The Division of Information and Publication of the George Washington Bicentennial Commission relates the story of the lost proclamation.

On September 25, 1789, Elias Boudinot introduced the following resolution in the House of Representatives:

"Resolved that a joint committee of both Houses be directed to wait upon the President of the United States, to request that he would recommend to the people of the United States a day of public Thanksgiving and Prayer, to be observed by acknowledging, with grateful hearts, the many signal favors of Almighty God, especially by affording them an opportunity to establish a Constitution of government for their safety and happiness."

Harmless as this resolution seems, there were objections to it. In reading the Annals of Congress of the period, we find that Representative Aedanus Burke, of South Carolina, thought we should not mimic Europe, "where they made a mockery of thanksgiving".

Representative Thomas Tudor Tucker, of South Carolina, argued that it was not the business of congress to ask for a national day of

"They (the people) may not be inclined to return thanks for a Constitution until they have experienced that it promotes their safety and happiness."

These objections, however, were overruled; the resolution was passed and sent to the Senate for concurrence. The Senate approved (Continued on last page)

Thanksgiving

Tahoka has much to be thankful for. Her people today have conveniences that the people a short century ago had never dreamed of. Just suppose all the electric lights were turned off permanently and the people had to resort to the kerosene oil lamp to light their homes, their business houses, and the streets of the city.

We are thankful for the progress that an All-wise Providence has permitted us to make and for the many modern conveniences that we are privileged to

The continued bad, rainy weather has retarded the gathering of the cotton crop. Since our last report. there has been quite a change in the number of bales ginned despite the fact that bad weather has prevailed. Up to Saturday night there had been a total of 5522 bales ginned. Seed has been selling at $11.00 per ton. The present crop will more than likely be gathered by Dec. 15, if weather conditions are favorable, in this community. The freezing weather of last Saturday night and Sunday morning put a stop to the late gardens. So it's up to us to go the "can"

Miss Day came in from work in a great hurry to be off to Lubbock and it was a job to get her to agree to take time to eat supper. After considerable urging she was prevailed on to eat at least just a bite and when she was ushered to the dining room and saw what it was all about it was about as hard to get her away from the table as it was to get her to it. WINTER WEATHER STRIKES PLAINS FOR FIRST TIME

Wintry weather has prevailed here its the entire week. The blizzard which swept the north plains Sunday was not so severe here, the minimum temperatures barely reaching the freezing point. Very little ice has been seen but the damp, cold weather has been very unpleasant. Cotton gathering has been almost complete-ly stopped and many of the cotton pickers are returning to their home in other parts of the state. A little rain, sleet and snow have fallen at intervals during the week but hardly enough to register. This is the first real winter spell of the

> SUNDAY IS LOYALTY DAY AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday has been designated as Loyalty Day at the First Baptist Church of Tahoka. It is planned to have a great attendance at the Sunday School. Every member of every class is urged to be present Sunday morning at 9:45. Parents are re quested to come and bring the children, which is much better than sending them. There are classes for all ages. Efficient department superintendents and teachers for every department and class.

A great Men's Bible Class meets in the English Theatre every Sunday morning. A fine fellowship permeates this class. A splendid musical program precedes the teaching of the lesson. This class has a quarthe courthouse door in lanoka, Lynn alrs. W. A. Brown of Brady is tet which renders a number each here visiting her sister, Mrs. Jess Sunday morning. en or eight other peace officers while in Lamesa, as a precautionary matter. Immediately after sentence was pronounced, the sheriff and his deputy left with the prisoner for Huntsville, where he was to be kept in the death cell pending his execution, which Judge McGuire set for Friday, January 8.

McKee was convicted by a jury and given the death penalty upon a trial for murder several months ago, the murder having been committed by him in perpetrating the robbery of a filling station at Sparenburg a few weeks prior to the trial. Mr. Billingsley, a business man of the village, upon being notified that a hijacker was holding up the filling station across the street, procured his gun and went to the aid of the victim of the robbery. He was shot down and killed by the hi-jacker, however, who made his escape. Mc-Kee was later apprehended, tried and convicted. Upon receiving the death penalty, his attorneys appealed the case but it was affirmed by the court of criminal appeals. A motion for a new hearing was overruled and the judgment assessing the death penalty was made final.

It is believed that this is the first death penalty ever assessed on the South Plains. The defendant in this case was not a resident of this section but merely came here to perpetrate his crime.

house here, Gus Blair and Miss Bessie Taylor of the Gordon community were wed. County Judge G. C. Grider performed the ceremony.

On Saturday, a marriage license was also issued to Edwin Stone and Miss Florence Meeks of the New Lynn community. Returns on this licence had not been received by the county clerk when he gave us this information.

Buster Harris and Miss Thelma Young of O'Donnell procured their marriage license on Sunday. No returns had been made on this license when we intedviewed the county olerk.

We might suggest that there are a number of eligibles right here in Tabeka, some of them having their habitat right in the court house. Dan Cupid should be informed of this situation, if he does not already know about it, and he should be importuned to get busy and do his full duty.

THE FIRST THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

and appointed its committee to wait on the President. The joint committee was made up of Ralph Izard of South Carolina, and William S. Johnsoff of Connecticut, from the Senate; Elias Bourdinot, of New Jersey, Roger Sherman, of Connecticut, and Peter Sylvester, of New York, from the House.

Washington complied with the request, and on October 3, 1789, issued his proclamation, calling for a National day of Thanksgiving on Thursday, November 26.

And then the document dropped out of sight. It apparently was misplaced or attached to some private papers in the process of moving official records from one city to another when the Capital was changed. However, it happened, the original manuscript was not in the official archives until 1921, when Dr. J. C. Fritzpatrick, then Assistant Chief of the Manuscripts Division of the Library of Congress, and now Editor of the forthcoming George Washington Bicentennial Commission series of Washington's Writings, "found" the proclamation. It was at an auction sale being held in the American Art Galleries of New York City. Dr. Fitzpatrick, an expert in Washington, examined the document and found it to be authentic. It was written in long hand by William Jackson, Ssecretary to President Washington at the time, and was signed in Washington's hold hand. Dr. Fitzpatrick purchased the document for $300.00 for the Library of Congress, where it is now kept as a treasure. And no amount of money could remove it.

The original Proclamation of Thanksgiving, and, indeed, the first Presidential proclamation ever issued in the United States, reads as follows:

"By the President of the United States of America.

"Whereas, it is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey his will, to be grateful of his benefits, and humbly implore his protection and favor-and, Whereas both Houses of Congress have by their joint committee requested me 'to recommend to the People of the United States a day of public thanksgiving and prayer, to be observed by acknowledging with grateful hearts the many signal favors of Almighty God, especially by affording them an opportunity to establish a form of government for their

"Now, therefore, I do recommend and assign Thursday, the 26th day of November next, to be devoted by the People of these States to the service of that great and glorious Being who is the beneficient Author of all the good that was, that is, or that will be-That we may then all unite in rendering unto him our sincere and humble thanks-for his kind care and protection of the People of this country previous to their becoming a Nation-for the signal and manifold mercies and favorable interpositions of his providence which we experienced in the course and conclusion of the late war .for the great degree of tranquility, union, and plenty, which we have since enjoyed-for the peaceable and rational manner in which we have been enabled to establish constitutions of government for our safety and happiness, and particularly the national One now lately instituted-for the civil and religious liberty with which we are blessed and the means we have of acquiring and diffusing useful knowledge; and, in general, for all the great and various favors which he hath been pleased to confer upon us.

"And also that we may then unite in most humbly offering our prayers and supplications to the great Lord and Ruler of Nations and besee h him to pardon our national and other transgressions-to enable us all, whether in public or private stations, to perform our several and relative duties properly and punctually-to render our national government a blessing to all the People by constantly being a Government of wise, just, and constitutional laws, discretely and faithfully executed and obeyed-to protect and guide all Sovereigns and Nations (especially such as have shown kindness to as), and to bless them with good Government, peace, and concord. To promote the knowledge and practice of true religion and virtue, and the increase of science among them and us and generally to grant unto all mankind such a degree of temporal prosperity as he alone knows "Given under my hand at the City of New York the third day of October in the year of our Lord 1789.
