GEORGE MAHON DRAWS CROWD

Pledges Support To Farmers On Taxation Question;
Favors Bonus

Speaking to the largest crowd that has greeted any candidate for office here this year, with one exception, George Mahon of Colorado made his appeal to the voters of Lynn county for the office of congress in an address of about 45 minutes on the court house lawn here Saturday afternoon. In his audience were many farmers and quite a good number of women.

Mr. Mahon spoke under considerable difficulties, as a high south wind was blowing and he spoke without the aid of a microphone. His voice consequently grew a bit husky, and he cut short his discussion of some of the problems he is in the habit of discussing. He was listened to most attentively, however, by the crowd and many of them met and congratulated him following the address.

Mr. Mahon was introduced to the audience by district attorney G. H. Nelson, the two having been schoolmates in the university of Texas a number of years ago. Mr. Nelson pointing out that Mahon was reared on a farm in Mitchell county, had lived in that county and in this district for twenty six years, and had been elected district attorney in the thirty-second judicial district for four successive terms without an opponent.

Alluding to his experience as a boy on the farm, Mr. Mahon recalled that when he was about seven years old his father and mother and eight children moved to Mitchell county. For three years they resided in a three-room tenant house. Later, the father bought a farm and the children helped him pay it out. "I do not believe that any man who has not gone down a cotton row and felt the prick of a cotton burr, who has not worked in the maize fields and felt the sting of the maize chaff, who has not toiled in wheat harvest and felt the chafing of the boarder grain, can fully appreciate the hardships and the problems of the farmer," Mr. Mahon said.

"Ours is an agricultural country," he continued. "Ninety per cent of our problems in this district are problems of the farm. I do not claim to be a man of superior powers standing head and shoulders above my fellow men. I do not claim to be a magician that can wave a magic wand and sweep away all the ills that beset us. I claim to be an ordinary man, on a level with the people, who understands the problems of the common man, for I have never lived among or associated with any other kind. If elected it shall be my purpose not to be a master but a servant of the people."

Winners In Bedroom Contest Announced

Winners in the bedroom contest of Lynn county H-D club women have been announced.

This contest was conducted under the direction of Miss Sylvia Robb, county home demonstration agent, and Mrs. E. I. Hill acted as judge.

These bedrooms were scored on sanitation, lighting, interior finish, furnishings, storage for clothing, general appearance, and suitability to the needs of each particular woman.

Mrs. V. A. Botkin of the Edith club won first place and Mrs. W. A. Tredway of the O'Donnell club won second place.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Link of El Paso returned home today after a visit here. Mrs. Link has spent several weeks here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hancock of New Home, and other relatives here. Jack came up one day last week.

Mrs. Lucille Bludworth, teacher in the Tahoka High School who has been attending school at Lubbock, is back in town and ready to teach those students who wish to take summer work.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. McCord and son returned Wednesday from tour of points in New Mexico.

Judge Pharr Is Heard Tuesday

Almost unannounced, Judge Homer Pharr of Lubbock, candidate for congress, appeared in Tahoka about 4:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon with his loud speaker equipment and after a brief musical concert he proceeded to address the voters who had assembled on the court house lawn.

In a very quiet manner, Judge Pharr gave his stand on many of the questions which he declared would probably be before congress for attention at its next session.

"The next congress, in my opinion, will be one of the most important in its consequences of any that has ever been assembled. It will be called upon to deal with many grave problems."

Judge Pharr discussed briefly the matter of income tax returns. He stated that these should be subject to government and public inspection to the end that evasion and violation of the law on the part of many of the rich may be eliminated.

He also expressed himself as favoring an adequate army and navy at all times, not for the purpose of parading on holidays, but in order that our country may be amply protected from foreign invasion. The army could also be used to suppress and curb crime in this country, he suggested.

He also favored a universal service or draft act. Not only should the manhood, but also every business enterprise and all the wealth of this country should by law be placed at the service of the government in the time of war, he claimed. No man, corporation, or business concern of any kind should be allowed to make a profit out of war, and when the profits are taken out of war, threatened wars will nearly always vanish, he argued. He opposed the cancellation of war debts owing this country by foreign nations. These are just obligations and if the debtor nations cannot pay at once, they should nevertheless be required to pay as they are able, he said.

He favored the payment to the ex-service men of the adjusted compensation frequently referred to as the bonus. "It is not a bonus," he contended, "but a just debt which this government should pay."

He discussed briefly a number of other questions, including the recently enacted securities law, the proposed old age pension, and the regulations of stock exchanges.

Possibly a hundred men heard Judge Pharr's address here. He stated that he had just spoken to about two hundred men at Post, and he went from here to O'Donnell, where he expected to address the voters the same afternoon.

Election Returns To Be Posted

As in the past, Tahoka Drug Co. and Bart's Cafe will post election returns on July 26 on the streets between the two business houses for the benefit of the public.

Mr. Haney says that complete returns will be given on all races, including precinct elections.

Everyone is invited to take advantage of this opportunity to get the results on all the races.

Two Couples Wed Here Thursday

Brother Drennon says that he got busy last Thursday night, when two couples came to his home at different hours to be married.

The first couple, Mr. Arthur Virgil Poole and Miss Essie Rae Moore of O'Donnell, made their appearance at 9:00 o'clock. The parson tied the knot, received the fee, and went back to bed to enjoy pleasant dreams.

At 12:00 he was called again, and Mr. G. W. Langford and Miss Viola Tew of Grassland asked that the nuptial knot be tied. The preacher says that Mr. Langford was anxious to know the time, as it seemed that he desired to get the knot tied before Friday 13th was ushered in. He was just a little late, however, for 12:00 o'clock was already past, but the fact did not interfere with the determination of the couple to get married.

MRS. HARRIS IS BURIED HERE

Died In Lubbock Sanitarium Wednesday Morning; Was Buried Thursday

Funeral services for Mrs. Willie Harris, wife of T. A. Harris of the Joe Bailey community, were conducted at the Church of Christ at 10 o'clock this morning. Eder R. P. Drennon officiating. The remains were laid to rest in the Tahoka Cemetery under the direction of Harris & Appiwhite, funeral directors.

Mrs. Harris died at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning in the Lubbock Sanitarium from a complication of diseases.

Mrs. Harris, whose maiden name was Gibbs, was born in Nolan county on January 8, 1893, and was therefore a little more than 41 years of age. Her father's family having moved to Lynn county, she was married here to T. A. Harris in 1908, when this country was very sparsely settled, and she has resided in this county ever since. She was a faithful member of the Church of Christ, a devoted wife and mother, and a useful member of her community. Many friends deeply deplore her untimely death.

Mrs. Harris left surviving the following relatives: the husband, T. A. Harris; one son, Valton Harris, and his wife, of the Joe Bailey community; one daughter, Velma Harris, of the home, two brothers, Alfred Gibbs of O'Donnell and Frank Gibbs of California; two sisters, Mrs. Pearl Gleastine and Mrs. Ella Gleastine of Hermleigh.

The husband, children, and other relatives have the sincere sympathy of hosts of friends.

O'Donnell To Hold Tri-County Picnic

O'Donnell, July 19.—(Special to the News).—O'Donnell citizens and business men will be hosts to guests from over the surrounding counties at the first Annual O'Donnell Tri-County picnic Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, and press dispatches are being sent as invitations to the public at large to be present.

Rodeo events, an old fiddlers' contest, political rally, horse racing, dances each evening, and a free barbecue Wednesday, the last day, are the main features of the two days event. Cash prizes are being offered in the rodeo events.

Horse races and goat roping each morning will be free, as well as old fiddlers' contest and the political rally. Rodeo events and ball games in the afternoon will carry a nominal charge. A Lubbock orchestra has been procured to furnish music for the dances on the two evenings.

Next year will mark O'Donnell's twenty fifth anniversary, and this event this year is something in the nature of a dress rehearsal for next year's celebration, as well as marking the beginning of an annual affair.

A big tent will be provided as shade for mothers and their children, with plenty of ice water. Comfortable seats will be ready for the crowds at the political rally and the fiddling contest.

Preparations are being made for barbecuing at least twenty hives and a similar number of "mutons" for Wednesday's free lunch, business houses and merchants are seeing to it that there will be plenty of pickles, bread, and good coffee.

A special invitation is being extended to all Lynn county folks—come to O'Donnell and get acquainted with your neighbors.

RENT ACRES MUST BE MARKED OFF, SAYS JONES

We have been advised by V. F. Jones, County Agent, that measurement of cotton acres in compliance with the 1934-35 cotton acreage reduction contract will start in this county in a short time.

Each producer who executed a reduction contract will be expected to place a substantial marker at the corners of the rent acres and they will hereafter be designated as the rent acres. If it is more convenient the rent acres may be designated in more than one spot. The rent acres must be designated even though you do not have any growing cotton.

SERVICE CLUB MAKES PLANS

Will Sponsor Many Projects For Betterment Of Roads And For Park

In its second meeting, which was held in the county court room Tuesday night, the new service club here perfected organization, selected a name, and got down to business on several proposed projects.

Sixty or seventy men were in attendance upon the meeting and much interest was shown in the work outlined.

Among the projects being sponsored by the new service club are the following: Establishment of a county park, immediate improvement of highway No. 9 through the county, inauguration of a Trades Day for Tahoka, a baseball tournament to be held periodically, and other projects.

Layne Moreland, the secretary, brought before the body the recommendations of the board of directors, and those without exception were adopted.

The first recommendation was that an assessment of fifty cents be collected from each member not oftener than once a month. This assessment is to be collected only if needed.

The directors recommended that a baseball tournament and entertainment committee be named as follows: W. T. Jones Jr., Chairman, W. T. Bovell, Ivan Cathcart, Pete Edwards, and Ed Park. This was adopted.

A Trades Day committee was recommended and approved as follows:

Softball Season Ends First Half

Today the Cleaners will meet the Ginners on the local business men's diamond, for the last game of the first half of the season.

To date the Cleaners have the lead, with the Bankers running a close second. The Ginners, who have only been playing a short while, have a higher standing than the Bankers, but cannot be counted in the race, as they have only played three games, today's being the fourth.

If the Ginners should "g'n" the Cleaners today, the Bankers and Cleaners will be tied for the championship of the first half, but should the Cleaner's win, then they will be the champion. For this reason, today's game will probably be the most exciting on played this half.

Here is the standing to date:

Cleaners	7	3	700
Bankers	7	4	636
Fire Department	6	5	545
Hatchers	4	6	40
Lumbermen	4	6	403
Barbers	3	8	272

Many Women To Attend Short Course

Miss Sylvia Robb, home demonstration agent, says that she expects at least thirty-five Lynn county club women and girls to attend the short course to be given at A&M College from July 20 to August 3.

She has chartered a Greyhound bus to convey the Lynn county delegation to College Station and return, at a rate of $5.00 per capita for a round trip. Twenty-one had already signed up Wednesday and she is sure the bus will be filled.

The party will leave here Saturday night, July 28, or early the next morning.

Mrs. E. K. DePriest of the Dixie community returned home Saturday from a hospital in Lubbock, where she had been under treatment. Mr. DePriest wishes to explain to the voters that he has not been able to see many of them thus far on account of his wife's health, but since she is improved, he expects to try to see all of them between this date and election day. Mr. DePriest is a candidate for commissioner in the New Home precinct.

Miss Janie Barrington is spending her vacation in Roswell this week.

To Hold Revival

UEL D. CROSBY

Methodist Revival Begins July 22nd

Our annual Evangelistic Campaign will begin next Sunday. The meeting will run two weeks. Rev. Uel D. Crosby pastor of the First Methodist Church, Ralls, Texas, will do the preaching. Brother Crosby is an unusually strong preacher, and we feel that we are very fortunate in that we have been able to engage him for this series of services.

The music will be furnished by the local choir. Mr. J. Fred Bicey will direct and Mrs. S. E. Reid will play the piano. Music is an important part of a revival meeting and we are inviting all the people of our city who sing to feel free to go to the choir each evening and assist us with the music. Quiet music will start each evening at eight thirty. As the people come into the building, they will find a beautiful atmosphere of worship. The song service will begin at eight thirty five. May we again urge that all singers go to the choir without further invitation.

We are inviting all people of the community to attend the services. We want you to feel that it is your meeting. It will not be a sectarian campaign. A genuine spiritual meeting is always in order, and we are praying that this meeting shall prove to be a blessing to all churches and people. The large auditorium will be well ventilated at all times, and we can promise you comfort, good music and preaching which you will enjoy. Come and join us in this city-wide campaign.—H. C. Smith.

Local Baptists Call Merkel Pastor

At a called conference of the Baptist church here Wednesday night, Rev. C. R. Joyner, Baptist pastor at Merkel, was called to the pastorate of the Tahoka church. Brother Joyner has been pastor of the Merkel church a little less than two years. Preceding that he was pastor at Wellington six years. He is considered a strong man in the denomination, and it is hoped that he will accept the call here.

The pulpits committee announces that there will be preaching services as usual next Sunday. Rev. Jess MacIlhaney of Lubbock filled the pulpits most acceptably at both the morning and evening hours last Sunday.

CHURCH OF CHRIST NOTES

"Our meeting at Ragtown started off in a fine way with splendid crowds at both the morning and evening services, and a good basket dinner spread under the arbor," said Elder R. P. Drennon to The News in making a report on a revival meeting which he is now conducting at Ragtown, or Close City.

"The crowd was good for Bible Study and Communion periods. As we will be at Ragtown next Lord's Day, there will be services in the Tahoka church in the morning only. We want to announce again that the Boles Orphan Home singers will be with us next Wednesday night, July 25. If you love orphans and good singers, come and hear them."

WHITE RALLY HERE MONDAY

About 1,000 People Hear Plea For Support From Home Town

That was a great tribute the people of Tahoka paid to Taylor White Monday night when he addressed the home people on the court house lawn. It is hard to estimate the number of people who turned out to hear him, but the number would probably approximate 1,000. Many of them remained in their cars parked along the curb but hundreds of them stood or sat on the lawn throughout the evening's program. Quite a sprinkling of his auditors were farmers and he devoted more time to a discussion of farm problems than to any other.

"Sixty-five percent of the population of this congressional district are farm people," Mr. White said. "Solve the problems of the farmer and you have solved all other economic problems. One of the big matters to be solved by the people of this country is the problem of home ownership. I have had this matter called to my attention most forcibly since I entered this campaign for congress. A few days ago a farmer told me his experience. He had owned a home farmer east and sold it for $5,000. He came to the plains and bought a half section of land for $10,000, paying half cash. Two good crop years followed and he paid $2,000 more on the principal. Then came three bad years. The hail and drought destroyed the crops and he could not even pay the interest on the remaining $3,000. The loan company that held the notes closed him out and took the land, and he lost his seven thousand dollars. The law throws every protection around the man who holds the notes and no protection around the man who holds the land. That may be law but it is not justice. The man had paid two-thirds of the price of that half section of land and he was entitled to a clear title to two-thirds of the land," Mr. White declared. He promised that if elected to congress he would use all his energies and powers in behalf of the farmer and man trying to pay out a home.

"This reducing business seems to be rather popular just now. The farmer has reduced his cotton, reduced his wheat, reduced his corn, reduced his hogs, and he is reducing his cattle. I think that it is about time the big boys be required to reduce a little too. I think interest rates should be reduced, and unless they are the debts should be scaled down. If the big utilities companies, the railroads, and other big corporations can borrow money at 2 per cent, the farmer should be able to borrow it at 2 per cent also, for there is no better security than land."

Lum Haney Installs New Ice Equipment

Lum Haney has taken another step toward perfect sanitation and efficiency in his Drug store by purchasing and installing a "Snow-Master," a machine which shaves off ice for use in drinks with great speed, and makes it unnecessary for the ice to be soiled by handling and exposure.

This machine will enable them to give faster and better service, Mr. Haney says, and he invites the public to come in and see it.

We are now equipped to serve snow cones in all flavors, he said. Snow Cones are a modern version of the Glass-Ades.

Duggan Speaker To Be Here Saturday

Senator A. P. Duggan of Littlefield was a visitor in Tahoka Wednesday, and he announced that his friend, B. Denton, of Littlefield, will speak in his behalf on the court house lawn here about 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Denton is said to be an able speaker and you are cordially invited to hear him.

Miss O'Bera Forester returned the first of this week from a short visit with relatives and friends in Lubbock.

George Shepperd, state comptroller, should receive a unanimous vote in this county and section July 28. Whether you are for Jimmie Allred or C. C. McDonald, Clint Small or Tom Hunter, Maury Hughes or Edgar Witt or E. K. Russell for governor; whether you are wet or dry, rich or poor, you should vote for George Shepperd. He was reared near Hylton in Nolan and Taylor counties, fought his way for an education, served the people of Sweetwater and Nolan county in various public and official capacities in a most efficient manner, and was then elevated to his present position. He has no doubt made the most proficient state comptroller we have ever had. It would be foolish to turn him down for an untried man.

We like the way Clint Small is stressing the matter of law enforcement in his campaign for governor. We do not think that he has a ghost of a show to be elected but we hope that his fight on lawlessness bears some fruit. Race track gambling is proving to be a business boomerang as well as a lawless institution. It should be abolished. Mr. Small should know also that the liquor traffic has always been lawless. His position favoring the repeal of the dry amendment in the state constitution is a concession to the lawless crowd. Give the liquor traffic an inch and it will take an ell. Small made a grave mistake when he announced in favor of repeal. Maybe he is trying to compensate for this mistake by now stressing the matter of law enforcement.

Tom Connary has reflected great honor upon Texas in the U. S. Senate. Few men stand closer to President Roosevelt and few men are more highly regarded in the senate. In nearly every instance he has been right in his position on matters of legislation and has possibly made as few mistakes as an man in the senate. Able and brilliant, he is a credit to Texas and Texans will doubtless be glad to show their appreciation of his services July 28.

There are three candidates for attorney general, William McCraw of Dallas county, Clyde E. Smith of Tyler county, and Walter Woodward of Coleman county. Not only is Woodward the only West Texan in the race but we believe he is the best material for attorney general. He is clean and able, has had long experience in the practice of civil as well as criminal law, and has served in the senate long enough to become thoroughly familiar with all the departments of the state government and with all the state institutions. He has been a leader in the senate. Lynn county should roll up an enormous majority for Walter Woodward.

As for beer, a majority of the people of Texas are probably wet. As for whiskey and other strong liquors, however, the majority is probably dry. Those politicians that have been loudest in their demands that state-wide prohibition be repealed, it should be noted, do not appear to be showing any remarkable speed as candidates for office. Texas may be willing to compromise on beer but she is not yet ready to open up all the whiskey bungs and go on a big long-continued drunk.

In an election on the proposal to repeal statewide prohibition in Mississippi a couple of weeks ago, the drys won by a majority of more than 2 to 1. As in Texas, they permit the sale of 4 per cent beer in cities and counties. In Mississippi where beer is favored, but it is said that the drys will now make a fight to oust beer.

It is quite a jump from Sweetwater, Tex., to Memphis, Tennessee. Yet Clara Gene Mayberry, 11 years of age, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bannister, last week made the trip from Sweetwater to Memphis on the train unattended. She wrote back that she enjoyed the trip very much. Clara Gene has been here with her grand-parents the past eleven months and went to Memphis to spend awhile with her mother.

Kept Taking Cardui Until She Got Rid of the Severe Pains

When Mrs. Ida Hege, of Edinburg, Ind., was in a painful, run-down condition, she took Cardui, with the results she describes below: "I had just been what one might say dragging around, feeling miserable and all out of sorts. I remembered how Cardui helped my aunt. I sent for six bottles of Cardui and when I had taken them, I was much better and stronger. I did not suffer so much pain. I continued taking Cardui until I had taken nine bottles. I do not have the severe pains." ... Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

CHEVROLET DEALERS SELL 35,000 AUTOMOBILE RADIOS

Detroit, July 12.—Chevrolet dealers have sold 35,000 automobile radios to purchasers of new Chevrolet cars in the last 90 days, M. D. Douglas, parts and service manager of the Chevrolet Motor Co., announced here today. The report covers only the sets installed in new 1934 Chevrolets. It does not include the additional thousands purchased by owners of other cars or of earlier Chevrolets.

While the accomplishment is important in itself, as setting an all-time record for radio sales by Chevrolet dealers, Chevrolet officials are especially interested in it as an index of the public's increased buying power. It signifies that many automobile buyers instead of contenting themselves with the car itself, have enough money over and above its purchase price to indulge their desire for additional comfort, luxury and enjoyment. The situation, it is pointed out, did not exist a year ago, and the fact that it does exist today is a proof of returning good times.

TAHOKA DRUG CO.

The Best of Everything

See Texas first and then see New Mexico—good advice to all citizens of the Lone Star State. Having seen a good portion of the largest state and much of Southern New Mexico's scenery, we leave Tahoka for the Albuquerque-Santa Fe-Taos country.

Riding along the highway to Lubbock, Littlefield, Clovis and Fort Sumner, one is reminded that 302 years ago (144 years before we secured our independence) Spanish Catholic missionaries led an expedition from the Santa Fe country to the headwaters of the Colorado River in Texas, where they worked among the Jumano Indians. From descriptions of their route, they must have come by way of Portales Lake, Bailey and Lamb County lakes, Yellowhouse River, across to Tahoka Lake, thence to Indian Canyon and on down the Colorado.

For the next fifty years (1632 to 1680) New Mexican traders visited the region regularly, many of them following the trail across Lynn county. Spanish military expeditions of 1690 and 1694 into Texas possibly followed the same trail. After the establishment of Fort Concho (San Angelo) and Fort Sumner, U. S. soldiers beat a trail over the same general route. Too, Indians crossed and recrossed Lynn county after raids on the settlements down a ste, taking their loot across these Plains to trade to New Mexicans. Who says Lynn county does not have a history?

The state line is crossed at the twin cities of Farwell-Texico. Nine miles west is Clovis, that bustling wheat capital of 8,000 souls.

Fort Sumner, sprawled along the Pecos River valley, with its beautiful trees and irrigated farms, is a sight for sore eyes after traversing the drought-stricken country behind us. The peace and quiet of Fort Sumner lends no hint of the wild Port of fifty and more years ago when outlaw history was being written—when red-hot guns vied with valiantly played guitars. Seven miles below here "Billy the Kid" lies under the sod. Billy kept New Mexico and even the Panhandle of Texas terrorized for several years by his desperate acts as a participant in the famous Lincoln County feud, and is said to have carved many notches on his gun during the late '70's. Then one night Sheriff Pat Garrett surprised Billy in a house, which still stands not far from the grave, and the outlaw's life was cut off at 21 years.

A gigantic Santa Fe iron horse, pulling nearly a mile of freight cars, overtakes us and is making at least 60 per. Mr. Heare's "Blue Weed Special" compares with this powerful giant about like Jess Guri's old Model-T delivery hack compares with Bill Burleson's new "Job." Passing through a score of small towns, one wonders why old man John Santa Fe built such fine depots in towns no larger than Draw or New Home, and lets Tahoka, O'Donnell and Wilson be content with old frame structures. But that's easy—this is one of the great cross-country lines, and though they never use these small town stations much, Santa Fe has to keep up appearances for the hundreds of passengers riding with them daily.

It hasn't rained in months and months, and the country between Fort Sumner and Vaughn looks as though it has never seen rain. In fact, water is a very precious thing in Vaughn, the liquid being piped here from the Capitan Mountains west of Roswell and 200 miles away and is offered the citizens at $2.00 per thousand whether you use 1,000 or 10,000 gallons. We begin to see lots of Mexican, dome and rock huts, sheepherders, and a few burros.

The kid keeps looking for one of those Ken Maynard cowboys like she sees down at D. B. English's show. Even kids in the West get the idea that somewhere else the cowboys wear Angora goat h-ds, Spanish spurs, an orange-colored shirt and two big guns.

Just east of the village of Willard we skirt the south end of Laguna del Ferro, a great salt lake 20 miles long, from which stock salt is taken. Tradition tells us that this lake was visited hundreds of years ago—before the coming of the Spaniards—by Indians from Mexico and even South America. The old Indian trail is still visible in places. Later Spanish priests hauled salt by ox wagon to old Mansano (apple tree) at the foot of the Mansano Mountains west of Willard. Here is the oldest orchard in America. An apple orchard described by Coronado in a report to the King of Spain in 1541 still stands and the trees still bear fruit—apple trees at least 400 years old.

Willard and Estancia, little farming towns, are shipping points for a section which furnishes the American consumer with a big portion of his pluto beans.

Twenty miles west of us loom the Mansano Mountains, a beautiful blue as the sun set behind them. A small rain cloud high above the mountains dropping its moisture on the side of a peak gives the scene more color—and, in contrast to the 300 miles of dry plains and rocky hills we have just crossed, makes one look forward with pleasant anticipation to the scenic beauties of northern New Mexico.

Soon we get a nice sample of mountain scenery, passing through the canyon de Carnuel Pass between the Sandia (watermelon) and Mansano ranges over a well-paved road, down a long gentle slope to Albuquerque, a number of well

Edith Entertained Candidates Tuesday

County and precinct candidates were royally entertained out at Edith Tuesday night, according to Happy Smith and others who attended. The people of the community spread a great feast for the candidates and visitors on the tables arranged on the school premises, and ice cream was served by the girls of the community.

A. R. McGonagill acted as chairman at the candidate speaking following the banquet, and they say that he required every candidate to brag on the cooking and acknowledge that all the Edith women and girls were beautiful. The candidates say they had a great time and highly appreciate the hospitality of the Edith people.

The speaking scheduled for Wilson Friday night of this week has been called off, on account of the fact that the candidates have already appeared there twice during this campaign.

The date for O'Donnell has been changed from Thursday to Wednesday, July 25. State and district candidates will speak there in the afternoon, while county and precinct candidates will speak at night. This change was made because of the fact that a big barbecue and picnic has been planned for Tuesday of next week at O'Donnell.

Unless plans are changed, the candidates will have their last speaking appointment in Tahoka on Friday night of next week, just preceding the primary election.

Mrs. Ollie Johnson has been visiting her son, Hugh Johnson, at Captain Now Mexico, the past few weeks. She is expected home Sunday.

CIVIL WAR SHOW COMING TO ENGLISH THEATRE SOON

Even in war, it was impossible to prevent the Southern darkies from expressing their emotions in song when the fate of the confederacy loomed blackest.

Realizing this, Metro-Goldwyn Mayer executives made a decision to catch the spirit of the true South during the Civil War by injecting a suggestion of the musical soul of Southern negroes into "Operator 13" which is to be seen at the theatre with Marion Davies and Gary Cooper co-starred.

The interesting musical numbers were created by Walter Donaldson, Gus Kahn and Howard Dietz, who have contributed to many of the most successful stage and screen shows.

Donaldson and Kahn, however, refrained from creating modern tunes of jazz. Instead, they gave the thrilling espionage picture modified versions of the primitive songs of the black men. They are sung by the four Mills Brothers, radio's noted imitators of musical instruments who play the roles of slave entertainers.

Different from other motion pictures with wartime backgrounds "Operator 13" deals with the most romantic and thrilling phase of the Civil War—the spies.

"Operator 13", produced by Lucien Hubbard and directed by Richard Boleslavsky, co-stars Gary Cooper with Mrs. Davies. Others in the cast are Jean Parker, Katharine Alexander, Ted Healy, Russell Hardie, Henry Wadsworth, Douglas Dumbrille and Willard Robertson.

Mrs. Orvis Weathers is here this week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Larkin Weathers and family. Orvis spent Sunday here.

PASTOR COMMENDS SUNDAY
CLOSING OF STORES

I am glad to say "Amen" to what the Red & White Stores are doing about Sunday closing. I believe Christian people ought to trade with people who respect the Lord's Day enough to keep their places of business closed.

There will be three services with dinner on the grounds at Ragtown next Lord's Day. Come, bring your basket and enjoy the day with us.

—R. P. Drennon.

The Tahoka Band will give a concert on the court house lawn each Thursday night.

DAVID AND GOLIATH

The Israelites and the Philistines were having a mighty war. The armies opposed to each other were camped in sight of one-another, but each seemed to be afraid to start anything.

A big cheese named Goliath who belonged to the Philistines would come out in front of the Sheenies and informed them that he could lick the stuffing out of any Sheenie who would meet him between the lines.

He was so big and looked so fierce that no one seemed to have the nerve to tackle him. He wore a brass helmet on his head, and an iron shirt whose tall hung low down. He carried a great propole that weighed a hundred pounds grocery store weight. They called it a spear and it had a great long iron sticker on the end of it. His cutter was a big, wide, long sword that a common man would have to use both hands in handling it.

He was an ugly cuss and used loud and vociferous language in expressing his private opinion of the Sheenies. He dared and double-dared any of King Saul's Israelites to tackle him. He said he would feed the crows with the man who met him. This was kept up day after day until King Saul and his men got nervous, and things were looking mighty rocky for them.

One day the old man Jesse sent his young son David from the ranch to carry some grub to his brothers who were in Saul's army camp. David was a button who was too young to join the army. All he did was to herd sheep and keep the varmints from getting them. All he had to fight with was a sling. In fact that was all he needed. He could knock over a jackrabbit, coyote, bear or a lion with it. He was a fine ranch hand and most everybody liked him because he was not scared of anything.

One day when David brought a jackload of grub to his brothers, he stood around to get a nearful of news to take home to his father.

While David was fooling around the camp, the big Goliath came out and shook his prodpole at the Sheenies and performed his usual big sandy.

David saw his brothers turn pale behind the gills and he asked who was this big windy. He asked why some of the boys did not tackle and go to the ground with him. They told David that Goliath was too big for anybody to tackle. They said King Saul would make any man rich who would lick Goliath and bring his head to camp.

"I can lick the big stiff," David said and reached for his sling.

"You lick that big elephant? Why you little shrimp, you couldn't lick one side of him if he was tied to a tree. Forget it kid, before you start something. You had better go back to the ranch before Dad comes after you with a wet rope."

"I am going to do it," said David as he picked up five good smooth rocks and put them in his pocket. "Well kid, if you must make a fool of yourself, put on the king's iron shirt and take along his sword, for you will need them when you tackle that big guy."

"I don't need anything but this good old sling and plenty of rocks. I have busted the heads of several bears and lions with it and am sure I can do that big bull up with it before he gets to me."

So David ran out to meet Goliath, and when Goliath saw that David was only a kid, it made him awful mad. He cursed the Israelites for all the sons of prochie he could think of. Then he went after David with his big prodpole, but before he could stick the kid with it, the kid hauled off with his sling and biffed Goliath with a rock on the forehead and knocked him out the first throw. Goliath went down like a beef, and before they could stop him, he took Goliath's big sword and chopped his head off with it and took it to King Saul as a souvenir.

When this occurred, the Philistines got cold feet and hitailed it for tall timber. The Sheenies got after them with their prodpoles and made them hard to catch. Lots of the Philistines got hurt and had to have the doctor. Those who did not get hurt were scared so badly they had to have a bath.—Sterling City News Record.

Straw Vote Shows
Trend Of Votes

The Scurry County Times published at Snyder has been taking a straw vote of the governor's race.
Two weeks ago it published the result of four weeks voting, giving both first choice and second choice votes.
These returns show Jimmie Allred to be far in the lead with Tom Hunter as second high man. Other candidates seem to have little support in Scurry county. Here is the vote as published by the Times

First Second
Allred 193 88
Hunter 106 119
Hughes 32 47
Small 30 43
Witt 27 35
McDonald 18 12
Russell 6 19

Last week only ten first choice votes were added to the above list, of which Allred received five, and first choice votes as published by The Times last week are as follows:

First Second
Allred 198
Hunter 108
Hughes 32
Small 31
Witt 29
McDonald 18
Russell 6

"Straw votes gathered at various points over the state reflect one almost definite trend—that Allred will be the leading man", the Times comments.

"A trial vote taken in 20 Texas localities last week and reported by Raymond Brooks, Austin correspondent for a number of papers, shows the following tabulation," says the Times.

First Second
Allred 1597
Hunter 843
McDonald 672
Small 472
Hughes 428
Witt 326
Russell 34

This cross-section shows the same leaders—Allred and Hunter—as the Times poll, but all the others change places.

The Times hazards no guess at this early stage, but a few conclusions can be drawn, as follows: Allred has first place practically in the bag; Small is not polling the West Texas strength expected of him, and will probably not be in the runoff; Hughes undoubtedly has heavy strength in the northeast and east and may give Hunter and McDonald a tight squeeze for a run-off place; Witt is evidently out of the running, and Russell never has been in it.

TAYLOR WHITE SPOKE TO TAHOKA PEOPLE MONDAY

(Cont'd. from first page)

Mr. White called attention to the fact that practically all his opponents are lawyers. "They have spent their time in the court room. They are legally-minded. What we need in congress now are men who are agriculturally-minded. Lawyers are long on technicalities. What we need in congress is not legal learning but common sense." Mr. White pointed out that like most other candidates for office he was born and reared on a farm. "I have spent my entire life among farmers. I farmed for fifteen years and have spent fifteen years teaching agriculture. My thinking and training have largely been along agricultural lines. I hold a degree from the
A. & M. College of Texas and a Masters degree from the Texas Technological college. I claim to be as well qualified to serve in congress as any of my opponents.

I have lived on the plains twelve years and in three counties of this new congressional district.
Respecting the soldiers "bonus", Mr. White said it was a debt and should be paid just as any other debt.

Declaring that all of his opponents were fine men and that he "got along" with them just fine, yet he directed a few good-natured jabs at them.

He made an appeal to the people of Tahoka to stand behind him in this contest. He said that some were declaring themselves to be his friends but went about saying that he had no chance. "That is the strongest propaganda against me that they can possibly scatter," he declared.

G. E. Hogan, prominent business man here, presided at the meeting and paid a high tribute to the candidate. He introduced Boswell Edwards, a former student of Mr.
White's and a graduate of the Ta-hoka High School, who spoke in terms of highest praise of his former teacher and introduced him to the audience.

The speaking was preceded by a band concert by the Tahoka band, which was much enjoyed. At the close of Mr. White's address many friends crowded around him, shaking his hand and showering him with congratulations.

were to be named later.

A membership committee was also authorized by a vote of the body and at the close of the meeting, Belton Howell, chairman, announced that he had appointed H. A.
Maassen, D. W. Gagnat, and L. F.
Craft as members of this committee.

The board of directors now consists of the following named gentle-

R. P. Weathers, W. T. Jones Jr. and
W. L. Burleson. By a vote of the E. Turrentine was adopted, as follows: The Lynn County Service

At the close of the meeting quite a number gave in their names as

Plans for for a big membership barbecue are also being discussed.

GEORGE MAHON SPOKE TO LARGE CROWD SATURDAY

Pointing out that 56 per cent of the cotton raised in Texas is exported and that a large per cent of other farm products in Texas are exported, he declared that farmers must have a foreign market for their cotton and other commodities. He pledged himself to support and vote for such tariff schedules as would help the farmers of Texas, and to bring about such trade relations with other peoples as will encourage international trade and provide a better market for farm products in this country.

Mr. Mahon also voiced eternal opposition to the issuance of other tax-exempt securities. These securities are always purchased and held by those who are best able to pay taxes, he said, and yet they escape such payment.

He further vigorously declared that he favored the full and immediate payment of the "bonus" or adjusted compensation due to in-service men. He felt that an injustice was being done them in withholding payment.

Following Mr. Mahon's address Judge Gordon B. McGuire spoke a few minutes in the interest of his candidacy for re-election to the office of district judge of the 72nd judicial district.

Gordon Suits left this morning for a two weeks fishing trip in New Mexico. He was accompanied by his cousin, Tom Suits, of Lockney.

Mrs. Laura Adams and daughter, Miss Julia Etta Adams, of Falls are here this week visiting their daughter and sister, Mrs. Ray Sherrod and family.

THE RED & WHITE STORES

Carnival of Values
FOOD SALE

Join us in this gala week-end of celebrations. The Red & White Stores are celebrating with the carnival spirit, the national trend to better times. All over the country millions have been put back to work, and it is only fitting that we let down the bars of sobriety and enjoy a little levity. So we are celebrating by offering you hundreds of special values this weekend. Shop and save at your nearest Red & White Store.
