Cotton ginning seems to be about a thing of the past for this season as one day more ginning is expected to wind up the crop.

At a recent meeting of the trustees, A. L. Faubion, who is serving his sixth successful term as superintendent, was re-elected for the 1932-'33 term. Although he has not yet accepted the place for the coming year up to this time it is hoped that he will do so. The Wilson school has always been one of the best and has made great progress through the untiring efforts of the present superintendent and his associates as well as those of the past. It has become one of the highest rated schools of its size we know of.

Wilson played 25 games the past basketball season, winning 16. Leroy Crews scored a total of 263 points for the year. Olen Crews played the greatest number of minutes, 768 out of a possible 800. Harold Key was elected captain for the year 1932-'33 to succeed Leroy Crews. Prospects are much brighter for the coming year than they were the past one, as there will be five letter men and plenty of reserve strength returning. Captain Crews is the only one lost by graduation.

New Lynn

Once again Spring seems to be here. We are in hopes Spring is here to stay. Sandstorms are visiting us practically every day now. But we can endure this rather than the cold icy weather we have had in the past.

Our community is getting back to normal again in health. All school pupils are in school again.

The churches reported fine services over the week end. Rev. Thurston of Wilson, pastor of the Methodist Church, filled his regular appointment Sunday afternoon at 3:30. MRS. STEWART HOSTESS TO PHEBE K. WARNER CLUB

Mrs. G. M. Stewart was hostess to the Phebe K. Warner Club Friday afternoon in the American Legion home.

After Mrs. H. A. Maasen, secretary had read the minutes, each member answered the roll call with "some needed law for Texas".

Mrs. E. E. Callaway, president, told of the newly organized Junior Study Club, and announced that Mrs. Jim Burleson would represent the Phebe K. Warner Club as sponsor of the new organization, which will be made up of young ladies of the community. The organization was to have been completed Saturday at the home of Miss Jeanette Caveness with Mrs. W. P. Avriett of Lamesa, District Chairman of the Junior Organization, assisting.

Mrs. W. B. Slaton read a few very interesting items on the Junior organization's work from the Federated News.

Very interesting and informative papers were read by Mrs. W. L. Burleson and Mrs. Maasen, respectively, on "Legal Status of Women in Texas" and "Laws Governing Child Labor in Texas".

A talk much enjoyed by the Club was that of Judge C. H. Cain on "The Process of Law-Making and Outstanding New Laws in Texas".

After singing "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You", the Club adjourned to meet next on March 25th, when Mrs. Larkin Weathers will act as hostess.—Reporter.

JUNIOR CLUB ORGANIZED BY PHEBE WARNER CLUB

A group consisting of eight young ladies met at Mrs. Caveness' home on Saturday under the direction of Mrs. E. E. Callaway and organized a club to be known as the "Les Savontes" Junior Club.

The purpose of this Club shall be to inspire and develop in its members a greater educational interest and to strengthen the ties of friendship and club life that shall exist among the young women of Tahoka.

After the meeting was called to order the following officers were elected and appointed, with Mrs. Jim Burleson unanimously accepted as Club sponsor: President, Miss Jeanette Caveness; vice president, Miss El Fleda Harrison; secretary-treasurer, Miss Lillamae Reid; corresponding secretary, Miss Hazel Connolly; parliamentarian, Miss Nelson; and reporter, Miss Mabel Lee.

The program committee was also appointed, consisting of Miss Childs, Miss Anglin, and Miss Lee.

A delightful salad course and tea were served after the meeting to the following charter members: Misses Hazel Connolly, Mabel Lee, Nelson, Anglin, Childs, Harrison, Lillamae Reid, and Jeanette Caveness.

The Les Savontes Club will meet with Miss Anglin on Friday, March 25, to make further plans and to continue the club work.—Reporter.

NEW LYNN WOMEN HEAR LECTURE ON WARDROBES

We should build closets in which to keep our clothes. Some are very easily and cheaply made of Post Toasties' cartons and one inch lathes. There should be shelves on either side with rods across on which to hang the garments. This is very important, says Miss El Fleda Harrison, home demonstration agent.

One seventh of our income is the maximum amount that should go for clothing. This is in order that clothing may have a place in our income. There should be harmony in the wardrobe of the well dressed woman; by keeping this in mind it is easy to be neatly dressed on very little money. A nice list of clothing is: One-laced coat, a two piece suit one nice dress, maybe cotton print, sweater, three neighborhood dresses, two sheer and of print or gingham two house dresses, two smocks, two slips, one of cotton and the other of flat crepe or non-clip, never rayon, two gowns, four pair of underwear, one felt hat, one straw, one pair of low heeled shoes, maybe straps or oxfords, one pair dress shoes with shaped heels, four pair cotton hose, two pair silk hose, six handkerchiefs, one pair cotton gloves. Now keep in mind that the accessories make or mar the dress.

These were some of the points brought out by Miss Harrison at the New Lynn Club meeting. Those presents were: Visitors, Miss Myrtle Murray, Miss Alice Church, Mrs. C. P. Church, Mrs. W. A. Roberts, Mrs. J. R. Speed, members, Mrs. T. Jones Mrs. F. S. Barton, Mrs. C. W. Kriebbs, Mrs. J. A. Jaynes, Mrs. Jim Wetsel, Mrs. Lee Fay Cook, Mrs. Henry Higginbotham, Mrs. Susie Bartley, Miss May Levacy, and Miss Harrison.

Visitors are invited to the next meeting which will be at the club house April 5. The subject will be: How to show.—Reporter.

REPORT AT WACO, HAS JOE BOVELL DEAD

Joe Bovell knows what his friends will say about him when he kicks off—at least some of them. Through an error made by a mutual friend a few days ago, Frank Weaver down at Waco got the news that Joe was dead. He and Joe had been bosom friends for years, and so after Frank recovered sufficiently from his first big bawl he sat down and wrote Mrs. Bovell a letter of sympathy and censure the like of which you never read. He sympathized with her in her great loss, of course, but bawled her out for not notifying him of Joe's sickness and death. It was Joe Boswell of some place and not Joe Bovell who had died.

Mrs. John Falford underwent an operation in a sanitarium in Lubbock Thursday but was able to return home Saturday. She is improving slowly.

James Trussell has enrolled in Draughon's Business College at Lubbock for a bookkeeping course.

Error In Ad!

In the M-System Store's ad, to be found on the last page, The News force made an error in quoting the special price on corn for Friday and Saturday. The ad should read "3 cans standard No. 2 cans of Corn for 25c", whereas the ad reads so as to leave the impression of one can for 25c.

INDUSTRY SEES HOPEFUL SIGNS, BANKERS TOLD

Leading Automobile Unit Expects to Employ More Men This Winter Than Last

MOTOR SUPPLY IN HANDS OF PUBLIC FALLING OFF

Twelve Million Years Less Transportation in Nation's Car Inventory Than Considered Normal, Manufacturer Tells Financiers

ESTIMATING that transportation in the form of automobiles now in the hands of the American public is twelve million "car-years" below normal, and that this deficit will eventually have to be made up, Richard H. Grant, vice president of the General Motors Corporation, recently told the American Bankers Association convention that employment in his company may be greater this winter than last year.

"Employment during the winter months is a very important thing," Mr. Grant said. "So far as our corporation is concerned, in November, December, January and February we will be employing at least as many and probably more men than we did this past year."

In order to gauge the outlook for next year's market, his corporation, he said, attempts to set up sales indices based on intensive scientific studies in addition to observation and common sense.

"We are in the habit of looking upon an automobile not merely as an automobile but as transportation," he said. "We figure each automobile produced as six years of transportation. Then by following up records of production yearly, we get a graph which indicates what ought to be a normal inventory of transportation in the hands of the American people, and whether there are more or less miles than might be expected. According to our figures, there are about twelve million years less transportation in this inventory at the present time than has been considered normal since 1925."

The Outlook for Business

"Consequently, if we retain the same purchasing power in this country, it is quite evident that on the first upturn of business there will be a rush to replace that inventory. In developing this graph, it has come out very strongly that every third year is a big automobile year. The biggest automobile year was 1929 when 4,100,000 cars were produced for American consumption. This year the industry will produce somewhere between 1,800,000 and 1,900,000 cars. As 1932 is three years after 1929, if economic conditions were normal we could be sure we would do a tremendous business, because the third year is the time when the bulk of the replacing takes place."

He added that there are factors at work that make it uncertain how big the year will be, instancing that "money is being hoarded from lack of confidence and this takes away some purchasing power that we would otherwise have, while family budgets are being cut on account of changes in income conditions, which again means that purchasing power for the automobile, like a good many other things, will be knocked down." As a result, he said, it was necessary to measure what statistically would be a big year against a practical consideration of the curtailment of expenditures which is going on and determine how big the year will be under these circumstances.

"From a long haul standpoint, regardless of how many automobiles are sold in 1932, we are storing up a big business for the future," Mr. Grant said. "There will be fewer automobiles sold in 1931 than will go to the scrap heap. With 12,000,000 car-years out of the inventory, nine percent more gasoline was used up to August 1, 1931, than was used in 1930. With fewer automobiles, the people must have been running them faster and longer to consume the additional gasoline. This means that we have some 22,000,000 people working hard to make a fine business for our industry when there is an economic recovery."

No False Optimism

"I am not attempting to create any false optimism—I am not speaking without a statistical background. Using the best sense we can, we have drawn conclusions from the figures we have, and I am willing to make the statement that as far as the conduct of our business for the first half of 1932 is concerned, we shall set the indices somewhat higher than the actualities of 1931. We are willing to set our advertising budgets and our selling expense on that kind of indices. With economic conditions as they are, and since the obsolescence is so great and we have sunk so low in this year's sales, we figure that the first half of 1932 must necessarily be better than was the first half of 1931."

Chief Justice Hughes In Tribute to Red Cross

One of the finest tributes ever paid the American Red Cross and its membership was that by Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, of the United States Supreme Court, on the occasion of the fiftieth birthday anniversary of the organization on May 21 of this year. Mr. Hughes said:

"The American Red Cross represents the united voluntary effort of the American people in the ministry of mercy. It is the finest and most effective expression of the American heart. It knows no partisanship. In the perfection of its cooperation, there is no blemish of distinctions by reason of race or creed or political philosophy."

"However...we may differ in all things else, in the activities of the Red Cross we are a united people. None of our boasted industrial enterprises surpasses it in efficiency. It moves with the precision and the discipline of an army to achieve the noblest of human aims."

"The American Red Cross is not only first in war but first in peace. The American people rely upon its ministrations in every great catastrophe. It has given its aid in over one thousand disasters. When, as we hope, war will be no more, still the Red Cross, in the countless activities of relief and rehabilitation, will continue to function as the organized compassion of our country."

American air-transport lines in 1930 carried 385,910 passengers, an increase of 188 per cent over 1929.
