Things To Worry About

If every drop of water that comes over Niagara were put into the pipes of America, there wouldn't be enough. Our homes, farms, and factories use 200 billion gallons a day, says a Fairbanks-Morse advertisement. Our rising birth rate, expanding industries, increasing standards of living demand more and more water every second.

More About Water

As soon as we wrote the above we read the following lines about water from Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas, contained in his weekly letter back home:

Dear Friend: Total Federal expenditures for flood control and development of our water resources during all our national history amount to $16.8 billion. Since the end of World War II, the United States has spent approximately $60 billion for aid to other countries.

Our investments for flood control and for the development of water resources have lagged far behind the increase in population and the expansion of the economy.

Our population increased by 11.6 per cent between 1950 and 1956, and the national income increased by 42.6 per cent. But Federal expenditures for water projects actually were 14.9 per cent less in 1956 than in 1951. Texas needs more dams. At a time when, by every sound standard, we should have been doing more we have been doing less. Our failure to do more has been costly in lost industrial opportunities, in heavy flood damage, in loss of human life.

Straight Line

You can chop off 7 miles of the distance to Roswell if you're in the habit of going via Clovis. You go south to Needmore, turn west through Baileyboro and Stagg, go south to Dora, west to Rogers and go back into Highway 70 at Elida. It's 138 miles by Clovis, 131 the farm to market way.

Tuesday it was hot as nine whatnots here, but H. L. Bradshaw avers that around Needles, Yuma, etc. the horned toads are carrying umbrellas!

Read, in Section II of this paper, Sir Carroll's account of what Medicago Sativa, 1. (alfalfa to you, sergeant) means to our economy here in the great Muleshoe country. 'Twill surprise you.

I note he mentions Bill Lambert, the alfalfa trucker. I have alfalfa growing outside my yard fence at home, but I venture to say Bill has trucked more hay to San Antonio, San Angelo, etc. than I have grown at home in all these years.

I hear Henry and Jack Schuster were busy yesterday replanting cotton hauled out last weekend. Remember, if you will, that yesterday was June 26. Let's check about Nov. 15 and see what happened.

Free Chest X-Rays July 1 and 2 At C & H Chevrolet

Free chest x-rays will be given in Muleshoe July 1 and 2, when the mobile x-ray unit of the State Health Department sets up shop in C & H Chevrolet building, Lee Pool, chairman of the x-ray program has announced.

"Free x-rays will be given everyone 15 years of age and older," Pool said. "And we are particularly anxious for elderly people to take advantage of this opportunity to have their chests x-rayed, as many early stage cancers have been found in this fashion," the chairman continued.

There is absolutely no charge involved, and no embarrassment. Results of the x-ray findings are returned either to the patient or his family doctor.

The unit will operate from 1:30 pm to 5:30 pm on July 1, and from 8:30 am until 1 pm on July 2, Pool said.

Civic and social groups have volunteered to assist in the program by arranging for clerical workers, hostesses, loading and unloading and other necessary work.

Both banks will be closed, as will the postoffice, courthouse, and practically every business house in town. Flags will be flown on that day, also, the Chamber of Commerce has announced.

Wanted Man Nips Out On Officers; Caught Wednesday

A genuine manhunt, redolent of the old west, was climaxed Wednesday morning after officers of the Bailey County Sheriff's office captured James Harrison Collins, who eluded the officers for about 12 hours, escaping Tuesday evening.

Officers approached Collins at a service station, intending to take him into custody upon the expiration of two $1,000 bonds. He requested he be allowed to get his clothing from a car parked at the station. As he approached the car, he made a dash for freedom, leaping hedges and fences, made off into the dusk.

Deputy Joe Hodge picked Collins up about 7 a.m. Wednesday eight miles west of Muleshoe where he had spent the night hiding near the Santa Fe tracks. Collins was recently brought here from Missouri on warrants charging him with auto theft and check violations.

DUIID Charge Filed After Woman Flips Automobile

Two automobile accidents were reported this week by the Sheriff's office in Muleshoe, neither one resulting in injuries to occupants of the cars.

A Sudan woman was charged with driving while under the influence of drugs Monday afternoon after she flipped her car four miles south of Monument Lake church. Considerable damage was sustained by the underside of the car. The driver plead not guilty and was released under $1,000 bond, with trial set in July.

Last Thursday evening, two cars collided at the intersection of Ave. C and West Eighth. No injuries were sustained, although considerable damage was done to both vehicles.

Bond Sales In Bailey County $8559 In May

Mrs. Inez Bobo, Chairman of the Bailey County Savings Bonds Committee, reports that Savings Bonds sales in this county were $8,559 during the month of May. Sales during the first five months of 1957 were $47,446 or 46% of our year's goal.

Sales in Texas were $13,840,433 during May which was an increase of $260,000 over the month of April. The State of Texas has now reached 37.6% of its 1957 goal.

"I feel that if every citizen of Bailey county will buy an extra bond during the remainder of 1957 our county will reach its goal. There is no safer investment than U. S. Savings Bonds since both the principal and interest are fully guaranteed by our government. Savings Bonds now earn 3 1/2% interest compounded semi-annually when held to maturity, and they now mature in eight years and eleven months", Mrs. Bobo concluded.

Weather Delivers One-Two Punch To South County Cotton, Grain

Pounding rain, and hailstones as large as two inches in diameter caused severe damage to an estimated 6,000 acres of cotton and about 300 acres of ripe wheat in the southern part of Bailey county Saturday night, and the previous Monday. Estimates of as high as 20,000 acres of cropland were victims of varying amounts of weather damage from the double-punch storms which struck at dryland and irrigated farmers alike in the area south of the sandhills of this county.

Display Of Flags Urged For Fourth

Business and professional firms of Muleshoe are being urged to display their flags next Thursday, July Fourth. It is one of the great patriotic holidays.

Those who will be closed are urged by the Chamber of Commerce to come down and put out the flag; then to bring it in late in the evening.

The Rotary Club has a few flags on hand. They install the flag complete with a hole in the sidewalk, pipe contained, flag, pole and rope for $20. Those who do not yet have a flag still have time to get one installed before July Fourth. Information will be furnished by Senn Slemmons at the Chamber of Commerce or J. M. Forbes at The Journal.

Concrete Gutters Being Installed By Repair Crews

Repair crews of Cen-Tex Paving Co. began work in Muleshoe this week repairing sections of streets which have deteriorated since being laid last summer.

Mayor W. T. Bovell said most of the work is being done by the crews under terms of the guarantee, but that some concrete gutters are being installed at the city's expense.

Mayor Bovell said that some intersections, such as those on Avenue B, had not held up under the recent rains, and the Council felt that concrete gutters should be installed to handle the flow of rain water.

Banks Have Assets Of $8,249,691.62 At June 6 Bank Call

The combined deposits of the Muleshoe State Bank and the First National Bank of Muleshoe as of the June 6 statement of condition, totaled $6,400,757.53. The combined total assets of the two banks was $8,249,691.62.

The First National Bank had total assets of $2,123,099.98, while the total assets of the State Bank were $6,126,591.64.

The eState Bank had deposits of $5,385,510.16, and the First National's deposits were $1,815,247.37. Combined assets of the two banks at the last statements of condition was $9,343,508.92. Combined deposits at that date, March 14, was $8,540,796.47.

recover in places where damage was not total.

Insurance companies and their adjusters spent a busy Monday, checking acreage as farmers filed claims faster than office workers could keep up.

An estimated 300 acres of wheat, ready for combining, was shattered by the force of the driving rain and hail. Insurance agents point out that the storm occurred in an area of the county which did not have any large wheat acreage.

Rains accompanying the storm ranged from as little as a half inch, north of Muleshoe to more than two inches south of town. Many farmers reported lakes on their places they did not know existed. One farmer told The Journal he had found water holes this week that had never before had water in them. The Morton highway between Muleshoe and Needmore was under water in at least two places Sunday, and many unimproved roads were washed out by the wind and rain.

Perhaps the hardest hit area was around Bula, where a hail storm had caused considerable damage last Monday, and then received a second buffeting from the elements Saturday night.

Cecil Davis reported his place the victim of a double blow from rain and hail.

Outside of the storm-stricken area, farmers report crops are beginning to grow, after taking an early season setback from wet fields which caused considerable losses from rosheshin disease. Caused by water standing over the plants, many cotton crops suffered losses from the disease.

Farmers in the area hit by the storm were in a dilemma early this week. They couldn't decide whether to gamble on their crops recovering and making reduced yields, whether to take a chance and replant this late in the season, or whether to plow up and plant sorghums.

COUNTY CROPS DAMAGED BY HAIL STORM

LYNDON JOHNSON DECLARES

Texas Will Be Without Water By 2000 Unless Program For Dams Is Pushed

Texas will not have any water by the year 2000 unless a far-reaching development and conservation project is pushed forward aggressively, Senator Lyndon B. Johnson declared this week.

"We must build more dams—many more dams—in Texas," Senator Johnson said. "We must hold onto our rainfall instead of allowing the water to run off into the Gulf. If we don't develop our water supply and conserve our water resources, the Texas economy will wither on the vine and our State will become a wasteland."

The Senator said he is urging the Senate Appropriation Committee to take action this week.

Lazbuddie Baptist Church Scene Of Scott-Stafford Wedding Ceremony

In an afternoon ceremony at the Lazbuddie Baptist Church on Sunday, June 23, Miss Juanita Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Scott became the bride of Charles Stafford, son of Rev. and Mrs. W. D. Stafford of Del Rio. Rev. Stafford, pastor of the First Assembly of God church of Del Rio, father of the groom performed the double-ring ceremony. He was assisted by the Rev. Ted Vassar, pastor of the Assembly of God church of Levelland.

The church altar was decorated with a lovely background of fans shaped arrangements of pink roses and greenery. An improvised cross made of the roses from the yucca plant, with a six branch candelabra interspread in the blossoms centered the altar. A kneeling bench decorated with white satin and before a trellis of pink roses completed the altar arrangements. Baskets of greenery further decorated the setting with white satin bows marking the family pews.

Mrs. John Agee played traditional wedding music and accompanied Jim Gordon as he sang, "Oh Perfect Love", "Walk Hand and Hand with Me", "Whither Thou Goest", and "The Lord's Prayer".

Don Owens of Levelland, a friend of the bridegroom, served as best man. The ushers and candlelighters were Darrell Foster of Waxahachie and Ted Henly of Amarillo.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Barbara Akens of Clovis. She wore a waltz length gown of white crystalline, which featured a fitted bodice and a small tiara of nylon tulle, she carried a cascade arrangement of mixed flowers. Bridesmaids were Carolyn Scott, sister of the bride and Danny Rue Cargile. They wore identical gowns to the maid of honor with the exception of being blue with matching tiaras, each carried a bouquet of mixed flowers with streamers of white satin.

BRIDAL GOWN
The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a lovely in an original design gown of white chiffon over white satin, being of popular waltz length and featured the bodice with a sweetheart neckline and long chiffon sleeves which came to points over her hands. The bouffant skirt fashioned tiers of ruffled chiffon over satin was accented with lace and seed pearls. Her finger-tip length veil of silk illusion fell from a bandeau of tulle and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with pink rose buds, her only piece of jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom. Carrying out the tradition of "something old" she carried a linen handkerchief, something new, her bridal gown, something borrowed, a white which she wore in her shoe for good luck, and something blue, a blue garter, a gift from her aunt, Mrs. Jack Smith.

For her daughters wedding, Mrs. Scott chose a navy and white linen dress with white accessories. Mrs. Stafford, mother of the groom wore a navy lace dress with white and navy accessories. Each wore a white corsage of summer asters.

RECEPTION
A reception was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. In the receiving line were the newly weds and parents of both. Presiding over the bride's book was Miss Naomi Watson of Muleshoe. The reception table was covered with lace cloth over green and centered with a four tiered cake topped with miniature wedding bells and decorated with love birds and pink rose, the bride's bouquet served as the floral arrangement. Baskets of pink roses were placed through out the room.

After the first piece of cake was cut by the bride and groom, Carolyn Scott served the cake and Danny Rue Cargile presided at the punch bowl.

For her going away outfit the bride chose a navy and white sheer cotton dress with white accessories and a white carnation corsage. Upon their return from a short honeymoon the couple will reside in Waxahachie where Mr. Stafford plans to continue his schooling and his work as a postal employee in Dallas.

The bride is a 1957 graduate of the Lazbuddie High School and the groom graduated from Del Rio High. He has attended school at the Southwestern Bible Institute at Waxahachie.

GUESTS
Out of town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bell, sister of the groom, Sunray, Mrs. W. E. ### Cloudcroft Art Show To Feature Paintings Of Muleshoe Artist

Mrs. V. M. Collins of Muleshoe will be honored by the Cloudcroft Art Colony in an exhibition of her work to be held in the public school building from June 27 to July 10 from 2 until 5 p.m. Mrs. Collins is a protégée of Mrs. LaVora Norman, well known artist, teacher, and director of the Colony.

Clara Collins is one of the several outstanding students whose work will be exhibited. Says Mrs. Norman, "Clara's personal philosophy includes the maxim that is the more blessed to give than to receive. To her art is giving. And what an interesting giving it is! Don't miss seeing this quite original exhibit by a citizen of Muleshoe for whom it should be happily proud!"

Mrs. Collins is known locally for her beautiful oil painted landscapes. She is especially adept in her combinations of colors. People like her pictures.

"In fact," says Mrs. Collins, "the first award that I won was given to me by popular vote at the Annual Civic Clubs Show in Hobbs, N. M., in 1951. My picture 'Aspens' won second place. In this case the public did not agree with the judges — the public wants a picture it can love and admire. Whereas, the judges are looking for technique.

Mrs. Collins also received commendation, and this time by the judges, for her picture, 'October in the Sandias', in a show held for the Cattlemen's Convention in Clovis in 1955. This is a picture of cottonwood trees between Belen and Albuquerque. 'Many people have been able to recall this scene,' says Mrs. Collins.

Each year since 1954 Mrs. Collins has exhibited at the Circle Show held annually at Roswell. 'I haven't won anything', says Mrs. Collins, 'but I am honored by having my pictures hung, as many fine pictures are rejected. Pictures are chosen on the basis of merit and no attention is paid to names.'

Mrs. Collins is a member of the Texas Fine Arts Association of Austin. She is also the wife of V. M. Collins, a building contractor in Muleshoe, and the mother of four children. This year her youngest, Kenneth, graduated from high school.

Mrs. Collins is a daughter of the late J. W. Blackwell who farmed near Kress, Texas for many years. 'I was the fourth child in a family of eight', says Mrs. Collins. 'Papa was hardput to pay out a farm and provide for all of us. There wasn't any time or money for frills like art lessons. I drew my first pictures on the fly-leaves of my school books because this was the only un-ruled paper I had.'

'In 1930 I married V. M. Collins who was at that time a farmer at Earth, Texas. Before 1949, I was too busy with my home duties to take art seriously. I did water colors, and copying, and freehand in an amateurish way.

'I had a neighbor, Mrs. W. R. Bowers who was also interested in art. She suggested that we go to Sudan, and take lessons from Cecile Foster. We took lessons from September until July. From Lester's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Cecile I learned to do originals.

And I worked alone a good bit after this.

'I like to be interested and enthusiastic about my subjects. I do a better job when I am. Of course, scenes are my special forte but lately I have done other things. Several of these are abstractions.' 'A Vagary of Bot-tles' is one. This picture glanced at casually appears to be of a man lying in an alley. Actually it is a picture of a pile of abandoned bottles of many different sizes, shapes and colors, one stacked on another. One has only to view the picture to see the sermon in it.

'On Entering Old Town' is the picture of a road. A dim street light adds color to old buildings which still hold a little of the glamour of a by-gone days. Nearby is a culvert and a ditch of stagnant water. High above the clouds rides the moon, bathing Old Town in a soft, mysterious light — and beyond the dark buildings is the brilliant, synthetic light of the New Town. This picture received honorable mention at one of the art shows.

Mrs. Collins has done few portraits of people. One of these is 'The Bird Woman'. Says Mrs. Collins, 'I thought that a woman who made friends with birds should have an unusual, exotic attraction. I tried to put this idea into my picture'. And to a degree Mrs. Collins has succeeded, for when people view the picture, they exclaim: 'I know that woman is peculiar!' The woman has a bird on her shoulder, behind her, all around her — birds behaving naturally in the presence of the woman.

Titles of other pictures which will be shown are: 'Children with Kites', 'Tucuman Mountain', 'Alley Street', 'Lunch in the Studio', 'Cotton Gin', 'Drilling Rig', 'Isleta Indian Pepper Harvest', 'Mountain Lake Lodge', 'Wolf Creek Pass', 'River Pasture', and many others.

Mrs. Collins helped her friend, Mrs. W. R. Bowers, do the mural for the Baptist Church of the Trinity Baptist Church in Muleshoe. This is a painting of a river, and on viewing it, one immediately thinks of the Jordan River. The artists, however, deny this identification.

'I have found a great deal of satisfaction in my work', says Mrs. Collins, 'and in the many friendships that I have made because of it. I want people to like what art is for — enjoyment.'

Bailey County Farm Bureau News

BY W. T. MILLEN (PRESIDENT)
A new legislative proposal for cotton was given strong support by the American Farm Bureau last week.

John C. Lynn, legislative director of the nation's largest general farm organization, outlined the Farm Bureau plan in a statement prepared for presentation at a House Agriculture Committee hearing.

Essentials of the Farm Bureau proposal for cotton legislation, as outlined by Mr. Lynn, are:
Congress would authorize a referendum in late 1957 when producers would choose between the present program and an alternative program.

If a majority of producers favor the alternative, this program would become effective for one year only in 1958.

The alternative program would provide price supports for the 1958 crop of cotton at a level of 75 percent of parity and an increase of 20 percent in the acreage above the minimum provided for 1958 by the formula now in the law.

Mr. Lynn reported that the Farm Bureau proposal had been developed after hundreds of county-wide meetings of producers.

RECOMMENDATIONS of these local meetings were coordinated at a conference attended by leaders of State Farm Bureaus from 16 important cotton producing states.

"Obviously", Mr. Lynn said, "Market expansion is the answer to the cotton problem."

He added that Farm Bureau believes that "If we are able to devise the right kind of price policy — with continued emphasis on research, in order to reduce our costs of production and improve our quality, combined with a hard-hitting promotion program — we should be able to increase the offtake of U. S. cotton within the next five to seven years to 18-20 million bales."

"On the other hand", he continued, "if we do nothing we can foresee that over the same period of time (five to seven years) our offtake of cotton could go to 10 million bales or less."

"We must become more competitive if we are even to maintain our current domestic consumption", the Farm Bureau spokesman emphasized.

"We are encouraged by the fact that a great many Congressmen seem to be concerned over the cotton situation and are making proposals which would change the basic law as it relates to cotton", Mr. Lynn said.

"We believe that farmers all over the cotton area think that changes must be made if we are to have a semblance of a prosperous cotton economy that must be based on maximum net farm income."

Mary Ellen Wingo and Kenneth Wayne Anderson Exchange Vows On June 21

MRS. KENNETH WAYNE ANDERSON

Miss Mary Ellen Wingo and Kenneth Wayne Anderson exchanged wedding vows at 8:00 p.m., Friday, June 21 in the First Methodist Church of Muleshoe. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Beyrl Wingo of Muleshoe and Mr. Sam T. Anderson, of Jal, N. M.

Greenery and baskets of pink gladioli flanked by candelabra with pink tapers provided a background for a double-ring service read by the Rev. Edwin Hall. Miss LaVon Copley played organ selections and accompaned Don Copley as he sang "The Lord's Prayer", and "Walk Hand in Hand."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in an original model of white imported Chantilly-type lace and nylon tulle over net and satin. Designed with portrait neckline framed with scalloped sheer yoke embroidered with flowers made of iridescent sequins the fitted lace bodice had long sleeves ending in points over the hands and terminated with point at center front waistline. From this stem-ed a voluminous skirt made of tulle, fully shirred, with full panels of lace at each side, front and back. The immense fullness of lace, tulle and satin fell into a small sweep at back and was worn over hoops to emphasize the fullness. Her fingertip tulle veil with applique of Chantilly lace fell from a small tiara of seed pearls and iridescent sequins. She carried a bouquet of feathered carnations centered with a white orchid, and surrounded by Chantilly lace, atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Douglas Grimes served as matron of honor, and Linda Wingo, sister of the bride, served as junior bridesmaid. The attendants wore identical pink dresses of antique taffeta and crystalline styled with sweetheart necklines and elongated waistlines accented with cummerbunds ending in a bustle in the back. They carried bouquets of pink carnations.

The candles were lighted by the bride's cousins, Charles Mike Fowler, Lubbock, and Tommy Workman, San Antonio. Joe Don Stevens of Jal served as best man while Bob Wingo, brother of the bride, served as groomsman. Brothers of the couple, Jimmy Anderson, Monty Anderson, Jerry Mac Anderson, all of Jal, and Jim Wingo of Ft. Worth served as ushers.

Reception

A reception followed in the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lender-son. The serving table was covered in pink satin. The bouquets carried by the bride and attendants decorated the table. A two-tiered cake decorated in the bride's colors was served. Assisting in the hospitalities were Misses. Johnnie Moore, Harold Weyer, Perishing Busbico, Morris Childers, Roy Bryant, Lou Green, Harold Newsom, George Mayo, John Farley, Roy Hogan, and W. T. Melson.

For a wedding trip to points in New Mexico, the bride wore a navy blue silk dress that was designed and made by the bride and her aunt, Mrs. Lender-son. The couple will be at home in Eunice, N. M., where the groom is employed with the Sinclair Oil Company.

The bride was graduated from Muleshoe high school in 1953 and from Eastern New Mexico University this spring. The groom is a graduate of Jal, N. M. high school and is now attending Eastern New Mexico University, Portales, N. M.

Special Extra Reinforcements By Hiway Patrol For Holiday Weekend

Faced with the prediction that 10 persons will die in traffic accidents in Texas during the 24-hour period of July Fourth, Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of Texas Department of Public Safety, has called state police forces together for a coordinated effort to prevent death and injury on our highways during the forthcoming holiday.

Col. Garrison has ordered all facilities of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Division and the License and Weight Division to bolster the force of the Texas Highway Patrol. Their mission will be that of patrolling our highways July 4 to remove dangerous drivers from the road before accidents occur.

"At least 120 more units from other divisions of the department will be in operation during the 24-hour holiday to add to the Patrol strength," he said. "Our divisions will patrol around the clock and every effort will be made to reduce the death count from the 10 we anticipate."

The prediction of 10 traffic deaths came from N. K. Woerner, chief of the department's Statistical Division, who said 12 persons were killed in traffic accidents during the holiday last year.

Col. Garrison said law enforcement officers throughout the state once again will be working overtime to carry their part of the traffic law enforcement load.

In addition to the operation to prevent traffic deaths and injuries the Texas Department of Public Safety will be keeping its eye on all other forms of violence.

The department's Operation Deathwatch will be in effect for the 24-hour period starting at 12:01 a.m., July 4. In the operation all forms of death and violence will be reported to the department here.

The state police director urged all Texans who plan to celebrate the holiday to plan safety in their activities, especially while swimming. And he suggested that special care be taken with foods to prevent them from spoiling before eating time.

Maxine Gant had her tonsils removed at West Plains Hospital at Muleshoe Friday morning.

Bobby Klutts of Andrews, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Klutts.

Guests in the Bob Kindel home are Betty Morton of Paducah and John Franklin of Hobbs, N. M. They are niece and nephew to the Kindels.

Mrs. Nettie Finley of Sebastopol, Miss., is visiting in the home of Mrs. J. A. Johnson.

Careful Choice In Furniture Buying By Newlyweds Can Pay Big Dividends

Ever stop to think how much money newlyweds invest in home furnishings — especially furniture? Or how many times a costly suite or piece of furniture chosen in a hurry, turns out to be a "white elephant"?

Selection of furniture reflects taste and judgement as well as a financial investment, according to extension home furnishing specialists — Careful choice will pay dividends in savings and satisfaction.

Keynoting of today's furniture is comfort, simplicity, flexibility and usefulness. It is designed to meet changing needs of many families on the move, and is scaled to the dimensions of today's home.

Newlyweds may be confused by all the possibilities and wonder where to spend and where to save on furniture.

Specialists suggest spending as heavily as possible on such items as a sofa bed, springs and mattrass and lounge chair. These are necessities and long term investments. Buy good permanent storage units, such as chests of drawers which can be used anywhere in the house.

Favor open stock rather than whole suites of furniture. It is often smarter to buy separate pieces that look well together, yet have a personality of their own, than to buy two or three piece sets.

Chose design carefully. Comfort is not a matter of the size and amount of upholstery, but one of clever design. Look for graceful, simple lines and good construction. Consider care and upkeep.

Furniture should be appropriate to your way of living. The furnishings should have the same general feeling so that they will be appropriate to each other in design, texture and color. You can assemble pieces of any period in one room, or you can combine light and dark finished woods—just be sure to let one period and one finish dominate.

Good Grasses Can Help Range Land

Most areas of the state have enjoyed good rains, but the resulting range vegetation may be undesirable weeds rather than good grasses, which are making a slow comeback on most range land.

To help nature along and give the grasses a chance to re-establish themselves, make leaves build a strong root system and make a seed crop, A. H. Walker, extension range specialist, suggests a program of resting or deferred grazing.

A grazing and management study conducted by the Sonora Experiment Station over a period of nine years, shows that pastures stocked 12 months and rested 4 months had more and better grass at the end of the nine years than those that were completely rested the entire period.

The Deferred Grazing Program Bill has been passed by Congress but so far no funds have been approved to sustain the program. But regardless of whether or not this bill is activated, the specialist recommends the practice to those ranchmen suffering from poor pasture, for this is the cheapest means of range recovery.

So, Walker advises ranchmen to make close observation of pasture vegetation. Examine the topgrowth. Take an even closer look at the rootgrowth, for good topgrowth does not necessarily indicate vigorous growth in the future. Roots are the food and water suppliers.

Grass is your crop if you are in the livestock business, says the specialist, and the management you give it now will largely determine the kind of plans you have in the future.

Ask any local county agent for a publication on Deferred and Rotation Grazing.

Cotton Research On Variety Tests

Research on cotton varieties at the High Plains Station of the Texas Research Foundation at Halfway, will consist of observation plots, test plots and variety comparison in acreage plots.

Sixty-one varieties have been planted in observation plots 22 feet long. Each of these 61 varieties are repeated four times on plots in different areas of the 310 acre farm. These cotton varieties are new or untried in this area.

Thirty-four varieties have been planted in one hundred foot plots with four rows to the plot. The tests will be made from the two center rows. The outside rows will not be used because the results might be influenced by the fertilization or irrigation program conducted on the adjoining plots. Each variety plot will be repeated four times. The research results to be determined by the average of the center rows in the four plots.

Eight leading varieties of cotton have been planted for comparison in acreage blocks. These varieties are those now in common use in the High Plains Area. A prominent farmer visiting the Station and observing the planting in process said, "I now understand better than ever why GETTING THE CAP OFF—This scene, which might have been taken from a science-fiction film, is taking place in a radiochemical center in Aversham, England. The scientist behind the lead brick wall is in the process of remote handling of radioactive isotopes.

we must all join in this project. The planting, cultivation, irrigation, fertilization of all these varieties in so many plots is quite beyond what any individual could possibly afford to do alone."

Where eggs are uncartoned, a sign must be displayed showing size and grade.

TEXAS EGG LAW SUMMARY

Next month the Texas Egg Law goes into effect regulating handling and sale of eggs and providing for licensing of certain egg dealers and handlers.

Following is a summary of the law, its requirements, exceptions and the means of its enforcement:

All eggs offered for sale must be handled properly and in a sanitary manner. Inedible eggs, or those unfit for human consumption, must not be sold.

All eggs sold to consumers must be graded; or, if not graded, the word "ungraded" must appear on the carton.

An egg below Grade A quality cannot be sold or advertised as fresh, yard, selected cage, or words of similar import.

Egg containers must be accurately labeled as to size and grade, each bearing the name of the one for whom the eggs were graded.

Not advertise price without also designating size and grade of eggs contained therein.

Be labeled "cold storage eggs" if the eggs have been under refrigeration for 30 or more days.

The Commissioner of Agriculture, administrator of the law, and his agents, may take samples of eggs for inspection and may enforce a "stop sale" order on eggs held in violation of the act.

Licenses must be displayed showing size and grade.

Licensing: Retailers, dealers, wholesalers, processors, and brokers must be licensed to buy and sell eggs. The retailer pays no fee. Dealers, wholesalers, and processors pay fees according to their volume of business. A brokers fee is $5. Producers, hatcheries, restaurants, hotels, and food manufacturers are exempt from licensing.

Licenses must keep on file for two years a record of all eggs purchased or sold, excluding retailers in purchases of less than case lots. Licenses also must deliver signed invoices with each transaction.

Violation constitutes a misdemeanor and carries penalties of from $50 to $1,000 in fines.

The act creates a nine-member Egg Marketing Advisory Board appointed by the Governor with the Commissioner of Agriculture as Chairman.

Exemptions: Producers selling only the production of their flocks are exempt from the act unless they claim some kind of grade. If a grade is claimed, producers must conform fully with the law.

The Texas Egg Law becomes effective August 22. Deadline for obtaining licenses is October 20. Actual enforcement of violations will begin after Feb. 17, 1958.

"That old common-grade oil I used to use in these irrigation engines sure did let the dirt and dust and rust cake up in those engines! But worse than that, with butane or propane, it thickened up when it looked almost like gear-grease! Man, what a change with this AMALIE L. P. G. Oil!"

AMALIE L. P. G. is more than just a good oil, it's a super oil. When you burn butane or propane (Liquid Petroleum Gas), ordinary oil won't do. It must be ENGINEERED for L. P. G. And AMALIE L. P. And above all, it holds its viscosity — its "flowing" qualities.

New Boston, N. M., June 27 — For several years a member of my organization has been attending the annual Chemurgic Conferences in the Central West. These meetings are to help farmers market their crops for industrial purposes and not merely for food. People will always be able to spend money on food, shelter, and luxuries, but a rich person can eat no more than a poor person and probably not as much. However, the percentage of fruits and green vegetables consumed increases considerably more than the demand for wheat, corn, potatoes, and other staples. Progress along chemurgic lines will increase the value of much farm property.

ATOMIC WONDERS

Atomic wonders may revolutionize farming. There is much discussion in newspapers today about the dangers of "fall-out" after the explosion of a hydrogen bomb. It is feared that these "fall-outs" may result in the birth of babies with two heads or with some other deformity. This would be very unfortunate for people, and might also affect cattle and fowl, but atomic farming may be a worthwhile new development in the case of agricultural products.

The spraying of fruit and other trees to kill destructive insects may be entirely changed. Instead of being sprayed as at present, they will be sprayed with electrical rays. This will enable the birds to come back again. These birds will soon kill off insects and enable the chemurgic cycle to progress as God intended.

THE GIBBERELLIN WONDERS

Some years ago the Japanese noticed that plants which adjoined a plant with a certain fungus had a remarkable growth. This was found amongst the rice plants especially. Later this fungus was reduced to an acid and used in the ratio of 0.1 to 10 parts per million parts of solution (usually potassium salts and water). Exhibitions are reported where you can almost see the plant grow from hour to hour. The sprays are fairly cheap and — although not yet passed by the Food and Drug Administration — yet they may revolutionize fertilizers. Instead of mixing chemicals with the soil, the seeds, sprouts, and leaves of the plant are sprayed. Experiments show that this spraying results in taller forest trees, better yields for pulpwood, and improved fiber crops, such as cotton. Gibberellins also lengthen the stems of flowers, hasten development of transplants, and reduce the work of farmers and gardeners.

IMPROVING PASTURE LANDS AND LENGTHENING SEASONS

Gibberellins make grass greener in pastures. In Florida, where ten acres are now seeded to pasture cattle, only three acres may be needed with the use of Gibberellins. Texas cattle may be fattened in their native pastures instead of being sent to Kansas or other Central States for fattening. It is rumored that Gibberellins may reduce the price of the best steaks to one half their present price. In fact, the entire price structure of cattle, hogs, and other grass-fed animals may be revolutionized.

But this is not all that the Gibberellins can do. They may make the raising of fruit, corn, and other products which are subject to frosts a safer business by extending the growing season.

PRICE OF FARM LAND

Although these developments above may hold down the price of farm products, they could easily increase the price of farm land. Don't be too quick to sell your farm land. This especially applies to small farms near cities where the land could be divided up for residential properties.

Also, remember that the new highway systems to be built by the government may elongate cities. That is, instead of a city being 5 miles square as the average city is today, it will be one-half mile wide on each side of the new highway and 10 miles long. This should greatly improve the price of certain present unprofitable farm land. Besides, one of the new "rare earth metals" may be found on your farm, — some of which I will mention: Cerium, Dysprosium, Erbium, Europium, Gadolinium, Holmium, Lanthanum, Lutetium, Niobium, Praseodymium, Promethium, Samarium, Terbium, Thulium, and Ytterbium.

Christian Science Services

How spiritual understanding of the inspired Word of the Bible brings hope and healing will be set forth at Christian Science Services Sunday.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon on "Christian Science" will include the following from Romans (15:1): "For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope."

Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (547:23-25, 31-32): "The Scriptures are very sacred. Our aim must be to have them understood spiritually, for only by this understanding can truth be gained. It is this spiritual perception of Scripture, which lifts humanity out of disease and death and inspires faith."

TODAY'S MEDITATION

Read John 6:63-69.
Heaven and earth will pass away but my words will not pass away. (Matthew 24:35. RCV.)

Recently our study group examined a number of old books to discover how times and customs have changed. We found, for example, in travel books that new ways of transportation have made old ways obsolete. Designs of vehicles, furniture, and fashions have undergone frequent changes. New discoveries have disproved or enlarged upon theories in old science books.

But one book, the Bible, has neither changed nor been disproved since it was written. As a guide for daily living it has stood the test of all new inventions and the discovery of natural and spiritual laws. In fact, as knowledge increases, a better

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

BY RAYMOND EULER

County Farm Bureau Directors will meet in regular session Monday night at eight, in the office in Friona. 4-H boys and girls who recently returned from the state roundup will be present to report briefly on their experiences. You are welcome to attend all or part of any of the meetings. You may have suggestions to make to your directors that would be helpful to them in executing policies you have directed them to take care of during the year.

"We advocate the policy of no appeasement with communists wherever they may be found." This statement has been adopted by Texas Farm Bureau delegates for the past several years. With this in mind, we express our agreement with Rep. Howard W. Smith of Virginia, when he said, regarding the U. S. Supreme Court's action in freeing several of communist activity in California. "I am not surprised, I do not recall any case decided by the present court that the communists have lost." This condition, we think, is a deplorable one for our country to be in.

The American Farm Bureau opposes "Federal Aid" to education, not because it is opposed to education, but because it believes decentralization of our education is more desirable than further centralization. We now find that Governor Harold Handley, of Indiana, who also opposes Federal encroachment upon educational activities conducted some research. The White House Conference report stated that Indiana needed 1,100 new classrooms annually, and that Federal "aid" was needed to accomplish this goal. The governor found that his state and local agencies had built 1,925 class rooms in 1956, 2,100 were due for service in '57, and 2,400 were blueprint for '58.

"We are building these new classrooms twice as fast as the advocates of federalized education say we should be building them," he said.

CONSIDER THIS: Open thy mouth, judge righteously, and plead the cause of the poor and needy. Proverbs 31:5

understanding of Bible truth is revealed. "Through every age it continues to inspire and convert."

Surely the Book that can stand such a rigid test of time is worthy of our deepest study and constant use as a guide for daily living.

PRAYER
Our dear Father, we thank Thee for the gift of Thy unfailing Word. In it we find strength and courage for daily living. Help us to be guided each day by its unchanging truth. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
The Bible is so simple a child can find value in it; so profound no one has ever probed its depths.

Sandhills Philosopher Finds He's An Expert When It Comes To Sizing The Farming Picture

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson Grass farm must figure he's going to have something to sell this fall, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:
I was out here on my farm yesterday afternoon watching things grow by leaps and bounds, you know, one of the advantages of farming is that a crop will grow even while you're sleeping, which is the ideal way to make money, although you have to remember the price can drop while you're sleeping too, and it's nothing to wake up some morning and see your crop an inch taller and the price a dollar lower, but since things were growing pretty good I got to wondering what prices will be like this fall.

Consequently, it was with considerable pleasure when I read in a newspaper I'd been carrying in my pocket for a couple of days where the United States Chamber of Commerce had collected a bunch of experts to advise on business trends for the rest of the year.

And according to the experts, and they had em from all fields, wages and prices are going to continue to climb, retail business is going to increase, construction will climb, and things will keep booming, in fact, 1957 may be our best year.

But what interested me most was the estimate on the farming situation made by an economist for the outfit, after a survey of the whole nation.

According to the article, he "expressed hopes that farm prices will rise along with other prices." Well, it's a funny thing, I've been hoping farm prices would rise every year all my life, but I've never considered myself an economist or any other kind of expert. However if the best an economist can do after a careful analysis of the agricultural situation is come up with the hope in the summer that prices will be higher in the fall, then I could hang out my shingle along with the best of them, I'm an economist too.

In fact, come to think of it, I suppose most farmers are automatically agricultural economists, as I've never run across one yet who wasn't hoping he'd get a little more for his stuff than he suspects he will or past history tells him he won't.

Experience is a fine thing, but if you haven't got the knack of forgetting some of it, you ain't cut out to be a farmer.

The price of nearly everything is going up, according to the experts, but about all they can offer the farmer is an increase in hopes, and most farmers already have plenty of that, or they wouldn't be going up one row and down another. Yours faithfully,

J. A.

SAFETY SUNDAY

More Americans have died in traffic accidents during the past 50 years than in all our wars put together. Some 40,000 new tombstones are forecast this year as the result of man's lawlessness and carelessness on wheels.

These are the big killers: speed too fast for conditions, involved in 59 per cent of the fatal highway accidents; driving while drinking, involved in 39 per cent.

Toss in such killers as improper passing, following too closely, and crossing prohibited lines, and the evidence is clear that a big majority of the deaths and injuries result from violation of the law.

The newly-created Texas Traffic Safety Council, an official State agency, has launched a statewide educational and law enforcement campaign against human destruction on the streets and highways. A safer Fourth of July is the first goal.

All organizations — State and local churches, school, civic and otherwise — have been urged to cooperate by passing the word to their memberships. Governor Price Daniel has made a special appeal to ministers, Sunday school teachers and church workers by designating June 30 as "Safety Sunday" and urging them to devote part of their lessons to traffic safety. Christian teachings place a high value on human life; it is appropriate that the churches have a leading role in preserving life on the streets and highways.

This newspaper asks every citizen of Parmer county to join in this campaign. If we were struck by a flood, tornado or some other disaster on the Fourth of July, none of us would hesitate to pitch in and fight for our lives and those of our neighbors.

We are faced each day with the disaster of traffic accidents — heightened on holidays such as the Fourth of July.

Let's use the same cooperative spirit to do something about this the greatest of all disasters.

The Big Job is under way

Santa Fe is now loading thousands of cars of grain and grain products on its lines

Santa Fe has been serving agriculture since 1874, when we sponsored the migration of the Mennonite farmers who established the Kansas wheat belt, and brought with them from Europe the ancestors of the better varieties of wheat grown in America today.

During harvest time, Santa Fe has a big job to do. At the country stations and terminal elevators along the line, as agriculture's "hired man," Santa Fe loads over 121,000 boxcars of grain a year—the total production of over 9,000,000 fertile acres. We also load over 34,000 cars of grain products on our line annually.

An important part of this job is done in advance by our own agriculture department, by collecting data on planted acreage, weather, crop damage and other factors that affect yield.

These statistics provide useful information for farmers, elevator operators and others interested in grain movements, and assist us in spotting grain-tight boxcars at strategic points at harvest time.

Our agriculture department works with the Federal and State agriculture departments, land grant colleges, and county agents in fighting destructive insects and plant diseases.

We are also privileged to award university scholarships annually to many farm youths in our territory.

We of the Santa Fe are proud of the part we have in serving the farmers of the West and Southwest in their essential task of feeding the Nation.

Alfalfa Crop Accounts For Major Income In Area

ALFALFA: (Medicago Sativa, L.) sometimes called Lucerne. A deep-rooted perennial legume of the clover family, closely related to peas and beans. Introduced into California from Chili in 1854, it was grown by the Persians more than 2500 years ago, who introduced it into Greece about 470 B.C. Medicago is Greek for "What the Medes planted".

Alfalfa is more commonly known on the west plains as a good cash crop which can be harvested as often as six times a year, and for which new uses and markets are being discovered constantly. In Bailey county alfalfa supports a surprisingly large industry of direct and related workers on a semi-seasonal basis.

The alfalfa crop in this county will return a gross average of $100 annually per acre to the farmer who has a reasonably large acreage. He may choose several methods of handling his crop.

The crop may be sold on a contract basis in the field, and harvested, baled and hauled away by the contractor. The farmer may undertake to cut and bale his crop himself, paying for having it stacked or hauled either at harvest time or later in the season. He might also sell the crop in the field to the National Alfalfa Dehydrating Mill in Muleshoe, which will cut and haul the hay to the mill for dehydrating into commercial feed products.

Whatever means is taken to dispose of the hay, the grower can expect to net about $75 per acre per year under ordinary conditions.

Harvesting Costs

If he decides to bale it, a custom crew charges about $6 per acre to cut and bale the hay. If he harvests it himself, he can probably figure the cost at around $5 to $6 per acre. If he sells it to the mill the mill harvests it and pays him $15 per ton, based on current prices.

This year most farmers are on their second cutting right now, with the first cutting beginning about five weeks ago. Cuttings are usually 30 days apart with the final cutting somewhat more than that due to the slow growth of plants during the late summer and early fall weather.

Although no exact figures are available on how many acres of alfalfa are grown in the community, it has been variously estimated that 4500 acres of hay are in the immediate area of the Muleshoe trade territory.

There are a number of custom hay crews in the area who realize a good portion of their annual income from the hay crop. There are also the haulers who, like Bill Lambert, have hauled Muleshoe alfalfa all over the southwest for more years than they like to recall.

When alfalfa is sold to the meal or pellet form, and this process is worthy of a separate story in itself.

A huge Gehl harvester, which contains a hammermill and blower, cuts the hay in seven foot swaths in the field. The load is dumped into a waiting truck and hauled to the mill in Muleshoe.

which transfers measured amounts into the maw of a revolving drum under intense heat. As the hay dries it moves to the opposite end of the drum and is blown into a collector, thence into a series of high speed hammermills which convert the chopped stems and leaves into meal. At this stage of the process, the hay contains from seven to 10 percent moisture and has a protein content of not less than 17 per cent.

If meal is to be shipped, it is then funneled into waiting bags and taken to the warehouse to await shipment.

If pellets are to be made, the meal is mixed with enough steam to moisten it into a mass, and is forced through seive-like contrivance and cut into pellets of a predetermined size.

The first cutting of hay this year at the mill amounted to 1319 tons dry weight. It is not easy to say how much actual hay in the field was required to make that tonnage due to varying factors. The second cutting began June 15.

In 1955 Texans harvested 318,000 acres of alfalfa having a value of $18 million, making it the principle legume used for hay in the state.

Lahontan, an aphid-resistant variety of alfalfa, was introduced on the plains last year and has found favor among some farmers despite its high initial cost. It is expected that this western-states developed hay may find wide acceptance in this area because of its high degree of resistance to the spotted alfalfa aphid which is causing increased damage to crops.

Alfalfa is not only one of the most palatable and nutritious of forage crops, but it has a favorable effect on soil by adding nitrogen and acting as a protective cover for the soil against erosion.
