Rep. Osborne Back From Capital... Legislator Hails Water Law As Good Start On Statewide Program

Rep. Jesse M. Osborne, of Muleshoe, believes the Legislature has made a good start on a comprehensive Texas-wide water conservation program by the passage of a water bill in the recently held special sessions.

Rep. and Mrs. Osborne have returned home following adjournment of the second special session of the Legislature called by Governor Price Daniel.

Mr. Osborne told The Journal that the legislation enacted will bring about proper correlation of water information collected by Texas A&M, Texas Tech, and Soil Conservation Service, Board of Water Engineers, etc. This, he said, should give an overall picture of the water problems of the whole state, and should lead to a comprehensive program of water conservation.

On an entire state basis, it can now be determined, he believes, what dams for instance, are desirable, practical, and feasible.

Other laws enacted

He thinks the water legislation was the outstanding work of the two special sessions.

The Legislature also passed what is known as the "troop bill", which would empower school boards to close a school when trouble is feared or when it is threatened with occupation by Federal troops. Mr. Osborne said it could be that a school faced with community animosities or ill feeling might profitably close the school for a period to allow time for things to cool off.

The other major piece of legislation is the law requiring that all lobbyists be registered as such with the Secretary of State. The bill as finally approved is not as strong as the House wanted it, but it will serve a good purpose, Mr. Osborne thinks.

Santa Arrives In Sandstorm

The weatherman dealt Santa Claus a harsh blow Saturday evening, when a cold front hit the area amidst blinding sand just when Santa was scheduled to make his appearance downtown to mark the beginning of the Christmas season in Muleshoe.

However, the spirit of Christmas for children was not to be denied, and Santa arrived in the middle of the sandstorm and met quite a few children who braved the unpleasant weather.

Chamber officials said the crowd was considerably smaller than in previous years, due to the blowing dust.

St. Nick will be back in town for several days prior to Christmas, visiting in various stores, and many children may see him then who missed his first visit Saturday night.

Cotton Referendum Fails To Carry Necessary Majority Tuesday Vote

Bailey county cotton farmers turned down the national cotton referendum Tuesday by a vote of 170 against, to 321 for. The election required a two-thirds majority to carry. In the state however, early returns showed the allotment referendum carrying by a majority in excess of 85 per cent. For the first time, a concerted effort was made by farmers in Bailey, Lamb and Farmer county to influence the outcome of the election. Handbills and circulars were distributed, urging cotton farmers to vote against the equotas.

By communities, the election in this county was as follows:

	For	Against
Com. A	140	150
Com. B	50	5
Com. C	131	15
Total	321	170

Polling was at the ASC office in Muleshoe, Maple Coop Gin, and Farmers Coop Gin at Needmore and Gardner-Hankins IGn at Enochs.

Bailey county cotton allotment has been set for 100,793 acres, a reduction of 1535 acres from the 1957 allotment. Farmer county received a small acreage increase, while Lamb county's acreage was decreased by about 3,000 acres.

Many Local Churches Plan Holiday Programs

The Christmas season will be given its spiritual recognition in special services planned in many local churches prior to December 25, Christmas day. Several churches are planning special musical programs during Christmas week, and the traditional Midnight Mass will be celebrated at Immaculate Conception Catholic Church in Country Club Addition at midnight on December 24.

At one church, Calvary Baptist in Muleshoe, the young people have been putting their energy toward repairing toys for the underprivileged children. The pastor of the church announced that the youth of the church have decided to show their Christmas spirit in that fashion and have a Wednesday program at the church.

A complete schedule of special Christmas services in local churches will be published December 19.

Father Vincent Daugintis told The Journal this week that the service will begin promptly on the stroke of twelve.

Cotton Harvest Continues Despite Rash Of Fires At Gins Over The Weekend

Cotton harvesting continued on a 24-hour basis in the Muleshoe area this week, despite shutdowns of local gins Saturday night in the face of winds up to 60 mph., and a rash of cotton fires in the territory.

about 45 bales were lost in the fire at Stegall.

Average grade for cotton hereabouts was strict low middling, with some spot and light spot cotton reported from partially opened bolls.

An estimated 32,000 plus bales had been ginned as of Saturday evening, and practically every one of the 20-old gins in the county was operating on an around the clock basis to take care of the pileup of cotton on their yards.

High winds Tuesday, and blowing sand again caused a number of fires at gins in the area. Progress had a second fire in their burr pit with no damage of any consequence, and Kendrick's gin at Bula had a fire Tuesday.

The average at most gins, contacted this past weekend, was from 100 to more than 1,000 bales behind schedule, with more trailers arriving every hour.

Although some cotton will still be in the fields after Christmas, the largest majority of the 1957 crop is expected to be at the gins by the time the holiday begins.

The Kendrick's fire was reported to have burned about 40 bales of cotton before it was extinguished.

All gins shut down during the daylight hours Tuesday and commenced operating again after the wind died at dusk.

Trailer fires over the weekend destroyed or damaged trailers and cotton at gins in Muleshoe, Progress, Enochs and Stegall. No serious loss of equipment at gins was reported, although

Native Shrubs Add Interest And Save Landscape Dollars

Native shrubs of ornamental value are found in all parts of Texas. They add interest to farm and home grounds and save dollars too.

Shrubs can be marked now and transplanted to the grounds during the winter, according to Sadie Hatfield, extension home-stead improvement specialist. It's easy to spot shrubs which have attractive berries and bright fall leaves at this time of the year.

Valuable native plants are often found growing in nearby pastures, oil fields, canyons and breaks. Those found near your home will be especially well adapted to the soil and climate and will usually thrive when moved to the home grounds.

There are many possibilities. Examples are the ceniza and agave or algerita, which grows in the southwestern area; native hollies, bayberry, cherry laurel and Indian Cherry in East Texas.

Shrub hunting can be fun for the whole family. This is the time of the year to enjoy it.

Make Holiday Safe By Being Careful

The Christmas season is indeed a happy one, but few people stop to think of the added fire hazards their home contains during this time of the year.

Use only Undervriters Laboratories approved lights for the tree and inspect them carefully for frayed cords and damaged sockets, says the engineer. Avoid overloading electrical circuits with additional lights, toys and appliances.

Only nonflammable decorations should be used on the tree, he continues. Turn the tree lights off when retiring or leaving the house. Discard the tree when the needles begin to dry and fall off.

Observance of these few rules can result in a safer and happier Christmas season for the whole family, concludes Ulich.

New Publication On Production Of Alfalfa Available

Alfalfa is a versatile crop that may be dehydrated, grazed, fed as greenchop, put up as silage, and used as a money crop and for soil improvement. But hay and seed are the most important products of over 300,000 acres of alfalfa in Texas.

Hay is one of the most palatable and nutritious forage crops grown when harvested at the proper stage of growth. The forage is high in protein, minerals, and vitamins and low in fiber.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service has released a bulletin, B-873, "Alfalfa for Forage and Seed", that gives much valuable information on the production of this crop. It is based on Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Bulletin 855, "Alfalfa Production in Texas."

The bulletin contains sections on adaptation, land preparation, fertilization, seeding, irrigation, cultivation, insects and diseases as well as sections on the various uses of alfalfa and other topics of interest. This helpful publication may be obtained from local county agents.

YEAR END TAX TIPS NUMBER 4 Steps That Could Save A Dependency Exemption

This is one of a series of four articles on federal income taxes. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants.

As you check over the list of people you intend to claim as dependents on your 1957 tax return, keep this phrase in mind: more than one-half support.

This is the test of dependency. Unless the money you have contributed during the year is enough to make up more than one-half of a dependent's living costs, you might as well cross that person off your list. He or she will not qualify as a dependent for tax purposes, and you will lose a valuable $600 exemption on your 1957 return.

Taxpayers with children who work part-time or during the summer should watch this angle closely. It's not how much your child earns during the year—it's how much he contributes to his own support. The law specifically states that a parent may claim an exemption for a child, stepchild or adopted child under 19 years of age, no matter how much he earned, provided the child depended on the parent for more than one-half of his support.

Bank Child's Earnings Here is an important point to remember when you are trying to decide whether you have contributed the necessary amount: For a youngster banks or investments is not considered to be a contribution to his own support costs. Check carefully to see how much of your child's earnings has gone for his support. You may find that it will save an exemption on the family return if you have him bank his earnings for the rest of the year.

Supporting a Relative If you have helped support a relative during the year, see to it that what you have contributed is enough to permit you to claim an exemption for this dependent. For example, you may have paid approximately $650 of your mother's $1,000 living expenses. By contributing another $350 or $50 to her support before December 31, you can push the total over the more-than-half mark of $700 and gain an additional exemption.

Or, if you shared with others in the support of a parent, take steps now to insure that one of you can qualify for an exemption. Make sure first of all that your combined contributions were enough to total more than one-half of the parent's living expenses. Then, have all the members of the group that contributed 30 per cent or more of the parent's support sign Multiple Support Agreements, granting one-signer of the agreement permission to claim the full exemption.

Claim All Exemptions Exemptions cannot be juggled, shifted, bunched or pyramided to gain a tax advantage—but they can be overlooked. Be sure to claim all the exemptions you properly can, because each one reduces your taxable income by $600. Remember that to qualify for an exemption a dependent must:

(1) Have received more than one-half of his support from you, unless you file Multiple Support Agreements which may be obtained at any Internal Revenue Service office.

(2) Have less than $600 gross income for 1957, unless he or she is your child and under 19, or a full-time student.

(3) Not file a joint return.

(4) Live with you (absence while attending school does not interfere), or be a close relative as specifically defined in the official instruction book, or be a cousin receiving institutional care for a mental or physical disability who had lived with you before going to the institution.

(5) Be either a citizen of the United States or a resident of the U. S., Canada, Mexico, Panama and in some cases, a serviceman's child living in the Philippines.

If you are supporting dependents but are not able to file a joint return because you are unmarried, you may be able to qualify as the "head of a household" and be entitled to use a special schedule of tax rates that gives you half the benefits of income-splitting. In a situation where, say, a son lives with his widowed mother and shares expenses equally, the son may have to contribute a few extra dollars before the end of the year to qualify as the head of a household.

Each year millions of taxpayers put off filing their tax returns until the April 15 deadline. The last minute rush to avoid a late filing penalty produces not only long lines at Internal Revenue Service offices, but also many careless mistakes by taxpayers. Prepare your tax return carefully and file it early. Help is available from the I.R.S., which urges you to consult a properly qualified adviser if you need assistance.

A Letter To Santa

NOTE: This letter was first published in the San Antonio Express during the Christmas season of 1952. The writer was Miss Lois Weekes, then Society Editor, and now an Odessa housewife. It has a universal appeal and is especially fitting in these days when we sometimes tend to forget the real meaning of Christmas.

Dear Mr. Claus: I hope you will remember me. Santa, it's been a long time. You'd have to blow the dust away to look up my name in your files. The last time I wrote you, I spelled Bicycle with a "k"—and I've been singing "Jingle Bells" an octave lower for several seasons now. My stocking size and my Christmas lists have changed considerably—and I now recognize the value of a little mistletoe in the decor.

It isn't that I've underestimated you through the years, Mr. C., or forgotten our relationship. I've been giving your letters to my father to mail and its worked out beautifully since the Christmas he inquired as to my knowledge of your identity. My affirmative answer brought a "Well, start being a little nice to ME, then", from him. And we laughed and my mother cried.

I still believe in you, you see. I've followed your activity each Yuletide in the nation's press. I know you don't have time to read all the papers, but December's headlines—lots of them—belong to you. Annually, you crowd out the day-by-day boys who fade from year to year.

Although this is more a delayed "thank you" for the other

Christmases than a suggested shopping list, there are a few things I'd like when you rein in the reindeer at my house this year.

Could you put the light from the children's faces, pressed against countless frosted window panes, into the hearts of the world? Could you transplant a little of the feeling of holly, the glistening tinsel, the angels atop the Christmas trees, the off-key Noels and the hushed hymns to those who are spending their first Christmas away from all that? And especially to those who never noticed it before?

Could you remind us all that this is a Birthday we are celebrating, not just an expense respite from the rest of the year? Could you put in our Christmas cards and our packages, the messages and the warmth we really mean instead of the shopworn sentiment and the same old gifts?

Most of all, Mr. Claus, could you make sure that we'll never outgrow you—that Christmas will always be a way of life and that you'll be staging it always? I think you will because, though you've seen central heating replace the chimney you've learned that America's front door is left unlocked each Christmas Eve. There is still room for the manger and the sleighbells in this age of automobiles and the atom. So don't ever go mechanized, Mr. Claus.

Sincerely Yours,
Lois Weekes

Dear Santa, Please come to see me. Bring me a B-B gun, football suit, guitar, and dump truck. Put them in under the tree. It will be lit up, so you can see how to get round.
Love,

Pilot Spinning Mill At Texas Tech To Gain Information For Cotton Industry

Through joint cooperation of Texas Tech, the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., and the Cotton Research Committee of Texas, plans will move ahead for activation of a pilot spinning plant at the Tech Textile Department.

George W. Pfeiffenberger, executive vice-president of the PCG said plans for using facilities now available at Tech to conduct spinning research were discussed December 3 by representatives of the three groups. U. S. Department of Agriculture officials, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station staff members and a representative of the National Cotton Council.

The plans are subject to approval of the Tech, PCG and Cotton Research Committee Boards of Directors.

Pfeiffenberger explained that current plans are to use the equipment available at Tech to conduct research from the raw cotton stage through the spinning stage. He explained that facilities now at Tech are adequate for this research. Later, the research is expected to be expanded to include weaving of cotton fabrics. Additional equipment may be added at that time.

Approximately two to three months is needed to get the pilot spinning plant into operation. He said some tests possibly will be made on 1957 crop Plains cotton.

The pilot spinning plant will be operated by Tech on a contract basis. Both the PCG and Cotton Research Committee will contract for specific research to be conducted.

Board of Directors that up to $25,000 be approved for spinning research during 1958 was approved recently by the PCG Finance Committee.

A recommendation of the PCG Finance Committee is expected that projects for the pilot spinning plant will be provided also by the spinning industry and perhaps by other governmental agencies. PCG officials think considerable use will be made of the pilot plant.

During a 40-hour week, 500 to 11000 pounds of cotton can be processed with the spinning equipment available at Tech. Therefore, research can be conducted on whole bales of cotton. Most of the current spinning research is with five-pound samples, the results of which are not readily accepted by mills.

PCG representatives at the pilot plant meeting included vice-president Wilmer Smith of New Home and directors Charles Vermer of Tahoka, Paul Lewis of Lamb County, and Gene Benham of Hockley County.

Texas Sets Economic Expansion Pace In Swift-Changing Nation

In a swift-changing nation, Texas is setting the pace in economic expansion, according to facts and figures presented in the Texas Almanac for 1958-59 which has just been published by The Dallas Morning News.

Most striking has been the development of manufacturing. In the eight years, 1949-57, the net annual value of Texas manufactured products increased from $1,814 million to $3,991 million. Even discounting for inflation of values this was an increase of about 60 per cent. In the 15 years 1939-57, net value of manufactured products increased from $449 million to $3,991 million.

The expansion of Texas banking, insurance, distribution, transportation and general commerce has been greater in recent years than in any other period of Texas history, as shown by many pages of concrete data.

The Texas population increase, 1950-1957, has been even more rapid than during the census interval, 1940-1950. In the absence of an official census since 1950, the Texas Almanac uses the official estimates of the Bureau of the Census and its own formula based upon scholastic population increase as shown in individual counties, cities and towns.

The state's population increased from 7,111,194 in 1950 to 9,127,000 in 1957, with some counties, cities and towns showing more than 50 per cent increase.

Farm population continues to decline in relation to the population of the entire state, but in less degree than during the 1940-1950 census interval.

The more than 700 pages of the volume bring up to date information on every aspect of Texas' economic, political and social activity, including latest data and historical reviews of the past.

Included are national resumes of all kinds with special emphasis on Texas with numerous and helpful maps illustrating.

In the pages of the volume are found recent developments and historical notes on government, education, politics, civic activities.

Wheat Research For 1958 Underway Now At Hi Plains Farm

Irrigated wheat research for 1958 got underway at the Hi Plains Station of the Texas Research Foundation last week after a delay of 1 1/2 months from the normal planting time. The delay was due to bad weather.

Seven varieties are being studied at the Station. They are Comanche, Concho, Crockett, Early Triumph, Tenmarq, Westar, and Early Wichita. Each variety is planted in 100 ft. plots 9 1/2 ft. wide. Each plot is repeated four times. Douglas Owen, in charge of the planting, said there was some residue of fertilizer from the 1957 season. One half of each plot will be top dressed with nitrogen and the other 1/2 of each plot will be left unfertilized to compare yield results.

"Man, it seems as if those trucks are more than any other. When you drive the AMALIE L. P. G., it will look plenty good and it sure won't friction up on you. Use that ordinary common grade oil used in the '50s and you'll know — if you've got AMALIE L. P. G.!"

Butane is propane (liquid Petroleum Gas) burned 100%.

That's why ordinary oil causes the quality that gives it the security, or having power, burn away. And it shines up almost like motor oil. AMALIE L. P. G. OIL is SUPERBLENDED to the 100% BUTANE in viscosity. Burns and works "suspended" so they flow out. And its 100% pure Butane is oil.

Nowell-Peterson Vows Exchanged December 7

In a simple but impressive double-ring ceremony, Miss Jo Ann Nowell of Plainview became the bride of Mr. Jerry Arnold Peterson of Lazbuddie, Saturday evening, December 7.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Nowell of Route 1, Muleshoe, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Peterson of Route 4, Clovis, N. M., former residents here. The ceremony was performed in the home of the pastor of the Baptist church, with Rev. Bill Curry reading the vows.

The bride wore a wool beige sheath dress with brown accessories, and a corsage of yellow roses. For something old she wore her grandmother's necklace, something blue was the handkerchief she carried, and something borrowed was the hat she wore that belonged to Mrs. Jack Smith. Mrs. Elbert Nowell gave her a good luck penny that she wore in her shoe.

Miss Johnnie Nowell, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor and Mrs. Herbert Rucker, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. Other attendants were Miss Katherine Smith of Lazbuddie and Travis Peterson, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride is a graduate of Lazbuddie high school and is employed at the telephone office in Plainview. The groom attended Cooper high school and is engaged in farming in the Lazbuddie community, where they will make their home for the present.

Football Banquet Held November 25

The annual football banquet was held Monday evening, November 25 at Leigon's Cafe in Muleshoe. The dining room was decorated to represent a football game, with the head table as the "bench" and the yard lines being marked along the other tables down to the goal posts wrapped in the school colors, orange and black.

Large styrofoam footballs trimmed in black and orange and sprayed with glitter hung from the ceiling over the tables, while the tables were lovely with fall leaves and berries. The centerpiece for the head table was a cake in the shape of a football field and decorated down to the last detail as a miniature field with the players and wrapped goal posts. This decoration was done by Mrs. John Bond and she is to be complimented on this. Place cards were orange and black footballs with the menu inside.

Along with the guest speaker at the head table sat the coaches, Mr. Bond and Mr. Washington, their wives, the school officials, and the three ministers, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Curry, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Mitchell, and Mr. R. A. Hartsell. Approximately 75 were present for the occasion.

"ALMOST, BUT NOT ENOUGH" is our verdict on how close competitive cars have come to matching the Swept-Wing 58. Take style. Other new cars are "almost" as low in inches, but still seem high and boxy in looks. Some of them are "almost" going to fins, but not enough to really make a difference. Then take performance. None of the other 1958 cars have anything to match the sway-free, dip-free, vibration-free ride of Torsion-Aire. (It's standard equipment.) Most of them still don't even have push-button driving! So after you've seen the "almost" cars, come in and drive a Swept-Wing 58. You'll see why we say: They're catching on, but they can't catch up.

Public Safety Department Predicts 205 Texans Will Die During Coming Holiday

The violent deaths of 250 persons in Texas during the 12-day Christmas-New Year holiday period was predicted today by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas DPS, announced the prediction of all forms of violent deaths compiled by N. K. Woerner, manager of Statistical Services. The estimate includes 113 homicides, 48 suicides, and homicides and 44 other accidental deaths for the 12-day period extending from 12:01 a.m. December 21 through 11:59 p.m. January 1.

During the same 12-day period last year 103 persons were killed in 89 fatal traffic accidents, seven below the 115 predicted motoricides.

The state police director said the same "all-out" effort of traffic law enforcement employed in holding down last year's count of traffic death will be used during the forthcoming holiday.

"Our estimated 115 motoricides (traffic deaths) for last year and Mrs. Jeeter Garner and family.

becomes despondent "at a time when everyone is exchanging gifts and having fun." Increased tensions and social activity result in greater personal conflict.

Colder temperatures and holiday activities in general was given in explanation for the increased number of accidental deaths this time of year. House fires increase in cold weather; people suffocate when they sleep in improperly ventilated rooms; falls and hunting accidents increase during bad weather and holiday periods.

Garrison said that although the holidays bring tragedy and sorrow to many, "we can prevent much of it if everyone will be especially careful at home, when walking or driving, and at social gatherings."

REMEMBER WHEN?

BY JOHN CROW

"HITLER CAPTURED!" Who could ever forget a headline like that? You'll say it never happened... but it did, and the world at the time took little notice.

It was a year of internal struggles in Germany. The mark was worth little as inflation swept the country. The flame of rebellion began to burn brightly. It began in Bavaria with an uprising led by General Ludendorff and a little-known corporal named Adolph Hitler. In Munich the Beer Putschists marched, and the revolt threatened to spread.

Many died in the fighting, and Hitler himself was wounded. He fled to safety, and the hunt for this rebel leader went on all that year. Then, on November 12, the search ended. Hitler was captured and imprisoned. For a brief time, his rise to power was stopped.

Remember the year?

Well, in those days when a man bought a new car he made sure he bought from a dependable dealer, one who was going to be around to stand back of his sales and to give good service, too.

The year was 1923.

Buying from a dependable dealer makes good sense today, too. And you can DEPEND on our deal on a new 1958 Chevrolet. Stop in and see us. We'll be glad to give you the facts on price, terms and trade—without any verbal trimmings!

A 20th CENTURY GOAL—INSECT ERADICATION

Have you ever wondered "What are the most significant advances made in agriculture during the century?"

If you were to make a list, chances are that you might leave out the most outstanding scientific accomplishment. And, that is our growing ability to completely wipe out major crop and livestock pests in a given area.

The 20th century marks the first time since the locusts plagued the Egyptians that man has dared to think it practical, eradicate major pests.

One such program now getting underway is against the screw worm in the Southeast. This insect causes $10 million to $20 million worth of damage to livestock in this area every year. When the campaign goes into full operation, some 50 million screwworm flies, sterilized by atomic radiation, will be released each week. Continued distribution of sterile male flies will gradually eliminate the natural screwworm population, scientists predict. A time goal for this project is a minimum of two years.

The imported fire ant, which damages a number of crops and is also harmful to animals, and man, is the subject of another eradication effort. The gypsy moth, a destroyer of trees, is also on the list.

Recent successes against the

Commissioner
Mediterranean fruit fly and the Khapra Beetle are cited as examples that complete eradication of some pests is possible.

The fruit fly, discovered in Florida in April 1956, was the subject of an $800,000 acre spray program covering 28 counties. The pest now is in the mop-up stage. The last fly found in the area was on November 26 of this year.

The $10 million spent on medical eradication was well spent, considering it protected a $400 million annual fruit industry in Florida.

The khapra beetle, possibly the worst pest of stored grain products, has been responsible for the most spectacular and successful fumigation program ever conducted. About 140 million cubic feet of warehouses, elevators, barns, and even residences, have been "wrapped" in plastic tarpulins and fumigated to eliminate beetles—many of which were hidden in small inaccessible cracks.

Eradication work is just one phase of the progress made in pest control. Other measures include: quarantines to protect against damaging pests from abroad; a disease and insect reporting system; and state quarantine and regulator measures to contain and control some pests, when eradication programs are not considered feasible.

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

Nearly all of the resolutions presented at the State Convention from Parmer County Farm Bureau became state FM policy. Farm to Market Roads, provision for quarterly licensing of limited-use farm vehicles, request for changing State Road Tax Refund filing regulations to coincide with Federal (annual) regulation, cotton research; these were some of the resolutions of the state legislative level your delegates were instructed upon. You are welcome to read the full text of the resolutions as passed. We believe they will be in the next issue of Texas Agriculture, too. Read them.

Every time we mention that wives can claim gas tax refunds, several women come in and do so, so we mention it again now, before Christmas. We asked one of the ladies if she was a Farm Bureau member, and she said no, she wasn't, but her husband was. Even though there is only one membership to the household, each member of that household is entitled to any and all of the services extended to members.

We wonder why so many of the county's leaders insist on playing directly into the hands of the Communist planners by running hundred million dollar ball-in-the-sky races when for over fifty years the Communist planners have outlined this plan to cause "capitalist America" to spend itself into bankruptcy.

History, in every instance, reveals that Communism has always worked from the inside of countries they conquered, never from the outside by military might, which they don't have, because it requires citizen loyalty.

Have you sent in your draft authorization card, either signed or unsigned with your suggestions for improving your Farm Bureau?

CONSIDER THIS: Soest thou a man wise in his own conceit? There is more hope of a fool than of him. Proverbs 26:12.

Christian Science Services

God's healing and saving power will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God the Preserver of Man" is the Golden Text from Deuteronomy (33:27): "The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms."

A number of experiences of the Apostle Paul are related in the Bible selections to be read which include Paul's healing (Acts 14) of the "man at Lystra, impotent in his feet, being a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked."

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (343:25): "Anciently those apostles who were Jesus' students, as well as Paul who was not one of his students, healed the sick and reformed the sinner by their religion. Hence the mistake which allows words, rather than works, to follow such examples!"

TO STUDENT COUNCIL MEET
Ten officers and delegates of the Muleshoe high school Student Council accompanied Principal Bill Parker and O. E. Lumsden to a Student Council district meeting in Brownfield Wednesday.

Few Retire To Get
S. S. Payments In South Plains Area

"Our latest local figures show that the great majority of full-time workers retire because they are in ill health or because they have lost their jobs. Few people in the South Plains area are retiring from fulltime work just to collect social security payments". John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock social security district office said today.

Under the Social Security Act, persons who continue working and earning over $1200 per year are not eligible to receive their full social security benefits. Since in almost every case a person's income is sharply reduced when he retires, social security benefits were designed to partially replace this lost income. When the law was passed, it was thought better to pay more adequate benefits to those whose working days were over than to spread the money thinner by also paying benefits to men over 65, or to women over 62, who were still working and who had suffered no substantial loss of income.

Mr. Hutton reminded those intending to work part time after applying for old-age insurance benefits to get full information at their nearest social security office as to how their earnings might affect their benefits. Substantial earnings could mean the loss of some if not all their benefits. However, after one reaches age 72 there is no longer any restrictions upon his earnings. This is particularly important to the self-employed, many of whom never retire and who otherwise might never receive any return on their contributions.

"The retirement test is part of the basic philosophy of social insurance" Mr. Hutton concluded, "as it not only prevents excessive drains on the old-age and survivors insurance trust fund but also serves to guarantee that those most likely to need some replacement of lost income receive it."

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
The Bible
In God is my salvation and my glory; the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God.—(Psalm 62, 7.)

To whom can one with un-failing assurance turn in time of deep sorrow, when his own strength is as water? There is only one sure salvation, one sure source of strength, and that is in God. He is ever present, ever ready to save us from the depths of despair.
