FARM BUREAU ISSUES MONEY

Lynn County Farmer Members Receiving $69,908.00 The Last Of This Week

Members of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association in Lynn county the latter part of the week will receive checks totalling approximately $69,908.00, according to D. A. Adam, who announced that these checks represent a final distribution on the past years cotton from the county marketed orderly and co-operatively through the Association. In addition to the initial advance made at the time the cotton was shipped, distributions have also been made in December and February.

According to Mr. Adam these checks will be mailed from the Dallas office of the Association Wednesday or Thursday of this week, April 27 or 28 and should be distributed to the members in the county through the mail by Saturday, April 30th. This amount coming to the county at this time is part of the distribution of $3,375,663.08 which is being made throughout the association members. It brings the season's advances to the members to $11,707,213.61.

Deliveries during the coming season will open the seventh year of operations of the association, and representatives feel that a substantial increase will be noted in the cotton delivered to co-operative marketing channels from this county. The year just ending, it is said, has been a most successful year from the standpoint of the grower member who participated in the benefits of orderly and co-operative marketing.

Special League Service Sunday

On Sunday evening, May 1, at 8 o'clock, the Methodist Intermediate Epworth League will hold in the church auditorium an entertaining service in connection with the installation of new officers for the coming year. The retiring officers have been assigned practically all of the program, which will include an interesting explanation of the League emblems in keeping with the lesson topic, "Keeping Pace With Our Emblem" and a soprano solo and an appropriate poem will be other features.

The pastor, Rev. R. T. Breedlove, will conduct the installation ceremony which is to be accompanied by an impressive candle service. The Leaguers extend a cordial invitation to all friends of the church to worship with them on this occasion, and especially do they desire the presence of all of the town's young people.

Jack Corley and H. H. Willis returned from a business visit of a few days to Crane City and other oil towns in that section. Mr. Corley declared that water was selling at $1.00 per barrel and oil at only 60 cents. He decided to remain in Tahoka.

New Courses To Be Introduced At H. S. Next Year

(By M. L. H. Baze)

Arrangements are being made to introduce some new and attractive courses in the high school for the year 1927-28. A course in Public Speaking has been introduced this year. It will be continued. Some twenty-six pupils have indicated a desire to study Latin next year, and this course will be offered. A course in Economics and a course in Biology will be offered. It is also planned to keep the Vocational Agriculture work if proper arrangements can be made for reimbursement from the state and federal government. Attempts will be made to affiliate with the first year work will be given in dramatics and choral and glee clubs. Attempts will be made to reach every pupil possible with physical education and athletic training school.

Midland Reporter hereafter will be published twice each week. Midland has greatly prospered as a result of its territory and the newspapers in that territory and the newspaper has shared in the general prosperity of the city and section.

Name Of City Is Unknown To Indian Tribes

Who Knows The Meaning Of "Tahoka"?

Mexicans Say They 'No Sabo' The Word Tahoka

The town of Tahoka was named after Tahoka Lake, and nobody seems to know what the word "Tahoka" means. A dozen or more theories as to the meaning of the word have been advanced by old timers in this section, but none know where the name came from, or who selected it, as well as what it means. Some say it is an Indian word; others, that it is of Spanish derivation.

Recently, representatives of many tribes of Indians met in Amarok, Oklahoma, with J. A. Buntin, superintendent of the Kiowa Agency. He asked the group of Indians that sat in council if the word "Tahoka" came from any of their many languages. None had ever heard of the word. Authorities of the Haskell Institute, United States Indian Training School can give no light on its meaning. The University of Mexico, Mexico City, says the word is not Spanish, as far as they know, is not of Spanish derivation. Some old-timers say it means "clear," "clear water," "deep," "deep water," but from whence the definition came from, they cannot explain.

A. L. Lockwood, local banker, who first came to the plains in '81 on a buffalo hunt, says that all the lakes had been named at that time, and advanced the opinion that they were named by Col. Hayes and his railroad surveyors who were on the plains surveying out the railroad lands in the '70s. He thinks Tahoka Lake received its name at the same time that Double Lakes, Three Lakes, Seven Lakes and Salt Lake received theirs. Probably an Indian guide to the surveyors named Tahoka Lake.

L. P. "Uncle Ike" Metcalf, another old-timer who first came in the '70s, thinks the word might be from the Tonkawa language, but Tonkawas deny it.

The town has a name, a good one and a unique one, but no one seems to know definitely its meaning, or from whence the word came.

WIN HONORS AT DISTRICT MEET

Tahoka School Students Place In Literary Events At Lubbock League Meet

At the District Meet held at Lubbock on last Friday and Saturday the local schools carried off their share of honors. Twenty counties competed in the race for honors in literary and athletic events. The contest in senior girls' declamation waxed warm. Six contestants went into the finals. Kathryn Poer of Tahoka High School won second place, losing by a close margin to a representative of the Lubbock High School. In the junior boys' contest Paul Miller, who the day before suffered a lapse of memory and barely made up of them to speak on a glorious victory with first place. This place was also won over twenty representatives from as many counties. Evelyn Wells was the third contestant to fight for honors. Much confusion resulted in the changing of names, the attempt to get judges, etc., and this contest was a rather poor quality, and the noise about the building interfered a great deal. Evelyn brought great credit to herself and the school, although the decision went to others in the contest.

MOTHERS DAY TO BE OBSERVED AT NEW LYNN

Uncle Tom Bussell requests that we announce that Mother's Day will be observed at New Lynn Sunday, May 8. A member of the faculty of the Texas Technological College will deliver an address and other good speakers have been invited. Dinner will be served at the noon hour. Everybody is expected to bring a well filled basket.

Outline Program For C. of C. Work

J. A. Brashear has called a meeting of the directors of the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce for 8 o'clock next Tuesday night. He and Mr. Nelson, the secretary, have outlined a program of work for the body which will be presented to the board for adoption. It is contemplated that a meeting of the entire membership will then be called and the program presented for their approval or amendment. It is quite an ambitious program, calling for the expenditure of very little money, however, and it is hoped that every member of the board of directors will find it possible to be present next Tuesday night. The meeting will be held at the office of the secretary.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES WILL HAVE COUNTY WIDE MEET

County Superintendent H. P. Cavness announces that there will be a meeting of all the school trustees of the county from both the common and the independent districts at the court house in Tahoka at 10 a. m. next Monday morning. Some important matters are to be discussed and considered and Mr. Cavness wishes to stress the fact that the presence of the trustees of the Tahoka, O'Donnell, and Wilson independent districts as well as those of the rural districts is desired.

On this day there will also be a meeting of the county trustees.

SINGLETON IS NAMED MAYOR

Wins Over Calloway By 14 Votes In Run-off; Record Vote For City Election Cast

At the city election held last Friday, Dr. J. R. Singleton was elected mayor by a majority of 14 votes over his opponent, J. K. Calloway. The vote was 192 for Singleton, 178 for Calloway. This was perhaps the most hotly contested election in the history of the city. Both sides were busy throughout the day getting the voter to the polls, especially in the afternoon. Much caution was taken by both sides to prevent the casting of illegal votes and it is doubtful if the law was ever more closely tracked in any election in this city. The total number of ballots cast was 370, which is believed to be the largest vote ever polled here in a city election.

In the city election held on April 5, the vote between the two candidates for mayor was declared to be a tie, each candidate receiving 165 votes. While there was much interest in the election yet everybody remained calm and there were no excited street arguments, as is sometimes the case in such contests.

The new governing body of the city will consist of the following officials: J. R. Singleton, mayor, I. S. Doff, Grover Stewart, J. K. Applewhite, Homer St. Clair, and H. W. Caloway, aldermen, Frankie Wells, city secretary and C. M. Finch, city marshal.

To Honor Veterans On Stone Mountain

DALLAS, April 27—A plan has been devised by the Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial Association to honor the living veterans by enrolling their names in a grand book of Memory, together with their war record. A gold star will be placed opposite each name and a triple plated gold medal presented to each. This book will be deposited on an altar in Memorial Hall at Stone Mountain as a permanent record and will endure for all time. A charge of $5 is made for the medal and enrollment. Subscriptions are made by professional and business men, organizations—patriotic, civic, religious and fraternal and by individuals such as friends or relatives. After the cost of the medals and enrollment has been deducted the remainder goes toward carving the likenesses of Davis, Lee and Jackson on Stone Mountain.

Each county's quota is equal to the number of veterans in the county. This movement has met with instant and hearty approval throughout the entire South and the response has been gratifying. It is the hope of the Association to make this enrollment as complete as possible as it will serve as a very valuable record in years to come as well as a fitting honor to our veterans.

Convict Two Young Men For Thefts

LeRoy Fincher and Neal Reynolds were each convicted of the theft of a wagon sheet in the county court this week. The sheet was alleged to have been stolen from Mr. Adam's wagon, standing in his field in the Redwine community, about November 30, 1926. It is said that the sheet was later burned in a cornfield in the part of the thieves that would be found in their possession.

Fincher was tried on Monday and conducted his own defense. He pleaded not guilty but the jury concluded that the evidence established his guilt and assessed his punishment at confinement for ten days in the county jail. Neal Reynolds was represented by Judge W. H. Crunk of O'Donnell. His case was tried Tuesday. He also denied guilt but the jury which tried him found against him and decreed that he should get board and lodging for twenty-five days in the county jail.

Dr. Atticus Webb To Speak in Tahoka

Dr. Atticus Webb, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, will speak at the Baptist Church on Sunday night, May 15, in the interest of the work of that organization, according to G. H. Lewis, the assistant superintendent, who was here Wednesday.

Dr. Webb, who was a Methodist pastor for many years, has been directing the work of the Anti-Saloon League in Texas the past ten years and is one of the best informed men in the United States with reference to the liquor business.

The public are cordially invited to hear him.

MAYOR GIVES OUT STATEMENT

Outlines Needs Of City At First Meeting Of Newly Organized City Council

The new city council had its first business meeting on Tuesday night, and mayor J. R. Singleton read a written message to the body reciting some facts from the records and making certain recommendations to the council. He also announced his committees and asked that they be confirmed, which was done. The message follows:

At this our first meeting of the City Council with the new aldermen I want to call your attention to a few things that I think is for the good of the City. I first appoint the following committees:

Applewhite Chairman of Finance; St. Clair; Caloway Chairman of Street, Dock; St. Clair, Chairman of Sanitary; Caloway; Applewhite Chairman of Park and Fire Department; Stewart; Dock Chairman of Water, Caloway.

I ask you to confirm these appointments and select your mayor pro-tem. I might say it is the duty of the Secretary to keep all minutes and records of the City and other duties that may be added by action of the City Council. At present under our ordinances the City Secretary acts as Treasurer, Assessor and Collector, and as Treasurer by ordinance it is required a monthly statement of money received and a quarterly statement, and it is his duty to see that a semi-annual and annual statement after approval of City Council is printed. Therefore, I ask that the annual statement as so called be approved by the Council and published. The books in my opinion should be simplified. I believe the Secretary should be required to keep an account of all taxes collected and when roll is made and accepted by Council and account opened up with each fund single entry and balanced with the delinquent taxes.

There should be kept a record of all extensions on both water and electric light in order that such extensions could be added to the assets. I think it is right and proper that electric light plant be given credit for pumping of water and lighting of streets and such charge be made against street and water fund. I am hereby in favor of more street lamps; they are badly needed.

In order to reduce the expense of City a pipe line for oil should be installed from railroad to electric light plant, as it costs City some $600.00 per annum to haul oil, and second hand pipe could be installed at a nominal price. We have a pump for the purpose of pumping oil that could be used. Electric light lines should be rebuilt and voltage regulation installed at plant. These improvements would cost approximately $3000.00 and give us enough for extensions for a long time.

I call your attention to the following orders on the books in order if you see fit you may change same. In February 1925, the Mayor was appointed purchasing agent for the City. There is an order on books allowing Secretary to issue warrants for freight and labor bills, an order authorizing Secretary to furnish on the tenth of each month a list of delinquent water and light consumers to the water and light Superintendent for cutting off with a dollar reconnecting charges, requiring meter deposits of $10.00 for both light and water each, and $4.00 installing charges on water. There should be some change made on installing water that pipes may be put deep enough so as to put a stop to cutting pipes with street grader.

The fire station has been ordered moved to the City Park with a tentative agreement to rebuild for both trucks and office building.

All taxes should be assessed before May 1st, and equalized. It is my opinion the resident property is carrying the burden of taxation in excess to business and vacant lots. The redemption tax record should be completed and an effort made to collect as much as possible with notice and if necessary by lawsuit.

Some thing should be done about street grading in order that we may be ready to keep streets in good condition when it rains.

I think we should try and have an economical administration and work together for the good of the City but keep all expenses to the lowest point. That no account should be overdrawn unless a transfer is made to make up the deficiency and before anything is done in the way of improvement the audit should be accepted and approved by council and its books opened up.

I offer you my heartiest cooperation and tell you that only with the approval of the City Council can any account be paid, and that no contract be entered into only by you. That you have the sole power to do and the Mayor acts as the presiding officer of your deliberations and has a vote only in case of a tie.

The Layman On The Job

By Edgar A. Guest

Leave it to the ministers and soon the church will die, Leave it to the women-folk—the young will pass it by. For the church is all that lifts us from the coarse and selfish mob, And the church that is to prosper needs the layman on the job.

New a layman has his business, and a layman has his joys, But he also has the training of his little girls and boys; And I wonder how he'd like it if there were no churches here, And he had to raise his children in a Godless atmosphere?

It's the church's special function to uphold the finer things, To teach that way of living which all that's noble springs; But the minister can't do it, single-handed and alone, For the laymen of the country are the church's corner stone.

When you see a church that's empty, though its doors are opened wide, It is not the church that's dying; it's the laymen who have died; For it's not by song or sermon that the church work is done, It's the laymen of the country who for God must carry on.

Petitions to be presented to the commissioners' court asking for the calling of another paving election in Hale county are being circulated in Precinct 2 and will come up from Abernathy soon, signed, not by the required property owners but by a large group of them. This petition calls for an election on the proposition of paving the main highway north and south through the county and the highway east and west through the county, just as the former election.
The first election called on this subject was defeated by a rather narrow margin on December, 31st. Similar elections called about the same time carried in some of the other counties affected and it is important to link up the pavement clear across and perhaps may be necessary to secure prompt action by the state highway department in allowing state aid.
The last election was defeated largely by the people of precincts two and three and it is nice to note that the proposition is coming up by the action of the people of that part of the county.
If they want it, Plainview will not vote against them, and it is freely predicted that if this election is ordered the bonds will be voted. It is said that there has been quite a change in sentiment in that section of the county during the past two months.
The petition will be presented at the next meeting of the commissioners, on the 9th day of May—Plainview News.

COUNTY ORGANIZATION STOMACH STATIC

Have you ever tuned in on two stations at once? Then you'll recognize what happened to a little Chicago bride. Before the end of the first month she had served through her entire list of recipes three times and was frantic for a change to present to her loved one next day. Spying a notice in the evening paper that recipes would be radioed that night she looked at the clock, saw that it was passing the radio hour. In haste she tuned in. When she stopped and read in high hopes, this is what she had: "Place one cup of flour on hips, raise left leg and stir in one cupful of warm milk. Inhale one-half spoonful of baking powder, then breathe naturally. Whip in three eggs while counting four and resume sitting posture in well greased frying pan."

UPKEEP OF 20,000,000 AUTOS IN U. S. COSTS $14,000,000,000 PER ANNUM

Upkeep of the 20,000,000 automobiles in the United States costs $14,000,000,000 per annum, according to an estimate furnished by the U. S. Bureau of Industrial Technology. The automobile is recognized as a necessity, but it is not nearly so essential to the welfare of the nation and the individual as religion. Yet how many persons are there who put as much into the upkeep of their religious institutions and work as they do into the operation of their cars? Baptists can take care of all their causes, local and general, in a worthy fashion when once they get as interested in religion as they are in riding, for instance, or a lot of other things.

EASY PUBLICITY

The reason why some men are always destructive in their methods is because it takes less ability to become conspicuous along the line of destruction than it does along the line of construction. The wild boar can get into a flower garden, root up and destroy in one night what it could not produce in a century. The stupid idiot can strike a match and touch it to a great cathedral, which took the best brains and brawn of the nation a decade to build, and destroy it in a few hours. The destructive man is usually following the course of least resistance and quickest results—cheap notoriety.—Wm. D. Nowlin.

Land Bank System is Great Boon to Agriculture

The farmer has sometimes had a hard row to hoe in the hazards of crop production and the vicissitudes of falling prices, but with this great co-operative system of farm credits and loans from the Federal Land Bank available to him at 5 per cent, payable over 35 years, he enjoys a greater opportunity to save and finance himself profitably than does the mechanic, the professional man or the merchant of the city who pays 7 to 8 per cent for what he borrows. The millions the Federal land bank saves the farmers each year can be counted as sure profit figured with a certainty in advance for a period of 35 years. Drouth, floods, bugs or low prices, he gets it just the same. In this way, by making it possible for farmers to make millions of dollars each year in savings, has the Federal Loan System rendered a signal service.

Grassland
Mr. and Mrs. W. moved back to Grassland at Slaton for several days. Messrs. E. Trice and Mrs. Trice are in Grassland today.

The singing at the church on last Sunday was general from here to the Inter. Our teachers for the year are Mrs. Juella and Mrs. G. On Thursday night we had a freeze which in fact had escaped the revival at the church Sunday night. The singing, which was at the church, was a great success. There were many contributions about 35 addition to the list.

On account of the Rev. Baptist Church Easter program at the church on at Grassland was held on Sunday night, will be a great occasion to be present. REV. W. G. SHELT

SHALL WE THROW AWAY OUR OPPORTUNITIES?

Highway No. 34 passes east and west through Tahoka. It connects up with other highways at Jayton, leading direct into Fort Worth and numerous other important centers east. It extends westward directly to Roswell, connecting with other highways en route. It is so situated with reference to the population to the east of us and the attractions to the west of us as to form a natural connecting link between the two. With the exception of a gap in Kent county, it is in a fairly good condition. We understand that the money is available with which to improve the gap in Kent county. With these facts before us, we should use the utmost diligence to secure the completion and improvement of this important line of communication and traffic between the East and the West. But what are we doing? Practically nothing.

A big meeting was held at Lamesa last week at which a new highway association was formed for the purpose of opening a highway east and west through that city, extending westward through Dawson and Galveston counties to connect with another highway at the New Mexico line. They have named the unborn infant the Fort Worth and Caverna Highway.

Some of our people seem to think that the opening of such a highway will send the South West of our No. 34. Such need not be the case at all. No. 34 is already firmly established except for the gap in Kent county, which we understand is soon to be completed. If we will keep our eyes open and be on the alert, we should be able to make it one of the most important highways in the state regardless of what is done with the project to the south of us. In the first place, it will be two or three years at the best before the Lamesa project can be completed, for there is seventy miles of sand between Lamesa and the New Mexico line that will involve a lot of trouble and an enormous expense to build a highway over. Tahoka's highway can be put in better condition within a few months at a comparatively light expense. What we need to do is to cooperate wholeheartedly with other towns along the line east and west to put this highway in excellent condition. Will we do it? We certainly will, unless we are sound asleep at the switch. We can afford to neglect the highway we have and to throw away the opportunity of a lifetime. Let's forget the past. Let's quit fussing among ourselves; and let's get busy with Brownfield, Post, Clairmont, and other places to build and maintain a highway through these cities that will be of first rank in importance and in volume of traffic.

DOES EAST TEXAS FAVOR A PROTECTIVE TARIFF?

The East Texas Chamber of Commerce in session at Tyler last Thursday took a dip into politics, and it was not as a result of a protective tariff on raw material. It adopted the following resolution: "Whereas, the producers of cotton and other farm and live stock products of America are compelled to buy all their manufactured articles in a protected market and are forced to sell their own products in an unprotected market, therefore, be it resolved that as long as we have in effect a protective tariff law, we favor its benefits being equally distributed so as to give the raw materials of agriculture the same protection that the finished products of manufacture receive."

That sounds fine. It has the virtue of seeming to condemn the protective tariff, but since there is to be a protective tariff we want some of the best. Democrats have ever contended that the protective tariff is wrong in principle. If it is, we can not consistently ask for its supposed benefits and at the same time refuse its benefits to others. We can not condemn it while asking for its "benefits" for ourselves.

But will a tariff on raw materials benefit the farmer? Possibly so to some extent on a few minor products. It could never benefit the cotton farmer. Why? Because we do not import raw cotton; we export it. If we were to place a tariff of 30 cents per pound on raw cotton it would not affect the price paid the farmer one-thousandth of a cent, for we raise more cotton than we can consume and hence manufacturers in this country are not compelled to buy raw cotton from other countries. They can get more than they need at home, and since there is no tariff on exports and can not be under our Constitution, a so-called protective tariff on this raw product would not bring to the southern cotton raiser a single copper cent that he does not get any way.

The same is largely true of wheat and oats and other foodstuffs. The protective tariff, in so far as it raises the price of farm products, is a fraud and an illusion. The only effect it has is to hush the mouths of the farmers against the protective tariff in favor of the manufacturer. In the East Texas Chamber of Commerce playing into the hands of the protected eastern and northern manufacturer? It would seem so. We are wondering if it really represents the sentiment of the people of East Texas. We hope not. If so, and if the other farmers of Texas are to be bamboozled by this rot, then we had better disband the Democratic party instantly and go on mass into the Republican fold.

OUR CIGARETTE BILL

No habit indulged in by the American people has grown with such rapidity as that of cigarette smoking. Without moralizing on the subject, we merely give some figures to show the trend during the past few years.

In 1925 the United States consumed approximately 90 billion cigarettes, costing about $225,000,000. Someone has figured that these places end to end would extend to the moon and back eight times. The growth of the habit may be seen by comparison with the year 1914, when only about 30 billion cigarettes were smoked, showing an increase of 90 billion, or a tripling of the quantity, in 12 years.

During the same period the domestic output of cigars declined from a little more than 3 billion to about 1 billion, while the amount of tobacco and snuff manufactured was also decreased approximately 10 per cent. The revenue tax on all domestic tobacco products now reaches about $170,000,000 a year, or more than $1 in taxes alone for every man, woman and child in the country. Exchange figures are correct we spend enough money for cigarettes in the United States each year to build and furnish more than 6,000 school buildings like the new one under construction in Tahoka; enough to build 15,000 churches each year costing $40,000 each; enough to construct 25,000 miles of paved highway at a cost of $25,000 per mile, which would stretch across the continent from ocean to ocean eight times. What an enormous amount of wealth we deliberately burn up each year!

One of the most hotly contested elections ever held here has become a matter of history. The choice of the people of Tahoka for mayor was almost equally divided between the two candidates. While the interest was keen, we do not believe that there was any strong personal animus or feeling in the matter except on the part of a few individuals on each side. Both candidates are generally recognized as good men and good citizens of the town. Either should have made a good mayor. It is to be hoped that whatever factionalism there may have been here in the past will now disappear. Tahoka is a good little city but it is not large enough to favor factionalism and thrive at the same time. Few cities are large enough to do that. Dissension, Discontent, Animosity, never built a city. What we need is a united spirit and united action for the good of our town and her citizenship. We need to keep before us this maxim: "United we stand, divided we fall." We believe that the great majority of our citizens are united. This great majority should not listen to the counsel of any man on either side who would seek further to stir up strife or to kindle the fires of hate. Let's drop our little bickerings, forget our differences, turn our faces to the future and march forward. A big man can do this. A little man sometimes will not.

JURIST LAYS BARE BAD EFFECTS OF SEARCH AND SEIZURE LAW

The News has received the following communication from R. Harper Kirby of Austin relating to the operation of the rule of evidence adopted by the 33rd Legislature in what is known as the Search and Seizure Law and quoting Judge Lattimore of the Court of Criminal Appeals as to the bad effects of this law: "Every good citizen should read this communication. It is the consensus of opinion of those best informed on the subject that there is in this State no one thing responsible for as much misbehavior of justice as what is commonly called the rule of evidence as it is applied in the Search and Seizure Act of the 33rd Legislature. As the law now stands it provides an effective and secure bulwark of safety to many of the criminals of this state. Many cases are being tried in this state daily in which the sole defense is not that the defendant is innocent, but that the evidence, although clear and convincing, under the provisions of this law cannot be admitted. Thus the vilest criminals of the country stand in the shadow of the court houses with unmistakable evidence of their guilt and yet this evidence cannot be admitted on account of the rule of evidence provided and as applied to the Search and Seizure Act. This shameful condition applies to every criminal, and in a large per cent of the cases reaching the Court of Criminal Appeals, the sole defense is that the evidence, though undisputed, as a fact, is not admissible against a guilty defendant, and therefore, the Court is compelled to release guilty defendants to further pursue the avocations of crime protected and safeguarded by the provisions of this law. But the appalling thing about the situation is that the greatest number of the criminals on account of this impediment in the introduction of testimony, are thus forced to be acquitted by this law and their cases never reach the Court of Criminal Appeals. Cases of bank robbery are now pending before the court in which it is shown that the officers followed in close pursuit of the robbers, chasing them from place to place, from house to house and from one hiding place to another. Finally they are arrested. When testimony was offered of what occurred in various places named by the officers, it was objected to solely on the ground that the officers had no search warrant. In such cases the criminal rests secure in the arms of this law and asks the court to exclude the evidence which is undisputed as a fact, on the ground that the officer did not have a search warrant. Accurately describing the stolen property and the place where it is hid, etc. Of course the officers had no time to go out and search for a justice of the peace and take up a few hours of time preparing papers, but they followed the bank robbers and caught them in possession of evidence of the crime, yet the court is asked to exclude all of this evidence because the officer did not have a search warrant to search the houses and places where the robbers had gone after committing the crime. The officer, if he pursued the robbers and makes the arrest and secures the evidence without stopping to go out and get a search warrant, is guilty of violating the law. It is thus apparent that the law operates to harass, embarrass, hinder and deter the officer in apprehending crime and at the same time furnishes a perfect screen of protection to the criminal in all classes of crime. In order that you may have some idea as to the alarming extent to which this obstruction to justice has operated, I addressed to Judge O. S. Lattimore of the Court of Criminal Appeals a request for his opinion as to the extent to which the statute operated. The following is his reply:

"Responding to your request for my opinion as to the extent to which the statute passed by the 33rd Legislature, commonly called the Search and Seizure Act, is invoked in criminal prosecution in this State, I beg to say that my opinion would necessarily be without knowledge as to the numerous cases in which the protection of the search and seizure law is invoked by men for crime, whose cases may have resulted in acquittal, or which have not been appealed to our court. Basing my answer upon a recollection of the records that have been before me since the said law became effective, I would reply that the search and seizure law is being invoked in most liquor prosecutions, and in every other character of prosecution where the question can be raised. I had on my desk a short time ago a bank robbery case from San Antonio where the testimony showed that the officers entered one door of the bank when the alleged robbers went out the other. The officers were on hot trails but every time they attempted to testify about going into a building or room or place to attempt to catch the supposed criminals or get evidence of their guilt, they were confronted by objection on the ground that they had no search warrant. I have on my desk now a rather noted case from north Texas where a man is charged with murder alleged to have been committed in the perpetration of robbery. I find in the record various bills of exception to the action of the officers in searching his premises and finding evidence which they claim was stolen from other bank robberies. I had on my desk recently a cattle theft case in which an animal was taken one night and butchered. The head, horns, offal, etc., were buried in a pasture. The testimony of five officers going into the pasture and finding these things was objected to on the ground that the officers had no search warrant. Have just picked up record of conviction of keeping slot machine in room at hotel in El Paso. Evidence of officers who found machines objected to because they had no search warrant. I think I would be safe in saying that said law is invoked in many murder cases. I recall one where the killing took place in a house. The officers were phoned for at once and went up to the house. The testimony as to what they found in the house when they arrived was objected to on the ground that they had no search warrant. I think I would be safe in saying to you, sir, that this law is being invoked in many classes of cases, and for many purposes that its authors never dreamed of. I wish the pressing duties of my position permitted me to take time to go through the records here and answer you more accurately, but I trust the above will sufficiently inform you."

An effort will be put forth at the coming special session of the Legislature to bring about an amendment of this law. Senator Woodward of Coleman was the author of a bill to amend this law during the last session of the Legislature. He made a valiant fight to bring about its adoption. He secured its passage in the Senate, but it died in the House. May I ask your hearty co-operation, your active interest in bringing about a repeal of this law? I trust that you will interview personally or write your Senator and Representative directing their attention to the disgraceful operation of this law. I trust that you will use your good offices through the medium of the public forum and the public press in this behalf. Laws should be passed for the protection of society and not for the protection of criminals, and when a law becomes a menace to society and at the same time a protection to criminals, it should be wiped from the statute books. May I have the assurance of your help? Very sincerely yours, R. HARPER KIRBY.

LARRY HEN COMPETES WITH THE HERALD

The Herald was not expecting any competitors from any source, far at least some time to come, and least of all it did not expect a Terry county man to get into the printing business in competition during these times of high priced machinery, but it seems that a Lacey man can manufacture his own printing device, when a law becomes a menace to society and at the same time a protection to criminals, it should be wiped from the statute books. May I have the assurance of your help? Very sincerely yours, R. HARPER KIRBY.

We failed last week to get a report from the boys who went down on the Clear Fork and spent a few days fishing. Beecher Sherrod, Lane Moreland, Arthur Carter, and Cleve Barington made up the party. The Elizabeth Hughes Society met at the church Monday afternoon for their social meeting. We had a nice program. Mrs. Harley Henderson and Mrs. Lane Moreland sang, and Mrs. John Thomas gave a reading. Mrs. G. M. After the program, a refreshment plate consisting of meat sandwiches, potato chips, sliced pineapple, olives and punch were served to the following: Mesdames Herman Turner, C. L. Dickson, Frank Edwards, Lane Moreland, G. M. Stewart, John N. Thomas, Roscoe Roberts, Harley Henderson, J. A. B. Shear, R. J. Reed, and Miss Jewell Bargent and Imogene Flanagan. The society will meet at the church Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock for their monthly business.—REPORTER.

H. Macha, G. K. Phillips, J. J. Alderson, W. J. Seagrams, J. H. McNeely, Homer Franklin, W. M. Medlin, and J. B. Zimmerman furnished care to transport about fifty pupils and teachers. It was feared at first that everyone who wanted to go would not find a way, but Mr. J. M. Trussell came with his big truck.

When we arrived at the Tech, our crowd separated. Some went to various athletic events scheduled on the campus, the most interesting of which was the football game, the high and low hurdles.

By far the greatest number of our party preferred to visit the various buildings. We went first to the administration building. Every one admired the beautiful exterior which is patterned after early Spanish architecture displayed in the Alamo and other missions. We learned this building is only the front of a proposed quadrangle which will enclose a plaza. The turrets somewhat resemble those on Mission San Jose. The interior of the building is very attractive, especially the ceiling and walls, which are in harmony with the other architecture. We visited the library, the chemical and zoological laboratories. While passing through the rooms we noted the cleanliness, the orderliness and the beauty of the modern furniture and equipment. Every one connected with the Tech, especially Professor W. P. Clements, welcomed us most heartily and made us feel as if it were our own great schools were inspecting.

Next we were shown through the modernly equipped and sanitary dairy barns. The way this house was kept showed every gallon of milk sold was absolutely sanitary. As we passed through the dairy we noticed cards above the cows' stalls. We were informed that students own these cows and are selling milk to help pay expenses through college. Just beyond this barn, we saw large draft horses, hogs, sheep and chickens.

As we passed out of the barn, our attention was attracted by the horticulture department. It seems that every variety of shade trees and others were being cultivated and propagated. Students learn about these plants and soon our fair plains will blossom and boom with trees adapted to our climate and soil. Many of our young ladies were interested in horticulture and dairying but visited the Home Economics building. The young ladies of the department were exhibiting some beautiful dresses that they had made and designed. You see this is a coeducational school and the interest of both young men and women are cultivated and enhanced. At the entrance to the textile building which is somewhat removed from the other structures, we were met by the smiling and genial face of Prof. Camp. When he saw the size of his audience from Dixie, about seventy-five interested faces, he asked us how much time we had. We answered "We are not in a hurry." This evidently pleased him very much. He showed us the process of which cotton is thoroughly cleaned. We were surprised at the dirt and other foreign matter that is removed from long-stapled, high class, middling cotton. It was then run through the carder. Professor Camp explained that the room was dry and that the cotton stuck to the teeth of the carder, very much like a person's hair follows a comb on a frosty morning. He called attention to a machine, a humidifier, which sprays the room with water. It is claimed that this moisture keeps down the static and the cotton comes off in clean, fluffy rolls as white as a fresh snow. Next we were shown how this roll was converted into coarse threads and still finer ones. Before these threads can be put on the loom they must be carried through a process of heat and starch compound which hardens and strengthens the fibers. Threads are then dyed and dried by machinery. After this we were shown the looms in actual operation where several different kinds of cloth were being made. How do you suppose that outing gets its soft side? It is manufactured as any other cloth and then it is run through a machine that has teeth like an old fashioned card which picks up the loose end of the fibers. This gives the outing a soft finish. It was explained to us how a picture or design could be woven in colors and likeness of persons. Professor Camp is very proud of some souvenirs that his class has woven which contain a picture of Dan Moody. We now have a better understanding of our greatest college and the purpose for which it was built. Especially do we know why farmers should grow long staple cotton, as it has been explained how much expense manufacturers of cotton goods are put to in changing the machinery to use different lengths of staple.

Local News Mr. S. L. Shelton and family visited Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Davis Sunday afternoon. Miss Ruth Isbell spent Sunday with Misses Beatrice and Mary Loyd. One of our ninth grade students Miss Ellen King, has been very sick this last week with appendicitis. It is thought that an operation will be necessary but we hope not. We sympathize with her in this serious illness and hope she will soon get well. Miss Naomi Hallmark spent the week end with her friends in Lubbock. Mr. Homer Franklin, also spent the week end in Lubbock.

Our Sunday School Last Sunday we had a very nice Sunday school. A large crowd was there and we had good singing, good lessons, and a fine collection. After Sunday School, a committee of women, of which Mrs. O. D. Davis is chairman, were appointed to get up a program for Mother's Day which is the second Sunday of May. We are planning to make this program an interesting one.

You are urged to be present. Every mother will be given a hearty welcome, and a committee of persons owning cars will see that every mother who wishes to come will have a way.

TEXAS BERRY ADOPTED BY CALIFORNIA

The Nessberry is a perfect success in Southern California, according to a report to Mr. E. Teas, a Houston Nurseryman, from Mr. H. M. Ramsey formerly of Houston, now living at National City, near San Diego, California. Mr. Ramsey states that the berries are as large as English Walnuts and grow in clusters. They have the delightful flavor of raspberries and are almost black when fully ripe, at which time they are of the best flavor. Mr. Ramsey also reports that Hauptberry is a failure with him and that the Loganberry does not compare in quality with the Nessberry. He says the vines are very vigorous in California, growing 6 or 8 feet in a season. Prof. H. Ness of the Texas Experiment Station who originated the Nessberry in his breeding experiments, some 10 years ago, has expressed much gratification that this berry is a success in California. In Texas, Prof. Ness states that the berry seems to be at its highest flavor when it is at its most brilliant red color, rather than dead ripe, as mentioned by the California grower. Distribution of this new berry was made from the Station to numerous growers in Texas, including several nurseries, and the public now has access to supplies of this splendid fruit through the nurseries.

In a recent issue of the American Magazine is an article on "The Kind of Parents Our Big Business Men Had," Mr. Roger Babson picked out 50 representative men, bankers, manufacturers, and other business executives, and sent them the following six questions: (1) Did you have a praying father, a praying mother, or both? (2) Do you believe there is some power higher than human power? (3) Do you feel that we are responsible to this higher power? (4) Do you feel that we need help from it? (5) Do you ever pray? (6) Has this feeling of responsibility influenced your life? Of the fifty men of the list, 30 definitely answered "Yes" to the questions asked them. Mr. Babson himself stated that practically every big business man of his unusually wide acquaintance has had a praying father, a praying mother, or both. He quotes Dr. Russell H. Conwell, who investigated the percentage of over 4,000 American millionaires and found that all of them except 20 began as poor boys. Mr. Babson refers, too, to a professor in Indiana University who made a study of the names in a recent volume of "Who's Who in America," and found that preachers—in proportion to their numbers—fathered 2,400 times as many eminent persons as did the unskilled laborers, who stand at the other end of the scale. The preachers fathered thirty-five times as many eminent persons as did the farmers; four times as many as did the business men; and twice as many as the doctors, lawyers, and other professional men. Ten years ago this same professor investigated 70 leaders in business and found that all of these 70 men had praying fathers and mothers and that 24 of them were sons of preachers, teachers and farmers. Mr. Babson himself added this very interesting comment: "I have not been able to find a single great and useful institution which has not been founded by either an intensely religious man or by the son of a praying father or a praying mother."—Baptist Standard.

UNCLE JIM SAYS WE FORGET

This is a day of forgetfulness. We often forget what the Pilgrim Father fought, bled and died for. We forget the obligations we owe to our fellowman. When we receive a favor we often forget to return it. We often forget our Creator. When we engage in wickedness we forget that we are held to give an account for it. We often forget the instruction of father and mother. We often forget that God requires us to love our neighbor as ourselves. We often forget, when we take the name of the Lord in vain, that He has said thou shalt not do it. We sometimes forget we are growing older and that the time will soon come when we must quit the walks of men and we must give an account of the way we have lived. We often forget, when Sunday comes, that it is our duty to say, Come children, let's go to church or Sunday School instead of saying Go on to Sunday School. Go with them and see how they behave. But not only that, your are setting an example for them to follow.

ample for them to follow. We often forget that someone is following in our footsteps, either for good or for evil. When we go fishing or to a baseball game on Sunday or in any other way desecrate the Sabbath, we forget that He set the seventh day apart for our rest. In all his creation the seventh day was the only thing He sanctified. One thing we forget—that is the reading of the Bible. Trashy literature is read more than the Bible. We too often forget to ask Divine guidance in what we do. If the people of this nation had not been so forgetful they would not be in the condition they are in. There are two causes for this. One is denominational and the other is political prejudice. I am writing this hoping the readers of The Lynn County News will not be so forgetful.

W. M. S. HAD INTEREST. ING MEET MONDAY

The Woman's Missionary Society met Monday afternoon at the church. Sixteen members responded to the roll call with a verse from the Book of Hahum.

After a short business meeting we enjoyed an interesting report from Mrs. G. M. Stewart, our delegate to the Missionary Conference held last week in Abilene.

Mrs. Childress very capably gave the Song of Revenge, based on the book of Nahum.

This was an unusually interesting lesson. We only wish that more of the ladies of the church would join this society so they might study with us our present course, Studies in Prophecy.

T-Bar

We continue to have some cold weather, most of the garden stuff being killed by the freeze the past week. The Missionary Society rendered a good program to a house full Sunday night. Let's all be at the school house before dark every Sunday eve and do these things right. It may mean a sacrifice to many of us but let's each try to be first this next Sunday night.

Mrs. Lutz McMillan and son went to Lubbock to see Mr. McMillan, who is intending to come home this week from the sanitarium.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Dorman took dinner with Prof. Alexander and wife Sunday.

The young people took dinner with Mrs. Townzen and family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Johnson took supper with Prof. and Mrs. Alexander Sunday eve.

Quite a large crowd was out to the play at the school house last Friday night, put on for the T-Bar Club Girls. Those who were characters in the play were: Prof. Alexander of T-Bar and Prof. Alexander of Three Lakes, Carl Townzen and Doyle Bensley, and Misses Mabel Crews, Vera Nichols, Gladys Moore, and Mrs. Wilma Alexander of T-Bar. The play was real good and gives credit to those who made such an effort for a success. They are to play the same play at Hancock Saturday night. The play was entitled, Eyes of Love.

Master D. Waldrip was sick a few days back, hope he is out again by this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Dorman visited her parents, J. M. Johnson and wife, Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Caraway and his mother, Mrs. Henry, of Redwine were callers at the J. M. Johnson home Monday eve.

G. E. Lockhart purchased the rent feed of W. L. Kuykendall and is moving same to his farm four miles southeast of Tahoka this week.

Mr. and M. A. Dorman spent Friday night and Saturday in Tahoka visiting their son and family and incidentally took in the Medicine Show Friday night.

Mr. Thomas visited Calvin Dorman and wife Sunday.

We will put on a short program at the morning service on Mother's Day second Sunday in May. Preaching in the afternoon.

Brother Hicks filled his appointment at the school house Sunday afternoon. A nice crowd was present. He will preach to the men and boys over 12 years old next Tuesday night May 3, at the school house.

Our school will close May 6, and I and Mrs. Alexander in our Sunday School and Missionary work. Also Miss Jessie Gary, who is primary teacher and has helped out in all our societies, will be missed by every one.

"The Magic Garden" Is Feature Picture

When Gene Stratton Porter wrote "The Magic Garden" she unknowingly followed the precept of keeping the best for the last. Just before her death the popular authoress completed the story which later proved to be her greatest. It was also by a tragic coincidence to be her final work.

J. Leo Meehan, Mrs. Porter's son-in-law has taken this remarkable book and transferred it to the screen, and where, as an F. B. O. production, it may be seen at the Star Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, shown for the benefit of the Tahoka public schools. This picture reflects the spirit of its author; it is replete with the richness of life, and reveals the depths of human nature as this great woman knew it to be. It deals with hearts and souls, and the events that happen to test man and prove him to be worthy.

The cast was selected by Mr. Meehan with the greatest care in order that one would give a faithful delineation of the character that he or she was to make live on the screen. Many favorites are among them: Margaret Morris, Raymond Keane, Philippe de Lacey, Joyce Coad, William V. Mong, Charles Clary, Walter Wilkinson, Alfred Allen, Cesar Gravina, Paulette Duval and Hedda Hopper. Mr. Meehan wrote the adaptation and Charles Kerr the continuity.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY

Little Miss Betty Lu Suddarth celebrated her birthday anniversary last Saturday afternoon with a delightful party at her home.

Covers for fifteen were laid on a table with an Easter basket of eggs and chicks, and each guest received a tiny chick as favor. Places were found by little cakes initialed with alphabet cookies, and these was also an individual candied cake at each place. Ice cream and an ice were the other edible features.

Various games provided entertainment and each guest thoughtfully and generously brought future reminders of the occasion, which made the little honoree very grateful and happy.

Betty Lu's school teacher, Mrs. W. O. Henderson, was the guest of honor.

MAN WALKS FROM MISSISSIPPI AND CARRIES BABY

Some O'Donnell folks may think they experience some unusual difficulties as they travel down life's checkered pathway. An incident called to our attention recently was that of a man who walked all the way from Mississippi carrying in his arms a three year old child. The man did not trod the long journey for the pleasure there was in it. He was a victim of circumstances. The mother of the child died and the father claimed to have heard from a sister who lives in this section offering to care for the baby. Without money, there was only one way and that was to make the journey on foot. The long journey was started which lasted sixty-five days and most of the distance was covered on foot. The only rides he received was after he crossed the line into the dear old state of Texas where some few played the part of the good Samaritan.

Upon arriving in O'Donnell last Friday afternoon where he was supposed to locate the sister, he found that his troubles were not over. The sister could not be located. After several hours search he was carried to Lamesa where he renewed his search for the sister. We failed to learn whether or not the sister was located. If you have any troubles of your own, you should just listen
