SMITH UPHELD BY MULLICAN

Lubbock District Judge Loud In Praise Of Democratic Nominee In Speech Here

Judge Clark M. Mullican of Lubbock addressed a crowd of Lynn county voters on the court house lawn in Tahoka last Saturday afternoon in the interest of Al Smith for President. The crowd ranged from 250 to 300 people, most of whom seemed to be in thorough accord with the speaker. His address was punctuated at frequent intervals with applause, and at the close of the address many shook his hand and assured him of their appreciation of his speech.

The Judge opened with a plea to the voters to be tolerant and not to permit religious considerations to sway them in casting their votes. He read that provision of the constitution of the United States which guarantees religious liberty and declares that no religious test shall ever be made as a qualification to office. He asserted that prohibition has been written into the constitution of the United States and that there is not the slightest chance for its amendment to be repealed or amended, pointing out that it would require a two-thirds majority of Congress to submit an amendment and that a proposed amendment would thereafter have to be approved by three-fourths of the states. Thirteen states, he said, can prevent any change in the constitution.

He excoriated the Republican party for its alleged failure to enforce the prohibition law and criticized the placing of this duty upon Andrew Mellon, Secretary of the

TEXAS FIRST CHILDREN'S THEATRE BEING FORMED

Canyon, Oct. 10.—A Children's Theatre has been organized in the Training School of the West Texas State Teachers College. This is the first organization of this kind perfected in the state of Texas. Professor C. W. Batchelder who will be general director of the Theatre has had two years experience with the Children's Theatre in Boston, Mass. The plays which will be given during the first year will be given especially for children and several of them will be given by the children. Plans also include a Christmas party arranged especially for the children.

The Children's Theatre will be financed by selling season tickets. The children will have this experience also. The Public Speaking Department of the West Texas State Teachers College is in charge of the new activity and the plans will be worked out by Miss Mary Morgan Brown, Professor C. W. Batchelder, Miss Novella Goodman and Miss Jewell Cowan, all experts in the field of children's literary efforts.

DOWN TOWN BIBLE CLASS ELECTS OFFICERS

The Down Town Bible class, which meets at 9:45 each Sunday morning in the English Theatre, elected officers last Sunday morning, as follows: Teacher, G. E. Hogan; song leader, G. H. Nelson; president, M. B. Hood; vice-president, G. H. Nelson; second vice-president, Borden Davis; secretary-treasurer, Fred Barker; class correspondent, E. E. King.

If you are not a regular attendant upon some Sunday School or if you are a stranger in town, this class invites you to meet with them at the theatre.

Church of Christ Adds New Members

A total of thirty-four new members were added to the local church of Christ, during the revival just closed.

This meeting was staged after fall had opened up which was a barrier that seemed hard enough to face, but during the first week the Tahoka Fair was staged with a carnival and the usual attractions and the second week the Lubbock Fair opened, which took many of the Tahoka people away, and two nights our local picture show had very attractive offers to the general public. But we fought it out as best we could and the Lord blessed us with a signal victory. Of the 34 added not over 4 were children. The majority were heads of families. Eighteen of the number added came right at the closing services.

BULLDOGS GO TO CROSBYTON

Game Is Tomorrow; Lost Game To Snyder Last Friday By Score of 19 to 7

After recuperating from the defeat at the hands of Snyder High School last Friday afternoon by a score of 19 to 7, the Tahoka Bulldogs will be ready to meet the Crosbyton Chiefs in a game at Crosbyton Friday afternoon.

Crosbyton is reported to have an even better team than her record breaking one of last season, and since Tahoka also has a better team, the game promises to be as closely contested as the last one played between the two.

The game played last Friday was on Snyder's field, and from all reports the referee from that city was instrumental in winning the game; however, two spectacular seventy-five-yard runs, each resulting in a touchdown were made by Snyder. Short and Edwards are reported to have starred for Tahoka. Only a few fans accompanied the team.

PREACHING AT CHURCH OF CHRIST NEXT SUNDAY

Elder W. A. Kercheville announces that he will preach next Sunday morning and evening at the Church of Christ. It is hoped to have a full attendance of the membership, and others are cordially invited.

Elder Kercheville will give his full time to the church here hereafter, arrangements to that effect having been perfected the past week, and there will be preaching services at the Church of Christ every Sunday from now on.

Man's Neck Slashed With Knife Tuesday

Two citizens had a little misunderstanding down at Camp Tahoka Tuesday night and one of them slashed the other's neck with a knife. Only a minor wound was made. It is claimed that the assaulting party had been imbibing too freely of some character of "rot gut". Ill feelings had previously existed between them, it is said. We have not learned what charges if any were filed against the participants in the hostilities.

W. M. S. GIVES PARTY HONORING DEPARTING MEMBERS

On last Thursday afternoon the ladies of the Baptist W. M. S. gave a farewell party at the home of W. M. Harris in honor of two of their departing members, Mrs. Ira Doak and Mrs. Homey St. Clair. A number of most interesting contests and games were enjoyed by all present. Each of the honorees was presented with a beautiful casserole as a token of love and fellowship and a remembrance of their untiring efforts in carrying on the work of the W. M. S. Misses G. E. Lockhart and E. R. Allen of Lubbock, former members of the society, were guests of the afternoon.

Delicious refreshments were served to Misses Sanford, McDaniel, J. B. Stokes, Applewhite, Westers, J. H. Edwards, Walker, Billman, Collier, Calaway, Luallin, Nevill, Fortenberry, Preston, Coleman, Barnes, Shepherd, Mallins, Lockhart, Allen, St. Clair, Doak, Howell, White, Heath and Harris.

1929 IMPROVEMENT CONTEST ENROLLMENT CLOSES DEC. 1ST

Last year was our first year to have the Living Room contest—and the intense interest was gratifying to all connected with its operation.

There were 773 living rooms enrolled for improvement and at a conservative estimate at least five times that number of living rooms received substantial improvement. Many of these rooms were as greatly changed as though their owners were competing for prizes in the contest.

Nor does the interest in the living room improvement wane. It is the desire of the Home Demonstration agent that five or six times as many enroll in this contest as did the contest of last year.

If the contestants will enroll in this contest as soon as possible, it will be to the advantage of the contestant to have her room graded by the county judges as soon as possible so that she may have as much time as there is for making her plans and get started on actual work. Any contestant will enjoy the work more if she can do it in a leisurely way and not be pressed for time in getting the room finished in time for second visit of the local judges.

I do not believe it necessary to urge any woman whose living room

Russell Child Dies After Brief Illness

Little Mamie Ruth Russell, almost seven, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Russell, who reside three miles west of town, died at about 3:00 o'clock Wednesday morning. The remains were tenderly laid away in the City Cemetery at 6 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted at the grave by Rev. Lonnie Whitworth, pastor of the Assembly of God Church at Seagraves, assisted by E. R. Winter, pastor for the same denomination at Draw. Many relatives and friends attended the funeral services and sought to comfort the grief stricken father and mother and other members of the family.

The child was not known to be seriously sick, it seems, until death was imminent. A physician was then called but death came before his arrival. Some disease that peculiarly affected the heart, doubtless, had done its insidious work before the parents realized the seriousness of the malady.

MELLON SAYS CHARGE OVER LIQUOR FALSE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon today exploded the oft repeated campaign charge that he is the owner of large whiskey distilling interests.

Answering an "open letter" sent him by Senator T. A. Caraway, Democrat, of Arkansas, Mellon replied that neither today nor for several years past has he had any interest in a distillery or in the manufacture or sale of liquor.

More than that, he pointed out that the only distillery interest he ever had was an investment of $25,000 in the Overholt Distillery which he disposed of before taking office as secretary of the treasury.

Mellon bluntly told the Arkansas senator that the charges against him were first raised about the time of his appointment to the Harding cabinet, and although publicly explained at that time, have been revived in each succeeding campaign. He added pointedly that "the agitation will cease on November 6," election day.

In his reply Mellon answered in turn each of the series of questions propounded to him by Caraway.

MRS. NANNIE JONES MARRIES CLEBURNE MAN

Mrs. Nannie Jones of this city was married on Wednesday of last week to W. L. Duncan of Cleburne in that city. Mrs. Jones has long been a resident of Tahoka and has a host of friends here. Mr. Duncan is said to be a well-to-do citizen of Cleburne. The news voices the sentiments of the people of Tahoka in wishing them many years of marital bliss.

Dr. W. K. Johnston of Lubbock, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, filled his regular appointments here Sunday. He had intended remaining through the week but decided the time was not propitious for services during the week and returned Tuesday to Lubbock.

Harley Sadler Show Here This Week

The Harley Sadler tent show is here this week, and the big tent is practically full of people at every performance, in spite of the fact that very little cotton money has come in of the country as yet. Mr. Sadler and his company are artists in their line. They know how to entertain. In fact, the Harley Sadler Show has become an institution in this part of the state. Thousands of kiddies in Lynn county would be absolutely broken-hearted if anything should happen to the Harley Sadler show, and the grown folks—well they are just as wild about it as the kids. All of us that love fun are always glad for Harley Sadler to come to town.

WOMEN'S CLUBS PLAN BENEFIT

Lynn County Home Demonstration Club women will sponsor a box supper Friday night, October 19, for the benefit of the local post of the American Legion. The supper will be held at the Legion home, and every citizen of Lynn county is invited to be present.

The affair is being sponsored by the Clubs through Mrs. Lonnie Lumsden, Mrs. R. A. Metcalfe, and Miss Thelma Greenwade. The money to be raised through the sale of the boxes will go toward paying for the Legion home, and the sale is being conducted by the women because of the many courtesies shown them by the Legion by tending them the use of the home at various times.

There will also be plenty of good music and other entertainment.

Property Valuations Of County Increase

The commissioners' court has been in session this week attending to routine matters. Having completed their work as a board of equalization, they announce that the property values of the county this year amount to $6,205,104.00, which is an increase of approximately $149,000.00 over last year. This increase is not due to a raise in valuations but is due to additional properties being placed on the tax rolls.

The Kiwanis Club was entertained at the luncheon in the Methodist Church basement Wednesday by members of Harley Sadler's company, who are showing here this week.

DR. J. W. HUNT SPEAKS HERE

Believes Hoover Right Man For President; Bitterly Opposes Al Smith's Principles

Dr. J. W. Hunt, President of McMurry College, spoke in the Harley Sadler tent here Tuesday night following the show in the interest of Herbert Hoover for President. Owing to the lateness of the hour when he began, Dr. Hunt compressed his usual speech of considerably more than two hours duration into an hour and half. He necessarily spoke hurriedly and did not have time to fully develop some of the points that he made, but those who heard him generally pronounced his speech to have been a very strong one. He produced documents, letters, newspaper clippings, excerpts from the Texas Declaration of Independence, and other written or printed matter in proof of the propositions which he laid down. His arraignment of Governor Al Smith was most severe, and he paid a most glowing tribute to Herbert Hoover. His recital of the remarkable achievements of this extraordinary man was probably the high point in his speech.

Dr. Hunt spoke in O'Donnell Monday night to a highly demonstrating and enthusiastic audience, according to citizens here who attended, his address there consuming two hours and twenty minutes.

Team Runs Away; Dyer's Leg Broken

J. V. Dyer, affectionately known as "Dad" Dyer, was the victim of a most serious accident Monday morning when the team with which he was cutting feed became frightened and ran away. When the team began to run and he saw that he could not bring them under control, he jumped from the row binder, and the impact of his weight against the earth broke the ankle bones of his right leg. The fracture was a most serious one and it is feared that it will be many weeks before "Dad" will be able to use the injured member.

The accident is said to have occurred about eight o'clock in the morning. After Mr. Dyer jumped from the moving machine, the team continued to run a long distance. They finally "hung up" in the fence, and "Dad" crawled a distance of about six hundred yards to where they were and succeeded in disentangling them from the fence and releasing them from the machine, hoping that they would then go home. But this they refused to do. When "Dad" did not appear at the house at the dinner hour, a search was instituted and he was found lying across the machine, upon which he had crawled after releasing the team. Mr. Dyer was immediately taken to a hospital at Lubbock for medical treatment. Mr. and Mrs. Garrie White of Post, son-in-law and daughter of Mr. Dyer's, who returned from his bedside at Lubbock Tuesday morning, reported that he was resting well.

The team which was pulling the row binder became frightened, Mr. Dyer reported, when a mule over in the pasture dragged a bundle of maize through the fence and went running alongside his team on the opposite side of the fence, dragging the bundle of feed with him.

Many friends here deplore this most unfortunate accident, and hope that the fractured bones may heal rapidly.

KITCHEN SHOWER GIVEN AT CENTRAL WARD

The Kitchen shower given at the Central Ward School last Friday afternoon was a decided success. The following ladies were present: Adair, Crie, Reese, B. Howell, Bartlett, Billman, Dickson, E. P. Westers, Hood, Turrentine, Cooper, Wright, McFall and the Central Ward teachers.

Refreshments of lemonade and cakes were served. The kitchen is still in need of the following articles: plates, bowls, cups and saucers, forks, teaspoons, stewers, and dishpan.

The Lynn County News can still be had for $1.50 per year—32 issues. We are also still offering the combination of The News and the Dallas Semi-Weekly Farm News for only $2.00.

Hoover Has Never Used Intoxicants

Charges to the effect that Al Smith is a habitual drinker of intoxicating liquor have frequently brought the counter charge that Hoover also drinks. That there is no foundation in fact for these counter charges is shown by the following communication:

Washington, D. C., July 14, 1928

Mr. W. Erskine Williams, Texas National Bank Bldg., Fort Worth, Texas.

Dear Mr. Williams:

Your letter of July 9th addressed to Mr. Hoover has come to me. I can state to you most emphatically that there has never been a drop of intoxicating liquor in Mr. Hoover's household, and that he personally never used intoxicating liquors in any form.

I would be glad if you would deny these slanders at every possible opportunity.

Yours sincerely,
GEORGE AKERSON,
Assistant to Mr. Hoover.

Mellon Doesn't own Distillery Stock

The Honorable T. J. Holbrook of Galveston and Judge Clark M. Mullin of Lubbock each made the statement in speeches delivered here in Tahoka that the Hon. Andrew Mellon was one of the largest distillers in America. The following letter dispels that accusation in very drastic manner.

"Springfield, Mo.—The following statement has been received from Mr. Mellon: 'I once owned some stock in a distillery company as I owned stock in many other business enterprises. The stock in this company was disposed of before I took office as Secretary of the Treasury; in fact, the distillery company ceased from doing any of its manufacturing business over three years before the prohibition amendment went into effect, and the entire business was subsequently wound up. At no time was I ever actively engaged in the distilling business. I have no interest in or connection with the distillation of liquor or any liquor business.'

Yours very truly,
A. W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury

Slaton To Hold Big Poultry Show

Slaton, Oct. 10—Slaton's third annual poultry show will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Dec. 6, 7, and 8, this year. A catalogue will soon be off the press giving complete premium lists and other information. The show is expected to far outstrip the one held last year when about 400 birds were exhibited. Besides exhibitors from all parts of the South Plains, poultrymen of Central, North and Northwest Texas entered displays in the show last year. All are expected to return this year.

MECHANICAL HATCHING OLDER THAN KING TUT

Farmers and poultrymen who hold the belief that when they buy chicks from a modern hatchery they are patronizing an infant industry are due for a surprise. King Tut, so ancient records show, must have depended regularly on broilers raised from hatchery chicks, for incubators have been used for production of chicks by the Egyptians and Chinese from time immemorial.

The hatchery business, far from being a product of modern enterprise, was old when Columbus first landed in America. It has behind it the tradition of ages, and is probably the first farm industry to adopt economical mass production methods, long before industrial leaders "discovered" this means of reducing production costs.

The hatching and selling of baby chicks as a business enterprise has existed more than 2,000 years in Egypt and China, ancient records show, while fifty years ago, when hatcheries were unknown in his country, there were at least 150 hatcheries in Egypt, each with a capacity of about 300,000 eggs a year. Thirty four years ago the first shipment of chicks was made in this country, inaugurating what was to grow to one of agriculture's largest industries.

Although the hatcheries of the country have several organizations, and do millions of dollars worth of business each year, it was not until recently that some of the more progressive hatcherymen banded together to promote the sale of chicks on a purely business basis, with quality of product, and excellence of service to customers as their basic ideal. These hatcheries, operating under the slogan "Hatchery Chicks For Greater Profits," are scattered from coast to coast. They come nearest to the ideal of the ancient Egyptian hatcheries, whose operators for generations handed their business down from father to son, to carry out the traditions of service which is a part of their industry.

HOME EC GIRLS HAVE OUTING AT SAND HILL

Friday, October 4, the girls of the Home Economics Club went to the Sand Hill. We left town at five-thirty. We played in the sand until dark. Some of the girls got some wood to fix our fire while the others spread the lunch. We roasted weenies and had pickles and tomatoes to eat with them. There were also some bananas and apples. We had some lemonade and cookies for refreshments. There were eleven present. Miss Bleifuss, Miss Armes, and Mrs. Robinson went with us. The following girls were there: Glenda Milliken, Ruby Moore, Lucile Johnson, Blanche Swan, Neva Blenkenbecker, Doris Lisenby, and Tommie Milliken.

WHAT PAGE THOUGHT OF HOOVER

Just to checkmate the defamable whispering campaign which the Tammany slush funds may be fostering, it might be well to get before the Texas voter the facts on one charge against Herbert Hoover.

It is being whispered around that Hoover was preparing to become an English citizen at the time he was called to a place of great importance in the Wilson administration. To those well acquainted with him and cognizant of his robust and thorough going Americanism this may be unnecessary. But not all are thus acquainted. On Dec. 16, 1916, (note the date) Walter Hines Page, Ambassador to Great Britain, an outstanding Democrat and a loyal American, who had been chosen for our most important Ambassadorship at a critical period of the World War by Woodrow Wilson, had this to say of Herbert Hoover, in a confidential note written for President Wilson's guidance:

"Written not for the sake of the gentleman mentioned, but for the possible help of the President and the service.

"Hoover: Mr. Herbert C. Hoover, chairman of the Commission for the Relief of Belgium, would, if opportunity should offer, make a useful officer in the State Department. He is probably the only man living who has privately (i. e. without holding office) negotiated understandings with the British, French, German, Belgian and Dutch governments. He personally knows, and has had direct dealings with these governments, and his transactions with them have involved several hundred million dollars. He is a man of very considerable fortune, less than when the war began, for this relief work has cost him much. He was approached on behalf of the British government with the suggestion that, if he would become a British subject, the government would be glad to give him an important executive post, and with the hint that, if he succeeded, a title might await him. His answer was:

"I'll do what I can for you with pleasure, but I'll be damned if I give up my American citizenship—not on your life."

"Within the last six months," continues Mr. Page to President Wilson, "two large financial organizations, each independently, have offered him $100,000 a year to enter their service, and an industrial company has offered him $100,000 to begin with." He declined them all. When the Belgian Relief work recently struck a financial snag, Hoover, by telegraph got the promise of a loan in the United States to the British and French governments for Belgian relief, of $150,000,000. I do not know, but I think he would be glad to turn his European experience to the patriotic uses of our government. He is 42 years old, a graduate of Leland Stanford University."

Thus writes Mr. Walter Hines Page, a Democrat, to Woodrow Wilson, our greatest president of Herbert Hoover twelve years before he became a candidate for the presidency. Herbert Hoover was a great American then, and he has grown greater in the fruitful years of patriotic service that have followed. He will make one of our greatest presidents without question. Arthur W. Jones, in Star Telegram

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Campbell's son, Deck, and wife from Wichita came in last Saturday. They will probably stay here this fall.

Mr. Horton, Mammie, and J. D. left Tuesday for East Texas, where they will live the coming year.

There was a pretty good crowd at Sunday School last Sunday and a large crowd gathered for preaching, but Rev. E. N. Shepherd did not come to preach from some cause. So we were all disappointed. Next Sunday is Rev. E. R. Winter's appointment. Everybody come at 2:30 o'clock for Sunday School and stay for preaching.

Mr. C. W. Krebs was elected president of our singing last Sunday evening. Sunday night we had a very good singing. Next Sunday night we are expecting Mr. Dugan with our 1929 song books. Everybody come help us sing.

NOTICE RURAL SCHOOLS

At a meeting of the Superintendents and Principals of the accredited schools of the county on October 6th the following resolutions were passed:

"Whereas the State Superintendent in accordance with the law has provided a basis for the classification of the rural schools of the state, and,

"Whereas we are of the opinion that a strict adherence to this classification if of benefit to the rural schools and necessary to the maintenance of the standards of accredited school admitting pupils from rural school; therefore,

"Be it resolved by the Superintendents and Principals of the accredited schools of Lynn County that we shall not hereafter accept High School work done by the pupils in rural schools that offer more work than is prescribed by the State Classification Law for such schools unless the pupil has passed the college entrance examinations, or until the pupil takes an entrance examination.

The above resolutions were passed with representatives of the three accredited schools present. These schools are Wilson, Tahoka, and O'Donnell. I hope that teachers, patrons, and trustees will take note of this resolution and try to make your work conform to the regulations of the State Superintendent and the law.

Yours truly,
H. P. CAVENESS, Co. Supt.

JUST ANOTHER OVERSIGHT

On Sunday afternoon, October 30, Dr. J. D. Sandefer of Abilene, President of Simmons University, made an address at the City Tabernacle here favoring the election of Herbert Hoover to the Presidency. We wrote an account of the speech for publication in this paper but it was inadvertently left out. So, so far as the outside world is concerned, it had no information as to Dr. Sandefer's coming. He spoke in his usual interesting and entertaining way to a crowd of possibly 250 people, most of whom seemed to be in thorough sympathy with the speaker.

South Ward Items

The South Ward School is progressing rapidly. Several members, including Mr. and Mrs. Inman and their family, were out of the community Sunday, but the attendance was unusually good. The Junior boys and girls are enthusiastic over a contest for new members.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hood and Mr. and Mrs. Greenwood and their families visited Mr. and Mrs. Rhyme Sunday.

Mrs. Cobb has been ill during the past week but she is some better now.

Several families, including Mr. and Mrs. Hood, Mr. Smelser and Pauline, and Mr. and Mrs. Inman, went to the Lubbock Fair on Tahoka day.

Clyde Looney visited F. J. Switzer Sunday.

The girls of South Ward School have organized a tennis club.

HOW AL SMITH HATES THE NEGRO

Last Saturday afternoon we listened to a speaker draw a word picture of the days of the carpetbagger in Texas. He described a picture that hangs on the walls of the capitol at Austin of a Texas legislature of that period, in which some negro men are shown. But that was fifty years ago, when the passions of the Civil War period were still at their height. On last Sunday we saw in the Fort Worth Star Telegram the picture of a negro man and a white woman seated at the same table in a business office. The negro man was Ferdinand Morton, Tammany Hall boss of the negroes of the Harlem section of New York City and now a member of the Civil Service Commission of New York. He was appointed by Governor Al Smith and draws a salary of $7,500. The white woman seated at the same table is his stenographer. This is not a picture of carpet-bag rule of fifty years ago but a picture of Tammany rule in New York City today.

Furthermore, the same dripping wet crowd that nominated Al Smith at Houston has nominated a negro as the Democratic candidate for Congress in the twelfth congressional district in St. Louis, and if Al Smith and these dripping wet Democrats are successful, a picture of the next Congress of the United States will contain that of a negro man, elected and serving as a wet Democrat. We wonder if a picture of that kind would not also arouse the Judge's ire.

Furthermore, negro men are today teaching white boys and girls in the public schools of New York City. Al Smith, governor for nearly eight years has never raised a finger against it. How does that react on the Judge's tender sensibilities?

Negro men are still allowed to marry white women and white men are allowed to marry negro women in New York state, of which Al Smith is governor, and such marriages do often occur. Al Smith has never demanded a law against it. That ought to give the Judge something more to "get mad" about.

Furthermore, Gooseneck Bill McDonald, the "black-and-tan" Republican leader in Texas, has climbed on the Al Smith band wagon and is trying to deliver the negro vote of Texas to the Democratic nominee, and Jack Johnson of Chicago, the negro prize-fighter, who lives with a white wife, is also campaigning for Smith.

We wonder how the Judge can think of all these things and keep his temper unruffled and then get so "mad" every time he thinks of that picture of the carpet-bag days of a half-century ago and every time he thinks of that "order" that he says Hoover made—which he did not make—abolishing segregation of the races in a Washington government department.

This is Fire Prevention week. It is well for us to be reminded frequently of the danger of fire. This demon destroys many lives and an enormous amount of property each year. The approach of winter, when fires are built in heaters for the first time in months, seems to be the greatest danger period. Stove pipes and flues should be examined and cleaned before fires are built. Various types of cooking stoves, if allowed to get in bad condition, are also a source of constant danger. Let us take all proper precautions and be careful with fire.

For the first time in history we are hearing Southern Democratic orators laud Tammany Hall. We are wondering why Southern Democratic leaders did not discover the virtues of Tammany long years ago. We should have been fighting for Tammany all these years instead of denouncing it as a rotten political organization, if we are to believe all the fine things that Al Smith spellbinders are now telling us about it. Great is Tammany, and Al Smith is its prophet!

While the acreage in feed in Lynn county this year is small, yet the yield has been excellent, and many farmers will have much feed to sell. It has been demonstrated here in Tahoka that this feed can be ground up and made much more valuable as a feed for livestock. Why not thus work it up and then feed more of it at home. This should be the greatest hog, and cattle, and poultry country in the world.

For the first time in many years the Democrats are making an effort to get the negro vote in Texas. And for the first time thousands of negroes will vote the national Democratic ticket, but the better class of negroes throughout the state will vote for Hoover in November.

WOMAN VOTER DISCUSSES MERITS OF SMITH & HOOVER

In the history of the people of all nations, there have at times arisen crises, either morally, political or religiously.

Regardless of which class of people (good or bad) is in charge of the government, there must be an attempt, an uprising, or in other words, a conflict, in order that the opposing powers might get control.

Such conflicts have caused wars and rumors of wars. People of all classes have been murdered, and even burned at the stake, because of their political, moral, and religious standing.

Throughout the ages, the nations of the old world, have repeatedly been torn to pieces, because of politics, morals, and religion.

There was a time, when oppression became so great, that the people saw fit to explore and found a new nation. This new nation was built upon a system of government of the people, by the people and for the people. Those forefathers saw fit to write into their constitution such things as would overcome, and do away with the corruption and bitter experiences, which they lived under, in the countries from which they came.

This new nation, the United States of America, for seven score and twelve years, has succeeded, fundamentally, in carrying out those original principles of government, of our forefathers, such as Washington, Madison, Jefferson and others.

True, we have had our difficulties. But we have maintained a standard of morals, politics and religious tolerance, far above the reproach of any foreign nation.

Now, shall our reputation be lowered? Nay, we shall continue to follow in the steps of those old heroes. And "Old Glory", will continue to flap in the breeze, without cause for shame!

We have before us today, two men, one of whom we must choose to be our leader, for the coming four years. And it behooves us, as American citizens, to weigh well the records and policies of these men.

We have one, Herbert Hoover, who was left an orphan, at the tender age of 11 years. Left a poor boy to fight life's battles, he has, through his energy and keen insight, become one of the world's most useful men. Burdens have been placed upon his shoulders, and he has honorably, and faithfully discharged every duty. In 1914, he gave up his mining interests in order to clothe and feed destitute millions, of the war ridden nations.

Then at the close of the war he persuaded the European nations not to cancel their contracts for American cultural goods. Thus, American goods continued to have a market for their products, while other nations might have had a surplus of their goods.

By his genius, he organized flood relief for 600,000 Americans, which enabled them, to replant their crops. Is this not a farm relief?

He with the assistance of 100,000 citizens, gave us the Better Homes movement.

His close study of relief work, has educated him to the needs of the people. And he has proven beyond doubt that he is able to meet a crisis.

We have on the other hand, Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, who was as Herbert Hoover left an orphan at an early age.

Twenty five years ago Gov. Smith began his political career, by becoming a member of the Assembly. During his stay there, he at all times voted in favor of the liquor question.

After becoming Governor of his state, he asked for the repeal of the enforcement act, thus in this instance he asked for the repeal of the constitution.

The Literary Digest of Sept 29, gives an account of the address, made by Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt to the Ohio Methodist Conference at Springfield a few days ago. Mrs. Willebrandt is assistant U. S. Attorney General, and knows whereof she speaks.

In her address to the Conference, she said: "New York, since through Governor Smith's leadership, the enforcement Act of the state was repealed, has become the center, not only of lawlessness and disregard for the Constitution of the United States and free and open distribution of liquor, but it has also become the center of the dissemination of the false doctrine that the law cannot be enforced."

"Democratic apologists insist that electing a wet President would make no difference in the United States. It is true that he would not have power to accomplish the plan that has been proposed. A dry Congress would prevent that. He could not give liquor to this nation legally, but under him, liquor would be easier to get it legally. The inevitable result of his leadership would increase disregard for law, evasion of responsibility of enforcement, and enlarge avenues of nullification of the Constitution. No dry Congress could prevent that."

Mrs. Willebrandt also said that "Manhattan is ruled by Tammany, an organization that for underworld connection, and political efficiency is matched no place else in America"

Now, shall we, as loyal American citizens, send to the White House a man, whose record shows that he has not upheld the Constitution and the enforcement of our Constitutional laws? Knowing too, that Gov. Smith is backed by Tammany, with all of its corruptness, we as men and women cannot afford to give him our votes.

Again, Gov. Smith, is a faithful son of the Catholic Church. That is his privilege. We would not deprive him of the right to worship God, according to the dictates of his own conscience. No people on earth believe more freely in religious tolerance than the Protestant people of America. But does the Catholic church practice religious tolerance?

Some claim they are going to vote for Gov. Smith because they cannot go back on the Democratic party. Must we stay with the party regardless of its leader? George Washington, the man who was "first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen" would not have it so.

In his farewell address, Washington solemnly warned the people against party domination. Some of his words were: "The alternate domination of one faction over another, sharpened by the spirit of revenge, natural to party dissension, which in different ages and countries has perpetrated the most horrid enormities, is itself a frightful despotism."

Then it behooves us, as loyal men and women to vote for principle, rather than party. And may the vote on November 6th be overwhelmingly for Herbert Hoover as the straw vote of the Literary Digest for Oct. 6 now is.

The vote: Hoover, 514,397; Smith 231,061.

A "used car" is unused transportation

A GOOD automobile is built to stand years of use. It will provide many thousands of miles of satisfactory transportation.

But only occasionally are all its years and all its mileage used up by one owner. Many owners turn their cars in after an average use of only two to three years—long before the cars' lives have been exhausted.

This custom brings into the market every year so-called "used" cars which represent outstanding opportunities to buy unused transportation at low cost.

Every year more and more people appreciate this fact. Today millions of families are driving cars of which they are the second or third or even fourth owners; and this year the volume of new car sales and trade-in transactions has created wider choices and greater values in unused transportation than ever before.

3 out of 5 buy used cars

THREE out of five of the cars you see on the road have been purchased as "used" cars. You cannot tell—nor do you ask yourself—whether the driver of any particular car is its first owner, or its second or its third, providing the car looks well and is running satisfactorily.

The cars which General Motors dealers have accepted in trade vary in name, body style and price. Some have seen sturdy service; in others the potential mileage has scarcely been touched. And all offer a wide field of opportunities—

To the family wanting transportation at lowest possible cost.

To the family wishing to own a car of a higher price class.

To the family needing a second or third car to meet the requirements of all its members.

We invite you to examine the unused transportation in the stores of General Motors dealers. For your convenience General Motors extends the GMAC Purchase Plan.

LEST WE FORGET

By Harry C. Crie
Look up ye "Hoover Democrats" and be of good cheer. Remember, that while that great Socialist Democrat Bryan planted the seed and the great humanitarian Hoover watereth, yet it is God himself who giveth the increase. Also remember that when the majority of the children of Israel were intent on following the advice of the Eastern enemies of God's chosen people, that Joshua, the political fighting preacher, said, "Choose ye this day whom ye will serve, as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord." Do not forget that at one time, the Santa Fe depot, (the same one that we have now) was the nearest approach to a saloon that Lynn county ever had, and that was when we had state prohibition, the very thing that Al Smith promises to bring back just as soon as possible if he is elected, and what 75 per cent of his supporters are longing for and will vote for when they vote for him for president. Before we had state-wide

Took Cardui And Improved Greatly, Says Okla. Lady.

Mrs. John Shipp, 2314 Maple Street, Oklahoma City, Okla., says: "Two years ago, I was in very bad health. I was so weak and run-down, I could scarcely keep going. My mother thought I ought to try Cardui, and told me to get some and take it. I could eat nothing, as I had no appetite. I found great relief after I began taking Cardui. I was able to eat and I could sleep. Before that, I had been so nervous that the least little thing upset me. I was low-spirited and blue. I got thinner and thinner, and I was always tired."

prohibition, and were still living under local option, those of Tahoka, who wanted some whiskey phoned to the saloon at Gall and ordered a case of "four full quarts" sent up on the mail hack. After Texas went dry they wrote a letter to Kansas City where it was advertised, "Four quarts for $3.20 and then counted the days until the Santa Fe agent phoned them that it was there. Just as soon as they could get a buggy or even a wagon, they went down to the depot, opened the case, took their drink, put the case back under the counter and came back to town until they got thirsty again when they repeated the proceedings until the case was empty. And the first thing you knew the office, the express room and the ware house had so much whiskey in them that the agent was hindered in performing his legitimate duties. And while most of Al Smith's supporters will tell you that there is more whiskey used in Tahoka today than ever before, yet any of the old time whiskey drinking men will honestly tell you that they themselves cannot get as much whiskey to drink now as then. Some years ago, before we had national prohibition, I delivered some groceries to a residence in Tahoka and the man of the house had come home drunk and vomited all over the back steps and porch floor so that I had difficulty in avoiding the half decayed oysters and other truck. The wife and children were barefooted and the mortified woman apologized for not having cleaned up the mess as she had been busy putting her husband in bed. Later after national prohibition had been in effect several years I delivered some kerosene oil to the same man's home, (note that I now use the term home instead of residence) and the same woman came out to show me where to put the oil, and she had on silk stockings and high heel shoes as did all the children, and while the citizen may still have taken a drink of whiskey, so far as I know he no longer got drunk. At any rate he had an above average home while before he had just a house to live in.

How the Devil must have laughed when the printer plunged his paddle into the red ink bucket and printed the "I am a loyal democrat" and "I am for Al Smith" stickers, when everybody knows that every scarlet woman, every red light district and every red anarchist in the entire United States will vote one-hundred per cent for Al Smith for president. But be of good cheer, for if I were a democrat, I should wake up happy and confident on November the 6 and hurry down to vote for Hoover and the right with such men as Rev. J. Frank Norris, Hon. Oscar B. Colquitt, Gen. A. J. Houston and the righteous womanhood of Texas and the solid south, rather than to wake up sullen and discouraged and drag my self down to vote the wet scarlet ticket with the Smith republicans and such men as Raskob and Gooseneck Bill McDonald. Some of my friends tell me that there is no such thing as a national republican and a state democrat, yet I have been just that for the twenty-three years I have lived in Tahoka. Some men brag much about being a life-long democrat and that they never bolted the democratic party, yet they voted for "Ma" who was no more a democrat than I am. They seem to have lost sight of the fact that there is a vast difference in being a democrat and voting for Hoover with the vast majority of the true blue Jeffersonian democrats who vote for principle and being an anti-prohibitionist and voting for Smith just because he has foisted himself onto the head of the democratic ticket. Everybody knows that while there have always been some wet democrats the democratic party of the solid south has always been overwhelmingly dry and I think that November sixth will show the traitorous Smith bunch that it is still dry.

Now just a few words to the women readers of the Lynn County News, in Tahoka, Lynn county or elsewhere. You have not, most of you been democrats all your life, for you have only had the right of suffrage about eight years, and remember this outstanding fact, it was the upright, conscientious dry voters of the Democratic Republican and Prohibition parties who passed the nineteenth amendment, for the anti-prohibition gang of all parties has always been against woman suffrage because you know it is mostly the men who "enjoy" the booze and the women who suffer from the effects of it. You younger women ask your mothers and grandmothers how they liked the "good old days" when whiskey was sold at retail at every open saloon and sold at wholesale at every drug store and when the women heard their men folks coming home from town, they gathered the girls and younger children and ran out into the cane patch to hide until the men had gone to bed with their boots on or fallen into a drunken stupor. Wake up, you women voters, or as the negro preacher said, "when these Al Smith fanatics get to repealing the constitutional amendments, they may not know where to stop, they may just keep on repealing amendments until they may do away with the thirteenth fourteenth and fifteenth amendments. Also they may make a clean sweep and repeal the nineteenth amendment, however, if the women vote for and elect Al Smith president, the sooner the right of suffrage is again denied them the sooner the sober, industrious and honorable men of our great nation may stamp their heads of the ballot on the head of the serpent of strong drink, and the next time they do, will be the last as they will give it a grind that will abolish he drinking, buying, selling and manufacture of the vile stuff.

Now don't construe anything I have said in this article as reflecting on any of my many Al Smith friends in Tahoka and Lynn county, for I love them still, but I am after the friends who at Houston sold Al Smith a place at the head of the democrat ticket for a mess of booze, but they cannot hog tie the grand old democratic party of Texas that has been dry for so long and make them vote for whiskey, Catholicism and debauchery. The Republican party of Texas was for years wet, wetter wettest, but at Dallas in May of this year the wets were so in the minority that we had no trouble at all in kicking them out of the Republican state convention and nominating Hoover for president unanimously. And when they went up to Kansas City they were kicked out again and the Republican party was so dry that Raskob and Bill McDonald just had to go over to Al or dry up and mummify. Now when the dry democrats vote for Hoover and the wet republicans vote for Smith, I am afraid the democratic ticket will be so wet and sodden that it will be uncountable, while the dry republican votes will slip through the fingers so nicely that they will tally out for Hoover thirty or thirty-five million votes.

Now in conclusion let me say to my democratic friends both wet and dry "A friend is someone who knows all about you but loves you just the same."

UNCLE JIMMIE FLEMING SERVES BIG DINNER

Uncle Jimmie Fleming is still among the Tahoka patriots. After years of preparation of so much to eat, he served a 1930 or up-to-date dinner at his home last Sunday at high noon, the very elements themselves bowing to this friendly and patriotic occasion. Everything to eat was there and every guest well qualified for this delightful spread. After the ample and fulsome meal, the funeral dirge of the passing Al Smith was softly sung and Herbert Hoover's inauguration was held in the front room parlors. The audience then voted Uncle Jimmie "a universal patriot and benefactor of mankind"; also voted sympathy and concern for the friends of poor Al, while the nation is moving up-grade toward this eventful November election.

The cotton yield will also be short, for the same reason. They spent Sunday night at Newmoore with Mr. Goad's brother, Fred Goad, who is a prominent farmer of that community. Both the Goads are old-time friends of the editor.

So many erroneous and misleading statements have been made by Al Smith spell binders in Tahoka in recent weeks that it would be impossible for a paper this size to point them all out and refute them. We are truly amazed and astounded at some of the misstatements of fact by some learned and usually well-informed gentlemen. But such is politics.

Treasury, whom he declared to be the biggest liquor distiller and brewer in the United States.

He was merciless in his denunciation of the Republican party for the graft and corruption which has been brought to light during its reign for the past seven years.

He discussed Hoover's public record and declared that he had never done a single thing that indicated that he was fitted to serve as President. He greatly discounted Hoover's much praised feat of feeding the Belgians and his record as food administrator in this country during the World War.

He recounted Al Smith's record of achievement as governor of New York, mentioning a number of salutary laws in the interest of women and children and of the poor man that Smith had whipped through a hostile Republican legislature; and he declared it to be his belief that Al Smith was probably the best qualified man that had ever offered as a candidate for the Presidency.

He criticized Hoover for an order which he said Hoover had made destroying the segregation of the negroes from the whites in a government department at Washington.

He vigorously defended Tammany Hall and asserted that many great Democrats had been members of that organization. He recounted that in the dark days of Reconstruction it had come to the aid of the South in fighting the rule of the Scalawag and the Carpetbagger. He recalled the days of E. J. Davis in Texas and said that there hangs a picture on the walls of the Capitol at Austin today showing negro members of the legislature. He pointed out that there are fifty counties in Texas in which the negro population exceeds the white population and that there are two states, Mississippi and South Carolina, in which there are more negroes than whites. He could not understand how any Southern white Democrat could now desert the Democratic party and vote for Hoover.

He chided the "Hoovercrats" for charging that Al Smith is seeking to nullify the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution while Texas has long had a "Jim Crow" law on the statute books in violation of the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments.

Reverting to the "religious issue," the Judge took occasion to defend the record of the Catholics in this country. He recounted that a Catholic had defended Jefferson Davis, that a Catholic had written "Dixie" and that a Catholic had written "The Bonnie Blue Flag." Catholics had signed the Declaration of Independence, and Catholics fought by the side of Protestants in the great World War.

Judge Mulligan was introduced by Mrs. J. B. Walker, who herself made an address in behalf of the Democratic nominee of about fifteen minutes duration. Mrs. Walker had been previously appointed by Judge Mulligan as chairman of the County Democratic campaign committee.

The Anti-Al Smith Democratic Campaign Committee desires to publicly thank Harley Sadler for the use of his tent for the Dr. Hunt speech Tuesday night. Always glad to accommodate the people wherever he shows. Mr. Sadler freely gave us the use of his tent without money and without price. Of course he would have done the same thing for any other political organization. We appreciate his generosity.
