BREAKFAST IS BIG SUCCESS

Homer D. Wade, Davis, Cain and Base Talk At Early Morning C. Of C. Meeting

Most of the progressive men and many of the women, boys and girls of Tahoka gathered on the lots facing the east side of the square before sunrise Tuesday morning to participate in the first public sunrise breakfast ever staged in Tahoka.

The breakfast was given by the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce, and according to the secretary, Mrs. Paul Miller, the credit for the success of the affair is due chiefly to the committee on arrangements consisting of Supt. M. L. H. Baze and Messrs L. F. Craft and J. E. Nance.

The breakfast consisted of coffee and doughnuts. The people were roused from their peaceful slumbers by the shrill and doleful whistle of the fire siren about the time the first glint of light appeared above the eastern horizon. Long before sunrise many of them had come through the crisp morning air to the scene of the approaching morning meal, apparently eager to devour everything in sight. Possibly 250 to 300 people were present, but there were coffee and doughnuts to spare.

A program consisting of addresses and several numbers by the Tahoka Concert Band was rendered, the real music before breakfast and the chin music after breakfast.

Mr. Baze gave an outline of the work of the Chamber of Commerce mapped out for the current year and also of the budget which has been adopted. He stated that about half the budget had been subscribed and it was thought by the committee that the other half is in sight. He stressed the need of cooperation on the part of all the citizens of Tahoka and made an appeal for both moral and financial support.

A. B. Davis, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Lubbock, who was present, was called upon, and he made a most happy address, punctuating his remarks with occasional sallies of wit. He complimented the people of Tahoka upon their enterprise and enthusiasm as was evidenced by their willingness to assemble downtown for a sunrise breakfast. Calling attention to the value of a chamber of commerce to a town, he declared that Lubbock had secured the Tech College, her railroads, and her hotels largely through instrumentality of the Chamber of Commerce, and he thanked the people of Tahoka for rendering assistance in procuring the Denver railway.

Judge C. H. Cain made a brief talk, complimenting the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce upon the originality and novelty of the idea of a sunrise breakfast. Every town, he declared, has a personality just as every individual has. That personality is just what we make it. It is positive and strong or negative and weak, according to the way we function as citizens of the town. He declared that when the Lynn county court house was planned it was the first of its kind anywhere. Since then four exact replicas of this court house have been built in Texas.

The main speaker on the program was Homer D. Wade, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. He came all the way from Stamford to attend this meeting. He pointed out many of the good things about a live chamber of commerce and what it could do for a town or a section. His address was splendid and was highly appreciated by all present.

His address concluded the program, but a meeting of the board of directors was called almost immediately, a report of which appears elsewhere in this paper.

Work Begun On Two New Bricks

Work on the foundation of two new brick business houses was begun here Monday morning. One of these buildings is being constructed by Messrs. I. S. Doak and S. W. Sanford on the east side of the square and will be occupied by Messrs. Sowden & Rayborn, Chevrolet agents. The other is being constructed by Oscar Roberts on the west side of the square and will be occupied by the Texas Utilities Co.

Find No Worms In Lynn County

The party of boll worm scouts consisting of five or six members, who had spent possibly ten days or two weeks in this county in an exhaustive search for pink boll worms, folded their tents Monday morning and left for the south, after announcing, we understand, that they had been unable to find a single pink boll worm in Lynn county. The farmers and business men of this county feel considerably relieved by the departure of these gentlemen and by the fact that they failed to find any evidence of the presence of the pest here. If they had succeeded in finding a single worm, dead or alive, it would doubtless have meant the placing of Lynn county in a regulated zone, which would entail much red-tape and annoyance to farmers in the raising of cotton.

ATTEND BOLL WORM MEETING

County Well Represented At Sweetwater; Oppose Non-Cotton Zone Measure

Judge J. W. Elliott, Supt. M. L. H. Baze, Prof. Taylor White, and E. I. Hill, all of Tahoka, Jim Izard and P. W. Goad of New Home, a number of citizens of O'Donnell and possibly some others from other parts of the county, represented Lynn county at the pink boll worm cotton meeting held in Sweetwater last Saturday. All the west Texas counties which are said to be infested had heavy delegations there, the crowd completely filling and overflowing Sweetwater's big, new municipal auditorium. The crowd was estimated at 1,500 to 2,000.

Contrary to reports of the meeting carried by some of the daily newspapers, the crowd was strongly and vociferously opposed to the establishment of a non-cotton zone under any circumstances. It is true that the resolutions committee, most of whom had been previously selected by the chairman, R. W. Haynie of Abilene, seemed inclined to favor a non-cotton zone. But when it brought in its report, which seemed to give tolerance to the non-cotton

Santa Fe Train Schedule Changed

The Santa Fe train schedule has been changed so that the north bound train will hereafter arrive at Tahoka at 8:05 instead of 8:50 a. m. The south bound train will arrive at 2:05 instead of 1:45 as heretofore.

Owing to the change in the schedule of the morning train, D. A. Parkhurst, postmaster, announced that those registering letters, mailing and insuring packages, and purchasing stamps for mail that goes out on this train must attend to these matters on the preceding day, since the mail will leave the post office before the window opens. All patrons of the post office should take notice of this change and be governed accordingly.

Bartley Case Set For Next Monday

The case of the State of Texas vs. W. R. Bartley, charged with incest, has been set for trial next Monday, and a special venire of 117 men, has been ordered.

This case has been continued or postponed two or three times on account of the absence of an indispensable witness, but we understand that the sheriff, Wesley Simpson, finally succeeded in locating the witness in Abilene and it is thought that the case will go to trial this time.

REVIVAL GETS GOOD RESULTS

Preacher And Singer Doing Good Work At The Baptist Church

The revival services being held at the Baptist Church are resulting in many professions of faith in Christ and additions to the church, and many professed Christians are re-dedicating their lives to Christian service.

From the very first service, the pastor, Rev. B. N. Shepherd, has been bringing earnest forceful messages, and the music directed by Virgil Reynolds, has been very inspiring. Mr. Reynolds is a wonderful pianist, and his mastery of that strange musical instrument, the marimbaphone, is complete. A great choir has been singing with wonderful power and effectiveness each night. Members of other churches are joining wholeheartedly in the services and a fine spirit of cooperation among Christians has been manifest throughout the meeting. Mr. Reynolds is himself holding preliminary services each evening which have been fraught with great spiritual power, especially among the young people.

There are many professions of faith or reconsecrations of life at almost every service. Quite a goodly number are being attracted to the services from surrounding communities, some coming from as far away as Brownfield.

Clean up Tahoka!

Holloway Hurts Hat Into Ring

E. W. Holloway of Redwine announces this week as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for county and district clerk.

Mr. Holloway says that he has decided to ask for this office after having given the matter the most serious consideration, and he expects to make a thorough canvass of the county between this date and the July primaries. He states that he believes he is fully qualified to perform the duties of the office efficiently, and promises, if nominated and elected, to give his very best in time and efforts to serve the people of Lynn county.

Mr. Holloway has been a resident of Lynn county for 12 years, having removed to this county from Parker county in December, 1915. He is 38 years of age and has a family consisting of a wife and five children, whom it is his ambition to rear and educate. During all these 12 years his home has been in the Redwine community, where he is now engaged in the occupation of farming. He has taught in the public schools of this state for seven years, three years of which were in this county, one at Redwine, one at Draw and one at Edith. He has a general knowledge of clerical work and his educational qualifications are such as to render him capable of efficient service.

Mr. Holloway has never before been a candidate for public office, and while he does not claim to be a politician, he is assured that many friends will rally to his support, and he asks the vote and influence of every voter in the county. The News is sure that his candidacy will receive your most earnest consideration.

Hon. J. K. Wester of Lubbock was here Monday in the interest of his candidacy for the legislature. Mr. Wester served in this capacity in the 39th legislature. He announced for re-election but made no canvass of the district whatever and was defeated by Emmett Whitaker. He expects to make a speaking campaign of Lynn and other counties in the district this year.

The new awning which has been constructed along the front of the McCormack buildings have added much to the attractiveness of these structures.

Pastors May and Vincent and Missionary Johnson, all of Brownfield, were here Tuesday night attending the revival services at the Baptist Church.

COLLINS GETS PEN SENTENCE

Found Guilty Of Murdering Terry County Man And Is Assessed Five Years

The jury brought in a verdict of guilty in the Collins murder case about ten o'clock Thursday morning and assessed the punishment at confinement in the state penitentiary for a period of five years. Issues of self defense and manslaughter were injected in the case but the jury rejected these pleas and found defendant guilty of murder. The case has been on trial since the opening of court Monday morning.

District Attorney T. L. Price was assisted in the prosecution by W. H. Murchison of Haskell while the defendant was represented by Charles Crenshaw of Lubbock and by W. D. Justice of Athens. Defendant has filed a motion for a new trial, and if this is refused it is understood that he will appeal.

This case was transferred to this county from Terry county. The defendant, Beh H. Collins, is charged with the murder of Will Howard in March, 1926. The fatal difficulty is said to have arisen over a horse trade, the homicide taking place a few miles north of Brownfield. The case was tried at Brownfield in January, 1927, and defendant was convicted and given fifteen years in the penitentiary. He appealed the case and it was reversed and remanded, whereupon it was transferred to this county for trial.

Appreciates Work Of Agriculture Teacher

Prof. Taylor White, teachers of vocational agriculture in the Tahoka High School as well as at New Home and Dixie, is answering many calls from farmers to do terracing work. That they appreciate the work is evidenced by their expressions of gratitude. One of these, A. R. McGonagill, has requested that we publish a written note of appreciation of the work which Prof. White did for him, stating that he felt that the public generally should know of the splendid service that Prof. White is rendering. Mr. McGonagill's letter follows:

"I desire to publicly express my thanks to Prof. Taylor White for surveying out a portion of my farm for terracing. He did the work free of charge and did it well. I naturally expected to pay him for the work but he refused to take pay, stating that it was in the employ of the Tahoka Independent School District, his salary being paid largely out of state and federal funds. The terracing he did was highly satisfactory, and I want the people to know about the fine service he is rendering.

A. R. MCGONAGILL"

LIQUOR CASE CONTINUED ON ATTORNEY'S MOTION

The case of the State of Texas vs. George Anderson was called for trial in the district court Thursday morning, defendant being charged with the unlawful sale of intoxicating liquor, the alleged offense occurring at O'Donnell. Defendant, through his attorney, B. P. Maddox, filed a motion for a continuance, which was granted.

The case against Dornay and Smith, charged jointly with robbery, was also continued to the next term upon motion of defendants.

TAHOKA PEOPLE ATTEND UTILITIES BANQUET

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Anglin and two daughters, Misses Floy and Lenore, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Richardson, C. M. Finch and two children, Roy and Lillian, Misses Frankie Wells and Helen Lee Maddox, and Messrs. Herman Anglin and Charley Sanders attended a banquet given by the Utility Club at the office of the Texas Utilities Company in Lubbock last Saturday night.

Among the numbers on the program was an old-time square dance, which the Tahoka guests say they enjoyed very much.

Less than one-third of the present officers of the United States Army are West Point graduates.

Business Concerns Are Moving Today

The Thomas Grocery is today vacating the building at the northwest corner of the square, which it has heretofore occupied, to give place to the Neyland Dry Goods and ready-to-wear store. Mr. and Mrs. Neyland arrived several days ago from Teague, and Mr. Neyland will open for business Saturday.

Jake Leedy, proprietor of the Club Cafe, is vacating the adjoining building to make way for the Thomas Grocery which will hereafter operate in this building.

Mr. Leedy will reopen his place of business within a few days in the Jones building, heretofore occupied by the Sawaya Dry Goods Company. The Sawayas have boxed up their stock of goods but have made no announcement yet as to their plans. They will probably remain in Tahoka.

DIST. LEAGUE MEETS HERE

Fifteen Towns Represented At Institute Held At Local Methodist Church

The Quarterly Institute of the Methodist Epworth League of the Lubbock District was entertained by the Tahoka Hi-League at the Tahoka Methodist Church on Saturday and Sunday, February 25 and 26, and was, from all standpoints, enthusiastically conceded the best institute ever held in the District. There seems to have been nothing lacking which would have added to its interest, instruction, enjoyment or inspiration.

The attendance was unprecedented, there being one hundred and twenty-five delegates from throughout the district, although many of the thirty-four charges sent no representative. Registrations began at 10 a. m. Saturday and lasted until Sunday noon (including one group at 3 a. m.) delegates as follows being cordially welcomed: Lubbock First Church, 18; 19th St. Church, 6; Meadow 16; Idalou, 10; Crosbyton, 10; Brownfield 10; Lamesa, 9; Post, 9; Levelland, 8; Seagraves, 7; Abernathy, 3; Slaton

A. C. C. Musicians Entertain Crowd

The College Orchestra of Abilene Christian College, together with the male quartet and Miss Mitchell, head of the Speech Arts Department, gave a very interesting program Tuesday evening at the high school building. The crowd showed much appreciation of the program rendered. The quartet proved the most popular as entertainers, being called back several times for encores. Mr. Sullivan Gibson is the director of the orchestra and was responsible for arranging for the program with the local high school glee club and choral club. The entertainers were taken into the homes of the members of the local musical clubs for Tuesday night. They left early Wednesday morning for Lubbock and will appear later at Ralls in the new municipal auditorium and at Childress in the high school auditorium.

Lady Dies Of Heart Disease

Mrs. J. Willford Jones, residing about six miles north of Tahoka, just west of the Lubbock highway, died at an early hour last Saturday morning from an attack of heart disease. She had suffered from this trouble for many years but as is usual in such cases the fatal illness came suddenly. The remains were conveyed to Lubbock by the Harris & Applewhite undertaking department and from thence by rail to Quanah for interment. The remains were accompanied to Quanah by relatives and by Elder L. J. McCarty, pastor of the Primitive Baptist Church here, of which Mrs. Jones was a faithful member, and Elder McCarty conducted the funeral services at Quanah Monday.

Deceased left a husband and several children surviving, as well as other relatives, who have the sincerest sympathy of many friends.

C. OF C. PLANS BIG PROGRAM

Directors Discuss Plans For Auxiliary Organizations, Agent And Diversification

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce following the sunrise breakfast Tuesday morning, a number of matters of prime importance were discussed by the members of the board and by Homer D. Wade, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and A. B. Davis, secretary of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Among these was the matter of promoting the organization of local chambers of commerce in the various communities of Lynn county. Mr. Davis pointed out that in the communities surrounding Crosbyton there were six of these rural chambers of commerce. They had been sponsored by the Crosbyton Chamber of Commerce and are very active and helpful organizations in their respective communities. The men of these communities have a local organization through which to cooperate and accomplish the things that are for the general good in the community. The suggestion that the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce undertake to foster such organizations in this county met with much favor.

Closely related to this, it was suggested by Homer D. Wade that a Woman's Civic Club be organized in Tahoka as a kind of adjunct to the Chamber of Commerce. He declared that when the women become interested in this kind of an organization they can be of wonderful service to a town in many ways, to all of which everybody agreed. It might be that the Phebe K. Warner Club could so enlarge its membership and its scope of work as to meet this need, or it might be necessary to form a new organization altogether. At any rate there should be a female chamber of commerce.

The need of a farm agent in this county received much attention. Mr. Wade thought that every county needed a farm agent. Miss Halsey, who was present, was called upon to express her views, and she believes that a farm agent would not only be of great help to the men and boys of the county but that such an agent would greatly help and strengthen her own work. She called attention to the fact that when she took the home demonstration work in this county three years ago, there were many communities in which the people never came to Tahoka at all. Last year 22 clubs in the county had representatives here attending the short course, and the women and girls of the different communities have been given a common interest in the affairs of the entire county. A cooperative spirit has been developed that has been very helpful. She felt that a county agent would help to develop such a spirit of cooperation among the men of the county in addition to the help he could render farmers in their farm problems. The entire body expressed itself as being highly in favor of the employment by our commissioners' court of a county farm agent.

Mr. Baze pointed out that in the absence of a farm agent, Prof. Tay-

Negro Revival Services Begin

Mrs. Cecil Cichicki of Chicago, suing for divorce, was charged with throwing hot potatoes at her husband, but she declared she would not waste potatoes on him.

Rev. I. G. Green, colored, pastor of a colored Baptist Church in a rural community about fifteen miles west of O'Donnell, and Rev. Wm. Hicks, pastor of a church in Lamesa, were here Tuesday arranging to begin a meeting for the negroes here. The first service was held in the negro school house Tuesday night, and the services will continue throughout the week perhaps longer, conducted by Rev. Green.

The negro church owns a lot here and it is understood that another effort will be made in the near future to build a house of worship or to buy one and move upon the lot.

DISTRICT LEAGUE INSTITUTE IS HUGE SUCCESS

5; Wilson, 5; Seminole, 3; Amberst, 2; Lynn, 1. In accordance with the prevailing hospitable "Spirit of West Texas", 79 of these guests were entertained over night in the homes of Tahoka and community; likewise all delegates were furnished meals during their entire stay.

The sessions, held in the main auditorium, were characterized by splendid teaching, stirring music, excellent attention and an all-pervasive spirit of one-ness and cooperation.

The four departments of the Epworth League work: worship, missions, social service, and recreation and culture were most ably and interestingly taught by the following named faculty, respectively: Rev. R. T. Breedlove, Tahoka; Rev. T. J. Rea, Post; Rev. E. E. White, Lubbock 1st Church, and Miss Lois Clark, Senior President and Hi-League Sponsor, from Post. Much valuable and helpful knowledge was gleaned from these lectures and the accompanying discussions.

Attendants at the night session heard a wonderful message from the address of Rev. Virgil H. Fisher of Lamesa. Following this the hosts escorted their guests to the festively decorated basement where all enjoyed a social get-acquainted hour, interspersed with delightfully planned games and contests, which left no idle moment. Unique prizes rewarded the successful contestants. About one hundred plates of delicious refreshments were served—to the music of Miss Lucille Slaton's violin, accompanied at the piano by Miss Lorene Childers. The League benediction dismissed the guests at a late hour.

Sunday morning at 6:45—that great moment when "the heavens declare the glory of God"—a number of the young people met in an awesomely reverent and beautiful service of worship and prayer. This devotional meeting was led by Adrian Rae, of Post, who impressed his listeners most deeply with the sincerity and fineness of his address.

The house was filled at the church hour to hear the local pastor, Rev. R. T. Breedlove, deliver his masterful and inspirational address on "Clear the Line", preceded by a beautiful solo sung by Mr. Frank Sargent of the Tahoka League.

The "Mountain Peak" of the entire Institute was reached at the close of this service when, in response to the speaker's impassioned plea for life service volunteers, five young people, all from Tahoka Hi-League, came instantly, offering their heart and lives on the altar of Christian service. Pay Slater, Lucille Slaton, Clifton Janak, J. W. Lowrey and Jesse Roberson comprised the group. It was, indeed, a rare privilege to witness so impressive and meaningful a spectacle as was this; and many strong men and women mingled their tears with those of the young volunteers in the joy of their surrender.

At the afternoon session, Miss Eva May, of Levelland, district secretary of Hi-Leagues and Epworth Juniors, gave an interesting talk on her work, and this was followed by the business meeting, presided over by Miss Hazel Morris, of Post, District Secretary whose forethought and careful planning were responsible for the entire Institute. Reports from the various chapters represented gave evidence of splendid service and work being done throughout the district.

Group meetings perfected the organization of the District League Union, and Adrian Rae, of Post, as its president, invited the district to convene at Post for the next quarterly assembly, late in April.

The Institute was closed very impressively by Rev. Breedlove with a brief, inspirational message preceding a short service embodying encouragement and fellowship for the five newly volunteered life service Leaguers, who were joined also by the other two volunteers present; Miss Venoy Coughran of Tahoka Hi and Mr. Adrian Rae of the Post Seniors.

The worshipful old hymn, "Blest be the Tie that Binds" and a prayer very fittingly concluded the two days of splendid fellowship in the work and worship of the Lord.

KIWANIANS HEAR REYNOLDS IN MUSICAL PROGRAM

The Kiwanians were entertained at their luncheon last Wednesday by Virgil Reynolds, who is here as music director for the revival services being held at the Baptist Church. Mr. Reynolds entertained with a number of piano selections, and his wonderful mastery of the keys was greatly appreciated.

Reports of the district meeting held in Plainview last Thursday were made by Dr. Townes, W. O. Henderson, and Supt. M. L. H. Baze. Mr. Baze also spoke briefly on the importance of providing signs at numerous points in the city and along the highways giving information about Tahoka.

DRAW-REDWINE H. D. CLUB REPORTS GOOD MEET

The Draw-Redwine W. H. D. Club met with Mrs. I. N. Standifer on February 24 with Mrs. Standifer as leader. There were twelve members present and one visitor. Two new members were enrolled.

The roll call was answered by each member giving her best method for fly control. The subject discussed was, "The Sanitary Home".

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. D. A. Cook, with Mrs. Cook as leader. The subject to be discussed, "Our Community."

Grassland

School News
Washington's birthday was celebrated in a very interesting and profitable manner in the Grassland community. The pupils, parents and members of the school came prepared for a day of work and play. Ground was prepared for a lawn at the teacherage, trees and shrubs were set out, and flower beds were made. The school ground was cleaned off and the floors of the building were re-oiled.

After enjoying a bountiful dinner brought by the women of the community, everyone assembled to listen to the speakers of the afternoon, Supt. M. L. H. Baze and County Supt. H. P. Cavness of Tahoka. The subject of their talks, consolidation and what it embodies, is a problem that Edith, Magnolia and Grassland communities have now under discussion. Edith and Magnolia were well represented at our afternoon gathering.

This is the second time that Grassland has had a real community gathering on February 22, as we met on that day last year.

Wednesday night, February 22 Miss Zuella Fox, our Superintendent, entertained the High School boys and girls with a Martha Washington party. Everyone was to be dressed as they dressed in Washington's time. Ben Hur Lawson was George Washington and Lucille McCord was Martha.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Walker, Mrs. J. W. Warrick, Mrs. A. A. Lawson, and Mrs. W. B. McCord were chaperones. Ice cream and cherry pie was served. Everyone reported a fine time.

Mr. Aaron Greer has been very sick with pneumonia since last Tuesday. He is improving very slowly.

Ruby Ethel Greer, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Greer has been very sick. We are glad to report that she is getting along fine now.

Sunday night, February 12 an Epworth League was organized at the Methodist Church and the following officers were elected: Miss Zuella Fox, president; Miss Cecilia White, vice-president; Miss Lucille Inklebarger, secretary; Miss Nina Bell Hoover, error agent; Miss Gladys Fox and Miss Sybil Thomas are group captains. On February 24 Miss Gladys Fox was captain and a short program was rendered. The subject was Meditation. Miss Sybil Thomas is captain for next Sunday night. Everyone is invited to attend at 7:30 o'clock every Sunday night.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

It was very gratifying indeed to see the splendid number of boys and girls in the Senior class Sunday morning. We will organize our class Friday night, it being a mixed class. Our greatest trouble in organizing is finding a suitable name. We would appreciate a suggested name for us.

The class meets promptly at 10 a. m. and invites every boy and girl who is not in Sunday school elsewhere to come and enjoy the hour with us.

After our B. Y. P. U. business meeting this week, we intend to make Central B. Y. P. U. the best. Sunday, 25 diplomas were received as the result of a study course the 1st of February. There were 17 Seniors, 2 adults, 3 juniors and 3 intermediate diplomas.

As a church we are proud of these people and we feel that when Mr. T. C. Gardner comes in March that there will be many more ready for the courses to be given.

The Methodist people have organized the Epworth League, and we will miss the Methodist young people who worked so faithful with us but there are tasks in all churches and may they accomplish much in the Master's name.

EDITOR ENJOYS VISIT

The editor, among others, attended the pink boll worm meet in Sweetwater last Saturday. Having been a former resident of Sweetwater, it was with peculiar pleasure that we noted the wonderful growth that the little city is enjoying. A seven-story hotel is under construction, a three-story office building is also under construction, the old jail on the corner of the square is being torn down preparatory to erecting a four-story office building, a new high school and three new ward schools have recently been built, a municipal auditorium, costing $100,000 has been constructed during the past year, a number of business houses and hundreds of residences have been built, and the population of the city has increased at a rapid rate. We met numerous friends and enjoyed our visit to the utmost. There are no better people than those Sweetwater folks. We also noted much improvement at Roscoe, where we also resided for a number of years, and had the pleasure of meeting some of our former friends there, who are among the best people on earth.

Mary Casson, 12-year-old daughter of London stage favorites, has mastered several Shakespearean roles, including those of Lady Macbeth and Portia.

KING FAMILY HAS RE-UNION HERE SUNDAY

Mrs. Florence King was happy last Sunday.

All her children with their families were here in a family re-union at her home. Some friends and neighbors were also present. Each of the families brought in some good things to eat and a great feast was enjoyed at the noon hour. Four children, fourteen grand-children, and four great-grand-children were present. Altogether 31 persons took dinner at Mrs. King's home. They were as follows: Mrs. King herself, Mrs. Zoe Lowrey and her son, J. W. Lowrey; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. King and their children, C. B. King, Florence King, Jack King, Kathleen King, and Kelly King; Mr. and Mrs. Jake King and their daughter, Mrs. Roscoe Word with her husband and two children, Edward Word and Louis Word; and Mr. and Mrs. King's other children, Samuel King, Kate Mae King, Alva King Jr. and Joe Lee King; Mr. and Mrs. G. R. King and little granddaughters, Mary Louise Breedlove, of Levelland, their daughter, Mrs. Cash King of Nashville, Tennessee, and their son Dr. Karl B. King with his wife and little son Karl B. King Jr., of Abilene; Mrs. Mary Sanford, and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Wells of this city.

METHODIST HI-LEAGUE EXTENDS THANKS

The Epworth Hi-League of the Methodist Church desires, in this manner, to express their sincere thanks and appreciation to the good people of Tahoka and vicinity, who so generously extended their hospitality to the guests of the District League Institute last Saturday and Sunday. It is no small achievement to care for one hundred and twenty-five guests, a majority of whom had three or four meals, and seventy nine of whom spent the night. However, on our best information all were comfortably housed and bounteously fed through the courtesy and kindness of the homes represented in the League and the Church and other hospitable hostesses outside our own church.

Again we wish to thank you, and all those others who helped in any way to contribute to the unusual success of the Institute. May you be richly rewarded in the consciousness that: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my children ye have done it unto Me."
Lucille Slaton, Secy.

ITEMS OF THE EDITH SUNDAY SCHOOL

The executives of the Edith Sunday School extend a cordial invitation to the patrons of this district to attend our Union Sunday School next Sunday at 2:30 p. m. for the purpose of electing our teachers and other executives not yet elected.

ABOUT THE WORMS AND THE EXPERTS

The News would not for a moment question the good faith and the good intentions of the heads and members of the state and federal departments of agriculture. Neither would we question for a moment the ability or the knowledge of the entomologists connected with those departments. They are seeking to guard the interests of all the cotton growing sections of this state and nation in their efforts to discover the presence of the pink boll worm here and elsewhere. But we do believe that in their zeal to guard the whole cotton-growing section of this country against a possible boll-worm menace, they too often fail to appreciate the ruin that their proposed measures would work in the infested areas, and sometimes magnify the danger that really exists.

For instance, they tell us that the pink boll worm is the most destructive pest that has ever preyed upon the cotton plant. Yet, the evidence that they have produced is by no means sufficient to justify that conclusion. In the first place, they admit that the pink boll worm does not multiply as rapidly as some of the other cotton pests that have heretofore wrought great damage in Texas and other states. In the second place, they admit that he cannot thrive in such a climate as we have on the south plains. The leaf worm and the old-style boll worm can thrive here and do often work great damage to the crop here. It would seem, therefore, that the pink boll worm will never be able to operate over as wide a territory as some other pests. In the third place, the history of the pink boll worm and his work as given us by these experts shows that in areas long infested they are yet raising large cotton crops. In the Laguna district, in Mexico, in the Big Bend country, in the Pecos Valley, and in El Paso county, in all of which regions the pink boll worm has been operating for the past six or seven years and where the Government has been enforcing only regulatory measures, cotton raisers declare and the worm-experts admit that big cotton crops are being raised practically every year. The worms do some damage but they are not proving very destructive.

Now, in view of the fact that for at least forty years the leaf worm has been making his appearance at frequent intervals, completely destroying the crops in many sections, that the old-style boll worm also frequently does great damage to the crop over wide areas, and that the boll weevil has heretofore swept over much of the cotton raising section of our country leaving devastation in his wake, we do not believe that the experts are justified in maintaining that the pink boll worm, which has not yet done any serious damage in this country, is the most destructive pest known. On the other hand, we believe that the evidence adduced tends to show that he is less destructive than any of these other pests.

In view of these facts, we do not think that the members of the state and federal departments of agriculture should be surprised when the people of west Texas counties, where slight infestation has been found, should resent their proposals to absolutely prohibit the raising of cotton in these counties. Such a course, pursued for a period of two or three years, would drive practically every tenant farmer out of the country, it would render it impossible in many instances for home owners, whose homes are mortgaged, to finish paying out their homes, it would close down gins and bring financial ruin to many gin owners, it would bring about business stagnation and panic that would force many business men into bankruptcy, and it would work an injury to this country from which it could not recover for years. These facts must be evident to any one who is at all familiar with conditions in this country.

The feeling is prevalent, that in view of the slight infestation that has been found in these west Texas counties, and in view of the fact that it is not probable, according to the experts, that the pink boll worm will ever become numerous in west Texas, regulatory measures should be sufficient in any event, and the expenses incurred by reason thereof should be borne by the state and federal governments. To us, this seems fair and reasonable.

With Uncle Sam and the big boys down at Austin all after the pink boll worm, this would seem to be a good year for west Texas farmers to diversify.

Even a frog can gain notoriety.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram apparently sought to leave the impression upon its readers that the Sweet-water boll worm meeting favored the establishment of a non-cotton zone. Nothing could have been farther from the truth. The body was implacably and almost unanimously against the establishment of such a zone. The resolutions adopted, which were framed by those who seemed to be tolerant toward such a proposed policy, in no sense reflected the intensity of feeling against it as manifested by at least nine-tenths of those present. The crowd was intensely hostile to such a proposal. The Star-Telegram staff writer was bound to have known it, but for some reason his story of the meeting indicated that the body was rather friendly to such a proposal. Great newspapers gain and hold respect by publishing the real truth.

A jury at Eastland has decreed that Henry Helms, Cisco bank robber and murderer, should die. It was a just verdict. Terrible it is that a man must pay the death penalty but when a man starts out on a career of robbery and murder, we believe he forfeits his right to live. Hearing the verdict seemingly without emotion, walking back to his cell in silence, his only comment was "They poured it on me." Locked up, he began pacing his cell, evidently suffering from the terrors of death. "Whatever a man sows, that shall he also reap." Crime does not pay.

After a hunt of several weeks by a number of expert hunters, two poor little pink boll worms are said to have been found in Dawson county. The poor little fellows were dead, too. But the Agricultural Departments at Washington and Austin immediately gave out the startling news that 175,000 acres of Dawson county cotton lands were infested with the pink boll worm, and a proposal to prohibit all the farmers of that county from raising any cotton this year is being seriously considered. What a terrible, terrible monster a dead pink boll worm must be!

While the big boys at Washington and Austin are training their booming cannons on the little West Texas pink boll worm, why not take a few pot-shots at the big old Mr. Boll Weevil, greedy old Mr. Leaf Worm and vicious old-fashioned Mr. Boll Worm, who have been making wicked inroads nearly every year on South Texas and Central Texas cotton crops with an occasional threat to come west?

There seems to be much sentiment in this county for the employment of a county farm agent. We believe that our commissioners' court should give the matter serious consideration. Some of our neighboring counties have agents, and when we need one we have to borrow from one of our neighbor counties. We always liked a neighbor who would borrow occasionally—and pay back. We need an agent in our business.

Miss Halsey has been doing much valuable work among the women and girls of the county. We believe that a competent, progressive farm agent could do as good a work for the men and boys. We believe they are entitled to his services. Why not suggest to your commissioners' court that such an agent is needed and desired?

Beaumont has been selected as the convention city for the state convention to be held in May which will select delegates to the Democratic national convention to be held in July Houston and Beaumont! It looks like the Democrats are already hunting the tall timber.

Governor Moody has announced that he will be a candidate for governor again this year. How surprising!

The big question which is bothering the other boys running for the Senate is, "Will Earl prove to be the early bird?"

WORD "TEXAS" IS OF SPANISH DERIVATION

The word "Texas" comes from the Spanish pronunciation "Tejas" of the name of an Indian Tribe. These Indians were encountered by the Spanish under Captain De Leon, who headed an expedition from Mexico into Texas in 1689 to investigate the reported landing of the French. When he arrived at the site of the settlement, which was LaSalle's colony at Fort St. Louis, it had been abandoned but there were several Frenchmen living among the Indians. The Tejas Indians treated De Leon kindly and the territory became known as the land of the Tejas, eventually Texas. The word is said to have meant friendly or hospitable.

NAUSEA
This and Other Troubles Relieved By Black-Draught.
Mrs. Ada Blackmar, of Alexander City, Ala., writes: "From time to time, I would have spells of nausea, which would put me to bed. I would turn a dull, yellow color and, for days at a time, would have no appetite. Everything I ate sickened me. My mother had been a user of Black-Draught for years, so while I was at home, visiting, she asked me why I did not try Black-Draught for my troubles. "I began taking a small dose, three times a day, before meals. I kept this up for several weeks, and it was not a little while before I began to notice an improvement in my condition. "Black-Draught is certainly a fine medicine." You will say the same thing, once you have tried Theodor's Black-Draught. For sale everywhere. 15c.

A box supper will be given at New Lynn School House on March 10 for the purpose of raising funds to make the first payment on a new piano for the school. The proceeds will be used as a cash payment on the piano. We feel that we need some music in our school, and we mothers are going to get behind this and put it over. We also have ten acres of cotton land rented for the benefit of the school and we all intend to work together for the upbuilding of our school. We have fine teachers. The new piano will be there for us to try out, we will have some music, and all candidates are especially invited to come and make short talks and buy some lady's or girl's box. So all you candidates be there. There will be some men from Lubbock there also. So let's all go and be at work on this and make our boys and girls know that we are interested in them. There will be something for the little boys and girls. We don't know yet what it will be, but we will plan something.

We would like for as many as can to come from Tahoka and bring boxes or pies and help us enjoy the occasion. We hope to see a lot of people out that night.

—An Interested Mother.

Burt C. Blanton, industrial engineer of Dallas, estimates that $75,000,000 will be expended in Texas in 1928 for new industrial enterprises. A state that can attract so much of the people's savings must be on the upgrade.

Texas leads the entire country in the gain in value of manufacturing, according to the Texas State Manufacturing Association. The state showed a $300,000,000 increase in this line in 1927.

Broadway To Hear Simmons Band

ABILENE, February 29.—West Texas will be represented on Broadway this summer.

The Cowboy Band of Simmons University, the original and only cowboy band in the world, has been booked by Gilbert Sandefer, manager to appear at the leading theatres of Manhattan from July 1 to September 20.

Previous to the New York engagements, the band will play along the road on the way, being booked by Frank T. Kintzing, nationally known agent who handles engagements for Creators and other large bands. They leave Abilene June 1 in 34 passenger parlor buses to arrive in time for the New York dates.

Sandefer had no difficulty in interesting the theatrical men of the great city in the band. That "cowboy" idea was something new to them and they told the Simmons representative that his band could stay on Broadway as long as it liked.

While in New York, Sandefer also signed a contract bringing Galli-Curci, the world's greatest soprano, to Abilene. She will sing at the university auditorium on the evening of April 2.

Texas Tech Closes Basketball Season

LUBBOCK, Texas, February 29.—The basketball season at Texas Technological College closed this week with a two-game series with the West Texas State Teachers College of Canyon, the games being played in Lubbock. The first game of this series went to Tech by the decisive score of 39 to 29, the first victory which Tech has registered over the Canyon teachers in the three years of athletic relations between the two schools. The second game went to the visitors by the very close score of 36 to 35. The Tech squad under the leadership of Coach Vic Payne has made consistent improvement during the entire season, finishing in top form.

Tech amassed in 19 games a total of 620 points against 555 points by opponents, winning 10 out of the 19 games played.

RICH OSAGES KEEP OLD FUNERAL RITES

Traditional Customs Have Been Little Changed.

Pawhuska, Okla.—While riches from oil have caused the Osage Indians to adopt many of the ways of white men, wealth has had little effect on the tribe's strange burial ceremony.

Except for the use of an expensive coffin, the funeral of an Osage is the same as that of his ancestors many generations ago. Feasting as well as mourning is a part of the rite. After a tribesman's death, relatives and friends remain for several days with the body in the Indian lodge. They have no chairs or beds, but sit or sleep on the wooden floor. The custom permits them to leave quietly and to stay away an hour or two. The coffin is in the center of the room, and paid mourners chant weird tunes in a corner.

When the burial day arrives, the body is placed in a sitting posture and a painter draws lines on the face, each line representing an outstanding benevolent deed. The Indians file by the corpse, and whisper in the dead man's ear the communications they want delivered to relatives who preceded him to the happy hunting ground.

The body is taken to the grave, and after the burial the funeral party returns to the home of the deceased for a feast. Often several heaves are slaughtered for this feast, and many of the white man's best foods also are served. All the guests are expected to eat heartily. The entire tribe and its white friends are invited. The estate of the deceased pays for the feast.

Boat Tied to Wharf for 3,000 Years Discovered

Berlin.—A boat, tied to its landing wharf for 3,000 years, has been found buried under six feet of peat in an ancient bog in upper Suedia, according to Dr. Oscar Parv, a Stuttgart archeologist. It is a dugout canoe about fifteen feet long, hollowed out of the trunk of a giant oak. The sides of the boat were shaved down to a surprising thinness. Several paddles were found in it. A number of earthen vessels and bronze objects found in the turf around it date the boat as of the Bronze age, about 1000 B. C., contemporary with the siege of Troy and the reign of Solomon in Jerusalem.

The boat was found at the end of one of three long wharves, which ran back to the vicinity of the remains of a number of houses. Apparently there was once a village on the edge of the bog, on a solid ground, separated from the open water of the lake by a wide, marshy margin, which could be crossed only by these causeways. When the village site was abandoned, the vegetation in the bog and the lake continued to grow until the lake disappeared and the piling up of the dead leaves and stems buried all the works of the ancient men who lived there and used to go fishing in their dugout canoes.

Ohio Governor's Wife Is Real "Homebody"

Columbus, Ohio.—If there is anything to be done around the Vic Donahy home to make it a little more "homey" Mrs. A. V. Donahy does it herself. She is essentially a home builder.

The Donahys have ten children, and when they moved into the Ohio executive mansion some five years ago there were several children yet under the parental roof, requiring the painstaking care that all growing children do.

The governor's lady raked grass, cut weeds and sowed seed while the sun beat down hotly on their vacation site last summer, and she reveled in it. Then she and the governor decided to build a new cottage on an adjoining lot. So they helped erect a little stucco home with an old-fashioned fireplace in the center of its generous living room.

But when Mrs. Donahy returned to Columbus she adapted herself readily to the mansion's background, receiving in the approved manner at musicales and the like.

130,000 Match Boxes in Bohemian Gate

Neudek, Bohemia.—A gate of 130,000 match boxes is a current attraction here.

The Association of Germans in Bohemia, the largest "verein" of its kind in Czechoslovakia, planned a get-together of all its members. As a special attraction the administrative committee hit upon the idea of constructing a gate of honor entirely of match boxes. Every member of the association was requested to contribute empty match boxes.

It was not long before 130,000 boxes had reached Neudek. Adolf Delmer, a Neudek artist, then constructed the match-box gate, believed to have had no counterpart.

Pink Boll Worm Meeting Is Held At Sweetwater

The whole gathering was held at Sweetwater, Texas. A half dozen men were on the floor at once demanding the resignation of the chair and voicing objection to the resolutions. Amendments were offered and one of them was accepted by the committee. A motion was made to table the whole set of resolutions and the temper of the crowd was plainly in favor of the motion but the chairman declined to do so until the matter should be further discussed, and upon being reminded that if no action whatever were taken at this meeting there was grave danger that other states would adopt quarantine measures against the entire state, the crowd yielded slightly and adopted the amended resolutions. The resolutions adopted opposed any non-cotton zone except as a last extremity. The Sweetwater Reporter gave the most nearly correct report of the meeting of any we have seen, and we quote from it as follows:

Establishment of a non-cotton zone in West Texas as a means to eradicate the pink boll worm must not be made except as a last resort.

Should such a zone be established an immediate special session of the state legislature must be called for the purpose of appropriating funds with which to re-imburse the farmers and allied interests for losses.

In the event a regulated zone be established, all costs of regulatory measures should be borne by the state and federal governments.

The foregoing is in essence the opinion of the farmers of West Texas as expressed in addresses and made formal in an adopted resolution at yesterday's state wide mass meeting here to discuss the pink boll worm menace.

The meeting, called at the instance of Governor Dan Moody, who arrived here at noon to address the gathering in the afternoon, brought to Sweetwater the largest crowd that has ever attended a meeting here. More than 1200 registered and many did not. The Municipal Auditorium was crowded beyond capacity. Even standing room was scarce, and it was estimated that from 1,500 to 2,000 persons were in attendance.

The action of the meeting in adopting resolutions—a matter having no official significance, but designed to express the sentiment of the cotton growers of West Texas—was finally accomplished in a last strenuous hour late in the day, an hour in which misunderstandings developed and the resolutions were saved only by the hardest work. In the end, however, misunderstandings were ironed out, harmony restored and satisfaction over the work of the day expressed in a roaring vote of approval when the call for the vote on the resolution was put.

The extreme importance with which this meeting was regarded by cotton growers, not only of Texas but of other states, was evidenced in the attendance of men from other states. They came from Arizona, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Indiana, Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas, Pennsylvania and California.

Governor Moody's address, in which he committed himself unequivocally to the principle that no radical means of eradicating the pest be used unless absolutely necessary and that the state and federal governments should re-imburse farmers for damages sustained, was preceded and followed by exhaustive speeches and discussions from federal and state officials, scientists and farmers.

Difficulties over the resolutions arose from differences concerning the possible establishment of a non-cotton zone and the placing of the responsibility of bearing the cost of other regulatory methods.

The committee presented the resolutions after some two hours work. Meanwhile the meeting had been thrown into an open discussion, in which representatives from various sections of the state expressed their views. Almost without exception the latter had taken the stand that no non-cotton zone should be established, that it would be ruinous, was unnecessary and would be ineffective because of inability to regulate the pink boll worm across the border in Mexico. They also took the stand that the costs of any other means of control should be met by the state and federal governments.

When the committee brought in its report it declared itself on these two issues in a way that did not meet the approval of the meeting as a whole. The resolutions approved of a non-cotton zone, but only as a last resort. It accepted the principle of a regulating zone, the sterilization of seeds, etc.

Demand was made from the floor that the non-cotton zone be disapproved entirely. The other method was objected to on the grounds that the present state laws do not provide for the payment of any costs of regulation by the state. A motion to table the resolutions was made, and backed with a hearty applause.

Quarantine Dangerous
The sentiment of the meeting was changed, however, when a Mr. Northcut, representing ginning interests in border counties now under regulation, pointed out that such action would be jumping from the frying pan into the fire and would result in bringing quick quarantines against Texas cotton. Half an hour of heated discussion on these points resulted in amendments setting forth the principles that the state and federal governments should pay all costs of any regulations imposed and insure reparations for damages, and that should it be necessary to establish a non-cotton zone a special session of the legislature be called to appropriate funds for the immediate re-imbursement of the farmers.

In this form the resolution was adopted with only three dissenting votes.

RESOLUTIONS:

WHEREAS, we recognize the seriousness of the situation which has been brought about by the advent of the Pink Bollworm into the extreme western portion of the State of Texas.

WHEREAS, the Governor of Texas, the State Department of Agriculture and the Federal Department of Agriculture have shown most commendable interest in the abatement of this threatening menace, and have honored this mass meeting called in Sweetwater, Texas, February 25th by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, for which we express our sincere appreciation.

WHEREAS, the State Pink Boll Worm Commission is now beginning a series of hearings for the purpose of determining the extent and seriousness of the pink bollworm infestation and will make a report as to conditions that are developed by its study and hearings.

WHEREAS, there are two accepted methods of action in combating the Pink Bollworm menace; one is a non-cotton zone, and the other is strictly regulated zone.

If the first method should be absolutely necessary, we express the opinion that it should be invoked only as a last extremity, for these reasons: First, there could be no adequate compensation arranged by the State Legislature during the present year, and it is an accepted fact that cotton growers and allied interests should be compensated in case such a program should be adopted.

Second: The efficiency of a non-cotton zone might be retarded unless Mexico as well as New Mexico and Arizona could be induced to take similar action.

In the case of a strictly regulated zone for the current year, we express the belief that the people would appreciate the seriousness of the situation and would willingly follow instructions and regulations fixed by the State and Federal departments of Agriculture. We believe that fumigation and sterilization is essential in regulatory methods, and in the event these are applied, we would recommend that the departments already named should set up specifications for fumigation and sterilization machines that would be 100 per cent efficient, and require a full compliance in this regard. We also urge that all other regulations be followed by the citizenship of the infested area.

That all costs of regulation be paid by the federal and state governments, or both.

That in event a non-cotton zone is found to be the only alternative, we would accept it only on condition that an immediate special session of the legislature be convened to appropriate funds for re-imbursement of farmers and others suffering from such non-cotton zone.

SHORT COURSE GIVEN AT DRAW

The ladies of Draw and adjoining communities met in the Draw school auditorium on February 22 and enjoyed a day's short course.

An interesting program was rendered by the pupils of the school. Musical selections were given by Mrs. Hamilton Wright and Miss Pearl Edgins. A good talk was made by the district home demonstration agent, Miss Murry, after which dinner was spread and all enjoyed a bountiful feast.

In the afternoon demonstrations were given on rug-making, picture-hanging, arranging of furniture, stains and varnishes for floors and furniture by Miss Murry and Miss Halsey.

Miss Jackson, the home demonstration agent of Dawson county, was a welcome visitor.

During the last year, 5,072 umbrellas were left on trains entering Chicago.

Welcome!

C. OF C. BOARD DISCUSSES MANY VITAL MATTERS

for White, agriculture teacher in the Tahoka High School, has been called upon to assist in terracing possibly 25 or 30 farms in this county. Besides all this he is teaching a class in vocational agriculture at New Home and at Dixie, there being 26 boys in the class at New Home. While Mr. White is glad to assist in doing the terracing work, yet if there were a county farm agent here he could devote much more time to this and other helpful work.

Prof. White, who came in after the above discussion had been concluded, called attention to the necessity for beginning now to get ready for a county fair next fall. Work in behalf of the fair should begin at once, he declared. A list of premiums should be procured at an early date and other preparations made, and we should not wait until a few days before the fair before doing anything and then expect it to be a success. The fair will probably have proper attention in due time this year.

Mr. Wade also suggested that the local chamber of commerce should see to it our highways are properly marked. He called attention to the fact that three national conventions are to be held in Texas this year, the Democratic national convention, the American Legion convention, and some convention of Women which we failed to note. This will bring many visitors to our state over the various highways, he declared, and besides the tourist travel promises to be heavy this summer.

Mr. Wade also urged that much attention be given to the matter of diversification and seed selection. In this connection he adverted to the pink boll worm menace. While he felt that the establishment of a non-cotton zone should be the very last resort, yet unless some regulatory measures were adopted most of the other states will most certainly quarantine against all Texas cotton and cotton seed, and our only market, he claimed, would be the foreign market; our only outlet through Galveston. Therefore, he urged the people of this section to cooperate with the state and federal departments in fighting the pink boll worm.

Mr. Davis approved his position and further pointed out the destructiveness of the pink boll worm in places where he had been unmolested. The members of the local chamber of commerce, with one or two exceptions, expressed no opinion on this matter.

Upon the suggestion of Mrs. Miller, the board extended a vote of thanks to Messrs. Baze, Nance and Craft for the fine manner in which they had prepared for and conducted the sunrise breakfast.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Burleson had as their guest last week, Mrs. A. O. Hill of McKinney, formerly of Lubbock. Mrs. Hill will be remembered as Miss Mildred Meacham, sister of Mrs. E. E. Hately of Lubbock.

Lynn Co. Citizens Attend Boll Worm Meet At Lamesa

Walter Slaton, Bob King, and E. I. Hill of Tahoka and many farmers from various parts of Lynn county attended the pink boll worm meeting held in Lamesa Monday morning.

It had been announced that a formal hearing as to the pink boll worm situation in Dawson county would be had at Lamesa at nine o'clock Monday morning, but on account of the fact that legal publication of the notice for such a meeting had not been made, this hearing was postponed until March 16, when a formal hearing will be held. In lieu of the formal hearing, an informal meeting was held on the court house lawn, where possibly fifteen hundred farmers and business men from Dawson and other counties had assembled to hear the discussions of the pink boll worm situation. Addresses were made by R. E. McDonald, chief entomologist of the state department, Mr. Terrell, commissioner of agriculture, Mr. Farris of Ennis, a member of the pink boll worm commission and by Mr. Nix, a local farmer and planter, who has charge of 10,000 acres of farming lands in Dawson county.

The crowd present was plainly hostile to the idea of a non-cotton zone and possibly a majority of them were hostile to even the establishment of a regulated zone. Much of this hostility, it seems arose from the fact that after the boll worm scouts had spent a total of 117 man-days in research work in Dawson county they had succeeded in finding only two pink boll worms, both of which were dead. To even consider the matter of placing Dawson county in a non-cotton zone upon such meager evidence of infestation seemed so unreasonable and unjust to the citizens of that county as to arouse deep resentment and considerable indignation. This was possibly accentuated by the fact that the pest experts all declared that there was little real danger of the pink boll worm ever doing much damage in his section, on account of the severity of the climate in winter, but that it was necessary to completely stamp out the pest here in order to prevent its spread to other sections of the state. The local citizens felt they were being gasked to make too great a sacrifice for the protection of other cotton growing sections, especially since it is not known that the pink boll worm would become serious menace to those section even if let alone here.

While it does not seem at all probable that a non-cotton zone will be established anywhere in west Texas, it does seem very probable that strict regulatory measures will be applied in Dawson and other counties said to be infested.

So far as we have been able to determine there is no part of the regulatory measures.

After attending the boll worm meet at Lamesa, W. Elliott presented the county for a few days.
