Canning Center For County Is Approved

WILL EMPLOY SIXTY PEOPLE

County Will Remove Local Building For Use in Putting Up Surplus Food

Application has been made to the relief commission for a canning center to be established in Tahoka, according to County Judge W. E. Smith, and the project was approved Tuesday of this week.

The county has procured and will fit up a building in which the canning operations are to be carried on. Concrete floors are to be laid, the walls inside are to be covered with sheetrock, a septic tank is to be provided, and other minor improvements made.

The building to be used is situated at the southeast corner of the square in Tahoka, and the building plan as submitted by the county was sent in to headquarters Wednesday, according to Brown Bishop of the local relief office. It is expected that the building plan will be approved within the next ten days, whereupon the work will begin.

The capacity of this canning center will be from 1,000 to 1,200 cans per day for a period of ninety days, Mr. Bishop says. Employment for about fifteen relief families will be provided daily, which means that about sixty families will find employment for a portion of the time during each month.

The purpose of the center is to provide a means for canning the products of fall gardens and providing relief for needy families.

Five-Acre Garden Project Planned

In connection with and as a corollary to the canning center project in Tahoka, application has been made also for the establishment of a large sub-irrigated garden, Brown Bishop, of the local relief office, says.

The community or county is to furnish a five-acre tract of land, under lease for five years, and to furnish the water. The Government is asked to furnish funds for at least part of the material required in laying a sub-irrigation system throughout this tract and to furnish the labor in installing the system.

On this five-acre, sub-irrigated tract, a garden is to be raised each year, the products to be used for the relief of the needy.

Mr. Bishop has been working on this enterprise for some time, and it now looks as if success were about to crown his efforts. It is a highly practical project, for sub-irrigation has already been tried out by a number of families in this county. Little water is required and yet fine gardens are the result. It is said that this is the only project of this kind that has been submitted by any county in this entire section of the state. If the project is approved and installed, we believe that it will be something "new under the sun" in Texas.

Excellent Meeting Held At Redwine

Rev. Sam Malone, editor of the West Texas Baptist and a Bible instructor in Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, closed a ten-day meeting at Redwine Tuesday night. He was assisted by the pastor, Rev. J. W. Braswell, Lamesa.

They report large crowds and much interest in the services. Mr. Malone said there were possibly 500 people present Sunday night, many being unable to get into the house. Bro. Braswell has been pastor of the Redwine church for nearly twelve years.

Miss Marenda Hickerson, who is teaching in the Louisiana State Normal College at Natchitoches, came Friday to spend a few weeks with her father, J. H. Hickerson. She expects to return to her work about September 16.

SHORT COTTON CROP CERTAIN

Smallest Yield In Years Is Expected Both in County And In State

The state of Texas will doubtless produce the smallest cotton crop in many years this year. From most of the cotton-growing sections of the state come reports of short yields. On an average the yield will probably not be more than half a normal crop. In addition to this, the acreage has been greatly reduced. The best government estimate of the crop will probably reduce the Texas figures much below the last estimate.

In Lynn county and throughout the section of the state the yield will be exceedingly low, even though a good general rain should fall now. If no rain comes this month the yield will be so small that we would not venture a guess at the crop. The best that could be expected under any circumstances would be smaller than any crop in recent years. Feed crops are also scant and unpromising.

The outlook for the future, therefore, is not rosy; but the people of this section are resourceful and self-reliant. They are going to keep on working at the job, knowing that brighter and more prosperous days lie out before us.

First Bale Of Cotton Ginned

Tahoka ginned her first bale of cotton this season at noon Wednesday.

The bale was grown and owned by F. L. Prater, living five miles east of Tahoka. It was ginned by the Cooperative Gin Society No. 1, with Claude Donaldson as manager. Mr. Prater brought in 1,350 pounds of seed cotton and the bale weighed 406 pounds.

This bale was not sold, due to the fact that no Government tags have yet been received here. The ginning was donated, and Mr. Donaldson is making up a purse to be presented to Mr. Prater for bringing in the first bale.

Without looking up the records, it is believed that this is much earlier in the season than usual for the first bale to come in. The crop will probably open earlier this year than usual on account of the long-continued drouth that prevails.

Nazarene Revival Open At New Lynn

Rev. V. B. Attebery, Abilene, district superintendent of the Church of the Nazarene, will open a ten-day revival meeting at the New Lynn church Friday night. Morning services will be held at 10:30 and evening services at 8:15.

People of all denominations and of no church affiliation, are invited to attend any and all of the services.

CONFERENCE AT BAPTIST CHURCH COMING SUNDAY

In conformity with what seems to be the desire of a vast majority of the membership, the pulpit committee of the Baptist Church announces that a conference will be called for again at the eleven o'clock hour next Sunday morning for the purpose of considering the call of a pastor. It is earnestly desired that there be a large attendance.

Other services will probably be arranged for the evening hour.

Sunday School and B. T. S. meetings at the usual hour.

Rev. George A. Dale, pastor at Madill, Oklahoma, for the past five years, filled the pulpit most acceptably at both services last Sunday. Mrs. Dale was also here for the night service.

CHURCH OF CHRIST HAS MEETING AT DIXIE CHURCH

N. W. Alphin reports that a revival meeting of the Dixie Church of Christ was closed Sunday night. Although no new members were added to the church, he reports there was a great revival of interest.

Elder D. Lee Hukel of Abernathy did the preaching, and Bro. Alphin led the song services.

CITY SCHOOLS OPEN SEPT. 3

Many New Faces Will Be Seen In Faculty; Agriculture Work Restored

Tahoka schools will open Monday, September 3. Superintendent J. B. Pace announces, Mr. Pace and other members of the faculty are completing plans for the year's work. Opening program will be announced later, possibly in next week's News.

Many new faces will be seen among the teachers of Tahoka's schools this year.

J. T. Carter, principal at Central Ward last year, has been elevated to the principalship of High School.

Prentice Walker, new coach and science teacher, is a B. B. A. graduate of North Texas State Teachers College, Denton. Last year he was assistant coach in that college. He is expected to arrive in Tahoka next week.

J. B. Strickland, likewise a new man here, will revive the Vocational Agriculture department of the school, and is already at work organizing the boys who will take this class of study. He is a 1934 B. S. graduate of Texas Tech and holds from Silverton.

Mrs. Lenora M. Tunnell, teacher (Cont'd. from first page)

Slaton Citizens Boost Mullican

A delegation of Slaton Mullican-for-Congress boosters visited Tahoka Wednesday, arriving at about 11:30 and departing shortly after noon. A speaker extolled the virtues of Judge Mullican and urged local voters to support the Lubbock candidate.

The Slaton band accompanied the delegation and rendered a brief concert just preceding the speech. Monte Bowron, formerly director of the Tahoka band, is leader of the Slaton band.

Will Hold Meeting At Central Church

Announcement is made that the Baptist revival at Central will begin Friday night, August 17.

Rev. R. E. Day, pastor at Big Spring, will do the preaching; and his son, Morris Day, pastor of the Central Church, will conduct the song services.

DR. FEARCE, LUBBOCK TO PREACH SUNDAY NIGHT

We had two good services at the Methodist Church last Sunday. In Sunday School attendance, we broke all records for this year. Let us keep this up. It seems that some of our departments are going to swarm. They are nearly full. For a school to have such attendance during the hot days of August is very encouraging indeed. Our teachers and workers are well trained, and seem to be working at the job. We want even more people to attend. We shall not be satisfied until every member of the Church and many others are regular in their attendance. If you will come and work with us and be prayerful we will show you one of the best Sunday Schools to be found.

Let us have a great day next Sunday. The pastor will preach at the morning hour. The subject will be "A Foolish Question." This will not be a "foolish" sermon, but we believe that you will enjoy the service if you will come and help us make it a great hour in the Church.

Dr. W. M. Pearce will preach at the evening hour. Those who have heard him will come expecting to hear a great message, and shall not be disappointed. Following the preaching service, Dr. Pearce will hold the third Quarterly Conference. Let all officials be ready to make their reports, and let us pray for great services morning and evening.

We are now on third base, and are about to make the last run for the year. We are planning to close out the greatest year of the past three. Come and be with us at all times. We need, and greatly desire your prayers.—H. C. Smith.

Allred Speaker Here Wednesday

Judge Clyde Grissom of Haskell will speak here at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night, July 22, in the interest of James V. Allred, candidate for governor, according to announcement made here Tuesday by Mel T. Jans, secretary of the South Plains Allred-for-Governor Club.

Judge Grissom is an able speaker and he will come armed with facts and documentary evidence. Mr. Jans stated. The issues between the two candidates have been closely drawn and the situation has become tense. For that reason a large crowd is expected to be here Wednesday night to hear the Haskell man's speech.

Judge Grissom is district judge of the Haskell district.

Mr. Jones asks that all men who have not filed an application see the community cotton committee of their school district and file application at once.

WORK RESUMED ON HIGHWAY NO. 83 NEAR SEMINOLE

The work on Highway 83 East of Seminole, constituting a part of the Drouth Relief Program for this county, was resumed Tuesday morning.

Two shifts of about 35 men each will, during the next few weeks, grade the dirt base, preparatory to topping with caliche. State Highway concrete culverts are being put in.

The crews have been cut in order to make the work last as long as possible on this appropriation.—Gaines County News.

S. W. Cain and daughter, Miss Belva, of Canyon, were here a few days ago visiting the former's son, Alton Cain, and other relatives.

CALL MEETING FOR TUESDAY

Farmers Can Get Faces Put In Reps. By Federal Work Plan

More Federal relief for Lynn county was the subject of discussion at a meeting of farmers and business men at the court house Tuesday night. The meeting was sponsored by the Lynn County Service Club. The 150 farmers present represented twelve Lynn county communities, but only twelve Tahoka business men attended.

J. B. Scott, rural supervisor of the Lubbock district, Federal Rehabilitation work, told those present that a practically unlimited amount of money is available to Lynn county citizens for use in improving their farms. However, this money will not be used in Lynn county but will be transferred to some other county unless the farmers make application for its use through the local relief office. Mr. Scott already has $3,000 available for the use of this month.

The proposal is substantially as follows: The Government will make a given amount of improvement on a tenant house or the premises, paying for the labor and the material, provided the landlord will then permit some needy family to occupy the house and will furnish a small tract of land for their use at an agreed rental for a sufficient length of time to absorb the value of the improvements. In other words, the rent is to be paid for in improvements made by the government. Provision is made for the speedy removal of any family that may become troublesome to the landlord.

Next Tuesday night at the meeting of the club, which will be open to all people of the county, a county committee, and community committees will be appointed to carry on this work. Farmers from every community in the county are urgently requested to attend. Immediately following the meeting, applications may be made for this relief work.

Judge B. P. Maddox, local relief chairman, made a rousing address in which he pictured the suffering that was likely to take place in Lynn county this winter if more relief was not forthcoming.

Belton Howell, president of the club, presided at the meeting.

Local Centennial Board Named

The Centennial Advisory Board of Lynn county is becoming active in behalf of the Texas Centennial celebration.

A permanent organization was formed at a meeting held Friday afternoon. Mrs. E. E. Callaway was named chairman; Mrs. Henry Hecox, New Home, secretary; Mrs. H. I. Davis, a vice chairman; Mrs. Tom Garrard, chairman publicity committee.

Following the meeting the committee announced plans for the Centennial are taking form rapidly and that it will be the biggest celebration ever known in Texas which is held in some Texas city in 1936.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Any erroneous reflection upon the reputation or standing of any individual, firm or corporation, that may appear in the columns of The News will be gladly corrected when called to our attention.

The News is for the "little boy in big britches" for governor. We believe him to be the best man for the place. We were for him in the first primary, even though we had a kinsman in that contest. We new Witt to be a fine gentleman, but he did not stand for the things we believe in. We therefore turned him down for Allred. We are for Allred now, because he is standing courageously and ably for some things that we believe to be vital to the welfare of the people.

The merits and demerits of the Bankhead bill can not be tested out this year by reason of the drought at has cut the cotton crop short. His drought renders the Bankhead bill of little consequence. But with normal yield per acre, the Bankhead law would have become one of the most unpopular ever written into our statute books.

With a cotton yield that will probably not exceed ten million bales this year, it seems that there would be a marked increase in the price. High prices will mean nothing, however, to the fellow who has a cotton crop. But a short crop will possibly enable the world to get rid of its big surplus, and the price would be good again next year. The trouble will be in holding out next year.

LUBBOCK EDITOR GETS "HET UP"

Charles A. Guy, editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, is all "het up."

In last Sunday's issue of that paper he assumes an injured air. He imagines that some of George Mahon's supporters are attempting to spread "anti-Lubbock" doctrine—that they are singing "hymns of hate" against Lubbock—and he hopes that George will put a stop to it.

We don't know what provoked this outburst. We have scanned the editorial columns of most of the papers in the district and we have read nothing that could have been construed as a thrust against Lubbock. We have heard no "hymn of hate."

We have heard many people express their disapproval of the attitude of a few Lubbock politicians.

As soon as the first primary election was over, some of these politicians apparently tried to whip all the people of Lubbock into line for their candidate for congress. That was the way it looked to some of us, at least.

And then they began to sing—these politicians—not a song of hate but a song of ridicule. In the press and on the stump and on the streets they began talking about this "boy" down at Colorado. They belittled his ability and his experience. They said that "ten years from now he might make a good congressman." They assumed a superior air for their candidate. It all reminded us of that scene depicted in the Bible—that story of the big giant Goliath. How he boasted of his prowess! When little David came out to give him battle he poked fun at the "boy". No doubt he said that kid would probably be a fairly good warrior ten or fifteen years hence. We know that he did contemptuously tell the lad that he would feed his carcass to the buzzards. But when the scrap was over, Goliath was minus a head.

It may be that some of the folks down in the "lower end of the district" and elsewhere are resenting these contemptuous flings that the big Lubbock giant and a few of his supporters are directing at the "boy" from Colorado.

So, keep your shirt on, Charley. Nobody is attempting to spread "anti-Lubbock doctrine" that we know of. None of George Mahon's supporters are trying to create prejudice against Lubbock. The most obvious attempt to draw sectional lines of any kind, that we have noted, appeared in the Avalanche itself, when a few days after the first election, it suggested that the fight in the run-off would be between the plains and the "below the caprock" country.

But most of us common people are for Mahon or Mullican, as the case may be, not because he lives in Colorado or Lubbock, but because we regard him as the best material for the place.

So, keep your shirt on, Charley, but George Mahon is going to be our congressman.

The editor and Mrs. Hill were called to Rogers in Bell county last Friday by the death of Mrs. Hill's niece, Miss Marjorie Halsey. The young lady died from typhoid. There seems to have been an outbreak of this disease in many parts of the state recently. Every precaution possible should be taken to guard against it.

OLD FORT GRIFFIN SCENES TO BE LIVED AGAIN

Old Fort Griffin, outpost of early Texas civilization in what was then the far west, is to have its stirring scenes relived during Centennial year.

The old fort was in what is now Shackelford county of which Albany is the county seat.

Says the Moran News: "It wouldn't cost much to reproduce old Fort Griffin. Some of the old buildings are still standing and with a little repair could be made to last many more years. The old Masonic lodge hall still stands and is in such good condition that it is used for a school. This would interest thousands of Texans and out-of-state tourists in 1936. The state highway runs right by the old spot and it would be one of the most accessible places in West Texas."

"The fine history back of old Fort Griffin, its memories and campaigns, its troops who battled the Indians, and outlaws, who gave protection to the early settlers that dared to build this great country, its heyday when the 'flat' was filled with houses of vice, when horses and cow thieves were 'strung up' without going to trial, where buffalo hunters gathered for their slaughtering trips to the west, and where stacks of buffalo hides took on the proportions of homes, all of these historical facts would make old Fort Griffin a place of great interest."

Professor and Mrs. A. B. Griffith, teachers at Midway, the past year, returned Saturday from Austin where they had been attending school. They will teach at Midway again this year.

Eddie Hatchett and mother, Mrs. J. C. Burgett, formerly of Tahoka, but now living in Galveston, are here visiting relatives. Miss Donnie Hatchett has been here several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Greathouse of Midland are here visiting the latter's parents, Judge and Mrs. B. P. Maddox.

Millions of packages of Theodor's Black-Draught are required to satisfy the demand for this popular, old reliable, purely vegetable laxative. 25¢ a package. "Children like the Syrup."

SCHOOL CHILDREN SHOULD BE EXAMINED BEFORE SEPT.

Austin, Aug. 15.—The schools throughout Texas will soon be opening for another term and the Texas Department of Health urges the parents to see that they are protected against diseases as far as possible. Vaccination against typhoid, diptheria, and smallpox should be done at once.

School children are exposed to much infection so that where a definite preventive is known, parents should take advantage of it. These vaccinations may save many days out of school, doctor fees, and maybe life itself. More than six hundred children die each year in Texas from diptheria.

The child should be taken to his family physician at this time for a physical examination to determine if he has any remedial defects. A child with subnormal eyesight or hearing cannot be expected to do as well in his studies as one that has normal sight and hearing. A dentist should be consulted in regard to the teeth. Any defect found and corrected before school opens will mean much to the child and will have its effect on his school work as well as his physical well being.

Some physical defects, such as underweight or malnourishment, show no appreciable present effect. If such a condition is not corrected it may result seriously in later years. No hard and fast rules as to a child's weight are available, but parents should see whether or not the child shows some gain each month.

OTHER PAPERS MUST BE SIGNED, SAYS COUNTY AGENT

Men in Lynn county who have sold a few cows to the Government in the Emergency Cattle Buying Program, and intend to sell other cows must fill out another set of papers before the other cattle can be appraised. During the time condemned cattle were being bought, the papers for those cattle were sent in and it is necessary that another set of papers be signed for the remaining cattle to be sold. Plenty of contracts are on hand for the sign-up.

the pleasure of motoring

Chevrolet prices have been reduced as much as $50

Drive it only 5 miles and you'll never be satisfied with any other low priced car

The best way to prove that Chevrolet's Knee-Action actually makes motoring twice as pleasant as before is to drive the new Chevrolet over all kinds of roads. You will find that the continuous jars you used to get even on smooth pavements are ended. The steering wheel is free of vibration. Back seat passengers are comfortable and relaxed. You can maintain higher speeds over rough roads that used to slow you down. You will find, in fact, that probably for the first time in your experience, every foot of every mile is equally enjoyable. Perhaps that explains why so many people are buying and recommending this extremely low-priced car.

H. D. Club Women Report On Work At A. & M. College Short Course

Hooked Rugs (By Christine Owens)

The hooked rug and mat demonstration was given in the Asbury Room of the college library building. This large room was on the third floor and it was divided into three divisions: the hooked mat division which consisted of a demonstration of hooking on burlap and on fine woven material as feed sacks. In the exhibit part of the room hung about fifty beautiful hooked rugs made of silk and woolen material. There were about one hundred and fifty silk mats and only a few of woolen material. The hooked mats and rugs were all of beautiful colors and designs. The last division was the hooked rug department.

I gave demonstrations from 1:30 to 4 o'clock each afternoon. There were something like seventy-five or eighty different women that attended this special course. Each woman that took this course had to take a ticket to permit her to take the demonstration. Therefore, I was asked many questions outside the demonstration room by those who were not permitted to enter. These, I was glad and willing to answer to the best of my knowledge.

I tried to make the rug demonstration as interesting as possible and to bring out all the necessary information.

The design must be placed on the foundation material straight and traced carefully with a blunt point. In putting the burlaps in the frame it is very necessary to get it in straight; if it is not the finished rug will not lie square on the floor.

I used the Bluenose Hooker in my demonstration, as it is the needle I use in my work. There were eight or ten varieties of needles brought by women who did not know about the use of them so I helped with those needles also. Care should be taken with any kind of needle so as not to break the thread of the foundation material.

The question was asked, "May silk and cotton material be used in rugs as well as woolen?" Silk and cotton may both be used in rugs but the lasting quality is not as good as the woolen.

Each demonstrator gave a lecture on the color scheme and dyeing of the material for the hooked rugs and mats. The rugs should not contain outstanding or loud colors as they are to cover a large place and do not need these colors to attract the eye. But the mats should have these colors to some extent as they are small and are used in a dainty place.

As I did not have to give demonstrations in the mornings, I spent this time attending other lectures and demonstrations. Some of these were: The sub-irrigation tile demonstration; Miss Peggy Morr's gave a lecture on the Building of Personality; "The Arrangement of Flowers for Home and Yard" by Miss Jacks; Miss Lola Blair gave some good suggestions for achievement Events and Exhibits; Farm Makers Market demonstration sponsored by Miss Malnis and Miss Hearn gave some really good ideas for a real market for farm products. I also attended assembly of women and men each morning which was always beneficial.

I wish to express my thanks and appreciation to the business men of Tahoka for helping make this trip possible. I have enjoyed giving these demonstrations and the information to the best of my ability. My desire is to help and see others enjoy rug making as I do.

A Farm Homemakers' Market (By Mrs. Roy Tunnell)

On my recent trip to the short course at A. & M. College I saw and heard many things of great interest and value to me, but one thing which interested me very much was a lecture on the "Farm Homemakers Market" given by Miss Maurine Hearn.

As Miss Hearn talked a model market and its workings was displayed on the stage. A sign which read something like this was placed in a prominent place: "Farm Homemakers' Market, Blank County; Open from 9:00 A. M. to 9:00 P. M.; Better 4-H Products Sold Here."

The sign was printed on a large white board in green letters and decorated with the four-leaf clover emblem. This market place was equipped with convenient display counters, a refrigerator for perishable products and a desk and cash register.

Producers pay ten percent of what they receive for their products for the use of the market.

Five percent of this goes to the director for her services. She has charge of opening and closing the market, buying all supplies, as wrapping paper, paper bags, cellophane, etc. and seeing that all products placed on display are first quality products. The other 5 percent goes to the purchase of these market supplies.

Every product that is sold on this market must be absolutely first quality and all products are guaranteed. Dressed poultry must come in boxes of crushed ice. Butter must be kept on ice. Eggs must be absolutely fresh and infertile. Vegetables must be fresh and attractive. All canned products must be labeled with the 4-H club label and must be guaranteed. Home baked products must be fresh and attractively packaged. Each producer sells her own products and may take special orders and pay the same ten percent commission to the market. Prices are determined largely by local market prices.

Now, as to a market for Lynn county Homemakers' products. I realize that we have a drought now and would not have many fresh vegetables and canned products to sell, but how about chickens, eggs, butter, cheese products, homemade cakes, pies, cookies, candies and the like? And I am sure there are a few who would have vegetables and canned products they would like to sell.

Now if Lynn County Homemakers are really interested and want to establish a market where they might receive better prices for their products, I am sure that we can have a very successful one.

Personality (By Irene Banks)

A part of the week's program that was most interesting to me was a talk made to the 4-H club girls one morning by Mrs. Barlow of Dallas. The subject of her talk was "The Building of Personality."

She said that personality is the quality of being somebody. It is built day by day.

Every day you are changing your life. You are never like you were yesterday.

When you think of yourself always think of yourself as you would like to be.

If you do your best in everything you undertake to do you will always make good. A girl was once going to college. She was very smart and made higher grades than any of the pupils in her class. On account of her ability to learn so easily she began to get neglectful and slack her work. One day they were to hand in some very important papers. She said to her self, "I know that I can pass this easily so I'll not try very hard, just so I pass. She handed in her paper. When she got it back there was a zero on it. Across the top there was some writing and this is what it said: "Your paper was very good. It was the best paper handed in, but on account of you not doing your best, I gave you zero. I knew that you could have done better."

You must always like others before others will like you. You must be friendly with others before others will be friendly with you.

If people do not like you there is something inside your soul that causes them not to.

Everything that stands in the way of good health is personality. Work out a philosophy to live by and then live your life by it. If you have a nature to keep away from other people you will kill the best thing in you that you possess.

Habit is a thing given to you at birth and a thing that will go with you through life.

The next time you get the blues and feel down and out get a good bath, put on your most becoming clothes, tidy up your room, put a smile on your face and try to be as pleasant as you can and you will find that your blues will soon be gone.

Always wear the clothes that you would think looked most becoming to other people and not the ones that you think looked and felt best on yourself.

Avoid talking about yourself. Never complain about your ailments. Never start discussing your religion with anyone for it will nearly always end up in an argument.

If you have a flippant and slang manner of speech, naturally anyone would judge you as a very vulgar and hateful person. It will cause you to have less friends. Always talk pleasantly and cheerfully and wear a smile wherever you go and you will find a host of friends waiting for you wherever you go.

When you are grown up and married and have boys and girls of your own the first thing you should teach them is personality and charming manners. Teach them the ways of life and right from wrong and they will never have very much trouble in life.

Rural Work Center (By Mrs. Susie Bartley)

The Rural Work Center was the most interesting thing I found at College Station. First was the log cabin which was built of small native logs sawed open and the edges sawed smooth so they would fit together. I did not get the dimensions but it appeared to be about 40x20 feet.

I was mostly interested in the kitchen, in the center of which was built a furnace of brick with a flue. In the top of this furnace was a large iron pot and a large pressure cooker which would hold 50 No. 2 cans. There were racks which fit into the cooker and lifters with which to lift the racks filled with cans from the cooker. At the end of the kitchen near the furnace was a large cooling vat built against the wall in which to cool the cans of food. Along the west wall was a table on which to prepare the materials for canning. Over the table were shelves and cupboards for keeping pans, pots and other utensils for work. There was plenty of light from large windows. Against the partition wall were more shelves and cupboards and a large refrigerator. There were stools to sit on while at work.

Then there was the center room which looked to be about twenty feet square. There were 2 hand looms on which to weave small rugs, scarfs, shopping bags and many other useful articles all made of silk stockings, silk underwear, and other cast off silks; also, a frame where a hooked rug was being made from cast off clothing. Two ladies were making purses of tooled leather. One was making clothing for the relief work at Bryan. On lady gave a demonstration in mattress making. A cabinet maker had made some settees, the back of which when lifted up and slid over, made a table which would easily seat six persons. Under the seat there was a compartment where one could store shoes and rubbers or many other things or one could make a lid of the seat and have a nice box for storing blankets or winter clothing.

In another small room a man was making chairs and stools and bottoming them with rawhide.

A porch ran the length of the building on the north and a room was built on the west end in which was a large box in which to put ice for the purpose of cooling out meat.

Out back of the house is the saw mill and syrup mill. The most of the logs from which these buildings were made were less than 20 inches in diameter. The sheds for the saw and syrup mills were made from the slabs sawed from the sides of the logs. The saw mill was purchased for the purpose of showing the farmers how to utilize their timber more profitably in their spare time.

Of course, such a thing is not practicable in this part of the country. But, why can't we build club houses of the native rock which is so abundant in many sections of this country? I am sure many of the owners would gladly give them the rocks if some one would take them off the place. Our own men and boys could do the work of getting and hauling the rock and putting up the buildings. The club women could raise the money for the cement, lumber, doors, and windows.

Home Comfort and Pleasure (By Mrs. J. W. Lowry)

One of the Short Course lectures given at A. & M. College was about home comfort and pleasure.

People have to have more than physical comfort. They need to do such things as beautify the ground around the home.

The trees should be climbable, the flowers should be in beds around the lawn and house. The house should be underpinned.

There should be something to interest all the family.

We wish to thank the people of Lynn county for the splendid vote given—

McCALL STORY COMING TO ENGLISH THEATRE

Is there any substitute for a mother's care?

Can money, luxury, schooling and travel do for a child as much, in character building, as can the influence of a mother over her son?

These questions and many others are propounded in Columbia's latest production, "Most Precious Thing in Life," which comes to the English Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The story is an adaptation of the novelette "Biddy," published last year in McCall's magazine and written by Travis Ingham. It tells the story of a young man's journey through college under the eye of his mother, a "Biddy" or charwoman in the institution, who watches over him and tries to correct the harm his father's money has done to him.

Excellent portrayals by the entire cast, which includes Jean Arthur and Donald Cook as the parents of Richard Cromwell, Anita Louise as the girl with whom Dick falls in love at college, is a feature of the production.

When it appeared in fiction form, as "Biddy," the story was one of the most popular of the year. In motion picture form, under the direction of Lambert Hillyer, it should prove to be excellent entertainment.

A son weighing nine pounds was born Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. Orron McRae. The youngster was named Orron Clinton.

Lady Says She Took CARDUI for Cramps Was Soon Relieved
Women who suffer as she did will be interested in the experience of Mrs. Maude Crafton, of Belleville, Ill., who writes: "For several years, I suffered from irregular trouble and cramping. There would be days when I would have to stay in bed. I would get so nervous, I was miserable. My aunt told me to try Cardui. She believed it would build me up, regulate me and help the nervous trouble. I knew after taking half a bottle of Cardui that I was better. I kept on taking Cardui and found it was doing me a world of good. I am in good health, which means a lot to me."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician. . . . Price 41.

Section 1. That there be added to Article IX of the Constitution of the State of Texas a new section to be numbered Section 2-A and to have five (5) lettered subdivisions and which section shall read as follows:

"Section 2-A.

(a) General management and control of the affairs of the County shall hereafter be vested in the Commissioners Court, provided that the exercise of powers not specifically granted to the Commissioners Court by the Constitution and Amendments thereto, the Court shall be subject to the authority of the Legislature of the State, and the Court shall also be subject to all general laws of the State now in force not in conflict with the provisions of this Amendment until such laws are modified or repealed.

(b) All duties heretofore performed by the Clerk of the District Court and the County Clerk shall hereafter be performed by an officer to be known as Record Clerk; all duties heretofore performed by the County Tax Assessor and the County Tax Collector shall hereafter be performed by one officer known as Tax Clerk; and in the counties where the sheriff performs the duties of the Tax Collector he may hereafter perform the duties of the Tax Clerk. The Record Clerk and the Tax Clerk shall be elected to hold office for a term of two (2) years and until their successors shall be elected and qualified. The Commissioners Court shall have authority to fix the compensation of all county and precinct officers except County Auditor, County Judge and County Commissioners. The Legislature shall fix the compensation of District Judges, District Attorneys, County Judges and the County Commissioners and may provide for a County Auditor and prescribe his duties as such county and precinct officers or employees, be required to perform such other similar duties for cities, towns and districts within the county, or for the county, as may be mutually agreed upon and contracted for between the Commissioners Court of said county and the governing board or boards of such cities, towns and districts; and the cost of such service shall be provided for in said contracts and paid by such county, cities, towns or districts into the Treasury of the county or city, town or district, as provided for in said contract. All such contracts shall be approved by the Attorney General of this State and such contracts shall not cover a period longer than two years.

(c) The Legislature shall have authority, by general law, to provide for complete forms of county government and organizations different from that provided for in this Constitution to become effective in any county when submitted in such manner as may be prescribed by the Legislature to the qualified voters of such county in an election held for such purpose and approved by a majority of the qualified voters voting in said election. Provided, however, that no such law shall impair the authority of the Commissioners Court to determine the compensation of any county and precinct officers other than the County Auditor, deputies, and clerical personnel which said officers may employ; nor shall such general law change the present constitutional limitations as to particular and total tax levies for all or any county purposes nor shall such general law change the present constitutional limitations on counties to incur public debts.

(d) In any and all cases where provisions of the Constitution of this State are in conflict with the provisions of this Amendment, the provisions of this Amendment (Section 2-A, Article IX) shall control; provided, however, should any county adopt a Home Rule Charter under authority of any provision of the State Constitution or Amendment thereto, this Amendment shall not be applicable to such county.

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the electors of this State, qualified to vote on Constitutional Amendments, at an election to be held throughout the State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1934, at which election each ballot shall have printed thereon the words:

CHEVROLET SETS PRODUCTION RECORD FOR JULY

Chevrolet Motor Company established a production record for the month of July, building 92,947 passenger cars and trucks, the highest July production since 1929, according to an announcement made by the officials of the company.

To meet the demands of dealers, which continued on a high level during the month, the heavy production schedule was maintained. In the last four full working days of the month 18,901 units were produced with a record of 4,953 cars in a single day.

Handicapped by a late start in the early part of the year, Chevrolet production set a pace during March and April which was maintained through June, July, and the early part of August. It is significant to note that at the close of production on Saturday, August 4, Chevrolet had surpassed last year's total production figure, building 626,303 units as compared with 626,277 units for the entire 12 months of 1933.

July sales rivaled the June record in reflecting the current demand for Chevrolet cars. Deliveries made during July totaled 86,570 units, officials of the company said. Retail sales for the month, as compiled from dealers' reports and Canadian and export deliveries, were the basis of this announcement.
