Tahoka Will Get Cotton Co-op Branch Office

BUSINESS MEN SIGN CONTRACT

Backed As Result Of Interest Shown At Farmer's Mass Meeting Here Tuesday

Tahoka is virtually assured a branch office of the Texas Cotton Co-operative Association under the supervision of the Federal Farm Board, and a better day is in prospect for Lynn county agriculturally as a result of a mass meeting held at the city tabernacle Tuesday afternoon attended by approximately 600 farmers and business men. The office will be one of six in Northwest Texas.

Immediately after the mass meeting, the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce directors met at the court house and agreed to sign the $7,500 guarantee and give support of 15,000 bales to cinch the office. Several score of business men and some

CO-OP FIELD MAN IS STATIONED AT TAHOKA

Claude Holley, formerly secretary of the Stanton Chamber of Commerce, has been stationed at Tahoka as organization manager by the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association under the Federal Farm Board's supervision.

He will have active charge of signing members all over the Tahoka branch office territory, and may be reached through the Tahoka chamber of commerce office.

farmers are expected to sign the guarantee with the directors. The meeting showed conclusively that leading farmers were in favor of the cooperative marketing plan as favored and sponsored by the government. Now, the proposition is up to the farmers. Many have already signed the agreement to market at least ten bales, and others are falling in line.

Speakers Heard
Four speakers were heard at the enthusiastic tabernacle meeting, Herman Deiterich and R. J. Murray of the cooperative marketing organization and F. R. Friend A. B. Davis, Lubbock banker and C. of C. official, respectively.

Taylor White, president of the Chamber of Commerce and teacher of vocational agriculture in the high school, presided at the meeting and introduced the speakers.

F. R. Friend, vice-president of the First National Bank of Lubbock, was the first speaker. "This problem of

County Political Rally Is Friday

Next Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock will be held on the court house lawn in Tahoka the last of a series of political meetings sponsored by the county candidates. All the people of the county are invited to be present and hear the announcements and platforms of those who wish to serve us during the next two years. The meeting was previously announced for Friday night, but was changed so as not to interfere with the Baptist meeting now in progress.

The candidates have visited practically every community in Lynn county during the past few weeks, most of the meetings being held in the school houses.

Summer colds in poultry flocks have been reported in many counties, due largely to excessive heat combined with poorly ventilated houses. In demonstration flocks county and home demonstration agents, have been getting owners in many instances to remove a board across the rear side for better ventilation.

Applewhite Appointed Co-op District Director

J. K. Applewhite, local business man, has been appointed member of the advisory committee of the Lubbock district of the Texas Co-operative Association. The appointment was made by R. J. Murray, Lubbock, district chairman. One committee-man has been appointed from each county in the district seeking a branch office.

TAHOKA LOSES FIRST CONTEST

Southland Victor Wednesday; Tahoka Still Holds Lead In S. P. League, However

Tahoka has lost a game. It all happened yesterday afternoon on the local diamond, when Southland took the locals to an unexpected 6 to 3 cleaning. This was the first game Tahoka has lost in the South Plains League, but she still retains her first place standing.

Harrison was placed on the mound for Tahoka, but after the visitors had scored 5 runs he was relieved in the sixth by Squires. Johnson pitched the first five stanzas for Southland, and Gregory the last four. Tahoka received 11 hits and Southland 12, and 3 and 2 errors, respectively.

Sunday afternoon Tahoka defeated Brownfield on the local diamond 6 to 2 in one of the best games of the season. Oliver, a new find, pitched for Tahoka, allowing only 5 hits; while Tahoka collected 13 hits from Graham, pitching for Brownfield. Three errors were chalked up against Tahoka and two against Brownfield. This was the eighth win for Tahoka since the S. P. League started.

Games of this week are:
Sunday, July 27
Tahoka at Lubbock
Brownfield at Levelland
Lamesa at Southland
Wednesday July 30
Tahoka at Lamesa
Levelland at Lubbock
Brownfield at Southland

Winners To Feed Losers In Races

An unusual occasion is scheduled to take place in Tahoka next Saturday night as the Democratic primary comes to a close.

The returns on county races will probably all be in. Some will be sad; others glad.

The unusual part is, however, the fact that the winning candidates plan to give a banquet at the Green House Cafe for the benefit of the defeated ones. The winners, or those going into the run-off primary, must furnish the eats to their opponents, and those who have no opponents must buy their own food.

Forty-six candidates, or former candidates, are scheduled to take part in this gala occasion—unless some of them are too sick to do so.

Carter Sells Interest In O'Donnell Index

Otis D. Carter, one of the owners of the O'Donnell Index has sold out his interest in the plant and business to his partner, W. H. Ritzenthaler, and the latter will have complete charge of the newspaper in the future.

Messrs. Carter and Ritzenthaler came to O'Donnell last March from Snyder, buying out J. W. Roberts. They have been improving the Index constantly. Mr. Ritzenthaler is a newspaper man of experience and expects to continue the production of a paper worthy of that town. Mr. Carter has not announced his plans for the future but will probably engage in the newspaper business elsewhere.

EVERYONE SHOULD VOTE!

Saturday the Democratic Primary election will be held. A large number of candidates are in the field for state, district and county offices. Some of them, possibly several, and maybe all in some races, would make capable officials.

Due to the fact that there are so many candidates for some offices, a small majority of our people seem to take little interest in the election. Many are undecided between two or more candidates. Some just don't care much how the world rocks.

But, every citizen of Lynn County, whether deeply interested or not, should go to the polls Saturday and make an honest effort to vote intelligently. This is a government by, of and for the people, but this could not be so unless we all expressed our wishes at the ballot box. It's your privilege and duty in this democratic government to vote. Pick the men you think best fitted for the respective offices, and vote for them.

Whoever you are for, VOTE!

18 Leave Saturday For A. & M. Short Course

A delegation composed of eighteen club girls and club women will leave Post Saturday night at 11 o'clock on a Santa Fe special train for the annual A. & M. Short Course.

The following will compose the party: Mrs. Robert Noble, West Point Club; Mrs. Acie Bailey and Mrs. R. H. Bates, New Home Club; Mrs. R. E. Townzen and Mrs. Jack Alexander, T-Bar Club; Mrs. J. A. Jaynes, New Lynn Club; Mrs. J. O. Thrill, winner of Living Room Contest, Grassland Club and also Mrs. B. T. Elliott of the Grassland Club; Mrs. T. B. Cowan and Miss Eva Cowan of the Midway Club; Mrs. R. W. Fenton, President of State Home Demonstration Association, Edith Club; Mrs. W. T. Luttrell of Draw Club; Mrs. E. J. Tredway of O'Donnell.

The following club girls will go to the Short Course: Misses Irma and Lebusa Macha, Dixie Club and Miss Irene Terry of New Lynn Club.

Miss Thelma Greenwade, home demonstration agent, and Ray E. Shaver, county agent, will also make the trip.

The entire party will return by Galveston and each one is planning to have a wonderful time.

Christine Owens Has County Club Record

Christine Owens, a member of the Edith 4-H Club, was the outstanding girl in club work in Lynn County in 1929. Not only was she in Lynn county, but she captured the fifteenth place in the state.

This makes Christine a member of the Gold Pin 4-H Club, the first club of this type to be organized in the state. In this club there are only 25 members. So we can see that Christine has really achieved something when she has been admitted to this club. It is hoped that Christine will be able to attend the Short Course again this year.

Co-op Not Connected With Gin Business

The Tahoka chamber of commerce in working with the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association to establish an office here asks The News to state the Co-op is not a gin movement in any respect, and that it sees no connection whatever between the Co-op and the old Farm Bureau. The only existing relationship is the fact that the Texas Co-op is taking over the old Farm Bureau membership as the result of such an agreement with the Federal Farm Board. This is strictly a government supervised organization.

BIG REVIVAL ENDS SUNDAY

Baptist Meeting Has Been Successful; Large Crowds Are Attending All Services

The revival meeting which has been in progress at the city tabernacle for the past week and a half under the auspices of the Baptist Church comes to a close Sunday night of this week. Growth in interest and effect has been continuous, the tabernacle being well filled each evening, and the morning services are said to have been drawing larger crowds than at any revival ever held here.

Rev. Owen J. Hull, the pastor, has been doing the preaching. Grady Helm, Fort Worth, had led the song services until Sunday night when he became sick. He returned to his home Tuesday night. Taylor White has been leading since, and has had about 100 voices in the choir each evening.

Last Sunday afternoon between 200 and 400 men attended a special men's meeting, Rev. Hull addressing them on the subject "The Chains That Bind." Short talks were also made by Judge B. P. Maddox, Rev. Horn and others.

Sunday morning will be held an "alabaster box" service and all families are requested to bring their alabaster boxes. The evening service will close the meeting.

Prayer meetings for men, women, young people and juniors are a feature of the meeting.

A number of new members have been added to the church.

Bandeen Speaks At Kiwanis Club

D. A. Bandeen, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Kiwanis club Wednesday noon. He pointed out the resources and opportunities for development of West Texas and quoted tax figures to show that this section is bearing more than her just share of taxes for the upkeep of the state government.

The club voted to help pay the expenses of a local young man who is crippled while attending a radio school in Oklahoma City.

"Shorty" Woods Wins Golf Tournament

C. N. "Shorty" Woods is the golf champion of Tahoka, the city tournament ended this week disclosing, having won over Borden Davis in a 36 hole match. The battle was "nip and tuck" for the first 18 holes, the two being tied in both stroke and hole; but on the last 18 Woods forged ahead, shooting a sub-par score. The tournament was divided into three flights, and four prizes were awarded in each flight. Woods received a gold golf ball as champion.

Winners of the tournament were as follows:
First flight—C. N. Woods, 1st; Borden Davis, 2nd; Harley Wells, 3rd; and Marcus Edwards, 4th.

Second flight—"Lefty" Squires, 1st; Buster Grissom, 2nd; Truman Walker, 3rd; and Bill Burleson, 4th.

Third flight—Dr. C. B. Townes, 1st; Bill Holland, 2nd; L. C. Haney, 3rd; and A. B. Swan, 4th.

HOT CONTESTS TO BE DECIDED

Ballot One of Longest Ever; Returns Will Be Received At Tahoka Saturday Evening

Saturday is the big day. The first Democratic primary election will be held, and voters will select their choices for the various offices from the largest, in standpoint of number of candidates, state and county ballot ever. There are on the ballot fifty candidates for state offices, eleven of which are for governor; seven for district, and forty-two for county and precinct offices.

In all races where there are more than two candidates and any one does not get a majority, a run-off primary will be necessary. This election will be held Saturday, August 30th, five weeks from now.

To Receive Returns
Returns on county district and state races will be received in Tahoka Saturday night, beginning immediately after the closing of the polls. Main street will be roped off and the returns posted on the bulletin board in the middle of the street through the courtesy of Tahoka Drug and The Limit.

Election judges are requested by H. M. Larkin, county chairman, to phone in results immediately after counting is completed to telephone number 52; and if it is impossible to phone them in, to have them sent in by messenger. Boxes returned on Saturday night should be left at the Edwards and Lockhart office over the First National Bank, and those returned Sunday or Monday left with County Clerk Truett Smith.

Who May Vote
The pledge will appear on the ballot, and the ballot of anyone who scratches this pledge will be thrown out. According to ruling of the Texas Supreme Court, any voter subscribing to the pledge shall be permitted to vote in the primary regardless of previous affiliation in other political parties.

In order to be a qualified voter one must be a citizen of the United States, 21 years of age, a resident of the State for 12 months, and in the county in which he offers to vote, for six months, and must have paid a poll tax (state and county) if subject thereto, prior to February 1, preceding this election, or have obtained an exemption certificate.

One must be 21 years old at the time he offers to vote. He cannot vote in the primary if he is not 21, even though he will be before the general election.

Two Speak Here For Clint Small

Clint C. Small of Wellington, candidate for governor, was represented here Saturday afternoon when J. H. Hankins and Dan Powers of Lubbock spoke on the court house square in his behalf before about one hundred citizens.

They related the record of Clint Small as a city, county and district official and as a member of the State Senator pointing out the fact he was instrumental in the passage of the Small land bill which prevented land grabbers from taking valuable Panhandle oil lands on the ground that creek beds were navigable streams under the existing law. They pled for the support of Small on the grounds that this is the first chance West Texas has had to place a man in the governor's chair that would be as fair to this section as to others.

Thomas S. Christopher, Lamesa attorney, also made a talk speaking in behalf of James V. Allred, candidate for attorney-general, reviewing his record of accomplishments.

The speakers of the day were introduced by W. J. Burkhardt.

CO-OP BRANCH OFFICE

marketing our cotton" he said in opening, "is not the farmer's problem alone but also is the business man's problem," and he explained that it was of financial interest to all that we co-operate in the sale of our cotton.

"The purpose of this marketing organization is to take the cotton off your hands and hold it until it is needed on the market—until there is a demand for it and the Federal Government is the only organization that is powerful enough to do that. Under the present condition, you cannot afford to hold your cotton. When you get to needing money, the speculators take advantage of your position and offer less than your cotton is worth."

As to the value of a branch office of the co-operative at Tahoka Mr. Friend said that it would be a big thing for the farmers and the town. Terry county or Garza county will neither be able to support a branch with 15,000 bales, and thus much of their cotton business would come through the Tahoka branch.

Organization Only Way

He pointed out that every line of business, all industry, all labor is organized, that practically every commodity, other than farm products, is bought and sold at fair prices as a direct result of organization. He said the farmers composed the only class of people in the nation not organized to get a just price for their products. Laborers work only 8 hours a day as the result of legislation passed as a result of organization and draw as high as four or five times as much daily wage as the farmer who works ten or twelve hours. "I don't blame the laborer for getting a good price for his work. Why don't you organize and get it yourself," he continued.

This is the first time in history that the American government has told the farmer to organize. The government is backing its plan with a $500,000,000 appropriation. It's the first time the farmer has ever had financial backing for cooperative marketing. Its the greatest step that has ever been made in a century.

"We hear a good deal about the cost of producing cotton, that the production of a bale costs more than the farmer gets for it. Do you know how that cost is determined? The average cost for the support of the average family of the United States, the cost of giving the average family average opportunities, such as clothing, education and food, determines the cost of raising your cotton. To live this average life we must sell our cotton about twice the present price."

Deiterich Gives Details

Herman Deiterich, organization director of the Lubbock District, explained the details of how the marketing plan works.

The plan was worked out by the National Farm Board under Chairman Alexander Legge and was made possible through a five hundred million dollar appropriation of congress to be used for benefitting agricultural conditions in the nation. All the government asks is the cooperation of the farmers in order that a just market for the commodity may be found, speculation eliminated, and surpluses held over until demands warrant sale. The American Cotton Cooperative Association has been formed with office headquarters at New Orleans, under government supervision. In each state a sub-organization is formed. In Texas, it is the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association which has absorbed, but not accepted the policies and liabilities thereof, of Texas Farm Bureau Association. The state headquarters are at Dallas. The state has been divided into six districts with district offices at Corpus Christi, Houston, Waco, Abilene, Dallas, and Lubbock. Within this district six and possibly seven or eight branch offices will be established. This district covers 48 counties in northwest Texas nearly 30 of which produce cotton. Branch offices have already been assured Wellington, Plainview, Littlefield and Lubbock, with Tahoka and Lamesa to be probably two of the others. Three other towns are seeking branch offices. In each section surrounding these branch offices will be receiving agents.

Would Serve Many

The proposed office at Tahoka would serve a large area, and the cost of maintaining it a year would be about $7,500, this cost being the reason a guarantee is asked of local business men and farmers. If the 15,000 bales of cotton are marketed through the office from this area, the business men will not be out a nickle, but for every bale under 15,000, the business men would put up 50c, provided the cost of the office's maintenance ran as much as $7,500. A Federal government cotton classifier, licensed and bonded, would be placed in charge of the office at an approximate salary of $3,000. He would grade all cotton marketed by farmers whether through the organization or not. Outsiders could even use him by the payment of 25c a bale for grading. He would post daily price statements according to grade and staple based on the world market as well as other cotton statistics. Extra clerks and classifiers would be employed during rush seasons.

Many ways of selling cotton by the farmer are provided. The classifier can grade the sample and the farmer can sell it to a street buyer if he wishes, or if the street buyer will not pay what it is worth he can sell it through the cooperative. Within the cooperative there is more than one way to sell it. One or more bales may be placed in a "seasonal" pool to be sold by the ACCA when it finds the time is ripe. It would bring the average price of the season on the world cotton market. Payment is made in full before the end of the season, July 1st, and there is no two or three years waiting for the money on a bale. Or a cash advance of approximately 90 per cent can be made on the bale. Then, there is the "optional" pool in which the marketing association will sell the cotton on any day the member thinks the price is right and says sell it. Practically full payment is made as soon as cotton is sold, or a liberal advance in cash may be made. In the daily pool, one may sell his cotton at the market price of that day and get all of his money in cash.

Agents Over Area

Around over the area of the Tahoka branch would be receiving agents in every community. At O'Donnell and Wilson, for instance, there would probably be several. It would be their duty to take samples if the members' cotton, see to shipping it, etc., send in samples to the Tahoka office for grading which would secure payments. Or, the farmer could bring his sample to the office at Tahoka and get his money immediately. Thus, it is seen the farmer has every kind of marketing privilege he has had in the past with these features in addition.

Terms of Agreement

The marketing agreement provides that the farmer shall deliver every other bale he produces up to 20 bales and no more unless he wishes to do so. In other words, if he produces 20 bales, he shall market 10 of them through the cooperative. If he only raises ten, he must market 5 of them through the co-op. If he raises 40 or 50, he still has to market only 10, if he so wishes. Though his membership is signed for ten years, he may withdraw from the organization at the end of two years if he so desires. The membership fee is $10. This is not payable in cash, however, but will be taken out of cotton marketed in the fall. If the farmer is a member of the old Farm Bureau he does not have to pay this membership fee. Out of each membership fee $2.50 will remain at Tahoka for the operation of the local office, and this $2.50 for each member enrolled will be deducted from the $7,500 guarantee.

In answer to the fact that the old Farm Bureau had not secured unusually large prices for cotton, it was pointed out that the Texas organization only handled 3 per cent of the cotton grown in the state.

Others Speak

A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, which put up $27,500 guarantee to secure the district and branch offices for that city, was the next speaker, and emphasized the value of the marketing plan in building of the South Plains, the benefit both to the farmers and the business men.

Bob Murray, district chairman of the organization, president of the Lubbock Chamber of commerce, ex-farmer, community booster and what-not, closed the series of talks with an inspirational and informative address that converted many listeners to the marketing plan. He said this was the greatest thing that had ever been offered the farmers in the history of the nation. All they have to do now is to say "Yes," and the government will do the rest. He brought a big hand when he said this was the first time he had ever had a chance to get his hand in the pocket of the Republican administration and he was sure going to take advantage of the opportunity by signing up his farms in the organization. He emphasized the fact that the entire organization would be under the supervision and control of the government, and that all books, in even the branch offices would be audited by the government.

After the meeting, many questions were asked by those present and answered by Mr. Deiterich and others. About sixty farmers immediately signed marketing agreements.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jaques, and son, C. E., G. W. Jaques, and Everett Nevill returned Tuesday from Arkansas where they visited relatives. They say the crops in most of Arkansas are very poor this year.

John R. Hancock, wife and daughter of Winters have been here this week visiting F. H. Hancock and other relatives at New Home.

Adults Contract Children's Diseases
Adults can, and do, contract many children's diseases. And, usually, they suffer from them much more than children do. For instance, many adults contract worms, an ailment usually associated with children. Sometimes they suffer intensely and take expensive medical treatments, without realizing that worms are the cause of their troubles. Yet, the symptoms are the same as in children, loss of appetite and weight, grinding the teeth and restless sleep, itching of the nose and anus, and abdominal pains. And, the same medicine that surely and harmlessly expels round and pin worms from children will do the same for adults — White's Cream Vermifuge, which you can get at

Why pay for "POWER" if most of it is "horsepower"

Is a steep, muddy grade a detour sign to your car? Is power just a promise in the gasoline you use? Switch to Phillips 66 and note the smooth flow of power released by a touch of the throttle. See how alert your car is on get-away—how flashy on pickup. Check your mileage—and credit yourself with economy. The secret of the sterling performance of Phillips 66 is controlled volatility. Every gallon scientifically fitted to seasonal and climatic conditions. A winter gas in winter. A spring gas in spring. A summer gas in summer. A fall gas in fall. A pep and power combination all year 'round. Drive up, with confidence, to the pump marked "Phillips 66." Drive away with a tankful of motoring satisfaction.

STERLING PLAN OUR ONLY HOPE

The News editor does not expect to vote for Ross Sterling next Saturday. Another candidate is our first choice.

But we do not believe that Texas will ever have a completed and unified system of highways until some such plan as the Sterling plan is adopted. We can see no hope for the highways in Lynn County, for instance to ever be paved under the present system. Where is the citizen of Lynn county who believes that there is any prospect of paving any time soon? The people of this county simply will not vote the bonds.

But we will go right on paying, our four-cent gasoline tax just the same. All of it that we will get back will be what it takes to maintain our dirt roads, and the portion that goes to the school fund. We will do no paving in Lynn county with it. It will help to pave highways in other counties that have voted bonds but none of it will be used to pave highways in the county.

That is the present system. Ross Sterling wants to change it. He does not think it fair to require counties to help build state highways. He thinks the State ought to build her own highways without any aid from the counties.

He thinks, for instance, that the State should pave highway No. 9 right through Lynn county without levying one cent of tax on the homes and the farms and the cows and the pigs of Lynn County.

He thinks that the traffic ought to pay for the roads.

He thinks that counties that have already voted bonds and helped to build the state highways within their boundaries should be equitably remunerated.

He thinks that all the other portions of an adequate and unified highway system in this state should be hard-surfaced as rapidly as possible.

To procure funds necessary to complete this system of highways, he believes that a state bond issue of 300 to 350 million dollars is necessary.

But he would not levy an ad valorem tax on the property of the people to pay these bonds. He would pay them with a gasoline tax of four cents on the gallon, or some such sum.

By that system, the fellow who used the roads, would pay for them, and he would pay largely in proportion to the use he made of them.

By that system, highways would be paved through financially weak counties as well as through the rich counties.

By that system the people of Lynn county might reasonably expect highway No. 9 and even highway No. 84 to be paved through the county within the next few years—paved with the same four-cent gasoline tax that we are going to continue to pay anyway.

Under the present system, who can hope for these highways to ever be paved through Lynn County? If ever, it will only be when the people become willing to vote a heavy ad valorem tax on their homes and their lands and their cows and their other property in addition to the gasoline tax.

For the life of us, folks, we can't understand why anybody in Lynn county should oppose the Sterling plan for building and paving our highways. The Sterling plan is our only hope.

OUR GREAT AMERICAN PRIVILEGE

We don't know whether Tom Love has the ghost of a show to get into the run-off or not.

We do not think that the gentlemen who are making such extravagant claims for the various other candidates know very much about that either.

We don't think that anybody can figure out, with any degree of accuracy, just what is going to happen next Saturday.

But, whatever the people may do to Tom Love, we believe him to be one of the really big men of Texas. He has brains. He has convictions. He has courage. He is a fighter and usually a winner. He has great resourcefulness and bulldog tenacity. He has many critics and many enemies just now among those who ought to be his friends. He has done much for the common people of Texas, and he will probably yet do much for them, whatever fate may befall him next Saturday.

He is a big, brainy man—patriotic and courageous—and we are for him.

But you, dear reader, just run along and vote for your own choice—even for Soapy Moody if you think he's the best man in the race.

That's our great American privilege—a privilege that has helped to make us great.

BAGWELL STILL CUSSIN' WEST TEXAS

E. Jennings returned Thursday night from Sulphur Springs, the stamping ground of one Editor Bagwell of the Hopkins County Echo. Bagwell raw-hided Jennings considerably in his paper to the effect that the latter had come home for something to eat. Bagwell hates West Texas, or plays like he does, never has anything good to say for anyone who lives out here. If a total stranger to Texas were to read Bagwell's paper, he would think Hopkins county the richest garden spot on the face of the globe and West Texas was a great desert land, dry and desolate, where nothing but horned frogs, cactus and a few mesquite trees can survive. He would see items every week in that paper where some East Texans had gone wrong and gone to the West, but had just straggled back home with craws-full of nothing but sand and the losers of many pounds in weight.

Bagwell's all right. He's in his right mind, but he is just about one-third misinformed, one-third prejudiced—and, then he likes to have fun, so he takes it out on the West. Here's the low down on Bagwell: About fourteen years ago he sold out in East Texas and came west and bought out a newspaper at Sweetwater, just about the time the notable drought set in. The grass died, the mesquites died, Sweetwater's water supply dried up, Bagwell got dry and pulled back for East Texas. So far as we know that's the extent of his knowledge of West Texas.

We won't argue the question, but we have not noticed any astounding increase in Hopkins county's population. Just look at the increase in Lynn county, 160 per cent in ten years, or nearly any other West Texas county.

THOMAS GIVES HIS PLATFORM IN STATEMENT

LAMESA, July 26.—Stating that he believed Lubbock is proud to be the home of this district's state senator and that that city is willing for the member of the lower house to come from its trade territory, John N. Thomas of Taboka, candidate for state representative for the 119th district, related some of the planks of his platform in an interview here this week.

Thomas is fifty-six years of age and was born in Georgia. As a youth he moved to Alabama where he received an education from the public schools and from North-Eastern Agricultural College at Albertville, Alabama, and Perry-Raney College of Auburn, Ga. Mr. Thomas served his home county of Lynn as tax assessor for three terms, six years, retiring from the office in 1920.

The Lynn county man is a pioneer of this section, having moved to Taboka in 1905, where he has since made his home. He recalls many changes in this section of the country during these past twenty four years, among them the passing of the great ranches, and the coming of the farmers.

"I have also seen the school system develop into one of the best of our Lone Star State from the few scattered one-room buildings to the many fine brick structures which are our pride. In this respect we have seen the coming, and many of us have participated in securing for this section, one of the outstanding institutions of learning in the southwest. If not of the nation, our Texas Technological College. This institution is our own, and we are justly proud of it. My pledge to the people of the district is that I will at all times be alert to its every need, and will untiringly fight for appropriations that will not hamper it in its development and in the education of the youth of the southwest. I, also, of course, stand for the continued progress being made in our rural schools of this area.

"One of the present issues being carried to the people is that of good roads and highways. I pledge to our citizenship to at all times fight for this sections equitable rights in the proportion of our state highways and the maintenance of same. I am, and have always been, in favor of good roads and hard surfaced highways, however, I cannot support, at this time, a bond issue for the amount of something like three hundred and fifty millions of dollars. A lien of this size on the commonwealth of Texas is not in keeping with the present economic conditions.

"As this section of the country has turned from ranching to the growing of crops, and a great portion of the area is now under the plow—there is no other question nearer to us than that of the farmer and farm owner. My aim is to assist in any way possible, and support such legislation as will tend to stabilize a better price for farm products, including dairy, poultry, and stock farming.

"The penitentiary problem is another major issue before our state. I am for, and will support, legislation for the improvement of our penitentiary system and the handling of the state's unemployed prisoners. I believe a plan can be arranged whereby it will not be necessary to tax burden our state in bringing about a correction of the existing condition.

Thomas also mentioned prohibition as an issue that the voting public is interested in in their candidates. He stated "If I go to Austin, I will conduct myself the same as among my home people. In a sober, moral way in keeping with the dignity of the position. The many existing organizations with their purpose to undermine our prohibition laws makes this an issue at all times."

Another Victory Won By Konjola

Lady Was About To Give Up Hope Of Finding Escape From Stubborn Ills

MRS. FLORA STANLEY

No wonder Konjola has won a million friends; no wonder seven million bottles were used in two years! Would you not like to know all about the medicine that wins such triumphs? Ask your druggist about it, but right now before you do anything else, read the words of Mrs. Flora Stanley, 315 North McMasters street, Amarillo, Texas. Praising Konjola, Mrs. Stanley says:

"I was in miserable health for five years, the result of stomach kidney and liver disorders. My back ached terribly and my feet and ankles were badly swollen. Gas formed after each meal, and I endured awful pains. Dizzy spells and bilious attacks were other sources of distress. My husband insisted that I try Konjola, and now I have a good appetite, food digests as it should, dizziness and biliousness are gone and my weight is back to normal. We will always recommend Konjola after what it did for us."

Konjola does work swiftly, yet a full treatment of from six to eight bottles is advised for best results.

Konjola is sold in Tahoka at Tahoka Drug Co., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Unintentional Suicide

Many people are slowly poisoning themselves just as surely as if they drank iodine every morning for breakfast. They are daily absorbing the toxins, or poisons, created by accumulated waste matter in their constipated digestive systems. Sooner or later disease will conquer their weakened bodies.

If you have dizzy spells, headaches, coated tongue, bad breath, insomnia, no appetite, bilious attacks or pains in the back and limbs, you are probably suffering from self poisoning caused by constipation. The surest and pleasantest relief for this condition is Herbano, the vegetable cathartic which acts in the natural way. Get a bottle today from THOMAS BROS. DRUG COMPANY

FELT OUT OF SORTS

Arkansas Man Tells of the Good He Gets From Taking Black-Draught.

Mena, Ark.—"If there is a better laxative medicine made than Theoford's Black-Draught, I've never found it, and I tried a good many before I began taking Black-Draught about twenty years ago," writes Mr. H. F. Miller, who lives at 211 Eleventh Street, this city.

"I am satisfied with Black-Draught. When I feel all out of sorts, my feet seem to feel heavy, and I feel tired when I haven't worked; and I get a bad, slimy taste in my mouth. I just take two or three doses of Black-Draught and I feel better."

"I have found it good for indigestion, in fact for about everything it is recommended for. We just keep it in the house and use it for biliousness, headache and such complaints. I recommend Black-Draught to others."

This well-known medicine has been in use nearly 100 years, and its popularity is constantly increasing, as growing sales clearly prove.

Don't trifle with counterfeits and questionable substitutes when you can so easily obtain the genuine Theoford's Black-Draught by always calling for it by name, "Theoford's." Costs only 1 cent a dose.

Practically all of Holt's cowboy and riding roles have been undertaken under the Paramount banner.

PANHANDLE-PLAINS POULTRY SHOW ORGANIZED AT SLATON

SLATON, July 23.—A regional poultry show for Texas Panhandle-Plains section, including 54 counties, was definitely assured Thursday when 50 poultrymen, county agents and chamber of commerce leaders attended a luncheon here as guests of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce and organized the Texas Panhandle-Plains Poultry Show association.

Slaton was selected as the regional show's permanent home, and the show will be held here each year. Temporary officers of the association were named as follows: L. A. Wilson, Slaton, chairman; Wm. A. Wilson, Lamesa, secretary; and D. F. Eaton, Lubbock, chairman of the committee to draft the permanent organization plans.

Sentiment expressed here at Thursday's meeting indicated a likelihood that the first show will be held next December, probably using the dates that had been set for holding the local poultry show, Dec. 4, 5, and 6.

Fourteen towns and cities of the Panhandle-Plains area were represented at the meeting here Thursday. They are: Lubbock, Amarillo, Ralls, Post, Lamesa, Brownfield, Little-

Congressman Marvin Jones

In the coming primary, the Democrats of the Eighteenth Congressional District, composed of fifty-three northwest counties, will no doubt show their appreciation of a conscientious, wise and capable public servant by voting for Marvin Jones for Congress.
Mr. Jones was first elected 1917 and has served continuously since that time. By native ability and through industry and experience he has become one of the most effective and highly respected men in the House.
If the entire House of Representative were composed of men like Marvin Jones the standing of the National Congress would be a source of general pride. Mr. Jones does not seek the limelight. He does not speak merely to get into the record, but when he does speak he has something to say, and the members of the House always listen to him.
Mr. Jones has had very little opposition, and in the few instances when it has developed his opponent has accepted defeat with little surprise, and everybody seemed to have a good time. His merit is recognized, and each added year finds Mr. Jones more strongly entrenched in the confidence and esteem of his constituents. Even those who disagree with him occasionally on national questions are proud of the manner in which he serves all the people of the district, and of the record he has made.
The people of the Plains are always glad to support Marvin Jones.—THE HERALD, PERRYTON.

County 4-H Girls Hold Encampment

(By Theima Greenwade)
The 4-H Club girls of Lynn County held their encampment at the American Legion Hall Wednesday and Thursday of last week. Twenty-four club girls attended the camp.
The girls came in at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. After getting acquainted they found their way to the miniature golf course, games on which was enjoyed by all. Then supper was served on the lawn. The entire party attended the picture show on Wednesday night. The girls spent the night in the Legion Hall. Thursday morning was given to playing golf, organizing camp, playing games, and singing club songs.
The entire camp attended the Baptist Revival at the Tabernacle Thursday morning. Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Dr. K. R. Durham gave the girls a talk on "Cleanliness and Personality." This talk was very interesting and helpful to all the girls.
The Edith 4-H Club girls gave a team demonstration on table service. This demonstration was a meal served in family style and a formal meal.
Brother O. J. Hull gave the girls an inspirational talk which was very good. Mr. Grady Helms, singer for the Baptist Revival, sang a negro spiritual which was enjoyed very much.
The last feature was club songs by the girls.
All club girls had their sewing on exhibit and it was judged by Mrs. Mosely of Tahoka.

LITTLE SHIRLEY SHOOK HAS NARROW ESCAPE
In a recent letter Mrs. Charley Shook wrote of a fearful accident to little Shirley. While playing in the tourist courts at Natalia where they are summering Shirley was attacked by two pet bull dogs and bitten severely. She went to the managers cottage to ask for the croquet balls and as she turned away the dogs smashed the door tearing out the upper panel. They bit her twice and she ran for the road, but losing her footing she fell into the bar ditch and the dogs on top tearing and biting. Luckily the owner and Mrs. Shook were right on their trail and her mother pulled one dog off and grabbed her baby and the owner got the other one. But for her bravery and coolness in holding both dogs, Mrs. Shook and Shirley both would have been torn to pieces. The doctor was summoned and first aid was administered before his arrival. He pronounced the danger of hydrophobia as nothing as the dogs had been vaccinated. However, they were sent for examination. Shirley is doing nicely and she says tell all her friends hello.—Contributed.

FORMER TAHOKA RESIDENT HAS SOME VERY BAD LUCK
On July 15 Chris L. Adair and wife left Memphis, Tenn., en route to Texas. When they had gone about 30 miles on their way an old colored man waved them to stop. When they did the floor of their truck fell in. They were facing the wind and did not know they were on fire. They had a little room built on the truck and had all their household goods with them. The truck and all they had burned up except the clothes they were wearing. A man gave them a lift back to Memphis and $3 for what was left of the motor. They had been saving since the death of their baby in January to get back to Texas where a working man has a show. They write of conditions in Memphis which they say are worse than anything we are having here.—Contributed.

Baptist Encampment At Post Next Week

Lizard Lives For 13 Days In Sealed Jar

Here's a rival for Eastland county's famous horned frog.
A Lynn county lizard has lived 13 days without air, food or drink, and was able to run away when turned loose.
Inez, 16, and Modelle, 13, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Barton of the Dixie community recently placed a "sand" lizard in an air tight fruit jar. Thirteen days later, the mother of the young ladies made them turn the lizard out, and when they did so it scampered away to safer quarters.
The Barton girls have put another lizard in a jar, and may have some kind of a lizard fasting record to show in the future.

More than 26,000 oil wells were drilled to completion in the United States in 1929, with 15,500 producing oil, 2,900 gas and 7,600 dry holes.
