AMENDMENTS DEFEATED

Under In Light Vote; Then 200 Votes Are Cast Here

Results from Monday's election show that each of the 4 constitutional amendments was overwhelmingly defeated.

The primary amendment appeared to be the least unpopular of the four, but the tax amendment of the primary was defeated by a margin of 105,000 votes from 212,214 against 117,214 Tuesday night. The amendment received more than 12,000 votes for the tax amendment a little more than 21,000. It is expected that the returns will show the same ratio of votes for the amendments as in the partial reports.

Results as tabulated Tuesday night are as follows:

For	Against
21,214	83,922
12,014	92,944
17,434	87,687
17,313	86,639

Results in Lynn county were similar to the results throughout the state generally. We have been able to secure returns from the boxes except the Tahoka, but all the amendments were everywhere defeated. The margin was exceedingly light everywhere. There were less than 200 votes in the two Tahoka precincts, 85 in north Tahoka and 15 in south Tahoka. We give the results in these two boxes:

South Tahoka
For	Against
27	64
17	75
16	77
17	74

North Tahoka

Business College Is Opened Here

A business college, Bond's Commercial Institute, opened on the 2nd floor of the First National Bank Monday morning, and is enrolling students for various courses.

Alicia Bond of Lamesa is principal of the school, and Mrs. M. Bond is the teacher. The Institute is enrolling students at Lamesa, Stanton and Odessa, in addition to the enrollment here this week.

Classes now offered by the school include bookkeeping and accounting, stenography, penmanship and combination courses.

House In Vacant Extinguished

A fire was discovered in a vacant house Tuesday afternoon about one o'clock at Mrs. Windham's residence. The fire department responded promptly to the call and extinguished the flames before much damage was done.

The house was not occupied, and the furniture and bedding were in the building and the fire is believed to have originated in a mattress. The mattress was destroyed and much of the wall paper burned, and the window badly damaged, but otherwise little damage was done. The cause of the fire is unknown.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES AND PATRONS

The date for the next meeting of the school trustees of the county has been set for August 19th at 1 o'clock. They shall meet in the district court at Tahoka. A representative from the State Department of Education will be present and no doubt there will be many things of interest to our schools to tell us. I am trying to arrange for another meeting to be present, and these together with talks from our own people should make an interesting and profitable while program. I hope to see you there.

W. H. HARRIS, County Supt.

Ten From County At Short Course

A party of ten Lynn county women and girls attended the Short Course given at College Station last week. The party consisted of Miss Millie M. Halsey, home demonstration agent, Misses Jamie McCarley, Ruby Moore, and Ruth Crews of T-Bar, Beatrice Hammonds of Edith and Nola and Martha Cook of Draw and Mesdames Ben Moore of O'Donnell, T. L. Hammonds of Edith, and J. M. Johnson of T-Bar. This party were accompanied by Mrs. H. W. Crews, who visited relatives at Waco, and Mrs. F. O. Greathouse, who visited her relatives at College Station. The party report a most pleasurable and profitable trip.

A Wild Beast Roams The Fields

G. C. Sargeant and a number of his neighborhood a few miles east of town have been having a bit of excitement the past week or two over a wild beast, genus unknown, which seems to be prowling around in the fields in that neighborhood.

The beast is described as an animal about the size of a large dog, of a tawny color with dark stripes, and a long tail. Whether it is a panther, cougar, jaguar, or other species of the cat family is unknown. It has been seen by various individuals, it is said. One time Mr. Sargeant, Roy Poer and others got close enough to it to strike it with a huge stick, intending to saddle it and then capture it. But upon being struck it jumped up and ran away. As it did so one man sent a shot after it but in the excitement his marksmanship proved to be bad and the animal escaped unhurt. At another time it is said Mr. Sargeant encountered it in his sorghum patch. It growled, and Mr. Sargeant says that he immediately walked away. There are rumors that he destroyed several rows of sorghum cane in making his get away.

Where the beast came from is a mystery. Some advance the theory that it might have escaped from a traveling show. Others think that it may have migrated from the breaks below the cap rock. Still others think that it may turn out to be only a huge bob cat. Possibly it will have been killed or captured before this appears in print, and the mystery solved. At any rate, the people of the vicinity are a bit mystified and the mysterious visitor has been the subject of a lot of street discussion here the past few days.

This story is no fable and the Volstead Act is being rigidly observed in this vicinity.

McKINNONS MOVE TO PLAINVIEW THIS WEEK

S. R. McKinnon, who recently resigned his position as manager of the Cleora Smith Lumber Company here, is moving this week to Plainview. He will superintend the construction of a lumber yard at the new town of South Plains for Wm. Cameron & Co., and after the yard is installed he will serve as local manager. This company has numerous yards in Texas and is preparing to open a number of yards on the plains, we understand. Mr. McKinnon expects to be located in Plainview after January 1. He formerly worked for the company at Chillicothe, Texas, and Altus, Okla. The McKinnons are a fine family and many friends here regret that they are leaving Tahoka.

Homer St. Clair, we understand, will succeed Mr. McKinnon as manager of the Cleora Smith yard here.

Harley Sadler Offers Scholarship At W. T.

Canyon, Aug. 3.—A $100.00 scholarship has been offered to the best college student of dramatics at the West Texas State Teachers College by Harley Sadler, well known comedian who is owner and manager of a company of players. His company is now playing in Canyon. The Teachers College is constantly widening its field of awards for superior scholarship, and Mr. Sadler's generous offer was enthusiastically received.

TRADES DAY IS BIG SUCCESS

Merchants Say Business Better; Buyers Pleased; Speakers Fail To Appear

The Trades Day held in Tahoka last Saturday was a success with the exception of the speaking. The out-of-town speakers who were expected to be here to discuss the amendments did not show up and many people were somewhat disappointed on that account. Judge Cain addressed a small crowd which assembled in the district court room, however, making an argument against the amendments.

A larger crowd than has been accustomed to visit Tahoka Saturday afternoons this spring and summer was here to enjoy the fun and take advantage of the bargains offered by our merchants. The business men say that business was better than they expected.

Two chickens were released from the top of the First National Bank building, two from the top of the Thomas building, and two from the top of the Wells building. Each fowl had a one dollar bill attached to its leg, and the crowd had great sport in catching the chickens as they came down. We were unable to learn the names of all the winners.

Prof. and Mrs. Nat Williams left Tuesday morning to visit relatives at Roscoe and Putnam. Prof. Williams will also superintend some improving on his farm near Putnam. The family expect to be away 2 or 3 weeks.

Business Good, B. R. Tate Says

B. R. Tate says that he and all the other merchants in town have been sitting around growing about business being so dull but upon checking over his books the first of the week he found that his cash sales during the month of July exceeded his cash sales in July, 1926, by $400.00. It was a surprise to him and possibly other merchants would likewise be surprised if they should make a comparison of their business—this summer with that of last summer.

Baptist Meeting To Begin Soon

At the services at the Baptist Church Sunday night, the time for the Baptist meeting was set to begin the last Sunday in August and continue two weeks. Rev. J. J. Kellam, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, San Antonio was invited to assist in the meeting. He is said to be a very successful pastor-evangelist, and the members of the church are expecting some great preaching and a fine meeting.

Petersburg Votes To Incorporate

Petersburg is a town. At a special election held Monday the citizens of Petersburg voted to incorporate their town. The count was 24 for and 1 against incorporation.

A marked development has been noticed in Petersburg during the past few months. Situated on the Lubbock-Silverton branch of the Denver railroad, Petersburg has been wide awake to grasp the opportunities that have come her way.

The town is growing rapidly. Many new brick business houses and attractive residences are being erected and planned. A fine new theatre has recently been completed. Work is in progress on a modern power and light plant. A short time ago Petersburg attracted considerable notice when one of the leading state papers, carried an article and several cuts showing the development.

Crops in the vicinity of Petersburg are reported to be in splendid condition and everything points to a successful future for the new city—Plainview Herald.

The doctors at Lamesa have reported one case of infantile paralysis in that city, according to the news papers published there. The patient is a 12-year girl. It is thought that she will recover.

COUNTY COURT IS IN SESSION

Young Man Is Convicted Tuesday Of Unlawfully Carrying A Pistol

A jury in the county court Tuesday night brought in a verdict of guilty in the case of the State of Texas vs. John Philpotts, charged with unlawfully carrying a pistol. The penalty assessed was a fine of $100.00. The defendant gave notice of appeal. The defendant was represented by Hon. H. L. Grace, while County Attorney L. C. Heath represented the State.

Defendant is a young man 21 years of age. His father's home is over the line in Borden county, but young Philpotts had been working a place in the Joe Bailey neighborhood in this county. He and his landlord had a serious disagreement and defendant was on his way from the place he was working to his father's home when he met with another interested party. A conversation and then a fight followed. The other participant in this melee entered a plea of guilty in the justice court for fighting and then filed a complaint against his antagonist for unlawfully carrying a pistol, claiming that he took a pistol from Philpotts' person during the encounter. Philpotts admitted having a pistol in his car but denied that it was on his person and his defense was that he was going back to his father's home, moving some of his personal effects, and had a right to take the pistol along, which was his property. The jury found against him.

Insurance Low On New School Building

Insurance agents here were notified this week that the rate of insurance for the high school building has been fixed at 52 cents on the building and 62 cents on the furniture. All the agents expressed surprise at the exceedingly low rate given. The board has not yet determined just the amount of insurance that will be carried, but the building will probably not be insured in a large sum, since it is a fireproof structure.

Scouts Enjoying Camp At Post

More than 100 boy scouts are spending the week on the scout camp grounds near Post this week, according to H. B. Yates, scout executive of the South Plains Area. One hundred and four scouts and ten scout executives have enrolled. Registration is now being made for the second period of the camp, which begins August 10. Tahoka scouts have been assigned to the second period. It is understood that a number of Tahoka scouts will attend.

COUNTY TAX RATE 78 CENTS

The county commissioners' court in session Tuesday fixed the tax rate for the county at 78 cents for the $100.00 assessed valuation. This is the same rate as fixed last year.

J. J. Massengale and family returned Friday from Killenn, Belton, and other places in Bell county, where they visited relatives. Mr. Massengale says that crops generally are excellent in that part of the state, though some of the cotton dying of root rot and there was considerable fear of damage by worms.

LIVESTOCK MARKET

Readers of The Lynn County News are now being furnished reports on the cattle, sheep and hog market, as a result of an arrangement made by this paper with the Cassidy Southwestern Commission Company of Fort Worth. The reports printed in each Thursday's issue are authoritative and will be of special interest to cattlemen and many farmers who do not receive market reports in some other manner. This week's report will be found on the last page.

Contract Is Let For New Oil Test Well

The Texas & Pacific Coal and Oil Company will begin the drilling of another wildcat oil well in Lynn county at an early date. The well will be located in the northwest corner of Section 6 in Block 42-C near the west line of the county, on land belonging to W. D. Nevels.

IS THIRD WELL WEST OF TOWN

The contract has been let to the Mauldin Drilling Company, according to F. M. Gill, a member of the company, and a water well will be begun immediately. A rotary rig will be used until the big lime is struck, when a standard rig will be substituted. The location for this well was made Wednesday, according to W. D. Nevels, owner of the land. The location is two miles north of the Guinn Store and the West Point school house, and is about five miles northeast of the Kingsland well.

The drillers of the Kingsland well have reached a depth of about 2,000 feet, according to F. M. Gill of the Mauldin Drilling Company and A. E. Knause representing the Kingsland Oil & Potash Company. There was a cessation of drilling for several days on account of some casing trouble but drilling was resumed three or four days ago and satisfactory progress is being made.

At the Hart well five miles west of Tahoka the derrick has been skidded 50 feet west of the abandoned hole and a bigger engine will be installed within the next few days. The water well is ready, and work on the new hole may be expected to begin at an early date, it is said. Mr. Hart is expected to arrive in Tahoka tonight. There is said to be an immense quantity of water in the old hole, which has been plugged up at a depth of 200 feet.

Penn Well Drilling At 2240 Feet

The index has learned nothing new regarding the Penn Drilling Co. wildcat eight miles southeast of town.

They have been drilling day and night and are now drilling in a lime formation at 2240 feet, we understand. As to whether or not they have encountered any oil or gas showings thus far, we have been unable to learn. It seems to have developed into a case of watchful waiting.

Within the next two or three hundred feet it is thought they will change from the present rig, a rotary to standard equipment—O'Donnell Index.

Floyd Road Bonds Lose By 35 Votes

Floyd, Aug. 2.—A bond issue totaling $475,000 for paving of the Lee Highway No. 28 across Floyd county, was defeated in an election held here Monday by 35 votes. The election is the second that has been held on the issue, a first having been held Dec. 21, 1926.

A majority of two-thirds was needed for a passage of the issue. A total of 1,208 votes was cast favoring the issue and 628 opposing it. Another election will be held as soon as possible, it was said.

W. M. Harris returned Tuesday from Marietta, to which place he was called the first of last week by the serious illness of his mother, who had suffered a second stroke of paralysis. She was somewhat improved when Mr. Harris left Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hicks of Midland were here Wednesday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Belton Howell. It looks mighty natural to see Alvin on our streets.

In England airplanes are now sold on the installment plan.

Yours sincerely,
MILLIE M. HALSEY

E. E. King at Hogan's informs us that Leslie Hogan of Archer City is preparing to move to Tahoka about August 15. The elder Mr. Hogan will have charge of the business at Archer City and Geo. Hogan Jr. will be in charge at Olney.

J. S. Weatherford and his cousin George Moss of Wilson left Wednesday morning for White Deer in the North Panhandle to visit relatives. They will spend a week or ten days in that section.

Institute To Be Held In November

As some misunderstanding has arisen regarding the teacher's institute, it seems well to state that the institute for this county will meet about the first of November. The new law provides for only two days institute with pay, to be held just prior to the opening of the majority of the schools of the county. However, the county board may provide for three other days of institute. The law further provides that a school with 500 or more scholars may hold their own institute if they so desire. Only one school in this county, Tahoka, is in this class.

We expect to have a good live institute of two days filled with work of direct interest and benefit to the teachers present. There has been a great waste of the children's money in the old five days institute, and this will be corrected this year.

A contract has been let for the construction of a fire station at Level-land, 34 by 50 feet in size. A sewer system has been installed. A 250-candle power light has been placed at the top of the water tank 130 feet above the ground and may be seen for many miles around. The Chamber of Commerce is working for a highway westward into New Mexico.

The Farm Bureau Gin Co. is being organized at Level-land for the purpose of constructing and operating a $35,000 gin plant at that place. There are said to be 118 stockholders owning about 10,000 acres of cotton in the vicinity of the town.

Cardui Starts Missouri Lady On Road To Health Again

Mrs. T. G. Harris, of Clarkburg, Mo., writes: "For two years, I was in very poor health, almost just going, so weak and run-down. I tried to make the most of what little strength I had left, but I could find nothing to start me on the road to health again until, one day, I decided to try Cardui. I took Cardui for several months and was very much gratified with the results. I began to do my own work again. My color, which had been pale and sallow, became natural. My complexion cleared up. Cardui was just the tonic I needed."

Take Cardui if you are run-down. It should do you good at all druggists.

There Is A Big "If" Says Uncle Jim

Well, as I noticed in the issue of June 30 of the Lynn County News an article written by Mr. Adair on the political situation, I will write again. I was glad to read your article.

Yes, Mr. Adair, there ought to be more men and women to give their convictions as you and I have done. That's what the matter with the people today.

No, Mr. Adair, if the balance of the people of our nation were like the people of Lynn county, Al Smith would not have the shadow of showing in the convention. But, Mr. Adair, there is one little word in the English language that has much or more significance as any other, and it only has two letters. That is the little word, if. If man had not transgressed the law of God, the earth would have been a paradise. If man had been righteous, God would not have sent the flood and destroyed them. If man had not been so wicked, Christ would not have died for man's redemption. If man had not taken the first drink, not stolen the first article, not told the first falsehood, there would not have been any drunkards, thieves, or liars. If our wives had loved some other man better than us, we might have spent the balance of our days in blessed singleness. As for me, I am glad that little word if was not in the way.

If the solid South in the convention would vote together, Al would not be nominated, but we must take into consideration the different factions in the South, both politically and religiously. Yes, Mr. Adair, there are people who would vote for a yellow dog rather than principle if he was on the Democrat or Republican ticket, or if he was a Methodist, Baptist, or Catholic. Yes, there are people in Lynn county that would support Al Smith, and they are not Catholics, simply because he is wet. I wish that more men and women would express themselves publicly. We can learn from each other.

In closing, roughly speaking, this nation is in a mell of a fix, both religiously and politically.

PLAINVIEW LAWYER APPOINTED TO PLACE ON HIGHER COURT

Hon. A. B. Martin of Plainview has accepted the position tendered him by Gov. Moody a few weeks ago as a member of the commission to assist the Court of Criminal Appeals. The position carries a salary of $6,000, fixed by the legislature. Several years ago, when the business of the court grew to such proportions that the three members of the court could not properly care for it, two commissioners were authorized by the legislature to assist the court, their salaries being fixed at the same figure as the salary of the members of the court.

The amendment submitted to the people Monday was designed to increase the membership of the court to five and abolish the commission. Being voted down, the legislature is now free to increase the number of these commissioners, when and if it sees fit to do so.

Mr. Martin is an able criminal lawyer, having enjoyed a lucrative practice at Plainview. He has taken an active interest in politics in a public affairs generally. For a number of years he has been a member of the Board of Regents of the State Teachers College.

Principal At New Home Writes News

The Lynn County News, Tahoka, Texas.

Dear Lynn County Friends:

After an absence of several weeks and during which time I have spent the most pleasant vacation of my life, it seems necessary that you should again be burdened with reading some news items from the old source.

As an incentive to get you to read this with avidity, will remark that if you wish to see Texas and not worry about car trouble, try the simple Ford route. If you break down you can get service at any cross roads, and most any mechanic and near me mechanic can "doctor" one to kill or cure.

After leaving Tahoka, our first halt was made in Sweetwater. Here we found one of the prettiest new city halls in Texas, nearing completion. This hall has a magnificent auditorium that will seat 1000 people or more and the heating, lighting and ventilating systems are the most approved types. We visited the Sweetwater fire department, and the firemen showed us the equipment, motor drawn, that would be creditable to any city. The firemen were well housed and comfortably cared for and they seemed deeply appreciative of the many kindnesses the progressive people of Sweetwater bestow upon the boys who fight the fires.

In Sweetwater we took the Bankhead Highway for the East. Senator Bankhead would smile if he could see the beautiful country that this road traverses. We made a short stop at Abilene to observe some of the educational institutions there. McMurry, Simmons, and A. C. C. seem flourishing, and the whole west should be proud of these institutions and support them according to the means of the good people that these worthy school represent.

When we reached the oil fields in the Eastland territory, we expected to find quick growth towns in that vicinity but we noted that the homes and business concerns gave much evidence of permanency and comfort. Well kept lawns greeted us everywhere. In fact we felt as much security from personal harm in this oil field as at any place we traveled.

In Ft. Worth where the west begins, we found a hearty welcome. This city has the true westerner spirit, and every one seems to give a glad hand to any one from the plains country.

But Dallas, the city of the hour, and the pride of the South, gave us a real home coming. Friends greeted us in the true East Texas way. Here we visited Southern Methodist University, and the two years that we had been absent, time wrought great changes. Several beautiful buildings had been erected. The new Methodist church near the campus of the University is a magnificent structure and McFarlin Hall, the beautiful assembly hall for the student body is a dream in beauty, comfort and elegance. The school of music is domiciled in this hall, and at any hour of the day, there is entertainment. Hyer Hall, the home of the sciences, is another new structure, which was badly needed. Two other buildings have been completed, and in one of these new structures we ran across the Reverend Thompson delving into the lore or of the core of an examination. Bro. Thompson lives in Wilson, and works in that district. We intended to stay in Dallas for a few hours, but our friend Mr. Jim Miller, promptly advised us that he had just purchased a beautiful suburban home that he had to give a check for that required five figures in the dollars column to buy and we had to go out and spend the night. Mr. Miller has been in Dallas all his life, and shortly after reaching his majority he was chosen county commissioner by the friends he went to school with. During his incumbency Dallas county has built some of the finest roads in Texas, and Honest Jim has never been accused of misappropriating one dollar. Of course we spent the best part of next day riding with Mr. Miller over these great highways. When you think Dallas isn't growing stay away for a few months and return and get lost in a haze of new skyscrapers but most noteworthy is the strides they are making in church and school activities. We visited the First Baptist Church, but we did not find Dr. Truitt in the city. This church has been remodeled in the last two years and a new educational building has been added. The interior is capacious and the main auditorium has a seating capacity of over 2000. You should see the Sunday school equipment that these people have, for the infant in arms to the oldest persons you find every convenience for study, attractiveness, and religious enjoyment. Next we visited the First Methodist Church, which is a new church and one of the finest institutional churches in the South.

After a few days visit in Athens and Grapeland, we went to Houston. On every hand you see evidences of growth and progress. We visited the deep water basin, and were lucky enough to be invited to go thru a real ocean liner over 400 feet in length. We were badly disappointed that we were one day too late to visit a Spanish passenger ship. While in Houston we visited the San Jacinto Battlefield. There we met Col. A. J. Houston who was kind enough to explain in detail the battle that his illustrious father planned and with the aid of those gallant Texans made Texas a place for red blooded, liberty loving Texans. Col. Houston is writing a history of Texas, and he favored us with an autographed copy of the San Jacinto campaign. As you know, Col. Houston is the Superintendent of this Park, and his knowledge of events and persons make his talks and writings vitally interesting and instructive. Col. Houston remarked "It is my desire to make this battlefield as interesting as possible, and most especially to the children. How great it would be to have a zoo containing all the native animals of Texas so that the children would be entertained scientifically as well as historically." We thought of many days gone by when we noticed that the Colonel had built an old fashioned stake and the rider fence of red split rails. He informed us that men visited there who were forty years of age and had never seen a fence of that kind. There is room enough there in that nearly three hundred acres owned by the state to show Texas history in replicas of pioneer building and antiques.

Yes, we went to Galveston which has one of the finest beaches in America. Galveston is an old city, but it has an individuality of its own. One cannot visit Galveston without thinking of the terrible disasters which have visited that beautiful city, but on the other hand you will note that all buildings have been raised about ten to fifteen feet above the high water mark. The streets are all edged with beautiful palms, and winter is little known.

We could tell you about the good things to eat, but we know you would be envious of our good fortune. Suffice this to say that in a country where every thing good to eat under the sun can be raised, there is little danger of a man weighing about two hundred pounds being horned away from the lick log and the chow preparations. Yes, we have had all the fish we want, and the joy of catching them.

Yet we find our minds getting hungry for the plains. We shall be glad to return home.

While in Grapeland we met Prof. Robinson and Mrs. Robinson of Midway, Lynn County. They were visiting Mrs. Robinson's people there, and incidentally he told me that he wanted to get the good "eats" that a plainsman has to pay such high prices for. He talks of fried chicken, watermelons, green peas, etc. with an intimacy that bespoke several pounds gain in avoirdupois. So may it be.

Respectfully,
J. B. ZIMMERMAN

T. E. House, who ordered 60 baby chicks from Dallas a few months ago, some of them costing as high as $1.60 each, was in the News office Saturday and reported that he had lost only four of the chicks. He says he now has some of the finest fowls in the state. He is a great chicken fancier and we surmise that he is preparing to take some prizes at the fairs hereafter.

THEY SWATTED 'EM ALL

All the proposed constitutional amendments were overwhelmingly defeated in the election Monday. They were defeated chiefly because they were not thoroughly understood and the people were afraid the gun was loaded. They felt that the adoption of the amendments would be like taking a leap in the dark. None of them were generally discussed before the people, and being uncertain as to their merits, the cry to "swat 'em all" became popular. All were swatted. At least three of them nevertheless contained much merit, and sooner or later their substance will be written into the constitution. The tax amendment proposed too radical a change and was fraught with too much uncertainty as to its consequences to rally much support. It was more vigorously fought, perhaps, than any of the other amendments. The most opposition came apparently from the corporations. They all opposed it. Ordinarily, that would be a strong incentive for most of us to favor it, but we doubt if it was based on the correct principle of taxation or if it could have been made to operate equitably if adopted. The judiciary amendment perhaps was not radical enough. It possibly did not offer as effective a reform in our court system as most people believe we need. About all they could see in it was more judges and more taxes. But some day there will be a reform in our court system. The makeshift of a commission of appeals will not continue always. This was no time to raise salaries. The people are crying for relief from high taxes. An increase in salaries, they felt, would mean still higher taxes. Hence they swatted this amendment. But some day we will decide to pay our state officials and our legislators decent salaries. They can't live on glory. It takes money to buy beans. The idea of paying a state official only $2,000 or $2,500 per annum, less than most of our county officials receive, when they are expected to make some kind of a campaign over the state to be elected, is preposterous. As to the fee system, that also will be abolished some day. Not all officers are led to do wrong through the fee system, but some of them are. It has been said that a crook in office would be a crook any way, whether he is paid by fees or a salary. That may be true, but the State should not make it profitable to any officer to do wrong. That may make it hard for him to do right. No judge's pay, no peace officer's pay, should be made to depend on whether a defendant is "stuck" or turned loose. That is what the supreme court of the United States held, and we believe the supreme court is right. The fee system will be abolished some day. While all these amendments were overwhelmingly defeated, their submission has set the people to thinking along these lines and we believe that ultimately good will result. The next time the substance of these amendments are submitted, the framers will doubtless avoid the weak points developed in the amendments which were submitted this time, and all will come out right in the end.

NOT SO BAD AS PAINTED

The News believes that there are almost infinitely too many homicides in this country. We believe that too many murderers are running loose, unpunished. We strongly favor some legislation that would enable our courts to be more speedy and efficient in dispensing justice. But we believe that there are some court reformers who in their zeal to make a point have gravely misrepresented and maligned our courts. In an article published in the Texas Farm & Ranch in its issue of July 30, Hon. T. W. Davidson, recently president of the Texas Bar Association, makes use of this language: "In this country, if a man deliberates whether or not he shall kill another, he knows that the chances are that he may never be arrested, and that 15 to 1 he will never be convicted, and that 100 to 1 he will never die for his crime." In one of his articles published in the Dallas News last fall, Judge Marcus A. Kavanaugh of Chicago, used similar language. He stated: "If one with premeditation commits a murder in the United States and is careful the chances are six to one he will never be arrested, twelve to one he will be arrested, 12 to 1 he will never be convicted, and a hundred to one he will never die for his crime." With all due respects to these learned and most honorable gentlemen, we do not believe that their statements are true. Judge Kavanaugh says that every time one murderer is convicted twelve are turned loose by the courts, and Judge Davidson puts the ratio at 15 to 1. We do not know how these gentlemen gathered their statistics, but these figures to us seem utterly absurd. We know that that ratio of acquittals to convictions for murder does not exist in Texas. Any man who has been in position to observe the proceedings of our courts knows this is not true. We challenge any of our readers to make a list of the murders that have been committed in his county or that have come under his personal knowledge and then make a list of those who were convicted. We doubt if one of them will find that the ratio of acquittals and convictions will approach any where near the figures given by Judges Kavanaugh and Davidson. Such ratio does not exist even including all homicides, such as manslaughter and purely self-defense in the category of murder. Go to the records of your own district clerk and get the figures for yourself. Judge Kavanaugh and Judge Davidson have each suggested some most excellent remedies for the defects that exist in criminal procedure in this country. We approve most of the remedies suggested by them. We think our people and our legislature their suggestions and arguments, but would do well to read and ponder we think they hurt their cause when they quote statistics that are obviously incorrect and absurd.

Judge Cain made a fine argument in a speech delivered in the district court room last Saturday afternoon against raising the pay of legislators. He took the position that there should be able men who are willing to serve in the legislature and other responsible positions purely from motives of patriotism, without pay. He cited some shining examples. Washington was one. He served either his nation or his state at one time in his career without remuneration. John H. Reagan was another. He resigned a position in the cabinet (slightly inaccurate, Judge, it was a seat in the U. S. Senate) to become a Texas railway commissioner at a much smaller salary. Therefore, legislators should be willing to serve for glory, from patriotic motives, with no thought of the pay. That set us to thinking. Why not ask all of our officials to serve without pay? It would be highly patriotic on their part and would save the tax payers a lot of money. But, if that should be deemed impractical, what a fine thing it would be for some able man in this district—a county judge or somebody—with a lucrative salary to give up his job next year and run for the legislature. How much greater would be the opportunity for service in Austin than in Tahoka, in the capitol than in the court house! Think how many and great opportunities there would be there to cut down appropriation bills and save the people's money! And there would be great glory in it. Wouldn't that be pay enough? Speak up, gentlemen, who will be first?

A Tahoka produce dealer says that it may be true, as one man has charged, that Tahoka cafes will not pay any more for infertile eggs than for fertile ones, but that the produce men in Tahoka are paying more for them and have been doing so all summer. He says they pay several cents more per dozen. They could and would make even a greater difference than they have been making were it not for the fact that a few have brought in eggs claiming them to be infertile when it turned out they were fertile. This has hurt the infertile egg market to some extent. Mr. Produce Dealer says therefore that the gentleman who complained about the market here has no real complaint coming. We believe that any man can get as fair a deal in Tahoka as anywhere on earth.

It seems that Aimee Semple McPherson and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, have made a neat fortune as proprietors and operators of the Angelus Temple, Los Angeles. Now mother and daughter have fallen out and each has employed attorneys. Mrs. McPherson got into a terrible mess a year ago when she got "kidnapped." Now a fuss with her mother over the property they have accumulated by their religious activities adds to the disgrace of the affair. It's a pity that Christianity as a whole must suffer to some extent by reason of the fakes that parade in gospel colors.

Farmers from various points in Lynn county report the prospect for a good cotton crop as being excellent. It is unusually late and an early frost might do great damage. Showery weather and worms during the present month could likewise play havoc with the crop. But if none of these nor other calamities overtake the crop and if a reasonably good price is realized this fall, Lynn county will be feeling fine, thank you, along about Christmas.

To make Highway No. 9, the north and south route through Hale county, an arterial pike, is the task which H. S. Hilburn, editor of the Plainview Evening Herald, has set for himself. He points out that this road can easily be made the main artery from the gulf to the northwest, and would be of inestimable value to the nation in event it ever becomes necessary to move great bodies of troops quickly.—Amarillo News.

Most other towns on the south plains are procuring natural gas. The line is being installed as far south as Slaton. We are wondering why Wilson, Tahoka, O'Donnell and Lamesa could not induce the owners to extend the line to these four towns.

It is apparent that we are neither willing to trust our legislators nor to pay them.

The big head lines tell us that President Coolidge got caught in a hailstorm the other day. We have had that distinction a number of times.

THE DALLAS MEETING

(I. B. ALFORD)

On July 4th, 1927, a most remarkable meeting of farmers, merchants, and other business and professional men was held on the roof garden of the Jefferson Hotel in the city of Dallas. It appears that the only parallel in American history to this meeting was another similar meeting held in the city of Philadelphia exactly 151 years before. Those attending the Philadelphia meeting came from every avenue of industry prevailing in the colonies at that time. At the Dallas meeting there were present men of almost every line of industry in Texas at this time—farmers, merchants, bankers, lawyers, doctors, teachers, preachers, mechanics, hotel keepers, salemen, all there. As the two meetings were similar in personnel they were also similar in purpose and plan. The Philadelphia meeting resulted in the Declaration of Independence and the subsequent establishment of the best government existing on earth today. The Dallas meeting set forth a second declaration on independence, declaring the right of perpetuation of the homes and industries, established as a result of the first.

At the Philadelphia convention the key note was resistance to the tyranny of taxation without representation. At the Dallas convention the protest was unanimous against longer continuance of the present custom of compelling cotton farmers to accept prices on cotton without having some voice in determining those prices. They declared that if a small tax on tea was tyranny the present custom of gambling in futures, and compelling farmers to submit to their gambling prices is an outrage, and ought to be declared a felony. The Philadelphia convention demanded the right of the Colonists to establish homes, and to be secure in their rights of "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." The Dallas convention reiterated the right of the descendants of those colonists to perpetuate those homes by the inalienable right of self determination, to the end that they might sustain themselves in the industry essential to supporting those homes.

There was one distinctive feature of this conference which was different from that of any similar meeting ever held in Texas. This was the presence of many reputable business and professional men all of whom without a dissenting voice subscribed to the above enunciated protest against the annual custom of casting up imaginary or real contemplated surpluses, and gambling in the possible futures of farm products. They demanded that King Cotton cease to be a foot ball to be tossed up or down by any one who chanced to possess a ticket to the show, and that this basic industry of the nation be accorded the rights and privileges of all other basic industries, which is the right of free competition in disposing of farm products.

"It appears that the common adage, 'Give the thief enough rope and he will hang himself,' was vindicated by a recent act of the Cotton Exchange when that body took advantage of the Government's estimate of a possible surplus of six million bales of cotton. As a result of this estimate the price of cotton went tumbling from 20 cents to 11 cents per pound, precipitating a panic in the cotton market, and bankruptcy to cotton farmers, and many local banks sustaining them. Ten months later, before the next cotton crop began to move to market, the government reversed itself by announcing that this contemplated surplus had all disappeared, having been taken up by the mills. This announcement, contradicted by subsequent facts, convicted the Cotton Exchange, and all in alliance with that institution, on the indictment of either inefficiency or crookedness, and, therefore, no longer deserving the confidence of business men who formerly accepted as authentic the announcement of that body. As stated above there were many participating in this conference who are not engaged in farming, but who own and operate farms aside from their active professions or business careers, and who are, therefore, directly interested in a solution of the farm problem. Others, merchants and bankers, whose business is closely allied with the interests of farming, accorded heartily with the plan as agreed upon for relief. Among these were some of the best posted and most substantial men of the state or nation, as the following names and firms indicate.

Such men as Ex-Lieut. Gov. T. W. Davidson, U. S. Senator Sheppard and Mayfield, Ex-Commissioner of Agriculture Fred W. Davis, Commissioner of Agriculture Geo. B. Terrell, Judge John Davis, Judge J. H. (Cyclone) Davis, Judge V. A. Collins, Sen. Thomas B. Love, Judge J. W. Chancellor, Judge John L. Gough, Judge J. E. Gilbert, W. B. Yearly, G. W. Fant, Joe Buis, J. M. Green. The John Deere Plow Company, The International Harvester Company, B. F. Avery & Sons Plow Company, Padgett Brothers Company, Byrne Commercial College, Huey-Philip Hardware Company, Advance-Rumley Thresher Company, Boren-Stewart Company, Higginbotham—Pearlstone Hardware Company, Higginbotham-Bailey-Logan Company, Briggs-Weaver Machinery Company, etc., etc.

A working program was agreed upon. A committee was appointed to arrange to finance membership for an organization to carry out in detail the program as agreed upon. It was indeed a great meeting, a second declaration of independence.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Massengale, and daughter Faye, from Tahoka, ily of people lived in Killeen many friends this week. This good family have been visiting among Killeen years, some of the time of which Jesse served at the law in Killeen or to be more explicit, as city marshal, and, by the way, he made a good officer, too. They moved to Tahoka some years ago, where Jesse has been employed in a grocery store and which position he has evidently made good at from the length of time he has held the place. He tells us that his son, Vernon, also holds a place in the same store with him and has been there all during the school vacation.—Killeen Herald.

Henry Ford Passes 64th Birthday

DETROIT, July 30.—Healthy, wealthy and happy, Henry Ford today celebrated his 64th birthday preparing for the struggle reported imminent between him and the powerful General Motors Corporation.

But before he retires from the field in which he rose from a poor farm boy to the position of the world's richest man, Ford is going to produce an entirely different car from his previous machine and meet in the open market the foes who have forced him recently to curtail production to relatively nothing.

There were also unconfirmed reports that General Motors will counter with a lighter car than it now produces as soon as Ford announces his new model.

Do not pass up this opportunity, a considerable saving. Come in and take advantage of PIGGLY WIGGLY specials for Saturday and Monday.

Music Conservatory For Simmons U.

ABILENE, Aug. 3.—West Texas now has a Conservatory of Music. Official announcement was made at Simmons University that the musical departments of the school have been separated from the other fine arts and made into a conservatory of music.

The piano department in the conservatory will be headed by Prof. Irl Allison, noted concert pianist, instructor and novelist. He will have as instructors Misses Lucille Patterson and Lyda Gresham, both of whom hold musical degrees.

Reasons given for the establishment of the conservatory were the need of separate recognition from other fine arts, the growth of the musical department in the last few years, and the room for expansion in the $100,000 Fine Arts Hall at Simmons.

Other departments in fine arts here will in the future be designated as the School of Speech Art and the School of Art.

Specifications Of The New Model Ford

Every day we have dozens of inquiries regarding the New Model Ford Car. Every one is anxious to know when it will be on the market—when they can see it, ride in it—and but it. As yet the specifications have not been announced by the Ford Motor Company, but in Mr. Ford's wire to us he says that the new model will be superior in design and performance to any now in the low priced car field. The new model Ford will be noted for its Speed, Style, Flexibility, Easy Control.

"It will be more costly to manufacture, but more economical to operate."

Speaking of speed—very few people know that in 1902 Mr. Ford was the race track champion of the United States. At that time the whole interest of the public was in racing cars. Mr. Ford set to work to build the fastest car in the world, and on December 1st, 1902, he lowered the national automobile record for a mile to one minute and one second and therefore won the track championship of the United States.

Now about the New Model Ford Car—We hope to have one on display in our show room soon. No doubt, complete specifications and prices will be announced before that time, however. We have orders on file covered by deposits and delivery of the new car will be made in the order in which deposits are received. A $25 deposit places you in line to receive your new car at the earliest possible date.

Mr. Ford has been working on the new model car for several years. He has set his mind, his wealth and all the forces at his command to the task. We have reason to believe that there will be "nothing quite like the new car in quality, price, and design."

In the meantime the sales record of the present car, Model T, has set a record that will never be equalled by any other car manufacturer—over 15 million in 20 years—a record that will long be remembered and commented on. We have just a few ever made by the Ford Motor Company.
