Co-Op Office Man Is Coming Monday

READY TO BUY COTTON SOON

Deitrich Gives Assurance That Local Co-Op Marketing Will Begin Monday, Sept. 15

The Tahoka sub-office of the Texas Cotton Co-operative Association, under supervision of the Federal Farm Board, will open next Monday, according to Herman Deitrich, Lubbock district manager, in a letter to C. C. Williams of the local chamber of commerce. The name of the local office manager, classer and grader has not been announced, nor has the location of the office been selected.

Claude Holley, educational director for Lynn and Garza counties, completed his work Saturday and returned to Stanton, where he is chamber of commerce secretary. He carried the Farm Board's marketing plan into nineteen county communities, and a majority of the cotton growers are now fairly well acquainted with the organization's working plan.

Those who wish to market their cotton through the cooperative method should sign up the marketing agreement as soon as possible so the shipping tags may be sent them, Mr. Williams says. Blank agreements may be had at the chamber of commerce office.

Kiwanians Hear School Teachers

The program of the Kiwanis Club consisted of a vocal solo by Miss Evelyn Shepherd, teacher of Spanish and English in the High School. Miss Shepherd's singing was enthusiastically received by the club. The next number on the program was a statement of the aims and purposes of the school with reference to athletic events by Mr. Weir Washam, head coach and teacher of history, who was followed by Mr. V. A. Dean, teacher of science and public speaking and who is assistant coach. Both these men made impressive and timely speeches. Other guests introduced to the club were Mr. T. C. Gardner of the Young People's Department of the Baptist Church, and Mr. Owens, superintendent of the Edith school, both of them making short talks.

The appreciation of the Kiwanis Club for the school and the faculty and all the activities of the school for the year was expressed in a few words by the Rev. Ike Breedlove, who also assured the faculty and school that the community and the service organizations within it would undoubtedly be behind the coaches and the school in the athletic events of the year. The fact that the Kiwanis Club is in the work of building character along with the other worthwhile institutions of the community was stressed.

Daingerfield—State will pay two-thirds and local citizens one-third of costs for asphaltting Highways No. 11 and 49 through part of corporate limits of town.

Cotton Picking Jobs Available

Who wants a job picking cotton? C. C. Williams, secretary of the Tahoka chamber of commerce, has jobs for several Lynn county people.

He says that the request made in The Lynn County News last week that farmers employ their neighbors or other home people in preference to people from other sections of the state, and especially Mexicans, met with favor among many farmers who have reported to him. All are in hearty accord with the plan, and a few have already reported that they need pickers.

Anyone who needs pickers, or anyone who needs work is requested to use the Chamber of Commerce office, as a free employment bureau.

Cotton Season Is Opened In County

The cotton season is on. Sixteen bales had been ginned in Tahoka up until noon Wednesday, and by the first of next week cotton is expected to be coming in more rapidly.

All the gins of the town have been remodeled and repaired and are now said by their owners to be in first class shape to handle all the cotton in Tahoka's trade territory.

Due to the dry weather of the past summer, this year's crop is expected to be far below normal.

HOLD SIXTEEN BYPU REVIVALS

Gardner Leads 668 Young People In Meetings Being Held Over Brownfield Association

Six hundred and sixty-eight men and women, boys and girls, representing sixteen Baptist Churches in the Brownfield Baptist Association, enrolled in the B. Y. P. U. Classes the first night of the meeting, which was Monday, Sept. 8th.

These sixteen B. Y. P. U. Revivals are being conducted by sixteen men and women from various sections of the state who are representing the State B. Y. P. U. Department of Texas. At the first meeting of pastors and workers Tuesday afternoon in Brownfield it was reported that sixty classes had been organized in the sixteen churches with an enrollment of 668; that 30 new B. Y. P. U.s were being organized this week with seventy-five new adult leaders and sponsors to direct them. The meetings will close Sunday with a great commencement service for all graduates at Brownfield.

This service will begin at 2:30 with a song and devotional service. All of the graduates from the sixteen churches will receive their diplomas, certificates or seals Sunday afternoon. A banner will be given the church making the best record during the week.

The First Baptist Church, Tahoka, Rev. O. J. Hull, pastor, is leading the campaign with more than 100 enrolled in the B. Y. P. U. classes. More than 100 Tahoka Baptists will complete a book this week and receive their diploma Sunday afternoon.

New Home School Opens With 142

New Home school, one of the largest in the county, opened Wednesday with 142 students enrolled. A special opening program was held at which a majority of the district's patrons were in attendance.

"I have never had a school to start off with such great enthusiasm on the part of patrons," J. C. Thomas, superintendent and school man of long experience, told The News.

Besides the superintendent, the faculty is composed of the following: Hettie Murrell, principal; R. L. Craig, Cleo Jackson, Isabel Adams, Hazel Coleman, and Audrey Campbell.

Call Meeting Of Farmers, Ginners

A meeting of Lynn county farmers and ginners in the county court room Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock has been called, a group of farmers asks The News to state.

The purpose is said to be to attempt to reach an agreement on the price of ginning during the season just now opening, and the farmers will likely ask that the ginning price be reduced. The present price is 40c per hundred.

North Carolina state college is holding a summer school for janitors. And it is said the students are all steamed up over their studies.

FOOTBALL GAME HERE FRIDAY

Season Opens With Wilson; Mildreds Face Strenuous Eleven-Game Schedule

Meeting eleven teams, eight of which may be considered as serious contenders for the district championship, Tahoka High School's football team, this year faces the most strenuous schedule in its history. The season opens here tomorrow in a game with Wilson on the local gridiron.

The schedule was arranged by Coach Weir Washam and Supt. J. B. Pace at a meeting of football coaches and officials of West Texas held in Lubbock Saturday.

Washam is faced with building a team around seven last year regu-

Kiwanis Club At New Home Meet

Sixty people, citizens of the community, Tahoka Kiwanians and their wives, attended a chicken supper prepared by the New Home Women's Home Demonstration Club at that place last Thursday night.

A program, the purpose of which was to stimulate good will between the two communities and to study the constitution of the United States, was presided over by C. C. Williams. Dr. C. B. Townes read the preamble to the constitution and the American creed, and G. H. Nelson made a talk on the constitution. P. W. Goad gave the address of welcome, and Truett Smith responded.

Local citizens were high in praise of the spirit of the hosts as displayed toward them.

League Series Starts; Southland Wins First

Temple Brashear Is Now In California

J. Temple Brashear and wife, formerly of Tahoka, are now in Brawley, California, where Mr. Brashear is manager of a dry goods store. The following item is taken from a Brawley newspaper, and is headed "New store manager here is from Texas, as you'd know, even on a dark night":

"J. T. Brashear, manager of the United Dry Goods Store in Brawley, who came here a few days ago from Texas, brought with him a genuine old Texas draw that would be recognized as-of the 'Texas brand' even on a dark night.

"The new manager was transferred from the United store at Midland, Texas, where he had served in a like capacity some time, to take charge here as the permanent manager."

ENROLLMENT IS SHORT OF 1929-'30

This total is 157 short of last year's total registration for the first two weeks. Students are still enrolling, but it is not expected that the enrollment this year will come up to that of last year when an all time record was set, 686 being enrolled the first two weeks.

District Court Session Opens Sept. 22nd; Docket Expected To Be Very Light This Term

District court will open Monday, September 22, for the fall term, and jurors selected to serve published below are furnished by County and District Clerk Truett Smith. The following have been drawn for service on the grand jury and are requested to report Monday, Sept. 22, at 10 a. m.:

Presiding Elder Will Preach Here

There will be two very special services at the Methodist Church Sunday. Jesse Roberson, who was licensed from this church last year will preach at the morning hour, and the Reverend C. A. Bickley, presiding elder, will preach at the evening hour, at eight o'clock. Brother Jesse Roberson is a promising young preacher, and a surprisingly good speaker, while Brother Bickley is reputed to be one of the best preachers in West Texas. The public is very cordially invited to attend both these services.

The Connecticut farmer who traded 75 acres of land or a radio set the other day, felt, of course, that he had grounds for the exchange.

School Opens With Excellent Program

Showers Benefit Crops Slightly

A dashing shower which fell over a large portion of the eastern half of the county just before dark yesterday evening measured a half inch at Tahoka. Redwine reported only a light shower, Grassland a quarter of an inch, and Edith only enough to lay the dust. Tahoka and vicinity probably received the heaviest down-pour.

The shower may be of very slight benefit to feed, and has cooled the atmosphere. A good rain would still be welcomed on the feed.

MAKE DROUTH AREA SURVEY

Aid of Red Cross May Be Asked If Many of County's People Are Destitute

Efforts are being made locally to secure Red Cross aid in Lynn County for those who are in need of food, clothing, or medicine. A committee recently appointed by Governor Dan Moody on the recommendation of W. B. Slaton, composed of Judge C. H. Cain, W. C. Wells, R. E. Shaver, and A. L. Lockwood, in a meeting Monday afternoon decided to make a survey of the county to determine the needs, if any, and report to the governor in an effort to get help.

The following committees were appointed to represent their respective communities, and anyone in need of food, clothing or medicine are requested to report to one of the committeemen immediately:

Local Men Attend Football Meeting

Weir Washam, high school coach and Supt. J. B. Pace attended a meeting of football coaches and officials in Lubbock Saturday at which the West Texas Coaches and Officials Association was organized. The meeting was called by Coach P. W. Cawthon of Texas Tech and attended by over 100 football men from Ballinger and San Angelo on the south to Amarillo on the north and Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, and Dallas on the east.

A study was made of new and old football rules, and understandings were reached on many problems of officiating at West Texas games.

T. C. Gardner Speaks At Baptist Church

Mr. T. C. Gardner, of Dallas, who has been speaking twice each day at the First Baptist Church during the present week will also speak Sunday morning and evening. The members and friends of this church are being inspired by the great messages brought by this consecrated layman. Mr. Gardner is leading in an Associational B. Y. P. U. revival being put on by the churches of the Brownfield Association. The revival is proving a blessing to all the churches.

Time to me is so precious that with great difficulty I steal an hour in eight days, either to satisfy myself or to gratify my friends.—John Knox.

EXERCISES ARE WELL ATTENDED

Pace, Nelson, Williams, Edwards And Weaver Make Talks Before Crowd Monday

Possibly the largest crowd ever to attend such an occasion locally, filled the High School Auditorium Monday morning at the formal opening program of the Tahoka city schools. Many patrons were present manifesting their interest in the success of the city's largest institution.

Registration and classification of students began last Thursday and continued throughout Friday.

The new superintendent, J. B. Pace, presided at the Monday's program, introducing the speakers, and making a talk himself.

The program opened with the invocation by Rev. Owen J. Hull, followed by the singing of "America."

C. C. Williams, secretary of the chamber of commerce, the first speaker, said the school was the greatest institution in the community. He especially stressed its financial importance, and stated that the people of this district had $140,000 invested in school buildings, exclusive of much of the equipment, that approximately $50,000 is spent annually to educate the district's 705 scholastics. He said the average

Business Expert Will Speak Here

Alphonso Johnson, head of the department of trade extension of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, will speak in Tahoka Wednesday, October 8th. C. C. Williams announced at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Johnson is a merchandising expert, and his address will be of interest to business men in that it will deal with better merchandising methods.

The directors on the suggestion of Mr. Williams voted to have an annual audit of the organization's books made by a committee composed of Truett Smith, D. A. Parkhurst and L. F. Craft.

Drought conditions in West Texas and proposed aid of destitute families in Lynn county was discussed but no action was taken, since the directors were of the opinion that conditions are not yet such that many people are in need of food or clothing. They favored the move to encourage the use of local labor as much as possible in gathering the crops.

FIRE IS NEAR SERIOUS

The fire department made a run to the S. N. McDaniel home Saturday afternoon where a large pile of kindling had caught fire and threatened to spread to a rent house and the McDaniel home.

New Home Man Profits On Sudan

Ninety-five dollars and eighty-five cents from 30 acres of sudan pasture was realized in one month by B. A. Morrow who lives three miles west of New Home.

During the month of June Mr. Morrow's thirteen cows produced 327.4 pounds of fat at a cost of 17c per pound. The same cows were turned in a good sudan pasture during the month of July and they produced 497.3 pounds at a cost of 11.9c per pound. The difference in the pounds of fat and milk produced and the difference of 5.1c per pound in cost of production gave Mr. Morrow the $99.85 from the sudan pasture.

Due to the dry weather the pasture got short in August and the cost of production climbed to 13.4c per pound.

In the last four months, Mr. Morrow's cows have produced 1,883.4 pounds of fat at a cost of 13.9c per pound and have made him a profit of $409.88.

New Ford Truck With Closed Cab

NEW Ford Model AA trucks and Model A light delivery cars were announced this week by the Ford Motor Company and are on display in the show rooms of Ford dealers.

Changes in the trucks are principally in the front end, which has been completely redesigned, and in the cab. The radiator is higher with more cooling surface, fenders are wide and flowing, and a black cowl strip adds a note of distinction.

The new Model AA trucks with the four-speed transmission introduced several months ago may be had with enclosed or open cab. The enclosed cab, shown above, is all steel, it is low in appearance yet with ample head room. The open cab is of black rubber top material and is easily removed. Both cabs are equipped with windshields of Triplex shatterproof glass and vacuum type windshield wipers.

Model AA trucks may be had with a platform body, which can be equipped with stakes or a panel body. The chassis has many improvements, including the four-speed transmission, larger front brakes, stronger springs, power take-off opening and optional dual rear wheels.

The Model A line of new commercial cars comprises a light delivery truck with pick-up body, a deluxe delivery truck, a small panel truck and a station wagon. These cars have the smaller wheels and larger tires of the new Ford passenger cars.

Mr. Earl O'com, who underwent an operation at Lubbock a few days ago, has returned home and is reported to be doing fine.

There has been some cotton picking started in this part and oh how it makes our backs hurt to even look down the row! Our cotton failed to do any good this year as it was shaded with a bloom which spread over the top of the stalk. I don't believe we can use any of those five thousand pickers which was reported we would need on the south plains to harvest the average crop of the country. Yes, we failed to make a crop as the rains failed to come, but still we believe we are in the best part of Texas. Let us try to adjust ourselves to present conditions and it will be a great help to us when the tide changes.—Reporter.

Without generally recommending such intensive farming, but as revealing how much may be squeezed out of land with good management, the county agent of Frio county tells of how H. H. Page of Pearsall produced $420 worth of Bruce plums from a six-acre orchard, and $110 from pinto beans planted between the trees. Mr. Page plans to plant fall tomatoes in this two-year-old orchard for a third revenue from a minor farm enterprise.

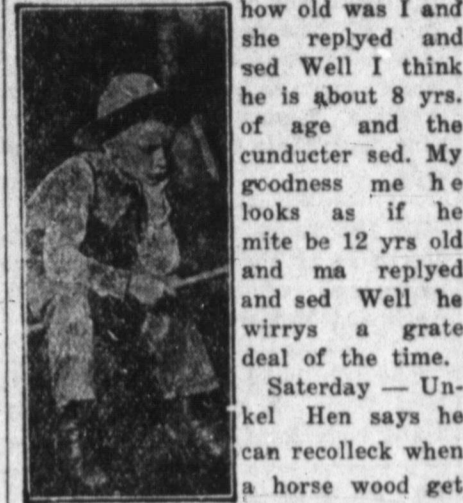

Probably the longest cotton row in the world is one on the Northcutt farm in Mitchell County—sixteen miles. It is a complete circle around a hill.

Soil terracing now includes 3,700,000 acres in 202 Texas counties.

DAWSON COUNTY WILL NOT HOLD CO. FAIR THIS YEAR

Instead of a county fair in September, a group of farmers and business men meeting at Lamesa Friday decided to hold community exhibits of one and two days duration over the county up until January when the winning products at each exhibit are to be shown at a mid-winter agricultural meet sometime during the first of 1931. The decision was made on the motion of W. W. Evans, Dawson County agent, who was appointed to take charge of the county exhibits during the fall by W. B. Collins, president of the fair association.

"The Mid-Winter meeting will be more of a stock show and dairy short course than a fair, although farm products will be exhibited at that time," Evans said. "Since it is customary for the farmers to hold their community meetings and judge their products, we feel that it would be more satisfactory to center more attention on these farm showings instead of a fair."

FINDS STATE BANKS WELL SUPERVISED

Bankers Body Sees Less Politics in Banking Departments With Better Facilities in the Hands of the Responsible Officials.

A survey of state banking departments by the State Bank Division, American Bankers Association, discloses a distinct tendency the past five years to take bank supervision out of politics, to increase the discretionary powers of bank commissioners, to lengthen their terms of office, to supply them with adequate forces of qualified examiners and to relieve banking departments of duties foreign to banking, says a recent statement issued by the association.

"We have consistently urged that the office of bank commissioner be a free from partisan politics as the judiciary itself and that it be divorced from all other functions of state government," the statement says. "Further, that his term of office be made more secure and lasting, with sufficient salary and power granted to attract and retain the services of men of outstanding executive ability, courage, resourcefulness and successful banking experience."

"Five years ago the first survey of state banking departments by the division demonstrated the need for improvements. On the basis of data now in hand it is evident that, through the revision of statutes in many states, rapid steps are being taken in the right direction. One by one the states are coming to recognize the primary importance of strong, competent banking departments. The demand for increasing the effectiveness of banking departments is beginning to be met."

How Bank Commissioners Are Chosen
The office of bank commissioner is now operated as an independent department of state government in thirty-four states, the bankers find. In two states the bank commissioner is elected at general elections; in one he is appointed from eligible lists of the civil service and in another, he is selected by the banks. In one state the bankers' association elects a list of five names from which the governor appoints one as superintendent of banks; in another he is appointed by the State Corporation Commission and in another by the State Banking Board.

Terms of office of bank commissioners have been lengthened in several states during the last five years, the report says. "In 23 states the term is four years, in one, five years, and in three it is six years and in some the term is indefinite. A short term is condemned on the grounds that the commissioner has insufficient time to become thoroughly conversant with his field work. A longer term permits his rendering useful service through capitalizing his experience. Five years ago the average length of service was less than three years, while now it has risen to five years."

Higher Standards Required
"Signs of an awakening to the necessity of making successful banking experience a qualification for bank commissioner are evident. While eleven states report no banking experience necessary, the majority require experience of this sort, ranging from two to five years. Twelve states now have banking boards, with powers ranging from acting in an advisory capacity to full power over all state banks to issue and reject charters."

"A healthy sign is the number of reports which disclose that the commissioners have full power to appoint bank examiners or that these appointments are made from civil service lists. This power is now granted to the commissioner by twenty-seven states. Three require that selection be from civil service lists. Complaints are still made in a few states of political pressure in the appointment of examiners, but the contrary seems to be true in a growing number of states. The most capable commissioner cannot successfully perform his duties unless he is able to command the services of efficient, honest examiners. The safety of depositors is dependent on their work, and their appointment, fitness and compensation are highly important. The number of examiners has increased 25 per cent in the last five years."

BANKERS TO HOLD GREAT CONVENTION

Cleveland, Ohio, has been designated for the 1930 annual convention of the American Bankers Association. This organization, which numbers about 20,000 banks with $65,000,000,000 in assets, is annually the nation's most important financial event. The attendance ranges between five and ten thousand.

Cleveland is especially significant in the history of the Association's educational traditions since it was in this city, when the organization last met there in the year 1909, that the original resolution was presented looking to the formation of an educational section. This subsequently resulted in the American Institute of Banking in which are now enrolled 25,000 bank men and women engaged in the study of the technical and scientific phases of the business.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS AT TRI-STATE FAIR THIS FALL

AMARILLO, Sept. 10.—Nearly $35,000 has been spent within the past year for new buildings and improvements at the Tri-State Fair Grounds, President Wilbur C. Hawk of the Fair association, said yesterday. Of this amount, $5,600 was used to put 40-foot extensions on both cattle buildings and the swine buildings, two of the many Fair departments which plan to be bigger and better than ever this fall.

When visitors to the Fair enter the grounds the opening day, Sept. 22, they will notice that all of the buildings are resplendent in new coats of white paint. They will see too that all of the interiors have been changed and improved, several hundred dollars being spent for this work alone.

Largest single item of expenditure of course, is the recently completed $25,000 automobile building, erected by Potter county officials.

Ernie Young's famous "Spanish Nights Revue", Leonard Stroud's thrilling rodeo and the Beckman & Gerety company's "world's best" attractions head the long list of amusements to be offered by the Fair during the big week of Sept. 22 to 27.

This week the Fort Worth and Denver, Santa Fe and Rock Island railroads all announced special reduced rates during Fair week. Some of these rates are as low as one and one-fifth the regular fare for a round trip.

From a humble beginning as "just another fair," the great Tri-State exposition, under Mr. Hawk's capable direction has grown until it is second—and a close second at that—only to the State Fair of Texas. Every official, every department head, and everyone connected in any way with the Fair promises that the 1930 event will surpass any previous Tri-State Fair. "Come and see for yourself."

MOTHER PROVIDES SCHOLARSHIP WITH GARDEN PRODUCTS

Colorado.—How a quarter-acre garden patch is enabling a Mitchell county mother to help her son thru college is told by Miss Abbie M. Sevier, county home demonstration agent. From two rows each of butter beans, cream peas and black eyed peas, Mrs. H. L. Harrell of Lorraine canned and sold $224.20 worth of products besides keeping out $37 worth for home use. The peas were planted just above the terraces in the field and Mrs. Harrell was one of the few home demonstration club women in the county having any to sell.

65 Are Enrolled At Redwine School

School at Redwine has been in session over two weeks, according to Mrs. N. E. Wood, one of the teachers. Sixty-five students are enrolled, and every thing points to one of the most successful school years the community has had.

N. E. Wood is principal, and other teachers, besides his wife, are Miss Pauline Thompson of Tahoka, and Miss Jessie Fuller of Berry Flat. Mr. and Mrs. Wood taught for three years at Edith.

Beaumont has let contract for $91,642 worth of additional paving. Canyon is laying twelve additional blocks of brick pavement. Victoria is paving twelve blocks of Austin St. from Rio Grande to North Main. Dallas, San Antonio, Houston and Fort Worth are Texas cities which recently have let sizable contracts for additional pavements.

A million dollars is involved in the contract for a causeway from Point Isabel to Padre Island and Causeway Boulevard from the end of the causeway to the Gulf. A half million more is involved in the contract for a 150-room hotel, casino and bath house in the Port Isabel development.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Any erroneous reflection upon the reputation or standing of any individual, firm or corporation, that may appear in the columns of the News, will be gladly corrected when called to our attention.

We may not know much about it and may be all wrong, but we can't see how we cotton producing sections ever hope for a continuous market for our leading product if we don't do something about it. A lot of us have been complaining, justly perhaps, for the past few years because we were not getting enough for our cotton, that the speculators were profiting, and that the government would not do anything for the farmer. Now, that the government has empowered a Federal Farm Board to spend five hundred million to help the farmer help himself, many of us are now standing back to "let George do it." Now that the government is ready, we farmers are backing up. The government's main ideas are to cut out the speculator and other intermediate handlers, improve the staple, find new uses for cotton, hold surpluses off the market when the market is flooded, and allow the farmer the benefit of the year's crop average price. By those means the government hopes to improve the price of cotton. Possibly, there will not be a very substantial rise in price, if any, the first year; but, in a few years with proper cooperation of farmers there is no doubt but that the price can be helped to a great degree. Ten dollars is the life-time membership fee to the Texas Cotton Co-operative Association, and the joinder does not have to pay that until next spring when the final settlement is made. In addition the farmer must sign up for ten years, but may withdraw at the end of two years, according to the contract; and he only has to market ten bales with the association if he raises twenty or more, or if he raises less than twenty, he has to market only half of his crop. The Association is now advancing 90 per cent when the cotton sample is turned in to the local offices, and that 90 per cent is nearly as much and in many cases as much as the street buyers are paying. If we want help, what are we waiting on? Are we willing to go ahead under the present plan and prices?

Tomorrow Tahoka High school launches into the stiffest football schedule it has ever faced. Those boys and their coaches are working hard to formulate a team of which Tahoka will be proud. Many of us don't take much interest in football, and some of us take none. Some are bitterly opposed to the game, principally because of their lack of knowledge as to its merits of mental and physical development. Whether we all know the game or not, the local football team is a big advertising force to the town; and if for no other reason, our citizenship owes a responsibility to the school to go out tomorrow afternoon, and to every other game, and give the boys your encouragement. Let us throw away our prejudices, enter into the spirit of sportsmanship, see a few games, and we will be football fans.

Tahoka has at least three manufacturing institutions that her citizens should give their support to as far as is humanly possible. They are as good as any in Lubbock, or any other town, though not possibly as large, and turn out just as good products. We refer to our bakery, our bottling works and our laundry. Right now when business is dull and many people are without work, we suggest that you buy products of these plants and do as much trading as possible with all the other merchants of Tahoka in preference to some mail order house or to Lubbock merchants. Now, we look for somebody to say that our editorial influence has been bought by these firms just as Sterling did (?) Seriously, though, this little bit of home patronage will help us all.

Next time you start to place an order, Mr. Business Man, with some high-powered, slick-tongued printing salesman just stop a moment and think of your home printer, the quicker and better service he gives at "live-and-let-live" prices, and the taxes he gives, the donations he makes, and the boosting he does for the old home town, all of which helps to make your living conditions, as well as his, better.

Texas subdivisions have issued $721,925,076 in bonds of various sorts since 1893, according to Texas Tax Journal, including more than $100,000,000 in bonds for school for school buildings. The highest total for any one year was $136,504,100 in 1927-1928.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

THE DROUTH
Texas seems to have been more fortunate than most of the states which have been afflicted with the drouth. Centering in some forty West Texas counties, the full effects of the disaster have been escaped by most of the state. And with only forty of its counties in really straightened circumstances, there are many editors who think Texas should spare itself the humiliation of petitioning federal aid.

That Texas is big enough, and wealthy enough, to care for its own drouth problem is the opinion of the Dallas Journal, which insists that Texas at the present time is under no compulsion to wear blue goggles and pass the tin cup while it "fiddles on the doorstep of Uncle Sam."

Other editors, however, take the position that since the federal treasury is to be opened to drouth sufferers, Texas—which contributes its full quota of federal funds—should partake of any offerings from that source.

In this connection a recent pronouncement of the head of the Federal Land Bank at Houston is somewhat disturbing. He has stated, in terms unmistakably plain, that the Land Bank will extend none of the obligations which mature in sections affected by the drouth. "No moratorium will be declared," he said.

He advises local capitalists to make second and third lien advances to drouth sufferers, with which they may retire maturing obligations to the land bank.

It would be a pretty system—if it works.

There is, however, little reason to anticipate that his suggestion is really workable. Moreover, the speech seems unnecessarily harsh just at this time.

—If loans made to drouth sufferers are "safe investments" for private capitalists, they should be equally safe for the government. And it would appear more feasible for the government to extend obligations than for private capital to go thru all the red tape of making new advances for no purpose other than to pay government obligations.

It is to be hoped that the head of the Federal Land Bank spoke before he thought, or that there are officials higher-up with the inclination and the authority to reverse the decision now announced.—The Editorial Digest.

We were passing a shabby little shack a few days ago when the strains of a beautiful violin solo fell upon our ears. For a moment we were surprised despite the knowledge that the radio has brought the great music of the world within the reach of practically all. Passing on with the music becoming fainter and fainter, the thought came to us that beauty might often be found in unexpected places if we would but take the trouble to look for it. People for instance, often have hidden within them beauties of character that are unsuspected simply because we do not take the time or trouble to really know them. So often we misjudge people because we have not taken the time to form more than a surface acquaintance with them.—Graham Leader.

WATCHFUL WAITING WON'T WORK

Drouth relief is no joke. It is with us. But no relief will do any good, a staunch business man of Snyder believes, unless a man is willing to relieve himself of some of his ideas of doing things. We can't raise crops without rain, he admits, but we can capitalize on the benefits that nature gives us—and the benefits that modernized farming gives. In the business of farming or selling plows or newspapers, the man who takes advantage of the benefits at hand is the one who comes out ahead of the fellow who waits for new benefits.—Snyder News.

A man came into the Advance office a few days ago with a sample case under his arm. "I would like to show you some clothing," he began, then looking around the shop, continued: "Oh, I beg your pardon, you run a newspaper here. I see. Of course you wouldn't give me an order." We agreed that we wouldn't and he very politely said "good-day". And then we wondered if the printing peddlers acted that way when they called on our merchants.—Rotan Advance.

The stomach is a slave that must accept everything that is given to it, but which avenges wrong as slyly as does the slave.—Emile Souvestre.

Solitude is as needful to the imagination as society is wholesome for the character.—James Russell Lowell.

HERE'S THE PHILOSOPHY OF THE AVERAGE TEXAS NEWSPAPER MAN

A number of readers stopped me before the election to congratulate me on my column of last week, and one went so far as to say: "Thank goodness we have a newspaper that cannot be bought or browbeaten, and whose editor believes in saying what he thinks." I reprint that for one reason. That is because there will be a time when these gentlemen and I will see some public question from different angles. When that time comes they will be asking me how much I got for writing such and such and who made me do so and so, just as they were doing about the papers that supported Sterling. I love the kind words, but I have been in this business long enough to know that sour ones may come at a later date. So I take both with a pinch of salt, and pursue my peaceful way believing in the fairness and sincerity of the average weekly newspaper.—Deck Wells of Wellington Leader.

If there is a particularly good ball player in a country town, he naturally drifts to the larger communities. The same thing is true of a particularly good banker, reporter, preacher, lawyer, mechanic. It is a natural tendency; the invariable rule. But the best women remain in the country communities. And the best women originate in the country communities; it is there they are most natural and womanly. Young men in the city make a mistake if they do not seek wives in the country.—For Ed Howe's Monthly.

ENGINEER GAVE UP

Says He Could Not Stand Indigestion Any Longer.—Relieved By Black-Draught.

Fulaski, Va.—How a railroad engineer was relieved of indigestion was described by Mr. C. K. Nelson, a Fourth Street resident of this city. Mr. Nelson said:

"I was suffering from stomach trouble in 1917, and had been suffering for some time. I had a tightness in my chest, a shortness of breath. There seemed to be a heavy weight in the pit of my stomach, and quite a bit of nausea, yet I couldn't vomit. I tried different remedies, yet suffered on just the same. When in West Virginia, on a work train, I was in such a condition that I just gave up and came home. I couldn't stand to work in my condition.

"Some one told me about Black-Draught. I started taking it in small doses after meals. It helped me, and I went back to work.

"One morning while on my engine I felt like I would another. I stopped in a little town, bought a package of Black-Draught, took a dose and later in the day took another dose. It relieved me and I have not had a bad spell like that in more than two and a half years."

Theford's Black-Draught contains no chemicals. Composed of pure botanical roots and herbs.

Again Konjola Shows What It Can Accomplish

Prominent San Antonio Man Eager In His Praise of New Medicine

"I am glad to endorse Konjola to any who suffer as I did," said Mr. Charles Oliphant, well-known San Antonio railroad man, 423 Lamar street, San Antonio. "About a year ago I suffered a breaking out on my skin. Little patches of pimples appeared and were called water-blisters. They itched and burned severely, and, though I tried many remedies I gained only temporary relief. From Konjola, I gained what I consider miraculous results. The breaking out disappeared within three weeks after I began taking Konjola. I had kidney trouble but now the pains in my back and the swelling under my eyes have disappeared also. I feel better in every way and have gained weight. I think Konjola is a very fine medicine."

Konjola is recommended over a six to eight weeks period and is designed to relieve ailments of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and rheumatism, neuritis, and nervousness.

Konjola is sold in Tahoka at Tahoka Drug Co., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Wilson

Crops are very sorry around Wilson this year. Some few have begun picking cotton.

Frank Deckers was the first one to have a bale of cotton ginned at Wilson this year. It was ginned the first day of September and was sold for 8 1/4c per pound.

A fire broke out in the R. E. Painter drug store Tuesday night, doing quite a bit of damage. There was a short in an electric wire that caused the fire.

School opened Thursday morning with a good attendance. A fine program was rendered. Most all the parents were present.

Hardy and Chester Swope have returned home after a short visit to Rising Star.

Sunday School was well attended at all four Churches Sunday. A Layman in the B. Y. P. U. work lectured at the Baptist Church at 11 o'clock. The Rev. Armstrong preached at the Methodist Church.

Melvin Todd and Edwin Serves returned Saturday from Milam county. Quite a number of the children have had to stop school to pick cotton.

We had a light shower of rain on last Sunday night.

The health of our community is very good at this writing.—Reporter

NEW IMPETUS TO INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT

The campaign for industrial development within the State received new impetus last week when the American Legion, convened at Austin, went on record as favoring a statewide industrial survey and a determined attempt to build industry.

The Legion's action is in line with the editorial position of a great majority of Texas' newspapers. More important, even, it is in line with the economic requirements of the time.

Texas will never achieve her higher destiny until industries are brought into the State to make proper use of the vast resources with which she has been endowed. At this time, she stands in especially good position to achieve that end. She has nominated a governor in whom out-of-state industrialists impinge confidence. Her legislature evidences a disposition to treat industry fairly. The determination to gouge or to penalize prosperity is no more.

Eminent economists say that business has turned, that consumption is now greater than production. This condition, of course, forecasts the day when industry must speed up to maintain the normal balance between supply and demand.

This time, however, industry will gain speed upon a saner scale. Manufacturers will be seeking locations where the cost of production is least. And it is in such times, and under such conditions, that the advantages

Texas has to offer loom largest.

The American Legion's action is most timely. It serves to emphasize the fact that Texas' greatest opportunity is now.—Editorial Digest.

The first interconnected electric service was rendered in Texas in 1912. More than 800 Texas towns and communities are now served by interconnected lines.

Texas did not lead the states in population gains in the 1930 census, standing sixth in numerical increases. But it retained fifth place in standing of the states with a population of 5,821,272 or 10,589 more than a previously announced total. To achieve the slogan, "Third State in 1940," Texas in the next decade must pass Illinois and Ohio.

The government office is the largest printing plant in the world, occupying 22 acres of floor space, employing 4,440 persons, and producing printed products valued at $16,500,000 annually or $45,000 daily. He is in the composition department where 1,458 expert printers are employed.

Sullivan, formerly of Tahoka, he says, is selling off a big ranch in that section, most of which is subject to irrigation.

GRANGE HEAD SAYS FARMERS FAVOR PROHIBITION LAW

Washington, D. C.—Lewis J. Tabor, master of the National Grange, has told congress his organization of a million farmers in 34 states favors national prohibition and strict enforcement of the law. Mr. Tabor made this clear in a statement to the congressional committee which was considering the merits of several bills to repeal or modify prohibition.

Mr. Tabor produced official figures to show there was never any great loss to the farmers through the cessation of whisky distilling. For instance, in 1917, the last year that distilling operations were carried on without hindrance, the corn yield was 3,965,233,000 bushels and of that amount a trifle less than 34,000,000 bushels or about 1 per cent was used to distill whisky and alcohol for all purposes. That percentage is too small to produce any part of farm depression. In 1927, the corn crop was 2,786,288,000 bushels of which 8,383,000 bushels were used for industrial and other legal alcohol. The decrease of corn used for distillation is approximately 25,000,000 bushels which is considerable less than 1 per cent of the entire crop; and in the meantime this amount was otherwise consumed by the market. Corn averaged 50 cents a bushel in the last years of the distilling era while the average price since prohibition has been 72 cents. Mr. Tabor declares that the great increase in the use of breakfast foods vastly more than takes care of corn and other grains that once went into liquor. The Agricultural department records indicate that corn acreage, yield per acre and the total yield are increasing.

The rye market, at first curtailed by prohibition, found immediate relief in the increased use of rye for foodstuffs and export. Mr. Tabor declared that the farm value of the rye crop is greater now in the dry years than in the pre-prohibition years by about $20,000,000,000 a year and that there is nearly twice as much rye produced as formerly.

Mr. Tabor said: "Ten years' experience with a senseless nation has convinced the American farmer that economically, socially, financially, and morally our country is much improved under the operation of prohibition legislation. The fact that has impressed the farmer is the increased purchasing power that has come to the American citizen as the result of the proper enforcement of our dry laws. Men who used to spend their money for drink, now have the money for shoes, bread, meat and the comforts of life. The millions and millions that used to be spent for drink are now passing through channels of trade benefiting the nation, and agriculture is getting its proportionate return."

SAYS CANADA PLAN FOR LIQUOR CONTROL BRINGS BACK SALOON

The congress of the United States is now thoroughly informed of the fact that only a small part of the Canadian liquor system is owned or controlled by the government, and that the present system of liquor sales in Canada by no means eliminates the saloon.

Information on these points was given to the judiciary committee of the house of representatives by E. C. Drury, former prime minister of the Province of Ontario, Canada. In his statement Mr. Drury said:

"Let us get rid of the fiction that all of the liquor selling establishments in Canada are government owned. There are 5,135 legal liquor selling places in Canada of which 575 are owned or operated by the government. The rest of these, 4,560 in number, are private stores for the sale of intoxicating liquor, and of this number 2,607 sell liquor by the drink on the premises. The cry in Canada was that there would be no bar rooms under government control of liquor, yet four provinces permit beer parlors, the difference between those beer parlors and the old saloon is principally in name only.

"The Quebec government has a monopoly of whisky sales, but everything else is sold privately.

"Beer is sold by the glass in privately owned beer saloons in Alberta, British Columbia, Manitoba and systems of chain liquor stores have been established in seven provinces, these being privately owned selling agencies for privately owned breweries, distilleries and wineries."

In response to frequent requests for information on the liquor traffic in Canada, the Dominion government, through its department of trade and commerce, recently issued an official bulletin on the subject, which was presented to the judiciary committee of the house of representatives by Mrs. Ella A. Boole, president of the National W. C. T. U.

This official report showed great increases in crime, operation of illicit stills, drunken driving and deaths from alcoholism as well as a sharp increase in the consumption of whisky all these increases being greater than the increases in population. Convictions for drunkenness increased from 21,026 in 1918 to 33,095 in 1928; drunken driving measured by convictions has increased almost 1300 per cent in eight years in Canada, while the number of automobiles has only doubled. The convictions for drunkenness and the infractions of the liquor law such as bootlegging have amounted to almost one-half of the Canadian police court cases which sets at rest the claim that government control of the liquor traffic ends such violations.

The increase of motor and airplane transportation will see many branch railroads abandoned in the next ten years. In territory where the business will justify railroads will put down concrete highways and operate trucks and buses instead of the present days system of tracks and trains.

THE INDIVIDUAL YET NEEDED BY BUSINESS

By JOHN G. LONSDALE
President American Bankers
Association

SOME seem to think that the day of the individual in business has passed. But they are wrong. While the individual may not attract such outstanding attention as he did in the days of old when institutions were conducted on a smaller scale, he nevertheless is to be found in any large corporation, dominating the situation, giving orders here, cooperating there and shouldering the responsibility of keeping a large group of lieutenants, captains and privates working in unison and moving forward under the banner of progress. And all of these are held accountable to the public because the public has entered into a partnership agreement with the corporation through purchase of stock.

Welfare of Workers
Even in the gigantic mergers that have taken place within the last two years there remains more than ever the necessity for a leader, an aggressive personality, whose duty it is to see that basic principles are not forgotten, that the rights and privileges of the individual workers and the customers they serve are as well provided for as in the smaller business units.

It is gratifying to note that our corporations are giving more and more concern to the welfare of their workers. Numerous benefit organizations have been formed, opportunities offered for advancement of education and position, hospital service established and insurance and retirement pensions provided.

This general humanitarian movement in reality is the outgrowth of analysis, which has disclosed the need of improving the well-being of our individual workers, realizing at the same time that our institutions will benefit.

PREPAREDNESS IN BUSINESS

By R. S. HECHT,
American Bankers Association.
My observations for many years, both as an employee and as an executive, have convinced me that the reason some men and women go ahead and others do not is that some keep themselves constantly prepared to accept and fulfill larger duties and responsibilities as they offer, and some do not.

Grant, as we must, that there is a certain element of luck in the conditions under which opportunity for promotion comes to different men and women, we nevertheless must also see that it is each individual's own state of preparedness which determines his ability to seize opportunity if and when it comes, and having seized it, to succeed in meeting the greater demands which it inevitably places upon him.

Real advancement never means going ahead to easier tasks, but always to harder ones. Opportunity for advancement is worthless unless in accepting it you are able to carry with you the abilities and qualifications that prepare you to meet the heavier exactions that are an inherent part of opportunity.

It is far better to go into action in the field of enlarged responsibility prepared and qualified, rather than that you and the institution you work for shall be exposed to the hazard of your having to build up to new responsibilities after having assumed them.

The new spirit of all business seeks to prepare its people in advance through education for the higher duties it holds in store for them.

Bank Bandits Active

The greatest number of bandit raids on American banking ever recorded in the figures of the protective department of the American Bankers Association were reported during the six months ending last February. Bank members of the association reported for investigation 211 forgery cases, 107 holdup robberies, 16 burglaries, 2 sneak thefts and 8 mortgage swindles while non-member banks, numbering less than half the total enrolled in the association, suffered 86 holdup robberies and 9 burglaries, non-members being burglarized or held up once for every 89 banks, as compared with once for every 164 member banks. The association detective agents caused the arrest of 143 of the 236 bank criminals apprehended during the period covered.

The association's report on these conditions urges support of the movement to provide city police departments with radio-equipped cruising automobiles which have proved particularly effective in Cleveland and Detroit in the broadcasting of alarms and the closing in on criminals immediately after or even in the midst of the perpetration of crimes. Last year the average time elapsed between the receipt of radio calls by these cars and the 1225 arrests which followed was one minute and forty-two seconds, the report says.

Midway

The fall harvesting has begun in our community. Some are gathering their cotton, others are still busy saving every stalk of feed, as a stalk will be valued for food for our stock this winter.

Sunday School was well attended Sunday evening. Brother Dyke filled his regular appointment. Everyone is invited to come each Sunday evening.

Our school begun at 9 a. m. Monday with a good number in attendance. The school had as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Littlepage, Mr. and Mrs. Pollard, Mr. and Mrs. Draper, Mr. Cleveland, Mr. Strain, Mrs. McClure, Mrs. Appling, Mrs. H. L. Tunnell, Mrs. C. Richardson. Our principal, Mr. Head, made a splendid talk, followed by Miss Headstream and Mrs. Head. The primary and intermediate teachers, then several of the patrons made talks on the progress our school had made since there had been a "Midway."

It has made quite a bit of progress, as it has grown from a one room plank building that the wind could just whistle through the cracks and was moved every year or so. If the most children lived east they moved it east; if most of them lived west they moved it west. It is now a three-room brick and is very stationary. There is a vision that in time there will be needed a larger, better equipped building.

Mr. Strain and family visited in Mitchell county the latter part of last week. Mr. Strain's brother had just had an appendicitis operation.

Mrs. Draper visited in Mrs. Strain's home Monday evening and they canned peas for past time, which is a good past-time this year as peas are very scarce on account of the drouth.

HOUSE DRESSES CHEAPLY MADE BY CLUB WOMEN

Cooper--In a recent dress contest in Delta county, 92 home demonstration club women in 11 community clubs made 92 house dresses for $138.85, the cheapest costing 89 cents and the most expensive $2.30. Printed dimity of batiste costing from 30 cents to 50 cents per yard was used, and special attention given to lines, color and construction. That the garments were well made is indicated from the fact that French seams were used on the sides, whipping stitch in hems, and overcasting for belt lines and sleeves.

Aid Urged For Farmers On Loans In Drouth Area

ABILENE, Sept. 5.—M. H. Gossett, president of the Federal Land Bank at Houston, declared here Thursday in an address before a meeting of the secretaries and treasurers of 12 local farm loan associations in this area that farmers in drouth areas who are members of farm loan associations must not look to the Federal Land Bank at Houston for extension of time on paper matured or maturing.

He said the bank had no alternative except to call for payments as they become due, or, in default, to take over the land.

"If, through recourse of law, a moratorium could be declared in favor of our West Texas borrowers and their payments be extended," he explained, "then the Federal Land Bank itself would have to have a moratorium, with similar extensions of its own obligations, for only as its borrowers pay can the bank make its own payments."

Gossett asserted that in 13 1/2 years of the bank's operation, there had never been a foreclosure in West Texas, while for the State as a whole there had been more than 150.

He added that "there can not be anything fundamentally wrong with a section making a record such as yours. We know this temporary stringency will pass soon."

"As president of the Houston bank," he said, "covering the whole of Texas, I appeal to men of means, loving their country and having its welfare at heart, to come forward and assist these farmers in making payments which they can not, at this time make from their own resources."

"This would not be charity, but the making of an excellent investment, for the reason that association borrowers can deliver to this individual creditor's assignments covering a second lien, the bank holding the first lien, backed by collateral in most cases worth two and three to one."

The next payment on Lynn County lands will be due in Houston on November 1st, 1930.

The Trade-Mark

OLD SILVERSMITHS, in order to help people tell pure silver from cheaper imitations, marked the real thing, "sterling".

In a like manner, manufacturers, who stand back of their wares, identify them with trade-marks that are your guarantee of quality. By advertising these trade-marks, they focus on their products the searchlight of attention.

Only good goods, fairly priced, can flourish in this light of publicity. For no merchandise and no business can thrive under the weight of public condemnation.

That is why a manufacturer, or a merchant, places the whole reputation of his business at stake every time he advertises. His goods must be as advertised.

So, in looking through this paper, remember this: the man who spends his money to invite your consideration of his wares backs up his belief in his goods and leaves the final decision to you.

It pays you to read the advertisements. It pays you to buy advertised products.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS HAD FINE OPENING PROGRAM MONDAY

cost to the district for each pupil was $67 annually, or $737 for the eleven years.

County Attorney G. H. Nelson, former superintendent of the local schools, spoke on "The Obligation of the Parents to the School." He said the school could not succeed without the whole-hearted co-operation of the patrons. He urged that they refrain from criticizing school authorities until they knew the complete facts. Parents may help their children and the school by studying the ambitions and aims of their children and encouraging them along the lines in which they are interested, he said.

Mrs. Marcus Edwards, teacher of piano in the schools, rendered a piano solo.

Boswell Edwards, member of the senior class and a leading student of the school, told of the students' attitude toward the school, and pledged their support to the teachers in making the year a success.

M. J. Weaver, principal of the high school, also new to the faculty, spoke from the faculty's viewpoint, saying that members of the teaching force were interested only in using their utmost ability and training to direct and educate the students.

Supt. Pace outlined the re-organized plan of work in the High School. He said the school curriculum was being divided into three groups of courses, the liberal arts, vocational and business departments. In the first, courses only will be mapped out preparing the student for further education in higher institutions. In the second, boys will be taught agriculture, and shop work; girls, home-making. In the latter, business training will be taught through typewriting, stenography, business arithmetic, bookkeeping, and related subjects. A student enrolling in either of the two latter departments alone could not obtain pre-requisites to enter college. But students may major in the departments and minor in enough other required subjects to permit college entrance. He urged that students take courses of interest to the line of work to which they aspire in later life, at the same time emphasizing that high school is only a preparatory school to college and that everyone should aspire to attend college.

Mr. Pace said 27 1/2 units of work are being offered in the school, 25 of which are affiliated. He said graduates of this school may enter any college or university in the South without examination, this attesting to the high rank of the local school system.

He also called attention to the new Texas law requiring that physical training and hygiene be taught in all grades of the public schools, and said the especial emphasis would be laid on development of the body as well as of the mind, since the mind cannot work best unless the body is in good condition.

Mr. Pace announced that a meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association, for the purpose of reorganization, would be held at the high school building next Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

He also announced that rearranging had been done at Central Ward making it possible to move all classes from the basement, where trouble has been experienced with improper heating and lighting.

Taylor White led the singing at the program.

The name of Mrs. Jack Link, seventh grade teacher was left off the list of faculty members published in The Lynn County News last week.
