Second Bailey County Test Well Set On Conrad Williams Land, Southwest

Drilling on another Bailey County wildcat oil test will be started as soon as a rig, now being erected on the Conrad Williams land southwest of Muleshoe, is ready, The Journal learned last night.

The rig which was used to drill the Black No. 1, north of Bula, was being moved yesterday to the new site.

The well will go down on the southwest 40 acres of Sec. 144, Block A, Melvin Blum & Blum subdivision.

W. A. Moncrief, Jr., of Midland, who had the Black well drilled, is putting down this well, intended as a thorough test of the San Andreas formation, it was said. The San Andreas is expected to be around 4500 feet in the area. Cores will be taken and drill stem tests will be run, it is reported. The Black well had no showing of oil and was abandoned as a dry hole after reaching a reported depth of 4435 feet.

small worms, appeared in increasing numbers throughout the area. While infestations were light in most localities, more activity of the insect was observed in the southern and western sections of the area, where cotton is generally larger and more heav ily fruited.

Leafworms were reported in Howard, Lamb, Lubbock, Terry and Yoakum counties. Only occasional eggs and worms were observed, indicating very light infestations The garden webworms (careless weed worm) was reported on cotton in most localities. Infestations were generally not heavy. Damaging infestations were reported in Bailey county. Cabbage loopers were present on cotton in most fields. Infestations were generally light, although eggs were observed in larger numbers in some localities. Grasshoppers were reported on otton in Borden and Yoakum ounties. We strongly urge everyone to consult the Texas Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects for recommended insecticides and dosages. Guides are available at county agent's offices.

According to Bob Carroll, sports editor of The Plainview Daily Herald, it was Muleshoe's week" in Plainview during their annual Country Club invitational golf tournament. Terry Dill, 18 year old Muleshoe youth, is pictured above with the championship trophy. Torry, who has been getting hotter and hotter this summer defeated Jack Williams of Plainview, the defending champion in an extra hole round Sunday to become Plainview's new champion.

Earlier in the tournamen the Muleshoe team, led by Joe Lopez, the local pro, had burned up the course to win the title in the City National Bank Cup Matches. The team was composed of Lopez, Bill St. Clair, Russell Haberer, and Dill. Lopez posted a course record typing 62, a record set sev-eral years ago by Williams. The trophies are on view at the Muleshce Golf Club. Earlier this summer Dill won the Brownfield invitational tourney. He is a 1957 graduate of Muleshoe high school, and cap-

Babson Discusses Making Our Community More Prosperous

Babson Park, Mass., July 25 - During the past month many towns and cities have held high school graduations. These young people have been taught the answers to almost every question except the economics of the place in which they live. Therefore, let me this week answer questions on this subjec

REGARDING EMPTY STORES

QUESTION NO. 1. Why do we find empty stores on our business streets? ANSWER: Because more money is going out of the community than is coming into it. This can be corrected only by the citizens producing more and selling more than they are buying. As soon as the community produces more than it consumes, every store is rented.

REASONS FOR UNEMPLOYMENT

QUESTION NO. 2. Why are good people out of work at times? ANSWER: Because these people have not been trained to produce or render more than 1 service. Perhaps too many young people have been trained for white-collar jobs. Perhaps there are too many business offices and not enough factories, services, farms, or fisheries. Perhaps those who are now employed do not take an interest in their work; hence, they will not be making money for their employers. Sometimes I feel that graduates who cannot get jobs should be returned to the schools and be properly trained. If we buy a washer, or a vacuum cleaner, or a TV set and it "does not make good", we return it until it is satisfactory. We should be able to do this with unsatisfactory high school gradutaes!

REASON FOR TIGHT MONEY QUESTION NO. 3 Why is it now difficult to borrow money from local banks? Answer: Because too many citizens are sending money to New York to be put into stocks, instead of investing it at home. This might have been a wise thing to do in the 1930's when stocks were selling so low; but it is not the thing to do today. For those buying stocks now there is more risk of a loss than chance for a profit. If we would keep the money at home, the banks would have plenty to loan

WHAT ABOUT SHOPPING CENTERS? QUESTION NO. 4. Is your community being hurt by a new shopping center? ANSWER: The no use of merchants griping, or complaining, about new shopping centers. Price-cutting on the part of local retailers will not solve the problem. Free parking is the greatest attraction of shopping centers. The best way to compete with them therefore, is for local towns and cities to supply more free parking closer to their retail stores. would not attempt to operate a retail store unless it was close to a free parking lot. Also, the more competition a community has from a shopping center, the more that community must produce from its factories, farms, services, or fish

WHAT ABOUT TAXES?

QUESTION NO. 5. Why are local taxes so high? ANSWER: First let me say that the taxes of most communities have n t gone up any more than have wages or commodities. Most town and city governments are doing the best they can to keep taxes down; but they cannot buck the tide of population and the demand for conveniences. As young people move into a community and have children, usually only the father is a producer. Children are an asset to the community, if they will remain in the community as workers and producers after graduation. Otherwise, the community has been put to great expense to educate them and has received little in return. Cities to which these young people go for work after graduation — or the young people themselves — will some day be compelled to send money back to the city which educated them.

QUESTION NO. 6. Do you believe in Turnpike Bonds? ANSWER: The simplest method of avoid ing Federal and State taxes is to buy turnpike bonds. Issues carrying 31/2% coupons can now be purchased in the 70's and 80's and should be perfectly safe and free from all Federal and State taxes. The only way I know to beat City taxes is to have a lot of children and get them a free education! However, the duty of paying for schools, highways, fire and police protection should be preached by the newspapers, schools and even churches. Ministers might more often preach from the first eight verses of the 15th Chapter of St John and the firsh thirty verses of the 25th Chap-Congress talks about passing stand-by control authority, but it won't act unless the President asks for that. Mr. Eisenhower says he will request authority "only as a last resort." "I believe," he said recently, "that if you have to resort, in time of peace, to strict govern-ment control of prices, of wages, services and things, then we are "abandoning the system that made us great."

Top government economists tell us that we seem to be going from "creeping" to "walking" inflation. They can't be sure when it may break into run-away inflation.

Living costs, which have been going up steadily to a new all-time high, are due for another boost. Prices will be marked up for automobiles, tractors, refriger-ators and for almost everything else you buy. The steel price rise triggered the increased pace of inflation, but it will be helped along by higher transportation costs and, almost certainly, another pound of meet

Sandhills Philosopher Tries To Raise Price Of Eggs Because The Price of Steel Has Gone Up

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm may be a little mixed up this week, but that's his lookout, not ours Dear editar:

The trouble with inflation is that not enough people understand it fully enough.

I had noticed in a copy of a newspaper which a neighbor of mine brought me a mess of fish in -for your information it wasn't a copy of your paper, as this one had a fishy smell-that the price of steel had recently gone up $8 a ton, which clearly indicated the steel industry has let its quently, when I took a dozen eggs into town yesterday to sell, I told the store I'd have to have five cents more. "How come?" the store owner asked.

"Don't you read your newspaper? It's on account of the increase in the price of steel", I explained.

Now here'e the rub. Instead of nodding his head in agreement and saying there didn't seem to be any way around it, he just laughed. You could see he didn't have any full understanding of inflation and the upward price spiral. "Don't believe I'd be interested", he sa certainly, another round of wage increases. Inflation pinches hardest when costs rise more rapidly than your income. Farmers, small business-men, and retired people on fixed incomes, are hit first and hardest. Those who have saved for their old age, or to buy a farm, a home or a business find their savings worth less. Life insurance bought years age with "hard" dollars de-creases in value. We've been having "creeping" inflation now for almost 20 years. A dollar will buy less than half as much now as it did just prior to World War II.

newspaper subscription expire, as President Eisenhower only the day before had asked business to hold prices down voluntarily, and as a result a lot other things were automatically going up.

For example, naturally the watch manufacturers, on hearing the price of steel had gone up, will figure they ought to go up on the price of watches, as everybody knows the steel spring in a watch is made of steel, even if it doesn't weigh over an ounce.

Plow points, tractors, cars, pickups, naturally will require an increase in price, to offset the rise in the price of steel, and so I decided what was good for industry was good for me. Conse

Irrigation, The Magic Word Means Life and Prosperity For West Plains

the West Plains of Texas. From the sprinkler twirling merrily at the end of a 50 foot garden hose on your (you hope) lawn, to the huge industrial engines pumping thousands of gallons per minute down the cotton rows on a 20-section farm, irrigation is the real lifesblood of the Plains.

Shallow water and lots of it, has meant as much if not moreto the residents of this area than rich soil or congenial climate. More bank deposit slips have been made out as a result of irrigation than any other factor in this part of the world. Let's take a look at this irrigation business. First, there are approximately 750 irrigated farms in Bailey county, watering an estimated Bill Millen place east of town. 150,000 acres of cotton, grain This monstrous rig is attached to sorghum, other grain and vegetables. Of this number of acres, there are 138,800 watered by
