Romance Connected With Preacher's Move

When Rev. and Mrs. O. J. Hull removed from Gatesville to Tahoka early last week, they left a son, J. Bryan, behind.

But the son did not remain behind many days. On Saturday afternoon he arrived, accompanied by Miss Connie Robinson, one of Gatesville's fair daughters, her parents being Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Robinson of that city. Sunday evening at 9, in the pastor's home, they were united in marriage, the groom's father, Rev. O. J. Hull, officiating. The beautiful ring ceremony was used.

The young people are making their home for the present with Rev. and Mrs. Hull. Young Mr. Hull possesses a pleasing personality and a genial disposition and makes friends readily. The bride is a most accomplished and attractive young woman.

Mr. Hull is an interior decorator, painter and paper hanger, by trade, and will follow that avocation here. Mrs. Hull has become proprietor of the Hub Beauty Parlor of this city, being an expert in that line.

Tahoka Loses To Southland Sunday

The Tahoka baseball team was defeated Sunday at Southland by a score of 4 to 2.

The Tahoka infield was somewhat erratic in fielding, making six errors. Squires pitched a two-hit game and states that it was the best game he ever pitched in his whole ball career. Tahoka was also weak in hitting, just touching Gregory for six hits. Squires getting three of them.

Batteries—Tahoka: Hollis and Squires; Southland: Taylor, and Gregory.

Tahoka will play Lubbock here next Sunday afternoon at 3:30.

Maddox Tells Pupils About Penitentiary

Having been invited to address the children of the Central Ward school Wednesday afternoon, Judge B. P. Maddox decided to tell them something about the penitentiary system of Texas.

While a member of the legislature several years ago, Judge Maddox was a member of the penitentiary investigating committee, and he made a special study of penitentiary problems. And, by the way, as a member of this committee, he made a minority report in which he took a similar position then to that taken by Governor Dan Moody now with reference to the penitentiary system—not analogous to Moody's position in every respect but agreeing with it in some important points.

He was able therefore to give the students of Central Ward school some very interesting information Wednesday afternoon, about the penitentiary. He told them about some of the prisoners and repeated what some of them had told him. His address made a profound impression on the boys and girls who heard him, according to their reports of it.

COURT FINDS BOYS GUILTY

Three Boys Fined $10 Each, Five On Probation, For Petty Thievery Here Recently

Quite a number of youths and small boys were arraigned in the county court here Monday and Tuesday on charges of petty theft, some of them as juveniles and some as ordinary offenders. Three boys more than seventeen years of age entered pleas of guilty to theft and were fined $10.00 each. Five were tried as juveniles. They likewise pleaded guilty but were released to their parents on probation. In every instance the parents expressed to the officers their appreciation of the kindness and consideration shown the boys.

There are some other companion cases on the docket yet to be disposed of and two or three of the boys, we understand, are preparing to contest the cases against them. They will be tried at the next regular term of the county court.

The above cases grew out of the alleged theft of quantities of soda pop and gasoline by the boys one night last week, and it seems that some of the boys had been guilty of a number of similar offenses before.

To Settle Boundary Case Next June

ABILENE, April 16.—Decision on the Garza-Lynn county boundary dispute, tried before Judge W. R. Chapman in 104th district court here last week, will be handed down at the June term of court.

Taking the case under consideration Judge Chapman sought additional information, which he obtained yesterday—too late for calling the attorneys back to Abilene for argument on the judgment before the end of this term of court. Most of the eight counties involved, Cochran, Terry, Lubbock, Garza, Lynn, Yoakum, Hockley and Crosby, were represented by attorneys residing at different towns in that area.

CALL ELECTION ON FAIR PARK

Citizens Will Vote On Small Tax Proposition; Petitions For Park. Bear 265 Signatures

Petitions from all parts of Lynn County bearing 265 names were presented to the commissioners' court Monday asking for an election to be held to determine whether or not a tax of 5 cents on the $100.00 property valuation should be levied and collected for the purpose of raising funds with which to purchase grounds for a county fair park and to equip the same. The commissioners' court granted the petition and set Saturday, May 17, as the date for the election.

If this tax should be voted, the tax on a quarter section of land rendered for taxation at $10.00 per acre, would amount to only 80 cents annually. Yet it would provide a revenue of more than $3,000.00, and it is not contemplated that it would be necessary to levy the tax but three or four years to fully pay for a well-equipped fair park.

These grounds could not only be used for fair purposes in the fall but for many other public purposes thru out the year.

All property tax-payers, including men and their wives, who are otherwise qualified voters, will be entitled to vote in this election.

Local Students Enter District Contests

Winners of places in the recent county Interscholastic League contests go to Lubbock tomorrow and Saturday to participate in the district meet to be held at Texas Tech. A number of Tahoka athletes and winners of literary contests are eligible to compete at Lubbock, and the winners there will go to Austin to enter the state meet.

Mrs. L. E. Miller is quite seriously ill in a sanitarium at Lubbock.

Easter Services At M. E. Church Sunday

Rev. R. T. Breedlove, pastor, announces special Easter Services at the Methodist Church next Sunday morning.

Miss Binnion will sing "Open the Gates to the Temple," and the sermon by the pastor will be appropriate to the day.

A special effort is being made also to have a large attendance at the Everyman's or "Roughneck" Sunday School Class. The pastor and some of the members of the class have been making a special drive this week and fully fifty men are expected to be present. Pete Cawhon, Athletic Director and Head Coach at the Texas Tech, will lecture to the class. He is said to be a great leader of men and will doubtless have a great message for men next Sunday morning.

Brother Breedlove states in this connection that plans are being made whereby 100 men can be taken care of in this class at a nominal expense, at a very early date.

FINE DAIRY STOCK BOUGHT BY LOCAL CITIZENS AT SHOW

At the auction sale held on the Lakeview became the owner of an last day of this dairy show at Plainview last week, two Tahoka citizens bought cows and two other Lynn county citizens purchased bulls.

County Attorney G. H. Nelson purchased the cow that won the premium for the highest butter fat record of any cow at the show. J. K. Applewhite also invested in a very fine cow and resold her to Wiley Curry of this city.

S. L. Schooler of O'Donnell bought a fine bull and S. L. Williams of

Speaks Here Tonight

JAMES YOUNG
Candidate For Governor Of Texas

JAMES YOUNG HERE TONIGHT

Candidate For Governor Speaks At Court House At 8 O'Clock This Evening

The race for governor will open in earnest in Lynn county tonight, when ex-Congressman James Young of Kaufman is to make an address here in the interest of his candidacy.

The district court room has been procured as the place for the speaking, circulars making the announcement have been distributed, and since there are many visitors here attending the county judges and commissioners' convention, it is anticipated that a large crowd will be present to hear him.

Mr. Young is now on a speaking tour in this section of the state, the first such tour of his campaign. It is possibly the first time in the history of Texas that a candidate for governor has visited Lynn County and the South Plains so early in the campaign. Barry Miller is likewise out on his first trip through the West. He works his way first out to El Paso and then turns to the Plains. He will possibly be in this section some time in the near future. It all shows that candidates are beginning to sit up and take notice of West Texas. Perhaps West Texas gave some of them a rude jolt two years ago.

The speech of Mr. Young here tonight is expected to start his campaign with a bang in this county. He served with distinction in Congress for ten years. He is reputed to be quite an orator. He has the backing of the Democratic machinery, apparently, in this contest. He will doubtless make a good impression on his hearers tonight. Whether we intend to support him or not, we should give him a most respectful hearing and extend to him the most generous and genuine hospitality while he is a guest of our little city.

Go out and hear Jim Young tonight.

Miss Mae Faught, after an absence of two or three months, has again accepted a position with the Jones Dry Goods Company here, where she will be glad to meet her many friends. Miss Faught was a saleslady in this store for two years, leaving about the first of the year for Stanton, where she was employed temporarily.

Officials Here For Two-Day Session

Farm Bureau Cotton Ass'n Meets Here

About eighty farmers attended the county convention of the Farm Bureau Cotton Association held here Saturday afternoon, according to Fred Matthews, who acted as temporary secretary.

The convention was addressed by C. A. Barron, state director of the Farm Bureau, who discussed the changes made in the association since the Federal Farm Board had been created and began functioning. Other brief talks were also made and much interest in the work of the organization was manifested.

The following delegates were chosen to represent Lynn county at a district convention to be held in Lamesa on next Saturday, April 19: R. E. Munn, F. L. Wilingham, and J. R. Thomas.

Mrs. Kate Marrin of Chicago was sent to prison for stealing purses from women attending services in different churches.

GIVE WELCOME TO NEW PASTOR

Baptists From Over Brownfield Association Attend Meeting In Hull's Honor

A reception in honor of Rev. and Mrs. O. J. Hull was held at the Baptist Church here Tuesday night by members of the local congregation and it was pronounced by all present to have been a most pleasant affair. In addition to a prearranged program of addresses, readings, and music, vocal and instrumental, a number of short talks were made in which the telling of humorous stories was featured, and there was much merriment.

Following the reception, the program was begun with the singing of that great old hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," and Rev. E. V. May, pastor of the Brownfield church led the prayer. Judge B. P. Maddox delivered the welcome address, in which he forcefully set out the characteristics of an ideal preacher and leader, and expressed the conviction that the new pastor measures up to all these requirements.

After a vocal solo by Mrs. B. M. Hays, which was much enjoyed, Mrs. J. K. Applewhite gave a brief history of the local Baptist Church. The recital of some of the facts con-

Will Give College Entrance Exams Here

Students attending non-affiliated schools may take College entrance examinations in the office of the county superintendent beginning Tuesday, April 22nd and ending April 25th, according to a schedule fixed by the State Department of Education. These examinations are especially valuable to students wishing college entrance credit on high school work they are completing this year.

Anyone expecting to take these examinations should see me several days before the time for further details concerning the regulations. H. P. CAVENESS, Co. Supt.

Interest Grows In Revival Meeting

The revival meeting being conducted at the Nazarene Church here is growing in interest and attendance. Rev. Lewis Clegg is said to be bringing some stirring messages. M. C. Richey has charge of the singing and special music is being rendered each evening. Services are being held at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. each day. Everybody cordially invited.

SEVERAL NOTED SPEAKERS HERE

County Finances And Road and Highway Work Due For Discussion During Big Meet

The first semi-annual convention of the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association held since its organization was completed at Plainview several months ago is now in session here.

The convention opened at the court house here this morning shortly after ten o'clock, with Judge Robert H. Bean of Lubbock presiding and Judge W. M. McGehee of Floydada acting as secretary. Judge G. C. Grider delivered the welcome address on behalf of the commissioners court and the people of Tahoka and the Hon. Carl Rountree of Lamesa, Representative of this district in the Legislature, responded.

Our forms close while this meeting is in progress but there is to be a luncheon at the Baptist Church at the noon hour, served by the Women's Home Demonstration Clubs of the county under the direction of Miss Thelma Greenwade, Home Demonstration Agent. There is to be another session this afternoon and still another tomorrow morning and afternoon.

Most of the discussions are to be informal, although a skeleton of a program has been prepared. Among the principal speakers on the program are D. A. Banded, Manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce who is to discuss "Equalization of Taxes", and State Highway Commissioner W. R. Ely, whose subject will be "Road Work and Highways." Senator Pink L. Parrish of Lubbock and County Judge J. P. Morrow of Wichita Falls will also speak, according to Judge G. C. Grider. Some important matters are to be considered and it is probable that many of the visiting judges and commissioners will take part in the discussions. Among the matters which it is said will receive attention are: Ways and Means of Meeting the financial difficulties developing upon the counties as a result of recent state legislation, and maintenance of the public roads in the various counties.

Standard Rig Is Installed At Well

The Penn Oil Company, which is drilling a test well on the Midwest block about 25 miles northwest of Tahoka over in Terry county, early this week discarded the rotary rig which they have been using and installed a standard rig with which to complete the well.

The drillers had reached a depth of 3,500 feet, we understand, when the change of rigs was made.

We have no information as to the howing for oil, if any, encountered thus far. We understand the well is to be drilled to a depth of 5,500 feet if pay sand is not struck at a lesser depth.

Tahoka Places In Tri-State Track Meet

Tahoka won nine points and sixth place in the big News-Globe Tri-State Track and Field Meet at Amarillo last Friday and Saturday with only four local athletes participating. Thirty-five school track teams entered the contests, Plainview winning first place.

"No Medicine Ever Helped Me As Did Konjola," She Says

Tulsa Lady Is Enthusiastic About New Medicine—"Best in The World," She Says

MRS. G. I. CRABAUGH

"No medicine ever helped me as did Konjola," said Mrs. G. I. Crabaugh, 739 Quaker street, Tulsa. "For more than nine years I had trouble with my stomach. Gas accumulated after meals and I bloated terribly. The pains and pressure often made me short of breath and dizzy. Constipation was another of my worries and I became an almost daily user of cathartics. I had terrible headaches and found it difficult to sleep. My nerves became badly affected and my general condition badly run down.

"I am delighted with the results I obtained from Konjola. Before I had finished the second bottle my constipation had been relieved and my stomach greatly improved. As I kept on with this great medicine my general health improved until I am feeling better today than I have in a long time. I have an excellent appetite and eat heartily without distress. Even neuritis which attacked me occasionally has been totally driven from my system. I cannot say too much in praise of this great medicine.

Though Konjola works quickly, six to eight bottles are recommended as a fair trial. Although many people are benefited within a few weeks, the longer period is best.

Konjola is sold in Tahoka, Texas at Tahoka Drug Company, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

"HAPPY DAYS" COME TO ENGLISH THEATRE SOON

No mental picture can be drawn of "Happy Days", all star, all talking Fox Movietone song romance which shows at the English Theatre Friday and Saturday.

It is the most lavish picture yet to reach the screen and the cast includes such well known personages as Will Rogers, Janet Gaynor, Charles Farrell, Walter Catlett, George Jessell, William Collier, St. Victor McLaglen, Edmund Lowe, J. Harold Murray, El Brendel, Warner Baxter, George MacFarlane, Ann Pennington, Marjorie White, Sharon Lynn, Dixie Lee, Richard Keene, James J. Corbett and a host of other celebrities.

The story concerns a minstrel troupe that plays the local opera houses along the Mississippi River, traveling by steamboat. Colonel Billy Batcher, a loveable old character owns the show and when it goes on financial rocks, the colonel's old friends, now stars on Broadway, come to his aid and put on a minstrel show that rehabilitates his fortune.

Charles Evans, dean of American comedians, enacts the role of the colonel and the love interest centers about Marjorie White and Richard Keene.

Benjamin Stoloff was director-in-chief of this amazing and lavish spectacle. The credit for its staging goes to Walter Catlett, Broadway's droll jester.

Any erroneous reflection upon the reputation or standing of any individual, firm or corporation, that may appear in the columns of the News, will be gladly corrected when called to our attention.

THE PLOT THICKENS

It now seems certain, according to numerous press dispatches, that Senator Clint C. Small of Wellington and Lynch Davidson of Houston will soon announce as candidates for governor. Indeed their announcement may have been made before this appears in print. It also seems certain that Governor Dan Moody will be a candidate to succeed himself. These entries will complicate still further an already complicated political situation in this state.

Senator Small is reputed to be an able lawyer. He demonstrated such astuteness and ability as a legislator. He made quite a reputation procuring the enactment of legislation designed to quiet the title to lands lying in the beds of so-called navigable streams in the Panhandle. He has often found himself in opposition to Governor Moody since he became a senator and might now be classified as one of Moody's political enemies. If he runs for governor he will probably paramount the interests of West Texas in the campaign. He will doubtless poll a tremendous vote in West Texas, particularly in the Panhandle. He was a bit severe in his attitude against those Democrats who voted for Hoover two years ago and may lose many votes in this section on that account. But there can be no question but that Small will be a formidable candidate in this part of the state if he should enter the lists.

Present indications are that Governor Moody will have an up hill pull if he gets anywhere in the race. In addition to the old-time factions that fought him, he has made many new enemies during the past year. He has not gotten along well with the legislature. Some bitter personal and political enmities have resulted. He has been defeated on practically every important matter that he has championed before the legislature. His candidacy now would look like a forlorn hope. Yet nobody can tell what might happen if he and Jim Ferguson should get on the stump, each making fight on the other. They might become the two central figures in the first primary. Who can tell? In spite of the bad reputation that has come to Ferguson in other days, he is one of the shrewdest and most effective campaigners in Texas and has remarkable "come-back" powers. Dan Moody is possibly not so shrewd nor so effective on the stump but the people generally believe him to be clean and honest. His entry into the race would at once be accepted as a challenge by Ferguson, and the old-time fight might soon be on again.

The air of uncertainty becomes more pronounced with the new entries, and the wisest political observer recognizes that almost anything could happen.

And what about Tom Love? Well, he is going to get a tremendous vote, it makes no difference who else runs, if he gets his name on the ticket.

A car with five occupants crashed into a truck parked at the side of the highway three miles west of Riscoe one night recently. Two of the occupants were killed and the other three were injured. Complaints have been filed against the driver charging the offense of driving a car while intoxicated. As Judge Lattimore of the Court of Criminal Appeals recently observed, gasoline in the carburetor and whiskey in the operator make a dangerous combination. Suppose that our prohibition laws were repealed and there were a saloon next door to every filling station. Whew! Instead of cussing the Eighteenth Amendment or boosting for light wines and beer, we'd better be creating sentiment for the strict enforcement of our prohibition laws, folks.

In the proceedings had in the county court Tuesday morning wherein several young boys were adjudged to be juvenile offenders, it was brought to light that some of the boys were not in school but were loitering about the streets day and night. This absence from school appeared to be due either to the indifference of the parents or to the poverty of the family. It is indeed pitiable for a man with a large family and capable of doing only day labor to be thrown out of employment. We do not know any remedy for such a situation. We do not know any practical method of preventing large families among the poor or of preventing the recurrence of periods of financial stringency and unemployment; but these are certainly problems that should engage the most serious thought of our law-makers and of all our people.

Bob Henry, candidate for the Senate against Morris Sheppard, has requested the state democratic executive committee to submit to the voters in the Democratic primaries the question as to whether or not the Eighteenth Amendment should be repealed or modified. Chairman Wilcox has stated that the request would be given due consideration. If the question should be submitted we have no doubt but that a tremendous majority of the Democrats of Texas would register their votes in favor of the Amendment but if the wets really want peace in this state, why rehash an old issue that Judge Wilcox and his political associates assured us two years ago had long been settled.

Of the seventeen boys against whom charges of delinquency have been filed in the county court recently, it is said that not one of them has ever been a member of a boy scout troop, very few of them have attended Sunday Schools, and most of them have been very irregular in their attendance upon the public schools. Parents have a hard time bringing up their children in the way they should go in this modern day even when they throw the very best influences around them. It is next to impossible to do so when they are allowed to grow up on the streets. How careful every father and mother should be to throw the proper environment around the children.

There have been many complaints of the theft of bottles of milk left at the doors of numerous residences as well as some thefts of gasoline from cars. Some such cases have been arraigned in court for such offenses. It is believed that some of our older boys—members of highly respected families—are the guilty parties. The Bible has given all such fair warning. It is this: "Be sure your sin will find you out." Better be careful, young gentlemen.

WILL MR. RASKOB PLEASE GET OUT?

Josephus Daniels, a bone-dry member of the Wilson cabinet and for many years a prominent leader in the Democratic party, is demanding the resignation of John J. Raskob as National Democratic chairman. Daniels supported the Democratic ticket and voted for Al Smith in 1928 but he thinks it time for Raskob to quit.

Senator Simmons of North Carolina, a Hoover Democrat, who has been a leading Democratic senator for many years, is likewise demanding Raskob's resignation.

Lynch Davidson, twice candidate for governor of Texas and a prospective candidate for the third time, is making the same demand.

We are not undertaking to advise the leaders in the Democratic party but we are becoming more and more amazed that other Southern Senators have not joined in the demand. Raskob has nothing in common, politically, with such gentlemen as Sheppard and Connolly, for instance. We feel that all dry Democrats, whether they voted for Hoover or Smith in the last national election, should join in a demand that Raskob get out.

Raskob testified recently that he had contributed and promised to contribute more than $65,000 during the past few years to the Association against the Eighteenth Amendment. He further testified that he understood it to be the purpose of this association to procure the election of wets against dry to the Congress of the United States. If a wet Republican is pitted against a dry Democrat, then this association helps the wet Republican. That seems fully as bad to us as supporting a dry Republican against a wet Democrat for President.

But this is not all. We recognize the right of any individual or group to work for the repeal of any amendment to the constitution. But the Association against the Eighteenth Amendment has been doing everything in its power to bring about the nullification of this amendment even while it remains a part of the Constitution. It has been encouraging disregard for the amendment—trampling it underfoot as a mere scrap of paper. It has been teaching that this amendment is not entitled to the respect of the citizen and that the citizen has a right to violate it at will. In other words they have been inciting to rebellion and virtual anarchy. Raskob has been supporting this organization and contributing to this kind of lawlessness. Yet he remains as the head of a great party. We are hoping that Morris Sheppard and Tom Connolly will be heard from soon on this proposition. We are anxious to hear them protest in clarion tones against this nullificationist and inciter of rebellion.

Some of our local political leaders contend that we drew an erroneous conclusion last week when we expressed the opinion that with the present line-up in the governor's race Jim Ferguson would be in the run-off. Our good friend J. B. Walker says that Ferguson hasn't got a ghost of a show to get in the run-off. He thinks Jim Young is the coming man. Mebbe so, mebbe so.

GEMS OF LITERATURE (By J. A. Humphries)

THE TWO KINDS OF PEOPLE

There are two sorts of people in the world, who, with equal degrees of health and wealth, and the other comforts of life, become, the one happy, and the other miserable. This arises very much from the different views in which they consider things, persons and events; and the effect of those different views upon their own minds.

In whatever situation men can be placed they may find conveniences and inconveniences; in whatever company they may find persons and conversation more or less pleasing; at whatever table they may meet with meats and drinks of better and worse taste, dishes better and worse dressed; in whatever climate they will find good and bad weather; under whatever government, they may find good and bad laws, and good and bad administration of those laws; in whatever poem or work of genius they may see faults and beauties; in almost every face and every character they may discover fine features and defects, good and bad qualities.

Under these circumstances the two sorts of people above mentioned fix their attention; those who are disposed to be happy, on the convenience of things, the pleasant parts of conversation, the well-dressed dishes, the goodness of the vines, the fine weather, etc., and enjoy all with cheerfulness. Those who are to be unhappy think and speak only of the contraries. Hence they are continually discontented themselves, and by their remarks, sour the pleasures of society, offend personally many people, and make themselves everywhere disagreeable. If this turn of mind was founded in nature such unhappy persons would be the more pitied. But as the disposition to criticize, and to be disgusted, is perhaps taken up originally by imitation, and is unawares grown into a habit, which, though at present strong, may nevertheless be cured, when those who have it are convinced of its bad effects on their felicity. If these people will not change this bad habit, and condescend to be pleased with what is pleasing, without fretting themselves and others about the contraries, it is good for them; which is always disagreeable, and sometimes very inconvenient, especially when one finds one's self tangled in their quarrels.—Franklin.

There is one sure way to get greater value in a low-priced car today—choose a Six!

This greater value is instantly obvious when you drive a Chevrolet Six. You notice first of all its greater smoothness. There is no tremor in the steering wheel—no rattle in the floor boards—no drumming in the body.

In addition to the finer performance of its six-cylinder motor, the new Chevrolet gives you truly remarkable economy.

Its six-cylinder smoothness saves the entire car from the strain and wear of vibration. This, of course, lowers the cost of maintenance and assures a longer-lasting automobile.

From the standpoint of operating expense, Chevrolet is equally economical. No automobile uses less gasoline and oil. No car shows a lower expense for tires. And no car costs less for service.

Because of its modern engineering, Chevrolet also assures a high re-sale value—for its entire design is just as advanced as its six-cylinder engine.

Chevrolet gives you fully-enclosed, weather-proof, 4-wheel brakes. It gives you a modern fuel system—with the gasoline tank mounted in the rear outside the body. It gives you four long semi-elliptic springs, mounted lengthwise in the direction of car travel. It gives you beautiful Fisher bodies built of combination hardwood-and-steel. It gives you a full ball bearing steering mechanism, an adjustable driver's seat, a Fisher VV non-glare windshield, and tilting beam headlights, operated by a foot-controlled button.

Before you decide on any car in the low-price field, see and drive the Chevrolet Six. The more thoroughly you investigate, the more certain you are to conclude that it's wise to choose a Six—for value, for performance and for economical transportation!

the Baptist Church here last Sunday morning and evening to hear the new pastor, Rev. O. J. Hill, conducting his first services here as pastor.

At the evening hour the Methodist Church dispensed with its services in order that the members might worship with the Baptists and hear their new pastor. Many members of other churches were also present. The seating capacity of the auditorium was taxed to the limit to accommodate the crowds that came.

Forceful messages were brought by the pastor at both the services. Baptists here are exceedingly happy that they are pastorless no longer and are delighted to have so powerful a preacher as their pastor and leader.

As one result of the coming of the new pastor, steps are already being taken to organize a boys' class in the Sunday School, and the pastor and others are laying this matter on the hearts of the men to the end that the new movement may be a decided success from the beginning.

EASTER PROGRAM AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH SUNDAY

Last Sunday was a good day at the First Baptist Church, but plans are being made to have a better day this coming Sunday.

We are not much for special days but most of the civilized world thinks just as this season of the year about the resurrection of our Lord from the grave, and in keeping with that most important event there will be a special service Sunday morning at the Baptist church.

The special music, the sermon, and the entire program will be in keeping with the Easter spirit. No more important doctrine is taught in the Word of God than the doctrine of the Resurrection of Jesus. Let the people come to the House of the Lord and think together about this fundamental teaching of the Word.

There are classes for all ages in the Sunday School. Efficient teachers for all classes. Let the fathers and mothers bring the children to this teaching service.

MRS. POWELL HOSTESS TO SANS SOUCI BRIDGE CLUB

INTERMEDIATE G. A.'S RENDER EASTER PROGRAM

A social and Easter program was given by the Intermediate G. A.'s at the home of their leader, Mrs. Pledger Coleman, on Monday night.

Scripture—Matt. 27:28—Lois Jackson.

Comments by all.

Sentence Prayers.

Song—"Living For Jesus"—Jessie Anderson.

Reading—"An Easter Lily"—Helen Applewhite.

Talks by Meses Hu'l, Hughes, White, Coleman and Riddle.

The hostess was tastefully decorated in Easter colors. A lovely sight for our vision was a bowl of assorted flowers and rosebuds the first of the season's greetings, blended so well with the colors of Easter, and the games carried out to suit the occasion.

Refreshments of pink sugar wafers, muffins topped with pink icing, and green lemonade, the dainty plate card consisting of a green leaf with yellow biddle and colored Easter egg in center, was served to the following: Misses Tommie and Robbie Miliken, Estelyn and Evelyn Jeffreys, Jessie Henderson, Lois Jackson, Helen Applewhite, Erma Faye Edwards, Wayland Clay Hughes (the Intermediate mascot), Mrs. Pledger Coleman, and visitors, Meses O. J. Hull, Clay Hughes, Taylor White, and H. A. Riddle and Misses Jodie Bob Nevill, Elsie Dee McLaughan, and Billy Margaret Riddle.

We just want to say that this program was an inspiration to all, and we know these Intermediate girls and their leaders can put things over the top, and it can be said Lois Jackson is a real hostess.—One Present.

SHATTUCK HAD STRANGE PROMOTION OF DEATH

The death of Rev. G. F. Shattuck which we mentioned last week was preceded by a strange promotion of its approach, according to W. M. Thompson, who was present at the time.

Rev. Mr. Shattuck had been in ill health for some time and had expressed the firm conviction to a number of others that the end was near. To his friends and loved ones, however, his condition was not alarming. On the night of his death, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson went over to Mr. Shattuck's home to transact some business, at his request, and when they were about to leave he insisted that they remain telling them that he would die before morning. They remained through the night. Mr. Shattuck was sleepless and at intervals would tell them that the end was drawing near. Part of the time he was lying on the bed but seemed unable to breathe well when lying down and sat up much of the time either in a chair or on the bed. Neither his wife nor the Thompsons could see any evidences that he was seriously ill but Mr. Thompson finally decided to call a physician. The physician found his heart action to be normal in every respect and he had no temperature. There were some evidences of indigestion but the physician was unable to find any alarming symptoms. After the physician left, Mr. Shattuck continued to warn those present occasionally that the end was approaching. He gave minute instructions as to the funeral arrangements, requesting that a portion of the fifteenth chapter of First Corinthians be read by his friend, Mr. Allen, asking that the Nazarene pastor at Grassland conduct the funeral, and selecting the songs that he desired sung. He also named the pall bearers who should bear his remains to the grave. Finally, sitting on the side of the bed, he declared that he then had only a few more minutes to live, stated that when he did die they would all be excited and might forget the addresses of some of his children, and instructed his wife to write down their names and residences. (They were her step-children). Just as she finished writing the last name, he remarked, "I am gone," dropped his face in his hands, his elbows resting on his knees, and continued to sit motionless in that position until Mr. Thompson became alarmed and walked over to him to arouse him. But the spirit of the good man had already taken its flight. He was dead. Mr. Thompson and the two women present were amazed, but the end had come just as he had been predicting.

The remains were laid to rest in the Tahoka cemetery the next afternoon, the funeral being conducted according to directions which Mr. Shattuck had given.

His children, I. A. Shattuck of Orlton, Mrs. F. M. Beeman of Dora, New Mexico; and Mrs. Roy Allen of New Home, together with many other relatives and friends were present.

Mr. H. R. Williamson has authorized us to announce that he will be a candidate for public weigher at Wilson. His name will appear in the regular announcement column next week.

Mr. Williamson is a farmer and has been residing in or near Wilson for the past four years. He now resides within the town. He is a married man and has four children.

RECEPTION TENDERED PASTOR

stituting its history would have evoked a smile under any circumstances but they were related by Mrs. Applewhite in such an artful manner as to become really amusing.

Miss Binnion's Quartette, composed of four high school boys, rendered two numbers, both of which were very entertaining. This was followed by a most excellent reading by Miss Helen Applewhite, which was followed in turn by a quartette given by Misses R. C. Wells, Skip Taylor, H. P. Cavness and K. R. Durham.

Rev. Mr. Allen, pastor at Meadow, and Rev. E. V. May of Brownfield, each made a few appropriate remarks, the latter indulging in quite a bit of humor. Brother Hull was then given an opportunity to speak, and he responded in a serio-comic vein. Many good-natured thrusts back and forth enlivened the occasion, and finally Uncle Ben got the floor and "poured it on" the new pastor—all in fun, of course. Mrs. Hull also expressed her desire to be of service in every way possible.

Visitors present from Wilson included Mrs. Phillip McGahey, wife of the pastor there, Mrs. W. H. May and Miss Clara May and Mrs. B. W. Baker.

Following a beautiful violin and piano duet rendered by R. C. and Valerie Wells, refreshments were served in the dining room, ending a most pleasant evening's entertainment.

R. E. May of the May Drug Company spent the first half of this week in Desdemona on business.

Farmer Experimenting In Pecan Raising

J. O. Allen, who lives out in the Dixie community, sent in the price of a subscription for another year a few days ago and added a few words about his experience with some young pecan trees which he planted two years ago on his place. His experiment will be watched with interest and if these trees continue to thrive there is no reason why many other farmers should not follow his example. Here is what Mr. Allen says:

"I will say a few words about setting out pecans in this country. I put out a few Halbert and Burkett trees two years ago, just small ones. I did so half-heartedly, for every one told me that they would not do any good here. They were not irrigated last year and had no care taken of them, as the hail beat them up until I thought they were ruined. I dug them up last winter and re-set them by my tank, except one Halbert tree. This tree now has 180 blossoms on it and one of the trees I set out by the tank in January is just beginning to bloom.

"So I find that the popular belief that it takes almost a life time for pecans to begin to bear is false. There is no prettier tree than the pecan, no better nut grown, and they are long-lived. So, I wonder why we see so few of them."
