TRUSTEES FOR COUNTY NAMED

Commissioners Court Convenes Election Returns and Announces Winners

The commissioners' court last week announced the results of school trustee elections held throughout the county recently, and from the records in the office of the county superintendent, H. P. Cavanaugh. The news has compiled a list of the trustees of the county, Tahoka and O'Donnell not included. Voting in the two or three instances due to the failure of the records in the office of the county superintendent to show who the holder are in a few districts, our list is incomplete in some cases and perhaps erroneous in others. The list as compiled follows:

Memorial Medal Given Grandpa Hale

Grandpa Hale is very proud of a Memorial Medal which was presented to him a few days ago by the Women's Study Club of Lamesa in appreciation of his services as a Confederate soldier. The ladies are assisting in the Stone Mountain Memorial Monument fund. In addition to his services as a Confederate soldier, Mr. Hale also served in an early day as a Texas Ranger and did valiant service in reclaiming Texas from the dread of the savage Indian and the hardly less savage outlaw.

The letter of presentation sent to Mr. Hale by the Lamesa ladies is as follows:
"Lamesa, Texas, Apr. 14, 1926.
Dear Mr. Hale—
In appreciation for your services rendered during the Civil War, it is a pleasure to us to have the opportunity of purchasing a Memorial Medal in your name.
"We trust you will find medal they recall to your mind only the pleasant instances of those days.
Sincerely your friends,
THE WOMAN'S STUDY CLUB
Mrs. Walter Harris, Pres.
Mrs. L. W. Gay, Cor. Sec."

LARGE CONGREGATION ATTENDS EASTER SERVICES

Easter services were held at the Methodist Church Sunday and an unusually large congregation was present both at the morning and the evening hours to join in the worship and enjoy the programs.

A most appropriate and impressive musical program was rendered at each of these services. Rev. R. R. Shreve preached a most excellent Easter sermon at the morning service while at night his subject was "The Resurrection," and his discourse was a most timely and helpful discussion of some of the problems of life.

John Walls, who is still in the hospital at Lubbock, continues to improve, and it is thought he will be able to leave the hospital today.

John Curry of the O'Donnell family was here Sunday visiting his mother, Mrs. Jordan Davis.

Primitive Baptists Here in August

Announcement is made by J. S. Wells that the Primitive Baptist Association will be held at the City Tabernacle here, beginning on Thursday night before the fourth Sunday in August and closing with the Sunday service.

TEACHERS HOLD BIG BANQUET

Last Meeting of County Educational Association Held at Local Methodist Church

Members of the Lynn County Educational Association met around the banquet table in the basement of the Methodist Church Thursday night to enjoy a feast, as the culmination of several months of organized and cooperative effort on their part to stimulate interest in educational matters in this county.

President J. B. Zimmerman, who acted as toast master, announced at the beginning of the speech-making that a ban had been placed on anything of a serious nature and that nothing sensible would be tolerated in any speech. With this explanation, he then called upon a number of gentlemen and a few ladies present to respond to toasts and in most of the cases the rule pronounced by the toast-master was lived up to strictly.

Music for the occasion consisted of a quartet by Burton Hackney, Frank Sargent, Marvin Lucas, and Harlan Cook, members of the High School Glee Club, a song by Miss Kathryn Post, and a piano solo by Miss Juanita Jackson.

The invocation and the benediction were pronounced by the only minister present, Rev. E. T. Breedlove, who intimated in his speech that he rarely found himself in so much bad company.

There were teachers present from several other communities in the county, but the attendance was evidently cut short by the threatening condition of the weather.

Texas University President Resigns

At a meeting of the Board of Regents Monday night, Dr. W. M. W. Splawn tendered his resignation as President of the University of Texas. His resignation was accepted, whereupon he was immediately elected as Professor of Economics of the University faculty.

He gave no reason for his resignation further than that he desired to devote his entire time to teaching and research work. He intimated that due to the frequent changes in the personnel of the board of regents and the maneuvering necessary for a president of the institution to get the results desired made the office an undesirable one.

Dr. Splawn was elected to this position about two years ago. Prior to that time he was a member of the state railway commission. Recently he was appointed by President Coolidge as a member of the federal railroad arbitration board, but this had no bearing on his resignation as President of the University, he stated.

AMARILLO GOOD WILL TOURISTS COMING MAY FIFTH

A party of 150 to 200 business men of Amarillo will visit Tahoka on a good will tour Thursday, May 5, according to the schedule for the trip published in the Amarillo News Globe.

The tourists will travel in a special train, visiting all the towns on the various Santa Fe railway lines on the south plains and a few under the cap rock. The party is scheduled to reach Tahoka from the south at 9:50, leaving at 10:20 a. m. They will be here there thirty minutes.

Tahoka should turn out en masse to greet and to hear the visitors from the growing metropolis of the plains.

BAPTIST PREACHER'S BARN CAUGHT FIRE WEDNESDAY

The fire alarm sounded and the boys made a dash for Rev. B. N. Shepherd's barn Wednesday afternoon, when a fire had started from some unknown cause. When they reached the scene they found that Mrs. Turrentine had just about extinguished the flames with a water hose. It is not known just how the fire originated. No damage was done.

DAILY SERVICE FOR ROUTE 3

Change Will Be Made May 16; To Get Mail Six Days Instead of Three

Patrons on Route 3 out of Tahoka will, beginning May 16, receive their mail six days a week instead of three according to orders received Wednesday by Postmaster D. A. Parkhurst from the fourth assistant postmaster general at Washington, D. C.

Since last November the route has been operated three days a week; Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday. There are now approximately 135 boxes on this route. Robt. Reid is the carrier.

This improvement in service gives Tahoka four full time routes, covering a total distance of 213 miles. Mr. Parkhurst says:

There are approximately 650 boxes from which between 1,600 and 2,000 citizens receive their mail.

The addition of the two new routes within the past few months not only better the mail service to a host of people but enlarges and strengthens Tahoka's trade territory to a great extent. In fact, twice as many people receive mail out of Tahoka on the routes as did less than six months ago. Plans are under way, the postmaster says, for even more improvements and enlargements within the next few days.

Fort Worth Man Greatly Amazed At Plains Development

J. A. Childress and daughter, Mrs. C. O. Edwards, were here last week visiting the former's son, D. A. Childress, manager of the T-Bar Ranch. This was the first visit Mr. Childress had made to the plains in forty years and he was amazed at the development that had taken place.

He is quoted as saying that this is the finest country in the world. Forty years ago he drove a herd of cows up the old Chisholm Trail to a point on the Yellow House Canyon where the city of Lubbock now stands. There was no town there then, just a little shack or two, and there was nothing at Tahoka but a rattlesnake and a prairie dog, Mr. Childress said.

The party of which Mr. Childress was a member camped at Tahoka Lake. They delivered their cows on the banks of the Yellow House a day or two later to the Iowa Cattle Company. Having safely delivered the cows, Mr. Childress made his way back to Fort Worth and has never visited the plains since. Perhaps he did not think they were worth visiting, perhaps he has been too busy with the affairs of life in his own section, for he has not only been successful in his own business enterprises but he has long taken an active interest in public affairs. Until recently he was one of the county commissioners of Tarrant county, having served in that capacity for six years.

But his visit to Tahoka last week was a revelation to him. "Nothing here looks natural," he said. After a brief visit at other places on the plains he will return to Fort Worth singing the praises of the entire region.

J. B. Nance was called to Plainview early this week by the serious condition of the 11-year old son of his adopted daughter. The lad underwent an operation for appendicitis Monday night.

IT TAKE A HEAP O' LIVIN'

It take a heap o' livin' in a house t' make it home
A heap o' sun an' shadder, an' ye sometimes have t' roam
A fore ye really 'preciate the thing ye left behind,
'An' hunger fer 'em somehow, with 'em allus on yer mind.
It don't make any difference how rich ye git t' be,
How much yer chairs an' tables cost, how great yer luxury.
It ain't home t' ye, tho it be the palace of a king,
Until somehow yer soul is sort o' wrapped round everything.
Home ain't a place that gold can buy or git up in a minute.
Afore it's home there's got t' be a heap o' livin' in it.
Within the walls there's got t' be some babies born, and then
Right there ye've got t' bring 'em up t' women good, and men;
And gradjerly, as time goes on, ye wouldn't part
With anything they ever used—They're grown into yer heart.
The old high chair, the playthings to, the little shoes they wore,
Ye heerd; And if ye could ye'd keep the thumb-marks on the door.
Ye've got t' sing and dance for years, ye've got t' romp and play,
And learn t' love the things ye have by usin' 'em each day;
Even the roses round the porch must bloom year by year
Afore they come a part of ye, suggestin' someone dear
Who used t' love 'em long ago, an' trained 'em jes, t' run
The way they do so's they would get the early mornin' sun;
Ye've got t' love each brick an' stone from cellar up t' dome;
It take a heap o' livin' in a house t' make it home.

CLUBS WORKING FOR CONTESTS

Glee and Choral Clubs Will Sing in Contests at West Texas C. of C. Convention

Much work is being done at odd hours on the songs that have been selected for the contests of glee and choral clubs at the Wichita Falls Chapter of Commerce Convention. "The Awakening Chorus" has not yet been received, but "Rounded Up in Glory," cowboy spiritual, "On the Road to Mandalay" and "Sylvia" are in possession of the school, and work is being done on them daily. It is the purpose of the clubs to bring back some of the prizes if they are to be had in return for hard work.

Plans are under way to have a camp at the Convention, and arrangements are being made to take a cook and have a pleasant outing as well as sing. Mrs. Miller has been called upon to arrange for the different dinners. At a later date announcements will be made as to what plans will be carried out. Everything will be under strict regulation at the Convention, and only those who have proved themselves worthy to represent the school will be taken along.

Patrons who make the trip are requested to pass in at least three-fourth of their school work during the last 6 weeks prior to the trip. Other regulations have been worked out that will make the trip safe to all who go.

New Road Body Is Formed At Lamesa Meeting

LAMESA, April 19.—Formation of a highway association for State Highway No. 83 from Albany to New Mexico line, is expected as a result of a meeting here today by 150 delegates representing Breckenridge, Anson, Roly, Snyder, Gail, Lamesa, Seaside, Seagraves, Lovington, Artesia and Carlsbad, N. M.

Dixie Kilgore presided, Judge Gordon B. McGuire, Lamesa, made the welcome address. The response was by W. S. Cooper, Breckenridge. The history of No. 83 highway was reviewed by Judge Owen Thomas of Seaside, Judge Conway, J. W. Hale both of Anson, spoke on the goal of this thoroughfare. M. C. Lindsey, Lamesa, told of the need of this highway.

In the round table discussion, I. B. Donaldson of Lubbock, with the State Highway Department, spoke, promising a tentative designation west to Lamesa. Mr. Mann of Artesia, O. P. Thrane of Snyder and Judge Horace Holly of Snyder and Roberts of Lovington were speakers. Victor L. Minton and W. F. McIlwain, the later custodian of the Carlsbad Caverns, described the beauties and magnificence of the "world's eighth wonder." Telegrams from other towns unable to have representatives present were read.

Tonight the big delegation attended the Chamber of Commerce banquet at the Methodist Church, at which time the formation of the association was proposed. The new highway will be thoroughly advertised and a designation secured if possible. The new highway has been proclaimed 103 miles shorter between Fort Worth and El Paso than the Panhandle. One speaker reckoned that if it were used instead of the Bankhead tourists would annually save $25,000,000 a year.

Sheriff Brings Back Prisoner From Dallas

Sheriff J. W. Simpson, deputy Deo Sanders, and Judge W. H. Crank of O'Donnell, returned from Dallas Tuesday night, where "the law" had gone for a prisoner. The man was an O'Donnell citizen, charged with a statutory offense. Upon arrival here he made bond and was released. Mr. Simpson says that he saw much water on this trip. There had been heavy rains and the streams were all high for a long way this side of Dallas.

KIWANIS HEARS MUSIC PROGRAM

Music and Mirth Mixed in Regular Weekly Wednesday Noon Program; Smith Sings

The program at the Kiwanis luncheon Wednesday was chiefly musical. Broedlove was put on for a speech but he explained that the well had run dry and so he read a piece on flappers. All of the flappers and the flappers' friends present—which included about everybody—enjoyed it. The substance of it was that the flappers will flap.

There was another non-musical number on the program. Happy Smith was called on to sing "Smile, Smile, Smile!" He did and everybody yelled.

A half dozen members of the girls choral club were present and favored the lunch with several songs with ukulele accompaniment. The boys quartet also rendered a few fine selections, with Miss Jackson at the piano. Wells Edwards delighted the crowd with a few numbers on the saxophone, with the piano accompaniment by Miss Cleone Wells.

When Happy Smith was encored he refused to perform further and Miss Jackson at his request responded with a piano selection, Valencia. Letters were read by Dr. Townes inviting the Kiwanis Club to have representatives at the Chamber of Commerce meeting at Wichita Falls and to meet with representatives of other Plains Kiwanis Clubs at Plainview on June 5.

Heart Failure Claims May Belle Dyer

Little May Belle Dyer, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dyer now of Slaton but formerly of this city, died suddenly Sunday afternoon while on an Easter egg hunt, according to her grand-father, J. V. Dyer, who was here Tuesday. The little child with other children was running about hunting Easter eggs, suddenly stopped and said, "Papa, I can't hunt any more," and then dropped down in a fainting condition. She never regained consciousness and life was soon extinct.

Funeral services were conducted in the Baptist Church at Slaton by the pastor Monday afternoon followed by interment in the cemetery at that place.

Little May Belle was born near Tahoka and resided here until January, 1926, when her parents removed to Slaton. She had been troubled with a weak heart all her life but her parents had been careful not to permit her to over-exercise. Her condition had seemingly become much better in recent months. She had not engaged in violent exercise Sunday afternoon and the sudden failure of her heart to function was entirely unexpected.

The parents and grand parents and other relatives have the deepest sympathy of numerous friends.

READ AGAIN WHAT HENRY GRADY SAID, BACK IN 1888

"When every farmer in the South shall eat bread from his own fields and meat from his own pastures, and be disturbed by no creditors, and enslaved by no debt, shall sit amid his teeming gardens, and orchards, and vineyards, and dairies, and barnyards, pitching his crops in his own wisdom, and growing them in independence, making cotton his clean surplus, and selling it in his own time, and in his chosen market, and not at a master's bidding—getting his pay in cash and not in receipted mortgages that discharge his debt, but do not restore his freedom—then shall be breaking the fullness of our day."

MRS. TOM HALE UNDERGOES APPENDICITIS OPERATION

Mrs. Tom Hale, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Lubbock Sanitarium one day last week is reported to be recovering satisfactorily. It is hoped that she will be able to return home at an early date.

Justice Court was busy Wednesday afternoon, when a citizen of the county was tried on a charge of being drunk. He denied his guilt and testified that he had not touched a drop of liquor for some time, but the jury found against him and assessed the punishment at fifteen bucks and costs.

ELECTION FOR MAYOR FRIDAY

Votees To Break Tie Between J. R. Singleton And J. K. Callaway Tomorrow

The election for mayor is to be held tomorrow, Friday. The first election was declared to be a tie, each candidate receiving 163 votes, and a new election was ordered. The names of J. R. Singleton and J. K. Callaway will appear upon the ballot.

While there has been no heated discussions, the probabilities are that a heavy vote will be polled. Every person qualified to vote should go to the polls and vote for his or her choice. On the other hand no person not entitled to a vote should attempt to do so.

All persons otherwise qualified who have resided within the state for 12 months and within the corporate limits of the city of Tahoka for 6 months are qualified voters. Every person subject to the payment of a state and county poll tax must have paid the same prior to February 1, 1927, to be entitled to vote. The payment of a city poll tax has been held by the attorney general to be necessary in order to entitle a person to vote.

HARVEY BLACKSTONE STARTS PAPER AT MONAHANS

The News early this week received Number 1 of Volume I of the Monahans Reporter, with Harvey Blackstone as owner, editor, business manager, and in fact the whole cheese. We stated last week that Harvey was on his way to Wink to establish a paper, but he evidently struck a better proposition before reaching Wink and so the proposed Wink paper has not yet winked a wink. Blackstone was formerly a teacher at South Ward, then established the Meadow Review, which was printed for several months in this shop, then was appointed post master at Meadow. The first issue of the Reporter is well filled with good reading matter and good fat ads. Monahans is near the new oil fields and we are predicting that the Reporter will be a success.

HOMER HARRISON HAS APPENDICITIS OPERATION

Homer Harrison was taken to a sanitarium at Lubbock Saturday for an operation for appendicitis. The operation was entirely successful and he is recovering nicely. It is thought that he will be back at his place of business within a few days.

P. T. Club Has Last Social Meet

The losers in the Parent-Teachers Contest for new members recently conducted entertained the winners in the basement of the Methodist Church Tuesday night. It was some entertainment to the Happy Smiths there with his bride, Ira Doak with his nigger doll, and Profs. Baze and Williams and Messrs. W. E. Suddarth Sam Sanford, S. R. Kemp, and C. C. Barnes put on a beauty contest that was a scream. Mr. Suddarth took the cake, or rather the lipstick, which was the prize offered for the most beautiful young lady in the contest. There were other stunts galore and fun by the bushel. There was much music also, including a violin solo by little Lucille Slaton, a vocal solo by Mrs. Suddarth, and several selections by members of the girls choral club. We may have left but some but there was so much of fun and foolishness, music and merry-making, that it is difficult to recall all of it just now.

The losers also served delicate refreshments consisting of crackers and water, with possums as a dessert. After the sumptuous repast was enjoyed, the losers announced that they would serve some real refreshments, which was done.

It was a unique and most enjoyable program. We are not sure as to just who the principal perpetrators were but we strongly suspect that Mrs. Paul Miller, president of the Parent-Teachers Club, and Mrs. E. P. Weather, captain of the losing team, are chiefly responsible for the mischief that was done on this hilarious occasion.

EUZELIANS ENTERTAIN GLAD HAND S. S. CLASS

Thursday night of last week the members of the Glad Hand Class were entertained at the Baptist Church by the members of the Euzelian Class. The active hostesses were Miss Millie M. Halsey and Messdames Harris, Fortenberry, and Mullins. Games were played, refreshments served, and a general good time was enjoyed by all. Beside members of the Glad Hand Class present, the Euzelians also had as their guest Miss Myrtle Murray, of the A. & M. College Extension work.

About a dozen Baptist ladies attended the district meeting of the W. M. U. held at Lamesa Tuesday.

Whiteker Here, Explains Work Of West Texas C-C

B. M. Whiteker, exhibit manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, visited Tahoka Wednesday and Thursday in the interest of this organization.

Upon the request of J. A. Brasher, president of the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Whiteker met with the board of directors of the local organization Wednesday night to explain the nature of the work of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and how the money is expended.

Mr. Whiteker recited many things which the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has done and is doing for the people of west Texas. In defeating the attempt to raise freight rates 5 per cent, this body saved the people of west Texas more than $3,000,000, Mr. Whiteker stated. The railroads made application to the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington for this raise. The officials of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce opposed and secured the cooperative effort of the big shippers to make a fight on the proposal. The fight was made successfully, the raise in rates being refused. The raise would have meant more than $3,000,000 annually out of the pockets of the people of west Texas.

Mr. Whiteker also stated that the fire insurance companies had asked for a five per cent raise in the key rate for fire insurance. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has been fighting the proposal and has succeeded thus far. The fight is still going on, but the officials of this organization hope and believe that they will be successful in preventing the raise, which will save other vast sums of money for the people of west Texas.

Mr. Whiteker further called attention to the advertising of west Texas and the exhibits which the W. T. C. C. has displayed from time to time all over the North and West. An exhibit was kept on display for six months at the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia last year at a cost of less than $5,000.00 and the West Texas exhibit won the gold medal as the best agricultural exhibit there, in competition with states that spent from $50,000 to $125,000 on its exhibit, notably California.

Mr. Whiteker explained that the work of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is laid out by the board of directors of forty members residing in every corner of the territory served. A financial report is made by the officers of the organization to the board of directors quarterly and an annual report is made at the end of the year. The board of directors passes on the expenditures of the organization. These expenditures cover many items and kinds of expense, all of which are approved by the board of directors. There are about twelve or fourteen persons, including several stenographers, on the pay roll of the organization. Mr. Whiteker maintained that the organization saves the people of west Texas annually many times what it costs them.

At the close of the conference he asked the board of directors present if they deemed it advisable for him to remain over Thursday and solicit memberships in the W. T. C. C. and they answered in the affirmative. He stated that he felt that he ought to have 20 memberships in Tahoka. We are not advised at the time of going to press as to the number of responses he has had.

Stormy Weather Here This Week

One of the worst sandstorms of the season raged here and over the south plains Monday. It arose early in the morning when a cloud passing over from the southwest threatened or promised to bring some rain but only a very light shower fell. It was heavier in some parts of the county. Draw got more rain than we had in Tahoka while Bill Nevels reports that it was a little heavier at his ranch in the west part of the county.

A little twister visited Levelland and did considerable damage to property but no one was hurt. In parts of north Texas and Oklahoma storms of cyclonic proportions were reported and a number of lives were lost and much property damage done.

Tuesday and Wednesday were pleasant days here but a gale swept down from the northeast about dark Wednesday night and raged all night. It was one of the most terrific that has visited the plains this year, though we have heard of no property damage in this section.

Schools Preparing To Pay Off Debts

(By Supt. M. L. H. Base)
Some old debts that have hung over the school during the year are to be removed, and the slate is to be cleaned for the new year if the work of the different grades and rooms is carried out as planned.

Among the old debts are those for athletic equipment of over a year's standing and debts for two or three sets of "World Books." It is the purpose to wipe the slate clean in order that any work done next year will not have to be applied, and all will feel free once more. The plan is one that appeals to all those who are interested in training children for thrift and good citizenship. Donations by parents are encouraged. It is the purpose of the plan to have each child earn a small amount each day, the amount ranging from about three to five cents. The plan encourages thrift as well as settles an old debt. All those who have attempted to do things in a public way know what an old sore long standing debts are. It is with the purpose in mind of healing these old sores that the plan has been hit upon. The contest is to end with a good picture to which all are urged to go. This picture, "Magic Gardens," the latest work of Gene Stratton Porter, is one of the best pictures that can be had. If children are to see pictures it is the business of the grown-ups to see that they see good pictures. The picture sponsored by the school is of the cleanest type and is really worthwhile. It is hoped that the plan secures the cooperation of every patron. If a child wants to do something for the school, see to it that he has something to do, even though only a small thing. The doing of the thing will not hurt him. The result of his work will be worth something to the school, and at the same time he will get a good lesson in thrift and good management. The great lesson of cooperation is nowhere better taught than in work of this kind. "In unity there is strength" has proved itself over and over again. Help us to the point this year where we can step off on the right foot when time comes for us to enter school next September.

C. C. Barnes has installed a thrasher and mill and is prepared to thrash maize and grind corn every Saturday looking after a couple of farms day.

Court Reform Is Proposed By Crime Suppression League

In a letter to the citizens of Texas Judge A. H. McKnight, Chairman of the Legislative program of the Crime Suppression League of Dallas, has outlined some of the changes in criminal procedure which the League will ask Gov. Moody to submit to the special session for consideration.

"The Code of Criminal Procedure of the State of Texas admirably defines the purposes for which it was designed," says Judge McKnight. "Those purposes are stated in Article 1, as follows:

1. To adopt measures for preventing the commission of crime; 2. To exclude the offender from all hope of escape; 3. To insure a trial with as little delay as shall be consistent with the ends of justice; 4. To bring to the investigation of each offense in the trial all evidence tending to produce a conviction or acquittal; 5. To insure a fair and impartial trial; and 6. To secure the certain execution of the sentence of the law when declared.

"For the most part the provisions of the Code tend to accomplish the purposes named, but experience has shown that a few changes are necessary to promote the ends of justice. We are asking that these changes be made.

"Take the matter of severances, for instance. As the laws now stand, when two or more defendants are jointly indicted, a severance can be demanded as a matter of right. Frequently this is a means of defeating justice. It is proposed to correct the evil by placing the matter of severances within the sound discretion of the trial judge.

"Again, the law prohibits comment on the failure of a defendant to testify. There was a time when a defendant in a criminal case could not testify, and the rule mentioned was then reasonable. Since defendants may now testify, however, and juries almost universally consider their failure to do so as evidence of guilt, there is no longer a sound reason for the rule, and its repeal is proposed.

"I will mention just one other matter. Much unnecessary time is frequently consumed in the selection of juries. All are not agreed as to where responsibility for this rests. Some say the judges are responsible, and some find the fault in the law. However, that may be, it would be helpful to so change the law as unmistakably to place the matter within the control of the judge, and this we propose to do. Fair juries should not be permitted to try their cases in the selection of juries.

"A few other changes in the Code will be asked at the special session of the Legislature which is to convene early in May. The additional changes, like those mentioned, however, are purely remedial. All of them are reasonable, and it is thought by those qualified to know that they will strengthen the administration of the law."

Levelland—Citizens of this progressive West Texas town and of the county voted bond issue of $150,000 for construction of a Heckley County courthouse here on April 5. Levelland is only three years old, but already has more than 20 modern brick business houses, and is making strides toward a real West Texas city.

Kress—Contract has been let for three brick business houses and work has been started on the buildings.

Tech Professor Wins Big Prize

LUBBOCK, April 20—Professor W. R. Wagborne, head of the department of Music of Texas Technological College, has been awarded a prize of $150 for an anthem, "The Lord Shall Comfort Zion," which was judged the best of 1000 submitted in the contest. The Lorenz Publishing Co., of Dayton, Ohio, who conducted the contest, advised that many more of the prominent composers of the country submitted anthems.

Prof. Wagborne previously won a substantial cash prize from a London publishing house for an anthem, "The Glory of the Lord," submitted in a similar contest. Prof. Wagborne received his education in the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, and during the war period he was musical director of the Y. M. C. A. in a number of army camps. For five years he was musical director of the department of recreation of Houston, Texas, coming from that place to the Texas Tech.

INITIATIVE

The world bestows its big prizes, both in money and in honors, for but one thing. And that is initiative. What is initiative? I'll tell you: It is doing the right thing without being told. But next to doing the thing without being told is to do it when you are told once. That is to say, carry the Message to Garcia: those who can carry a message get high honors, but their pay is not always in proportion. Next, there are those who never do a thing until they are told twice: such get no high honors and small pay. Next there are those who do the thing only when necessity kicks them from behind, and these get indifference instead of honors, and a pittance for pay. This kind spends most of its time polishing a bench with a hard-luck story. Then, still lower down in the scale than this, we have the fellow who will not do the right thing whenever some one goes along to show him how and stays to see that he does it: he is always out of a job, and receives the contempt he deserves, unless he happens to have a rich Pa, in which case Destiny patiently awaits around the corner with a stuffed club. To which class do you belong?—Elbert Hubbard.

BAD SPELLS

Of Backache and Weakness Helped by Cardui

Because she wants other women to know about Cardui, Mrs. Ina Mae Jirright, Route No. 2, Troy, Ala., says this:

"Mostly, I was afflicted with bad spells of backache. At times I felt as if my back would break. I would drag one foot after another, in a helpless sort of a way, and once I got down in bed."

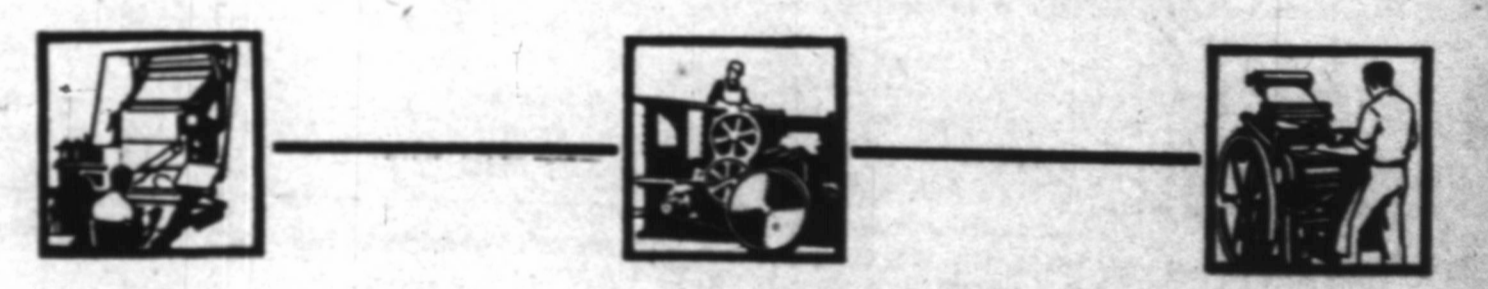

"My husband told me about Cardui and got me a bottle. I soon found out what a fine medicine it was. Ever since my first experience with it, I have continued taking it for so many troubles and, after a few bottles, I have always been well."

MISFORTUNE COMES; NEIGHBORS HELP
I had a time finding me a team to make a crop with. I finally got a team and plowed only one day and a half, when our daughter Mozell was taken sick with appendicitis. We took her to Lubbock for an operation. While we were there the good people of this community came in and put up my land, which was about 125 acres. When I came back I hardly knew my place. It was a surprise to me. It seems too good to be so. I feel like I am penniless, but I thank the good Lord I am not friendless. I feel like I am living in the best community on the south plains. We are thankful to all for what you have done for us in this time of trouble. May our great Master reward all of you for your work. One good man gave a good load of maize, which was very much needed and appreciated. The workers all brought their dinners and feed for their teams. Why shouldn't I feel like we had cast our lot with the best people on earth?
Glad to say that our daughter is improving and we hope to bring her home Friday, April 22. We trust God will richly reward this entire community for all they have done for us.

SAMPLE LEASES THE ICE PLANT AT PLAINVIEW
Glenn Sample of Tahoka has leased the plant of the Plainview Ice Company and has assumed its management. The plant was built last year by Matador interests.
Mr. Sample announces that the plant is being considerably changed, a new floor is being put in the engine room and the vault is being improved, and this week preparations are being made for opening for the season next week.
Mrs. J. E. Mayry will be in charge of the office and Mr. Sample will pay weekly visits here.
John Carpenter has been employed as supervisor of ice delivery and two trucks will be maintained to give complete service during the summer.
Mr. Sample was formerly owner of the Matador Ice and Light Plant, later selling to Texas Utilities Company. He also is negotiating for the purpose of the purchase of the Tahoka Ice and Light Plant and other plants over the country. On another page of the paper appears the advertisement announcing the change in management.—Plainview News.

Midway News
As I write we are enjoying one of those magnificent sandstorms for which Lynn county is so famous. And Easter was so pleasant. If it weren't for the fine days like last Sunday we would not know how to appreciate a sandstorm. We should worry. It takes variety to make up a beautiful world anyhow.
On last Sunday Bethel Church assembled "her beauty and her chivalry, and bright the sun shone on fair women and young men." But the "sound of revelry" was not there. The assembly was for the purpose of celebrating Easter. Sunday school over, Rev. Shumake delivered a splendid Easter sermon. Then several benches were taken from the house to serve as tables and the good women began to remove the good things from the boxes that fairly groaned under the burden of pickles, pies, cakes and custards, salads, and sandwiches, ham and hominy, chicken and—but why name them? You just finish the list yourself. They were all there. Everybody had a plenty and the fragments that were saved filled many baskets, for general H. C. L. was there and gave order that nothing be wasted.
After dinner another feast that was different. The young people must needs have an egg hunt, and in just a little while the pastures were alive with happy faces and merry voices as they scurried here and there looking for the trophies.
Mrs. Liseby and Mrs. Nordyke were unable to be present on account of sickness, but they were not forgotten and two cars filled with boxes sped away to their respective homes to bring cheer to them and to show that they were remembered.
Joe Godwin arrived home last Saturday and his presence was appreciated for he is the pianist at the church. He had been away for two or three months and we missed him greatly.
We were misinformed about the family of Mr. Murriss being under quarantine. Glad it was a mistake. They are back in the school and as happy as ever.
Miss Grace Draper has gone to Lubbock to take training for a nurse. That is a noble calling and the one who takes that vocation surely makes a sacrifice. The world needs nurses and the demand will never be supplied.
Mr. Woodson who fell from an upper story of the new school building in Tahoka and received severe injuries is able to be up and about. That fall came very near causing the death of Mr. Woodson.
Miss Lorene Welch of Tahoka spent the week end with Miss Fern Liseby.

AL SMITH'S ALIBI FOR THE CATHOLIC CHURCH

Governor Al Smith says that there can be no conflict between his loyalty to the Catholic Church and his loyalty to the Constitution and laws of the United States; that there is no possibility of conflict between the authority of the Pope of Rome and the United States government, that neither the Pope nor any other ecclesiastic potentate has ever attempted to influence his action as an official in the least, except in accord with the dictates of patriotism and loyalty to his country; that the Catholic Church, in short, does not undertake to dabble in civil matters. He asserts that as a good and loyal Catholic he recognizes no power in the institution of his church to interfere with the operation of the Constitution of the United States, that he believes in the absolute freedom of conscience for all men, and in the equality of all churches, all sects, and all beliefs before the law; in the absolute separation of Church and State; in the enforcement of the provisions of our Constitution which prohibits Congress from making any law respecting the establishment of religion or prohibiting free exercise thereof; in the support of the public free school system as one of the corner stones of American liberty; and that no Church tribunal has any power to make any decree that will be of any force in the law of the land, except as respects the church's own internal affairs.

If all this is true, then indeed the leopard has changed his spots. We would not say one word to stir up religious prejudices or intolerance. There is far too much of that in this country already. Furthermore, we do not believe for one moment that the Catholic Church is as vile a thing as it is sometimes painted. We believe that most Catholics in this country are loyal, patriotic citizens. We believe that many of them are devout Christians. But we can not believe that the Pope of Rome and the potentates of the Catholic Church have no desire to dabble in political and civil affairs. The history of the Catholic Church for 1500 years teaches the contrary. For fifteen hundred years it has claimed supreme authority in matters of religion. For fifteen hundred years it has sought not simply to influence the state but to dominate the state. Wherever and whenever it had the power, it has made puppets of governments; it has crowned and uncrowned kings; it has cut off the heads of men for disputing its authority over the state.

It is true that its record of tyranny and bloodshed in undertaking to make men subscribe to its doctrines and laws is not all in the past. We do not say that it would pursue a like course if it had the power and were under the same provocations today. But we have never heard of its relinquishing any of its claims to authority and supremacy in the religious or political affairs of the world. We believe that it would still dominate if it could.

But, it can not. It does not have the same power over its own communications that it once had. The pronouncement of Al Smith published in the papers Monday reads like a new declaration of independence against the power of the Catholic Church. If Al Smith had lived a hundred years ago and made a statement like that he would have been excommunicated and sent to hell. His pronouncement today will be tolerated by the powers-that-be in the Catholic Church because they know it would be folly to attempt to punish. Besides, we believe that better men are controlling the destinies of the Catholic Church today than in times past. They would not murder and rob with that abandon that characterized some of the ecclesiastic potentates of an earlier day. But they do seek to exercise undue influence over the state. We believe that they would seek to unduly influence the government of this country through Al Smith, were he President. Until the Pope himself declares in favor of absolute religious liberty, of absolute separation of church and state, in absolute freedom of conscience for all men, in the support and maintenance of the public free school system, until in fact he shall bring forth fruits meet for repentance, we shall be very slow to vote to place the reins of our government where he can lay his hands upon them.

If Al Smith tells the truth, he thinks he is a loyal Catholic, but we seriously doubt if the Pope of Rome thinks so. If Al Smith is in fact a loyal Catholic, and his pronouncement is merely an "alibi" for his church, then the American people should be slow indeed to trust him with the highest office in the land.

The election of "Big Bill" Thompson as mayor of Chicago is not much of a recommendation for the town. "Big Bill" ran on the platform of a "Wide Open Town" and denunciation of the King of England. He will attempt to make liquor as plentiful and as easy to get as possible. Just what figure the King of England can cut in the government of Chicago has not yet been explained. But Chicago has great hordes of foreigners who are hostile to England and hence Big Bill's hostility to the King was good politics. He is the same man who was mayor of Chicago during the World War and was almost as traitorous and radical in his opposition to the Government as Eugene Debs, who was sent to the Federal penitentiary. Big Bill is a poor type of American, and Chicago has reflected no credit upon itself by electing him mayor.

When we have a bad sandstorm on the plains this season of the year, we nearly always read the next day of hailstorms and cyclones in other parts of the country; from which we get the consolation that we are not as bad off as some other folks.

Some of the fire boys have called the attention of the News to the fact that the City has no adequate housing facilities for its fire-fighting equipment. The City needs a fire station, they say, and we believe they are right. If a fire station and city hall could replace the tabernacle that adorns the city park, it would be much better every way. We are not bunting for a way to spend more tax money but just as soon as the City gets in financial condition to make this improvement we hope that it will be made.

D. N. Fussell last week sold his residence here to A. Stricklin and left Saturday for Italy, Ellis county, where he will be employed in a grocery store.

We see no hope of any material reduction in the cost of weevils, boll worms, leaf worms, and other cotton insect pests will be exceedingly numerous this year, especially if there should be much rain in the summer. In fact, insects of various kinds have already shown up in many sections like the sands of the seashore for number. Entomologists are warning against them and advising that farmers prepare early to fight the pests.

President Coolidge, it is stated, has definitely decided to again seek the Republican nomination. That means he will be nominated and in all probability elected. Coolidge is not a great man, but neither is he a small man. He has a good fund of common sense, is extremely conservative, and is content to let things stand as they are. We could have worse men in the Presidency, and we have had better ones.

Senator Earle B. Mayfield has announced that he will again be a candidate for U. S. Senator. He will begin a speaking campaign soon. Mayfield is weak timber for the United States Senate but he is a good politician and the name "Mayfield" is a great asset to him. It will take a strong man to defeat him.

MINISTER'S PENSIONS The Presbyterian Church seeks to raise $15,000,000 that the "retired" ministers may live without too dire poverty. Their retirement pensions now average $376 a year, which is not much to look forward to. Ministers, in spite of occasional attacks of bad judgement which leave the public irritated, are far too useful servants of the community to be allowed to live in fear. And yet in fear alone many of them live— that fear of what will happen in their old age. Not that they cover before it. We have seldom seen a Minister who allowed his consciousness that he was growing old to affect his spirit or his zeal. But the fear, in many cases, is there.

And yet Ministers in one way, are uniquely servicable. Look over "Who's Who" and see what proportion of the educational and cultural leaders of the country are Minister's sons. It will surprise you. Of the last nine Presidents of this country, three—Arthur, Cleveland, Wilson—are sons of Ministers. The Chinese have a proverb, "It is always darkest just under the lamp." Ministers' sons are disproof of that proverb. We hope the Presbyterian Church secures many of the $15,000,000 and that other denominations are spurred on to do likewise.—Chicago Herald-Examiner.

A MAN'S PRAYER Teach me that sixty minutes make one hour, sixteen ounces one pound, and 100 cents one dollar. Help me to so live a clear conscience, without a gun under my pillow and unhaunted by the faces of those to whom I have brought pain. Grant that I may earn my meal ticket on the square, and that in earning it I may do unto others as I would have them do unto me. Deafen me to the jingle of tainted money and the rustle of unholy skirts. Blind me to the faults of the other fellow, but reveal to me my own. Guide me so that each night when I look across the table at my wife I have nothing to conceal. Keep me young enough to laugh with little children, and sympathetic enough to be considerate of old age, and when the day comes of darkened shades and the smell of flowers, tread of soft footsteps and the crunching of wheels in the yard, make the ceremony short and the epitaph simple—"Here Lies a Man".—Anon.

DISAPPOINTED IN JUDICIAL REFORM BILLS OF FORTIETH I have been actively working for judicial reform for twenty years. I had hoped that public sentiment was such as to imperatively demand substantial relief by the Fortieth Legislature. I am disappointed. As a basis for proper action by the Legislature a constitutional amendment is demanded. The only amendment submitted is to increase the Supreme Court to nine members and the Appellate Court to five. Far all practical purposes we have this number of members of these courts already. The Supreme Court commissioners now work in sections of three. Consultation with nine members will turn the Supreme Court virtually into a debating society.

There were several important measures of relief that could have been granted by the Legislature without a constitutional amendment. Among these may be mentioned repeal of the statute forbidding the trial judge to comment on the weight of the evidence, forbidding prosecuting attorneys to refer to the fact that a defendant did not testify and permitting the court to require those who are jointly indicted to be jointly tried. The only measure of relief by the Legislature was to abolish manslaughter, and this bill appears to have been so cluttered up that it will require a new bill at the special session of the Legislature to make it constitutional. I introduced a very simple measure for the abolition of manslaughter in the Thirtieth Legislature.—Judge C. H. Jenkins in Dallas News.

TEXAS LEADS Texas leads the United States in turkey production, and is fifth in point of poultry and egg producing states. Raising of America's national bird at present is centered in the Heart of Texas region, though numerous sections are increasing turkey production and bid fair to run McCullough County a close race in the industry. The 8 leading turkey producing states in the United States in order of importance, are: Texas, Missouri, Oklahoma, California, Kentucky, Virginia, North Dakota and Minnesota.

The number of poultry in the United States is larger than any other country of the world. China ranks second; Russia third. The largest share of poultry meat consumed is provided by chickens; turkeys, geese, ducks, guinea fowls and pigeons follow in the order named.

Production of turkeys decreased from 11,000,000 in 1890 to 6,500,000 in 1900, and to 3,700,000 in 1910. The production in 1920 was 3,627,000. Production of ducks decreased in about the same proportion as turkeys.

In 1920 poultry was raised on 90.8 per cent of the farms in the United States. The per cent of farms keeping hogs in the same year was 75.2 per cent; dairy cattle 70.8 per cent; beef cattle, 28.6 per cent; sheep 8.4 per cent.

The value of poultry and eggs produced in the United States in 1920 was $1,074,000,000; cattle $924,000,000; wheat $726,000,000; fruit and fruit products, $681,000,000; oats $539,000,000; potatoes, $340,000,000; tobacco, $299,000,000.

Only four farm products exceeded the value of poultry and eggs in 1923. They were: Dairy products, corn, cotton and swine.

Eggs represent 57.4 per cent, and the poultry meat 42.6 per cent of the total value of all poultry products. The ten leading poultry and egg producing states, in their respective order are: Iowa, Illinois, Missouri, Ohio, Texas, Kansas, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Minnesota and Nebraska.

Memphis—Work on installation of 10,000 feet of sewer for the northwest part of Memphis is under way here. The additional sewerage will cost something near $6,000 and will be paid for by warrants on a ten year basis.

B. F. Hodges, Rt. 3, 7 miles south of town dropped into the News office Saturday to insert a little ad. and stated that all the farmers in his community were ready to plant as soon as it should rain. A little feed stuff had already been planted.

SANTA FE O. K.'s LARGE FUND FOR EXPANSION

The Slatonite is advised that the Santa Fe Railway has approved appropriations of $99,000.00 for 6 new stalls in the roundhouse and $20,000.00 for a new turntable 120 feet long, a total of $119,000.00 for local expansion of the company's facilities.

This is in addition to the trackage extensions begun several weeks ago. The additional tracks to be built will involve spending a large sum.

Track work was recently halted to transfer machinery to the double-tracking project between Canyon and Panhandle, it was said. But the tracks will be built as soon as equipment is available for use here, it is said.

Other improvements slated for the company's properties here will make a quarter of a million dollars at this time. Approvals are looked for any day covering the enlargement of the storehouse and the roundhouse office building.—Slaton Slatonite.

Mr. Church of Trent was here Monday looking after a couple farms which he recently bought and he intimated that he might buy other lands in Lynn county.

S. J. Smith and Fred returned Friday from Coleman, where they visited from Coleman, where they visited relatives. Mrs. Smith remained there to visit a few weeks.

Marshall Answers Gov. Al Smith

NEW YORK, April 18 (AP)—Another chapter was added Monday to the documentary debate between Gov. Alfred E. Smith and Charles C. Marshall, New York, attorney and Episcopalian, when the latter made public a reply to Governor Smith.

Marshall's letter, written in answer to Governor Smith's reply to his open letter in the Atlantic Monthly, challenged the Governor's statement that the religious convictions imputed are not held by Roman Catholics, as far as the Governor knows.

Supporting his contention with quotations from the Manual of Christian Doctrine, published by John Joseph McVey of Philadelphia, under the imprimatur of Archbishop (Now Cardinal) Dougherty, Marshall contended that some of the teachings of the Roman Catholic Church are irreconcilable with American constitutional principles. This, Marshall asserted, was a matter of policy and not religious controversy. His article Marshall asserted, was in the nature of an inquiry into church polity and not an attack on the Roman Catholic faith.

Quoting From Book Marshall quoted the following excerpts from McVey's book: "In what order or respect is the State subordinate to the (Roman Catholic) Church? Answer: In the spiritual order and in all things referring to that order.

"What right has the Pope in virtue of this supremacy? Answer: The right to annul those laws or acts of government that would injure the salvation of souls or attack the natural rights of citizens.

"What more should the State do than respect the rights and liberty of the (Roman Catholic) Church? Answer: The State should also aid, protect and defend the church.

"What then is the principal obligation of heads of States? Answer: Their principal obligation is to practice the Catholic religion and as they are in power, to protect and defend it.

"Has the State the right and the duty to proscribe schism or heresy? Answer: Yes, it has the right, and duty to do so, both for the good of the Nation and for that of the faithful themselves; for religious unity is the principal foundation of social unity.

This book, which he said had run through forty-eight editions, Marshall asserted, was being used in high schools, and was one of the books from which the children of 20,000,000 citizens were being taught.

Marshall Cites Extracts Quoting McVey, Marshall cited the following extracts as showing the position the Roman Catholic Church took in the matter of dissenting faiths:

"When may the State tolerate dissenting worship? Answer: When these worshipers have acquired a sort of legal existence consecrated by time and accorded by treaties and covenants.

"May the State separate itself from the (Roman Catholic) Church? Answer: No, for it may not withdraw from the supreme law of Christ.

"What name is given to the doctrine that the State has neither the right nor the duty to be united to the (Roman Catholic) Church? Answer: This is liberalism, it is founded principally on the fact that modern society rests on liberty of conscience and of worship and on liberty of speech and the press.

"Why is liberalism to be condemned? Answer: Because it denies all subordination of the State to the (Roman Catholic) Church."

"If you will insist that this teaching applies only to the ideal Roman Catholic State," Marshall asked the Governor, "why I ask as it taught in the United States?"

Accepts Smith's Disclaimer Marshall said he accepted Governor Smith's disclaimer, but I submit that you are wholly wrong in your statement that these convictions are not held by other American Catholics.

Marshall denied that he had made an imputation of disloyalty on the part of Governor Smith, but denied the Governor's right to brand his inquiry as "religious controversy."

"I do not charge," he said, "that the teachings of Cardinal McVey's manual is disloyal in the sense in which you use that word, but I do say it is dangerous and pernicious and one against which citizens have a right to protest and act."

Smith Says Answer Complete ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 18 (AP)—Governor Smith of New York will not make a reply to the rejoinder of Charles C. Marshall, Dr. A. J. Leonard, speaking for the Governor at the Seaview Golf Club Monday afternoon.

The Governor considers his reply answered all the points brought up by Mr. Marshall and will not say anything further," Dr. Leonard said.

A. B. Hatchell of Wilson was a caller at the News office Saturday and stated that quite a good deal of feed had been planted in his community and some cotton. He stated that practically all his peaches were killed by the late frosts but had some other fruit. Farmers are rapidly learning what fruits are best adapted to this section, and some time this will be a great fruit-raising country.

Jeff Connolly made a business trip to Dallas last week, returning Friday night. He reported good rains all the way from Dallas to Baby.

J. R. Sanders and T. J. Kella, former owner and editor of the O'Donnell Index, were business visitors here Wednesday.

South Ward Items

Well, we surely had a beautiful Easter! We enjoyed it too! We had a large attendance at Sunday School. After lessons were recited, the school children gave an Easter program that was enjoyed by all. The most interesting part of the program was the delicious lunch that was spread and served the good mothers of South Ward. After the inner-man had been satisfied, everyone enjoyed hunting for the 500 eggs that were hidden in a 20 acre pasture nearby. Then we all met back at the school house and had one of the best singings yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Osborn were visitors in South Ward community Sunday.

Mr. Harvey Freeman and Miss Melvina Inman of Tahoka visited with Mr. and Mrs. Griggs Sunday.

Some of the South Ward people attended services at the Methodist Church at Tahoka Sunday night.

We are all hoping for a rain soon. Most of the farmers are up with their work until it does rain.

We are glad to know that Miss Mczelle Disheroon is rapidly recovering and will soon be home again. She is recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

Special Legislative Session Called

AUSTIN, April 18—The usual special session of the legislature was called today by Governor Dan Moody to convene at noon Monday, May 9, for consideration of so much prospective business that a second 20 day session may follow the first.

In his proclamation the governor listed specially only three items for consideration—the General Biennial appropriation bills, the state civil service law and highway legislation.

In addition, however, the call included a fourth general reason "to consider and act on such other subjects of public importance as the executive may, from time to time during the session, submit by message or otherwise.

Another fight over the tobacco tax is in prospect. House appropriations committee members today declared that the bill, which was killed by the senate near the regular session end, will be reconsidered at the special session. The governor is expected to issue a message sanctioning "revenue measures," and through this the tobacco tax is expected to be introduced by some of its majority house proponents.

The house appropriations committee and the senate finance committee are working now in efforts to bring the state's probable expenditures for the next two years within the expected revenue of about $32,500,000. They will submit four major appropriation bills which occupy a large part of the special session.

ELIZABETH HUGHES SOCIETY ENTERTAINED LAST MONDAY Mesdames Hubert Davis and Frank Edwards were joint hostesses to the Elizabeth Hughes Society Monday afternoon. The meeting was opened with the roll call, all answering with a verse from the Bible. Mrs. Harley Henderson had charge of the lesson. We discussed a number of interesting subjects on "Life as a Stewardship."

We had a splendid meeting with ten present, one new member, and one visitor.

The hostesses served delightful refreshments of pimento cheese sandwiches and punch to the following: Mesdames Essene Roberts, Harley Henderson, J. A. Brashear, C. L. Dickson, R. C. King, Raymond Davis, Bert Dollins, and Miss Imogene Pleasant.

The society will meet at the Church Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock for their first social meeting.

Rev. Agnes of Lubbock filed the pupit at the Baptist Church Sunday morning, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. R. N. Shepherd, who was engaged in a revival meeting at Houston.

G. M. Duckett of Three Lakes was in the News office Saturday on business and incidentally remarked that he liked Lynn county better than any place he had ever lived. He has been a resident of the county just a little more than a year but has no notion of leaving. He also highly praised the work of Miss Halsey, the home demonstration agent, who gave a demonstration in beef canning at his home a few days ago.

John Davis left Monday for his home at Aspermont, after a week's visit here with the Davis families. He was returning from Denver, where he had spent the last two years.

Boy Scouts And Kiwanians Make Hike To T-Bar

(By M. L. H. Baze)

One of the best trips made by the local scouts this year was that of last Friday evening. Mr. Smith, Mr. Henderson, and Mr. Weathers of the Kiwanis Club joined the boys on this hike. All gathered at the new high school building at 6:30 p. m. A few games were played before the hike began. Among these were the battle of the bananas, antelope race, and swat. Much fun resulted from these games.

At the end of the short journey into the T-Bar nature contests in fire building were held. The cooking was especially fine, and even the members of the Kiwanis realized that Boy Scouts were fine cooks. Many tests were passed by the Scouts. In the contests in fire building the Eagle Patrol headed by Jesse Robertson won over the Raven Patrol and the Wolf Patrol. The latter two were headed by Patrol Leaders Vernon Massengale and Frank Penston respectively. The Kiwanis fire builders, by the use of several matches and careful guarding from the breeze, finally got a fire to going. In their efforts they were assisted by suggestions from the Scouts.

Ledger Lam passed tests for cooking, knife and hatchet, and first aid (Monday); J. D. Donaldson passed fire building, and elementary signaling; Frank Fenton passed the compass test and first aid (Monday); Vernon Massengale passed cooking; Lester Prater passed the tenderfoot test under Mr. Williams, Assistant Scout Master, before the trip began; Kenneth Reid passed fire building and cooking; Jack Childers passed fire building, cooking, knife and hatchet; Coughran Ketter passed fire building and cooking; Widdow Walker passed the tenderfoot test under Mr. Williams, before the hike.

Several Scouts are this week preparing to pass first aid. Dr. C. B. Townes gives these tests. Much interest is developing in the Boy Scout work, and much effective work will no doubt be accomplished. A good time as well as a profitable time is in store for the boy who stays in the organization and pursues the work with a zeal.

The members of the Kiwanis Club who were in the hike with the boys got a vision of the great possibilities in the organization. They are to be commended for the interest they manifested in the future citizens of the town.

Easter Sunday

Easter commemorates the resurrection of Jesus and new life. In order to make this impressive, an Easter program was given by the children of the Sunday School classes. Very entertaining programs were rendered by both Mrs. King's and Mrs. Davis' classes. Mr. W. M. Medlin, the superintendent of Joe Stokes Sunday School, was so pleased with the programs that he asked that they be put on at Joe Stokes that afternoon. The good people of Joe Stokes praised the efforts we made.

Brother Thompson preached a fine sermon Sunday night on "The Anchor of the Soul."
A Ball Game
The boys' baseball team went to Joe Stokes Friday afternoon to play. At the beginning of the game Joe Stokes boys were ahead of Dixie. About the sixth inning our boys tightened up and beat the opposing team 28 to 18. Everyone that went was treated very nicely. Joe Stokes' boys are good sports. We want another game.

BOARD ELE MORE TEAC

Couch Lewis Re-elected. May Be Offered In Again Next Year

At a meeting of the trustees Tuesday afternoon Lewis was re-elected as teacher of science in the 1st grade. Miss Margaret Worthey was elected as teacher of English.

Mr. White of Muleshoe as teacher of vocational training provided the board with assurance from the proprietors that three-fourths of the cost of the teaching of vocational agriculture by the federal government. The practice until the approval of the teaching of vocational agriculture was voted by Mrs. White governor. It is under the present act that this fund will be available if so, and if certain other about the work can be satisfied, the board of education have decided to re-instate with Mr. White in charge.

Mr. White is a graduate of the A. & M. has had several years experience as a teacher, and for the year has been teaching agriculture at Muleshoe, which would have done a great deal for the school. Mr. Lewis expects to attend again this summer, working for a degree and increasing his salary as a teacher. Mr. Lewis is a most faithful worker and has stood for high ideals as a teacher, and has been truly the school in every particular. Miss Worthey, who was a teacher of Spanish and English, a graduate of McMurray College, Abilene and will receive a degree at the University of Texas.

She graduated in the Rose School the first year Mr. Rose was superintendent and was thoroughly conversant with the school as a student and with moral and intellectual conditions, and he recommended her to the board of trustees. The board has known her almost from her childhood and can personally testify to her moral worth. We believe the board has made no better choice for this position. We believe also, that Latin was introduced as one of the courses of study in the high school and if so, Miss W. is competent to teach that subject. A teacher of Home Economics high school and teachers. South Ward school are very pleased. Mr. and Mrs. Greg included as teachers of the Ward school several weeks ago. They were afterwards elected as principal and grade teacher respectively. Draw off the special inducements to accept the position. Mr. Griggs was the principal of a five year school.

With the above exceptions the city of the Tahoka public school system is now complete. It is found necessary to other teachers in the grammar department later.

WEST POINT FARMERS RAISE CORN SUCCESS

A. B. Jeffrey and W. M. F. made in the West Point corn crop the west line of the county. Incidentally in Tahoka 3 and incidentally met a representative of the News, who asked about their experience in raising corn this year. "My corn made 30 bushels per acre," Mr. Jeffrey stated. "I planted it in June. I had spent on cotton seed and had a nice crop but the hail almost ruined it. I got one bale of seed of seventy acres and it netted $1.00. After the hail destroyed I planted corn and it made a crop. I am raising corn this year, and besides corn we raise peas, and other crops, of hatter and eggs, etc." Mr. F. stated that he had raised 400 bushels. From 35 acres and a short hatter of cotton. Messrs. Jeffrey and F. are true believers in diversified farming.

REINCAID FAMILIES LEAVE FOR OKLA

J. F. Kincaid, who has been operating a grocery business here for a year and who made an effort for the benefit of his crop this week, left with his family for morning for Sasakwa, Oklahoma. He resided before coming here.

His father and mother, Mr. J. T. Kincaid, also went to the south of town, are the parents of the little daughter who came into their home last night. Mr. F. is a son of Dr. Townes and his mother's farm.
