NELSON AT LUBBOCK MEET

Possibility of Tahoka Getting Natural Gas After Attending E. M. A. Meet

E. M. Nelson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and S. R. Kelley attended the meeting of the Natural Gas Merchants Association of Lubbock held in that city Monday night. They reported that the representatives from 15 or more towns on the South Plains were present as guests of the Lubbock association, many of whom were called upon for a few remarks. Mr. Nelson responded in behalf of Tahoka and did his part to let the assembled members and visitors know about the capital of Lynn county.

They report that the chief topic of interest during the evening was the announcement by A. J. McMahan, of Oklahoma City, head of the Texas Gas Co., that his company would have natural gas piped into Lubbock and Slaton for domestic and industrial use before cold weather comes again. He was accompanied by a number of Northern and Eastern capitalists who are interested in this project and who were making a tour of inspection of the territory to be served. A 16-inch line will extend from Slaton to Amarillo, it is stated, a 14-inch line from Amarillo to Plainview, a ten-inch line from Plainview to Lubbock, and an eight-inch line from Lubbock to Slaton. Six-inch lateral lines will be laid from Plainview to Lockney and Floydada. Mr. Nelson thinks that these gentlemen might be induced to extend a representative number of Tahoka business men at Lubbock Monday night, so we have interviewed these gentlemen concerning such an extension," Mr. Nelson stated.

Mr. Nelson also stated that the possibility of Tahoka getting natural gas is very promising and that he is sure to bring back more information from his trip to Lubbock.

CHURCH OF CHRIST BIBLE CLASS MEETS

The Ladies Bible Class of the Church of Christ met Monday afternoon with Mrs. W. E. Taylor. After a very interesting lesson on "The Life of John the Baptist, Mrs. J. K. Callaway gave a report of her trip to Dallas where she attended a series of lectures at A. C. C. This was very much enjoyed by those present. The class will meet with Mrs. C. E. Townes next Monday, with Mrs. Jesse Sulstank as leader.

Local Pupils Fight Special Legislation

The members of the civics and public speaking classes of the local high school are taking their part as citizens and are watching legislation in the present session of the Texas Legislature. Having had their attentions called to the evils of special legislation and especially the abuse of extension of taxes as pointed out by the Lynn County News, they have the following message by wire to the representative, Mr. Whitaker, in the district. The message is as follows:

"Mr. Whitaker, Special Session, State Capitol, Austin, Texas.

"We are writing you from legislation which is now pending for a dam on Trimmings and extension of taxes of this county are such that we feel with you to fight the measure which is so detrimental to our best interests. Even high school students can see what the ultimate and final legislative continues. —Tahoka, Lynn County, Texas."

Local Law Wins Place On Simmons Debating Team

A student of this city, who has spent two or three years, has been selected as one of the members of the Simmons debating team this year. It is a signal honor and will be congratulated upon by all. This team will represent the college teams in the debate.

Trimming Trees On Court House Lawn

Under the supervision of Uncle Will Brown the trees on the Court House lawn have been trimmed up. Most of the limbs have been cut back many feet. All dead and diseased limbs have been removed and others trimmed back so as to best preserve the life and the beauty of the trees, according to Mr. Brown. The trees consist principally of black locusts and elms. It is to be hoped that the severe pruning given them will prove to be beneficial.

BEN KING'S HOME BURNS

Two Children Narrowly Escape Death in Fire; Oil Stove Was Fire's Cause

The beautiful stucco residence of Ben King, situated in north Tahoka was totally destroyed by fire Wednesday morning, together with all its contents. The fire is said to have originated from an oil stove, which Mrs. King left burning for a short time while calling on a sick neighbor. When discovered the stove was wrapped in flames and two small children which Mrs. King had left in the residence were almost suffocated by the smoke. She barely succeeded in rescuing them in time to save their lives.

An alarm was turned in and the fire boys responded promptly, but found it impossible to get sufficient water from the two inch pipe line traversing that section of the town to successfully combat the flames. In spite of their efforts the flames continued to spread. Finally the hose was detached from the two-inch pipe and attached to a six-inch main, whereupon the water came with great force, but it was too late to save the building.

Mr. King carried only $2,000 insurance on the building and $1,000 on the furniture, which only partially covered the loss.

Kelly Gets Hung Jury in Case

Several civil cases were disposed of in the district court last week but only one criminal case was tried, the Jack Kelly case. This case was tried during the second week of the term, resulting in a "hung" jury, nine for acquittal and three for conviction. Upon the second trial, which occurred last week, the jury likewise failed to agree and were discharged Friday morning. We understand that they divided 6 to 6.

Other criminal cases were set for Wednesday of this week and are now being disposed of by the court. This is the last week of the term, which will expire by limitation Saturday.

Farm Meeting Held At Draw

Mr. Holland, Field Development Manager of the Mistleton Creamery of Amarillo will speak on the subject of dairying at the farm diversification meeting to be held at Draw Friday night. This is the regular monthly meeting at Draw of the farm diversification program being sponsored by the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce. Other outside speakers will be present to discuss other subjects. There will also be a program of music, readings and songs by the students of the Draw public school.

G. E. Nelson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, urges as many people of Tahoka as possible to attend this meeting, since the things to be heard at these meetings are good not only for the farmers but also for the town people.

TABOKA PEOPLE ATTEND FAT STOCK SHOW

J. S. Wells and family, Claude Wells and family, J. E. Weatherford, Mrs. Inez Williams, and Miss Lucille Taylor and Frankie Wells left Tahoka Saturday afternoon for Fort Worth to attend the Fat Stock Show. They are expected back about today (Thursday).

ONE-DAY FARM SHORT COURSE WILL BE HELD HERE MARCH 21

On Monday, March 21st a one day Farmers Short Course will be held in Tahoka. The general meeting place for lectures will be the district court room in the Lynn County court house. The purpose of the Short Course is to better equip the farmers and the farmer's wives of Lynn county for undertakings necessary in carrying out their farm diversification program.

The topics for discussion this day will be as follows: Yard Improvement; Oil Stoves and Their Care; Poultry; Swine, and dairying. These topics will be discussed by representatives of the Extension department of A. & M. College of Texas. You know, therefore, that they will be ably presented.

Remember that this is to be a county-wide Short Course, the first of the kind to be held in Lynn county. It is urged that everyone in the county attend. This is an opportunity for the club women, boys and girls of the county to get something that will be worth while to them. It is of service to the agricultural interests of Lynn county. Come to spend the day. Bring your dinner with you and spread it together on the tables to be erected on the court house lawn.

Let us make the day enjoyable as well as profitable.

In properly carrying out this Short Course it will be necessary for us to have several head of the very best dairy cattle in the county, some of the best swine, and some of the best poultry. We hope that if you have some of the above of the highest type that you will call us and let them be used for that day.

Watch your local paper for the next two weeks for matters pertaining to the Lynn County Farmers Short Course.

MILIE M. HALSEY, C. H. D. A. G. H. NELSON, Secy. C. of C.

Grand Jury Files Its Final Report

The Grand Jury reported its work and filed its final report last week. This report criticizes the jail equipment and deplores the tendency of good citizens to compromise with crime. The report in full follows:

"To the Honorable Gordon McGuire, Judge of the 106th Judicial District: We, your Grand Jury in and for Lynn county, wish to report to you that we have since being in session carefully inquired into all law violations coming to our knowledge and have finished our work and hereby request that we be discharged from further service at this time.

"We wish to further state that we have carefully examined and inspected the court house and find it in sanitary condition, except the jail of said court house, which should be looked after and made more sanitary for prisoners. We believe that the officers charged with the keeping of same have done the best they could do with the material at hand, but we wish to recommend to the commissioner's court of this county that new bedding be purchased for said jail, and that it be kept more sanitary, and that the walls of said jail be repaired and put in better shape.

"We wish to condemn the tendency on the part of many good citizens to compromise with crime and to say that we believe that the most flagrantly violated of our laws are the liquor laws, and we call on all good citizens who believe in law enforcement to more closely co-operate with the officers in the enforcement of the laws of our country.

"We wish to thank the judge of the court and all other officers connected therewith in their help and assistance to us while we have labored to run down crime.

"We most respectfully ask that we be discharged."—J. K. Applewhite, Foreman of the Grand Jury.

Yard Improvement Committee Meets

The Central Committee of the Lynn County Yard Improvement contest met Wednesday afternoon and heard reports from committees. All reported some progress but not as many entries had been made as was desired and hoped for. The committee urgently requests that the home owners of the various towns and communities in the county enter this contest and send in their applications immediately. The scores cards have been printed and the committee will be ready to begin scoring the yards of the entrants at an early date. Whether you expect to win a prize or not it would be well for you to enter the contest, for this is a movement that certainly should be encouraged. Send in your application today to Mrs. Tom Leonard or to Miss Milie M. Halsey.

WILSON HOST TO TEACHERS

Pres. Batsell Baxter Principal Speaker at Meeting of Lynn County Teachers

The teachers of Lynn county had their third meeting of the year at Wilson last Saturday afternoon, and the attendance is said to have been large and the interest fine. Practically the entire Tahoka faculty, attended.

President Batsell Baxter of Abilene Christian College delivered the address of the occasion and the teachers in attendance from Tahoka reported that it was a most sensible and forceful discussion of the teacher's work.

In the business session President Zimmerman was authorized to appoint a committee to confer with Supt. Caveness relative to needed financial relief of rural schools and needed legislation.

The Association were highly entertained by two numbers from the Wilson Quartet, a violin duet, and a vocal duet by Messrs. Baze and Williams of Tahoka.

Refreshments were served by the Parent-Teachers Club of Wilson.

The next meeting will be held at O'Donnell the second Saturday in April.

Negroes May Vote In Dem. Primaries

The Supreme Court of the United States this week rendered two decisions of far-reaching importance. In one of them it was decided that that portion of the Texas Primary Election law which prohibits negroes from participating in a Democratic Primary Election is unconstitutional.

In the other case, it was held to be a violation of the federal constitution for a judge to collect a fee or commission on fines in cases tried before him, as is done in justice courts in Texas, and in many other states.

Some legislation by the Texas legislature will possibly become necessary as a result of these two decisions.

More Complaints of Cut Worms, Bugs

W. P. Inman of South Ward, seven miles southeast of town, was here Saturday exhibiting a bunch of cut worms which he says he reared in his wheat patch. They are in countless thousands, he says, and have apparently ruined the crop. His wheat was a little late but was looking fine. Suddenly he noticed a few days ago that his wheat had practically disappeared, and an investigation disclosed the cause of the change. The blades were practically gone and some of the roots seem to have been attacked and destroyed.

He also had a number of bugs, weevil-like in appearance, that had recently attacked his apple trees, and he was very fearful that the trees would be destroyed or severely injured. He was seeking information as to methods of combating these pests, but not being a biologist or entomologist, he referred him to the A. & M. College or to some of the experiment stations.

A real live, efficient county farm agent in this county could be of great service in this and hundreds of other similar cases.

COMPLIMENTS NEWS ABILITY TO PRINT

Last week the News printed 2,000 circulars for AYES Bros., who are selling out the Larkin stock of goods here. "That's the best circular job I ever had done in a town the size of Tahoka," Mr. Ayres stated to the News man. "I have never had a job equal to it except in Plainview, Lubbock, and larger places." Mr. Ayres has had much work of this kind done and he knows his stuff. Therefore we appreciate the compliment.

Demonstrates B. S. Work at Kiwanis

At the Kiwanis luncheon Wednesday noon, Mr. Baze, scoutmaster, had charge of the program, and under his direction, J. D. Donaldson, tenderfoot in scoutcraft, gave a demonstration of the work required to become a tenderfoot, which was most interesting. Following this demonstration Orris Weathers, who has won many merit badges in scoutcraft, made a talk explaining the work and the purposes of the organization in a fine way. Both of these boys acquitted themselves well and won the plaudits of the Kiwanians. Mr. Baze himself made a most interesting talk on the work. Assistant scoutmaster Williams was also present.

The club also decided to offer a living cup to be given the winning school in the approaching interscholastic league contests in this county.

MORE ABOUT THOSE TAX RE-MISSION BILLS

Bills are pending in the legislature providing for the remission of all state ad valorem taxes in Dallas and Tarrant counties for a period of 25 years on the pretext that these counties are about to embark on an enterprise to control and conserve the flood waters of the Trinity River, and the bills seem to be meeting with much favor. They may have been passed before this appears in print.

In order to influence the legislature to act favorably on the bills, the body was invited to visit the cities of Dallas and Fort Worth, in which cities the visiting legislators were dined and feted and petted and praised, while the alleged merits of the bills were deftly and eloquently poured into their ears by silver-tongued spell-binders. In other words the cities of Dallas and Fort Worth turned lobbyists but instead of visiting the legislative halls they had the legislature to visit them while they got in their work. The people of Texas will watch with interest the outcome of this game.

As Senator McFarlane has clearly pointed out, when the taxes of one county are remitted the citizens of the other counties of the state foot the bills. Already the taxes of 17 counties have been remitted by different legislatures in the past, on one pretext or another, for a period of 25 years. The assessed valuations of these 17 counties amounts to nearly 240 million dollars, or 6.6 per cent of the total valuations of the state. The taxable valuations of Dallas and Tarrant counties combined amount to nearly 410 million dollars, or 11.2 per cent of the total valuations of the state.

The state ad valorem tax rate for general revenue purposes for a number of years, except last year, has been 35 cents on the $100.00 valuation. The prospects are that it will usually reach this constitutional limit of 35 cents in the future. On this basis, we have remitted to these counties annually about $340,000.00. If the taxes are remitted to Dallas and Tarrant counties, as now proposed, we will have remitted the taxes on nearly 18 per cent of the property of the state, which will amount to about $2,270,000.00 annually.

If these taxes are remitted, the other counties of the state will have them to pay. We claim that it is neither right, just, nor constitutional.

Article 8, section 16, of the constitution, under which these bills are brought reads as follows: "The legislature shall have no power to release the inhabitants of or property in any county, city, or town from the payment of taxes levied for state or county purposes, unless in case of great public calamity in any such county, city or town, when such release may be made by a vote of two-thirds of each House of the Legislature." We want to know what great public calamity has occurred in Dallas or Tarrant county to justify the remission of their taxes.

If the taxes of a county may be rightfully and constitutionally remitted on the ground that said county desires to embark upon some expensive local enterprise, the result of which would be ultimately to greatly increase its taxable wealth, what county in the state at some time or other within the next quarter of a century might not come to the legislature with a similar plea? If the taxes of one county are to be remitted on such a plea, a might not every county in the state sooner or later come to the legislature with a plea just as meritorious?

We denounce the whole business as unfair, unjust, undemocratic, and unconstitutional, except in cases of "great public calamity." It is simply a case of some of the counties seeking to "ride" the other counties of the state. The people of Texas should watch the action of their legislators on this proposition, and every one of them voting for the graft should be called to account.

The 39th legislature enacted a law prohibiting the use of any evidence obtained by the State violation of the "Search and Seizure" law. This law prohibits peace officers from making any search of a car, house, or the personal effects of any person without having first filed an affidavit in some court and obtained a "search warrant." If such officers should search a suit case, a car, or a house for liquor, for instance, without having first obtained a search warrant or under a search warrant which proved to be defective, then any evidence of guilt obtained by such search could not be introduced on the trial of the case. This law has made it more difficult for officers to enforce the liquor laws and has helped many a whiskey runner to escape. A bill was introduced in the present legislature to repeal the law. It was passed in the Senate by it was choked to death the other day by the House Committee on Criminal Jurisdiction. Thus the criminal lawyers and the bootleggers have won another victory at the expense of good government in Texas. The people of the various representative districts will want to know how their representatives respectively voted on this matter. Turn on the light.

The Dawson County Journal last week complained that one of its editorials had been swiped by another South Plains editor, slightly changed so as to fit the local conditions, and used by the swiper as his own editorial. The editor of this paper has been similarly complimented a number of times. Frequently it has been our experience of see an editorial of our, with all its defects and deaknesses, appearing word for word and letter for letter in some other paper as its own editorial production. Sometimes, in order to cover up the deceit practiced, the swiper changed our editorial slightly so as to make it appear that the editorial was originally written with reference to his town or locality. There are only two or three papers in all west Texas that we have caught of fencing in this particular. Like the Dawson county editor, we think that when the editorial of another is used proper credit should be given. Possibly the editorial stolen is not of much value but no other editor than the author has a right to claim it as his own whether its value be great or small—no more than to claim the pig of his neighbor. The only difference is that one is called hog theft and the other plagiarism.

Will wonders never cease? Are there no bounds to man's ingenuity? Will his mania for inventing speed-making vehicles never be satisfied? They have built big racing cars that have made as high as 172 miles per hour—2.86 miles per minute or 84 yards per second. They are now trying to make 200 miles per hour. One Welchman was killed the other day in an effort to do it. His machine had reached a speed of 160 miles per hour, or almost 80 yards per second, when something went wrong and his machine turned turtle. In the smashup his head was almost severed from his body. But the next man that tries it will probably succeed. The human race is in a terrible hurry and if we keep on speeding up we guess we will get there after awhile.

A news dispatch from Austin carries the announcement that Congressman Tom Connolly of Marlin is to become a candidate next year for the United States Senate to succeed Senator Earle B. Mayfield. It is generally understood that Mayfield will be a candidate to succeed himself. Mayfield is now serving his first term. Connolly has been in Congress many years and is recognized as one of the most brilliant members of that body. When he rises to speak in the House of Representatives, he always has the attention of Democrats and Republicans alike. We believe that he has usually been right and that he has made a most enviable record. If he gets in the Senatorial race, Mayfield is going to have to do some running if he lands a second term.

Messrs Dale and Moore, who were recently expelled from the legislature on a charge of receiving a bribe, were each defeated in the special elections held in their respective districts Saturday. Mr. Dale has 3 opponents and their combined votes were almost four times as many as he received, his leading opponent defeating him by a vote of about 2 to 1. Mr. Moore was also badly defeated. Dale was a lawyer while Moore was a farmer. The evidence of their guilt seemed overwhelming. Upon being expelled from the legislature, each asked for "vindication" at the hands of his constituents. But the people refused to "fall" for their line and decided to play "safety first." The people of those northeast Texas districts are to be congratulated upon their decision in each case — only they ought to have made the vote against these gentlemen unanimous.

Just as was expected, Mr. Coolidge vetoed the farm relief measure giving as his reason unconstitutionality as well as class legislation as it would have been a direct handout to a class. The Herald could never very well distinguish between a direct and an indirect handout for that matter, and for more than three quarter centuries the manufacturing class has been receiving an indirect handout. So is our beet and cane sugar growers. Why not the cotton and corn grower and the wheat and potato grower?—Terry County Herald.

We have not studied the McNary-Haugen bill vetoed by President Coolidge sufficiently to have a fixed opinion, but if it contained the absurdities he is said to have pointed out in his veto message, then perhaps it is well after all that he vetoed it. If it would have been a "direct handout" or an "indirect handout" to any class, it was wrong in principle. It should not be the purpose and is not the province of government to engage in the hand-out business. That is the reason why we have always opposed the protective tariff as a steel and a fraud. We are opposed to all "hand-outs" but if we demand them for our section or for one class we can not consistently oppose them for other sections or other classes. As long as we demand a "hand-out" for the farmer, we can not oppose a "hand-out" for the manufacturer. Can we, Jack?

The News received a communication from Hon. Thomas L. Blanton, congressman from the Abilene-Sweetwater district, giving his version of the recent encounter which he had with Congressman Bloom of New York. Mr. Blanton asserts that for years the Committee on the District of Columbia has sought to pass a reasonable Sunday closing law for wide-open Washington, but that the millionaire owners of the big places of amusement have blocked all such efforts, that Congressman Sol Bloom of New York, who was not a member of the committee, but who was interested personally in the proposed legislation, led the opposition, that he continually interrupted and insulted the committee, that he was backed up by a bunch of spectators who had packed the galleries to applaud every attack on the bill and to ridicule and jeer the committee, that finally upon being asked by Blanton not to interrupt any more, Bloom started toward him, whereupon the Texas Congressman caught his antagonist by the wrists and pinned him down against a table. "I don't like fights," Blanton concludes, "I never engage in one unless it is forced on me. But when it is necessary to fight to perform one's duty, I don't run. If one didn't fight here once in a while, he wouldn't do very much." Whatever may be said of Tom Blanton, he is a scrapper, he looks out for the interests of the common people, and he is always found on the right side of every moral issue.

2. Plan your garden before you plant it. In that way as soon as one vegetable is used up another can take its place. One can find things to plant from Spring to late Fall in this section and the disadvantages of the small garden can be overcome largely by careful planning and planting.
3. Find out the variety of tomato or potato or beet that does best in this section, plant that kind, then do your best to make it produce even better than your neighbor said it would.
4. You need not get tired of "greens or leafy vegetables. You can grow at least twenty kinds in your garden right here on the Platte. Plant a variety to eat and to can.
Value of a Garden
A half acre home vegetable garden is equal in money value to two and one half acres of cotton producing one bale per acre (when prices are good or fair).
A good vegetable garden produces larger gross returns with less investment of time and money than any other part of the farm. A recent Missouri experiment gives an average net value of vegetables from 1-20 acre as $43.38, and from 1-2 acre as $124.14.
But the money value of a home garden is of secondary importance. The value of a garden from the standpoint of health is the first consideration.

Where plenty of vegetables are eaten daily throughout the year you will hear little complaint of that "tired feeling" that is so common in Spring; there will be fewer "bad colds"; constipation will be rare; no pellagra will be found; and with a proper balance of garden vegetables, fruits, milk and other necessary foods pyorrhea will not develop. What do you have that is worth more to you than your health?
A well planned garden that will give you fresh vegetables from early Spring until frost; that will furnish you potatoes, turnips, cabbage, etc., for storing; and a surplus of other things for canning and drying, so that you may have balanced diet the year around is a WISE INVESTMENT.

"Fall stirring of a garden is good for rheumatics.
Good for your liver, your lungs, your lymphatics;
Even supposing that every crop fails you.
Still the old garden is good for what all you."

This editor always did like soggyum lassies. He was almost brought up on 'em. When a mere child he used to go to old Amos' soggyum mill and see 'em made. He ate 'em 3 meals a day and several times in between meals. So, imagine his delight when W. J. Crouch walked into the office a few days ago with a bucket of pure-dee, honest-to-goodness soggyum, which he had made and left it with the editor. Fine! Fine! Thanks!

Miss Eibel Purnell, formerly Linotype operator for the News, but more recently with the Wellington Leader, was the guest of Miss Louise James here the first of the week.
Supt. M. L. H. Baze believes in diversification. He has a farm out near Newmoore and this week he purchased two registered brood sows and expects to raise a lot of pigs this year on this cheap feed.

Grandma Bailey is home again from Hartshorne and Wilburton, Oklahoma. Mr. W. C. Wooten of Dallas is here looking after his farm interests. J. J. Bishop and wife are visiting in the home of her father, Mr. C. C. Johnson. Bill Bishop and family spent Saturday night in the home of J. J. Bishop in the Wells district.

Grassland

Mrs. Reba Turner has gone to Center, Shelby county, to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Crawford.
Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Barton of Portales, New Mexico, are here visiting in the home of Mr. Trice, Mrs. Barton's father.
Last week I reported that Mr. and Mrs. Truman Northcutt had moved to Crane City. In-print the Northcutt was left off.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson of Bula have been visiting with the family of Mr. A. A. Lawson.
Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham and family of Bula have been here visiting Mr. Warrick and others of the community.

On Friday, February 25, Mr. John Neal was severely bitten by one of his grey hounds. He sent the head to Austin to see if it was mad, but he received a message that the dog was not mad. The dog had been sick and Mr. Neal had been giving it medicine.

Mr. Luther Thomas and family are taking a vacation in East Texas. They are making the trip in their car. Miss Sibly Thomas is one of the party and will stop in Tyler and resume her studies in Tyler Business College. She has been keeping books the past winter at her father's gin.

Little Miss Royalee Crunk has a mild case of scarlet fever and the family are quarantined.
The Grassland young folks are not having much success getting married but we have some marriages in the community any way. Sunday afternoon, at the home of Mr. Bosworth, near Central Church, Mrs. Blair and Mr. Miller of Tahoka were married, and a little later the same afternoon a young couple from Redwine were married by Brother Shelton at his home. We did not learn the names of the last couple.

Redwine

Mr. John Neal, who lives on the Dugan Duncan farm, had two fine wolf hounds, and on Friday, February 25, one of them went suddenly mad and tried to bite his little child, but Mr. Neal picked the child up and started into the house, and the dog then turned on Mr. Neal, biting him on the shoulder in two places. Mr. Neal said he had quite a tussle with the dog and finally the dog threw him down, but he fell inside of the house and he kept the dog kicked off until his wife shut the door. The dog made several attempts to get in the house at the door and also tried to get in at the window. Mr. Neal finally got his gun and made short work of both dogs. He is sending the head to Austin to be examined. So we don't know whether Mr. Neal will have to go to Austin or not until we hear from there.

Mr. Lucian E. Miller and Mrs. Nannie Blair of this city were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. Bosworth near Central Church, Mrs. Blair and Mrs. Bosworth being sisters. The beautiful and impressive ring ceremony was used and Rev. B. N. Shepherd, pastor of the Baptist Church here, officiated.

Mr. Miller has been employed in the office of the Fuller Oil Company here and is a splendid citizen.
Mrs. Miller is one of the most highly respected and deserving business women of our city and merits all life's best gifts. Her many friends wish for her the happiness she most richly deserves.

Lucian Miller and Mrs. Blair Marry

L. O. Johnson, district representative of the Panhandle Building and Loan Association of Amarillo, was here on business for his company Tuesday. Mr. Johnson says that the company will probably have a local agent here at an early date.
Little Miss Patricia Mae came Tuesday night to brighten the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Hill, weight nearly eight pounds. Mother and babe are doing well. Frank is having a great time entertaining the little Miss. And the editor for the first time in life is a grand-daddy.

Brownfield Band Visited Tahoka

The Brownfield Band, consisting of about 25 members, paid Tahoka a visit last Sunday afternoon. The Brownfield Band and the Tahoka Concert Band jointly gave a concert in the district court room to a crowded house. The music was appreciated and the people of Tahoka are hoping that the Brownfield musicians may repeat the visit at an early date.

JAMES BRAY

It is with sad hearts that we tell of the passing of one who has had the greatest influence over our lives.

James Bray was born in East Tennessee Sept. 13, 1841, where he lived with his parents till he was 16 years of age, when he moved to south west Missouri, where he lived until the Civil War broke out, when he enlisted in the cause of the South, which he served with all the energy for a Southern boy. He passed through many narrow escapes, never being wounded nor captured. The close of the war found him in north-east Texas, which place he adopted as his home, which fact doubtless kept him from some of the trouble the James boys and Cole Younger and others suffered. His father, Ben Bray, was killed by those notorious bushwhackers that infested Missouri at that time.

Soon after the war he was married to Mollie A. Wilson of Grayson county, Texas. To that union five children were born, William H., Nora Lee, Noel M., Decia Allen, and Gay. Nora Lee and Gay passed on in early childhood. He lived with his family on the old homestead farm near White-wright, Texas, until his children were all grown and married. In 1908 he and his good wife broke camp and moved to Chillicothe, Texas, where he settled and lived until December 26, 1923. His companion for over fifty years bade him goodbye and crossed to the other side. Since then he has made his home with his daughter, Mrs. D. C. Fritz of Munday Texas, and N. M. Bray, Tahoka Texas. He loved the plains country best of all.

He had been a member of the Church of Christ for 48 years. He loved the truth and did much in his life time to help the struggling ministers to carry the message of love to out-of-way places. He was a great advocate of public schools and did all he could to protect and develop them in rural communities. We of this day do not know how to appreciate the splendid schools and other privileges we enjoy.

On February 24, he started with his son-in-law, D. C. Fritz, to Munday on a visit. He took ill enroute, but recovered and completed the journey, but after arriving there he became ill again and at 11:45, March 2, he fell asleep in Jesus. He was conscious almost to the end, telling his loved ones he was ready to go and not to weep for him, as he was going to his home in Heaven.

Miss him? Yes, God bless his memory, we miss him, miss him in his accustomed chair, miss him as he walked around the place, miss him everywhere. But we know our loss is his gain, for he has gone to rest until the Resurrection morning, when we will see him in his robes of righteousness. We only hope to live to emulate his virtues and if it be possible to live so long, to fill our lives with as many good works as did he.

Cowboys Thank Local Citizens

The Cowboy Band Inc., of Simmons University takes this opportunity of thanking the people for the kind things that they did for the members of the organization and the part that they had in making our concert a success. More loyal support could not be afforded than the band received.

The people who took the boys to their homes have definitely fixed the friendship of the Cowboy Band and Simmons. We realize that such an act is no small deed and we feel our indebtedness.

If the band is ever permitted to pass that way again, we hope to return the respect given us.
