Land under which the city wants to purchase water rights is right at our south door, not several miles away as some have thought. Wells could be developed on ground 1 1/2 miles from the water tower uptown. At its furthest point, a pipeline less than 3 miles long would reach wells located there.

The city has contracted for 1713 acres of water rights at $35 an acre. Some of my financial advisors tell me this would constitute the best investment the city has yet made; they believe water rights which are well located will in a few years be quoted at several times that price.

This is in addition to the point already made that this 1713 acres of water rights is the last block of any size that is left in the sandhills area. To favor the bond issue that is to be decided in Saturday's election seems to me to be only prudent regard for the future of our town and its people.

$50,000 of the proposed $195,000 in bonds would be used to purchase these water rights, and surely that is a small amount compared to the confidence and assurance it will buy.

The remainder of the bond money would be spent like this:

$100,000 for the city's part in street paving; $100,000 to pay for water works improvements and extensions in a new addition to the city, and a new water well near the new school building; and $25,000 for sewer extensions. These things are vitally needed, too. We pointed out here not long back that the city is in good financial condition and can well afford to spend for these necessary things.

Back to school now, children, and get some learning:

O. Henry, writing of his trip to Washington to interview President Cleveland on behalf of his paper, "The Rolling Stone," said a wonderful thing about riding on the train is that you can look out the right hand window and observe half the landscape; and that upon turning your head to the left the mind is surprised and delighted to find the other half of the landscape on that side.

You can now see all the landscape at one time by visiting the dome car on our modern trains. We traveled to Chicago, in company with Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Baker, aboard the San Francisco Chief one of the Santa Fe's modern trains. O. Henry said he left the train in Washington so hurriedly that he forgot to see Mr. Pullman's representative. Porters and red caps must have been a different bunch from their modern day prototypes, for you don't forget to tip for services performed these days. But you'd be helpless without these fellows, who can make your trip comfortable, pleasant, and care free.

Prices in the dining cars, I believe are somewhat higher than in restaurants; but the service is superb and dining there is a pleasure.

I heartily recommend to anyone making a longish trip that they consider the advantages of going by Santa Fe. We were in our rooms at the Conrad Hilton in Chicago about 17 hours after getting aboard the Chief in Amarillo. We were not concerned about breaking speed laws, dodging trucks, passing slower vehicles. Tim passed swiftly, bedtime came on, we snuggled in our comfortable beds, but the Chief sped on through the night.

I defy you to go to the Windy City from Amarillo in an automobile in 17 hours. You could if you needed to, rent a car right in the railroad station upon arrival; but in our case our hotel was within walking distance of nearly everything we wanted and intended to see.

We walked to the Board of Trade building, E. O. and I walked from our hotel to Hotel Sherman to attend the Rotary Club meeting, passing by those beautiful banks, going through the city's busiest shopping section on State street, Marshall Field, Bond's, etc.

But the taxicab in Chicago is always with you. They're looking for you, they cruise about and pick you up, and it's cheap transportation.

There may have been, I don't know, a town by the name of Chicago when the state of Illinois was admitted to the Union in 1818; at the time there were only 55,211 persons in the whole state, so Chicago couldn't have been very large.

What amazes me is what happened since then. Suddenly all the railroads in the country wanted to reach Chicago, or to start from there. From a village, in a century and a quarter there has grown up on the shores of Lake Michigan one of the truly important cities of the world.

Tornadoes Over Area Good Rainfall Here

While tornadoes and turbulent weather whirled around the capital of the West Plains, Muleshoe escaped any damage from the rough weekend, and received 1.54 inches of welcome, a planting moisture, a little hail, and several tornado alerts.

Black clouds dropped ominous fingers of whirling destruction in a score of locations over the plains, coming as near Muleshoe as Coyote Lake, but none struck here in the Saturday and Sunday evening storms.

At Littlefield, 30 miles southeast, a twister destroyed the Lumsden-Perkins gin, and did considerable damage to cars, chicken houses and farm buildings. Five persons were injured.

Rain began in Muleshoe about noon Saturday, and the official gauge showed .74, while .80 fell Sunday evening, accompanied by some hail.

The south part of the county also shared in the moisture, with Needmore reporting 2 1/2 inches, and good rains both Saturday and Sunday at Goodland and other southern parts of the county.

Highway patrolmen and other law officers aided civil defense and weather bureau personnel in sighting tornadoes spotted on the radar. The local unit of the area; men streamed out of the older settled areas of the east to get virgin land in a new county.

on the program to ask questions concerning the issue.

Now the city not only serves a great agricultural empire of the mid-west and southwest, but it is a great industrial center. It has, for instance, the biggest steel mill in the world, in addition to all the other biggest items we mentioned last week. I guess the bigness of Marshall Field department store, and the energy and drive of its owners and managers, must amaze even Chicago. We were there to witness their "breaking" of their Easter promotion story. From Mt. Puyallup, Wash., they had flown in a million daffodils; the entire store was decorated with these yellow blooms, and yellow was the color used in merchandise and clothing displays throughout the store. Full page advertisements in yellow appeared simultaneously in The Tribune. It was a great promotion, but Marshall Field has always been noted for daring to be the first by whom the new is tried.

INTEREST IN ROUTE GROWING U. S. Highway 70 Ass'n. Reports Progress From Atlantic to Pacific

Membership in U. S. Highway 70 Association is increasing at a healthy clip. Interest in the route was never better, and activity of national, state, and local groups is at an all time high. This is indicated in a letter received by local members from Charles Hassing, Hugo, Okla., banker who is president of the association.

Since Muleshoe is on U. S. 70, The Journal feels that Mr. Hassing's letter indicating progress ought to be printed in our columns. Here it is:

Dear Fellow Members: I am happy to inform you that U. S. Highway 70 Association is still expanding. Our membership is good from the Atlantic to the Pacific. All eight states are now represented by membership in the Association, and five of the eight states, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma and North Carolina have state organizations. Efforts are now being made to organize California, Arkansas, and Tennessee. North Carolina will hold a meeting on April 23 at Durham, North Carolina, to consider joining the U. S. Highway 70 Association. Mr. Hassing, president, U. S. Highway 70 Association, will attend the meeting.

The National Organization has spent over $8,000 on advertising in the past three years, and this is only the beginning. Attractive brochures "Travel U. S. 70 Coast to Coast" have had wide distribution. Road signs are being installed by State Associations, with the National Organization sharing bulk of the cost. Robert Bynum Carries Complete Conservation On McPherson Place

A complete, coordinated conservation program is being carried out on the J. B. McPherson farm two miles east and one mile south of Muleshoe. The new land is being subjected to almost every recommended soil and water conservation practice of the Soil Conservation Service.

Robert Bynum operates the farm, and has turned what was raw, hilly ranchland two years ago, into a level productive farm in full cultivation. Bynum is a cooperater with the Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District, and technicians of the local unit assisted him in his irrigation and land leveling program.

Complete, coordinated conservations has been carried out on the place. The south 160 acres is sandy, and a sprinkler irrigation system was installed, while the north half, which is mixed land, now has been levelled and concrete pipe irrigation installed. Uniform water distribution is thus attained with a minimum ditch loss.

Subsequent agronomic practices carried out include 50 loads of cotton burrs, valued at $5,000 have been applied to cut erosion to build up organic matter in the soil, and the growing of Austrian winter peas to increase soil fertility and protect the land from blowing.

Bynum uses crop residue to protect the soil from wind erosion, by leaving residue in place until seedbed preparation. If possible, he leaves stubble on his land throughout the year, growing an excellent soil building crop, alfalfa, to be rotated every four years.

Fertilizers are also being used, with soil improving crops to obtain maximum yields with minimum cost.

The farmstead, as indicated by the accompanying photo, indicates the keen interest Bynum takes in his work. Even the barrow ditches have been drilled to small grain to tie down the soil and prevent blowing. One unusual item noticed at the farmstead is the unique use of cotton trailer sideboards as a wind-break around the southwest side of the home place yard.

It is quickly apparent in talking to Bynum that he has done a superior job on the place, using a number of conservation practices, including land leveling, soil improvement crops, stubble mulch, rotation of crops, sprinkler irrigation crop residue utilization, laterals and cover crops.

Jo Ann Hale To Marry June 21 Lubbock Church

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Hale, of 3004 47th street, Lubbock, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jo Ann, to Harold Leroy Repper, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Harold Repper of Bethany, Oklahoma.

Miss Hale is a graduate of Muleshoe high school of the class of 1953, and will be graduated from Bethany Nazarene College in June this year.

The wedding will take place on June 21 at the First Church of the Nazarene in Lubbock.

The bridegroom is also a student at Bethany Nazarene College.

OSSIE ROCKEY, shown here with a hook and line in the water that accumulated at Avenue B and Main Street in Saturday's hard shower probably didn't expect to catch anything.

In an exclusive interview with a Journal representative, he said he wanted to prove to Mayor W. T. Bovell, his business neighbor, that it wasn't necessary for Bo to take his new boat off to a distant lake to try it out. Bynum practices lip reading, and he says he saw a sign in town yesterday to himself. "Now I wonder if that whatnot really expects to catch a fish there?"

Home Demonstration Week Is April 28-May 4

Texas home demonstration club women — over 36,000 of them — will be among the 6 1/2 million homemakers throughout the nation who will observe National Home Demonstration Week April 28 — May 4, according to Maurine Hearn, State home demonstration leader of the Agricultural Extension Service — Today's Home Builders Tomorrow's World is again serving as the national theme of the week.

Purposes of National Home Demonstration Week are to acquaint more families — especially young families — with this educational program in home-making, to encourage families in improving the communities in which they live, and to recognize volunteer local leaders of home demonstration groups.

Home demonstration work is that part of the Agricultural Extension program concerned with the home and family. New research information in all phases of homemaking is brought to homemakers through specialists, home demonstration agents and local leaders. Programs and demonstrations in foods and nutrition, housing and home improvement, home management, health and safety, family life, clothing consumer buying and public affairs are developed to fit local needs and interests.

During the week, more of the 2,000 Texas home demonstration clubs will highlight their activities in various ways. Special exhibits and programs, feature stories, radio and television programs, and tours of result demonstrations are planned to interpret the objectives of home demonstration work and show its contribution to family and community life.

TASA Scholarship Program Set Up To Attract Teachers

President Joe P. Moore, superintendent of the Fort Worth public schools, stated this week: "The Texas Association of School Administrators, is trying to do what it can toward solving the teacher shortage problem in Texas, announces the extension of its scholarship program for 1957-58 to include eight $500 scholarships for prospective teachers. Three $500 awards were made last year.

The TASA scholarship committee, headed by Frank Monroe, Superintendent at Highland Park has received $500 from five commercial firms to assist in financing the 1957-58 scholarships.

Monroe reported that the largest donation of $1,000 was made by Roy Beard, President of the Star Engraving Company, Houston. Mr. Beard also donated $1,000 last year. One scholarship is awarded this year from donations made by the superintendents of schools themselves.

To receive the scholarship awards, each school superintendent in Texas is eligible to nominate one boy and one girl from among white high school seniors graduating this year. The eight $500 awards will be made from the names submitted by the superintendents. Winners will be announced on May 13.

Each student nominated by a superintendent must rank in the upper 25 per cent of his or her graduating class and must be in need of financial assistance to prepare for the teaching profession. Nominations must be in the mail no later than May 6 and addressed to Bascom Hayes, Secretary, Texas Association of School Administrators, Drawer AA, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas.

The hog, long-known as the "mortgage lifter", will hold the spotlight at Texas A & M College on May 6-7 when breeders, commercial producers, packers, buyers and others interested in the Texas swine industry meet for their sixth short course.

Speakers will aim at a single objective, how to make swine production in the state more profitable. Major emphasis, according to T. D. Tanksley, Jr., associate extension animal husbandman and short course chairman, will be placed on planning a meat-type hog program, selecting meat-type breeding animals, marketing on a yield, weight and grade basis, latest developments in swine feeding and management and health problems.

Out-of-state speakers include two national authorities, Wilbur

Plagers, secretary, Iowa Pork Producers Association and Dr. B. S. Schweigert, director, Research and Education, American Meat Institute Foundation, Chicago. Plagers is from Des Moines; is a past president of the National Swine Growers Council; a commercial hog producer and has judged at the nation's best known swine shows. Dr. Schweigert is a former member of the A & M faculty. He served from 1946-48 as a member of the Departments of Animal Husbandry and Biochemistry and Nutrition. He is an outstanding authority on the influence of fats on heart disease in humans and on nutrition and its influence on meats.

Other speakers, in addition to Texas A & M System personnel, include Stanley Anderson, DeLapue Packing Co., Houston; Texas Tech; W. W. Bailey, Houston Packing Co.; Marvin Bridges, secretary, Texas Swine Breeders Ass'n., Buffalo; O. F. Limer, Hale county agent, Plainview; R. C. Mitchell, president, T. S. E. A., Lockney; Henry Neuhoff, Neuhoff Bros. Packing Co., Dallas; and David Rusmisl, voc-ag teacher, Burbank high school, San Antonio.

The first session is scheduled for 9:30 a.m., May 6 in the Assembly Room of the Memorial Student Center. Registration, however, begins at 8 a.m. Tanksley says that local county agents or voc-ag teachers can supply additional information on the short course.

Sesame Variety Tests Continue At Hi Plains Station

Increasing interest in the agricultural research program now under way at the High Plains Station located at Halfway is in evidence through the groups visiting the station from various sections of the high plains area.

A group of business men and farmers from Canyon and Randall county made a tour of the 310 acre farm on April 17. Glen W. Dowlin, Happy, a member of the Regional Council for the Station, was leader of this tour.

The Hale county soil conservation District visited the High Plains Station on their spring tour, April 23. This group was under the direction of Elmo Snelling, chairman of the District, and Don Newman, district conservationist.

The officers of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association led by R. G. Peele, Hereford, president and Elbert Harp, Abilene, secretary-treasurer, will visit the station soon. They will consult with the staff regarding the research in variety, fertility and irrigation tests on grain sorghum to be conducted at the Station.

The comparatively new crop, sesame, is receiving increased attention by farmers in the irrigated section of the High Plains area. The acreage devoted to this crop has progressively increased each year since its introduction by the Texas Research Foundation in 1954. The market for this new crop has developed constantly ahead of production.

The sesame variety tests conducted at Lubbock in 1956, sponsored by the Southwestern Public Service Co., will be continued at the new High Plains Station this year. Fifty varieties will be tested in plots repeated 4 times in 20 foot rows. Five of the varieties are of the direct combine non-shattering types. Runner No. 15, non-shattering, will be produced on a larger acreage for testing and seed production. In addition there will be 4 varieties of sesame tested on dry land in 2 row plots, 100 feet long at the Station at Halfway.

Water District To Issue Valid Well Certifications

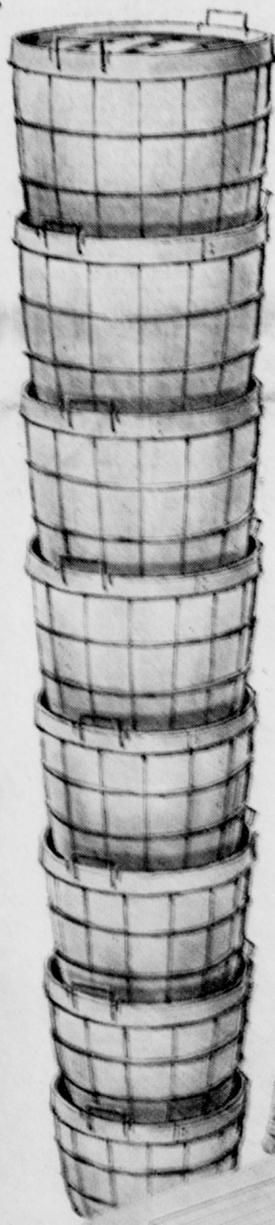

On May 1 the District office of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District will begin issuing certificates of valid water well permits.

A situation has developed lately which requires some protection for purchasers of lands or mortgages advancing money on land on the strength of existing wells. For example, suppose a land owner drilled a well in violation of the District rules and before appropriate action could be taken to close the well, the violator either sold or mortgaged the land. This would give the District the unpleasant task of proceeding against the party who was misled.

The District, to prevent the occurrence of this situation and prevent a cloud on the land title, will begin issuing certificates to show what permits have been granted on a particular tract of land. The interested parties may then determine whether or not the wells are at the correct location as specified on the well permits.

The District is perfecting its records so it may furnish certificates on permits on wells drilled after February 1953. This service has been requested many times by people in the legal and abstracting professions.

It is planned to charge $1.00 for each permit certificate to offset the costs involved.

NEW EASIER HANDLING Center Riser Sprinkler ALUMINUM IRRIGATION SYSTEM

The riser located in the center of the lateral lines provides a convenient grip for handling the pipe because this is the balance point of the pipe. Individual lengths are uncoupled, carried and recoupled without extra trips to the end of the pipe. The system has a positive lock coupler that can be replaced in the field without special tools or welding. Miss Anonie Hightower To Represent Three Way School At Dallas FHA Meet

Miss Anonie Hightower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hightower of Goodland, will represent Three Way school at the Future Homemakers of America state meeting in Dallas today (Thursday). She will be accompanied by Lorena Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garvin Long, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dyer, of the Three Way school faculty.

Darlene St. Clair, I. V. Pierce Exchange Vows In Church of Christ On Saturday

Darlene St. Clair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. St. Clair of Muleshoe, became the bride of I. V. Pierce, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Pierce of Bula. The minister, W. R. Tittle, performed a double-ring ceremony at 6 p. m. Saturday in the Muleshoe Church of Christ. The vows were exchanged before an archway of greenery, centered with white wedding bells, illuminated by pink lighted candles, and baskets of pink gladioli. "O Promise Me" and "Whither Thou Goest" were sung by a group from the church.

Bridal Gown
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a switz-length gown of imported alvodon lace over satin; the bodice had a princess line with a French Sabrina neckline, accented by sequins and pearls, and long tapering sleeves which came to a point over the hands. The full billowing skirt had a graceful flowing fish-tail back and an attached bow of satin. The veil of nylon net was attached to a crown accented with sequins and pearls. For something old she wore a locket belonging to her grandmother; something new her dress, something borrowed was a white Bible belonging to her sister. She wore a blue garter for something blue. She carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds atop a white Bible, with a detachable corsage in the center.

Mrs. Johnnie St. Clair, Hale Center, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a yellow dress of nylon lace over taffeta, with a panel of accordion pleats in the front. She had a yellow matching headband and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Fashionable White Will Flatter Tanned Skin

BY EDNA MILES

WHITE is big fashion news for spring and summer. It may be a dress or a coat, shoes or other accessories but the touch of white is the touch that counts.

It will be especially strong in summer fashions where it's sheer flattery against a suntan. It's used to sharpen dark dresses but it's pretty with pastels, too. Cleverly handled, white tones down vivid colors and keeps them from dominating you. It's chic, too, with beige, coffee and the neutral colors.

In any year that finds white important, emphasis is placed on accessories. There's a sound reason for this. Many women feel that a touch of white is just what they want. So they concentrate on small jackets, capelets, frosty white jewelry, little white hats and gloves.

There are many of these white accessories for summer. Most are easily kept clean with soap and water. Since they must be fresh with each wearing, the best plan is to have several jackets or capelets on hand for a change-off.

Topping for summer dresses is this neat little capelet. It has a tiny stand-up collar with three tailored bows as front trim.

The couple will live in Muleshoe, where the groom is engaged in farming. The bride is a junior of Muleshoe high school.

Peggy Underwood Weds Buddy Daily In Double Ring Ceremony At Goodland

Peggy Underwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Underwood of Goodland, became the bride of Buddy Daily, Jr., of Hobbs, N. M., son of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Daily of Durant, Okla., in services held Sunday, April 21 at 3:30 p. m.

The double-ring ceremony was read in the home of the bride's parents before an altar flanked by baskets of pink gladioli. Rev. C. C. Dorn, of Enoch, officiated.

The bride wore a street length dress of white lace over taffeta, with full skirt and sweetheart neckline. A finger tip veil of nylon tulle. She carried a white Bible, topped with a bouquet of white gladioli.

Sandra Pipkin of Brownfield was her cousin's only attendant. She wore a blue lace dress and a white carnation corsage.

Norvell Davis of Hobbs, brother-in-law of the groom served as best man. Mrs. Underwood chose a black linen dress with a white carnation corsage for the wedding.

A reception was given following the wedding. The table was laid with a white lace cloth. The three tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom centered the table, flanked by crystal candelabra and pink tapers.

Joan Clark presided at the crystal punch bowl, and Barbara Tatum served the cake.

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

Cotton sacks are being used in a new way by Gilbert Kaltwasser in his irrigation plan. He says they work real good as suppressors on his aluminum outlets to prevent erosion where the water comes out. The cost is no higher than some other things such as sacks, and they last longer and are less bulky, he says. Now you may want to try this trick.

We have a few good quality canes on hand. We had one to begin with, which was given to us at a Farm Bureau meeting in Fort Worth a few months ago. An elderly gentleman tried it one day, and it was so superior to the one he had that he kept it and threw the old one away. They are light but strong. So if you know anyone who needs a good cane, we will furnish it, free of charge.

Senate Bill S. 646, by Mundt of South Dakota and HR 5244 by of Texas need the voice of opposition from ranchers and farmers we believe. It is known as a livestock "check-off" system to provide funds for promoting sale of livestock of all kinds. The check-off fee would be up to 10c for cattle or calves, 5c for sheep or lambs and 5c for swine. The charge would be made to every producer, but those who did not wish to contribute in the first place would be allowed a period of thirty days to request a refund. The request would have to be made after each sale.

There are several objectionable features to the bills, but here are the principal ones: They would cause auction barns and other such agencies to have to set up expensive bookkeeping et cetera. The cost of which would naturally be passed on to the livestock producer. Also there is the possibility that the cost of present retailer's and processor's advertising, which amounts to more than a hundred million dollars per year would be transferred to the producers. It would also jeopardize the continuation of the National Livestock and Meat Board's program, which has been doing an outstanding job in the field for thirty years.

BABSON DISCUSSES...

FLORIDA

Babson Park, Fla., April 25 — Nearly every day I get letters from people asking if I would recommend locating in Florida. As I leave for the North tomorrow, I will try to answer these questions in this week's column.

MILD CLIMATE LURES THOUSANDS Although lacking in a number of important natural resources, Florida has an abundance of sunshine, plenty of water, large amounts of phosphate, and sufficient limestone for cement. It can compete with California and other sections as a mecca for tourists, vacationists, and retired folk.

NEW BOOM IN REAL ESTATE Mild climate has always been an attraction to prospective buyers of land for homes or businesses. Now that atomic energy is to be an added attraction, I forecast an even further boom in Florida real estate.

SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER Agrees Overwork May Not Hurt You, He's Not Out to Prove It Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnsons farm probably is misinterpreting what he's been reading again, his letter this week indicates. That's his worry, dear editor.

Understand, I'm not going to argue with a heart specialist about it, but on the other hand I'm not going to set out to prove he's right. A man in my position, which is sitting down most of the time, ought to be big about this and accept a new scientific theory without trying to prove it.

Today's Meditation Read I Corinthians 15:20-28. But in fact Christ has been raised from the dead. (I Corinthians 15:20, RSV.)

Prayer O God of the living may Thy Son dwell in us today that there shall be in us no room for sin. Let the victorious Christ command our spirits that we may one day be with Thee eternally. In His name. Amen.

Thought for the Day The resurrection means the presence of the living Christ among men. —Harold R. Kelly (Brazil)

Christian Science Services

Man's God-given right of progress will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Probation After Death" will include the following from Isaiah 9:2: "The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined."

The following selection will be among those read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (2:33:1): "Every day makes its demands upon us for proofs rather than professions of Christian power. These proofs consist solely in the destruction of sin, sickness, and death by the power of Spirit, as Jesus destroyed them. This is an element of progress, and progress is the law of God, whose law demands of us only what we can certainly fulfill."

New Chemical To Kill Dallisgrass

Tribute to Dallisgrass in lawns and parks is ended, and homeowners may stand like free men. Rule by this bane of lawn-growers is ended, thanks to a chemical called disodium methyl arsonate.

Recent research by Gene Bookholt, a graduate student in the Agronomy Department at Texas A. and M., shows how to end those unsightly clumps of Dallisgrass without damage to Bermudagrass.

Bookholt's tests show that disodium methyl arsonate gives kills of 90 to 99 per cent in Dallisgrass, leaving Bermudagrass strong and healthy. However, he advises against its use on St. Augustine lawns, and cautions against getting it on flowers or shrubs.

The Fifth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States has become one of the most talked of and misunderstood issues in Washington.

It has become a shield behind which the guilty take refuge along with the innocent when questioned by congressional investigating committees. That isn't anything new, but it has attracted wide attention recently.

Those who wrote the amendment undoubtedly had in mind exemption from self-incriminating testimony in the courts. But, the same privilege is granted before congressional committees.

Witnesses who plead the Fifth Amendment act within their legal, if not their moral, rights. Unfortunately, committee counsel seem to challenge that right when they emphatically "direct" and "demand" that the witnesses answer.

Mix four to five ounces of the technical material with a wetting agent — such as a common household detergent — in two to four gallons of water, and apply in a fine mist spray from a hand or shoulder pack sprayer. This amount will cover approximately 1,000 square feet more actual Dallisgrass area than will be found in the average lawn.

The National Iranian Oil Company has allotted 12 billion rials (about 17 million dollars) to the first stage of development of the newly found Qum oilfield, about 75 miles southwest of Teheran.

Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in Me. — (St. John 14, 1.)

Some of us, in our quest for the Truth, become so confused and unhappy because we cannot seem to comprehend, to understand as we feel we ought. But Jesus, Who was sent by God the Father to be our guiding light, shows us the Way in such simple, understandable words that we should never falter.

Plains Cotton Growers Vote To Join American Cotton Producers, Memphis

Directors of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., April 16 voted to affiliate with the American Cotton Producers Association, Memphis, A. J. Lenderson, Bailey County director, reported this week.

Fifty-three directors and guests heard proposed plans of the ACPA explained by George W. Pfeinberger, Executive Vice-President and W. L. Edelman, Friona who attended a recent meeting of the ACPA in Memphis.

The directors also voted to send Pfeinberger, Edelman and Ben Dopsos, Lamesa, to Memphis again to an ACPA meeting which was held April 18.

Twelve principles of the ACPA cotton program that were adopted by the Plains growers were to be presented to representatives of all segments of the cotton industry for approval at the April 18 meeting.

The ACPA has obtained a hearing in Washington May 7 for presentation of this industry program to Congress.

The principles in brief are:

- 1. The 1956 loan stocks be sold as soon as possible after August 1, 1957.
- 2. Adjust the export program after August 1, 1958 to improve marketing and still keep it competitive.
- 3. Curtail the soil bank program drastically.
- 4. Permit a reasonable increase in acreage annually for the next five years.
- 5. Continue acreage allotments and marketing quotas for the purpose of preventing unlimited acreage increases but adequate to provide for demand.
- 6. Continue a loan program for orderly marketings thus giving stability to the price structure.
- 7. Extension of Public Law 480, which provides for sales of surplus stocks for foreign currency or trade.
- 8. Intensified research and quality improvement program be an essential part of any long-term program.
- 9. We oppose any form of discrimination within the framework of any farm program.
- 10. We oppose any form of cross-compliance or of total compliance in any farm program.
- 11. We continue to urge passage of the Smith bill or textile labeling act.

We support the Stennis bill, which re-defines the original intent of Congress on the wage and hour bill concerning agricultural workers.

W. O. Fortenberry, Lubbock, president of the PCG, explained that in affiliating with the ACPA, the Plains group was not in any way sacrificing its individuality as a separate organization.

"However, we do believe that by affiliating with the ACPA, both organizations can become stronger and we can contribute something together for the good of a cotton program," Fortenberry said.

In other action at the board meeting the PCG directors endorsed a one-price cotton legislative program over a two-price program and will oppose any change from the present acre basis to a pound or bale basis in figuring allotments.

COTTON'S VITAL BY-PRODUCTS

Many old-timers in Texas can recall the days when cottonseed was dumped away as waste.

But cottonseed today plays a highly significant role in our every day life.

The ingenious skills of American scientists and research specialists have taken this once-discarded agricultural commodity and put it into consumer channels throughout the world.

Cotton producers have benefited greatly from development of seed uses. A market for the seed means some $100,000,000 annually to Texas farmers, or one-sixth of the lint's value. About 900 pounds of seed are in the average bale that goes to the ginner.

Cottonseed crushing began 90 years ago at High Hill in Fayette County. Since then this vital industry has expanded into every major cotton producing area.

Such persons must re-qualify by the filing of a new oath and bond with the County Clerk of his residence between June 1, 1957 and June 10, 1957.

Steakley emphasized that notaries public should not send requests for reappointment or for commissions directly to the Secretary of State. The law specifically requires the County Clerks to approve notary bonds.

Any person not now a notary public who desires appointment should apply to his County Clerk between May 1, 1957 and May 20, 1957. Application during this period will assure prompt attention before the rush procedure of reappointing present notaries.

Secretary of State Steakley further pointed out that each person applying for a commission as a notary public must be at least 21 years of age and a resident of the county for which he is appointed. The exact name and permanent address of the applicant must be furnished the County Clerk.

president of Bailey County Farm Bureau stated cotton producers don't have a real choice.

"What they have is a 'loaded' choice which insures a two-thirds majority vote for marketing quotas."

"If producers vote for quotas, they get price support at 75 to 90 percent of parity. If they vote against quotas, they get price support at 50 percent of parity. While there is some uncertainty with regard to the status of acreage allotments would have if quotas were defeated, the Secretary of Agriculture has clear authority to set conditions of eligibility including acreage limitations for the reduced level of support that would be available if quotas were defeated," Millen said.

"Producers now have little to say about the national marketing level of price support matters either are spelled by the law or are determined by the Secretary of Agriculture formula set up by law,"

"Government cotton program, unless changed, will largely decide whether domestic and foreign outlets for U. S. Cotton will shrink to 10 million bales or less, or expand in the direction of a 16 to 18 million bale total in the next 10 years."

"Cotton producers should have a right to help to decide which way we are going to go. We can help decide only if we have a choice on alternative programs."

"Runs like a top, NOW — AMALIE L. P. G.!"

Can't tell any difference — whether it's a fresh refill, or time to drain. Same power. Hate to throw away my drains, and don't drain near as often, either. Butane or propane (Liquid Petroleum Gas) burns HOT. That common-grade oil I used to use sure did thicken up — almost like gear-grease. Sure is different, with AMALIE L. P. G. Oil!

Because AMALIE L. P. G. Oil is ENGINEERED to the job. First, it's 100% pure Pennsylvania crude — nothing on earth equals it. Second, refined by an EXCLUSIVE process that HOLDS its great lubricating power, and its viscosity, or flowing quality. Third, additives developed by our great laboratories — to make sure grit, dust, etc., stay in suspension — so they filter out. There's just no other oil like AMALIE L. P. G.
