COUNTY FAIR DATES ARE SET

To Be Last Of September; Begin Making Plans For Annual Event Early

The directors of the Lynn County Fair consisting of Tom Brewer of Joe Bailey, J. P. Aylor of O'Donnell, Carl Holden of Wilson, L. H. Moore of Slide, Claude Wells of Tahoka, President, and Prof. Taylor White, Manager, have set the date for the next annual fair as Friday and Saturday, September 26-27, according to C. C. Williams, secretary of the local chamber of commerce.

The directors are planning to make the next fair the biggest and best in every respect that Lynn County has ever had. A most excellent fair was held last year, in spite of the severe drought and the short crops. More elaborate preparations are to be made this year and already a contract has been made, we understand, with an amusement company to be here during the week of the fair. This is probably the biggest and best amusement company that has ever come to the county. The fair is to get a larger per cent of the receipts than heretofore.

With favorable crop conditions this year, it is hoped to be able to acquire permanent fair grounds next fall and to place this enterprise on a more substantial basis.

County Atty. Nelson Asks For Re-election

G. H. Nelson is a candidate for re-election as county attorney. He authorized us to place his name in our announcement column this week.

Mr. Nelson is now serving his first term. Although he was admitted to the bar less than three years ago he has functioned as county attorney like a veteran. He has had only one acquittal in the courts since he assumed the duties of the office a little more than a year ago, he states. As county attorney he has conducted "courts of inquiry" from time to time and thus has taken care of the misdemeanor cases in the county so thoroughly that grand juries have not found it necessary to return a single misdemeanor indictment since he became county attorney. He has worked with each grand jury every day it has been in session and has assisted the grand jury and the district attorney in ferreting out crime. In addition to that, he has gathered evidence in justice courts pertaining to violations of the Dean liquor law which have resulted in ten grand jury indictments. He has assisted the district attorney in practically every contested case that has been tried in the district court the past year.

Mr. Nelson has served out just a little more than half of his first term. He desires to continue to represent the State after his first term shall expire a year hence. He comes before the people upon his record and asks that they give him the accustomed second term. Mr. Nelson is a student and a thinker, clean and courageous, and has an ambition to climb in his profession. We bespeak for his candidacy your most earnest consideration.

WANT STATION RETAINED

A petition was being circulated here today addressed to our Senators and Representative in Congress asking that they use their vote and influence to prevent the discontinuance of the radio station being operated by W. K. Henderson at Shreveport, La.

Charges are being made against Henderson that he uses profanity in broadcasting from his station but his friends claim that the real complaint that the critics have against him is the fact that he has been waging relentless war against chain stores. He claims that they are a menace to the small business man and to the interests of the people generally, in that they pay little or no local taxes, contribute little or nothing to the development or prosperity of the communities in which they operate, and concentrate the earnings made in the small towns in the big centers in the cities.

Many local citizens are deeply interested in the outcome of this fight and are coming enthusiastically to the rescue of the Henderson station. The petition circulated here was being numerously signed.

News Better Than A Thrilling Story

Miss Millie M. Halsey, home demonstration agent for Lynn County for four years, will be remembered by the people of Lynn County for a long time. She did a wonderful work here and is still interested deeply in the welfare of Lynn County. A few days ago we received the following card from her:

"I failed to get a copy of the News for Jan. 2. If any copies are available would be glad to have it. I would rather miss an installment of a thrilling story than to miss a copy of the News."

MRS. STANDEFER PASSES AWAY

Pioneer Lynn County Lady Dies At Lubbock; Formerly Lived At Wilson

(Wilson Pointer)
Sunday night, January 12th, the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Agnew of Lubbock and took to its final resting place the soul of Mrs. Rebecca Standefer.

Mrs. Standefer was born in Pontotoc County, Miss., November 18th, last eighty-one years ago and moved with her parents to Ellis County, when she was ten years of age, later moving to Meridian, Texas, where she met and on July 12th, 1866, married W. R. Standefer. To this union were born six children of which two are living: Mrs. John W. Agnew of Lubbock, Texas, and L. E. Standefer of Fort Stockton.

Mr. and Mrs. Standefer have always loved the west and as the county would settle up they would go further west arriving in Haskell County in an early date at which Mrs. Standefer became the first Postmaster of Haskell. They moved to Lubbock County nearly 29 years ago when this country first began to settle up and remained there until some 10 years ago at which time they purchased a home in Wilson living there until 4 years ago. Losing her husband on May 3rd, 1926, she moved to Lubbock where she made her home with her daughter, Mrs. John Agnew, until taken away. Mrs. Standefer was a true Christian and remained loyal to her Master, always spreading her Christian influence where ever she would go and was one of the most lovable characters we have ever known. To know her was to love her. It is hard to part from those we have learned to love but when we think that it will be only a few days until we may be permitted to join them in another world where all sorrow and sadness will never be known and where pain and sickness will be over it makes it easier to bear. Our heart goes out to the bereaved ones in their hour of sorrow.

RAILWAY COMMISSION TAKES STEPS TO PROTECT PUBLIC

J. H. Edwards, who was recently appointed inspector of Bus lines for the Railway Commission of Texas, was here Friday greeting his many friends and looking after official business.

"It is the earnest desire of the Railroad Commission," Mr. Edwards stated, "that the people who travel over Motor Bus lines shall have as good, safe and comfortable transportation as is possible to give them over the highways of Texas; also that all property transported over the highways by Motor carriers and truck operations shall be safe and convenient as possible."

"To this end, they insist that all Bus operators comply with the law and regulations regulating the same. The sheriffs department and the county attorney's department, local as well as throughout the state generally, have promised full co-operation in the strict enforcement of the laws. The law provides protection to the public from accidents to them and their property while being transported over the highways."

"Many truck drivers are evidently not familiar with the law," Mr. Edwards further stated, "and they should confer with the county attorney and familiarize themselves with the requirement of the law at once. Mr. Nelson, the county attorney of Lynn County, has all necessary blank forms, and all local truck drivers should see him immediately."

KIWANIS CLUB 'FEED' FRIDAY

Ladies Invited To Annual Affair; Committee Signs Up Several New Members

The Kiwanis Club is to have its annual banquet at the American Legion Hall on Friday night. Wives and sweethearts of the members, together with new members and possibly a few others, will be invited to attend.

The banquet will be served by the ladies of the American Legion.

The new membership committee has been busy the past few days and they report that there are a number of new members together with a few old ones who had permitted their membership to lapse and who have decided to come back.

The prospect for more interest, work, and growth during the coming year seem to be excellent at this time.

District Judge Asks For Second Term

Unlike many other offices, as most of our readers know, the term of a district judge is for four years. Judge Gordon B. McGuire was appointed district judge when the 106th district was created and was then elected at the next election. He is therefore serving his first elective term at this time.

Judge McGuire is of a judicial temperament and has long been a close student of the law. Uniformly fair and conscientious in his rulings he rarely makes a serious error and few of his cases have been reversed on appeal. He maintains the respect of both the laymen and the bar and conducts his court with a dignity and poise that challenges the admiration of all.

His own announcement appears elsewhere in this paper, which we trust every voter will read.

Price Offers For Dist. Atty. Again

The announcement of T. L. Price for re-election to the office of district attorney will be found elsewhere in this paper. Mr. Price has made an enviable record in this office the past three years and he is anxious to have the privilege of continuing his service. We ask that you carefully read his statement and give most careful consideration to his claims upon the people for a continuation in this office. The security of the people in their property and their lives is dependent largely upon the ability and character of the district attorney, and certainly it is generally conceded that Mr. Price has performed his task well.

STAMPS QUARTETTE TO SING AT DIXIE SUNDAY AT 2:30

Prof. H. M. McEachern requests that we announce that the Stamps Quartette will sing at Dixie Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2:30. Everybody is invited. These singers promise a most interesting program. The Stamps singers have visited Tahoka, and other points in Lynn county before and are well known in this section of the state, although they come from East Texas.

Gordon Ray King of Tahoka made the honor roll for the spring term at Texas Technological College with an average grade of B on 16 term-hours of work, according to the report of the registrar's office.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Jackson have returned from Glen Rose, where they have been taking treatment and drinking the medicinal waters of that noted health resort.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Jackson have returned from Glen Rose, where they have been taking treatment and drinking the medicinal waters of that noted health resort.

"Moco" Wakefield is able to be on the street again following an operation for tonsillitis performed at Lubbock early last week.

E. O. Teague and family of Amherst were Sunday guests of W. S. Anglin and family. Mr. Teague is a brother of Mrs. Anglin.

FARM SCHOOL NEXT TUESDAY

A. K. (Dad) Short and M. R. Bentley Will Make Terracing Demonstration Here

County Agent Ray Shaver announces that the terracing school heretofore mentioned is to be held on Tuesday, January 21. It will be conducted by A. K. (Dad) Short of the Federal Land Bank of Houston and M. R. Bentley of the Extension Service of the A. & M. College. Two terracing machine representatives will be present. Work with the farm levels will begin at 9 A. M. and with the ditchers at 10 A. M. These gentlemen will make talks in the afternoon followed by other terracing demonstrations.

John Grider, son of Judge and Mrs. G. C. Grider, is rapidly recovering from a case of pneumonia, contracted while at work near Lamesa.

Mrs. Walker Again Wants City Office

There will probably not be much city politics in Tahoka this year, but we have one announcement for office this week. Mrs. J. B. Walker, who is serving her first term as City Secretary desires to be continued in this position.

During the nearly two years that Mrs. Walker has served in this capacity she has worked under two administrations. So far as we know she has given entire satisfaction to both. Her work in keeping the books of the City has been painstaking and accurate. In dealing with the public Mrs. Walker is ever accommodating and pleasant.

She appreciates the confidence that the people have reposed in her and promises to continue to render real service if continued in this position. She will appreciate your support at the polls in April.

Wife of Lubbock Attorney Is Buried

Mrs. Tom T. Garrard of Lubbock died at the home of her mother in California on Tuesday of last week, after a protracted illness. The remains were brought to Midland and were buried there Friday. Judge Garrard and family formerly residing at Midland, where he served as district attorney. Later he was appointed assistant attorney general and resided for some time in Austin. Then he formed a partnership with Judge G. E. Lockhart, since which time the family have been residents of Lubbock.

Judge and Mrs. Lockhart and other Lubbock friends were here Saturday afternoon, returning from the funeral.

BRIDGE-LUNCHEON

Spring party season was introduced when Mrs. L. C. Haney entertained with a lovely bridge-luncheon to a number of her friends in her pretty home Saturday at 1 o'clock.

The color scheme of pink and green was carried throughout in the decorations of the living rooms, table appointments and luncheon. Pink geraniums were used as the centerpiece of the eight tables.

The hostess served a two-course turkey luncheon. Little potted geraniums were given as favors. Little Miss Dottie Turrentine passed the tally cards and six games were played.

The guests list included: Mesdames G. M. Stewart, W. B. Slaton, L. E. Turrentine, Jerry Nash, E. E. Callaway, C. B. Townes, W. R. Fenton, Jr., M. O. Bridges, Oscar Roberts, Otho Thomas, A. P. Conway, Tom Lemond, A. D. Sanders, Jr., J. H. Powell, Elbert Boullion, Buford Swan, Marshall Swan, Bill Burleson, Lane Moreland, Chas. F. Shook, W. R. Neyland, W. O. Henderson, Hansford Tunnell, W. W. Nicklaus, L. F. Craft, C. C. Williams, Robert H. King, Jack Alley, Frank Larkin, A. P. Edwards, Jake Warnick of Midland. Tea guests were Mrs. Irvin Stewart and Mrs. G. W. Small.

Gordon Ray King of Tahoka made the honor roll for the spring term at Texas Technological College with an average grade of B on 16 term-hours of work, according to the report of the registrar's office.

Morgan Says Produce Returns Beat Cotton

J. E. Morgan, who lives out beyond Magnolia, was in the drier of the dry portion of Lynn County last year. He produced only six bales of cotton from 100 acres and realized little more than $300.00 from the entire crop. But he says that his other farm produce, including cream, butter, eggs, chickens and hogs, brought into his family treasury more than $1,100. Hogs proved to be the best money-makers, he said. Mr. Morgan is not discouraged in the least, notwithstanding the cotton crop and the price thereof went to the bad.

DEMAND EARLY FILING OF TAX

Extensions on Income Tax Returns Filing Not To Be Granted This Year

Abuse by taxpayers of the privilege of securing an extension of time in which they may file their income tax returns will no longer be tolerated according to orders issued by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue and announcements made in this District by Collector Geo. C. Hopkins.

Heretofore, tax experts, with a long list of clients have been in the habit of asking and securing extensions, chiefly on the ground that they have more clients than they can physically take care of around March 15.

"The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has authorized me to advise all taxpayers and all representatives of income taxpayers that only in cases shown to have genuine merit will extensions of time for filing be granted," said Collector Hopkins today.

We advise taxpayers who depend on others to prepare their returns to furnish all data to their agent immediately after January first. The return can then be prepared but not filed and tax paid until March fifteenth."

USEFUL HINTS FOR CUTTING GAS BILLS

Before baking potatoes, let them stand in hot water for about 15 minutes. If this is done, only about half as much gas will be required to bake them.

Green vegetables cooked in a small amount of water require less gas and retain their mineral salts, color and flavor to a greater degree.

It is wasteful to use the giant burner for boiling. Too rapid boiling increases evaporation, but saves no time in cooking, since water cannot be heated beyond the boiling point.

Too hot an oven produces great holes in quick bread. Five to eight minutes will heat the gas oven for most mixtures, and ten minutes for biscuits.

The life of a gas range depends upon the care given it. Every part should be kept clean if it is to operate most economically and efficiently.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Neyland, until recently engaged in business here, removed the first of the week to Brownfield. Mrs. Neyland will be employed in a dry goods store in that city while Mr. Neyland is to go on the road as a traveling salesman. Many friends here regret their removal from Tahoka.

J. F. Stuart says that he is now grand-dad twelve times. A son was born to his son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Stuart, in Houston last Saturday night. The youngster weighed eight pounds and promises to be another booster for Houston.

Dr. M. P. Moore, chiropractor, has located here for the practice of his profession. His office is located on the second floor of the Thomas Bros. building and will be opened for business Saturday. Dr. Moore comes here from Hammon, Oklahoma.

Mrs. L. C. Haney will leave the last of the week for a visit of several days with her mother, Mrs. Agnes Stone, at Carbon.

Miss Gussie Parnell of Edith spent the week end with Miss Pearl Hammonds.

C. C. OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED

Twenty-Eight Names On List As Candidates Places on Board Of Directors

Early this week the election committee of the chamber of commerce sent out the names of all members to each member with addressed and stamped envelope enclosed and with a request that each member check off twenty-eight names on the list as candidates for directors of said body in the second election to be held immediately following the first. All members are urgently requested to send in these lists, properly checked, not later than Saturday. Many members have already done so.

The twenty-eight names receiving the highest number of votes will be sent to all the members the next week with a request that each member vote for fourteen as his choice. The fourteen who receive the highest number of votes will be declared elected as directors. Half of these will serve for one year and the other half for two years, and hereafter seven members will be elected each year, each to serve two years.

The present board of directors together with the president and the secretary are very anxious that every member of the organization shall vote. You are urged therefore to check off and send in this list at once, if you have not already done so.

Co. Supt. Caveness Seeks Re-election

We are authorized to announce this week that H. P. Caveness, county superintendent of schools, will be a candidate for re-election to this most important office.

Prof. Caveness has been serving in this capacity since the office was created about four years ago. During this time the schools of Lynn County have made wonderful improvement. He has devoted himself assiduously to the duties of the office and has succeeded in raising the standards and increasing the proficiency of the rural schools to a marked degree. He has helped them to procure a larger and larger share each year of the appropriations set aside by the legislature for the benefit of rural schools.

It requires considerable time for any person to become thoroughly acquainted with the status and the problems of each particular school in the county—knowledge which is absolutely pre-requisite to the best service. Prof. Caveness feels that his experience and familiarity with the needs and the problems of the various schools of the county fit him for better service hereafter than was possible heretofore. That is a matter that the public generally cannot appreciate as fully, possibly, as can one who is in constant touch with the schools.

Prior to his election to the office of county superintendent, Prof. Caveness was superintendent of the Tahoka Independent School District for a number of years, and under his supervision the school system of this district made great progress, not only in size but in methods and efficiency.

Not only is Prof. Caveness an excellent school man but he is also a most splendid Christian gentleman, and we ask that the voters of Lynn County give his candidacy their most thoughtful consideration.

LEVINE BROTHERS WILL OCCUPY THOMAS BUILDING

Al Lehman of Thomas Bros. announces that he has leased the Thomas Bros. building formerly occupied by W. R. Neyland and now occupied by The Model and will move into this building about February 3rd.

Mr. Lehman says that this move is being made in order that Levine Brothers may be able to give still better service to the people of Lynn county. This corner is one of the best locations in town.

Mr. Lehman states that the building which he now occupies has not yet been rented.

G. M. Stevens of Abilene has been transferred to Tahoka as agent for the Singer Sewing machine. He expects to remove his family to this place within a short time.

Speed and Sanity

THE speed and pressure of modern life is responsible for many modern physical ailments according to speakers before the last American Medical Association Congress held at Portland, Oregon. Dr. Joseph Eckel of Buffalo, a psychiatrist, stated that the daily excitement of our modern existence not only affects the mind, but that mental disorders due to the pressure of environment "may produce deafness, blindness or serious gastric symptoms."

Dr. Lovell Langstroth of San Francisco said that, while most Americans had advanced beyond the fried potatoes, sweet potatoes and pie for breakfast diet, the liking for menus conducive to degenerative diseases remained. He stated that out of 501 ailing persons studied, 88 per cent had been living on a diet chiefly composed of bread, meat, potatoes, sweet potatoes and other foods poor in vitamins. Many of them improved on a diet of milk, fresh fruits and vegetables, he added.

A Modern Cure

Modern commercial canning furnishes a palliative for high pressure work in the kitchen and a cure for unhealthy diets, which are totally unnecessary now that such a great variety of wholesome foods can be bought at reasonable prices in cans. Canned foods are always ready, and they have been cooked thoroughly, thus taking a great deal of work out of the kitchen. They are prepared in such a handy manner as to be easily accessible, processed in an absolutely sanitary way, and they provide the priceless vitamins which are found wanting in the ill chosen diets described above.

NORTH AND SOUTH RAILROAD

The Herald does not believe expressions by local citizens of a desire to see a north and south railroad built through Big Spring properly can be taken as even remotely unfriendly to the Texas & Pacific railroad.

Many of us have felt that, since the T. & P. had finally decided to locate its new West Texas divisional terminal here, any effort to arouse sentiment for construction of a north and south road might at the last minute endanger the city's chances for the T. & P. improvements.

Big Spring's future position in the firmament of West Texas cities will be decided upon what the city obtains in the way of additional highways and railway outlets.

Existence of one railroad, with tremendous local investment and payroll should not, per se, preclude discussion of additional rail facilities.

An effort for a north and south railroad might, as easily as not take such shape as to be entirely satisfactory to the Texas & Pacific.

Big Spring citizens should be interested in the forthcoming decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission on the application of the Texas & Pacific to extend its Abilene & Southern arm from Ballinger to San Angelo.

That particular route already is traversed by the Santa Fe, which strenuously faught the T. & P. application. The Santa Fe extends from San Angelo to Sterling City, a portion of the distance from San Angelo to Big Spring. In case enough public demand for a route connecting San Angelo, Big Spring and possibly extending to Lamesa and other South Plains points, conceivably could precipitate a situation some what similar to that attending the T. & P. application for the Ballinger-San Angelo extension.—Big Spring Herald.

SNOW ON THE PLAINS

Of all the natural phenomena of the Plains, snow stands out as distinctive. To the rigors of a heavy snowfall and accompanying low temperature all animal life of the Plains was once highly susceptible and sensitive. Thanks to modern inventions and the ingenuity of the people this is not true to the degree it once was.

A young woman of Plainview remembers when neighbors lost thousands of sheep which drifted into a fence during a snowstorm in Castro County, piling up, suffocating and freezing.

There are scores living here who know the rigors of cold and the discomforts of snow during the period when this was a cattle country. Then the cold weather meant loss, exposure and hardship to the cattleman. He generally lived in a half dug-out. Fuel was scarce and expensive. Coal had to be hauled by wagon from a long distance.

Now miles upon miles of electric and gas lines have made urban and in many instances rural life more pleasant.

Although he knows full well that snow means discomfort for himself and family and to a degree suffering for his livestock, the Plains stockman of today is also a farmer. He hails with joy the snow which gives him greater assurance of bounteous crops.

Urban and rural dweller are joyful when the snow falls. It means prosperity to both.—Plainview Herald.

THE PARTY'S POWER

The suggestion that the Democratic party, independent of statute has the authority to say who shall belong to it and who may vote at its primaries or offer for nomination thereat, is not without logical basis. It does not have that authority in law, there are excellent reasons why it should. Certainly there is no good reason why the Legislature should have the right to decide these questions of party policy, because the power to decide them is the power to destroy, with the result that a party could be legislated out of existence at the will of the parliamentary majority of the moment.

But, disregarding theory and getting down to cases in the Democratic party of Texas, the wisest thing to do with the bolters, of course, is nothing at all. As a practical matter, there are too many of them. The party without them ceases, it would appear, to be the majority party in Texas. It would still be perhaps the largest party in Texas, but the coalition of Republicans, independents and bolters would be entirely too much for the Democratic remnant.

That is why there is no occasion for worry about exclusion of the bolters. Political parties do not go on eighteen-day diets or commit suicide that way. It is unprofitable. As for picking out a few prominent bolters and disciplining them, that can be done, but it is a perilous undertaking. Men have been kicked upstairs before now, and it can happen again—much to the disgust and discomfort of the kickers. That may not be the case in the matter of Senator Tom Love's filing for Governor. But he is a man wise enough in the ways of politics to accept either decision of the party committee and make capital of it. Indeed, it is likely that the committeemen themselves suspect as much and are not particularly happy over it.—Dallas News.

LIFE

(By J. A. HUMPHRIES)

Life may be defined in many ways but no definition, however scientific or philosophical, can surpass the rhythm and sentiment expressed in the following. The author, Col. Ingersoll, was in a fast passenger train between his New York City home and the home of his married daughter living in Massachusetts. The occasion for the visit was to see and welcome his first grandchild. With note book and pencil he pictured life in the language we here submit:

"Born of love and hope, of ecstasy and pain, of agony and fear, of tears and joy—dowered by the wealth of two united hearts—held in happy arms, with lips upon life's drifted font, blue veined and fair, where perfect peaces finds perfect form—rocked by willing feet and wooed to the shadowy shores of sleep by a siren mother singing soft and low, looking with wonder's wide and startled eyes at common things of life and day—taught by want and wish and contact with things that touch the dimpled flesh of babes—lured by light and flame and charmed by colors wondrous robes—learning the use of hands and feet, and by the love of mimicry beguiled to utter speech—releasing prisoned thoughts from crabbid and curious marks on soiled and tattered leaves—puzzling the brain with crooked numbers and their changing, tangled worth—and so through years of alternating day and night until the captive grows familiar with the chains and walls and limitations of a life.

Time runs on in sun and shade until the one of all the world is wooed and won and all the lore of love is taught and learned again. Again the home is built with the fair chamber wherein faint dreams, like cool and shadowy vales, divide the billowed hours of love. Again the miracle of a birth—the pain and joy, the kiss of welcome and the cradle song drowning the drowsy prattle of a babe.

And then the sense of obligation and of wrong—pity for those who toil and weep—tears for the imprisoned and despised—love for the generous dead, and the heart rapture of a high resolve.

And then ambition, with its lust that only bends a coward's knee and ing to put upon its breast distinction's worthless badge.

Then keener thoughts of men and eyes that see behind the smiling mask of craft—flattered no more by the obsequious cringe of gain and greed—knowing the uselessness of hoarded gold—of honor bought at the usury of self respect—of power of pelf and place and power—long-forgotten from the lips of fear the lies of praise. Knowing at last the unstudied gesture of esteem, the reverent eyes made rich with honest thought, and holding high above other things—high as hope's great throbbing star above the darkness of the dead—the love of wife and child and friend.

Then locks of gray and growing love of other days—and half remembered things—then holding withered hands of those who first held his, while over dim and lying eyes death softly presses down the lids of rest.

And so, locking in marriage vows his children's hands and crossing others on the breasts of peace, with daughter's babe upon his knees, the white hair mingling with the gold, he journeys on from day to day to that horizon where the dusk is waiting for the night. At last, sitting by the holy hearth of home, as evenings embers turn from red to gray he falls asleep within the arms of her he worshipped and adored, feeling upon his pallid lips, loves last and holiest kiss.

Charley and Norman Anglin of Comanche spent last week here with W. S. Anglin and family. They are nephews of Mr. Anglin.

The News failed to note last week the arrival on January 4th of a nine pound daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jackson.

made diligent inquiry and effort to ascertain the place of residence of said defendant.

2. That plaintiff and defendant were married in the City and County of Denver in the State of Colorado, on the 20th day of March, 1927, and thereafter they moved to Lynn County, Texas, where they resided on and prior to the month of June, 1928; that within a short time after said marriage the defendant began a studied course of coarse and abusive conduct toward plaintiff showing a fixed hatred and aversion of the defendant toward plaintiff; that defendant would fly into rages of ill temper and would apply vile and opprobrious epithets to and concerning plaintiff; that defendant would, without just cause, kick and abuse plaintiff's small children in the presence of plaintiff and over protests; that said course of harsh and cruel treatment on the part of defendant, toward plaintiff

and violence until on or about the 12th day of June, 1928, when the defendant, without cause or provocation, flew into a rage and violently kicked plaintiff, bruising and injuring her, that the defendant then left the plaintiff in destitute circumstances, and plaintiff has not heard from the defendant or known of his whereabouts since said time; and that said conduct on the part of said defendant was such as to render their further living together as husband and wife insupportable.

3. Plaintiff alleges that during the time she and the defendant lived together as husband and wife, she was kind and affectionate to the defendant and performed all the duties incumbent upon her as a loving and dutiful wife, but that the defendant, unmindful of his duties as husband, and without just cause or provocation, conducted himself toward plaintiff as hereinabove alleged, rendering their future living together unbearable and insupportable, for which said cause plaintiff should be divorced from her bonds of matrimony with the defendant.

4. That no child or children were born of said marriage, and that there is no community property belonging to the plaintiff and defendant.

5. Wherefore plaintiff prays the court that the defendant be cited to appear and answer this petition, and for judgment dissolving said marriage relations, for all costs of suit, and for such other and further relief, both general and special, in law and in equity, to which she may be justly entitled, as in duty bound she will ever pray.

Speed and Sanity

THE speed and pressure of modern life is responsible for many modern physical ailments according to speakers before the last American Medical Association Congress held at Portland, Oregon. Dr. Joseph Eckel of Buffalo, a psychiatrist, stated that the daily excitement of our modern existence not only affects the mind, but that mental disorders due to the pressure of environment "may produce deafness, blindness or serious gastric symptoms."

Dr. Lovell Langstroth of San Francisco said that, while most Americans had advanced beyond the fried potatoes, sweet potatoes and pie for breakfast diet, the liking for menus conducive to degenerative diseases remained. He stated that out of 501 ailing persons studied, 88 per cent had been living on a diet chiefly composed of bread, meat, potatoes, sweet potatoes and other foods poor in vitamins. Many of them improved on a diet of milk, fresh fruits and vegetables, he added.

A Modern Cure

Modern commercial canning furnishes a palliative for high pressure work in the kitchen and a cure for unhealthy diets, which are totally unnecessary now that such a great variety of wholesome foods can be bought at reasonable prices in cans. Canned foods are always ready, and they have been cooked thoroughly, thus taking a great deal of work out of the kitchen. They are prepared in such a handy manner as to be easily accessible, processed in an absolutely sanitary way, and they provide the priceless vitamins which are found wanting in the ill chosen diets described above.

POPULAR TAHOKA GIRL MARRIES BIG SPRING MAN

Miss Tommie Grace Clinton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Clinton, was married Tuesday afternoon at the home of her parents in this city to Mr. R. A. Dawes of Big Spring. The couple left soon after the wedding for Big Spring, where Mr. Dawes is engaged in the oil business, and wheer they will make their home.

The wedding was a beautiful home affair, with Rev. R. T. Breedlove, pastor of the Methodist Church, officiating.

Miss Clinton was a member of the graduating class of the Tahoka High School last year. The past few months she had been attending Draughons Commercial College at Lubbock.

The Democratic State executive committee by a close vote has excluded Senator Thos. J. Heflin from the primary of 1930 as a candidate for re-election. We have little admiration for Mr. Heflin, and would cnder ordinary circumstances be gratified at his retirement. But, if the party is to remain tied up to Tammany, it may need all the votes it can get in the South without stirring up unnecessary antagonism. Rogers News.

The Herald does not believe expressions by local citizens of a desire to see a north and south railroad built through Big Spring properly can be taken as even remotely unfriendly to the Texas & Pacific railroad.

Many of us have felt that, since the T. & P. had finally decided to locate its new West Texas divisional terminal here, any effort to arouse sentiment for construction of a north and south road might at the last minute endanger the city's chances for the T. & P. improvements.

Big Spring's future position in the firmament of West Texas cities will be decided upon what the city obtains in the way of additional highways and railway outlets.

Existence of one railroad, with tremendous local investment and payroll should not, per se, preclude discussion of additional rail facilities.

An effort for a north and south railroad might, as easily as not take such shape as to be entirely satisfactory to the Texas & Pacific.

Big Spring citizens should be interested in the forthcoming decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission on the application of the Texas & Pacific to extend its Abilene & Southern arm from Ballinger to San Angelo.

That particular route already is traversed by the Santa Fe, which strenuously fought the T. & P. application. The Santa Fe extends from San Angelo to Sterling City, a portion of the distance from San Angelo to Big Spring. In case enough public demand for a route connecting San Angelo, Big Spring and possibly extending to Lamesa and other South Plains points, conceivably could precipitate a situation some what similar to that attending the T. & P. application for the Ballinger-San Angelo extension.—Big Spring Herald.

SNOW ON THE PLAINS

Of all the natural phenomena of the Plains, snow stands out as distinctive. To the rigors of a heavy snowfall and accompanying low temperature all animal life of the Plains was, once highly susceptible and sensitive. Thanks to modern inventions and the ingenuity of the people this is not true to the degree it once was.

There are scores living here who know the rigors of cold and the discomforts of snow during the period when this was a cattle country. Then the cold weather meant loss, exposure and hardship to the settler. He generally lived in a half dug-out. Fuel was scarce and expensive. Coal had to be hauled by wagon from a long distance.

Now miles upon miles of electric and gas lines have made urban and in many instances rural life more pleasant.

Although he knows full well that snow means discomfort for himself and family and to a degree suffering for his livestock, the Plains stockman of today is also a farmer. He hails with joy the snow which gives him greater assurance of bounteous crops.

Urban and rural dweller are joyful when the snow falls. It means prosperity to both.—Plainview Herald.

THE PARTY'S POWER

The suggestion that the Democratic party, independent of statute has the authority to say who shall belong to it and who may vote at its primaries or offer for nomination thereat, is not without logical basis. It does not have that authority in law, there are excellent reasons why it should. Certainly there is no good reason why the Legislature should have the right to decide these questions of party policy, because the power to decide them is the power to destroy, with the result that a party could be legislated out of existence at the will of the parliamentary majority of the moment.

But, disregarding theory and getting down to cases in the Democratic party of Texas, the wisest thing to do with the bolters, of course, is nothing at all. As a practical matter, there are too many of them. The party without them ceases, it would appear, to be the majority party in Texas. It would still be perhaps the largest party in Texas, but the coalition of Republicans, independents and bolters would be entirely too much for the Democratic remnant.

on eighteen-day diets or commit suicide that way. It is unprofitable. As for picking out a few prominent bolters and disciplining them, that can be done, but it is a perilous undertaking. Men have been kicked upstairs before now, and it can happen again—much to the disgust and discomfiture of the kickers. That may not be the case in the matter of Senator Tom Love's filing for Governor. But he is a man wise enough in the ways of politics to accept either decision of the party committee and make capital of it. Indeed, it is likely that the committeemen themselves suspect as much and are not particularly happy over it.—Dallas News.

LIFE

Life may be defined in many ways but no definition, however scientific or philosophical, can surpass the rhythm and sentiment expressed in the following. The author, Col. Ingersoll, was in a fast passenger train between his New York City home and the home of his married daughter living in Massachusetts. The occasion for the visit was to see and welcome his first grand child. With note book and pencil he pictured life in the language we here submit:

"Born of love and hope, of ecstasy and pain, of agony and fear, of tears and joy—dowered by the wealth of two united hearts—held in happy arms, with lips upon life's drifted font, blue vined and fair, where perfect peace finds perfect form—rocked by willing feet and wooed to the shadowy shores of sleep by a siren mother singing soft and low, looking with wonder's wide and startled eyes at common things of life and day—taught by want and wish and contact with things that touch the dimpled flesh of babes—lured by light and flame and charmed by colors wondrous robes—learning the use of hands and feet, and by the love of mimicry beguiled to utter speech—releasing prisoned thoughts from crabbled and curious marks on soiled and tattered leaves—puzzling the brain with crooked numbers and their changing, tangled worth—and so through years of alternating day and night until the captive grows familiar with the chains and walls and limitations of a life.

Time runs on in sun and shade until the one of all the world is wooed and won and all the love of love is taught and learned again. Again the home is built with the fair chamber wherein faint dreams, like cool and shadowy vales, divide the billowed hours of love. Again the miracle of a birth—the pain and joy, the kiss of welcome and the cradle song drowning the drowsy prattle of a babe.

And then the sense of obligation and of wrong—pity for those who toil and weep—tears for the imprisoned and despised—love for the generous dead, and the heart rapture of a high resolve.

And then ambition, with its lust that only bends a coward's knee and ing to put upon its breast distinction's worthless badge.

Then keener thoughts of men and eyes that see behind the smiling mask of craft—flattered no more by the obsequious cringe of gain and greed—knowing the uselessness of hoarded gold—of honor bought at the usury of self respect—of power of pelf and place and power—long forces from the lips of fear the lies of praise. Knowing at last the unstudied gesture of esteem, the reverent eyes made rich with honest thought, and holding high above other things—high as hope's great throbbing star above the darkness of the dead—the love of wife and child and friend.

Then locks of gray and growing love of other days and half remembered things—then holding withered hands of those who first held his, while over dim and loving eyes death softly presses down the lids of rest.

And so, locking in marriage vows his children's hands and crossing others on the breasts of peace, with daughter's babe upon his knees, the white hair mingling with the gold, he journeys on from day to day to that horizon where the dusk is waiting for the night. At last, sitting by the holy hearth of home, as evenings embers turn from red to gray he falls asleep within the arms of her he worshipped and adored, feeling upon his palid lips, loves last and holiest kiss.

Charley and Norman Anglin of Comanche spent last week here with W. S. Anglin and family. They are nephews of Mr. Anglin.

The News failed to note last week the arrival on January 4th of a nine pound daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jackson.

Hugh Cairney, hereinafter styled de-plaintiff respectfully makes the following representations to the court:

1. That plaintiff is a resident of resided continuously for a period of more than twelve months next before exhibiting this her petition, which said residence is and has been during all of said period of time actual and bona fide, and that the place of residence of the defendant is to the plaintiff unknown, though she has made diligent inquiry and effort to

harsh and cruel treatment on the
and violence until on or about the 12th day of June, 1928, when the defendant, without cause or provoca-

ly kicked plaintiff, bruising and in-
stances, and plaintiff has not heard
from the defendant or known of his
whereabouts since said time; and
that said conduct on the part of said
defendant was such as to render
their further living together as hus-

4. That no child or children were

there is no community property belonging to the plaintiff and defendant.

5. Wherefore plaintiff prays the court that the defendant be cited to

marriage relations, for all costs of
suit, and for such other and furth-

make him supremely happy—and she is willing. This young lady is herself the daughter of a king. Her father sits on the throne of Italy.
Moreover, her pa and ma are willing to the match—and yet King Boris and princess Giovanna can not marry, not yet, at least.

How come?

The trouble is: The Pope—the Pope and that conglomerate mixture of Church and State, that they have in most countries in Europe.

The Bulgarian Constitution, we are told, requires its king to be a member of the Orthodox, or Greek Catholic, Church. King Boris cannot quit his church without quitting his throne. That is the Bulgarian end of the situation.

But Giovanna is a member of the Roman Catholic Church. She can marry no one outside of the Roman Catholic Church without the consent of the Pope of Rome, who is the head of the Roman Catholic Church—and who claims to be the head of about everything mundane. Thus far the Pope has not given his consent. He will not give his consent, it is said, unless Giovanna will promise to bring up her offspring, if any, in the Roman Catholic Church. And there is the rub.
If she and king Boris should marry and should happen to have a son, that son would be compelled to quit the Roman Catholic Church and join the Greek Catholic or Orthodox Church before he could become an heir to the throne of Bulgaria.

Some have suggested a compromise—that all the expected children of the couple should be brought up Catholics except the oldest son that might be born and he be brought up an Orthodox. But that does not appeal to his Highness, Pope Pius (not spelled p-i-o-u-s mind you). He goes "whole hog" for the Catholic Church.

This is a beautiful mess, isn't it?
Imagine a Methodist steward and a Baptist deacon over here in Texas quarrelling and fussing about whether little Johnnie, who might be born some time in the distant future of the Deacon's son and the Steward's daughter in the event of their marriage, should be a Methodist or a Baptist. Old Deacon Smith contends that Johnnie, if he should ever be born, must be brought up a Baptist.
Old Steward Jones insists just as strenuously that the potential Johnnie shall be brought up in the Methodist Church—and because they can't agree the marriage is prohibited.

Nothing like that could occur in Texas—at least, not among Protestants. For while Deacon Smith and Steward Jones were quarreling over the matter, if such a quarrel can be imagined, the chances are that son and daughter would go over to Truett Smith's office or possibly over into New Mexico somewhere, procure a marriage license, and proceed to raise their children to suit themselves—or to suit the children.

And—this editor would rather be a farm lad in Texas, with the privilege of marrying any sweet, pure girl whose affections he might be able to win, without asking anybody about it but her pa and ma, than to be the king of Bulgaria. And he would rather be a fair Texas maiden, with the privilege of marrying the boy she loved, where no old unmarried parson or priest or pope or potentate of any kind can interfere, than to be the daughter of the king and queen of Italy.

That snow was simply fine. It thawed beautifully and all soaked in.
It must have wet the ground several inches—which presages a good start for a crop next spring. We are still betting on 1930 being a hummer.

OUR CONSTITUTION DENOUNCED IN FANEUIL HALL

The Coast Guard is an arm of the military establishment of this country whose duty it is, among others, to uphold the custom laws and to prevent the smuggling of contraband goods into this country of whatever character.

Recently the Coast Guard encountered a boat, known as the Black Duck, undertaking to smuggle liquor into Boston. When the crew of the Black Duck discovered that there was danger of being captured by the Coast Guard it put to flight. As is customary and to be expected in such cases, the Coast Guard opened fire.
Three members of the crew of the Black Duck were killed and a fourth member wounded.

This was the occasion of a mass meeting in Boston. Friends and sympathizers and possibly patrons of the rum runners gathered in historic old Faneuil Hall, made fiery speeches, and passed radical—almost treason-able—resolutions. They declared in substance that the Eighteenth Amendment could not and ought not to be enforced and denounced it as a piece of tyranny.

Of course, the Coast Guard was not particularly concerned as to violations of the Eighteenth Amendment or the Volstead Act. It was concerned primarily in the suppression of smuggling. It would have made no difference to the Coast Guard whether the Black Duck carried liquor or diamonds or soap grease, it was engaged in the illegal business of smuggling, which it was the duty of the Coast Guard to suppress. If the Black Duck had contained diamonds or soap grease or cocoanuts or coffee, there would probably have been no indignation meeting in Faneuil Hall. But it contained liquor; and these Boston patriots saw a chance to take a fling at Prohibition and to discredit the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act, hence the meeting.

Boston is strong for liquor. Boston is the only large New England city, if we remember correctly, that gave a majority for Al Smith and liquor in 1928. It swung Massachusetts into the Smith column. Originally Boston was a strong center of Americanism. The old Puritan city used to stand for righteousness and American ideals as few other cities in the whole country. But for the past half century, foreigners have been pouring into her confines. Now, nearly three-fourths of the residents of Boston are either of foreign birth or of foreign parentage. About the same proportion of foreigners are to be found in New York and some other Atlantic coast cities. Many of these are splendid citizens but great herds of them come from the very scum of Europe. We hope in time to make good Americans of them, but we are not yet willing for them to take charge of this country and to tell the rest of us where to "head in." We are not willing for them to trample our constitution under their feet. We are not even willing for them to elect our President for us.
We have yet to teach them that the rum runner is a criminal, and that we have no room in this country for those who would shield the criminal and denounce and defy constituted authority. It is a sorry spectacle that, in historic old Faneuil Hall, our Constitution should be denounced and our flag insulted!

A few days ago when a beautiful carpet of snow sparkled in the sunlight and we were admiring the perfection and the beauty of God's handiwork, our gaze was met with a rather repulsive spectacle. There, resting on the bosom of the spotless snow, was a great gob of ugly, filthy tobacco juice, that some lord of creation had emitted from his faecal cavern. The contrast between this amber and God's snow was just about as great as could be imagined, and we couldn't help but muse that this very fittingly represents the difference between God and man. Of course that guy didn't have anywhere else to spit just at that time, but we'll bet if he had spit on his wife's carpet as he did on God's carpet there would have been trouble in that family forthwith if not sooner.

Some company is now advertising a cigarette from which practically all the nicotine is said to have been extracted. If that can be done successfully, then why not require all cigarette and tobacco manufacturers to extract the poisonous nicotine before they offer their goods for sale? If men are determined to smoke, we believe they should be furnished a non-poisonous material for the purpose.

In spite of the fact that the price of cream and butter has gone to the bad temporarily, we believe that there is a great future for the dairy industry on these plains. Every farmer should take advantage of every opportunity to breed up his herd and get rid of the scrub stock. Good stock pays.

Senator Wirtz has been heard from again. He thinks that no "bolter" should be allowed to run for office in the Democratic primaries. He lives down at Seguin, where quite a number of people are said to be able to speak the English language. Senator Wirtz is one of them. He has a law partner, or former law partner whose name is Harry M. Wurzbach. Wurzbach is a Republican. He represents his district in Congress. He and R. B. Creager have been at daggers points as to which one of them should boss the Republican party in Texas. Wirtz is the Democratic boss in his bailiwick.
Now it seems that he is undertaking to extend his jurisdiction. He has an ambition to make his imperious voice heard throughout the state. If he could wield the whip, its cracks would be sweet music in his ears.
If it could be done without endangering the supremacy of the wet politicians, he would like to see every dry in Texas driven out of the Democratic party. He is a holdover from the old saloon regime. He is living today but he has the ideals and uses the methods of yesterday. He and his kind may triumph in Texas this year. He and a thousand other Bacchanalian lords may feast and shout with joy in the banquet halls of the ungodly in every election held in Texas this year—we do not know—but we do know that in spite of any temporary triumph that they may gain, the hand is already writing on the wall. No man can perpetually stand for liquor in this country in the face of the law and the Constitution and long survive. Thrust the knife in to the hilt today, Mr. Wirtz; tomorrow we will meet you at Philippi.

Jim Ferguson and this editor are agreed on at least one point. We both are "ag'n" the cigarette. Jim wants to collect a small tax on every package of cigarettes sold, for the benefit of the public schools. He says the tax would not hurt anybody much but that in a year's time it would bring in a pile of money. But if Jim gets all the cigarette smokers against him, he's a dead duck in the pond forever, unless the ladies come to his rescue.

JUDGE MCGUIRE ASKS FOR RE-ELECTION TO OFFICE

TO THE DEMOCRATS OF THE 106TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT:
When this district was created, you nominated and elected me as the first judge thereof.

When I assumed the duties of my office it was with the full realization of the tremendous responsibility resting upon a district judge, he having under our system of government and laws, more directly than any other officer the determining of the rights of our citizenship, and with the hope that my work might be of some service to our people, I have given my very best efforts in conducting your court.

I do not know of a busier court in the State than mine has grown to be, and from the many judgments rendered by me only a small per cent of appeals have been taken, and in those cases appealed my judgments have in most cases been upheld.

The term for which you elected me is expiring, and if you feel that I can for another term, carry on the work of your district court to your advantage and satisfaction, I shall deeply appreciate the honor of being your nominee in the coming primary election, and shall I again be elected, my entire time and efforts, as in the past, shall be devoted to the work of your court.

Respectfully,
GORDON B. MCGUIRE

Epworth Hi-League Ends Best Year

The year's religious activities of the Methodist young people who work in the Hi-League were climaxed by the busiest period in their history December 21st, 1929, to Jan. 1st, 1930. While every month in the year has its program, naturally the Christmas season has a larger share.

On Saturday, the Social Service department wrapped and packed a delightfully "Christmassy" box of about thirty gifts, books, toys, wearing apparel, and trifling luxuries, which was sent to the eleven children now being cared for by the West Texas Welfare Association at Abilene. Each gift was tagged with the name of the child for whom it was selected, and this small service brought a real pleasure to the young ladies in charge. A large box containing thirtyfour serviceable garments was sent, also, on Monday, to the Wesley Mission House at Thurbur, Texas.

Sunday night their special program at the church consisted of a necessarily amateur presentation of the Christmas story, interpreted in three scenes and with the aid of Christmas carols. Following the church service that night three cars filled with Leaguers drove over parts of town singing carols at the places where lights and decorations were displayed and were cordially received at various homes.

On Monday night the organization sponsored a Christmas tree at the little church of the colored people, mention of which was made by one of their number in last week's paper, and all enjoyed the celebration as thoroughly as the little kiddies for whom it was planned. The tree was nicely decorated, every gift was in gay wrappings, and a clever Santa Claus distributed about fifty of them to the happy little folk including also a bag of candy for each one present. Prior to the unloading of the tree a brief worship service, reading of the Christmas scripture, carols, and a prayer, was conducted by the League Counselor, Mrs. Suddarth. Charles Deo spoke briefly but interestingly, closing with an expression of appreciation in behalf of the children and their parents.

Tuesday, Christmas greetings were mailed to a number of the elderly and shut-in friends of the church.

Christmas night, in her home at 400 West North 2nd street, Mrs. Suddarth entertained the entire chapter with a delightful party. The rooms were decorated with Christmas bells and mistletoe, and a beautiful tree, loaded with gifts for everyone, supplied by the Leaguers for each other, was the center of attraction. Appropriate holiday games and stunts "kept the joy-ball rolling" until time for distributing the gifts. Following this, a refreshment plate was served to the twenty-two in attendance. The League was very happy to have as guest of honor on this occasion their President for two years, ending May, 1929, Jesse Roberson, who was at home for the holiday vacation from his ministerial studies in McMurry College. Misses Lowell Doutht and Lucille Carmack, former members of the League were also welcome visitors.

The League presented their Counselor with a gorgeous black lustrous table lamp, a gift which will surely bear out the old adage: "A thing of beauty is a joy forever." and received in return twenty-two new books for their library, the "Ten-Foot Shelf."

On New Year's Eve the League Council convened at the Church, following which the entire chapter met in business session. They were pleased to find all local bills, Conference and Mission pledges paid to date, and a neat balance in the treasury.

A resume of the year's work throughout the organization was found very gratifying, and even more so was the realization of the spiritual growth of its personnel.

The Tahoka Hi-League with an efficiency average of 98 per cent ranked second in the state last quarter and but sixteen chapters in the U. S. equalled or surpassed that standard. Needless to say, they feel a justifiable pride in their achievements. Miss Mary Fenton is the capable President.

At the close of the business session the company enjoyed a real party with games, stunts, etc., until after 11:00 o'clock, when hot chocolate and cakes were served. A brief devotional service which ended as the whistles ushered in the New Year closed the evening's activities as it fittingly closed the year of commendable service this little group is trying continually to render to their church and community.—Reporter.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY PRICE ASKS FOR RE-ELECTION

TO THE CITIZENSHIP OF LYNN COUNTY:

In announcing my candidacy for re-election to the office of District Attorney of the 106th Judicial District of which Lynn county is a part, I do so mindful of the very grave responsibilities which will be mine should I be returned to this office, however my past three years of work and experience in this important office over the six counties constituting this District has so familiarized me with the records and duties thereof as to peculiarly fit me for such responsible position and certainly enables me to know the work pertaining to same, and the records thereof, as no other person, without this experience, could know it, and therefore should enable me to render to the people far more efficient service in the future than in the past.

During the short time I have served you as your District Attorney I have devoted every moment of my time to the enforcement of all the laws alike to all the people, as nearly as was within my power, and this without fear or favor to any person, and should I be returned to this office for another term, I will re-dedicate my life, and using my past experiences in office, redouble my energies to the end that our property may be made more secure from the ravages of the Criminal, our lives made safer and therefore this District made a better place to live and raise our children.

The District Court records of this District will bear me out in saying, that during the three years I have served you, very few who have been tried for crime in your District Courts have ever heard the words "Not Guilty." The credit for this is not due altogether to the work of the District Attorney, but perhaps mainly to the mighty army of law abiding men and women in this country rising against crime and who are willing to stand with their officers, like a stone wall, and say to the criminally inclined "Thou Shalt Not Pass." My policy shall continue to be to make this District a dreaded place for the criminal.

I therefore respectfully submit my candidacy to the people of the 106th Judicial District for re-election to the office of District Attorney, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in July 1930.

Lady Says She Obtained Relief By Taking Small Doses of Thedford's Black-Draught.

Ardmore, Okla.—"I have recommended Black-Draught to a great many people, and they always thank me, afterwards," says Mrs. Czarina Dole, 116 "B" Street, this city.

"Fifteen years ago, I was in very bad health. I suffered a great deal with indigestion, and I traveled from one place to another in search of health, but nothing helped me. I lost in weight, and my food disagreed with me, and I could scarcely eat a bite that did not give me indigestion."

"Often I had bad gas pains across my stomach, and I would wake up in the mornings with very bad headaches. I had a bad taste in my mouth, and would feel dizzy when I was on my feet."

"I began taking Black-Draught and soon found that I was getting better. I took a dose about the size of a pea, four or five times a day, for three or four days."

"After I had taken several courses of Black-Draught, in that way, I felt fine. I no longer had indigestion. I could eat what I liked, and enjoyed my meals. I gained in weight, and felt able to care for my children and do my housework."

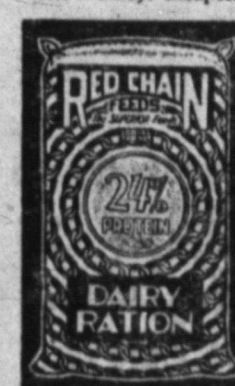

In use nearly a hundred years. Twenty-five doses 25¢. NC-213

Herein Fail Not, but have you before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Mississippi Lady Tells How She Suffered Until She Had Taken Cardui on a Friend's Advice.

Greenville, Miss.—In describing how she suffered several years ago, Mrs. Mattie Dalton, of 112 Pecan Street, this city, recently wrote:
"I would cramp, and my hands and feet would draw, so I came near having convulsions. I would have to stay in bed, sometimes a week, and when I would get up, I just dragged around, and did not feel like doing my work. I suffered a great deal with my back."

"A friend came to see me and saw how I suffered. She told me to try taking Cardui, which I did. I seemed to have more strength, after my first bottle. After I had taken about four bottles of Cardui, I saw a great improvement."

"I quit having such bad spells, and was stronger and better than in a long time. I gained in weight. I took a few more bottles of Cardui, and felt so well that I quit taking it."
"I certainly can recommend Cardui, for I know what it is to suffer, and I know that Cardui helped me." Thousands of women have written to tell of the benefit Cardui has been to them, in helping them to build up their health.

Having helped so many others, Cardui should help you, too. Take

JOE BAILEY JOTTINGS

We have missed an issue with our prattle. This mishap was due to a conspiracy of events, mainly a dearth of news, scandal, or gossip in our community plus the bad weather.

Mr. J. F. Warren and family are moving from our midst and are located northwest of O'Donnell.

Mr. J. D. Cottrell and family left last Thursday for their new home near Lubbock. Mr. Cottrell ran into the sleet storm while enroute and had considerable trouble due to the slick roads.

Mr. and Mrs. Floy D. Schooler entertained the young people with a very pleasant play party at their home on Wednesday night of last week. Quite a large number attended and all joined in thanking their host and hostess for their hospitality.

Rev. Mr. Hoover, accompanied by his family, came down from Plainview and filled his appointment at Bethel Church on Saturday night, Sunday, and Sunday night. A large congregation attended and enjoyed the pastor's good sermons.

Miss Jessie Williams returned Sunday night to Plainview to re-enter Wayland College.

Mr. W. E. Brown and family of Ada, Okla., arrived Tuesday and will make their home on the Gene Warren farm. These new citizens are very welcome to our community.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Taylor entertained the young folks of Joe Bailey and Draw with a play party last Saturday night. All report a very jolly time. Ye scribe regrets that he knew nothing of this affair till after it had happened.

Rev. Mr. Shumake and family will shortly move to the Nordyke place north of Joe Bailey. Mr. Shumake, who was formerly pastor at Bethel, is cordially welcomed by his many local friends.

Late Monday afternoon, Austin Brown, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W.
E. Brown, was thrown from a load of feed and broke his left collar bone.
The break was set by Dr. Campbell of O'Donnell and Austin is now able to attend school.

L. T. Brewer has been on the sick list for several days but is able to be up and about.

Cecil Geasling of Van Horn is visiting in the home of his old friend, L. T. Brewer.

The persistent cold weather caused a decided decrease in school attendance this week. The total for Friday was eleven hardy youngsters.

Mr. Cecil Geasling and Mrs. Callie Meads of Van Horn were married at Lamesa on Saturday morning and left immediately for Van Horn, where they will make their home.
Mr. Geasling is an old resident of Joe Bailey, and his many friends offer their congratulations.

"DISCOVERY OF PIKE'S PEAK" TO BE BROADCASTED JAN. 16

"It is impossible. No human being can ascend that summit! Scarcely any person but a madman will ever purposely attempt to trace any further than this entrance to these mountains"

With these words, Zebulon M. Pike a young lieutenant in the Army of the Republic, sent out by the United States government to explore the newly acquired Louisiana Purchase, abandoned his attempt to scale the lofty heights of Pike's Peak, famous Colorado scenic wonder, after he had discovered it in 1806. Today, every tourist drives to the summit of the peak over a broad paved highway.

The quotation marks the climax of the "Discovery of Pike's Peak", the first of a series of authentic historical playlets, depicting colorful dramas in the history of America's great Western scenic wonderland, which will be presented by the Continental Oil Company Thursday night, January 16th, from 10 to 10:30 P. M. (Central Standard Time) over a chain of National Broadcasting Company networks.

The playlet—retells the dramatic and little-known story of how Pike, with a little detachment of U. S. regulars, plunged into the new Western wilderness, and believed he had found the fabled "Mexican Mountains," when he stumbled upon the celebrated peak that bears his name today. The program is the first of a series of equally thrilling Western episodes which will be presented every Thursday night at the same hour by the Continental Oil Players, thru the following stations: WGN (Chicago); KSD (St. Louis); WDAF (Kansas City); WOW (Omaha); WOC (Davenport); WHO (Des Moines); KVOO (Tulsa); WKY (Ok-

GEMS OF LITERATURE

(By J. A. HUMPHRIES)

Down in Waco, Texas, on the tawny Brazos, lived an Iconoclast. Incidentally Waco is near the old home of the editor and me and nearby where we spent the years of our early piety. The Iconoclast was none other than W. C. Brann. His magazine, "The Iconoclast" was a popular monthly with subscription and news dealers sales amounting to a hundred and thirty thousand copies per month. Mr. Brann was also popular as a lecturer as well as a writer—choosing for his subjects such diffusions as "Humbugs and Hypocrites," "Politics and Politicians," "Heaven and Hell," etc. I quote excerpt from one of his subjects, "A Man's Real Measure."

"The place to take the true measure of a man is not in the darkest place of the Amen corner, nor the cornfield but by his own fireside.
There he lays aside his mask and you may learn whether he is an imp or an angel, cur or king, hero or humbug. I care not what the world says of him, whether it crowns him bas or pelts him with bad eggs. I care not a copper what his reputation or religion may be: if his babies dread his home-coming and his better-half swallows her heart every time she has to ask him for a five dollar bill he is a fraud of the first water even though he prays night and morning until he is black in the face and bawls hallelujah until he shakes the eternal hills. But if his children rush to the front door to meet him and love's sunshine illuminates the face of his wife everytime she hears his footfall, you can take it for granted that he is pure, for his home is a heaven—and the humbug never gets that near the great white throne of God. He may be an Atheist and a red flag anarchist, a morman and a mugwump; he may buy votes in blocks of five, and bet on the elections; he may deal 'em from the bottom of the deck and drink beer until he can't tell a silver dollar from a circular saw and still be an infinitely better man than the cowardly little humbug who is all suavity in society but who makes home a hell, who vents upon the helpless heads of his wife and children an illnature he would inflict upon his fellow men—but dares not. I can forgive much in the fellow mortal who would rather make men swear than women weep; who would rather call anger to the eyes of a king than fear to the face of a child.
—"A Man's Real Measure", by W.
C. Brann.

BUTTER KIST BREAD

Butter Kist is made by the "Straight Dough Method." This method is used by most of the large bakeries. Mrs. Baird of Fort Worth, Martin of Lubbock, The Colonial Bakeries, Campbell, Stone Baking Company, The General Baking Co., and in fact most of the big plants.

The Straight Dough Method of making Bread leaves all the delicious flavor in the finished loaf—it toasts better and it's so easy to eat—it has far more food value than ordinary bread. Write the Fleischman Yeast Co. of Lubbock and ask them about the "Straight Dough Method" of Bread making and be con-

Sargon's Fame Spreads Over the Entire World

People of This Country Sending Famous Medicine to Relatives and Friends in England, Scotland, Ireland, France, Canal Zone, Norway, Sweden, Cuba, and Many Other Distant Lands.

If you had found a medicine that was of such benefit to you that you would go to the trouble of sending it to relatives and friends in distant countries, you would have to be convinced in your own mind that it possessed real merit wouldn't you?

That's just what thousands of people throughout the United States have been doing with Sargon.

From all over America and wherever Sargon has been introduced, thousands of letters have been received from grateful users telling of the gratifying results that have been accomplished by this celebrated medicine.

Thousands Express Gratitude

On November 27th, a letter dated November 23rd was received at the Sargon offices advising that in one week one drug firm alone has received orders for Sargon to be shipped to Cavite, Philippine Islands, Cocos-Colo, Canal Zone; Belebroom, Ireland; and Paris, France.

Only recently a well-known resident of Denver, Colorado, who had been restored to health by Sargon, sent a full treatment to London, England, to his sister, who is the wife of one of the greatest retail drug firms in the British Empire.

During the past month there appeared in the Toronto papers the statement of a well-known World War veteran whose health had been greatly impaired while in the service, who stated that among other things he owed his restoration to health to two bottles of Sargon sent him by a friend in Minneapolis.

Letters Received From The Northwest

From the Northwest, many letters of this kind have been received advising that users of Sargon are sending it to relatives back in their old countries of Norway and Sweden.

Many such letters and endorsements have been received from men of prominence, including former governors, business and professional men, mayors, state and county officials and even Ministers of the Gospel have deemed it their duty to come forward and tell what Sargon has done for them.

These are only a few thousands of such cases and not a day nor a week passes that doesn't bring hundreds of statements from the people concerning the good this medicine is doing, and reciting case after case that would convince the most skeptical.

Sargon's fame is built on actual results—not empty promises, and only those who have put it to the test know its real powers.

Sargon's aim is not mere temporary relief, but new and abundant health. No wonder it is now called the medicine with a million friends. Thomas Bros. Drug Co. Agents

We thank Mr. Greathouse, Mr. Gagnat, and Mr. L. E. Weathers for the generous amount of candies, nuts, fruits, and toys sent to our little ones Christmas. It gladdened their little hearts, and we shall never forget.

We thank T. S. Williams for the liberal use of his car, each and every one that came to see us, and everyone that helped to gather the two bales of cotton.

We also thank the young people of Dixie and Tahoka for the beautiful cards with messages of sympathy. Such acts of kindness made us want a new lease on life so we might live among such good people. We assure them that we shall never forget the least act of kindness shown us.
