Run-Off Campaign Closes This Week

SATURDAY IS ELECTION DAY

Much Local Interest In Second Primary; Expect Small State Vote

The second primary, generally termed the run-off, will be held throughout Texas Saturday.

In the first primary, held on July 28, there were more than 735,000 votes cast for governor. In the other state races and in the Senatorial race, the vote was much smaller however. In the Senatorial race about 672,000 votes were cast.

It is not probable that the vote next Saturday will exceed 600,000, and it may fall far below that figure, due to the fact that there is only one race of statewide importance that is arousing any appreciable interest. That is the Senatorial race, in which Mayfield and Connally are contesting for the place.

In all the counties, candidates for all the county offices were voted for in the first primary. In many of the counties there are no local contests to bring out the vote next Saturday. This affords another reason why a comparatively small vote is expected in the run-off. Much interest has been aroused by the Mayfield-Connally fight, however, and this contest may bring out a larger vote than many people are expecting.

In Lynn county, there are some warm local contests, which are expected to bring out a large vote in this county.

In the race for county judge, the present incumbent, Judge C. H. Cain, is opposed by G. C. Grider of O'Donnell. Keen interest in this race has developed.

The race for sheriff and tax collector is nearly always a spirited one and the race in Lynn county this year is no exception to the rule. J. W. Simpson, the present sheriff, is opposed by Sam Sanford, a former sheriff of the county. This contest alone would probably bring out a good vote in this county.

Then there is the race for county and district clerk. Singularly enough two Smiths are competing for this place. W. E. (Happy) Smith is the present incumbent while Truett B. Smith of New Home is his opponent. This contest has aroused perhaps more than usual interest, and the friends of each candidate are busy.

There is one local contest at Tahoka. W. O. Henderson and Frank Edwards are opposing candidates for public weigher, both of whom have warm friends and supporters.

There is also a run-off for public weigher at Wilson, which is said to be warmly contested, the opposing candidates being Rayburn Metcalfe and Jim Johnson.

Next week we shall be able to give complete returns of the election in county and practically complete returns from the entire state.

Since the ballot this time is a straight one, it is expected that returns will begin to pour in almost immediately after the closing of the polls, and the results in the Senatorial and other contests can probably be ascertained at an early hour Saturday.

Election returns will be shown on a bulletin board erected in the middle of Main Street here by the Tahoka Drug Co. and the Limit, as in the first primary. A large crowd is expected to be present to get the results.

Book Sells Home; To Build More

F. Shook this week announced the sale of his new six room stucco home in the northwest part of town to E. S. Davis. He will let a contract for the construction of another new modern home in that section of the city.

Shook says that he has already erected and sold $14,000 worth of residences this year.

B. Williams of the Texas Filling Station is in Houston on business this week.

MAKING PLANS FOR CO. FAIR

September 26-27 is Date Set For Event; Many Exhibits Being Planned

Plans for a real county fair this fall are rapidly maturing, under the direction of Prof. Taylor White, teacher of vocational agriculture in the Tahoka public schools, and Miss Millie M. Halsey, county home demonstration agent.

The date of the fair has been set as September 26-27. There will be exhibits of all kinds of farm and garden products, dairy cattle, beef cattle, swine, horses and mules, sheep, poultry, girls club work, women's club work, plants and flowers, art relics and antiques, etc.

Prizes will range from $50. down. There will be both individual and community exhibits.

Superintendents and directors of the various departments have been announced as follows, other may be added:

Community exhibits: W. J. Crouch, Supt.

Dairy cattle—Boswell Edwards, Superintendent.

Swine: Clifton Janak, Superintendent.

Horses and mules: Jack Childers, Superintendent.

Beef cattle: Norvell Redwine, Superintendent.

School floats: M. L. H. Baze, Superintendent.

Sheep: Amel Willingham, Superintendent.

Crops Division—Superintendent, Poultry: Verner Smith, Superintendent.

Girls' Clubs: Home Demonstration Agent, Superintendent.

Women's clubs: Home Demonstration Agent, Superintendent.

Women's Department: Home Demonstration Agent, Director.

Textile Work: Mrs. Geo. Small, Superintendent.

Culinary: Mrs. I. S. Doak, Superintendent.

Canned Fruits and vegetables: Mrs. Otho Thomas, Superintendent.

Plant and Cut Flowers: Mrs. M. L. H. Baze, Superintendent.

Art: Mrs. Grover Stewart, Superintendent.

Relics and Antiques: Mrs. C. B. Townes, Superintendent.

Teachers Institute Here in November

The Lynn County Teachers Institute will be held in Tahoka and the date will probably be Thursday and Friday, November 1-2, according to County Superintendent H. P. Caveness.

The teachers of the Tahoka, O'Donnell, and Wilson schools, it is understood, will join in this institute, as they did last year, rather than to go to Lubbock.

Mr. Caveness says that he regards the institute that was held here last year one of the best he ever attended. Teachers can frequently get more good out of a comparatively small institute than they can get out of one where the attendance is large and the individual responsibility is accordingly small.

The date mentioned is subject to revision, but it is thought that this will possibly be about the most feasible time, since some of the schools will not begin prior to that time.

MAYFIELD SPEAKER ADDRESSES SMALL CROWD HERE

Judge Harris Bell of Austin addressed a small crowd in the county court room here last Friday night in the interest of Senator Mayfield. Judge Bell has a pleasing personality and excellent talents as a speaker but his address here failed to elicit much enthusiasm. The speaker was introduced by Fred Matthews of Grassland, who presided over the meeting and made a short address himself in behalf of Mayfield.

Last Saturday afternoon in Tahoka looked almost like mid-fall. Great crowds of people lined the sidewalks and flocked into the stores, and the business men had a good day.

Joe Bovell came up from Abilene Tuesday, accompanied by Mrs. S. E. Reid and daughter, Miss Lilla Male, who have been visiting in Glenrose.

MILIE HALSEY RESIGNS POST

Bad Health is Reason; New Home Demonstration Agent Has Been Selected

Miss Millie M. Halsey has tendered her resignation to the commissioners' court as county home demonstration agent, in order to take a much needed rest. She has not been enjoying her usual good health for the past few months and finds it advisable to rest awhile.

Miss Greenwade of Hill county has been selected as her successor. Miss Greenwade has been a teacher in the public schools but has made thorough preparation for home demonstration work and the authorities recommend her highly. She will begin her work here on September 1. She is expected to arrive the latter part of this week.

Miss Halsey has been serving as home demonstration agent here about four years and has done a wonderful work. She introduced home demonstration work in this county, and began the work when there was an indifferent attitude toward it by most of the citizenship. By her tireless energy she steadily won the confidence and enlisted the interest of the people and now they regard her work as of prime importance in this county. She has helped the women and the girls in numerous ways and has taught many a family how to live more economically and comfortably. There is no estimating the amount of money that her work enabled the people of Lynn county to save during the dry years and the era of low prices for cotton.

The whole citizenship will regret her going, and hundreds of women and girls will feel her departure to be a personal loss.

Miss Halsey states that she believes her successor to be capable of doing most excellent work and of course she hopes that interest in the work may continue with unabated intensity.

Kill The Johnson Grass, Says Farmer

A. R. McGonagill dropped in the other day and called our attention to the fact that little patches of Johnson grass are being allowed to mature and make seed along many public roads and on many farms in this county. He thinks that now is the time to check the spread of this nuisance. He cites the fact that in central and north Texas many farms have been almost utterly ruined by Johnson grass. Unless destroyed it may spread rapidly in this county.

Mr. McGonagill says that he has killed out many patches on his farm by the use of salt. It may also be killed, he says, by the application of kerosene. He urges that farmers and farm owners take "time by the forelock" and kill out this pestiferous grass before it gets a good start. He also suggests that some steps be taken to kill it out on the public highway. His suggestions are worthy of serious consideration, followed by action. "A stitch in time saves nine."

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASSES VISIT SAND HILL

On Tuesday afternoon, August 21, the Sunday School classes of Mrs. D. H. Goodnough and Mrs. Taylor White met at the Baptist church after which they went to the sand hill.

After a while spent in playing in the sand, a delightful lunch of fruit and sandwiches was served which was enjoyed by all.

After lunch we all returned to town a tired but happy bunch, thanking Mrs. Goodnough and Mrs. White for the pleasant evening.

Those present were: Mrs. Taylor White, Elsie D. McKaughan, Marye St. Clair, Katie Lowery, Maxine Connolly, Mrs. D. H. Goodnough, Myrtle Cooper, Robbie Milliken, Ida Teague, Marie Brown, Ethelda Sheffer, Aleta Goodnough, Ruby Lowery, Aletha Goodnough, Ruby Lowery and Louise Burkhalter.

Public Schools To Open September 3

Dawson County Journal Changes Hands

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Houser have sold the Dawson County Journal to Messrs. Charles and J. C. Hurst, father and son. J. C. Hurst is the editor and publisher of the Abernathy Review, while his father, Charles Hurst, has been residing in Dallas. The elder Hurst will be editor and the younger Hurst will be business manager of the Journal.

Mr. Houser has been in ill health for several years and recently the condition of his health became such that he deemed it advisable to sell. He has been in the newspaper business in Lamesa many years.

Messrs. Hurst and Houser are planning some extensive improvements in the Journal plant, it is said, and expect to make the paper one of the best published on the South Plains.

Football Training To Begin Monday

Training for the football season will begin Monday afternoon, August 27, according to announcement made by Winfield Nicklaus, the new high school athletic coach, and Superintendent Martin Baze. All boys who expect to come out for football this year are asked to come out for training next fall, if possible.

Prospects for a good football team at Tahoka for this year are better than in many seasons. The new coach knows the game well, and comes to Tahoka with a good reputation. As a student in Amarillo High School, he stood as one of the foremost high school athletes in Texas. At Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Penn., he gained fame in one year and was favorably mentioned by eastern dailies. Returning to Texas, he entered Texas Tech, where he served that school as a foremost football man and as captain of the team, receiving his degree there last year.

Many old lettermen will return to their places this year from last year's team, and a number of new men will do suits. Grassland is sending three promising football boys in Ben and Smith Lawson and Stewart, and several more athletes are expected from the rural schools.

CROP PROSPECTS VERY PROMISING, BUT STILL UNCERTAIN

Crops in Lynn county never looked better to one driving along the highways than they do now.

The acreage planted to feed is possibly not more than half as large as last year but the yield promises to be enormous. Finer feed was never seen here. It is all comparatively late and harvesting will begin late, but nothing can prevent a heavy yield.

Cotton has had too much rain. The plant has had a quick growth and is ranker than usual, but much of it has not fruited well, it needs continued dry weather, so that it may begin to fruit. Some few are topping the plant in order to stop its growth and to assist it to put on fruit. Much of the acreage is fairly well fruited but the fruit consists chiefly of young bolls and "squares."

Many feared that the continued rains would bring boll worms and leaf worms in destructive numbers but very few have made their appearance thus far. The plant in most fields, however, is covered with lice. Many farmers claim that these will be helpful, in that they will retard the growth of the plant and help it to fruit. Still others say that the presence of lice is a good omen in that worms never bother cotton as long as lice are on it.

If the weather remains dry, it is probable that an enormous crop will be gathered this fall and winter. It should set in to raining again—and there are strong indications of rain—there might yet be another story to write about the cotton production in Lynn county this year. This is one time when farmers and business men are praying for dry weather.

TEACHERS ARE ALL SELECTED

Excellent Faculty Has Been Secured For 1928-'29 In School Board's Belief

The Tahoka public school will open on Monday, September 3.

That was the decision of the school board made some time ago, and all the teachers are preparing to be here ready for work on that date.

There are just a few new members of the faculty this year. A large per cent of last year's faculty will be back, however, and we are assured that the faculty this year will be one of the best for a town of this size in Texas.

As everybody knows, Prof. M. L. H. Baze will remain with us as Superintendent, Nat Williams as Principal of the High School and Taylor White as teacher of Vocational Agriculture.

Prof. M. Winfield Nicklaus will be Coach of Athletics and Science teacher. Mr. Nicklaus recently received his degree from the Texas Tech, in which institution he was captain of the football team. He comes highly recommended for his scholarship, and the faculty feels that he will be a valuable asset to the school and the town.

Mrs. Hans Tunnell will this year be teacher of Social Science. Miss Margaret Worthy will be back as teacher of Foreign Languages.

Miss Irene Armes will again teach English. Miss Lois Bliefus will be with us again as teacher of Home Economics.

Miss Zoella Fox will be the teacher of the Seventh Grade, Mrs. Story having declined the position this year. Miss Fox was the efficient principal of the Grassland school the past two years and is a most capable teacher.

Mrs. M. L. H. Baze will again be principal of the Central Ward School and will teach drawing. Miss Imogene Galloway, Mrs. Buford Swan, and Miss Vada Walden will be the teachers in the intermediate department.

All of these are former members of the faculty except Miss Walden, who comes to us from Littlefield, where she has been a teacher in the primary department for several years. She received her education in the West Texas State Teachers' College and the Texas Tech and comes highly recommended.

Mr. Curtis Wilson will be coach of athletics for boys and teacher of mathematics in Central Ward. Mr. Wilson is a graduate of John Tarleton College at Stephenville and is a young man of much promise.

Mrs. L. F. Craft, Mrs. W. O. Henderson, Miss Mattie Will Seroyer, and Miss Lula Moore will be the teachers of the primaries; Mesdames Craft and Henderson and Miss Seroyer have taught here a number of years and their proficiency as teachers is well known to the patrons of the Tahoka schools. Miss Moore has had many years experience as a teacher herself and is reputed to be a most excellent primary teacher. She is a sister of Mrs. W. D. Nevels of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Arnold Carson will be the teachers at South Ward. They are each graduates of the Sunset High School in Dallas and

To Give Election Returns Saturday Eve

The Tahoka Drug Company and the Limit have arranged to again post election returns on a bulletin board in the middle of Main Street on next Saturday night following the closing of the polls.

Due to the fact that there are only a few contests and only two candidates in each contest, returns are expected to come in rapidly and the results will probably be known at an early hour.

The scholastic census of Lynn county recently taken shows that there are 5,187 scholars in the county, of which 2,413 are in the Tahoka school district.

WONDERS TO PERFORM

(By the Gentleman at the Keyhole)

At Houston the women held prayer-meetings to beseech the intervention of heaven in behalf of a dry candidate. Texas itself is wet, at least such parts of it as I visited. Being an empire in itself, there may be parts of it that are dry, sections that are far from the Gulf of Mexico or from the Rio Grande.

For Texas is conveniently located on the Gulf side not far from those sources of liquor, the Bahama Islands and Cuba; and on the south separated only by a narrow river from wet Mexico. So the state is as wet as New York or New Jersey.

In bars I saw Canadian rye. Scotch Bacardi rum, Mummi's extra-dry champagne, gin from England and from Holland, the latter in the old stone jugs, apricot brandy, bottled beer and a variety of other drinks that the eye has not rested on in many years.

Far from the Mexican border I drank Mexican beer, proving that the passage of the contraband about the state is not greatly impeded.

The good ladies who did the praying, living in Texas, must know this better than a casual visitor such as myself. The good ladies evidently look upon the presence of liquor in their state as a matter of course, but they went down on their knees for a dry President in Washington. There is a picture of the comedy of this campaign!

The One Really Wide-Open Town

Liquor, as a result of prohibition, has social standing. It used to be low, drunk by the vulgar, or by indiscreet youth, or by established members of society over whose weakness people bowed their heads in shame. Moved from the saloon to the home, it rose in social rank. Even the praying women Drays haven't in their hearts to do anything practical against a cheery creature which has access to the best, boasts.

Carrie Nation used to go out with a hatchet and smash bottles. Her descendants pray for a symbol of virtue in Washington and leave the bottles alone.

During the convention one jester estimating the money that would be spent in Houston, put down one item as $181,000 for "wine and women." The Texas ladies cried that this reflected upon the honor of Southern womanhood. A Houston newspaper retorted that in a near-by city was a red-light district; and so there is, I am assured—one with red fanlights in the houses advertising their commercial purpose.

This city is unique. Liquor is sold openly by the bottle or the glass, cocktails, highballs, straight, rickys, fizzes and everything else that is almost a memory elsewhere. Gambling places run openly. There is nothing like it, all in all, anywhere else in this country. As these is a good social reason why no Carrie Nation smashes the bottles of today, there is a good commercial reason for this wide-open town. And it is in the dry and virtuous state of Texas!

I do not wish to say anything against Texas. It is a wonderful state, and fortunate are those that live in it. But it is a caricature of these United States. It is a place of extremes, of pious horror over Al Smith—and of the one really wide-open town in this country.

There whiskey has as high a social position as it has acquired anywhere in this country able, indeed, to give social position to its possessor; and there live 100,000 Democrats who will vote for Hoover or stay away from the polls next fall.

Take the religious issue which I suspect is the most important in the minds of the 100,000 Texans who won't vote for Al Smith this fall. If there is any place where church and state are mixed up, it is Texas. The newspapers, I suppose, make public opinion, and public opinion governs the country. That is popular government reduced to its simplest terms. But the newspaper editors of Texas live in fear of the fundamentalist preachers with large popular followings. Their circulation is at the mercy of the sensational pulpit. Mayors, police officials, district attorneys, judges all avoid the disfavor of the man of God. They may be excommunicated politically.

Texas is Self-Conscious
There preachers use their power in singular ways. Even business is not exempt from their thunders. One famous evangelist in Texas had a quarrel with the leading store in his town. He called up a woman from his audience to the platform:

"See this dress that sister Mary Wiggins is wearing, how ill fitting, how faded it is, of what inferior stuff it is made. She bought it at Blank's. It is nearly new. They ought never to have sold her such a dress. It does not fit her, and it has no wearing qualities. She took it back and they refused to make good her losses on it. Now I want all of you who trade at Blank's to stand up."

Most of the audience rose.
"Now I want you to put up your right hands and pledge that you will never patronize Blank's again."

Now I wonder in what "priest-ridden" country the power of the church is any more ruthlessly used than in this instance?

Texas presents all the absurdities of this coming campaign in sharp blacks and whites. You may see there all the forces at work in this election, naked and undisguised, exaggerated, for everything in Texas has the gigantic quality of Russia.

It is naive. It talks freely. It is in trepidation as to what visiting newspaper correspondents, especially those from England, will think of it. It is self-conscious. It apologizes and reminds visitors that it is young and should receive the allowances made to the young. It is dry and accepts without question the ministrations of the bootlegger.

Its upper classes are snobbish about Al Smith. Its lower classes listen peeped to the Heflins of the pulpit. And it is a little ashamed of its absurdities. The election, however it comes out, will do it good, for it makes Texas face its own political and social conscience.—COLLIERS for August 11.

COLLIER'S is a national publication with its main offices in New York City. That is, it circulates throughout the United States and even in some foreign countries, but it seems to take special delight in slandering the South.

This time it has squirted its offensive odor in the direction of Texas. It hides the name of the offending author of the above article behind an anonymous title, "The Gentleman at the Keyhole." This appellation is itself false, for no "gentleman" would have written so vile a slander.

If we were disposed to be plain-spoken, we might call the author some bad names. We might truthfully say that he is a consummate liar, a cowardly slanderer, a filthy, sewer-bred, beer-swagger, foul-mouthed reprobate. But that would do no good. It would not even insult him. Some men are so low in the scale of moral depravity that you can not insult them. Therefore we are not going to try to exhaust our vocabulary describing his moral filthiness. We print the article just to show our readers the character of some of the low bred bipeds that migrated from New York down to Houston to attend the Democratic convention.

We are sure that there were a lot of gentlemen at the convention from New York City who would have been glad to tell COLLIER'S the truth about Texas. Just why the publishers selected a skunk to emit its vile odor through the columns of their supposedly reputable magazine, at the expense of the God-fearing, law-abiding, virtuous, and honest citizenship of Texas is more than we can understand. Perhaps COLLIER'S is a bit peeved because Texas, led by her noble young Governor, Dan Moody, stood bravely and firmly but almost alone in that convention from the first rap of the gavel to the last wicked shout of triumph, against the on-coming and overpowering hordes of the liquor traffic that dominated the convention and nominated a candidate for the great office of President.

REID HOME BADLY DAMAGED BY FIRE

Fire was discovered about 8 o'clock Friday morning in the Sam Reid home in North Tahoka and much damage was done to the building and the furniture before it could be extinguished.

No one was at home at the time the fire started. Mrs. Reid and daughter Miss Lilla Mais were visiting in Glenrose and Mr. Reid and Kenneth were in town. The house was locked up and the fire had made great headway when it was discovered. Upon the alarm being given the fire department got on the job immediately and extinguished the fire, but much damage had already been done.

The origin of the fire is unknown, though it is thought probably that it started from a medicated cigarette which Kenneth had been smoking to relieve hay fever. It evidently started in a front bed-room.

The insurance companies have already made settlement with Mr. Reid for the damages, the sum of $1,000 been paid on the furniture and 1,028 for damage to the house.

WILSON MAN OPENS INSURANCE BUSINESS HERE

R. E. Key, formerly superintendent of the Wilson Public School, is opening a mutual life insurance office here this week.

The company was just recently organized and it is known as The Farmers and Merchants Insurance Association. F. E. Redwine of this city is president, C. H. Mansell of O'Donnell is vice president and R. E. Key is secretary. The offices of the company will be over the First National Bank. Five salesmen have already been engaged and four or five others will be procured at an early date.

TERRELL THANKS VOTERS

The News has received a communication from State Comptroller Sam H. Terrell thanking the voters for the magnificent vote given him in the July primaries. Mr. Terrell states that he is informed that he carried every county in the state, and he wants the people of each county in the state to know that he appreciates the confidence which they have manifested in him.

TO SERVE "EATS"

On Saturday, election day, the Epworth Hi-Leaguers will have a food stand on the north side of the Court House lawn, facing the Lubbock road. They will sell all kinds of sandwiches, fresh home-made cakes and pies (by the cut), ice cream, lemonade, and sodas at popular prices.

Please buy your eats and drinks from the young folks all day and help a worthy cause at the same time you help yourself to the best "eats" in town.—Advertising Committee.

CHILDREN'S FATAL DISEASES

Worms and parasites in the intestines of children undermine health and so weaken their vitality that they are unable to resist the diseases so fatal to child life. The safe cure is to give a few doses of White's Worm-Expeller. It destroys and expels the worms without the slightest injury to the health or activity of the child. Price 35c. Sold by THOMAS BROTHERS

CITY INSTALLS AUTOMATIC SWITCH AT FIRE STATION

Upon request of the fire boys, the City Council has installed an automatic switch at the fire station and have received two fire boxes to be installed in town. The fire boys are hopeful that the City will procure other fire boxes to be distributed over the city at an early date.

A WRONG LETTER PLAYS HECK

Did you ever stop to think of what a difference it makes in a name to change ONE letter? Last week the Herald made mention of a young "beauty specialist," as a part of the cooperative advertising at the Waggoner Drug Co. We desired to please, but lo and behold the Herald had used the wrong letter making the young woman's name "Barrell" when it should have been Bor-rell. Think of calling a beauty artist a barrel, a crime, unpardonable, may heaven forgive us—She will not—Hamlin Herald.

Use of Cardui Helped to Relieve Suffering.
"I have taken Cardui and have found it a very helpful medicine," says Mrs. Minnie Rocher, of Lynn Haven, Fla. "After a course of Cardui, I felt like I had been made over."
"For a while I suffered with bad pains in my back and sides. At times, these would disturb me so I would seem past going."
"We had known of Cardui in our family for a long time, so I thought I would try taking it. I soon began to improve. I grew strong and well, and was able to resume my household duties without the least inconvenience."
Cardui is a mild, harmless extract of valuable medicinal herbs. Try it.

AL SMITH ET AL VS. THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

(Chris. L. Adair)

This year the Tammany ring in control of the Democratic political machinery has at its disposal a gigantic slush fund gathered from booze-makers, bootleggers, gamblers, hi-jackers and white-slavers all over the world and are freely spending it for propaganda to force dry Texas to support the open saloon ticket headed by a man who has never been out of the northeast corner of the United States. So every day subsidized newspapers continue to flaunt headlines in our faces about the bigotry of the bolters and how such real Democrats as Daniels, House and Barry Miller are going to support the booze champion from New York to "save the party and help the country." These three blind leaders of the blind are very much like the decoy ducks which lure their wild cousins within range of the hunter or like the trained billy goats at the packing houses which lead the sheep into the slaughter chute. These Smith champions pass very lightly over Al's repudiation of the dry plank and the Federal constitution, not only by his notorious telegram but by every act of his public and official life. But to "scratch a Democratic ticket" is a horse of another color, according to these worthies. However in presenting a case to the court of public opinion it is necessary to have some witnesses, so here they are:

"I have never scratched a Democrat in my life, but I can not bring myself to the support of Al Smith. From practically every point of view I regard him unfit for President of the United States."

"The possibility of the boss of Tammany Hall in the White House should arouse the indignation and resentment of the followers of Jefferson, Jackson, Bryan and Wilson."—Cato Sells, former Democratic National Committeeman.

Here is what Senator Owen says about Tammany:

"It fought with the Republicans against Samuel J. Tilden.

"It fought with the Republicans against Grover Cleveland.

"It fought with the Republicans against W. J. Bryan.

"It fought with the Republicans against James M. Cox.

"It fought with the Republicans to defeat J. W. Davis.

"Its congressmen supported Joe Cannon, the mouthpiece of Plutocracy in the House of Representatives."

Governor Smith has bolted the Democratic platform and I predict Hoover will carry Texas by 100,000 majority—Ex-Governor Oscar B. Colquitt.

"I am opposed to repeal of the 18th Amendment and I can not vote for Al Smith."—Bishop H. A. Boaz, President of Southwestern University at Georgetown.

"The league between Smith-Raskob and the alien outlaws of our country is truly a 'league with hell and a covenant with damnation.' Raskob as official spokesman for the booze and boodle gang has insulted every real prohibition American."—Clycone Davis, veteran prohibitionist.

"Who am I that I should set myself against these great bodies of moral and religious leaders throughout the South, who have been Democrats for years and who have come out against Governor Smith? I will not do it. I will vote for Hoover and Curtis. I will do it to avert a moral disaster to this country."—Bishop John Moore, Methodist of Dallas.

"Al Smith and Raskob have made prohibition the issue. It is up to you and me to fight this issue as they have presented it."—Jesse P. Sewell, former president Abilene Christian College.

"A lot of people who still call themselves real Democrats are going to refuse to swallow the pill prepared by Tammany. They argue that they prove themselves good Democrats by refusing to be sold out and delivered to the wet forces of the country."—Palestine Herald.

"Hoover can lose 116 electoral votes and still win. In other words, he can lose New York, New Jersey, Maryland, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska and Idaho and still be elected. Hoover will get a stronger vote in Texas this year than George C. Butte did for Governor four years ago. Mrs. Ferguson received a majority of about 129,000 in that election. Figuring on that basis if 65,000 of the Ferguson vote should change to Hoover this year it would put Texas in the Republican column as sure as 'shootin'."

"One thing The Enterprise is practically sure of: If the election were to be held now, Hoover would carry the Clyde box."—Clyde Enterprise.

"Governor Alfred E. Smith is eager to Tammanyize the United States and make it wet, and with Al Smith as President we should have in as quickly as he could name them, three learned lawyers from the seaboard who are also conservative enough to satisfy the big business interests now supporting the Tammyized Democratic party.

"Those lawyers would declare the Eighteenth Amendment unconstitutional before a cat, even so agile a cat as the tiger cat, could wink an eye.

"Dry Democrats should not fool themselves into believing that the country is safe with a dry Congress.

"Smith and Tammany will make over the Federal courts as they have Tammanyized the state courts of New York City. Then they can snap their fingers at a dry Congress."—William Allen White of Emporia, Kansas.

"West Texas will cast an overwhelming majority for Herbert Hoover. West Texas was born dry. It will not vote wet."—J. W. Hunt, President McMurry College, Abilene.

"I have never scratched a Democratic ticket, but I am now confronted with the problem as to whether it is my duty to vote for Governor Smith, who has repudiated the platform of the party on the paramount issue in the coming campaign, or whether I shall stand by the platform. I have decided that it is my duty as a Democrat to stand by the platform and I therefore shall not vote for Governor Smith."—Marshall Hicks, San Antonio, Wilson Democrat and National Delegate.

It will thus be seen that the bolters are led, not by a bunch of disgruntled soreheads and newcomer ne'er-do-wells, who have all to gain and nothing to lose by bolting, but by men of known worth and party loyalty who feel almost heart-broken at being forced to veto the present standard-bearer of the century-old party of their ancestors. One such is O B Colquitt, who comes of a fine old Georgia family famous in the political and military history of that commonwealth. In business affairs one would scarcely be so dumb as the

Smith boosters seem to think the dry Democrats ought to be in political matters. If your corner grocer should send you a food order containing rotten eggs, rancid bacon and musty flour you would promptly send it back and discontinue your patronage for so long as such groceries were kept in stock, even though your grandparents had bought from the same store since childhood. The Tammany machine has this year played the same trick on the dry Democrats and the only logical thing to do is to send him back to them. If a vote for prohibition was ever right then a vote for Al Smith is absolutely wrong. It is simply a vote to bring back the open and legalized sale of liquor all over the land.

On the other hand, Herbert Hoover is a great and good man of education, travel and international achievement. His relief work right here almost in sight of Texas is a true index to his character but is only a small part of what he has done in that line all over the globe. Almost a half-billion dollars will soon be spent to make our great inland rivers safe and serviceable, so it would seem much safer to trust this great work to one who knows these great rivers like a book from end to end than to one who never saw a river larger than the Hudson.

This presidential campaign is certainly a most wonderful affair but the more carefully the two leading candidates are compared the more wonderful it seems that Smith could so quickly get into the limelight and that Hoover should remain so long in comparative obscurity. When Hoover was doing wonders in helping Woodrow Wilson win the war by helping to conserve the food supply of the world, Smith was "doing his bit" in the New York legislature pushing bills favoring liquor selling, gambling and vice. Before Smith was ever thought of as Governor of New York, Hoover had been offered the Democratic Presidential nomination, but declined it in favor of men who in his opinion had a greater claim than himself to the leadership of the party. Had he decided otherwise Harding never would have been heard of. Therefore, Hoover is no more a Republican than he is a Democrat but is first of all an American born on a farm in the very center of the United States and one worthy of the support and confidence of every American who wants the liquor traffic to continue to be regarded as an outlaw by the courts of law.

MOST PEOPLE ARE CONVINCED WE HAVE OIL

We understand that the drillers for the Brownfield well 13 miles south-east of the city are now on the premises, and for the third time it is expected that drilling will start in the next few days, if it is not already under way when this paper reaches you. We have it on authority we consider to be wholly reliable that one of the real big companies now has the well in charge, and this can mean nothing else but that they are not only able to put the well down to any reasonable depth, but that they are likewise convinced that oil in paying quantities is here or they would be spending their money in tried territory instead of here.

As stated above this makes the 3rd time for drilling to start on this well. The first time it was drilled to a contract depth of 3,200 feet by an Amarillo concern. The second time it was carried down to a depth of 4,000 feet by local and Lubbock capital, and now we understand this new concern will go to at least 5,000 feet or better.

Some are of the opinion that if oil in paying quantities is found that the well will not at this time be brought in, as the world is now well supplied but will be capped and brought in after some of the new fields now producing will have begun to fail. We are not prepared to say what the attitude of the new owners will be along this line.—Terry County Herald.

Crosby county recently held an election to determine whether or not the commissioners' court should employ a county farm agent, a home demonstration agent, and a county nurse. All three propositions carried by handsome majorities.

TOM JORDON DIDN'T NEED GUN EITHER

At the recent Big Spring meeting of the West Texas Press Association, Tom Jordan, editor of the Herald there, and who acted as host editor, came in for a lot of good stories. Most of the joke were on Tom, however, and here is one they told on him:

Mr. Jordan went to attend a party given by one of his neighbors, where just a few weeks before the home had been blessed with a new baby. The hostess met him at the door and after the usual salutation, he asked after the baby's health. The lady was hard of hearing, had a bad cold, and thinking Tom had asked about herself, answered that although she usually had one every winter, this was the worst one she ever had; it kept her awake at night a great deal and at first confined her to bed. Then noticing that Mr. Jordan was acting very strangely, she said that she could tell by his looks and actions that he was going to have one too, just like hers, and asked him to come in out of draft and sit down.—Scurry County Times.

UP SALT CREEK TO "CROW" ISLAND

Well, doggone, it sure is a lonesome trip—it ain't no joy ride—not a jollification crowd at all—No picnic groves along this stream. Timber all dead. Yes, this stream runs through a deserted place—Crow is the menu—No blessings said, no thanks returned—Nothing to wash down with, but just have to take it straight—Tough as army beef, and the fellow who can eat it and smile is some optimist—Sorry for you, boys, but we could not vote for you all—Get you a bottle of consolation, rub it in good, then wrap the bandage of grit around the sore spot, put a little of the salve of patience and common sense on it, it will ease the pain—H—you ain't going to die, it's like love—hurts but never kills—So long boys, when you get your bearings, come in and tell us how it all happened.—Albany News.

Best By Test

Only time and use will prove the real merit of any machine. Actual test under all kinds of conditions for a long time, will show whether or not it is reliable and durable.

There is none better than the Star Windmill, which has demonstrated its merits wherever windmills are used.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Any erroneous reflection upon the
reputation or standing of any individual, firm or corporation, that may
appear in the columns of the News,
will be gladly corrected when called
to our attention.

Only the postal employees can
have any accurate conception of the enormous amount of "junk" that is sent through the mails. Possibly the newspaper man among all the patrons of our mail service has the best opportunity to learn something about
the immensity of the amount of this
"junk". He gets mail from every organization, group, individual, or
"interest" that desires publicity. These publicity seekers literally flood the mails with their propaganda. Some of them seem to be inexcusably wasteful in sending out this matter. Many of them send out ten times as much matter to the ordinary newspaper as it can use, matter that usually has little or no news value and which goes straightway into the waste basket. As an illustration, almost every mail brings to this office long "news" stories about the national convention of the American

Political Announcements

their candidacy for office subject to the action of the Democratic primary election August 23, 1928.

Legion which is to be held in San Antonio in October. We find a story
now and then that has some news value and use it, but this is rare. A few days ago we received three envelopes by the same mail, all containing identically the same matter,
and all mailed at the same hour and
day in the post office in San Antonio. Thus the organization spent six cents in sending us this "news"
when 2 cents, bringing only one of
the enclosures, would have been amply sufficient. We merely cite this to show the waste that is being practiced by the officials of some good
and commendable organizations.
Somebody pays for this unnecessary expense. We sometimes think there ought to be some way to purge the mails of all this junk and thus save
the expense.

It is regrettable that there seems
to be no way to eliminate the campaign har. He bobs up in every campaign. He quietly spreads his venom
among good and unsuspecting people, and these credulous souls pass
it on to their neighbors, usually "sub-
rosa", until the lie has reached hundreds and possibly thousands of voters before the victim of the lie is made wise as to what is going on. Beware of the fellow who tells you privately or "on the quiet" of some scandalous thing that some candidate is alleged to have been guilty of. No person should repeat a charge against
any candidate until he has convincing
evidence that the charge is true, and then if he repeats it he should do so openly and above board. Some preachers even, men of high character, have been known to circulate
false statements about candidates,
believing them to be true, of course,
but not having sufficiently investigated. Preachers and church people are often made the victims of such propaganda impiously whispered to them by some designing politician. Remember that it is almost as culpable to repeat a charge that
you do not know to be true as it is
to repeat one that you know to be false.

Six years ago Jim Ferguson and Earle B. Mayfield were opposing candidates for the United States Senate. The language that Jim used about Earle would not do to print. He charged that Mayfield had been
guilty of about all the heinous sins
that have ever been catalogued. No
language was too lurid, no invective
was too bitter, for him to employ in denouncing Mayfield. Mayfield was
a reprobate, a hypocrite and a common crook, according to Farmer Jim.
He never uttered one word to indicate that he had changed his opinion
of Mayfield until after the recent
July election. Following the election,
he appealed to his friends not to commit themselves in the Connally-May-
field run-off contest for a few days.
Then came his visit to Room 428 in
the Austin Hotel, and Earle May-
field's visit to the same room the same day. This room was occupied by one Barrett, a representative of the Insull electric light and power interests. The next week Farmer Jim came out strong for Mayfield. Every issue of the Ferguson Forum is now being filled with denunciation of Connally and boasts for the immaculate Earle. The Forum consists of 28 columns and last week 17 columns

were devoted to Tom and Earle, cussing Tom and boosting Earle. Honest men would like to know the Why-
ness of Jim's present enthusiasm
for Earle.

TO THE COWMAN

Badger Clark, the cowboy, poet,
philosopher puts the sentiments of the old time cowman in part as follows:
When my old soul hunts range and
rest
Beyond the last divide,
Just plant me in some stretch of
West
That's sunny, lone and wide.
Let cattle rub my tombstone down
And coyotes mourn their kin, Let hawses paw and tromp the
moun,
But don't you fence it in!

Locals

Ben Moore was here Monday from O'Donnell and stated that they were talking of having a community fair
there just preceding the county fair
to be held here. Mr. Moore expressed much gratification over the fact
that Lynn county is to have a farm agent. He also stated that his family and some of the neighboring families, members of the home demonstration club are very busy now canning vegetable. They have three cookers and are putting up immense quantities of these foodstuffs for
future reference.

W. F. Slater was in Friday from his place near Lynn and remarked to
the News that he has the best crop
this year he has ever had. There are a few boll worms in his cotton
but not many. Notwithstanding the fine crop prospect, he seemed to be a
"bit 'one"—he was batching. Mrs.
Slater was visiting a daughter in
Borger and Miss Fay was visiting in Graham. So he was treading the
wine press alone out at his house—
mighty lonesome he was.

R. D. Spruiell, who lives away out near the east line of the county, was in Friday and reported that he and
family had recently returned from
a visit with relatives at Hubbard, Temple, Killeen, and Lampasas. They also visited Dallas and other cities
and towns in that section while away. They were accompanied home by
Mrs. Spruiell's father and mother
Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Grubbs, who will spend the fall here.

Rev. R. N. Shepherd left Monday
for Rule, where he will be engaged
this week and next in a revival meeting. Following that he will hold a revival in a rural church near Rule,
and will be absent from Tahoka for three consecutive Sundays. The pulpit will be filled each Sunday during
his absence, however.

Frank Fletcher, editor of the Southland Sun, was a business visitor in Tahoka Saturday and made a pleasant call at the News office. Mr.
Fletcher says he was born at Taho-
ka, but the town has improved a bit
since his parents removed from here.
He is getting out a dandy paper for
the people of Southland.

H. F. Shearer and V. S. Cassel of Winnabro, Wood county, were here
the first of the week prospecting, possibly trading some. Both of these gentlemen want to come to Lynn county, and we hope that they may
find it possible to do so.

G. H. Nelson, Democratic nominee
for county attorney, and his little daughter Willella returned Saturday night from a visit with numerous relatives at various points in east Texas, including Commerce, Pictou
and Linden.

L. C. Dolloff and family of Seagraves and his son Dawson Dolloff
of New Moore passed through Taho-
ka Saturday on their way to Arkansas on a visit. They expect to be gone several weeks.

Clifton Janak and Clyde Eubanks
returned Saturday from Panhandle,
where they have been employed the
past several weeks in the harvest fields.

Miss Ouida Middleton, a student in the Tech, was the guest last week end of the family of S. R. Kemp.

Simon and Keith Kemp and James Appelwhite spent last week in Lubbock visiting relatives.

Helen Appelwhite is visiting relatives in Lubbock this week.

SLAT'S DIARY

(By Ross Farquhar)

Friday—Pa returned this a. m.
from a trip to Detroit for his farm.
he was telling about 1 restrent he eat

der rost beef.

Saturday—Ma is mad at mr. Gillem now for a remark he made to-nite when him and mrs. Gillem was
at our house. they was tawking about operations & mr. Gillem sed he thot the foolishhest question in the world was to ask a woman where she was vascinated.

Sunday—it is very doutful if mr.
Heston will ever speak to pa agane
after the bad brage pa made tonite
when he was over to there house.
mr. Heston was showing pa & me
some pitchers he had took and Coming to 1 mr. Heston sed, what do you think of this 1 pa looked at it
and exklamed, why Heston, the little raskle looks just like you. mr. Hes-
ton smiled queerly and sed—my dere
man, that is an exray pitcher of my lungs. we went homo shortly afterward and Ma did all the tawking.

Monday—Ant Emmy retimed back home today after her visit at atlantik
city and told us all about that plase.
she sed the thing that impres her
most about the ochen was the fact that there was so much water in it.
Pa luffed and sed yes, that seems to be a characteristik of ochen as a rool. saw Jane out waking with that
new felow wich lives at the hotel.
she saw me but didnt speak. I gess
she was afrade he would be jelus.

Tuesday—Jack Weston was telling
pa today about going into a musik store & he told the clerk giv me a copy of that new pence, Funnyface.
the clerk snarled and sed, you aint
so darned hansom yerself.

Wednesday—ant Emmy was reading
in the paper tonite where a man was arrested for bigamy & being of a rather igneront nature she sat. Pa sed, was a bigamist. Pa smiled and sed, a bigamist is a man with dont know when he has got enough. Ma
was in the kitchen at the time or
they mite be ofen trubble.

Thursday—mister Gillem got home
today from a trip to Boston where he had went on sum business. he was telling pa about havin his forchen
told there. the woman told him that a butifol blond was going to cum

into his life but that there would be sum opposishun and ast him did he know what it was. mr. Gillem sed
he wasnt sure but he thot probly it
wud be his wife.

Get ready now to have an exhibit
in the Lynn County Fair to be held September 26-27.

Every community in Lynn county
should have a splendid exhibit in the fair here on September 26-27.

The business men of Tahoka should cooperate in every way possible to make the Lynn County Fair this year the best in our history. It can be done easily.

More live stock should be entered in the Lynn County Fair this year
than ever before. If you have good stock begin now to get them in
condition to take a premium.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC
Any erroneous reflection upon the
reputation or standing of any individual, firm or corporation, that may
appear in the columns of the News,
will be gladly corrected when called
to our attention.

Only the postal employees can
have any accurate conception of the
enormous amount of "junk" that is sent through the mails. Possibly the newspaper man among all the patrons of our mail service has the best
opportunity to learn something about
the immensity of the amount of this
"junk". He gets mail from every organization, group, individual, or
"interest" that desires publicity. These
publicity seekers literally flood the mails with their propaganda. Some of them seem to be inexhaustibly wasteful in sending out this matter.
Many of them send out ten times as much matter to the ordinary newspaper as it can use, matter that usually has little or no news value and which goes straightway into the waste basket. As an illustration, almost every mail brings to this office long "news" stories about the national convention of the American

Political Announcements

The following candidates announce their candidacy for office subject to
the action of the Democratic primary
election August 25, 1928.

- For County Judge:
C. H. CAIN (Re-election)
C. GRIDER
- For Sheriff and Tax Collector:
J. W. SIMPSON (Re-election)
SAM SANFORD

Legion which is to be held in San Antonio in October. We find a story
now and then that has some news
value and use it, but this is rare. A few days ago we received three envelopes by the same mail, all containing identically the same matter,
and all mailed at the same hour and
day in the post office in San Antonio. Thus the organization spent six
cents in sending us this "news"
when 2 cents, bringing only one of
the enclosures, would have been amply sufficient. We merely cite this to show the waste that is being practiced by the officials of some good
and commendable organizations.
Somebody pays for this unnecessary
expense. We sometimes think there
ought to be some way to purge the
mails of all this junk and thus save
the expense.

It is regrettable that there seems
to be no way to eliminate the campaign liar. He hops up in every campaign. He quietly spreads his venom
among good and unsuspecting people, and these credulous souls pass
it on to their neighbors, usually "sub-
rosa", until the lie has reached hundreds and possibly thousands of voters before the victim of the lie is
made wise as to what is going on. Beware of the fellow who tells you privately or "on the quiet" of some scan-
dalous thing that some candidate is alleged to have been guilty of. No
person should repeat a charge against
any candidate until he has convincing
evidence that the charge is true, and then if he repeats it he should do so openly and above board. Some preachers even, men of high character, have been known to circulate
false statements about candidates,
but not having sufficiently investigated. Preachers and church people are often made the victims of
such propaganda impudently whispered to them by some designing politician. Remember that it is almost
as culpable to repeat a charge that
you do not know to be true as it is
to repeat one that you know to be false.

Six years ago Jim Ferguson and Earle B. Mayfield were opposing
candidates for the United States Senate. The language that Jim used about Earle would not do to print. He charged that Mayfield had been
guilty of about all the heinous sins
that have ever been catalogued. No
language was too lurid, no invective
was too bitter, for him to employ in denouncing Mayfield. Mayfield was
a reprobate, a hypocrite and a common crook, according to Farmer Jim.
He never uttered one word to indicate that he had changed his opinion
of Mayfield until after the recent
July election. Following the election,
he appealed to his friends not to commit themselves in the Connally-May-
field run-off contest for a few days.
Then came his visit to Room 428 in
the Austin Hotel, and Earle May-
field's visit to the same room the

same day. This room was occupied by
one Barrett, a representative of the Insull electric light and power interests. The next week Farmer Jim
came out strong for Mayfield. Every
issue of the Ferguson Forum is now
being filled with denunciation of Connally and boosts for the immaculate Earle. The Forum consists of 28 columns and last week 17 columns
were devoted to Tom and Earle, cus-
sing Tom and boosting Earle. Honest men would like to know the Why-
ness of Jim's present enthusiasm
for Earle.

Badger Clark, the cowboy, poet,
philosopher puts the sentiments of
the old time cowman in part as follows:
When my old soul hunts range and
rest
Beyond the last divide,
Just plant me in some stretch of
West
That's sunny, lone and wide.
Let cattle rub my tombstone down
And coyotes mourn their kin,
Let hawes paw and tromp the
moun,
But don't you fence it in!

Locals

Ben Moore was here Monday from O'Donnell and stated that they were
talking of having a community fair
there just preceding the county fair
to be held here. Mr. Moore expressed
much gratification over the fact
that Lynn county is to have a farm
agent. He also stated that his family and some of the neighboring families, members of the home demonstration club are very busy now canning vegetables. They have three cookers and are putting up immense
quantities of these foodstuffs for
future reference.

W. F. Slater was in Friday from
his place near Lynn and remarked to
the News that he has the best crop
this year he has ever had. There
are a few boll worms in his cotton
but not many. Notwithstanding the
fine crop prospect, he seemed to be a bit "blue"—he was batching. Mrs.
Slater was visiting a daughter in
Borger and Miss Fay was visiting in Graham. So he was treading the
wine press alone out at his house-
mightly lonesome he was.

R. D. Spruiell, who lives away out
near the east line of the county, was
in Friday and reported that he and
family had recently returned from
a visit with relatives at Hubbard, Temple, Killen, and Lamposas. They
also visited Dallas and other cities
and towns in that section while a-
way. They were accompanied home by
Mrs. Spruiell's father and mother
spend the fall here.

Rev. B. N. Shepherd left Monday
for Rule, where he will be engaged
this week and next in a revival meeting. Following that he will hold a
revival in a rural church near Rule,
and will be absent from Tahoka for
three consecutive Sundays. The pulpit will be filled each Sunday during
his absence, however.

Frank Fletcher, editor of the Southland Sun, was a business visitor in Tahoka Saturday and made a
pleasant call at the News office. Mr.
Fletcher says he was born at Taho-
ka, but the town has improved a bit
since his parents removed from here.
He is getting out a dandy paper for
the people of Southland.

H. F. Shearer and V. S. Cassel of Winnboro, Wood county, were here
the first of the week prospecting,
possibly trading some. Both of these gentlemen want to come to Lynn
county, and we hope that they may
find it possible to do so.

G. H. Nelson, Democratic nominee
for county attorney, and his little daughter Willies returned Saturday night from a visit with numerous
relatives at various points in east
Texas, including Commerce, Pictou
and Linden.

L. C. Dolloff and family of Ses-
graves and his son Dawson Dolloff
of New Moore passed through Taho-
ka Saturday on their way to Arkansas on a visit. They expect to be gone several weeks.

Clifton Janak and Clyde Eubanks
returned Saturday from Panhandle,
where they have been employed the
past several weeks in the harvest
fields.

Miss Ouida Middleton, a student
in the Tech, was the guest last week end of the family of S. R. Kemp.

Simeon and Keith Kemp and James Applewhite spent last week in Lubbock visiting relatives.

Helen Applewhite is visiting relatives in Lubbock this week.

SLAT'S DIARY

(By Ross Farquhar)

Friday—Pa returned this a. m.
from a trip to detroyt for his ferm-
he was telling about I restrent he est in & he ordered a chicken leg. when he got the bill he discovered they had charged him for a whole chicken. Pa sed he was glad he didnt order rost beef.

Saturday—Ma is mad at mr. Gil-
lem now for a remark he made to-
nite when him and mrs. Gillem was
at our house. they was tawking about operations & mr. Gillem sed he thot the foolishest question in the wurd was to ask a woman where she was vaccinated.

Sunday—it is very doultle if mr.
Heston will ever speak to pa agane
after the bad brage pa made tonite
when he was over to there house.
mr. Heston was showing pa & me
some pitchers he had took and Coming to 1 mr. Heston sed, what do you think of this 1 pa looked at it
and exklamed, why Heston, the little raskle looks just like you. mr. Hes-
ton smiled queerly and sed—my dere
man, that is a exray pitcher of my lungs. we went home shortly afterward and Ma did all the tawking.

Monday—Ant Emmy returned back
home today after her visit at atlantik
city and told us all about that plase.
she sed the thing that imprest her
most about the ochen was the fact
that there was so much water in it.
Pa laffed and sed yes, that seems to be a characteristik of ochens as a rool. saw Jane out waking with that
new felow wich lives at the hotel.
she saw me but didnt speak. I gess
she was afrade he would be jelus.

Tuesday—Jack Weston was telling
pa today about going into a musik store & he told the clerk give me a copy of that new peace, Funnyside,
the clerk snarled and sed, you aint
so darned hansom yourself.

Wednesday—ant Emmy was reading
in the paper tonite where a man was
arrested for bigamy & being of a rather igneront nature she ast Pa what was a bigamist. Pa smiled and sed, a bigamist is a man witch dont know when he has got enough. Ma
was in the kitchen at the time or
they mite of been trubble.

Thursday—mister Gillem got home
today from a trip to Boston where he had went on sun business. he was
telling pa about havin his forchen
told there. the woman told him that a butiful blond was going to cum

into his life but that there would be sum opposahun and ast him did he know what it was. mr. Gillem sed
he wasnt sure but he thot probly it
wud be his wife.

Get ready now to have an exhibit
in the Lynn County Fair to be held
September 26-27.

Every community in Lynn county
should have a splendid exhibit in the
fair here on September 26-27.

The business men of Tahoka should
cooperate in every way possible to
make the Lynn County Fair this year the best in our history. It can be done easily.

More live stock should be entered
in the Lynn County Fair this year
than ever before. If you have
good stock begin now to get them in
condition to take a premium.

FIRE WRITTEN UP BY SOCIETY EDITOR

The following story was credited or charged to the Nolan County News by Editor George F. Smith of the Snyder Times-Signal. Maybe it happened in the News, or maybe it was on some other paper, but anyway it shows what can be done with an incident, fire story when the society editor is assigned to cover the news:
"A brilliant fire was held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Slippy, in Hope Street. A large number of people attended the funeral. Mrs. Slippy, who recently had her hair shingled, made a charming home silk blouse, the pattern of which appeared in our woman's page last week. The firemen, who presented an attractive appearance, were suitably garbed in blue, the uniforms being full cut. The weather was quite delightful for an affair of this kind, a strong wind blowing. It is rumored that the fire was on a larger scale than any previous affair of a similar kind for years. It is also rumored that it cost Mr. and Mrs. Slippy about $25,000.—Midland Reporter.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT PROVIDING FOR A STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION AND RELATING TO TERMS OF SCHOOL OFFICERS

H. J. R. No. 14)
Proposing to amend Article 7 of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding thereto Section 16, providing that the term of all officers of the public free school system, including State institutions of higher education, may be fixed not to exceed six years; proposing to amend Section 8 of Article 7 of said Constitution, authorizing the appointment or election of a State Board of Education to serve not to exceed six years; requiring said amendments to be submitted to the people for adoption and making appropriations therefor.
Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:
Section 1. That Article 7 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto Section 16 as follows:
"The Legislature shall fix by law the terms of all officers of the public school system and of the State institutions of higher education, inclusive, and the terms of members of the respective boards, not to exceed six years."

Sec. 2. That Section 8 of Article 7 of the Constitution be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:
"The Legislature shall provide by law for a State Board of Education whose members shall be appointed or elected in such manner and by such authority and shall serve for such terms as the Legislature shall prescribe not to exceed six years. The said board shall perform such duties as may be prescribed by law."
Sec. 3. The foregoing constitutional amendments shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State, at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1928, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:
(1) "For the amendment to Article 7, adding Section 16, providing that school officers, including boards of institutions of higher education, shall serve for a term not exceeding six years."
"Against the amendment to Section 8 of Article 7 of the Constitution, providing for the appointment of a State Board of Education."
"Against the amendment to Section 8 of Article 7 of the Constitution, providing for the appointment of a State Board of Education."
Each voter shall scratch out one of the above listed clauses on his ballot, leaving the one expressing his vote on the proposed amendment to which it relates.
Sec. 4. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation ordering an election to determine whether or not the proposed constitutional amendments set forth herein shall be adopted, and to have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. And the sum of five thousand ($5,000.00) dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated from any funds in the State Treasury, not otherwise appropriated to defray the expenses of printing said proclamation and of holding said election.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT—AUTHORIZING LEGISLATURE TO EXEMPT FROM TAXATION PARSONAGES, AND CERTAIN PROPERTY OF ASSOCIATIONS FOR RELIGIOUS, EDUCATIONAL AND PHYSICAL DEVELOPMENT

H. J. R. No. 20.
HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION
Proposing an amendment to Section 2, Article 8 of the Constitution of the State, so as to authorize the Legislature to exempt from taxation any property owned by a church or by a strictly religious society for the exclusive use as a dwelling place for the ministry of such church or religious society, and which yields no revenue whatever to such church or religious society, and property used exclusively and reasonably necessary in conducting any association engaged in promoting the religious, educational and physical development of boys, girls, young men or young women operating under a State or National organization of life character; providing for an election upon such proposed Constitutional amendment, and making appropriation therefor.
Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:
Section 1. That Section 2, Article 8 of the Constitution be so changed as to read hereafter as follows:
All occupation taxes shall be equal and uniform upon the same class of subjects within the limits of the authority levying the tax; but the legislature may, by general laws, exempt from taxation public property used for public purposes; actual places of religious worship; also any property owned by a church or by a strictly religious society for the exclusive use as a dwelling place for the ministry of such church or religious society, and which yields no revenue whatever to such church or religious society; provided that such exemption shall not extend to more property than is reasonably necessary for a dwelling place and in no event more than one acre of land, places of burial not held for private or corporate profit, all buildings used exclusively and owned by persons or associations of persons for school purposes and the necessary furniture of all schools and property used exclusively and reasonably necessary in conducting any association engaged in promoting the religious, educational and physical development of boys, girls, young men or young women operating under a State or National organization of like character; also the endowment funds of such institutions of learning and religion not used with a view to profit; and when the same are invested in bonds or mortgages, or in land or other property which has been and shall hereafter be bought in by such institution under foreclosure, sales made to satisfy or protect such bonds or mortgages, that such exemption of such land and property shall continue only for two years after the purchase of the same at such sale by such institutions and no longer, and institutions of purely public charity; and all laws exempting property from taxation other than the property above mentioned shall be null and void.

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1928, at which all qualified voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words: "For the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas exempting from taxation property owned by churches or strictly religious societies for the exclusive use as dwellings for the ministry"; and all those opposed shall write or have printed on their ballots the words "Against the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, exempting from taxes property owned by churches or strictly religious societies for the exclusive use as dwellings for the ministry."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have same published as required by the Constitution and existing laws of the State.
Sec. 4. The sum of Two Thousand Dollars ($2000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses of said publication and election.

It Points to extra miles

THE indicator on your gasoline gauge tells the story of Conoco's extra miles far better than millions of words could tell it. And the indicator is a slow mover when you use Summer Conoco—because you go so far with so little gasoline.

Is it any wonder that Summer Conoco Gasoline enjoys such overwhelming popularity? If you're looking for more mileage, you won't have to look far. You can get it at any Conoco pump—at convenient locations everywhere.

Edith

Mr. C. W. Knibbs and his son-in-law Mr. White, from Okla. went to Russell, El Paso, Juarez and other places in Mexico last week. They came home Friday. They reported a very interesting trip.

Mr. C. E. Campbell and family returned Friday from a week's visit with relatives and friends in Jones county. They say crops are small there because of lack of rain.

There was a pretty good crowd at Sunday School Sunday, though we did not have a very good lesson. Everybody came to S. S. next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock and have a real good lesson.

The singing was not so good last Sunday evening on account of lack of books. We will have another singing next Sunday, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. We will have two singing teachers from Joe Stokes with us and they said they would bring a quartet with them. We are also expecting a number of good singers from Central. Everybody is cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Curry and family left Saturday for Navarro county where they expect to visit relatives and friends about two weeks.

Ray Ivis and Ray Curry came in last Tuesday from Navarro county. Mr. and Mrs. Benefield and family who live near Lubbock spent the week end with Mr. Horton and family.

Mrs. W. E. Thompson is at Mr. Joe Thompson's in the Deer-hod-vice community this week helping her home.

Harvey and Winnie Freeman from Taboka visited Mrs. P. C. Campbell Saturday night.

South Ward Items

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reed and family reported a good time at the picnic at Amberst last Friday and Saturday. They also spent overnight with Wheeler county friends who had recently moved to that place. The band boys put on some wonderful music and the horse races, ball games and air-plane rides were enjoyed by all.

Mr. Ennis Smelser and little daughter Pauline are visiting relatives at Sweetwater this week.

Mr. Lloyd Miller of Pryor is visiting his brothers, Sam and Finis Miller.

Mr. Henry Reed and Marshall Swan are in Abilene on business this week.

TABOKA COACH AND SCIENCE TEACHER MARRIES

The Amarillo News of August 17 gives an account of a marriage that will be of peculiar interest to the people of Taboka. The News story follows:

A wedding of unusual simplicity was solemnized Wednesday afternoon by Rev. Lewis N. Stuckey, pastor of the Park Street Methodist church, when he united in marriage Miss Nancy Weeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Weeks, and M. Winfield Nicholas, at the home of the bride's parents, 1245 Tyler Street.

Presently at 5 o'clock, Mrs. Edwin S. Davis, sister of the bride, who came from Louisville, Kentucky, to attend the wedding, began singing Calahan's lovely song, "At Dawning" and while the clear, sweet notes of the song resounded through the rooms, Reverend Stuckey spoke the marriage ritual, both song and ceremony coming to a close at the same time.

The bride was lovely in a handsome ensemble suit of Georgette with accessories to match, and carried a bouquet of exquisite blush roses and baby breath, and the bridal couple made a charming picture against a background of the season's garden flowers which adorned the rooms throughout.

Following the ceremony, light refreshments were served and immediately afterward Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas left on a short honeymoon trip. Only members of the two families were present at the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of the Amarillo High school and attended Kidd-Key college at Sherman, where she was salutatorian of her class in 1926, and was elected one of the six most popular girls of the college. She was also editor of the college paper.

The groom is also a graduate of the Amarillo high school and was made captain of the Golden Sandstone football team for three years. He attended Bucknell university at Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, and received his B. A. degree from the Texas Technological college at Lubbock where he had the distinction of being captain of the first football team.

Petty

Our school started last week, and every one seems to be pleased with the first school and the largest attendance Petty has ever had, and if all we parents will cooperate with the teachers we will have a good school. An education is all we can give our children that can't be taken away from them.

Well, some think we are having too much rain in this part, as they fear the worms will lether the cotton, but at this writing they have not made their unwelecome visit.

Mr. Dockery and family left last week end to visit their daughter in Dallas.

O. S. and Warren Smith have been working on the Fock Ranch the past ten days branding cattle.

We are sorry to learn that Mr. Blair is on the sick list this week.

The picnic at the school house Saturday night was enjoyed by all, especially the little fellows.

O. S. and Warren Smith left Tuesday to visit relatives at McCooly, where O. S.'s wife will meet him. She has been visiting in Haskell county.

Quite a few Petty people are attending the meeting at New Home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds and family visited their daughter near New Home Sunday.

Mrs. Brooks Smith's mother left Wednesday for her home at Maran.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS TO OPEN MONDAY SEPTEMBER 2ND

have been attending the Texas Tech this summer. They come well equipped and full of enthusiasm for their work, and it is believed that South Ward will have a splendid school this year.

It is not expected that the negro school will start until after August.

It is the policy of the superintendent and the board to continually build up the faculty in point of scholarship and proficiency, and looking to that end as many degree teachers as possible are being procured as well as teachers who have had experience and proven their worth. While the Taboka public schools are already among the very best in this section yet it is the constant aim of the superintendent and the board to make them better. They feel that our children are entitled to the best that can be procured for the salaries which are paid.

It is hoped and believed that a most successful school year is about to open.

It is also hoped that the Parent-Teachers' Club will be able to function this year in a greater way than ever before. Let everybody cooperate to the utmost.

Truett Smith Asks For A Chance

I wish to thank again the voters of Lynn county for the support I received in the first primary and express the desire that I may again receive the same support as well as the support of others.

We have tried to run the race for clerk on a high plane and I hope you will approve of the way I have tried to carry my side of it. I have no unkind words or criticism to make against my opponent. I have the highest regard for him; however, some of his friends have tried to raise a question pertaining to my residence, and for their benefit I wish to make a statement.

They have suggested that I live in the north part of the county and have been in Lubbock the past two years and that I came back only to run for the office of county and district clerk.

In reply to this I would say: We moved to Lynn county in 1907, upon the same farm where we now reside. It is true that we live in the north part of the county, about five miles from the county line. It is also true that I have spent about nine months in each of the last two years in Lubbock, attending the Texas Tech, and also that I spent one scholastic year attending school in Plainview.

Now if my conception of local government is correct, then I see no reason why I should be barred from participating in county government because I happen to live in one extremity of the county. I would also explain for their benefit that the Legislature of Texas has passed a law prohibiting college students from exercising political privileges in the county where they are attending school.

In my case, I could not have taken part in elections in Lubbock county or Hale county if I had wanted to, for my parents and my home remained in Lynn county while I was away, boarding in the places where I was going to school and returning each year at the end of the spring term to farm in Lynn county. If I had stayed here during the time I was in school, then those who are opposed to me would doubtless be saying that I was not qualified for the office. I find it a very difficult thing to act in a way that will gain approval from the men who are against me.

Then, making a final comment on the question of residence I would add: We have farmed in Lynn county 22 years, we raise cotton in Lynn county, we give it in Lynn county, we sell it in Lynn county, we pay taxes in Lynn county. We are citizens of Lynn county. If we can't establish a residence and gain political rights in a county after 22 years, then I would ask the gentlemen who have raised this question, how long would it take to establish a residence with political rights?

In conclusion, I would remind each voter that my friend, Haggie Smith, has held the office of County and District Clerk for three consecutive terms. 20 years is a long time. I served not only the young men and women of Lynn county but in the military and mothers who tell proudly that your boy and your girl may attend educational institutions to prepare, not for a life of leisure or illness, but for a life that might be spent for the promotion of civilization in general. If I am elected I will do my best to give you the chance. I ask you to give me the chance. TRUETT B. SMITH

Supt. Martha Rose and family returned Monday night from a two-week vacation spent in the mountains of New Mexico near the fishing town of Taos. Mr. Rose says the fishing was fine up there. Also hunting was good. He would have been if he had been a good marksman. He would not admit that he killed a woodchuck in the open season, but he says deer are plentiful up there, and he even got on the trail of a bear. The altitude where he was a camper is a little in excess of 8,000 feet and it was too cold to be comfortable, even under heavy blankets. It rained during eight of the ten days they were there and he got wet almost every day. They were glad to get back to Taboka.

Miss Odella Shook, who has been visiting Miss Reta Lois Colwellback, returned to her home in Waco Friday.

Hood Rubber Products Co. Offers Service Contract

The most liberal in the history of the tire industry. Some of the interesting features of the new service contract:

12 months guarantee on four-ply tires.

18 month guarantee on six-ply tires.

Every thirty days each customer is requested by letter from the factory to report to the nearest Hood dealer for tire examination; this includes testing all tires for proper inflation, examination of rim, alignment of wheels, and any other adjustment which will add to the life of the tires.

At the end of half the guarantee period, 6 or 9 months, at the case may be, the customer is requested to have front and rear tires exchanged as this will increase the life of the tires.

The foregoing service is free and all adjustments will be made by your local dealer without consulting the factory.

These are not merely promises but are some of the items incorporated in a written contract which is given you when you purchase HOOD TIRES from an authorized dealer.
