District Court Term Will Open Monday

MURDER CASES SET FOR TRIAL

Mrs. Turner Will Be Tried Again; O'Donnell Case Is Also On Docket For Trial

The February term of the district court will open next Monday morning. There are two murder cases on the docket to be disposed of. The Mrs. Mollie Turner case is set for trial March 10. She is charged with the murder of her husband near Wilson about nine years ago. She was indicted a little more than a year ago and was tried and convicted, the punishment assessed being 20 years in the penitentiary. The case was reversed on appeal, however, and was remanded for a new trial.

The other murder case is also an old one, The State of Texas vs. Adlee Roberts. Roberts is charged with the killing of Calvin Petty on September 23, 1925, near O'Donnell. He was tried and convicted of manslaughter, the punishment being assessed at five years in the penitentiary. This case was also appealed and reversed. Under the law he cannot again be tried for a higher offense than manslaughter, the maximum penalty for which is five years in the penitentiary. Judge T. L. Price, the present district attorney, was attorney for the defendant on the former trial and he is disqualified to try the case now. The date for the trial of this case, therefore, has not been set.

There are not many other criminal cases of importance on the docket. Neither are there many important cases on the civil docket. The grand jury will be empaneled Monday morning. The grand jury venire consists of the following gentlemen: D. G. Cook, J. D. Martin, J. E. Sherrill, A. R. Hensley, Grady Leonard, J. S. Fritz, W. E. Guye, Robert Ragan, E. W. Holloway, C. A. Coleman, J. R. Hamilton, Frank Crews, J. K. Calloway, C. B. Townes, J. W. Elliott, E. H. Hancock.

Petit jurors have been summoned for the second, third and fourth weeks of the term, as follows:

Oil investments in Texas, estimated at $1,500,000,000 represent 17th of the United States total. Texas average monthly production during six months ending Oct. 1st was 21,000,000 barrels.

FRANK DENTON DIED MONDAY

Pioneer Plains Citizen Passes On; Funeral Services Held Here Tuesday Afternoon

Frank Denton, well known here and throughout this section, died at the residence of his mother in this city Monday afternoon, after a lingering illness, and the remains were interred in the City Cemetery Tuesday afternoon, Rev. F. T. Broedlove officiating.

Mr. Denton was 57 years of age and had long been a resident of this section of the state. For a number of years he and family resided at Gail in Borden county and for some time he published a newspaper in that little town. He knew much of the history of this section and was an interesting conversationalist on topics relating to West Texas.

Besides his mother, he left surviving him two sons and a daughter, Jack Denton of Amarillo, and Joe and Miss Willie Denton of Midland. All the children were present at the time of his death and attended the funeral.

Kuykendall Boy Is Seriously Hurt

M. L. Kuykendall, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kuykendall residing seven or eight miles east of town, was quite seriously hurt Friday night when he alighted from the running board of a car while it was still in motion. It was evidently moving faster than he thought and when his feet came in contact with the earth he lost his balance and fell, his head striking some part of the car. It was thought at first that the skull had been fractured but the attending physician decided later that there was no fracture of the skull. The patient is now recovering rapidly.

Seven Bales Cotton Destroyed By Fire

Fire was discovered in the cotton yard at 4 or 5 o'clock in the morning Wednesday. The fire department was called out and extinguished the fire but not until seven bales of cotton had been wholly or almost wholly destroyed. The cotton burned, we understand, belonged to the gins here. The origin of the fire is unknown but it is supposed that it originated in a bale that had been gined Tuesday afternoon.

BIOGRAPHY OF GEORGE MORAN OF MORAN AND MACK, "TWO BLACK CROWS"

George Moran, the short, serious and boisterous member of the team of Moran and Mack, the Two Black Crows, was born in Elwood, Kansas, twenty miles from the birthplace of Charles Mack. Moran grew up around St. Joseph, Missouri, and his first appearance on the stage was in blackface, when he played in a touring company of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." He has been on the stage ever since.

Moran has appeared in vaudeville on the dramatic stage and in musical comedy, his greatest success having come when he teamed up with Mack and the "big idea" for the Two Black Crows struck the pair.

As a team, Moran and Mack, the Two Black Crows appeared in Europe and throughout America and more recently in the Ziegfeld Follies, Winter Garden Shows, the "Scandals," the "Vanities," and the Greenwich Village Follies.

Together, they have made seven phonograph records, which have had more than 7,000,000 circulation. Now they have completed their first motion picture for Paramount, "Why Bring That Up?", which comes to the English theatre here Friday and Saturday of this week.

Moran is married. He is five feet, eight inches tall, weighs 150 pounds and has light brown hair and blue eyes.

Texas postal savings deposits at the close of 1929 were $4,288,276 gain of $493,000 during the year.

1929, Texas brought in 5,101 producing oil wells and 547 gas wells. Dry wells numbered 3,333.

FAIL TO FIND DEEPER WATER

City Well Completed To Depth of 400 Feet, But Water Is No More Plentiful

The driller completed the new city well down to a depth of 400 feet late Monday night without finding any large supply of water. Two strata of water-bearing sand was found, however. City officials estimate that the well will produce from 40 to 50 gallons per minute. Mayor C. H. Cain and members of the city council visited Slaton Tuesday for the purpose of purchasing gravel which will be placed in the well around the casing so as to admit the free passage of the water from one stratum to the other and enable the city to draw on both sources of supply.

It is not probable that any further effort to find an abundant supply of water will be made at this time. Officials hope that the supply now available will prove sufficient during the entire year.

Two County Officers Get Salary Raises

At a meeting of the commissioners' court Monday, the ex-officio salary of the county judge was raised from $1,800 to $2,100 per year or $25.00 per month.

The ex-officio salary of the county attorney was also raised from $50.00 to $75.00 per month. Neighboring counties are paying higher salaries than the county attorney is to receive after the raise, according to Judge Grider. The county of Terry pays its county attorney an ex-officio salary of $100.00 per month and Garza county pays $110.00 per month, he stated.

Services Are Held At Colored Church

Services were held at the Colored Church Sunday, beginning with Sunday school. There was preaching by Rev. P. C. Carter at 11 o'clock. His text was in Matthew 7:19.

There were also splendid services at 3 o'clock, when Brother Ben Rogers expounded. The next was Exodus 2:6, a Boy Child. Rev. Broedlove and family, A. P. Ort and Mrs. Davis were with us, and as usual we had a great time.—Contributed.

MISS ELLIS ENTERTAINS Y. W. A. GIRLS FRIDAY

Last Friday evening Miss Viola Ellis entertained the girls of the Y. W. A. and their guests in the home of Mrs. G. M. Reid. The house was prettily decorated in honor of St. Valentine.

A clinic was held with Dr. K. R. Durham officiating in the role of Dan Cupid M. D., Heart Specialist, and assisted by the hostess in the role of nurse. Quite naturally the patients were all afflicted with heart trouble, and Doctor Dan in his unique manner examined and prescribed for them it seemed to their entire satisfaction. The various treatments prescribed were interestingly carried out in the form of games.

With specific directions from Doctor Dan for partaking, a menu of chicken salad sandwiches, peanut butter and jellied strawberries encooned in heart-shaped crusts, coffee with cream in bottles labeled with directions for using, and sugar in powdered form was served to the following people: Misses Faye Pitts, Mattie Will Seroyer, Thelma Greenwood Lois Jeffreys, Jettie and Virgie Faulkner, Minnie and Wainio Freeman, Opal Cooper, Irene Arms, Bernice Bowles, Elizabeth Sanders, Arvena Logan, Viola Ellis and Messdames K. R. Durham and G. M. Reid. Messrs. R. E. Key, Verner Smith, Will Ed Tredway, P. A. Nowlin, Fontaine Wyatt, Boswell Edwards, Claude Sledge, K. R. Durham and G. M. Reid.

A negro woman down in East Tahoka got on the war path Sunday night and raised quite a rumpus. She paid a fine in the city court Monday morning amounting to $11.45.

200 In Attendance At C. of C. Banquet

Brownfield Paving 16 Business Blocks

Citizens of Brownfield sometime ago voted street paving bonds in the sum of $60,000. Contract for the paving of sixteen blocks covering the business section of the city was let a few weeks ago and the work of paving began last week and is progressing rapidly. It is contemplated that contract for the paving of several additional blocks will be let soon.

White Starts Evening School At New Lynn

An evening school was started by Prof. Taylor White at the New Lynn school house Monday night. Prof. White reports that there were sixty-three men and women present at the initial meeting. He hopes to make this the largest school of its kind in the state. Lessons will be given on Monday and Friday nights of each week for a period of five or six weeks.

Prof. White says that while many topics relating to agriculture will be discussed, yet he expects to lay special stress on poultry-raising and dairying. Much interest in the work was manifested Monday night and it is believed that the people of the community will reap much benefit from this school.

GRASSLAND CLUB MET

The Grassland Home Demonstration Club met at the teachers' February 7th with nine members present and one new member, Mrs. A. L. Sheppard.

The subject of our meeting was "The Wilderness". It was agreed that we have all cup fowls for January and February finished by next meeting date, which will be on Friday, February 21st. Our meeting date was changed from Wednesday to the first and third Fridays in each month. We hope more of the members will be present next meeting.—Reporter.

Rev. Hull To Fill Local Pulpit Sunday

Rev. O. J. Hull of Gatesville, who was recently extended a call to the pastorate of the Baptist Church here, has advised that he will be here next Sunday if the weather permits to fill the pulpit for the day and to further inform himself concerning the prospects for the work here. He will probably advise the church soon after this visit as to whether or not he will accept the call.

Not only are all Baptists urged to be present next Sunday, but others are cordially invited.

LAMESA CONTINUES $80,000 PROGRAM OF PAVING

LAMESA, Feb. 7th.—Work began here this week on seven blocks of Lamesa's $80,000 program of paving after two blocks were opened to traffic last week. The project will total fourteen blocks in all, making a total of 31 blocks of paved streets for Lamesa.

BOX SUPPER AT NEW LYNN NEXT SATURDAY NIGHT

The News is requested to announce that there will be a box supper at New Lynn school building next Saturday night. All the candidates are invited and will be given an opportunity to make their announcements. Of course everybody else is invited also, and a good time is promised.

Judge G. C. Grider and C. C. Williams of the chamber of commerce attended the swine show and auction sale at Brownfield Wednesday. They report very few hogs on exhibition, however, and rather slow sales of those that were there. For some reason, not much interest, had been aroused in the affair.

Mrs. Jesse Eubanks has been suffering keenly this week from a chronic case of appendicitis but is now better.

MANY VISITORS ATTEND MEET

Judge McGuire, S. L. Forrest and Many Other Speakers On Tuesday Night's Program

Approximately 200 citizens of Lynn and adjoining counties gathered round the festal board at the annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce held in the basement of the Methodist Church here Tuesday night, to enjoy the feast and the musical program and to hear discussions relating to the future work of the organization.

Taylor White, president of the body and teacher of agriculture in the Tahoka High School, was the toast master, and as president he gave a brief sketch of the work accomplished during the past year. A constitution and set of by-laws were also formally adopted by a vote of the members present.

Judge Gordon B. McGuire of Lamesa was the principal speaker of the occasion. By way of introduction, he called attention to the fact that all Nature functions in accordance with the law of association and cooperation. Even the stars are to be found in clusters, the mountains in ranges, the trees in forests, etc. It is necessary for man to cooperate with the fellow men. He showed how all progress is due to this fact. Then he grew reminiscent and told us conditions as they existed in Tahoka and Lynn County before the day of paved streets and graded highways. In a humorous vein he related some of his experiences on a trip from Lamesa to Lubbock thru Tahoka in a Model T Ford when that particular make of car was still a novelty and when he was just taking his first lessons in the art of driving one of these new, strange gas wagons.

Little less interesting but more serious was the splendid address of S. L. Forrest of Lamesa, who spoke concerning the new milk plant now under construction in Lamesa and the future of the dairy business on the South Plains. Mr. Forrest is himself a fluent speaker and has a great fund of knowledge concerning the subject that he discussed. He felt that the new milk plant, which is expected to begin operation about May 1st, will afford a better and steadier market to the farmers and dairymen of the South Plains for their dairy products. He expressed great appreciation of the co-operation that Tahoka had extended in this enterprise from the beginning.

L. H. Moore of Lakeview, one of the directors of the Lynn County Fair Association, was really the first speaker of the evening and he discussed briefly but spicily the prospects for the fair here next fall, urging the farmers to begin now to get ready for this fair and to plant their crops with the fair in mind. He laid much stress upon the value of county fairs and showed how they had been a great stimulus to progress.

Two Minutes talks—of longer or shorter duration—were made by Truett Smith, Jack Applewhite, G. H. Nelson, Dr. C. B. Townes, Chester Connolly, and E. I. Hill of the local chamber of commerce and by Al Hill and Garnett Reeves of Lubbock. Several vocal selections were rendered by the High School Quartet, consisting of Robert Benson, Clifton Janak, Boswell Edwards, and Jim Jackson, with Miss Bessie Mae Binnion, teacher of piano, and voice, accompanying on the piano. Wells Edwards also rendered a couple of numbers on the saxophone and gave a reading that brought much applause.

Out of town visitors who registered were as follows: Judge Gordon B. McGuire, William A. Wilson, Thos. S. Christopher, S. L. Forrest, O. B. Norman, J. E. Barron, and Roscoe Holton, all of Lamesa; Al Hill of the Lubbock Avalanche and Garnett Reeves of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

SCHOOLS OF LYNN COUNTY

(By H. P. Caveness, County Superintendent in The Texas Outlook)

Lynn County has twenty-four school districts. Twenty one of these are rural districts with a total scholastic population of 2,141, and averaging about 30 square miles to the district. The scholastic population of the whole county, according to the 1929 census, is 3,764. This is a gain in population of 201 scholastics over last year.

The twenty-one districts have invested in buildings about $210,000 and about $20,000 in equipment. Seventeen of these buildings are of brick and tile construction. The other four are substantial frame buildings. All except one have wells with windmills supplying plenty of good water. Each of the twenty-one districts has a teacherage. The value of these teacherages is approximately $18,000. Eight of the rural districts have splendid auditoriums equipped with modern chairs, stage, curtains and lights. All the others have arranged two rooms to be thrown together for assembly purposes.

Five schools have two teachers, six have three teachers, six have four teachers, three have five teachers, and one has six teachers. There are 131 teachers in the schools of the county.

With two minor exceptions, all the rural schools are classified according to the classification recommended by the State Department of Education. Ten of these have applied to the State Department for classification as standard schools and according to the state rural supervisor, they will no doubt receive that designation. Five other schools are eligible for standardization but have not made the application. Our New Home school, a six-teacher school, has seven and one-half units this year. Two schools teach eleven grades, while nine have ten grades. The rural supervisor recently commented on these schools as "maintaining a high standard of instruction."

Ten schools have contracted for a nine-months term, while the average length of term for all the rural schools is nearly eight and one-half months.

The county superintendent's office is working to bring all schools to be recognized as standard schools by the State Department of Education; to maintain a nine months term; to secure a longer tenure of office for efficient teachers; and to continually improve the standards of instruction. Little has been done yet, but we hope soon to get the activities of the communities so organized around the school that the school will be the center of the social life and a very helpful influence in the commercial activities of the communities. At present the greatest need for organizing this work is the need of leadership. We hope to make the schools helpful in the economic affairs of the communities by affording centers of marketing associations and other farm clubs.

We hope to provide some of the schools with radios in the near future and to give this new educational mean a trial in the rural schools.

WHY EDITORS KNOW THE BIBLE

There is no news in the report that newspaper editors still know their Bible well enough to quote it, although the Bible Guild has recently collected opinions of many leading editors to substantiate this fact. If editors no longer quoted the Bible, that would be news. The average newspaper office has a Bible, well thumbed and worn by frequent reference; and the average editor has a considerable part of its contents tucked away in his head.

This is natural, for the editor must speak the language of his readers. No other book, no author or group of authors, has contributed so much to the form and substance of the English language as has the King James version. Its characters and phrases live in our daily speech. Types like David and Jonathan, the friends, or Judas, the traitor; phrases like the Thorn in the Flesh, or the Golden Calf, have almost become letters of the alphabet.

The old school editor probably went to church and Sunday School and, even if he went against his will, the Bible reading impressed itself on his memory. Many of the younger men in the profession may have missed that training. A supercilious attitude toward the Bible is only too general among the younger generation, but quite regardless of its effect upon their character, this attitude apparently is having a bad effect upon their English. Most Guild declared that it would benefit the English of all writers, and especially the younger ones, if they were more familiar with the Bible.

And there is a more mundane motive involved. Let an editor make a mistake, let him speak of the "Twelve" Commandments or the "Apostle" Jeremiah, and his faithful readers let him know about his slip immediately. Any editor whose public includes many readers of the Bible—and what public does not?—needs to know his Bible, if only for self-preservation.

It has been estimated that 1-6th of the water now flowing into our rivers can be prevented from doing so by proper terracing and sodding.

Thank you for the immediate and tremendous response to our challenge, on the introduction of Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil. Thank you many thousands of Regular Customers as well as the many thousands of new users who have flocked to Red Triangle stations, until it has kept all of us on the jump to drain and refill crank cases with this remarkable motor lubricant. Because of unprecedented demands for Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil, it has been difficult for our refineries to keep all our stations adequately supplied, but now stocks are moving faster and you can depend on quick and efficient service at any station displaying the Conoco Red Triangle.

"I THANK YOU IN THE NAME OF CONOCO"

Conoco challenged the oil world last November with the revolutionary new Germ-Processed Motor Oil. Definitely the first fundamentally better oil of the century, this oil is now smashing all sales records. No reasonable person will use any other oil once he has heard the story of this new oil and its "Penetrative Lubricity." We invite you to stop at the Sign of the Red Triangle for your first crankcase fill.

The People Must Know The Truth!

The chains are actually destroying the taxable wealth of any community they locate in.

By gradually sapping that community of its money and daily sending their profits to a foreign money Baron they make paupers of that community.

Did you ever hear of a fourteen or fifteen ounce pound before the Big Chains began to pay fines for short weighing the public?

Did you ever buy a pair of Blankets 4 inches too narrow and six inches too short?

Do you actually save any when you trade at a chain?

Listen, people of Lynn county, if you spend your money at these chains owned by men who have never been in our county where will Lynn county end?

In ten more years the monopolies of Wall Street will own us and our children will be underpaid slaves for these money Barons.

Did you ever see an old woman or a young underfed child clomping down a street wearing wooden shoes? Those conditions exist in Europe and Money Barons and monopolies did it.

Picture an old woman dragging these heavy wooden shoes along, her shoulders stooped from years of toil, her eyes dim from slaving trying to make both ends meet and you will see what some of your children will look like if the Chains continue to take charge of this big free country of ours.

Stay away from these places like you would a disease that is eating at the very heart of this country.

Spend your money with the Independent man who thinks enough of this county to live here and raise his children here.

Every Independent Merchant in Lynn County keeps his profits in Lynn County and helps to build our schools, our churches and our community.

JACK POURS IT ON US

This seems to be open season with political gunners on Tom Love. A few weekly newspapers and a lot of scribblers in the daily press have been shooting their little pop guns at him for maintaining that a freeborn American citizen has the right to carry his conscience with him to the ballot box. We should like to ask these gentlemen who have been flinging their slurs and sneers at him, what is a conscience for anyway? Is it a thing a man should take with him to church and use in his religion but discard in his politics? Is it a thing that he should use in his home, in his store, in his newspaper office, but not in the voting booth? Our good friend, Jack Stricklin over at Brownfield might answer.—Lynn County News.

"Might" is not as strong a term in this instance as we would like, and we will substitute the word, "shall" answer it. Yes, Brother Hill we agree that we should take our "conscience" with us to church and also that we keep it there. For instance, Hill is a Baptist, and he's no turn-coat Baptist either. He's a Baptist from the little bald spot on top of his pate to the ingrown toe nail on his left foot. No matter what comes on, he stays behind his guns, a storm
within the fold may rage, the invading army of sin may advance to the roar of guns and the tom-tom of drums; the steeple may be shot away
and the walls may crash, but Brother Hill will come from under the wreckage, rub the dust from his eyes, pull the splinters out of his hair, spit the mud out of his mouth, and tell the world that he is still a good Baptist. The deacons may do something he don't like, the preacher
may cross his path or not come up to his expectations, some of the members to his notion may be infused with too much hypocrisy to suit
Hill, but he stays right in and pitches. He don't get swelled up every few Sundays and stray over to the Methodist or Presbyterian flocks—not a bit. And speaking again of "conscience," Bro Hill has so much of it he is "self-conscious". He knows he has done wrong in straying over to the Fall-Denby camp, and every time a neighboring editor says anything about the G. O. P., it stings Hill like a nettle, and he comes back with some kind of a "sourcastic" remark. He's almost got the figgits from his "conscience-stricken" condition and has almost come to the conclusion that all but the 18th of our amendments have been repealed, and he thinks that every mortal that does not like the one left is criminal minded. Shake yourself together, Hill, like you used to be when we helped Ma Ferguson lick the three 'Ks.

If our old jasek has become rotten,
let's fight it out on the inside, like we do in our churches, if it takes all summer.—Terry County Herald.

That's a pretty nifty answer, Jack.
It sounds like you've got us. You make this editor out a rather loyal, unrelenting Baptist—to which we must plead guilty—and you draw the inference that we should be just as loyal to our party politically as to our church religiously. Admitted, we will concede the point. We are agreed so far. But—we lay down the further proposition that no man should put his church above his God nor his party above his country. Do you catch our drift?

In order to make our position clear to you, Jack, let's carry your illustration just a little farther; let's make it fit the facts. If this editor
—this narrow old Baptist—should wake up some fine morning and find the Baptist Church denouncing and making war upon the Ten Commandments, declaring that they are repugnant to individual liberty and interfere unduly with personal rights, that in spite of the fact that they have been on God's statute book for more than 3,000 years they never have been satisfactorily enforced or observed, that in the face of their plain prohibitions men everywhere are still profanely taking the name of God in vain, are still ignoring and desecrating the Sabbath, are still murdering, and stealing, and lying and committing adultery, and are still coveting the things that belong to their neighbors; that these laws of God never have been,
never will be, and never can be enforced and ought therefore to be modified or repealed—if the Baptist Church, Jack, should turn its arti-
lery upon any one of these Commandments and seek to destroy it—to have it repealed, amended, or nullified—right then we would register
a vigorous protest, and if the Church refused to listen to us we would quit the old boat instant and take to the water. If your good Church boat happened to be near by fighting valiantly for God's law as written, we might ask to be taken aboard
and be permitted to join its forces.
Or, we might swim ashore and join the land forces—the Methodists and Presbyterians—and make common cause with them in defending God's law against the assaults of the Baptists. Even if the Methodists and the Presbyterians and the Christians should not be fighting as valiantly or as unitedly or as enthusiastically as we might wish, still, if they were fighting at all, we would get over on their side and begin shooting in the direction they were shooting. Do you catch the point, Jack? Wouldn't you do the same thing under the same circumstances?

Well, in 1928, the Democratic party under the leadership of that
"Happy Warrior," Governor Al
Smith and his Tammany braves, made a terrific assault upon the Volstead Act and the Eighteenth Amendment. They proposed to so amend the law as to virtually emasculate it and nullify the Eighteenth Amendment. Any such action, as we believed, would have been a calamity unspesakable. We therefore refused to furnish ammunition to the enemies of the law with which to shoot it to pieces. We chose to place the interests of our country above the interests of our party just as we place God and His laws above
the interests of even the Baptist Church. We think that the Baptist who is more loyal to his church than to his God is not much of a Christian. Likewise, we think that the Democrat who is more loyal to his party than to his country is not much of a patriot. Are we wrong, Jack?

As to that Ku Klux scrimmage,
we fight only one battle at a time.
In our politics we do not deal in ancient history. We try to meet issues as they arise—to fight over living issues, not dead ones. The Klan is virtually dead, but the forces of evil are still rampant and are still making a terrible assault on Prohibition and the Eighteenth Amendment. We are not going to enlist under their banner.—Are you?

But say, Jack, you overlooked one little matter. You did not answer our question. You did not state whether you believed a man should take his conscience with him to the ballot box in the November elections or not. We again ask, if a man's conscience is a good thing to use in July, is it not a good thing to use in November also? We are still waiting for an answer.

Senator Wheeler of Montana,
Democrat, has introduced in the Senate a resolution providing for an investigation of Prohibition enforcement, and in speaking of his resolution the other day he declared that there has been a "complete breakdown of prohibition enforcement."
To this charge Senator Sheppard replied that the dry law has been a "gratifying and tremendous success."
The howling and wailing of the wets seem to be having its effect on some of the dries, and Wheeler seems to be falling for their propaganda. Sheppard is right. Every man who lived in a saloon town twenty-five years ago knows that the amount of liquor consumed now is as but a drop in the bucket compared with amount consumed in those days.

Three members of the House of Representatives at Austin have filed charges of official misconduct and misappropriation of funds against Sam H. Terrell, state comptroller.
Investigation of the charges began today. If the House finds the charges to be well founded it will file
articles of impeachment against Terrell in the Senate. If he is guilty of the crimes charged he ought to be driven from office and then sent to the penitentiary. There has been too much unpunished dishonesty in office and unpunished political corruption in this state already. We hope that Terrell may be able to prove his innocence.

Texas led all the states in railroad building in 1928 and 1929 and will lead again in 1930. New mileage built in 1928 was 149.53, in 1929 158.82 and actual and tentative construction for 1930 totals nearly 1,000 miles.

T-Bar

Miss Gladys Williams of Wells
spent Sunday with Miss Jewel Kester of T-Bar.
Mr. Ridal Nichols and Mr. Raymond Moore were T-Bar visitors Sunday.

Miss Florence Perry and Johnnie
Eaton took Sunday dinner with Miss Glynn Craft and Lucille Townzen.
Although the sand was blowing
there was a number attended Sunday school Sunday.

Mr. Thorpe, superintendent of T-Bar High School, took the boys basket ball team to Lamesa to enter the tournament which was held there Friday and Saturday. They sure played a good game with Big-Spring
being defeated by only one point.
Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cunningham and daughter, Maye, were Lubbock visitors Sunday.

Mr. F. M. Townzen and family spent last Sunday with Mr. Robert Townzen.

Brother Duncan filled his regular appointment here Sunday afternoon.

Wells

The Wells boys went to the Lamesa Invitation Basketball tournament Friday February 7th and played. They won over Shumate at 3:30 Friday by 18 to 5. We saw some very good teams and found out that there was more to be learned about basketball. Saturday morning Fluvana won over Wells by 23 to 4 thus eliminating them from the tournament. All of the boys report an enjoyable time while there.

Mr. R. L. Showalter, principal of this schools, brought his wife from Lubbock February 8th where she has been taking treatment for her eye.
Miss Lois Yeatts and Mr. Mac Intregentin were married at Lovin-ton, New Mexico, Monday, February
2nd. They returned to the Carlsbad
Cavern before they came home.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen of this community spent last week end at Big Springs with relatives.

Miss Maye Cunningham gave a party last Friday night which was enjoyed very much.

Monday, February 10th, Miss The-ma Greenwade was with the club girls and gave a few receipts and also gave instructions on how to build chicken coops and also to make pot lifters. We are to have them by next meeting day which will be the 17th.

Wells met T-Bar in a basketball game at T-Bar last Monday and Three Lakes met Wells on the Wells court last Tuesday.

The Junior basketball team went to Tahoka Wednesday of last week and were defeated 20 to 4.

The Wells school received spelling lists Monday.

Mrs. Clovis Pearce spent the past week with kinsfolks here and at O-Donnell. He is working at Lubbock.

BUILT TO OUT-PERFORM

... the vital reason
why BUICK out-
sells every other fine car by 2 to 1

Keep in mind, when you buy your car, that you are buying miles —and that you will get more and better miles in a Buick, as more than 2,400,000 owners have proved.

Buick builds so thoroughly—builds such extra strength and stamina into the Buick Valve-in-Head engine and sealed chassis —that many Buicks, five, ten or fifteen years of age, are still in service... and the speedometers of many of these cars register 100,000 miles and more.

Buick is built to out-perform. This, together with the beauty and comfort of Buick's Bodies by Fisher, explains why America is driving 700,000 more Buicks than any other car in Buick's price class... and why Buick today wins from two to five times as many buyers as any other car priced above $1200.
Come, see Buick's wide range of body types. Then take the wheel! A single drive will convince you that Buick is the big motor car value of the day.

Buick offers 15 body types, priced from $1260 to $2070,
f. o. b. factory. Marquette offers 6 body types, ranging from $990 to $1060. Special equipment extra.

Convenient terms can be arranged on the liberal G. M. A. C. time payment plan. Buick and Marquette delivered prices include only reasonable charges for delivery and financing.
Consider the delivered price as well as the list price when comparing automobile values.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

TOM GETS THE BREAKS

The state democratic executive committee has decreed that Tom Love and any other bolters from the party ticket in 1928—cannot have his name placed on the democratic primary ballot.

And Tom Love, with his customary flare for saying something which will get him in larger headlines, says the action of the committee is illegal and will be so held by the courts.

From the point of view of party welfare, bolting a ticket in a general election is not to be condoned. But it would appear that barring Tom Love will only make the situation much more favorable for him, to the damage of other candidates who will run against him.

Just because the executive committee is holding Love's name off the primary ballot, there will be thousands of voters who will look to the Love standard on general principles—sympathy for Love, disapproval of a policy of not allowing an open ticket, etc.

That's the best thing in the world for Tom and his campaign, and he's going to get more votes than he ever would if his name were on the regular party ballot. And that, of course, is too bad for the democratic gubernatorial situation in Texas.

If Love is wise he'll shut his mouth and keep this matter out of the courts. He's got a cause now. He's a martyr. Back on the ticket, he won't be.

It's our prediction that Tom Love, running as an independent candidate will be elected governor or scare everybody to death and not miss it far.

He's not the man for the job, but that doesn't matter much when political destinies begin shaping up.

Every "break" in the political game is coming Tom's way, and if he doesn't capitalize on them all, he's less of a politician than he's credited with being.—Temple Telegram.

The Telegram may be right, in the main, in the above editorial, especially when it is remembered that with all the bolting of the past ten or twelve years, no other man has ever been refused the right to have his name put on the primary ballot—this includes those who bolted both with Paddy and Butte—not to mention other notables. As to Love's qualifications "for the job" there is certainly room for a difference of opinion. Tom Love served many years ago as Speaker of the House of Representatives at Austin; then as National Democratic Committeeman for Texas, then as State Senator from Dallas, and Wadrow Wilson thought enough of his ability to make Love Assistant Treasurer of the United State under William G. McAdoo.—Rogers News.

PRAYER FOR EDITORS

This is the "invocation" delivered by Rev. T. D. Bateman, of the First Presbyterian Church, Columbus, Miss., at the annual convention of the Mississippi Press Association, held in that city:

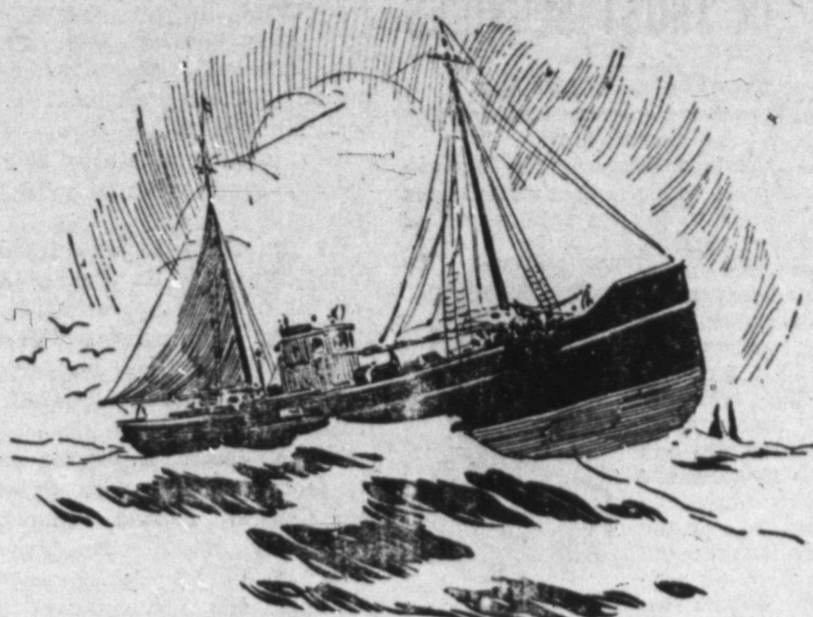

"Eternal God, Our Heavenly Father, we ask thy blessing upon these newspaper people who are wont to communicate with the ends of the earth. They are people who can smell a revolution in China, people who have a license to enter the gates of princes and potentates, but who will have a mighty hard time getting inside the gates of Paradise.

"Have mercy on these people who are tempted by every devil from the printers devil to the devils of newspaper headlines, and these same who are so busy listening to the sounds of wires and the songs of women that oftentimes the voice of God finds no listener among them and no place in their hearts.

"Have mercy, O Lord, upon these people who are chased by the Colonial Dames, W. C. T. U., Kiwanis and Chamber of Commerce. Have mercy on these people who have to hobnob alike with Jew and Gentile, white and black, Democrat and Republican, Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian, and Episcopalian, those who came over on the Mayflower, those who came over in the Cauliflower.

"Have mercy, O Lord, on these

A Fine Fish Product

ARE you fond of fish? Its cooking is an art. The Yale Club in New York City is reported to have one of the finest fish chefs in that metropolis. But in order to make a succulent fish dish you need a good fish product, and it is not so easy to obtain good fish in all parts of the country as in New York.

There's a Reason

This probably accounts for the rapid rise in popularity of a product known as "fish flakes" which is put up in cans in Portland, Me. So popular has it become that the company which cans it has recently enlarged its plant and is now planning to quadruple its output during the coming year. It sells all it can produce, and has never been able to fill all its orders.

The thing which has given this Maine product such a wide distribution has been the great care that has been exercised by the packers in putting up an article that is handled from one end of the process to the other in a most sanitary way. Ground fish such as hake, haddock, cod, cusk and similar varieties are used in this product. The steam trawlers get them on the fishing banks not many miles off the Maine coast, and deliver them at the packing plant soon after they are taken out of the water, and they are processed at once. The plant is in operation twelve months of the year, and a part of the time it runs twenty-four hours a day.

people and help them in their dash from ballroom to church social and back to rum-runners, and who have to associate with anybody from Andy Mellon to Andy Gump. Any of them would walk two miles for a good story.

"Make this a good convention in the Friendly City. It's an easy matter to break into the Commercial Dispatch. But how will some of them break in to the Pearly Gates? We pray Thy blessings upon them. When they have done with newspapers here and stories and their cares are finished here, may they have a finer story for St. Peter than they ever had in newspapers here. And tho it is so hard for newspaper men to get in to the Kingdom, may they receive a warmer welcome in Jerusalem than they do in Columbus today. Amen".

THE HOUSE BY THE SIDE OF THE ROAD

There are hermit souls that live withdrawn
In the peace of their self content;
There are souls, like stars, that dwell apart,
In a fellowless firmament;
There are pioneer souls that blaze their paths,
Where highways never ran—
But let me live by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road,
Where the race of men go by—
The men who are good and the men who are bad,
As good and as bad as I.
I could not sit in the scorners' seat,
Or hurl the cynic's ban;
Let me live in my house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

I see from my house by the side of the road,
By the side of the highway of life,
The men who press with the ardor of hope,
The men who are faint with the strife.

But I turn not away from their smiles nor their tears—
Both are parts of an infinite plan.
Let me live in my house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

I know there are brook-gladdened meadows ahead,
And mountains of wearisome height;
That the road passes on through the long afternoon,
And stretches away to the night.
But still I rejoice when the travelers rejoice
And weep with the strangers that moan;
Nor live in a house by the side of the road
Like a man who dwells alone.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road
Where the race of men go by—
They are good, they are bad, they are weak, they are strong,
Wise, foolish—so am I.
Then why should I sit in the scorners' seat,
Or hurl the cynic's ban.
Let me live in my house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

PHENOMENAL GAIN IN TRUST SERVICES

By JOHN G. LONSDALE
President American Bankers Association

SO phenomenal has been the increase of trust business that statisticians are unable to keep a true record of its advancement. There are now something like 3,500 active trust departments in banks in America, while in 1900 only 165 active trust departments had been established.

John G. Lonsdale

In becoming the custodians of the property of others, bankers assume what has been fittingly described as one of the "most exalted human relationships ever created by law." They become at once a big brother, a big sister, an advisor, or a confessor, sworn to conduct themselves that clients will be won to them by their ability and integrity.

Thousands of little children have received an education and have been started off right in life through the trust department's safe keeping and guidance of the family estate, numberless widows have been protected from merciless stock swindlers, many thousands of business men have been relieved of troublesome details in the conduct of their business through the creation of a living trust and still others have safeguarded their business enterprises through life insurance trusts.

The favorable reaction of the public toward trust department service is not accidental. It may be traced jointly to the growing intelligence of the American people in financial affairs and to advertising to the world at large the merits of trust services. Advertising used in a sensible, judicious way is necessary, a power that has accomplished much good for humanity.

Among the detailed services rendered by a trust department the one that seems to be winning favor the fastest is the life insurance trust. Life insurance is the quickest known way of creating an estate. In reality it affords the possessor the opportunity of setting up a positive monetary safeguard for his family and then paying for it on the installment plan.

A married man is not fair to his family if he fails to carry life insurance. I would say to the young man, "Buy insurance before you buy the ring," and to the young woman I would say, "Marry no man so thoughtless as to scoff at life insurance."

MODERN EDUCATION REVERSES OLD IDEAS

Business Institutes Use the Plan of Getting People to Think Rather Than Merely to Learn

There is one general principle at the basis of all good teaching and it is that a person learns more readily by assimilating the experiences which he himself encounters than in any other way, says Harold Stonier, National Educational Director of the American Institute of Banking. This institute is the educational section of the American Bankers Association through which 35,000 bank men and women are receiving scientific instruction in their chosen business.

"The most advanced people in teaching today are emphasizing the importance of activity on the part of the student," he says. "In the school-room of former days we often heard such phrases as, 'Be still,' 'Learn by heart,' 'Don't do that,' 'What does the book say?' The newer education asks, 'What do you think?' 'What was your reaction to that experiment?' 'What did you discover?' 'What reasons have you for your answer?'"

The New School Calls for Action
"The 'expressing' school is taking the place of the repressing and listening school. The classroom is becoming an open forum, a studio of self-expression, a place of mental growth. The modern concepts of education are personal experimentation, individual investigation, critical discussion and creative self-expression. The pupil really learns only as he is able to assimilate the new meanings of facts and principles with his previous experiences. Activities therefore constitute the pivotal force around which are grouped the new factors in education. The primary responsibility of the teacher is to furnish a constant stream of activities which will afford the stimulating urge to mental growth.

"Education is a process of experiencing, and the program of the institute is so arranged as to give the greatest opportunity to gain by such experience. Through this we develop the art of thinking. Thinking has been described as the ability to handle experience and to bring it to bear on a problem. Effective thinking arises when we are presented with the choice of conduct. Our previous experiences become helpful as we marshal them and bring them to bear upon the matter of our choice."

The students in the American Institute of Banking by reason of the fact that they continue to go on about their employment in banks while taking the banking association's study courses have an opportunity to combine learning with practical thinking and action.

Terrell, Texas.—"I was run-down and nervous, and for several months my health had not been good," says Mrs. Louis Wieland, of this place.

"I was up one day and down the next. I never felt like doing anything."

"I worried all the time, and could not sleep well at night."

"Periodically I would suffer from pains in my back and sides. I would have awful headaches, and would feel dull and dizzy."

"My sister had taken Cardui, and she persuaded me to try it. She said to me one day: 'If you will only try it, you will see for yourself how much good it will do you.' So I got a bottle of Cardui and began to take it. It was not long until I felt fine. I got stronger, and my nerves did not bother me any more."

"The pains stopped coming in my back, and I could do my work without any trouble. I think Cardui is a fine medicine."

WHAT OTHERS THINK

CLASSES OF DEMOCRATS

Mr. Wilcox, in his reply to Senator Love, does not make quite clear the action of the State Democratic Committee, judging from the first news dispatches. The committee, he says, has not barred the so-called Hoovercrats from the ballots in 1930 as candidates in the precincts, counties and districts, but only from the right to contest as Democrats for State offices.

However impolitic may be any act by the committee barring the bolters from contesting for office, this decision becomes ludicrous, and it may be illegal. Both the Attorney General and the courts have held that a party has the right to pass upon the qualifications of its members. Though Mr. Bobbitt takes the view that it cannot prevent the registration on the ballot of candidates who claim to comply with the prescribed qualifications. But Mr. Wilcox and his committee have created, not qualifications for membership in the Democratic party, but classes of Democrats.

Mr. Smith, for example, who voted for President Hoover in 1928 and who desires to stand for County Judge, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, is a Democrat in good standing. But if Mr. Smith aspires to be Governor, or Superintendent of Schools, he will have to run as a Republican, or anything except as a Democrat. Mr. Smith may be elected a Senator from his district, and as a Senator may be asked for his approval of State officials appointed by the Governor, and these in the event of vacancy during the elective term, might well be officers who ordinarily would have to be elected.

It is certainly a well-founded tenet of the Democratic party that a Democrat is a Democrat, whether he is the titular head of the party in the State or a mere public weigher. The decision of the executive committee making a discrimination in the offices which a candidate accepted as a qualified Democratic voter, may seek is the denial of that principle. With all due regard for the committee's desire to welcome the voting Hoovercrats back into the fold as a salutary act for the party, it would have been more dignified and possibly legal also had it barred them from all consideration as Democrats, rather than to attempt a compromise which upon the face of it is absurd and which, on appeal to the courts, may be declared unwarranted.

Senator Love, incidentally, calls the attention of The News to the fact that his position was misrepresented in an editorial statement to the effect that he believes that the committee action was directed against his own candidacy. The Senator points out that he has sought a clean bill of Democratic health for all of the party members who voted for Hoover, or who may at other times have refused to vote for candidates nominated by the primary and that his position is one of principle and not of personal interest.—Dallas News.

felt like bolters ought to be barred not only from the Democratic ticket but denied participation in the councils of the party. We felt that they deserved punishment.

But sober second thought led us to the conclusion that harmony among Democrats was more necessary to the party's future success than punishment of offenders—at least the punishment of excluding them from the party. We arrived at the conclusion that it was better to let them have places on the tickets and in the party councils and then overwhelm them by our votes.

Mr. Love will undoubtedly take the matter into the courts, and the chances are that taking it into the courts will result in permitting both Love and Ferguson's names to go on the ticket.

We are not afraid that either Love or Ferguson will win out in the final count, but the fight which these two young men are going to put up is going to be of a nature that will do the party or the state little good, and will only serve to turn the attention of the people away from worth while issues.

The only salvation of the state is to let Love, Ferguson, Miller and Mayfield fight all they want to and bring out some strong man to beat the whole bunch.—Hillsboro Mirror.

LOCAL CANDIDATES

Chairman D. W. Wilcox of the state democratic executive committee asserts that the resolution barring bolters as candidates "does not apply to candidates for district, county and precinct offices."

Unfortunately for Mr. Wilcox, the language of the resolution does not so state. It is rather general in its terms and does not imply a loophole for county and district and precinct candidates.

It applies, in plain terms, to all bolters now seeking a place on the primary ballot.

Here is the language of the resolution, reciting it to be the sense of the committee that "any present or proposed applicant for certification who voted in the democratic primary in 1928 or participated in any of the primaries or conventions of the democratic party in 1928, and in said primary or convention took the prescribed pledge to support the nominees of the party, and then broke his pledge and bolted the ticket and supported the nominees of another party, that by so doing he forfeited his right to have his name placed on the democratic primary ballot in 1930," and directing that such persons be refused certification.

In Taylor county, at least, all local democratic candidates will be admitted to the primary ballot, it has been announced by County Chairman James P. Stinson, who says he is not in sympathy with the state committee's action in barring the bolter candidates in view of the fact that democrats were urged to enter the primary two years ago without regard to what they intended to do in the general election.

Since Taylor county had more than 4,200 voters who either bolted or went fishing on general election day, compared to only 1,891 who stood hitched and voted for Al Smith the action of the chairman is in keeping with the democratic principle of majority rule.

Incidentally, the resolution is incorrect in stating that the pledge was to support the nominees of the "party." The pledge does not mention party; the word it uses is "primary."—Abilene Morning News.

HOW FORD METHODS CUT COST OF DISTRIBUTION

Lower profits in selling save you at least $50 to $75 in addition to the many savings in manufacturing

TWENTY-SEVEN years ago the Ford Motor Company was formed to provide reliable, economical transportation for all the people. That original purpose has never changed. The constant effort in every activity is to find ways to give you greater and greater value without extra cost—frequently at lowered cost. This applies to distribution and similar important factors, as well as manufacture.

For the Ford Motor Company believes that its full duty is not only to make a good automobile at the lowest possible price, but to see that there is no waste, extravagance, or undue profit in any transaction from the time the car leaves the factory until it is delivered to your home. It is obvious that hard-won savings in production will be of little value if they are sacrificed later through excessive selling costs.

EVERY purchaser of a motor car has the right to know how much of the money he pays is for the car itself and how much is taken up by dealer charges. If these charges are too high, one of two things must happen. Either the price of the car must be raised or the quality lowered. There is no other way. The money must come from somewhere.

In the case of the Ford, the low charges for distribution, selling, financing and accessories mean a direct saving of at least $50 to $75 to every purchaser in addition to the still greater savings made possible by economies in manufacturing. Ford charges are not marked up or increased to cover a high trade-in allowance on a used car.

The profit margin on the Ford car has always been fair to both the dealer and the public. Within the past three months, it has been possible to effect still further economies. Today, the discount or commission of the Ford dealer is the lowest of any automobile dealer. The difference, ranging from 25% to nearly 50%, comes right off the price you pay for the car.

THE business of the Ford dealer is good because he makes a small profit on a large number of sales instead of a large profit on fewer sales. He knows, too, that the extra dollar-for-dollar value of the car makes it easier to sell and more certain to give satisfactory service after purchase.

Consider also that the Ford car is delivered to the purchaser equipped with a Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, an extra steel-spoke wheel, and bright, enduring Rustless Steel for many exterior metal parts, in addition to four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers and fully enclosed four-wheel brakes.

If for any reason you wish to buy certain small accessories, you will find that these, too, are sold at the usual Ford low prices. Replacement parts are also available at low prices through Ford dealers in every section of the country.

THESE are important points to remember in considering the purchase of a motor car. They show why it is possible to put so much extra quality into the new Ford and still maintain the low price. They are also the reasons why more than 35% of all cars sold today are Model A Fords.

H. C. ATEN HAD INTERESTING AND SPECTACULAR CAREER

H. C. Aten, a prominent citizen of the Grassland section, died at his residence Sunday, February 2nd, and was interred in Grassland Cemetery the following day. As evidence of the high esteem in which he was held by his fellowmen, fifty cars of mourners accompanied his remains to the church where a throng were waiting. Highest possible tributes were paid by his pastor, Rev. Gilliam, assisted by his former pastor, Rev. W. C. Hart of O'Donnell, Rev. Shelton of Quanah, and Rev. Reed Garlynn.

Mr. Aten removed to Grassland some fifteen years ago, being one of the earliest settlers in that section. He was essentially a community builder, serving often as a Sunday School superintendent there as at other places before coming to this section. He united with the Methodist Church, South, at the age of twenty and passed to the Great Beyond at the good age of seventy-nine, thus completing fifty-nine years of very active service for his Master. Well does the writer remember hearing him shout over new born souls thirty-five years ago at the wonderful annual camp meetings which were held at Aten's Mill and Gin in Blanco county.

Born January 4th, 1851, in Louisiana, Mr. Aten came with a sister to Texas, as an orphan at the age of ten, settling in the then wild county of Blanco, where he grew to maturity. Several trips were made up-trail with famous herdsmen of that day. Among those with whom he was identified was the famous Captain Charles Schreiner, late of Kerrville. Blanco county was by no means free from depredation of Indians during the early seventies, and Aten had his share of excitement with them. On one occasion he with a companion was out early in the day wrangling cow-ponies, and they were discovered by a band of redskins, who gave chase. The Indian wares of course mounted on grass-fed ponies while the cowboys were riding corn-fed horses, which doubtless accounts for their escape. Having only three shells between them they drew their pistols and rode rapidly into a sheltering thicket, where they worked a clever ruse by yelling in imitation of a larger number of cowboys as best they could. The Indians, thinking they were running into a formidable number of whites, turned and dashed away.

Mr. Aten was married to Miss Ellen Pharr at Blanco City on December 17, 1871. To this union ten children were born, five of whom, with their mother, survive, all being present at his death except Mrs. Annie McLendon of Glendale, Arizona. A daughter, Mrs. Daisy Nixon, and two sons, Henry Jr. and Archie Pharr, reside near Grassland, the eldest son, C. C., residing at O'Donnell.

Much like most characteristic cowboys Aten consistently avoided publicity else quite a volume could be written regarding happenings in Central West Texas during his young manhood.

The best tribute we can pay to his memory is that his life has blessed many.—A Lifelong Friend.

J. W. Ballard of Waco, a friend of the editor in other days, was here Wednesday for the purpose of interesting farmers in the Russell cotton seed. Mr. Ballard expressed himself in the strongest terms possible to the effect that the continued planting of half-and-half cotton will mean disaster to the farmers who plant it. He says that in many places in East Texas last year there was no market at all for this character of cotton and he doesn't understand why there was a market for it on the plains.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Lee and their daughter, Miss Mabel, were called to Stephenville last Thursday by the death of an uncle of Mrs. Lee, J. R. Preston. Mr. Preston was about sixty-six years of age and had lived at Stephenville for many years. He was active in Church and Sunday school work, and the funeral was conducted Saturday from the Baptist Church, of which he was a devoted member. Mr. Lee and family returned to Tahoka Monday night.

Henry Disheroon, who lives on the A. W. White farm in the South Ward community, was in town Wednesday reporting that some person had stolen a set of double-trees from his plow the night before. ### Health Again—All Thanks To Famed Konjola

Stomach Ailment Of Seven Years Standing Quickly Yields to Power Of New Medicine

MRS. MARY BRANDON

"For seven years I was the helpless victim of stomach trouble of the worst sort," said Mrs. Mary Brandon, 5889 Maffit street, St. Louis. "It did not matter what I ate, belching and often vomiting spells followed the simplest meal. The gas so pressed against my heart that I became short of breath and faint. Sour hot liquids soared my throat until the heart burn was often frightful. I grew weak and lost weight and strength. No medicine I tried helped me."

"Day by day and week by week after I began with Konjola, my system improved. The gas no longer forms in my stomach now and the bloated sensation has passed. I have an excellent appetite and can eat a hearty meal without the least discomfort. The pains of heart burn are a thing of the past. I have gained weight and energy and friends remark upon the change in my appearance. I can never express my gratitude for the relief which this great medicine brought me."

Konjola is sold in Tahoka at the Tahoka Drug Co., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

NEATNESS

There is nothing that will add more to the beauty and the neat appearance of your home than a coat of paint on the outside or fresh paper on the walls and ceiling inside. At little expense you can so wonderfully enhance the beauty of your residence as to make you feel a new pride in it.

We have a complete line of paints, papers and varnishes.

LONGER STAPLE COTTON IS BEING INTRODUCED

LAMESA, Feb. 12.—Believing that there is a greater demand for a longer staple cotton instead of the half and half type now being grown on the Lower South Plains a number of prominent farmers, backed by two Dawson county gins have started a movement here to banish the half and half staple and plant a better grade of long staple cotton in this section. One carload of seed has been ordered by one of the gins for distribution among the farmers of this section for their planting this year, while the Farm Bureau here is urging all of its members to plant the longer staple.

The agricultural department of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce is one of the sponsors of the move and County Agent W. W. Evans is also listed as a supporter. Better marketing prices for the annual cotton crop is one of the inducements being cited by those interested in the change.

RUPTURE EXPERT HERE

C. F. Redlich, Minneapolis, Minn., nationally famous Rupture Appliance Expert, will demonstrate without charge his unequalled method at Lubbock SUNDAY AND MONDAY FEBRUARY 23RD AND 24TH At the Lubbock Hotel from 10 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Mr. C. F. Redlich says: The "Perfect Retention Shields" hold the rupture perfectly, no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief and contract the opening in a remarkably short time. The secret of their success is in their simplicity. An expertly adjusted device seals the opening without discomfort or detention from work. It is practically everlasting sanitary, comfortable and actually holds ruptures which heretofore were considered untractable.

"IF YOU WANT TO HAVE IT DONE RIGHT—SEE REDLICH." Doctor J. W. Seaver, for many years in charge of the Physical Education of the students of Yale College, has recorded 75 per cent cures with this system.

Mr. Redlich is internationally known and speaks English, German and Spanish.

NO "PEP," SLUGGISH

Constipation Troubles Relieved By Help of Thedford's Black-Draught, Says Tennessee Coal Miner.

Tracy City, Tenn.—"My work makes it necessary for me to use a medicine which will give quick relief from constipation and indigestion," says Mr. Lee Nunley, a well-known coal miner of this place.

"For forty years or more," he says, "I have taken Black-Draught for these troubles, and have always found it reliable. At times, I suffer from bad spells of indigestion, following constipation.

"Many years ago, a friend told me to try Black-Draught, as it was a vegetable remedy and would not harm my body, so that is how I came to use it. I make a tea of it, and take a sip of it after meals. I soon begin to feel better when I start this treatment.

"My work is very confining, and my color gets bad and I get sluggish. I lose my 'pep' and don't feel like going. After I take a course of Black-Draught I feel fine again."

Manufacture of Thedford's Black-Draught began nearly 100 years ago, and many people tell of having taken it all their lives when in need of a laxative or cathartic.

Love Aims Views On Barring Of Bolters

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 2.—Thomas B. Love Sunday gave out the following statement:

I am called upon by numerous persons for an expression of my views relative to the effect of the State executive committee's action Saturday.

1. It barred from participation in the Democratic primary as candidates all the hundreds of thousands of Texas Democrats who, in 1928, voted for all the Democratic nominees except Al Smith and for the Hoover electors.

2. It very carefully refused to bar the hundreds of thousands of Democrats, including Lieut. Gov. Barry Miller, who bolted the Democratic nominee in years prior to 1928 and since 1920. I urged the committee to take this action. I did not want them to make a martyr of our Lieutenant Governor bolter though he be.

"May Have to Back Ferguson"

3. The committee barred, as candidates, all Democrats unwilling to specially and doubly pledge themselves to vote for James E. Ferguson if nominated for Governor in 1930. It was specially provided that no candidate should be allowed to run who would not bind himself in writing to violate his conscience, if necessary, in order to support a Democratic nominee.

4. The committee very carefully refused to bar James E. Ferguson himself or any Democrat who voted for him as the American party candidate for President against the Democratic nominee in 1920, when he denounced all Democrats as "skunks and jackasses" or who, along with him, bolted the Democratic nominee for United States Senator in 1922 and made speeches for the Republican nominee.

Raises Negro Question

5. The committee was called together to put into effect the statute we passed in 1927, upon the recommendation of Gov. Dan Moody, for the sole purpose of barring negroes from Democratic primaries, which can not be done in any other way under the decision of the United States Supreme Court, yet the committee barred nobody except the white men and women who voted against Al Smith, and those unwilling to pledge themselves to violate their conscience in 1930, and, having done this, the committee deliberately invited every negro in Texas who is a qualified voter to participate in the Democratic primary, using the following language:

"Resolved, That this committee hereby extends an invitation to all qualified voters, regardless of previous political views, or affiliations, to enter and participate as voters in its nominating primaries and conventions, who are willing and do take the statutory pledge."

Thus, for the first time, our Texas Democratic primaries are thrown wide open to negroes under the operation of a statute passed solely for the purpose of enabling the State committee to bar negroes.

Delegation Present

A delegation of Al Smith negroes composed of Oliver Johnson, C. A. Booker, Dr. C. E. Craven and others attended the meeting to urge this action. Press reports state that these negroes "were not heard". Nevertheless, they took home the bacon without being heard. Goosenek Bill McDonald knew what he was doing when he was making speeches over the radio in 1928 urging the negroes of Texas to vote for Al Smith.

I am asked "How was this thing done?" How could it be accomplished in a free country, and especially in the face of an unanswerable opinion of the Attorney General of the State that it was in the very teeth of the law? The answer is easy. There are thirty-one members of the State executive committee, one from each senatorial district. These Tammany "ripper" measures were adopted by a vote of 21 to 9, only thirty members voting. Among the twenty-one were nine members from senatorial districts in which a majority of voters voted for Hoover against Al Smith, while voting all the remainder of the Democratic ticket 'n 1928. If these nine members had voted on yesterday as the people they represented voted in 1928, all the measures adopted would have been defeated by a vote of 18 to 12.

CARD OF THANKS

For the sympathy and loving kindness shown us, every service offered or rendered and for the beautiful floral offerings during the recent illness and death of our dearly beloved husband and father, we desire to express our deepest gratitude.

MRS. A. P. CONWAY
WALTER CONWAY

Apartment houses built in 1925 housed 190,282 families.

These nine committee men who voted to bar a majority of their constituents from running for office in the Democratic primaries this year, are Maury Hughes of Dallas, Steve Pinckney of Houston, J. Lee Gammon of Waxahachie, R. T. Lipscomb of Bonham, Winbourne Pierce of Temple, J. T. Ranspott of Mineral Wells, Russell Callan of Menard, Clinton C. Brown of San Antonio and C. C. Belcher of Del Rio.

I have just begun to fight. From an intensive study of the election laws of Texas, covering the last thirty years, I am prepared to say that the action of the State Committee, barring the Anti-Tammany Democrats is undoubtedly void, and will be so held by the courts. I am going to take such steps as will submit the question to our courts of last resort with the least possible delay, and there is ample time for that purpose. Whatever the Legislature may do with Senate Bill No. 16, which I have introduced, giving the Supreme Court and the Courts of Civil Appeals original jurisdiction in such cases.

Says Wilcox for Bill

Chairman Wilcox assures me that he favors the passage of this bill and is willing to co-operate in all proper ways to expedite the final decision of the question involved by the Supreme Courts of Texas.

The courts will undoubtedly restore to the Democratic voters of Texas the control of their own affairs, and the right to vote for whomever they please, in Democratic primaries, which they have heretofore enjoyed since Texas was a Republic. They may be depended upon to prevent the reduction of the Democratic party in Texas to that portion of the Al Smith minority vote of 1928, who are willing to agree in writing to abdicate their conscience in 1930.

Texas has 1,170 hotels with 79,410 rooms employing 27,230 persons and representing an investment of $213,544,000.

Texas reported 116,759 births in 1928.

May God's richest blessings rest on each one of you.

Is the gasoline you use as advanced as the car you drive?

No matter what price you pay for a car today, you get a car that climaxes all past achievements of the maker—a car built to new high standards of beauty and performance. But remember this. Unless the gasoline you use is as advanced as the car you drive, your car can give only a fraction of the performance the maker built into it. Gasoline, too, can be "out-of-date."

One gasoline—Phillips 66—has kept pace with the striking progress in motor car manufacture. It is perfectly geared to the requirements of the modern high-speed, high-compression motor.

Its volatility is scientifically controlled to fit season and climate. Results? Quick starting, regardless of weather! Flashy pick-up. Able-bodied power. Long mileage. Year 'round sweet performance. Fill up with Phillips 66, or Phillips 66 Ethyl.

WHEN THE THERMOMETER GOES DOWN THE VOLATILITY GOES UP
Gasoline must vaporize before it can be fired in the cylinders of your motor. Volatility refers to the ability of gasoline to vaporize. With volatility controlled, Phillips 66 vaporizes as quickly in cold as in warm weather.
