C. OF C. PLANS ACTIVE YEAR

Make Arrangements To Entertain County Judges; Announce Committees For Year

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night, it was decided to make arrangements with Miss Greenwade and the home demonstration clubs of the county to provide dinner for visitors to the convention of West Texas county judges and commissioners to be held here April 27th and 28th. Dinner is to be provided for one day only, probably the first day. It is expected that there will be at least 200 visitors here at that time, and probably more. The committee in charge will ask the people of Tahoka to throw their homes open to the visitors at night, to furnish sleeping quarters, as it is not contemplated that the hotels will be able to take care of all the visitors. Not only are many county judges and commissioners expected but representatives of many implement houses are also expected to be present, and it is felt that numbers of state and district candidates may be here to mingle with the boys.

At a meeting Tuesday night the directors also decided to again sponsor a trip to the big annual dairy show to be held in Plainview on April 7-10. This will entail no expense to the chamber of commerce, but members will be urged to attend and furnish convalesce for as many farmers as possible. Many Lynn county people attended this show last year and the county is still reaping the benefit of it, in the opinion of C. C. Williams, the secretary.

Mr. Williams was re-elected secretary for the ensuing year at a previous meeting of the board. It was announced Tuesday night that subscriptions to the budget for the current year amount to $3,450.00, with a few to be seen yet. This is a smaller sum than was raised last year, but the board of directors feel that it is sufficient to put over a splendid program nevertheless, as they did not contemplate that the expenses will be as heavy as last year.

Action was also taken Tuesday night by which the board of directors agree to finance the fair to be held again this fall. Better contracts with amusement companies have been made and it is estimated that a considerably smaller sum than last year will be required.

Mr. Taylor White, President of the Chamber of Commerce, announced

Bulmar Candidate For Sheriff Of Co.

J. H. Bulmar dropped in Monday and requested us to place his name in our announcement column as a candidate for sheriff.

Mr. Bulmar says that since it is generally conceded that the office of sheriff and tax collector will be separated immediately after the taking of the census, which will be done in April, he wishes to announce for the office of sheriff only. He promises, if elected, to devote his very best energies and efforts to the enforcement of the laws. He has always stood and voted for what he conceived to be the best in politics and in morals and believes in a clean county.

Mr. Bulmar has been a resident of this county for ten years, having been engaged most of this time in farming. During the past year he served as deputy sheriff and thus gained some valuable experience in the work of the office. He was born and reared in Hamilton county but left there in 1915, removing to Dickens county. From Dickens county he moved to Lynn county ten years ago. During all this time he has been a good and highly respected citizen and enjoys the esteem and confidence of a large circle of friends. He respectfully asks that you give his candidacy your most earnest consideration and will appreciate your support at the polls.

"Jimmy's Wives" was given for a second time in Tahoka at the High School building on Thursday night of last week for the benefit of the American Legion. There was a good attendance considering the circumstances, and a neat little sum of money was realized from the performance.

Tahoka Left Out By School Inspector

Miss Margaret Cotham of the State Department of Education was reported to have registered at the local hotel for one or two nights last week while visiting in this part of the state. She was also reported to have stated that Tahoka High School is one of the schools on her list that she could "leave out." If the local school is to be left off the list this year for visits it simply means that the Department of Education feels that the work here is of such nature as not to require close supervision. If we interpret the circumstances correctly, the local high school has received another compliment from Austin.

BEGIN REVIVAL NEXT SUNDAY

Presbyterian Meeting Will Be Conducted by Rev. W. M. Elliott From Colorado Church

Revival services announced as heretofore begin at the Presbyterian Church on the third Sunday, March 16th. Rev. R. P. Kelly of Seminole will likely bring the opening services Sunday night. On Monday Rev. W. M. Elliott, D. D. of Colorado, Texas, arrives and will preach twice a day all week. He is glad to come to Tahoka and will bring a fine Gospel message in every service. You are invited. Come bring others and speak a good word for every service. Help in song and prayer and work. Let us show Dr. Elliott our big Tahoka spirit of mutual helpfulness and cooperation in every good work. Services every night at usual Church hour. Day services announced later. Other pastors and their people are most earnestly invited to enjoy the meeting with us. We will especially appreciate the help of all those who sing to come up and help in the song service. Tahoka Takes Sixth Place in Track Meet

There were twenty-seven of the fastest track teams on the South Plains participating in the Annual Snyder Track and Field Meet last Saturday, over three hundred athletes entering in the preliminaries. After the preliminaries there were left only fourteen teams in the race. Tahoka was one of the fourteen. There was stiff competition in all events. After all points had been counted Tahoka held sixth place in the race, Lubbock, Colorado, Slaton, Snyder and Roscoe coming out ahead of her.

The following are the boys that won points for Tahoka: Jack Minor, 5, Baird Fox, 3, Earle Grider, 2, and Clifton Janak 1. Eastridge looked good in running the 440, making the run in one minute and thirteen seconds. Stevens also looked good in the pole vaulting, going over the cross bar at 10 feet, 4 inches.

The boys are looking forward to testing their strength here against Post and O'Donnell Friday. This meet being on in preparation for the County Meet, March 21st.

White Selects Stock Judging Contestants

Taylor White, teacher of Vocational Agriculture, has completed a difficult schedule for his classes and has made the following selections for his teams: Dairy Team: Boswell Edwards, Jess Gurley, Earl Grider; Livestock Team: Graham George, Earl George, Edward Welch; Poultry Judging Team: Clifton Janak, Raymond Jackson, Dayton Short; Grain Judging Team: Dewey Curry, Maurice Cowan, Burnett Phillips; Shop Work: Newton Smith, Curtis Stevens, Frank Greathouse. These men will represent Tahoka at the contests in Lubbock on March 24th.

J. V. DYER DIED LAST FRIDAY

Was 78 Years Old; Had Lived in Lynn County For Over Twenty-Five Years

A remarkable tribute was paid to the memory of J. V. Dyer last Sunday afternoon when his friends and his neighbors filled the Methodist church to overflowing as they gathered at 4 o'clock to attend the funeral of this old pioneer of Tahoka and Lynn County.

He died in a sanitarium at Lubbock on Friday night of last week, having been taken to the sanitarium almost a week earlier suffering from pneumonia. The remains were prepared by Harris & Applewhite, undertakers, for burial, and the funeral was conducted from the Methodist Church Sunday afternoon. Rev. R. T. Breedlove, pastor of the Church, officiated, assisted by Rev. M. C. Bishop, pastor of the Baptist Church at Post. Both ministers paid glowing tributes to the character of the deceased. Rev. Breedlove stated that never at any time had he ever heard a single individual say anything evil of deceased. A hundred times over

JOHN THOMAS ANNOUNCES FOR HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Literary Eliminations Being Held Tonight

Eliminations in declamations, tiny-tot story telling and extemporaneous speaking will be held in the high school auditorium Thursday night of this week. Out-of-the-county judges have been secured for these elimination contests.

McManis Believes In Diversification

E. E. McManis, who resides out in the Lakeview community, dropped in Monday to renew his subscription, and while he was here we gathered from him the information that he is a great believer in diversified farming. He plants only half of his farm in cotton each year, the remainder being devoted to feed of various kinds. As a result he usually has plenty of feed on hand when other farmers have it to buy. Last year he made all his living expenses and paid two insurance policy premiums from the income which he derived from the sale of dairy and poultry products. The $900.00 which he realized from his cotton crop was a clean surplus. "I wouldn't even try to farm without keeping chickens and cows," Mr. McManis said to the newsman. Lynn county needs more farmers of his type.

EUZELIAN CLASS TO GIVE ST. PATRICK'S TEA TODAY

The Euzelian Class of the Baptist Sunday School will give a St. Patrick's Tea and Program at the home of Mrs. W. M. Harris from 6 to 9 this evening. Plates will be sold for 25 cents each. The proceeds are to be added to the Church Building Fund being collected by this class. Hence, everybody is cordially and even earnestly invited to attend. A pleasing program is promised.

INFANT TWINS BURIED HERE MONDAY AFTERNOON

Twins born to Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Snider Sunday died about eleven hours later and were buried in the City Cemetery here Monday. Rev. W. K. Horn officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Snider reside on the John Donaldson farm several miles southeast of Tahoka.

HULL ACCEPTS TAHOKA'S CALL

New Baptist Pastor Is One Of Central Texas' Outstanding Preachers; Coming Soon

Members of the Baptist Church here were delighted Wednesday when a message came from Rev. O. Hull of Gatesville advising that he had decided to accept the call to the pastorate of the Church here. He stated that he would be here soon, and it is the belief of local Baptists that he will be on the field ready to begin his work within a week or ten days.

Rev. Mr. Hull has made two visits to Tahoka heretofore. Following his first visit the call was extended him. Then he came out a little later to look over the field and confer with the membership. He declined at that time, however, to give a definite answer. Members of the local church have been so earnest and persistent in their efforts to prevail on him to accept that he finally became convinced that it was the right thing to do and yielded.

Rev. Mr. Hull has been pastor at Gatesville for seven years. When he

Turner Murder Case Draws Big Interest

The Sanarillo Cafe Re-opened This Week

The Sanarillo Cafe, closed two or three months ago, has been re-opened this week by Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Gaines, who have been with the City Cafe for the past three months. Mrs. Gaines has charge of the front end, while Mr. Gaines is acting as manager and chef.

Both are experienced cafe people, having been in the business at Dallas for eight years and at Lubbock a year.

FIRE BURNS 2, NARROWESCAPE

Mrs. Dollins In Attempt To Rescue Baby Comes Near Being Fatally Burned By Fire

Mrs. B. C. Dollins and her two year old baby were severely though not seriously burned in a narrow escape from death when their home caught fire last Friday afternoon. Firemen arrived on the scene in time to extinguish the blaze and save the house from destruction. How the fire started is not known.

Mrs. Dollins had been out of the house for some time and had left the baby on the bed in a back bedroom. On her return, she found a fire had started in a closet under the bed, and in her frantic search for the child Mrs. Dollins ran through the fire several times badly burning her arms and body. Finally locating the child, almost suffocated, she had to run back through the flames and the baby's face was painfully burned. Both now are recovering nicely.

Neighbors turned in the fire alarm, and moved out a large majority of the furniture. The house will be repaired, Mr. Dollins says.

New Owners Of The Index Visit Tahoka

W. H. Ritzenthaler, the new business manager of the O'Donnell Index, was a visitor in Tahoka last Friday morning, making acquaintances and friends in our town. He spoke in the most complimentary terms of our little city, and as this was his first visit to Tahoka he was agreeably surprised at its attractiveness. On Monday O. D. Carter, the new editor, and R. E. Higgs, who assists in the shop, were Tahoka visitors. Mr. Carter had been here before and had learned to like the town already. Of course both Carter and Ritzenthaler are also in love with their recently adopted town, O'Donnell.

These young men are energetic, capable, and ambitious newspaper men and we predict that they will soon make the Index one of the best weekly papers in all this section. We are glad to have them as neighbors.

To Present One-Act Plays Friday Night

Four one-act plays are to be presented Friday night in the high school auditorium. The proceeds of these plays are to be applied to small debts incurred for equipment for Interscholastic League work in the schools. The names of the plays are as follows: "O Death Where is Thy Sting?", "On the Park Bench," "Not Quite Such a Goose," "The Last of the Joneses." The first is the play that will be used in the Interscholastic League Contest. Those who are taking part in all these plays are as follows: Reta Lois Colleenback, Russell Keltner, Mabel Lee, Walter Conway, Helen Applewhite, Billie Anderson, Evelyn Wells, Jack Alley Robinson, Fern Aycox, Norville Redwine, Robert Benson, Evelyn Jeffries, Jim Jackson, Mayfair Woosley, Mary Fenton, Lucille Slaton, Lola Belle Edwards, Lorene Childers, Jaurine Edwards, Coughran Ketter, Clifton Janak, and Jack Minor.

Mr. and Mrs. Lum Haney made a trip to Carbon Tuesday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Haney's mother, Mrs. Stone, who had been visiting her daughter here.

CASE NOW IN HANDS OF JURY

Mrs. Mollie Turner, 69, charged With Killing Husband In 1923 On Trial This Week

The Turner murder case, which has been on trial here since Monday, went to the jury early this afternoon. Evidence in the case closed at ten o'clock Wednesday night. Judge Fritz R. Smith, presiding, then adjourned court till ten o'clock his morning in order to have time to prepare his charge. Following the reading of his charge to the jury, County Attorney G. H. Nelson opened the argument on behalf of the State, he was followed by W. W. Campbell and J. E. Vickers for the defense, and District Attorney T. L. Rice closed for the State.

This trial has attracted more attention than any case tried here for several years. Ever since it went to trial Monday every seat in the main auditorium and in the galleries has been occupied and most of the time standing room has been at a premium. The doorways and aisles have been crowded and at times every inch of available space inside the bar has been jammed with eager listeners. The audience has been remarkably restrained and well-behaved, however, Judge Smith having found it necessary to call for order only a few times.

The defendant, Mrs. Mollie Turner, 59, is on trial charged with the murder of her husband, M. B. Turner at their home near Wilson on October 8th, 1920. She and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Esther Turner were jointly indicted for murder soon after the homicide. The evidence was regarded as insufficient, however, to convict and this indictment was finally dismissed while Judge A. W. Gibson was district attorney in 1926. Mrs. Esther Turner obtained a divorce from her husband, John Turner, during the same year, and in 1928 upon her evidence a new indictment was returned against Mrs. Mollie Turner, wife of the deceased. Mrs. Turner was tried at the October term of the court in 1928, found guilty,

Tom Brewer Is Out For Tax Collector

L. T. (Tom) Brewer, prominent citizen of the Joe Bailey community, has requested that we say that he is a candidate for tax collector of Lynn county. His name will appear in the candidate column next week.

Mr. Brewer has been a resident of the county so long that he says he feels like an old timer himself.

Mr. Brewer is a native of Johnson county, having been born in that county forty-one years ago. After reaching his maturity he served in various clerical capacities, acting for five years as the private secretary of J. J. Perkins, noted oil man and capitalist of Wichita Falls. Altogether he has had seven or eight years experience in clerical work. Since removing to Lynn county he has been engaged in farming in the Joe Bailey community. From the very start he has taken an active part in all public affairs. He served one term on the county board of trustees for Lynn county. Then he was elected a member of the board of trustees for his own district at Joe Bailey. He has also served the past two years as one of the directors of the Lynn County Fair. He is a public spirited citizen and stands for every movement calculated to build up the country and the town.

Mr. Brewer is a married man, and has four children, a son and three small daughters. This is the first time he has ever offered for office. He is doubtless well qualified for the position to which he aspires. He is one of Lynn county's most progressive citizens, and his many friends say that he would make an ideal county official. We respectfully ask that his candidacy be given the most careful consideration.

OPINIONS

(By R. T. Braddock)

Sane, sensible far-seeing propositions regarding crime these days is refreshing, and sometimes rare. A district judge at San Marcos the other day came out with some startling facts and some splendid recommendations. He said that in one large Texas city there were 194 delinquent girls between the ages of 12 and 17 returned to their homes by probation officers, fifty-eight of them having gone to that city from other towns. In the same city in one month 23 girls had left home for a "career of crime," and in the same period 69 young women had charges preferred against them. (And the writer doubts that a single private citizen had to bail an offender into doing his duty.) This good Texas judge knew where the trouble lay. He did not place the blame on prohibition, modernism, short skirts, bootleggers or this, that and the other. He knew that the modern home has broken down, that mothers are no longer rearing their children, having turned that maternal function over to the schools and churches while they play bridge or some other thing. The remedy the Texas judge offers is simple, direct, sensible. Ministers are urged to get more boys and girls in Sunday school. I wonder how under heaven the preachers can get them there unless the cooperation of the parents is given. Perhaps the greatest hindrance to church work to-day is useless parents, who by their carelessness regarding the moral training of their children are doing more to damn them than all the bootleggers and crime waves in creation.

The San Marcos Judge urges that more Boy Scouts be trained. Out of more than a million Boy Scouts in this country, not one has ever been convicted of a felony. Boys get something that makes manhood when they are trained as Scouts. Fifty-nine and one half per cent of the football captains of the country and sixty-one per cent of all the Rhodes scholars were trained as Scouts. It is a pity, in the light of the foregoing facts that all of the boys of the country can not be trained in the fundamental principles of sportsmanship and manhood. It is tragic that every girl in this land cannot have the principles of real womanhood instilled into her youth by the Camp Fire Girls organization. If we had the right sort of women in this land, we'd soon have the right sort of girls. Evil effects follow evil

There is considerable complaint about the high cost of living, the high cost of education. We complain about the demands made by the public schools. Yes, and there's the "high cost of religion." We forget that we put about a billion dollars into education, and about ten to thirteen billion dollars into the prevention and the punishment of crime. And yet we resent it when Europe calls us barbarians. If we had good judgment as a people we surely would find a way to put more money into training than into destruction. If we were sensible we would find a way to put more into educating our boys than to hanging and electrocuting them, along with imprisonment. It is a reflection on the intelligence of a people to spend more than ten times as much for crime as for education.

MAY THE BOARD HAVE BETTER LUCK

Cotton acreage reduction campaigns have always resulted in an increased planting. Now comes the Farm Board with a suggestion that it will look with disfavor on a large acreage of cotton in 1936. This means that the Board will not exert itself very much to keep prices up if Southern farmers deliberately create a surplus. Perhaps with the suggestion that a range of at least 500,000 acres will have some effect. If it doesn't, and the season is favorable, low prices for cotton will be with us in the fall of this year.

Again we suggest to farmers who plant cotton this year that they select the soil best suited to the crop; plant good seed, and with a less acreage, give it the best of attention with a view of picking more per acre of a quality and staple that will be in demand. Acreage left over can well be planted to feed and food stuffs and turned into pasture. The world is fed up on staple under 7-8 inch. The demand for 1-inch cotton and above is increasing. The South can grow it if our farmers will plant the seed.—Eggers (Bell County) News.

TURNER MURDER CASE GOES TO JURY TODAY

and her punishment assessed at 20 years in the penitentiary. This judgment was reversed by the Court of Criminal Appeals, however, and the case came on for trial again this week.

The two star witnesses in the trial have been Mrs. Esther Turner for the State and the defendant herself, Mrs. Mollie Turner. The testimony of the one has been absolutely contradictory of the other on every circumstance and detail of the killing.

Mrs. Esther Turner testified that a few days prior to the homicide, M. B. Turner, deceased, and defendant, Mollie Turner, his wife, went to Amarillo, where Sam Gilbert, a son-in-law was in trouble. Mrs. Turner returned home a day or two later and told her about the trouble. Turner was proposing to sell the farm in order to raise money to help Gilbert out, and defendant told witness that "she would kill him if he did sell the farm." On the day of the homicide, they saw Turner coming on foot and saw a car pick him up. Mrs. Turner said she guessed it was Joe Gilbert and if so she would kill them both and she locked all the doors to the house. Upon reaching the gate in front of the house Turner and two other men got out of the car, went around to the windmill and got a bucket of water, and filled the radiator of the car, and the two men drove on. Turner came to the front door, found it locked, and sat down on the steps. He then got up and came to another door and asked Mrs. Turner if she was not going to let him in. She answered emphatically that she would not. Mr. Turner then went to the lot, got a bridle and started to put it on a horse. Mrs. Turner went out the door saying she was going to kill him and she said to Turner "I will shoot you if you bridle that horse." She was about ten feet from him with a pistol in her hand. She fired one shot and Mr. Turner ran through the lot, climbed two fences, went around the lot and came back towards us, opened his shirt and exclaimed, "Oh Mollie, look what you have done!" She replied, "Yes, you will shoot you again." He then ran out into the road, where he afterwards died. Mrs. Turner then took the bridle off the horse, broke in the back door with an axe, put bluing on her hand to make it appear as if it had been powder-burned, and told me to tell that Turner had been killed accidentally in a scuffle over the gun; said she would kill me if I didn't. She took the pistol and a shot-gun and I carried the baby and we went up into the field where the boys were heading maize and told the boys about the killing. The guns were hid under the maize in the wagon, and they all got on the wagon and started toward the house, stopping near the dead body in the road, where several men had gathered. Later they went on to the house and the boys hid the guns under the barn, and John cut some blood off the fence with a pocket knife. She testified that Mrs. Turner had frequently cursed her husband and on one occasion had threatened to kill him, but she and the boys had protested.

Mrs. Turner, the defendant, took the stand Wednesday afternoon and denied practically every statement which her former daughter-in-law had made on the witness stand, and told an entirely different story. She claimed that Turner had come home cursing and threatening to kill her. He first asked who was there, and upon being told, asked where the boys were. She told him they were up in the field. He said he was going to kill her and Esther and then go up in the field and kill the boys, that he was going to make a clean sweep of it. When she refused to let him in he got an axe and broke in the kitchen door. When he came in he engaged Mrs. Esther Turner in a scuffle and defendant went out of the house and started out to the barn. He followed her with a pistol in his hand. Esther also came out. A scuffle ensued over the pistol, in which all three of them were involved, and the pistol was accidentally discharged inflicting the wound from which Turner died later. She testified that Esther then hid the pistol under the barn and then went into the house, got the shot-gun, and hid it in the same place. She testified that Turner had often cursed and abused her, knocked her down, and threatened to kill her, but that the killing of Turner was purely accidental.

She also testified to occurrences at the home of her son-in-law, Sam Gilbert in Amarillo, a few days prior to the killing, contradicting the statements of Joe Gilbert and others as to what happened there; claiming that her husband and Joe and Ray Gilbert came to the Sam Gilbert home at midnight, drunk, and that her husband threatened that night to kill her, and that it was on account of his conduct and threats that she determined to come on back home, leaving him there.

A number of other witnesses were used by the State, both as to pertinent facts connected with the killing and as to the character of deceased and the reputation of the State's chief witness, Esther Turner, for truth and veracity.

It is possible that the jury will bring in a verdict this afternoon or tonight.

Judge Fritz R. Smith of Snyder is sitting on the trial of this case, Judge McGuire being disqualified by reason of the fact that he was district attorney here at the time of the homicide and represented the State in the investigation of the case at the time.

W. F. CRABTREE OF DRAW DIED TUESDAY AT LUBBOCK

W. F. Crabtree, age 62 years, 7 months and 5 days, of Draw, died Tuesday, March 4th in a Lubbock Sanitarium, from a sudden complication of diseases. HOOVER TO VISIT MEXICO
Washington—President Hoover, it is expected, will make a trip to Mexico sometime in the autumn.

The Lower Rio Grande Valley alone will support a population of 2,000,000 persons when all its resources are fully developed, according to Walter E. Dickerson.

Rumor has it that representative Rountree of Lamesa, will not make the race for re-election this year, and we understand that Tahoka is thinking of grooming one of her sons for the office. Maybe Brownfield has some available timber.—Terry County Herald.

PROVINCIALISM

When Governor Moody was asked his views on Prohibition by a New York newspaper last week he answered in language that those New Yorkers should have no trouble in understanding, and then he proceeded to lecture New York a bit on its provincialism. He suggested that if New Yorkers would get out and learn something about this great expansive country of theirs—the virile and growing nation of 120 millions of people—they would soon find out that they are not the whole cheese by a long shot, or words to that effect. He chided them for measuring the temper of the whole country by the New York yardstick, so to speak. This disposition on the part of New York to feel that it is just about all there is to this country that amounts to anything is one reason why the rest of the country, especially the West and the South has so little love for New York.

But New York is not the sole offender in this respect. It was not long ago that a Pennsylvania lobbyist, who has since become a United States Senator, stated that he did not think that the backward states—
meaning the states south of the Ohio and west of the Mississippi—should have anything to say when it comes to the great question of fixing tarriff rates. He evidently feels that there is not much to this country,
except the factories of the Northeast.

Just last week Texas was amazed
to learn that Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States for almost eight years, knew practically nothing about the Alamo. As he stood beside the walls of this historic structure, he is said to have asked, incidentally, "And what was the Alamo built for?" Even Calvin Coolidge seems to know little of the history of Spanish Missions in the Southeast and of the heroic sacrifices that made the Alamo one of the immortal shrines of all history.

Possibly, we people of the rural portions of this country know less about the history, the habits and the customs of the peoples of other sections than we should know, but certainly the most provincial people of all this broad country are those who live along the Atlantic seaboard and in the population centers of the Northeast.

Vice-President Marshall once privately remarked that what the country needs is a good five or six cigars. What New York and the Northeast needs, it seems to me, is a little hike to the country.

WHEN THE CRIME WAVE WAVED

When leaders in their frantic efforts to discredit Prohibition, have been ascribing about all the devilment that has been going on in this country to Prohibition. In the temporary which they recently presented to a Congressional committee,
they blamed Prohibition for the rackeering, murdering and general lawlessness that has been running riot in a few of our cities. They say that Prohibition is to blame for all this carnivale of crime.

Well, let's turn back the pages of history a few years and take a look.
We have before us some pages from the Literary Digest of its issue of February 11, 1911. That was more than six years before even war-time Prohibition was put into effect in this country. On page 242 of this magazine we find an article under the heading, "MURDER MADE EASY IN NEW YORK," and it starts off as follows:

"New York was startled last week to learn from the Coroner's annual report that the number of homicides within her borders during 1910 was nearly double the record for the preceding year. The number in itself—185—is large enough to command attention." Remarks the New York Evening World, "but the increase is amazing."

On page 611 of the Literary Digest of April 1, 1911, we find another enlightening article under the heading, "NEW YORK'S CRIME WAVE," beginning as follows:

"Yeggmen, strong-arm men, husky beggars, and petty criminals have been doing a profitable and undisturbed business of late in New York City, if we are to believe the metropolitan newspapers. In the 'ten-derloin' and the adjacent business and residence sections hold-ups are of daily and nightly occurrence.
Other sections are said to be terrorized by such gangs of hoodlums as the notorious 'car-barn gang.' In the Bronx, one busy street-corner boasts of 18 hold-ups and one murder since January 1. In home-loving Brooklyn, 176 crimes, ranging from murder to petty larceny, went unpunished between February 4 and March 6, according to a transcript of police telephone blotters sent in to the Brooklyn Eagle by 'A Policeman.' In a statement given to the Press, City Magistrate Joseph P.
Corrigan is quoted as saying that "There is not the slightest attempt made to enforce the Excise (liquor license) Law; gambling houses and pool rooms have increased; criminals

from all over the country have come to New York in drives and ply their vocations here in safety; the more serious crimes, such as murders,
shootings, stabbings, gang feuds,
highway robberies, burglaries, assaults and larcenies from the person,
now in number, undetected and unpunished. The police force is demoralized and terrified. The men feel that, and not the criminals, are the scared; but (as many have told me),
if a man can keep out of trouble
he is doing well and that the only safe and sure way to do this is to stick the other way when a crime is being committed."

But what about Chicago?
Well, on page 767 of the Literary Digest of April 22, 1911, we find an article dealing with "THE CHICA-GO CRIME REPORT" and it begins
as follows:

"A yearly sacrifice of 5,000 lives,
an annual toll of more than $15-00,000, is what Chicago has to pay for the existence of the social evil within its gates, declares the vice commission which has just presented its detailed report to Mayor Busse.
But lest Chicagoans grow too discouraged at this revelation, they are further informed that their city is morally better than any other city of its class in the United States."

A news story bearing a Chicago
date line of May 15, 1911, published in the Dallas News on May 16, 1911, describes chaotic conditions prevailing in Chicago incident to the labor troubles there, and the last paragraph contains the statement that
"So many policemen have been detailed on labor troubles that the residence districts of Chicago are left unprotected and negro thugs are attacking women while burglars and thieves of all sorts prey upon the householders, unmolested."

It looks like they had some crime wave back in the days when the saloon flourished, doesn't it?

Local friends of Barry Miller are anxious to get a bit envious over the political situation. With Earle McGee, Jim Ferguson, and a half dozen other political bathing beauties already in the pool, with Dan Moody, Lynch Davidson, and others
winning the bathing suits, with Tom Love trying to compete the proprietor to furnish him one, Barry Miller is still standing out on the bank diving, apparently afraid to make the plunge. Possibly he feels that he is more attractive on the beach than in the water. At any rate, his admirers are getting anxious to see him do some swimming.

Now is a good time for everybody to begin advising the farmers to plant a big cotton crop. If we can manage to get about 50 million acres planted in cotton this year and raise a 20 million bale crop, we will be sitting on top of the world.
We will get at least five or six cents a pound for it and will have lots of spending money Christmas.
Let's all plant cotton.

West Texas had a dandy shower
last Thursday and another pretty nice one Monday. They were typical West Texas March models, however,
and are not counted in the Government rainfall reports. They were of a nature as to make a man
really appreciate a day like Tuesday.

Come on in, Barry, the water's fine.

Mena, Ark.—"If there is a better laxative medicine made than Theford's Black-Draught, I've never found it, and I tried a good many before I began taking Black-Draught about twenty years ago,"
writes Mr. H. F. Miller, who lives 111 Eleventh Street, this city.
"I am satisfied with Black-draught. When I feel all out of sorts, my feet seem to feel heavy,
and I feel tired when I haven't worked; and I get a bad, slimy taste in my mouth, I just take two or three doses of Black-Draught
and I feel better."

"I have found it good for indigestion, in fact for about everything it is recommended for. We just keep it in the house and use it for flatulency, headache and such complaints. I recommend Black-draught to others."

"This well-known medicine has been in use nearly 100 years, and its popularity is constantly increasing, as growing sales clearly prove.
Don't trifle with counterfeits and

WHEN WILL YOU BEGIN USING THIS NEW OIL?

It is being rumored (and truthfully) that no other American motor oil has been so speedily accepted by motorists. Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil has smashed all precedents by its amazing reception... And this oil is as unusual as its introduction. Its superiorities are so apparent, that even before its announcement was well underway, literally thousands of new users were appearing at Red Triangle stations.

CONOCO
GERM
PROCESSED
PARAFFIN BASE
MOTOR OIL

Its name seems to intrigue motorists and much conversation has dwelt on the Germ Process, and the whys and wherefores...
the story is this: Under exclusive Conocoowned patent rights, a precious oily essence is added to a superbly fine paraffin base oil.
This essence is lacking in all other oils, including the one you are now using. The Germ Process makes possible the metal-penetrating safety factor that we call "pen-etrative lubricity." And this oil, of all on the market, provides a safer, more positive motor protection, from the time you start
the motor until you turn off the ignition.
So... when will you begin using this new oil?... at the sign of the Red Triangle.

*because of improvements
in its 60 horsepower engine*

Much of Pontiac's increased smoothness is due to new type rubber mountings which now insulate its engine from the frame, and to a more rigid crankcase which assures more permanent bearing and crank-shaft alignment. Then too, smoothness is intensified by the Harmonic Balancer which counteracts torsional crankshaft vibration.
Finally, Pontiac's basic engine design enables it to develop 60 horsepower at moderate engine speed. No matter how fast or hard you drive, the engine runs smoothly and silently... In this car you get reliability and long life seldom equaled except in cars of much higher price. Furthermore, you get remarkable economy. Your own good judgment should suggest that you investigate
this finer Pontiac.

Chico, Ill.—A year and a half ago, when she was in a run-down, weakened condition, Mrs. John A. Medlin, of 2901 Commercial Avenue, this city, took Cardui. Here is what she has to say about it:

"At times I would have had headaches. My legs hurt a great deal. My nerves were all to pieces, and I did not sleep well. I got so I could not sleep a night through.

"I read about Cardui. I began taking this medicine and found it in every way suited to my need.

"I began to feel better very shortly, but I continued taking Cardui as I wanted to feel strong and well.

"Before long I was feeling just fine. I slept well. I had a good appetite. Soon everybody was telling me how well I looked. My color was good and I felt like doing my work without any great effort.

"I am glad I took Cardui. I recommend it to others, as my health greatly improved after I had taken it."

GEMS OF LITERATURE
(By J. A. Humphries)

EVERY YEAR

Life is a count of losses—every year; It is growing darker, colder—every year;

Lost Springs with sobs replying, Unto weary Autumn's sighing, While those we love are dying—every year.

It is growing darker, colder—every year;

As the heart and soul grow older—every year;

I care not now for dancing, Or for eyes with passion glancing, Love is less and less entrancing—every year.

The days have less of gladness—every year;

The nights more weight of sadness—every year;

Fair Springs no longer charm us.

The winds and weather harm us, The threats of Death alarm us—every year.

There come new cares and sorrows—every year; Dark days and darker morrows—every year;

The ghosts of dead loves haunt us, The ghosts of changed friends taunt us—every year.

Of the loves and sorrows blended—every year;

Of the charms of friendship ended—every year;

Of the ties that still might bind me, Until time to death resigned me, My infirmities remind me—every year.

Ah, how sad to look before us—every year;

While the cloud grows darker o'er us—every year;

When we see the blossoms faded,

That to bloom we might have aided, And immortal garlands braided—every year.

To the past go more dead faces—every year; As the loved leave vacant places—every year;

Everywhere the sad eyes meet us, In the evening's dusk they greet us, And to come to them entreat us—every year.

"You are growing old," they tell us—every year;

"You are more alone," they tell us—every year;

"You can win no new affection, You have only recollection, Deeper sorrow and dejection—every year."

The shores of life are shifting—every year;

And we are seaward drifting—every year;

Old places, changing, fret us, The living more forget us, There are fewer to regret us—every year.

But the truer life draws nigher—every year; And its morning star climbs higher—every year;

Earth's hold on us grows slighter, And the heavy burdens lighter,

And the dawn immortal brighter—every year.

as first cost in the purchase of an automobile*

WHEN you purchase an automobile you are making an investment of a considerable amount of money. It is essential, therefore, that you give careful thought to the best selection and know what you are getting for your automobile dollars.

The first cost is important because it may mean an immediate, satisfactory saving. Of equal importance is the ultimate cost after thousands of miles of service. This ultimate cost is the true measure of automobile value.

The first cost of the new Ford is unusually low not only because of economies in manufacturing, but because the same principles that inspire these savings are extended to every other step that means greater service to the public. It is easy to see that economies in production would be of little value if they were sacrificed later through high charges for distribution, selling, financing and accessories.

The Ford dealer, therefore, does business on the same low-profit margin as the Ford Motor Company. His discount or commission is twenty-five to fifty per cent lower than that of any other automobile dealer. You gain because he makes a small profit on many sales instead of a large profit on fewer sales.

The difference in selling cost, combined with the low charges for financing and accessories, amounts to at least $50 to $75 on each car. This is as important as economies in production in keeping down the price you pay for the new Ford.

The low ultimate cost of the new Ford is the result of sound design, quality of material and unusual care in manufacturing. Friction and wear are reduced by the accuracy with which each part is made and assembled.

These factors combine to decrease the cost of operation and add months and years to the useful life of the car. The good performance and low yearly depreciation of the new Ford are indicative of the enduring quality built into it at the factory.

SERVICE charges are on the same fair, economical basis as the making and selling of the car and replacement parts are always available at low prices through all Ford dealers. In two, three or five years, depending on how much you drive, the saving in operating and maintaining a new Ford will amount to even more than the saving on the first cost.

Think in terms of tomorrow, therefore, when you purchase an automobile. For tomorrow will reveal its true worth.

The Living Room Improvement Work
The judges have completed the scoring of the Living Rooms and the entrants are all busy, planning how they are going to make one dollar do the work of two.

The women are improving their rooms by using more cheerful color schemes, remodeling furniture, refinishing furniture, adding some pieces of new furniture, such as magazine racks, book cases, day beds, foot stools made by dressing up stove legs, improving lighting by use of more lamps, lighter paper on walls and use of light woodwork.

Curtains and draperies are furnishing an interest to the club woman, some are using cretonnes, others osenbury and others theatrical

Judge and Mrs. H. W. Calaway of this city and Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hancock of New Home were called to Abilene Monday by the serious condition of Mrs. Hettie Kinney, sister of Mrs. Calaway and Mrs. Hancock. She died before their arrival and the remains were taken to London, Kimble county, on the next day for burial. The Hancock and Calaway families returned to Tahoka Wednesday.

C. A. Johnson of Big Spring, here the first of the week attending the J. V. Dyer funeral, being a brother of Mrs. Dyer, was a caller at the News office Monday. Mr. Johnson was a good friend of the editor in other days when it was our lot to visit Big Spring often, and it was indeed a pleasure to have him call. He is one of the salt of the earth.

Mrs. D. W. Gagnat returned home from Tyler Sunday, where she has been the past several weeks attending her sick sister, Mrs. Howell, and her brother Sanford, who has been sick so long. Both were apparently somewhat improved when she left.

Mrs. Harley Henderson, who has been seriously ill in a Lubbock sanitarium for two weeks, and her baby, Joan, were brought home Wednesday by Mr. Henderson. Mrs. Henderson is rapidly improving.

A. M. Tredway left Monday for an extended visit with relatives at Greenville and Bonham, Texas, Little Rock, Arkansas, and Columbia, Tennessee. He expects to return to Tahoka about June 1st.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Parnell and son of Draw and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bearden of Lamesa visited Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Worthen of Jayton last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Parnell and son of Draw and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bearden of Lamesa visited Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Worthen of Jayton last week end.

Mrs. George Short is again reported to be improving nicely and Mr. Short expects her to be able to come home within a few days.

Mrs. B. H. Howard and son, Grady of Crosbyton, are here visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harley Henderson and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hill.

W. M. Harris and W. O. Henderson left Wednesday morning to attend the Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth.

Dr. T. M. Hall and his brother H. T. Hall of Gatesville were visitors in Tahoka Tuesday night.

County Agent Ray Shaver and Bill Burelson left Tuesday to attend the Fat Stock Show.

NEIGHBORING EDITOR GETS MARRIED RECENTLY

Elbert W. Smith, editor of the Lamesa Reporter, slipped off up to Kansas recently and brought back with him one of Kansas' fairest daughters as his bride. But—he said nothing about it in his paper. His friends and fellow townsmen waited patiently for him to mention his rare good fortune in the columns of the Reporter but no mention of the affair appeared. Then they got up in arms and demanded that he give an account of himself—which he did last week in a most delightful manner. Smith has been making a dandy good paper of the Reporter, but now that he has a boss we expect it to increase in merit and usefulness.

SERVICES ARE HELD AT COLORED BAPTIST CHURCH

Services were held at the Colored Baptist Church Sunday, Sunday School track teams will come here Friday for a track tournament with the local High School team. This is merely a practice tournament and counts nothing in the Interscholastic League contests.

We have on a few nights revival, with Rev. P. C. Carter of Lamesa in charge. A good number of us will go to Brownfield Sunday to organize a Colored Baptist Church there. Brother Johnson, our white missionary, and other white friends from Brownfield will assist in the organization.

Our school, with the same teacher we have had for the past three years is still moving upwards. The number of scholars is continually increasing and the students are making their grades nicely.

Now a word for The Lynn County News. We have been readers of this paper for three years; it has now become one of the family, and every week we search it diligently, for in it we find very much that is helpful to us.

Signed,
Bro. George Bivins, Deacon

STRAW BALLOT BEING TAKEN BY LITERARY DIGEST

The Literary Digest, famous for its straw votes in Presidential campaigns, is now conducting a straw ballot on Prohibition. It is sending out 20 million ballots to voters in the United States asking them to express their views on three propositions:

1. Do you favor the Continuance and Strict Enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act?
2. Do you favor a modification of prohibition to permit the sale of light wines and beer?
3. Do you favor the repeal of the Prohibition Amendment?

Several hundred of these ballots have been sent to Tahoka. Up to noon Wednesday only 58 of them had been filled out and returned through the local post office, according to Postmaster D. A. Parkhurst. His check on these returns indicate the following result up to that time: For the Amendment and Strict Enforcement, 41; for Modification, 3; for Repeal, 14.

We do not know whether this straw vote will give a fairly accurate barometer of public sentiment on the liquor question or not, but the straw votes the Digest has taken heretofore have been remarkably accurate, notably the one in the last Presidential election. Every one who receives a ticket is urged to fill it out and send it in, whether you are wet or dry. It costs nothing, not even a postage stamp.

The first returns from this straw vote will be published in the Digest this week.

WOMEN IN BATTLE OF SACRIFICES IN "THE TRESPASSER"

Through the French windows of an expensive apartment of Chicago's exclusive Lake Shore Drive, dawn was breaking.

From an invalid's chair which she had wheeled into the apartment, an attractive young wife was arguing with the former wife who had borne that husband a child.

And she, the present wife, who adored children so much—who adored her husband because he adored children—knew, from her chair of pain, that she could never bear a child.

So she was entreating this former wife of her husband—the mother of her husband's child—to take the man whom they both loved, go away with him and the child, and be happy.

Whether Marion Donnel, the mother of the child, as played by Gloria Swanson, availed herself of this magnanimous suggestion forms one of the dramatic "punches" in Miss Swanson's first all-talking and singing United Artists picture, "The Trespasser," written and directed by Edmund Goulding, which will be at the English Theatre, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

CRAZED CRIMINALS

Day after day the minds of men according to all statistics, are becoming more alert and more thought-filled. Thousands of new inventions have made the past decade the greatest period in the world's history.

But inventions have not created a better criminal code for the most powerful nation on earth. Recent court annals can show few men or women of power and wealth who have not been proven crazy when their lives, as murderers, were at stake. Crazy? Yes, crazy just as you and I would be crazy—crazy because they don't want to die for a heinous crime. An outstanding jurist, a leading farmer, a prominent Chicagoan's son, when the choice between life and death comes, can easily become as crazy as bedbugs—so say criminologists and easily influenced juries.

Down in Mexico, bandits who kill and plunder innocent persons are often shot without being given time to go crazy. Poor, revolution-torn Mexico. Come to the United States where you may become crazy overnight and get your name in all the headlines.—Snyder News.

Hall county is putting iron teeth into the laws as was evidenced this past week in district court here. A death penalty for murder—the first ever assessed in the county—and two women were given sentences in the penitentiary for liquor law violation, also the first time a woman was ever sent up from Hall county. Both were mothers of children. One was given a suspended sentence but the other was ordered to serve a year in the state institution. When the state as a whole takes this attitude toward robbery and liquor violations then will our laws be enforced—not until. Sob-sisters have no business on a jury. Neither does a man who is bent upon sending everyone to the electric chair because he comes before the court. But there is a need for men who can mete out justice and say "Thou shalt not" in Hall county, to every robber, murderer, and others who would practice their illicit trade here. A certainty of punishment will do more than anything else to curb crime.—Memphis News.

We have just read, with a great deal of interest, a controversy between District Judge Fires, and a editor of the Memphis Democrat about interesting and sensational news that should or should not go into any newspaper about a party connected with crime before the party committing the crime is tried for it. The Democrat editor, in a very nice, polite and genteel way, took the Judge down the line, just like taking candy from a baby. The Judge argued that the newspaper should not have such news for publication, until it became old, stale and no subscriber would care to read it, while the Democrat Editor claimed that all newspapers try to get the latest and best news, while it is news regarding violations of the law and also news regarding the trial of violators of the law. If Judges had to pass on all articles going into the newspapers, every editor in Texas would lose 75 per cent of his circulation in six months, and in losing this circulation, would also lose 75 per cent of his advertising. In other words, they would all be closed down having been advertised at the sheriff's sale in less than twelve months.—Claude News.

When twenty odd farmers of the Killen section met Tuesday of this week and broke bread together in luncheon, after which they organized themselves into a luncheon club they started something new so far as the Herald is informed. But why no farmers meet in some form of luncheon and service club as well as meet of other walks of life?—Killen Herald.

According to information, which we reckon is reliable, there are thirty-four or five candidates for the four places as commissioners of McLennan County. Twelve or thirteen of the number are seeking the same place. It looks mighty like there is to be a heavy harvest of defeated of fire seekers in our neighboring county.—Killen Herald.

Every member of the Legislature—House or Senate—who voted against the resolutions providing that each and every member make known through a questionnaire whether he has or has not accepted employment from a special interest or interests since taking the oath of office, should as quickly as possible be retired from the public service, for a Legislature composed of members on the pay rolls of the special interests is worth much less than nothing to the people of Texas who desire equal rights for all.—Rogers (Bell County) News.

Rev. M. C. Bishop, Baptist pastor at Post, and W. L. Underwood, who is in the service of Uncle Sam as a mail carrier out of Post, were Tahoka visitors Monday and called at the News office. Brother Bishop is an old-time friend of the editor and is one of God's n-blemen. He is a prince—as a citizen, preacher, and friend.

Konjola Wins Triumph Every Day

New and Different Medicine Welcomes Any Test—Results Are What Count

MR. RAYMOND SCHMIDT

Results are what count; mere words and promises mean nothing. Konjola has won fame and friends just by making good, and that is the medicine sufferers want and should have. Imagine the joy of Mr. Raymond Schmidt, R. F. D. No. 1, Sedalia, Mo., when he was able to say:

"Though I know it to be true I find it hard to believe Konjola in just three months, ended my sufferings of nine years duration. For that long time I suffered from indigestion, constipation, kidney trouble and catarrh. No food agreed with me; every night I had to get up numerous times, and the catarrh certainly added to my misery. In those nine years I tried no end of medicine and treatments, and every one was a miserable failure. But how different with Konjola! Week by week I grew better and in three months I was my old self again. To me Konjola is the most wonderful medicine in the world, and I recommend it with all my heart."

Konjola is sold in Tahoka at the Tahoka Drug Co., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

When he had heard it said that Mr. Dyer was a good man. Rev. Bishop as a long-time friend of the deceased and family and spoke feelingly of his character and of their friendship.

Mr. Dyer was of a cheerful disposition and had a kindly word for everybody. He truly numbered his friends by his acquaintances. He enjoyed the esteem of the people of his section to the fullest extent and here was general and genuine grief when it became known that he had passed away. He never made any display of his religion but was converted and joined the Methodist church in youth. He loved the Bible and the great old Christian hymns and often sang them, even when beset with sickness and tribulation. He was in truth a good man.

ably he had heard it said that Mr. Dyer was a good man. Rev. Bishop as a long-time friend of the deceased and family and spoke feelingly of his character and of their friendship.

Mr. Dyer was of a cheerful disposition and had a kindly word for everybody. He truly numbered his friends by his acquaintances. He enjoyed the esteem of the people of his section to the fullest extent and here was general and genuine grief when it became known that he had passed away. He never made any display of his religion but was converted and joined the Methodist church in youth. He loved the Bible and the great old Christian hymns and often sang them, even when beset with sickness and tribulation. He was in truth a good man.

Mr. Dyer was born July 4th, 1852 at Madisonville, Tenn., and came to Texas in 1870 at the age of eighteen, locating with his family in Johnson county. He married Mary Johnson at Cleburne in 1883. Ten years later they moved to Abilene, and on to Lynn County in 1904.

On his arrival here, Mr. Dyer bought the half section four miles east of Tahoka, where he and his family resided until the time of his death. Interesting to note is the fact that Mr. Dyer subscribed to the Dallas News and received it continuously from the very first edition. He was also probably the longest continuous subscriber to the Lynn County News, having taken it ever since it was started.

All the children were present at the funeral except one, Mrs. Bill Guinn, whom they could not locate in time for her to reach Tahoka. She and her husband arrived, however, Monday. Only two grandchildren out of thirty-one were absent these being Chesley Manley of Chicago and Travis Shepherd of Los Angeles. Mrs. Dyer's Brother, C. A. Johnson, Big Spring, was also present.

The deceased is survived by his wife and the following children: Mesdames S. W. Hawthorne, W. T. Shepherd, G. E. White, and J. P. Manly, all of Post; Earl Morris, Southland; Billy Sanders, San Angelo; Bill Guinn, San Angelo; and Mr. Jim Dyer, Slaton.

tendered his resignation there Sunday the Church declined to accept it, but having made up his mind he declined to reverse his decision and wired the Church here that he is coming. He has done a wonderful work at Gatesville, according to many reports that have reached Tahoka. Prior to his going to Gatesville he was pastor of the Church at Midland for five years and did a great work there likewise. He possesses a personality of much force and energy, and great things are expected of his work here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Tredway, Keith Gore and Miss Lucille McCord, attended the funeral of Walter Hegl, who recently died in Riverside, California, and was buried at Petersburg one day last week. The deceased was a brother of Fred Hegl, employee of the First National Bank.
