Presbyterians Will Hear Pastor Sunday

All services at the Presbyterian Church next Sunday. Sunday school at 10 a. m. preceding services morning and night.

After our fine rains things are picking up, and discouragement, in a few spots, at least, is losing its hold or grip upon us. Times for the past year or more have not been hilarious, nor even prosperous. But now we have had rain and do verily feel like picking up and going forward with better heart and speed. The Lord with his trusting and faithful people, in every place, courage, persistence, and faithfulness ever win out in the battle of life. God is more than equal to the odds of life. These times challenge Christians to know and trust Him. Be in our services Sunday.

Morning theme: "What is Best for Us." Special music and gospel hymns. Subject at night: "Checking out Christians." Jonah checked out.

Always glad to meet you in our services. You are invited.

W. K. Johnston, Minister.

Baptist Pastor Announces Texts

The pastor will preach Sunday morning at the Baptist Church on the text, "Speak to the children of Israel that they go forward." Sunday will mark the first year of the present pastorate. All of our church family ought to be present.

The Baptist Student's Union will have charge of the service Sunday evening. The program will center around Eugene Saltee, who spent 25 years in China.

Let's follow up the revival with good attendance in Sunday School, B. T. S., and both church services.

Welcome to the church where fellowship is contagious.

—Lawrence Hays, Pastor.

Five Widows, Sisters, Hold Reunion Here

Mrs. M. F. Bradley had as her guests this week four widowed sisters: Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Edina of Big Spring, Mrs. Wall from California, and Mrs. Calhoun from Kaufman county, Texas. Mrs. Allen also visited her daughter, Mrs. Roy Miles, at O'Donnell.

Mrs. Allen is the mother of Fern A. Allen deceased, after whom the O'Donnell Legion post was named. Mrs. Bradley is herself the mother of Marion G. Bradley, for whom the American Legion post here was named.

It was a happy reunion indeed of these five widowed sisters.

How Black-Draught Holds its Popularity

A LAXATIVE made from highly approved, medicinal plants—not about the least expensive laxative you can find: Theodor's Black-Draught.

There's no expensive container for you to buy when you ask your dealer for Black-Draught. And its light weight has saved freight bills in your favor. Black-Draught is right with you in economy. It brings prompt, refreshing relief to sufferers from constipation troubles.

Don't put up with sick headaches, sluggishness, gas, dizziness, bad taste in the mouth, biliousness, coated tongue, bad breath, distress after meals, when due to constipation, but take Theodor's Black-Draught.

Only One Service At Methodist Church

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was impressively observed at the Methodist Church Sunday morning. Immediately preceding the service, Mrs. Frank Hill sang the consecration solo, "Have Thine Own Way." The entire hour was given over to this inspirational observance, but those who were in the church school worship period heard an "almost" sermon—at least, a fine sermonette, in Supt. Pace's talk on "The Fatherhood of God." The prelude was Oley Speaks' "Sylvia."

The young people's services were well attended and other programs were dismissed in deference to the Baptist friends who were closing their revival meetings.

Rev. Smith is having a very spiritual meeting at South Ward with already a number of real conversions. Please come on time for church school Sunday morning, 9:45, and bring someone.—Reporter.

County H. D. Council Meeting Is Saturday

The county council of Lynn county home demonstration clubs will meet in the county court room here Saturday at 2:30 P. M., according to Mrs. R. W. Fenton. All council representatives and the expansion committees of all organized and unorganized communities are urged to be present, and all club women in the county are invited.

The canning program for the county will be explained at this meeting, and it is hoped that a large number will be present.

Give Brownfield Canning Instruction

The county home demonstration agent, Miss El Fleda Harrison, accompanied by Mrs. R. W. Fenton and Mrs. W. S. Anglin, went to Brownfield to conduct a training school in canning.

The county and unit supervisors of each canning kitchen were present and made their plans to get their canning kitchens in operation at the earliest possible date. Miss Harrison says that five kitchens have been established in the county, and that the people were so eager to learn about the plan that it was almost impossible to hold their meeting. There were so many interruptions by people eager to take advantage of the opportunity offered. Their interest and enthusiasm were most gratifying, she said.

The county supervisor and the kitchen supervisors of that county are planning to come to Tahoka for the training school in canning that is to be given here to all 4-H canning demonstrators in the county on next Tuesday.

At 12:30, mid fun and laughter, a sunshine dish dinner was served to the following: Mmes. W. R. Warren, S. L. Shelton, O. B. Davis, J. O. Allen, J. D. Sossaman, Egbert Evans, E. R. Tunnell, Howard Basye, J. O. King, J. L. Rumbo, J. M. Trussell, J. D. Noble.

Will Miracles Never Cease?

"Your attendant, Mr. H. Klingbiel, at Station 3800 in Moline, had been trying for some time to have me try Phillips "66" oil, but due to the fact that I was sold on another leading brand of oil which was giving me 1000 mile performance with my 1932 Chevrolet, I deemed it inadvisable to change. However, as I was about to leave on my summer vacation, I thought I would take Mr. Klingbiel's word that Phillips "66" oil was the "world's finest motor oil" and give it a fair trial. I had him change my oil just before I left the Tri-Cities and also carried two gallons with me. My first major stop was at Yellowstone Park, 1600 miles by the speedometer from Rock Island. I hadn't added a drop of your lubricant since I left, so naturally I thought it high time to change. I did this, but Gentlemen, it was a shame to drain that oil from my crank case. The color and body of the Oil I removed was practically the same as when it was first poured in my car. I refilled with "66", drove to Salt Lake City, over Monarch Pass (12,000 ft.) and into Denver, Colorado. Then back to Rock Island. Nearly 2500 miles. During this time, I found it necessary to add but one quart of oil. That's what I call real, honest-to-goodness oil.

"I am sold on Phillips "66" products and thankful to Mr. Klingbiel for succeeding in having me try this fine motor oil.

"P. S. That new "66" gas is a wow. Better than 20 miles to the gallon, and that includes mountain driving."

New Facts Are Revealed In Life Of Belle Starr, Notorious Woman Outlaw

Leveland—Another and previously unknown chapter has recently been written in the history of the notorious female outlaw, Belle Starr, who held sway with an iron hand in Eastern Indian Territory many years ago.

This narrative has been given to the world by Fred E. Hutton, an ex-U. S. Marshal, who rode the Indian Territory in the early day and served the Court of the famous Judge Parker, who perhaps was the greatest agency of civilization of his day in the Southwest.

After Belle Starr was killed, Sutton was presented with her rifle, which had her name carved on the stock, and the story relates that the woman bandit had a grand-daughter of which the world has been ignorant. Everyone at all familiar with her history knew that she had a daughter, Pearl, born to her and her first husband, Jim Reed, who was killed at McKinney during their residence in Texas. Pearl was beautiful but developed into one of the not uncommon careers of many of the frontier women raised in rough surroundings. To use Sutton's words, "She ran an elaborate dive in Fort Smith. It was the most notorious place ever run in the Southwest."

Pearl had a daughter named Flossie on account of her black silky hair at birth. Belle, the grandmother, wanted the child raised in proper surroundings, stole the child while it was an infant, and placed it in an orphanage and supplied the institution with funds for its upkeep and education. To every inquiry as to its whereabouts, she would reply she had thrown it in the Canadian River.

The grandmother, however, made a confidant of one of the U. S. Marshals—told him where the child was and how to identify her, and requested that the mother never be allowed to know anything about her until one of them was near death's door. This friend remained true to his trust. After the years had rolled around Flossie had married and was living in cultured respectability in one of the mid-west cities. She was the wife of a railway official and had children about grown, and had reverted to the status in which her grandmother was reared—Belle was the daughter of a Missouri jurist, who brought his pretty daughter and fine horses to Texas. Pearl lay dying at Douglas, Arizona. The old

Lady Took Cardui And Got Rid of Pain In Her Side

"Last summer, my health was bad, so I began taking Cardui," writes Mrs. H. E. Slaughter, of Norman, Okla. "My mother had given me Cardui in girlhood, so naturally I turned to it when I felt I needed it. I felt run-down and a general weakness. I had bad, dizzy headaches when everything would seem to dance before my eyes. My right side pained me so much, but since taking Cardui the pain has left me. I have taken several bottles of Cardui and have improved a great deal."

Cardui is sold at drug stores here.

friend of Belle Starr made the trip to Douglas and told her where Flossie was and of her connections.

"Flossie, if you want to see your mother and learn who you are, come quickly; my time is short," sped a message over the wires. Flossie left immediately and arrived in Douglas to hold the hand of her mother the next day as her soul took its flight into the beyond.

About two months later Flossie, an elegant middle-aged lady with her son called on Sutton at his home in Kansas City and wanted to look at the old saddle gun of her grandmother's.

Belle Starr lived several years in Texas during her early life. She was beautiful and made friends easily and took prominent part in the festivities of the young L. D. (Uncle Vance) Jones, who makes his home here with his brother, J. H. Jones, often attended the same functions and frequently danced in the same set with the afterwards notorious Belle Starr. At the time she gave no indications of becoming an outlaw. Her treatment of Flossie is an indication that she repented the circumstances that drove her to the life she was living and the downward and dissipated career of her daughter.

VOWELL ESCAPES FROM TEXAS STATE PENITENTIARY

Huntsville, Sept. 6.—S. D. Vowell, serving ten years for burglary and robbery from Gregg county, escaped Wednesday while being transferred from the penitentiary at Huntsville to the Retrieve prison farm at Snipe. Apparently picking the lock on a chain around his neck, Vowell fled while seventeen convicts were unloaded from a transfer truck while repairs were being made. He had been in prison since Aug. 11.

Vowell is charged in Lynn county with the robbery and kidnaping of J. T. Covy, Wilson station agent, and was among the seven prisoners who broke jail here several weeks ago. He was later re-captured in Gregg County.

LUKE TRAMMELL MAKES CONFESSION OF MURDER

San Angelo, Sept. 6.—Luke Trammell, 24, Coleman county desperado, who confessed Tuesday at Sweetwater that he shot and killed John Lampkin, nightwatchman, at Blackwell last May, was taken to Abilene today. He had been brought here Tuesday night by Ranger Captain J. M. Robbins, who had been working on the Lanika case since shortly after the killing.

Sheriff Burl Wheeler of Taylor county said Trammell was indicted at Abilene this week on a charge of robbery with firearms in connection with the taking of a car from Dr. C. W. Dunn at Abilene June 27.

Trammell and two of his brothers, one under an assumed name, were among the seven prisoners who escaped from the Tahoka jail several weeks ago. One was killed by officers in a gun fight near Coleman several days after the escape. The other two Trammells are wanted in Lynn county on car theft charges.

PIONEER COUPLE CELEBRATE FIFTY YEARS MARRIED LIFE

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Sherrod celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary on August 29. They are truly pioneers, having been reared, married, and raised their family in West Texas. Mr. Sherrod was born in Mississippi and Mrs. Sherrod was born in Tennessee. They were married in Taylor county, August 29, 1883. They moved to Lynn county in July, 1903, and have made Tahoka their permanent home since that date.

To Mr. and Mrs. Sherrod were born ten children, five boys and five girls. All of the children were present at this happy occasion except a son, Carl Sherrod of Brea, California; a daughter, Mrs. May Patterson, who died July 26, 1928; and a son, Joy, who lost his life in France during the World War. Besides the children, namely Mrs. Pearl Brown, Mrs. Iva Shaffer, Mr. Guy Sherrod, Mr. G. B. Sherrod, Mrs. Jewel Connolly, Mr. Beacher Sherrod, Miss Floyce Sherrod, grandchildren and three great-grandchildren were present.

A sumptuous dinner which had been prepared by their daughters and daughters-in-law was served at the noon hour in the home of Mrs. Pearl Brown. Mr. and Mrs. Sherrod's children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, forty invited guests ate to their hearts' content, then had oodles left for the seven o'clock meal. The color scheme of gold and white was used in table decorations and in the center of the heavily loaded table was the magnificent wedding cake of snow white holding fifty golden candles and dates of marriage and celebration in golden letters.

At two o'clock the honoree and guests assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Connolly to witness the rendering of a program. The colors of gold and white were in profusion throughout the beautiful home. The program was rendered by the children, grandchildren, and a few intimate friends and continued until six o'clock with intermissions for the serving of delicious refreshments of orange crush and cake. Two hundred guests registered during the afternoon and the many and beautiful presents that they brought filled all of the available space in a large room.

If this couple of many friends were starting in the first of the fifty years they would need to purchase only the furniture; everything else is there.

The following were the programs rendered:

Locals

Will Montgomery and family returned Monday night from Brownwood and Rising Star after having spent a few days visiting a brother at Brownwood and a number of old-time friends at Rising Star. Will says that they all took a ride on a motor boat on the new Lake Brownwood, recently completed, and that the kids got a great kick out of the ride. At Rising Star, which is honored as his birthplace, he met many friends of other years and had a great time. Will says this is the first vacation he has taken in 31 years and enjoyed every minute of it. Still, he was glad to get back on the plains.

Fred Haney, who worked in the Tahoka Drug Company store several years, spent the week end here with his brother, L. C. Haney. Mr. Haney has spent the past two years as a student in the Medical Department of Tulane University, New Orleans. With two more years in the University and one year as an interne, he will then be ready for the general practice of his chosen profession.

Mrs. J. H. Tunnell and children came in from Kerleville Friday night in order to be ready for her duties in the school room here Monday morning. She reports that Hans has gained eight pounds in weight during the past few weeks and is much improved in health.

Dr. A. J. Thomas and family of Sulphur Bluff, Hopkins county, came out Saturday. Mrs. Thomas and two daughters will occupy one of the John Thomas residences and the two girls will attend school here this session. Dr. Thomas returned to his home the first of the week. He is a brother of Representative John N. Thomas of this city.

Prof. and Mrs. Taylor White were here from Odessa Friday, making arrangements to have their home here repainted, and repaired inside. They recently had a new roof placed on the building. Mr. White will teach in Odessa again the coming school term but he still claims Tahoka as his home and may move back here some time.
