A HAPPY BIRTHDAY

(Written especially for the Lynn County News by Mrs. T. J. Coopwood of Del Rio and Bracketville.)

At the home of Mrs. Homer St. Clair on Friday afternoon, Marie St. Clair and Elizabeth Crie celebrated their mutual birthday. Ten years ago, October 29, a pair of winsome blue eyes opened on the scenes of Tahoka. An hour later a pair of bonny brown eyes smiled upon happy parents; and the Homer St. Claires and the James Cries decided that they were possessed of the "sweetest babies on earth." Since that time these girls have been called the Tahoka twins.

Following a yearly custom since the above happy event, the little ladies have spent each birthday in the exchange of social amenities and gifts.

The St. Clair home was decorated with the Hallow'en motif of cats, witches, bats, owls, pumpkins, and Jack o'lanterns. The table was spread in white linen, adorned with festoons of yellow and black crepe and yellow napkins. Two immense angel food cakes, dressed in gold icing, flame colored rosebuds, and ten pink candles each were the handiwork and gift of Mrs. Crie. Mrs. St. Clair prepared delicious Hawaiian punch, candies, fruit, and nuts. There were numerous and lovely gifts by both honorees. The little folks wore Hallow'en costumes and several were notable for oddity and originality of design. The two honorees prepared and placed all decorations and the arrangement would have been a credit to individuals more experienced in interior decorations. Games appropriate to the season, fortune telling, and photographing the honorees and guests were the popular forms of amusement. Home going time came all too soon, and the delighted guests departed wishing the small hostesses many happy returns of this mutual anniversary.

The list of guests included Lavada Handley; Mary Jane Weathers, Mary Joe Doak, Lottie Joe Townes, Dottie Turrentine, Janice Sanders, Elnora Dulaney, Geneva May Dickson, Madeline Jackson, Rita Shook; Winona Hooper, Shirley Shook, Dama Anglin, Mildred Davis, Mary Breedlove, Fay Massengale. Sam Breedlove, Jack Hooper, Charles Shook, Jack Coughran, were asked as special guests of the two young Messrs. St. Clair.

Midway News

I CURN a hurry 2 get the news from Midway so I seat myself 2 drop U a few lines 2 let U no we R all well and that we wish U the same. It is mighty hard work to rite a letter and still harder 2 spell the words of it. Of all the abominable things in this world the spelling of our English words is the very limit. We in America make all manner of fun of the Chinese for sticking to the old ways but we go them one better on our spelling. In fact there is nothing in the spelling. I wonder how many people know that we have at least one legal document that was written and is now kept in the reformed spelling, and how many advocates there are of the reform. I will tell something about it. I think that I am the only living person who believes in it now and I have some friends here who know that I know how to go down in defeat. I am not writing this to make converts, either. The late Theodore Roosevelt was the other advocate and it makes me feel proud almost to the point of getting the big-head to know that I have been associated in partnership with such a great man. Yes, I was his partner up to the time of his death. Mr. Roosevelt was known as the "Big Stick" President because he had such influence over Congress and was so successful in getting what he wanted. But, believe me, when he decided to take me as a partner and sent his annual message to Congress written in the reform spelling that body sat down on him and mashed him out flat like a saddle blanket. That is the legal document referred to above. There is a reason for the refusal and I am quite sure was an economic one for Congress had not heard of me (at that time) and it could not have been because of my partnership. Mr. Roosevelt did not advocate the kind of spelling that I have submitted in my sample at the top but the true reform. He spelled all words just like it seemed that they should be spelled. He left out all silent letters. Our alphabet has 26 letters and 42 sounds. That makes it necessary for some letters to have more than one sound. A German boy, it is said, can spell any word that he can pronounce because there is one letter for each sound. This is true in some other languages as well. And in conclusion, just for fun, I will give a sample of our peculiar spelling. Here it is: John Wright, the mill rite, can't write his name right. I think I have them spelled right.

Miss Ethel Cowington of Woolforth is visiting her sister, Mrs. Mary Roberson.
C. M. Roberson is doing some work for Mr. Strain and Mr. Draper. Mr. Roberson says that he can not pick cotton, so he rides a plow, paints some and helps Mr. Draper in the construction of a new addition to one of his farmhouses.
The Reverend Mr. Shoemaker who is the pastor of the church at Bethel has moved from Post and settled on the farm near here. He has rented land from Mr. J. R. Strain and will be our next door neighbor. We welcome such good men to our community. He is a tireless worker in church business. We hope he will be equally zealous in farm work.

PASSES AWAY TUESDAY

At four fourteen Tuesday morning at the Lubbock Sanitarium, little Glendora, the two-year-old daughter of Prof. and Mrs. A. L. Faubion, passed to the great beyond.
From a fall last Monday, Glendora became ill, and Tuesday her parents took her to the Lubbock Sanitarium. The Doctors seemed to be puzzled as to the cause of the trouble. Wednesday she was taken back but she continued to get worse. Thursday she was taken back and was kept at the sanitarium until her death Tuesday morning following.
Funeral services were conducted at the Baptist church with Pastor Darby of the Baptist church, Pastor Thompson of the Methodist church and Bro. Greer, brother of Mrs. Faubion, taking parts in the service. The little body was taken to Grassland for its final resting place.

What Is An Equal Price FOR COTTON
Ginned In
ACCO (Round) BALES
And Square Bales

To compare prices: Take a pattern of square bale bagging and ties weighing 20 lbs. and bagging for two ACCO (round) Bales together weighing 5 pounds—a difference of 15 pounds. Remember in comparing prices this is the only difference.

For example: Say you have enough seed cotton to make 500 pounds of lint—

Square Bale— 500 pounds lint 20 pounds bagging and ties $20 pounds total 20 cents per pound $104.00	Acco Bale— 500 pounds lint 5 pounds bagging 505 pounds total 20.60 cents per pound $104.03
---	---

Before ginning get the square bale price and the ACCO Bale price. Then multiply as above—that is, the square bale price X 520 pounds, and the ACCO Bale price X 515 pounds.

THINK—DO YOUR OWN FIGURING—FIGURES ARE FACTS
Remember—If you gin cotton in ACCO Bales, there is

There is positively no loss in "Turn-out" in ginning ACCO BALES. All square bales are compressed and recompressed before being exported; ACCO Bales are compressed only at the gin.

I will be glad to gin your cotton either round or square. My gin is as good as the best in Tahoka. Come and see for yourself.

Wins Car But Sells It To Get An Education

Canyon, Nov. 2.—An automobile does not mean just joy rides to Miss Inez Jowell of Hereford, Texas. To her it means a college education. Recently Miss Jowell, a student of the West Texas State Teachers College, won a high class car in a subscription contest put on by a newspaper of her home town. Instead of riding away in the beautiful car she had it put on sale by the local dealer. The money she receives for it, says Miss Jowell, will pay for the remainder of her college education.

Work On Telephone Line To Begin Soon

Work on the new telephone line running east from town is to begin right away. Most of the material has arrived and the work of building the line will be pushed through as fast as workmen can do the job. The farmers living along the proposed line are anxious for its completion when they will be connected with their neighbors and have an outlet by being connected with a long distance phone. The Commercial Club has several other matters that is of much importance to the town and territory which will be taken up in the very near future.

THE BROADWAY OF AMERICA

"Do your scenery shopping on the Broadway of America," will be the slogan for millions of tourists who travel the sunlit trails to the Pacific Coast, according to Dr. C. M. Hendrix, president of the El Paso Gateway Club. He said, "This highway of America will in time be the greatest motor road from New York to San Diego and Los Angeles. This Broadway of America, as it will be known, will start at Broadway, New York, and end at Broadway, Los Angeles and will be the only free open highway from coast to coast, open the year round to the motor travel. This highway program is beyond question one of the most elaborate ever staged in America. It will pass through the cities of Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Charlottesville, Knoxville, Nashville, Memphis, Little Rock, Texarkana, Dallas, Ft. Worth, Abilene, Sweetwater, Midland, Pecos and El Paso, then on through New Mexico to the Pacific coast. It is stated that this trail will have more pavement than any other transcontinental highway and will pass through some of the most grandeur of nature's scenery.

WHAT GOOD DID IT DO?

What good did it do when you frowned? Let me ask.
Did it help you at all to accomplish your task?
Did it lighten your burden or help you along?
Did the frown that you wore make a right out of wrong?
What good did it do to be grouchy today?
Did your sourliness drive any trouble away?
Did you cover more ground than you usually do.
Because of the frown that you carried with you.
If not, what's the use of a frown or a grimace?
If it won't smooth a path or a grim trouble down?
If it doesn't assist you, it isn't worth while.
Your work may be hard, but just do it—and smile.

Funny War Picture Coming Next Week

Are you tired of war pictures? Have you seen enough of blood and fire and carnage? Does your heart grow sick when the terrible havoc of war is thrown on the screen? "Rookies" is one war picture in which there is no sadness, no tragic scenes, no carnage, no horrors. On the other hand it is a perfect riot of fun. It brings one roar of laughter after another. If you can not laugh, avoid seeing Rookies, for no one can see it without laughing. But if you enjoy a good laugh after a hard day's work, if you like fun, then by all means see "Rookies", the funniest picture possibly you have ever seen.

It will be shown at the Star Theatre here next Wednesday and Thursday nights. It is being shown in many of the large theatres throughout the nation on November 11, Armistice day. You'll want to see "Rookies".

A NEIGHBORHOOD SOCIAL

Hallowe'en night Mrs. Crie entertained a number of little folks with a lawn party. At seven o'clock the guests began to arrive, garbed in costumes appropriate to the holiday. Jack o'lanterns adorned the trees in the front yard where a fire blazed merrily. About this fire was prepared pop corn and toasted marshmallows, the refreshments for the evening's frivolity. Old fashioned Hallowe'en games were led by Mrs. Atkins dressed as an Indian chief and Mrs. Coopwood as a ghost. Mesdames Shock and Hooper assisted Mrs. Crie in preparing and serving the treats. Only the children of the immediate neighborhood were present, about fourteen in all. At the given hour the party completed its session with a ghost parade. All expressed themselves as satisfied with the events of the evening and look forward to the time when occasion and weather will again permit of a Hallowe'en fete on Mrs. Crie's hospitable front yard.

CAN BOTH BE KEPT IN THE SAME PEN?

A movement to organize the dry forces in the Democratic party to present the nomination of Al Smith, Jim Reed, or any wet candidate for the Presidency has been started in Texas.

We believe that this movement should have the active cooperation of every dry Democrat in the state. For, unless some such organized opposition to the wets is made, Al Smith will be nominated almost without a struggle.

If Al Smith should be nominated dry Democrats throughout the country will find it difficult if not impossible to conscientiously support the nominee. They must realize that the nomination and election of such a man would be hailed throughout the country and throughout the world as a repudiation of prohibition. It would be regarded as a mandate from the people to modify the Volstead Act and cease efforts to enforce national prohibition. All the wet forces of the country would begin sending up a wild clamor for the modification of the law so as to permit the sale of light wines and beer and to leave the enforcement of the law to the states alone. All that the dry's have accomplished in the last quarter of a century, they would see go up in smoke at a single election. They will hardly be willing to pay so great a price for the small boon of being politically "regular". They will not have much pride, in fact, in being members of a party that has committed itself to the return of the vile saloon. The nomination of Al Smith would mean the disaffection of the best element in the Democratic party and the elevation to power of the vilest in it, Tammany Hall.

If anyone tells us that this is treason to the party, we would call attention to the language of the wet leader in this state, published in the last issue of the Ferguson Forum. These are the words of Jim Ferguson: "When the discussion is over the leaders of the party will be confronted with the cold proposition of 'be damned if they do and be damned if they don't.' I mean by this that if Governor Smith is defeated in the convention in all probability whoever else receives the nomination will only get an empty honor. For straightway the Catholics, smarting under the criticism that will be hurled at their religion and I might say their choice, will promptly go to the polls in November and vote the Republican ticket. The same will be as certainly true of the anti-prohibitionist Democrats in the doubtful states of the East. If these two forces desert the Democratic nominee the victory of the Republicans will be greater than it was last time over John W. Davis. These are facts which I believe will become more and more apparent every day as the convention hour approaches."

So Jim Ferguson thinks that unless Smith is nominated the Catholics and the wet Democrats in the East will bolt the party. It seems that the parting of the ways has been reached. Until "wet" Democrats surrender, until they recognize the fact that this country is "dry" and must get drier, until they quit clamoring for the return of the saloon, there will be no harmony in the Democratic party. It may be that they will succeed in nominating Al Smith. If they should do so, we believe that then will come the great disillusionment. Their candidates will be defeated by an overwhelming majority. They will see that a further fight against the Volstead Act is futile. And prohibition will probably have been established on a firmer footing than ever before.

But in the meantime, the Democratic party will have been deserted. It is not a pleasing prospect.

YES, A POOR LITTLE RED-HEADED GIRL

Down at Fredericksburg the other day they found buried in a shallow grave a little red-headed girl, apparently about fourteen years old, her name, where she came from, the manner of her death is an unsolved mystery. So far it has baffled the police power of the State of Texas to fathom the mystery. It was thought to bury her in the potter's field, but another instinct came to the rescue. Funds were raised and the little red-head was given a decent burial. Contributions came in from everybody in all walks of life, sufficient to buy her a beautiful death shroud and a burnished casket. Four ministers of so many different churches officiated at the funeral. Several hundred school children attended the funeral and piled beautiful flowers on her grave; the Boy Scouts acted as pall bearers and a large concourse of citizens attended the funeral. You know, folks, that was a noble thing for people to do, and we say all honor to the City of Fredericksburg. Yes, the American people are a great people notwithstanding they call us dollar chasers and shylocks, and dog-gone, we sure do chase the dollar, and by doggies we do swipe the gold mine, pile up the wealth, so much so, that our wealth is the marvel of the whole world, cold blooded, drive hard bargains, and at the same time the most charitable nation on earth. Yes, we have donated our billions to feed and clothe the destitute of Europe and Asia, and still feeding 'em. Then down in the Mississippi Delta, when the flood tide came, we poured our millions into the coffers and fed and clothed thousands. Oh yes, with all of our wealth getting, sharpers in trade, yet there is a tender cord in the breast of every American, and all one has to do is to just thump this cord, and purse strings are un-loosed and charity dollars come rolling in. That's what they did down there in the city of Fredericksburg, and a little red-headed waif was tendered a royal funeral. Just how the little red-headed girl met her death, possibly will never be known. But on the face of it it looks like the bloody hand of an assassin, another little girl gone astray, the fool tempter deceived her, led her astray, tampered with and blighted the most delicate flower in all the world, the flower of virtue. Possibly her traducer will never be caught in the meshes of the law, but the law of conscience will follow him to the uttermost parts of the earth, and lead him down to the very gates of hell. There is no way for one to escape punishment. A man may miss the hangman's noose or stay out of prison walls, but the law of conscience is one law that cannot be evaded, and it's a thousand times worse than being hanged or shut behind prison doors. Albany News.

The News editor is receiving printed letters and other literature from one E. Thiele, State Director of the Illinois Association Opposed to Prohibition, Inc., assailing the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act. He denounces the enactment of this amendment and the enactment of the law as a "betrayal" and calls enforcement officers as "spies." He stigmatizes the amendment and the law as violative of "fundamental rights and liberties," destructive of "States' Rights," "tyrannical," "dis-sonest," "anti-Christian," "sumptuary," "based on a lie," etc. If this Chicago citizen with a foreign name expects to get anywhere in the South by using such threadbare bunk as this, then we think he is due a great awakening. Texas and the South went dry in the face of such rotgut thunder long before the nation adopted the Eighteenth Amendment. A large majority of the good old American-born Democrats down here in Texas are too intelligent to be beguiled by such stuff and are too respectable to want their party to become the tail-end of the New York Tammany Tigers and the Chicago beer-soaked foreigner bunch, who seem determined to bring back beer or bust the party. But if these fellows want to really make trouble for Al Smith down here in Texas and in the Southland, let them just keep on sending out such silly rot as they are now busily spreading. It will soon do the work.

UP AGAINST IT LAST WEEK

"Troubles come not singly but in battalions." That sometimes happens even in a newspaper shop. Last week we were "swamped" with work, and the whole "gang" was straining every nerve to "get out" on time. Wednesday night the editor went home sick. Thursday morning the operator, Pfleger Wampler, took to his bed. That left the whole "chase" up to the remaining other member of the "force," with such help as the Mrs. Editor and the kiddies could give after school hours. Some things necessarily had to be left out, but we claim we had a good paper anyway. All the sick are back on the job this week, a little disfigured, but doing our best. Subscribe for the Lynx County News.

WHEN THE COTTON'S ROLLER IS

Oh, the sun-kissed hills are bounding and the fields are white as snow. The air is filled with laughter as the pickers come and go. The wagons groan and groan as they move up to the gin. I tell you things are lively when the cotton's roller is in. The merchant needs the planter with a hearty "howdy-do," which is answered with the payment of a note that's not quite due. The streets are filled with people, and the traffic's awful din; I tell you things are lively when the cotton's roller is in.

The summer months were quiet, few farmers came to town, the merchants went to market, and the loafers sat around. But now it's very different—the whole world wears a grin, I tell you things are lively when the cotton's roller is in. —Snyder Times-Signal.

WHEN SCHOOL BEGINS

Neither, skelter, lickety, split, Over the yard and thru the hall. Sometimes I get so tired of it Threaten to whip them all. Tom and Tad and Billy and Bub, All of them rickicking, ranting boys Howling a horn and beating a tub— Making a most unearthly noise.

Sometimes I wish they were all away And I could be at home alone, And just be quiet for one long day— One sweet day I could call my own.

Now they are gone and here I sit Far up the road where the shades are cool, Longing to hear those lickety split Children coming back from school. Whitney Montgomery.

Santa Fe Purchases Promote Prosperity WHILE the Santa Fe is itself a large employer of labor—its payroll in 1926 totalled $107,000,000, and its employes number more than 75,000—indirectly as a buyer of materials and supplies it helps to furnish employment to many more. Such purchases last year exceeded $64,000,000. In addition it bought over $12,000,000 of new cars and locomotives. Its largest class of material was fuel, which totalled $24,360,000. This consisted of about 2,267,000 tons of coal, and 507,800,000 gallons of fuel oil. The use of coal or oil on any division is determined primarily by which is the cheaper fuel in that locality. The second largest class of purchases was iron and steel products, for which the expenditure was approximately $19,750,000. This included an expenditure of $9,500,000 for 152,700 tons of rail, frogs, switches, and fastenings. $1,500,000 went for wheels, axles, and tires, and $306,000 for flues and tubes for locomotives. Bridges, turntables, structural steel, forgings, and fabricated, unfabricated, and pressed steel took nearly $3,000,000. Steel and iron are basic necessities in railroading. Purchases of forest products totalled $6,412,000, which included over 3,000,000 cross ties, and large quantities of lumber and timbers. The Santa Fe creosotes its ties and much of its timbers, otherwise greater quantities would be needed each year. Folders, report blanks, notices, tickets, tariffs, and various items in the stationery line required $1,225,000, electrical materials $660,000, lubricating oil and grease, illuminating oils, waste, etc., $1,180,000, and air brake material $617,600. These purchases were necessary to maintain the railroad properly and to give satisfactory service to the public. They were covered by 130,000 invoices and were made from 3,347 individuals and firms. Note the wide spread of this buying. Thus the Santa Fe and all railroads are an important factor in maintaining the prosperity of our country through the employment arising from these large purchases of supplies, as well as the millions directly disbursed among their own employes for services. When the railroads are doing well, they buy materials and supplies on a larger scale than when net revenues fall off. Money thus spent mainly pays for the labor of many persons, helping merchants, farmers, everybody—your own community included. You therefore are vitally interested. W. B. P-T Club Has First Social Meet

The Parent-Teachers Club had the first social meeting of the year Tuesday night, in the basement of the Methodist Church. All parents were invited to enjoy the evening's program and to get acquainted with the new teachers. The attendance was not large but a most pleasant occasion it was. The program consisted of a piano solo by Mrs. Jackson, a song by Miss Lola Belle Edwards, and a reading by Mary Margaret Tunnell. Games were played and refreshments were served to about forty-five guests.

A brief business meeting was also held. The committee which had been appointed to recommend a president, recommended that the following members each be required to serve one month, in the order named: Mrs. J. K. Applewhite, Mrs. Sudarth, Mrs. R. P. Weathers, Mrs. Hall Robinson, Mrs. Paul Miller, Mrs. Windham, Mrs. Walker. The report was adopted and Mrs. Applewhite is the president for the current month.

SEVERAL FAMILIES MOVE THIS WEEK

Prof. Taylor White purchased the Bovell home and they removed into the same Monday afternoon. We have not learned who is to occupy the residence vacated by the Whites.

Much Need For Better Marketing

"Fluctuations in the cotton market during the present season, and particularly the gradual but costly decline during the past few weeks, demonstrates in most forceful terms the importance of cooperative marketing," according to D. A. Adams, field service representative of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association.

"Orderly and cooperatively is the most effective medium to counteract such conditions," he said, "and it is gratifying to see the steady gain in favor of this program. Its full effect cannot be felt, however, until increased volume of the commodity is in the channels of cooperative marketing."

"Many thousands of farmers throughout the State, and a large number in Lynn county are practicing orderly marketing in their individual way," he stated, "but their facilities and protections are not ample and they are attempting in an individual way to do that which can only be accomplished in an organized way." Mr. Adam brought out that the producer outside the cotton cooperative marketing association "individually" following orderly marketing, still "does not possess world cotton facts and figures or any barometer as to when the demand is the best and from what cotton consuming center it comes; he does not have the benefit of expert grading and complete sales according to grade and staple with its varying premiums; he cannot borrow money as cheaply as the association, warehouse his cotton as well at the same low rate, or secure full protection at the low rate accorded the association."

Mr. Adam spoke highly of the forward step taken by "individual" holders in not dumping their cotton upon glutted markets, but "urged that they go the full distance, and secure the full services and benefits of cotton cooperative marketing by affiliating with the association."

HARVEST MOON STARTED OCTOBER 25—LAST SEVEN DAYS

The old legend, which many of us remember, as told by our forefathers, started October 25th and to last seven days. The harvest moon, according to the legend, and as we have heard as a youngster, meant something in this country. It was when neighbors gathered together for a seven day feast and joy making. Neighbors got together and when one of them had some new land to clear his friends drove in from miles around and the grubbing party was on. They helped him add a few acres to his farm in no time. As the old timers spoke of it. It meant quilting parties, husking bees, barn dances, pumpkin cutting time and cider making, but all these days are gone forever. The harvest moon means nothing, not even to the old timers. Now instead of husking bees, etc., sister slips a pint of gin in her pocketbook, which is as big as a steamer trunk, and sonny slips a quart of corn into his hip pocket and together they step into a highpowered roadster and together they go to celebrate.

Now for an appropriate scientific expose of why there is a harvest moon. It seems that for most of the year the moon hops over the horizon 52 minutes later one day after another. That is, the moon rose at 6 p. m. on Friday, it would rise the next day at 6:52, and so on, however, around the vernal equinox the forces which retard the moon's rising are lessened and the differences each day for a short while is reduced to between 20 and 30 minutes.

As a result, some time in October each year the full moon is visible for a longer time than ordinarily. Coming as it does in harvest time this phenomenon was noticed by the ancients and, accordingly they celebrated it with special events. Up until about 1920 the custom remained, even in this country, as a heritage from our remote ancestors.

In November comes the hunter's moon. So called because it is the period of greatest restlessness among animals of the forest or field. At that time beasts move around much more than is their custom and the hunter is given a better opportunity to get a bag of game.—O. S. Landis, Weather Observer in Star Telegram.

THE MISSES ANGLIN ENTERTAIN

(Written especially for the Lynn County News by Mrs. T. J. Coopwood of Del Rio and Brackettville.)

On Saturday evening from seven to ten the Misses Anglin entertained with a Halloween party. Each of the four daughters of the house asked a number of her own special friends to celebrate the occasion with her, hence it was like four parties in one. Each guest came costumed to impersonate a character, and the first game played was a pantomime of the character represented. Miss Lucille Slaton and Miss Onita Lowe tied for the prettiest costume and Geneva May Dickson and Elizabeth Crie for the cleverest pantomime. Conversation, music, games, and charades occupied the time while the party awaited the building of the witches' fire where the ghost walk was soon in progress. A weenie roast followed by candy and fruit completed the refreshments.

While the young folks played outside, young Master Sunny Boy Anglin in his Kewpie Swing furnished entertainment for the admiring older guests.

About nine o'clock two cars of witches mysteriously appeared from the darkness, serenaded the party, and slid way into the shadows as softly as they came.

Those who enjoyed the evening were: Fannie Jackson, Lucile Slaton, Geneva May Dickson, Rita Shook, Elizabeth Crie, Onita Lowe, Helen Anthony, Ruth Suddarth, Lorene Childers.

At going time all wished that Halloween occurred oftener and with the charming Anglin sisters as hostesses.

The attendance at school is somewhat irregular on account of maise heading and cotton picking. The school is taking up early and dismissing early so that the pupils may spend a good part of the day helping their parents in the field.

Edgar Ashill and family spent Saturday and Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hood. Sunday School attendance dropped off a little last Sunday. We hope that everyone will feel that he is a part of the Sunday School and show his interest in it by being there on time next Sunday.

Another one of those good singings was presented at Mr. Taylor's Sunday night. Everyone came early and left late having had a splendid time.

Rex Aycock and Louella Woodworth of Lorenzo visited Mr. and Mrs. Sanders Sunday afternoon.

Following a good days work at school Monday the pupils of South Ward enjoyed a Halloween party given them by their teachers. Spooks, black cats, and witches were there in abundance. Refreshments were served in dainty Hallow'en baskets.

Several Pleas Of Guilty To Theft

Several pleas of guilty to the offense of theft were entered in the county court Monday morning.

Allen Jolly pleaded guilty to stealing a hat from the car of B. R. Tate at a Kiwanis supper at New Lynn several weeks ago. A fine of $25 was assessed against the offender, and when all the costs had been figured up, it was found that this $5.00 had cost him just $49.50.

Tyson Hyde admitted to the Judge that he had unlawfully taken a "six-shooter" from the possession of M.

A. Daugherty, residing a few miles north of Tahoka several months ago. The piece of artillery was alleged to be worth $15.00. The miscreant was punished by a fine of $20.00, confinement in the county jail for two hours and the payment of costs, which were considerable. It was a costly experience.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASSES GIVEN HALLOWEEN PARTY

The Emanuel and Glad Hand Sunday School classes were entertained Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Harris with a real "spooky" Halloween party.

The beautiful home was decorated and arranged to carry out the sentiment of the spooky night. When you entered the door a spook carried you through the dark to let you view the dead. On the way you encountered all kinds of ghosts, skeletons, bats, and other things. On your return from this trip, a nice cup of punch was served to you by the witch.

Then you were taken in and seated with the crowd of spooks and other costumed guests. While sitting in the dark you were made to tremble with fear as the ghost stories were told. When the murdered man's remains were passed around to be examined shrieks could be heard and little cold shivers passed over your spine. The music started and two little dancers entertained the crowd.

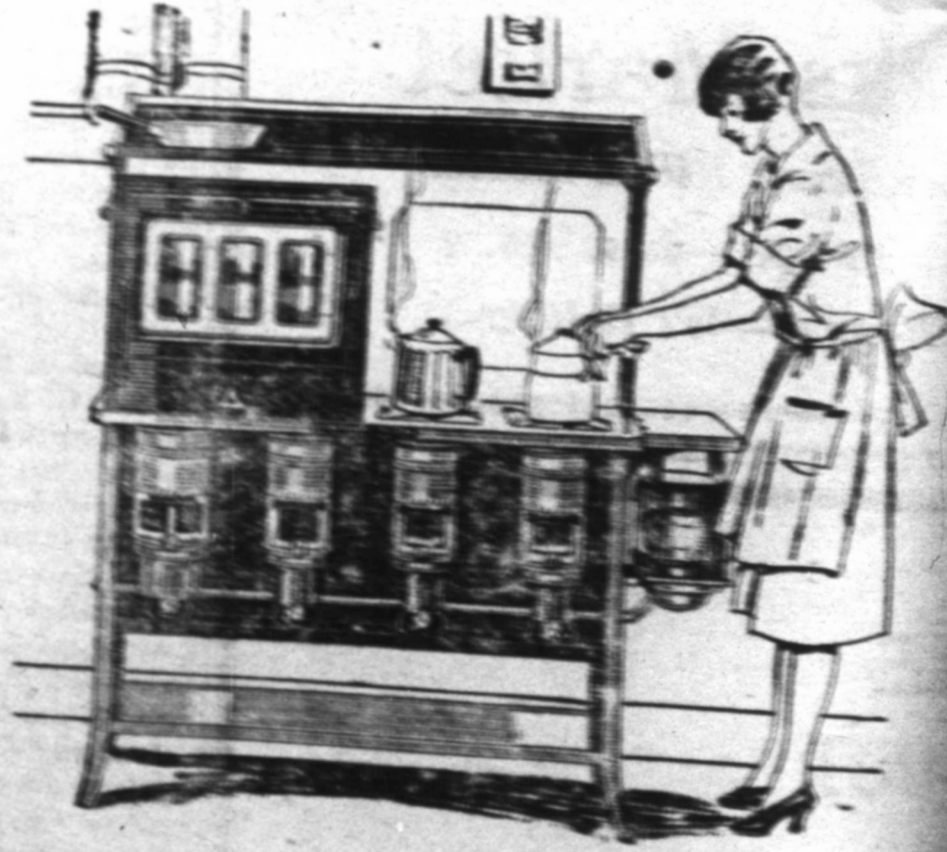

At last the lights came on and all masks were removed. The remainder of the evening was spent playing different games and in fun.

At a late hour the guests told the host and hostess what a lovely evening they had spent and expected to see all the spooks at Sunday School next Sunday.

T-Bar

The Lynn County News readers do not notice anything from T-Bar last week. What's the matter? as our editor died?

Every one is real busy gathering the crops. Part are picking cotton, others pulling, and the rest cutting. So you see the T-Bar people rather busy at this time.

There was a large crowd out at Sunday School Sunday morning. We want every one to continue coming, and bring some one with you. There was also a large crowd out at prayer meeting Sunday night. The services were conducted by Miss Vivian Moore. Jamie McCarley is leader for next Sunday night. We are glad to see our young people taking the lead in these services.

The Women's H. D. Club will meet Thursday evening, November 3.

The T-Bar club members, both the women and girls, want to thank each and every one who helped put over our club fair and for the prizes which were awarded to the girls and women. We want to try to make it better fair next year.

Ridal Nichols will leave this week to work in the oil fields. He was called home to the bedside of his sister, who had taken seriously ill.

The Halloween party given by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Beasley Saturday night was a sure success. Everyone came, both young and old, and they all surely enjoyed themselves.

Mrs. Hester Payne and little daughter Katherine left Monday for a few weeks visit with relatives in Tampa.

Vera Nichols returned home from the Lubbock Sanitarium Sunday evening. Vera is improving fine. She still wears a smile on her face when friends go in to greet her a welcome back home.

Mr. Charley Henderson and family from near O'Donnell were visitors in their brother and sister's home, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Henderson, Sunday.

Mr. M. A. Dorman was on the sick list the latter part of the week. We hope he is well by now.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Moore took dinner with the latter's parents Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nichols.

We were very sorry to hear of Miss Lena McMillian being in the Elwood Sanitarium for an appendicitis operation.

Rev. W. B. Hicks of O'Donnell preached his last sermon for us Sunday eve, as he will go to another charge the coming year.

A few who have real late cotton are the only ones who are not getting cotton out at present, and most of them are in their neighbor's fields.

We have had no frost yet to speak of, and the farmers are cutting cane in a hurry before Jack Froze gets here.

Miss Vera Nichols, daughter of J. M. Nichols, who was taken dangerously ill with appendicitis, and was taken to Lubbock and operated on over a week ago, is reported to be doing well. Several of her friends and her mother went Sunday to see her, and we all hope for her speedy recovery. One of her sisters, Esther, is with her at the sanitarium.

The little Misses Dorman returned from Dixie Saturday eve, Zelma having a case of tonsillitis. We hope she soon is able to be out again.

Floyd McCarley of O'Donnell visited his brother, J. C. McCarley Sunday.

Jim Adams came in Friday for a visit with relatives in the home of J. B. Moore and left Sunday eve.

Several of our young people went to O'Donnell to the carnival Saturday night.

J. M. Johnson and family, O. A. Crotwell and wife, and J. H. Dorman and wife visited Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Caraway of Redwine Sunday.

Jesse H. Dorman and wife are at home with M. A. Dorman and wife again, after a long stay with Ed Hart at Grassland.

plied with leading periodicals.

Cotton - Maize

The people of the New Home community have been picking cotton and heading maize the past few weeks. Cotton pickers are needed in different sections, and we hear that $1.25 to $1.50 per hundred is being paid in order to hurry up the gathering. We are going to begin school at 8:30, shorten the noon period thirty minutes, and thereby get out at 3:00 p. m. We hope that so many pupils will not have to stop school. As Thursday and Friday are Institute days we hope to gather much cotton and maize.

Devotional Services

Rev. William Campbell of Lubbock preached a very impressive sermon Sunday morning. We are always glad to have Bro. Campbell in our midst, because he is such a good singer and interesting preacher. Sunday school attendance was unusually low. The B. Y. P. U. met at its regular hour Sunday evening. The life of King David was discussed. As next Sunday is regular preaching day for Bro. Boat, we are planning an interesting B. Y. P. U. program. Every one is invited to be present at all services.

Glee Clubs

The Glee Clubs met last Friday night in the high school auditorium to practice for the first time. Our men's quartet favored us with several numbers. About fifteen women sang in the Women's Glee Club, and we were delighted with their renditions. Merry Maiden's Glee Club was present and pleased the audience with their singing.

NOTICE TO CAR OWNERS

Attention is called to the fact that all cars, no matter how old or worthless, must have a head light certificate and a bill of sale or the 1927 license receipt before they can be registered for the year 1928. Don't wait; get your papers together, as you will have to have them before you can register your car. J. W. SIMPSON, Tax Collector, Lynn County, Texas 19-21c

Teachers Thankful For Courtesies

We, the Resolutions Committee of Lynn County Teachers Institute, beg to submit the following:

- 1. That we extend our thanks to President Hill of Canyon, Texas and President Green of Abilene for their inspiring addresses.
2. That we thank the school authorities of Tahoka for the use of their school building and all others who have helped to make this institute a success.
3. That we extend to Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Faubion of Wilson Texas our heartfelt sympathy in their great bereavement due to the loss of their little daughter, Glyndora.
4. That we endorse the work of the State Teachers Association and strongly urge the Lynn County teachers to enroll 100 per cent.
5. That Superintendent Cavness be requested to appoint a committee to work out a plan by which the work of rural schools and accredited high schools be better coordinated.
6. That we go on record as favoring a live county organization of teachers, with one hundred per cent attendance at regular intervals during the school term, and that we make a special effort to have some of our school board members and Parent-Teachers Association members present at these meetings.
7. That we believe that a divided school term is against the best interests of the schools in question and since we know that it is against the ruling of the State Department of Education, we ask the school board and teachers of Lynn County to consider this problem seriously.
8. We further recommend that each teacher of Lynn County make an effort to improve himself or herself professionally by reading at least one professional book and one professional magazine each year and by attending college at least every other summer.
9. That a copy of these resolutions be printed in the Lynn County News, The O'Donnell Index and the Wilson Pointer.
Respectively Submitted, M. B. Hood, Zuelia Fox, J. A. Rickard, Committee Unanimously passed by the Institute as submitted.—W. B. Bishop, Secretary

U. Of T. Profs. To Speak Over Radio

AUSTIN, Oct. 26.—Lectures by 6 University of Texas professors have been arranged for and will be broadcast over radio station KUT which is owned by the University, according to Dr. M. B. Gutsch, member of the University faculty and of the radio broadcasting committee. These lectures are all arranged for the Friday evening programs broadcast from the station.

The first of the series will be by E. W. Winkler, librarian of the University of Texas. His subject will be "Purposes of the University Library" and his lecture will be given Friday evening, November 25.

Dr. H. Y. Benedict, who on September 1 became president of the University and who is an authority in astronomy, will speak Friday evening, December 2, on "Storms on the Sun."

"The Historical Significance of the Texas Six-Shooter" is the subject on which W. P. Webb, associate professor of history, will lecture Friday, December 16. Mr. Webb has made an extensive study of the history of the southwest and is author of numerous articles dealing with the history of that region.

Dr. Charles W. Hackett, professor of Latin-American history in the University, will give a lecture Friday evening, January 6, on "American Intervention in Nicaragua."

T. W. Ricker, professor of modern European history, who has only recently returned to the University after spending a year doing research in several European countries, will give a lecture on "Mussolini and the New Italy" on January 20.

The final lecture will be by Dr. E. C. Barker, professor of American history. His lecture will be on "Stephen F. Austin's Place in History" and will be on February 17.

FORGOTTEN GOVERNMENT BONDS

Knowledge that the Treasury has grown somewhat uneasy as to whether a very large amount of the second liberty loan bonds may not fail to be either converted or presented for redemption on November 15th, has caused inquiry in Wall Street as to how great an amount of other bond issues, matured long ago, are still unaccounted for. The treasury's statement of last June showed that $45,518,122 of matured government obligations on which interest has ceased are still outstanding. In the last complete annual report it was shown that $2,324,500 of matured pre-war bonds had not been presented at the Treasury. This total included $285,660 of bonds issued during the Civil War, many of which had matured more than half a century ago. It also included $151,610 United States bonds of issues so old that they had matured for payment before the Civil War. How much of these amounts represented bonds which has been lost or destroyed and how much if any, bonds which has been forgotten by their owners, the Treasury has no information. —The Meadow Review.

THE OLD HEN COMING TO THE FRONT

"With more than a billion dollars per year to the credit of the business she creates, the old hen of America now stands third in the branches of the livestock industry." So says Dr. John R. Mohler, of the United States Department of Agriculture. She accounts for about 16 per cent of the total value of all livestock and its products for the year 1926, and only the dairy industry with 40 per cent and the swine industry with 22 per cent rank higher. The Doctor reminded his hearers, in his address to the convention of veterinarians, that the poultry industry and their diseases were important because the American hen is responsible for more than one third of the world's supply of poultry and eggs. The American hen, collectively, lays at the rate of 760 eggs a second, or 2,000,000,000 dozen a year.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Baldrige spent the first half of the week here and at O'Donnell visiting relatives and friends. Mr. Baldrige states that he is just finishing the harvesting of good row crops on his lands near Clovis and that the wheat in that vicinity is still looking fine. He left us a check and told us to keep the News going to his address another year. Tahoka lost a mighty good family when the Baldriged moved away.
