AGGIE TEAMS VISIT A. & M.

Participate In State Judging Events
And See Many Sights For Their First Time

Taylor White teacher of Agriculture in the high school here, and eleven members of his classes returned Friday night from their trip to the A. & M. College, where the boys participated in the judging contests in poultry, dairying and farm shop.

There were 1800 boys from the various sections of this state at College Station participating in the various contests and while our boys did not win any first places yet they made a most creditable showing. Mr. White declared, and he was well pleased with their work there.

Tahoka was represented by three teams and two supernumeraries, the personnel of the group being as follows: Carl Nowlin, Sylvester Reese, Keith Kemp, Kenneth Reid, Cleveland Littlepage, Guy Bulman, Woodrow Walker, Hoyt Welch, Hoyt Williamson, J. W. Fortenberry and Bob Caveness.

A few of the number had made a previous trip to the A. & M. but to most of the boys it was an entirely new and novel experience. Mr. White says that the boys had a wonderful time, both at College Station and en route to and from that place. Fishing and swimming were the diversions they engaged in near College Station and at various streams between that place and Tahoka.

The streams and the timber are always interesting to boys reared on the plains, and Mr. White says that some of the boys kept him busy telling them the names of various trees that they saw along the route. Some of them had never before seen a pecan tree, for instance.

Mr. White and the boys made the trip in his car and a trailer attached.

We asked for two sets of baby clothes last week and they have been supplied. Many thanks for this.

We need lard, soap, and some clothes or shirts for a 13-year old boy, size of shirt about 14 or 14 1/2, and some low heeled shoes for girl about 12 years old, size 4 or 4 1/2. We need $75.00 in cash to finally complete the work this year, so if you can give this it will be appreciated.

We have had no donations from the National Red Cross this year, except to buy some seed potatoes and onion sets, garden seed and flour; and the only cash we have had to operate on was the one-half of the Roll Call money.

L. Parker and Deputy John Bulman and placed in jail here. He waived requisition papers and agreed to come without any contest.

J. M. Bradshaw, who had previously been arrested and charged with participation in the robbery, is still in jail here.

Boy Scout Meet Goes To Lamesa

At a meeting of the executive board of the southern district of the Boy Scouts, held here last Friday night, it was decided to hold the second annual field meet of the boy scouts of this district at Lamesa on June 2 and 3. A district court of honor will also be held there on the night of June 2.

This meet was held in Tahoka last year and was a very pronounced success. Representatives were here Friday night from Slaton, Post, Lamesa, O'Donnell and Tahoka, and the invitation of Lamesa was unanimously accepted.

Miss Rutland Hurt In Car Accident

Miss Ethel Rutland received slight injuries to the scalp in a car accident that occurred Tuesday morning at the intersection of Main and Lockwood streets near the St. Clair Hotel.

In seeking to clear the way for a car coming south on Main Street, Dr. C. B. Townes, who was in his car going east at this point, failed to see Miss Rutland's car, which was going north, until too close to it to avoid a collision. She received a scalp wound which required several stitches to close. Dr. Townes himself dressing and sewing up the wound.

The car which Miss Rutland was driving was badly damaged. One wheel being broken, one fender bent, and the body of the car itself knocked into a mis-shapen condition.

Dr. Townes' car was also considerably damaged. He was uninjured.

Simmons Singers In Concert Here

The Simmons University Choral Club gave a program in the high school auditorium here Monday night that was much enjoyed by a fair-sized audience. In addition to choruses and other vocal numbers, there were some violin numbers that were very fine. The party consisted of twenty-seven members.

Following the program at the high school, a number of the visitors were entertained with dancing in the St. Clair Hotel.

New Ford Car Is Shown In Tahoka

Mrs. H. A. Maassen, representing the Phebe K. Warner Club, and Miss Lilliam Reid, Les Saventes Club, left Monday for Canadian, where they are attending the annual convention of the Seventh District of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs in session Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

FIFTY-FOUR YEARS OF PIONEERING ON THE PLAINS OF TEXAS

Jack Alley, 75, Tahoka hotel owner, has resided on the Plains of Texas longer than any citizen, living or dead. He came to Crosby county in 1878, a few months after Hank Smith helped establish the first real ranch on the Plains. He worked with the Slaughter family, cattle barons of the Southwest for nearly 40 years. He has handled more cattle than any living man, having at one time had charge of 50,000 head. He drove one of the first herds that ever crossed the Plains. He was general manager of the second largest ranch this section ever had. He covered 40 miles wide, 80 miles long. He took part in an Indian fight in Lynn county in '79, the story of which has never before been published. He knew old Fort Griffin in its wildest days. He and also Estacado when it was the "Hub of the Plains" and boasted a college. He knew Old Man Singer, whose store on the Yellowhouse was here before Lubbock was dreamed of. He remembers names, places, and dates almost perfectly.

Ride with Jack Alley, in this true story, out into the Old West; visit its wild and woolly towns when the nearest railroad was at Fort Worth; ride range, drive cattle, and eat at the chuck wagon with him; hunt for water holes when your throat is dry; fight Indians, visit the buffalo camps, and give chase to Mustang ponies and antelope.

Jack Alley's experiences tell a story of 54 years of ranching history on the Plains of Texas, much of which history has never before appeared in print. The series of stories starts in this week's Lynn County News and in next Sunday's Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

Give Monuments For Confederates

If there are any Confederate veterans buried here whose graves are unmarked, it may be of interest to members of their families that the War Department at Washington will erect a monument at the head of the grave free of charge. Recently, Mrs. Gladys M. Stokes made application to this Department for a monument to mark the grave of her grandfather, George W. Harrison, whose remains are buried here, and her application was readily granted. A neat but comparatively inexpensive marble monument is now to be found at the head of the grave—the only one of its kind in our cemetery. It bears the following simple inscription: Geo. W. Harrison, Co. F, 34 Tex. Cav., C. S. A.

Baptist Meeting Closed Sunday

The revival services came to a close at the Baptist Church Sunday night, the revival preacher, Rev. Bob Day of Big Spring, having returned to his home Saturday morning.

The campaign resulted in seventeen additions to the church, a number of which are by baptism, and the ordinance is to be administered next Sunday night. Nearly every service was largely attended and the discourses brought by the evangelist were most interesting and helpful.

The pastor, Rev. O. J. Hull, filled the pulpit Sunday morning, while G. S. Hopkins, a layman of Dallas, head of the Baptist Sunday School work in Texas, spoke at the evening service.

Miss Collenback And Carrol Grissom Wed

Miss Reta Lois Collenback and Carrol Grissom were married in Lovington, New Mexico, Monday morning. They were accompanied by the bride's sister, Mrs. Dovie Anderson of Abilene, who is here visiting.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Collenback, who have been residents of this city many years, and she was reared here. Mr. Grissom has been employed at the Limit the past year or more, his parents being residents of Lubbock.

Many friends here are wishing these young people a long and happy married life.

Mr. Satterwhite, who has served in the Texas Legislature for fourteen years, plans to personally conduct his campaign. He will not give a formal opening address, but is to make his first speech in this campaign at Wortham within the next few days.

Highway 9 Will Be Re-Surveyed

Announcement was made from Lubbock last week to the effect that highway No. 9 is to be resurveyed through Lynn county. Nobody in Tahoka, however, seems to have any definite information about it. Many people are wondering whether the old highway will be followed except as to some minor changes or whether some radical changes will be made. It is believed that the old highway will be followed mainly except in the vicinity of Tahoka. All sharp turns near Tahoka will probably be eliminated and it is possible that the course of the highway through town will be changed entirely.

Work on the resurvey was scheduled to begin this week, it was stated.

Ten Attend KFYO Station's Opening

Raymond Weathers was spokesman for Tahoka over the new KFYO radio station at the big opening festivities held in that city Monday night. The other Tahoka citizens say that Raymond made a jumb-up good speech, as he always does on such occasions, and that they felt very proud of his oratorical, mental, and physical effort.

Others from Tahoka who sat at the banquet table and had the privilege of announcing their names and addresses over the new station were: W. B. Slaton, J. K. Applewhite, L. C. Haney, Bill Burleson, E. H. Boulloun, Buster Fenton, Oscar Roberts, A. D. Sanders, and Dr. L. E. Turrentine.

We are not advised at the time of going to press as to Mrs. Hodges' present condition. Mr. and Mrs. Hodges resided near Tahoka for a number of years.

Holding Series Of S. S. Meetings

A Sunday School Revival is being held in many of the churches in the Brownfield Baptist Association this week under the direction of G. S. Hopkins of Dallas, head of the work in Texas.

R. E. Key, Baptist S. S. Superintendent here is conducting a course in Brownfield. He spoke in the church there Sunday morning and evening.

Courses are also being conducted in O'Donnell, Meadow, Ropes, and possibly other places in the association.

Pastor O. J. Hull of this city and Mr. G. S. Hopkins of Dallas were scheduled to speak in the First Baptist Church in Lubbock Wednesday night.

Miss Erwin Married To Claude Williams

Miss Marguerite Erwin and Claude Williams, who reside near Central Church east of Tahoka, went over to Lovington, New Mexico, last week end, procured a marriage license, had the nuptial knot tied in the most approved fashion, and came back to Tahoka as husband and wife.

They are popular young people of their community and have the best wishes of hosts of friends.

HEAVY RAINS COVER COUNTY

Ground Placed In Excellent Shape For Spring Planting By Needed Downpours

Copious rains fell throughout Lynn county Tuesday and Wednesday nights. The rainfall seemed to be heavier in Tahoka and vicinity than most other places reporting. The rainfall here Tuesday night amounted to .62 of an inch, which was increased to .63 by a fine mist which fell during the day Wednesday. On Wednesday night soon after dark there was a terrific downpour amounting to 1.28 inches, most of which fell within a period of 20 or 30 minutes.

New Home reports about one and a half inches on the two nights, estimated. Draw reports about the same amount. Grassland reports possibly an inch. Crossroads Filling Station eight miles north of Tahoka reports a little more than an inch. Midway reports possibly an inch and a half. O'Donnell and Wilson both received good rains, and it is believed the entire county was well covered.

Just as soon as the soil dries sufficiently now, every farmer will be busy planting. Many had planted part of their crops already. Quite a good deal of feed and some cotton had been planted. In fact some corn and maize were already up on the sandy lands, but most of this had been destroyed or badly damaged by the sandstorms that have prevailed during the present month.

There was already a good underground season and this rain puts the soil in ideal condition for planting. Crop prospects just at the present are very fine.

Women's Club Presents Play

To carry out the regular program on Texas playwrights, members of the Phebe K. Warner Club, under the able direction of Mrs. Tunnell, produced as a special feature a one-act play entitled "Mr. Glint", in the high school auditorium last Friday afternoon. This play was written by Miss Rebecca W. Smith, professor of English at Texas Christian University.

The cast of characters was as follows: Mr. Glint, the Spiritualist, Mrs. Frank Hill; Mrs. Glint, his wife, Mrs. M. C. Finch; Mynette Wickham, flapper in love with Mr. Glint, Mrs. Jim Burleson; Mrs. Allen, a rich client, Mrs. R. W. Fenton Jr.; Miss Scroggum, spinster school teacher, Mrs. Larkin Weathers. Time: the present. Place: the dingy unkept parlor of the Glints.

Each member of the cast starred in her part. Mrs. Frank Hill very ably portrayed Mr. Glint, a fake spiritualist, who "can't read a pretty girl's hand without holding it". In every detail Mrs. Hill was indeed an artist.

Mrs. Milton Finch capably depicted Mrs. Glint, the shrewish wife, who made it her business to mind off all the really pretty girls. So Mr. Glint could support herself and the three little Glints.

Mynette Wickham, whose father owns Main Street property and buys her limousines, falls desperately in love with Mr. Glint and manages to have clandestine meetings with the famous psychologist, Mrs. Jim Burleson starred in this part.

Mrs. R. W. Fenton Jr. is cast in the role of the newly rich as a result of oil. With great gusto Mrs. Fenton acts splendidly her part of dame, "fat with a fat full of diamonds".

In contrast with this character is the timid old maid who seeks Mr. Glint's advice in regard to school matters. This part was wonderfully portrayed by Mrs. L. E. Weathers, who hated to have the name of Miss Scroggum, the South Side school teacher, associated with spiritualism.

The audience gave unmistakable evidence that it greatly enjoyed this play. In fact, many of them declared that it was the best program of its kind that had ever been presented in Tahoka.—Reported.

Texas annually consumes 3,500,000 hogs, but imports 2,500,000 of them either on foot or as a finished packing product.

LOCKHART GIVES VIEWS ON HIGHWAY POLICY

Judge G. E. Lockhart, candidate for the state senate, was a caller at the News office Friday and gave his views respecting the highway policy of this state. He believes that the time has come when the state highway commission should proceed to the completion of a state system of highways without the aid of the county or local funds. No county should be required to vote bonds as a prerequisite to the building of highways through the county, he maintains. For instance, he thinks that the state should proceed to the paving or hard-surfacing of highway
No. 9 through Lynn, Dawson, Howard, and other counties without requiring these counties to first vote bonds to assist in the work. He will favor some kind of an enactment by the next legislature requiring the highway commission to adopt this policy of completing a state system of highways without requiring further bond issues.

Furthermore, he believes that state funds should not be used in such projects as the building of a cut-off on the Bankhead highway near Weatherford, as is being proposed, as long as there is so much unpaved cardinal highways in Texas.
He would have this alleged abuse of power corrected.

He also voiced his opposition to any proposal to use state funds to pay either the principal or interest on bonds heretofore voted by counties until a state system of hard-surfaced highways shall have been completed. The counties, such as Lynn, that have never voted highway bonds and have had no paving or hard surfacing done within their borders, he points out, have nevertheless been assisting, through the gasoline tax, in the building of highways in the counties that have voted bonds. He believes that cardinal highways that pass through these counties should be paved or hard-surfaced by the state, and after this is done then it may be proper to consider some proposal to relieve the bonded counties, but not before then.

"If I am elected to the Senate," Judge Lockhart stated, "I will favor legislation that will require the State to complete highway No. 9
and other main highways in this state without requiring any county
to vote bonds."

It seems to us that Judge Lockhart is eminently correct on these propositions. If the state waits for some of the counties through which cardinal highways pass to vote bonds before undertaking to complete the highways through these counties,
then a completed system of highways in this state will never be built. There is no more prospect of a highway bond issue being voted in Lynn county, for instance, than there is of a Lynn county man being elected President of the United States. Yet, highway No. 9 is an important thoroughfare in this state and should be hard-surfaced from one end to the other. The same statement could be truly made with respect to some of the other main highways in this state.

We think that Judge Lockhart is on the right track in this highway business, and regardless of who may be elected to the senate, we hope that his ideas may be crystallized into law—or at least into the settled policy of the highway commission in this state.

The supreme court of Texas has held that the State Democratic Executive Committee had the legal right to prescribe the pledge which it recently decided to exact of every person offering to participate in the precinct and county conventions of the party. This pledge would bind the participants to vote for the Democratic electors for President next November whoever the nominee might be. The decision was rendered in a suit brought by Tom Love of Dallas, who sought to have the action of the committee nullified on the ground that it had no legal right to exact such a pledge. We believe that the decision of the court is correct. We think the committee had the legal right to prescribe the test.
We do not think that it had a moral right to do so and we feel that it was adopting a narrow, vindictive, and idiotic policy when it determined to prescribe this pledge. Many of the best Democrats in the country will go into the conventions, take the pledge, and then vote as their con-sciences dictate in the Fall, as they will have a legal and moral right to do. Other Democrats who have done just as much for the party and for their country as any member of the committee will feel impelled under the circumstances to stay away from the conventions. The foolish action of the committee will not help the Democratic party in this state.

lobampo, Mexican port on the Pacific side, is projected.

Hard On Automobilists

Governor Campbell last week signed the bill regulating the use of automobiles in the state of Texas. The bill fixes eighteen miles an hour as the maximum speed at which automobiles may be run in the country, and eight miles in town, unless the rate should be made different by municipal ordinance. Every owner of an automobile shall register with the clerk of the county in which he resides, and the automobile must be numbered, the figures to be six inches tall. A registration fee of 50 cents is to be charged. Racing is prohibited on a highway. The bill requires every driver of an automobile to stop when the driver of a horse vehicle signals for him to do so. The penalty for any violation of the law is a fine of from $5.00 to $100.00. It becomes effective ninety days after the adjournment of the regular session.

More than forty-seven and one-half

MISS MADDOX ENTERTAINS LES SAVANTES CLUB

Les Savantes Club members met in Miss Charline Maddox's home last Friday evening for their regular club meeting.

Several business matters were attended to immediately after the meeting was called to order including final arrangement of sending our delegate, Miss Lillamaie Reid, to the convention at Canadian, beginning Monday, April 26.

A brief program followed consisting of a xylophone and piano duet by Mabel Lee and Hazel Connolly, a reading given by Virginia Sanford, and finally a vocal solo rendered by the hostess, Charline Maddox.

The president, Miss Jeanette Caviness, then introduced one of our visitors, Mrs. Averitt from Lamesa, who is head of the Federated Clubs in this section of the district. She made a very impressive talk, giving her listeners several pointers on how to become efficient and successful club members, and assuring the members that she was most willing to help them in every way possible to achieve this goal.

Delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to the following members: Misses Jeanette Caviness, El Fieda Harrison, Floy Anglin, Virginia Sanford, Hazel Connolly, Fern Aycox, Mabel Lee, Charline Maddox, the hostess, and Mrs. Imogene Burlison, the club sponsor. The visitors were Mrs. Averitt and Mrs. Lindsey from Lamesa, Mrs. Dr. Callaway, senior club president, and Mrs. W. B. Slaton, who has recently been made sponsor of the young married women's study club.

A call meeting was ordered for Friday, April 29th, to be held at Miss Connolly's, after which the meeting adjourned.—Reporter.

MORGAN H. D. CLUB HELD MEETING ON APRIL 26TH

The Morgan H. D. Club met in regular meeting Tuesday, April 26, at the home of Edna Voight, bedroom demonstrator for the Morgan Club.

The demonstration was over-stuffing of chairs. Edna rescued a shabby rocker from discard and Miss El Fieda Harrison, county home demonstration agent, made it into an attractive and comfortable rocker. Chintz to match the portiere of the window was the material used for covering. Excelsior and cotton were used as stuffing. "Cotton when used alone will knot down and become hard, but cotton may be used on top of the other stuffing", stated Miss Harrison.

The stuffing was spread out thick, making a mound of stuffing in the seat space, and on top was placed a layer of cotton batting; then the covering was placed and tacked down. The back of the chair was handled in the same way as the seat. The bottom of the cover was finished with a deep pleated ruffle. In this way the chair was transformed into a modern piece of furniture for the bedroom.

Those present were: Visitors, Serena Gully, Edna and Selma Voight, Mollie Cato, Jessie Jernigan, Ermyne and Thelma Blevins, Alpha and Mildred Perdue, Helen and Mildred Bartlett, Ouida Thompson, Pauline Massey and Vernita Breiger.—Reporter.

Mrs. O. J. Hull and Mrs. H. P. Caviness left this afternoon for Plainview to attend a district meeting of the W. M. U. in session in that city today and Friday. Mrs. Caviness is Mission Study chairman and Mrs. Hull is Young People's leader.

DIXIE LEADERSHIP COURSE WAS WELL ATTENDED

Beginning Sunday evening, April 17th, a Leadership Training Course was held at the Dixie Methodist Church by Rev. J. Noland Hester of Draw. The course was entitled "Jesus and The Kingdom" and treated of the life of Christ. An average attendance of fifty or fifty-five continued until the close of the class on Friday night.

This was Dixie's first training class work, and the issuing of 30 credits bespeaks their interest as well as the visitors who did not work for credit. Three churches were represented among those taking credit. A pounding and expense offering were given Bro. Hester in appreciation for his services. His discourses were inspiring and practical.

As a suitable closing feature, a "course" of coffee and "sandwiches" was eagerly accepted by all present.—Reporter.

MRS. BOULLION HOSTESS AT BRIDGE CLUB PARTY

The Tuesday Bridge Club was graciously entertained Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Elbert Boullion in her home. Mrs. R. W. Fenton Jr. won high score.

Slaton, E. L. Turrentine, Otho Thomas, Jack Alley, R. W. Fenton Jr., B. H. Robinson, J. H. Powell, Ballou and Leslie.—Reporter.

After the club adjourned, the social committee entertained with some stunts. Cake was served by the hostess.

Our next meeting will be with Mrs. E. S. Tippit Wednesday, April 27th.—Reporter.

SOME DEPRESSIONS WORSE THAN THIS

By ROME C. STEPHENSON
President American Bankers Association

ONE of the most significant aspects of the present business period is that, while we had a speculative panic and while we have had a general economic breakdown yet we have not had any semblance of a financial panic, such as occurred in 1907, and in other years when the credit and monetary machinery broke down and we had money panic, suspension of specie payments and kindred disasters.

None of these elements of a true financial panic has been present in this depression of the 1930's. At no time was the banking structure as a whole shaken, despite the unprecedented rate of small bank failures that it had to absorb. At no time was the banking and credit machinery unable to extend support to the panic-stricken and broken stock markets and cooperation to all kinds of business and manufacturing. Anyone would have been a wise prophet who could have foretold that our banking and credit structure would stand up so well under conditions so bad.

Finance Taking Cuts
And banking and corporate finance in this period of depression are unflinchingly taking their portions of short rations and enforced self-denial that the nation's need for readjustment demands. Interest rates on money, yields on securities and dividends on corporate investment have all dropped to levels that constitute drastic reductions in the compensation of capital. These are but part of the necessary economic readjustments that all phases of the country's working life must go through before a general revival of business activity can start.

It is my belief—indeed it is my hope—that the tempo of the next cycle of prosperity will be somewhat more moderate than the mad whirl of jazz that brought the last one to a close. I think it will be agreed that the worst aspect of the collapse of that period of false prosperity is the condition of insecurity for employment which it caused. Unemployment is our greatest public problem today.

Unemployment is the worst wage cut that the worker can suffer. It is the worst cause of stagnation that business has to strive against. The sooner we can get our masses of workers back into jobs on almost any terms the better it will be both for capital and labor.

Aid for War Veterans

More than 430,000 ex-service men and their families were aided through 3,008 Red Cross Chapters and the national organization during the year ending June 30, 1931. Dependent families were cared for, veterans' claims were filed, hospitalization obtained and many other services given. Part of each contribution during the American Red Cross annual roll call, Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day, goes toward supporting this vital work for veterans of the World War and other wars in which the United States has engaged.

Books for the Blind

Through American Red Cross Chapters, 5,577 volumes of novels, class books and others, transcribed into braille for blind readers, have been added to libraries, in the past year. These books are to be obtained through the Library of Congress and city libraries. This activity, tried on by a great number of devoted women volunteers in Red Cross Chapters, had its inception in preparing books for war-blinded.

F. L. Prater was the victim of a most painful accident a few days ago when one of his fingers was mashed off. A wheel had run off his car and while he was prizing up the axle and endeavoring to place the wheel back in position, the axle slipped on the prize pole and caught his finger. The member was practically severed from the hand but a physician replaced it and bound it up, and it seems to be healing nicely.

Mr. Alexander will continue to publish the paper, Mrs. Campbell of O'Donnell acting as editor. She has been connected with the editorial department of the paper for some time.

Mr. Ritzenthaler will probably return to Missouri, his old home, within the next few weeks. We regret very much to lose him as a neighbor and brother newspaper man, for he is a most excellent gentleman and a very lovable character. Fifty-Four Years Of Pioneering On The Plains Of Texas

Copyright, 1932, by Frank Hill

As Told By Jack Alley
To
Frank P. Hill

INTRODUCTION

Jack Alley, pioneer Lynn county rancher, one of the leading citizens in the organization of Lynn county and of Tahoka, early day postmaster, and present hotel owner, has been on the South Plains for nearly 54 years—longer than any other living citizen.

He first came to the Plains in 1878, the same year that Col. Charles Goodnight was making his permanent location on the North Plains. For many years, he was in the employ of the Slaughter family, cattle barons of the Southwest, and has possibly handled more cattle than any living man.

Though a cowboy of the old school, he grew up in the business. He is a leader in his community and could boast, if he was of that nature, that he has done more in building of the county that has been his home for over thirty-five years than any other one citizen Lynn county has.

Jack Alley, whose real name is John P. Alley, was born in Knoxville, Tennessee, on January 16, 1857. While in the middle teens he quit school and went to work in a bookstore, a work that enabled him to continue his education—which is far better than that of the average man of his age, in spite of the shortness of his school education.

After a year of this work, the lure of the West drew him to Dallas, which was then beginning to boom as the result of the first railroad having built into that city. He arrived in the Texas city late in the summer of 1875 and secured work in the old John S. Jackson bookstore on Main street, where he worked until February, 1876. He pushed on to the extreme frontiers, Palo Pinto county, and immediately went into the employ of the Slaughters, under whom he was to experience many thrilling adventures as a frontier cattleman and to rise from cowboy to wagon boss, trail boss, and finally to general manager of the second largest ranch that ever existed in West Texas, a ranch that at one time grazed approximately 50,000 head of cattle and was forty miles wide by eighty long.

Every section has a history that is more or less interesting and the South Plains is no exception. We have all read both true and fictitious stories of the Old West, but have usually considered them as being typical of some other section. There is no locality in this nation that has been more of a cow country than West Texas. There is no locality that has had so many big cattlemen or grazed as many cattle. No section has had more buffalo than did the Plains. And, there were Indian fights here, too. The Old West we've heard so much about was right here, and we should all know more about the true history of this country.

about which so much fiction has been written, much of which is without historical or fact foundation.

Preceding the development of every section there have been pioneers who blazed the way for the hordes of settlers to follow. These pioneers—brave, fearless, courageous—as they were—in seeking new land to conquer have had to undergo many hardships in order that we may have our spacious lands, towns and conveniences of today.

In our day of rapid transit by automobile, train and airplane, and rapid communication by radio, telephone, mail line and newspaper, we sometimes forget to give just credit to these pioneers who lived in constant danger of Indian raids; who went to town only a few times each year, and when they did, went by ox-wagon, on horseback, or at the best, in a hack; who slept on the ground with a saddle blanket for cover and a saddle for a pillow; who ate sour dough, beef, and molasses and cooked over a fire made of buffalo or cow chips; who seldom saw a newspaper or a magazine.

Jack Alley was one of these men who helped open up the West. He helped, in a small way, to rout the Indians and make this land safe for more settlers. As an employee of big cattlemen, and later as a ranch-owner himself, he took a large hand in developing the cattle industry. He did his part by helping organize one county and one town, and as a land agent influenced many settlers to come to the Plains. He has seen this land that he has loved for over fifty years grow from buffalo grazing grounds to one of the best ranch and farming sections anywhere.

The story of his life is the story of the South Plains and adjoining sections. A few additional facts have been added by the writer to connect up the chain of history, but Mr. Alley's remarkable memory of names, places, events, and dates is responsible for the preservation of most of this story of the early days. Many facts of history recorded in his story have never been published before, and probably never would have otherwise been carried down in the traditions of the South Plains.

Next week Mr. Alley will tell of the early day cattle business and the first ranch on the Plains.

"When I was a girl, I suffered periodically with terrible pains in my back and sides. Often I would bend almost double with the intense pain. This would last for hours and I could get no relief.

"I tried almost everything that was recommended to me, but found nothing that would help until I began taking Cardui. My mother thought it would be good for me, so she got a bottle of Cardui and started me taking it. I soon improved. The bad spells quit coming. I was soon in normal health."

ed to it. The boys made this trailer themselves out of scraps that they picked up here and there, much of it in the junk heaps near Guthrie Lake. It is quite nifty and was well adapted for such a trip.

The party went down through Abilene Eastland, Hico, Waco, and Marlin, and returned via Hearne, Taylor, Austin, Kerrville, San Angelo, and Big Spring. They stopped in Austin and the boys had the pleasure for the first time of seeing the state Capitol. In fact, they went up to the top of the building, even climbing up on the cross bars in the top of the dome, as thousands of boys have done before them. It was a great experience—this trip to the A. & M., and they will not soon forget it.

Youth Shoots Self

The fifteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Terrell started for a hunt last Saturday and a short distance from the house stopped to clean his gun when it was accidentally discharged injuring him very seriously. The muzzle of the small calibre rifle became clogged up and he undertook to blow the dirt out of the gun. The ball struck a tooth, knocking it out. It is believed that the tooth stopping the ball in all probability saved the youth's life. Instead of entering the brain, the ball glanced and imbedded itself in the cheek bone near the nose. He seemingly is getting along fine at this time.

Miss Lela Day Friday night entertained students of her Spanish classes, who had as their guests the Meadow Spanish students and their teacher, Mr. Molechek, and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Faubion and Miss Sallie Beth Wright, Home Ec. teacher. There were about 43 present.

Small Spanish flags were given as favors as the guests arrived, Spanish games were played, then all retired to the auditorium, where the Wilson students entertained with a short play, "Un Norteamericano en Meji-co" given by the second year class. Refreshments of punch and cookies were served.
