NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Any erroneous reflection upon the reputation or standing of any individual, firm or corporation, that may appear in the columns of the News, will be gladly corrected when called to our attention.

The News editor is an implacable enemy of the protective tariff. We have always been against it. We think it has been the means of building up certain great industries at the expense of the masses. We regard it as the rankest kind of class legislation. We have often expressed ourself to this effect in our editorial columns. In principle we are for free trade. But since the tariff system is written into our Constitution, we believe that under the Constitution we should adhere to the time-honored Democratic doctrine of a "tariff for revenue only". Having these views, of course we are opposed to the Hawley-Smoot tariff law enacted by the present Congress and signed by President Hoover. We think it one of the most objectionable tariff bills ever enacted into law in this country. But to claim that it is solely or even chiefly responsible for the present world-wide depression is foolish in the extreme. We believe that it has contributed to our economic ills and should be repealed, but it seems puerile to argue that it is the cause of the depression which holds Great Britain and Germany and France and Brazil and Chile and all the nations of Europe and South America in its merciless grasp just the same as our own country. In fact, the depression had a strangle-hold on Great Britain and Germany and other nations before we felt it here in America. England has been issuing the dole for a number of years. We think our political leaders, our captains of industry, and our money kings can do much to bring relief, but this is a world-wide problem and all the great nations of the world must co-operate in bringing the world back to "normalcy" Alexander Hamilton whom our friend J. B. Walker blames, has had just about as much to do with present conditions as Robinson Crusoe or Robin Hood.

After a lingering illness, the great electrical wizard, Thomas Alva Edison, passed from the stage of action at an early hour Sunday morning. Edison was one of the most remarkable men of all time. Possibly no man has done so much to change the living conditions of the people as this great electrical genius. As Henry Ford expressed it, he "changed the face of the world in his life time". Among his major achievements was the invention of the incandescent electric light, the phonograph, and the motion picture. He greatly improved and perfected the telephone and the telegraph. He is the inventor of numerous other devices that have added to the comfort and the convenience of man. It is said that all together he has taken out more than 2,500 patents. He was a tireless worker and early in life dedicated his talents to the task of working out inventions that would lighten the burden of man and make life more pleasurable. He succeeded beyond the wildest dreams of the most extravagant visionaire. One of the greatest men of this or any other age has wrapped the drapery of his couch about him and lain down to pleasant dreams.

We know little of the merits of Japan's claims in Manchuria. We do know that Japan has grown to be a powerful nation and that the Japanese are a virile, quick-witted people. With a land area smaller than Texas and much of the land mountainous and sterile, Japan has a population of 40 or 50 millions. Naturally, she wants more room, and China, dull and slow-moving, is her nearest neighbor. It is to be hoped that war between the two nations will be averted, but it is almost a foregone conclusion that sooner or later Japan will expand and find an outlet for her activities on the main land of the continent of Asia. Intelligence and industry will win in the long run over dullness and indolence.

The editor of this paper has been voting the Democratic ticket, with one lone exception, since he became old enough to vote. We are for the Democratic party so long as it is right on the major issues of the day. We think it has made an enviable record while in power, especially under the leadership of that greatest of all our statesmen, Woodrow Wilson. But there is no more sense in attributing the present economic and business depression to the Hoover administration than there would be to blame Cleveland for the financial panic and the business calamity that came during his administration. We should not be so partisan that we can't be fair.

Morris Shepherd seems to be doing all in his power to stem the tide of wet sentiment that threatens to submerge the next Democratic national convention. Tom Connolly seems to be lying low and saying 'nothin' as yet but we are counting on him to speak out at the psychological moment. If Connolly and Glass and Robinson and other dry Democratic senators and leaders don't get busy pretty soon, the wets will have the whole thing sewed up and the Democrats will go before the country next year with a wet candidate and a wet platform. Then what'll Tom and Joe and Carter do?

The rumor persists that Ross Sterling will not be a candidate for re-election as governor, though he has made no announcement to this effect. Down in the political centers they are predicting that lieutenant Governor Edgar E. Witt of Waco and Senator Clint Small of Amarillo will be opposing candidates for the place. If Sterling doesn't "choose to run", our prediction is that there will be at least a half dozen formidable candidates for the job.

Ex-Governor Nellie Tayloe Ross of Wyoming says that the Republicans are scheming to divide the Democratic party on the question of Prohibition. Is this a thrust at John Jakob Raskob?

By the way, we have not heard a word of criticism of the Hawley-Smoot tariff law from Al Smith or John J. Raskob.

When Truett Smith failed to return from Austin last weekend, Jeff Connolly says that he grew alarmed over the matter and made some investigation, and he found that Truett had become incarcerated in a state institution for the feeble-minded and had been unable thus far to get out. He says that friends are becoming interested, however, in Truett's behalf and that the young man may be expected home within the next week or two.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Humphries of Llano spent the first half of the week here visiting Mrs. Humphries' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cowan. They also visited their son, Marlin, who is attending Tech. Mr. Humphries is connected with a marble and granite works in Llano.

Mrs. Berta McDaniel left Tuesday for her home in Los Angeles, California, after a four-months visit here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Crouch, and with the several sisters residing here.

First Gin Starts Running

Our new gin started running the first part of this week. On Tuesday morning the power was turned on and soon the first bale of Lynn county cotton ever ginned in Tahoka was lying on the yard waiting for a buyer. This cotton was all raised by Mr. C. C. McLaurin on his farm near Central in the southwest part of the county and fifteen miles from town. Quite a handsome premium—about $30.00—was raised for him.

The new gin has been running pretty steadily this week and over fifty bales have been turned out.

Ships 900 Calves

Jack Alley started Monday for the railroad with 900 head of high grade calves and yearlings. He sold them to T. F. B. Gotham of Illinois. These cattle go direct to the feeding pens in Illinois and are among the first consignments of cattle to be disposed of in this way. A good many Texas cattle have to go through a preliminary feeding after they leave this state before they are sent to the feeders nearer the markets.

Lockwood Purchases Herefords

Mr. Lockwood has purchased the bunch of registered Herefords belonging to Mr. Skinner. They consisted of 36 head of stock cattle, and added to his recent purchase of 26 at Tulla he now has a herd of 62 registered animals. Mr. Lockwood appreciates the natural resources of the country and is prepared to take advantage of it. Plains land is getting too valuable to give a home to scrub stock.

Democratic Nominees

A published list of Democratic nominees shows that Tom Campbell was the nominee for county judge, governor, R. V. Davidson for Attorney-General, Sam Sparks for Treasurer, and R. B. Cousins for State Superintendent, W. R. Smith for Congress, L. S. Kinder for judge of the 64th district, C. S. Williams for district attorney, T. M. Bartley was the nominee for county judge, J. S. Wells for sheriff and tax collector, S. N. McDaniel for county and district clerk, W. H. Robinson for county treasurer, A. S. Coughran for tax assessor, and J. H. Cowan for commissioner of precinct No. 2.

The Power Is On

Just turn the switch or push the button and power is on. Constantly and with assurance, electrical power from Texas Utilities is used every day for a multiplicity of things. It may be to light the smallest bulb in the city, or turn wheels of the largest motor, or again, a sewing machine or electric sweeper, but always and in the same strength, the power is there to perform the same task. Every individual connected with the Texas Utilities is schooled to perform his task with accuracy and precision. Every person is trained to perform his task economically. Were these things not true, we could not use the word "constant" in regard to power supplied by us. It is also our constant policy to serve the greatest number of customers at the lowest possible cost, and it is toward the fulfillment of this policy that everyone works.

PRODUCE EGGS
at LOW COST!

—and make good profits regardless of egg prices

WHEN egg prices are low, that is no time to cut down on feed; what you need is BETTER feed, to produce more eggs and larger profits.

RED CHAIN EGG NUGGETS produce plenty of low-cost eggs. The superior quality ingredients are compressed into NUGGET form -- and every NUGGET is a balanced ration. This new and efficient feed insures more laying hens, more eggs per pound of feed, reduced labor (feed once-a-day), no feed wasted or lost.

That Stays up in the Motor and Never Drains Away

PROVES ANY OIL WOULD BE BETTER OIL IF GERM PROCESSED

Other good oils lubricate working parts after the motor starts and oil is pumped from the crankcase through the motor, which takes several minutes. But Germ Processed Oil stays up in your motor at all times and lubricates working parts safely during the starting period. . . . when almost half of all motor wear takes place! A "hidden quart" stays up in your motor and never drains away. Only Germ Processed Oil can give you this sure protection at all times, because only Germ Processed Oil can penetrate and combine with metal surfaces . . . an exclusive characteristic called "penetrative lubricity." So you can see . . . any oil would be better oil if Germ Processed!

But only Conoco makes Germ Processed Oil . . . for Conoco owns exclusive patent rights for North America. Don't be contented with oil that lacks the germ process. Stop at any station displaying the Conoco Red Triangle and fill with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. Save your motor from wear . . . keep it young and powerful!

HUGE TASK IN DROUGHT AID MET BY RED CROSS

Relief Given to Distressed Helps in Meeting Serious Situation, Chairman Payne Says.

"The year of the great drought," as these past twelve or more months will be known to future generations, wrought great damage to millions. Not alone did the crops, which were burned in the fields in twenty-three states, in the summer of 1930, deprive several million persons of food, but the drought disaster continued in the summer of 1931 in the northwestern states, and also brought other minor catastrophes in its wake, such as forest fires, and the grasshopper plague.

More than a year has elapsed since the American Red Cross launched, in August, 1930, its first moves for relief of the drought-stricken farmers, and in that time more than 2,750,000 persons were given food, clothing, medical aid, shelter or other type of assistance. At no period during this year were there fewer than 70,000 persons being aided and at the peak of the relief work on March 1, last, more than 2,000,000 persons were being helped.

Today, still as a result of the drought, the Red Cross is giving extended relief in parts of North Dakota, Washington and Montana, where resources of hundreds of families were wiped out this past summer, when a second and more severe spell of dry weather was prolonged in that region.

This drought relief presented the greatest task that has ever been undertaken by the Red Cross as a peace-time activity. The Mississippi Valley flood of 1927, while more spectacular, and calling for relief of a costlier type, because homes and possessions were swept away, affected hardly one-fourth the number of people who suffered because of the drought.

In addition to the broad program of drought relief still being carried on, John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross, has given the following suggestion to Chapter chairmen, in regard to unemployment relief: "Where there is suffering and want from any cause and the fundamental local needs are not being met, Chapters may participate in the community plans for meeting the need."

Some type of general family relief, whether for the drought victims, the unemployed or the war veteran and his family, were carried on by more than 3,000 Red Cross Chapters last year, Judge Payne said.

"The drought relief work of 1930-31," he added, "the relief now being extended following last summer's drought, principally in Montana and North Dakota; the assistance which is being given to ex-service men and their families; and the part which several hundred Chapters are taking locally in their communities' relief measures are activities of the Red Cross, national and local, which have met and are meeting some of the serious needs of the present situation."

RED CROSS RELIEF IN 79 DISASTERS IN YEAR

Forest Fires, Plagues, Storms, Earthquakes, as Well as Drought, Call for Help.

The forest fires which have raged in Idaho and other western sections this year have presented a serious disaster—one of a number, in addition to the enormous drought relief problem, which have been met by the American Red Cross relief forces.

Suffering, faith and courage are contained in a story coming from the Priest River section in Idaho, told by a volunteer Red Cross worker as follows:

"Picture a happy little homestead near the banks of Priest river in northern Idaho. While father, with a little son tagging at his heels, is out tending crops and adding to the clearing, mother is at home making preparations for another arrival. Then comes the fire demon, sweeping all in its path. While father fights to protect his little home, the stork announces its arrival.

"Mother and baby are bundled in a quilt and loaded on a truck for the race through the flaming forest. Father drives the truck and the little boy sits at his mother's side, brushing away the sparks which fall like rain upon the improvised litter."

To the Red Cross worker, the mother expressed her anxiety to return to the hills to rehabilitate the little homestead. All they possessed was lost in the forest fires. The Red Cross aided all of the families and is working to help them rebuild their homes.

Altogether seventy-nine disasters called for Red Cross help and money during the year just closed. Aside from the drought, which required services of volunteer workers numbering more than 60,000, and a drought relief fund of more than $15,000,000 of which $5,000,000 came from the national Red Cross treasury, help was given in 27 fires, 13 tornadoes, eight storms and eight floods, six forest fires, four earthquakes and four mine explosions, three typhoons and three epidemics, two cloudbursts, and one each hurricane, mine cave-in and railroad accident.

Aside from a major catastrophe, such as the drought, when the whole

WHAT OTHERS THINK

POETRY!

Are poets—these new-fangled, modern kind—plumb crazy? What in the world has happened to poets like Longfellow, Whittier, and Poe, who really wrote something when they pounded out their rhymes? Aren't there any more left?

This is the kind of fluff present day poets are penning. We quote from The New Republic—and offer a celluloid moustach cup to anyone who can figure what it's all about: "Ay! Scripture flee'th stone! Milk-bright, Thy chisel wind Rescindeth flesh from bone To quivering whittlings thinned—Swept, whistling straw" Maybe The Plainsman is too dumb—maybe, being an old country boy, he can't appreciate "true art". There might be something to such an argument.

But even if it gets him in bad with the intelligentsia in these parts, The Plainsman makes bold to say just this: He'd rather read Mother Goose Rhymes any time than a bunch of hokey like they're printing now in our literary magazines!—The Plainsman in Lubbock Journal.

GRASSLAND HEALTH CLUB WILL MEET MONDAY

The Grassland Health Club did not have their last meeting on account of rainy weather. They will carry out their same plans on Monday, Oct. 26, 1 o'clock p. m., at the home of Mrs. E. A. Thomas. Every one invited. Miss Sotser will be present.—Reporter.

CREDIT CORPORATION IS MEETING WITH FAVOR

Washington, Oct. 20.—Eugene C. Stephenson of South Bend, former president of the American Bankers' Association, told President Hoover today the $500,000,000 National Credit Corporation had been received with great favor.

Emerging from a conference with the president at the White House, the banker said the credit agency put confidence in the banks on the firm foundation it deserved.

Stephenson said that since depositors had learned there was a reservoir that could be drawn, much more money had been deposited.

WILL DEMONSTRATE MEAT CUTTING TO CO. AGENTS

Lubbock, Oct. 22.—A killing and meat cutting demonstration will be held in Lubbock October 26 to 29 for county agents of the South Plains section, under the direction of Roy W. Snyder, meat expert, and Sterling C. Evans, district agent for the Texas Extension Service.

All South Plains county agents will be here for the demonstration.

Clay fingers have been found near mummies, interred centuries ago, presumably for the use of the dead when the real fingers had deteriorated.

Opinions Of Our Readers

A REBUKE TO OUR EDITOR

I enjoy reading Editor Hill's editorials. In my opinion he is one of the best editorial writers of any weekly newspapers in the state. But at times he can surmise, and palaver, and sophisticate, and take the most ridiculous positions of all the editors in the state. For instance, his last week's editorial on "Our President", he pictures the plight we have been in during his administration and lambasts the Democratic Party for lying idly around and not proposing any remedial measures for the situation. But all at once his president rises from a state of lethargy and offers two solutions, or remedies for the situation, namely, the "Moratorium", his six point program, and also his building program.

Now, he says that Hoover may be inefficient and dumb, as some claim, but why (he insinuates) didn't some of you Democratic would be statesmen beat him to it? Now, I haven't the space to discuss his six point proposal, nor tell you from whose fertile mind the above came, but Editor Hill would have you to know they didn't originate in any Democratic mind, but he has a fixed opinion as to where it did originate. This reminds me of a baseball game. You have seen the pitcher get three men on bases, then you hear the cry, he is in a "hole", and four times out of five the pitcher allows the opposing side to score, but you will always remember the one successful time.

Now, who got us in this economic "hole"? No one is to blame but the Republican party of which Mr. Hoover is leader at this time. This has been coming on ever since the days of Alexander Hamilton. Legislation and the Centralization of wealth should be in the hands of the few has been the policy of the party, and this principle had its incipency in the fertile mind of Alexander Hamilton, who is the Father of the Republican Party. Yes, this has been going on these many years, and this unjust, autocratic policy and practice has brought the great mass of the American people down into the very depths of sorrow, degradation, and even want. At this hour such a state of affairs seem almost unendurable to the masses, but nevertheless, we still live and move and have our being. And, we are able, just now, to apply the old law, "Action and reaction are equal but in opposite directions". We have had the action, now comes the reaction. Our buying power has been taken from us by the Republican party. Now comes a desperate appeal from the manufacturing and financial centers, "Come over and help us", they cry to the masses of the people.

Now, back to the baseball game. Who got us in the "hole"? Is it human nature for the opposing side to pull them out of the hole? Why didn't Mr. Hoover call an extra session of Congress? It wouldn't have cost a red cent. And the regular session meets the first of December anyway. No, Mr. Hoover and his cohorts didn't want to give the Democratic members of Congress even a dog's chance. But Editor Hill seems to declare and proclaim from his editorial that Mr. Hoover is the benefactor of the great mass of the people. But as I have stated before the ball has "reacted" and the few must get relief somewhere or somehow.

Now, let's see what Tom Connally and Morris Sheppard say: "The greatest cause of this depression lies in the Smoot and Hawley bill, and the U. S. failure to enter the League of Nations." Now, the illustrious Woodrow Wilson went down to an untimely grave proclaiming the necessity of the U. S. joining the League. Who kept the U. S. out of the League? And who passed the Smoot and Hawley bill? Nobody but the Republican party.

Now, I don't have any personal fight to make on anybody, I don't care a snap for John J. Raskob, Al Smith, Cordell Hull, et al, but I do stand four square for the principles enunciated and advocated by such immortals as Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Jackson, Grover Cleveland and Woodrow Wilson. And, in my opinion, a good Democratic Editor could, and should, carry on the fight for pure, unfiled Democracy. Let him hold it up to the world in his editorial columns, and not try to boost a party that has brought him nothing but shame and humiliation.

SHOULD NOMINATE McADOO, THINKS CYCLONE DAVIS

I see that very affable and erudite gentleman of Waco, George Robinson, writes with a glib affirmation and unctious in the interest of the wets. He defends the liquor traffic under the theory of State rights, home rule, local self government, personal rights, personal liberty, sumptuary laws, etc.

The old theory of State rights was killed by the corporation and by slavery. The Drisd Scott decision brought a conflict and crisis in the theory of State rights. South Carolina had made Dred Scott a slave, but Massachusetts made that negro a freeman upon the theory that neither God nor Nature made him a slave, and Massachusetts had the same right to make him a free man that South Carolina had to make him a slave. So the Democratic party refused to take Jefferson's advice and allow the government to free the slaves and colonize them, the Federal Government to pay for them at a public price. To avoid a charge that he wanted to sell his slaves to the Government, he liberated them voluntarily. The Democratic theory of State rights was shot to death over that issue and died at Appomattox. There are more than 500 great corporations that wipe out every State line in this Union and the Federal Courts make their action stick.

To talk about local self-government for the whiskey business is political and economic nonsense. There are something like 6,000 local subdivisions of government in our country and to give each of them domination over booze is too serious to be called ridiculous. The action of local self-government made a large part of our country dry. Local option was in vogue for twenty years. Nearly half the population voted dry under these laws. I myself helped dry over 1,000 towns, counties, precincts, school districts and townships and five States; helped dry 115 counties in Texas.

Mr. Robinson's contention that prohibition was adopted "in a moment of hysteria" is amusing to me. More than half the States went dry under States rights, if you please. So far as personal liberty is concerned, no person has the liberty to do wrong. There are three ethical divisions in crime. Those who do wrong, those who cause wrong to be done, and those that cause the cause of wrong doing. The liquor traffic rots the foundation of all these. There is a vast difference in personal rights and personal wrongs. In Utah a man once had the personal right to have a dozen wives. But the law of our country governed by the law of God and civilization, said that was a personal wrong.

To close let me say a law signed by a Democratic President, and a noted one, gives the Interstate Commerce Commission power to have one of their clerks wipe out every State line from Washington, D. C. to Florida and hold bureau court, and his finding when approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission is the highest law of our country outside of our Supreme Court. So these howlers for more liquor must find something else to bolster up their clamor for booze. Prohibition is here to stay. The booze gang with pragmatic shyness tells us that the return of legalized liquor will stabilize business and bring good times and give the millions of unemployed jobs. England and Germany are swimming in swill, so to speak, and yet millions of their people are at soup counters, and millions more only prolonging a miserable existence. More than forty years of my life I fought for prohibition and perhaps a thousand joint debates with the booze defenders.

If the Democrats want to win the White House next year let them nominate McAdoo. Hoover is dry, McAdoo is dry, so the booze bunch will be forced to organize a booze party of their own. In that shape the Democrats can raise a battle cry that will sweep the country. McAdoo has proven himself a great executive, a great business man, a great lawyer, a great patriot and statesman. Notwithstanding the flabby impotence of this administration, a Tammany wet can not be elected. I don't think Governor Knowles knows it, but I think that Republican mortgage holder of our party is using him as a stalking horse for Al Smith.

J. H. (CYCLONE) DAVIS.

Nothing less than a six can give you built-in smoothness

CHEVROLET The whole question was settled long ago—as to how many cylinders it takes in a motor car engine to give satisfactory smoothness. Science definitely established the fact that at least six are necessary. And today, the public accepts the multi-cylinder engine in the same way that it accepts 4-wheel brakes, parallel-mounted springs and every other principle of proved and acknowledged superiority. Everybody knows that nothing less than a six can give you built-in smoothness.

Today, six-cylinder smoothness is within reach of every new car buyer. For Chevrolet has produced a quality car, powered it with a firmly-mounted six-cylinder motor—engineered it to run with unsurpassed economy—and priced it down among the very lowest-priced cars in the market.

Twenty models ranging from $475 to $675

Wilson

There is very little difference in the cotton ginning report for this week over last as it was most wet to gather cotton all last week and on Monday night and Tuesday we had more rains that will delay picking for several days.

The first annual encampment of the Y. W. A. and G. A. of the Brownfield Baptist Ass'n. was held Friday night and Saturday at the Lumsden home east of Wilson. It had been planned to camp on the play-grounds but on account of the wet ground Mrs. Lumsden threw open the doors of her beautiful home and invited the would-be campers to come in and take charge. Most of the program was rendered in the home. The meals, however, were prepared and eaten on the outside and swimming and ball playing was part of the recreational program. Miss Berta Hill had charge of the social hours and her ability in directing this part was voted to be the best ever. Mrs. O. J. Hull had charge of the educational program, teaching in a most interesting and instructive way a book on missions, in three lessons. Mrs. Lumsden gave the devotional and made a talk which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Mrs. McBeth, Ropes, associational young people's leader, had charge of the entire program and presided in a wonderful way.

The Workers Council that was scheduled to take place here the first Tuesday of this month will be held the first Tuesday in next month if no other interferences.

All churches report fine services and good attendance last Sunday. There was one addition at the Baptist church.

Homer Scott and family were week end visitors in the Forrester home. Mrs. A. N. Hughes left the first of the week for Rochell, where she will spend some time with her sister, Mrs. Clay Oldham.

Rodney Fern Heck spent the week end in the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Heck.

There were 21 present at mid-week prayer services last week. You are invited to be one of the number in these fine services each Wednesday night.

Miss Alletha West, who is doing work in Tech, was a week end visitor in the home of her aunt, Mrs. W. J. West.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Baker and Mrs. Ford of Stith were guests in the Partin home last week end.

Herman Wallace is paying home folks a visit of several days.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walters, whom we reported as being in a very bad condition after getting a peanut hull in her lung, is now getting along nicely, the hull having been removed at a Lubbock sanitarium.

Mr. Melvin Faubion of Adamsville is visiting in the home of his brother Mr. A. L. Faubion.

Miss Mattie Pearl Jones spent Monday and Tuesday of this week in the home of her aunt, Mrs. Burdett of Lubbock.

Mr. C. C. McCormick is paying the home folk a short visit.

Mrs. M. J. Scaer is gradually gaining ground after a very severe illness causing her to spend several days in a sanitarium.

The Wilson quarterly conference of the Methodist Church will be held here on Sunday, Nov. 8, at 3 P. M., Rev. Bickley being in charge.

The several fields that were planted to wheat two weeks ago are looking green and the wheat is growing very fast. Wheat planted later is coming up to a fine stand, and with the big rains this week will no doubt grow into fine pastures soon.
