FINAL CANDIDATE RALLY FRIDAY NIGHT

SUBMISSION IS UP TO VOTERS

People Will Decide Saturday If Vote Is To Be Taken On Liquor Law Repeal

Truett Smith reports that several days ago he received about 4,000 Submission ballots from the Democratic State Executive Committee for the voters of Lynn county. These are being distributed along with the regular primary election ballots and the voters of Lynn county will have an opportunity next Saturday to say whether or not they desire the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment to be submitted to the various states again.

The state committee recently ordered that this matter be submitted to the voters in the Democratic primaries next Saturday and they have sent ballots to every county in the state. Most if not all the counties of Texas will vote on this question. The result will not determine anything but will only indicate whether the people want another chance or not to vote on the Eighteenth Amendment, which is the prohibition amendment. A majority against submission would indicate that the sentiment of the state is still dry. A majority for submission might or might not indicate that the sentiment of the state is now wet, for many dries may be willing for the matter to be again submitted to the people and may so vote next Saturday.

It should be understood in the beginning, however, that the wets in Congress and in the Democratic and Republican parties are not proposing that repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the people but merely to conventions, which are always controlled by the politicians. And the people of Texas are to say next Saturday whether or not they desire this question to be submitted to such conventions to be held in the various states of the Union.

Red Cross Needs More Food Supplies

Following is a list of donations since last report: Mrs. H. C. Crie, clothing, $1.25; Mrs. Martha I. Ray, clothing, $1.05; unknown, food, $4.25; James Applewhite, clothing, $1.25; A. B. Short, clothing, $1.75; Veri Woodfin, food, 35c; J. L. Seagraves, food, 35c; C. W. Bynum, food, 90c; W. J. Farris, food, 25c; Mrs. Jim Bannister, food, 64c; Happy Smith, cash, 50c; Levi Nordyke, 25c; E. E. Thompson, clothing, $2.95. There were other cash donations, but I do not have the list.

We have been asked if we could use fresh black-eyed peas, fresh beans, eggs, etc., and beg to say that we sure can, for those that were in the hail district and were in the three year drouth district just all their gardens, so garden stuff would be fine for these people. Bring such items only on Saturdays, as this is the only day we disburse and if you brought them on other days they would wilt. One man brought us 15 pounds of fresh vegetables last Saturday, and he was a man in the drouth belt that did not get hauled out and to whom we had given garden seed in the spring.

We have been asked if we will have any cans. To this I can not reply at this time. But do not come to my office to insist that I get some or to have your name included for it will be useless. This will all be worked out by a committee and there will be no need to apply unless you are notified that you are to receive cans, if we get them. It is difficult enough to try to get these goods and supplies for the worst and most worthy cases, and I do not have time to discuss this matter with you individually, as we will let you if we are able to get the cans.

Lynn County Chapter Red Cross, B. P. Maddox, Chapter Chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Johnson and three children of Brady are spending the week here with Mrs. Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Knop. Mr. Johnson reports crops as looking good in McCulloch county.

Absentee Votes Total 121 Here

Truett Smith, county clerk, announces that 121 absentee votes have been polled in this county. The major portion of this number come from the Tahoka and O'Donnell precincts, but absentees from all portions of the county are included in the number.

This is much larger than the usual number of absentee voters in this county.

Revival At Lynn Now In Progress

Beginning with a crowd of 200 Sunday night, a revival led by Rev. C. D. Damron is under way at the Lynn Methodist Church. Bro. Damron, a former Lynn county farmer and coyote chaser, has returned to the place where he answered the call to preach, to tell the "good news". Fine singing by a large choir of young people is an attraction that encourages the hearts of those suffering under the "compression".

Rev. Thurston, the pastor, stated that the revival would close Sunday night, July 24, and that the house would overflow before the meeting closed. Everyone is invited to attend, and Rev. Damron especially invites all former friends to come from far and near.—Reporter.

Vickers Speaks For Ferguson

A good-sized crowd of men and women assembled on the court house lawn last Saturday afternoon to hear an address by J. E. Vickers, a prominent Lubbock attorney, in behalf of Mrs. Ferguson's candidacy for governor.

While little enthusiasm was manifested, yet the majority of the audience gave unmistakable evidence that they were in sympathy with the speaker.

Judge Vickers scathingly criticized Governor Sterling and the present state highway commission.

Leases Gas Station, Opens Tailor Shop

Clyde Thomas has leased the Thomas Tire and Battery Service Station to H. B. McCord for a period of one year. Mr. McCord took charge early this week.

Mr. Thomas is preparing to open a tailor shop in the rear of the Hub Barber Shop, the location formerly occupied by the Barnes Tailor Shop. He purchased the equipment for the shop in Littlefield and expects to be ready to open the business Saturday. Daniel Davis will be in charge of the cleaning and pressing department.

Neighbors Clean Sick Man's Crop

The neighbors and friends of Ross Speed, who resides in the New Lynn community but who has been in a sanitarium several weeks, gathered at his place Monday and hoed out his crop. While the men were doing the hoeing some of the women came in and prepared a real chicken dinner, which was greatly enjoyed at the noon hour.

When the men again quit work near sunset, they found five gallons of ice cream awaiting them, which the women had prepared.

Those assisting in the day's work were: Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Roberts and family of Grassland, Shorty and Dolly Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Wetzel, Mr. R. L. Gray, Mr. J. A. Jaynes and son, Mrs. Lee Ray Cox and children, Mr. Colonel Roberts and son of Gariynn, King Claborn and J. A. Johnson of Ragtown, Mrs. Clarine Gray, and Mr. Dan Roberts and children.

Mrs. M. L. Handley and daughter, Lavada, removed Monday afternoon to Lubbock, where Mrs. Handley will take a course in beauty culture at Mi-lady Beauty Shoppes.

GAS THIEVES ARE ARRESTED

Levelland Man Confesses Burglaries At Tahoka, O'Donnell And Southland Stations

Henry Shamberger and Ted Smith, both of Levelland, are in jail at Post charged with the theft of gasoline from the Phillips 66 station here, at Southland, and at O'Donnell, according to sheriff B. L. Parker.

Shamberger has made a confession involving both himself and Smith, Parker says, but Smith stoutly denies any complicity in the crimes.

Mr. Parker and Mr. Cato, the sheriff of Garza county, went over to Levelland one day last week to make some investigations and on the night of that same day Shamberger was caught in the act of stealing from the Southland plant, it is stated.

More than 700 gallons were taken from the Phillips plant here, it will be remembered.

St. Clair Hotel Has Changed Managers

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Taylor of Tulla and Mr. and Mrs. J. Clyde Taylor of Dalhart are the new managers of the St. Clair Hotel, having taken charge of this hostelry last Friday. They have not yet opened the dining room of this hotel, however, but will do so within a few days, and they expect to serve meals family style.

All of these people are experienced in the hotel business, Mr. and Mrs. J. Clyde Taylor having been in the hotel business until a few days ago in Dalhart.

It is our information that Mr. and Mrs. Ballou and family will locate in Longview. Mrs. Ballou and children left Tahoka several weeks ago and have been visiting in Oklahoma. Mr. Ballou left the last of the week.

Faires' Crop Is Hoed By Friends

About thirty hoe-hands gathered at the farm of W. J. Faires in the Magnolia community Monday and hoed out most of his cotton crop.

Mr. Faires has been in bad health for several weeks while his wife has been an invalid for years. Under these conditions neighbors decided that he needed some help and they proceeded to render aid.

One of the neighbors, J. F. Williams, was in town Monday taking up a collection to hire some one to plow the crop and to finish the hoeing. Nearly all the business men here made contributions.

Mr. Faires has long been one of the prominent farmers and citizens of this county and his present predicament is due to conditions over which he had no control.

ATTEND CONVENTION

W. E. Suddarth and Jesse Eubanks, who attended the state convention of rural letter carriers held in Galveston last week, report a large attendance and a most successful convention. Jesse Eubanks visited a sister in Corsicana on the return trip and Mr. Suddarth visited in Fort Worth and Wichita Falls. He attended church in Paducah Sunday and heard a most interesting discourse delivered by Rev. R. T. Breedlove, former pastor of the Methodist Church here.

Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Methvin and children of Mendow were here Monday visiting Mrs. M. L. Handley and daughter Lavada.

Miss Valrie Jones of Lubbock is here visiting her nieces, Misses Matyie Pearl and Maxine, daughters of W. C. Jones.

Mrs. Layne Moreland returned to her home here Friday after a visit of a few weeks with relatives at Comanche.

Mrs. F. M. Stone of Carbon is visiting here in the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. C. Haney.

Sam Park and family are visiting relatives at Talpa in Coleman county this week.

CROWD HERE ON SATURDAY

More Farmers In Town Than Usual, Say Crop Prospects Good But Rain Needed

One of the largest crowds seen on the streets of Tahoka in recent months was here Saturday. The streets and sidewalks were thronged with people.

Merchants report that business was somewhat better also than the usual Saturday business. Of course the public is not spending freely yet, for money is still a scarce article. Any increase in the volume of business, however, is encouraging.

Crop prospects at this time are excellent, though farmers say that a rain now would be helpful. The fact that the price of hogs and beef cattle has been steadily climbing for the past few weeks has brought a hopeful feeling to many, and there are other signs that the worst of the depression has been passed.

The prospects for better business conditions are encouraging.

Duggan, Candidate For Senator, Here

Hon. A. P. Duggan of Littlefield, candidate for the state senate, was a brief visitor in the News office Wednesday morning. He was on his way to Ackerly, Dawson county, where a big barbecue was to be staged.

Mr. Duggan has been president of the school board at Littlefield for many years and just recently he had the pleasure of voting off a tie and thereby reducing the school taxes in his district.

Mr. Duggan is a pioneer citizen of Littlefield and has possibly done more than any other man for the development of that section.

Local Girls Attend Y. W. A. Meeting

Misses Opal and Myrtle Cooper, Misses Berta and Myrtle Hill, and Mrs. P. M. Billman attended the Y. W. A. camp of the Brownfield and Lubbock associations at Buffalo Springs last Friday night and Saturday.

Mrs. McBeth, wife of the Baptist pastor at Ropesville, was in charge of the camp. Programs of music, readings, talks on religious topics, and lesson periods were conducted, classes being taught by Mrs. O. J. Hull of Lubbock. Recreation consisted of swimming, boat riding, climbing, and games.

There were ninety-eight women and girls present.

Women And Girls Hold Encampment

One hundred and thirty women representing Lubbock, Hockley, Garza and Lynn counties spent Tuesday and Wednesday of last week at Two Lake, Post. Thirteen of the twenty women's and girls' clubs of Lynn county were represented. Women and girls were present from Grassland, Wells, Draw, New Lynn, Morgan; women from Tahoka and Edith; and girls from Midway.

The encampment was a real recreational holiday for the women and girls. Stunts, one act plays, and various forms of entertainment were planned by each club and songs took up a major part of the time. Swimming, boating and fishing were also enjoyed during the camp.

T-Bar Round-Up For Year Ended

The T-Bar Ranch ended its annual round-up Monday of this week. There were not so many calves to be branded as usual, and fewer people were employed to assist in the work.

The annual round-up is always an interesting event and often there are hundreds of visitors to witness the proceedings. There were few visitors this year, however.

Plains Ex-Service Men Meet Tonight

The West Texas Veterans Political League recently organized at Stanton is to meet here tonight in its second meeting.

This league, as its name implies, was organized for political purposes and at the meeting tonight it will doubtless take final action to make its power felt in behalf of state and district candidates whom it favors in the Democratic primaries Saturday.

The League is composed of veterans from twenty South Plains counties and is said to have an initial membership of 1700. A large attendance is expected tonight.

Legion Chicken Fry Tuesday

The Marion G. Bradley Post of the American Legion and Women's Auxiliary enjoyed a big chicken fry at the Legion Home here Tuesday night. Of course the ladies did the frying and the men did the eating, chiefly.

Following the feast, the merry-makers all turned children again and played such games as Drop the Handkerchief, Measure My Love to Show You, Shoot the Buffalo, etc.

All report a grand and gull-lorious time.

Gives Instructions To Election Judges

The Democratic county chairman, H. M. Larkin, announces that he has received instructions from the state committee that the election officer in each voting precinct who calls the ballots for those making up the tally lists shall write on each ballot the following words, "Called by _____", giving his name. Those counting the ballots in each voting precinct will please take note of these instructions and given themselves accordingly. This applies only to the ballots for candidates; not necessarily to the "Submission" ballots.

Mr. Larkin also advises that each set of election officers shall procure separate boxes in which to deposit the "Submission" ballots. He thinks this will prevent confusion and save time. A cigar box or some such receptacle can be provided for this purpose.

Candidates To Play Ball At O'Donnell

There is to be a unique ball game in O'Donnell Thursday afternoon. The county and precinct candidates are to play the members of O'Donnell's fire department. The game is to be called about five o'clock.

Following the game, the candidates will tidy up, take on some refreshments possibly, and proceed to explain to the assembled voters why they each should be favored at the polls next Saturday. The speaking will begin about 8:30.

W. M. Lee says that the family received reports Wednesday to the effect that his father-in-law, Rev. H. S. Hatchett, who has been ill so long at Valley Mills is much worse and that his death is momentarily expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Ovid Luallin and children and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wells have been in the mountains of New Mexico this week for a little outing.

SATURDAY IS ELECTION DAY

County-Wide Rally Friday Night; Will Give Election Returns Saturday Night

County candidates are staging a whirlwind finish to the campaign in this county this week. They will carry the fight right up to the night preceding the election, when they will hold a final rally and speaking on the court house lawn here in Tahoka. Many people are expected to be here from various sections of the county to hear the various candidates in their final efforts, and this will be the first opportunity that many Tahoka people have had to hear them at all.—Some of the candidates for district offices will probably be here also.

The candidates spoke in Wilson on Wednesday night and they will speak in O'Donnell tonight. (Thursday). During the campaign they have visited every community in the county, some communities twice, but the audiences have been small at many of the appointments. It is expected that a large number of voters will hear them here Friday night.

Election Party Saturday Night

The Tahoka Drug Company and The Unique Cafe, formerly The Limit, have made arrangements to procure and announce election returns here Saturday night following the election. As heretofore, a large bulletin board will be erected in the street between these two places of business and returns on state, district, county, and precinct candidates will be posted as rapidly as received.

People are invited to come in from all the rural communities and get the returns as they come in.

Congregation At M. E. Church Large

Almost a record congregation at the Methodist church Sunday morning listened to the Rev. H. C. Smith deliver one of the finest, most inspiring sermons heard recently from this pulpit. It is certain that he was enthused by the splendid audience, which was augmented by the welcome presence of many of the local Baptists—who were without a service of their own—and his chosen subject, "Does It Pay to be a Christian?", was developed by divine touch into a wonderful message of courage and perseverance in the Christian's warfare.

H. A. Patterson led the devotional service, and Mesdames Carmack and Bucy rendered a pleasing vocal duet, "Ivory Palaces".

Rev. J. W. Watson of Lubbock, Conference Executive Secretary, will fill the local pulpit next Sunday morning bringing a message on "Christian Education". This service is preliminary to a week's training school which will be in session at the church for five nights beginning Monday, July 25. This class, which is an efficiency course in organization for Christian education under the new plan adopted by the last M. E. General Conference, will be conducted by the Rev. Watson, and is open to all present workers in the church and church school and all others interested in an understanding of the workings of our church's complete program. It is an opportunity for real education in church affairs and it is hoped that every possible person will take advantage of it.

Mr. Coleman Cowan, a worker in Asbury church, Lubbock, sang "Help Somebody Today" as an effective solo for the adult worship hour of the church school following the prelude, "Just Been Wondering" by Canning. Next Sunday the feature will be a violin solo played by Charles Gaignat. Come on time at 9:45 A. M. to be sure of hearing it. We are fortunate to have many talented folk among our church members and friends who give graciously for the good of our services.—Reporter.

If the opinion of political economists and financial experts is worth anything, then a vital step toward recovery from the world-wide depression was taken by the nations of Europe last week at the Lausanne conference in Switzerland when they agreed that Germany's indebtedness should be reduced from 34 billion marks—or approximately eight billion dollars—to three billion marks—or approximately 714 million dollars.
In other words these nations agreed that about 91 per cent of Germany's debt to the allies should be remitted.
There seems to have been a gentleman's agreement that this settlement should depend upon America's willingness to cancel or remit the major portion of the indebtedness of these nations to the United States, but it seems to be the general opinion that these nations will not undertake to collect from Germany more than the 714 million dollars agreed upon whatever the attitude of the United States may be. It is the further opinion of these financial experts that it would be the part of wisdom for the United States to cancel a major portion of this indebtedness. It hangs like a millstone about the neck of Europe, and it is difficult for her to buy American cotton and wheat and manufactured articles as long as she is crushed by debt. Some day America will probably agree to a remission of most of this indebtedness provided Europe will cut out the larger portion of her expenditures for armies and navies and munitions of war. With her debt practically wiped off the slate, Germany should soon be able to begin increasing her purchases of American cotton and other farm products. If these old war debts were wiped out, all Europe would soon be able to begin buying our products again on a large scale. This would undoubtedly help the price of cotton and all other farm products and set the wheels of industry to buzzing again. It is a foolish policy that would demand that every cent of these debts must be repaid to the United States. It was these crushing debts, in the opinion of economists, that brought on this world depression, and the world can not recover until the debts are largely remitted and forgotten.

Record of T. L. Price
As District Attorney

T. L. PRICE, District Attorney

In submitting my candidacy to the people of this District for re-election, I do so with a full realization of the grave responsibilities of this office.

During my tenure of office there has been disposed of in the District Court 294 Felony cases, and with the splendid cooperation of the petit jurors, I have secured convictions in 278 of these cases. In other words out of a total of 294 Felony cases tried, I have lost only 16, some of which were on the dockets when I came into office, thereby giving me little opportunity to familiarize myself with the evidence.

The above 294 cases includes both pleas of guilty and contested cases, however even in contested cases alone where I have had to combat with the keenest legal talent in this State, my percentage of convictions in such cases has been 85 per cent, including one case in which I obtained the death penalty.

It is not incumbent on the District Attorney, upon securing convictions, to follow such convictions on appeal to the Higher Courts, however in all heavy cases where appeals have been taken, I have, without additional cost to the Tax Payers, carefully briefed and argued the cases, personally, before the Court of Criminal Appeals.
The regular duties of this office being so heavy, it has been necessary for me to do this work at night, however I have always been glad to do this as reversals are expensive to Tax Payers and by taking this extra precaution will lessen the opportunity for reversals. My record will also reveal that the Higher Court has approved my work in 85 per cent of the cases appealed.

TAXES MUST BE LOWERED!
With my knowledge of the records of this office, and with the cooperation of our District Judge, I sincerely believe that the cost of carrying on your Court work can yet be materially reduced, thereby bringing about a further saving in Tax money to each County. If retained another term every effort possible, just as in the past, will be made to do this.

I favor a 25 per cent reduction in salaries of all State officers, including my own.

If you are for Efficient, Economical and Courageous Enforcement of Your Laws, Fairly and Impartially to All—Then Vote For Me on July 23rd.

Fifty-Four Years Of Pioneering On The Plains Of Texas

As Told By Jack Alley
To
Frank P. Hill

Copyright, 1932, by Frank Hill

THE FIGHT FOR LAND
By 1900 settlers were coming into West Texas in ever increasing numbers. Small ranchmen were grabbing up land, and farmers were beginning to come in and take up land. Where land was found that was not under lease, a farmer would file on it.

The big ranchmen held most of the Plains land under legitimate leases. When these leases would run out, the little men, known as "nesters", would run in and pitch their tents on the desired ground and file a claim for possession. Since extensive land and grass was necessary in the raising of large herds of cattle, this chopping up of the country hurt the cattle raiser. To prevent the breaking up of the leased part of his ranch, Col. Slaughter sent his son, E. Dick Slaughter, to Austin with all the leases about to expire. Dick would have the land commissioner cancel these leases and he would then re-lease in one lump the same land for ten years. The rate was three cents an acre.

This caused a gulf of dissension to grow between the farmers and the cattlemen. And, this gulf widened when the fight was begun by the settlers to break the lapse-lease. Col. Slaughter, however, though involved more than any other West Texas ranchman, did not let his feelings get the best of him. Though he hated to lose all this land, he took it in comparatively good humor. Bitter feelings arose between some of the smaller ranchmen and the settlers.

Lapse-lease was stopped as a result of a trial case sent up to the Supreme Court of Texas by J. E. Ketner, long a resident of Tahoka.

A man named Stith had about thirty sections of land under lease in the northeast part of Lynn county. He took out this lease in 1895, but sold it to Slaughter in 1897. Slaughter held it until just before time for expiration and had the lease canceled and then re-leased it for ten years. The law was that when a lease expired the land was open for settlement and the settler had first right to the land if he wanted to file on it. Mr. Ketner, after Slaughter had released the land, came along and settled on two sections, contending that the land had not been opened for settlement at the expiration of the first lease, or at the time of its cancellation, and that therefore the second lease to Slaughter was invalid.

Charley Kitchen, a lawyer at Snyder and a friend of the "nesters" E. H. Yeiser of Austin, and other lawyers, went into court for Ketner and made this a test case on the validity of the lapse-lease. The court ruled that a lease holder of state land could not cancel his lease and re-lease before the date of expiration of the first lease. On first thought, this case might seem of little consequence; but, in fact, it had a great deal to do with the breaking up of state-leased ranches over all Texas and the opening up of this country to farming. Possibly millions of acres of good farming land were made accessible to farmers as leases expired.

A new day had come to West Texas. No longer could a ranchman hold leased land without a strong possibility of losing it when the lease expired. Settlers came in faster, and soon this section was becoming a farming country as well as a ranch country.

The ranchmen did not give up their leased lands without a contest. As a result of this case, so-called "land fights" came into being. Most of these took place at Gall, the county site of Borden county, and at Big Spring.

At these places scores of farmers, ranch owners, and their cowboys would gather when a block of leases was about to expire. The minute the county clerk's office was opened at the time of the lease expiration, there was a mad scramble between the cattlemen's representatives and the settlers—the settlers to file on the land and the ranchmen to re-lease it or to have their cowboys and friends file on it so that they could have the use of the grass.

Of course the cowmen wanted to keep all the grass they needed at the cheap rental rate, and the farmers sought ownership of land which came to them for only a small fee by filing on it. There were many fist fights, and at times feeling ran so high that there was grave danger of serious conflict and men were searched by officers for firearms.

Slaughter had his cowboys to file on land for him with the understanding that he was to have the grass rights and the first privilege of buying whenever they got ready to sell out their claims. In this way, he could hold land for grazing purposes that would otherwise be filed on by others and put into farms.

In Lynn county Slaughter had about 200 sections under lease. He told me, "I don't want any of this land at all, but I want you to give it to those that have been friendly to me." I went to various men I knew to have been in sympathy with the cowmen and told them when certain leases were to expire. Since I had the information as to the location, section numbers, and the exact time these leases would expire and the "nesters" did not, we could go to Lubbock and file on land without any trouble. Many present-day prominent citizens of this section were thus enabled to get their start as property owners in this way.

I filed on four sections of land at Tahoka Lake and moved the headquarters house from ten miles east of where Tahoka is now to the spring on the west side of the lake. Four wagons pulled by thirteen yokes of oxen were used to move the house. I operated the ranch for Slaughter until 1906 or '07 and went into the ranching business on my own hook. I added to the four sections until I finally had twenty-two sections of land. The old headquarters place is still standing at Tahoka Lake. The ranch was until recently owned by Geo. Wolforth of Lubbock.

With the coming of farmers and small ranchmen in ever increasing numbers, towns began to spring up over the Plains soon after 1900. Lubbock had already been in existence nearly ten years, but was just a small berg. Floydada, Estacado, Old Emma, and Plainview were also among the older towns.

Lynn County was organized and Tahoka established in 1903. Tahoka was the first town on the lower South Plains south of Lubbock. B. G. Sweet, one of the owners of Sweet & King store, the first one at Tahoka, Bill Petty, foreman of the T-Bar ranch, and myself formed the Tahoka Townsite Company, bought a section of land from a man in Ohio, and sold shares in the proposed city at $25 each. After the election that located the site, all share-holders drew for city lots. Each man was entitled to one lot on the public square and several residence lots.

Gomez was the first county site of Terry county but was soon followed by Brownfield. Lamess was also established after Tahoka. And then, several years later, the Santa Fe established Slaton; and C. W. Post built Post City. O'Donnell was named for a man of that name who with Charley Dook, the first sheriff of Lynn county, founded that city. Wilson got its name from the Wilson county school lands in this county. With the building of the railroads, Seminole, Seagraves, Ropes, and Meadow, to the southwest of Lubbock were established; and Crosbyton, Ralls, Lorenzo, and Idalou to the east. As everyone knows, Leveland and Littlefield and other towns to the west were established comparatively late.

I take this method of thanking you in advance for any favors you may show me in the Democratic Primary to be held next Saturday. I have tried to see each and every voter in the county during the campaign but possibly have missed a few, which I assure you was not intentional. I have tried to make this race on my own merits and have no stones to throw at any of my opponents whom I think are all good boys. I need the office and assure each and every one that I will very much appreciate your support. Yours very truly,

Splawn and the unknown heirs and legal representative of F. P. Cook, deceased, are Defendants, and said petition alleging that on August 1, 1931, F. P. THE COMMERCIAL USE OF TEXAS HIGHWAYS IS A PRIVILEGE, NOT A RIGHT

● The highways of Texas are the property of its citizens. They constitute a system of nearly 200,000 miles of road of which 20,000 miles are designated as State highways and the remainder are county roads. All types of road are represented in this system, less than 5% have so-called "permanent" surface.

The total cost of these highways is unknown but it amounts to many hundred million dollars. From 1917 to 1930, inclusive, counties and road districts of the State issued $243,592,834 in bonds for the construction and improvement of roads and bridges. In the two-year period ending August 31, 1930, the State Highway Commission expended $89,032,825, of which $22,488,426 was for maintenance of the State highways.

In view of these tremendous costs the preservation of our highways from rapid wear and destruction is a matter of very vital interest to their owners, viz., the public. It is especially important that they be made to outlast the life of the bonds, which run from 20 to 30 years.

The use of the public highways for commercial purposes is not a right but a privilege which may be withheld or granted subject to such restrictions, regulations and charges as the Legislature may see fit to impose. Such regulations are intended to promote safety, preserve the highways and safeguard the interests of the public.

Texas Railroads, which pay the entire cost of construction and maintenance of their own roadbeds and, in addition, make substantial contributions to the cost of Texas highways, are thoroughly regulated with respect to their services, rates, methods and practices. There is no good reason why commercial users of the highways, built and maintained at the expense of the public, should not likewise be regulated to such extent as the public interest requires and pay such charges as will represent proper compensation for the privileges granted them.

● The statutes governing highway transportation as enacted by the Forty-second Legislature represent the wishes of the citizens of this State and express their desire to give equal rights to all and special privileges to none. These statutes should be given a fair trial and their value ascertained. Unless this is done, a chaotic condition in transportation as a whole will surely ensue.

VOTE FOR TOM CARTER

For STATE REPRESENTATIVE 119th District

In asking the people of this district to elect me as their next Representative I do so with the feeling that I can be of much service to the district by striving to secure a more fair representation for West Texas and working for rigid economy in our state government to the end that taxes can and must be reduced. I am 34 years of age, a home owner and tax payer and an ex-service man and Legionnaire. I am a native West Texan and lived in Lubbock 9 years.

It has been impossible for me to see all the voters in the nine counties in the district as I have had to campaign after work hours and at night but I will sincerely appreciate your vote and will serve the people of this district impartially and to the best of my ability.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Goode of Merkel and their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Leldon Goode of Fort Worth, were callers at the News office Monday, on their way to Meadow and Leveland to visit relatives, after which they expected to visit Carlsbad Cavern and El Paso. Young Mr. Goode reminded us that the editor was his first school teacher and his good wife took a picture of our mug. We have no idea what they will use it for.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Thomas and their son Skiles, his mother, Mrs. A. N. Thomas, and also Mrs. Thomas' mother, Mrs. Harris, left Tuesday to visit Carlsbad Cavern and other scenic places in New Mexico.

Mrs. F. L. Kelly, who has been here the past several weeks visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. C. Wells, left Monday to visit with other children at Dallas and other places east.

JESS C. LEVENS For State Senator

A vote for Jess C. Levens for State Senator is a vote for:

Shifting fifty per cent of the State, County, Independent School, and City taxes from the shoulders of the Farmers, Stockmen, Merchants, and Home Owners to the Foreign Loan Companies and other special interests who own more than that percentage of the wealth and who evade the payment of taxes by secreting such wealth. The past thirty years' experience has convinced us that schemes and theories only increase our burdens of taxation, so why not go to the very root of our trouble and relieve our people of their undue burdens?

VOTE FOR JESS C. LEVENS FOR STATE SENATOR.

PARKER SENDS FINAL MESSAGE TO VOTERS

I wish to thank the voters of Lynn county for their many assurances of support in the primary Saturday and to assure every voter that I will appreciate his or her support. I find that it is almost impossible to see all the voters personally but I trust that no one will feel that I have intentionally failed to do so. Your vote will be appreciated just the same, and if I am again elected your sheriff, I will strive to continue to give the best service of which I am capable.

B. L. PARKER.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Mullins went to Idalou last Sunday to visit relatives and to bring their daughter Eunice home. They were accompanied back by Miss Irene Lee, Mrs. Mullin's sister, who is visiting here this week.

Jeff Connolly and niece, Miss Hazel Connolly, are visiting relatives and friends at Whitney in Hill county. Mr. Connolly has one friend down there in particular—a lady friend—who is responsible for his frequent visits to that section, friends here declare. We know nothing as to the truth of this; we are only recording what is told to us.

F. E. McGonagill, vice president of the State Reserve Life Insurance Company, and his son, F. E. McGonagill Jr., of Fort Worth, were here over the week end visiting the former's brother, A. R. McGonagill, Mrs. Gladys M. Stokes, and other relatives.

Mrs. S. A. Shook and daughter, Mrs. Mildred Tautschold, both of Waco, came Saturday to visit the former's daughter, Mrs. Sid Sanders. Mrs. Tautschold came to spend only a few days but Mrs. Shook expects to remain two months or more.
