26 INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

Are Felonies; Report Is Made By Body To District Judge Gordon McGuire

The grand jury made its final report and was changed by District Judge Gordon B. McGuire Tuesday afternoon. During its meetings it returned into court twenty-six indictments, twenty-five of which were felonies. It is believed that this is the largest number of felony indictments ever presented by a single grand jury in Lynn county. In its report it took occasion to scathingly censure those who are alleged to have been active in spirituating witnesses out of the county or inducing them to leave the county in certain cases. It is understood that there have been several indictments presented for this character of offense. The grand jury was composed of the following named gentlemen: W. H. May, foreman, Jim Bannister, R. L. Beattie, J. P. Bowlin, J. K. Callaway, R. C. Carroll, C. O. Carmack, J. M. Noble, L. H. Moore, J. H. Smith, J. A. Loyd, John Standefer.

Final Report TO THE HONORABLE GORDON B. MCGUIRE, Judge of said Court:

We, your Grand Jury for the September Term of the District Court in and for Lynn County, Texas, wish to render to you the following report of our work as Grand Jurors since we have been together:

We have diligently inquired into all alleged violations of the law which have been brought to our attention and have found 26 Bills of Indictment, all Felony Indictments except one. We have taken time to go into all matters carefully brought before us, notwithstanding that all the Grand Jurors have had to lay down their work and sustain a considerable loss in their business in so doing. We have now been together ever since the 19th of September, except with a recess or two with your permission.

We have carefully examined the County Jail and the court House in general and commend the Sheriff of this County and others in charge of Court house for the splendid, sanitary condition which we have found. We have found in our investigation of crime in the county that in some respects it seems to be on the decline and in others on the increase. We wish by this method to call attention to the tendency on part of some of our citizens to try to defeat justice in our Court procedure by tampering with and undertaking to run witnesses off to prevent their testifying in our Courts. We censure in no unmistakable terms such practice and hereby call on all good law abiding citizens to condemn same, and commend our officers in their untiring efforts to break up such practice. We wish to commend our Sheriff of Lynn County in his untiring efforts to apprehend those charged with crime and in his untiring work with us. We also wish to thank our District Attorney for his untiring and efficient work in assisting us as well as all other officers in any way assisting us in our work.

We also thank the Judge of this Court for his efficient conducting of our Courts and for the selection of so efficient and faithful Foreman to guide us in our work. Having completed our labors for the term, we most respectfully ask that we be finally discharged. W. H. MAY, Foreman of the Grand Jury.

New Boy Scout Executive Here

W. P. Knox, the new Boy Scout Executive of the South Plains Area Council, and Rev. L. G. Williams, Scout Commissioner, both of Lubbock, were in Tahoka Tuesday getting acquainted with local officials of the organization and business men. Mr. Knox comes to this section from Beaumont, where he has been engaged in the same line of work. He states that steps will be taken to revive interest in the organization.

Mrs. Clyde Briley of Post was a Tahoka visitor Tuesday afternoon. She was accompanied by Mrs. John Easley, Mrs. R. W. Renfro, and Miss Catherine Curtis.

Fined For Driving While Intoxicated

Roy Cates of Lubbock entered a plea of guilty in the district court Wednesday morning to an indictment charging the driving of a car while intoxicated. The jury let him off with a light fine but it is understood that costs were pretty heavy. This together with his attorney's fee and the additional loss of his car, which was wrecked as a result of his drunken condition, entailed considerable loss on his part.

MASS MEETING OF C-C TONIGHT

All Citizens Urged To Attend; To Plan Advertising Campaign; Band To Play

Prof. M. L. H. Baze as secretary of the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce has called a meeting of that body at the High School Auditorium at 7:30 o'clock this evening. The citizens of the town, both men and women, are invited to be present regardless of whether they are members of the Chamber of Commerce or not.

One of the main matters for consideration will be an advertising scheme decided upon by the directors some time ago. The plan is to send an exhibit on wheels to the populous parts of north, central, and east Texas in charge of some citizen armed with plenty of good literature about Lynn county, to show all doubting Missourians what is being produced here.

A nice program has also been prepared for the meeting tonight and the band will be there to furnish plenty of good music.

The High School Auditorium should be filled this evening.

Cotton Pickers In Demand Here

The cotton is now beginning to open rapidly in Lynn county, and within the next week of ten days there will be a great demand for pickers. It is not probable that any of the cotton on the plains will be sledged this year; certainly not if the weather remains favorable for the maturing and the picking of the young bolls. Since the crop is very late, every farmer will be in a rush to get his crop gathered and thousands of imported pickers will be here, that is, if they can be procured. Business promises to be fine through the remainder of the fall and winter.

South Ward Farmer Says Wheat Fine

W. P. Inman of South Ward was in the News office Saturday and stated that he had sowed fifty acres of wheat, most of which had already come up and was looking fine. He expected to sow 25 acres more. Quite a considerable acreage is being sowed in wheat again this fall. Much of the wheat last fall was sowed very late and the cut worms destroyed much of it. They did not materially damage early wheat, and therefore Mr. Inman and others are sowing earlier this year.

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL OF WRIGHT CASE OVERRULED

The motion for a new trial in the Clint Wright case, convicted last week of statutory rape and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary, was heard and overruled by Judge McGuire Wednesday afternoon. Attorneys Stewart & Marshall of Lubbock and W. H. Crunk of O'Donnell had filed a lengthy motion setting up many grounds for a new trial, but the court held that none of them was well taken. Judge G. E. Lockhart and County Attorney L. C. Heath assisted District Attorney Price. Defendant will appeal.

Fred Griffing of Stockton, California, is here visiting his father, W. R. Griffing, and his brother Carl. Mr. Griffing holds a position with the Standard Oil Company and is enjoying a brief vacation. He expects to return to Stockton the last of the week.

SMALL CYCLONE HITS COUNTY

Two Houses Demolished On Floyd Farm; Wind Does Freakish Stunts

J. F. Lloyd says that a small twister struck in his locality Monday afternoon and performed some freakish stunts. He had two small two-room houses on his place in the path of the storm and they were completely demolished. The debris from these buildings was scattered hundreds of yards. Yet not a pane of glass or window was broken. Each house contained one window of four panes. He found the two sashes with the panes therein intact with not even a crack in them, although the frames from which they were blown were torn to splinters. A wagon bed with cotton frames was picked up off the running gear of his wagon, carried over into his yard, and there left bottom side up but was not damaged. The running gear of the wagon was left out at the barn. No other houses in the neighborhood were damaged but a feed stack of J. F. Tharp's was blown away. Mr. Lloyd reports that the hail was terrific for a few minutes and he estimates that it damaged his cotton about 25 per cent. He has 500 acres on his farm. The rainfall amounted to about an inch.

More Rain Falls In Lynn County

Rain and considerable hail fell over quite a large territory Monday afternoon. The rain was almost as unexpected as if it had suddenly come from a clear sky. Early in the afternoon a small cloud was noticed in the west which, like Elijah's cloud that rose from the Mediterranean, appeared to be little larger than a man's hand. At first just a very light local shower was noted but the cloud grew rapidly as it moved eastward, and when the storm was over a great portion of the county extending from the west to the east had been visited by rain, in some portions by wind and hail.

From the Wells community, on thru the T-Bar, South Ward, Redwine, and other communities much hail fell. Cotton on some farms was damaged considerably but over most of the territory the hail was small and did little damage. In some localities the rain was heavy and the wind high. A garage belonging to A. T. Beard in the Redwine community was demolished. We have heard of no other damage from the wind. In Tahoka the rainfall amounted to only .20 of an inch.

On last Friday and Saturday the entire county was visited by rain, ranging from a very light fall to more than an inch. The precipitation in Tahoka amounted to .96 of an inch. About the only harmful effect of this rain was to delay the opening and gathering of the cotton. With fair weather prevailing since Monday, the cotton is now opening rapidly and the cotton gathering season will be on in full blast within the next few days.

Cotton Promises Bale Per Acre

J. K. Applewhite and S. R. Kemp went out to Mr. Kemp's farm just over the line in Garza county Sunday afternoon and came back reporting marvelous things. A. B. Thomas, who lives on the Kemp farm, was compelled to plant over seven or eight acres of his cotton. This planting was done early in July, and that cotton will make a bale to the acre if frost stays off ten days longer, Mr. Applewhite declared to the News man Tuesday. "It beats anything I ever saw," he said. "The stalks are just loaded with bolls and the limbs are just bending and breaking under the load."

Messrs. Kemp and Applewhite say that there is much good cotton in that vicinity. It is much earlier than the cotton around Tahoka and the fields are already white. Mr. Applewhite thinks that with another week or ten days of clear weather without a freeze after this week, 40,000 to 50,000 bales of cotton will be gathered in Lynn county this season.

CROSBYTON TO PLAY FRIDAY

Tahoka Bulldogs To Meet Strong Team From Eastern Part Of Plains Country

Interest in the football game between the Tahoka High School Bulldogs and the Crosbyton Chiefs set for Friday afternoon at 4 p. m. is at high pitch. Pep meetings attended by all the High School students have been held throughout the week, and the team has been working hard for the game.

Crosbyton, under the tutelage of Finis Vaughn, has two wins to its credit. Two weeks ago Crosbyton decisively defeated Idalou and last week they won over Spur. O. G. Lewis' Bulldogs tied Littlefield at the South Plains Fair, were given a drubbing by Lamesa last Friday to the tune of 33 to 0, and scored 12 points to Wilson's 0 in a game in the mud Monday of this week. Tahoka lost the Lamesa game to a heavier and more experienced team.

Added to the usual rivalry between the two teams that meet here Friday is the fact that Lewis and Vaughn are "ex-buddies", having roomed together while attending the West Texas State Teachers College.

Town people are urged to be present to boost for the Bulldogs. A thrilling game is promised. The tax will be 50c and 25c.

Federation Meets At Wilson Soon

The Lynn County Federation of Women's Clubs will meet at Wilson, Oct. 20. The meeting will begin at 10:30 and those attending are requested to bring with them a picnic lunch. This will be an important meeting as officers are to be elected for next year and the years work formulated.

The following program will be rendered:

- Song—America.
 - Invocation—Rev. Darby.
 - Welcome Address—Mrs. Faubion.
 - Response—Mrs. Everett.
 - Roll Call—Books and magazines we enjoy most in our homes.
 - Business session.
 - Luncheon.
 - Music—There's a Dear and Precious Book—Miss Velma Dawson.
 - Consolidation of Schools—Mr. Cave.
- The value of a county library to our community—Miss Lela Latch. How to develop a taste for good reading—Mrs. Fenton. Reading—Mrs. Roy Smith. Benediction—Rev. Thompson.

MANY PROSPECTIVE CANDIDATES NEXT YEAR

The fellows on the street corners are beginning to talk politics a bit now and then, and it is said that there are a large number of receptive candidates for the various county offices next year. Of course some of these will probably never enter the lists but the prospects are that that there will be plenty of politics in Lynn county after January 1.

Contest Planned By Kiwanians

At the Kiwanis luncheon Wednesday it was announced that all things would be ready for the beginning of the attendance contest either next Wednesday or the following Wednesday. Judge C. H. Cain and Dr. C. B. Townes together with another member of their own selection will appoint the captains of the opposing teams and will judge the contest at the close. Some lively times are in prospect for the Kiwanians.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASSN. ANNOUNCES REGULAR MEET

The Parent-Teachers Association will meet on the first and third Tuesday afternoons of each month at four o'clock at the High School building during this year. The next meeting will be held Tuesday of next week.

San Angelo—T. W. Taylor has let a contract for construction of a $20,000 store building.

Defendant Marries Prosecuting Witness

When the case of the State vs. Jack Henderson of O'Donnell came on for trial in the district court Wednesday morning, it was found that the defendant, who was charged with statutory rape, had married the young girl whom he is alleged to have wronged, and indictment against him was dismissed upon the motion of the district attorney.

This had attracted a good deal of interest, and a special venire had been summoned to try the case. It was perhaps a happy termination of the unfortunate affair.

COTTON MOVING RAPIDLY NOW

Grassland Leads In Number Of Bales Ginned; More Than 2,500 Ginned In County

We are not prepared to give complete gin reports for Lynn county this week but the figures we have indicate that more than 2,500 bales have been ginned in the county. Grassland leads all other places in the number of bales ginned, the cotton being earlier in that portion of the county. Up to an early hour this morning Thomas Bros. Gin at Grassland had ginned 1,053 bales. At Draw 271 bales were reported. All the gins in Tahoka had ginned only 470 bales, counting two round bales as equivalent to one square bale, although 526 bales had been weighed at the yard. A few of these came in from the country. Approximately 700 bales had been ginned at O'Donnell. We have no report from Wilson, New Home, and Gordon, but only a few bales had been ginned at each of these places.

Another Compress Secured By Ralls

Announcement has been made by Mr. Nowlin, of Lubbock, that final arrangements have been made by the West Texas Compress Company for the erection of a high density Webber cotton compress in the city of Ralls. The site formerly occupied by the Luther Hendrick grain elevator has been secured by the company and construction work is already underway on the project. Contract calls for completion of the compress by November 1st.

It is said that this press will be modern in every particular and of large capacity.

This will be the second cotton compress to be erected in the city of Ralls this year. Indications are that this city will afford the best cotton market and the best handling facilities of any "inland cotton point" in West Texas this season.—Ralls Banner.

Much Cotton Open East Of Town

Fred Matthews, who lives near the east line of the county on Route B out of Post, was in the News office Friday renewing his subscription, and stated that prior to the rains of last week cotton had been opening rapidly in his community. He estimated that he had fifteen bales open on 45 acres. He had only three pickers and needed more.

Some early rains visited that portion of the county and much cotton was planted in April. It is this early cotton that had opened up so rapidly.

MUCH MAIZE BEING THRESHED HERE

Great quantities of maize are being marketed here by farmers now and the purchasers are having the same threshed. Threshing maize has developed into quite an industry during the past two weeks. Twelve to thirteen dollars per ton is being paid for maize, we understand.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Baldrige and Mr. and Mrs. Buddie Baldrige were here Tuesday and Wednesday from Clovis. Mr. Baldrige says that he has 1,000 acres of wheat up and looking nice. They have had much rain there in the past few weeks.

CHANGES MADE IN ROUTE FOUR

Lengthened Four Miles Beginning November 1; To Pass Directly Thorough New Home

Postmaster D. A. Parkhurst announces changes in the log of Route No. 4 out of Tahoka so as to add 4 miles to its length and to pass it directly by New Home. Heretofore this route has passed one mile south and one mile west of New Home. This change will give the people of New Home additional and better mail service. The changes are to take effect on November 1. Mr. Parkhurst's statement follows:

"The following is the latest official description of Tahoka Rural Route No. Four as it will be on and after November 1:

"Starting at the Post Office, the carrier will go north 2 miles, west 1-2 mile, north 6 to Lichey corner, 8 1-2 miles; west 2 miles, north 1-2 miles; north 1 west 2 to L. W. Smith corner, 8 miles; north 1 mile to New Home; west 2 miles to Armontrout corner, south 1 mile and retrace; west to Hancock corner, 4 miles; south 2 miles to Knight corner and retrace 1 mile to Stokes, 3 miles; east past Odell to White corner, 2 miles; south to Petty School, 2 miles; east on new highway past George's to Dixie School, 8 miles south 1, east 1, south 3 to Draper corner, 5 miles; west 1, south 4, east 2 1-2 to Tahoka Post Office, 7 1-2 miles; total length, 53 miles; prior length, 49 miles.

"In accord with late instructions from the Department, patrons will be informed that where two or more boxes may be erected near the same place that it is the Department's desire that such boxes not be placed on separate posts but rather that two posts be used and sawed off at the proper height and a plank of sufficient length be nailed thereto and the boxes thus grouped be placed on this plank side by side. This is found to be a much more substantial way and the boxes when so erected have a much more attractive appearance.

"At a later time it is our intention that all boxes on each of the four routes emanating from this office be painted white and comply with the requirements in every respect. We will then have a rural service that both in appearance and in expert service will be a source of much satisfaction and pride to our whole county and community.

"We are able to report that Route 1 has all boxes painted and up in good style at this time.

"Patrons who find it necessary to have their periodicals and newspapers changed may give their instructions to the carrier, Mr. W. E. Sudarth, and I will give the matter my personal attention and obtain the change with the least inconvenience possible.

D. A. PARKHURST, Post Master."

REDWINE SCHOOL IS STARTING AUSPICIOUSLY

Prof. L. H. Taylor of Redwine was a business visitor in the News office Monday and reported that he had just closed one month of the school term at Redwine. The district will have a nine months term this year, which is the longest term the district has ever had.

Redwine has three teachers, as follows: Prof. Taylor, Principal, Mrs. Taylor, Intermediate teacher and Miss Bertha McAlister, Primary teacher.

Carnegie Medal Put On Display

The Carnegie Hero Medal which was awarded Floyd Reece several months ago for heroism in saving the life of Miss Gertrude Waldrip is on display in the window of the Tahoka Drug Company and is attracting considerable attention.

On one side of this medal are inscribed these words: Floyd F. Reece, who saved Gertrude E. Waldrip from drowning, Post, Texas, July 5, 1926. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. On the other side is the likeness of Andrew Carnegie, with the inscription, Carnegie Hero Fund, Established April 15, 1904.

Three Lakes

The weather has been muddy almost every week end, although this week it is some better.

A nice crowd was out at Sunday School Sunday morning, also at prayer meeting Sunday night. We think that our church is improving nicely.

Mr. W. E. Smith went wolf hunting Saturday night and caught two large wolves. His hunt extended until Sunday morning about daylight, but the said hunt did not cause Mr. Smith to be late at Sunday School.

These wolf hunts are greatly appreciated by the farmers, who have live stock upon which the wolves prey.

Mr. W. W. Johnson began Monday in full force on rebuilding his home, which was burned about a month ago.

Mr. G. W. Sullivan has returned from a visit in McLennan county. He spent several months down there.

Mr. Fagan Johnson, who has been in Milam county, came home Sunday night. He is much needed in helping rebuild his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Edwards spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Pete Ellis.

Draw Items

The good revival which has been in progress here the past month closed Sunday night. Brother Winters and wife conducted this meeting. There were about one hundred conversions. There has been much good done in our community through their efforts.

Brother Harris and family of Lamesa were visiting in the community Sunday.

We now have our church house wired with Delco lights, which makes it so much more convenient.

Mr. and Mrs. Griggs came rushing into our community Wednesday morning. We were delighted to see them and they us, I think. They, as well as the community in general, are very proud of the improvements on the school campus. The old teacherage has been torn away and the grounds cleaned up and leveled off. The cistern has been completed, the windmill is in place and is busy at work. Water has been piped to the fountains, also to the teacherage. The teacherage has been painted, a new garage built, and everything is surely looking inviting for the coming school term. School will begin Monday, Oct. 17. Four of our teachers are already here and Miss McKibben is expected Friday.

Cotton picking is in full progress now. We have lots of cotton and are proud of it. The Draw gin has gained more than 200-bales of cotton up to this time. That is just a bare beginning though. Just watch out!

Our singing here Sunday afternoon was fine and well attended. We are planning on ordering new books soon. If you want a "say" in it, you had better make your appearance next singing afternoon, which will be Sunday, October 30. We especially invite the adjoining communities to come and help us.

Next Sunday morning at eleven o'clock, also Sunday afternoon, our preacher, Brother Hart, will be with us. All the community come and give your presence at least. He needs all the help he can get and we do too. So, let's make it a good day.

Beginning at 9 o'clock Monday morning, a program will be rendered at the school auditorium. Every patron and child of this community is urged to be present. The teachers want and need your hearty cooperation in the great work that is being undertaken. Come and bring your family.

Sunday.

B. Y. P. U. was well attended. The Merry Maidens Glee Club, accompanied by Miss Addie Jane Hancock, sang for us. Misses Vera Smith, Irene McWhirted, Maurine Fulton, and Alice Terry discussed the life of St. Paul. Miss Beulah Hancock was leader. After the program, we had community singing. We are planning a great program for next Sunday night. If you are not present you will regret it.

ACUTE ATTACKS

Of Indigestion Helped By Black-Draught.

Black-Draught was recommended to Mrs. Reathia Edmondson, of Williamson, N. Car., by her father-in-law. She says:

"Shortly after I became a bride, I had a spell of indigestion, and my father-in-law told me to take a dose of Black-Draught. I had never heard of it before, but I tried it, and got such quick relief, I have turned to it ever since."

"About three years ago, I began having acute attacks of indigestion real frequently. I would feel severe pains through the lower part of my body, and they were accompanied by bad gas pains. I took a systematic course of Black-Draught and soon began to feel better. The acute attacks disappeared."

Try Theodore's Black-Draught for indigestion. You can get it everywhere.

Lubbock Secretary Says No Slight Of Tahoka Intended

Supt. M. L. H. Baze of the local chamber of commerce has received a communication from A. B. Davis, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Lubbock, giving assurances that no slight of Tahoka was intended in the publication of a cartoon in the Lubbock-Avalanche just preceding the fair, to which many Tahoka people took exception. Mr. Davis gives every assurance of good will toward Tahoka on the part of the citizenship of Lubbock, its chamber of commerce, the Panhandle-South Plains Fair Association, the Lubbock Avalanche, and every interest there, and expressing regret that any thing had been published which might be construed as a slight of the town.

Mr. Baze replied expressing the opinion that any feeling of resentment which had been engendered in Tahoka by reason of the cartoon in question had been obliterated by the splendid treatment accorded Tahoka and her citizens at the fair by Lubbock, her people, and organizations. The people of Tahoka, we believe, share this same opinion. Tahoka was treated with every courtesy and consideration at the fair, possibly more than she deserved, and all Tahoka people appreciate this. They rejoice in Lubbock's growth and prosperity, and possibly no town on all the south plains is a better friend to Lubbock than our own little city.

TAYLOR WHITE PURCHASES BOVELL HOME HERE

T. J. Bovell sold his home place here last week to Prof. Taylor White, teacher of vocational agriculture in the Tahoka High School. Mr. White will take possession and move into the building on November 1. This home has been occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Corley the past several months. Mr. Bovell built this good home several years ago and occupied it with his family until his removal to Abilene last year, where he is engaged in business.

MIDWAY LADIES EXTEND THANKS TO BUSINESS MEN

The ladies of Midway H. D. Club desire to thank Messrs. White and Baze and also the business men of our town for their interest shown in our work and for the nice premiums given us on our exhibits at the Fair. Your co-operation prompts us to strive the more in the future. Thanks, Editor, for the publicity given our work. We also thank Mr. Larkin for the use of the exhibition hall.

C. A. Thomas made a business trip to Amarillo Monday and Tuesday. He says he saw much fine wheat and a lot of late feed, which will be fine if the frost doesn't catch it. Not so much rain up the road as here.

AGED MIDWAY LADY BURIED HERE FRIDAY

Mrs. Rachel Elizabeth Mayes, who resided with her daughter, Mrs. Sanders in the Midway community, died at about 10 o'clock last Thursday night and was buried at the City Cemetery here Friday afternoon. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. M. I. Davis at the home of Mrs. Sanders in the presence of a large group of bereaved relatives and friends. Mrs. Mayes was a sister of Uncle Frank Vaughn and Grandmother Hammonds and was the grandmother of B. E. Sanders of this city. She also had numbers of other relatives in this vicinity.

Mrs. Mayes had reached the ripe age of 86 years. She had lived a devoted Christian life for more than 70 years, having united with the Baptist Church more than seventy years ago. She was greatly beloved by all who knew her and her life has been a sweet benediction to many. A mother in Israel has gone to her rich reward.

FACTS

—AND THE OPEN MIND

THE MOST important element in business success—and the most difficult—is to be sure that you have all the facts before you act.

TO GET them all, from every possible source, is the first objective in General Motors. The Research Laboratories contribute some. These are nuggets, left in the crucible, after hundreds of ideas that looked good have been burned away. The Proving Ground contributes others. Dealers contribute. The public contributes. Every department contributes. Through the whole organization runs a spirit of inquiry and of rigid insistence on proof.

OUT OF such thinking come the new models announced from time to time by Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Oakland, Buick, LaSalle, Cadillac—all with Fisher Bodies. And by Frigidaire. Each new model is a tested step forward. Nothing goes into it as a result of habit or guess or pride of opinion.

Nothing counts but hard-won facts, gathered and used with an open mind.

ABOUT CHURCH ATTENDANCE

In discussing the country church problem in the Farm & Ranch in a recent number, Dr. J. M. Dawson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Waco, used this language: "The revival of the country church will not come about, in my judgment, by a sheer appeal to duty. The country church must be so organized and conducted as to win or command the people's attention and attendance. That can be done by a sensible and serviceable program."

The decadence of the country church is due to the fact that pastors and church leaders have failed to meet rapidly changing conditions. They have not kept step with the world in its rapid strides of progress. The coming of the automobile, the telephone, and other conveniences has revolutionized farm life. The educational leaders are rapidly taking note of these changes and are striving to meet the changed conditions. Small school districts are being consolidated, innumerable independent districts have been created, larger and better buildings constructed, better school facilities provided, and better educated and better trained teachers demanded. While the rural schools are yet far short of what they ought to be, yet they have made wonderful advancement in the last few years and are constantly improving. They are meeting the new conditions.

The country church must do the same thing if it is to survive. Many of them are doing so. But many seem to be plodding along and undertaking to function just as if there had been no change in conditions in the past fifty years. This is not only true of the country church but it is also true of many of the town churches. Congregations are shrinking up and the churches all but dead. People are going everywhere except to church. This condition does not exist everywhere but in many places.

What is the remedy? Many preachers are trying to remedy the situation by continually making a "sheer appeal to duty." Dr. Dawson says this will not revive the country church; neither do we believe that it will revive the city church. The pastor, who continually scolds has already served his day of usefulness. Chiding and rebuking and scolding; constantly appealing to folks to do their duty, never brought anybody to church—never built up a church. Preachers who can inspire their congregations with noble aspirations, who can lead them to hate sin and the sinner, preachers who are tender and sympathetic and persuasive rather than austere and "hard-boiled" and complaining, these are the preachers who are succeeding, as a rule, in country or in town. Of course more than this is needed. The preacher must be intelligent and sensible. The day of the ignoramus in the pulpit has passed. The preacher also must have a message and be able to deliver it. This is a day of efficiency. The mechanic who makes a botch of his work soon finds himself out of a job. The same is true of the preacher. He is soon out of a job or without a congregation. And organization! Dr. Dawson says a program must be provided for the country church. How true! People like to do things. They like activity. A church must either work or die. In this day of automobiles and good roads, we believe that as there have been consolidation of school districts in many instances, so also there should be consolidation of many country churches. Then the membership can amply support an efficient and capable pastor, who should live in the community if possible and become a part of the community.

This, in our opinion, will help to keep the country church alive and active and serviceable.

San Angelo—T. W. Taylor has let a contract for construction of a $20,000 store building.

O'DONNELL INDEX PROPOSES COUNTY FAIR

The O'Donnell Index last week proposed that the people of Lynn county go to work right now in a cooperative fashion planning for a county fair in 1928. It is a splendid suggestion. We do not see why all the people of Lynn county should not join together in such an enterprise. No town and no section of the county could make a better showing at such a fair than O'Donnell and surrounding country. Wilson is also in the heart of one of the finest agricultural sections of the south plains and we know it could make a marvelous showing. As for the rural communities, there is not a one in the county but that could assemble a collection of farm and garden products that would be a credit to any county. We are all one big community with common interests and problems. Let's all pull together as the Index suggests and put on a real fair next year that will attract attention far and wide. The following is the

Index Editorial:
Why not have a County Fair for 1928? Other counties of Texas are promoting county fairs each year and most of them showing a profit financially speaking.

The greatest advantage of these annual fairs is derived from the advertising and publicity it gives the county in which it is held. Besides such gatherings promote good fellowship and allows the people to get together, not only of your town, but adjoining counties where they can exchange ideas of mutual benefit.

An annual fair for Lynn County would be of more value than it is to the older settled sections of Texas, because there are thousands of acres of virgin soil in Lynn County as fertile as will be found in Texas, yet untouched by the plow, all of which should and will be developed just as fast as the outside world learns of the agricultural advantages of Lynn county and the South Plains. An annual fair with the splendid exhibits that can be gathered throughout Lynn county would be of untold advertising value to the future development of the country. It would prove to the outside world that Lynn county and the South Plains is one of the greatest agricultural sections in Texas. It offers greater limited means than any section of the state. And when the crowded section of the state learn of this fact people will flock to the South Plains in countless numbers bringing new capital which will in time develop the natural resources of the county and make of it the garden spot of Texas.

The time to begin planning for a county fair in 1928 is now! Let's all work together and have a county fair next year. What say?

The Dallas Morning News issued a special edition last Sunday consisting of 206 pages. It contained 22 sections, dealing with almost every phase of modern life. Probably this was the largest single edition of a newspaper ever issued in the Southwest. Of course the great business interests of Dallas, who used so much of the space advertising their respective lines, made the big issue possible. Dallas is a fine city and the Dallas Morning News is one of the greatest newspapers in the entire country.

The following are legal holidays by statute in Texas: New Year's Day January 1; Washington's birthday February 22; National Independence Day July 4; Labor Day September 5, (1927). Election Day November 8; Thanksgiving Day November 24 (1927). Christmas December 25; Arbor Day (Washington's Birthday) February 22; Texas Independence Day March 2; San Jacinto Day April 21; Jefferson Davis' birthday June 3; Texas Pioneer's Day August 12.

The Lamesa Chamber of Commerce and citizenship have launched a move for a permanent fair in Dawson county. We understand that a fair association is to be organized and the enterprise launched on sound business principles. The fair there this year was a decided success.

There are in Texas about 2,850 places having postoffices. The total number of commercial centers, including everything from large cities down to the cross roads general store is about 2,800.

McCamey—Pecos Cavern, situated on the lower branch of a small mesa near McMamey about half a mile off the Girvin road leading into the McCamey-Yates oil field, is being explored by local parties and exploited by them as a rival of the famed Carlsbad Caverns of New Mexico. Wonderful stalagmites and stalactites have been reported to exist.

RICKARD WRITES OF CATTLE INDUSTRY

(O'Donnell Index)

"The Cattle Ranch Industry of the Texas South Plains," compiled by Prof. John Rickard, superintendent of the O'Donnell schools, is an interesting volume of information and historical events of the early days of the Texas Plains. It deals with all phases of the Cattle Industry, beginning with the pioneers who blazed the trail establishing the first cattle ranches out on the open ranges to the present day activities among the few remaining ranches on the South Plains, which will eventually be cut up into farms, because agricultural opportunities are greater and more profitable than the cattle industry. Besides a complete review of the cattle industry, many other interesting topics are discussed and data such as: Precipitation Record of South Plains Cities; Temperature Record of South Plains Cities; Progress of Farming of the South Plains in 1920; Geography of the Region; Forerunners of the Occupation by Ranchmen; The Conquest by Cattlemen; Progress and Development; The Coming of the Settlers; The Triumph of the Settlers, etc. It is a complete work of art in eight chapters. The volume covers that portion of the state termed "South-Plains" which is bounded on the north by the southern limits of Farmer, Swisher, Briscoe, Hall and Childress counties, thus cutting off squarely from the map of Texas that region commonly known as the Panhandle; on the west by the limits of New Mexico from Bailey county to the point where the Pecos river crosses the Texas-New Mexico line, thence down the Pecos river valley to the intersection of that river by the Texas and Pacific railway. The southern boundaries are the Texas & Pacific railway from the Pecos river to the town of Big Spring and the intersection of the Cap Rock. The eastern limits follow the irregular north-side line of the Cap Rock, beginning at Big Spring, going thru Borden just west of Gail, north thru Garza west of Post, cutting off the southern corner of Crosby and Dickens counties. It takes in portions of Briscoe, Armstrong, Gray, Carson, Potter, Oldham and Deaf Smith counties, following the main line of the Canadian river valley to New Mexico.

In this volume will be found the names of many of our most prominent citizens of O'Donnell and neighboring sections, who were among the pioneers in the cattle industry of the South Plains. However, the majority of those mentioned in Prof. Rickard's review of the cattle industry who still reside in this and adjoining sections, have forsaken the cattle industry and entered other and more profitable lines.

"The Cattle Ranch Industry of the South Plains," was compiled and written during the summer months of 1927 while Prof. Rickard was attending the Texas University. It was presented to the faculty of the Graduate School of the University of Texas in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of Master of Arts which was awarded to Prof. Rickard at the close of the summer session. Prof. Rickard did himself proud in the compiling of the information and the way it was gotten up. The volume is very historical and interesting and the author is to be commended for such a work of art.

PERSISTENCY WINS

A wise old crow in search of some means of slacking a raging thirst, found in the bottom of a discarded pitcher, a plentiful supply of the precious water, but it was out of reach.

Now a bird less wise, in his eagerness to get at the water, would probably have tipped the pitcher over, and thereby have lost the prized contents. The crow, however, quickly brought a pebble and dropped it in the pitcher. Then another and another, till the water was raised to the brim.

This story of Aesop's has a parallel in advertising. One man, inexperienced in the way of advertising, in his eagerness to get results, expends his energy in one grand rush—and usually is disappointed.

Another, a little more consistent, drops a few pebbles into the great bowl of the public but quits before the interests rise to the point where he can benefit from it.

The successful advertiser persists in the regular dropping of his pebbles and is abundantly rewarded for his patience and enterprise.

Advertising is cumulative. Like the pebbles in the pitcher, one ad builds upon the other until their combined influence is so great that the desired end is accomplished.—Wisconsin Press "Howler."

To Write Book
On The History
Of West Texas

Ablene, Oct. 12.—"The Southwest Frontier," the first book ever written on the period of southwestern history following the civil war, and one of the few volumes ever written on the history of western Texas, will be released from the press on or about December 1, it was recently announced by Dr. Carl Rister, the author.

Dr. Rister, who is professor of history in Simmons University here, is a native West Texan and has studied for years the history of this section. Final acceptance of his volume came recently with a written contract from the Arthur H. Clark Co., of Cleveland, Ohio, exclusive publishers of high grade historical books.

Taking up the history of the southwest from 1865 to 1881, the book includes accounts of the coming of the settlers, Indian depredations, ranching activities, the coming of the railroads and the disappearances of the frontier. The volume includes color maps, drawings and interesting photographs taken in early times.

One hundred copies of the book will be printed by the Clark Company especially for use in the West Texas history class at Simmons University. This course is taught by Dr. Rister.

E. D. YEATTES PASSES AWAY LAST WEDNESDAY

(O'Donnell Index)
E. D. Yeattes, aged 55 years, prominent farmer living 12 miles west of town, died at his home on Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock after an illness of twenty-four hours duration, caused by ptomaine poison. The end came on the 55th birthday of the deceased rather unexpectedly to his family and friends.

Mr. Yeattes and family moved to the O'Donnell country four years ago from Stamford, Jones county and purchased a farm on which the family now lives. Only a few weeks ago Mr. Yeattes begun the erection of a new and modern stucco residence and stated to the Index man that he was just getting ready to live, little dreaming that he would only have the pleasure of living in it one day and night. The home was practically completed and the family had just moved in the day before Mr. Yeattes became ill.

The deceased was a member of the Baptist church for a number of years and was highly respected by all who knew him.

Besides the wife, he is survived by five children, three daughters and two sons; Janie, Gladys, Lois, Alfred and Cecil. Alfred lives at Borger and Janie at El Paso, the other three being at home. Alfred arrived Wednesday night to attend the funeral services which will be held as soon as the daughter arrives from El Paso who is expected this afternoon (Thursday). Rev. K. K. Horn will conduct the services and interment will be in the O'Donnell Cemetery.

Oats make a splendid feed for dairy cows if they are ground and properly mixed with other concentrates. They are about as high in digestible crude protein as wheat bran. They should be mixed with other feeds, such as corn, wheat bran, and cottonseed meal.

Files Of Lynn
County News Given
Historical Society

Canyon, Oct. 12.—Two very valuable donations have been recently made to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society. Miss M. Moss Richardson of Canyon presented a copy of Lyman's Historical Chart, which purports to contain the prominent events of the civil religious and literary history of the world. It was published in 1875 and is interesting because of the array of mis-information it contains and because it is typical of a large number of books through which people sought culture during the early period of the United States expansion after the depression which followed the Civil War.

South Plains History in Newspaper Files
Frank P. Hill of the Tahoka News was the donor of two volumes of the Lynn County News, published during the period from June 2, 1905 to July 12, 1907.

It chronicles events from the entire Panhandle-Plains area and gives the impression that filling its short four columns each week was often a difficult task.

In the advertising columns appears the following: "For trade—One pair of all brass racing spurs; will trade for Busy Bee talking machine coupons."

Occasionally a blank sheet appears in the publication with the frank explanation that the editor's wife was sick and he could not get the type set by himself. When there was a great deal of news, as on April 5, 1907, a two column blue supplement appeared in the paper to give all the local news.

Clovis Then Existed Only on Paper
On June 21, 1907 an item appears telling that Clovis "situated on the Belen-Cut-Off of the Santa Fe is attracting considerable attention." Further on it is found that Clovis was then owned by the Santa Fe and that a lively fight was in progress between it and Texico which at that time still hoped to retain much Santa Fe business and be the division point. At that date the first citizens were establishing homes in Clovis which now has a population of 7,500.

Much Ranching But Little Farming
In 1907 there was little farming and less gardening done on the plains; when someone managed to grow a few tomatoes or turnips it was front page material and the occasion for an editorial as well. There were the years when the foundations for the present prosperity of the plains country were being laid. Weather, in relation to the cattle industry, and all phases of ranch life were the greatest interests of the people at this time.

There was much interest in railroads and much rivalry between towns in their efforts to attract railroads. In the issue of the Lynn County News for June 14, 1907, there is a statement that the people of Dimmitt have a contract with the promoters of the Panhandle Short-line Railroad which requires them to have the road into Dimmitt by January 1, 1908. This railroad was never built and Dimmitt is still an inland town.

Historical Society Has Many Old Papers

The Panhandle Plains Historical Society has many old newspapers which tell in characteristic fashion the history of the development of this region and are invaluable to the student of the region and of much interest to present day citizens who wish to acquaint themselves with the background of a rapidly changing section of the last frontier.

THE DUTCHMAN AND HIS DOG

President of General Motors Is Believer In Paper Advertising

OCT. 3, 1927

Mr. E. I. Hill
The Lynn County News
Tahoka, Lynn County, Tex.

Dear Mr. Hill:—
Last spring I wrote you that my belief in the small city newspaper had led General Motors to decide to advertise all its products together in your paper as well as others throughout the United States. This letter was widely reproduced in the small city press, and I have been asked by a number of editors for a statement as to the results of the advertisements we ran last spring, as well as our future plans. Perhaps the most effective way I can answer is to refer to an order you have received from Messrs Barton, Durstine & Osborn, our advertising agents, for the publication of a second letter from me as a paid advertisement. This will be followed by other advertisements of the more usual character for insertion this fall. In the main, the results of last spring have justified our faith in the possibilities of the country newspaper as an advertising medium.

Very truly yours,
ALFRED P. SLOAN, Jr.
Pres. General Motors Corporation.

We wish to thank our friends for their kindness and sympathy shown us during the illness and death of our loved one, Mrs. R. E. (Grannie) Mayes.

Paducah Man To Be Candidate For Congressional Seat

J. Ross Bell of Paducah, has authorized the announcement that he will seek the nomination for Congressman from the 18th Congressional District of Texas, subject to the action of the democratic primaries in 1928.

Mr. Bell is 43 years of age and a life-long democrat. He is a graduate of Cumberland University with the degree of Bachelor of Laws, and began the practice of law at Paducah 17 years ago. During this time he was District Attorney for the Fiftieth Judicial District of Texas for eight years, having been elected to this position for four successive terms. He enjoys an extensive law practice throughout West Texas and has many friends and acquaintances who will doubtless welcome the opportunity to support him in his race for Congress. He had considerable solicitation from over the district to enter the race for this office two years ago, but only recently did he decide to make the race.

Mr. Bell will endeavor to see as many of the voters of this district as is possible. He says he will at a later date announce his platform which will contain among other matter which he deems of pressing importance to the people of this district and the country at large.

- (a) Legislation by the Congress for the benefit of the agricultural interest of the country and in this connection the passage of laws prohibiting gambling in farm products.
- (b) A further restriction of immigration into this country for certain classes.
- (c) A curtailment of the present tendency to centralized government at Washington, and a return to the doctrine of State Rights.
- (d) Non participation by the government in private business whereby the government becomes a competitor in private business enterprises.
- (e) The enactment of laws whereby Congressmen will be prohibited from raising their own salaries without a submission of the matter to the people who pay such salaries.
- (f) Federal aid in the conservation of the water power of West Texas.

Penn Strikes Small Showing Of Oil

(O'Donnell Index)

The Penn No. 1 wildcat test on Section 16 eight miles southwest of O'Donnell is looking better each day as the bit continues to sink in the unexplored portions of Mother Earth. The company keeps plugging away in a grey formation which is growing harder. Authorities on such formations claim such indications are good and the drillers contend they will either get a well or hit sulphur water when they have passed this formation.

Thursday morning they were drilling at around 4,365 feet and seemed more hopeful than ever since the well was started. On Monday morning at about 4,000 feet a small showing of oil was encountered but was not tested. It was enough to form rainbows on the slush pit. This was the first showing since the well was spudded in.

No one has learned just how deep the well will be sunk as they completed their contracted depth which called for only 3,500 feet. It is rumored they intend sinking the well to a depth of 5,000 feet or until they hit old or gas in paying quantities.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Burleson had as their guests last week, Mrs. Burleson's sister, Mrs. R. G. Wilkinson of Los Angeles, California, and Mr. Burleson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. W. Burleson of Lubbock.

Temple Brashear, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the West Texas Hospital in Lubbock on Monday of last week, was able to return to his home in Tahoka Tuesday of this week.

H. M. Prince of Birmingham, Ala., was here Wednesday and today as the guest of J. L. Meads and family. Mrs. Prince, who is a cousin of Mr. Meads, has been here about two weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Prince leave for their home this afternoon.

Misses Attie B. and Doris McGonagill, who are students in the Texas Tech, were here visiting the home folks Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Lesure, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lockwood, left for their home in San Diego, California, Monday.

Sweetwater—Governor Dan Moody will be the featured speaker at the West Central District Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be held here some time during the middle of November. Monte E. Owen, Sweetwater secretary, is already at work on the meeting.

What Is An Equal Price FOR COTTON

Ginned In ACCO (Round) BALES And Square Bales

To compare prices: Take a pattern of square bale bagging and ties weighing 20 lbs. and bagging for two ACCO (round) Bales together weighing 5 pounds—a difference of 15 pounds. Remember in comparing prices this is the only difference.

For example: Say you have enough seed cotton to make 500 pounds of lint—

Square Bale—	ACCO Bale—
500 pounds lint	500 pounds lint
20 pounds bagging and ties	5 pounds bagging
520 pounds total	505 pounds total
20 cents per pound	20.60 cents per pound
$104.00	$104.03

Before ginning get the square bale price and the ACCO Bale price. Then multiply as above—that is, the square bale price X 520 pounds, and the ACCO Bale price X 505 pounds.

THINK—DO YOUR OWN FIGURING—FIGURES ARE FACTS

Remember—If you gin cotton in ACCO Bales, there is NO WEIGHING CHARGE YARD CHARGE HAULING SAMPLING WASTE OF TIME

There is positively no loss in "Turn-out" in ginning ACCO BALES. All square bales are compressed and recompressed before being exported; ACCO Bales are compressed only at the gin.

I will be glad to gin your cotton either round or square. I have the best gin plant in Tahoka. Come and see for yourself.

McMurry College Pays Tribute To Ovid Donaldson

The McMurry War Whoop of last week was dedicated to the memory of Ovid Donaldson of Tahoka, who met his death through an accident last June while a student in McMurry College. We clip from that publication the following tributes to his memory:

HOPE

To Ovid Donaldson

When death draws its cold, grim curtain
Between us and those we hold most dear;
And the clouds roll back before us—
Oh, God! we love to feel that Thou art near.
As we turn our faces heavenward,
Our comrades' faces to see,
The curtain parts—light is beyond

What blessed hope we find in Thee!

—Katherine Kirby.

IN MEMORIAM

Ovid Donaldson was unquestionably the outstanding athlete of McMurry; but in addition to his athletic prowess, he possessed those traits and abilities that are not usually thought of in connection with football stars. His splendid physique was of the type rarely found in even the larger and better-known teams, and his skill in various fields of athletics won for him a wide reputation. But blended with this physical perfection was a high spirit of sportsmanship and modesty that was even more commendable. Like Lindy, he was unspoiled by the praise of fellow students and athletic fans, and he was until the last the same quiet, modest, friendly comrade and gentleman that had won admiration from the hundreds with whom he had come in contact.

His personality was a blending of traits that indicated a wide range of interests and capabilities. His prowess in the realm of all the branches of athletics has been mentioned. He was also a loyal supporter of other student activities and engaged heartily in them. He served as president of his class during his freshman year—the class that will graduate this year. He took part in the work of the Lay Activities Club, and was a member of the class that collected the rare volume on Shakespeare. A page of that book has been dedicated to him. As a student he was not an unusually brilliant star, but his grades stood the test in spite of his athletic schedule and work which paid a part of his way through school. He is probably best remembered by his ability to make friends, for he had a manner that attracted and a depth of personality that held those who came to know him.

The high quality of his character is unquestioned. The clean, square life he had lived before his companions on the campus had been an indication of the lofty purpose around which his life centered; and the calm, trusting way in which he faced death was proof of his sincerity. He had lived as he had played the game on the athletic field, fairly and squarely, and there was nothing to trouble him when the Great Referee called time. The influence which Don, as he was familiarly called, wielded over his fellows in life was great; but the influence which still pervades the school seems infinitely greater. As a leader among the athletes, his influences was strong for the highest ideals of sportsmanship and right living; and the ideals he stood for can surely be counted upon as guides for the team that is left to carry on the struggle. The shock of his injury and death threw over the campus last June the greatest cloud that has ever invaded McMurry's student body. That feeling of depression, which was almost a hushed reverence has changed somewhat with the passing of the weeks. In its place is a new spirit of courage and determination to abide by the noblest motives that can lead us on to ultimate victory; a spirit of hope and faith in mankind that was characteristic of our noblest and most beloved athlete and one of our truest friends.

R. M. Medley

In his first scrimmage of the 1924 football season a skinny, seventeen year old youngster, who was holding a tackle position upon the scrub team, repeatedly knifed through the first string line, smearing the plays so effectively that the first string was almost helpless.

Up to that time he was one of a number of freshmen who were out for football. His name was not yet known to the coach. No one dreamed that he would develop into one of McMurry's greatest athletes. The youngster was Ovid Donaldson.

The indomitable spirit with which he absorbed punishment that afternoon carried him through three fierce football campaigns from which he emerged as unanimous choice for the co-captaincy with Pat Murphy for the 1927 football team.

Not only was Donaldson a great football player, but he made every athletic team for which he was a candidate. He made them because he was willing to pay the price. He had the will to keep on fighting when the fight was the hardest. He was not of the quitting kind, those who cannot get out of practice because of a blistered heel or a few minor sprains or bruises, or those who quit entirely if they are not run regularly upon the first string. Had he been of that calibre, this paper would not have been dedicated to his memory.

In the hearts of those who worked with him and played with him is written the greatest tribute that can be paid a fellowman. He played the game and played it fairly. He gave his all.

DONALDSON STADIUM

Someday, a time as near in the future as possible, McMurry College will honor Ovid Donaldson in an especial way. On the miniature McMurry campus on exhibit at the West Texas Fair recently was a stadium, which, planned to be constructed as soon as possible, would seat thousands of alumni and students for the opening game of the season or the Turkey Day Skirmish.

This athletic field should bear the name Donaldson Stadium. Even that would be but a small way in which to honor the Christian youth who fought for three seasons with the Indians—who fought and played the game fairly, who tragically met Death when Life was perhaps at its best.

Several years, perhaps a long period of time will elapse before the college itself will be financially able to build a stadium. To alleviate this situation, each class should begin in its freshman year a fund to be placed as a savings account toward building Donaldson Stadium. It is a matter well worth definite consideration by the Students' Association and the various classes.

OVID DONALDSON

Eleven mud-smeared men surging across a slushy field, whipping out a small oblong sphere at the snapping bark of a signal; eleven mud-smeared men tugging their very heart-strings out trying to push back the oncoming relentless foe; trying to regain that which was lost by turn of the wheel of chance; and the frenzied watchers in the stands who noticed the greater weight of the foe wondered that the "eleven" always outclassed—outplayed—the foe. The frenzied watcher did not see that vast, fathomless cloud that hung over their "eleven" for it is not given that the living shall see beyond the veil. Nevertheless, captaining that grimy crew, ever watchful, ever thoughtful, always careful to see that the game was played "square", just as in life, he watched and by his presence gave courage to his team, the spirit of him whose name shall always live in the hearts of his team mates, Ovid Donaldson, captain of McMurry's crew of stalwart Indians this year, captained them during the conflict with the Yellow Jackets and will captain them through the many heart-rending conflicts of the current season. And who will say that this stalwart, manly, Christian Captain who is gone will not be a vital force in the captaining of their lives when their days of play are over, when the years of school are done?

A TRIBUTE IS PAID TO "DON"

Through courtesy to their departed chief the McMurry Indians will go into every battle of the gridiron this season with an acting captain at the helm. Diving into a swimming pool on commencement day last June, Ovid Donaldson, co-captain-elect of the 1927-28 squad of McMurrans suffered a fatal injury, leaving the team without a teammate leader.

Young Donaldson was an all-round athlete and an ideal type of young Christian gentleman and he has left a lasting impression on the hearts of his teammates as well as every student and faculty member on the campus.

"It is a fitting form of tribute that the Indians choose not to elect another captain," Prexy Hunt told the students recently, "and it is the least that can be done until a more permanent remembrance of that noble boy can be placed here."

A bronze tablet is to be placed in the McMurry gymnasium in the near future, commemorating the life of Young Donaldson and according to President Hunt the expectations are that a more fitting memorial will be dedicated to him in the future.

San Saba—Native varieties of pecan will have an even break with improved or cultivated nuts in the prize lists compiled for the first National Pecan Show to be held November 8 and 9 at San Saba, Texas. Premiums range as high as $250 and none are less than $25. Pecan growers of eight states are already taking active interest in the exhibition, and a large attendance is expected. The show is planned by pecan experts of A. & M. College and pecan growers of the South, with whom the San Saba Chamber of Commerce is cooperating.

Clarendon—The greatest exhibit of diversified products that Donley county has ever shown will feature the annual fair to be held here Oct. 14 and 15. One of the most outstanding displays will be that of the Vrusse and Reynolds truck farm of Lelia Lake.

We had a good rain yesterday, Monday, which was accompanied by some wind and hail. The hail being small and few did no damage that we have heard of.

John Moore has out two bales of cotton. Others have cotton ready to pick when the ground is dry enough.

Some of the ladies met with Mrs. D. Henderson last Monday and finished quilting two quilts for Rev and Mrs. Hicks.

Rev. W. B. Hicks filled his appointment here Sunday afternoon. Rev. Denton and Rev. Bussell of Lynn preached here Saturday night and Sunday morning.

Mesdames R. L. Moore, Townsen, and John M. Johnson called at the home of Grandpa and Grandma McMillan Sunday eve and enjoyed being with these good people.

One Mrs. Hildebrand, whose husband has been employed by Mr. McMillan, is in Lubbock Sanitarium and he by her bedside, and their three-year old daughter is at Mr. McMillan's real ill. The doctor was called the latter part of the week and couldn't tell at that time what was her trouble. She was still real sick Sunday. We hope she will recover her health soon.

Our school will close this short term Friday but will take up again the first of January. Prof. Matthews and family expect to move to Rotan next week and remain there till school time here again. We regret to see them leave but hope they will profit thereby.

Mrs. Calvin Dorman has been very ill with tonilitis the past several days. We hope for her early recovery.

Prof. Matthews and family attended church Sunday night at O'Donnell. Several small prizes were secured by our folks at the Lubbock Fair. We aim to begin now for the Lynn County Fair next year.

Mrs. Geo. Small and Miss Margaret Preston were out our way scoring yards last Tuesday. We failed to learn just yet how we stand on this yard improvement in our community but suppose we will learn about it this week or as soon as the work is finished.

Jewell Johnson also got first prize on her white Wyandotte chickens at the Tahoka exhibit, which was overlooked at the time.

O'DONNELL MAN SHOT BY CITY MARSHAL EVERETT

(O'Donnell Index)

B. L. Davis, who is employed at Guthrie Merchandise, believed that he had broken out in O'Donnell on Monday afternoon of this week when No. 4 shot from a gun in the hands of City Marshal J. Y. Everett struck him just as he was preparing to make a delivery. Two shots took effect, one in the shoulder and the other in the calf of the right leg. For some time B. L. didn't know what it was all about.

It so happened that City Marshal Everett had followed some stray dogs to the back alley and believing it was the proper time to get rid of them for all time, leveled his old trusty on the canine and fired believing the alley was deserted as far as human presence was concerned, but it was not at the time. The dog was not killed the first shot which struck Mr. Davis. When the second shot was fired which finally killed the dog, Mr. Davis was out of the way.

The City Marshal regretted the accident very much and so does Mr. Davis but the dog is now out of the way.

Merrill Blaylock of Tahoka, found guilty of the same charge, was given a fine of $10 and costs with a jail sentence of twenty days.—Lubbock Daily Journal.

UNCLE JIM KNOCKS THE PREACHERS AGAIN

Well, as I have tried to get some of the readers of the News to express themselves and failed I will try again. This time I may get on some one's toes, especially the preachers and also the laymen. Silence gives consent. By remaining silent, Brother, and not warning the people of the impending danger their blood will be required at your hands. For proof of this read Ezekiel 3:18-19-20. In other words he is compromising with the devil.

This scripture will apply both spiritually and politically. You ought not only to warn the people of their sins but also warn them of the danger that is undermining their freedom. Actions speak louder than words. You are afraid to warn them because it would not be popular. No, Brother, be a man if you stand alone. This monster is Catholicism. This monster is abroad in the land. As for Uncle Jim, he will in his weak way use his pen and his mouth and continue to warn the people.

Yes, Brother, this monster will get in full control and then we will not be permitted to meet in peaceable assemblies. The little red school house on the hill and the little brown or white church in the dell will disappear. Then you will have to bow the knee to a foreign potentate or suffer as martyrs. You will not be allowed to speak your own sentiments. Brother, you oppose intemperance, but this monster is doing more to destroy the morality of this country than whiskey ever did. Yet you will remain silent and not warn the people of the impending danger. It is a sworn enemy to our free institutions, both morally and spiritually. It is thru ignorance, prejudice, or fear that you keep silent. Brother, I can't keep silent when I and my children, you and your children, are being branded as bastards and heretics. It's time to wake up when they are burning our Bibles, destroying our printing plants, also our public school buildings. You are going to wake up after it is too late.

This monster is anti-prohibitionist and anti to almost everything that is right, both morally and spiritually, because the Pope of Rome proclaims himself to be God on earth, supreme Ruler both spiritually and morally. Finally, Brother, when the great day of reckoning comes, you will come before the great Judge and say, Lord, I have done thus and so; and He will say to you "Depart to the place that is prepared for you, for I never knew you, because you failed to warn my people."—Uncle Jim.

(Ed. Note: We publish the above communication not because we agree with Uncle Jim but because he has repeatedly insisted that we publish it. We believe that if all Protestants held views as extreme as Uncle Jim does and were as densely uninformed and prejudiced as he seems to be, there would be unthinkable religious persecution of the Catholics and possible war in this country within thirty days).

Finally, Brother, when the great day of reckoning comes, you will come before the great Judge and say, Lord, I have done thus and so; and He will say to you "Depart to the place that is prepared for you, for I never knew you, because you failed to warn my people."—Uncle Jim.

GEORGE MAHON GIVEN OFFICE OF DIST. ATTY.

Colorado, Oct. 11.—George H. Mahon of Colorado, county attorney for Mitchell county, was appointed district attorney for the 32nd judicial district this morning by Governor Moody, succeeding James T. Brooks, resigned. Mahon qualified immediately and left for Sweetwater to join Judge Fritz Smith in opening district court.

Mahon is a graduate of Simmons University and the University of Texas law school. At Simmons he was a distinguished debater. He is 27 years old and was reared in Mitchell county. He was elected county attorney at the last general election and has served almost two years in that capacity. He is considered one of the most able young attorneys in West Texas and his appointment will undoubtedly meet with approval of the bar over the district. He was strongly endorsed by the local bar and numerous citizens.

Mrs. H. M. Anthony was granted a divorce from her husband in the district court Monday upon a petition alleging cruel treatment. Her application for divorce was not contested.
