FEDERATION MEETING HERE

Midway Women Act As Hostesses; Attendance Was Good

The Federation of Women's Clubs met at the Methodist church in Tahoka on May 26. The club of Edith and Midway acted as hostesses. As the crowd was increasing, we had no program. All present did justice to the lunch which was served in the afternoon, after which we retired to the parlors, where we spent three hours pleasantly and profitably. I had every mother in Lynn County who enjoyed this program. We will have full attendance at our next meeting. Our aim is to be a mother and mothers, thereby to make better homes. The following program was rendered in a manner peculiarly fitting for the occasion. The speaker was Mrs. A. L. Faubion.

DEATH TAKES MRS. BREWER

Died Sunday And Buried Tuesday; Is Shock To Entire Community

Mrs. Annie Renfro Brewer, wife of G. T. Brewer, died in a sanitarium at Lubbock at six o'clock Sunday afternoon, following an illness of only a few days.

The funeral was conducted from the Brewer residence here Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, followed by interment in the City Cemetery. A great concourse of relatives and friends attended the funeral services, which were conducted by Rev. J. N. Hunt of Decatur, a former pastor of the church.

Mrs. Brewer was born on December 6, 1863, and was therefore 64 years old. Her maiden name was Annie Renfro. She was married to George T. Brewer on November 26, 1879, in Johnson county, Texas. She resided with her husband and family in Johnson county until 1921, when they removed to Tahoka. Mrs. Brewer joined the Baptist Church many years ago and lived a devoted Christian life.

She left surviving her besides her husband, four sons, L. T. Brewer and H. B. Brewer, who reside at Joe Bailey in this county, Earl Brewer of Fort Worth, and Carl Brewer, and two daughters, Mrs. Len Turner of Fort Worth and another daughter of Mansfield. She also left a surviving brother, George Renfro, of Mansfield, and a number of grandchildren and other relatives. One grandson, Seth Brewer, has been residing with her and his grandfather, G. T. Brewer, for a number of years. All the children except Carl and the daughter at Mansfield attended the funeral, together with numerous other relatives from various places in Texas and Oklahoma.

Mrs. Brewer was truly a good woman and had made a host of friends here since removing to Tahoka six years ago. The news joins this great host of friends in extending sympathy to the bereaved relatives and especially to the heart-broken husband, Geo. T. Brewer, and the grandson, Seth, who resided with them.

C. - C. VISITS THREE LAKES

Good Will Evangelists Get Hearty Response; Refreshments Are Served Them

The Tahoka Chamber of Commerce gave a joint program with the people of Three Lakes at that place last Friday night.

W. E. Sikes presided and G. W. Hickerson delivered the welcome address. Response to same was made by the editor. There was a reading by one of the Three Lakes school girls, and Prof. Taylor White made an announcement about the fair to be held here next fall and invited and urged the people of Three Lakes to begin now to prepare for it. Music was rendered by the Tahoka orchestra.

R. P. Weathers then took charge of the program and introduced the candidates. Most of them were there and gave a good account of themselves.

Following the speaking program, refreshments of cake and lemonade were served by the good ladies of Three Lakes.

Three Lakes is one of the finest and most progressive communities in Lynn county and has always been exceedingly friendly to Tahoka, and the Tahoka people received a most hospitable welcome out there Friday night.

The Chamber of Commerce will meet with the people of Midway on Friday night of this week and at Draw on Friday night of next week.

REV. BREEDLOVE GIVES BACCALAUREATE ADDRESS AT DRAW

Rev. R. T. Breedlove, pastor of the Methodist church, preached the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the Draw High School Sunday morning in the presence of a large congregation.

Brother Breedlove reports that there were five members of the class, all girls.

Simmons Launches Drive For Finances

Ablene, May 30.—A drive for $1,500,000.00 to be realized in the next year or two by Simmons University has been announced from the office of the president, Dr. J. D. Sandefer. This is the most extensive single program ever outlined for the West Texas University.

One million of this is to be added to the endowment which stands now at half a million and the other five hundred thousand will be used in constructing more buildings and adding equipment.

In his statement concerning the drive, President Sandefer said that the time had come when Simmons, to serve a growing West Texas, must have more endowment and have more buildings. The twelve buildings now on the campus are taking care of the activities of more than 1,400 students and are taxed to capacity.

STATE TREASURER W. GREGORY HATCHER ANNOUNCES FOR RE-ELECTION

I am asking re-election to the office of State Treasurer, first because I want the office, and secondly because I feel that I can render a service to the people of Texas and believe that they want me to continue as their State Treasurer.

My candidacy is based upon the record I have made and upon the principle that "a public office is a public trust and must not be used for private gain."

MCGONAGILL GIRLS IN AUTOMOBILE COLLISION

Misses Addie Belle and Dorris McGonagill of this city and Miss West daughter of Mrs. W. J. West of Wilson, had a narrow escape from death or serious bodily injury when they were violently thrown from their car upon the pavement near Tech College last Friday night when it collided with another car.

Miss Addie Belle received some bad bruises and cuts on the face and limbs but no bones were broken. Miss Dorris received no injuries further than the temporary shock. Miss West was rendered unconscious for a few moments but soon recovered and was otherwise uninjured.

The young ladies are attending the Tech College and were on their way to the building to do some special work when the accident happened. They were driving along the street when another car suddenly appeared in front of them, apparently having come off the college campus. They were within a few feet of the car when it was discovered and were unable to stop their car quickly enough to avoid a collision. The front of their car struck the other on the side, and both cars were badly wrecked.

The young ladies were all able to return to school Monday morning.

Methodist Pulpit Filled By Visitors

In the absence of Rev. R. T. Breedlove Sunday morning, Rev. J. P. Hardesty spoke in the interest of the West Texas Children's Welfare Association at Abilene. He spoke at the Baptist church in the same cause at night. Brother Hardesty was formerly pastor of the First Baptist Church at Slaton.

Mr. W. P. Knox, South Plains Area Boy Scout Executive, delivered a very splendid address to the congregation at the Methodist church Sunday evening at 8:30 in the interest of Boy Scout work.

The three-fold work of the Boy Scouts of America was fully and entertainingly discussed by this very accomplished and able speaker. Mr. Knox was for some time connected with the Regional Staff in Arizona, New Mexico, and Texas, before going into the work in the South Plains Area.

SOUTH WARD LADY DIES IN LUBBOCK SANITARIUM

Mrs. Willie Holland Walker, wife of G. H. Walker, residing in the South Ward community, died in a Lubbock sanitarium Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock after a lingering illness.

The remains were brought to Tahoka by Harris & Applewhite and were laid to rest at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the Tahoka cemetery. Rev. R. T. Breedlove, pastor of the Methodist Church, conducted the funeral.

Mrs. Walker was born March 18, 1884, and was therefore 44 years of age. She left a husband and two or three children surviving her. She was a devoted member of the Baptist Church and was a lovable Christian character.

The bereaved family have the sincere sympathy of a host of friends.

MARVIN JONES SPEAKS IN TAHOKA FRIDAY NIGHT

The News has received a communication from Hon. Marvin Jones, Congressman from the eighteenth congressional district, announcing that he will speak in Tahoka Friday night, June 1.

Congress having adjourned Tuesday, it is presumed that Mr. Jones left for Texas immediately, and Tahoka will be one of the first, if not the first, speaking appointments in his campaign for re-election.

The speaking will be in the district court room and will begin at 8 o'clock p. m. Everybody cordially invited, and this includes women as well as men.

AMERICAN LEGION ARE GUESTS OF KIWANIS

About a dozen members of the American Legion were guests of the Kiwanis Club at its luncheon Wednesday. In the absence of a regular program, an impromptu program consisting of songs and brief speeches was improvised, and the boys say they had a good time.

PLANNING TRIP TO FORT WORTH

Tahoka Expects To Have Good Representation At Annual C. of C. Convention

Preparations are now being made by the Tahoka Concert Band and the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce for a large delegation to go from Tahoka to the meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Fort Worth on June 18-19-20.

The band has just recently procured new uniforms, and those who have seen them say they are swell. This uniform consists of white trousers for the men, white skirts for the ladies, green capes with red lining and red collars, and headgear to match. At the recent district meeting at Lamesa, Tahoka's band was one of the very best there but its lack of uniforms detracted very materially from its popularity. With brilliant uniforms and stirring music, the Tahoka band promises to be one of the best at the big Fort Worth meeting.

There are twenty-two members of this band, and Mr. Bowron states that transportation has not been secured for all of them yet.

Any person who can furnish transportation for one or more members of the band will please report to Mr. Bowron at an early date. A large number of Tahoka people should attend the Fort Worth meeting, and it is said that large numbers are preparing to go. J. E. Nance says that the Tahoka fire boys will have at least 4 representatives there.

There will be many splendid bands and much music at the Fort Worth meet. There will be lengthy and spectacular parades. All the towns of the South Plains are preparing to form one glamorous, impressive section in the line. Many Tahoka people should be there to help swell the numbers and let Fort Worth and all Texas know that Tahoka is on the map.

Besides, the three days program of speaking and discussions will probably be the best ever staged by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. These programs will be given in the spacious auditorium of the First Baptist Church, Frank Norris' church, with a seating capacity of about six thousand. Among the notables on the program will be former Governor Pat Neff of Waco, Governor Moody, Henry W. Ives, Vice-president of the Insurance Clearing House of the U. S., James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, and others. Congressman Fritz Lanham of Fort Worth will present the present Texas delegation in Congress. There will be numerous amusements at Lake Worth and at other places in the city. There promises to be "something doing" all the time, and no one needs to spend a dull moment while there.

Are you going? If so notify Monte Bowron or Mrs. Paul Miller, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

MORE RAIN FALLS

Heavy showers fell in portions of the county Sunday. At Grassland and over much of the eastern portion of the county, the rainfall was considerable, varying from a half inch to more than an inch. O'Donnell and Wilson were both in the rain belt. On Tuesday night another shower fell north and northwest of Tahoka. There was only a very light shower at Tahoka Sunday and again Tuesday night.

A DOUBLE VICTORY OF DOUBTFUL VALUE
The press reports all say that Moody won a great victory at Beaumont—a double victory. He first whipped the "bone-drys" and then the "dripping wets." He enlisted the aid of the "wets" in order to lick
Tom Love and the Constitutional Democrats. Then he joined forces with the Constitutionalists to put his former allies to rest, John Boyle and the Al Smith forces.

In winning the victory over Tom Love and his cohorts, he brought down upon his head the anathemas of that faction. Then when he trained his guns upon the Smith forces, he brought from them cries of
"treachery," "double-crossing," etc.
He doubtless made political and personal enemies among both factions
that may cost him dearly in the future.
He won the things he had been fighting for, but if it was at a terrible cost. Such another victory would mean disaster.

What were the net results of the fight? First, an unstructured delegation was sent to the Houston convention. Second, very few Smith men were placed on the delegation and they are bound by the unit rule.
Moody prevented instructions against Al Smith and then kept Al Smith
men for the most part off the delegation. The delegation is instructed for a dry platform and a dry candidiate.

In order to enlist the support of the Smith faction and to defeat the Tom Love faction, which desired to instruct against Smith, Moody told the Smith people that he favored the selection of delegates to the national convention by the respective congressional districts. The Smith forces joined with him therefore in organizing the convention and helped him elect W. L. Dean, author of the Texas dry law, as temporary chairman. Then, near the close of the convention, in order to prevent the Smith men from controlling the delegation to the national convention, he interrupted a roll call on the Ball resolution to explain that while he favored, in principle, the selection of delegates by the respective congressional districts, yet he found that the only way of assuring a dry delegation to the national convention was to ignore this principle for the time being and let the entire convention name this delegation. He favored the Ball resolution, therefore, which provided that the chairman should name a committee on delegation. When Moody took this position the Smith
men became furious while the Love men and the drys generally went wild. The Ball resolution was adopted and the committee appointed.
Moody sat with this committee and helped to hand-pick the delegates.

In justifying his course, Moody stated on the floor of the convention that he had promised the people of Texas that a dry delegation should be sent to the national convention,
and that so far as he was concerned the Texas delegation never should vote for Al Smith.

There are many therefore who are saying that this declaration together with the final action of the convention was tantamount to instructions
against Smith, and that in substance Tom Love and those who fought with him were the real victors.

There are others who claim that in the final outcome far more Smith
men were found on the delegation than the Smith forces were entitled to, and that the Smith men, considering the fact that they were in a hopeless minority in the convention,
won a signal victory.

Since Moody heads the delegation, and since he has declared himself as unalterably opposed to Smith, and since a majority of the delegates are dry, and since the delegates are bound by the unit rule, it does not appear to us that there is much point to this contention. It seems probable that the Texas delegation will stand solidly against Smith until all hope of preventing his nomination has vanished or until he is hopelessly defeated. In view of this situation, we find ourselves asking the question: Why did Moody feel it necessary to stump the state opposing instructions against Smith? Why did he take a course that could have no other result than to divide the drys and give aid and comfort to the wets? Why did he bitterly denounce and oppose those who were seeking to make it impossible for the Texas delegation ever to vote for the nomination of Smith? Why did he line up with the Smith faction, or encourage the Smith faction to line up with him, in the Beaumont convention, to defeat the anti-Smith bitter-enders, when he knew that if the proposition ever came to a showdown he would be compelled to desert his Smith allies and line up with the anti-Smith bitter enders himself?

We believe that in all these respects Moody made a serious blunder.
If he had striven from the first to keep the dry forces working together in a solid phalanx, there would have been no occasion for him to court or to accept the assistance of the Smith forces in the Beaumont convention. The dry forces would have been united and in complete control throughout. The Smith forces would never have had a look-in.
He would never have been placed in an "embarrassing" situation. He would have had no occasion to incur the ill will of any of the drys. He would have never been placed in a position where he was compelled to desert his allies and to lay himself liable to the charges of "treachery,"
and "double-crossing", on the part of the Smith men.

But, having gotten into this predicament, we honor Dan Moody for having the courage to finally decide the issue aright. We honor him for raising his voice and turning his influence in favor of the Ball resolution, which insured a dry delegation to the national convention. This courageous and heroic decision merits the plaudits of the people of Texas. Dan Moody has made some grievous blunders, but he is a most honorable, courageous, manly gentleman and we believe that he is yet destined to do great service for the people of Texas.

SMITH WILL BE THE PLATFORM

If there are any Lynn county Democrats still laboring under the delusion that the nomination and election of Al Smith will portend no danger to national prohibition, such Democrats should be getting their eyes open. It is not the plans of the "wets" to raise any disturbance over prohibition until after the shall have nominated Al Smith. In fact, it is the plan to lull the "drys" to sleep and keep them asleep until after the Houston convention. As evidence of this, we call attention to a United Press dispatch from Washington dated May 21 and published in the Dallas News of the same date, from which we quote as follows:

"No such scene (as in New York in 1924) will be made at Houston if the leaders can control the convention. The only platform controversy in sight now is over prohibition and unless the Southern drys demand more than in previous years, everything will be as peaceful as a convention of cooing doves.

"Smith's managers have definitely put aside the idea of trying to commit the party to modification of the Volstead act. They want only a law enforcement plank. Smith has his own ideas and he doubtless will advocate them if he should be nominated. But it is not in the cards to open this fight at the convention.

"What the Smith group wants now
above everything else is harmony.
That is the reason Smith has refused to enter any pre-convention speaking campaign. Once he talked on a presidential issue he would be forced to state his attitude on prohibition,
which would fan the controversy.

"Democratic leaders are giving thought now to the platform. They hope to make it short and very general. No novel proposals which might disturb political currents will be permitted to get into it.

"I hope we can keep it short
this time", said one Democratic Senator who has undertaken to draft a tentative platform at the suggestion of the Smith group. "I don't believe the platform will amount to much.
Smith is going to be the issue. Other questions will be incidental. The country will decide this election on the basis of the two men nominated, not on specific issues. The voting will be for or against Al Smith. His personality and his record will be the platform of the party.

This states the situation accurately, in our opinion. Smith and the wets are to keep mum on prohibition until after he shall have been nominated. They are to soft-pedal prohibition in the platform. They will even put in a plank for the enforcement of all laws, without specifically naming prohibition probably.
But "Smith has his own ideas and he will doubtless advocate them if he should be nominated." After the nomination, or at any rate after Smith shall have been elected, the tiger will show his teeth and his claws. "His personality and his record will be the platform of the party,"
and his record is as wet as the Atlantic Ocean. The written platform is to be silent on prohibition,
but Smith himself is to be the platform, and Smith is the very incarnation of anti-prohibition.

He is credulous indeed who can be made to believe that prohibition is not involved in this campaign. Prohibition is at stake.

STRAIGHT ROADS WILL PAY

As stated in last week's issue, we are now releasing the Lynn County News on the subject of straight roads for Texas. The question will naturally be asked: "How can Texas afford to build such roads?" The answer is: "How can Texas afford to do without straight roads?"

When two of our largest cities are connected by a broad street over 200 miles long it makes room for thousands of small homes and furnishes an easy outlet in two directions to the ever-growing city markets. These proposed long, straight, safe highways connecting up our largest cities and towns will help the farm and ranch dwellers more than any other class of people and life is too short to waste it shooting down a hill at a political burr who tries to kick his way into office on such imaginary issues.

In a town or city when a pavement is built in front of property the owner of the property must pay all or the main part of the cost of the pavement but when a piece of rural property is doubled in value by a similar improvement it carries no higher rate of taxation than land utterly remote from and devoid of highway facilities. Instead of any such a just and equitable distribution of the costs the owners of much worthless real estate are allowed to saddle the cost of making it valuable for town lot purposes onto the traveling public.

As he shed his first rays upon the flower-decked prairie and cross-hatched hills, and beheld his rays reflecting in the dewdrops, concealing the fantastic view into the ocean of diamonds. Beneath the molten mass of electric lights, flashed from brilliant chandeliers in the midst of costly furnishings, we have knelt upon Gaiety Brunells and paid our court as the shrine of the fairest of society belles. We have sat in the legislative halls and witnessed the meeting of gladiators in the forum of debate and have heard the clink and clash of their rapiers of logic wit and humor, which sounded like the roaring of a mighty river.

Coming closer home we find that through no fault of our own we have highway problems of the most intricate kind. As long as the great Number Nine highway stays in Lynn county, it runs on pretty straight lines but when we cross the line either way our troubles soon begin. The airline distance from Lamesa to Big Spring is about forty-five miles but the crooked highway makes it fifty-six. From Big Spring to Sterling City is forty miles straight and fifty miles around the highway. To straighten this road would save almost a half-million dollars on the cost of paying it besides the enormous daily saving to the traveling public in tire and engine wear, gasoline, time and safety.

Quit blowing bubbles and start building homes. We hope there isn't anybody so hard-boiled that he can pass up a blooming red rose without a salute.

For our part, we like em so much that we make trellises to hold em up, while they're climbing around and making themselves nappy and the town more beautiful. Doesn't cost much to stick up a couple of trellises for your roses to ramble over. See us about it.

WHAT WED RATHER DO. We've traveled over the world a great deal in our time. We have looked into the faces of beautiful women and felt the warm pressure of their jeweled hands and have been charmed with their dazzling beauty and entranced with the music of their silvered tones. We have walked through some of America's most famous art galleries and beheld the masterpieces of the world's renowned painters and sculptors. We have strolled through great temples of art and have been awe-struck with their magnificence and splendor. We have climbed snow-capped mountains and we have stood and looked at their towering cliffs and listened to the music of the roaring cataracts and splashing waterfalls of scenic Colorado. We have ridden upon the rolling billows of the Pacific and have stood upon the deck of a great ocean steamer at eventide and caught a glimpse of the last rays of the setting sun as he lay down to rest in his watery couch and tucked about him the mantles of night. We have sat in the grand opera, where age, beauty and wisdom were congregated and listened to the world's best singers. We have sat in the elegant pews in fashionable churches, and heard the gospel of the lowly Nazarene fall from the eloquent lips of classical divines. We have stood upon the green hills of the beautiful west at early dawn and drank the perfume of wild flowers and have been thrilled by the music of God's washing

Lakeview

After the rain all of the farmers are rushing to get their cotton in the ground. A little boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Roy O. Nettles last week. Both baby and mother are doing nicely.

Mrs. Lois Newman went to Floydada with Mr. and Mrs. Murry Nettles this past week on a visit. There is a great deal of whooping cough in through this part of the country but think they will soon be over it.

A little baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Speckman this last week. A little baby girl was also born to Mr. and Mrs. Stokes.

There were not very many out to Sunday school and prayer meeting Sunday and Sunday night, but we suppose it looked too much like rain. Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Gregory of Littlefield were visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wright Saturday and Sunday. While they were there Mrs. Tredway fell out the back door and broke her left arm but it was not hurting her so very bad Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wright of Lorenzo were visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wright last Saturday and Sunday and Sunday night and Juanita Campbell went home with them to stay a few weeks.

Mrs. J. K. Wisdom has been in bad health but we hope she will soon be well. Miss Della Lynch was down at Lakeview Sunday evening and she and Bryan Wright came up to the Bryan home and stayed awhile. We were proud to have her with us.

Miss Beulah Harmonson has returned to her home. She has been at Southland going to school. Miss Jewell Bartlett and Miss Flora Della Smith spent Sunday with Miss Edna Maye Wright.

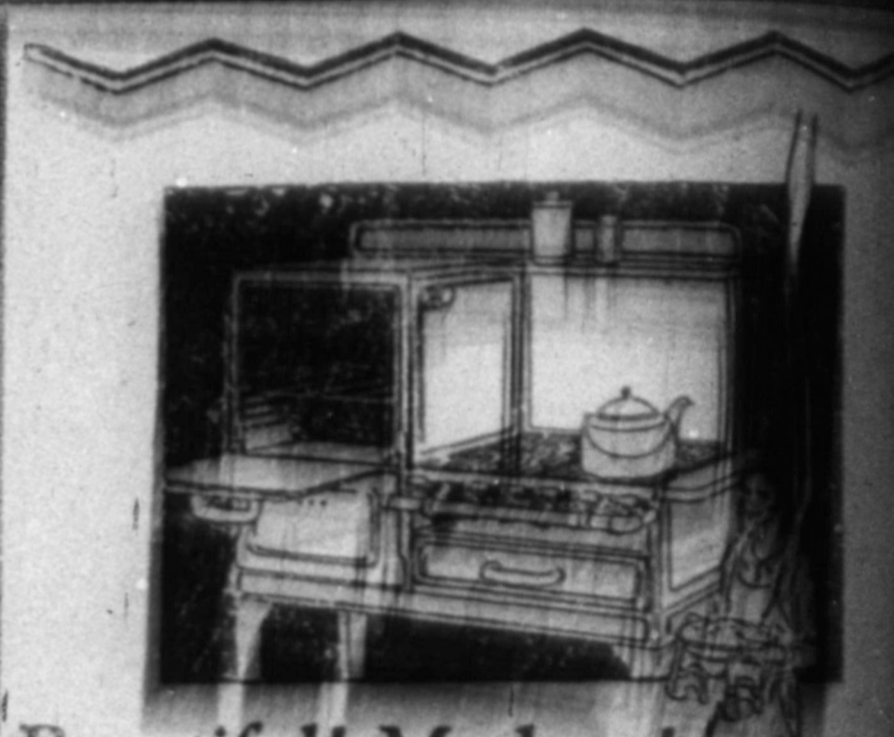

Mr. Johnnie Baggett is talking of going to Littlefield when they start building on the college but it will be a month or more before it will start.

Just as "it's the little things in life that count", so also it is the little things in a store that count. Possibly, the "little things" sometimes seem nerve-racking nuisances, but if it wasn't for them, think how many less people would come into your store, get acquainted, and some day come back for bigger, more profitable-to-you things. If people only went into a luggage store to buy an expensive bag or trunk, how many would enter in a day? But the small handbags and pocket-books draw many customers, who, satisfied, come back when needs are larger. The man is true, whether you run a grocery store, paint store, jewelry store or what not. Treat the purchaser of the smallest item you have for sale with the same consideration as if she were buying your most expensive article. Wichita Price Current. Lubbock-The South Plains Post.

When you hire us to do the washing, you are not put to the expense or bother of feeding us. We eat nothing. Neither do we ask you to come after us nor bring us back home. Instead we eat for and deliver washing. We buy our own soap stock and bluing. We also heat our own water and there is no picking up after us. We take all the messy work out of your home and give you an extra day to do the things you like to do. Moreover you will find our charges most reasonable, in fact much cheaper than you can do it at home. Try us and see.

As hinted in last week's issue, 'we' are now releasing one from Uncle Pete on the subject of straightline roads for Texas.

It is only 230 miles straight from Dallas to Houston, the two leading cities of Texas, but the shortest rail distance is around 300 miles.

men nor does any city dweller love to drive on a good wide, straight, safe highway more than do their rural friends who in one form or another have the motorbug pretty well developed.

Coming closer home we find that through no fault of our own we have highway problems of the most intricate kind. As long as the great Number Nine highway stays in Lynn county it runs on pretty straight lines but when we cross the line either way our troubles soon begin.

Coming still closer home we find that an airline from Tahoka to San Angelo is forty miles shorter than the existing highway. Such a road would cut right through the thriving little town of Draw and the county seat town of Gail and make Tahoka the most accessible railroad town to thousands of people who now buy elsewhere.

TOM CONNALLY

Excerpts from Opening Speech
"The industrial sections have been made prosperous at the expense of the farmer. The stock market is prosperous. Securities of the great corporations are active. The manufacturing centers are growing richer and richer. The farming sections have been growing poorer and poorer. The discrimination against agriculture must be destroyed. The Connally bill takes the tariff off the farmer's back and give him sound and real and workable relief."

"In the World War American boys from every section of the Republic answered the summons, and on every field in Europe, from Cantigny to the forests and ravines and wire entanglements of the Argonne, blazed a pathway of glory. They gathered up the richest garlands of victory and laid them at their country's feet. Thousands sleep on the hillsides where they fell. Other thousands, in their maimed and broken bodies will bear all the way to the tomb the badge of their courage and their sacrifice for their country. Others are infirm and ill from the seeds of disease contracted in camp and in the trenches. Our great Republic must not be ungrateful to its heroic defenders. In times of peace we must adequately provide for those who served and suffered in times of war."

"I would not give the life of one American boy from an American home for all the concessions in Nicaragua. The blood of the American boys is too dear to pour it out in the wilderness of Nicaragua in Guerilla warfare."

"Powerful lobbies, through propaganda, through political pressure and by the seductive blandishments of personal and political assistance and advantage, seek to influence members of the House and Senate. As your Senator, I shall oppose the granting of special favors and shall resist the efforts of the paid or secret lobbyist to secure them."

"I am a Democrat. I shall support the nominee for President of the Democratic National Convention at Houston, whoever he may be. It has been my uniform practice to support the nominee of my party."

"Today the American people are confronted by the tremendous issue of corruption in high office. In 1921 the Republicans came into power. They made haste to plunge into an orgy of bribery and conspiracy. They made merchandise of the oil resources of the nation. The reserves pledged to the nation's defense in time of war were bartered for gold, corroded with shame."

"The Democratic party is the only hope of redemption of the public honor. Honesty and public purity are eternal issues. On those issues a united Democracy deserves to win. A united Democracy can win. There is no place in the United States Senate for a Texas Democrat who votes with the enemies of Democracy."

"One of the dearest traditions of America is that its constitution guarantees to every citizen religious freedom, free press and free speech. Secrecy in government is contrary to the genius of a free people."

"The courts, legislative halls and agencies of government ought to be conducted without the mask of secrecy. There should be no chamber the people cannot enter. There should be no whispered words that the ear of the people cannot hear—no screen behind which the eye of the people cannot see."

"If elected, I shall be the servant of all the people and not the tool of any secret or sinister master. My country and its people shall be my only masters."

"A station so great challenges all that is finest and best in one who counts it an honor to serve his country and whose ambition is to advance the interest of his countrymen."

Years of Service in Model T Fords

Expenditure of few dollars may enable you to get thousands of miles from your old car

THE Model T Ford is still a great car. It led the motor industry for twenty years and it is used today by more people than any other automobile. More than eight million Model T Fords are in active service in city, town and country, and many of them can be driven for two, three and five years and even longer at very small up-keep expense.

The cost of Model T parts and of necessary labor is unusually low because of established Ford policies.

New fenders, for instance, cost from $3.50 to $5 each, with a labor charge of $1 to $2.50. Tuning up the motor and replacing commutator case, brush and vibrator points costs only $1, with a small charge for material. Brake shoes can be installed and emergency brakes equalized for a labor charge of only $1.25. A labor charge of $4 to $5 will cover the overhauling of the front axle, rebushing springs and spring perches, and straightening, aligning and adjusting wheels.

The labor charge for overhauling the average rear axle runs from $5.75 to $7. Grinding valves and cleaning carbon can be done for $3 to $4.

A set of four new pistons costs only $7. For a labor charge of $20 to $25 you can have your motor and transmission completely overhauled. Parts are extra.

All of these prices are approximate, of course, because the cost of materials needed will depend on the condition of each car. They show, however, the low cost of putting the Model T Ford in shape for thousands of miles of additional service.

See the nearest Ford dealer, therefore, and have him estimate on the cost of re-conditioning your Model T Ford. He will tell you, in advance, exactly how much the complete job will cost.

T-Bar

We surely are getting lots of pretty, warm sunshine over here, after all of that good rain.

Everyone surely is busy in the crops. Some are planting while others are knifing. It won't be long before these young school chaps who are now having their vacation will be swinging the old gooseneck. That is when the fun begins.

There was a large crowd at Sunday School. Brother Weems did not get to fill his appointment here Sunday eve on account of the rain, which caught him between O'Donnell and T-Bar, which caused a delay.

Mr. Pat Weems and daughter Fannie came up from Fluvanna Saturday evening, visiting relatives.

We were mistaken about Mrs. D. Henderson leaving last Tuesday, but she returned home with them Sunday.

Mr. Jim Adams is visiting relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Harlan from Hansford, California, were here the past week end visiting Mrs. H. W. Crews. They are enroute for Jewett, Texas.

Miss Ruby Collins was here last week from Lubbock, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham. Miss Collins is a trained nurse in a Lubbock sanitarium.

Apple Blossom

Edith

Most every farmer in our community is planting since the good rain, but we think everyone will be through by the last of this week.

Quite a few of the patrons met at the school house Saturday night to discuss building an addition to the school building, which will be needed next year.

Several people from Edith attended the singing convention at Central last Sunday. We had our Sunday School at 10 o'clock last Sunday morning so every one could attend the singing convention. Next Sunday it will begin at the regular time, 2:30. Then at 3:30 Rev. R. T. Breedlove will preach. Everyone is invited to come each Sunday.

The singing at Mr. Lindly's Sunday night was well attended and enjoyed by all.

Next Sunday night the singing will be at the school house. Every one come in a singing notion.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Freeman and Mrs. Dunn from Floydada were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Campbell Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas of New Moore visited Mr. and Mrs. Downey and family Sunday.

We are glad to hear of the improvement of Mrs. C. W. Krebs. We hear she is to come home soon.

Our teachers will soon leave for the summer school. We will miss them but hope to have them back with us next fall.

Three Lakes

After two weeks vacation we are back again, but not very new.

Very few had to plant their crops over on account of the heavy rains; and there is one of the best and most perfect stands of cotton in this part of the country that I have ever seen.

Sunday night the singing at Mr. G. W. Hickerson's was enjoyed by a large crowd of friends and neighbors.

Clint Sikes went to Lubbock the other day to see the ball game between Abilene and that place.

Jake Ellis was in O'Donnell one day this week on business.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sikes and family and Miss Dollie Johnson visited Mrs. Emma Moore and husband in Lubbock last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Dulin from Wilson were visiting in our midst Sunday afternoon.

J. Wright Edwards and family spent Saturday night with friends in Tahoka.

Wash Johnson and Hugh McLaurin went to O'Donnell one evening this week.

Miss Thelma Hickerson has returned to her home from Wichita Falls, in which city she has taught school the past session. It is hoped that Miss Thelma will teach in this county, as we hate to see good teachers go away.

Well, the speaking by the county candidate last Friday night at the school house was fine—didn't know we had such orators. And I will put it up to them if Three Lakes didn't show them a time.

ELECTION NOTICE

Whereas the city council of the city of Tahoka on May 22, 1928, passed a resolution, acting upon petitions presented to the council asking that the night watchman be put under supervision of said city and be required to carry a clock and have a punch station, in order to reduce the insurance rate, and in petitions presented W. S. Swan and W. M. Lee were applicants for the position, it was provided in said resolution that the night watchman be elected by the people;

Now, therefore, by virtue of authority vested in me as Mayor, I hereby call an election to be held on June 14, 1928, for the purpose of electing a night watchman for the city of Tahoka.

G. W. Knoy is appointed manager of said election, who shall select his judges and clerks and hold said election and make returns to the city Secretary as required by law.

Given under my hand and seal of office this 28th day of May, A. D. 1928.

WHAT ABOUT OUR POTASH?

The secretary of our chamber of commerce has been asking this question recently. Having been given assurances many months ago that potash exists under the surface in some of our lakes and that a part of the funds appropriated by Congress a year or two ago to make potash tests in portions of West Texas would probably be expended in Lynn county, our chamber of commerce secretary recently wrote Senator Morris Shepherd about the matter, and she had a communication from him this week advising that he had taken the matter up with the United States Geological Survey with a view to seeing what can be done.

None of this appropriation has been expended on tests in this county yet, and we doubt if any of it will be so expended, since those who are spending this money seem to have their eyes turned toward some of the counties southwest of here along the Texas & Pacific. But according to seemingly authentic reports made several years ago, there is plenty of potash in Lynn county. It may be developed within the next few years or it may be a century hence. Who knows?

OUR UNMARKED HIGHWAYS

The tourist season has opened with a rush, and already our visitors are severely criticizing our unmarked highways. In nearly every other other State in the Union highways are marked with metal shields at every intersection, even though the crossroad is no more than a right-of-way to some farm house back in the field. Every curve, every dip, and every bridge is designated, and numbers on markers are large enough and so located that they may be easily seen and recognized while cars are moving at high speed. These highways are marked through the cities, and travelers pass on without having to stop and make inquiry at every block.

How different it is in Texas. Occasionally one sees a little star with a small number painted on the end of a bridge, or on some broken-down standard over at the extreme edge of the right-of-way. One must stop and adjust his glasses, to see the number, and then it means but little to him for in Texas we are not accustomed to designating our roads by numbers in giving travelers directions. We follow the old time horse and buggy style of telling travelers how to reach their destination, and they must ask because there is no other way out of their difficulties, even though they laugh or cuss, as the case may be, at our answers.

We tell tourists to take the "Jimtown road", go east until they cross a bridge and then travel about four miles and turn south. Or we say, Follow the pike until you come to a school house and then ask somebody else. It is almost impossible for strangers to drive through our cities. In Dallas, for instance, there is not a single highway marked through the city, or even in the county. We do not go by number, which is customary in other States. We have a Jimtown road, sometimes called the Duncanville pike. We have the Dallas-Fort Worth pike, but it takes a stranger all day to find out where it has a beginning at the city limits. We have the Greenville road; the Richardson pike; Beckley highway; Second avenue road, and a dozen other highways all designated by local names, and no one outside of the city knows where they start, or in which direction they lie. Very few citizens can direct a stranger properly, and he would become confused if directions were correctly given. Thousands of citizens find difficulty in locating highways leading out of their own city.

Why should Texas be so slow in properly marking highways. If we are as progressive and snappy here in Texas as we claim we are, why not get busy right now and place markers at necessary and convenient points on every highway in the State?—Farm and Ranch.

Fresno, Calif.—Alexander Kisch is known as the best chicken doctor in San Joaquin Valley. He makes a diagnosis by listening to the feeble cluck of a sick fowl or passing his fingers over the feathers. He cannot look the chicken over, for he is blind, but he has developed the sense of touch to an astonishing degree. A sudden explosion left him sightless 12 years ago, when he held the best job in a California sugar mill. He now moves about his small farm without a guide. The plant he designed is capable of producing a thousand fat broilers at a clip, and dozens of eggs daily. He is competing with poultrymen who can see, and many who come to him for advice think him a leader in his field.

500,000 Chevrolets Put On Road in '28

Detroit, Mich., May 23—More than a half million new 1928 Chevrolets were on the road by the end of the fourth week in May, H. J. Klinger, General Sales Manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, announced here today.

This establishes a record high figure for the public acceptance of a new model, since never before in the history of the industry has such a volume of new models been delivered in a similarly short space of time, Mr. Klinger pointed out.

It also is more than 100,000 units in excess of the corresponding performance of the company in 1927, he said.

In view of this new record, and the fact that the peak selling season has just got under way, the entire Chevrolet organization felt unbounded enthusiasm over the prospect that this year's performance will comfortably surpass the 1927 record, and that trucks will be in operation on the more than a million new cars and highways and boulevards of the United States alone before the close of 1928. Reports of retail deliveries for the first four months this year, plus the estimated figure for four weeks in May, indicate that the domestic Chevrolet organization, with General Motors of Canada and General Motors Export, delivered approximately 500,000 Chevrolets to date, Mr. Klinger stated.

Every month showed a consistent gain over the corresponding period of last year, according to Mr. Klinger. The average per month gain being above 20,000 units, with the result that deliveries to consumers the first five months of 1928 were nearly on a par with deliveries for the first five months last year.

This performance was made, Mr. Klinger asserted, through the wise seeing policy of the company in planning its production facilities so that cars might be immediately available to the public everywhere.

When Wheat Goes Up FLOUR COSTS MORE
When Leather Costs More SO DO SHOES

Last July, cash wheat was $1.35 a bushel—flour $8.45 a barrel. During the last week in April, cash wheat was $2.20 per bushel—flour $11.60 a barrel.
 Wheat advanced 82c a bushel—flour $3.15 a barrel.
 Now let's talk about shoes.
 Leather is a by-product principally from beef animals.
 Less than 30 years ago there were over 45 million beef cattle and less than 78 million people in the United States. In 1927, there were less than 36 million beef cattle to supply the leather to make the shoes for 120 million people.
 The supply of beef cattle has decreased nearly 10 million and the population has increased 43 million.
 The World War created an enormous demand for beef to feed the world armies. The number of beef cattle increased correspondingly. This meant more hides and skins, temporarily.
 When the war ceased and the armies disbanded, the demand for beef decreased. With enormous supplies of raw and finished hides on hand, the price of leather went down—so did shoes.
 The surplus hides and skins accumulated during the war have all been used. There is a greater demand for hides and skins and leather today than ever before—
 And the supply is more limited.

"Star Brand Shoes Are Better"

Is it to be wondered that sole leather hides cost 70 per cent more today than a year ago—and upper leather hides 75 per cent more?
 This increased cost of leather must be reflected in the price of shoes—and that is why good leather shoes have advanced in price.
 The best shoes are made of solid leather. A "Star Brand" solid leather shoe will wear longer than shoes with paper or pasteboard in the heels, counters, soles and insoles.
 You have never found leather substitutes in these vital parts of a "Star Brand" shoe.
 If anyone tells you that you can buy as good a shoe today for $3.00, $5.00 or any other given price as you could a year ago for the same price, beware!!
 The shoe was either priced too high last year, or it has been cheapened in the meantime. You were paying too much or you're not getting what you pay for now.
 The makers of "Star Brand Shoes" never tamper with the quality. It is their policy to make Better shoes—and never to cheapen their shoes to make a low price.
 It is economy to buy "Star Brands"—sometimes they cost a little more than cheaper shoes, but they're worth lots more.
 There's a "Star Brand" solid leather shoe to fit every foot—to suit every need—at a price to fit every pocketbook.
 The price you pay depends upon the grade you get, but one thing is sure, get what you pay for—honestly constructed, splendidly styled, long-wearing solid leather shoes that give you full value for your money.
 And you'll make no mistake in buying them.
NEVER.
