Any erroneous reflection upon the reputation or standing of any individual, firm or corporation, that may appear in the columns of the News, will be gladly corrected when called to our attention.

There should be more swimming pools in this section of the state. Every boy and every girl should be taught to swim. This should be done, however, under such regulations as will protect them against danger and preserve their sense of decency and modesty while learning. The law should require a life-guard to be on duty continuously at every public bathing pool while the pool is in use. It should also require bathing suits to be of such length and character as to prevent vulgar and indecent displays of the person of the bathers. In other words, public bathing should be made both safe and decent. With these safeguards there ought to be a public bathing pool in every city and town in this entire section and then everybody ought to patronize them—everybody except the diseased and the infirm. Countless thousands of young people are growing up out on these plains without learning to swim, then when some emergency arises they go down beneath the waves never to rise again. The daily papers are full of accounts of drowning, many of which could have been easily prevented if the victims had only known how to take care of themselves in the water.

We believe that the Hoover proposal for a moratorium has already done much to restore confidence and to assist in bringing the world back to "normalcy". Debt has been hanging over the nations of Europe like a pall. Especially has Germany been depressed by the vast reparations payments that she has been required to make. We have little sympathy for the ruling classes in Germany and none at all for the war lords that brought about the terrible world conflict in 1914. But there is no business sense in keeping a nation's nose continually to the grindstone. Germany should be given a chance to rehabilitate herself. Nations should assume a more charitable attitude toward one another. The old bickerings and strife should be forgotten—or ignored. One of the benefits to be derived from the Hoover proposal is the good will that it has engendered on the part of Great Britain and Germany toward the United States. Now if we would tear down our high tariff walls and show other nations that we really want to trade with them and to give them a chance in the business world, this good feeling would be greatly enhanced.

We believe that Tom Connally and other Democratic Senators are right in ascribing to the Smoot-Hawley tariff bill some of the blame for the business depression that is engulfing the country. High tariff walls always interfere with trade and frequently are the cause of ill feeling among nations. High tariffs are supported on the grounds that they make possible higher wages for labor and higher prices for farm products. Nearly always, however, the manufacturer is the chief beneficiary, and the consumer must pay the bills—Jones pays the freight. Yet Democrats in recent years have joined with Republicans in demanding higher tariff rates for the products of their section, and their denunciation of the Smoot-Hawley bill sounds a bit like the pot calling the kettle black. Democracy should turn its back on the record of 1928 and hark back to the good old democratic doctrine of a tariff-for-revenue only.

Again we wish to express our approval of the activities of our peace officers in running down bootleggers and other criminals. What we need all over this country is to put the bootlegger and the gangster out of business is courageous and active officials. So many of our peace officers wink at so many violations of the law that it is really refreshing to find one who is ever on the job and who is making an active and effective war on crime. If the people and the jury of Lynn county will now do their duties as the peace officers seem to be doing theirs, the bootlegger will soon be a practically extinct species in Lynn county.

ANOTHER ENCYCLICAL

It seems too bad that the Church and the Fascist Government of Italy can not get together. It apparently is a case of oil and water refusing to mix. It is the irresistible meeting of the immovable.

The issue at stake really is of that nature. The Church holds that part of its divine mission is to educate the youth, and it desires to use its organization, Catholic Action, for that purpose. Mussolini holds that the State has primary rights in education and that Catholic Action must perform its functions under State regulation, confining itself to purely religious instruction. The Pope now appeals to the Catholic world for indorsement of the position of the Church.

In this controversy the power of enforcement lies with the State; the Church, for the present at least, is fighting a losing battle. The Pope's despair is hinted at in the suggestion that Catholic youth may take the Fascist oath "with mental reservations".

Mussolini has a strong will and sees before him as abject seasons France, Mexico and Spain. Perhaps the outcome will be in Italy also, the separation of Church and State. —Dallas News.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY HAS UNIQUE PROGRAM

The Woman's Missionary of the Baptist Church rendered a unique program on the lawn of the W. M. Harris home Monday afternoon. It was in the form of a steamship tour around the Gulf of Mexico. The steamer stopped at the various mission points of Southern Baptists. As the ship docked at each port, the leader, as conductor, called the name and some member gave interesting facts about the mission progress made by Southern Baptists at that particular point. A vocal quartette composed of Misses Evelyn and Estely-Jeffreys, Snookie Maddox and Helen Applewhite furnished excellent music for the occasion. All taking part functioned beautifully and the result was an interesting, edifying and impressive program. At its close, Mrs. Harris, in her usual charming and gracious role as hostess, served sherbet and Angel food cake to thirty-seven women and girls. Among the number was an out of town guest, Mrs. Carl Bechtold of Marshall, who is a niece of Mrs. Harris.—Publicity Chairman.

READJUSTMENT OF FARMING METHODS BEING URGED

West, Texas, July 15.—Sounding a plea for adjustment of agriculture to modern conditions, J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, in an address Friday at West's Independence Day celebration declared present agricultural practices were antiquated.

"Our agricultural boat", he said, "is launched on new waters. The machinery which has been propelling it is antiquated, and it is going to require the special and combined efforts of every institution and agency to again make this boat seaworthy and its passengers happy and prosperous."

As a special example of antiquated methods, McDonald cited the "mad scramble" to produce cotton without attempt to coordinate production with consumption. "In this mad scramble" he said, "we are accumulating a burdensome surplus to disrupt and undermine our economic structure and if continued will not only bankrupt us financially but socially."

Figures were cited indicating the carry-over this year would be from 8,500,000 to 9,000,000 bales of cotton, in excess of a year's consumption.

"Quite a good many of us", he said, "have seen four cent cotton when we were confronted with only two-thirds of a year's consumption in our carry-over, and when we enjoyed practically a monopoly of the cotton growing industry. It behooves us to pause and reflect at this time and try to vision what conditions will be should we be confronted with a carry-over in excess of a whole year's consumption with no definite and positive means of regulating next year's production so as to protect this huge carry-over."

"Apparently there are three ways to stop wasteful over-production: by voluntary cooperation brought about by educational campaigns and 'school house meetings', the means we have tried for half a century without success; by regulating production through utilization of the government and laws established for the happiness and prosperity of our people; and finally to continue producing cotton without unity of action or supervision until we impoverish our soil to the extent that we can't overproduce."

"The farmer doesn't need coercion; he does need some means established whereby unity of action may be given to his production."

McDonald explained the details of the Olson soil conservation bill which died on the calendar of the 42nd legislature, declaring that enactment of this bill into law would establish for agriculture the same supervision industry now enjoys. This subject should be declared,

Tahoka Will Enter Radio Audition

In every section of Northern Texas as music and civic authorities have been consulted and especial care has been used in the designation of a large corps of local chairmen who will insure the most active campaign for local voice contests which will qualify one young woman and one young man in each community for a state competition which is the second step toward sharing in the $25,000 cash awards and the ten musical scholarships offered by the Atwater Kent Foundation to the national winners of their Fifth Annual Radio Audition.

Mrs. Robert B. Wylie, dean of Music at McMurry College, Abilene, as the north Texas chairman, is starting an intensive drive toward the enrollment of dozens of contestants in the local auditions of her particular district in the firm belief that there are in north and west Texas just as many talented young amateur singers as there are in any section of the country who deserve opportunities to display their talent and ambitions and receive due credit for same.

The Atwater Kent Foundation, on her recommendation, has appointed Mrs. Rubie D. Suddarth as local chairman for Tahoka and vicinity, and with the help of a capable and interested committee Mrs. Suddarth is now inaugurating Lynn county's first attempt at participation in this most commendable movement. The best young singers in the community will have an opportunity—without any expense whatever—to compete in the local audition which will be held early in September at a place to be announced later.

Watch the papers for current notes on the progress of the arrangements, and for further particulars any young singer between the ages of eighteen and twenty-six is urged to immediately get in touch with Mrs. Suddarth or any other member of the local committee which consists of: Mesdames H. P. Caviness, W. O. Henderson, Layne Moreland, and Miss Mae Smith. This committee met with their chairman Monday night for discussion of definite plans and the working-out of important details regarding the audition. They are counting on every loyal citizen to lend his aid in promoting this event; to the end that two creditable entries may represent the community in the State Audition and really put Tahoka on the musical map.—Publicity Committee.

Mike Haas of New Orleans got the idea that women would buy from women salesmen more readily than from men, so he dressed in female attire and peddled wearing apparel from house to house with considerable success. But an observant policeman brought Mike's hands and feet belled his feminine garb and upon confirming this landed the masquerader in jail.

The News Twenty-Five Years Ago

From Files Of Lynn County News of July 6, 1906.

The Lynn County News was a small four-column, four page paper, and an entire page of the issue of July 6, 1906, was devoted to an account of the big Fourth-of-July Barbecue which had just been held and to several display advertisements.

"Tuesday evening the town began to fill up with country people from everywhere within a day's drive, as well as town folks from Lubbock, Gall, Brownfield, Lamesa, Gomez and even Big Spring and Plainview, intent on having a good time," the story relates. The court house and business houses were used by the visitors as sleeping quarters. A dance was staged on the night of the third which lasted till 2 o'clock. On the night of the Fourth, the pleasure seekers danced all night. Two ball games were played during the day; one with Gall in the morning, Tahoka winning by a score of 18 to 2; and one with Gomez in the afternoon, Gomez winning by a score of 10 to 6. A thousand people were fed at the tables at the noon hour, it is asserted, and both the quality and the quantity of the beef were given high praise. There were some exciting horse races. Late in the afternoon and the result is summed up as follows: "The gray horse came first, the sorrel horse second, and the sorrel mare third in the first race. In the second race Lump Woods' Old Charlie was beaten by Walker's Brownfield black.

"Have you brought many people to your way of thinking?"

CHILDREN CRY FOR IT—

CHILDREN hate to take medicine as a rule, but every child loves the taste of Castoria. This pure vegetable preparation is just as good as it tastes; just as bland and just as harmless as the recipe reads.

When Baby's cry warns of colic, a few drops of Castoria have him soothed, asleep again in a jiffy. Nothing is more valuable in diarrhea. When coated tongue or bad breath tell of constipation, invoke its gentle aid to cleanse and regulate a child's bowels. In colds or children's diseases, you should use it to keep the system from clogging.

Castoria is sold in every drug store; the genuine always bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature.

N. Y. HERALD OF 1865 IS INTERESTING PAPER

House on April 9, just a few days preceding Lincoln's assassination. The movements and positions of the armies, both Federal and Confederate, are also given. The word "Confederate" does not appear in the paper, however. The Southerners are called "Rebels".

The great James Gordon Bennett was the editor and proprietor of the New York Herald at that time. We do not know whether the copy before us is a complete copy of that issue or not but we presume that it is. It's make-up is quite different from the ordinary daily newspaper of today. It contains no display advertisements. All the advertising matter is set in the same size type as the general news matter, all of which is very small. It is a paper of four pages, each page containing six columns, practically the same size as four pages of The Lynn County News. One inch of reading matter would probably consume two inches in this paper, however on account of the fine type used. This is indeed a most interesting paper, and the files of this and other daily papers of the time, of course, are valuable sources of historical information.

LYNN COUNTY IS PART OF NEW HEALTH UNIT

It is the purpose to organize the women of the various communities into adult health clubs, and work will also be done through the school authorities.

Dr. Peterson further explained that this work will cost the individual practically nothing. The expenses are being paid largely by the Federal and State governments.

At the request of Miss Buresch, County Judge G. C. Grider appointed the following as directors of the work in the county: W. S. Anglin, general chairman; Mrs. R. W. Fenton, vice chairman; Truett Smith, secy.-treas.; E. L. Hill, publicity chairman; Ray Shaver, rural sanitation chairman; Co. Supt. H. P. Cave-ness, rural schools chairman; Mrs. G. M. Stewart, women's organization chairman; Judge C. H. Cain, men's organization chairman.

All the physicians and dentists in the county were named as a Medical advisory board. Three physicians were present, to-wit: Dr. E. E. Callaway, Dr. C. B. Townes, and Dr. R. B. Smith.

Heath, had a car wreck on the highway twenty miles west of Tahoka and one of the bones in one of J. D.'s hands was broken, according to Judge L. C. Heath of this city.

A radius rod connection came loose, it is said, and the driver lost control of the car. It went into the ditch and turned over on its side. The two older men were practically unhurt. The windshield of the car was broken out but no other damage to the car was sustained.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Mullins spent the week end with relatives at Idaho.
