Successful Revival At Bethel Closes

Rev. D. D. Johnson, pastor of the Bethel Baptist Church, reports that a most successful two weeks revival was closed with that church Monday afternoon, when twelve converts were baptized in the Lonnie Williams tank. Rev. L. S. Jenkins, pastor of the O'Donnell church, did the preaching.

Rev. Johnson says that in all there were 23 decisions. In addition to the twelve baptisms there were two additions to the church by statement. Brother Johnson says that the climax of the meeting was reached with the last service, which was held Monday morning.

Rev. and Mrs. C. F. Carmack of Briscoe, situated on the north plains, are here this week visiting their son, Condy Carmack, and their daughter, Mrs. Buford Swan. Another daughter, Miss Lucille, came with them to enter the Tech College.

Promotion Sunday At Baptist Church

In keeping with the system of grading and promotion in Baptist Sunday schools and in passing another mile-post of closing out the old associational year, the Sunday school of the First Baptist Church will observe its annual promotion Sunday morning at the close of the Sunday school hour. Following the promotion exercises the new officers and teachers will be installed for the ensuing year.

At the close of the B. T. S. hour Sunday evening the new officers and workers will be installed for the new year in the Baptist Training Service. It is hoped by the church family that Sunday will be a day of large attendance.

The pastor will bring a message Sunday morning in keeping with the promotion exercises and installation of new workers.

Sunday evening at 8:00 o'clock the pastor announces the beginning of a series of sermons on the Book of Revelations. The first message will be on "The Message of Assurance in the Book of Revelation." Due to Revelation being a book of symbols and mysteries and not so commonly understood by the masses, this series of sermons ought to attract wide attention. It will be safe, sane and practical interpretation, fitting into the needs of present day church life. The general public along with visiting friends are invited to hear these messages.

BICKLEY CIRCLE WILL BE ENTERAINED MONDAY

The Bickley Circle will be entertained next Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by Mrs. G. M. Reid and Mrs. W. E. Smith jointly in the home of Mrs. Reid.

The members have changed the regular meeting hour from 4 p. m. to 2:30 p. m.

All members are urged to be present for the regular business hour.

Sunday Promotion Day At Methodist

An old testament text, Exodus 15: 27, "and they came . . . where there were wells of water and palm trees," was the foundation of the Rev. Smith's heartening message of last Sunday morning. Mesdames Carmack and Small sang a pleasing duet, "When You Know My Jesus, Too," for the musical offering. The choir also rendered a special ensemble number.

"Blessed are the pure in heart" was the old but ever new and beautiful theme of the evening lesson, and the musical offering was a violin duet by the Misses Weathers and Powell. Beautiful Garden of Prayer" S. p. Pace talked on "Finding God in Prayer" for the adult worship period and left some fine thoughts with the hearers. The morning prelude was "Springtime" by Rohrer and the feature a baritone solo, "I Will Arise and Go," sung by A. J. Thompson.

Next Sunday is promotion day. There will be a special program and a considerable number of changes. Come and find your new place—ready for a big new year's work. On time is 9:45.—Reporter.

Redwine Church Honors Pastor

Taking their pastor, J. W. Braaswell, by complete surprise, the members of the Redwine Baptist Church honored him with a program and then presented him with a gift of $32.00 in money last Sunday afternoon. It was the occasion of his sixty-sixth birthday, and he had served as pastor of the Redwine Church for nine years.

The program consisted of songs and a few short talks by members of the congregation and an address by Rev. D. D. Johnson of Tahoka. Rev. L. S. Jenkins of O'Donnell led in a most earnest prayer.

Rev. Braaswell, who resides in Lamesa, had filled his regular appointment at the morning hour. This was followed by a dinner, which was served on the grounds. A program for the afternoon had been announced but the good pastor had not been advised as to the nature of the program and had been given no hint of the gift that was to follow.

Training Courses At Baptist Church

B. Y. P. U. training courses are being conducted at the Baptist Church this week.

Dr. W. F. Fry of Lubbock is giving Bible lectures to the adult department. Members of all denominations and no denomination are invited to hear these scholarly and illuminating discourses.

For many years Dr. Fry was head of the Bible department in Simmons College, and for the past two or three years he has been teaching the Bible to pupils of the Texas Tech College. It will be worth the time of any one interested in the Bible to hear him.

EDITH CLUB WILL MEET

The Edith Home Demonstration club will meet next Wednesday, September 27, at the home of Mrs. Willis Pennington, Mrs. T. I. Tippitt announces. All members are urged to be present. Visitors are welcome.

MUSIC CLUB HOLDS FIRST MEETING OF SEASON

Mesdames K. C. Holmes and L. C. Haney and Miss Virginia Sanford were joint hostesses in the W. E. Suddarth home Thursday evening to the Tahoka Music Club.

A very interesting program was given featuring the president's address by Mrs. Rubie D. Suddarth, in which she reviewed the work of the club during last year and that planned for this year. Miss Virginia Sanford gave a humorous reading, "Committee meetings." Verdi's "Pace-Pace" was beautifully sung by Miss Lucille Slaton.

A business session followed the program, Mrs. Suddarth presiding, during which the club voted to sponsor a "hymn-sing" at one of the churches each month in which the community will be invited to participate. The club is also considering the organization of a choral club.

A lovely refreshment plate was passed when the guests arrived.

Mrs. K. R. Durham will be hostess in Mrs. Suddarth's home at the next meeting.

PHEBE K. WARNER CLUB URGES FIRE PREVENTION

The Phebe K. Warner Club is one hundred per cent for any civic improvement that will better our town, and as it is nearing time for Fire Prevention Week (Oct. 8th to 14th), we wish to let the public know we are willing to help the City and Fire Department put over any project that will help decrease the number of unnecessary fires that happen. Records of the Fire Department show there were 25 fires from September 1, 1932, to September 1, 1933. Out of these 25 fires in Tahoka, seven were caused by accumulated trash. These could have been so easily avoided by keeping the rubbish cleared away. Let's burn our trash before it burns us!

PEP SQUAD ORGANIZED AT TAHOKA HIGH SCHOOL

The Pep Squad of Tahoka High School has begun a new year with much enthusiasm. The girls organized with about 25 members and elected their yell leaders—Erma Faye Edwards, chief yell leader, and Elwayne Redwine, assistant. Ruth Suddarth was elected business manager.

The pep and enthusiasm of the squad are due to the fact that Tahoka High School is supporting the best ball team they have had heretofore.

The Pep Squad will be on the job Friday afternoon when we clash with Levelland on Tahoka gridiron.—Reporter.

JUNIOR CLUB WILL HOLD MEETING WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Homer Harrison is to be hostess to the Phebe K. Warner Junior Club on Wednesday, Sept. 27, in the club room at the City Hall. This will be the first meeting of the club year, and the entire program will be the installation of officers.

Roll call is to be answered with the resolution of what each member intends to accomplish to put over a better club year for the ensuing year.

Mrs. Bascomb McCord was elected president and Mrs. W. T. Jones Jr. vice president.

All members are urged to attend.

L. V. ALEXANDER PRESIDENT HIGH SCHOOL JUNIOR CLASS

The Junior Class of Tahoka High School met Monday morning and elected class officers.

L. V. Alexander was elected president, Eby Dyer vice president, Marjory Tunnell secretary-treasurer, and Elsie Dee McKaughan reporter.

Jesse Eubanks and family were here from Lueders Saturday and Sunday visiting friends and relatives. Lueders is in Jones county right near the Shackelford county line, and they can legally sell 3.2 beer in Shackelford. Jesse says that a beer saloon opened up just across the line from Lueders Thursday night and that many cars were there waiting for the thing to open. And cotton picking is on in full blast there, he says.

Mrs. A. J. Glasgow is here this week looking after business matters and incidentally greeting her many friends. Mr. Glasgow, who is in very bad health at this time, is temporarily at Seymour. The Glasgows were formerly in the insurance business here, and Mrs. Glasgow declares she still loves Tahoka.

Harley Wells and Winfield Gallagher left Tuesday morning to visit a few days with Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Bridges at Iraan.

Old Tascosa Wasn't So Bad, Says Man Who Knew "Billy The Kid"

Amarillo—Old Tascosa of evil reputation was not such an unmitigatedly bad place as legends of its Boot Hill and "wide open hell" would indicate.

Take the word of Capt. W. H. Ingerton, who lived there as a young man, for it.

What though the 11 graves on Boot Hill were filled by outlaws or cowboys came to an unimely end, even if Billy the Kid did make the town his headquarters one winter as he rustled cattle, although drinking and gambling went unchecked the place had a rugged code of honor that seldom was violated.

There never was a holdup or a burglary in old Tascosa, Captain Ingerton said. Many a time a monte dealer would leave a table stacked with as much as $500. On his return every penny of it would still be there. Operators of the general merchandise store left their establishments wide open at nights to accommodate "over night guests" who slept on the floor, helping themselves to such things as they needed from the shelves, always paying the proprietor next morning.

"Why we never wrote out a contract in those days," the captain said.

Ingerton's mother was a school teacher in the first school in Tascosa. She had gone to the frontier town to persuade her son to return to civilization. Failing in that, she decided to stay on herself and make a home. She later organized a Sunday School. There was no established church or preacher.

Speaking of Billy the Kid, Ingerton said:

"The Kid stayed in and around Tascosa all one winter. I remember meeting him one spring day when I was riding. He was a likeable chap. "Even then Billy the Kid was rustling, and soon after drove the LX and LIT bunch of cattle out. That was the beginning of is downfall."

Mrs. Fenton Tells Of Canning Project

"I got a real thrill in canning the product better than I had ever canned it before," was the statement made by Mrs. R. W. Fenton of Tahoka Home Demonstration Club, when she received the standard on her canned cream peas and canned black eyed peas. This is how I did it: I gathered my peas at that stage of maturity in which they could be easily shelled. I graded the peas, putting peas of the same size and maturity in diluted brine water to prevent peas from souring or discoloring but did not leave them in the water longer than two hours before washing and bleaching. Then I placed them in an enamel or porcelain vessel, covered with boiling water and let them boil from one to five minutes. I then filled the cans to within one half inch of the top of the can with the drained peas, added one half teaspoon of salt and one teaspoon sugar to each No. 2 can. I covered the cream peas with the water in which they were boiled but used fresh hot water for black eyed peas, allowing it to just cover the surface. I used e-enameled cans and sealed and processed at once while the contents were hot. I cooked No. 2 cans 40 minutes at 10 pounds pressure and No. 3 cans 45 minutes at 10 pounds pressure. I cooled the cans quickly following sterilization."

Mrs. Fenton is one of the three home industry demonstrators of the county who has the privilege of selling her products under the 4-H label. Sales to the Hilton Hotel, Luband to the Glorietta Cafe have been made.

Roy Nettles of Lakeview, who was here Monday, informed us that his son Lee Roy, 11, underwent an operation for appendicitis in a Lubbock sanitarium on the preceding Wednesday. Although the appendix was in a bad condition when they reached the hospital with the little fellow, he has been recovering from the operation nicely and may be brought home soon.

Prof. and Mrs. C. L. Mullins and two sons of Iran were here Monday and Tuesday prospecting. The probabilities are that they will soon become owners of property in this county. Mr. Mullins was greatly impressed by the richness of our soils and by our splendid crops. He is at present superintendent of schools at Iran.

Classes At High School Organize

The class organization of the Tahoka High School is getting under way with a good start. With a large number of students to select from, the class organizations are selecting officers who are alert and able to transact the duties and business of the various classes. Two years ago the administration passed a ruling that a student to be eligible for holding any kind of office in the high school must have a grade of not less than 80 per cent on the previous years average. It is pleasing to note that more than 50 per cent of the Seniors, 25 per cent of the Juniors, 60 per cent of the Sophomores and Freshmen were eligible for office this year.

The Senior class of 1934 met Monday, Sept. 18, and elected the following officers for this year: A. G. Cook, President, Sidles Thomas Vice-president, Jewell Pitts Secretary, Mary Jane Weathers Treasurer, and Margaret Strain Reporter.

The Junior class met Monday morning and elected their officers for the year. L. V. Alexander President, Eby Dyer, Vice-president, Marjorie Tunnell Secretary-Treasurer, and Elsie Dee Mc Kaughan Reporter. Mrs. Lucille Bludworth is sponsor for this group this year.

The Sophomore class met Tuesday Sept. 19 and elected the following officers: A. J. Thompson, President; James Minor, Vice-president; Ney Camille Fenton, Secretary-treasurer; Pansy Tankersley, Reporter.

THE MISSING MAN

By Edgar A. Guest, in the Chaser.

There was a man I once knew well,
Who had no stocks or bonds to sell;
No sub-divided acres which
In seven years would make me
rich;
No set of books to fill my mind
With knowledge of the deepest kind;
No self-improvement courses in
The mystery of how to win;
When'er he called, it was to say:
"Well how are all your folks to-day?"

I wonder where this man has flown?
I wish he'd make his presence
known;
When'er he came to visit me,
He asked no gift for charity,
He never asked me to subscribe
To funds to feed an Indian tribe,
Or carry on deep sea research
Or lift the mortgage on the church,
When'er he called, it was to chat
In fellowship of this and that.

I wacth to see him pass my door,
But unto me he comes no more,
For every caller now I find
Has dotted lines he wishes signed;
Oh, good friend, I fancy you
Suspect that I have work to do,
And that is why you stay away,
But come again, to me I pray,
That I may say, "Well, after all,
One man still pays a friendly call."

Mrs. George Knight and Mrs. Winter Knight returned Monday from Shamrock on the north plains, to which place they had gone in company with Winter Knight on the preceding Saturday. Winter remained a day or two longer, looking after business matters. He is thinking of locating there.

W. T. Jones was in Littlefield on business Tuesday. He reports that there appeared to be a brisk demand there for beer, the sale of which was authorized at a recent local option election, and that about six establishments were selling the beverage.

T. M. Dobbins, Jr. returned to his home at Roscoe, Sunday after a ten days visit here with his aunt, Mrs. Grover Stewart. Young Dobbins is planning to enter Baylor College of Dentistry at Dallas within the next few days.

Officer: "Sonny, do you want to make five dollars?"

Mountaineer Boy: "Shore, how?"

Officer: "I'll give you five to take me up this creek to the whiskey still."

Mountaineer Boy: "All right, give me the five."

Officer: "I'll pay you when we get back."

Mountaineer Boy: "Mister, you hain't coming back."

A sub reporter, frequently reprimanded for prolixity and warned to be brief, turned in the following:

"A shocking affair occurred last night. Sir Edward Hopeless, a guest at Lady Panmore's ball, complained of being ill, took his hat, his coat, his departure, no notice of his friends, a taxi, a pistol from his pocket, and finally, his life. Nice chap. Regrets and all that."
