Sheriff Dillard and Deputy Lane escorted them to the county boarding house and they had a chance to make bond and return wiser and better folks.

They will pick another county perhaps to have fun in the next time as the end is not all yet in sight.—Lamesa Reporter.

Anthony Dworak, basso, Arthur Kayser, baritone, Cranfill Fowler, 1st tenor, and Lancelot Bufton 2nd tenor comprise a quartet that would be hard to surpass. Hear them at the Star Theatre Thursday night.

PROGRESSIVE RED CROSS CAMPAIGN FOR HEALTH!

Public Health Nursing, Nutrition and Home Hygiene Work Cover the Country.

Important contributions to public health were made by the American Red Cross through its Public Health Nursing Service, Nutrition Service, and its instruction in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick. In every State and Alaska, with the exception of Delaware and Nevada, instruction was given by the Red Cross, also in the Philippines, Hawaii, Porto Rico and Virgin Islands. A total of 57,376 women and girls learned to make a hygienic home, and care for the sick in their homes.

The United States Public Health Service estimates that adequate rural health nursing service would cost $22,000,000 annually, but would save a billion dollars in value of human life, earning power, and economic conservation. The American Red Cross, through its Public Health Nurses, of whom there were nearly 800 on duty the past year, is doing its part in meeting this requirement.

The Red Cross, through its nutrition Service, taught thousands what to eat for health. In this country, 24 States were served with from one to ten Red Cross Chapter nutrition programs in each State. In 33 States, nutrition instruction was given either through the regular nutrition instructors or through volunteer dietitians.

During the school year an average of 15,413 individuals a month, including parents, teachers, pre-school, and school children, were assisted to a better knowledge of food in its relation to health, and how to apply it to their daily lives. In March, 111,219 individuals received this instruction, while during the year 3,333 classes were conducted and 6,450 conferences and home visits were given by nutritionists, thus reaching thousands of individuals.

The Annual Roll Call for Membership from November 11 to 25 is an invitation to all persons to assist in maintenance of such services through another year by enrolling in the American Red Cross.

LAMESA SHERIFF HAS LOOT NOBODY WILL CLAIM

Sheriff Boone Dillard has in his possession about twenty pairs of men's pants, six pairs of shoes, three dresses and one ladies coat, and he has not been able to find the owner of the merchandise.

People who were down in the "brakes" below the caprock, Sunday, found the stuff hid in a cave and notified Dillard. He went down and got the stuff but has not found anyone who would claim it.—Dawson Co. Journal.

ROSCOE HIGH NOSES OUT TAHOKA BULLDOGS

After the game the boys were assigned to homes. Friday evening all the Tahoka people were given seats reserved for the Woman's Club. After the wedding they were entertained at the high school building. Some of the boys returned after the entertainment; others remained over until Saturday.

The greatest feature of the game and other activities was the pep and school spirit displayed by the Roscoe schools and town. To say that the boys and girls believe in their school is to put it lightly. Much enthusiasm was displayed in every way possible.

The Tahoka School take this means of thanking the schools and town of Roscoe for the many courtesies extended.

to the company, was forced, by virtue of being sole bidder to take the property to protect its equity in it.

Since then the Texas & Pacific and the Texas Railroad Commission have gone more than one round in deciding what is to be done with the property as a going concern. The railroad company has sought to dismantle the property, while the Texas Commission has insisted that it should be fixed up and operated by the Texas & Pacific.

The Interstate Commerce Commission refused on several occasions to exercise jurisdiction in the dispute. Recently the attorney general of Texas entered suit in the 53rd District Court at Austin seeking to have the order of the Texas Commission entered as to the rehabilitation and operation of the line. No decision has been reached by Judge George Calhoun as yet.

In the meantime, anticipating the action of the Attorney General, attorneys for the T & P entered the Federal District Court at Austin and prayed for the injunction now given.

Sugarland Man Suggests Solution Of Cotton Problem

W. T. Eldridge, capitalist, manufacturer, and railway builder, of Sugarland has written to J. S. Wells of this city enclosing copies of telegrams and letters he has sent to President Coolidge, Henry Ford, and others, suggesting a solution of the cotton problem. He says that the cotton surplus amounts to 2,000,000 bales. This could easily be used by the American people in addition to cotton being consumed by them already. His suggestion is that every family in America buy a cotton mattress, or at least as many as possible be induced to do so, that cotton sacks be used instead of tow and other substances, and that cotton goods be used in every possible way. There are possibly 25 million families in the United States. If even 10 million of them would buy a cotton mattress each, of the average of forty pounds, that would require 400,000 bales of cotton. It would consume a large part of the low grade cotton and decrease the supply for general purposes just that much. The plan of Ford and others to buy large quantities and hold it off the market would help some but it does not consume the cotton nor take it permanently off the market. Eldridge's plan would do so. He suggests that every furniture man and dealer in mattresses in Texas urge the people a fiber respective section, to adopt this plan. Let each family buy a mattress or have one or two made and it will help to solve the problem. He calls attention to the fact that nation-wide movements similar to this were put over during the war and he believes it can be done now.

I. M. Draper, who was in the News office Wednesday, says that the cotton in the hill district southeast of town is very late and that some have not begun to gather their cotton yet. The yield in that territory will be very short, and he says the people will all snap it rather than pick it, where it can be snapped. Mr. Draper thinks that a law prohibiting the planting of cotton on the same land two years in succession would be a fine thing for the country, provided it would be constitutional.

Noodle Creek Has Another Oil Well

Another gusher was brought Saturday in the new Noodle Creek oil field a few miles north of and almost mid way between the water and Abilene. The well, according to press reports, is deeper than the first one, the Winston 1, which came in unexpectedly two months ago. It is situated 700 to 1,000 southwest of the first well and is good for 1000 barrels per day or more, it is claimed. The bringing in of this well resulted in much excitement here and has created new interest in the newest West Texas oil field. Fans are more confident than ever that a real oil field lies in that vicinity and not merely a pool. Other wells are being drilled and two of them are expected to pay sand this week.

Time and money have not been spared in an attempt to secure a market for the farmers. Individual farmers have failed, the U. S. Government employment service has failed, and we have failed to secure needed help. We now regret the fact that the cotton market has gotten out any possible way. Policy has been to give what we can to the agricultural interests instead of being a detriment.
