MR. HINES' HIGHWAY PLANS

Chairman Harry Hines of the Texas Highway commission, will have performed a great service for his state if, as a result of his visit to Washington, he succeeds in getting a large part of Texas' share of federal work-relief funds diverted to construction of highways.

But even if he accomplishes that service, the task is not done. For if and when the money becomes available there will arise the question of where it shall be spent. If the lion's share of the fund goes to the heavily-populated areas, already paved, in the form of constructing parallel or duplicating highways, then Mr. Hines' service in securing the diversion will be greatly diminished.

As was pointed out here the other day, The Dallas News is beating the drum for construction of another "super-highway" between Dallas and Ft. Worth—a ribbon 250 feet wide—in the "sacred name of the Centennial."

Doubtless leaders at Houston, San Antonio, Austin, Waco and other already well connected points are licking their chops, too, in anticipation of grabbing a great slice of the fund. All of which presents a problem to Texans who unselfishly realize that there are still great sections in the West which are yet to have paved connections and outlets.

One of these sections is composed of important segments of the South Plains, comprising such important points as Lamesa, Levelland, Littlefield, Brownfield, Tahoka, Muleshoe—points which soon will get paving leading in two directions, but which are sorely in need of connections going other ways not yet past the talking point.

As a few examples, Muleshoe should be linked with Big Spring by way of Littlefield, Levelland, Brownfield and Lamesa. Dimmitt then could have a Big Spring connection by way of Littlefield and another "leg" constructed from Dimmitt to Littlefield. Another "leg" from Ralls to Playdada would cut paved distance between the South Plains and Oklahoma, while construction of a highway connecting Lamesa with Hobbs, N. M., by way of Seminole, would be another boon. Further, a connection between Brownfield and Post by way of Tahoka can be called essential.

The above suggestions have been taken at random and there are other routes, too, considerably more important in Texas' state-wide highway program than another Dallas-Ft. Worth speedway, or any other duplicate route that can be thought of. Doubtless there are areas, in the North Panhandle, in the San Angelo country and certainly in the Lamesa country enroute to Austin, which should be considered.

Women Who Have Pains Try CARDUI Next Time!

On account of poor nourishment, many women suffer functional pains at certain times, and it is for these that Cardui is offered on the record of the safe relief it has brought and the good it has done in helping to overcome the cause of womanly discomfort. Mrs. Cole Young, of Leesville, La., writes: "I was suffering with irregular... I had quite a lot a pain which made me nervous, I took Cardui and found it helped me in every way, making me regular and stopping the pain. This quieted my nerves, making my health much better."... If Cardui does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

as far as federal aid is concerned, he and his fellow commissioners have plenty of planning and straight thinking to do in allocating the funds.

The Avalanche - Journal wishes him success at Washington, then hopes for early news to the effect that unpaved gaps in Texas will soon be a thing of the past.—Lubbock Avalanche Journal.

All of which we heartily endorse. Naturally the big population centers are first served when the pie is passed. We have no objection to their getting their share, but little Willie down at the foot of the table should not be entirely forgotten. We think many highways in Texas should be paved before that third "super-highway" between Dallas and Fort Worth shall be built. Especially is this true of the highways of West Texas and some in Central Texas.

For instance, there should be a paved highway from Temple west through Lampassas, Brownwood, and on to the west. There should be another from Temple northwest via Gatesville, Hamilton, and Comanche. There should be one from Waco northwest through Meridian, Hico and Dublin. Highways in West Texas proper that need paving are too numerous to mention. Not the least important of these is highway No. 84 passing through Post, Tahoka, and Brownfield, and connecting with an important New Mexico highway at the state line leading through Roswell, over the mountains, and on to the far West. But we are not selfish. The Dal Paso through Snyder and Lamesa should likewise be paved. The three highways intersecting in Lubbock should be paved throughout their length. Many other West Texas highways should receive the same treatment. Mr. Hines has a big job ahead of him if he builds all the highways that are needed in West Texas alone.

TUT! TUT! TUT!

The Grand Old Party need not feel so elated over the death of the NRA since big business intends to continue under its codes. In fact both big and small business resents the action taken by the Supreme Court and as five of the main members are republicans their decision is obvious. A partial poll of newspapers compiled by Newsdom also reveals party prejudices. For instance, of 44 papers of Texas reporting thirty-five were for the NRA with nine against.—Lorenzo Tribune.

Before the death of the NRA Big business was gathering around banquet tables trying to figure out some way to do away with the NRA. The Supreme Court perhaps thought they were sincere in their demands, so they ruled it unconstitutional. Now those same Big Business boys are gathering back around the banquet tables and are trying to figure out a way to continue NRA codes. Too much politics are mixed with business for the good of business and the success of politics. Divorce the two and things will get along better.—Lockney Beacon.

The above comments show that even intelligent men like the editors of the Lorenzo Tribune and the Lockney Beacon sometimes have very distorted and erroneous views as to the functions of the great supreme court of the United States and the motives by which its members are actuated.

"Both big and small business resents the action of the Supreme Court and as five of the main members are republicans, their decision is obvious," says the Lorenzo editor.

You are mistaken, Brother. Nobody resents the action of the Supreme Court; that is, nobody except some official who may feel rebuked or discredited by its decision, or some narrow-minded fellow who may feel that he suffered business loss by reason of it. No broad-minded, intelligent, unbiased man feels resentment at the action of the Supreme Court in declaring the NRA unconstitutional. Most lawyers recognize the opinion as being a clear, correct, and unanswerable interpretation of the powers of Congress and of the President under the Constitution. Yes, five of the "main members" are Republicans; but four of the "main members" are Democrats, and the Democrats and the Republicans agreed that the NRA was unconstitutional.

The Lorenzo editor sees the members of the Supreme Court only as Democrats and Republicans. He does not see them as great lawyers, as unbiased judges, at all. If his conception of the great Supreme Court were correct, it would indeed be a contemptible body.

But the Lockney editor has an even lower conception of it than this. He pictures it as a body of men with their ears to the ground listening to the dictates of Big Business. He impugns their motives. He thinks they are mere tools of the rich. He probably doesn't really think this, for he is too intelligent for that; but his comment would indicate that he so thinks.

The members of the Supreme Court are not perfect. They doubtless have their faults. But with rare exceptions the members of this body have been men of the highest integrity. Neither are they all-wise, but they are among the wisest men of our country. And no one but a great lawyer and a great character rarely ever gets a position on this Court.

Instead of throwing these nasty flings at the great Supreme Court and thus creating prejudice against it in the minds of some, we editors should hold up this court to our people as the greatest tribunal on the face of the earth—for such it is.

If the Constitution should be amended, let's amend it, but let us not make a laughing-stock of ourselves by foolishly condemning this great court.

BESTED DUST

According to reports, many people in other sections of the State believe that West Texas, and especially the plains, was just about ruined by the sandstorms this spring. There are limited areas that were badly damaged, but the permanent damage to the plains as a whole has been insignificant. We predict that either this year or some year soon the plains will make another bumper yield of cotton and feed and thus prove to the incredulous that we are still "all here."—Lynn County News.

No doubt the first estimates of the dust damage were exaggerated. The discomforts prescribed by the dust devil induced many to suppose the injury done to the country was equal to the mischief done to the people's noses. There have always been local dust storms in the plains regions, but never until this year were they organized on such a comprehensive scale. This was because of the wide-spread and long-endured drought. There was a great distribution of top soils but there was plenty of dirt left afterward, enough to plow, and hoe and reap from. The dust lifted from one man's farm was settled upon another's and all got some new dust in exchange for the old. The dust storms were frequently referred to as phenomena, like earthquakes, floods and hurricanes. But the West is itself a phenomenon, a phenomenal region where the poorest prospect often turns out the richest harvest. All the fertile soil that was blown into the creeks and rivers, and later found its way to the sea, was lost forever. But that is true of any fertile soil. Erosion is not confined to the plains and prairies. It occurs annually on alluvial cropped lands. The Mississippi River has washed $1,000,000,000 (billion) worth of good farming soil into the Gulf of Mexico. Western Texas is still what it was before—a land where fortitude outlasts disaster, and courage sustains today the drooping spirit of yesterday.—State Press in Dallas News.

Come one, Come all to Tahoka's Trades Day.

THE SUPREME TASK

Nothing has been so damning to the recovery policies of the New Deal as has been the petty bickerings and jealousies among those upon whom the President has had to rely. Relief is carried out largely by those on relief; financial problems have been entrusted largely to those who have failed in some financial institution; other phases of government have been delegated to those who had made failures in private life, and were seeking jobs merely as meal tickets. If the President could—personally direct all phases of government, conditions would be greatly improved. But he cannot do this. This nation has literally murdered every president in recent years by the magnitude of the jobs imposed upon them by public obligations. President Roosevelt has had the supreme job of them all. He has had to rely upon others, and many of them failed him.—Canyon News.

Most of which is correct; but in our opinion President Roosevelt has not had "the supreme job of them all." Woodrow Wilson had heavier responsibilities and faced a greater task. He was not as tactful as Roosevelt but he had a greater intellect and loftier character. He was probably the greatest man that has ever occupied the Presidential chair. Lincoln also had graver responsibilities than Roosevelt. There is so much difference between the Roosevelt of today and the Lincoln of another generation that it would be difficult to compare them, but there are millions of people who believe that Lincoln stood in the very front rank of our Presidents. Washington and Jefferson are so far away in point of time that it is difficult to evaluate their characters, abilities, and service, but they will ever shine as stars of the first magnitude. They too had monumental tasks. It is doubtful if history will write it down that Franklin D. Roosevelt had the "supreme job of them all." We do not think it will.

STATED MEETINGS of Tahoka Lodge No. 1041 the first Tuesday night in each month at 7:30. Members urged to attend. Visitors welcome. G. A. Brasfield, W. M. Charles V. Nelms, Sec.

The liquor interests are going to make a desperate effort to stage a come-back in Texas on August 24. They won a victory of some importance in 1933 when the voters legalized 3.2 beer. Now they hope to legalize whiskey. They say it will bring in a lot of revenue and reduce taxes. The trouble with this argument is that the people must pay this increased revenue. And they will not only pay the revenue but they will pay a much larger sum that will go to the distillers and wholesale and retail liquor dealers. Any system of taxation that costs the consumer two or three dollars of every dollar of taxes collected is an expensive and foolish system. Of course, only the consumers of the liquor will pay this increased revenue and expense, directly, but all the people will pay indirectly. Besides, the damage that will be done to the morals and the happiness of our people by filling the state with saloons will be incalculable. It will mean ten drunkards to every one that we have today. Why should we want to vote whiskey back?

We believe that the new tax program submitted to Congress by President Roosevelt last week is one of the best things he has done yet. Especially do we believe that he is eminently correct in demanding inheritance and gift taxes and a graduated tax as to corporations. These are not only just proposals but they will go far, in taking the wind out of windy Huey Long's "share-the-wealth" ravings. Thousands and thousands of dissolute, immoral, unworthy youths and even older men are constantly inheriting vast fortunes that have been gained honestly or dishonestly. They have done nothing to earn it. Why should not this unearned wealth be taxed heavily and the burden partially lifted from those who are struggling to earn a livelihood? Roosevelt is right.

terest more people in home demonstration work Lynn County Club women in 9 communities have just completed an Improved Bed Room Contest.

In this contest the aim was to make each bed room as complete and as attractive as possible, discarding everything not belonging in a bed room, and adding such other articles as were needed for comfort and putting both the room itself and all furnishings that it contained in the best possible condition.

The main consideration in any bed room being the bed all demonstrators (of which each club had one), and as many other club members as possible set about to "standardize" at least one bed. To do this the foundation for the mattress was made as secure and as neat as possible by placing a slat under each row of coils, then putting the spring itself into a neat cover. If possible a new mattress was used on each standard bed. Through the Extension Service of A. & M. college each demonstrator was given enough high quality cotton to make a good heavy mattress. In a mattress making school at the county seat each demonstrator helped to make one mattress. She, in turn, gave the same demonstration to her club, thus making a mattress for her room. The cost was only the price of ticking, thread, transportation of the cotton from Lubbock, and the labor of making the mattress. On this new mattress was placed a new mattress cover, a mattress protector and the demonstrator made or bought at least three sheets, each three yards in length. The pillows were encased in pillow protectors.

under the slips. Each quilt or blanket had a neat protector basted on the top end. Then, to cover this smooth, comfortable bed each demonstrator made a tufted bedspread. These were made in soft pastel shades to harmonize with walls or the furnishings of the room. At the close of this interesting contest the scores read:
Mrs. Waldo McLaurin, O'Donnell club, first. Mrs. McLaurin improved a bed room for her ten year old son.
Mrs. Garland Pennington of Edith club who improved a bed room for their hired man tied with Mrs. Loyd Edwards of Midway club for second place. Mrs. Edwards fixed up a "company" bed room. Mrs. M. O. Canaday of the Tahoka club won third place in improving the main bed room in her home. In every instance the demonstrators gave due credit to their husbands for help and cooperation in their work.

Use Of Canned Vegetables Discussed
Use of canned vegetables was discussed by Miss Sylvia Robb, C. H. D. A., at the Midway H. D. Club meeting with Mrs. R. L. Littlepage on June 19.
They are of use to serve at least one from each of the three classes daily: Leafy and green vegetables, starchy vegetables, other vegetables; to provide variety for interest in both selection of the vegetable and preparation of the vegetable; to serve vegetables in attractive ways as they are our best means of adding interest and color to meals.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to about seventy-five guests.

Immediately after the breakfast both couples left for a trip to Santa

R. B. HAYNES CELEBRATE WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Haynes of the Miami Chief celebrated their twenty-fifth anniversary on Sunday, June 16, according to an item appearing in the Chief last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Haynes were former owners and editors of The Lynn County News, having sold this paper to the present owners in October, 1923.

They went down to Claude, however, to celebrate their Silver Wedding anniversary or rather to Dripping Springs, sixteen miles south of Claude. "It was fitting that we should celebrate the event among the people where we had our courtship and with whom we had spent most of our young life," Mr. Haynes writes. There was a large crowd of friends present from a number of Panhandle towns, while Long Beach, California, and Denver, Colorado furnished two guests each.

Bob and Mrs. Haynes still have many friends in Tahoka, who wish them 50 or 75 years more of married bliss.

TWO GOOD SERVICES HELD AT BAPTIST CHURCH SUNDAY

There were two good services at the Baptist Church last Sunday, with three additions to the church.

A deeply spiritual message was brought at the morning hour by the pastor, Rev. George A. Dale, while the message at night was as masterful as it was unique, the pastor drawing some spiritual lessons from the impressions he received of the great Carlsbad Cavern upon a recent visit to that marvelous work of Nature.

The fan will be in operation at the Church next Sunday morning, it has been announced, so as to make the auditorium comfortable. A great throng is expected at Sunday School, and at the preaching service. A great choir has been organized and the music will be zestful and inspiring.

More adults and young people are wanted in these departments of the B. T. U. beginning promptly at 7:30 p. m. These organizations seem to be taking on new life.

Mrs. Travis Stuart and children have gone to Fort Worth to visit relatives.

MELODY MAIDS ENTERTAIN FRIENDS WITH SOCIAL

Members of the Melody Maids Music Club entertained some of their boy friends at the Suddarth home on Monday night. The evening was filled with games, both indoors and on the lawn. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to the girls, their guests, and their counselors, Misses Ruth Suddarth and Robbie Milliken. The occasion was thoroughly enjoyed and at a late hour adjourned until a regular meeting on Friday, June 28, at the same place, with Polyanna Walker as hostess.

Refreshing Relief When You Need a Laxative

Because of the refreshing relief it has brought them, thousands of men and women, who could afford much more expensive laxatives, use Black-Draught when needed. It is very economical, purely vegetable, highly effective. . . Mr. J. Lester Roberson, well known hardware dealer at Martinsville, Va., writes: "I certainly can recommend Black-Draught as a splendid medicine. I have taken it for constipation and the dull feelings that follow, and have found it very satisfactory."

"My Bedroom"

(By Mrs. M. O. Canaday, Tahoka Club, Bed Room Demonstrator)

Before I started to standardize my room I dreaded my task. With the varnish of my floor marred by wear, my first undertaking was to re-varnish and wax the floor.

The wall paper was in fair condition and I liked it so well I did not repaper. The paper and curtains were orchid. I bleached the curtains white, as white is more practical and gives more light to the bed room.

I have just finished tufting a green bed spread, the color harmonizing perfectly with the walls and curtains.

My clothes closet was very inconvenient. I rebuilt it. I like my closet so well now that I wonder how I ever made out without it before the new arrangements.

Three dollars and sixty cents covered the expense of standardizing my room, and I feel that $3.60 and every effort were well spent.

I really enjoyed the work. Also my family were greatly enthused, thanks to the Home Demonstration Club. I learn something new about home-making and housekeeping every time I attend a club meeting.

Woman Tells Of Ant Extermination

Now that good rains have fallen and everyone is working hard to have attractive yards what can be more discouraging than to find one's lawn dotted with ant hills, and to see trails cut through the grass, and other damage, besides the discomfort of personal contact with one of these numerous little insects?

There are many remedies for destroying ants. In fact, like "cold remedies" everyone you meet has his favorite way of ridding a place of red ants. But here is a remedy that is inexpensive, easy to apply, and one that proves successful in most cases, according to Mrs. L. H. Moore of the Lakeview community. Mrs. Moore says: "For each ant hill take about one pint of gasoline, pour it into a small hole you have made in the opening of the hill, then turn an open glass jar down over this opening, and seal the dirt well about the mouth of the inverted jar. The sun shining on the glass jar expands the gas from the gasoline and drives it into every chamber and passage in the ant hill," says Mrs. Moore, and for that reason she advises using a large jar, preferably a half gallon size. "As you know ants hatch out a new brood every week or two and for that reason I usually repeat this treatment each seventh and fourteenth day if ants appear after the first treatment. But I have destroyed about 30 of these hills on our place," she concluded.

"STAR OF MIDNIGHT" WILL BE SEEN HERE THIS WEEK

Can you imagine any man who is single, fancy free, and red blooded, repulsing the romantic advances of Tittian tresred Ginger Rogers?

William Powell does it... in "Star of Midnight," the romantic mystery drama in which he and the glamorous Miss Rogers are teamed by RKO-Radio and which will show Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the English Theatre.

Ginger's intentions are "strictly honorable." She means matrimony and doesn't beat around the bush about it. The debonaire Powell, however, is a wily and attractive bachelor. He keeps the lovely Miss Rogers and the audience guessing as to his actual feelings about the whole matter.

The intriguing romance of the picture is woven about a baffling mystery in the disappearance of a beautiful woman and the strange murder of a newspaper columnist. Powell and Miss Rogers join forces to run down clues, with more than plaudits for cleverness at stake. Powell, as a brilliant attorney, is the "Sherlock" of the combination, and Miss Rogers, as a youthful society beauty, is the admiring "Watson."

Romance, sparkling comedy, mystery and suspense are factors in the swift moving, thrill packed story.

Included in the supporting cast are Paul Kelly, Ralph Morgan, Leslie Fenton, Gene Lockhart, Vivian Oakland, Russell Hopton and J. Farrell MacDonald.

Mr. and Mrs. Tullie Wetzel of Stoneburg, Montague county, Mrs. Roy Rocket of Wichita Falls, and Mr. Marion Spears and son and daughter of Floyd, New Mexico, were out of town people attending the funeral of Mr. John Spears Thurs. Mr. Wetzel is Mrs. Spears' brother and Mrs. Rocket is her sister.

CHURCH OF CHRIST NOTES

Muddy roads cut down our attendance last Lord's day morning, but what we lacked in numbers was made up in attention and interest. The morning lesson on "Finding What We Seek For", seemed to provoke more thought than any lesson we have given in some time. Several visitors were with us at the evening service. Especially are we pleased to have so many unsaved friends listen to the sermons from the Acts of Apostles on how to be saved.

We are hoping some of them will obey the gospel in the near future. We are looking for a revival to break out in our midst before the summer is over.

Canning Of Food Enormous Project

(By Miss Mildred Horton, State Home Demonstration Agent)

If all the food canned by rural women and girls last year in the State of Texas under the guidance of home demonstration agents was packed into freight cars, the made-up freight train would stretch four miles and have 400 carloads end to end.

A total of 67,699 rural women and girls working in 3,335 home demonstration clubs located in 144 Texas counties, guided by the home demonstration agents and aided by their families, canned 20,326,889 pints of food in one year.

They also cured, dried and stored 13,658,446 pounds of food together with the canned food. The sum total was valued at $3,508,634.74.

Because of this food preservation work and that of those who have before pioneered in home canning of fruit, vegetables and meats, the relief administration was able to secure cooperation and supervision which resulted in the establishment of 551 community canning plants and 21 federal meat canning plants having a total output of 58,928,318 cans of food. Most of this food would not have been conserved at all had it not been for these canning plants.

In carrying on this food work, rural homes were improved by the building of 11,813 pantries with 122,461 feet of shelving; the making of 12,469 recipe files; the addition of 6,630 steam pressure cookers and 1,878 sealers; the digging of 1,011 cellars and 511 storage pits; the building of 1,029 smoke houses; the preparations of 6,442 hot beds and 1,546 cold frames; the installation of 2,440 subirrigation and 2,896 surface irrigation systems.

More than 6,126,643 pounds of vegetables for home use, some to be canned and some for serving fresh. The home fruit supply was increased by these women and girls who planted 16,251 fruit trees and berry vines.

TEXANS TO TEACH NEW YORK BOYS ABOUT COWHANDS

Canyon, June 26—Two Hall county youths are going to New York City this month to show East Sideurchins how he-men from the open spaces live.

They are Ed Todd, guitar-playing crooner of cowboy ballads, and Howard Weatherby, trick and fancy roper.

Both Todd and Weatherby have attended West Texas State Teachers College and have performed with the T-Anchor troupe. In New York, they will direct the "Wagon Train" unit of a boys' camp.

Laxative combination folks know is trustworthy

The confidence thousands of parents have in good, old reliable, powdered Theford's Black-Draught has prompted them to get the new Syrup of Black-Draught for their children. The grown folks stick to the powdered Black-Draught; the youngsters probably will prefer it when they outgrow their childish love of sweets.

Mrs. C. W. Adams of Murray, Ky., writes: "I have used Theford's Black-Draught (powder) about thirteen years, taking it for biliousness. Black-Draught acts well and I am always pleased with the results. I wanted a good, reliable laxative for my children. I have found Syrup of Black-Draught to be just that."

Drive far—drive fast —without a worry!

With Conoco Germ Processed Oil in your crankcase, you KNOW the strain won't hurt your motor!

Tests prove this new alloyed oil has 2 to 4 times greater film strength than plain mineral oils and resists heat better!

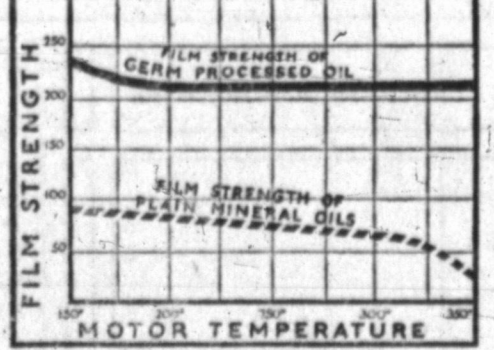

On July 4th or week-end and vacation trips, you'll want to drive far and get there in a hurry. And you don't want that nagging worry of "I wonder if this speed and heat will hurt anything in my motor."

You can't always be sure when you use plain mineral oils, for they have little film strength and oils over-refined by new cleansing processes have even less. Moreover, as motor heat goes up, these oils rapidly lose film strength.

Film strength is the load-carrying ability of an oil, the quality that keeps bearings and cylinders from wearing out. Lack of film strength results in costly damage.

You can drive without a worry when you use Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil! It has 2 to 4 times greater film strength than any plain mineral oil. Heat does not lessen this advantage.*

Supervised road tests—over good and bad roads, at low and high speeds, in all kinds of weather—give practical proof that Germ Processed Oil protests motors better. In every test, gravimetric measurement of motor bearings showed that Germ Processed Oil prevented wear far better than plain mineral oils. Tested in a fleet of cars equipped with the new alloy-metal bearings used in many 1935 cars, a high-quality plain mineral oil permitted 45% more wear on connecting rod bearings than did Germ Processed Oil.

Note that as heat increases, the plain mineral oils continue to lose film strength, but that above 225° (Minimum Summer crankcase temperature) Germ Processed Oil's film strength is not affected by heat. Tests made with Tinken machine.

Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil is the first alloyed oil—alloyed, much as metals are, by adding concentrated oily essence to highly refined oil. It is the only oil made by the Germ Process. It is the oil with the "Hidden Quart" that stays up in your motor and never drains away!

Appeals to Those of Mature Figure

PATTERN 9342

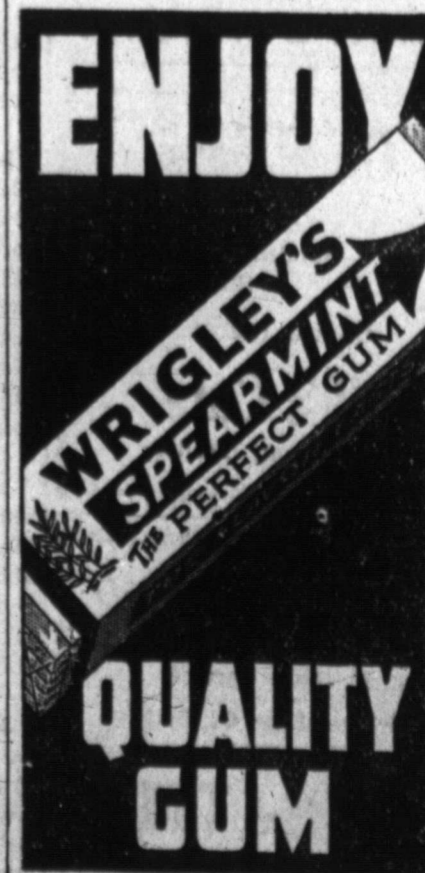

Capes? Everybody loves them—they've descended upon fashion like April showers. All sorts of capes. In this charming dress the cape influence is minimized, but it is used to advantage. Joining in front like a raglan sleeve, and cut in one with the yoke in back, these cape sleeves give grace and proper proportioning to the mature figure. A small bow, adroitly placed, adds a winsome touch at the bodice. You'll find the cut of the skirt excellent, too. It's a grand dress to make up in a flower print or a solid sheer, or in voile or lawn for the heat waves to come. The capes may contrast.

Pattern 9342 may be ordered only in sizes 16, 18, 20, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 36 requires 3 3/4 yards 39 inch fabric. SEND FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE. Complete, diagrammed sew chart included. Send your order to Sewing Circle Pattern Department, 232 West Eighteenth Street, New York.

Cruel Fate "There goes the only woman I have ever loved," commented the doctor, who was chatting with the drug store man. "Why don't you marry her?" the drug man inquired. "I can't afford it," whispered the doctor. "She's my best patient." Those Party Platforms "A party platform is a mighty important consideration," said one statesman. "Yes," replied the other, "a party platform in politics is a good deal like a bunker in golf. The rules require it, but you show your skill in avoiding it."

Home of the Author of THE "STAR SPANGLED BANNER"

He Wrote America's National Anthem

LADIES and gentlemen," began the man as the sightseeing bus lumbered across Key Bridge, "on your right may be seen the home of Francis Scott Key, illustrious author of 'The Star-Spangled Banner,' after which is named this bridge."

Necks were craned, and the passengers were rewarded with the view of a drab building which proclaimed itself to be the quarters of a hardware store. Inquiring glances were directed at the guide, but that worthy plunged into a glowing description of Arlington cemetery, Francis Scott Key and the house he lived in were left behind. History has been impressed upon every street in the older part of Washington and it is the city of forgotten memories. Many historic landmarks have been swept away.

Such is the fate which has befallen the Francis Scott Key house in Georgetown, now remodeled into a store building. Shortly after 1800, Francis Scott Key moved into the Georgetown house which was his home for thirty years. It was from this house that Key started to rescue William Beanes from death at the hands of the British, and by so doing witnessed the bombardment of Fort Mifflin, which inspired him to write "The Star-Spangled Banner."

When in 1838 the Chesapeake canal was dug directly through the center of his terraced flower garden stretching to the Potomac river, Key abandoned the Georgetown home.

Soon the thoroughfare lost its name and also its residential character. In time it became the main street of Georgetown, lined by unpretentious store buildings. In this evolution the old house suffered vicissitudes mostly unrecorded. About 1907 the owners decided the place must yield to the demands of trade. To save the dwelling, a memorial association, whose ranks included Admirals Dewey and Schley, was formed. Only $25,000 was needed to rescue the house, but the money, for some reason, was not forthcoming. In 1912 the house was largely torn down, although its shell was used in the erection of two small stores.—Washington Herald.

Most Precious Document Is Carefully Preserved CONGRESS appropriated $12,000 for the construction of the shrine in which are housed the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. Of this amount, $7,452.37 was spent. The shrine was dedicated February 28, 1924. It was designed by Francis H. Bacon of Boston and New York. "The background is of grayish black York fossil marble," says the Library of Congress. An upright frame or case with gold-plated bronze doors contains the Declaration. Below and in front of the upright case is a much larger one in the form of a desk with claw feet. It contains the five sheets of the Constitution. In front of this case is a small carved stool, both cases and stool being executed in Asbury pink Tennessee marble quarried near Knoxville, Tenn. Two sheets of plate glass with specially prepared gelatin films between the two plates protect the documents.

Fourth of July Picnic Food Easily Served

SET the picnic scene under a big shade tree or on the screened porch, with a table for the food and a few comfortable porch chairs or cushions. Place at one end of the table, the paper napkins, plates and cups and just the necessary flat silver. If you'd like to make a real party of it—you can purchase picnic knives and forks with bright red or blue composition handles for a very small cost.

Of course, the food is the big consideration, for everyone is hungry at an informal out-of-door meal. Visualize a big salad bowl with a crisp vegetable salad, a tray of cold spreads and sliced meats for sandwich fillings, a cutting board holding all the necessary cut bread and crackers to fill the biggest appetite, one hot casserole dish, if the day is not too warm, and a big pot of hot coffee or pitcher of iced tea with a tray of paper cups close by.

Everyone helps himself—makes his own preferred sandwich with all the dressing, mustard or lettuce he desires, dips liberally into the salad and pours his own beverage, ice tea, lemonade or punch. Dessert may be a big cake—brought out at the close of the meal, or a big bowl of fresh fruit, a shortcake or frozen dessert.

The gaiety of such a meal lies in the easy, informal, atmosphere, the tasty attractive food and the lack of long preparation, packing baskets and filling thermos jugs. Any holiday guest will enjoy such a picnic supper.

Try this menu: Assorted breads—Rye, white, graham and finger rolls. Assorted meats and spreads including veal loaf, salami cut in thin slices, spiced cold tongue, ground ham with grated pineapple and chopped walnuts spread, cream cheese and green pepper spread, cold fried chicken. Arrange on a cold meat plate with the sliced meats around the edge and celery dressed with French dressing. Arrange in large crockery or wooden bowl.

Potato Chips Jelly and Pickles Bowls of Creamed Butter and Mustard Butter Shoe String Potatoes Coconut Cake with Orange Custard Filling Tea or Coffee or Iced Drinks Ice Cream A different sort of porch picnic menu might include: Hot Ham Shortcake or Fried Chicken Pineapple and Cucumber Gelatin Salad Ripe Olives—Cheese Crackers Iced Tea Raspberries and Sliced Bananas on Ice Cream Ice Box Cookies Lemonade or Punch

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By REV. F. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, & Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for June 30 LIBERTY UNDER LAW (Temperance Lesson)

LESSON TEXT—Romans 14:13-21; I Corinthians 8:9-13. GOLDEN TEXT—It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth.—Romans 14:21. PRIMARY TOPIC—Giving Up Our Own Way. JUNIOR TOPIC—The Royal Law. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Attitude of a Good Citizen Toward Law. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Personal Liberty and Law.

A more appropriate title for this lesson would be "The Christian's Obligations in Matters of Conscience." The Scripture reference from Romans sets forth fraternal duties in matters of conscience. The background for these obligations is to be found in the fact that there were some in the Church who were very conscientious in regard to the eating of flesh. Likely, these were Christian Jews who were scrupulous in the observance of dietary laws given by Moses. Others in the Church ate what was set before them without question. There were some also who had particular regard for feast days and holy days. Others regarded every day alike. Differences and disputes arose. In dealing with this situation the apostle enumerates the following obligations:

- 1. Neither Party is to Sit in Judgment Upon the Other (14:1-13). This instruction applies to things which are indifferent in themselves. The passing of judgment in such cases is wrong, because: 1. Every man is responsible to God alone (v. 4). 2. Every man must decide for himself what is right for him to do (vv. 5-7). Concerning matters indifferent in themselves, an action which may be right for one may be sinful for another. 3. Every man lives not unto himself, but unto the Lord (vv. 8, 9). The supreme purpose of Christ's death and resurrection was that he might be the Christian's Lord, both in life and death.

- 4. Every man must give an account to God (vv. 10-12). Every man must one day stand before the judgment seat of Christ, and render an account of himself unto God. 5. A Stumblingblock Should Not Be Placed in the Way of Another (14:13-23). In many things the Christian has liberty so far as he personally is concerned, but that very liberty may become an occasion of stumbling to another. The following urgent reasons are given:

- 1. The weak brother for whom Christ died may be destroyed (v. 15). If it was worth while for Christ to die for a man, surely it is worth while that we should deny ourselves some privileges for his sake. 2. Good should not be evil spoken of (vv. 16-18). One's manner of life determines the measure of his influence over his fellow men. Such life will be characterized by: a. Righteousness, or moral rectitude. b. Living in peace among brethren. c. Joy in the Holy Ghost, the usual characteristic of the saved man. 3. That which makes for peace and edification should be followed (v. 19). He who causes the weak brother to stumble through the exercise of his liberty destroys the work of God. 4. We should exercise faith in God and abstain from meats and wine which offend the weak brother (vv. 21, 22).

- III. Personal Liberty to Be Abridged (I Cor. 8:9-13). Love is to be the governing principle of the life. Love is more important than knowledge. This love will move one: 1. To abridge his liberty for the sake of the weak brother (vv. 10, 11). While the one who has proper knowledge can eat meat with impunity, if his eating would cause his weak brother to stumble he should desist from eating. 2. To exercise liberty in such case as to sin against the brethren (v. 13). Sinning against our brother for whom Christ died is to sin against Christ. The great question in all our acts should be "Will they harm our brethren?" This obligation is enforced by three important considerations.

- a. The fate of the weak brother (v. 11). It may cause him to perish. Such a possible loss shows the responsibility of our actions. b. The relation of the man to his slayer (v. 11). He is his brother. c. What Christ did for the weak brother. Christ died for him. If Christ was willing to die for the man, we ought to be willing to deny ourselves our personal rights for his sake.

Purpose The longer I live, the more deeply am I convinced that that which makes the difference between one man and another, between the weak and the powerful, the great and indigent, is energy, invincible determination, a purpose once formed and then death or victory.—Novell Buxton.

The Right Do the right and your ideal of it grows and perfects itself. Do the wrong, and your ideal of it breaks up and vanishes.—Martineau.

WHY FIRST DAY IS LORD'S DAY

Adoption of Sunday as the Christian Sabbath was gradual. The word Sunday, which occurs nowhere in the Bible, is derived from Anglo-Saxon sunnandaeg, day of the sun, the first day of the week having been dedicated to the sun by the pagans. The fourth commandment—"Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy"—referred to the ancient Jewish Sabbath, which was the seventh day of the week. That the New Testament writers clearly distinguished between the Sabbath and the first day of the week is shown by several passages in which the first day is mentioned as following the Sabbath. Although Jesus himself observed the Sabbath, St. Paul seems to have placed observance of this day among the customs not obligatory on Christians. He says in Colossians 2:16: "Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of an holy day, or of the new moon, or of the Sabbath days." This passage has been taken to indicate that the question of the Christian's relation to the Jewish Sabbath was raised at an early date, although it is not certain that the passage refers to the weekly Sabbath. From the beginning many Christians commemorated the first day of the week as Resurrection day, the day on which Jesus rose from the dead. "Lord's day" first occurs in Revelation 1:10. I Corinthians 16:2 seems to imply some sort of observance of the first day of the week. There is evidence that the first day was originally intended as a substitute for the Jewish Sabbath, but it seems that most of the early Christians observed both the Sabbath and the Lord's day, and this was the tendency as long as the Christians were composed chiefly of former adherents of Judaism. In the first century St. Ignatius wrote that Christians no longer observed the Sabbath, but the Lord's day instead, and St. Justin, in the second century, was probably the first Christian writer to refer to the Lord's day as Sunday. As centuries passed and the church grew in strength the majority of Christians paid less attention to the Sabbath and more attention to the Lord's day until in time the Lord's day or Sunday supplanted the Sabbath in their eyes.—Indianapolis News.

WORKING PRINCIPLES OF WFA ARE MADE KNOWN

 persons in the shortest time possible. Important part of the procedure will be the planning of projects with relation to the number, age, sex, and occupational characteristics of persons on relief within the locality where the proposed project will be executed.

Projects should also be so planned that continuous work may be available for such persons.

Projects may include work relief projects previously submitted to Texas Relief Commission, and upon which work has not been started. A project may cover more than one particular job, but all jobs included should be under the jurisdiction of the same sponsor, all of the same type, and where sponsors' jurisdiction covers a large area, all in the same general location.

In formulating projects, each governmental agency should confer with the local office of the Works Progress Administration (the county relief office until such Works Progress Administration offices are established) for information concerning the number and occupations of persons on relief rolls who are to be put to work.

Governmental agencies should utilize the facilities of local and state planning boards in the formulation of projects, the statement said.

The sponsoring governmental agency is expected to contribute equipment, materials, and services to the maximum amount possible. The priority of the project will depend in part on the amount of such contributions and the extent to which they increase the proportion of labor cost to the total Federal funds required for the project.

Sample of the form on which project proposals will be prepared was in the hands of county administrators. Using the project proposal form, an analysis can readily be made to determine the tentative eligibility of the project. It is necessary that the labor cost from federal funds represent a major portion of the total federal funds required; that the federal expenditure per man-month be kept low so that employment can be given to as many persons as possible; that workers from relief rolls constitute at least 90 per cent of the total number of persons working on the project. This should be tentatively determined by consulting county relief officials.

If this analysis of the project shows that it fails to meet these conditions, sponsors should confer with the local Works Progress Administration officials, who may assist by suggesting change of design, specifications, or other items in the proposal. Alterations as a result of these suggestions should make the project suitable for more detailed presentation and save much time on a detailed later study.

As has been previously announced, the nation was divided into four regions for the establishment of the earnings of workers on these projects. Texas was included in the third region in which salaries will range from $21 per month for unskilled work in rural areas to $75 per month for professional and technical work in the larger urban areas.

For the purpose of estimating labor costs of projects, labor will be classified under four types:

First, unskilled work will include manual labor for building and construction laborers janitors, caretakers, and the like, and non-manual work for messengers, errand boys, etc.

Second, intermediate work to be provided for such manual workers as truck drivers, blacksmiths' and machinists' helpers, and non-manual work for typists, stenographers, calculating machine operators, etc.

Third, skilled work will cover manual labor for carpenters, brick layers, machinists, electricians, and other skilled workers, and non manual labor for laboratory technicians, secretaries, bookkeepers, etc.

Fourth, professional and technical work will cover the field of professional, scientific and technical types of employment as well as work in recognized fields of art.

Employees under this schedule of monthly earnings will work not more than 8 hours a day or 40 hours a week.

Those ineligible for employment in the program include: (1) persons under 16 years of age; (2) persons whose age or physical condition makes employment dangerous for them or endangers the health of others; (3) persons who are currently serving sentence in a penal or correctional institution.

HIGHWAY MEETING WAS HELD AT LUBBOCK JUNE 25

 present route from Texarkana to Phoenix, Ariz., he said.

"The state highway commission of New Mexico has assured us that when Texas touches the New Mexico border with a road, they will build a modern highway clear across New Mexico," Mr. Smith said. "They mean a modern paved highway, not one like No. 1 is in Texas."

A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, spoke briefly. He said that the highway committee of the chamber of commerce had as its policy the rendering of assistance to any and all in securing highway improvements anywhere on the South Plains. He said that Lubbock would give any assistance possible to the group.

Charles M. Conner, county judge of Haskell county, president of the Arkansas, Texas and New Mexico Highway association; E. D. Condron, Throckmorton county judge and an executive committeeman of the association, and R. A. Simms, Brownfield, Terry county judge and likewise a committeeman, spoke briefly. J. B. Earnest, Kent county judge, also spoke.

Division Engineer Garrett said an appropriation had been received recently that would permit completion of grading and drainage structures in Garza county to the Kent county line. There are 122 miles on No. 84 in the four counties in his division. "It will take $450,000 to complete grading and drainage work on the highway and $850,000 to complete surfacing," he added.

The season of letting contracts for asphalt surfacing is about over, Mr. Garrett said, as that type of work must be finished by October 1, because of weather conditions. Grading and drainage work can be let any time, he added, the season just starting for this type of work. He explained some of the reasons for the present uncertain highway situation.

E. W. Luna, Yoakum county commissioner, said his county "would guarantee the right-of-way to the New Mexico line."

President Conner presided over an informal meeting of the highway association and named a committee of three to draft resolutions. They were: W. E. Smith, E. D. Condron and E. W. Luna. He asked A. B. Davis to meet with the group. Counties and representatives present were:

Throckmorton: E. D. Condron, county judge; Star D. Miles, insurance man; H. W. Rice, superintendent of Throckmorton schools.
 Haskell: Charles M. Conner, county judge; T. M. Mapes, commissioner.
 Kent: J. B. Earnest, county judge; Garza: Oscar Graham, county commissioner.

Lynn: W. E. (Happy) Smith, county judge; Waldo McLaurin and J. H. Izard, commissioners.
 Terry: R. A. Simms, county judge; L. C. Green, G. W. Hinson and J. L. Lyon, commissioners; J. E. Shelton, secretary Brownfield Chamber of Commerce.
 Yoakum: H. W. Luna, commissioner J. T. Marshall, P. M. Cox.

TYPHOID VERY BAD DISEASE BUT EASY TO PREVENT

Austin, June 4.—Now is the time, according to Dr. Charles D. Reece, Director, Bureau of Communicable Diseases, to be vaccinated against typhoid fever, a disease that has cost the lives of more than 2,000 Texans in the past four years.

Typhoid fever has been eliminated in our army and navy through vaccination. The typhoid vaccine is not a serum. This preventive treatment of typhoid fever consists of three small hypodermic "shots" given every 5 to 7 days until three injections are given. Such a treatment protects you from taking the typhoid fever for two to three years.

Consult your family physician today in regard to typhoid prevention. Invest in typhoid protection against this often fatal disease. This form of protection insures you and your family against possible long confinement, great economic loss and perhaps death."

You may be so unfortunate as to drink contaminated milk, water, or other food containing the typhoid bacilli and contract the disease this year. In selecting a place for a vacation choose one where you know that the water and milk supply is pure. Be sure that the kitchen and dining room are screened to protect food from flies. When camping it is best to boil water used for drinking, unless you know that it is pure. Clear, sparkling spring water may be polluted by drainage.

Miss Bess Edwards, Assistant State Home Demonstration Agent, of College Station, Texas, was here last week scoring the bed room of O'Dean Boen, which, being the county winner, will now be considered for a district place.
