SINGERS PLAN MEETING HERE

Semi-Annual County Convention Will Be Held At Central Ward August 14th

The semi-annual meeting of the Lynn County Plateau Singing Convention is to be held in the auditorium of the Central Ward school building here on Sunday, August 14, according to announcement made by M. E. McCord, the president.

The convention is to meet at 10 A. M. and will continue throughout the day. There will be plenty of free ice water. Everybody is expected to bring their own lunch and to assist in entertaining visitors from other counties.

Many visitors are expected from other counties, including some good singers. John F. Taylor of Clovis, president of the Plateau Singing Convention, which embraces many counties on the plains of Texas and New Mexico, has indicated his intention of being here, and Mr. McCord says that some good quartettes from other places are expected.

Everybody is cordially invited and a great program of pleasure and entertainment is promised.

Methodists Hear Excellent Sermon

Rev. H. C. Smith spoke to an appreciative audience Sunday morning on the beautiful theme of the Lord's Prayer. He brought an inspirational message of forgiveness and Golden Rule practice. A special offering toward the expense of last week's training school was taken up. At night the message was centered around the old testament figure, Nehemiah, being a treatise on "Builders: Co-Workers With God", and it was enjoyed by a good congregation.

At the church school hour, little Miss Mary Bland Wells sang a sweet little solo following the prelude, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" by Ambrose-Schnecker. W. E. Smith conducted the worship period for the church school and W. E. Suddarth for the eleven o'clock service. C. O. Carmack will have the opening service in charge next Sunday, following the regular prelude and musical feature. This is a new departure in this particular service, and will be new and interesting each week. Do not miss this first Sunday—promptly at 7:45 A. M.—Reporter.

Bohannon-Lamastus Nuptials At Hobbs

Val Lamastus and Miss Thelma Bohannon were married in Lovington, New Mexico, on last Saturday afternoon. They were accompanied on the trip by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lamastus.

The groom has been employed the past year or two as cook at the Bovell Bakery while the bride has been residing a few miles southeast of Tahoka. They have the best wishes of many friends.

Redwine Revival Starts Saturday

Announcement is made that a revival meeting is to be held at Redwine, beginning on Saturday night of this week, to continue possibly two weeks.

Rev. L. S. Jenkins, Baptist pastor at O'Donnell, is to do the preaching and Mrs. R. E. Thompson of Tahoka is to lead the song services.

Everybody is cordially invited to these services.

Lee King went down to Wichita Falls and brought his mother back home Thursday of last week. She had been a patient in the State Hospital at that place for several weeks, being afflicted with pellagra and the resultant mental trouble. Her physical condition is gradually growing worse and she is not expected to live but a few days longer. Lee was accompanied on the trip by Herman Anglin.

George and Maurice Small made a business trip to Fort Worth the first of the week. George says that he found Mr. and Mrs. Charley Wakefield at Mineral Wells operating a cafe and doing a big business. They had many questions to ask about their Tahoka friends.

LIQUOR FOUND AT NEWMOORE

Raymond Bates Charged Of Liquor Possession After Raid By County Officers

Sheriff B. L. Parker searched the premises of Raymond Bates residing in the Newmoore community on last Sunday and took charge of four jars of whiskey concealed in various places about the premises.

Bates was brought to town and placed in jail and complaint was filed against him in the justice court charging him with the unlawful possession of intoxicating liquor for the purpose of sale.

This charge will be investigated by the grand jury which convenes here in September.

Hobbs Truckmen Are Fined Here

Two truck drivers, McIntyre and Small by name, operating out of Hobbs, New Mexico, were fined in the justice court here Monday afternoon, one on a charge of operating a truck without a permit and the other on a charge of driving a truck without a driver's license. One was fined $25.00 and the other $1.00, the usual costs attaching in each case.

These complaints were filed by J. H. Edwards, who is truck inspector for the state railway commission. County officials are of the opinion that the laws regulating the operation of trucks are to be more strictly enforced by state officials from this time on.

Third Dollar Day Attracts Crowd

Monday was Dollar Day in Tahoka, the third of the season, and a great crowd was attracted by the program and the bargains offered. Some of the business men report that their business was most gratifying.

The Post Concert Band furnished music for the occasion and this proved to be an attractive feature. The crowds here were good-natured and seemed to enjoy the day.

Boys Fight With Knives, Fine One

Daymond Ward and J. W. King, two youths residing in the T-Bar community, engaged in a fight with knives Monday, each receiving painful wounds. Ward was cut on the arm while King was stabbed in the side, but neither wound is believed to be serious.

King entered a plea of guilty in the county court to a charge of aggravated assault Monday and his fine was assessed at $25.00, the costs aggregating about the same amount. Being unable to pay off, he is still in jail.

No complaint has been filed against Ward, we understand.

T-BAR H. D. CLUB HAS TWENTY AT MEETING

The T-Bar Club met Thursday afternoon, July 28, with fifteen members and five visitors present. A short business meeting was held. All answered roll call with a joke.

We were very much disappointed at not having the Wells Club as our guest, as this was guest day, but learned later in the afternoon that it was impossible for them to come. Refreshments of chicken salad, sandwiches, ice tea and cake were served. Visitors were Mrs. R. V. Huff of Texarkana, Mrs. D. Henderson of Big Spring, Mrs. Carl Alexander of Lakeview, Mrs. Parker and Miss Johnnie Edwards.—Reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. West of Tulsa, Oklahoma, are visiting Mrs. West's mother, Mrs. M. I. Ray. They expect to be here for a few weeks.

Orvis Weathers Weds Quannah Girl

The News learned this week that Orvis Weathers, an old Tahoka boy, was recently married to Miss Frances Walkup of Quannah. The wedding ceremony was performed in Roswell, New Mexico, after which the couple visited Ruidoso and came back by way of Tahoka, stopping here to visit briefly with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Larkin Weathers.

Orvis was reared here and graduated with honors in the Tahoka high school a few years ago. He studied telegraphy and for the past few years has been an operator, holding this position now in Quannah. His many friends here are wishing him the best of joys that can come through a long and happy life.

They expect to be away about six weeks.

G. E. Hogan and granddaughters, Misses Gene and Marian Hooper, who are visiting him from Archer City, left Wednesday to spend a day or two at Comanche visiting Mr. Hogan's mother.

The county Democratic convention held in the district court room at 2 o'clock last Saturday afternoon was a very harmonious and quiet affair. Only three voting precincts in the county were represented with delegates: North Tahoka, New Home, and Dixie. One voter in South Tahoka and one in Wilson were seated as members of the North Tahoka delegation.

The business of the convention was limited to the selection of delegates to the state convention to be held in Lubbock on September 13 and to the various district conventions. All delegations were instructed to vote as a unit on all matters arising in the respective conventions.

Delegates were elected as follows: To the State Convention: R. C. Forrester, W. E. Sikes, S. L. Smith, J. J. Gray, E. W. Holloway, Mack Haymes, Sid Cathey, Luther Thomas, J. O. Reed, J. E. Celebrate Birthday With Aged Mother

Mrs. M. E. Robbins and E. B. Terry and children, Doyle, Irene, and Burl, have just returned from De Leon where they visited and attended the birthday celebration of their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Rebekah Alice Terry, who was eighty-three years of age on July 27.

The celebration was held at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Lee Irvin, residing at De Leon, and about a half hundred of her relatives gathered to honor her on this occasion. They surprised her with the gift of a radio as a birthday present. A great feast was served on tables arranged out doors in a beautiful grove of live oaks, and it was a most happy occasion.

Grandma Terry has been a resident of Texas since 1855, being six years old when the family migrated to Rusk county, Texas, from Tennessee. She has been residing in Comanche county since 1875. She has given birth to 14 children, twelve of whom grew to maturity, married, and raised families. Ten of them are still living, seven of them being present for the recent celebration. Her descendants are almost like the stars of the heavens for number, there being 93 grand-children, 64 great grand-children, and two great great grandchildren. She is still enjoying fairly good health.

County Superintendent H. P. Caveness and family left early Tuesday morning to spend a few days camping out on the banks of the Colorado down in San Saba county. They have some relatives from another section of the state who have maintained a summer camp there for many years and who had written the Caveness family that they had just recently caught one fish weighing fifty pounds. So the Caveness family are probably having a great time now fishing and enjoying the scenery. They expected to be gone about ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Rodgers and children of Los Angeles, California, left for their home last Thursday after spending a couple of weeks visiting their sister here, Mrs. N. M. Wyatt, and Mr. Rodgers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Rodgers, at O'Donnell. All these families enjoyed a rosiption one day last week at the home of Mrs. Wyatt's brother, Major H. Rodgers, at Levelland.

THIEVES BUSY HERE RECENTLY

W. O. Henderson's Car Stolen; Gas Taken From Phillips 66; Trailer Stripped

The Ford car of W. O. Henderson was stolen from the driveway on his premises Tuesday night. Upon missing it Wednesday morning he notified officers but so far as we are advised no clue to the identity of the thief has been obtained.

On the same night thieves also broke into the Phillips 66 storage tank and stole about 150 gallons of gasoline. Officers are working on the case.

On last Saturday night thieves took the trailer belonging to Frank Larkin from his premises and proceeded to the high school premises, where they stripped it of its wheels and tires, leaving the bed.

Pleads Guilty To Whipping Girl

Some time ago the News stated that a complaint had been filed in the county court here charging a citizen of the Morgan community with the offense of aggravated assault, it being alleged that the accused man whipped or struck his niece with a piece of wire.

On Monday of this week the charge was reduced to one of simple assault, the allegation that a wire was used being eliminated, and the defendant pleaded guilty to the charge. A small fine was assessed by the court.

Woman Is Enemy Of Rattlesnakes

Mrs. D. J. Wills, who resides in the Midway community, is an inveterate enemy to the whole Rattlesnake family. She has been waging relentless war on these vicious reptiles the past few weeks, and seven of them have come to an untimely death at her hands. On Thursday of last week she killed one with fourteen rattles and it was four or five feet long, according to her husband.

Mr. Wills reports that there are many rattlesnakes in his vicinity this year. In fact, reports from various places indicate that the rattlesnake crop this year is abnormally large.

MISS EUNICE MULLINS GIVES SLUMBER PARTY

Miss Eunice Mullins entertained a group of girl friends with a lawn slumber party last Wednesday night, July 27th.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pace returned last week from Ozona, where they spent the summer with Mrs. Pace's parents.

FINE ASSESSED ON EX-OFFICIAL

A plea of guilty to a charge of giving a bad check was entered in the county court Monday by Walter Florence of Draw, formerly county commissioner of this county. He granted the defendant 60 days in which to pay the fine and costs.

Frank Young pleaded guilty to a charge of unlawfully concealing stolen property, the property in question being a saddle. He was fined $1.00 and was given thirty days in which to settle up.

Virgil Cobb, a young boy of the South Ward community, was tried as a delinquent child. He pleaded guilty and was paroled to the custody of his father by the court. Cobb had a personal encounter of a rather serious nature with a neighboring boy some time ago.

Rev. Darby Will Preach Sunday

Rev. Graves Darby, formerly pastor of the Baptist Church at Wilson but now at Cross Plains, will fill the Baptist pulpit here next Sunday morning and evening. Brother Darby is to begin a revival meeting at Wilson on Monday. Many friends here will be delighted at the opportunity to hear him again.

On last Sunday morning G. H. Nelson, delivered a most excellent lay sermon. He announced at the outset, however, that he was not a candidate for the pastorate of the Church.

On Sunday and Monday nights, Rev. W. H. Howell, pastor at Roscoe for the past two years, spoke, bringing a splendid message at each service.

Attendance upon the Sunday School has fallen off considerably the last two Sundays, especially at the Men's Bible Class conducted at the American Legion Hall. Special efforts are being made to bring the attendance back up to normal next Sunday. You are urged to be present next Sunday. Mr. Hogan will bring a great message.

Miss McKaughan, Lee King Marry

Lee King and Miss Odell McKaughan slipped off over to Clovis, New Mexico, a couple of weeks ago and got married. They kept the matter so quiet that the News didn't learn of it till this week. The item is ancient history now but we extend congratulations just the same.

Mr. Higgins explains, "and often I would have bilious spells. I read about Thedford's Black-Draught and began to take it. It relieved me of this trouble. I keep it all the time now. I consider it a fine medicine. I take a pinch of Black-Draught after meals when I need it. It helps to prevent sick headache and to keep the system in good order." CITATION BY PUBLICATION

The State of Texas.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lynn County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon the unknown heirs and legal representatives of F. P. Cook, deceased, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Lynn County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Tahoka, on the 3rd Monday in September A. D. 1932, the same being the 10th day of September A. D. 1932, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 11th day of July A. D. 1932, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 928, wherein R. Y. Eckels is Plaintiff, and Mrs. Cora Cook, The Wilson Mercantile Company, Inc., a corporation, O. W. Splawn and the unknown heirs and legal representatives of F. P. Cook, deceased, are Defendants, and said petition alleging that on August 1, 1931, F. P. Cook and wife, Cora Cook, executed and delivered to Temple Trust Company six notes aggregating $3000.00, being five notes for $200.00 each, and one note for $2000.00 due, respectively, January 1, 1932 to 1936, inclusive, and January 1, 1942, all payable to Temple Trust Company and bearing 6 per cent interest, and providing for the usual 10 per cent attorney's fees; that to secure payment of said notes said F. P. Cook, et ux, executed a First Mortgage or Deed of Trust upon all that part of the West one-half (1/2) of Section Twelve (12), Block Seven (7), Lynn County, Texas, lying East of the P. & S. F. Ry. Co. right-of-way; that said notes were additionally secured by a vendor's lien upon said land; that the note for $200.00 which became due January 1, 1932, and interest aggregating $75.00 due on such date is delinquent and unpaid; that F. P. Cook is dead, and no administration was had on his estate; that the note and interest which are due were transferred to plaintiff by Temple Trust Company; that The Wilson Mercantile Company Inc., and O. W. Splawn are claiming some interest in the property, which is inferior to the lien of plaintiff; that the notes held by plaintiff have been placed in the hands of attorneys for collection, whereby the 10 per cent attorney's fees accrued. Plaintiff asks for foreclosure of his lien to the extent of his debt, interest and attorney's fees on the above land against all of the defendants, subject to the notes held by the Temple Trust Company yet unmatured, and First and Second Mortgage liens securing payment of same.

Herein fail not and have you before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Tahoka, Texas, this 11th day of July, A. D. 1932. W. S. TAYLOR, Clerk, District Court, Lynn County. 47-4c

Fifty-Four Years Of Pioneering On The Plains Of Texas

Copyright, 1932, by Frank Hill

As Told By Jack Alley
To
Frank P. Hill

LATER DAY RANCHES OF THE PLAINS

One of the larger ranches of this section, most of which has gone into farming land during the last two decades, was the IOA Ranch of the Western Land and Cattle Company. It covered a large area along the Yellowhouse north and northwest to the present city limits of Lubbock. Frank Wheelock, Rollie Burns, and S. I. Johnson, the latter the father of "Bud" and Jim, were among the managers.

The 86,000-acre IOA was offered for sale in about 1900 for $1.00 per acre. I always had to drive by there for water when driving cattle to the Runningwater Ranch, and I knew the IOA pretty well. I begged Col. Slaughter with tears in my eyes to buy the ranch but he said he would not give a cent more than 75 cents an acre cash for it. Kokernot brothers of Alpine bought the ranch. Land soon began to boom and in less than two years Kokernot's had sold enough land to pay for the whole ranch.

The Spade Ranch, started by the Snyder brothers and later owned by the Elvados, originally consisted of four pastures, each of which was eight miles square, and was one of the best fenced ranches in the West. It was watered with windmills.

When Slaughter bought the 2,500 head of Herefords from John Scharbauer of Midland he bought about 100,000 acres of land west of Lubbock in Cochran and Hockley counties and started the Whiteface Ranch. About 1894 he began buying up school lands in that section. These were of four leagues each, about 16,000 acres; and he finally had about 500,000 acres in that ranch, I think. The land was fenced, wells drilled, and the place stocked with 20,000 head of heifers from the Buffalo or Long-S ranch. His main bull pastures were at the Whiteface ranch. In fact, the Whiteface was said to be the largest pure-bred cattle ranch in the whole world.

George Slaughter was put in as manager of the Whiteface Ranch and the C. C. Slaughter Land & Cattle Co. was organized. Mr. Slaughter gave this ranch to his wife and nine children. The company was capitalized at $100,000, with ten shares of stock, one each for his wife and children; but Col. Slaughter retained an $80,000 lien against the property to prevent its sale.

Barrett Penny, Hiley Boyd, and Chief of Police John Lemond, all of Lubbock, were among those serving as foremen of the Whiteface at various times. In recent years much of the land has been sold off to farmers and small cattlemen.

Most of the Runningwater Ranch in Hale county was sold off in 1908, 1909, and 1910 to settlers from Iowa, Indiana, Ohio, and other northern states by W. P. Soash, who sponsored special trains of prospective buyers from these states to the Plain-view country. Soash was a good real estate man, and made a profit of about $250,000. Mr. Soash now lives in Lubbock.

As soon as most of this land was disposed of, Slaughter closed a deal with Soash to sell off the Long-S, or Buffalo, Ranch. In order to do this, the salesman built the town of Soash, now just a country community, about twenty-two miles north of Big Spring, and brought farmers in by the train loads to look at the land. Automobiles, which were just coming into use, from all over the country, even as far away as Tahoka and Lubbock, were carried down to Big Spring to use in carrying the prospectors from the railroad to the Soash Hotel. Those in charge of the excursions wanted to get the men away from Big Spring as quickly as possible in order to keep other land men from getting hold of them.

But, just as everything was beginning to look favorable for the wholesale selling of the ranch, a big drought set in; and, though Mr. Soash was a first-class real estate man, he could not sell enough land to put the proposition over. The big drought cost him his $250,000 and Slaughter about $50,000. Soash says he got the wrinkles in the back of his neck from looking toward the skies for rain clouds while trying to sell off the Long-S.

Soash built a big, fine hotel at his town and organized a bank. There was a garage, stores, and an ice cream parlor. He built a private telephone line and a telegraph line to Big Spring. The bank was said to be the best furnished bank west of Fort Worth. Soash advertised extensively, and after the disaster, I went down in the bank basement and advertising literature was stacked two feet deep all over the large room.

When Soash started selling off this land, Bob Slaughter quit as manager of the Buffalo Ranch and went in partnership with him. I resigned my position as postmaster at Tahoka in 1911 when C. C. Slaughter asked me to take Bob's place as manager.

The Buffalo Ranch was badly run down then. The choice sections had been sold off. Headquarters had been moved to Soash. Watering places had been fenced around. Slaughter had lost a great deal of money while trying to sell the land, but I immediately went to work buying up land that held water and straightening out the place in general. I had 35 windmills put up, cement troughs and tanks built over the Rattlesnake pasture, fences put up or rebuilt, headquarters remodeled, and soon the place was in good condition again. Also, the herds had dwindled down to only 4,000 head of cattle, where there had once been fully 40,000 or 50,000 head. At the time I left, the ranch was the best improved large ranch in West Texas.

After four years as manager of the Long-S, I leased Slaughter's remaining land at Runningwater and ranched there for four years, following which I moved back to Tahoka. While at Runningwater, about 1918, Col. Slaughter died, and I was the only person outside of his home to be remembered in his will. I have served as Republican county chairman of Lynn county for the past ten years, and also had charge of the 1930 census enumeration here. Mrs. Alley and I have been operating our hotel, The Sunshine Inn, the past several years.

I am proud of the little part I have played in the development of this section by early day pioneering. There can't be too much credit given to Goodnight, the Slaughters, the Bakers, Coggins, Wiley, Merchant, Pursell, "One Arm" Jim Reid, Cass O. Edwards, who still rides the range, Jess Hittson, Kin Elkins, Calvin Sloan, Will and Van Sanders, Divers, Rube Secrest, Dan Kyle, Boyd and Frank Porter, Fabrique, Gill, the Kidwell brothers, "Matador Red" Campbell, Nick and John Beal, Jim Hall, and other original West Texas ranch owners for their pioneering in this country.

Credit should also be given to the cowboys who worked on the ranches, among whom the most familiar names are Rollie C. Burns, George Boles, Frank Wheelock, and Geo. Wolffarth, all of Lubbock; Dick Logan, now living on the Texas-New Mexico line; Frank Collingsworth of the Coggins & Wiley outfit; Dick Hudson of the Jim Hall ranch; Bill and Tom Petty of the T-Bar; Fayette and Charlie Wilson of the Sanders Ranch; Bill Odum of the Godair and Bishop.

These old-time ranch owners and cowboys left comfortable homes back east that had all the conveniences of that day to come—pioneering in this West Texas country—where there were no railroads or towns; where they must sleep in the rain and cold, much of the time with the ground as their bed, a saddle as a pillow, and a saddle blanket for cover; eat off the back end of a chuck wagon; and spend long hours each day in the saddle; where they must do without many conveniences and amusements that other people had; where they must constantly face the danger of an Indian raid and death.

But, I doubt if any of these pioneers regret that they were such, for there was much in the life of the frontiersman that was really worth living for. To say the least, the original West Texas cowmen gave the way for and hastened the development of this great country.

(THE END)

J. K. Applewhite and family left the first of the week to spend a few days visiting relatives at Lampasas. The boys in the store figure that Jack is sitting out on the banks of some stream thinking up big fish stories to tell when he gets back.

Opinions Of Our Readers

FACING THE FACTS

"We favor the repeal (destruction) of the Eighteenth Amendment—but the saloon must never come back," is one of the most ridiculous things the wet propaganda has ever put out. Nothing but national prohibition has ever been able to bring about such a change of mind in the old wet brigade. Suppose we say: "We favor the destruction of all railroads, airplanes and motor vehicles but the stage coach must not come back", or "We favor the abolition of all schools and printing offices but medieval illiteracy must not return." Either one is equally as sensible as this worn out wet fallacy.

Faulty and defective as the 18th Amendment is, it is the only thing that put the saloon out of business, and that keeps it from coming back. Think of anyone saying: "I am going to tear down my screen doors and windows and pull down all my wire fences but the flies must keep out of my kitchen and the cattle must stay out of my corn." The Canadian liquor control system is only the old South Carolina dispensary system and after twenty years trial it was discarded for prohibition. A saloon by any other name would smell just as sour.

Beer taxes, we are told, would wipe out a billion dollar deficit at a rate of 3 cents a pint. That figures thirty-two gallons a year for every person in America. Let us reduce things to a quota—world war style and we find Lynn county's annual quota about $100,000 beer taxes and $800,000 beer sales. At $40 a bale it would take half the average annual cotton crop of Lynn county to pay the county's beer bill. As it now is, three-fourths of the county's cotton money is spent with local merchants but most of these will tell you they are barely getting by. When you spend a dollar in a grocery store 25 to 75 cents of it goes to the farmer, when spent in a beer saloon, less than a nickel.

Do we want a beer saloon or two right in our own little town taking up over half the cotton money? If not, then why all this talk about repeal? For the Dean law will not last long after the 18th is repealed. Our own local business men will be the heaviest losers if liquor is ever re-legalized.

"Conditions are worse than in saloon days". How, when where? In the cities, of course. All right, call General Eva Booth whose "army" last year aided over a million down-and-outers in the cities and remember the "General" started helping the drunkards when she was a frail young girl and she is now an old woman. Only one percent of those aided last year were drunk or had been drinking while in pre-Volstead days it was from fifty to seventy percent. Who ought to know better about drink conditions in the cities, Eva Booth or some pin-headed fiction writer in wet employ? Where are the Keely cures today and what were they before "this damnable nuisance" came to afflict the land? If you don't know, young gents, what I mean, ask your paw. Ever see 100 to 1000 drunks on one excursion train? Ever see drunks so thick on show day or election day that women dare not go down town without a male escort? Ever see a public meeting broken up by drunken hoodlums or 10,000 drunks "heckling" the President of the U. S.?

Face the facts, both present, past and future and when you do and see the knot on the end of your neck otherwise than for a hat rack, you will soon find yourself facing back toward the dry column. —A Reader.
