Interest In Election Is Intense Locally

Sterling And Mrs. Ferguson In Finals

NEARLY 800,000 VOTES POLLED

Clint Small Finishes Third; Other Run-Off Necessary In Races For State Offices

Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson and Ross S. Sterling will enter the second Democratic primary election in Texas as a result of the first primary last Saturday, these two leading a field of eleven candidates, seven of whom had been considered probable winners.

The race promises to be one of the hottest in the history of Texas politics. Mrs. Ferguson and her husband, Jim, have been in the political limelight of the state for over fifteen years. Jim was impeached after serving most of two terms for alleged irregularities while in office, and is now running a third time under his wife's name Ross Sterling, a wealthy Houston man, present State Highway Commission chairman and heralded as a philanthropist who has worked his way from poverty to riches, is mixing in politics for the first time in history. Clint Small, 'West Texas' entry in the race, received a large vote considering the number of candidates, but was unable to get in the run-off. Tom Love stands fourth, Jim Young fifth and Mayfield sixth.

Wednesday afternoon returns had been received from 252 of 253 counties, 151 of which were complete, accounting for 760,693 votes. Almost 800,000 were polled, it is estimated. The standing in the various races follows:

Ferguson 222,027, Sterling 157,697, Small 123,898, Love 76,989, Young 68,345, Mayfield 62,111, Miller 48,868, Moody 4,208, Putnam 2,603, Loven 2,507, Walker 1,940.

Former Gov. Pat M. Neff still lacked a majority over his opponents for railroad commissioner, the three having a combined vote of 8,209 in excess of his total. Neff had 318,314, Hatcher 149,830, Johnson 94,403 and Patton 82,290.

Standing of the other races:
United States Senator: Sheppard 459,652, Henry 150,573, Mitchner, 34,758.

Lieutenant Governor: Witt 154,647, Strong 147,345, Parnell 102,453, Rogers 74,886, Darwin 67,244, Arnold 41,408, Hair 38,971.

Attorney General: Allred 254,779, Bobbitt 230,345, Storey 109,270, Becker 62,457.

Comptroller: Sheppard 410,837, Mills 204,213.

Treasurer: Davis 186,288, Lockhart 162,692, Ball 106,042, Christian 81,876, Clark 81,855.

Commissioner of Agriculture: McDonald 162,411, King 120,125, Freeman 101,257, West 71,059, Maddux 69,157, Waller 62,132.

Land Commissioner: Walker 333,146, Johnson, 105,141, Burks 93,012.

Supreme Court Chief Justice: Cureton 280,965, Thomas, 228,975.

Criminal appeals judge: Lattimore 358,838, Stephens 258,519.

Legislative Race Is Close Contest

The result of the race for Representative between Judge G. E. Lockhart of Lubbock and John N. Thomas of Tahoka will not be positively known until complete returns are received from Cochran and Yoakum counties. On the face of returns made thus far, Lockhart is leading by 390 votes, his vote being 8,011 against 7,681 for Thomas.

It is said that about 725 votes from Yoakum and Cochran counties are yet to be tabulated. While Thomas is said to have carried both counties, the size of his majority is not known. It seems hardly probable that it will be sufficient to overcome Lockhart's present lead.

Ask Payment Of Cemetery Fees

The Tahoka Cemetery maintenance fund is low, and those belonging to the Cemetery association are urged to pay up their dues in order that the grounds may be kept in good shape.

Payments may be made to Mrs. D. W. Gagnat, president, or Mr. Don Bradley, secretary.

TAHOKA WINS 2BALL GAMES

Almost Has Cinch On Winning First Half Of South Plains League Split Season

Tahoka won two more ball games this week to boost her standing to 10 wins and one loss in the South Plains League and practically clinch the first half of the split season.

Yesterday at Lamesa Tahoka scored 18 runs to the host city's 4 and amassed 26 hits off of Davis, Moody and Vaughn pitching for Lamesa. Lamesa got five hits off of Oliver and Squires. Oliver started in the box and was relieved at the opening of the fourth by Squires.

Sunday Tahoka went up to Lubbock and won a game from that city 8 to 6, Squires pitching for Tahoka

Church of Christ To Hold Meeting

Sunday will be the opening day of the annual summer revival meeting of the local Church of Christ, services to be held twice daily for ten days.

Elder W. E. Starnes, pastor of the Church of Christ at San Angelo, will do the preaching. Brother Starnes is a very able preacher; in fact, he is said to be one of the Church's best in West Texas.

Song services will be led by M. L. H. Baze, well known in Tahoka as superintendent of her public schools for three years. Mr. Baze is an excellent leader and singer.

The congregation asks the presence of all the people of Tahoka, and extends a special invitation to those living in the country and surrounding towns.

County Tax Rate Raised Six Cents

Lynn county's tax rate for this year will be 80c, a raise of six cents over last year's rate of 74c, as a result of action taken by the commissioners court in session Monday.

The raise was made necessary because of the non-payment of delinquent taxes this year and because of the creation of the separate offices of tax collector and district clerk, according to County Judge G. C. Grider.

New Teachers At Dixie For 1930-31

C. B. James, Granfield, Oklahoma, has been elected superintendent of the Dixie school, and has already moved into that community. He attended Tech the first six weeks of the summer term.

All four of the teachers at Dixie for the coming year are new. Mrs. Jess Nobles, who lives in the Dixie community, formerly a teacher at Dallas, will teach the sixth and seventh grades; Miss Anderson, Mount Vernon, third, fourth and fifth grades; and Mrs. James, wife of the superintendent, primary work.

E. M. McEachern, superintendent there last year, will hold a similar position at Woodrow, succeeding Jos. R. Griggs, who goes to the Lubbock Junior High School.

TWO INJURED IN BAD WRECK

Car Hits Wagon On Highway; Woman and Girl Hurt, Horse Is Killed, Wagon Wrecked

Mrs. J. E. Holcombe and little two and a half year old girl are in a Lubbock hospital suffering from serious injuries received last Friday night at midnight when a car driven by W. L. Blake, of Lubbock, crashed into their wagon on highway 9 at the northern outskirts of town. The baby has fractured skull but is improving. Mrs. Holcomb received a fractured cheek bone and internal injuries and had shown little improvement up till today.

Mr. and Mrs. Holcombe and three children had been to church and were returning to their home on the George Short place just north of town when the accident occurred. Blake was driving north at a reported high speed and claimed that he was blinded by an approaching truck and did not see the wagon, although it was almost in the bar-pit. Mrs. Holcombe and the baby were given attention by Dr. Turrentine and were rushed to a Lubbock hospital, where Blake promised to foot their medical bill and was released by local officers who had arrested him. The wagon was completely wrecked and a horse's leg broken and was later killed. The wagon and team belonged to Mr. Short. Mr. Holcombe and the other two children received only minor scratches and bruises.

CO-OP BACKED BY MERCHANTS

Eighty-Two Sign Contract For Office Here, Provided Farmers Will Sign Agreements

Although eighty-odd business men and farmers of Tahoka have underwritten the guarantee of $7,500 necessary for the operating expenses for a year to secure a branch office of the Texas Cotton Co-operative Association, the contract will not be turned over to organization officials until farmers of Lynn county have shown more interest in the project by putting their names "on the dotted line" the Chamber of Commerce board of directors have decided.

The contract is still in the local office and will not be sent in until the farmers have expressed interest sufficient to insure local business men that the office will go over. The proposition is solely one of direct benefit to the farmers, it is pointed out, and likewise of indirect benefit to business men for anything that helps the farmer helps the rest of us. Eighty-two men who signed the contract believe in the marketing plan strong enough that they are willing to back it with almost $100 each, and they believe farmers should be enough interested that they will sign to market ten bales of their crop each year for two years. For this reason Tahoka guarantees signers are asking that farmers sign marketing agreements.

County Schools Get Fund Totaling $1788

Funds totaling $1788.00 have been received by County Superintendent H. P. Caveness from the State Department of Education in payment to the Lynn county school fund for tuition of high school children last year.

These funds are paid counties where students attend high schools they have transferred to from their home districts. If the grade a student under 21 years of age is in is not taught in his home district, he may transfer to any other district in the state that teaches the grade and get his tuition free, or paid the county where he transfers by the state.

Price Is Speaker At Kiwanis Club

District Attorney T. L. Price spoke at the Kiwanis luncheon Wednesday noon on "Law Enforcement." J. B. Pace and M. J. Weaver, superintendent and high school principal, respectively, were introduced and made short talks.

Wells Edwards rendered a violin solo, accompanied at the piano by his mother, Mrs. M. H. Edwards. He also played a piano solo.

METHODIST MEETING AT DIXIE STARTED MONDAY

The Methodist folks of the Dixie community started a meeting at their church Monday night, Rev. Naugle of Wilson, doing the preaching.

Good sized crowds are reported to be attending the night services.

Three Run-Offs In County Necessary

Demo. Convention Set For Saturday

H. M. Larkin, county Democratic chairman, announces that a county convention will be held at the Lynn county court house next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Every precinct in the county is urged by him to have its delegates present at the meeting.

NEXT PRIMARY IS AUGUST 23

New Contest Necessary For Offices Of Sheriff, Tax Assessor, And Tax Collector

Run-off races in three county offices are necessary as a result of the Democratic primary election held here last Saturday in which better than 2,900 votes were cast to set a new voting record for Lynn county. The second primary will be held Saturday, August 23, and not August 30, as announced in last week's News. Those qualifying to participate in the primary, are Sam Sanford and B. L. Parker for sheriff; A. I. Thomas and T. W. Brown for tax assessor; and Aubra M. Cade and L. T. Brewer for tax collector. The complete vote by precincts in all contested races is shown elsewhere in this paper.

FARMERS HEAR PLANS OF CO-OP

Meetings Of Cotton Raisers Being Held In Various Communities To Discuss Marketing

Meetings are being held in the various communities of the county this week to acquaint the cotton growers with the marketing plan of the Federal Farm Board. Claude Hollis, Lynn county campaign manager, and committees of Tahoka business men have been making trips to the various communities, and find that the farmers are interested in the plan.

Monday night nearly 100 farmers were present at a meeting at New Home, at which place Joe Poindexter is community chairman. G. A. Brasfield, T. J. Bovell, T. H. Speight,

Baptist Revival Was Successful

The Baptist revival meeting which closed last Sunday night was a decided success, according to Rev. O. J. Hull, who did the preaching, both in attendance and in results in the form of new members and better fellowship.

Large crowds were in attendance at the services, sometimes almost filling the tabernacle. Mr. Grady Helm of Fort Worth led the singing until he became sick and was forced to return home Tuesday. Taylor White led the singing the rest of the time. Pianists were Mrs. J. K. Applewhite and Miss Hazel Connolly.

Wednesday night baptismal services were held at the church followed by a social hour during which the new members were given a welcome into the church.

Regular services will be held at the church Sunday, the pastor announces.

Winning Candidates Give Losers Feed

Twenty-two candidates, winners and losers in Saturday's primary election, participated in a mid-night dinner at the Green House Cafe Saturday night. Winning contestants, or those going into run-offs, were hosts to their competitors, and those having no opponents bought their own meals.

W. Z. Florence sponsored the dinner.

New Lynn Methodists Open Meeting Soon

A union meeting of the Congregational Methodist and Methodist Episcopal Church members will open at the New Lynn Methodist Sunday night, August 7. Rev. Louis Pearl of London, Texas, will do the preaching, and singing will be in charge of the New Lynn singing class.

All people of the community and surrounding communities are invited to attend the services.

Traffic congestion causes a loss to St. Louis estimated at $37,000,000 annually. Elimination of all downtown parking and construction of subways are recommended as essential remedies.

Williams Attends National School

C. C. Williams, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, left yesterday for Evanston, Illinois, where he will spend two weeks in attendance at the school of National Institute of Chamber of Commerce Executives. Mr. Williams was recently granted a scholarship of $100 and traveling expenses to the school by the Texas Commercial Executives Association for winning first prize on a paper read at the annual convention at Plainview in May. C. of C. executives from all over the nation will be in attendance at the school.

Mrs. Williams will accompany him to Chicago and will spend the two weeks visiting her parents and other relatives in North Dakota.

New High School Coach Is Praised

Weir Washam, recently elected high school athletic coach for next year, is one of the best qualified young men in Texas to put athletics over in Tahoka, is the belief of Collier Parris, Lubbock Avalanche-Journal sports editor, who has personally known Washam several years.

Washam is a leader and is well liked wherever he goes. He graduated from Baylor University in 1929, and last year was Freshman football and basketball coach of his alma mater. He played three years on the Baylor football team as quarter-back and is said to have been one of the best the Southwestern Conference ever had, although he weighs but 148 pounds. He starred as a broken field runner and was a field general par excellence. He was selected as all-conference quarter in 1927, and received honorary mention the other two years. He also played one year on Baylor's basketball team and is a popular Central Texas game official. Before going to college, Washam played on the famous Waco-high school team, receiving training under Paul Tyson, Texas' most famous high school coach.

TAHOKA PEOPLE ATTEND FAMILY REUNION RECENTLY

Mesdames M. E. Barker, W. A. Strickland, and E. A. Rogers and children returned recently from a few days visit in Bosque and Hill counties. They report that while there they attended a family reunion near Meridian in Bosque county, in which fifty-five relatives took part. A fine old-time basket dinner was served, including plenty of fried chicken and everything nice to eat. Music was furnished by a string band, and the occasion was greatly enjoyed by all present. The participants came from Wichita Falls, Groom, Fort Worth, Morgan, Clifton, Meridian, Big Spring and Tahoka.

Upon returning the Tahoka people reported crops as being fairly good in Bosque and Hill counties.

See New Deal In Cotton Marketing

Leaders in the movement point out that the Texas Cotton Co-operative Association represents an entirely new deal for Texas Cotton growers. This association is as much under government supervision and inspection as the banks in the Federal Reserve Banking System.

The actual marketing of cotton will be done through the American Cotton Co-operative Association, with headquarters in New Orleans and in charge of President E. F. Creekmore. The A. C. C. A. acts as the central marketing agency for all the various state co-operative cotton marketing agencies endorsed by the Federal Farm Board.

The savings to cotton growers through proper grading by government licensed graders alone will put many extra dollars into the pockets of farmers.

In the lower Rio Grande Valley reports state that the majority of cotton growers there are placing their cotton in the seasonal pool, drawing a substantial advance on their cotton and taking a chance on profiting by higher prices later in the season. This plan also permits the cooperative to market a higher percentage of cotton in an orderly manner and thereby have a strengthening influence on the market.

Farmers have the choice of the daily, optional or seasonal pool. By the daily pool they sell at the prices prevailing the day the cotton is marketed, after being graded by government licensed graders. By the optional pool, a substantial advance is made and the farmer sells at whatever time of the season he dictates to the association.

In the Levelland district, where first efforts to organize in the South Plains area are being made soliciting teams composed of business men working with farmers in each school community have been making a systematic canvass and are meeting with success. In some communities it is expected that 90 per cent of cotton growers will be signed up for the new marketing system of the Federal Farm Board.

New Lynn

Another week has passed and still no rain. The cotton in this vicinity is still holding its own. The young feed isn't growing but little but comes out of the wilt at night. However the crops are pretty well cleaned out.

The young folks had a very nice time at the party given by Mr. John Frerich last Friday night.

Mrs. Susie has returned from Burkburnett and reports a very good crop around Burkburnett and Wichita Falls. She says between here and there Lynn County has just as good as she saw anywhere. So we are not the only county that is dry.

Miss Agatha Everett and Mr. Claude and Doc Everett spent last week end with their grandmother at Brownfield. Mr. Bruce and Griffith Everett from Phoenix, Arizona, are visiting their uncle, Mr. J. T. Everett. They will return home Saturday.

Well, the election is over and our candidate, Brother Bussell received his defeat as well as anyone could. Brother Bussell, Messrs. Simmons, Wheeler and Levacy motored to Post Tuesday.—Reporter.

TO THE VOTERS OF LYNN COUNTY:

Since it will be impossible for me to see each and every voter in Lynn county before the run-off, I wish by this means to thank all who voted for me in Saturday's election for their support, and to respectfully solicit your support for sheriff on August 23.

I wish it were possible to see you each in person and solicit your vote but as I cannot, I am asking you to please consider my candidacy. Consider the qualifications of the candidates and base your choice on service rendered to the public.

Thanks, voters, for your support, and if you can vote for me on my qualifications I will appreciate it and will show my appreciation by filling the public trust to the best of my ability.

Grassland Church Holds Revival

The Church of Christ revival at Grassland which closed Sunday night was declared a wonderful success by members. The attendance was excellent, the building being filled almost to capacity at the closing service. Brother Banister did the preaching.

There were 16 baptisms, 3 restorations, 1 coming from the Christian Church to unite with the Church of Christ, and 1 yet to be baptized.

"We feel that the community if Grassland has been drawn closer together with the bonds of love as a result of the meeting", a member of the Church writes The News. "The church has been strengthened in many ways. Of course we made Brother Banister feel good with a nice contribution Sunday night which speaks well for the members considering the present hard times."

Services will be held at the church next Sunday morning.

Plans have already been made for the holding of a meeting in 1931, beginning on Saturday night before the third Sunday in August, with Brother C. E. McGaughey, Elk City, Oklahoma, doing the preaching. Brother J. C. Eubanks will continue to preach on the fourth Sunday in each month.

HEMSTITCHING—See or call Mrs. N. M. Wyatt, Phone 232. First class work.

Several thousand capons will be marketed next spring by Garza county farmers and club members, the county agent thinks. Interest in the subject was aroused by last year's experience which resulted profitably to those who adopted the capon route to turn surplus cockrels and feed into cash. Feed was short there last year and capons low in price but fair profits were made in spite of this.

Because it can thereby handle 50 per cent more traffic, the Pennsylvania Railroad will electrify its New York-Chicago line when the daily traffic moving through the Pittsburg gateway reaches 8,000 cars. Last year the average was 6,575 cars. Electrification of the New York-Washington line is progressing rapidly with electrically operated local trains already operating on sections of it.

Nature Thought of Everything

Nature thought of everything when the human body was made. When the body is about to become ill, nature planned danger signals to warn us. Thus, if our children grind their teeth when they sleep, or lack appetite, or suffer from abdominal pains, or itch about the nose and fingers, we should know that they may have contracted worms. Then, if we are wise, we buy a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and safely and surely expel the worms. Thus we avoid the danger of very serious trouble. White's Cream Vermifuge costs only 35c a bottle, and can be bought from

Relief From Curse Of Constipation

A Battle Creek physician says: "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."
But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.
Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store, Thomas Bros. Drug Co.

LETTER OF APPRECIATION

Tahoka, Texas,
July 29th, 1930.
To the Voters of Precinct No. Two:
I take this method of expressing my appreciation to you for your support in the primary election of July 26th.
I have served you for the present term only, and am more than thankful to you for your indorsement of my work during the term, by electing me again to this important office. I promise you that I will continue the work to the best of my ability and stay on the job as I have done heretofore. We all make mistakes and when you know that I have made one call my attention to it and I will do my best to correct it, and try to avoid them in the future.
I want to publicly apologize to all for having a scrap on the streets of Tahoka on the night of the election. I possibly could have avoided it, had I have just known the situation. I tried to reason but HE would not.
I do not think that I should close without especially thanking the voters of my own voting box for the strong support that they gave me, giving me over two to one on my opponent. This gives me comfort to know that my own neighbors were so strong for me, they knowing me much better than any other part of the district. And too, may I thank those of you who set firm in the saddle and worked for me to the end of the battle. I hope to see the time when all politics will be a clean and fair game.
In conclusion, let me say that I am going to be the same to all, and give all parts of the beat the same consideration on roads, or anything else that I have a part in overseeing. And I hope I can do better in the future than I have done in the past.
Thanking you for your support wishing all well, I am your servant.

Respectfully,

DANGER HEADED OFF

Constipation Troubles Soon Go Away Following Use of Black-Draught.

Burke, Texas.—Mrs. Orea Crawford, of this place, tells of her use of Theoford's Black-Draught which she says covers a period of "a good many years."
"We use Black-Draught as a regular family medicine for constipation, and I try always to keep it in the house."
"I have found it a reliable medicine to give the children when they get upset from over-eating, or have colds, for after taking Black-Draught they get all right in a little while."
"I use Black-Draught for bilious, sick headache. I have found that a dose or two, taken at night, will give quick relief for constipation and the complications which follow when that condition runs on."
"A bad taste in the mouth in the morning, dizziness and a dull headache, all leave quickly after a few doses of Black-Draught. I find it is not safe to let such things run on. I try to head off the danger by taking Black-Draught in time. It is a dependable medicine."
"At the first sign of constipation, take Theoford's Black-Draught. This purely vegetable medicine has been in use nearly 100 years. Sold everywhere. Try it. NC-225"

Meeting the Needs of Millions of People

The low-priced automobile has brought greater opportunity and added hours of recreation to millions of men and women.

BECAUSE the automobile is such an important factor in the lives and prosperity of so many people, the purpose of the Ford Motor Company is something more than the mere manufacture of a motor car.
There is no service in simply setting up a machine or a plant and letting it turn out goods. The service extends into every detail of the business — design, production, the wages paid and the selling price. All are a part of the plan.
The Ford Motor Company looks upon itself as charged with making an automobile that will meet the needs of millions of people and to provide it at a low price. That is its mission. That is its duty and its obligation to the public.
The search for better ways of doing things is never-ending. There is ceaseless, untiring effort to find new methods and new machines that will save steps and time in manufacturing. The Ford plants are, in reality, a great mechanical university, dedicated to the advancement of industry. Many manufacturers come to see and share the progress made.
The greatest progress comes by never standing still. Today's methods, however successful, can never be taken as wholly right. They represent simply the best efforts of the moment. Tomorrow must bring an improvement in the methods of the day before. Hard work usually finds the way.

Once it was thought impossible to cast gray iron by the endless chain method. All precedent was against it and every previous experiment had failed. But fair prices to the public demanded that wasteful methods be eliminated. Finally the way was found.
A better way of making axle shafts saved thirty-six million dollars in four years. A new method of cutting crankcases reduced the cost by $500,000 a year. The perfection of a new machine saved a similar amount on such a little thing as one bolt. Then electric welding was developed to make many bolts unnecessary and to increase structural strength.
Just a little while ago, an endless chain conveyor almost four miles long was installed at the Rouge plant. This conveyor has a daily capacity of 300,000 parts weighing more than 2,000,000 pounds. By substituting the tireless, unvarying machine for tasks formerly done by hand, it has made the day's work easier for thousands of workers and saved time and money in the manufacture of the car.
All of these things are done in the interest of the public — so that the benefits of reliable, economical transportation may be placed within the means of every one.

THE OLD WAR HORSES ARE ALL RETIRED—EXCEPT JIM

The result of Saturday's primary indicates that the people have tired of the old-time politicians—all of them except Jim Ferguson.

Barry Miller, a power in the politics of this state for the past thirty years, received only one vote out of every fifteen votes cast.

Earle Mayfield, ex-United States Senator and likewise a popular leader for the past quarter of a century fared little better than Miller.

Jim Young, ex-Congressman, put forward by the would-be leaders of the Democratic party in Texas, was a poor fifth in Saturday's election.

Tom Love, old-time political leader, prominent in the administration of Woodrow Wilson, was deeply snowed under, being fourth in the running.

The people did not take kindly to the re-hashing of the issues of 1928. Tom Love could not make them believe that there is any real danger from Tammany; and Jim Young was unable to arouse any enthusiasm in his fight against the "bolters."

Barry Miller and Earle Mayfield are dead ducks in the pond.

Only Jim Ferguson of the old-time political leaders staged anything like a "comeback". His usual followers stayed with him.

Aside from Ferguson, the two men who made the most remarkable showing were new in the political arena—Ross Sterling and Clint Small.

Small's strength lay mainly in the fact that he is a West Texan, the only West Texan in the race; and the people of West Texas showed clearly that they are willing to forget everything else in order to put one of their own number in the executive mansion at Austin. Besides, Clint Small proved to be an effective campaigner. He may or may not be heard from again in the politics of Texas.

Ross Sterling, who entered the race late, with all the odds against him, develop strength with surprising rapidity. Having risen from poverty to wealth by sheer business ability and by methods that nobody has ever questioned, he presents the best example we have ever had of the big business man in politics. Thousands of people are reasoning that he has been so successful in his own business affairs, he ought to be a success in handling the business affairs of the state. He offers the best chance that the people have ever had for a successful business administration.

The second campaign is to be a fight between this successful business man, new in the politics of this state; and James E. Ferguson, banker, farmer, lawyer, politician, governor, and husband of the only woman governor Texas has ever had. Of course his name will not appear on the ballot, for he is running in his wife's name, but everybody knows that he will be the real governor if his wife should be elected.

So, the fight promises to be fast and furious. We are making no predictions at this time as to the outcome.

When Ross Sterling became state highway commissioner three and a half years ago, the department faced a debt of six million dollars, due to mismanagement of a previous administration and had only six hundred thousand dollars with which to pay the debt. Also, Federal aid had been withdrawn. The debt has been paid since, 20,000 miles of highway have been maintained, one hundred million dollars worth of new road has been built, Federal aid has been restored, and the Federal government now says the Texas highway department is one of the best managed in the United States. All the candidates have censured him, but have you ever heard any one of them accuse Ross Sterling of being guilty of graft in any way? Have you ever heard anyone accuse him of being dishonest at any time in his life? The question of honest government or dishonest government is before Texas. We had rather risk a man with a good record, rich of poor, than a man with a very questionable record.

There is no evidence that Texas has any inclination to swing back into the wet column.

Bob Henry, one of the most forceful campaign speakers in Texas, who represented his district in Congress for twenty years, made the race in the recent primary for United States Senator against Morris Sheppard on a platform calling for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment or the modification of the Volstead law. He made an active campaign. Morris Sheppard never made a single speech. He never even came home until just a few days before the election. And yet he defeated Bob Henry by a vote of three to one. Texans have sense enough to know that it is not safe to mix whiskey and gasoline. They are not going to vote to place a saloon by the side of every filling station. It would be just like committing suicide.

There was a fool, and he drove a car. We met him on the highway a few nights ago. Just as we were meeting another car, this fool whirled his car out on to our side of the highway to pass the other car which we were meeting. He almost crowded us into the ditch. Such fools as these ought to have their tires punctured full of holes with an automatic—and it wouldn't matter much if one of the shots went wild and hit the driver. Fools like this cause nine-tenths of the wrecks on the highways.

We believe the time is near at hand when the present system of building state highways is to be abolished. Everybody is coming to recognize the fact that the traffic should bear the expense of building and maintaining them. Ross Sterling has offered a plan whereby that may be done. Until somebody offers another and a better plan we shall favor the Ross Sterling plan.

Under the present system, Lynn county can never have hard-surfaced highways until she votes a big bond issue to be taken care of by an ad valorem tax on all the property of the county. There is no prospect that this will be done during the present generation. By issuing state bonds based on the gasoline tax, this may be done within the next few years; and since the people of Lynn county will continue to pay the gasoline tax anyway, the issuance of state bonds would not cost the people of Lynn county one cent additional. It seems to us to be our best chance to get our highways paved—and the cheapest.

It was Admiral Phillips of the Battleship Texas, who said to his men, as the Spanish fleet was being destroyed, "Don't cheer, boys, the devils are dying." We always feel somewhat the same way toward the defeated candidates. Don't "rawhide" them; don't "hurrah" them, boys; their disappoint and heart-ache is keen enough without having somebody rub it in on them. Give them a cheering word and a friendly slap on the back instead of a sneer and a kick. Let's be kind to the defeated candidates.

Dixie

Well the crops look more like a defeated candidate than anything else. If it doesn't rain in the near future crops won't be much.

There wasn't many at Sunday school Sunday morning. They didn't feel like coming after staying at Tahoka all night.

The revival began at Dixie on Monday July 28. Everybody has a cordial invitation to attend.

Mr. W. L. Armstrong and family from Waxahachie are visiting his sister, Mrs. S. J. Hallmark.

Mr. A. L. Dunagan's son was operated on Friday at Lubbock and is getting along fine.

Mrs. Bury Taylor, daughter of Mr. J. O. King has been pretty sick. We hope she will get better.

If we could get as much rain as we have politics we would make a bumper crop.—Reporter.

THE NEW CO-OPERATIVE AMONG THE TEXAS COTTON GROWERS

AN EXPLANATION OF THE PROGRAM BEING CARRIED OUT UNDER SUPERVISION OF THE FEDERAL FARM BOARD AND AMERICAN COTTON CO-OPERATIVE ASS'N.

Q. How can the Texas Cotton Farmer receive aid from the Federal Farm Board?

A. The only way the Texas farmer, or any other farmer may receive aid from the Farm Board is through a co-operative association.

Q. Has the Farm Board named an association in Texas for the cotton farmer to join?

A. Yes. The Board has helped to create the Texas Cotton Co-operative Association, and is carrying on its Texas work through that Association.

Q. What is the chief reason that the cotton farmer should join the association?

The cotton market is controlled by world-wide conditions, and the cotton farmer can know little about such conditions, or if he knew, could do little about them without being well organized. All big businesses are organized in order to know how much goods to produce, what kind, and when and where to sell.

Q. Haven't the cotton farmers been organized before, to do this?

A. Yes, but only three bales out of each hundred were handled by the co-operative association in Texas under the old Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association.

Q. How is the Texas Cotton Co-operative Association different from the old Farm Bureau Cotton Association?

A. (1) All cotton is sold by the new association through the American Cotton Co-operative Association, under the supervision and with the aid of the Farm Board.

(2) The new membership contract may be cancelled by the member any year after the first two years.

(3) Under the new contract, the member is not required to deliver all his cotton to the association. He is required to deliver every other bale until he has delivered ten bales. After that he is free to deliver or not. The man who grows two bales must deliver one, and may sell the other as he pleases; the man who grows twenty bales must deliver ten. After that there are no more compulsory deliveries. The member may sell all the rest of his cotton in any manner he pleases.

(4) The new contract provides that the cost of handling cotton shall not exceed 3 per cent unless 3 per cent is less than $2.50 in which event $2.50 may be charged.

(5) It provides for supervision by the Farm Board.

(6) The new plan provides for branch offices in the larger cotton points in Texas. They will be in charge of federally licensed cotton classifiers, who will grade and staple members' cotton, to tell them what the price is that day according to grade and staple, give them general market and crop information and render general service.

(7) The new plan provides for separating Texas into six or more districts, each to become independent as soon as possible, and in the meanwhile each to have an advisory committee to represent it on the state board.

(8) Receiving agents will be located at points where there is not sufficient cotton to maintain a branch office. The work of the receiving agents will be to make out drafts, bills of lading and deliver cotton to railroad. Under certain conditions they will draw samples and arrange for prompt classification by nearest branch office.

(9) Members will be allowed to place their cotton in "optional" pools, and to order it sold at any time, as well as in the "seasonal" pool formerly used.

Q. Is there any other reason why the new association will prove more satisfactory to the farmer than the old association?

A. Yes. The biggest thing of all is that the government of the United States is now backing the co-operative with hundreds of millions of dollars and with the leadership of men, selected by President Hoover and Congress, who are considered the best informed and most able men in the nation in regard to agricultural affairs. They will supervise the affairs of the Texas Cotton Co-operative Association.

Q. How is the cotton farmer represented on the Federal Farm Board?

A. Mr. Carl Williams, editor of the Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman, and a leader in co-operative marketing for many years was appointed at the request of thousands of business men and farmers of the South, to represent the cotton growers on the Farm Board. There are six other members, together with the chairman of the Board and the Secretary of Agriculture, making a total of nine members.

Q. What is the Farm Board doing now for the cotton farmer?

A. The Federal Board has helped to create the American Cotton Co-operative Association, thru which all cotton farmers of the South may sell cotton and receive information from the Farm Board, and join in all the movements which the Farm Board puts forward from time to time to aid the cotton grower.

Q. Why can the American Cotton Co-operative Association sell cotton better than the individual farmer or small cotton merchant?

A. The American Cotton Co-operative Association is supplied with information by the Farm Board, from all over the world. It finds out as nearly as anyone can, how much cotton is needed in all parts of the world, how much is being raised in foreign countries, what is being paid for it everywhere, how much difference in price there is for different grades, and staples, and so, by knowing these things which the individual farmer or cotton man cannot know, it is able to sell cotton at the time and place that it will bring the most money. It also has partially unlimited funds to finance its operations.

Q. How does the Texas farmer's cotton get to the American Cotton Co-operative Association?

A. The farmer who is a member of the Texas Cotton Co-operative Association delivers his cotton to the receiving agent nearest him, who will be his ginner or some other local representative, or to the federal classifier at the nearest branch or district office of the association; and these agents will ship the cotton according to directions received from the American Cotton Co-operative Association.

Q. How does the member receive payment for his cotton?

A. If he sells in the optional pool, he receives payment for approximately ninety per cent of the selling value of the cotton as soon as he orders same sold, the balance being paid with in a short time thereafter. If he puts his cotton in the seasonal pool, the cotton is sold from time to time, as the American Cotton Co-operative Association thinks advisable, and final payment is made at the end of the cotton season. The member receives a substantial advance of cash as soon as he delivers the cotton and other payments from time to time, the last payment being soon after July 1st.

Q. When the member sells in the optional pool, how much will be held out?

A. On the better grades of cotton, there will be practically nothing held out, but on lower grades, some final adjustments on basis will have to be made, which may amount to several dollars a bale.

Q. How much will the handling charges be?

A. Estimated operating expenses, 1 per cent for reserves and a small amount sufficient to protect the organization against fluctuations in basis.

Q. Has the optional pool plan been used before in Texas?

A. Yes, it has been used very successfully the past two seasons.

Q. Does the new Association recommend the optional pool as better than the seasonal pool?

A. No. The optional pool is provided so that the members who want to use their own judgment as to time for selling may do so, and still be able to sell through the Farm Board, but the Farm Board favors the use of the "seasonal" pool.

Q. How much is the membership fee in the Association?

A. Ten dollars. Anyone who has paid a fee to the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association will be entered without further payment of membership fee.

Q. How often does it have to be paid?

A. Only once, when the member joins.

Q. How long a contract does the member sign?

A. Ten years. He can withdraw any year after the second year.

Q. Is selling cotton the chief object of the Association?

A. Growing better cotton, at lower cost, must go hand in hand with the marketing program.

Q. How will the Association help the farmer do this?

A. First, by giving him service of federally licensed classifiers, who will get the true value of his good staple cotton.

Q. Doesn't the farmer who grows good staple now get more money for it than for short staple?

A. As a rule, no, except through cooperative associations. The usual custom is to buy cotton at "hog round" or "point prices." The average staple of all the cotton bought determines the price.

Q. Doesn't the farmer get as much this way as he would selling each bale on its individual merits?

A. He gets more for inferior cotton and less for good cotton.

A. It puts him down on a level with the cheap laborer in other countries, who can also grow short staple, but most of whom cannot grow good staple.

Q. What is the remedy?

A. To sell each bale on its value, from a staple standpoint, and discourage the man who grows inferior staple and encourage the man who grows good staple.

Q. How will the Association help encourage growing of good staple, besides helping get a better price?

A. Good staple can be obtained by improving the land, by planting better seed, and by better ginning. The Association will work with other agencies to encourage community pure seed projects; and to work for better ginning. All these can be done much better through united organized effort than by individuals acting alone.

Q. Will there be an important improvement in the condition of the cotton grower at once, as a result of this movement?

A. That depends upon the promptness with which the cotton growers join it. The Farm Board is starting a movement which will take many years to read its full usefulness, and will grow fast or slow in proportion to the manner in which the farmers fall in line. Mr. Legg, chairman of the Farm Board, says that when the farmers unite, the government will be for them a "stonewall wall from which they need never retreat."

WHAT OTHERS THINK

TO ARMS! FOR THE BIRTHRIGHT OF TEXAS

Now is the time for all true Texans to come to the rescue of their heritage. The raw truth of the matter is that Fergusonism again threatens this great Commonwealth. Our encouragement in the crisis is great. We have an honest Texan to lead us to a victory. There are raw truths staring stark at the citizens of Texas. Begins now the battle of efficiency against inefficiency. Jim Ferguson is a man of promises and failures. Acting through his wife he is worse than that so far as the political and economic fortunes of Texas are concerned. Ross Sterling's record is that of results and success. Under Sterling Texas goes ahead. Under the Ferguson's only God knows where Texas will go. The record of Ferguson is too well known to require any comment for contrast to the record of Ross Sterling. Under Sterling the State will progress in healthy, successful development, getting dollar for dollar in its values. Unsheathe the sword! Unborn posterity shudders at the dependency we might force upon it. A noble lineage now gone into the history of Texas looks down upon us crying "To arms for your birthright!"—Waco News-Tribune.

THE ISSUE NOW FERGUSONISM

There is just one thing for Texas Democrats to do now. That is to elect Ross Sterling Governor. He stands today a handsome second to Ma Ferguson for the Democratic nomination and the second primary campaign which he and Mrs. Ferguson will run to a decision is sure to be marked by colorful fireworks and keen interest, not only for Texas, but for the country at large. The battle will be furious, for Jim Ferguson will bring to bear all his persuasive power on the people who are swayed by the band of demagoguery he practices. The loyal following to which Jim is a Moses to lead them out of a wilderness of debt and high taxes and oppression, with Mrs. Ferguson a figure-head in the Governor's office, forget the record of the man. They forget the highway scandal that marked the administration of Mrs. Ferguson. They overlook the wholesale pardoning of convicts from the penitentiary. They forget that the two years that Ma was in office were marked only by confusion and unattended by the great reforms and tax reduction they were led to expect. They can expect no more from a repetition of Ferguson in office than was accomplished in that two years.—Dallas Dispatch.

LIVING IN GLASS HOUSES

"People who live in glass houses should never throw stones." The price of cotton is down. The price of wheat is down, and as a matter of fact, the price of nearly every farm commodity has hit the lowest levels in years, and among the bankers, brokers, manufacturers and other profession and industrial minded people are many who are sarcastically asking: "Why doesn't the Federal Farm Board do something about it? Why doesn't the Farm Board raise the price of farm commodities to a profitable basis? What is the Ap., Congress, 18th District, Farm Board, etc.

Farm Board for, anyway?

These alleged "wise cracks" are receiving considerable applause even from many farmers. Why doesn't the Farm Board perform miracles? In the July number of Forbes, we find an article by Mr. Forbes himself. Mr. Forbes takes occasion to give business a few hypo shots in order to stimulate the imagination and deaden the pain brought on by unsatisfactory business conditions. In this article we find the statement that copper again broke to the left side figure since the war; that steel iron, lead, zinc, and tin all broke through their previous 1930 low levels; that the majority of active stocks were recently forced to the lowest levels of the year, and that in industry, manufactured articles of common use were not moving to consumers as rapidly as desired even at greatly reduced prices. Considering the fact that stocks and bonds are down; that the price of real estate is low and the market value of other commodities is far below the five year average, isn't it strange that these men who are asking the Federal Farm Board to raise the price of farm products, and who express surprise that the Board #### has permitted a decline, don't do something for themselves?

The Federal Farm Board was never organized for the purpose if repealing the law of supply and demand, nor has any member ever expressed any intention of making an effort to place agriculture in a position where it could not be influenced by economic conditions prevailing throughout the country. It was organized for the purpose of bringing about co-operation among producers both in production and in marketing and also for the purpose of placing farmers on even terms with other industry in the financing of their business. These facts are generally known to those who would destroy the Farm Board or lessen its influence. If honest with themselves and others, they would not expect the Board to do the things which they themselves have been unable to accomplish.—Farm & Ranch.

NOW FOR THE RUN-OFF

Unless all signs are misleading the chairman of the Highway Commission will achieve a clean-cut victory in the run-off. Even those who do not like his highway bond plan admit that Mr. Sterling is one of the most progressive citizens of Texas. He stands out not only as a successful business man, but as a man who has proved his efficiency and public spirit in the civic positions he has held. If he goes into the run-off campaign Mr. Sterling will be not only the opponent of the Ferguson's, but a candidate for Governor with conspicuous qualifications for the office. Among those who have visions of a greater Texas Mr. Sterling stands at the forefront.—Dallas Times-Herald.

EVERY FAMOUS SLEUTH HAS WAY ALL HIS OWN

"Sherlock Holmes was a great detective because he acted like one. Philo Vance is a successful sleuth because he doesn't." William Powell, Paramount screen star, who appears in the role of Vance for the third time in "The Benson Murder Case," which will show at the English theatre, Friday and Saturday, points out the lack of tradition in detective characters. Vance, he says, is different from any other fiction detective. He never carries a weapon and has never been known to peer through a magnifying glass. He doesn't even wear rubber heels, says Powell and Powell should know. Powell first interpreted Vance for "The Canary Murder Case" and then for "The Greene Murder Case." Now he's back again as Vance in "The Benson Murder Case." Moody-Seagraves are contemplating extending their services to Smithville.

"Cardui Seemed to Build Me Up and I Was Rid of Pain," Says Virginia Lady. Roanoke, Va.—"Some years ago, I was in a very run-down condition," writes Mrs. T. B. Akers, of 533 Nelson Street, S.E., this city. "I suffered a great deal with pains in my sides and back. Standing on my feet hurt me so much, that I would get very weak and nervous. I knew that if I didn't get something to help me, I would have to go to bed and stay there, which is hard to do for a woman who has small children. So I kept dragging about, until one day, when feeling unusually bad and discouraged, I happened to pick up a little book with a Cardui advertisement. I decided to try it. "Cardui seemed to build me up at once, as I was able to do my work with ease, and was rid of the pain by the time I had taken six bottles. I have taken Cardui since then, whenever I felt that I needed a tonic, and it always helped me. I recommend it to my friends." Thousands of other women have written to tell how Cardui had helped them to health. Cardui is a purely vegetable remedy and contains nothing harmful or injurious. It may be safely taken by a delicate young girl as well as by a feeble old lady. NC-374

Member Has Right To Select Method Of Pooling Cotton

Whether the member wants to control the price fixation of his own cotton or leave it to the national sales agency, is entirely in the hands of the member under the provisions of the articles of incorporation of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association.

Although the association may set up other pools from time to time only the seasonal and the optional are provided for at this time in the articles of incorporation.

Under the seasonal pool plan of handling member's cotton, such will be pooled with like cotton by grade, quality, character and staple length sold throughout the season through the American Cotton Co-operative association, and the member settled with on the average season's price obtained for the particular kind of cotton delivered.

Under the Optional Pool Plan, the cotton is likewise assembled according to its quality for profitable merchandising purposes and sold thru the American Cotton Co-operative association. The grower delivering cotton to an optional pool shall have the day on which the middling base price of his cotton shall be fixed. Difference in the value of grade, staple and color of his cotton delivered to such pools shall be determined by the association and the association is given the right to average all fixations of base price on the same day to determine each grower's base price.

Whether the member places cotton in the seasonal pool or the price fixation pool, a liberal advance at the time of shipment is authorized. The cotton of each grower, however, shall be placed in seasonal pools unless the grower notifies the association in writing at such time and in such manner as the directors may prescribe, that he does not desire his cotton placed in the optional pool as he may select. In previous years this notification to the association as to which pooling plan is desired, was accomplished at the time of shipment through the utilization of special draft cards forms for the initial advance. This same plan will be used again this year.

HOW TEXAS FORTS WERE NAMED

(From the Pecos Enterprise)

On a recent visit of former President Coolidge to Texas, he visited the Alamo. He asked what it was built for, originally. The question was the signal for many wisecracks in the newspapers. Possibly not one of those who censured his "ignorance" could have answered the question themselves.

Texas is a big state, it has a big history, and there are many incidents connected with the early days of the Lone Star State that have been hidden on account of the importance of others. At the close of the Mexican War, a duty evolved upon the United States to protect the pioneers of its border lands, from Texas on the east to California on the west. Raids from Mexico without, from the Indians within this territory, kept Uncle Sams' troopers busy, made many heroes whose memories are perpetuated through naming counties, towns and forts—and there were many of the latter, most of them extant at the present time. Mention of those with which many of us are acquainted might prove interesting.

Fort Bliss—This fort was established in 1852, and named after Major W. W. S. Bliss, who was General Taylor's adjutant during the Mexican War. It was originally located at the town of Franklin, now El Paso. It was moved to the present site in 1890.

Fort Davis—This fort was established on the Limpia River, and named after Jeff Davis, then secretary of war in President Pierce's cabinet. Later he became president of the Confederate States. It was first called the "Painted Rock Camp" and dates back to 1854. It was the intermediate station of the army camel route between Verde, Texas and Fort Yuma, California.

Fort Hancock—It was located shortly after the Civil War, and first known as Camp Rice, later named in honor of General Hancock of Civil War fame. It is between Pecos and El Paso.

Fort Stockton—Established at Comanche Springs in 1853, the present site of the thriving little city of Fort Stockton. The springs still furnish an abundance of water in all seasons, and a beautiful community center has been built about them. It was named after Commodore Stockton, U. S. N., famous in the Mexican War in California.

Fort Worth—Site of one of Texas' biggest cities, was established in 1850, on the banks of the Trinity River, named after General Worth of Mexican War fame.

The tallest electrically welded structure ever built and the first in the South is being built in Texas—a 14-story office structure at Dallas.

Flonoria is going in for garlic and shipped 30,000 pounds of the crop this year, all grown from small patches. Some farmers made up to $200 an acre from the crop.

THE TRAGEDY AT DALHART

Liquor was born an outlaw, it grew as an outlaw and an outlaw it remains—the same in 1936 as three thousand years ago.

At Dalhart a few evenings ago outlaw liquor was the immediate cause of the murder of a faithful and popular sheriff, the wounding of a woman and the killing of two men resisting arrest.

It took society in the United States nearly one hundred and fifty years to learn that there is no tempering with liquor. Like a rattlesnake it cannot be reformed. It is the same outlaw today as it has always been.

But there is one feature of the killing at Dalhart which should not be overlooked. Get this—if there had been no citizens to buy of the bootleggers involved there would have been no bootleggers.

In every community where bootleggers ply their dirty business there are a few citizens who are responsible for their presence. When these fellows in every community see their duty as citizens and refuse to make the bootlegger's trade profitable, we shall be rid of the bootlegger.

In a large measure, the booze buying citizen of Dalhart is responsible for the murder of their sheriff and the death of the two outlaws. No amount of respectability can free them from the blame.

What is true at Dalhart will be true in every other community when the inevitable murder, death, divorce, car accident and broken hearts come, as come it most certainly will. —Clarendon News.

Steady increase of tomato juice drinkers is helping East Texas tomato growers. Palatable, rich in vitamins and good to the taste, tomato juice cocktails are coming into wider vogue. Apropos of which E. C. Due, Groveton farmer, received $403 from the sale of tomatoes off one acre with a net return of $186 after allow for labor and expenses. He figures he made more money off that acre of tomatoes than he will make from six or seven acres of cotton at present prices.

Direct and indirect subventions to commercial air lines cost British taxpayers $6 for each mile flown last year in the Empire and $1.28 for each mile flown to other nations. French subsidies were $1.09 a mile, German 90c, Italian 77c and United States 70c.

KISSED THE BABIES, LOVED THE WIDOWS HUGGED THE MAIDS

If you were a candidate the following report filed by a man who made a race for office in Louisiana might be of interest to you. The law in that State as in this, requires that a sworn statement be filed of the candidate's expenditures. The report reads as follows:
Lost 1,257 hours of sleep thinking about the election.
Lost two front teeth and a lot of hair in a personal encounter with an opponent.

Donated one beef, four shoats and five sheep to country barbecue.

Gave away three pair of suspenders, four calico dresses and $15.00 in cash.

Kissed 137 babies, put up four stoves, kindled 32 fires, walked 3,254 miles. Shook hands with 12,352 people, told 10,307 lies, and talked enough to make 1,500 columns in print. Attended 25 revivals. Contributed $25 to foreign missions. Made love to 7 widows, five grass widows, two sod widows. Hugged 37 old maids. Got dog bit 28 times and was not elected by 103 votes.—Ex.

"Stepping on the gas" requires some finesse, it seems, else harm is done the car. Modern motor fuel provides all the facilities for quick getaways and sudden pickups, but too sudden application of foot pressure on the accelerator puts an undue strain on clutch and drive line, with resulting tendency to cause clutch wear, loosen the rear wheels, injure the universals, strain the spokes and burn the tires. Often the trouble is caused by a sticking accelerator, a situation which can be improved by oiling the pedal shaft where ever there is friction.

Co-op Plan Begins Work At Harlingen

Actual operation of the new cotton co-operative plan has begun, with Harlingen, in the lower Rio Grande valley, giving the world its first view of how it works.

Harlingen is one of thirty important cotton centers in Texas where branch offices of the Texas Cotton Co-operative Association are being placed. Practically all cotton brought in to Harlingen since the office opened last week has been handled by the association. Most of it has gone into the "seasonal pool" to be sold gradually throughout the year, with members receiving an advance of $50.00 a bale immediately.

Sales are made by the American Cotton Co-operative Association, which has headquarters at New Orleans and is the agency set up with aid and supervision of the Farm Board to sell cotton for all the co-operative cotton associations of the South. This association not only has powerful support from the Farm Board, but it also is naturally stronger than any previous co-operative marketing association because fifteen associations which formerly worked independently of each other and were to a certain extent competitors with each other in the one association, and all cotton will go through the one selling agency.

This means that the association will handle many times as much cotton as ever was handled by one co-operative association before, giving it influence on the market, and a standing in the cotton world which will result in better sales and other important benefits to the membership.
