DEMOCRATIC PARTY GOES RE-PUBLICAN

Last week we called attention to the fact that the Democratic party at Houston abandoned its life-long position on the tariff and had gone over into the Republican "protection" camp—that it had made no demand for a "tariff for revenue only" but had made a demand for a tariff that would "protect" the farmer as well as the laborer and the manufacturer.
This abandonment of the "tariff-for-revenue-only" doctrine and the platform declaration in favor of "protection" is an abject and complete surrender to the Republican party on this issue. There can be no issue between the two great parties very definite as to farm relief. Both declined to approve the McNary-Haugen bill. There will be no issue between the parties on this matter.

There is practically no difference in the platforms of the prohibition question. Then what in the name of Sam Hill is to be the issue? There is just one issue—Al Smith.

Senator Work, who recently resigned from the Coolidge Cabinet to direct the Republican campaign, has announced most emphatically that the Republicans "do not propose to make prohibition or religion an issue in this campaign." But we have yet to hear from Al Smith and Herb Hoover, if there is to be no issue on prohibition, or religion, or the tariff, or political corruption, or farm relief, then in the name of Louis J. Wardlaw we want to know what in the Heck it is all about any way.

Alvin M. Owsley has proven himself to be almost as agile a political acrobat as Bob Henry. Four years ago he was an active supporter of Felix D. Robertson, the Klan candidate for governor, against Mrs. Ferguson.
This year he is a candidate for the U. S. Senate and has Jim Ferguson's active and even violent support. Long before the Houston convention, Owsley announced that he favored Al Smith for President. Thereby he lost the support of his fellow-town-man, Arthur Jones, an ardent supporter of the Klan. We have respect for the man who honestly changes his opinion about men and measures, but we have no admiration for the politician who tries to set his sails to catch every breeze that blows.

The women of Lynn county have decided that one of the greatest needs of the towns in their county is municipal parks and after due investigation have determined to consecrate their energies upon securing sites for parks in each town in the county.
Certainly the movement should have the active support of the citizens of Lynn county towns and without doubt will result in providing much needed places of recreation and rest for old and young. The Lynn County women have set a good example for the women of other counties to follow on the Panhandle Plains. Too many of our towns have ignored recreational features in their building program and no provision of either land or money has been made for such purposes.

The necessity for the recognition by municipalities, of the recreational as well as the commercial, educational and spiritual activities of their citizens is now generally conceded and towns are laid off with due provision for parks and playgrounds as well as churches and school houses.
A park supplied with tennis court grounds for baseball, and basketball, swimming and wading pools, sand piles, swings and other play ground equipment will keep the children from getting into much of the mischief of which their elders are always complaining. It is a pity that parks were not started in each town when the first few buildings were put up, but since they were not, the oversight should be corrected as soon as possible. It takes trees a good while to grow and trees are an essential in the making of parks, so the sooner the work is begun, the sooner will the trees afford the shade and protection and attractiveness so desirable. We heartily commend the women of Lynn county and trust that they will allow no discouragement to thwart their good work. When results begin to show up, their fellow citizens will be properly appreciative even though many of them may be discouraged by indifferent now—Southwestern Plainsman.

Rowena—One of the ten special dairy schools to be held in Runnels county during August is scheduled for this town.

Wellington—Approximately 200 people attended a judging contest held on a stock farm near here recently.

San Angelo—San Angelo is to be included on the scenic route of the third annual WTCC motorcade.

"All Cough" Feeling Left After Taking Black-Draught.

Mrs. I. Stakefield, of Calhoun, S. C., says:

"Someone recommended Black-Draught to me and said it might help me. I took a few doses and it did help me wonderfully."

"I now use it when I have that tired 'all gone' feeling, and it is simply fine. I can recommend Black-Draught, and do so all the time."

high prices and high rates of interest, as was the previous custom. As a result of this new arrangement the operating cost of the penitentiary for 1927 was reduced approximately $250,000 from what it was for the preceding year of 1926. Under the old system the State paid a premium for practically everything it bought. This has been eliminated and prison supplies are now bought at the lowest cash prices obtainable in a competitive market.

Appropriations Made "The State does business on a fiscal year basis, and the fiscal year runs from September first to September first. It was the duty of the Thirty-ninth Legislature to appropriate funds to operate the State Department and institutions for a year period from September 1, 1925 to September 1, 1927, and for this purpose it appropriated $2,414,086.

Besides providing punishment for political arguments in the lower wards, there are many uses for plain and face brick.

This year, whether you are building a business block, home or garage, it'll pay you plenty to investigate the economy and permanence of these age-old and reliable materials. We carry—or let our men carry—brick in all its best forms and phases. See us soon.

HIGGINBOTHAM-BARTLETT COMPANY EVERYTHING TO BUILD ANYTHING G. M. Stewart, Mgr. Tahoka, Texas

This did not meet the needs and the present administration inherited from the preceding administration a long list of deficiencies, unpaid obligations and departments and institutions without funds to carry on their legal and necessary activities. It will be recalled how appropriations for summer schools of our educational institutions and other necessary activities of the Government which the law provides must be carried on were vetoed, and institutions and departments supported by deficiencies authorized by the Governor, in order that a showing might be made on the tax rate. This was done when it was known that it meant no saving to the people because it did create an inherited debt against the next administration. To meet this inherited debt and support departments and institutions until September 1, 1927, required the appropriation of $1,685,476.26. Thus it will be seen that from September 1, 1925, to September 1, 1927, the period covered by the appropriation bill of the Thirty-ninth Legislature, the expense was the sum of these two figures, or $4,100,562.52.

Funds Are Provided

"The Fortieth Legislature provided funds to pay the inherited debt and appropriated for the support of the State Departments and institutions for the period from September 1, 1927, to September 1, 1929, and for this period appropriated $47,054,333.70. In other words, the money appropriated to support the State Government and institutions for the period beginning September 1, 1927, and ending September 1, 1929, is $49,176.09 more than was spent for the period from September 1, 1925, to September 1, 1927. The Fortieth Legislature appropriated over one-half million dollars for vocational training for underprivileged children of this State. I approved this appropriation, and while a like appropriation was made by the Thirty-ninth Legislature, it was vetoed by the Governor who preceded me, and this can account for more than one-half the difference. The increase of over $200,000 in the appropriations to provide for the care of the insane and unfortunate in our charitable institutions can account for still more of this difference. The appropriation of $200,000.00 to build dormitories at the A. & M. College to house students who were living in huts that had been built on the campus, with the other debts just listed, more than accounts for the increase.

Placed on Budget Basis

"This administration placed the prison system on a budget basis. It appropriated money to enable the system to pay cash for its purchases and provided that receipts from the prison produce, cotton, etc., should be deposited to the credit of the general revenue fund. In this manner the system repays to the general revenue fund the money appropriated, and as long as it is self-sustaining there is no burden upon the funds of the State. If the Thirty-ninth Legislature had made like provision, and properly provided for State Department and institutions, its appropriation bill would have exceeded that of the last Legislature by more than $2,000,000.00. While the appropriation for this support of the prison system is charged up in the appropriation bill, if the system operates successfully the money is returned to the general revenue fund from the sale of products of the penitentiary system. The preceding administration with a much smaller prison population spent $1,443,195 for prison maintenance, and under this administration appropriation has been made for only $2,811,627.

Enforcement of the Law

"The enforcement of the law has been substantially improved. In January, 1927, there were approximately 3,000 inmates in the State penitentiary and yesterday's report shows the prison population to be 4,000. I will admit that a great deal of this increase is due to the fact that I have not been pardoning people by the wholesale and at random, but at the same time the per cent of convictions has been greater. The refusal to recklessly and wantonly pardon criminals from the penitentiary has stimulated the activity of the sheriffs and prosecuting attorneys throughout the state.

The club girls of Lynn county are all invited to meet in Tahoka next Monday afternoon and camp until Tuesday afternoon.

Each girl should bring her own bedding and other camp equipment, as requested by the Home Demonstration agent in the letter sent you. MILIE M. HALSEY, C. H. D. A.

RECIPE FOR HAPPINESS

Put in a vessel deep and clean
A pound of real good will—
A pound of honest energy.
Mix the two until
They blend together thoroughly.
Pour in a cup of cheer,
One of ambition, one of faith,
Then add a generous share
Of loyal, sympathetic love,
And sweeten to the taste
With undiluted charity,
Avoiding needless waste.
Pray don't forget the elbow grease,
Else you may fail to see Results which otherwise are sure
From such a recipe.

YOU'LL be surprised at the power your motor develops when you run on Conoco Ethyl Gasoline. Throttle down to a dog trot—even on a hill—and you glide smoothly along—without a jerk, without a knock, without a shift.

Of course, Conoco Ethyl is the fuel for high compression motors. In fact, Ethyl fluid made high compression motors commercially possible. But Conoco Ethyl gets the best from any motor—and it's most economical because it eliminates all the engine wear and tear caused by knocking when ordinary gasoline is used.

Drive to the Conoco Ethyl pump for extra knockless miles.

Gives Smith's Record As An Anti-Pro

(By J. W. H. DeBelleville, of the Country Editor and World Press News).

New York, July 7—Old-time New Yorkers who are familiar with Governor Smith's political record on the subject of the saloon are wondering whether they have correctly read his statement in his recent telegram to the Houston Convention.

Like most Tammany politicians, the Governor has acquired the reputation of being too shrewd to be caught in an untruth, a virtue much emphasized and practiced by Dick Croker, the "silent" leader who never forgot a good turn or failed to conciliate an enemy when the opportunity offered and whose word was as good as his bond.

Those who refused to believe that political corruption and truthfulness could go hand in hand dismissed such asseveration of personal integrity with a shrug. "There is honor among thieves" and it is notorious that Tammany hangs together, was a common explanation of it.

But here is Smith, the political friend and champion of the saloons since his early days in the New York legislature, coming out flat-footedly with a statement reading as follows: "I am satisfied that without returning to the old evils that grew from the saloon, which years ago I held and still hold was and ought always to be a defunct institution in this country, etc."

Here is his record:

- 1904—voted to weaken the town local option bill against hotel bars.
- 1905—voted for several amendments to destroy Wainwright local option.
- 1906—voted for amendments to kill local option bill.
- 1908—voted to bring saloons nearer to churches and schools.
- 1909—offered bill to allow saloons nearer than 200 feet to a church, to increase hours saloons could keep open.
- 1913—Voted to increase hours of saloons and the McCue bill to hinder conviction of violators.

As late as 1923, the New York Times, a wet newspaper, reported him as saying, "I will be glad to go down and help him (Senator Edge of New York) put over his bill if that will get us somewhere where we can put a foot on a brass rail again and blow off the froth."

In this matter the Governor has admitted that he was correctly reported. Those who privately admit that Smith is working diligently to bring back the saloon, perhaps in a slightly modified form, think it is a mistake for him to try to sidestep his record as its friend. They think he should be as frank on this subject as he is in his purpose to lead the movement to restore the legalized traffic in liquor.

The New York Governor was brought up in the environment of saloons of the worst type—those on Oliver Street and vicinity in the great East Side of New York. If ever a man had an opportunity of first hand information on the evils of the liquor traffic, it was he.

Every sort of vice was rampant within them. They all had their back rooms where dissolute men and women congregated and where young girls were lured to their destruction.

Tammany Hall politicians of the type of Martha Engel and his followers frequented these resorts, made their political bargains and consummated city contracts in those same saloons. The graft from the disorderly houses and gambling dens changed hands there.

No bootlegger ever treated the law with greater defiance than the average saloon keeper. Every law regulating the traffic was contemptuously disregarded. Early closing was a joke. The law against Sunday sales was laughed at. That against selling to minors was openly violated.

Yet notwithstanding his intimate knowledge of these conditions, since his early days in the Assembly "Al" Smith has befriended the saloons. He opposed every law that interfered in any way with them. He favored laws that gave them greater scope. He wants the return of the saloon and he has openly said so.

If elected President, he will appoint all Federal judges, all U. S. district attorneys, the Secretary of the Treasury who is responsible for prohibition enforcement and the Attorney General who is charged with the prosecution of offenders.

By appointing wets to these offices he can destroy prohibition, and he will certainly do it, for that is his chief aim.

To take any other course would be to stultify himself with the great mass of his supporters, with the great brewery and liquor interests who contribute liberally to all of his campaigns, and with such important Catholics as John J. Raskob and Charles M. Schwab who are prominent factors in the campaign for the restoration of the liquor traffic.

ALL HIGHWAY MEETING JULY 25
Representatives To Gather At Rotan Interest of Ft. Worth-Roswell Highway

Representatives from all the towns between Fort Worth and Roswell, Texas, and lying along the Ft. Worth-Roswell Airline Highway, are asked to attend a meeting to be held at Rotan on next Wednesday, July 25, to lay plans for the development of the roadway.
Tahoka has been asked to send a delegation in order that as much interest as possible may be developed in the route through this city. The traffic is being diverted over routes, it is pointed out, and Tahoka and other towns along the Ft. Worth to Roswell highway are at once they are going to such tourist traffic and the business that goes with it, to say nothing of the road improvement. Officials from both the Texas and New Mexico highway departments have stated that they expect to be present.

Plans will be worked out for an advertising campaign setting forth the advantages of travel over the highway, signs to be seen, distance to be saved, etc. New officers of the association will be elected.
The Fort Worth-Roswell-Grand Canyon route is a portion of the Dixie Highway and follows the Bankers' route from Fort Worth to Albany, and that point is designated by way of Stamford, Hamlin, Rotan, Clearwater, Post, Tahoka, Brownfield, Dalhart, Tatum and Roswell, and then west to the Grand Canyon and Florida. It is the shortest route between Fort Worth and Roswell and the Fort Worth and the Grand Canyon. The direct state highway connection with Carlsbad Cavern, northern Mexico, California, Salt Lake City, northwest Texas and Colorado, El Paso and Juarez, and many other points that attract thousands of tourists annually.

Proper pushing, J. E. Shelton of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce, who has been active in promoting the association alive, says the highway should become one of the nation's most important thoroughfares for traffic in the South. The highway is the only one in Texas that connects up with a hard surfaced highway at the New Mexico line running east and west; and as the government has completed its work of shortening by preshortening to the Pacific coast and more miles of hard surfaced road than any other, Mr. Shelton

PLANS MEETING
The Dixie Baptists will hold a regular meeting at that place beginning the first Sunday in September, and to last one week. Rev. B. N. Pippin and Rev. Pippin will do the preaching.
Rev. Pippin preached to the congregation Sunday in Shepherd's absence.

Building Nears Completion
The finishing touches on the new engineering building of Technological College which will contain equipment approximately $100,000. The new structure will accommodate laboratory and class room in architectural, civil, electrical and mechanical engineering, engineering drawing. The textile building which has been housing all engineering school will now be exclusively to the textile department.

The building will be used beginning with the opening of the fall semester 24, making it possible for the engineering school of Technological College to offer instruction in its various departments in as satisfactory a manner as may be done by any other school in the country.
The school wishes to acknowledge the receipt of an invitation from the Technological Company to attend the annual convention held at Two Draw last night, at which time all officers on the South Texas coast were present. We greatly regret that some of the News force were unable to attend.
