Boys Given Advancement At Meeting In Court House Last Thursday Night

The Boy Scouts Court of Honor conducted in the county court room last Thursday night was a "keen affair," according to one of the visiting boys. Nearly all of both troops of boy scouts in Tahoka together with a few of their parents, the scout masters, and a few others were present. Mr. Sam Henry, scout commissioner of Lubbock, was here to assist in the program and he made a most excellent short address to the scouts.

Dr. C. B. Townes presided over the court and he conducted it in a snappy manner that brought much praise from Mr. Henry.

Those receiving Merit Badges were: A. G. Cook, Jack Childers, J. D. Donaldson, Cecil Anderson, Lester Prater, Dewey Curry, Bob Caviness and Keith Kemp.

Scout-master W. L. Anglin of Troop 40 presented the badges to the Tenderfoots and to the First Class Scouts. Scoutmaster Dean of Troop 21 presented the badges to the Second Class Scouts, and Dr. Townes presented the Merit Badges.

Baptist Choir Gives Program

The Thanksgiving recital of the Baptist Church Choir and Orchestra last Sunday night was attended by one of the largest crowds that has been packed into the church. All other churches in town dispensed with their services and attended the program.

An excellent program of choral, solo, quartet, duet and instrumental pieces was given by the choir and orchestra; and in addition to the program printed in the News last week, Mr. Scott Gunn, Gatesville, sang a vocal solo.

In addition to this Thanksgiving musical program, another program was to have been held at the Church Wednesday night at which B. P. Maddox, L. C. Heath and G. H. Nelson were scheduled to make short Thanksgiving addresses. Mr. Taylor White had charge of arranging the music.

The Baptist Church dispensed with the Sunday morning service to welcome the new Methodist pastor, Rev. J. W. Shepherd.

Callaway, Thomas Bag Two Big Deer

W. O. Thomas and Dr. E. E. Callaway returned Sunday night from Gillespie County, with two deer, and are this week feasting in royal fashion. They left here Wednesday joining a party of Fort Worth and Greenville friends at Fredericksburg. The party was composed of Sam J. Callaway, brother of the Doctor's, Joe Schooler, and Dick Boas of Fort Worth, and Dr. Ed Taylor of Greenville. Seven deer were killed by the six men, Mr. Thomas getting the largest one.

Dr. Callaway says that as the Fort Worth party was leaving that city their negro cook, Melvin Green, turned his truck of provisions over and was killed. The truck was almost demolished.

POULTRY EXHIBITORS URGED TO MAIL ENTRIES EARLY

SEATON, Nov. 25.—The superintendents of the first annual Texas Panhandle-Plains Poultry Show here on Dec. 10, 11, and 12 are urging exhibitors to mail entries as early as possible. All birds must be cooped in showrooms by 11 A. M. Dec. 10, said E. C. Mowery, of Tech College, Lubbock, chairman of the show catalogue committee.

PROMISE MORE FOR '30 COTTON

Co-Op Head Sees Bright Future; 3,646 Bales Received By Tahoka Office

The Tahoka office of the Texas Cotton Co-op had received 3,646 bales up to close of business Tuesday.

That the present year offers the cotton co-operative associations a better chance than usual to return their members more for their cotton than they could have sold it for on the streets, was a statement made last week by Carl Williams, member of the Federal Farm Board who was in Dallas in conference with the Board of Directors of the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association, according to Mr. Leathers, local representative of the organization.

Mr. Leathers stated that word received from the State's office continue to reflect the manner in which the cotton cooperative marketing movement is being accepted in all sections. "Through November 15th the Texas Association had received a total of 531,263 bales," he said, "which is 434,630 bales more than was received on the corresponding date last year." Association officials estimate this season's deliveries to the channels of cooperative marketing at approximately 700,000 bales, it was said. The association is continuing its 90 per cent initial advance based upon the merit of the cotton delivered. Mr. Leathers said, and much held cotton from all sections of the state is now being released to the cooperatives.

Thieves Enter Ed Hamilton's Cafe

Ed Hamilton's cafe was entered last Thursday night and a slot machine and three cartons of cigarettes taken. The culprits made entry to the building through the front door. The glass of the door had been broken several days previously and the thieves had only to cut the screen door and kick out the sheetrock that had been nailed over the door to gain entry. Monday afternoon the slot machine was found in T-Bar pasture, but about $15 in nickels and slots was missing.

The burglary must have been committed by inexperienced hands or the burglars were scared away, for several dollars in cash, a shot gun, and other valuable articles were left undisturbed.

Others Pay Up!

Subscribers renewing or having their subscriptions renewed since our issue last week are as follows: Henry Bulman, W. C. Wells, F. L. Orman, J. L. Heare, L. N. Hancock, W. D. Nevels, D. T. Rogers, W. T. Luttrell, R. C. Cook, T. I. Tippett, B. P. Barrington, all of Lynn county, Miss Ada Bradford of Palestine, and Mrs. G. B. Nixon of Ballinger.

If the name of anyone who has paid has been omitted from this list, we should like to have our attention called to it. We appreciate these renewals and hope to have an even longer list next week. Nobody need be bashful. Come right along, folks.

CROWD HEARS NEW PREACHER

Rev. Shepherd, Methodist Pastor, Well Received At First Service Here Sunday

Rev. J. W. Shepherd, new pastor of the Methodist Church, was well received at last Sunday Morning's service by a crowd that filled the large auditorium to capacity. The Baptist church did not have preaching in order that the congregation might help welcome the new preacher, and the Methodist church dismissed Sunday evening to return the visit by attending the choir and orchestra recital at the Baptist Church.

Brother Shepherd's subject was "The New Commandment." Both the sermon and the preacher met the highest approval of the audience. Members of the church are looking forward to a great work under his leadership.

"I am well pleased with the reception given us," Brother Shepherd told The News. "The pastor is especially anxious to have the hearty cooperation and sympathetic prayers of the entire membership of the church. And we welcome all others at all times to our services."

There was a good attendance at Sunday School, and the Roughneck class heard a talk by Prof. Martin, superintendent of the Meadow public schools.

A special invitation is issued to all members of the church and all other people to be at the services next Sunday.

Wharton County man received $15 a month for grazing rights on twelve acres of Sudan grass and estimated his saving in feed bills at $6 a day.

Court Seeks Means For Farm Relief

The commissioners' court has been in session this week and among the problems that have engaged their attention is that of farm relief. They have been striving earnestly and intelligently to find some method by which they may be able to materially help the people of this county to carry on their farming operations for another year, and we believe that they will succeed in evolving a plan that will greatly help the fellow who desires to help himself.

First Thanksgiving Proclamation

Few Americans know that the original Presidential Thanksgiving Proclamation was lost for over a hundred years; that it was found at an auction sale in 1921; that it was bought by the Library of Congress for $900.00; and that it now reposes in the archives of that institution—one of the most valuable documents in the world. The Division of Information and Publication of the George Washington Bicentennial Commission, in a statement issued today, relates the story of the lost proclamation.

On September 25, 1789, Elias Boudinot introduced the following resolution in the House of Representatives:

"Resolved, That a joint committee of both Houses be directed to wait upon the President of the United States, to request that he would recommend to the people of the United States a day of public Thanksgiving and prayer, to be observed by acknowledging, with grateful hearts, the many signal favors of Almighty God, especially by affording them an opportunity to establish a Constitution of government for their safety and happiness."

Harcless as this resolution seems, there were objections to it. In reading the Annals of Congress of that period, we find that Representative Asenath Burke of South Carolina thought we should not mimic Europe "where they made a mere mockery of thanksgiving."

Representative Thomas Tucker, also of South Carolina, argued that it was not the business of Congress to ask for a national day of Thanksgiving.

"They (the people) may not be inclined to return thanks for a Constitution until they have experienced that it promotes their safety and happiness."

These objections, however, were over-ruled; the resolution was passed and sent to the Senate for concurrence. The Senate approved and appointed its committee to wait on the President. The joint committee was made up of Ralph Izard of South Carolina and William S. Johnson of Connecticut, from the Senate; Elias Boudinot of New Jersey; Roger Sherman of Connecticut; and Peter Sylvester of New York from the House.

Washington complied with the request and on October 3, 1789, issued his proclamation, calling for a National day of Thanksgiving on Thursday, November 26.

And then the document dropped out of sight. It apparently was misplaced or attached to some private papers in the process of moving official records from one city to another when the Capital was changed. However, it happened, the original manuscript was not in the official archives until 1921 when Dr. J. C. Fitzpatrick, then Assistant Chief of the Manuscripts Division of the Library of Congress, and now Editor of the forthcoming George Washington Bicentennial Commission series of Washington's Writings, "found" the proclamation. It was at an auction sale being held in the American Art Galleries of New York City. Dr. Fitzpatrick, an expert in Washington, examined the document and found it to be authentic. It was written in long hand by Wm. Jackson.

Tahoka Plays Lockney Here Today; Defeats Levelland 7-0

PUSH TAHOKA TO WIN GAME

Last Friday's Football Game One Of Hardest Fought Of A Successful Season

The Levelland Lobos and the Tahoka Bulldogs battled on even terms here Friday afternoon, but one concentrated drive down the field by Tahoka resulted in a touchdown giving the game to the local team 7 to 0. Taking the ball late in the first quarter on their own 31 yard line, Tahoka marched down the field, and early in the second quarter Stevens carried the ball across for a touchdown. He also place-kicked for extra point.

The game was hard fought but clean, and several men from both teams were withdrawn because of minor injuries. Capt. Jack Minor, III with the flu, was not able to play for Tahoka, and Dean was out with a broken bone in his hand.

Billie Lester, Tahoka halfback, stole the honors of the day, galloping around ends, through line, and returning punts for long gains. Stevens, Edwards and Benson also played good games. For the visitors, Tubbs carried the ball fully two-thirds of the time, twice for gains of 30 yards, proved an excellent punter, and a passer of no little ability. House and McDermott were other outstanding players.

A play-by-play account of the game may be found on page 6.

Sells Arkansas Stove Wood As Souvenirs

Leaving Fordyce, Arkansas, recently with about 2 tons of pine knots, oak logs and hickory double trees on his truck, J. A. Gausnell of Lubbock county sold over 1,000 pounds piece by piece as souvenirs along the route home. Returning by the way of Texarkana, Dallas, Fort Worth, Abilene and Snyder, Gausnell arrived in Southland Monday afternoon, with only 35 miles to go to haul his load of stove wood home to establish a record of over 850 miles.—Southland Sun.

M. P. Clinton House Burned Last Friday

M. P. Clinton's house in the southwest part of town burned last Thursday night from an unknown cause. Clinton and his family had been living over Wells' store since he took charge of the Brandon Cafe several weeks ago. Most of their furniture was still in the house, however, and it too was destroyed. When the fire was discovered the house was burning all over the inside, and though the fire department made a run to the house there was no chance of saving it.

The loss was partially covered by a $1,000 insurance policy.

WELLS LEAVES FOR CHICAGO

Boy Honored For 4-H Club Work Off To Take Advantage Of Free Trip

George Claude Wells, winner of one of the Santa Fe's free trips to Chicago offered to outstanding 4-H Club boys, leaves Tahoka Friday morning for that city. He will meet D. F. Eaton, Lubbock county agent, and several other West Texas boys at Lubbock, and they will proceed from there to Newton, Kansas, where they meet the rest of the Texas delegation.

George Claude was selected for this trip by M. T. Payne of the A. & M. College Extension Service as a result of having made an outstanding record with his dairy cows. Nineteen free trips to Chicago are offered each year by the Santa Fe railroad to Texas 4-H Club boys who make remarkable records in as many fields of agricultural endeavor. He will receive free of charge his railroad and pullman fares, meals, and living quarters while in Chicago. He will return to Tahoka about December 8th, the National Livestock Exhibit, which they will attend, lasting from Nov. 29 to Dec. 6.

Masons Hold Big Meeting Tuesday

Sixty Masons, many of them visitors from O'Donnell, attended a special educational meeting of the order held at the lodge rooms Tuesday night.

Interesting and educational talks were made by the following: Rev. C. A. Duncan, O'Donnell; J. H. Owens, Petty; Dr. J. W. McDonald, Houston; G. A. Brasfield, W. S. Anglin, Anson Coughran, C. C. Williams, Truett Smith, K. C. Holmes, Rev. O. J. Hull, Tahoka, C. R. Riley was master of ceremonies.

In addition to the talks music was greatly enjoyed from the High School quartet composed of Boswell Edwards, Coughran Ketter, Clifton Janak, and Robert Benson. This number was arranged by R. E. Key.

The next meeting of the Masons will be on December 31st.

Pantry Worth 10 Bales of Cotton

Wellington.—With 34 varieties of food on her pantry shelves besides sweet and Irish potatoes and onions, Mrs. A. O. Sweet, 4-H pantry demonstrator in the Aberdeen Home Demonstration Club in Collingsworth county, figures her contribution to the family income equal to 10 bales of cotton this year. The total value of food products to carry the family through the winter and early spring is placed at $520.95.

As reported by Miss Paralee Brock, home demonstration agent, the pantry holds 740 quarts of fruit, 115 quarts leafy vegetables, 71 quarts starchy vegetables, 67 quarts of other vegetables, 89 quarts of meat, 87 quarts of pickles and relishes, and 295 quarts of preserves and jelly.

Trinity County man off a small tract planted to canteloupes and soy beans sold $38 worth of melons, fed fifteen bushels to hogs and stored $15 worth of hay.

LOCKNEY HAS STRONG TEAM

Thanksgiving Day Football Game Promises To Be One Of Year's Best

Lockney, defeated only once this year by a District Two team, meets Tahoka on the local gridiron this afternoon in the last game of a most successful season for both teams.

The visitors were unofficial champions of the northern section of the district, one of their men having been ruled ineligible late in the season leaving the championship to Paducah, which team they had previously beaten decisively. They also chalked up wins over such teams as Floydada, Ralls, Silvertown, Tulia, and Hereford, the latter District One champion of last year. Their only game lost this year was to Slaton by a narrow margin.

Tahoka has won over Floydada, Crosbyton, Levelland, Littlefield, O'Donnell and Idalou, the latter by forfeiture. They were tied by Wilson and have lost to Slaton, Lamesa and Brownfield; the last named by one point.

Not only will this be the last game of the season, but even the Bulldogs will be playing their last game for Tahoka High School.

Take Money From Sheriff's House

Some culprit entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sanford Tuesday morning, while Mrs. Sanford and a negro servant were busy in the kitchen, and stole about six dollars in money from Mrs. Sanford's purse. Some of the dresser drawers were also rifled and left open but nothing was missed from them.

Recently the home of G. W. Short in the same neighborhood was entered and twenty dollars belonging to Oran Short was stolen, it is reported.

Mr. Sanford as sheriff advises that the people in town and country keep a close scrutiny on their property, and never leave their residence unlocked, for thieves are numerous and stealthy. Many chickens, he says, are being stolen in the county and a close watch should be kept on the hen roosts as well as the homes.

Texas Citrus Acreage Is World's Greatest

Texas will be the site of the greatest citrus fruit industry in the world by the end of next year, according to the San Juan Sentinel, which presents figures on which it bases the statement.

On April 1, 1930, the Valley had 6,001,101 citrus trees. This season's plants are estimated at 7,500,000 and by the end of 1931 another 650,000 will have been planted. Of the April 1 total 4,201,650 were grapefruit; of the present year's plantings 1,250,000 were of grape fruit, and next year's plantings are estimated at 650,000 bringing the census of the grape fruit trees alone to 6,101,650.

Florida, present leader in the industry, has 5,189,000 bearing grape fruit trees and 400,000 non-bearing most of them replacements. Plantings in Florida has been virtually at a standstill for several years, the Sentinel avers, and the present total is not expected materially to be changed by the end of 1931.

THIEVES ENTER LUMBER YARD AT O'DONNELL

Some person or persons met a sad disappointment Tuesday evening when a window in the office of Cleo R. Smith Lumber Co. was prized open and the dial broken from the safe in an effort to reach the cash drawer. The effort was a total failure, from the viewpoint of the thief, since the lock remained intact. No damage beyond the window and the dial, has been discovered so far. No money was taken.—O'Donnell Index.

THE VALUE OF BEING BROKE

We are hearing much about hard times; tight money; and people being broke. For one, we are not saying such is not the case, but Sunday evening at the First Baptist Church the pastor is going to discuss the "Value of Being Broke." To be "broke" isn't the worst thing in the world. Some times its a blessing in disguise. The speaker will use a Bible illustration to prove his point. Especially is the subject suited to young people. Therefore, a most cordial invitation is extended to the young people of the community to be present. Fathers and mothers are urged to bring their sons and daughters to this service. Special music will be a feature of the program. The service begins at 7:45.

Sunday School begins at 9:45 A. M. Classes for all ages. Organized classes for men and women. Efficient teachers for all classes. Morning worship 11:00 A. M. Visitors receive a cordial welcome to all these services.

KIWANIANS ENJOY VERY INTERESTING PROGRAM

Miss Lucille Slaton rendered a couple of vocal solos at the Kiwanis luncheon Wednesday, with Miss Evelyn Wells accompanying on the piano.

Rev. O. J. Hull spoke a few minutes on Thanksgiving. The habit of thankfulness can be and should be cultivated, he pointed out, and a religious spirit should characterize our Thanksgiving programs. "There are lots of things to be thankful for," he declared, and all present must have agreed with him when he got through enumerating them. Among the things he mentioned and discussed briefly are the blessings brought to us by reason of the form and character of our government, the blessing of life, health, friends, home and community.

Rev. J. W. Shepherd, the new Methodist pastor here, was present as a new member. Visitors present included Dr. Swartz of Lubbock and W. V. Jones, special officer for the Santa Fe, of Slaton.

The ladies served a most sumptuous dinner.

T-BAR RANCH SCENE OF THANKSGIVING DINNER

T-Bar Ranch headquarters was the scene of a big Thanksgiving dinner last Monday at which over twenty visitors and employees sat down to a table loaded with turkey and all the fixin's. Mr. and Mrs. Cass Edwards of Fort Worth, owners of the ranch, were present and brought with them two negro cooks to prepare the feast.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Corn, Crosbyton; Bob Bonner, Amarillo; Mr. Fry, Dallas; and Mr. O'Brien, Stratford; Mrs. D. A. Childers and Miss Lorene Childers, Tahoka. Employees present were: John Grider, Howard Miller, Shorty Shelton, Jake Bockman, Lee Holley, George Ingram, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Weddington and little daughter, and Dave Childers, foreman.

THANKSGIVING BRIDGE PARTY

Miss Charlotte Barnett was the charming hostess to six tables of bridge, on last Friday evening, at the American Legion Home. Miss Rose Levine, of Houston was the honored guest.

The home was made very attractive with Thanksgiving decorations. Miss Lillamae Reed scored high for the ladies while Mr. Jack Fenton made honors for the men.

Delicious refreshments were served to the following: Misses Frankie Wells, Gertrude Bishop, Allene Taylor, Lucille McCord, Lillamae Reid, Faye Brown, Hazel Stafford, Messrs. Jack Fenton, Ray Shaver, E. S. Evans, J. B. Thaston, Tom Short, W. T. Bovell, Messrs. and Mmes. Buck Barnes, Clyne Thomas, Harlan Cook, Mrs. W. L. Burleson, the honoree and the hostess.

The Phebe K. Warner Club had a turkey dinner at the American Legion Home, with an excellent program, Tuesday night. We hope to have a full report of the pleasant affair next week.

LOCAL COUPLES HAVE DOUBLE WEDDING MONDAY

Monday, November 24th, two young couples sprang a lark on their friends by motoring to Clovis, N. M., where they were married by the County Judge at 2 p. m. in one single ceremony. The guilty parties were Miss Jewell Johnson, Tahoka, and Mr. Edward Quinsey of Redwine; Miss Lillie M. Quinsey and E. L. Watson both of Tahoka.

Both couples were widely known throughout the county. Edward Quinsey and his sister, Lillie M. Quinsey having lived in the Redwine community for the past 8 years. Miss Jewell Johnson is remembered as a South Ward and T-Bar resident but has lived in South Tahoka the past 3 years. Mr. E. L. Watson has lived in the Redwine community for the past six years.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Quinsey left early Tuesday morning for points in Oklahoma but will return in a few days to make their home with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Quinsey.

Mr. E. L. Watson up until the past week was employed at the South Side Filling Station, but is now working at Billie Brandon's station. His wife, the former Lillie M. Quinsey, was employed in the Club Cafe the past six weeks. This young couple will doubtless continue to make their home in Tahoka for a while at least.

Many friends extend to these popular and highly respected couples congratulations and best wishes for long and happy wedded lives.—Contributed.

P. T. A. WILL HOLD REGULAR MEETING NEXT WEDNESDAY

There will be an interesting program and a prize will be awarded the room having the largest representation of parents present. Let us have a record attendance at this meeting.—Publicity Committee.

ORDER 200 ELM TREES TO PLANT IN MUNICIPAL PARK

We wish to thank our many good friends for the many kind deeds shown us during the long illness and death of our dear mother and companion. The many love gifts and flowers will never be forgotten. New Home

Last Wednesday night, our senior and junior boys met the Woodrow teams at Wolfboro to try to defeat them at basketball. The seniors, however, were defeated, their scores being 10-11 in favor of Woodrow, but our juniors were successful, making a score of 12-10.

Friday night, the senior boys and girls, and junior boys played against Meadow at Meadow, but the scores were all larger for Meadow than for New Home. The senior girls scored 17 against Meadow's 22. We are very proud of our girls, for they certainly did show some real playing, and, last but by no means least, some real sportsmanship. We can truly say that our girls know how to take defeat. The Senior boys came out with a score of 12-47, while the junior boys score was 10-12. We are proud of all of our teams, even if they did lose, for they are such good sports. After the games the girls went home with their coach, Miss Adams at whose home they enjoyed a slumber party.

The sixth and seventh grades are planning to have a picnic Thanksgiving Day at T-Bar. Their teacher, Miss Cleo Jackson, and Miss Audrey Campbell, the primary teacher, will accompany them.

Several of the New Home young people, accompanied by the Baptist Pastor, Rev. W. K. Horn attended the program delivered by members of the Simmons B. S. U. at O'Donnell Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Q. Adams and daughters, Madge and Joyce visited friends and relatives in Idalou last week-end.

Mr. W. L. Lambert of San Jose, California, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. R. Q. Adams.—Reporter.

LIFE SKETCH OF MRS. BOSWORTH IS GIVEN

The News has received an "Obituary" on the death of Mrs. R. Bosworth, a brief account of whose death was published in this paper last week. While we do not publish lengthy "obituaries", still we are glad to give some additional facts pertaining to the life and character of this good woman.

Lucinda Elizabeth Haesley Bosworth was born May 1st, 1883, was married to Roscoe Bosworth in 1900 and died at her home near Tahoka, November 19, 1930.

She professed faith in Christ in girlhood and became a member of a Baptist Church in 1905. She was a devoted Christian and very often during her illness she would see visions of Heaven and tell the family she saw Jesus and the angels coming after her.

She was indeed a devoted wife and mother, and leaves a husband and eight children, three of whom are married, three sisters, one brother, and many sorrowing friends to mourn her departure.

Her children are: Mrs. Gladys Moore, Mrs. Katie B. Hawthorne, Mrs. Mildred Nowlin, and Miss Levis Bosworth, Otis Bosworth, Clifford Bosworth, Erlene Bosworth and R. L. Bosworth. All were present at the funeral except Otis and Gladys, who are in Colorado.

Her beautiful Christian life will always be a benediction to her husband and children and other loved ones as well as to a host of devoted friends.

Sterling Appeals For Patronage Of Texas Industry

AUSTIN, Nov. 25.—Back Texas industry and end Texas unemployment.

This is the appeal of Ross S. Sterling, governor-elect, his unofficial first move in beginning his administration pledged to economic and business achievements.

Mr. Sterling announced, in a statement sent out from his office in Houston, that he has gathered facts and figures for use when he becomes governor, dealing with several industries, that show how many more workers can be employed with patronage of Texas people who now buy imported products.

Use Texas Products

"If all Texas people will start patronizing Texas industry and using Texas products, complaints of unemployment and business depression will soon be lost and forgotten in the hum of Texas industry," he declared.

He declared his study of the Texas economic situation, in an effort to improve it.

"By demanding Texas products wherever reasonably available," the governor-elect said, "the people can perform a patriotic service for the benefit of needy families of the unemployed, and help themselves by improving the state's prosperity generally."

"I appeal to the warm-hearted citizenship of this state, particularly to the housewives, who do most of the shopping, to give this matter their conscientious attention."

As Good as Others

"Most Texas products," Mr. Sterling said, "are as good in every respect as similar commodities shipped in from other states."

"In such cases loyalty to state industry should work in favor of the Texas-made articles, even under normal business conditions."

"But with thousands of jobless men and needy families, fairness to Texas labor demands that it be given the trade."

"There are numerous industries throughout the state which could employ thousands more workers if their products were sufficiently favored. There are various foodstuffs manufactured and prepared in Texas, wearing apparel, hardware, building materials, furniture, utensils and many other articles of everyday use."

Develop The Habit

"If everyone would develop the habit of buying Texas-made products, the factories of the state would begin swelling their working forces, and the complaints of unemployment would soon be lost in the hum of Texas industry."

Mr. Sterling urged chambers of commerce and service clubs to follow a plan now adopted in Houston of displaying names of local industries, and showing the results of full cooperation with the home factories and plants. The placards, showing names of local industries, he said, bear pledges of the individuals or firms displaying them, to patronize home industry.

"A reminder should be all that a patriotic Texan needs at this time," he said.

One of the largest water supply projects ever considered in Texas would involve expenditure of $15,000,000 and would convey the soft water for which the shallow water district of the West Texas Plains country is famous from above the Ceprock to Wichita Falls, serving many towns along its 220 miles. Source of the supply would be 3,000 ft. above sea level, while its terminus is only 900, obviating the necessity of any pumping after the water is put into the mains. The line would run from near Plainview northeast to Childress and then along the Denver Railroad to Wichita Falls, according to a story in the Wichita Falls Times.

Adults Contract Children's Diseases

Adults can, and do, contract many children's diseases. And, usually, they suffer from them much more than children do. For instance, many adults contract worms, an ailment usually associated with children. Sometimes they suffer intensely and take expensive medical treatments, without realizing that worms are the cause of their troubles. Yet, the symptoms are the same as in children, loss of appetite and weight, grinding the teeth and restlessness, itching of the nose and anus, and abdominal pains. And, the same medicine that surely and harmlessly expels round and pin worms from children will do the same for adults—White's Cream Vermifuge, which you can get at THOMAS BROS. DRUG CO.

Meat Canning On Increase In Texas

College Station.—Partial reports from home demonstration agents in 17 scattered Texas counties indicate that canned beef and veal to the value of $3492.30 had already been put up by farm families by the end of October, with the prospect of about ten times that much to be taken care of as the cooler weather of November comes on.

Prices offered for the meat animals used in these demonstrations ranged from $5 to $16 according to weight and the local market needs. The profits realized by canning varied from $13.50 to $30 and the cost of canning, including containers, varied according to the size of the beef, but averaged about $5.50 per animal.

Three causes for this greatly increased interest in the preservation of meat at home are given by the agents. First, the shortage of feed stuff in the drought stricken counties promises to make the wintering of cattle an expensive matter in that area, while the low price being offered now makes selling on the hoof a losing proposition. Second, it is possible to exchange the surplus of canned meat and meat products for canned vegetables and fruits thus supplying the family with an adequate diet for the winter months in spite of the effect of the drought on local gardens and orchards. Third, the 4-H pantry canning budget which so many home demonstration club women are using calls for a definite amount of meat and this is the season for completing the pantry plans for the winter.

On Texas Farms

(By W. H. Darrow, Extension Service Editor)

Somebody has figured out that it took 25 acres of cotton this year to make enough money to buy pork enough to supply the average farm family for a year. Sounds exaggerated but it stands the test of reasonableness. Ten-cent cotton on quarter-acre acres won't stand for many comparisons.

Farm women are not slow about showering kicks on Old Man Cotton while he is down this fall, either. A home demonstration club woman, Mrs. Rhea Hanby of Dallas county, told a radio audience the other day that "it would take 10 bales of my husband's nine-cent cotton to pay for the 670 containers of home-raised food on my 4-H pantry shelf. Those pantry shelves hold food worth $400.55 in a grocery store. It took 30 acres of my husband's field to make the 10 bales of cotton that full-stocked pantry is worth."

Such items as this are seized with elation by the crusaders against a large cotton acreage. Some go so far as to regret that cotton grows in the South at all. Yet F. O. Masten, master farmer of Collingsworth county, is not a slave—far from it—and he raised more than 200 acres of cotton this year. Perhaps the explanation is that he made more than $1000 on the acre and in a dry year! But high or low, lean years or fat, cotton always needs the support of a full pantry to perform its wonders! Down in Southeast Texas a few thousand home demonstration club women have canned 1,903,848 containers of home grown fruit, vegetables, meat and the like. With an average of close to 20 cans per home, these folks can look winter in the face—and the bankers, too. The home demonstration agents reporting are from Anderson, Shelby, Angelina, Rusk, Nacogdoches, Houston, Polk, Cherokee, Jasper, Jefferson, Liberty, San Augustine, Walker and Orange counties.

"For over a year and a half I suffered with rheumatism and kidney trouble," said Mr. W. E. Rowley, 216 Bryan street, Dallas. "I had dull aching pains across my back and was forced to rise frequently at night. A constant pain in my right leg caused me much misery and I limped in getting around. Pains in my back and side did not permit a good night's rest. I felt dull and listless and my vitality became lower and lower. A friend, who knew my condition told me about Konjola. Konjola did so much for me that I am at a loss to express my appreciation. The rheumatic pains in my leg have left me for the first time in a year. My kidneys are once again functioning properly. My sleep is no longer broken by pains in my side and back. I have only taken two bottles but I certainly shall continue the treatment."

It is recommended that Konjola be taken over a six to eight weeks period. Best results are usually obtained in such cases. Konjola is sold in Tahoka at Tahoka Drug Co., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Any erroneous reflection upon the reputation or standing of any individual, firm or corporation, that may appear in the columns of the News, will be gladly corrected when called to our attention.

Tahoka has a reputation for being a beautiful little city, but we are about to lose that honor. Neighboring towns are beautifying their streets with trees, parkways, flowers, grass and more paving and sidewalks. Tahoka has improved wonderfully the last few years in this respect, but it is very noticeable that we are not paying as much attention to growing things that we should. This winter and next spring hundreds of trees and shrubs and evergreens should be set out. We should have more beautiful lawns and flower beds and rose gardens. Nothing helps a town's looks more than an abundance of beautiful green-stuff. This kind of beautifying can be done economically. And, while we are at it, let us suggest that you patronize Plains nurseries and greenhouses. You can get your stock from them much cheaper than from the agents who make house-to-house canvasses, and their stock is acclimated, too.

People who have the money and have the work that needs to be done about their places, should have it done during the coming few months. The years have been many since there was such a great number of people in need of work, and in need of the necessities of life. Just a little bit of work to afford them ready cash would enable many to get by until better times return, or until warm weather. And, if you have a job, give it to the man who needs it.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

MUST PUT FARMING ON A BUSINESS BASIS

Frank R. Phillips, head of the Department of Agriculture of West Texas State Teachers College declares that if farm mortgages increase within the next twenty-eight years as they have in the past twenty-eight years, that the farming class of people in the United States will be merely peons and that the freedom boasted under Old Glory will be hollow mockery. He urges farmers to use their heads as well as of their hands and to institute a business program on the farms. The cow, sow and hen, he declared, are three items that should be closely studied. He also urged co-operation and studying. He spent a summer in Denmark, where in 90 years a bankrupt, penniless nation of slaves have come to the front and is recognized as the greatest nation of farmers in the world. He told of a Denmark farmer with sixteen acres of land who hired two men the year round, read his daily paper every morning, had a radio and a polished modern office desk, files and a detailed set of books. You entered this farmer's home by going through his barn into his dining room. He had a half acre park in the rear of his house for the enjoyment of his family and his friends.

"I saw better carrots than were offered the American public in the feed troughs of Denmark," said Mr. Phillips. "I maintain that carrots should be fed to cows and not humans."—Dalhart Texan.

PROHIBITION

Last week I was, and until this week have been, what is termed an anti-prohibitionist.

While I acceded readily enough to suppression of the saloon and of drunkenness, I resented the provisions of legislation which took from me what I considered to be personal rights and privileges. I esteemed the temperate use of intoxicating liquors to be both a legal and moral right.

Within the last week, however, a fundamental change has been worked in my attitude upon the prohibition controversy. Henceforth, in spirit as in letter, without reservation or qualification, I am a staunch supporter of the enforcement statutes.

I am sick and tired of reading newspaper reports of orders, dictated to the people of a great American city by an illiterate captain of "beer-o-cracy." Prescribing the sale or purchase of products deemed by him to interfere with the profits of an illicit monopoly. I abhor reading that this same hoodlum had the effrontery and presumption to treat for concessions with duly constituted American civil authorities with all the assurance and arrogance of a superior, political sovereignty. And finally, I detest seeing whiskey barons admit receiving and cashing, right here in Texas, three thousand dollar checks for the liquor wherewith a single holiday party had been regaled.

These occurrences evidence a rotten condition, conducive to disrespect for all law either statute or moral. It leads into high places, and writes a question mark across the vaunted integrity of our courts and our congress. It is a condition which men and women, who retain any desire for the perpetuity of the greatest form of government ever conceived by man, no longer can tolerate.

Organized crime—conceived in the determination, and nurtured in popular willingness, that the eighteenth amendment be nullified—so brazen and powerful as to challenge the government of the smallest portion of these United States, deserves immediate and merciless extermination. If police are impotent to cope with it, then mobilize the Army and Navy. And, in the last extremity, call in the Marines!

So long as the eighteenth amendment remains upon the books, it should be enforced. Otherwise let's surrender the vain pretense of government of the people, for the people, by the people, and entrust the prerogatives of government to an organization which rules by murder and is led by underworld characters whose very names are unpronounceable to the tribute-paying American citizen.—Editorials of the Month.

Mutiny and Piracy are what the repeal advocates are proposing when they set out to capture the Democratic national convention, nominate a wet candidate, and write a wet platform. For they are proposing to take charge of the Democratic ship and use it for purposes entirely alien to its true mission. And when they plan, as they do plan, to form a coalition of delegates from Northern and Eastern States which they hope to carry, on the one hand, and delegates from States in which a majority of the people are habitually Republican and in which the Democrats form the wet minority, on the other, and by this means to defeat the will of the delegates from dry Democratic States, they are embarking on a course calculated to wreck the Democratic Party. No Democratic candidate for the Presidency could be elected without the support of the dry Democratic States, and the repeal advocates must know that perfectly well. When they presume upon the traditional party loyalty of the dry Democrats of such States and take for granted that they will vote the ticket straight in spite of any wetness of the candidate or the platform, they demonstrate that the lesson of 1928 has been lost on them entirely. A majority of the Democrats in the two houses of Congress are opposed to repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. So far as there can be proper party expression on such a question, it is to be found in the Democratic caucus in Congress. But the wet Democrats in Congress would resent any attempt to make prohibition a caucus measure, and if the dry majority voted to make it so, they would most certainly bolt the caucus. By what right and on what ground of sound reasoning do they propose to make prohibition repeal a party issue in a Presidential campaign? And how can they have the effrontery to charge dry Democrats with disloyalty to the party if the latter should refuse to support a wet candidate for the Presidency?—The Texas Weekly.

Mr. Sterling has given it out that chronic office seekers need not apply for a job, intimating that he already knew who he wants on his staff. Bully for you Ross. The Herald was not an original Sterling man. It did not support him in the second primary, but put one in for him on Nov. 4th, and if he tries to give the people a real administration, it will be for him from hades to breakfast all through his term or terms. Let the office seek the man.—Terry County Herald.

When you hear a man sneering at the local paper because it is not as big, as cheap or as newsworthy as some of the big city papers, you can safely bet he does not spend any of his wealth in assisting to make it better. And that generally the paper has done more for him than he has for it.

The man who cannot see the local benefits arising from a local newspaper is of just about as much value to a town as a delinquent taxist.—Miami Chief.

Governor-elect Ross Sterling is saving himself a lot of grief by announcing in the first place that he will not be available for local celebrations here, there and yonder during his administration. It is very nice to have the chief executive of the State as the honor guest at county, municipal, school or club gatherings. Not only does it add prestige to the event but it offers opportunities for the governor and the people to know and better understand each other. At the same time, however, such a practice makes a tremendous demand upon the time and strength of the governor. For that reason Mr. Sterling is probably doing the wisest thing in announcing before he takes office that he will not accept such invitations.—Graham Leader.

Texas' Natural Resources Great

Texas in area and natural resources often has been called, and rightly, an empire. It is the coming empire State, and within a generation will be admittedly a leading Commonwealth in the Union.

But this coming leadership demands that those who control the destiny of the State should have vision and foresight sufficient to plan in a large way a program as a guide for action in later years. Topsy "just growed" but scientific growth is based on intelligent surveys of situations and wise judgments.

Texas has enormous natural wealth, but the wealth from the production of it enriches outsiders; little remains within the State. It has much capital in its financial centers but comparatively little of it is invested in Texan industries. The purchasing power of its almost six millions of population is huge in amount, but the goods purchased mostly come from outside the State.

Through ignorance the fertile lands of Texas are declining in fertility because of erosion and a one-crop system; its magnificent forests have been shamelessly wasted and practically no attempts made to reforest cut-down areas suited only to timber. Texas is an empire of natural wealth, but its economic leaders accumulate wealth for themselves with small fore-thought for the future generations of Texans.

The best wealth of Texas consists of the energy and brain capacity of its people. Among these is much dormant talent that should have opportunity for expression in action. But more than half the population are so poor that their standards of living are necessarily low. In consequence, their children are worked prematurely, and, obtaining merely the rudiments of education, they become stunted in body and mind—the greatest waste of a wasteful State.

What Texas needs is a definite program set for the younger generation to accomplish in the next twenty five years. The resources of Texas should enrich Texas and Texans. Its farming population should own their lands, not be tenants in a condition quite like serfdom. Its empty forest lands should be reforested and exempted from taxation for the period of growth. Small industries should be established in every village and town of the State to supply work and to put on sale Texan-made goods. "Made in Texas" should be a guaranty of excellence in material and manufacture. Above all the younger generation should be free to acquire a generous education, combined with a training for vocations on the farm and in the future industries of Texas.

Texas needs local Chambers of Commerce, civic improvement organizations and city planning. It needs a new Constitution, a reorganized government, wise legislators who can think in terms of an empire State. It should place obligations on its professions to give to its people health, good laws, spiritual insight. It should aim to develop that broad intelligence that appreciates the value of the artistic in connection with vigorous applications of the many varieties of science to the problems of the State.

Talk Texas, think Texas, help make Texas famous for its comfortable homes and its wide-awake intelligent citizens.

SOUR STOMACH

Gas Formed, Head Hurt, and Woman Had To Hold To Things When She Walked.

Kaufman, Texas.—"Two years ago, I began suffering with spells of indigestion," says Mrs. Marshall Smith, of this place. "It seemed like everything I ate disagreed with me. I had gas on the stomach, and often my head would hurt so bad I had to lie down.

"Everything would get black before my eyes, and I would be so dizzy when I would get upon my feet that I had to hold on to things, to walk around the room.

"My food soured on my stomach, and I was constipated.

"I had often read about Black-Draught, and my mother told me it was a good medicine to take, and so I began a course of it.

"It was not long until I was feeling better. I took a pinch after meals, and I soon found I was suffering much less. It relieved constipation, and I was not any longer troubled with indigestion.

"We try to keep it in the house, and I use Black-Draught now, whenever I feel a sick headache coming on. It is a fine medicine."

Theford's Black-Draught is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, of highest quality, finely powdered, carefully combined and packaged by automatic machinery.

LITTLE JACK

He wore a pair of tattered pants,
A ragged round-about,
And through the torn crown of his hat

A lock of hair stuck out;
He had no shoes upon his feet,
No shirt upon his back;
His home was anywhere, at all,
His name was "Little Jack."

One day a toddling baby boy
With head of curly hair
Escaped his loving mother eyes,
Who, busy with her case,
Forgot the little one, who crept
Upon the railroad near
To play with pebbles there,
Without a thought of fear.

But see! Around a curve there came
A swiftly flying train—
It rattles, roars! The whistle shrieks
With all its might and main;
The mother sees her child, but stands
Transfixed with sudden fright!
The baby clasps his little hands

And laughs with low delight.

Look! Look! A tattered figure lies
Adown the railroad track!
His hat is gone—his feet are bare—
'Tis ragged "Little Jack."
He grabs the child and from the track
The babe is safely tossed—
A slip! A cry! The train rolls by—
Brave "Little Jack" is lost.

They found his mangled body there
Just where he slipped and fell—
And strong men wept who never cared
For him when he was well.
If there be starry crowns above
For little ones to wear,
The star in "Little Jack's" shall shine
As bright as any there.

SCIENCE OUTLAW BEVERAGE ALCOHOL

The case against alcohol centers in its relation to the accuracy of the nervous system. Whatever harms the brain and nerves impairs the integrity of life. The sole purpose of its use as a beverage is to force the nervous system to lie, thus vitiating its power of recording and acting upon the truth. Men drink to feel warm when they are really cold, to "feel good" when conditions are not good, to feel emancipated from those reserves and restraints which are the essence of character building. Alcohol is a depressant, appearing as a stimulant mainly because it checks the highest nerve operations first. Its influence impinges on the chief mental functions: sensation, reason, motion. It leaves its subject uncertain as to what he sees or feels, hazy as to cause and effect, and unsteady as to resultant action. No man of high purpose can afford to endanger in any degree the validity of those mental processes which register his contact with reality. Alcohol is always a habit-forming drug; the greater the injury to the nervous system, the most insistent the demand for it, and the weaker the will power in resistance. The chief argument used in favor of moderate use of alcohol is its value in conviviality. But, as President Elliott has observed, "Abstinence from alcohol kills no joys of any account while it impairs the chances of continuous working power."—David Starr Jordan, noted scientist, president National Education Association, 1914-15.

THE NEW CHEVROLET SIX HAS MANY IMPROVEMENTS

The introduction of the new Chevrolet Six marks the most impressive forward step in Chevrolet's twenty-year record of constant progress and improvement.

For this Bigger and Better Six offers new beauty of line and color, new luxury, new completeness and new quality—yet it sells at lower prices!

In every curve and sweep of Chevrolet's modern lines—in every detail of its smart new Fisher bodies, you will see the fine hand of the master designer and the skillful craftsman. And the more closely you inspect it, the more deeply impressed you will be.

The improvements in the new Chevrolet Six begin at the smart new chrome-plated headlamps and extend throughout the entire car. The radiator is deeper and unusually efficient. Due to the increased wheelbase, the lines are longer and lower, giving an air of exceptional fleetness and grace. And the new Fisher bodies combine with this more attractive exterior appearance, a new degree of interior luxury.

The upholstery is of fine quality mohair or broadcloth, carefully tailored and fitted. The number of individual springs in the rear seat cushions has been increased by 25%. The windshield and windows have been redesigned to provide wider vision. And all interior fittings have been made more pleasing to the eye.

The chassis of the new Chevrolet Six has also been refined and advanced in a number of different ways. The frame is heavier, deeper and stronger than before. There is a smoother operating, long lived clutch; a sturdier front axle; an entirely new steering mechanism of the worm and sector type; an easier shifting transmission. In fact, every vital feature of the new car has been made better and more satisfactory to the owner.

Obviously, these many improvements are responsible for a higher standard of quality than before. And they become doubly significant when you consider that they are offered in a car which provides the smooth, quiet, flexible performance of a 50-horsepower, six-cylinder motor—the comfort of four long semi-elliptic springs and four hydraulic shock absorbers—the safety of a gasoline tank at the rear of the car—and an economy of operation not surpassed by any automobile.

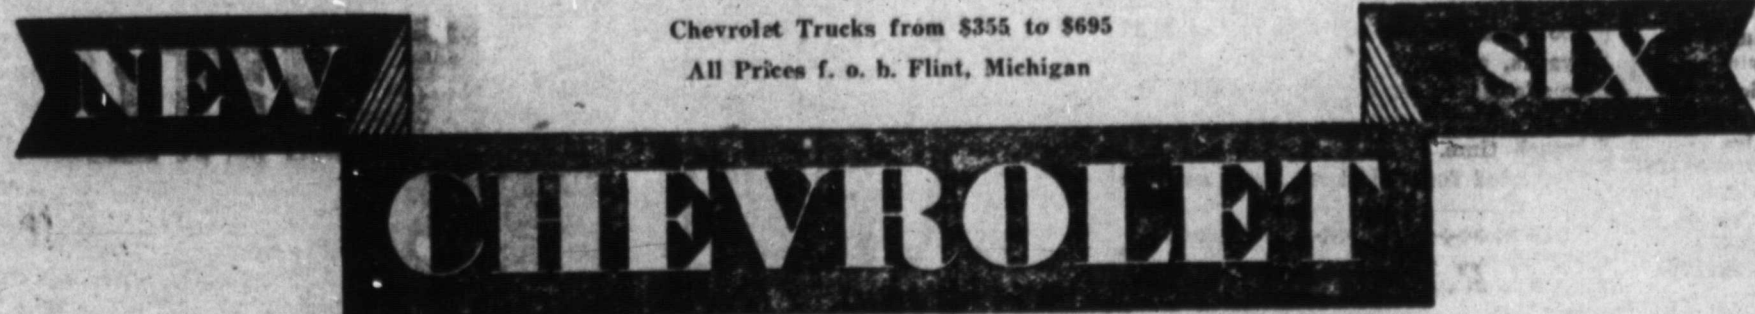

AT NEW LOW PRICES

Fine as it is, the new Chevrolet Six now sells at lower prices—making the economy and satisfaction of Chevrolet ownership even more outstanding. We urge you to come in and see the Bigger and Better Chevrolet. Its modern design reflects the spirit of the times—and it represents a value which will command the interest of every buyer in the low-price field.

CHILDREN TRY FOR IT

CHILDREN hate to take medicine as a rule, but every child loves the taste of Castoria. This pure vegetable preparation is just as good as it tastes; just as bland and just as harmless as the recipe reads.

When Baby's cry warns of colic, a few drops of Castoria have him soothed, asleep again in a jiffy. Nothing is more valuable in diarrhea. When coated tongue or bad breath tell of constipation, invoke its gentle aid to cleanse and regulate a child's bowels. In colds or children's diseases, you should use it to keep the system from clogging.

Castoria is sold in every drug store; the genuine always bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature.

WEAK AND RESTLESS

Georgia Lady Says She Felt Tired and Nervous.—Took Cardui, Improved.

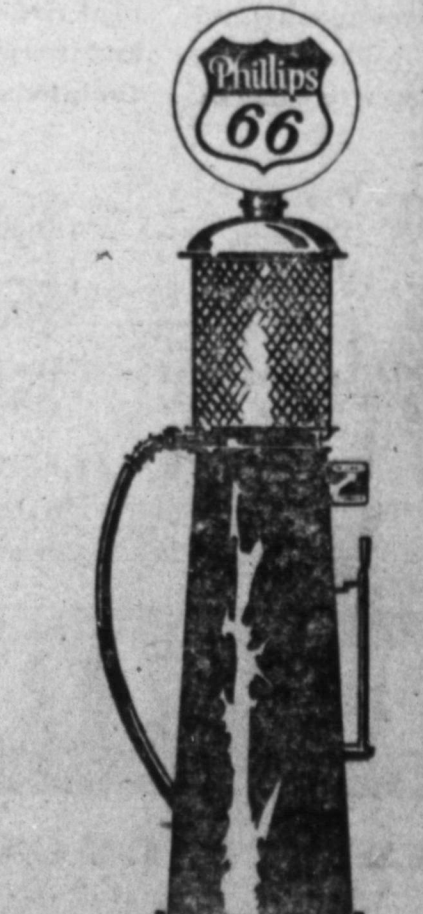

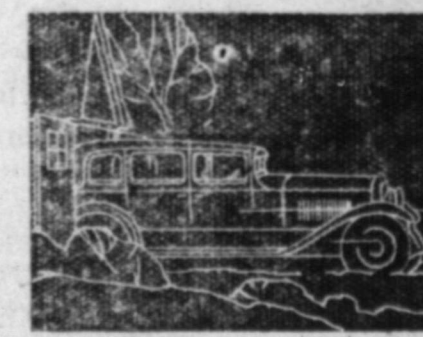

Blackbear Co.—Mrs. L. E. Thornton of this place, tells how she was benefited in a case of weakness by taking Cardui.

"I was very weak," says Mrs. Thornton. "My back gave me a lot of trouble. I felt like my back was all aches. I was very nervous and restless. I did not sleep well at night. I was so tired in my back, it seemed to hurt me when I tried to turn over."

"I did not want anything to eat. I was in bad shape. I thought I would try some Cardui. The first bottle seemed to ease the pain some in my back. I took another bottle, and then I felt more like eating. I noticed that I had more strength and my work seemed easier. My back didn't feel so awfully bad when I had to stand. I could sleep better and felt more rested when I got up in the morning. I took six bottles of Cardui. I certainly think Cardui is a good medicine for women."

For more than fifty years, women who had suffered, or who had gotten into a run-down, weak condition, have been enthusiastic in praising Cardui for the benefits obtained from its use.

Locals

W. B. Bihop, teacher in the Pride school west of O'Donnell, states that most of the cotton in that section of the county has been gathered. The farmers down there raised good feed and cotton crops this year, and have nothing to kick at but the price of cotton. The sandstorms of last week did considerable damage to cotton remaining in the fields, but the less violent winds of the few days following did much to sift the sand from the cotton.

Coleman Wells dropped in Friday to renew his subscription and that of two relatives. He pays for three subscriptions every year. He does not agree with the editor all the time but the paper gives the local news and gives other folks much information about our town and county, and he believes in helping a good thing along. There are mighty few better citizens than Coleman Wells.

Ed Cook of Wells was here Tuesday and reported that the gin at that place had ginned more than 2,000 bales of cotton this season. He evidently has no grounds to complain of hard times, for he is now having a nice seven-room brick-veneer residence constructed. It will contain many modern improvements and will be an ideal home.

The attention of The News has been called to the death of "Daddy" French two weeks ago, which we failed to hear of. Mr. French was an old-timer on the Plains, having lived in the Pride community west of O'Donnell for 26 years. He was buried a week ago last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Boydston returned Friday afternoon from Belton, where they visited relatives and where Mr. Boydston was a witness in a murder trial. He reports the country down there looking good following the copious rains that have fallen.

W. O. Thomas, who returned a few days ago from a hunting trip, was thoughtful of the editor. He presented us with a big hunk of the venison which he brought back, and we can testify that it was fine. Otho is a friend after our own heart.

H. H. Denton of the Redwine community has been seriously ill with ptomaine poisoning for the past three weeks and it is feared that he will not recover, according to John Beard, his son-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Cass O. Edwards left Tuesday for their home in Fort Worth. Mrs. Edwards came out last week for a few days stay at the ranch, and her husband returned home with her.

Rev. and Mrs. C. F. Carmack of Wellington are here this week visiting their son, Connie Carmack, and other relatives. While Brother Carmack is pastoring some churches, Mrs. Carmack is teaching.

Clovis Ray Shepherd, little seven year old son of Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Shepherd, has been suffering with a case of mumps since the family moved here last week but has about recovered.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hansford Tunnell of Lubbock are the parents of a little daughter, who was born last Sunday morning. Mr. Tunnell is now buying cotton in Lubbock.

Ivan Cathcart is again in charge of the Market at the M-System, succeeding L. L. Kuykendall, who has been with the business the past few weeks.

Miss Virginia Sanford, student in Abilene Christian College, is here to spend Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Sanford.

J. L. Shoemaker, banker, and Charley Doak, capitalist and town builder of O'Donnell were business visitors here Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Collenback left Wednesday for Wichita Falls to bring Mrs. Collenback's mother back to their home here.

Mrs. Mattie Bradley is away for a few weeks, visiting two sisters in Big Spring and a brother in San Angelo.

L. F. Frazier and his sister of Falls have gone to Comanche to spend Thanksgiving Day with their parents.

Messrs. Houston and Cook of the Wilson State Bank were business visitors in Tahoka Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Rose Levine of Houston is here visiting her sister, Mrs. Al Lehman.

G. A. Brasfield and family spent Sunday with relatives in Slaton.

Vernon Massengale is reported to be on the sick list today.

Mrs. L. E. Bradley has been quite sick the past few days.

IT IS A SHAME

Rockdale Reporter
The following is taken from the August 13th issue of the Wall Street Journal:

"With 7 per cent of the world's population the United States consumes 48 per cent of the world's coffee, 53 per cent of its tin, 56 per cent of its rubber, 21 per cent of its sugar, 72 per cent of its silk, 36 per cent of its coal, 42 per cent of its pig-iron, 47 per cent of its copper, 69 per cent of its crude petroleum and over 23,000,000 of the 30,000,000 running automobiles.

"It operates 60 per cent of the world's telephone and telegraph facilities, 33 per cent of the world's railroads and produces and consumes more than 35 per cent of the world's total electric power. This nation embraces 6 per cent of the world's area, but it produces 70 per cent of all the oil, 60 per cent of the wheat and cotton, 50 per cent of copper and pig-iron, 40 per cent of the lead and coal output of the globe. It holds about one-half of the world's monetary gold and two-thirds of the total banking resources of the earth.

On the other hand, we should seem by pessimistic sentiment prevailing to have about 1 per cent of the courage; 3-4 of 1 per cent of the nerve, 1-2 of 1 per cent of force and power, and 1-4 of 1 per cent of backbone of almost any other country—England for instance, struggling along with gigantic debts and millions of unemployed, without a murmur of complaint.

Fundamental conditions in America are safe and sound.

DEMAND FOR BETTER COTTON

When a large tire manufacturing company no longer finds enough better-staple cotton in Texas to supply its need, and must depend upon the Mississippi Delta and foreign countries to supply this commodity, it brings to mind forcibly the serious decline in this State's cotton growing industry. Out of some 75,000 bales of 1 1-16th-inch cotton and above which the B. F. Goodrich Company annually consumes in tire fabric making, its textile manager can obtain only about 5,000 bales in Texas, although years ago most of its supply came from this State. Other mills have the same difficulty and are substituting growths from other States and other countries for the once high-quality which Texas produced abundantly.

The News for many years has advocated a farming system which will restore fertility and organic matter to Texas soils and enable land to produce quality cotton. To raise better staple the grower, of course must be assured in all markets that he will receive adequate premiums. The Federal Government staple cotton report of Nov. 14 shows that Georgia and Carolina mills are paying premiums of 200 to 225 points on over 7-8 inch for 1 1-16-inch length, or $10 to $11.25 a bale middling basis. New England mill premiums are slightly less. At the same time 7-8ths-inch is penalized 15 to 75 points and lesser lengths in greater degree, so that the difference between short lengths and 1 1-16th-inch amounts to approximately $12 to $15 a bale. It appears that Texas farmers could easily make effort to raise better quality if these premiums are reflected in the price they receive in the markets they sell. At these premiums better staple would pay well when prices become more normal, since there are several varieties adapted to Texan conditions which yield practically as much per acre as the shorter lengths now so largely grown.

In 1929, the Government staple survey shows, Texas produced 26.6 per cent of lengths less than 7-8-inch all carrying a heavy penalty. Only 2.7 per cent of all the Texas cotton raised was 1 1-16th-inch or 103,000 bales whereas 1 1-8th inch was just 26,000 bales, and lengths up to 1 1-4 inch only 2,600 bales. Cotton has become an unprofitable crop in Texas, but an opportunity exists for progressive farmers to improve their soils and to raise better quality to meet an obvious market demand.—Dallas News.

Hoover Endorses Sale Of Christmas Seals

President Hoover has the following to say in regard to the Tuberculosis Christmas Seal Sale: "The Christmas Seals of the National Tuberculosis Association which are sold at Christmas time every year provide funds for one of the most valuable of all services to mankind in helping to prevent and destroy a disease which threatens millions of homes and weakens millions of the children and youth of the nation. I commend this yearly campaign to all our people."

The Texas Tuberculosis Association is conducting the sale of Tuberculosis Seals throughout Texas and they are the only means of financing the fight against the great white plague. Although the deaths from tuberculosis have been more than cut in half during the past 25 years but between the age of 15 and 40, tuberculosis is still the leading cause of death. The work of the Texas Associations will concentrated on this age group and the children.

Tuberculosis does not recognize any economic conditions and at times such as we are now having it is imperative that the sale should increase in order that the Texas Tuberculosis Association and its local associations may take care of the increased number of calls they are receiving.

FEDERAL DROUTH RELIEF IS EXPECTED FOR FARMERS

A. L. Lockwood, President of the First National Bank, received a communication Wednesday from Governor Dan Moody enclosing a report from O. B. Martin, Chairman of the Texas Drouth Relief Committee, in which he expressed the belief that Congress would pass a joint resolution to be sponsored by Senator McNary of Oregon and Congressman Aswell of Louisiana at an early date making provisions for liberal loans in the drouth stricken area.

The resolution provides for the appropriation of $60,000,000 for this purpose. Mr. Martin stated that the committee had estimated the needs of Texas at $5,000,000. The loans are to be used for the purchase of food, seed for suitable crops, fertilizers, feed for work stock, and fuel for oil or tractors used for crop production.

"I am still of the opinion that farm relief will be granted to West Texas by the Federal Government," Mr. Lockwood stated to a representative of this paper in commenting on the letter.

THE FIRST THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

son, Secretary to President Washington at the time, and was signed in George Washington's bold hand. Dr. Fitzpatrick purchased the document for $300.00 for the Library of Congress, where it is now kept as a treasure. And no amount of money could remove it.

The original Proclamation of Thanksgiving, and, indeed, the first Presidential proclamation ever issued in the United States, reads as follows:

"By the President of the United States of America.

"Whereas it is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey his will, to be grateful for his benefits, and humbly to implore his protection and favor—and Whereas both Houses of Congress have by their joint committee requested me to recommend to the People of the United States a day of public thanksgiving and prayer, to be observed by acknowledging with grateful hearts the many signal favors of Almighty God especially by affording them an opportunity to establish a form of government for their safety and happiness.

"Now, therefore, I do recommend and assign Thursday, the 26th day of November next, to be devoted by the People of these States to the service of that great and glorious Being who is the beneficent Author of all the good that was, that is, or that will be—that we may then all unite in rendering unto Him our sincere and humble thanks—for his kind care and protection of the People of this country previous to their becoming a Nation—for the signal and manifold mercies and the favorable interpositions of his providence, which we experienced in the course and conclusion of the late war—for the great degree of tranquility, union, and plenty, which we have since enjoyed—for the peaceable and rational manner in which we have been enabled to establish constitutions of government for our safety and happiness, and particularly the national, One now lately instituted—for the civil and religious liberty with which we are blessed and the means we have of acquiring and diffusing useful knowledge; and in general for all the great and various favors which he hath been pleased to confer upon us.

"And also that we may then unite in most humbly offering our prayers and supplications to the great Lord and Ruler of Nations, and beseech him to pardon our national and other transgressions—to enable us all, whether in public or private stations, to perform our several and relative duties properly and punctually—to render our national government a blessing to all the people by constantly being a Government of wise, just, and constitutional laws, discreetly and faithfully executed and obeyed—to protect and guide all Sovereigns and Nations (especially such as have shown kindness to us) and to bless them with good Government, peace and concord. To promote the knowledge and practice of true religion and virtue, and the increase of science among them and us—and generally to grant unto all mankind such a degree of temporal prosperity as he alone knows to be best.

"Given under my hand at the City of New York the third day of October in the year of our Lord 1879. (signed) George Washington"
