Plow From The Burleson Grain Company

The whole day Wednesday was consumed in the trial in the district court of Henry Reed, who was charged with the theft of a doublerow lister planter, valued at $150, from the Burleson Grain Company. Soon after supper the jury returned a verdict of guilty assessing the punishment at confinement in the penitentiary for two years.

There are other cases pending against Reed. He has been a citizen of Lynn county for many years and is well known throughout a large portion of the county. He was represented on the trial by G. E. Lockhart and Tom Garrard of Lubbock. District Attorney T. L. Price was assisted by County Attorney G. H. Nelson. The case was bitterly contested from start to finish.

A Tool The Devil Wants To Keep

It was once announced that the Devil was going out of business, and would offer all of his tools for sale to anyone who would pay the price. On the night of the sale they were all attractively displayed, and a bad looking lot they were.

Malice, hatred, jealousy, sensuality, envy, and deceit, and all other implements of evil were spread out, each marked with its price.

Apart from the rest lay a harmless-looking wedge shaped tool, much worn and priced higher than any of them.

Someone asked the Devil what it was.

"That's Discouragement," he replied.

"Why have you priced it so high?"

"Because," replied the Devil, "it is more useful to me than any of the others. I can pry open and get inside a man's consciousness with that when I could not get near him with any of the others; and when once inside, I can use him in whatever way suits me best. It is much worn because I have used it with nearly everybody, and very few yet know it belongs to ME!

It hardly need be added that the Devil's price for Discouragement was so high that it was never sold.

He still owns it, and is STILL USING IT!

Let The Lynn County News carry your sales message to the public. Business is just what YOU make it.
