Funeral services for Lawrence Lumsden, 22, who was found dead in an automobile near Austin late Friday with a gun in his lap, were held at Wilson, Monday afternoon, the Rev. Philip C. McGahey, pastor of the First Baptist church of that city, officiating.

The deceased was the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Lumsden, of Wilson, and the mysterious manner in which he was killed has not yet been cleared up by Austin officers. He was a student in the University of Texas at the time. Besides his parents, he is survived by a brother, William Lumsden.

Honorary pallbearers at the funeral included his friends in Wilson and members of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity of Austin, of which he was a member. Active pallbearers were:

John T. Williams Jr., Howard Cook, Eugene Richardson, Douglas Fenley and Webb Williams, Wilson; Warren Collins, Dallas, and Maurice Powell, S. C. Arnett Jr., and R. E. Strong, Lubbock. Honorary pallbearers were J. R. Honston, J. T. Williams Sr., John Saunders and Linn West, Wilson; Cecil Shaw, Brownfield; Jud Miller, Corpus Christi; Ballard Fry, Austin; Roy Cobb, Slaton; Milton Cobb, Edgar Price, Lubbock; M. R. Scranton, Pa. James Collins Jr., Fuller and C. W. Harbit Jr., Dallas; Chas. Flatb Kingsville; Arthur Haddaway, Fort Worth; George B. Hamilton, Sonora, and Penn Staples, San Benito.

Hi-Leaguers Given Christmas Party

On last Friday night the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Suddarth was the scene of one of the year's most enjoyable festivities for the Methodist Hi-Leaguers. The house was decorated in real holiday style—paper festoons, tall candles, mistletoe, etc., and including a shimmering tree which at the close of the evening yielded gifts for each one present.

The program, worked out by Mrs. Suddarth and in charge of Miss Lorene Childers, head of the League's recreational department—from early until almost early again, kept the guests busy in a succession of games, contests, and stunts that allowed no idle moment, and if laughter is any sign of enjoyment everyone undoubtedly had a good time.

Only three members of the League were absent and a few invited guests brought the number present to thirty-four. In addition to plates of assorted home-made candies, delectable refreshments of "Heavenly Hash" and cakes were served.

Members of the League brought contributions of toys and treats which were distributed to the little colored children about town on Christmas Day.

FEDERATED MEETING OF MISSIONARY SOCIETIES

The Federated meeting of the Missionary Societies will be held the last Monday of this month, December 31, at the Methodist Church. All members are urged to be present.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our appreciation to our friends both present and absent who ministered to our grief in the tragic sorrow that has befallen our family. We thank you and pray God's blessings on each and every one of you.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Lumsden and family
The West Texas Gas Company's main line has reached the city limits of Hereford and has been brought beyond the railroad tracks. The welding crew is only about a mile and a half from town, and Hereford's prospects for natural gas in the near future are bright.

The Men's Prayer League of Tahoka will hold a "watch service" next Monday night, Dec. 31 in the basement of the Methodist Church. Come and be with us.

Holiday Business In Tahoka Was Good

The business men of Tahoka without exception report that the holiday business was good. Some of them say that their business was the best they have ever enjoyed. Weather conditions have been ideal throughout the holiday season and the stores were crowded with shoppers, right up till Christmas day.

Not only was business good during the holidays, but it has been fairly good this entire year, taken as a whole. Although the cotton crop was short, yet a big feed crop was raised, there is still some cotton in the fields, most farmers have a flock of chickens, some hogs, and a cow or two and nearly all of them face the new year in fairly good condition and with high hopes for the coming year.

Will Marry First 1929 Couple Free

Truett B. Smith, the incoming county clerk, and G. C. Grider, the judge-to-be, have already planned a little frame-up. They will be sworn in as clerk and judge respectively on January 1. Smith proposes to issue the license free of charge to the first couple making application to him for a marriage license after he shall have been sworn in, and Judge Grider offers to marry the couple without charging anything for his services.

Believing that no young couple should undertake to set up a home of their own in Lynn county without the weekly visits of the Lynn County News, the publishers of this paper offer a full year's subscription to such couple absolutely free of charge, without money and without price. There is only one condition attached to this offer, and that is that the young man and the young woman must be at least 21 and 18 years of age respectively or must have the full consent of the parents of both to the marriage. Also, the editor would like to have an invitation to be present at the wedding, though this is not imperative. He will not even ask the privilege of kissing the bride.

BURKHALTER SELLS HOME; WILL MOVE TO LUBBOCK

H. P. Burkhalter of Grassland has sold his farm there to Mr. Thomas of that place and has purchased a farm four miles south of the Tech College at Lubbock, upon which he and his family are preparing to move.

Mr. Burkhalter has been a resident of the Grassland community for quite a number of years and is one of the best and most prosperous citizens of Lynn county. He has given much attention to dairying in addition to his farming operations. Many friends here will deeply regret losing this good family but wish them pre-eminent success in their new home.

Henry will enter the Tech College immediately after the holidays.

Dr. Horn Filled M. E. Pulpit Sunday

Dr. P. W. Horn, President of the Texas Technological College, filled the pulpit at the Methodist Church last Sunday evening in the absence of the pastor, Rev. R. T. Breedlove.

Dr. Horn took for his text the simple statement, "And there was no room at the inn," and he brought a most thoughtful and helpful message.

MRS. ROSCOE ROBERTS SLIGHTLY IMPROVED

Report from the bedside of Mrs. Roscoe Roberts, who is in a hospital at Lubbock, were to the effect that she seemed slightly better Wednesday afternoon. She is in a most critical condition and little hope is entertained for her recovery.

CORRECTION

In last week's delayed announcement of the Hi-League party it erroneously read that the party was held on Sunday night when it should have read Saturday. We do not know whose fault this was, but we want no misunderstanding about the date.

A Texas man has invented a device which sends and receives messages over the telephone.

ROBESON DIED CHRISTMAS DAY

South Tahoka Citizen Passed Away Suddenly From Stroke Of Paralysis

Lawrence A. Robeson died at the family residence in South Tahoka at about six o'clock Tuesday morning, Christmas day. When he did not awake at the usual hour, members of the family went to arouse him and found him in a dying condition. A physician was summoned but death came before the physician's arrival. Death resulted, it is said, from a stroke of paralysis. Mr. Robeson had been in ill health for several months but was able to come up town Monday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted at the residence Wednesday afternoon by Rev. Parr of the Nazarene Church and interment in the City Cemetery followed.

Mr. Robeson had resided until recently on the Windham farm two miles southeast of town, where he assisted W. T. Clinton in his farming operations. He had resided the past few months in town. He was born in North Carolina on January 7, 1869, and therefore lacked just 2 weeks of being 60 years of age. He had been a member of the Methodist Church since he was 15 years old. He leaves a wife, three sons and three daughters, and other relatives, who have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hammonds of Las Vegas, N. M., are here visiting T. I. Hammonds and family and Uncle Frank Vaughan.

Uncle Jimmie Little has been visiting H. C. Smith out near Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Hood spent Christmas with relatives at Post.

DEC. 13 REPORT IS 20,370 BALES

Lynn County Leading Dawson By 4,000 Bales, Census Bureau Man Says

The News has received the following report from J. H. Barron, special agent of the Census Bureau, as to the number of bales of cotton ginned in Dawson and Lynn counties prior to December 13, 1928. This report shows that our estimate published two weeks ago was about 1,000 bales too large. It also shows that about two thirds as much cotton had been gathered in Lynn county this year as last year up to the corresponding date. Mr. Barron's report is as follows:

There were 16,955 bales of cotton, counting round bales as half bales, ginned in Dawson county, from the crop of 1928 prior to Dec. 13, 1928, as compared with 33,532 bales ginned to Dec. 23, 1927.

There were 20,370 bales, counting round as half bales, ginned in Lynn county from the crop of 1928 prior to Dec. 13, 1928 as compared with 30,115 to Dec. 13, 1927.

E. H. Cunningham, who lives a few miles southeast of South Ward, says that cotton in his neighborhood was pretty good. People in his community are also going strong on poultry and other farm produce. So the outlook is good enough for 1929. Mr. Cunningham renewed for the News.

It is the aim of the Woman's Book Club, pioneer study club of Canyon, to develop a county library for Randall County from the subscription library which has been in use for fifteen years. A great number of books will be available from this source.

HAIL TO THE NEW YEAR

The year 1928 draws to a close. A few more days and it will be history. That time flies is a trite saying. The child is unable to realize the truth of the statement. The youth can hardly believe it, for it seems a long time until he can realize his ambitions—until he can take his place among the big, brawny, heroic men of the world. The man on the top of the hill begins to realize that time is speeding along at a rapid pace. As he starts down the decline, the speed of the passing years makes him dizzy.

For the child, 1928 has been a long year; for the youth, a little shorter; for the man in the full strength of his physical powers, it has been a short one; and for the elderly men of Tahoka it seems but yesterday when the dying year was ushered in.

To all classes and ages, the year has brought its joys and sorrows, its delightful surprises and its disappointments, its successes and failures. And all are hoping that next year will be a better one—but whether it is happier or not lies largely within the power of each individual to make it such.

We need to be told over and over again that happiness does not lie in the possession of wealth, of power, or of fame. Happiness lies rather in the possession of a pure heart, the performance of honest toil, the consciousness of service to man and obedience to the will of God. In striving this coming year for gain, for wealth, for power, for position, let us not make the mistake of thinking that we can get supreme pleasure out of these things, but let us remember rather that we shall be able to enjoy life in the same proportion that we shall be willing to serve and to sacrifice for humanity.

Our wish for our readers is that they may be of the greatest possible service and may experience the keenest possible joy and happiness throughout the year of 1929.

Canyon Has Students From Nine States

Canyon, Dec. 26—Nine different states are represented in the student body of the West Texas State Teachers College. Situated near the boundaries of New Mexico and Oklahoma, this college has in its ranks twenty-eight students and six students respectively from these states. Kansas has four students, these being two sets of sisters. North Dakota, Arizona, Iowa, California and Washington each has one or more students here.

Ernest Heyer is the only student from a foreign country. He has recently come from Braunschweig, Germany, and is a member of the senior class.

Drunks And Fighters Arrested Christmas

The sheriff and his deputies have been quite busy this week looking after the boys who are inclined to imbibe too heavily. There has been very little drunkenness and no disorder whatever in Tahoka during the Christmas holidays, according to the peace officers. Only two cases of drunkenness have been noted here. But there are a couple of dance halls in the county where considerable drinking and disorder have been in evidence.

On Monday night sheriff Simpson and deputies Sanders and Brooks went out to a dance hall situated about four miles northeast of Wilson and rounded up quite a bunch of "drunks", ten in number, and also picked up three at the dance hall four miles north of Tahoka. On Christmas night, they captured two more at the first-mentioned dance hall. They report a fight occurred at the other dance hall, in which two or three women were mixed up, but none of the parties said to have been involved in the fight have been apprehended yet.

KEEP WARM WATER BEFORE THE HENS

Clean, warm water is the cheapest of all poultry feeds and one of the most important, says the research department of the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers. Because the egg is 65 per cent water, hens cannot lay unless they drink heavily. Something they are not likely to do if their water is dirty or coated with ice.

Drinking fountains should be large enough to hold at least a half day's supply of water, say poultrymen, and numerous enough to provide plenty of drinking space for the flock. Fountains should also be sanitary and easy to keep clean. Mounting drinking vessels on stands about 15 inches from the floor helps to keep straw and litter out of the water. Flock owners who have electric lights in the poultry house find that they can fill thermos-type fountains with hot water in the evening so that it will be warm for the hens the following morning when the lights go on.

W. M. S. Society Is Growing Steadily

The Woman's Missionary Society met Monday afternoon at the church.

The last two chapters of our Study Book "Women and the Kingdom" was studied and thoroughly enjoyed by the large number present. Our society is growing steadily now and soon we are going to have to select a larger room for our meetings.

These last two chapters summarized their fifty years of mission work.

Special parts were given by Mrs. Fenton, Mrs. Dr. Calaway and Mrs. R. M. Stewart.

Song, Jesus Call Us.
Prayer, Mrs. Fenton.
Scripture Reading, Mrs. G. M. Stewart.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our thanks to the neighbors and friends who ministered to us in any way upon the death of our husband and father, Lawrence A. Robeson. We shall not soon forget their kindness and sympathy.

Mrs. Lawrence A. Robeson and children.

MANY WRECKS; NO ONE HURT

Christmas Week Featured By Several Accidental Clashes Between Automobiles

Several wrecked cars but no serious personal injuries have been reported in various portions of Lynn county during the past few days.

On Tuesday night, the Chevrolet of J. M. Pendergrass, in which he and his wife were riding, was struck by a Ford driven by Mr. Minton of O'Donnell, on the highway one mile north of Tahoka, and both cars were almost completely wrecked. There were two or three other men in the Ford car but none of the parties involved received more than minor bruises. It is said that the driver of the Ford car was under the influence of liquor. Mr. Pendergrass seems to have been in no wise at fault.

On Christmas night, a Studebaker car driven by Edna White and occupied also by his wife and Miss Lena Vay Minor was forced into the ditch when they met a car that had no lights in the public road two miles east of New Home. The Studebaker turned over twice and was almost completely wrecked but all the occupants of the car miraculously escaped serious injury. Upon discovering the lightless car, Mr. White suddenly turned his car out of the road to avoid a collision and in doing so went into the ditch. It is said that the other car did not stop and its driver and occupants are unknown.

A car filled with Tahoka young people also went into a ditch and was almost totally wrecked on the public road two miles west of O'Donnell Tuesday afternoon, when the front wheel struck a sand bed near the ditch and the driver lost control. The car did not turn over but went into the ditch and was badly damaged. Only a few minor bruises were received by the occupants of the car, which was a new Ford. This was purely an accident and seems to have been the fault of no one.

Boy Preached First Sermon Last Sunday

On last Sunday, Dec. 23rd, at the 11 o'clock hour, the large congregation assembled at the M. E. Church came away pleased with having heard young Jesse Roberson deliver the first sermon of the ministerial career to which he has dedicated his life. The occasion was truly a "red letter" day for him, being also his seventeenth birthday—and for his many friends who have watched with interest his religious activities for the past two years. While Jesse is just completing High School this year, the chosen text, "Be of good cheer; it is I, be not afraid" was foundation for a splendid message which showed original thought and thorough preparation, and was delivered with remarkable ease for an inexperienced speaker.

It was peculiarly fitting that the music for the service was led by Frank Sargent, a class-mate and chum, who has pledged his life's service to the calling of evangelistic singing. As a special number, he assisted Clifton Janak in an impressive duet, entitled "Jesus Leads".

Following the service, a group of Jesse's young friends accompanied him home to partake of a sumptuous birthday dinner. They left a number of gifts in remembrance of the day, and as evidence of their regard and of Jesse's popularity with them all.

Reason for Webster's Preference for Blue

Daniel Webster went to Dartmouth college in a homespun suit, of which probably every thread was carded, spun and woven by his mother's hands from the wool of their own sheep. It was a dyed-in-the-wool suit and the color was indigo blue.

In the South butternut was used, but though the Yankee came knew all about the uses of butternut bark, and the state color that lay in the smach berries and bark of white maple, and were not unacquainted with the various dyes that could be made to yield through the agency of vitriol and alum and copperas to "set" them fast, the universal standard in New England was the dye pot, par excellence, that stood in the chimney corner of every kitchen in that region.

So Webster was fitted out in indigo blue from collar to ankle. Before a reaching Hanover there came on a drenching rain. The suit held its own, but it parted with enough dye to tinge Daniel blue from head to foot.

Webster had a liberal stratum of sentiment in his mental make-up, and for some reason the color of his young manhood remained his favorite wear through life. He wore blue coats to his dying day. If any one ever saw him in one of a different color the fact has not been made of record.

Cigarette Almost Did for Youthful Art's

How M. Poulishnoff, the famous pianist, made his first appearance on the concert platform makes an amusing story.

Although he was then barely five years old he played beautifully and he was billed to give a joint recital with an adult violinist.

The latter went on the platform first and played a solo. Meanwhile Poulishnoff, left alone in the artist's room, discovered that his colleague had left a half-smoked cigarette on the mantelpiece. The temptation was too great, and he smoked it.

He managed, in a sort of stupor he says, to get through a Beethoven sonata, but at the very last chord he fell fast asleep, and had to be carried off the platform, put into a carriage and driven home.

Every Boy Needs a Dog

Every boy should grow up with a dog, for the association thereby will make of the boy a fairer, kinder, truer man, some day, when he becomes a man. He will learn to love fairness, justice and mercy, just as he will come to hate meanness, cruelty and cowardice, through daily contact with his big-eyed, sluggo-coated, un-dersstanding friend. If the boy unhappily is vicious, in temperate, or destructive, he will find in his voiceless associate a wordless rebuke for the sins of his commission. It is the inevitable way of a dog with a boy, and the dog knows, moreover, because through him the infinite forces of the universe are functioning as freely as the wind through winter trees.—David Arnold Balch in the New Age Illustrated.

SLATON GINS REACH 3,493 BALES FOR SEASON

The six gins of Slaton had received a total of 3,493 bales of this season's cotton when a check-up was finished last Saturday afternoon. McClung, Posey and Pinon gins, all in adjacent communities, had a total of 1,564 bales at that time, making 5,957 bales ginned so far this season in Slaton's immediate territory. This is about two-thirds of the number of bales ginned by this date a year ago.—Slatonite.

RED CROSS FIGHTS DEATH AND DISEASE

Four Nation-wide Services Promote Health Preservation and Accident Prevention.

A nation-wide program for preservation of health and prevention of accidental death is one of the great services of the American Red Cross. Four bureaus, manned by experts, direct this work. They are the Public Health Nursing Service; the First Aid and Life Saving Service; the Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick Service; and the Nutrition Service.

These services aim at preservation of health through skilled nursing care; prevention of loss of life in accidents; prevention of illness, through cleanliness in the home and knowledge of methods of care of the sick; and raising the standard of physical efficiency through proper eating.

This nation-wide campaign against disease and accidental death is conducted through a majority of the 5,532 Chapters of the Red Cross. It is a community campaign, fitted to the health problems of each section.

The Red Cross, through its Chapters, is the largest employer of trained Public Health nurses in rural work in the United States. In its campaign for preservation of health and prevention of disease it has aided in establishing 2,000 or more community nursing services.

At the national headquarters an enrollment of nurses is maintained, which forms a great nursing reserve. Under its Charter from Congress this Red Cross Nursing Service is the official reserve for the United States Army and Navy Nurse Corps. In addition, these nurses are available in time of disaster or epidemic. This reserve of trained nurses has in 1928 reached its peak in number enrolled—there being now 47,000 nurses qualified under Red Cross regulations who may be mobilized in time of emergency.

The comprehensive nation-wide program of instruction in First Aid and Life Saving maintained by the Red Cross is in answer to the appalling total of accidental deaths each year in the United States.

In its First Aid instruction among firemen and police forces, in factories, railroad centers, great industries, and public utilities, the Red Cross annually reaches more than 150,000 men and women, whom it teaches to be alert, ready in case of accident, to apply first aid treatment.

The campaign against accidental deaths through drowning has been carried throughout the country, and there now are 173,566 men and women, boys and girls, qualified as Red Cross life savers.

More than 500,000 certificates have been issued to girls and women, boys and men who have completed the Red Cross Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick course, which teaches sanitation in the home, safe care of the infant and child and of the invalid in the home.

Lubbock, Texas, Dec. 24.—Vaughn Corley, veteran pivot man for the Texas Tech Matadors for the last three years, has been selected to lead the Scarlet and Black gridsters for next year. This action was taken at a football banquet held at the College cafeteria. Corley has not only been a useful man in Tech grid battles, but he has won many honors as a member of the school's stock judging team.

Letters have been awarded to the following in the past football season: W. H. Carpenter, Vaughn Corley, H. C. DeWitt, Jack Durham, Sidney Knowles, Bruce Reed, J. W. Westervelt, Clayton Barfoot, Orville Brothers, Henry Hempel, Clarence Hodges, Poul Marr, Amoral Payne, Dennis Vinzant, Levi Walker, Ransom Walker, J. D. Waller, Charles Woolbridge.

Lubbock, Texas, Dec. 24.—Figures compiled by the Employment Bureau of Texas Technological College show that during the three months of the fall term 640 students have earned approximately $60,000. Of this number 514 are boys and 126 are girls. The average per month earned by boys is $39.70 and girls $26.28. The business men of Lubbock are reported as being cordial to students who come to Tech to work for part of their expenses.

The city square has been much improved by Bermuda grass that was set out in the spring. Crosbyton people do their part in civic beautification by keeping attractive lawns.

The chamber of commerce at Dalhart has accomplished much constructive work this year, including the purchasing of a suitable site on which to build an $80,000 hospital, the sponsoring of the exhibit program, marking of the federal highways and obtaining eight hundred column inches of newspaper publicity.

SOME ADVERTISING TALK

Wanamaker Advertising Maxims
Here are some of the advertising maxims of the Wanamaker department stores of Philadelphia and New York:—

"Tell the whole truth about the merchandise though it hurts."
"Give reasons for a special price or an extra value."
"Advertisements shall be written only on personal inspection of the goods."
"If even an accurate statement of the facts is so surprising that it is likely to be disbelieved by the reader, enough must be explained of the inside news of the special offer to make it carry confidence."
"Conceal nothing the customer has a right to know."

There is one other word in the language of advertising as full of power as "Free." That word is "New." It is a magnetized word. Involuntarily, and voluntarily, people are drawn to the store with the reputation of handling the "new." The class of people is higher than those attracted by "free," and their spending power is greater. Whether you sell paints or potatoes, pajamas or pearls, if your stock is new—just in—or you handle the newest lines—lines sold exclusively at your store—let the public know it! Why, a big city store recently used one-third of its newspaper space just to feature the word, nine times repeated, "New," and, at the other extreme, a small city grocer, using daily about six square inches of newspaper space, get reader attention by filling half the diminutive space with the one power-charged word, "New," followed by a single item and the information "at Blank's".

In spite of the 20,000 dairy cows in Collingsworth county, good farm butter has been hard to buy in the markets there, Miss Veda Swafford, county home demonstration agent says. A butter judging contest staged in that county last year started as a joke but has ended up in a wave of enthusiasm on the part of farm housewives who are now learning what constitutes good butter and how it is made. Similar contests are under way all over the State.

CALENDARS

(By Uncle Henry)
According to the 1929 calendar, time will fog along as usual.

And if the weather man did not make a bust on his signals, there won't be any serious breaks in the weather.

Calendars are useful. They tell us about holidays, birthday, and when the moon is right to plant our onions—in fact, we would get lost in the shuffle of time if it were not for our calendars. The business world is tied to them. We take a squint at the calendar before we begin our day's work.

But putting calendars out a whole year ahead of time is risky business. Something tells me that they won't come out even—and they won't.

It seems today that we have plenty of time, but we are using it in an extravagant manner. Just how long calendars and time will fog along together, we don't know, but there will be a break somewhere up the line. Some of these days we will have one crop of calendars too many.

There will be a day when we will hop into our cars, jiggle the starter, and work the flim-flams, all set to go somewhere—but we won't. When we get out to investigate we will discover that all of our time has petered out, our engagements all canceled. We will have a lot of worthless calendars left on hand, and there will be a change of business all round—and there you are.

Perhaps they were getting out calendars while Noah was building his boat. Time rocked on as usual. But one day the weather prognosticator got his signals all jumbled up; they were all set for fair weather—but it wasn't. The old crowd were rained out. The calendars were ruined. A lot of stuff went to waste. And the shortness of breath among the folks was alarming. They had used up all their time and nowhere to go.

We should have called the public's attention to this important matter sooner—but we didn't.

WORK OF VOLUNTEERS
RED CROSS BACKBONE

Men and Women Who Give Services Aid Greatly — Surgical Dressings, Knitting, Sewing Still Carried On.

Thousands of women, who were first enrolled as Red Cross workers during the period of the World War, have never ceased in their labors for that organization, but still carry on knitting garments for disabled soldiers, making dresses and layettes for children and infants, and giving hours of their time in the various volunteer activities of Red Cross work. Volunteer work by men also plays a large part in the organization of Red Cross.

This volunteer work is the backbone of Red Cross. Fully eighty-five per cent of the service this humanitarian organization is able to render the public, through public health, American Junior Red Cross, service to disabled veterans of the World War, and the service men of the regular establishment, and its many other activities, must fall upon the shoulders of the volunteer worker. Not only is this true of the national headquarters where such distinguished volunteers are enrolled as Judge John Barton Payne, chairman, and Miss Mabel Boardman, secretary of the Red Cross, and Col. E. P. Bicknell, vice chairman in charge of foreign operation, but also in every community where Chapter chairmen and other men and women devote hours of their time to fostering and planning the valuable and humane work of Red Cross, so that it may be ever ready to serve in time of distress, catastrophe or great national emergency.

In the year just ended, 253,000 garments were provided by Red Cross Chapters, including 1,339 layettes with nineteen articles each, for use in disaster areas.

Women who rolled surgical dressings ten years ago, with the help of new volunteers, still carry on this work for hospitals in their communities, and for the Chapter's stock, where a supply must be maintained to answer emergency calls. In the year just ended, the women made 2,275,900 dressings.

No type of volunteer work is more interesting or meets greater appreciation from its beneficiaries than the distribution each December of Christmas bags—one of which goes to every service man in the Army and Navy stationed on a distant post. Each year the request comes for more bags, until for Christmas, 1928, Red Cross volunteers have been asked to provide 42,000. The bags, containing small necessities dear to a service man's heart, go to the Philippines, China, Guam, Nicaragua and all the distant ports where Uncle Sam's men are stationed.

Another service these volunteers perform, which has generally gripped the imagination of all who have come in touch with it, is the transcription into Braille for the blind of hundreds of books. Need of certain types of books for the blind first came to the attention of Red Cross through the blinded veterans of the World War. From work begun for the war blind, with a few devoted workers, this transcription of books now is being carried on by 1,029 Braille transcribers, who during this year have hand-copied 150,705 pages, and 745 titles have been completed.

HALF MILLION PEOPLE AIDED BY RED CROSS IN HURRICANE RELIEF

Porto Rico and Florida Victims Helped by Prompt Action; $5,000,000 Given by Public.

One of the greatest disasters, in point of loss of life and devastation of homes, in which the American Red Cross has ever carried relief was the West Indies hurricane of September last, which swept across Porto Rico, parts of the Virgin Islands, the coast of Florida and north to end in torrential rains, flooding streams in a half dozen states. The known dead in all of the areas affected was 2,359, although it was admitted that the complete total of dead in Florida would never be known. The number of injured was estimated at 3,170. Approximately 20,000 buildings were destroyed and damaged.

At the height of the emergency the Red Cross was caring for 506,410 people—that is, feeding and clothing them and arranging for whatever shelter was obtainable. As long as three weeks after the hurricane struck Porto Rico and Florida, the Red Cross was aiding 20,236 people who were sick, of these 236 in Florida and the remainder in Porto Rico, where influenza and malaria were being treated to prevent epidemics of more drastic diseases. Large numbers of Red Cross nurses were active at both points.

In Florida more than 11,000 persons applied to Red Cross for assistance, and a great number of people in Florida and also in Porto Rico still were being cared for in the matter of food, clothing and shelter as long as two months after the hurricane, while they awaited maturing crops which would enable them to again become self sustaining.

For this relief task, the American public gave the American Red Cross a fund of $5,000,000—the sum set forth in a proclamation issued by President Coolidge a few days after news of the hurricane was received.

The relief given by the Red Cross in this great emergency, spread over such a wide territory of sea and land, was everywhere commended and special emphasis was placed upon the promptitude with which the organization responded. The hurricane struck Porto Rico September 13, and the first brief cabled word of it came September 14, to both Red Cross and the news agencies. Before nightfall, the national director of disaster relief for the Red Cross and a staff of four trained men had left Washington for Charleston, South Carolina, to board a navy destroyer which upon instruction of the President of the United States had been placed at command of the Red Cross by the Secretary of the Navy. And although the next day was Sunday, a Red Cross man arrived in New York to purchase a thousand tons of food for the Porto Ricans, already reported to be starving, and the Navy again placed a ship for the cargo at Red Cross command.

Late on Saturday evening there came another cable—a Red Cross nurse at St. Croix, in the Virgin Islands, addressed a plea to the mother organization in Washington and gave first warning of the plight of the people of the American possession, where no family in a population of 11,000 had escaped injury.

In the meantime the Red Cross had notified its Florida Chapters that it stood ready for any service, in event the hurricane, headed toward them, did any damage. Not content with this, the Red Cross on Sunday night entrained a disaster relief director and six workers for Florida. Money, food, clothing were dispatched immediately to both points, and before the end of the week the Red Cross was feeding a half million people.

This prompt response was made possible by the disaster relief organization the Red Cross has brought together and trained through a series of such national calamities. Support of this work is through the annual Roll Call for memberships. The goal in the twelfth annual Roll Call to be held Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day, November 11 to 23, is 5,000,000 members.

The Commissioners' Court in session Monday made an appropriation for the employment of a Home Demonstration Agent for this county. This action was taken at the request of a number of ladies from the various sections of the county, and is a progressive movement, the results of which will be evident in the greater conservation of home grown products, and the growing of a greater variety of farm and garden fruits and vegetables. In fact a Home Demonstration Agent will bring scientific methods and culture into the homes and induce a higher standard of living in many quarters and is of the utmost importance—Hockley County Herald.

Prof R. E. Key attended the funeral of Lawrence Lumsden at Wilson Monday, Lumsden having met his death in a mysterious way in Austin last week. Young Lumsden was a student in the high school when Prof. Key was superintendent at Wilson, and Mr. Key attests his worth and promise as a young man. He reports that a great crowd attended the funeral services.

Jack Coughran, son of J. Anson Coughran, was the victim of an unusual accident the first of the week, when a car which his father was attempting to start suddenly plunged forward and ran over the little fellow, inflicting some painful but not serious injuries. Several stitches were necessary to close the wounds.

A. J. Parker, Mayor of Roscoe for the past ten years, Leslie Butler, a prominent farmer of that vicinity and the former's brother-in-law, young Mr. Parks, were business visitors in Tahoka Thursday and called at the News office to say "Howdy" to the force

110 Billion Interest on British War Debt

London.—Before the British war debt is paid the present generation and its descendants will have paid $110,000,000,000 in interest alone, according to Philip Snowden, former labor chancellor of the exchequer. "It would take a man more than 700 years to count it at the rate of a $5 bill per second," he said.

Ruins Mark Spread of Pueblo Culture

Las Cruces, N. M.—Remains of an ancient pueblo ruin have been discovered here marking what is believed to be the farthest point south that true New Mexico pueblo culture extended. The ruin is located on the old trail known as the Jornada del Muerto, "Journey of Death," so called by the early Spanish conquistadores because of the dangers both from thirst and from Indians encountered in crossing it. Archeologists believe that at some remote period communal houses rose to a height of two or more stories on the site marked today only by low mounds and adobe walls level with the surface of the ground.

Locals

Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Thomas and their little twin daughters, Dorothy and Doris, 8, are here from Sulphur Bluff, Hopkins county, as the holiday guests of John Thomas and family, the Doctor and John being brothers. The twins and their mother, in company with Mrs. John Thomas, visited the News office Saturday just to convince the editor that Hopkins county folks have healthful diet and climate. Hopkins is a good old county, but our good friend Bagwell of the Sulphur Springs Echo has all those fine people believing that they are living next door to Paradise. We enjoyed the brief visit of the Doctor's fine family.

Hardy Montgomery of Los Angeles, California, and his daughter, Mrs. Ina Wheelock of Lubbock, and Miss Adeline Bellah, also of Lubbock, were the guests on Christmas day of Will Montgomery and family. Hardy Montgomery formerly resided here and is a brother of Will. Miss Bellah is Mrs. Montgomery's sister.

W. E. Sikes of Three Lakes came in Saturday and renewed. He had missed a copy of the paper and was afraid he had dropped his name from the list, but such was not the case. Mr. Sikes reported that he had quite a bit of cotton to gather yet. They made a bit of stuff down at Three Lakes.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Henderson and Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Hill and little daughter spent Christmas with Mrs. Henderson's and Mrs. Hill's parents, Judge and Mrs. B. H. Howard at Crosbyton. They were accompanied home Tuesday night by Mr. and Mrs. John Reagan of Floydada.

Mrs. L. S. Kuykendall had as her guests on Christmas day Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Taylor of Lubbock, Mrs. Grady Beard of Fort Worth, Mrs. Gladys Mathis of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Kuykendall of Midland, and Roy and Christine Green of Big Spring.

Red Cross Membership Is Sound Investment, Business Leader Says

"We believe that individual membership in the American Red Cross is a sound investment, yielding the investor tremendous returns in personal satisfaction," is the statement of William Butterworth, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, in endorsing the twelfth annual roll call of the American Red Cross, Nov. 11-29. Mr. Butterworth's statement follows:

"The men engaged in carrying forward the business and industry of this nation are quick to respond, and respond generously, when human suffering calls for their assistance. They welcome the existence of an organization authorized by international treaty and congressional charter to act as their agency, in providing relief in disaster and promoting their beneficial services to humanity. The nation's business men take particular pleasure in supporting The American National Red Cross because it has applied sound and efficient business technique and administrative methods without sacrifice of sympathy and understanding in the prevention and mitigation of human suffering.

"The Chamber of Commerce of the United States, as representative of the nation's business, has such confidence in the American Red Cross that it calls upon its member organizations to contribute to relief in disaster only upon Red Cross assurance that an appeal is necessary.

"We believe that individual membership in the American Red Cross is a sound investment, yielding the investor tremendous returns in personal satisfaction. The Red Cross is seeking to increase its membership to five million; the opportunity to join its ranks is presented by the Red Cross Chapters throughout the nation from November 11 to 29. It is good to be a link in this great chain of service reaching around the world."
