SCHOOL PLANS MADE PUBLIC

Will Complete 9 Months Term By Holding Saturday Sessions After Christmas

At a meeting of the School Board of the Tahoka Independent School Tuesday night, a plan was adopted for making up the time school was dismissed in October for cotton picking.

The executive committee of the Classification Board of the Texas High Schools at Austin recently announced that due to the general acuteness of the economic conditions existing over the state of Texas and the necessity of the children to help gather the crops, a great many of the schools would be dismissed for a period of time. Plans for making up the time schools were dismissed were suggested by the committee. Also, the committee assured the schools that the dismissal would not affect the classification and affiliation for the year 1931-32, providing the school term was nine months long.

The plans suggested by the committee for making up the time school was dismissed were adopted by the School Board and are as follows:

1. The Tahoka Schools will be in session on all holidays including Armistice, Thanksgiving, and giving only December 24, and 25 for the Christmas holidays.

2. The Tahoka Schools will be in session every other Saturday, beginning with the second Saturday after the Christmas holidays.

3. The Tahoka Schools will have only five day weeks before Christmas in order that the children may continue to help gather the crops over week ends.

This plan of making up the month of October we believe will be the most satisfactory to both pupils and patrons.

Mr. H. O. Smith, supervisor from the State Department of Education, Austin, visited our schools Monday. He was very complimentary of the work that was being done and said that the school was exceptionally orderly and that a goodly manifestation of interest was exhibited for the first week after a month's dismissal. His report in detail will be published when received.

The taxpayers of this school district can provide their children with the best advantages and opportunities educationally if they will all pay their taxes. This would also insure a nine months school term which is very important in order to retain our classification and affiliation. Our school is a Class "A" school, affiliated with the State Department of Education of Texas in 26 1/2 units of work. Also, member of the Southern Association of Accredited Secondary Schools which means that the work done in the Tahoka schools is equal in effectiveness and efficiency to that done in any school in the Southern States. These standards have not been easy to attain, but have required years of diligent and strenuous work.

Taxpayers, let us have your cooperation. Our school is making progress this year and we feel this year is going to be among the good years in the history of our schools.

Methodists Close Conference Year; Shepherd Will Probably Return Here

Rev. J. W. Shepherd and John N. Thomas left Wednesday morning to attend the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church in session in Vernon this week. They are not expected back till next Monday, since the Conference will not close till Sunday night, at which time announcement of the appointments for the coming year will be read.

Before leaving Brother Shepherd stated to the News that so far as he knew he would be returned to Tahoka. He has been here just one year and it is usual for pastors to be returned to the same charge for two to four years. Brother Shepherd and his family are much beloved here and have done a good work.

The Northwest Texas Conference has grown to be one of the largest in the state. Covering a large territory which has rapidly developed during the last decade, it now contains many strong and prosperous churches. Some of the ablest preachers of the denomination in Texas are to be found within its boundaries. It is expected that good reports will

Mexican Puller Gets 1550 In Day

J. F. Williams, who lives one mile west of Central Church, was in Tuesday and reported a cotton boll pulling record that outshines anything reported thus far.

He says that one Manuel Alvarez pulled 1550 pounds of bolls Monday. The Mexican did not start Monday morning until the sun was about an hour high, went to the house for lunch at the noon hour, and quit in the evening at sunset. Williams says he knows the figures are accurate, for he did the weighing himself, and it will be up to him to pay the Mexican for his day's work.

Another man in the same field, an American whom they call K. C., pulled 1171 pounds the same day. Williams says that the Mexican offers to bet that he can pull as much as 2,000 pounds in a day. Does anybody want to call the bet?

Cotton Estimate Is Raised Again

The Government estimate of the 1931 cotton crop came in Monday morning and showed an increase of 619,000 bales over the October estimate. In spite of the high estimate, however, the price shot upward 20 points, or about a dollar a bale.

The estimate of the year's crop was placed at 16,903,000 bales, the largest crop in our history except that of 1926, when 17,977,000 bales were produced. The October estimate of this year's crop was 16,284,000 bales; the September estimate was 15,685,000; and the August estimate 15,584,000. It will thus be seen that the estimates have been increasing steadily month by month. The September estimate exceeded the August estimate by 101,000 bales. October exceeded September by 599,000 bales, and now the November estimate exceeds October by 619,000 bales.

More than 12 million bales had been ginned prior to November 1. Since the bulk of the crop is now out it is not expected that the December estimate will show any appreciable increase over November.

Porterfield Hurt As Tire Explodes

A. L. Porterfield, truck driver for Ben King, received a serious injury to the hand in a most peculiar manner at Idalou last Monday afternoon.

He had reached that point on his way to Quanah with a truck load of cotton seed when he had tire trouble. While he and a mechanic at a garage there were inflating a tire, the pressure in some way suddenly blew the rim off and it struck the two men, breaking the mechanic's arm and breaking the thumb and three fingers and possibly other bones in the hand of Mr. Porterfield. It is said that the impact of the blow knocked him several feet away from the car and he is fortunate in that the injury was not thought serious.

ROLL CALL IS STARTED HERE

Red Cross Signing Members Rapidly Mrs. W. D. Nevels Takes First Membership

The Red Cross roll call proper started Wednesday morning, November 11. Some memberships had been obtained even before that date, however, according to W. S. Anglin, chairman.

The first membership was taken out by Mrs. W. D. Nevels, who has led in Red Cross work in this county for a number of years. W. D. Nevels was the second member to enroll and W. S. Anglin was the third. Mr. Anglin estimated that something like fifty members had enrolled before the time for the campaign to open had arrived.

Mr. Anglin is very hopeful that the full quota for this county will be reached easily and he hopes that the county will do much more than is expected of it.

Childers Is Recovering

Dave Childers, who was confined to the hospital so long following a most serious operation for appendicitis, is gradually regaining his strength and says he is feeling fine. Dave is delighted with the record his daughter, Miss Lorene, is making at the Tech. She is a regular contributor to the Treasurer, the College publication, and every contribution she has made thus far has been published. All of which her friends here will be delighted to hear.

C. O. Edwards Is Hurt In Wreck

While Uncle Cass Edwards, his son, and another traveling companion were on their way to Fort Worth last Sunday, something went wrong with one of the wheels of the car near Roby and the car turned over completely. Uncle Cass received some severe bruises and one of the fingers is probably broken. One of the shoulder bones is also very sore and may be fractured, but Uncle Cass is still up and going as spry as a sixteen-year-old.

The top of the car was smashed and the car otherwise badly damaged, one wheel being totally wrecked.

Mrs. Edwards says this is the second wreck he has been in within the past six weeks, but he was not seriously hurt in either of them. His companions in the car last Sunday were practically uninjured.

The population of Great Britain at the middle of 1930 was estimated at 45,900,000, an increase of 200,000 on the figure for the middle of 1929.

Hull Is Attending Baptist Meeting

Rev. O. J. Hull of Tahoka, Rev. L. S. Jenkins of O'Donnell, and Rev. J. W. Partin of Wilson left early Monday morning for Waco to attend the meetings of the Baptist General Convention of Texas in session there this week. Mrs. Hull and daughter, Miss Clarice, had preceded them, having left Saturday afternoon to go with Lamesa friends.

TAHOKA LOSES ARMISTICE DAY

Strong Brownfield Team Defeats The Bulldogs 26 To 6 In Game Played Here

For the first half of the Armistice day football game between Brownfield and Tahoka here, the visitors ran over the home team to pile up five touchdowns; but in the second half Tahoka came back fighting and managed to hold her own and, in addition, to score one touchdown. The final score was 26 to 6.

Tahoka, out of practice for a month, could not hold the bigger and better Brownfield team, and was out-played in every feature of the game except punting. Stevens, the most consistent player, punted 11 times for an average of 38 yards; Brownfield punted 7 time for a 29 yard average. Also, Tahoka, passed 12 times, five complete for 91 yards. Brownfield completed 5 out of 9 attempted for 68 yards. But the visitors amassed a total of 410 yards gain to Tahoka's 225. Two of the visitors' touchdowns were made on 60 yard runs.

Tahoka put up a hard fight to stop Brownfield's invasion, but the light weight and inexperience of the Bulldogs enabled the heavy Brownfield boys to handle them almost at will until they had piled up a score too great to overcome.

The local boys deserve much credit for the hard fight they put up in the second half in the face of almost certain defeat.

Many Pay Fines In Justice Court

The sheriff and other peace officers made a raid Saturday night and caught another bunch of gamblers and incarcerated them in the county jail. Uncle Ben, Justice of the Peace, was busy much of the day Sunday taking complaints prepared by county attorney G. H. Nelson.

The victims were mostly negroes and Mexicans and the scene of their operations was a farm house near Wells—the same place where a serious cutting affray occurred just a week earlier.

Up till Tuesday noon there had been about fourteen pleas of guilty. Three others had made bond and two or three were still in jail.

On Monday one man also entered a plea of guilty to a charge of fighting. His adversary had pleaded guilty to a similar charge one day last week.

Officers report that three pleas of guilty were also entered Sunday in the justice court at O'Donnell on charges of drunkenness and fighting.

Lytle Fined For Cutting Brother

C. S. Lytle entered a plea of guilty in the county court Saturday to a charge of aggravated assault, the assault having been made upon his own brother, J. D. Lytle. The Court assessed the punishment at a fine of $50.00 and confinement in the county jail for a period of ten days.

The complaint grew out of a difficulty between the two brothers at a negro supper in the Wells neighborhood a week prior to last Saturday and the accused inflicted a number of serious knife wounds on the person of his brother.

J. D. Lytle, who was taken to a Lubbock sanitarium for treatment, was released from that institution last Thursday and his wounds are said to be healing satisfactorily.

Armistice Day In Tahoka Is Quiet

Many of the American Legion boys and their wives went over to Slaton Wednesday to observe Armistice day and to enjoy the holiday festivities staged there. There was no observance of the day here other than the closing of a few of the stores and a football game between Brownfield and Tahoka in the afternoon. The banks also closed for the occasion.

Wednesday marked the thirteenth year since the armistice was signed and the great war came to a close.

Court Grants New Trial For Fulton

On Friday of last week Judge Grider set aside the judgment in the case of the State of Texas vs. J. P. Fulton, who had been found guilty on Monday of simple assault, and he was granted a new trial. The new trial was granted upon motion presented by Fulton's attorney.

County Attorney G. H. Nelson was unable to say Monday when this case would be called for trial again.

Federated Clubs Meet At Lubbock

A number of Tahoka Club women are attending the convention of the Texas Women's Federated Clubs in Lubbock this week. The sessions began Tuesday morning and will extend through today. Hundreds of Club women from all parts of the state are present and the various programs and social functions are said to be brilliant affairs. These women represent the best intellect and the highest culture of the state and are leaders in its civic and educational affairs.

One of the most interesting features of this convention is the art exhibit on display on the second floor of the Lubbock Hotel. The rules permit the display of Texas scenes only, painted from nature. Hundreds of pictures are on display, many of them showing fine talent and training. Artists from all parts of the state and some from other states have pictures in this exhibition. Tahoka is represented with a picture of Two Draw Lake painted by Mrs. J. W. Elliott.

The editor and family drove up and took a look at this fine exhibit Tuesday night. It was an exhibition worth the trouble of going many miles to see.

Seed Loan Man Is Coming Here

Announcement is made by county agent Ray Shaver that L. L. Smith of the Government Seed Loan Office will be in O'Donnell each Friday morning and will make personal calls over the county each Friday afternoon. He will be in Tahoka each Saturday morning and in Wilson a short time each Saturday afternoon.

Any person desiring any information pertaining to his loan may see him and he will be glad to answer any questions.

New 4-H Program For 1932 Planned By Miss El Fleda Harrison, Agent

An entirely new state program of work for 4-H club girls is outlined for 1932. The program is to be placed on the demonstration basis with only two or three types of demonstrations being conducted in a county. The demonstrations outlined for Lynn county next year will probably be gardening, food preservation, and clothing. The program is for girls between 10 and 20 years of age and each girl is to follow the same program of work regardless of any previous work she may have done. It is believed that this program will offer the girls greater opportunity to exercise initiative and judgment and certainly more thorough work may be expected from a program concentrating on three phases than from the recent program having eight different phases of work in gardening, poultry, dairying, clothing, food preservation, food preparation, bed room improvement, and yard improvement.

In each club there will be one girl who is demonstrator or leader in gardening, one in food preserva-

Total Crop For County Will Likely Reach At Least 45,000 Or 50,000 Bales

Statistics gathered by the News soon after noon Wednesday indicated that more than 34,000 bales of cotton had been ginned in Lynn county this season.

Some of the figures given below are accurate while others are only estimates, yet from information at our command it is certain that these estimates in the main are approximately correct. Estimated figures in the list below are so indicated.

From these figures it now seems certain that Lynn county's crop will not fall below 45,000 bales, and it may reach 50,000, provided the weather remains favorable for gathering the remainder of the crop.

All records have been broken in the rapidity with which the crop thus far has been gathered. As an example, more than 1700 bales have been ginned in Tahoka alone the past week. All other ginning points in the county have shown similar speed in the separation of the lint from the seed and the hulls.

Reports gathered, by the News show the following ginnings:

Tahoka	7,375
O'Donnell, estimate	6,400
Wilson	4,900
New Home	4,507
Grassland	3,066
Draw	1,240
New Lynn	1,450
Gordon, estimate	1,000
Lakeview, estimate	1,500
Wells, estimate	1,500
Newmoore	1,125
Total	34,063

W. O. Henderson had received 4,561 bales at the local yard and S. L. Leathers of the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association had handled approximately 1725 bales.

Burlesons' Mother Is In Sanitarium

Jim and Bill Burleson were called to Lubbock early Tuesday morning by a serious accident which had befallen their mother, Mrs. J. W. Burleson.

Arising rather early, as was her custom, she fell from some undetermined cause, breaking one of the hip bones and dislocating the hip joint. She was taken to a sanitarium for treatment and an x-ray examination revealed a bad fracture. Due to her advanced age, it is feared that she will be confined to the hospital for two or three months.

Mrs. E. M. Hooper and children of Archer City spent the week end here with Mrs. Hooper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Hogan. They were accompanied home Sunday by Mrs. Hogan, who will visit there a couple of weeks.

Any erroneous reflection upon the reputation or standing of any individual, firm or corporation, that may appear in the columns of the News, will be gladly corrected when called to our attention.

Republican hopes of organizing the next House took another nose dive last Friday when Harry M. Wurzbach, the only republican congressman from Texas, died from the effects of an operation which he underwent a few days before. Rather, we should say, he died in spite of the operation. His death was unexpected, for it was thought that he was recovering nicely from the operation. Wurzbach represented the San Antonio district. He had been elected time and again over the opposition of the Creager wing of his own party and over the Democratic nominee. He was a relentless fighter. If he was ever whipped he never found it out. At the last election the returns on their face showed the election of his opponent. Wurzbach contested the returns and Congress found in his favor. Now that he is out of the picture, the Democrats are sure to elect his successor. His death decreases the number of Republican congressmen by one while the election of his successor will doubtless increase the number of Democrats by one, and thus makes doubly sure the organization of the House by the Democrats and the election of John N. Garner of Uvalde as Speaker. This will be the first time in the history of the country that a Texan has held this position. Garner will have a chance to distinguish himself and we hope that he makes good.

Next year will be election year, again. There will be candidates for everything—from President to constable. Now is a good time for us to say that voters should be discriminating in the election of their candidates in the primaries. The incompetent, the unfit, and the dishonest office-holders should be retired to private life. It has often occurred that the voters have elected grossly ignorant or otherwise grossly unfit men to public office. It has occurred here in Lynn county more than once. It should not occur again. The ability to give the voters a friendly slap on the back and a hearty handshake does not denote ability to deliver the goods in a public office. We should exercise more judgment and more common sense in the selection of our officials next year than we have exercised occasionally in times past. Honesty and competency should be the unflinching requirements of every candidate before he receives our support next year.

The office of Representative from this district will be wide open next year. Judge G. E. Lockhart, the present Representative, has stated to friends that he will be a candidate for the state senate. The Judge is serving his first term as Representative. We have not agreed with him all the way through but it can be said of Judge Lockhart that he is able, courageous, and independent in thought and action. He would ably represent the district in the state senate. We have no information as to whether our present senator, Pink Parrish, will be a candidate next year or not. Since Judge Lockhart is not to run for the Lower House again, it is probable that there will be a number of candidates, possibly one or two from Lynn county. Politics is going to be interesting next year, folks.

The merchants all report business fine last Saturday. The stores and the sidewalks were crowded and it really looked like old times again. There was perhaps the largest Saturday crowd in town that has been here in two years. With the price of cotton gradually getting better and the price of wheat swinging upward rapidly, it looks as if better times were already here.

It now seems certain that the Democrats will control the next House. It is to be doubted if this is desirable from a party standpoint. They will have the opportunity of demonstrating to the country what they would do in the matter of legislation, but therein lies the danger. If they make some bad bust or if they split up and wrangle over some program or some measure and do nothing, their opportunity may act as a boomerang. The probabilities are that this very thing will happen. A bunch of the "wets" are determined to push some wet measures. Any effort along that line will be stubbornly resisted by the "drys" of their own party. The split over prohibition in Congress may result in a split over the same issue in the next Democratic convention—and a split among Democratic voters on election day. Wet Democrats in Congress had better let the prohibition issue alone. It's loaded.

The Senate of the United States lost one of its ablest members when Senator Caraway of Arkansas died unexpectedly a few days ago. He is said to have been one of the best debaters in that body. He was a hard fighter and the opposition always knew that there had been a scrap if Thad Caraway had been in the fray. It is doubtful if his match can be found as a successor. Under the Arkansas law, the governor can not appoint his successor; he must be elected. Here is hoping that the Arkansas voters make a wise choice.

With lots of feed, lots of chickens, lots of dairy cows, lots of turkeys, and lots of canned goods in their cellars and pantries, the farmers and housewives of Lynn county are in much better condition to enter the winter and to start a new crop than they were last year. It looks better, folks, much better.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Services at the Presbyterian Church always on the second Sunday of each month. Sunday School 10 A. M. every Sunday morning. Women's Auxiliary meets every Monday afternoon. The study book this fall, "The Importance of Home Missions", is a most informing and inspiring book on the need of aggressive evangelistic home mission program in our country at such a time as this. Bible study course, "The Book of James", the most democratic book in the New Testament. A treatise on practical Christianity, the faith that avails and prevails is the faith that works by love giving off the grand results of a purified heart and life. The need nowadays is a great revival in a personal study of our Bible.

Preaching services last Sunday morning and night by Rev. W. K. Johnston, D. D., pastor. Morning theme: "Christians and the World Depression". Among the multiplicity of remedies suggested for these times is the offer and pledge of Christ and his glorious gospel to His faithful and trusting people. Good attendance and a fine service. Why not visit our church next regular preaching day? We offer Presbyterians moving into Tahoka and these parts our friendship and a lovely church home and a Christian opportunity. Why not honor yourself, your own church, and its work by rightly lining up with it at such a time as this? God help us to be faithful when and where we are needed in our day and time.

Subject Sunday night: "The Menace of the Modern Church". Ten things that tragically menace the modern church and God's remedy for each of these. Good attendance at night and a fine service. The old gospel is still God's remedy for the social life, the business life, the civil life, and strengthens God's people for all depressions. Go to a church where the gospel is preached and nothing else. We are always glad to meet you in all of our services.

LYNN COUNTY MAN IS BELIEVER IN TRACTORS

The following article appearing in a recent issue of the Farm & Ranch was written by a Lynn county man, J. D. Montgomery:

In reply to William Puckett's letter in Farm and Ranch, September 12, he says: "You can raise your feed, but you can't raise your fuel that you burn in your tractors." I will agree with him. But you can't always raise your feed for your horses and mules and when you fail to raise this feed, you have to buy it at a high price. For the last three years we have had to buy our feed and we paid out enough to buy a good tractor and finance the crop.

I farmed 400 acres completely by myself with a tractor. This includes listing, planting, go-deviling and cultivating with a four-row cultivator. This land was gone over with the cultivator three times, all at a tractor cost of 127.63. The cost of eight of the best mules in Lynn county, working 200 acres and using two-row and one row cultivators and listing and preparing for planting during the same period of time, which was from March 1 to July 1, was $226. And the mules were not half fed. They were worked half a day each day after the feed gave out, on Sudan grass. On the other hand, the tractor went right on. But the best part of this story is that the land I worked with the tractor will make 100 pounds more of lint cotton per acre than the land worked with mules and the feed crop from 500 to 800 pounds per acre.

Some people think because they have a tractor, they will not have to raise any feed, but we put half of our land in feed to be fed to our cows, sows and chickens that make our living. The tractor took the place of about twenty good horses or mules and about eight robust negroes. Some say the tractor man is putting people out of a job. Maybe we are, but I am working for my own interest—nobody else will.

If we can raise more feed than we can use in one year, if we hold our heads, we can keep it for dry years such as we have had.

We urge the other members to be present at our next meeting, Thursday, Nov. 19, for the election of officers. We will meet at the school building.—Reporter.

Leslie Hogan Marries
J. E. Hogan received a message Monday bringing the information that his son, Leslie Hogan of Edinburg, had married Sunday. The bride was Miss Bedez Hollman and the ceremony was performed in the Episcopal Church at Pharr. Young Mr. Hogan is secretary of the school board at Edinburg; and one of the interesting sidelights that we gleaned from this happy affair is the fact that as secretary to the school board he draws a salary of $350.00 per month. He is also collector for the board and his total annual salary is about $5,000.00. Must be lots of money in that country.

Pie Supper At New Lynn
There will be a pie supper at New Lynn Saturday night, Nov. 14. The proceeds will be used to pay for the piano. All ladies bring either pies or boxes, and gentlemen bring a pocket full of change. Everybody come.—Reporter.

F. L. Willingham, who started all this fuss about who is the champion cotton boll picker of Lynn county, was in Saturday and said that he now had a cotton picking story nobody could match. He declared that as he passed along the highway a few days ago he saw Porter Tredway out in his field dragging a sack and actually pulling bolls. We had always thought Willingham to be a truthful man, too.

Mrs. Jack Stricklin and son, Jack Stricklin Jr., of the Terry County Herald, and Mrs. Ben Hillyard, who came over to see the Brownfield-Tahoka football game Wednesday afternoon, were pleasant callers at the News office following the game. ### "Buffalo Hump" Was One Of West's Most Dangerous Indian Chieftans

No other Comanche chief who lived during the past century was as much feared as was Buffalo Hump. This thoroughly bad Indian and his band terrorized the northwestern frontier of Texas for two decades during the middle of the century.

From his favorite camping ground near Santa Anna Mountain in eastern Coleman county, Buffalo Hump and his band sallied forth into the white settlements on their marauding expeditions. Buffalo Hump hated the whites with an intensity that seemed to grow with the years. No other Comanche chief was so blood-thirsty. No other chief was so cruel and vindictive.

In 1848 when the government desired to make a new treaty with the Comanches, Len Williams and Brooks W. Lee were sent to notify Buffalo Hump. They found him on Jim Ned Creek in Coleman county. He professed the greatest show of kindness for them. But while they were still in his camp, he instructed some of his braves to follow them and ambush them. E. Williams and Lee left the camp going northward in search of Sanaco and his band. They found Sanaco on upper Pecan Bayou in Calahan county. Shortly after they arrived the braves of Buffalo Hump came into camp and demanded the whites on the complaint, that they had stolen goods while in their camp. Sanaco refused and gave the white men protection as far as the camp of Old Owl on the upper Clear Fork.

When the Comanche reservation was established in 1855, Buffalo Hump refused to bring his band on the reservation. He roved about for several months then came into the reservation. The Indian agent, John R. Baylor, gave his people food and clothing. The next day the band betook themselves to the prairies. Six months later they again appeared inside the reservation and Baylor repeated his kindness. Again Buffalo Hump went away to the plains. This exhausted Baylor's patience, and when the Indians again appeared he informed their leader that they would either remain on the interior or starve on the prairies. Buffalo Hump remained on the reservation, but he was a constant trouble maker as long as the reservation was maintained.

When the Indians were moved from Texas in 1858, Buffalo Hump and his band were settled on the Wichita reservation where he lived until his death in 1870—Comanche Chief.

"EYES OF TEXAS" WAS JOKE WHEN FIRST TIME SUNG

J. R. "Jim" Cannon, Amarillo business man, was a member of the male quartet that sang "The Eyes of Texas" for the first time 28 years ago.

"It was a practical joke. We did not know what we were starting", Cannon said, as he commented on the popularity with which the song was received and which later made it the song of the University of Texas and the unofficial State song.

He displayed a yellowed program, split down the middle and reinforced with a strip of paper pasted over the slit, on which the number was listed as "A Parody in Song". The program was given as a benefit for the Glee and Mandolin Clubs and the athletic department. It was a negro minstrel with a few special acts thrown in.

It all happened in the old Hancock opera house, just a block off Congress avenue, on West Sixth street, Austin, Cannon said. "The Hancock then was the talk of the state and the governor had a special box. Twenty-eight years ago—it was in the fall of 1903—the University was small enough for benefit programs, and we were giving one that night.

"Dr. Lambdin Prather, who was president then, had attended Washington and Lee University when General Robert E. Lee was president. General Lee, it was said, never made a speech to the student body without bringing in the remark 'the eyes of the South are upon you.' Dr. Prather, it seems, thought well of the statement, and after he became University president often quoted it, confining it only to Texas.

"There was a standing joke among the students about the president's all-seeing eyes and the ever-watchful State of Texas. So when John Laing Sinclair of San Antonio went into conference with the college quartet, with some half-formed words and the famous old tune, 'I've Been Working on the Railroad' running through his head, he was starting something, but he didn't know it. "That night the Hancock was packed with students and Austin citizens. President Prather was there. The program was well advanced when the quartet stepped out to give their parody. Before we finished the first verse the house was in an uproar and by the time till Gabriel blows his horn' was reached, the audience must have been semi-hysterical, judging from their antics. They pounded the floor and shouted for an encore which we willingly gave again and still again.

"The students finally joined us and we repeated it until we were so hoarse we sang in a whisper 'We're Tired Out.' By the following day the band had learned the tune and words and marching up and down the campus playing 'The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You.'"

Cannon sang second bass in the quartet. Other members were J. D. Kilheven of Miami, first tenor; R. A. Porter of Dallas, second tenor; W. D. Smith, San Antonio, first bass. The director was D. A. Penick, present tennis coach of the University, who has developed some of the world's leading tennis players.—Amarillo News.

Flues And Ventilation For Gas Heaters

In the use of natural gas, as with other fuels, certain well known precautions should be taken concerning the installation and operation of appliances.

At night open gas heaters should never be left burning in a bed room. The windows should be opened and the heater turned out. Fresh air at night is most important to health, regardless of its relation to gas heaters. Some other part of the house may be kept warm in order to provide a comfortable place in which to dress.

Living rooms should have some ventilation, and the flame in gas heaters should not be too high. Under any circumstance, don't let the flame roar and blow.

If you are unable to regulate your appliances, call our Service Department. It is kept for your convenience, in order that you may obtain the highest efficiency from the gas you purchase.
