The old axiom that "it pays to advertise" has again proven true in three specific instances within the past week.

Mrs. C. E. King located a lost wristwatch through a classified ad placed in The Muleshoe Journal by the finder. Within 12 hours of the time the ad first appeared Mrs. King had identified the watch and had come in and paid for the ad and claimed her granddaughter's property.

Two local merchants, placing display ads for the sale of air conditioners reported sellout results directly attributable to their Muleshoe Journal ads. ## RAISE SCHOOL TAXES 10%

Lazbuddie Trustees Propose State Sales Tax At Session

The Board of Trustees of the Lazbuddie Independent School District has proposed that a two per cent state sales tax be enacted at a special session of the Legislature. Purpose of the retail sales tax would be to aid school districts on the basis of their scholastic population, according to Frank Hinkson, president of the board.

In a notice to the qualified voters of the school district, the board outlined the reasons for their proposal, and asked that it be studied and State officials notified of the patrons reactions to the proposal.

The board said that due to increased operating expenses and a raise in the Farmer County Economic Index, which will cut down the amount of state aid to the school, it has become necessary to raise school tax rates or cut down on school services which the board feels are essential.

The board proposes a 10 per cent tax raise and at the same time, expects to review its school budget at a public meeting.

"With the cooperation of pupils, teachers, and patrons, we hope to make some reductions," members of the board said.

"Schools all over Texas have much the same problems as we do," Hinkson continued, "and with the rapidly expanding school population in the future, we realize school taxes will become a burden if we provide the type of schools our children are entitled to."

"Therefore, we propose a two per cent state sales tax at the retail level to be distributed among public schools according to their scholastic. We are writing the Governor, Senator and Representative urging a special session of the legislature to enact the proposed sales tax into law.

"We urge each of you to study this proposal, and let your wishes be known to our state officials."

Members of the board include Hinkson, Robert L. Jones, F. E. Ford, David Proctor, John Garmon, J. T. Mayfield, and Harold Wilson.

James G. Ward is school superintendent, and James Haynes is high school principal. Elementary school principal is Fred Wilbanks.

Fashionable Dresses Can Be Made Of Cotton Bag Fabrics in New Designs

Fashion is as important to the prairie farmwife as it is to the penthouse dweller these days. When planning their wardrobes, American women want style as well as serviceability, distinction as well as durability.

Women who sew have found an unexpected source of fabrics reflecting the latest fashion trends — the cotton containers of feed, flour, and other products. These "barnyard bonanzas" made from print materials designed by some of the nation's leading textile artists, are as modern as tomorrow. Seamstresses using these cotton bag fabrics can be sure that they're right in step with the season.

This year's cotton bag fabrics, ranging from bold stripes to the muted pastel prints of the romantic "Fair Lady" look are bright and imaginative, a far cry from the "seedsack" look of grandma's day. From them, the clever seamstress can fashion everything from playsuits to party frocks.

will have a length of colorful fabric ready to be transformed into a smart dress or clever household item.

Three or four 100-lb. bags are sufficient for an adult's dress, and smaller containers make novel toys, inens, shirts, doll clothes, and other articles. Only a few of many ideas for using cotton containers are provided in the Simplicity and McCall's-designed loan collections.

Cotton bag loan wardrobes are available to women's clubs and organizations for style shows. Information on scheduling them may be obtained from the Cotton Bag Department, National Cotton Council, P. O. Box 9905, Memphis, 12, Tenn.

MEMORIZE THIS PICTURE—This scene is duplicated all too often on a bright, pleasant Sunday afternoon. Many of the elements of highway tragedy are here. The smashed cars—the news photographers—curious passersby. You can smell, almost, the fumes of dripping gasoline and hot engine oil. You can hear, almost, the keening of ambulance sirens. But this is no accident. It is a carefully staged wreck, made to occur on a test track at the UCLA engineering laboratory, Long Beach, Calif., to study the effects of head-on collision. Place yourself mentally in the driver's seat of either car, for a moment, before you take a chance on the highway. Each of these vehicles was going "only" 45 miles an hour when they hit.

Miss Melba Coldewey And Lloyd Kriegel United In Marriage At Lubbock June 29

MRS. LLOYD KRIEDEL

On June 29 at 7:30 in the evening, Miss Melba Coldewey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Coldewey, 305 Avenue X, Lubbock, became the bride of Mr. Lloyd Kriegel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Kriegel, of Farwell. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. W. A. Slaughter in Shepherd King Lutheran Church of Lubbock.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional gown of white rose design of French lace and tulle, fashioned with a portrait neckline and long pointed sleeves outlined with pearls and sequins. From the fitted bodice an overlay of lace, applied in lovers knots dotted with sequins and pearls fell on the full tulle skirt which swept into a demi-train. The tiered veil of French illusion fell from a matching half hat.

The veil was borrowed from a friend, Mrs. Jan Fouts of Austin, and was the bride's "something borrowed". Something blue was a blue garter. The bride had a penny and a dime in her shoe. Something old was a cameo which was worn by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Leroy Coldewey, at her wedding and which formerly belonged to Mrs. Coldewey's grandmother. The bride's pearls were a gift of the bridegroom.

The bride carried a cascade arrangement of white sweetheart roses with satin streamers atop a white Bible. The altar was decorated with a light pink carnation bow on each side, tied with rose satin ribbon against a blackground arrangement of emerald palm and lighted pink candles in candleabra.

Attendants
Lt. Arlyn Kriegel, brother of the bridegroom was best man. Joan Bethany of Lubbock served

Announcing New York Life's NEW FAMILY INSURANCE PLAN

Covers your immediate family in just one low-cost "family-size" insurance package!

This modern-as-the-minute new insurance plan can give your family this protection:

For you—$5,000 of permanent insurance which builds generous cash and retirement values.

For your wife—$1,250 of term insurance if she's your age—more if she's younger, less if older. This insurance can be converted to permanent insurance when it expires.

For your children—$1,000 of term insurance on each insured child. Newly arrived babies from age of 15 days to 6 months are covered for $500—and after 6 months for $1,000—at no increase in premium. This, too, can be converted to as much as $5,000 of permanent insurance when it expires.

What's more, premiums are exceptionally low. For example: at your age 30, the monthly premium is $12.17 for each unit. And dividends can reduce payments. See me soon for complete details.

Farm Safety Week Is Proclaimed For July 21 Thru 27

The death toll from farm-work accidents last year in the nation was higher than in any other major industry. "Farm accidents," said Governor Price Daniel on June 13 when he issued his Farm Safety Week Proclamation, "have become a serious problem which not only causes untold suffering among our rural population, but which affects the economy of the entire Nation."

In proclaiming the week of July 21-27 as Farm Safety Week, Governor Daniel pointed out that the Texas Safety Association, the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service would be cooperating with the National Safety Council and the U. S. Department of Agriculture in carrying out a farm accident-prevention educational effort. This campaign is in keeping with a proclamation issued earlier by President Eisenhower on a national basis.

Governor Daniel said, "The effect of accident-prevention programs has indicated that our rural residents, through attention to safety education, can greatly reduce accidents and the resulting loss and suffering. Therefore, as Governor, I urge all farm families to join in a continuing campaign against needless accidents."

The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council strongly believes that farm accident prevention efforts should be made a part of every family's plan for improving their farm and home. Until farm families become conscious of the multitude of accident hazards which surround their little progress can be made in removing the hazards, says the Council. "We would like to see the farmer and every member of his family become as safety conscious as are the people who work in industries where the accident rates have been reduced almost to the zero point. We think it can be done, if as Governor Daniel says, everyone will participate in a continuing educational campaign to wipe out farm accidents."

"Appoint yourself a committee of one to start the ball rolling on your farm," urges the Council.

Keep Wiring Up To Date For Safety In Modern Household

Almost everyone has experienced that helplessness which is felt when the electricity goes off, for more and more household chores from dishwashing to clothes-drying, are being shouldered by electrical servants. And through air conditioners and radio and TV sets, those ready kill-aways are providing a lot in the way of comfort and entertainment, too.

But many homeowners are discovering that their houses are inadequately wired to handle the extra load of appliances, says W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer. Blowing fuses, flickering lights, and shrinking TV pictures when additional electrical appliances are turned on are all signs that circuits are overloaded.

For safety's sake, call in an electrical contractor when this occurs, advises Ulich. Don't play "handyman" with something that can be as dangerous as electricity. Don't use heavier than 15 ampere fuses unless your circuits are built to handle them. And never use a coin to establish contact after a fuse has blown. Fuses and circuit breakers operate on the basis of flow of electric current. Excess flow of current not broken by a fuse or circuit breaker causes heat, treatment insulations on wires can melt. The overloaded wires can easily cause a fire.

If your house needs additional wiring, it will pay to take care of this need promptly. All appliances will work more efficiently and satisfactorily and may use less electric current to do the same work. Cost of wiring is small compared to the safety and convenience of a properly wired home, points out Ulich.

Mahon Predicts Drastic Change In Soil Bank

Editor's Note: Congressman George Mahon makes the following report from Washington:

This is about farm programs and problems.

Soil Bank. Indications are that the Agricultural Appropriation Bill, which is scheduled to be finally approved by Congress next week, will contain a provision continuing the conservation reserve and acreage reserve programs. But there will be a drastic change. In the acreage reserve program the maximum payment which anyone can draw for taking major crops out of production will be $3,000. There was no limit in 1957. I am opposing the $3,000 limitation, but those holding this view are in the minority.

Corn Sorghum. It will be recalled that the support level on grain sorghum in 1957 will be 70% of parity instead of 75% as was the case last year. It is estimated that a lot of grain sorghum will go into the government loan in 1957 as a result of probable changes in the support program for so-called non-compliance corn. Very little grain sorghum went into the loan last year and government-held stocks are now quite low.

Farm Legislation. I am disturbed over the outlook for long-range farm legislation. The policies and pronouncements of the Secretary of Agriculture over the past 4 1/2 years have had a telling effect on the attitude of people from non-farm areas, and these non-farm groups are in the majority in and out of Congress. In Congress we cannot count on the same extent as heretofore on the support of legislators from the

Fertilizer Tests Off To Good Start At Hi Plains Farm

Even though planted later than desired almost all of the fertilizer tests planned for 1957 at the Hi Plains Station have been planted and the crops are up to a good stand.

Fertilizer tests on cotton include a rate and ratio study using nitrogen and phosphate at 40, 80 and 120 pounds of nitrogen and phosphate per acre. Each of these rates is applied alone and in all possible combinations. These combinations include 40 pounds of nitrogen in combination with 40, 80, and 120 pounds of phosphate, 80 pounds of nitrogen with 40, 80 and 120 pounds of phosphate, and 120 pounds of nitrogen with each phosphate rate. This test is used to show which rates of nitrogen and phosphate are most efficient in increasing cotton yield.

In another fertilizer test with cotton six different sources of phosphate fertilizer are being compared at three rates, 40, 80 and 120 pounds of phosphate per acre. The phosphate materials used are 20% super, and 45% super, ammonium phosphate, ammoniated super phosphate, raw phosphoric acid, and retined phosphoric acid. A uniform application of nitrogen at 60 pounds per acre was applied to each plot with the phosphate application continuing the conservation reserve and acreage reserve programs. But there will be a drastic change. In the acreage reserve program the maximum payment which anyone can draw for taking major crops out of production will be $3,000. There was no limit in 1957. I am opposing the $3,000 limitation, but those holding this view are in the minority.

Another fertilizer experiment is planned for cotton in which all this different methods of application now being used will be compared. These methods will include broadcast applications and chiseled in at different depths and spacings before plowing and after plowing in the fall. Different methods of applying fertilizer to bedded land before and after the pre-plant irrigation will also be included. This experiment will be started this fall.

AMALIE must have been thinking about this dusty country, when they brought out AMALIE L. P. G. Oil. The way it holds the dirt and corrosion in suspension, so they filter out. And the way it still flows freely — until drain time — you burn butane or propane, there's just nothing like AMALIE L. P. G. Oil!

It was a great oil ENGINEERING job — to get an oil that wouldn't thicken up till it looked like gear-grease. To get it to hold its viscosity, or flowing qualities, like AMALIE L. P. G. Oil. And then the additives that hold that grit in solution. Of course it's 100% pure Pennsylvania — no other oil equal to it, on earth. And it's a cross-graded 20W-30 oil (or 40) — just as efficient summer or winter. Give YOUR engine — and your bank account — a break.

cities who formerly supported us. Moreover, there are wide differences of opinion and much uncertainty among the friends of the farmer here as to what course should be pursued. Farmers and farm groups are more disinclined than they have been in years in their recommendations to Congress as to what should be done. Farmers and Congressmen from corn and cotton areas are at loggerheads by reason of a corn bill which was debated and defeated by Congress earlier this year. This all adds up to a disturbing picture. I am very much concerned about these matters and we must continue to look for ways to remedy the situation.

It seems likely that no major new farm legislation will be passed at this session. As to cotton, the Farm Bureau is supporting a bill known as H. R. 8201. The American Cotton Producers Associates, with which the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. is affiliated, is supporting H. R. 7816. Many other proposals are pending. Many of the bills provide for the sale of all cotton by the producers at the prevailing world price. Various procedures are proposed to provide the producer with an extra cash payment for that portion of his cotton which would be used domestically. I will gladly provide copies of pending bills upon request.

A Good Time Was Had By All Local Couples Tour Gotham, Washington

If you want to know where to go and what to see in New York or Washington, just ask Mr. and Mrs. Randy Johnson or Mr. and Mrs. Irvin St. Clair, who recently returned from a tour of the two cities. The Johnsons had won an expense free trip as a result of their sales campaign with Whirlpool washers and driers. They boarded a plane at Lubbock, stopped briefly in Dallas and Chicago and flew on to New York, where they were guests three days in the world famous hostelry, the Waldorf-Astoria. They spent three whirlwind days and nights seeing the sights of the world's greatest city; toured RCA and the Rockefeller Center, saw a program staged there by the Rockettes; visited the Statue of Liberty, the old Bowery, lower and upper Manhattan, Grand Central Station, Fifth Avenue, and silk stocking row, Times Square, Central Park, and Grant's tomb. A musical stage show they saw was "Bells A Ringing". While the ladies took in another stage play, the men went to Belmont Park to see the running of the Belmont Stakes in which Gallant Man conquered Bold Ruler. In Washington, the four really put in the time sightseeing, visiting the Lincoln memorial, the National Historical Museum, Library of Congress, the White House, the Capitol. They went to the tomb of the unknown soldier and witnessed the changing of the guard, saw Monticello, Jefferson's home, Arlington National Cemetery, the shrine dedicated to the raising of the flag on Iwo Jima. They remember with nostalgia their dinner in a famed sea food place established in 1781. Coming home they stopped over for a 24-hour visit with the family for Randy's sister, in Memphis, Tenn.

Water Problems Told For Rotary

"We have water now, even for watering your lawns", Mayor W. T. Bovell told members of the Rotary Club Tuesday in a short talk explaining the recent shortage that resulted when two small well motors burned out. He announced plans the city council has made to drill two more wells and to tie in the well on the Muleshoe Golf Course for added water in emergencies. At no time during the shortage, however, was the city out of water to fight fires. A sufficient reserve was held for the purpose.

DEDICATED TO THE PROGRESS AND DEVELOPMENT OF BAILEY COUNTY AND THE GREAT MULESHOE COUNTRY

VOLUME 36, NUMBER 28

THURSDAY, JULY 11, 1957

Onion Harvest Ends In County Last Week As Prices Take Sudden Drop

Onions have provided a pungent additive to man's food almost since history began, and today the production of onions is fast becoming a major agricultural pursuit in Bailey county. Onion acreage has practically doubled in this Muleshoe trade territory in the past year, and unless prices become excessively low, more acreage is expected to go into onions next fall and spring.

Bailey county had about 200 acres in onions this spring, with several farmers planting for the first time this year.

A typical case is that of W. F. Bartley, who farms nine miles west of Muleshoe. No newcomer to the growing of vegetables, Mr. Bartley is trying his hand with onions this spring for the first time. He has grown tomatoes for several seasons, as have several of his neighbors; neighbors like Lewis Scoggins and the Little brothers, and the Williams' at State Line Farms.

Bartley planted 10 acres of Grano onions, and last week harvested an average of 230 fifty pound bags per acre from his land.

Of 1183 bags harvested last Wednesday, he had more than 1050 bags of number ones and jumbos, with the balance in culls and lower grades. The whites and yellow onions are separated and bring different prices on the market.

A Hereford processor contracted the crop and his crews brought in machinery to grade and bag the onions, prior to storage.

A sad ending is the exception to these farm stories, but a sad ending this one has, temporarily at least.

The market price of onions, which has been above $3 per bag for many weeks, suddenly dropped to $1.90 late last week, and brought a sudden halt to the shipment of onions from this area.

Muleshoe Gets Electric Lines

Billy Ellis, doing some research work in old files of The Muleshoe Journal this summer, came across the following item from The Avalanche:

From Lubbock Morning Avalanche, May 6, 1926:

Muleshoe, May 5 — Electric lights, coming over a power line, were turned on in Muleshoe for the first time Monday night when the Texas Utilities Company completed connection between this place and Sudan. Parties who have small lighting systems of their own, as well as those who had no electricity, are connecting with the high line. Later experiments with the practicality of using electricity for pumping water for irrigation and other purposes will be made. This line is now being extended on to Portales, N. M.

Fresh Vegetables Offer Vital Needs For Summer Diet

So many kinds of green vegetables can be bought at the market these days that there is really no excuse for a diet not adequate in needed vitamins, according to extension food and nutrition specialists.

Diet studies show that nutrients most frequently found in inadequate amounts are calcium, which is supplied by milk, and vitamin A and C which fresh green vegetables can help to supply.

Dark green leafy vegetables, yellow vegetables, and dark yellow fruits such as apricots, yellow peaches, yellow meat plums, and cantaloupes, are all good sources of vitamin A. These vegetables and fruits, eaten raw or properly cooked, also supply substantial amounts of vitamin C.

Not all green vegetables have the same food value. The intensity of the color and the part of the plant from which it comes are clues to its vitamin value. In general, the greener the vegetable, the better it is as a source of vitamins. Dark green leaves may carry several times as much of some nutrients as the green stalks or immature seeds.

Cook green vegetables quickly for best quality. Use a cover on the pan to speed cooking and cook until vegetables are just tender and still slightly crisp. Long cooking makes vegetables limp and changes color and flavor.

Boil green vegetables in lightly salted water — ½ teaspoon salt and ½ to 1 cup water (depending on cooking time). Bring water to boil, add vegetables, and put cover on pan. When water boils again, reduce heat and cook until just tender.

Federal road tax in the amount of 3c per gallon should be claimed for refund on every gallon of such fuel used in farming during the period of July 1, 1956 to July 1, 1957 before October 1, 1957. If you did not file last year, and have not received your claim card from the Internal Revenue Department, we have some on hand for you here at the Farm Bureau office. Banks and dealers also have some of them. You can fill them out yourself after getting the gallons of fuel purchased during the claim period from your dealer. We will be glad to help you if you need help. Complete the address on the envelope with Dallas, Texas, and your return.

Your directors were well-pleased with the fine reports given by the 4-H boys and girls upon their return from the Texas Roundup at College Station. We think this is one of the very worthwhile things Farm Bureau has been able to help with on a local basis. Judy Billingsley, Farwell; Lexie Stevenson, Bovina; Billy Hardage, Lazbuddie; and Cooper Young, Lariat were the ones reporting last week. Our congratulations to these young leaders.

It is not long before the annual queen contest will be held. Saturday night, July 20, in the Bovina auditorium. Seven or eight candidates were reported through Saturday last week. Mrs. J. T. Jones is running the show this year.

We read several "Farm" magazines, and we are becoming a little impatient with their impatience with the fact that all farm organizations do not get together and stay together on proposals for solving their problems. It is quite evident that the editors of the magazines themselves are not as nearly in agreement with each other on proposed solutions as are the varied farm and commodity organizations. We know that all of these farm and commodity organizations try to some extent, at least, to get the ideas of their members, who belong voluntarily to the group of their choice, before they go to Washington. The "Farm" editor of a magazine has only himself to convince when he starts writing, so it seems to us that he might "get together and stay together" with his fellow editors before writing some of his "enlightening" articles. Actually, we think it is better to have the varied

The Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District board of supervisors met in regular session June 17, in Bailey County Farm Bureau office.

Chairman Sherman Inman of Progress community presided with the following board members present: Dan D. Darsey, vice-chairman, Longview community; E. N. (Shorty) McCall, Enoch, and W. H. (Bill) Eubanks, Three Way. Also present was L. Duane Bartee, SCS representative and Jim Ward, assistant County Agent.

The board reviewed letter acknowledging receipt of their request to have Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District participate in the Great Plains Conservation Program. This is a new program designed to step up application of enduring conservation practices in the Great Plains area for a sound, permanent-type of agriculture based on wise land-use. The Soil Conservation Service is to administer this program and anyone interested can contact his supervisor or local SCS office.

A tri-district meeting of supervisors to include Lamb county SCD, Cochran county SCD, and the Blackwater Valley SCD is to be sponsored by your board. This will give each district a knowledge of the others progress and problems, and promote a local feeling of good will between districts.

Why Terraces
Recent soil washing rains have caused extensive erosion on opinions expressed and discussed everywhere, but before criticizing farmers too much, it seems only right that the critic should set the example he suggests farmers should follow. If everyone agreed on everything, there would be no reason for organizations. Their final purpose is to gain the condensed and compromised desires that all can conscientiously support until something better can be developed. We are sure of one thing: No one is more aware of the farmer's problem than the farmer himself.

steep slopes and long flat slopes. Terraces properly spaced across the slope slow run-off water to a walk. Here water can soak into the soil.

The basic "why" of terracing is to hold the top soil in place. Each terrace will hold and protect the soil immediately below the terrace and erosion is held to a minimum. Good terraces help get better stands because there is less silt to move in and cover seed too deep and less washing out of seed and young plants.

Farming on the level has proven best, both for your money, and your soils productivity.

What Others Are Doing
During May and June, 60 new cooperators were added to the district's roll. Twenty-two of these completed basic conservation plans. The district man has approved plans on 100% cooperators. This is, indeed, pleasing to your board for it shows the continued growth of the district which reflects the keen interest in soil and water conservation throughout the district.

Nelson Butt, west of the Refuge, has recently completed 31 diversion type terraces. About 400 Arizona Cypress have been set out by several cooperators for future farmstead windbreaks.

Cooperators have kept district equipment busy these first six months of '57. FFA boys, who receive half the rent after expense of upkeep of the equipment has been taken out, have received $364.13 from the district.

Grass plantings for seed production and Soil Bank land look promising throughout the district. Soil Bank plantings are being shredded to control tumble weed. There are about 600 acres of grass for seed production, and 15,000 acres of Soil Bank grass plantings.

Cotton Insect Report

Cotton has made very satisfactory progress during the past week due to favorable weather conditions. Growth has been rapid and many cotton fields have begun to set squares. Insects have not posed a serious problem in most plantings. Thrips have been reported light to medium infestations throughout the area. Insecticides have been applied for control of these insects in many of the fields.

Aphids were reported present in scattered cotton fields, but infestations were generally light. Fleahoppers occurred in many additional plantings of cotton. The insects appeared about the time plants reached the early squaring stage of growth. Although most infestations have been light, cotton should be checked for presence of insects and their damage, especially during the early fruiting period.

Light infestations of cabbage loopers have been observed in many cotton fields. Heavier infestations were reported in Terry county with occasional plantings being treated for control of the loopers. Where infestations appear sufficient to cause severe ragging, control should be effected while the loopers are small. Large loopers are very difficult to control.

Grasshoppers were present in damaging infestations in some fields of cotton in Garza, Scurry, and Yoakum counties. For control measures for various insects, consult the 1957 Cotton Insect Control Guide.

Registrar S. W. McKewen said that the Bailey county student is among 1500 enrolled. The enrollment is the second largest total for a summer term in the history of the college, he pointed out.

IMPACT OF TEXAS' NEW EGG LAW
The Texas Egg Law, which becomes effective in a few weeks will have probably a more far-reaching impact on the citizens of Texas as a whole than any agricultural legislation of recent times. Although regulations will extend only to certain areas of the egg industry itself, the effect of the law will be felt not only by producers and other industry men but by consumers as well. And the effect felt will be a good one. What the law actually does is to stop misrepresentation of inferior eggs as quality merchandise and to place emphasis on accurate product labelling of quality eggs and a better product or consumer. This is accomplished through a system of egg grading which requires all eggs offered for sale to consumers through retail outlets to be accurately labelled according to size, grade and condition of freshness. Small Producers Are Protected. Heretofore, labelling of eggs as to grade and condition was a free

Babson Discusses LABOR OUTLOOK

Babson Park, Mass., July 11 — Like it or not, labor is a commodity depending on supply and demand. Labor unions can raise wages temporarily just as a dam can raise the height of a stream. But the dam does not destroy the water; sooner or later the water flows over the dam, or the stream dries up.

LET US LOOK AT BIRTH RATES
During the thirties, birth rates in the U. S. had been running about 17 per thousand. Just before World War II, in 1938, the birth rate was 17.6 per thousand, and in 1943, it was 21.5. Then it began to fall, and slipped lower through the rest of the war years. This was accompanied by a scarcity of men due to the draft, with a surplus of women workers. While normal manufacturing was greatly curtailed, the war created an excessive demand for labor for war industries. Therefore, labor adjusted itself fairly well.

The war had two closings, but the boys began to return from Europe in May 1945 and babies began to arrive in 1946. This means that the post-war crop of babies is now under twelve years of age. The birth rate is now running around 24.2 per thousand and the schools are becoming crowded, especially in the elementary grades. As the women who went to work during the war become older, they are dropping out of the job market. This accounts in part, for the shortage of labor, the increased wages, and the inefficiency of much of the labor. Every employer complains about it, but I see nothing that can now be done.

WHAT ABOUT THE OUTLOOK?
As the oldest of this postwar crop of babies is now under twelve years of age, no relief can be expected (without a severe business depression) for at least five years. The situation is being tinkered with still further by minimum wage and other labor legislation. In the meantime, business is prosperous and production is close to an all-time high. This means that the supply of labor is low and the demand for labor is abnormally high. I repeat that — barring a business depression — I see no relief until after 1960.

LABOR-SAVING MACHINERY

As a result of the above conditions, there is constant demand for labor-saving machinery of all kinds. This especially applies to all forms of office labor-saving devices. We hear much talk about automation, that is the running of a factory or office automatically with very few employees; but this is for some time in the future. Changing to automation is both a slow and an expensive process and requires considerable capital investment.

The most practical means of bridging the next five years is to take greater care in the selection of employees and to treat them well. There is no use attempting to buck this wage during the next five years and little point in arguing as to the efficiency of the worker. Wages, however, are not all! Workers have pride and self-respect. They like reasonable hours, good clothes, and a comfortable place to work. Furthermore, the location of the plant or office often demands the expense of an automobile.

ADVICE TO JUNE GRADUATES
Just now the new graduates are "sitting in the driver's seat." It will be fairly easy for most of this year's graduates to get positions. Moreover, many of them will be paid more than they are worth. This is no reason for them to be careless or to think that their job is secure. They will be watched most carefully, with the idea of a big weeding out after 1960.

Every reader should remember that the labor cycle is constantly revolving — the same as the stock market cycle, the money rate cycle, and the housing cycle. Many June grads who now find it easy to get jobs will be out of jobs or be "sitting on the tailboard of the cart" in about five years. Therefore parents, as well as June graduates, should realize that the present labor situation will not continue unless their "darling" makes good. The present "honeymoon" will continue for a few years more. But it will surely be followed by a period when employers will "clean house", trim down their personnel, and keep only the most efficient. This applies to both men and women.

prayer of fervent desire for growth in grace, expressed in patience, meekness, love, and good deeds.
The following will be among passages read from the Bible (Psalms 19:14): "Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength and my redeemer."

TODAY'S MEDITATION

Read Psalm 51:1-4.
My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness. (II Corinthians 12:9.)

One night, when driving to a nearby city, I turned left instead of right. The road took me farther and farther from my destination. I had a hard time getting back on the right road.

My simple experience is a parable of life. Many times we unfortunately take the wrong road — sometimes do it knowingly. The longer we stay on it, the farther we get from where God intends us to go. Often we lack strength of courage to do what we know to be right. We follow the crowd, not wanting to be thought queer or narrow-minded. The way we meet such temptations shows clearly the stuff of which we are made.

No man really needs to fail at such times. We need to do what Jesus did — pray. God's power is instantly available, for there is no distance in prayer. That God answers the cry for help has been the testimony of human experience through the centuries, especially since Christ's coming.

Christian Science Services

How consistent prayer, based on spiritual understanding of God, brings health and freedom will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon on "Sacrament" is the Golden Text from Matthew (6:6): "Thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (4:3-5): "What we most need is the

Washington News Letter

"Come now, and let us reason together."

Dear Friend:
An old story and a sad one was repeated once more last week. It was the announcement that, for the ninth month in a row, the cost of living had gone up again.

The general price level actually has been in a steady — and disturbing — rise for the last 18 months. In the past 12 months alone, the price level has climbed four per cent.

If this continues to be the average rise in prices, our price level will double in 18 years. This means that by 1975 the value of the dollar we earn and save today would be cut in half.

People have already been hurt by the steady increase in the cost of living. The monetary policy of the present Administration lowers the value of the dollar for

Sandhills Philosopher Ignores Farm Problem for A Change, Takes Problem Of Russian Truth

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is ranging far from his farm this week, his letter reveals.

While it may sound a little odd for a country that can't figure out how to ban a crop surplus of its own to be attending a meeting of world leaders on how to ban the world-wide testing of the Hydrogen Bomb, none the less I was reading about the conference they held over in London recently on banning these H-bomb tests and I went to the trouble of skipping working in the field two whole days just to think about it.

As I understand it, the United States is willing to ban these tests, provided Russia will agree and Russia will agree, provided we'll take her word for it.

Now I'll tell you. Outside of trying to buy a money order on the installment plan, I don't know of anything harder to do than trying to get Russia to live up to an agreement.

If Russia agrees to ban further testing, it means one of two things; either she already knows all she needs to know about the things, or she'll go right on testing them. If some inspector heard one go off, the Russians would smile and first say there wasn't a thing to it, it was just some kid exploding a firecracker back in the Ukraine. If the inspectors swore their detecting devices showed it was a hydrogen bomb, the Russians would promise a full investigation, and after six months of talk would admit a bomb did go off, but it was an accident, some scientist was leaving the laboratory in a hurry to get home to supper and thought he was turning off the lights when he flipped the wrong switch.

I'll tell you, the Russians have a Russian answer for everything. If I had one of em living next to me on an adjoining farm and his cows got over into my pasture and I complained, he'd come out with an indignant statement that my pasture was attacking his cows and I owed him money for the outrage.

All I've got to say is I'd like to meet some of these people who will accept a signed agreement from Russia on anything. I've got some Confederate bonds I'd like to sell them for cash.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

The rich and the poor meet together: the Lord is the Maker of them all. — (Proverbs 22, 2.)

Sometimes, some of us will look upon other people in the street as if they were not there at all — they, those others, who were created by Our Heavenly Father in His own image, loved by Him (even the least and the lowliest). They are worthy in His sight, if not in ours!

THIS WEEK

—In Washington

With

Clinton Davidson

In Washington this week there is cautious optimism that an easing may be taking place in the cold war before long, but there still are plenty of skeptics.

Confidential military and diplomatic reports to congressional leaders and members of a few key committees have had the effect of raising hope that real progress toward a more stable peace is possible.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, however, has cautioned the Senate Foreign Relations Committee against letting down our guard too soon just because Russia wants to talk about ending the arms race.

"Experience," he told the committee, "has demonstrated that agreements with the Communists are not dependable so long as they are merely based on paper accord."

It is possible now, without violating security provisions, to reveal the essential facts which have raised hopes for at least a start toward an easing of the threat of World War III.

Russian leaders appear, according to reports from Moscow, to have become convinced they cannot win either a cold war by present tactics, or an all-out military conflict at this time.

There has been no change, so far as U.S. diplomats can learn, in Russia's ultimate objective of spreading communism throughout the world. Plans for doing that, however, apparently are being changed.

Military intelligence reports indicate Russian leaders have become convinced neither side could win a fighting war, now or in the foreseeable future. Neither side has a defense that could stop the offense of the other.

The Communists, therefore, face the necessity of changing their tactics. Almost everything they have tried since 1945 has failed to crack Western defense against the spread of Communism.

First, the effort to undermine democratic governments through infiltration, subversion and sabotage failed. There are fewer communists outside of Russia than there were 10 or 12 years ago.

Second, Russia counted on a serious post-war depression among the democracies to develop a fertile ground for spread of communism. Economic progress has been more rapid among the democracies than in Russia.

Third, it was reasoned that the U.S. would not extend military and economic aid on a broad scale to all parts of the Free World. They counted on the U.S. to return to isolationism, as it did after World War I.

Fourth, that Americans would not spend the many millions necessary to match the military build-up being forced on the Russian people. In 10 years we have spent about $40 billion.

For a dozen years Russia has probed the Free World for signs of weakness, and has met only unexpected strength. Russian ambitions have been thwarted time after time.

Russia seems to Washington to be preparing the way for a change in strategy, not in objectives. She may be thinking of easing the burden of a costly military machine, and thus the threat of a shooting war.

The Kremlin objective, as seen here, is time to strengthen the Russian economy, stamp out resistance from the peoples of subjugated nations, and gather strength for a propaganda campaign to spread communist influence among smaller nations in the Western alliance.

The House Post Office and Civil Service Committee has approved a pay rise that would give most postal workers an additional $546 a year.

French military authorities have compelled about 300,000 Moslems to move from troubled areas of Algeria.

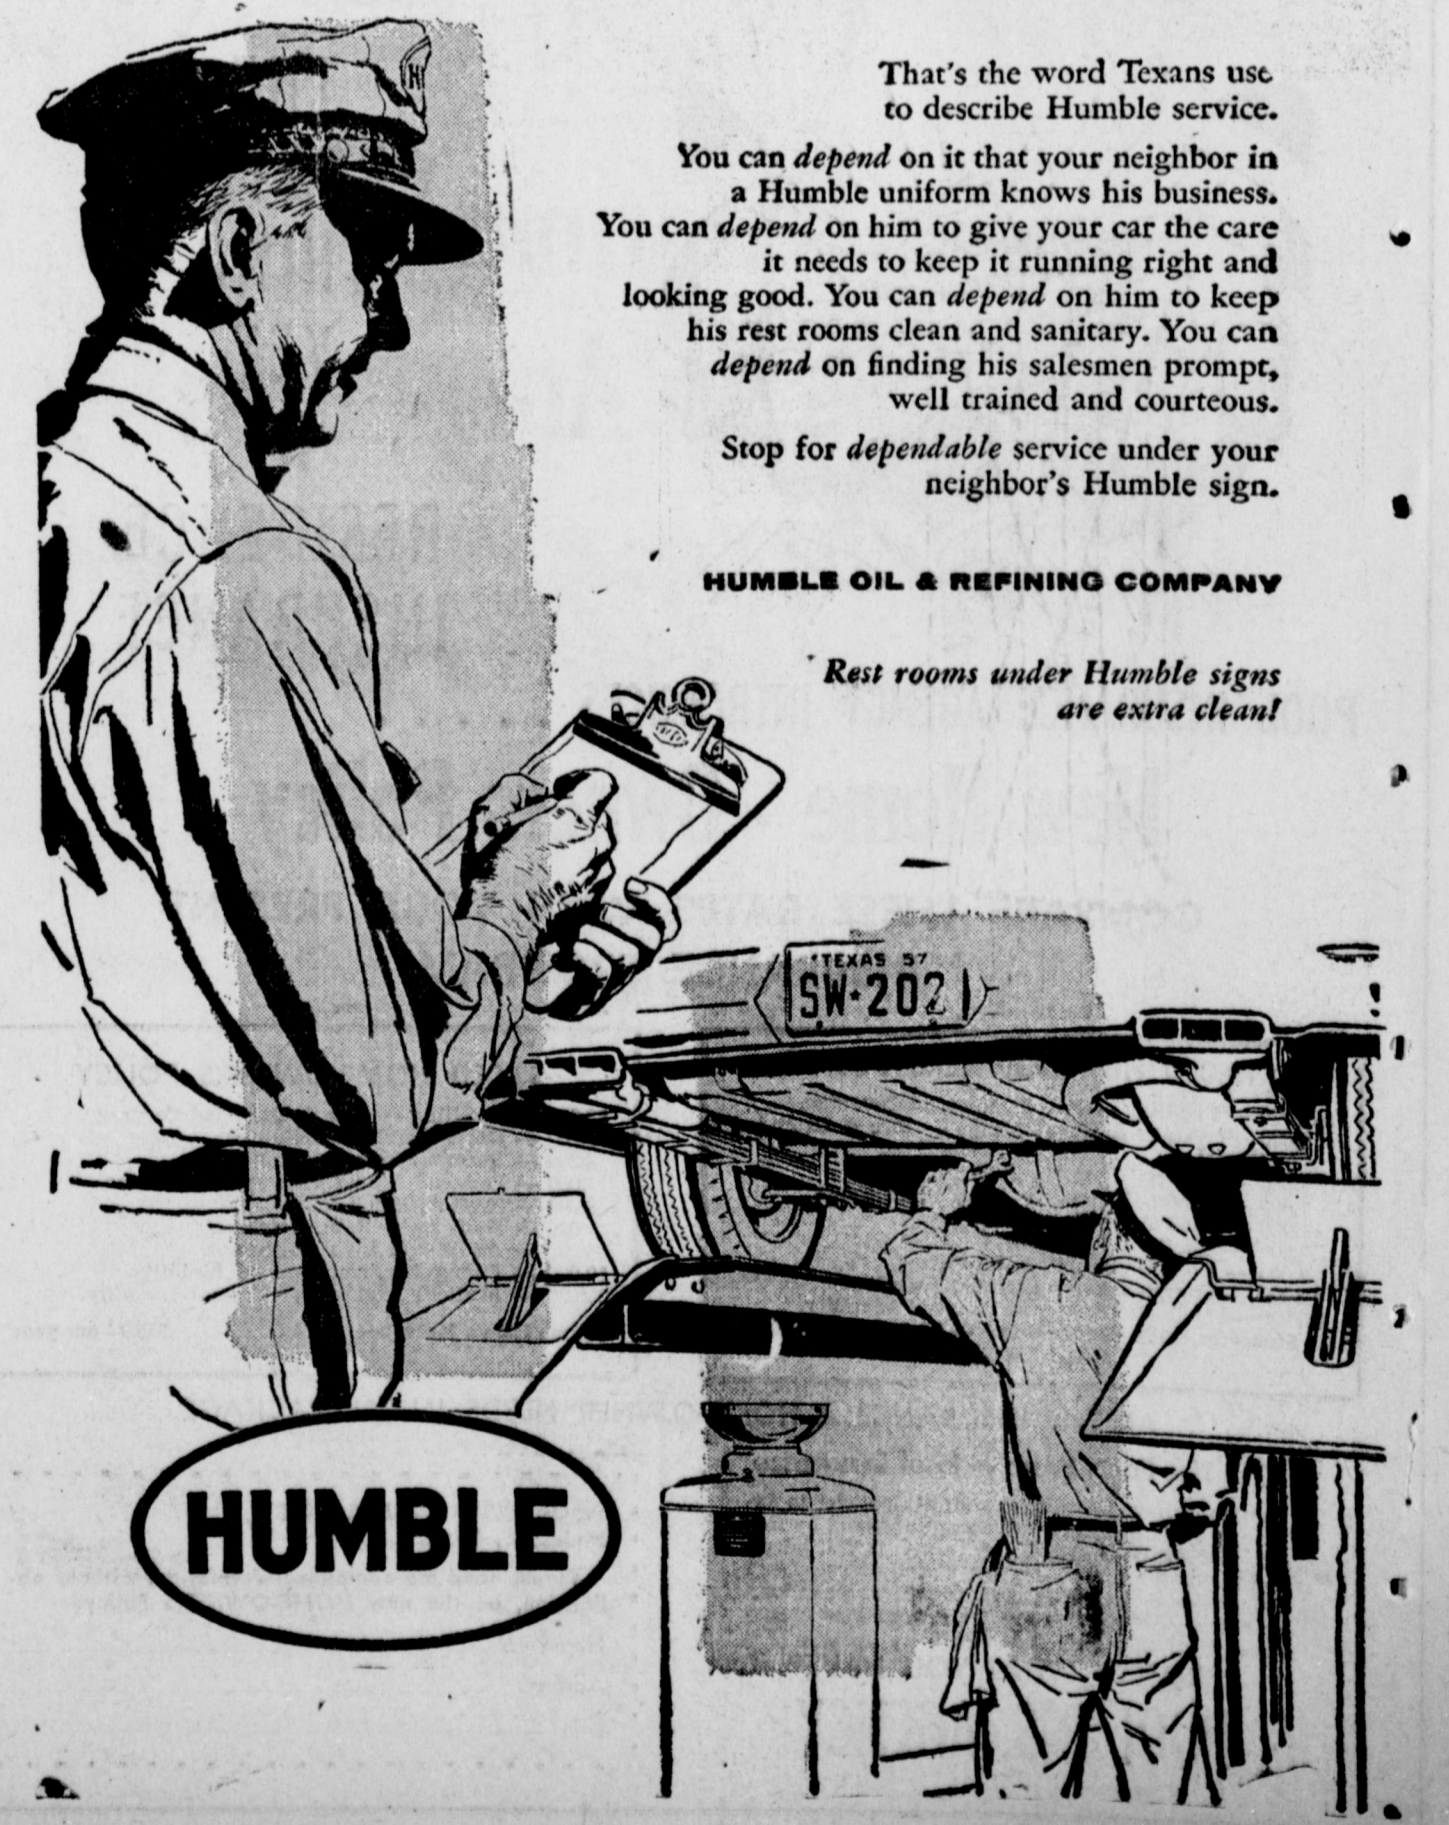

Arming West Germany with nuclear weapons will bar forever the country's reunification, according to the Soviet Union.

The Big M is the roomiest car in its field. To match the Monterey's hip room alone in any other car would cost you at least $1,000 more. And behind the wheel, you can command Mercury exclusives like a power seat that "remembers" your favorite driving position, and advanced Merc-O-Matic Keyboard Control.

MORE OUTSIDE...

The Big M is the widest car in its field. To match Mercury's width, you'd have to buy one of America's three most expensive cars, costing at least $2,000 more. And Mercury's Dream-Car Design is shared with no other car... from Jet-Flo Bumpers to V-angle tail-lights, it's styled to stay newer longer, protect future resale value.

MORE UNDER THE HOOD...

No other car at the Monterey's price gives you such high standard horsepower (255). To match this power in any competitive car, you'd have to pay over $150 more. The Big M gives you the highest torque, for a regular production engine, in its field (405 lb-ft). Mercury's standard compression (9.75 to 1), close to highest in any car, would cost you over $500 more in any other car.

...MORE WAYS YOUR BEST BUY

You have to pay over $200 more to get any other car with real four-beam headlights, like The Big M's Quadri-Beams. Over $80 more to get a four-barrel carburetor as standard equipment on any competitive car. Over $130 more to match the Mercury Monterey's brake size. No other car at any price can match The Big M's Floating Ride... achieved with the most effective combination of bump-smothering features ever put between you and the road. Yet the price is still an easy step up from the low-price three. Stop in!

H. D. Agent's Column

Mrs. Harriette Brummett
Old Sol tells us in no uncertain terms that summer is here. It's a nice time to do some living and eating outside — that is, when the sand doesn't blow. Days like the first part of this week have been ideal for barbecuing chicken and steaks in the backyard. And speaking of chicken, have you cooked broiler or fryer over charcoal and basted it with lemon basting sauce? Its so nice for poultry because it is not a strong sauce and the delicious flavor of the chicken is not altered by the sauce — really it helps to bring out that wonderful chicken flavor that so many of us like. Here is the recipe:

Lemon Basting Sauce
Melt 1/2 cup butter or margarine. Mix and stir in:
2 teaspoons paprika.
1 teaspoon sugar.
1 teaspoon salt.
1/2 teaspoon black pepper.
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard.
Few grains cayenne pepper.
Blend in thoroughly—
1/2 cup lemon juice.
1/2 cup hot water.
Few drops tabasco sauce.
(2 tablespoons grated onion may be added if desired.)
Note: This makes about 1 1/2 cups sauce.

This sauce keeps well in a closed jar in your refrigerator. No need to make fresh sauce everytime you barbecue poultry. I never throw any of this kind of sauce away. It will keep as long as there is any in the jar.

Baste the chicken with the sauce as soon as you put it on to cook and repeat several times during the cooking process. A basting brush is ideal providing it is not one that has the bristles wrapped with copper or brass wire. Remember there is danger of copper or brass tarnish poisoning from those two metals. I had much rather make a small mop by tying some cloth to the end of a stick. It will do the job well and can be discarded when the cooking is finished — and, its so much safer. Be sure to use some well soaked hickory chips on the coals if you care for that delightful smoked flavor.

If you have an electric spit on which to cook the meat then do try a whole wryer. Baste with lemon basting sauce several times 8 to 10) during the 45 minutes to 1 1/2 hours of cooking time. I have cooked them in 45 minutes — really it rushes the cooking time and the longer and slower time is much better. Remember, if you need to rush it, the heat must be increased either by more coals to produce more heat or by raising the fire box of the grill closer to the meat. Incidentally, if you should be in the market for a grill, you may want to consider the possibility of being able to raise and lower the fire box — at least its a feature to keep in mind while shopping.

If the meat you use should happen to be steaks, perhaps one of the stronger sauces will suit your taste better. Here is a favorite of mine that I got from Aunt Susan when she was with WKY Radio Station in Oklahoma City.

Barbecue Sauce
1/2 cup vinegar.
1 1/2 cups water.
1 teaspoon dry mustard.
1/2 teaspoon cayenne pepper.
1 teaspoon paprika.
2 teaspoons salt.
1 tablespoon each Worcestershire sauce, tabasco sauce, chili powder, and black pepper.
Juice of 1/2 lemon.
1 grated onion (medium size.)
2 cloves garlic.
1/2 pound butter or margarine.
Mix all dry ingredients, add the lemon juice, vinegar and water and place over low heat. Simmer 20 minutes before using on meat.

Be sure to use hickory smoke with this too. It adds flavor. With the barbecue try a mixed vegetable salad, baked potatoes (wrapped in foil and baked over the coals while the meat cooks), whole wheat rolls, butter, iced tea and fruit.

With the aroma of barbecue in the back yard, there will be no need of calling the hungry crew. They will be there waiting and saying, "When do we eat?"
