J. B. HATCHETT BURIED HERE

Former Citizen, Aged 78, Died In Big Spring Saturday, Was Buried Sunday

The remains of J. B. Hatchett, who died at his home in Big Spring Saturday, were laid to rest in the cemetery here Sunday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted in Big Spring Sunday morning and a brief service was held at the cemetery here, conducted by Rev. H. C. Smith.

Mr. Hatchett was a former resident of Tahoka and while here served for a number of years as county surveyor. He removed from this place to Big Spring seven or eight years ago and has resided there since.

Born in Georgia on February 2, 1854, Mr. Hatchett was seventy-eight years of age at the time of his death. Removing to Texas in early life, the family first resided in Navarro county. Later they moved to Bosque county, residing near Valley Mills for many years. They then migrated to Erath county and later came to the plains.

Mr. Hatchett was a twin brother of Rev. H. S. Hatchett, a Baptist minister, who also resided in Tahoka for a number of years but who now resides at Valley Mills. He himself has been critically ill for several weeks and it is believed that he will not survive long. Deceased was himself a devoted member of the Baptist Church and had been for many years.

He leaves surviving him the widow five sons, and six daughters, all of whom were present at the funeral except two sons, Lee and Herbert, who live in Arizona. The other surviving children are: W. B. Hatchett of Lockney, Claude Hatchett of Santo, Lester Hatchett of Lubbock, Mrs. C. S. Wyly of Tahoka, Mrs. R. V. Jones of Big Spring, Mrs. L. O. Greenfield of Plains, Mrs. Paschal Peak of Lubbock, and Misses Edith and Grace Hatchett of Big Spring. The families of all these children were also present except the family of Claude Hatchett of Santo. Rev. W. P. Hatchett, a brother of deceased, Miss Julia, a sister, and Earl, a nephew, all of Lamesa, and another nephew, Don Hatchett, his wife and son, Don Jr., of Slaton were also present.

Mrs. W. M. Lee of this city is a niece of deceased, being a daughter of Rev. H. S. Hatchett of Valley Mills.

Funeral bearers here were old-time friends of the deceased, to wit: S. N. McDaniels, H. P. Caveness, Larkin Westers, F. E. Redwine, and W. B. Edwards, and W. H. May.

The family and relatives have the sympathy of a great host of friends in this bereavement.

Baptists Hear Two Preachers

Two outstanding preachers of the denomination filled the pulpit at the Baptist Church here Sunday.

At the morning hour, Dr. J. J. Kellam spoke in the interest of Buckner Orphans' Home, for which institution he is now working. It will be remembered that Dr. Kellam held revival services here about four years ago. He was then pastor of one of the San Antonio churches. Later, he was here for a week for a series of night sermons. He is one of the best informed men and one of the most enlightening speakers in his denomination in Texas. At the close of his message Sunday, a collection for B. O. H. was taken. Dr. Kellam was also here and held a special service Wednesday night.

On Sunday night, Rev. E. E. Day of Big Spring, who recently did the preaching in revival services held here, filled the pulpit. His message was of an inspirational nature, urging the church here to "carry on" and to "go forward" in spite of the great misfortune it recently suffered in the loss of the pastor from death. Brother Day was accompanied by Rev. J. O. Heath of Garden City, Mr. Richardson, one of his deacons, and Mr. Scroggins of his congregation. Mr. Scroggins has a wonderful voice and sang "The Holy City" with great effectiveness.

Nearly fifty men attended the

Boy Breaks Leg In Fall From Tree

J. B. Reese Jr., about thirteen years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Reese who reside three miles east of Tahoka, was the victim of a most serious accident Tuesday when he fell from a tree and sustained a compound fracture of the thigh. Following the accident he was rushed to Tahoka in a car and was taken from here to a Lubbock sanitarium in the Harris-Applewhite ambulance. An x-ray examination revealed that the thigh bone was broken in two places and a portion of the bone splintered out. One end of the broken bone was driven through the flesh and was protruding, thus causing considerable loss of blood. The limb was placed in a plaster cast and the indications are that the patient will be confined to his bed for a number of weeks. It is feared that the boy will be a cripple for life.

Dr. Callaway Going To U. of T. Program

Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Callaway, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Thomas, will leave Friday morning for Galveston, where the doctor will participate in the dedication ceremonies that will be held Monday and Tuesday following the completion of three new buildings for the Medical Branch of the University of Texas.

The doctor is both an alumnus and an ex-teacher of the University Medical School, and as an ex-teacher he has been invited to assist in the dedicatory ceremonies. The three new buildings will add very materially to the plant and will enable the University Medical School to do even better work in the future than it has done in the past.

This will also be the Home-Coming occasion for all alumni of the institution and the doctor anticipates the pleasure of meeting many former school mates and other friends.

W. T. Ex-Students Have Banquet Here

One of the pleasurable events connected with commencement exercises here last week was the banquet given on Friday evening in the basement of the Methodist Church by ex-students of the West Texas State Teachers College honoring the President of that institution, Dr. J. A. Hill, who was here to deliver the Commencement address.

M. J. Weaver, principal of the high school, acted as toastmaster. The invocation was pronounced by Rev. H. C. Smith, pastor of the Methodist Church, and the welcome address was delivered by Happy Smith in that informal but happy way characteristic of him. The response to the welcome address was beautifully given by Mrs. J. A. Hill.

In response to requests by the toastmaster, L. N. George, head of the ex-students association of Canyon, and Dr. L. S. Baker, head of the Biology department in the W. T. S. T. C., each made a brief talk. A duet was rendered most beautifully and effectively by Meses. M. J. Weaver and C. O. Carmack, while Miss Mable Draper favored the banquet with a most excellent reading.

As the hour had rapidly passed away only a brief address was given by the guest of honor, Pres. J. A. Hill, and the singing of Alma Mater closed the program.

At the suggestion of Mr. George, however, an ex-students association was formed here, M. J. Weaver being elected president and Miss Mable Draper secretary.

Men's Program At Bible Class Sunday

A big feature of the program of the Men's Bible Class at the English Theatre next Sunday morning will be given by men who are over fifty years of age. All men from 100 years of age on down who are not members of some other S. S. class are invited.

WILSON STORE BURGLARIZED

Bass Mullins Charged With Daylight
Burglary Of J. T. Williams
Dry Goods Store

The store of the Wilson Mercantile Company operated by T. J. Williams was broken into Sunday afternoon and a quantity of shirts taken therefrom, and before night officers had recovered the goods and arrested the alleged culprit. Bass Mullins is now in jail here charged with the crime.

Soon after the burglary was discovered the officers were notified and they got busy immediately. They trailed the thief to Lubbock and back to Slaton, where they found the shirts, valued at $16.10, in the car of one Bass Mullins. Mullins was arrested and later brought to Tahoka, where he was locked up Sunday night.

Entry into the store was effected by kicking a hole in the glass door at the front, it is said, and the culprit made his exit at the rear. Some other shirts and a pair or two of boots were found outside the store, where the thief had left them. It is presumed that he became frightened and hurried away, leaving a part of his loot.

Mullins seems to be a well known character in official circles. He is alleged to have been operating in this section quite awhile. He seems to have no fixed home but claims to have recently married a Brownfield school teacher. Other relatives reside in Lubbock.

His case will be investigated by the next grand jury, which will be convened here in the Fall. In the meantime he must remain in jail unless he succeeds in making bond.

Delegates Go To Demo Meeting

Judge C. H. Cain and county clerk Truett Smith left Sunday for Houston to attend the Democratic state convention which convened in that city on Tuesday. Judge Cain and Mr. Smith went as delegates from Lynn county, which was entitled to six votes in the convention, and these delegates were instructed to cast these votes as a unit on all controverted questions before the convention.

The object of the convention is to elect delegates to the national Democratic convention, which meets in Chicago in June to nominate candidates for the Presidency and for the Vice-Presidency.

Gardens Are Good Over Lynn County

"It is interesting to drive around over the country and see the good gardens at some of the farm homes and to note what the housewives are trying to do", Miss El Fieda Harrison said to a representative of the News Monday.

"For instance, Mrs. A. E. Thomas of Grassland has had fresh home-grown English peas on her table for the past two weeks and has already canned 23 quarts", Miss Harrison continued. "Mrs. M. L. Thomas of Grassland has also had English peas from her garden on her table for the past two weeks, while Mrs. P. A. Cato of Morgan reports that she has 33 varieties of vegetables growing in her garden, eight of which she has never tried before."

Tahoka Pushed To Win Over Meadow

Tahoka was winner over Meadow by a score of 5 to 4 in a hotly contested baseball game played at Meadow Sunday afternoon, according to Skip Taylor. It was a good game from start to finish, the boys say. Meadow will match bats with Tahoka on the local diamond next Sunday afternoon and another good game is promised.

Boy Scouts Take Outing
Thirteen Tahoka Boy Scouts spent Saturday afternoon and night and most of the day Sunday at Two Draw Lake near Post. They were accompanied by Messrs. G. A. Brasfield, W. S. Anglin, H. A. Maseen, and M. O. Canaday.

State Candidate Is A Tahoka Visitor

Judge W. Erskine Williams, Fort Worth lawyer, was a visitor in Tahoka Saturday in the interest of his candidacy for Congressman-at-Large, Place No. 1. Williams was on his way to the Panhandle, making a swing through Northwest Texas. While in the city, Rev. H. C. Smith introduced him to a number of our leading citizens and helped to organize and select a chairman for an "Erskine Williams For Congress" club. Mr. A. L. Lockwood was chosen as this chairman and with the more than 60 other clubs already organized in Texas will aid Judge Williams in his campaign.

Judge Williams has been a Fort Worth lawyer for 30 years, is now for the second time vice-president of the American Bar Association, has just completed a year's term as president of the Fort Worth and Tarrant County Bar Ass'n, and last fall delivered a series of lectures at S. ## Fine Programs At Methodist Church

The Rev. H. C. Smith preached two splendid sermons at last Sunday's sessions. His morning subject brought out, thru the parable, of the loaves and fishes, the first lesson of doing the best we can with what we have at hand. "Happy" Smith presided over the devotional exercises and Mrs. Layne Moreland sang "Jesus Calls Us" for the special musical feature. A free-will offering was contributed toward the expenses of representatives of the Young People's division at the annual Conference Assembly in McMurry College all of next week.

At the evening hour Rev. Smith chose the life of Methuselah to illustrate his message which had for its central thought the fact that not the length of days but the accomplishments therein go to make real life and living. Frank Sargent's impressive solo was "An Evening Prayer".

The church school hour was noteworthy. Attendance was well over the 200 mark. Mr. Boswell Edwards contributed a much-enjoyed solo number, "Deep Down in My Heart", following the prelude, Mendelssohn's "Consolation". The Rev. Smith made a brief but splendid talk on good-will among men. Next Sunday's service, in the absence of Supt. G. M. Reid, will be conducted by assistant "Happy" Smith, and in observance of Memorial Sunday Mrs. Suddarth will sing "There is No Death".

We want at least twenty-five more folk in Sunday school next Sunday that we may over-top the goal toward which we have been working. Will you be there again and bring another with you?—Reporter.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC
Any erroneous reflection upon the reputation or standing of any individual, firm or corporation, that may appear in the columns of the News, will be gladly corrected when called to our attention.

Some politicians are still laboring under the impression that it helps their candidacy to claim the whole earth. Some of the candidates for governor have been sending us much propaganda at frequent intervals devoted largely to their claims of strength. Some of this dope is so absurd as to cast doubt on the sincerity of the candidate, if not on his political judgment. Nothing can discredit a candidate more quickly with thinking people than for him to continuously peddle extravagant and absurd claims as to his strength.
If a candidate is going to lie at all,
he should at least lie with good judgment and with moderation.

Why is it that the wets are crying out for 2.75 per cent beer, which they claim is non-intoxicating? Is it because they like that kind of slop?
Certainly not. It is because the legal sale of 2.75 per cent beer will make it easier for the bootlegger to sell

6.75 per cent beer and get away with it. It is not a question of 2.75 per cent beer being so bad within itself but it is a question of law enforcement. Despite their professions to the contrary, many of the wets are seeking to make the enforcement of the law more and more difficult, and we have always doubted the patriotism of the man who encourages violation of law.

Fifty-Four Years Of Pioneering On The Plains Of Texas

As Told By
Jack Alley
To
Frank P. Hill

Copyright, 1932, by Frank Hill

BUFFALO AND MUSTANG PONY HUNTERS

In the late '70's and early '80's there was much wild animal life on the Plains and along the breaks, as well as wild Indians.

The slaughter of the Buffalo had begun on a large scale in 1874, reaching its height in '75 and '76, before we arrived, but hunters were still having some luck as late as 1880, and even later. Some buffalo were killed for the mere sport of killing the big animals, but most of the hunters killed for food and money.

A skilled buffalo hunter, properly equipped with a good horse and gun, could kill hundreds in a year. After a buffalo was killed, he was skinned, and the skin was stretched out on the ground and staked down with stobs to dry. If the meat was to be utilized—and it usually was not, being left on the prairies to rot—it was cut in thin slices and cured for use of the folks back home or to be sold. This dried meat was known as "jerky". After the hides had been properly cured, they were hauled to Fort Worth in wagons, many times drawn by oxen, and shipped to the north for leather. The hides brought from $1.00 to $2.00 each.

One of the biggest buffalo hunting outfits I knew of was one headed by Charley Hart and a man named Goff—at least it was big from the standpoint of the number of animals they killed. Hart did all the killing, while Goff headed the skinning crew of about three wagons with three or four men to each wagon. In the morning, Hart would tell the others which direction he was going to hunt that day and start out with his gun and a supply of ammunition. When he spotted a herd, he would conceal himself nearby in a clump of bushes or behind a sand hill, rest the barrel of his single-shot, 16-pound buffalo gun in the crook of two sticks, tied together in the form of an X, and open fire. First, he would kill off the leaders and the rest of the buffalo would then mill around in the same spot until he had killed them all; and, then, he moved on to another herd.

The buffalo hunters did not try to shoot the animals through the heart or head, but shot them through the lungs, as the lungs formed a larger mark to shoot at. When one was shot he would usually give a great lunge into the air and after a few jumps he would fall to the ground where he lay until internal bleeding brought death.

Working behind Hart, the skinners would rip open the buffalo's skin from his head down across the belly, cut the skin loose from the legs, hitch a team of mules to the skin at the neck, give a pull, and the hide slipped off. The skinning of each buffalo required only a few minutes. The skinners then stretched out and pegged the hides down.

Charley Hart and his force are said to have killed and skinned 10,000 head of buffalo in one year in this manner and hauled the hides to Fort Worth. Hart almost went deaf from firing his gun so much.

After the coming of the T. & P. railroad to Colorado and Big Spring in 1881 and the Rock Island to the North Plains a few years later, the bones from hundreds of thousands of buffalo that had been killed on the Plains were gathered up and hauled to railroad stations to be shipped east and used in the manufacture of fertilizer.

Before the big slaughter, buffalo were said to roam the Plains in herds of countless thousands. When we came out in 1878, most of them had been killed off and herds were usually not more than seventy-five or a hundred animals in size. Many of these remaining buffalo were crippled or otherwise injured by hunters.

There were still lots of antelope, though. Hunters had killed very few antelope—only what they needed for food—since there was no market for them. Antelope usually ran in herds of fifty or a hundred and grazed all over the Plains during the warm months, going to the breaks in winter. Antelope, in fact, were fairly numerous until the Plains began to settle up considerably.

Many herds of Mustang ponies were also on the Plains. These were wild, practically worthless horses, but many were captured. They were caught by a "walking-down" process. A herd would be spotted by a bunch of cowboys, and when the wild horses ran the cowboys would follow close behind at a slower gait. Soon the mustangs would stop, and when the cowboys came close again the mustangs would run. They were run in a big circle. The "walking-down" usually took about eight days, at the end of which the mustangs, becoming foot-sore and tired, could be driven into a corral that had been built—usually of ropes. The cowboys worked in two shifts and used two sets of horses in order to keep the mustangs on the go constantly. There was little market for wild horses, though, and this was not a very profitable business. Mustangs were very hard to break. Occasionally one could be broken and tamed for practical use, but most of them were just too wild and the "walking-down" was not worth while.

There were a good many lobo wolves, but they did not give us much trouble killing cattle. Later, when I was with C. C. Slaughter, we had more trouble with this animal. There were many coyotes, wild turkey, deer, and other wild animals and fowls all along the breaks of the Plains and even up on the Plains itself.

There were very few things that a cowboy couldn't do with a rope. There have been many stories told in which a lariat met with a wild animal.

One day, Ping Hayes, one of the cowboys on the ranch, and I were riding along the edge of the breaks and ran upon a big bear. I took a shot at him but could not get the shell out of the gun to shoot again. This was the only gun we had, so I roped him. The bear immediately offered fight and attempted to run up the rope toward me and my horse. I yelled at Pink to get down off his horse and kill the bear with a rock. Pink hit him in the head with a big rock and broke his jaw, only to infuriate the bear more.

While Pink was trying to kill him with rocks, I was forced to keep riding and jerking the bear to keep him from getting me. Things looked a little dark for me, and I kept yelling, "Hurry up and kill him, Pink!"

After many unsuccessful attempts to do so, Pink, who was growing tired and aggravated, sat down on a rock to rest and told me: "If you want this blankety-blank bear killed, get down and kill him yourself!"

Of course I couldn't let up with my riding and jerking. Finally Pink got his rest out and killed the bear. His skin made a fine rug.

Could Hardly Raise Hand Off Her Bed

"No woman could have been in worse condition than I was the last two years and get well. Not only was I continually wracked with pain but I was also debilitated most of the time. Anything I put in my stomach caused terrible nausea. I became so weak I could scarcely lift my hand off my bed. After one bottle of Sarsaparil I started to eat nourishing food and digest it. My strength returned so fast I was soon able to be up and do my house work. Sarsaparil helped me restore my health by eliminating the poison from my system. ### MRS. J. A. HILL HONORED WITH TEA BY TAHOKA CLUBS

Honoring Mrs. J. A. Hill of Canyon, president of the Seventh District of the State Federated Clubs, the Phebe K. Warner Club entertained at the home of Mrs. W. B. Slaton with a tea on Friday afternoon May 12th, between the hours of four and five o'clock. The co-hostesses for this social event were the two new study clubs of Tahoka—Les Savantes and the Phebe K. Warner Junior.

In the receiving line were: Mrs. Slaton, hostess and sponsor of the Phebe K. Warner Junior Club, who introduced Mrs. Hill to the guests; Mrs. E. E. Callaway, president of the Phebe K. Warner Club; Mrs. Frank Edwards, president of the Junior Club; Miss Jeanette Caviness, president of Les Savantes Club; and Mrs. J. R. Burleson, sponsor of the latter group.

A cheerful tone was struck in decorations through the use of pink and white roses. The tea table, where punch was served, was spread with lace and adorned with pink roses. Pink candles were held in silver candelabra.

The feature of the afternoon was the address on co-operation by Mrs. Hill, who was most pleasingly introduced by Mrs. Callaway. It was beautiful, educational, and inspiring. To this most interesting address Mrs. G. M. Stewart responded in a few well chosen words and presented Mrs. Hill with a corsage of pink rose buds and sweetpeas.

The guests enjoyed the following program:

Piano solo, "Mazurka No. 2, op. 54" (Godard)—Mrs. Rubie D. Sudarth.

Musical reading, "Bye and Bye" (Dodge)—Mrs. Frank Hill.
Xylophone solo, "Pagan Love Song"—Mabel Lee.

Vocal solo, "The Valley of Laughter"—Mrs. Layne Moreland.
Chorus, Two Neapolitan songs—Junior Club members.

The favors were dainty and hand-painted.

their studies in college, others to face the stern problems of life without further preparation.

On Thursday night, in the high school auditorium, the program of the Elementary School was given, and it was undoubtedly one of the best programs of its kind ever given in Tahoka.

"George in Nursery Land" was the theme of the first grade program.
Most of the characters found in Mother Goose rhymes were depicted by various members of the class, while the entire class joined in singing or reciting as each individual character played his or her part.

The second grade was represented by "The Jolly Health Clown", and various members of the class joined in giving lessons on good health in a way that was both instructive and entertaining.

"The Song of Roses" was given by the third grade, the class featuring a magnificent display of roses while the song was being rendered.

"The Poppies of Flanders" was the title of the number given by the fourth grade, and it was one of the most beautiful and popular numbers on the entire program.

The fifth grade also gave a popular number, "The Boy and the Girl".
For the sixth grade, "Greetings"

were extended by Mary Frances Brewer, music was given by the sixth grade quartet, a dialogue was rendered by Ola Lee Stevens and Mavis Brasfield, Lois Montgomery
read an essay, members of the class sang "Texas, My Texas", and Mozelle Crouch closed the program for this grade with a reading.

"Graduation" was the theme of a reading by James. Minor, seventh grade pupil, and "Nobility" the title of another reading by Nell Marie Wiley.

Diplomas were presented to the twenty-three members of the 7th grade by Superintendent J. B. Pace as follows: Nell Marie Wiley, James Minor, Eva Douthitt, R. C. Wells,
Wilson Edwards, Walter Henson,

gram.

Legionnaires Ready
For State Meeting

K. C. Holmes, commander of the local Marion G. Bradley Post of the American Legion, is in receipt of information from the headquarters for the 14th annual State convention of the American Legion of Texas, to be held in Corpus Christi on Aug. 1, 2, and 3, that State Commander V.
Earl Earp of Sweetwater, after a conference in Corpus Christi this past week, has stated that plans for the convention have been mapped out and are progressing in a most satisfactory manner.

Earp, together with State Adjutant R. O. Whitaker, and Mrs. Van Stewart of Perryton, State president of the Legion Auxiliary and Mrs.
C. J. Austin of Austin, secretary, met with convention arrangements committees in Corpus Christi last week, it was stated.

With the business sessions to be held in a huge pavilion built over the water in the heart of the north beach playground, and one of the city's first class hotels located just across from the beach pavilion, afforded committee room facilities near the convention hall, Commander Earp states it affords one of the most comfortable and unique convention halls he has seen in Texas.

"It is my opinion," stated Adjutant Whitaker, "that the Corpus Christi convention will be one of the largest attended we have ever had;
because of the opportunity Corpus Christi offers the summer visitor to take advantage of an economical vacation in the many splendid tourist camps and hotels, it is my belief many of the delegates to the convention will bring their families for the pleasures of swimming, fishing, boat riding, etc., while they attend the convention sessions. The Corpus Christi boys are working enthusiastically on their convention plans and have the wholehearted support of their business leaders."

Mrs. Van Stewart was highly elated over the splendid manner in which the Corpus Christi Auxiliary committees have mapped their plans and stated she was positive the numerous boat rides and other entertainment features to be given convention delegates will cause a large attendance of Auxiliary members.

this section of the state. A special this class next Sunday morning, according to announcement made by the President, J. E. Thompson. All

West Wilson

The recent big rains are causing most of the farmers around here to have to plant over feed and cotton, while all crops that are up are growing nicely. Gardens are very pretty.

Charlie Campbell got one of his fingers accidentally caught in the planter while he was planting and tore the end of it off a few days ago.
Brother Partin and family of Wilson took dinner in the Swope home Sunday.

Oscar Corley and family attended church in Tahoka Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Nina Hamilton is on the sick list this week.

Little Burnell Mueller is sick with sore throat.

E. L. Swope was a business visitor in Lubbock Monday.

Miss Blanche Swan spent the week end with Miss Sadonia Mueller.

There is not much visiting around.
I want to say just a few commonplace words. I can remember 35 or 40 years ago when most every one went in wagons—some had buggies to go in. People were more friendly than now; they visited more and they had more time to stop and talk to neighbors than they do now. What is the use of rushing so? If we don't rush so we will get more pleasure in living. If we would pray more and serve God more times would be better. Come on, some of you other good writers, and let us hear your opinion on the times. Perhaps some of you think different. If so, let's hear from you. But I think we have drifted far from God and his teaching and that is the whole cause of these hard times.—Countrywise.

A faithful friend is the true image.
