TAHOKA GETS SCOUT MEET

Boys Of District Will Hold Contests Here Friday, June 5, Will Camp Over Night

The Boy Scouts of the southern division of the South Plains Area Council are to have a field meet in Tahoka on Friday, June 5. They will be here with their camping outfits Thursday night. This was decided at a committee meeting of the Southern division held in Post last Thursday night. Messrs. G. A. Brasfield, M. O. Bridges, T. J. Bovell, H. A. Maassen, M. O. Canaday, and E. I. Hill attended this committee meeting and extended the invitation, which was readily accepted.

The towns comprising this division are Slaton, Post, Wilson, Lamesa, O'Donnell, and Tahoka, and there are nine scout troops in this division. All these troops will be here, comprising possibly 150 boys. The various scoutmasters and a few others interested in Boy Scout work will accompany the boys.

The entertainment of these visitors on this occasion will entail a little expense, but very little. T. J. Bovell has kindly offered to furnish bread to the scouts while here. Happy Smith has offered to supply them with cold drinks. A little fuel will be needed and there will be some other small expenses. At a meeting of local citizens here Friday night, an arrangements committee was appointed consisting of Judge C. H. Cain, W. B. Slaton, T. J. Bovell, Happy Smith, F. M. Billman, and Prof. J. B. Pace. This committee will have charge of the affair and will "put it over".

It is contemplated that the events of this meet will be staged out on the high school campus. The events will be very interesting, especially to all who know anything about scouting. Some of the troops in this division have had excellent training. Scout enthusiasm at Slaton, Post, and Lamesa has been high for several years. A number of men in each of these places have given much of their time to scout work and these towns have been "sold" on the work for a number of years. Less interest has been manifested here, but the scoutmasters and assistant scoutmasters here are now giving the boys some intensive training, and the local troops hope to be able to make creditable showing at the field meet. G. A. Brasfield and W. S. Anglin are the scoutmasters, and Happy Smith and Henry Maassen are the assistants.

4-H Club Program Will Be Interesting

A national hookup 4-H Club radio program will be given by the United States Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the State Agricultural Colleges and the United States Marine Band from 11:30 A. M. to 12:30 P. M., just one hour, on Saturday, June 6, according to announcement made through Home Demonstration agent, Miss El Flea Harrison. This will be a most entertaining program as well as an instructive one, and radio fans should not forget to tune in.

Happy Smith Skip Taylor, Aubra M. Cade, Milt Finch, D. H. Goodenough, K. C. Holmes, and Jake Wilonsky attended the Allen Houston Post of the American Legion at Lamesa Tuesday night, this being the occasion of the opening of their new hall. They report a good time.

Legion Will Hold Chicken Barbecue

The Marion G. Bradley Post of the American Legion of Tahoka and the Fern Allen Post of O'Donnell and the women's auxiliaries at both places are planning a joint barbecue to be held at the big lake half way between the two towns on Thursday night of this week, June 4, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

There are 145 members of the Marion G. Bradley Post and 51 members of the Fern Allen Post. We were unable to obtain the number of members of the auxiliaries. It is expected that most of the members of all these organizations will be in attendance, and a great crowd and a good time is anticipated.

Women Make $121 Profit On Cheese

Thirty-seven home demonstration club women of Lynn county have made 494 pounds of American cheese. Valuing the milk at 12 cents a gallon, their labor at 25 cents an hour, and including the price of the cheese coloring and rennet tablets used, it cost $76.08. Valuing the cheese at 40 cents per pound, which amounts to $197.60 and makes a profit of $121.52 on the operation for these 37 women.

Legion Program Well Attended

In spite of unfavorable weather conditions, possibly 75 members of the Marion G. Bradley Post of the American Legion and the Ladies' Auxiliary met at the Legion Home last Thursday night in a social meeting.

A program of music was rendered. Mrs. Rubie D. Suddarth and her quartet were present and rendered a most pleasing program. Mrs. Marcus Edwards and some of her music pupils gave some additional numbers. Charles Gagnat rendered some violin selections while Mary Bland Wells gave a vocal solo and a piano solo.

K. C. Holmes made a talk boosting the Junior Baseball club and a committee is at work with a view to organizing a local team. All boys under seventeen years of age are eligible. This team will compete with other teams in this congressional district and the winner in the district will participate in state contests. The winners in the state will represent Texas in a national contest.

Guy Bradley, Post Commander at O'Donnell, was also present and reported for the Fern Allen Post as to the proposed chicken barbecue to be held Thursday night of next week.

All present report that this meeting was one of the best social gatherings the Post and Auxiliary here have ever had.

Tech Classes Will Study Archaeology

Lubbock, May 26—Texas Technological College will offer a field course in archaeology beginning June 10 and continuing to July 16.

The students, under the supervision of Dr. W. C. Holden, will excavate several New Mexico pueblos as well as making an inspection of pueblos in Arizona and Colorado. Specimens found on the trip will be placed in the college archaeology museum.

TAHOKA HI-LEAGUE HAS PICNIC AT COOPERS CANYON

The Tahoka Hi-League left last Tuesday morning about 8 o'clock for an all-day picnic at Cooper's Canyon, returning about five o'clock.

A busy day was spent in wading the spring, climbing the canyon wall, engaging in mud fights, etc. Mrs. M. J. Weaver, the counselor and her genial better half chaperoned the party, assisted by Mmes. J. H. Powell and Robert Reid. An enormous quantity of refreshments was consumed at the lunch hour by the chaperones and the thirty-three leaguers.

This is the last social event in this league year, which ends with the annual League Assembly of the Northwest Texas Conference beginning next Monday morning at McMurry College, Abilene. The following Hi- and Senior Leaguers will accompany Rev. J. W. Shepherd and Mrs. Rubie D. Suddarth to be in attendance at this five-day meeting: J. D. Donaldson Jr., retiring Hi President, Eloise Clark, his successor, Mary Fenton, president of the Live-Wire Union, Gladys Douthit, Ruth Suddarth, Frank Sargent, Clifton Janak, and M. D. Shepherd.—Contributed.

Mrs. P. H. Crook of Austin, who has been visiting her brother, W. O. Henderson, for a few days left Wednesday for Amherst to visit a sister. She was accompanied to Amherst by Mr. Henderson.

SCOUTS' CAMP IN MOUNTAINS

Encampment Will Not Be Held At Post This Year, But In New Mexico Mountains

At a meeting of the committee of the Southern Division of the South Plains Area Council of the Boy Scouts held in Post last Thursday night, it was decided to have no encampment at Post this year but instead as many of the boys as can do so will attend an encampment in the Sacramento Mountains in New Mexico, beginning June 23 and closing July 3.

A number of boys from Slaton, Post, and Lamesa are planning to attend this encampment and it is possible that a few Tahoka boys may attend. Scoutmasters and others interested in scout work say that the man in charge of this encampment is one of the best and most popular leaders of boys in all the Southwest and knows how to put on a program that is both interesting and instructive.

There are many attractions in the Sacramento Mountains, which are situated south of the White Mountains in New Mexico. Deer and wild turkeys abound in these mountains and there are a few bear, while the Indian reservations are near by.

The scenery is wonderful and the climate invigorating. It is said to be an ideal place for such an encampment. It will cost each scout $10.00 to attend the encampment plus transportation charges. The boys are planning to go in trucks and it is contemplated that the transportation charges will be only a few dollars each. A three days hike in the mountains will be given the boys while there, it is said.

Weatherford Tells Of Mexico Trip

Jim Weatherford returned Sunday from Mexico City, where he went with a group of Amarillo business men to advertise the Amarillo Tri-State Fair and to cultivate friendly relations with our neighbor republic. Jim says that Mexico City is larger than Monterey, where the party also stopped, but that Monterey is much more modern and beautiful. Jim tells an interesting story of his trip—of magnificent cathedrals and squalid hovels, of peons driving oxen to wooden plows, of deserts and barren mountains and fruitful valleys. He thinks the country has made little progress in the last two thousand years, though he doesn't pretend to know exact conditions two thousand years ago. The earlier races left some evidences of their life, however. Among these are some ancient pyramids near the city of Mexico, which the party visited—old relics of the days of the mound-builders. Jim says he remained perfectly sober and behaved himself nicely. He also has much praise for the whole Amarillo delegation. He says they are a bunch of fine fellows.

MRS CLARK ENTERTAINS SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS

Mrs. B. H. Clark, teacher of the first year intermediate Sunday school class of the Methodist Church, gave the class a party Monday afternoon. They enjoyed many games. Then refreshments were served to the following: Annie Thompson, Louise Park, Helen Park, Isla and Valarie Bartley, Eva Douthit, Ney Camille Fenton, Wanza Reid, and Betty Suddarth. The refreshments consisted of sandwiches, lemonade, cookies and candy. They all declared they had a fine time.

Mrs. W. C. Cowan has been quite sick this week but is improving now. Her daughter, Mrs. S. W. Cain, and granddaughters Joy Francis Cain of Canyon and Miss Linnette Harter of Happy, are with her. Another daughter, Mrs. G. B. Warren, Mr. Harter, and Mr. Cain were here Tuesday night but returned to their homes Wednesday morning.

Blubber is now believed to be the equipment that enables whales to withstand the pressure of great sea depths.

There are at least 60 stairs to every man, woman and child on earth.

BIRTH, DEATH RATES ARE LOW

339 Born, 50 Died In Lynn County In 1930, Below Average For Other Counties

There were 339 births and 50 deaths registered in Lynn county during the year 1930, according to Philip P. King, field agent of the State Department of Health, Bureau of Vital Statistics, who was here Wednesday. Mr. King stated that the average number of births in a county containing the population that Lynn county has is about 370 and the average number of deaths 125. There were possibly a few births and deaths in this county that were not registered but making due allowance for these it appears that both births and deaths in Lynn county were below the average.

The law requiring these registrations is being enforced much more rigidly now than it was a few years ago. Each justice precinct in the county is now a primary registration district. There are five registrars in Lynn county. These are the county clerk Truett Smith, Tahoka; R. E. Finley, Wilson; J. M. Berry, Draw; D. M. Estes, J. P., O'Donnell; and J. P. Fulton, J. P., New Home. Every birth and every death in a district must be reported to the registrar if that district.

Will Sound "Taps" Saturday

Bugle "taps" will be sounded at several places on the street Saturday at 12 o'clock sharp, according to D. H. Goodenough. This means that everybody should stand at attention in honor of the boys who made the supreme sacrifice in the World War.

Residence Burns Saturday Night

The residence of Clide Headstream, principal of the Central Ward school the past year, was almost completely destroyed by fire Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Headstream just left the city Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock starting on a visit to Salado, Arkansas. The residence was discovered to be on fire at about 2 o'clock Sunday morning. The flames had made great headway before the volunteer fire department could reach the scene. While the building was almost a total loss, a part of the furniture was saved by neighbors. The origin of the fire is unknown but it is thought to have resulted from defective wiring.

G. E. Hogan telephoned to Mr. Headstream at Roby, which point he had reached on his journey, and they came back Sunday morning to look after their property, leaving again later in the week.

Both the house and the furniture were covered by insurance.

Basketball Will Be Taught At School

Lubbock, May 27—"Sad" Sam Burton, basketball mentor at Canyon Teacher's College, one of the foremost coaches of the game in the South, and Jimmy Kitts, coach of the Athens high school quintets that have won two national titles, will conduct a course in basketball coaching in connection with the Wade-Phelan football school sponsored by Texas Technological College. No additional fee will be charged for the basketball course.

Tech's first venture in the coaching school field, the only one in the Southwest this year, opens early in August.

H. D. Specialist Here

Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Smith will leave Friday to attend Commencement exercises at C. I. A. Their daughter, Miss Merle, will receive her diploma from that institution Monday. Dr. P. W. Horn of the Texas Tech is to deliver the class address.

Rural Schools Of County Closing

County Superintendent H. P. Cavness reports that the schools will close on Friday of this week at New Home, Newmoore, Three Lakes, Midway, and Edith. There is one other school in the county still in session. Petty will not close until June 12.

Most of the schools in Lynn county have done excellent work the past year in spite of the handicap of hard times.

Bankston Died Suddenly Friday

Last Friday morning when the family arose, they found Wm. W. Bankston dead in bed. For a long time he had suffered from leakage of the heart but his death at this time was unexpected and was a great shock to the family. The Bankstons had been residing in this county the past five or six years, engaging in farming, but had recently moved to Tahoka an dived near Central Ward school.

Funeral services were conducted at the cemetery Friday afternoon, Rev. C. F. Dykes, a neighbor, officiating. The family was not well known here but quite a crowd of Tahoka people attended the funeral and offered consolation to the bereaved. The poignant grief of the members of the family deeply touched every heart and attested to the love in which the deceased was held by those closest to him. We know of no better tribute that can be paid to a man than that he is deeply loved by those most closely associated with him. Judged by this standard, Mr. Bankston must have been a kind and affectionate husband and father, unselfish and noble in character.

He leaves a wife and ten children to mourn his untimely death. Dying on May 22, he lacked only four days being 55 years of age. The News tenders genuine sympathy to all the bereaved.

Joe Bailey Lady Died Monday

Mrs. Joe Brooks, 36, died at the family residence in the Joe Bailey community Monday morning of pneumonia. The remains were conveyed to Coleman Tuesday by Bruden Davis of the Harris & Applewhite undertaking establishment and were interred at Coleman Tuesday afternoon.

The Brooks family had resided in this county only about six months, having moved here from Coleman. The News joins friends in offering condolences to the bereaved family.

There are more than fifty members of this class, and if the weather is favorable a large crowd is expected Monday night.

Miss Margaret Worthy, Miss Eleanor White, and Mrs. A. B. Cox of Plainview were guests Tuesday night of Mrs. G. M. Stewart. Miss Worthy taught in the public schools here two years and Mrs. Cox was a girlhood friend of Mrs. Stewart.

SOLDIER DEAD TO BE HONORED

Community Memorial Services Are Planned For Sunday Night At High School

Memorial services will be held next Sunday night at the high school auditorium under the auspices of the Marion G. Bradley Post of the American Legion in honor of the boys who made the supreme sacrifice in the World War. A service will also be held at the cemetery at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon, following which the graves of all ex-service men who participated in the Civil War, the Spanish-American War, or the World War, and who have answered the last roll call, will be decorated.

All ex-service men are requested to meet at the Legion Hall at 2:30 P. M. Where instructions will be given to members for the ceremonies at the cemetery. Everybody is cordially invited to attend the services at the cemetery.

The high school auditorium has been selected for the evening services because it has a larger seating capacity than any of the churches, and a large crowd is expected to be present. The program will begin at 8:30 P. M. sharp, and is as follows:

Songs—Led by Taylor White.
Eplanatory Remarks—Happy Smith, Post Commander.
Special Music Reading.

Benediction.

Zone Meeting Of BYPU Held Here

There was another big zone meeting of the various B. Y. P. U. organizations of Lynn county in the Baptist Church here Sunday afternoon. More than 150 visitors were in the meeting by actual count, the home folks swelling the number to 212.

The program for the occasion was rendered by the B. Y. P. U. of Wells, 52 of their number being present, and the program is said to have been excellent. Wells won the attendance banner but the West Point B. Y. P. U. took first honors for efficiency.

The associational B. Y. P. U. meeting will be held here next Sunday afternoon, when the B. Y. P. U. folks will be here from all over the Brownfield association, which embraces Lynn, Terry, Yoakum, and parts of Hockley and Gaines counties.

Tahoka, O'Donnell, Wilson, Wells, Three Lakes, West Point, and Central were represented at this meet.

Customer: I'm starting a laundry and I would like to purchase some machinery.
Second-hand man: Well, I can let you have six button removers and a ripping machine but I do not have the collar and cuff shreaders.

Passerby: "How are the fish in this stream?"
Angler: "I really don't know. I've dropped them a line every day for a week, but haven't got any reply, yet."

Kangaroo Court Attracts Interest

In the absence of other court news, the Tahoka Kangaroo Court convened at the American Legion Hall Tuesday night to dispense of one case pending on the docket. W. T. Bovell was tried on a charge of having committed matrimony. H. W. Calaway presided with great dignity and impartiality. Jake Leedy was the prosecuting attorney and he poured it on. Homer Harrison and Deen Nowlin tried to represent the defendant but they didn't even get a look-in. The court instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of guilty, but the jury obviously needed no such instructions. The fine assessed was a bunch of sweets from the bakery.

During the afternoon prior to the trial, the defendant and a goat were kept chained together and both of them chained to a lamp post on the street corner. The goat acted perfectly natural but W. T. looked rather sheepish.

The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment has issued another war. This time it gives out the startling "information" that dry America is spending more money for illicit liquor than it is spending for automobiles. This outfit was organized two or three years ago with a view to discrediting prohibition and bringing about its repeal. It is constantly on the job. It gets its propaganda in all the big daily newspapers. The Sunday papers carried a statement issued by officials of this organization "estimating" that America's annual drink bill is now nearly three billion dollars, a billion dollars more than it was in 1914, before prohibition came. This report, like Mark Twain's death, is doubtless considerably exaggerated.

YOU'LL GET RELIEF OR YOUR MONEY BACK

In spite of the fact that little effort is being made in some states—such as New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts and Illinois—to enforce the prohibition laws, we do not believe that half as much money is spent for liquor now as was spent for it in 1914, notwithstanding the fact that the price of bootleg liquor is much higher than was the price of liquor in the old saloon days. In Texas, we dare say that not one-tenth as much money is being spent for liquor annually as was spent in 1914. If all the officers everywhere would do their duty—as we believe ours here in Lynn county are trying to do—the liquor bill would be only a drop in the bucket as compared with the liquor bill in the old rotten saloon days. The A. A. P. A. will wait a long time before it brings the legalized liquor traffic back to America.

There is one thing we like about the politicians—they know how to shake hands. They have cultivated the art; so also have many business men and others who deal much with the public. Possibly the warmth of their handshake is not always genuine but it is pleasing nevertheless. There is no way in which we may express our friendliness or affection more impressively than by the handshake. To us there is nothing more thrilling than a warm, affectionate handshake by a real friend. It strangely warms the soul and makes us tingle to the very tips of the toes. On the other hand there is nothing more unsatisfying than the listless touch of the cold and clammy hand of that selfish, calculating, unsympathetic individual who has no interest in the welfare of his fellow man but is always busy looking out after No. 1. We would rather catch a snake by the tail than to shake hands with such folks. We like the warm, genial clasp of a friendly hand, and we hope that good old-fashioned hand shaking will never go out of style in Texas.

The state senate blocked the congressional redistricting bill. That means that three congressmen at large are to be elected in Texas next year. The three persons receiving first, second, and third highest number of votes in the Democratic primaries will be the nominees of the party. There will probably be a dozen candidates or more.

Mayor Brown of Mineral Wells had a little mishap at Roby while on his way to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at Lubbock. His car went into the ditch and when officers appeared on the scene they found three pints of liquor in the wrecked car. They did not learn just how much was inside the mayor himself. But he was arrested and placed under bond for transporting liquor. A grand jury indicted him and now he is to be tried. A few highly respectable people are sympathizing with the mayor. They are terribly disturbed that the convivial gentleman who sits at the head of the municipal table in Mineral Wells must undergo the humiliation of a trial while such bold and brazen offenders as Al Capone and "Legs" Diamond go unpunished. We are not hoping that Mayor Brown gets sent to the pen but we are hoping that he gets a lesson that will do him good the rest of his days. No mayor has any business violating the laws of his state. The fact that Chicago or some other city doesn't enforce the law against racketeers and bootleggers is no excuse for a Texas official violating the law. There is entirely too much of that sort of business in Texas. Those Fisher county officers are to be commended.

The legislature before adjourning passed a bill raising the tax on sulphur from 55 cents to 75 cents on the ton. This will yield a considerable additional revenue and we believe the legislature did the wise and correct thing in raising the tax. Ninety per cent of the world's sulphur supply comes from the Texas mines near the coast. Of course this tax will be passed on to the consumer but most of the consumers do not live in Texas. The world has been enjoying an almost tax-free commodity of which Texas has a virtual monopoly but from which it has been deriving little benefit. The people generally will not be greatly disturbed by threats of the owners to close the mines down as a result of the additional tax levy. That is an old game that Big Business plays to affect legislation and create sympathetic public opinion.

There is a continually growing resentment against the arrogance and power of Great Wealth in this country. Big Business gets too many favors at the hands of the Government. Big Business has too much power in Congress. Big Business is playing with fire. If the power and influence of the wealthy continues to grow and the lot of the common people continues to grow harder, a day of reckoning will come some time. We do not believe that it will come in the form of a bloody revolution but it will come in the form of sweeping reforms that will wrest the government from the hands of the rich and restore it into the hands of the people. The final result may be a condition closely a-kin to socialism—but as between a modified form of socialism and plutocracy, most people would prefer the former.

It is said that rattlesnakes appear to be more numerous this year than usual. Boys and picnic parties should be careful while passing through tall grass or weeds not to come in contact with one of these vicious gentlemen. One should be especially cautious while in the breaks adjacent to some lake. There ought to be a liberal bounty for every dead rattlesnake. They are not fit to live in a civilized community. A campaign of extermination should be waged against them.

A Mississippi river steamboat was stopped in the mouth of a tributary stream, owing to a dense fog. An old lady passenger inquired of the captain the cause of the delay.

"Can't see up the river," was his laconic reply. "But I can see the stars overhead," she replied sharply. "Yes, Ma'am," came back the captain, "but unless the boilers burst, we ain't going that way."

KEEP 'EM GROWING
Chicks are an expense—until they are grown. How fast they grow—and the profit they pay you after they reach maturity—depend upon how well you feed them during the growing period.
RED CHAIN GROWING MASH is growth insurance, for the present—and profit insurance, for the future. No other feed develops young chicks so surely into such husky, sturdy pullets and cockerels.
Of course it costs a few pennies more than makeshift home mixtures and cheap commercial feeds; but SUPERIOR results will convince you that it pays to keep 'em growing—with RED CHAIN.

Dangerous Business

Our stomach and digestive systems are lined with membrane which is delicate, sensitive and easily injured. It is dangerous business, then, to use medicines containing harsh drugs, salts or minerals, when we are constipated. In addition to the possibility of injuring the linings of our digestive system, these medicines give only temporary relief and may prove habit forming. To relieve constipation, take Herbine, the cathartic that is made from herbs, and acts in the way nature intended. You can get Herbine at THOMAS BROS. DRUG CO.

More Than Million in Twenty States Fed by Red Cross Volunteers

Hot School Lunches and Balanced Rations Given to Drought Victims—Seed Programs Instituted on Wide Scale

More than 1,000,000 persons in 82 drought-stricken counties of 20 States came under the care of the American Red Cross in what developed into the most extensive relief operations in half a century of ministering to stricken humanity. Measures to lessen the severity of the blow inflicted by drought were taken as early as last September, when seed was distributed to more than 58,000 families for the planting of rye and other pastures, and to more than 27,000 families for the planting of kitchen gardens. The expenditure for this purpose amounted to $326,500. Green vegetables were made available up to the first of January.

Early in February another Red Cross garden program got under way and 507,000 packages of seed were distributed in 15 states. Quarter-acre plots were planted to beans, beets, cabbage, carrots, collard, sweet corn, kale, lettuce, mustard, okra, onions, peas, spinach, squash, tomatoes and turnips. Once again were farm families given the opportunity to participate in their own salvation.

A comparatively mild winter contributed to the success of the Spring and Fall seed campaigns. Many habitual single-croppers were introduced to the advantages of kitchen gardens, balanced cropping and balanced diet. Numerous land-owners have expressed the opinion that this constitutes the one apparent blessing to come out of the drought catastrophe. The United States Department of Agriculture and the local county agricultural agents cooperated in making this part of the relief operations outstandingly successful.

Balanced Meals Served

Red Cross feeding was aimed at adequacy and scientific correctness, as well as simple economy. In large numbers of schools, where children were found to be attending with little or nothing in their lunch boxes, hot meals were served at noon. A typical menu consisted of vegetable soup and bread one day; thick beef soup or stew with vegetables another day; cocoa or milk and cheese, peanut butter, or jam sandwiches, a third day.

In some places where lunches were not served in the schools, but were provided for in the regular food orders, each family having school children received extra staples for school lunches including peanut butter, raisins, prunes and tomatoes. Red Cross nutritionists instructed mothers in the preparation of lunches.

County health officers and private physicians commended the adequacy of rations procured on orders issued by Red Cross chapters, which were filled at local stores. Besides the usual staples, such as corn meal, flour, lard, meat, beans and potatoes, such items as canned salmon, cabbage, tomatoes, vegetables and milk were provided, each order being adapted to the special needs of the family for whom it was issued. Where pellagra threatened, eggs, yeast and other preventives were given.

Thousands of Volunteer Workers

Many thousands of volunteers, through their local Red Cross chapters, gave freely of their time, experience and efforts, as in other Red Cross disaster operations. They searched out needy cases in their communities, many persons being restrained from asking assistance because of pride. Chapter committees investigated circumstances, distributed food and clothing.

More than 500 carloads of foodstuffs were contributed. These were given free haulage by railroads. Farmers of more fortunate sections embraced the opportunity to help their pastoral cousins of the affected area. Shipments ranged from live poultry to fish, from grain to grapefruit. Carloads of flour, eggs, beans, vegetables, onions, rice, corn and mixed vegetables were included.

As the result of co-ordinated Red Cross chapter efficiency, not one authenticated case of starvation as a result of drought has been uncovered.

Large quantities of new and used clothing were distributed. In direct consequence many school children resumed their studies who had been kept at home for lack of sufficient protection from the elements. In some instances, rural schools that had been closed were enabled to reopen as a result of Red Cross relief work.

States involved were: Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, West Virginia.

Many of these States had been hard hit by a succession of floods, crop failures, low prices and economic depression, and drought constituted a climax to the cycle of distress.

"Wherever I went," wrote one observer, "I made a point of asking what would have happened if the Red Cross had not been able to respond. In wide scattered points, from leading cities, came the answer: 'That undoubtedly there would have been many deaths directly from starvation, with epidemics prevailing upon the undernourished.'"

Invention of Compass
The origin of the mariner's compass is obscure. Some students he instrument was said to have ben introduced into Europe from the East. Others say it was a Western invention. It was certainly known to European navigators as early as the Twelfth century. Guyot de Provins, whose satirical "bible" is supposed to have been completed in 1205, described "a contrivance" of sailors which never deceived them.

"They have an ugly brown stone which attracts iron," he wrote. "They mark the exact quarter to which the needle points, which they have rubbed on this stone, and afterward stuck into a straw. They merely put it in water, in which the straw causes it to swim; then the point turns directly toward the North, star, with such certainty that it will never fail."

Guyot wrote about the compass as if it were a new thing, but other writings reveal that the English in the Twelfth century had already mounted the needle on a pivot and so done away with the straw and water.—New York Times.

"Mare's Nest" Discovery

"Mare's Nest" is a phrase which we occasionally hear and which we understand to refer to almost any sort of a discovery which upon its face and at first sight seems to be of considerable importance, but which subsequently is ascertained to be a hoax. By inference, therefore, a "mare's nest" has acquired the meaning of something that does not exist.

Just how the expression originated is not clearly established. However, it is authentically conceded that it was first employed over 300 years ago by John Fletcher and that he himself probably adapted it from an earlier phrase, "horse's nest," which, in the then vernacular, referred to any story worn threadbare by constant repetition. This latter is said to have been first used by Stanyhurst at the end of the Sixteenth century.

The line, "He's come upon a mare's nest and is laughing at the eggs," is frequently heard in Ireland to express derision at somebody who thinks he has discovered something startling when it is in fact something known to all.—Kansas City Times.

For a Pie

Buddy, not quite three, is exceedingly fond of pie. One day his mother remarked that she just didn't know what to have for dinner.

"I know," said Buddy, "have pie." "Well, I don't believe I have anything to make pie with," answered mother.

"Oh, yes, mother, you have a receipt," was the response.

MUCH INTEREST IN NEW TRIPPLE TREAD TIRES

Bill Burlason, local distributor for Seiberling tires, reports that motorists are exhibiting unusual interest in the new Seiberling Tripple Tread Air Cooler Tire, which is claimed by experts to be the most revolutionary tire advancement in the past 25 years.

"Most motorists when they come into the store ask the same question: 'What are the holes for?'" Mr. Burlason stated. "These holes supply the air cooling action and in the process of wear develop the three treads which give this tire its name, Triple Tread. As the tire revolves, the holes open and close with each revolution, thus continually pumping cool air through the tire. Furthermore, as the holes are worn into and the first non-skid is worn off, these holes furnish a new non-skid. The third feature of these new tires is found in the fact that the holes in the tire provide an air cushion, which makes for easy riding, easy steering, and for long life for the tire.

Mr. Burlason claims this tire marks an epoch in tire building.

An Unpleasant Subject

All of the functions of life are not pleasant to consider. Perhaps this is why some mothers refuse to think that such symptoms as restless sleep, loss of flesh, lack of appetite or itching nose and fingers in their children, can be caused by round or pin worms. Many mothers have proven, however, that a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, that sure and harmless worm expellant, will make these symptoms disappear. You can get White's Cream Vermifuge for 35 cents per bottle from THOMAS BROS. DRUG CO.

Dixie

Mrs. Jess Noble and mother, Mrs. Graves, were honored with a handkerchief shower Saturday night. About fifty of the Dixie folks gathered at the home of Earl Tunnell about sunset and after the guests were served with delicious cake and lemonade, Mrs. Noble and children and Mrs. Graves were presented with a lovely collection of beautiful handkerchiefs.

Mrs. Noble and children are moving back to their old home at Ferris. We are sorry to lose them and wish them lots of happiness and prosperity in the old home town.

Everybody in this community is almost through planting and the crops are up in good shape. The fourth Sunday singing was well attended. A big crowd and several good singers were present.

After the entertainment at Mr. and Mrs. Tunnell's Saturday night, the crowd gathered at the school auditorium to enjoy a play entitled "The Prairie Rose" given by the Joe Stokes people. The play was fine, thank you. Come again.

School closed at Dixie last Friday. Dinner was served to quite a crowd. After noon the school boys played a game of ball with their dads. The boys won by a score of 21 to 9. Mrs. Jess Noble and children, Mrs. Graves, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Noble, and Clifton Noble were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. King Sunday.

DUAL BANK SYSTEM FAVORED BY BANKER

State and National Institutions Supplement Each Other in Serving Country's Varied Financial Needs

RECENT suggestions that all banks in the United States be under Federal jurisdiction, doing away with the chartering of banks by the various states recalls the opposition to this plan presented at the recent convention of the American Bankers Association by R. S. Hecht of New Orleans, Chairman of its Economic Policy Commission. Mr. Hecht said:

"There are just as good reasons why there should be state as well as national banks, as that there should be state as well as a national government. I do not think that analogy is far-fetched. The states should not surrender all political jurisdiction to the central government, and the local business life of the states should not be made to surrender all control over financial functions to national financial instrumentalities. There are many variations of business conditions from state to state and there are special fiscal requirements of the various states.

"It is entirely logical, therefore, that the states should retain the right to charter banks so as to mold and direct their affairs in accordance with the states' governmental and business requirements and keep them adapted to localized sentiment and conditions.

"The argument is sometimes advanced that the dual system jeopardizes the life of the Federal Reserve System because under it there is a large group of banks that are free to remain out of or to withdraw from the system. Facts and figures prove that this is a specious argument.

"It is true that there has been some shifting from national to state charters—especially in cases of mergers of large national banks with banks operating under state charters. However, the Federal Reserve System was not weakened in this process because the merged institutions almost universally retained their membership in the system on a voluntary basis. Moreover, the records show that state bank members are just as good members of the system as national banks and the ratio of state bank resources in the Federal Reserve System is constantly growing. In 1922, national banks held about 65 per cent of the resources of reserve members, and state banks about 35 per cent, while in 1929, the nationals held only 60 per cent and state banks 40 per cent.

Banking Systems Help Each Other
 "Reciprocally the state and national banks systems have helped each other. If the national banking law has served in some respects as something of a model code toward which state banking laws more and more have approached year by year, so have the state codes developed valuable reforms which have suggested improvements for the national laws. A great many undesirable competitive inequalities have been wiped out by this mutual evolutionary process and further progress along the line of uniformity so far as is desirable is anticipated.

"However, I do not believe that it is a disadvantage to have two banking codes that differ in some respects. It is quite probable that the state banking code in many instances represents a closer adjustment to local conditions than could be had under the national banking laws, and this is a situation that should be retained. There should, however, not be competition between the two banking codes. Competition should be between banks themselves and not between the laws under which they operate. The effort to offer too great allurements in one code as against the other could lead only to weak banking laws. But I do think that there should be the alternative opportunities that now exist which banking institutions and local business interests may choose, so that they can function or conduct their business relationships under that banking code which best meets the conditions of the times and of the place as they see them.

"This has been illustrated in both directions. In states where such unsound measures as the guarantee of deposits were operative state banks had the opportunity to escape the baleful effect of such laws. On the other hand, when a court decision was handed down in Worcester, Massachusetts, which rendered uncertain the position of trust assets acquired by a national bank through a merger with a state bank, it was a real advantage for national banks affected to take out and operate under a state charter, either on a temporary or a permanent basis, as circumstances make expedient.

"In my opinion, bankers, national as well as state, should combat the thought that conceives of depriving us of the vitalizing benefits of our dual system."

Finance Fights Erosion

Farm terracing to stop erosion is of major importance in Noble County, Oklahoma, the county agent said, and so one of the county's national banks bought five farm levels to be loaned to farmers without charge. The machines were immediately put to use and the farmers are showing keen interest in terracing. Two terracing schools were started for adults and 4-H Club boys.
