"And I would like to add this," Mahon said. "We seem always to be living in uncertain and difficult times. Under all conditions and at all times I am doing everything in my power to serve the best interest of our district and of our country. I am always pleased to have the people of our district call upon me. I will deeply appreciate a continuation of your support and confidence."

Storm Damages In Pleasant Valley Area Reported

High winds and torrential rains brought about considerable crop losses in the Pleasant Valley environs last Saturday night. Although the wind blew with gale force in Muleshoe, no crop losses have been reported near here.

The Johnny and Phillip Haberer farms both reported heavy cotton losses as did Truman Lowe in the same neighborhood. Rains ranging to as much as four inches caused much young cotton to be wiped out.

Varying amounts of damage was also sustained at the John Lang, Jack Hadaway, Melvin Bock and Henry Lewis farms.

Russell Haberer reported 20 acres of cotton lost to blowing sand following the rainstorm.

Muleshoe and West Plains Country Defy Recession As Business Trends Continue Up

Senator Rogers Makes A Formal Statement On Race

ANDY ROGERS TO THE CITIZENS OF THE 30th SENATORIAL DISTRICT:

Although I announced my intention of becoming a candidate for re-election as your State Senator several weeks ago, I wish to take this opportunity to make the customary full statement in your newspaper.

Naturally, it is not possible to relate here all that I would prefer that you know about myself and my record. I will hit some of the major points, and urge you to contact me or those in a position to know about any questions you might have. It is my desire that my personal and political record be an open book to you.

I have served four years (two terms) as State Representative and six years (one and one-half terms) as your State Senator. I am 33 years of age, a farmer, cattleman and businessman. I am a native of the South Plains Panhandle area, as are my wife, two daughters and son. I served in the uniform of the United States Army for three years during World War II, and have a college education.

Warned Not To Run

At different times during the past four years, I have been threatened and warned not to seek re-election. Some of you (Continued To Page 6)

Muleshoe and the West Plains country side defied nationwide predictions of recession during the first half of 1958. While some sections of the country were suffering from mounting unemployment, dropping income levels and other signs of a business slump, the great West Plains continued to grow and, if not exactly boom, at least show a marked increase in business trends. Except for a seasonal slack period in March, which is expected in this area, the overall economy of this part of the country has withstood recession talk, and even shown increases in several fields.

Postal receipts, always a good barometer of general business conditions, showed a six percent increase at the end of the first half of the calendar year, postmaster Arnold Alcorn reports elsewhere on this page. Part of the postal receipt increases can be attributed to an influx of farm laborers within recent weeks.

Bank deposits and resources, another good weathervane of the business climate of a community, showed healthy rises as of the June statement of condition, published in The Journal this week. Bank deposits in the two Muleshoe banks were up by more than $27,000 compared to the same period in 1957, when there was little talk of recession and slump. Resources of the two banks also showed healthy increases.

Residents of Bailey County socked away more than $67,000 in U. S. Savings Bonds during the first half of 1958; this in addition to deposits in savings and checking accounts in the two Muleshoe banks and in adjoining county banks.

New Businesses

In Muleshoe itself, the trend of steady conservative growth continued during the first half year. Several new businesses came into being in Muleshoe, including Black Optometric Clinic, Hayden Shoes, a new vegetable organization and a number of others.

Business and residential construction maintained a steady pace in keeping with the growth of the community. Western Drug moved into remodeled and modern quarters recently, and the McCarty corner, housing Western's former location and the Muleshoe Hotel came in for a complete face lifting and remodeling. A new drug store is set to open on the corner sometime this month.

The Production Credit Association began construction last week on a new business building on the west side of the courthouse square. The Chamber of Commerce bought and moved into the school tax office building on the northwest corner of the square.

A new hospital came into being, located on the north side of the square, when Muleshoe Clinic became Muleshoe Hospital and Clinic a couple of months ago. A new business office was added to West Plains Hospital and Clinic, as the forerunner of a planned expansion program there.

The remainder of a huge expansion and new building program by Muleshoe schools was completed about the time school ended this spring. The program included a new elementary school, new cafeteria, high school classroom addition and new business office building.

Street Paving, New Homes

An extensive street paving and repair program has been underway here for several months, bringing most of Muleshoe's heaviest traveled streets up in good shape.

All sections of the residential areas of town continued to grow, with uncouneted new homes being built during the first half-year.

Automobile sales and other hard lines continued an unspectacular climb over the six month period, with increased emphasis on selling the product accounting for the sales rise.

Crop Outlook

The crop outlook was being viewed with mixed feelings of optimism and gloom. Cotton and sorghum crops were off to a flying start, based on heavy winter and spring moisture. Most observers are predicting an unusually heavy crop this fall, despite some hail and wind damage within the month just ended.

On the vegetable scene, the picture is not so bright. Insect damage and losses from wind, heavy rains and hail have cut an estimated 2300 acres of vegetables drastically. Plans are proceeding however, to construct another processing shed on the outskirts of town this summer by the Muleshoe Growers Association. In fact, material for the shed arrived Tuesday of this week, and the building is expected to be in place at an early date.

Department store sales are generally up over the first quarter of the year.

Break Ground For Local Vegetable Shed

Construction started this morning on the new vegetable processing shed of Muleshoe Cooperative Growers, located 2 1/2 miles from Muleshoe on the Clovis highway west.

The all steel building will measure 90 by 140 feet, and be built on a concrete slab foundation by a Clovis firm.

It will contain, in addition to vegetable processing equipment, a 10 car capacity refrigerator section, built according to the recommendations of the American Society of Refrigeration Engineers.

The location offers rail truckage as well as truck access. Buddy Meyers, president of the Cooperative announces.

Completion date is expected to be August 15, and shipment of the first of the tomato crop is planned for the same date.

Travis Jennings of Brownsville will be manager of the shed for the Cooperative.

Overall cost of the building and equipment has been estimated at $64,000.

Other officers of the Cooperative are Lewis Scoggins, vice-president; Arvis Grogan, secretary, and W. T. Parker, Dub Bartley, Harry Lee and Wilbur Stacy, directors.

Lawmen Expecting Busy Weekend On 4th July Holiday

Local authorities had a brief pre-holiday breathing spell last weekend with only six incarcerations in the county jail.

The Bailey county sheriff's office reported one arrest for each of the following charges: failure to appear, investigation, DWI, drunk, no drivers license, and worthless check.

Officers were expecting a rash of law violations over the coming weekend, however, pointing out that traffic violations, drunkenness and similar offenses frequently increase during a holiday weekend.

Rash Of Forgeries In Muleshoe, Warns Local Law Officers

Another round of forgeries in Muleshoe was reported early this week by local officers who again issued warnings to merchants to make sure of identification before cashing checks.

Sheriff Dee Clements returned Monday night from Kerrville, where he picked up Leroy Hawkins, who is charged with issuing over $600 in worthless checks in payment for hay here two or three years ago.

Clements also reported a rash of forged checks being issued to local merchants, all purporting to be in payment for farm labor. Clements urged merchants to watch for checks being cashed in payment for labor in varying small amounts.

DPS Set Death Watch on Texas Roads For Fourth of July Holiday Weekend

"Planning for safety is as important in your July 4th trip as the planning for the trip itself," said Major R. A. Crowder, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, in announcing the department's "Operation Death Watch" for the July 4th weekend.

"Many July 4th accidents are being planned now," Crowder explained. "People plan to drive too far in a short period, or they plan to drive too long without rest."

"Such plans often mean that drivers must exceed speed limits to reach destinations and return during the holiday period, or drivers attempt to cover those last few miles when lack of sleep has robbed them of the alertness necessary to stay alive," Crowder said.

"We find that carelessness, impatience and fatigued, unimpaired drivers on poorly planned holiday trips," Crowder continued. "During Operation Death Watch, we're putting all available men into an enforcement program designed to reduce traffic fatalities to a minimum."

Crowder said the Death Watch period during the July 4th holiday will see the Highway Patrol, backed up by officers of the DPS License and Weight and Motor Vehicle Inspection divisions working round-the-clock to stop speeders and careless drivers.

Radar speed detection units will be used, along with all other means of traffic enforcement, Crowder warned.

"The DPS headquarters in Austin has predicted that there will be 28 traffic fatalities in the state during Operation Death Watch," Crowder said. "We're going to do our best to prove that prediction wrong, but we'll need the help of every motorist in the state to accomplish the job."

Captain E. L. Posey, district Highway Patrol Commander, pointed out that July 4th "motorcades" in Texas were far lower than usual in 1956 and 1957 because both years had one-day holiday periods.

"Our last three-day July 4th holiday was in 1955," Posey continued. "The state recorded 18 persons killed during the July 4th weekend that year."

"Our worst July 4th holiday period since 1950 was four years ago," the captain said. "There were 33 persons killed in traffic accidents in Texas during the long July 4th weekend in 1954."

Operation Death Watch starts this year at 12:01 a.m., July 4th, and ends at 11:59 p.m., July 6. As a part of Operation Death Watch, the Department of Public Safety maintains a count of all accidental deaths, homicides, suicides and traffic fatalities.

During the one-day July 4th holiday in 1957, Department of Public Safety officers counted eight accidental deaths, two

Caution Urged In Water Sports To Prevent Tragedy

Texans own a lot of pleasure boats — 286,000 in 1957 — and their interest in water sports continues to increase, reports Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist. Each year about 10,000 new fishing licenses are bought by fishermen in the State and crowds continue to grow at popular lake, river and seashore spots.

But, warns Cooper, fun and enjoyment can end in disaster as it did last year for 293 Texans who were drowning victims. This needless loss of life can be prevented, points out the specialist, if water sport participants would only observe the rules of water safety.

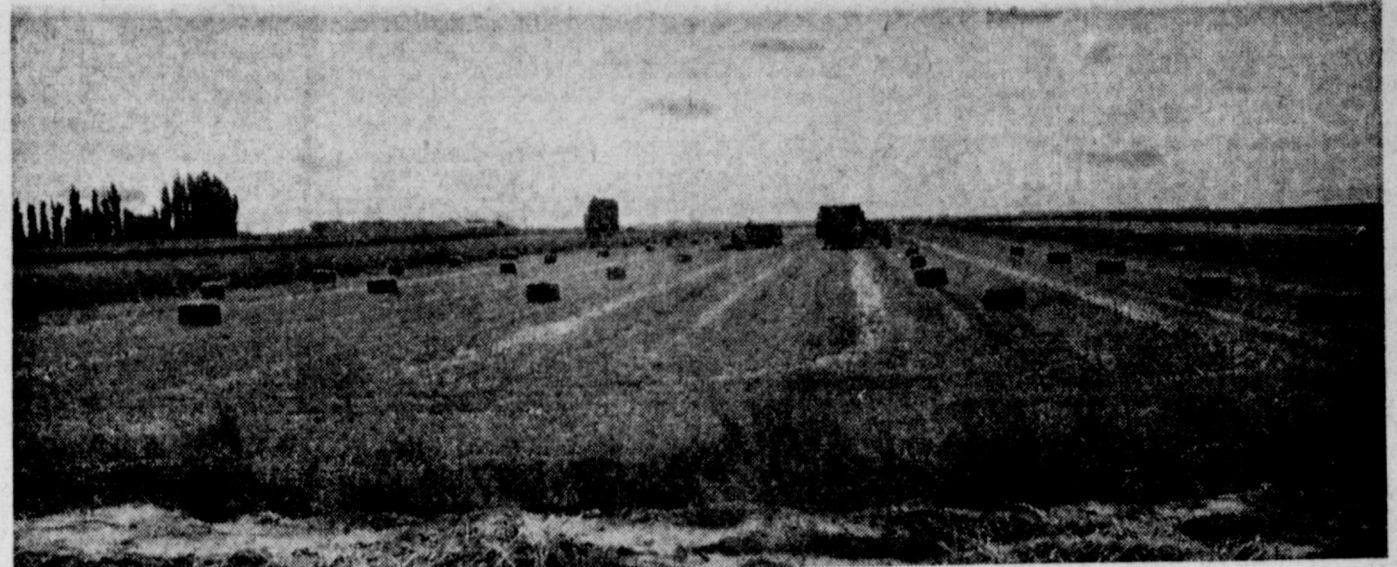

Learn to swim. It is a good sport and may save your life. But Cooper advises swimming with another person and in a safe place. Know the area where you intend to swim and before diving make sure the water is deep enough and that no hidden objects such as submerged rocks are present.

Respect the water and don't try to perform beyond your own limitations. Water can be a deadly enemy or a friend. Try to remain calm should you experience trouble while in the water, says Cooper. Don't swim immediately after eating or when overheated or tired and always keep safety equipment available, he cautions.

It is wise to wear a life vest when riding in a small boat, should you be involved in a boating accident, don't leave the boat. Most small craft will float even when filled with water or overturned.

Finally Cooper advises against overpowering a boat. Motors too powerful make a boat hard to control and may cause upsets or other accidents.

Carlin, Bernard To Lead Revival At Friona Church

The young people of the First Baptist Church of Friona have invited the team of evangelist, Paul Carlin, and song leader, Jerry Bernard, of Waco, Texas, to lead a revival in Friona. The meeting will be conducted July 7-13 with morning services at 8:30 a.m., and evening services at 8:30 p.m.

Carlin will tell the story of his previous life in Houston, where he was indicted by the Harris County Grand Jury in 1951 on a charge of possession of narcotics.

Jerry Bernard, in addition to talent for singing, plays the piano, accordion and trumpet.

The youth of the Friona Baptist Church invite all who are interested to come to the meeting.

Guide To Control Household Insects Is Available Now

Insect activity usually increases as the weather becomes warm.

er. Flies, ants, mosquitoes, moths and other insects endanger health, feed on fabrics, contaminate food and are general nuisances. Up-to-date control measures are needed to fight these insects. A leaflet compiled by extension entomologists offer directions for choosing and applying insecticides.

The bulletin, "Texas Guide for Controlling Household Insects", classifies all major pests except the termite into specific categories relating to type of damage. Insects are illustrated for easy identification, and concise control measures are given for each insect. Also listed are some important cautions to observe in using insecticides. Copies of the "Texas Guide for Controlling Household Insects" are available from your county extension agent's office.

Sandhills Philosopher Unhappy With Economists . . .
 Latest Theory That Good Times Cause Bad Times

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm reports on economists this week, without any affect on the situation.

As I understand the reports from Washington, the recession, if we had one, has not hit bottom and things are picking up, although you've got to understand us economists speak only in general terms and it's possible to have a private recession in the middle of a boom, and I suppose a private boom in the middle of a recession.

At any rate, I've been interested in what caused the thing and yesterday afternoon I found out from a newspaper the wind had blown against a fence out here on my farm. When a fence has no more wind resistance than a mine, it's not good farming practice to leave a newspaper lodged against it, so I pulled this one off and read it.

According to it, nine economists were called on by Senate Committee to explain what caused the recession and they thought it over and reported "the recession was caused by the good times of previous years."

This seemed to suit the Senate Committee, but it doesn't suit me. That is, I'm not arguing over whether it's right or not, what I want to know is, if good times are to blame for bad times, and everybody is always struggling and hoping for good times, aren't they just inviting a recession? When Congress passes a law trying to end a recession, isn't it just arranging for good times which will in turn bring on another recession?

I tell you, I don't like this theory of economics. It's like arguing the only way to end a rainy spell is to have a drought, or the only answer to a drought is more rain. It's sort of like blaming war on too much peace, or divorce on marriage.

Generally you might be able to argue that too many Democrats too long in power will bring on too many Republicans too long in power, with the thing switching back and forth every few years, and that might be right, but I'd just as soon have some other arrangement for the economics is where your bread and butter is.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

BABSON DISCUSSES . . . GOLD

Babson Park, Mass., July 3—As I have already expressed myself in these columns, I do not expect any shooting war to be started by Russia, and probably no intensified economic war and believe we are now in such an economic war, started by Russia some months ago. One of the weapons Russia will use is Gold.

Russia's Gold Supply.
 Although over 50% of the free world's annual production of gold comes from South Africa, Russia is now reported to be producing five hundred million dollars' worth a year; to have on hand eight billion dollars' worth to use as a weapon against us. This gold could be a real factor in breaking commodity prices and prolonging our business depression.

Probably Russia has in mind establishing a gold ruble which would have a constant value in foreign trade all over the world. This could make a great impression on both our allies and the backward nations. It should be an important weapon for Russia in the economic war in which we are now engaged. It seems, however, that as the next step in making a Russian ruble universal for trade, Russia must agree to the British insistence on mutual freedom of travel and communications and cease radio-jamming anything related to business or finance.

Value of the Dollar
 Previous to 1934 the American dollar was based on gold at a price of $20.67 per ounce. Under the Roosevelt Administration, the price was increased and the dollar diluted. It is said that Mr. Macmillan and President Eisenhower discussed the problem at their recent conference. They agreed that it should also be discussed with friendly nations; but this might cause them to become frightened and lead them to withdraw gold from the United States, which American investors do not want done.

Interfering with the price of gold would certainly cause more inflation. Many people think inflation is a bullish argument in the stock market; but it may not be so. If foreign nations withdraw very much gold, the bearish factors could offset the bullish.

The True Statistics
 Since 1950 Europe has increased its gold holdings to $8 billion, some from mining and purchasing in the open market and some by withdrawals from other countries. This especially applies to West Germany, the Netherlands, and Belgium. The latter country has also benefited from its large uranium holdings in Africa. During the last few months, our gold supply has been reduced

$1 1/4 billion. At this rate we would lose over $3 1/4 billion's worth during 1958.

A statistical analysis of this loss shows that it has been due to a change in our foreign trade situation. Up until recently, our exports exceeded our imports, and our stock of gold increased. Now this tide has turned and our imports of raw materials and manufactured goods exceed our exports.

What About Gold Shares?
 Naturally, there has been an increase in the price of gold shares which are traded largely on the London Stock Exchange and in Toronto. There are two reasons for this increase: (1) When business is in a recession, as at present, the cost of mining gold decreases. Since the price of gold after it is mined does not decline, this increases the profits of good gold mines. These profits have not been very satisfactory during the past few years and the prices of gold shares have been abnormally low. (2) The current talk about revaluation of the dollar has also been a factor, but this is a very speculative factor.

It seems to me, however, that aside from the above two reasons, readers are justified in holding a few good gold stocks—not for profits, but for security. While I see reasons why many stocks should decline in the next year, I see no reason why many good

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER
 By Senator Lyndon Johnson

Dear Friend:
 The second session of the 85th Congress is in the home stretch. I think it can be fairly said that we have had six months of accomplishment.

When Congress convened in January, we faced some enormous challenges. Two Russian Sputniks had begun circling the globe. A business slump had set in.

The challenge, then, were both military and economic. Unemployment had risen to between four and five million, and the two Russian satellites were in orbit. People were demanding effective action to meet our problems at home and abroad.

Now, at the end of June, we can look back on this session's "book" and say that many of the challenges have been met.

We have worked hard in the Senate to pass measures designed to stimulate the economy and to provide jobs for people who need them. Substantial progress has been made to strengthen our defense programs.

Military and technological accomplishments would have been a hollow consolation to us if we lost sight of the importance of a sound economy. The strongest kind of economy, by the same token, would have been of little value to us if we failed to live up to our spiritual and philosophical standards.

I think we have maintained our perspective.

We passed emergency housing and highway programs, and urged the Executive Department to accelerate civil and military construction projects. We passed an unemployment compensation extension bill, provided needed assistance to the railroad industry, expanded the Community Facilities Act to provide loans to local governments, and broadened the authority of the Small Business Administration. This gives some idea of the work we have done to bolster our economy.

In the area of national defense, the Senate authorized a mutual security program to help maintain our free world leadership, authorized expansion of missile bases and detection and warning systems, established a Special Committee on Astronautics and Space Exploration (which reported a bill setting up a U. S. Space Agency), authorized the construction of a reactor for an atomic-powered destroyer, adjusted the pay of military personnel to reduce the loss of skilled technologists, authorized the construction of two "superliners" to meet the urgent need for trooplift shipping.

Other important legislation has been passed. We still have to work to do in the next several weeks on farm problems, public works, reciprocal trade, national defense. I hope you will write to me about any of these questions. I welcome your advice and counsel. I value your friendship.

This was the year of the Chicago World's Fair. Oh, the Windy City had had a previous Fair, way back in 1893 . . . but this was bigger and better than ever. And the country needed a pageant that helped people to look ahead to a better future.

The fair had a lot of features, from striking modern architecture to rickshaw boys pulling the tourists around the Fair grounds. But visitors to the Fair that year probably saw as much of one showgirl as they did of anything else.

Her real name was Helen Gould Beck, and she did a dance in which she wore a collection of fans . . . and not much else. She was an unknown up to that year . . . but not afterwards. Her stage name was Sally Rand . . . and she was the hit of the Fair!

THIS WEEK
 — In Washington
 With Clinton Davidson
THE FOURTH OF JULY

Confidence and optimism are the keywords most Independence Day speech-makers from across the land will be sounding all over the land this week.

Most of the fears and worries that beset Washington only a few weeks ago seem to have disappeared. There is a feeling that although we still have problems, everything is going to work out all right.

Washington has shaken off most of the jitters caused by the Russian Sputniks, the business recession, big unemployment, international tensions and the farm problem. There are some who continue to think such optimism is premature, but they are in the minority.

What has happened to cause such a change in the short space of only a few weeks? Ask any of a dozen officials and you are likely to get a different answer from each of them.

Whatever the answer may be, the fact is Washington has lost the sense of urgency which pushed officials to the verge of nervous breakdowns earlier this year. Some who write about Washington refer to the present situation as one of complacency.

Happy Days Are Here
 There is a fairly good explanation for the sudden and drastic change in Washington attitude toward all of the problems which seemed to be so urgent at the start of this year. The only point in doubt is whether the new optimism is fully justified.

First, the Sputnik scare died down when we put three spheres in orbit to pull one ahead of the Russians.

The race for superiority in outer space seems less important now than it did a few months ago.

The business recession doesn't seem quite as threatening as it did. President Eisenhower's confidence that business will begin to pick up this fall has spread to other government officials.

There is almost no talk of a tax reduction this year. Congress would have liked to cut taxes, but the Administration discouraged it. A few billions were appropriated for increased public works, but there has been no big rush to spend the money.

Business men who come to Washington are more confident that this is not to become a major depression, only a temporary recession. They tell government officials they expect employment to pick up before the end of this year.

Farm Prices Are Up
 One of the big worries earlier this year, low farm prices, is no longer as serious as it was. The average of prices received by farmers has increased each month since the start of this year.

The climb in farmers' income, at a time when the Nation has been in a serious business recession, has been one of the most encouraging signs that the national economy is basically sound.

Agriculture Secretary Benson isn't sure how long the new trend in farm prices will continue, but he is more than ever convinced that if he can get the government off of farmers' and taxpayers' backs, everything will work out all right.

Prevailing Wage For Hoing Crews Is Set At 65 Cents

Following a survey made in the area by the regional bureau of Texas Employment Commission, the prevailing wage for hoing cotton and sorghum grain has been established.

Agricultural workers in mixed crews hoing cotton and grain sorghum are to be paid 55 to 65 cents per hour.

Periodical reviews of the prevailing wage situation will be made during the growing season.

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

by Raymond Euler

In 1953 the front fender for a 1953 Chevrolet cost $24.37. Today, the same fender for the same car, costs $34.85. This is due to the increases in factory wages and metal costs. This is one of the reasons insurance rates are up, too.

The labor situation, due to certain legislative changes, "sleeper" and otherwise, is getting more complicated all the time, it seems to us. In New York State, it is now illegal to request that applicants "state your age" when applying for positions advertised in newspapers. It is also illegal to refuse to hire an applicant because he or she is above the age desired by the would-be employer.

You have probably read some of the discussion of the Texas law, passed by the 51st legislature in 1949. It states in so many words that if you tell a man where he can get a job at any kind of common labor (including farm), you are subject to a fine of $25 to $200. The details of this law were discovered recently when the Crosby County Farm Bureau and Italls CofC advertised the free service of helping farmers get Bracero laborers. We are reasonably sure that County Farm Bureaus all over Texas will submit resolutions demanding repeal of this law at the State FB Convention in Corpus Christi in November.

We are glad to note that the "war" freight tax of 3% either has been, or is about to be repealed. Farm Bureau has been working toward this end for several years. This is one of particular interest to farmers, because they have to pay it both ways; on commodities they ship out, and on farm machinery and supplies they buy.

It is also encouraging to note that the "omnibus" farm bill was turned down last week in the House of Representatives. It now appears possible that the Senate bill, embodying most of the Farm Bureau proposals, may become law. At least we hope so, because unless some change is made, acreage cuts on basic commodities will be disastrous for many farmers.

Rhea Farm Bureau will have its annual 4th of July celebration Friday at 8:30 p.m.

CONSIDER THIS: Be not thou envious against evil men, neither desire to be with them: For their heart studieth destruction, and their lips talk of mischief. —Proverbs 24:1-2.

Weekly Cotton Insect Report

Weather conditions have varied from maximum temperatures above 100 degrees to a minimum in the low fifties. High winds have prevailed throughout the week with hard rains along the eastern part of the area. Cotton made rapid growth in most localities with earlier plantings showing excellent fruit set.

Thrips were reported in light infestations in a majority of fields. While scattered plantings had fairly heavy populations of the insects, cotton did not show the typical heavy damage so apparent a short time ago.

Pleahoppers were reported in light to medium infestations in most localities. Populations were sufficient to warrant control applications of insecticides in scattered plantings. Since most cotton has reached, or is nearing the fruiting stage of growth, the crop should be checked for presence of the insects. Damaging infestations should be controlled to insure maximum early fruit set.

Lygus bugs were present in light to medium infestations on cotton in some fields in Hale and Lynn counties. The insects were reported in light infestations in other localities. Grasshoppers damaged cotton along edges of pastures in scattered fields in the southern and western part of the area. Aphids were reported in light infestations in scattered fields.

WINDING UP THE WHEAT HARVEST

MOST WHEAT, except for isolated patches, has been cut by this date. This picture, made last Friday shows Dalton Williams of Farwell, cutting a 15 acre patch of Ten mark wheat in West Camp community. The wheat had lodged somewhat and yield was expected to be only about 25 bushel per acre. —Journal Photo

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

Texas — Tops in Southern Farm Protection

In the few years since 1951, Texas has moved from seventh to first place among 12 southern states in the amount and enforcement of protective farm legislation.

Our state is no longer regarded as an agricultural dumping ground. Today, Texas has come into its own both as a producer and consumer of high-quality farm products.

We have asked for and received from the Texas Legislature the necessary weapons to clean up many of our farm problems. Ten years ago, we were a convenient, inviting garbage pail for the nation, serving as a wide, open disposal point for bad seed, unhealthy nursery plants, poor quality eggs and a host of other inferior products.

Until the necessary laws were passed and put into effect, the old saying was "If you can't sell it here, send it to Texas." Now this picture has changed. We can put more trust in our own production and know, too, that farm goods shipped into the state must meet certain standards of quality.

The Clean-up of the grain scandals through the Texas

Grain Warehouse Law is a case in point. Texas was one of the first states to strengthen grain legislation after the national scandals of 1952, and no major outbreak of public defraudment has occurred since that time.

Through the Texas Seed Act, seed buyers have learned that testing and inspection protects them from fraud and deceit which earlier ran rampant.

Our nursery industry was offered greater protection by the revamping of the Texas Nursery Law in 1953. Strict inspections and impartial enforcement have prevented any major outbreak of plant diseases and have protected unknowing homeowners from being defrauded by misrepresented stock.

The Texas Legislature five years ago approved a modernization plan which gave the Texas Department of Agriculture its first major overhaul in 47 years. As a result, many departmental programs offer greater services and yet are on a self-supporting basis, bringing the need for tax money to a bare minimum.

We are now leaders in the South. But we must look to the day when Texas will find its rightful place at the top of all the 48 states in providing protection to producers and consumers alike.

Christian Science Services

The almighty power and goodness of God will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Bible readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God" will include the following from Zephaniah (3:17): "The Lord thy God in the midst of thee is mighty; he will save, he will rejoice over thee with joy; he will rest in his love, he will joy over thee with singing."

Also bringing out God's supreme power is this passage to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (228:25-27): "There is no power apart from God. Omnipotence has all-power, and to acknowledge any other power is to dishonor God."

The Golden Text is from Revelation (15:4): "Who shall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art holy; for all nations shall come and worship before thee."

Dale Krebbs Makes European Tour While Stationed At Fulda, Germany

Dale Krebbs, stationed at Fulda, Germany as a radio teletype operator with the Army, has recently completed a twenty-day tour of Europe. His wife, Helen, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Klyde Krebbs, live in Muleshoe.

Fulda is located on the East-West line of Germany and is one of the few bases which is alerted for combat at all times. Krebbs, who made color slides of the entire trip, was with three other men from the Fulda base. The first stop on the itinerary was Bonn, the capital of West Germany, to visit the home of Conrad Ardnauer. Next the group toured Holland. Krebbs reported that Rotterdam has the most modern architecture of any city on the tour. This is accredited to the fact that every building in the city was completely or par-

Today's Meditation

Read John 8:25-32. Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free. (John 8:32.)

From prison a man wrote a letter to the detectives who helped put him there. He said, "I want to thank you boys for helping me tell the truth. This is the first time in twenty-five years that I have been really free."

For a quarter of a century another man had suffered for a crime which the author of the letter had committed. He had been free from the confinement of a prison during all those years, but deep down inside he was not free at all. He was bound and bohered by the falsehood under which he lived. It was only when he told the truth that he was truly free.

Jesus told His disciples centuries ago that real freedom comes as a result of living by the truth in all areas of life. The greatest liberator of life is truth, for all truth is of God and has its origin in Him. True freedom, for individuals and nations alike, is a by-product of truthful living.

Next on the agenda, was a ferry trip from Osten, Belgium to Dover, England and on to London. After a tour of London, the soldiers went to Bastogne, Belgium, where a statue of General George Patton stands in the city square.

The last day of the tour was spent in Luxembourg. The most powerful radio station in Europe is located here.

Krebbs is a 1952 graduate of Three Way High School and a 1954 graduate of Texas Tech, with a major in business.

He was trained at Fort Carson, Colo., and Augusta, Ga.

Prior to his enlistment, he was engaged in farming near Three Way.

the truth in all areas of life. The greatest liberator of life is truth, for all truth is of God and has its origin in Him. True freedom, for individuals and nations alike, is a by-product of truthful living.

PRAYER

Help us, Father, to be guided by truth in all we do and say this day. So may we experience the freedom that has its origin in Thee. In the name of Jesus, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven. Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

When we live by truth, we live according to God's plan. —J. Sanford McDonald (Ga.)
