O'Donnell Section No. 9 To Be Paved

WILL COMPLETE ENTIRE ROUTE

District Office Approves Work For Highway 84 West In Lynn County, Also

All the gaps in highway No. 9 are to be completed just as speedily as weather conditions will permit.

As stated in these columns last week, bids are to be received and contract let on October 8 for the laying of caliche base and asphalt preservative on a stretch of 7.8 miles on highway No. 9 beginning at the southern limits of Tahoka and extending southward toward O'Donnell. The finishing touches will be made early next spring.

An associated press dispatch from Austin Monday announced that bids would be received soon for the improvement of the remaining sector of 6.2 miles of highway No. 9 extending northward from the Dawson county line at O'Donnell toward Tahoka. This project calls for 6.2 miles of caliche base and asphalt topping.

The work of reshaping the roadbed on a sector 3 1-2 miles long from the Lubbock county line southward toward Tahoka is proceeding rapidly and the topping on this piece of road will probably be placed next week.

By early next spring, highway No. 9 will have been paved all the way from Big Spring to Amarillo.

The improvement of highway No. 84 is to be done as a WPA project, or as a series of projects.

F. C. Stanley, resident engineer, has received a communication from the district WPA office at Big Spring advising that the project of grading and drainage structures on highway 84 from Tahoka to Terry county line has been approved by that office.

Similar projects for improving this highway through Garza, Terry, and Yoakum counties have also been approved by the district office of the WPA, and there seems no doubt but that these projects will soon be approved at Washington and work authorized at an early date.

Circus Coming Here October 23

The circus is coming! Harley Sadler's Three-Ring Circus, the largest circus ever to show in a town the size of Tahoka, will be here Wednesday, October 23, for two performances, afternoon and night.

Formerly known as Bailey Bros. Circus, the show has been acquired recently by the popular West Texas showman. It does not take the place, Harley announces, of his tent theatre, which will also be here this fall. A feature of circus day will be an old-time circus parade at the noon hour. There will be elephants, apes, camels, lions, and many other wild animals, Jack Horne and Dixie Star and their company of Hollywood movie cowboys, acrobats, twenty-five clowns, educated horses and dogs, etc.

Marion G. Bradley post of the American Legion is sponsoring the show's appearance here.

Kid Singers Will Meet At Garlyn

The Kid's Singing Convention will be held at Garlyn next Sunday, according to announcement sent to the News.

Everybody is heartily invited to attend.

EX-CONGRESSMAN HERE

Hon. Oscar Callaway and E. R. Armstrong of Comanche were here Tuesday, Mr. Callaway representing Mr. Armstrong in a case pending in the district court. For a number of years Mr. Callaway represented the Comanche-Port Worth district in congress. He has a number of old-time friends and acquaintances here, including J. K. Applewhite, G. W. Small, J. A. Jaynes, the editor, and others.

FALL TERM OF COURT OPENS

Grand Jury Empaneled; Docket Will To Be Taken Up Next Monday

District court convened here Monday morning with Judge Gordon B. McGuire on the bench, and a grand jury was empaneled but was excused immediately thereafter until Monday of next week, when it will begin its investigations.

With S. A. Cummings of Wilson as foreman, the body consists of him and eleven other men as follows: R. L. Thompson of Wilson, Earl R. Tunnell of Dixie, E. A. Roberts of O'Donnell, Tom Hale of West Point, A. H. Hood of Magnolia, T. H. Bassinger of Southland, E. J. Cooper of Tahoka, R. R. Ragan of Joe Bailey, C. E. Campbell of Edith, Elmer Rice of Joe Stokes, and F. Speckman of Lakeview.

Balliffs for the grand jury were appointed as follows: Door Balliff, W. S. Swan; riding balliffs, F. E. Redwine, D. Sanders, and John Johnson.

Judge McGuire is this week hearing uncontested cases, entering orders, and setting down contested cases for trial during the term.

Church Of Christ Revival Opens

The Church of Christ will begin a revival meeting here tonight, Friday, September 27.

Elder R. P. Drennon, the pastor, will be assisted by Elder J. B. Nelson, evangelist, of Dallas. The meeting will continue through Sunday, October 6.

Elder Nelson will do the preaching. He is one of the strong men of his denomination, and members of the local congregation are looking forward to a most successful revival.

Lothel Caskey of Florence, Williamson county, will lead the song services. He is said to be a very fine singer, and excellent music throughout the meeting is assured.

The general public is cordially invited to all the services.

Oil Test Rig Is Left At Well Here

Whether any further drilling will be done in the Wanete-Hart oil test on the Cass O. Edwards T-Bar Ranch ten miles southwest of Tahoka seems to be undecided.

The contract depth of 5,000 feet was reached nearly ten days ago, the exact figures being 5,005 feet and 4 inches, without oil in paying quantities have been encountered.

The drillers have gone, after capping the well, taking with them all their machinery but leaving the derrick intact and the casing in the well.

Nobody seems to know just what the intentions of the interested parties are.

SINGING CONVENTION WILL BE HELD AT SHALLOWATER

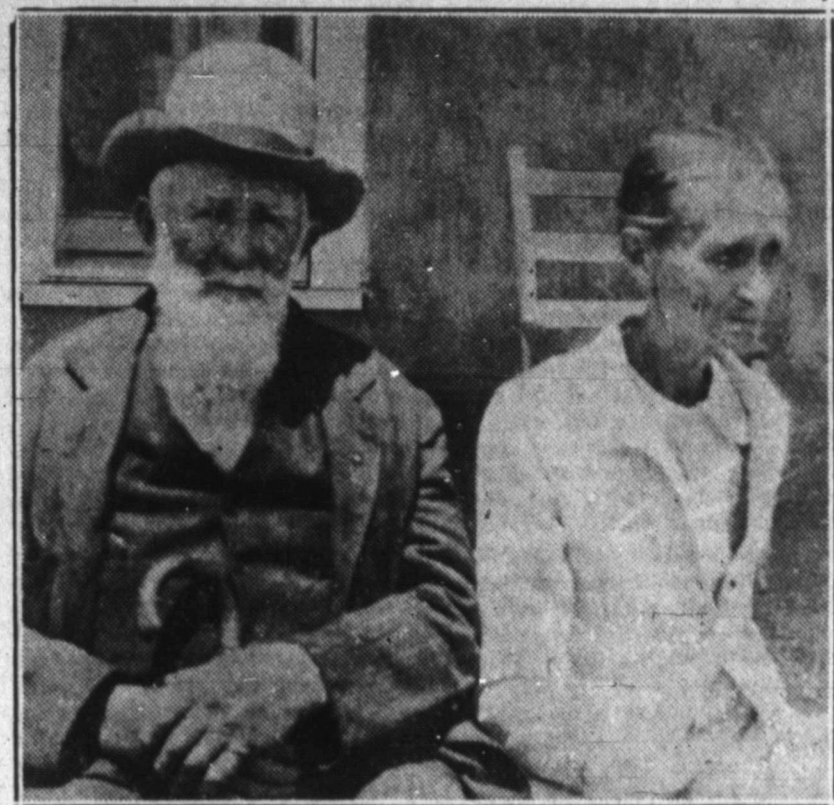

The Lubbock County Singing Convention will meet at Shallowater Saturday night and Sunday, Sept. 28-29, according to Clyde Burleson, president.

There will be many visiting singers, he says, including V. O. Stamps, Freddie Martin, L. M. Brooks, and numerous quartets.

All Lynn county singers are invited.

Mrs. Belton Howell, who has been so seriously ill in the Lubbock Sanitarium the past several weeks, was able to return to her home here the first of the week. Her many friends are greatly delighted that she is much improved and is steadily recovering.

Bob Chambers, who became so seriously ill while visiting in Los Angeles, California, several weeks ago, is still slowly improving. He is able to ride over to town occasionally.

John B. King, 91, Ex-Confederate Soldier, who died Monday, and his wife who preceded him to grave in December, 1932. Burial of Mrs. King was at Wilson Wednesday.

Meadow Here Today; Bleachers Completed

Seats For Over 200 Now Ready

By W. G. Barrett
Bleachers are being erected this week on Tahoka High School Athletic Field through the generosity of the business and professional men of the town. Already $178 has been paid in cash to the Committee appointed by the Luncheon Club. Three hundred feet of seats are being erected at this time, or enough to seat about two hundred people. Others have indicated that they wish to contribute and as a result we hope to erect enough in addition to the ones now under construction to take care of about one hundred people, or with a total seating capacity of three hundred. These seats have been needed for years, and as a representative of the school I wish to thank the donors. The ladies and children can now attend football games in comfort. Probably some one will be there to rent pillows. The playing field has been moved to the Southwest corner of the campus. The City of Tahoka through the generosity of Mayor James Dye has used the grader to level the field. We hope to erect within the next few months, an athletic field that will compare favorably with those of other schools the size of Tahoka.

Below is a list of donors with the amounts donated, others will be announced as donations are received: We, the undersigned business men and ladies of Tahoka, in order to assist the football team of Tahoka. (Contin'd on last page)

In the Crosbyton game, the Bulldogs played an excellent game. Capt. Minor scored the first touchdown in the second quarter. On the kickoff Minor recovered over the goal line for the second touchdown, and Brower raced across the goal line in the fourth quarter for the third touchdown. Crosbyton scored on a reverse play after recovering a Tahoka fumble.

Tahoka line-up was: Thompson, center; Pemberton and Parker, guards; Perkins and Steven, tackles; Brower and Brown, ends; Dyer, full; Ruge and VanDyke, half-backs; Hoover substituted at half and Cleveland at end.

Perkins and Brower looked good on defense. Minor leading the offense played a good game until he went out in the third quarter with an injury. Hoover and VanDyke also showed up well.

H. D. Clubs Plan Exhibits Here

The Home Demonstration and 4-H clubs of Lynn county will have an exhibit of their products in Tahoka on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, October 10-11-12, according to Miss Sylvia Robb. The exact place will be announced later.

This exhibit will be sponsored by the Lynn County Home Demonstration Council. All entries are to be made on or before 6 P. M. October 9 at the home demonstration agent's office.

The judging will be open judging starting at 10:00 P. M. on October 10th. Every club woman and girl is invited to come and see her canned products judged. Miss Mattie Phenix, County Home Demonstration agent of Dawson County will judge the products.

There will be cash prizes given by the County Council to the six Home Demonstration Clubs of the county having the best exhibits. The H. D. Club that has the greatest number of visitors during the three days will also receive a cash prize.

The four 4-H club girls having the best entries will also be given prizes.

EXHIBITING HORSES

A. B. Hatchell, who lives north of town, is exhibiting a bunch of fine horses at the South Plains Fair at Lubbock this week.

Election Saturday For State Senator

JOHN B. KING DIED; AGED 91

Confederate Veteran Dies At Home Of Daughter Near Slaton; Well Known Here

Funeral services were conducted at Wilson Wednesday afternoon for John B. King, who died Monday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Neal Williams, near Slaton.

Deceased was buried with Masonic honors, the Masonic lodge of Tahoka, of which he was a member, having charge, and the funeral discourse was delivered by Dr. Jack Lewis, Presbyterian minister, of Lubbock.

Born in January, 1844, Grandpa King was 91 years old at the time of his death and was probably the oldest person in Lynn county. Until recently, however, he had been active and nimble and apparently enjoying unusually good health for one of his advanced years.

For forty years Mr. King had been a resident of Lynn and neighboring counties, and in recent years (Cont'd on last page)

Mineral Deposits To Be Developed

Charley Doak, pioneer citizen of Lynn county and daddy of O'Donnell, was a brief visitor in the News office Wednesday.

While here Mr. Doak stated that there are prospects that the sodium sulphate lake on his property eight miles west of O'Donnell will be developed soon.

The bed of this lake covers seven-teen acres of land and is a solid bed of the aforesaid mineral, 95 per cent pure, and Mr. Doak says that tests have shown the deposits to be 35 feet deep. There are countless thousands of tons of the mineral awaiting development. It has many uses.

O'Donnell Child Is Buried Here Sunday

The remains of little Franklin D. Rogers 13-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Rogers, of O'Donnell, were laid to rest here at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, the child having died at 6:35 Saturday afternoon in a Lubbock Sanitarium from an intestinal trouble.

Funeral services were conducted at the cemetery by Rev. Geo. A. Dale of the Baptist Church here and interment was under the direction of Harris & Applewhite undertakers.

This is the third death in the Rogers family during the past few years. Four children have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Rogers and only one of them survives, a little girl nine years old. The other two children died in early childhood, both in recent years. They have the sincere sympathy of hosts of friends, especially of parents who have themselves passed through like shadows.

MRS. A. E. LEVERETT BITTEN BY RATTLESNAKE

Mrs. A. E. Leverett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Smith of O'Donnell and wife of a prominent farmer west of town, was bitten by a rattlesnake late Wednesday afternoon as she went about her duties at the farm home.

She was brought immediately to the home of her parents, and is under the care of a local physician. It is believed that the bite will not be fatal, but she will probably be quite ill for some time.—O'Donnell Index.

Bob Cavness, son of County Superintendent and Mrs. H. P. Cavness, left Monday to enter Baylor Dental College at Dallas. He is preparing, of course, for the profession of dentistry.

Mrs. Grady Beard, the former Miss Ethel Kuykendall, was here from Clovis, New Mexico, this week visiting relatives and friends.

ELECTION IN 24 COUNTIES

Five Candidates File For Places On Ballot; Nelson Is In The Campaign

An election is to be held Saturday of this week throughout the 24 counties of the 30th senatorial district to elect a successor to the late Senator A. P. Duggan of Littlefield, who died a few weeks ago.

There are five candidates in the race, and the candidate receiving the largest number of votes will be declared elected. Unlike primary elections, there will be no run-off election in this contest.

The five candidates are G. H. Nelson of Tahoka; B. Reagan of Big Spring, Jess Mitchell of Muleshoe, Pink Parrish of Lubbock, and W. H. (Bill) Evans of Lubbock.

Mr. Nelson is this week engaged in a speaking campaign which will carry him to all the larger towns of the district. Also, friends are going out almost daily to aid him in his campaign to other sections.

The counties comprising the 30th senatorial district are: Andrews, Martin, Howard, Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Kent, Garza, Stonewall, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, and Cottle.

Mrs. Carl Decker Died Wednesday

Mrs. Carl Decker, the former Miss Nettie Traweck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Traweck, died at her residence near Redwine about 6 o'clock Wednesday morning, and the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery here at 5 o'clock that afternoon. Funeral services were conducted at the Traweck home near Redwine at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Rev. J. W. Braswell of Lamesa officiating.

Deceased left surviving her the parents, one sister, Mrs. Lenora Belle Woodfin of the Draw community, her husband, and a little daughter, Annie Belle, just 16 days old at the time of the mother's death. Following the birth of the baby, one complication after another set up, and finally pneumonia, speedily bringing death.

Mrs. Decker was born in this county, June 4, 1912. She was married in November 1932. She had been active in 4-H club work during her girlhood days. For a number of years she had been a member of the Baptist Church at Redwine and was a devoted Christian young woman.

The family have the sincerest sympathy of many friends.

"Blow Sand" Land Pays Big Profit

Ten acres of blow sand on the farm of Nolan C. Von Roeder of Knapp Community in Borden county paid $738.50 in 1934, according to Cline E. Morris, county agricultural agent. While numbers of farmers in this part of the state were worrying about what to do with their blow sand spots, Von Roeder was setting out peach and plum trees on his, and as a result this 10 acres has paid higher dividends than 100 acres adjoining it.

To date, Von Roeder has sold 800 bushels of peaches and plums from this orchard at 75 cents to $1 per bushel and still has his late crop of peaches to sell. This will be approximately 200 bushels.

E. L. Smeiser, L. R. Brooks, and Roy Cowan, accompanied by their attorney, Judge B. P. Maddox, went to Austin the first of the week to make application to the State Railway Commission for special commodity permits as truck operators. They returned home Wednesday.

L. C. Heath and family of Brownfield were visitors here Monday morning.

Crisis Is Near in Geneva Over Italy's Adventure

MATTERS in Geneva were rapidly approaching a crisis—a crisis for Italy and Ethiopia, for European peace and for the League of Nations itself.

Benito Mussolini

The Italian cabinet, in which Mussolini holds eight portfolios, announced in Rome that Italy would accept no compromise and would not retreat from the course it has laid out in East Africa; that its military preparations were being intensified, and that its forces were adequate to respond to any menace whatever.

Still more important, in the light of developments, was the cabinet's announcement of strengthening its military forces in Libya, where General Balbo has been establishing a strong line of air posts. This colony borders Egypt on the west, and there was immediately a lot of speculation as to whether Mussolini planned to attack the British empire in that region.

Italian forces in Libya have received reinforcements of 40,000 men with tanks and field artillery, and are much stronger than the British forces in Egypt. If economic sanctions were imposed on Italy, Mussolini might well reply by threatening Great Britain in that quarter, by invasion and by arousing the native population to revolt.

Premier Laval's speech before the League of Nations was exceedingly clever but did not clear the situation sufficiently. While he gave assurance that France would abide by the league covenant and fulfill its obligations, he hinted that his government would demand in return that Britain enter a definite engagement to carry out the program agreed upon in London on February 3—an air Locarno with automatic enforcement and the conclusion of Danubian and Baltic security pacts.

One after another the nations represented in the league announced their support of the British stand against Italy. If the British do not back down—and that seems unlikely—and if Italy persists in its adventure, the league will be called on to apply article 15 of the covenant. This requires the submission of any dispute, likely to lead to a rupture, to the council which must then try to effect a settlement. The council also will adopt as its own the report of the committee of five, which has failed to find a solution acceptable to Italy. The parties to the dispute are obligated to keep the peace for three months in any event, which would prevent an Italian campaign before the rains set in again in Ethiopia.

If in the next three months either side accepts the council's decision, the other party is automatically outlawed if it starts a war at any time in the future. In that case, the penalties against an aggressor as provided in article 16 must take effect automatically.

It is believed in Geneva that the penalty easiest to apply would be a general boycott of all trade with Italy. In that case the course followed by the United States would be all important. The European statesmen feel confident that they can count on President Roosevelt, once a war breaks out, to interpret cotton, wheat, and other raw materials as war material and under the American neutrality legislation forbid direct shipment to Italy and Ethiopia.

Mr. Davis Tells President of Conditions in Europe

NORMAN H. DAVIS, American ambassador at large, called on President Roosevelt at Hyde Park and gave him a clear picture of the situation in Europe. After leaving the conference, Mr. Davis said to reporters that war in Europe is extremely probable but he sees no reason why the United States should become involved.

There had been hopes, Mr. Davis said, for a conference on naval disarmament this fall. But the Anglo-Ethiopian dispute has removed any such possibility.

New German Laws Bear Down on the Jews

SIX hundred members of the German reichstag, all fervent Nazis, met in special session in Nuremberg and at the demand of Reichsfuehrer Hitler passed two laws bearing down hard on the Jews in the reich. The first of these new statutes prescribes prison sentences as penalties for marriages between Jews and citizens of German or kindred blood, and declares such marriages void if performed in a foreign country. Extra-marital relations between Jews and Aryans also are punishable by prison sentences. Jews are forbidden to employ women under forty-five years in their households after January 1, on penalty of imprisonment. Jews are not allowed to hoist the national flag, being limited to the Zionist, blue and white emblem.

Adolf Hitler

The second law provides that only a person who "belongs to the protective association of the German empire and is especially obligated to the reich" may be a citizen of Germany. This citizen must be of German or kindred blood and show that he is willing to serve the German people. Thus Jews and Germans of whom the Nazis disapprove may be excluded.

Hitler also put through a third law establishing the Nazi Swastika as the national and trade flag of Germany. The war ministry was instructed to adopt a war flag of black, white and red.

In his address to the reichstag Hitler said that by the laws adopted he hoped to deliver a fatal blow to Communism and Jewry. He also discussed the Memel question and warned Lithuania that justice must be done to Germans in Memel "before events take forms that one day may be only regretted."

Secretary Hull's Reply on Crodsky Protest

OFFICIAL annoyance in Germany over the remarks of Magistrate Crodsky of New York who called the Hitler regime "a throwback to barbarism" probably was allayed by the note from Secretary of State Hull. This explained that the federal government had no control over the magistrate, but Mr. Hull in it gave a sound verbal spanking to Crodsky for "indulging in expressions offensive to another government with which we have official relations."

Smetona Says Lithuania Will Fight for Memel

CHANCELLOR HITLER'S remarks about Memel aroused President Antonas Smetona to putting out the first interview he has granted in six years. In it he declared that Lithuania, relying to the utmost on the legality and justice of her stand and action in Memel affairs, is ready at any time to defend her position before the permanent court of international justice.

President Smetona

But should an effort be made to disregard legality and justice, in favor of force, Lithuania is prepared, stated President Smetona, to "defend Memel with all the means at her command."

He regards Lithuania's chief problem in Memel today the action of Germany in practically stopping all imports from Lithuania with "resultant economic pressure" and what he terms the "relentless influence of foreign propaganda."

"Continuing, President Smetona said: 'Memel is to us an economic necessity, not a political issue. We are too small a nation to engage in political bargaining, as we are too small a country to engage in contra-propaganda. Our only point is that Memel, containing Lithuania's only seaport, is an essential part of Lithuania. And the freedom and preservation of Lithuania is to her people a precious thing.'

Soft Coal Strike Averted for Another Week

STRIKES that would have closed down a large part of the country's soft coal industry were averted for a time at least by the vigorous action of President Roosevelt and Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward F. McGrady, the labor department's best conciliator. The controversy between the miners and operators has been going on for eight months and many negotiations have been attempted. In a meeting with the President and McGrady at Hyde Park the United Mine Workers agreed to permit existing wage pacts to continue in force seven more days, thus averting the walkout that would have started September 16. Negotiations toward a new wage contract were then started, with McGrady representing President Roosevelt.

F. C. Hoyt Is Appointed New Alcohol Administrator

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT appointed Franklin Chase Hoyt, former judge of the Children's court in New York city, to be federal alcohol administrator to succeed Joseph C. Choate, who administered the federal alcohol control act until that legislation was knocked out by the Supreme court's NRA decision.

Ball Player Is Killed in Fight on Flying Plane

LEN KOENECKE, outfielder for the Brooklyn Dodgers, was killed in an airplane over the Long Branch race track near Toronto in a fight with Pilot W. J. Mulqueeny of Detroit and his helper, Irwin Davis. Koenecke had chartered the plane at Detroit to go to Buffalo and it is said had been drinking. The pilot said the ball player persistently annoyed him and then engaged in a wild fight with Davis, and to save the plane from a crash Mulqueeny hit Koenecke on the head.

Washington Said It Scaring Mussolini Ethiopian War Fever Not Even a Nest Egg

One hundred and thirty-nine years ago George Washington made his farewell address. It is mid-"Victorian" to drag in George Washington now, when so many are prepared to write a better Constitution than the one he signed. Nevertheless, some of the old-fashioned may tolerate a reminder that in his farewell address, George Washington said:

Arthur Brisbane

"It is our true policy to steer clear of permanent alliances with any portion of the foreign world."

Also, with apologies to pre-fists and high-spirited young college gentlemen who say they would not fight under any circumstances, you are reminded that George Washington said in 1790: "To be prepared for war is one of the most effectual means of preserving peace."

If Mussolini can be scared by British gestures, he will be scared, with England sending her great battleships to the Gibraltar harbor. Other battleships and thousands of soldiers are sent to her island of Malta, and, imitating real war, she is putting "submarine rooms" in the Gibraltar harbor on the assumption that wicked Mussolini might send submarines to blow up her battleships; and that is exactly what he would do if it came to war.

Mussolini is not alone in his desire for war. On Sunday in the Ethiopian capital, Addis Ababa, according to the Associated Press, "2,000 shrieking Ethiopians" yelling "We want war," gathered before the imperial palace demanding weapons. The Associated Press says: "The scene was so violent that police confiscated motion picture films of it." That was wise, because films might have convinced the outside world that Ethiopians and Italians are much alike "under the skin."

Sewell L. Avery, head of Montgomery Ward & Co., will tell you that the work of the tax gatherers in America is done thoroughly. His company, on its regular business in six months, made $4,343,790. Taxes on this business amounted to $4,000,000, or $231,000 more than the concern earned. You might almost call that "discouraging business." When you take the eggs from the nest of the hen that would like to set, you always leave one egg, or at least a door knob, "to go on with."

Dispatches from Tokyo tell of planning political murder wholesale. The "god-sent troops" that have committed occasional murders in highest places are tired of "occasional" murders, and decided to wipe out the Japanese cabinet in an air raid with bombs, destroy the financial district of Tokyo, assassinate hundreds of industrial and financial leaders and "re-establish imperial despotism."

The burning of buildings to put the throne and Tokyo in a state of chaos was part of the plan.

Sir Malcolm Campbell, who took his giant English-built automobile to the smooth surface of the Great Salt Desert, west of Salt Lake City, and drove the car faster than 300 miles an hour, returns in New York advising motorists to "drive carefully."

Sir Malcolm, who has surpassed every speed record on the surface of the earth, selects the right place for speeding. At home he belongs to English organizations established to promote safety.

Sir James Jeans, British astronomer and physicist, whose "The Mysterious Universe" and other books you should read, has changed his mind about the age of the universe, and, like Professor Einstein, when he changes his mind he tells you.

He thinks the universe is about 10,000,000,000,000 or ten trillions of years old. That is a long time to Sir James Jeans and us, but, for all Jeans or anybody else knows, it may mean less than one hour in the life of some "super-universe."

Hitler, talking to his army about "iron discipline," blames Christianity and the Hohenzollerns for the rise of Communism that "I crushed when I came to power." Whether he crushed it or not remains to be seen.

A sailor from an American ship is locked up in Germany for humming "The Internationale," Communist hymn, and making the hymn worse by saying something unpleasant about Hitler.

Palmetto, Ga. reports negro tenant farmers selling their salt pork and eating chicken instead, because prices for pork are higher than for chicken. The drought, lack of feed, and the professor who invented the idea of killing minkina pigs before the little pigs were born are highly appreciated by Georgia's "hog raisers."

Washington Digest

National Topics Interpreted
By WILLIAM BRUCKART
NATIONAL PRESS BLDG. WASHINGTON, D. C.

Washington.—When President Roosevelt entered the White House March 4, 1933, every dollar of federal money that was expended was accounted for and the vouchers reviewed by the general accounting office. J. Raymond McCarl, comptroller general of the United States, occupied and still occupies an independent position in the accountings he directed and the reviews that were made under the budget and accounting law. But with the arrival of the New Deal and the crisis in government and the nation arising from the depression, scores of new laws were enacted, new agencies of government were created and billions of dollars were appropriated, the bulk of it being spent without reference to the accounting act or the bureau of the budget. Congress, under White House direction, did not make these new agencies or their spending accountable to the comptroller general.

Check on Spending

It was almost two years before President Roosevelt saw fit to make any of the emergency agencies, the alpha-numeric soup, amenable to the general accounting office. Consequently, millions upon millions of dollars were spent and only the spending agencies knew whether they were spent in accordance with law. Now, however, things have changed. Late last winter, the President began extending the broad wings of the general accounting office over emergency agencies and has continued to do so until, only the other day, the last of these were made responsible to the comptroller general. Thus an independent governmental unit—one with no axes to grind—again is in a position to say whether federal money is being spent as congress directed and in a manner which the taxpayers have the right to demand.

This spending of money in gigantic amounts always breeds suspicion. It causes people to inquire, whatever the form of government may be or whatever political party may be in control, whether there is waste or graft, whether the then office holders are feathering their own nests, and many another question of the like. "It was true in the case of the New Deal. Observers here in Washington constantly were receiving information alleging that this individual or that had been displaying signs of unusual prosperity; that rumors were afloat concerning graft and crookedness in one agency or another and that "somebody ought to expose" the goings-on with respect to a named department of government. It was not an unusual circumstance because in every administration we here in Washington who attempt to see and to hear as much as we can, get the same kind of reaction. Only, it seemed to have been worse this time and well it may have been because the amount of money made available to President Roosevelt and his subordinates was so much larger. It is my belief, however, that there has not been more of this intangible thing called graft in government in the present administration than in most others. There has been some crookedness because there have been court convictions of some officials but I expect when and if the future lays bare all facts concerning the present administration and its handling of the vast sums of money available to it, it will be disclosed that most of the New Deal officials have been honest in their disbursement of funds. Their friends may have profited but, if they have, that is just a repetition of an old story, a circumstance always developing in a government managed under the two party system. To the victors always go the spoils.

If Mr. Roosevelt has been able to keep down straight-out crookedness, he is to be commended. It will remove from the forthcoming campaign some of the mud slinging that really has no place in national politics. But, while the President is entitled to commendation for the attempts at honest disbursement of funds, I hear more and more criticism of the way the money has been spent. Indeed, it appears now that the vast expenditures by the administration are likely to be as much of a campaign issue as is his proposal to alter the Constitution to fit New Deal plans.

Criticize Spending

Every one knows that when an individual's pocketbook is touched, he rises in revolt. By the time the next election comes around individuals who have had their pocketbooks touched rather forcibly by national and state and local taxes of an increased amount. Thus, it is easy to see how the criticism of Roosevelt's spending is growing and can continue to grow. The government has been pushed ten or twelve billion more in debt and the end is not in sight, despite the fact that Mr. Roosevelt has indicated on several occasions lately that he proposes to curtail federal expenditures except for emergency purposes. Those announcements and any future declarations he may make are not going to soften the antagonistic feeling that people have for any public official who wastes money whether the motives be proper or improper. From this point, one may look into the crystal of the 1936 campaign and it takes no stretch of the imagination to visualize what a pounding the New Deal opposition will give the Roosevelt administration on this question of spending.

When Mr. Roosevelt began spending, he declared it was justified because hundreds of thousands of citizens were starving. His next pronouncement on this subject by way of explaining continued expenditure was that if the government spent freely, it would serve as a priming of the economic pump; that the circulation of federal money would allow industry to sell and that industry would replace by manufacture the things sold. That, too, brought little or no result. Then we entered the current stage where the spending was to be closely supervised and only projects that held promise of actually developing manufacture and retail selling would be approved and financed by federal money. It is regrettable but it is a fact that almost nothing has come of this program. And to make matters worse, lately, Secretary Ickes, public works administrator, and Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins have locked horns on the bulk of the projects on which federal money was to be used.

It is not strange that these two men should differ. Mr. Hopkins, being a trained, professional, welfare worker, sees things only from the standpoint of the individual who needs food. Mr. Ickes has a conception of federal spending that embraces the use of money in ways designed to start the great industries in motion. He figures that if these industries get going, they will employ workers; the workers will spend their wages and the retailers will profit thereby and, as the retailers sell from their shelves, they seek replacements from the manufacturers. The controversy between Mr. Hopkins and Mr. Ickes, therefore, is not one to be settled by compromise or by soft words. In fact, it may never be settled until one or the other gets out of his place in the government.

Break for Taxpayers

The importance of the Ickes-Hopkins row to the reader of this column, however, lies largely in the fact that the particular reader is a taxpayer. The connection is simply this: the last congress appropriated $1,880,000,000 for use by the administration in public works and relief. If all of that sum were spent the public debt would be increased by that amount because internal revenue taxes are insufficient to offset more than the ordinary government expenditures. Therefore, if all of this money is not spent, and it cannot be spent if the Ickes-Hopkins dispute continues to hold back administration plans, then the taxpayers will have just that much less of a government debt to meet through this payment of their taxes.

So the President's order placing all administrative agencies under the general accounting office to see that their spending is honestly done and the developments within the administration over a difference in policy must be taken together as a break for the taxpayer.

Potato Control

Agriculture adjustment administration officials are about ready to present to the farmers of this country a detailed plan for control of potato production. It will provide means for boosting the incomes of the potato farmers something more than 100 per cent, and will increase the cost of this item of food to consumers by a proportionate amount, of course. Conferences soon will be held between the AAA and representatives of farmers' organizations to work out phases of the plan requiring farmer approval. Various thoughts arise if one reflects upon potato control. First, control of potato production marks the fourteenth agricultural crop brought under regimentation and it presents, probably, the toughest of all of them in the matter of enforcing its provisions.

Adoption of the potato control program represents attainment of a point in the life of the AAA where one step has led to another until control of potatoes was essential, or the whole plan of crop control hops. It will be recalled that the declared purpose of the AAA at the beginning was only for the control of cotton. Land withheld from cotton then was planted to tobacco and tobacco had to be controlled; when tobacco was controlled, and the land withdrawn, farmers in some sections turned to peanuts and peanuts had to be controlled.

I understand the AAA is considerably worried about the job of enforcing the potato control law. That law provides compulsion against overproduction in the form of a tax club—a tax of 45 cents a bushel. In addition, there are penalties of an amazingly severe kind—$1,000 fine for the first offense and imprisonment for not more than a year for the second.

JELLY IS BETTER WHEN PREPARED IN SMALL LOTS

"Make jelly in small lots. Use a large, flat-bottomed saucepan. Carry the entire process through promptly."

An ideal jelly, they say, has a bright color, delicate flavor, and a translucent texture. It holds its shape when turned out on a plate, but quivers when the plate is moved.

Such jellies cannot be produced in wholesale amounts. When extracting the juice, it is easiest to prepare and handle about 6 quarts of currants or berries or 8 pounds of apples or grapes at a time.

In cooking the juice and sugar together it is important to reach as rapidly as possible the point where the sirup will jelly. This is the reason a large, flat-bottomed saucepan is best—evaporation takes place more rapidly from a broad surface.

It sometimes is better to use more than one drip bag. If there is a large amount of fruit on hand, a fresh lot can be prepared and cooking started as soon as the first lot has finished dripping.

SYNOPSIS

Theodore Gatlin adopts a baby, "Penelope," in an effort to solve his matrimonial troubles. But his wife has never wanted her, and their affairs end in the divorce court.

CHAPTER VIII—Continued

This was too much. Lanny put her arms around him and kissed him on each cheek.

"And that's a seal that'll get by, too," Dan was embarrassed. Lanny was, too—so she took a hasty departure.

The two men stared after her, admiration in their eyes. "A d-d fine woman, that. None finer," said McNamara.

"Why don't you marry her?" The suggestion popped out of Doctor Burt as suddenly as it had occurred to him.

"Now, there's an idea," McNamara mumbled dazedly. "How long have you been mulling it over?"

"Subconsciously, since you entered the office. I caught a gleam in Lanny's eyes—and when she kissed you, the subconscious crystallized into the conscious."

"I'll think it over," McNamara said. "You'll make up your mind now. And I can rather be a bachelor than a disappointed lover."

"Tell you what to do, Mac," Stephen advised. "Send her a nice photograph of yourself. If she puts it in a silver frame you may proceed with confidence."

"How will I know, my boy?" "If it's in a silver frame on the dressing table in her bedroom, it'll be a cinch."

"How'll I get into her bedroom, you blockhead?" "I'll steal her latchkey and have a duplicate made. Then you can investigate."

McNamara rose and held out his hand. "Tis a pity, Stephen, my boy, you aren't in my detective bureau. Good night."

The annual parade of the police force was but a week distant, and during that week Dan lived entirely on orange juice and spent his nights in a Turkish bath. As a result he dropped eight pounds off his northern elevation.

When the prints were delivered to him, he sent them all to Lanny with a note saying: "Now that we are both in the same crooked conspiracy, I thought you might be interested in having the latest photograph of the biggest crook of them all."

The following day Stephen Burt sent him a key, and the following afternoon McNamara let himself into Lanny's house and discovered one of the photos on her dressing table—and in a silver frame! Another print in a gold frame appeared in her drawing room.

"Holy Moses!" he soliloquized. "I'm in for it now! God help me, there's no escape!"

CHAPTER IX

Upon his return to his office McNamara found in his mail a photograph of Lanny, indorsed: "To dear old Dan—from his partner in crime—Lanny." While he was gazing upon it and telling himself how little justice the portrait did the beloved subject Stephen telephoned, demanding that he come to the office.

Lanny was in tears. "I've just had another visit from Mrs. Merton, Dan," Stephen began. "It seems that after two years of inactivity, during which time she had elected to believe Penelope Gatlin dead, she has developed a crazy notion to prove it. She wants to get Penelope's fortune."

"You questioned her about her daughter?" "Yes, but she doesn't know it," said Stephen. "I hypnotized her first and spent an hour questioning her, and it appears that this morning she visited your captain of detectives and asked him to throw out a dragnet to locate Penelope Gatlin. She brought him some snapshots of the girl—told him her real name—all about her money—the girl's habits and peculiarities—everything. When I'd discovered that Penelope is an escaped convict, they will immediately deport her and Flynn will meet her at Hoboken."

"But can't you do anything about it, Dan?" Lanny pleaded.

"Nothing! Flynn and Angelotti are on the trail officially now." He stared at Lanny tragically. "I'm out of the picture now and can do nothing but advise you. Send two cables—one to Nance Belden in Paris and the other to Penelope Gatlin at the same address. Say: 'Come at once—Lanny dying—cable name vessel on which leaving,' and sign it 'Stevr.'"

"I'll meet her at the dock," Stephen decided. "I'm due in New York next week."

"You'll do nothing of the sort," said Dan. "I'll send that convict in my house." He shuddered and grimaced in his distress. "I could handle the wop with money, but Flynn has sworn an oath! And because I've made a monkey out of him he'll keep it. He'd rather make a monkey out of me now than acquire great riches—and if I'm broke, most likely the captain of detectives will step into my shoes, and Flynn will stand a good chance of becoming captain of detectives. Oh, murderation, Lanny darling, have you a little whisky in the house? I'm faint, so I an."

"You're suffering from heart trouble, you egg," Lanny cried savagely. "Yes! A weak heart, a soft heart, a human heart."

"Send that cable," he roared. "Yes, get busy, Lanny," Stephen urged. "The bird of time has but a little way to flutter—and the wretched fowl is on the way."

After Dan McNamara had left his office, Doctor Stephen Burt gazed with mild disapproval upon Lanny.

"Unlike you and Dan McNamara," he said, "I dislike having the peaceful tenor of my life disturbed."

"This intrigue is myrrh and incense to me, Stevie."

"I know it. You and Dan love a fight for its own sweet sake, but I do not. I have a particular aversion to grand jury indictments, and it is a possibility you and your boy friend have let me in for."

"Fiddlesticks!" "Lanny, I'll be angry with you in a minute. Now, listen to me, and whatever you do, do not talk back. Dan McNamara has run out on us. I mean you. He's through. Dan's rattled. If he hadn't been he'd never have ordered the sending of such a fool cablegram."

"Dan McNamara knows his way about," Lanny defended. "He's more than nine years old."

"So do I, Lanny. It will be highly dangerous to send that cablegram. How is she to know it isn't a message to decoy her back to the penitentiary? If she receives it while she's Penelope Gatlin, she is extremely liable to cable for confirmation before acting on it. That would mean a delay of not less than twenty-four hours. On the other hand, if she is Nance Belden when she receives it, she will leave Paris openly and walk right into the hands of the New York police. I'm not much of a get along without her, although the going will be pretty skiddy. But of course she'll marry you if you ask her. Lanny never proffers her friendships or her loves on the half shell. And there's still time, my boy, still time."

"Not if she goes to Paris."

"I've heard of police chiefs securing a leave of absence for six months."

"I couldn't take a six-months' honeymoon to Paris, lad. I've saved eight thousand dollars—"

"What? You a chief of police and only worth eight thousand dollars?" "God help me, boy, I'm honest."

Stephen roared his merriment. "Why, you great jackass, I know that. I wouldn't let every man have Lanny. But don't you worry about money, Lanny is a business woman. She's managed me since I was a boy, and that includes my finances. I'm loaded up with good dividend paying stocks. You know, I could be a mighty good friend to the man who would be good to Lanny."

"I'll consider the proposition," the cautious Celt replied, "although I'd enough to put Lanny in tears, I awakened Mrs. Merton and sent her away happy, but with this command firmly planted in her subconscious mind—she must not think of the name Penelope Gatlin. When I awakened her I asked her if she had an adopted daughter. She replied, surprised, that she had. I then asked her the name of this adopted daughter—and a look of terror came over her face. For the life of her she couldn't think of the name and begged me not to mention it if I knew it."

"It's a pity you didn't think of doing that before she went to the detective bureau with her information," McNamara cried, and called up the Security Trust company.

"The captain of detectives has put Flynn and Angelotti on the case," he announced cheerfully when he had hung up, "and Flynn has already been to the bank, making inquiries. When he presented his credentials the cashier showed him everything. They'll identify that girl as Nance Belden, trace her to Paris as readily as I did, and the French government will be notified detective, but tonight I'm a better one than that McNamara idiot."

"He's not an idiot. He's one of the finest men I ever knew."

"Keep quiet," he ordered severely. "You ditch my train of thought."

He drew a sheet of paper toward him and commenced writing, while Lanny gazed at him. Presently he sat up and read:

"Grave danger stop beat it some other country traveling by motor stop upon arrival cable address stop if need funds will cable them stop leave Paris establishment going concern stop unless out for walk and disappear stop unless these instructions followed you leave trail for persecutors to follow."

"Mac."

He looked up. "How do those instructions strike you?"

"Use the Soft Pedal 'Don't try to make too much noise in de world,' said Uncle Eben. 'A good engineer sin' gwinter use up all his steam blowin' de whistle.'"

JOHN (THE MINISTER AND HIS PEOPLE)

LESSON TEXT—Third Epistle of John.

GOLDEN TEXT—Beloved, imitate not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doeth good is of God: he that doeth evil hath not seen God.—III John 11.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Letter From John.

JUNIOR TOPIC—With Ink and Pen. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Making Our Church Friendly. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—A Friendly and Hospitable Church.

I. Personal History.

1. He was the son of Zebedee and brother of the apostle James (Matt. 4:21). The implication is that his father was in easy circumstances, for he had boats and hired servants (Mark 1:19, 20).

2. He was a disciple of John the Baptist (John 1:35-40). This was a most valuable training, for John was a man sent from God (John 1:9). The fiery eloquence of the Baptist no doubt profoundly impressed him.

3. He was called to follow Jesus (Matt. 4:21, 22). He was first called into the relationship of a disciple. As a disciple he came to know Jesus personally.

4. Appointed as an apostle (Matt. 10:2). Having been tested as a disciple, he now is appointed as an apostle (Mark 3:13-19; Luke 6:13-16).

II. His Character.

1. He was reserved. That is, he was decidedly reticent about himself. He speaks of himself as "the disciple whom Jesus loved" and "that other disciple."

2. He possessed a rare gift of penetrative insight. The truths set forth in his writings did not come as a result of reasoned judgment, but of penetrative insight. He was indeed a seer.

3. He was thoroughly masculine. Christian art does him a thorough injustice in portraying him as effeminate. He was intense, vehement in his temperament. He was truly a "son of thunder," as Christ declared (Mark 3:17).

III. Some Instances of Behavior.

1. Intolerance of irregular service (Luke 9:40, 50). There was a certain disciple who seems to have been intelligently witnessing and God had honored his testimony with power to cast out devils. John forbade him because he was not working with them.

2. His righteous indignation displayed (Luke 9:51-56). When Jesus had set his face toward Jerusalem some Samaritans refused to extend hospitality to him. This treatment of his Master aroused the anger of John and James that they desired to call down fire from heaven to burn them up. This action grew out of John's great love for his Master.

3. John's care of Christ's mother (John 19:25-27). From the cross Jesus beheld his mother and committed her to the tender care of John. The intense love that he had for his Lord would move him to express the tenderest affection for his mother.

IV. His Third Epistle.

This is one of the three private Epistles of the New Testament and gives us a look into the early church life and also a picture of the aged apostle. This Epistle consists of the following parts:

1. The salutation (vv. 1-4). This letter was addressed to Gaius, with the fervent wish that his temporal prosperity and physical health would be measured by the measure of the increase of his spirituality. His supreme joy was to hear that his children were walking in the truth.

2. His praise for Gaius (vv. 5-8). This praise was for the hospitality which Gaius showed toward some traveling evangelists. In spite of the opposition of a certain prominent member of the church, Gaius received these preachers into his home. To receive God's messengers into our homes and send them forth on their journey is a deed worthy of God. One of the best ways to help the truth is to show hospitality to its messengers.

3. His condemnation of Diotrephes (vv. 9, 10). The sib of this man was his over-weening self-confidence and arrogance. He loved to have the place of pre-eminence; therefore, for that reason he refused to receive these traveling evangelists and expelled them into their homes. He even maliciously attacked John the beloved pastor. His spirit of pride moved him to acts of tyranny toward others.

4. His commendation of Demetrius (v. 12). Demetrius was perhaps the bearer of this letter. John gives the assurance that Demetrius was of good report among all men. His life of good deeds proved that he was in fellowship with God.

Joys

We should publish our joys and conceal our griefs.

The worse the passage, the more welcome the port.

Joy and sorrow are next-door neighbors.

Joy which we cannot share with others is only half enjoyed.

Enthusiasm

To have true enthusiasm, we must have faith, assurance, hope, reliance and confidence in our own loyalty and ability.

PRAIRIE SERPENT

Pollack, S. D., refuses to be outdone by Loch Ness, Scotland, and Vancouver, B. C., with their sea serpents. It has a "prairie serpent." Joe Heckelsmiller, doing his spring plowing, first saw it leisurely crawling through the grass with its head about two feet above the ground. Its track, said to be as large as that of a balloon tire, led to a lake. Ed Kramlich, G. L. Koch and Ben Miller of Mound City reported seeing the serpent swimming in Lake Campbell. They said it had a large flat head a foot in diameter and the body 16 to 22 feet in length.

Any erroneous reflection upon the reputation or standing of any individual, firm or corporation, that may appear in the columns of The News will be gladly corrected when called to our attention.

LET'S USE COMMON SENSE

Some folks don't seem to have as much sense as an Angora goat about government affairs.

For instance: They think everybody over fifty or sixty years of age should draw a pension of $50 to $75 monthly from the government.

The little matter as to where the government is to get the money does not seem to trouble them in the least.

Now, of course, as to the Federal government, it could issue paper money in unlimited quantities and pay the pensioners $100 per month or $500 per month or any amount per month, if it chose to do so. But what would these dollars be worth?
The State, however, has no such power. At least it has never undertaken the function of issuing money.
It must get its funds by taxation.
The people must pay the taxes.

At least three old-age pension bills are pending in the legislature at Austin. One provides for the appropriation of $70,000,000 to pay pensions to all qualified persons over 65 years of age during the remainder of the present biennium.
Another of the bills provides for an appropriation of $40,000,000 for the first year. This bill estimates that there are 265,000 persons in Texas more than 65 years old who are in need of financial assistance.

Now, there are possibly 1,500,000 families in Texas, including Negroes and Mexicans. At least a third of these pay practically no property taxes. It is probable that there are far less than one million actual property tax payers in the state. But assuming this to be the correct figure, each tax payer would be taxed an average of $40.00 a year in addition to the other taxes he must pay in order to take care of this pension bill.

We believe that every person over sixty-five years of age who is in needy circumstances should be paid a pension, but it should not be paid to those who do not need it.

Those bills pending in the legislature should be re-written or slashed till their authors would not know them before being passed.

PATRIOTISM THAT DEMANDS A PRICE

When the proposal was before the legislature to appropriate several million dollars of the people's money to stage a big centennial celebration somewhere in Texas, the News was not very friendly to the proposal. We felt that at a time when the people were already unable to pay their taxes and hundreds of thousands of them were in the bread line, it was a cruel injustice to heap additional taxes upon them merely for the purpose of staging a show.

However, after the proposition went over and the money was appropriated, we fell in line and have been giving some publicity to the Centennial, and we hope that it may be a decided success. We have had little sympathy for those interests and even for those newspapers that have become disgruntled because some of the pie incident to the staging of the show has not been coming their way. We have felt that as a matter of patriotism, the people and the newspapers should give the project their support.

But if this is the attitude that should be assumed by the newspapers and the general public, it should also be the attitude of those who have been chosen as managers of the enterprise. We do not contend that they should devote their entire time to it without remuneration but they certainly should not demand big, fat salaries.

A few days ago Walter D. Cline resigned as managing director. He claims that he was forced out. He had been receiving the measly little old salary of $25,000 per year. They wanted to curtail his duties somewhat and cut his salary to $15,000, which Cline says is less than he can work for. Otto Herold of Dallas has been given Cline's job at a salary of $10,000. "Strict economy will be the key-note of the new set-up," it is announced.

Now a few months ago, these Centennial managers, some of whom were drawing salaries that would look like mountains of gold to the ordinary country newspaper man, announced they had no money to spend for advertising of the Centennial in the weekly newspapers of Texas. They expected these newspapers as a matter of patriotism to give much of their time and space in advertising the big show. Consequently, some of these newspapers immediately became as cold as an iceberg toward the whole Centennial proposition. In view of the above facts, can they be blamed? We think not.

However, the News will continue to give publicity to the big show without money and without price.

Let's go to the polls tomorrow, folks, and roll up an overwhelming vote for our neighbor and fellow citizen G. H. Nelson. He can be of invaluable service to this section of the state in the capitol at Austin.

51,200 CORPSES

In the eighteen months that ended June 20, 1935, 51,200 persons met death in motor crashes in this country. More than 1,300,000 were injured.

The bare statistics, thought provoking as they are, cannot give an adequate picture of the horror of major automobile accidents. Figures cannot express broken bones—mangled bodies—crushed skulls—obliterated features—decapitated bodies—and all the rest of the results of fatal motor crashes. Nor can figures picture the tragedy of par-entless children and broken-hearted dependents of the victims of recklessly driven cars.

In a recent article in Reader's Digest, F. C. Furness wrote: "A first-class massacre is only a question of scale and numbers—seven corpse are no deader than one.
Each shattered man, woman or child who went to make up the 36-000 corpses checked up last year had to die a personal death."

That is worth thinking about next time you take the wheel of your car.
Driving at excessive speeds may, if you get away with it, save you ten minutes in a fifty-mile run. If you don't get away with it, it may mean your death, or the death of an innocent party. Passing on hills and curves, weaving through thick traffic and taking other chances may save you a minute or two more—or it may mean a crushed body on the pavement, its bones twisted and broken, its eyes staring and sightless.

It's up to you—to everyone who drives a car. Is recklessness worth its horrible cost?—Industrial News Review.

Just how many of those 51,200 corpse and those 1,300,000 injuries are due to liquor will never be known. But remember, Mr. Driver, that just a few drinks of liquor may mean your death and the death of others traveling the highways.

SHOOT 'EM.

The drunken driver must go. No one has a right to drive a car on the roads when he is drunk. A man who does it is more dangerous than a mad dog or a hogwild bull. There should be no closed season for shooting drunken drivers. Everyone should have the right to shoot them just the same as if they were lobo wolves.
They are public enemies, and should be treated as such.—Sterling City News-Record.

But Uncle Bill wants to license men to sell the stuff that makes men drunk. Men who sell the stuff sell it indiscriminately—to the confirmed drunkard as well as to the moderate drinker. They know that some of the men who buy it are going to get drunk. They know that some of these drunks are going to drive cars on the highways. They know that some of these drunken fools are going to have wrecks and kill somebody. If the drunken driver should be shot, what about the man that deliberately sells the stuff that makes drivers drunk? And what about the man that votes to license other men to sell the stuff that makes drivers drunk?

Now, Uncle Bill, we are not saying you should be shot; we are just asking you some questions.

A recent issue of the Ralls Banner came to us full of Lubbock ads.
That is one of the best ways in the world to bring local advertisers to their senses. You may argue with them all you wish, but they have their heads until hell ain't bigger than a chinch. But just put in a few "foreign" ads and then they'll acknowledge that even they, read the ads that they have contended people don't read. Then the local merchants actually begin to reason:
"Well, if it pays the Lubbock guys to advertise in our darned old local paper, maybe it would pay me."— Brownfield Herald.

A distressingly small number of Tahoka's business men are attending the weekly luncheon being served on Tuesdays at the American Legion Hall. Most towns the size of Tahoka have a chamber of commerce. Some of them also have some kind of luncheon club. Many have both. Tahoka has no chamber of commerce. The only organization through which the business men of the town can function cooperatively is this luncheon club. It is true that it is not turning the world upside down. But it has already accomplished some worth-while things. It possibly would have accomplished more if every business house in town had had a representative present each Tuesday. This club should be supported by the business men of Tahoka. It should be kept going, so as to be able to take care of various matters that are constantly arising and that are of interest to the town as a whole. Any town that assumes the attitude of dog-eat-dog, every fellow for himself and the devil take the hind-most, will never amount to a flip.

Come out to the luncheon next Tuesday and help to make the luncheon club a better club.

In all things what we most prize is novelty.—Ovid.

Lynn County Takes Second Place at South Plains Fair in H. D. Club Work

Lynn county won second place in the Women's Home Demonstration exhibits at the Panhandle-South Plains Fair this week. Lubbock county won first place, Lynn second, Lamb third, and Hockley fourth. More than 1000 home demonstration and 4-H club entries were recorded, according to Miss Hazel Bratley, county home demonstration agent of Lubbock county, who is superintendent of this department at the fair. "There were more entries in both divisions than ever before recorded," Miss Bratley stated. Lynn county women won eight first places, fifteen second places and three third places. Mrs. G. M. Reid of Tahoka was the outstanding woman exhibitor at the fair, according to Miss Sylvia Robb, winning more places than any other H. D. club woman. Lynn county 4-H girls also won five places.

Lynn county winners at the fair are given as follows

Old People's Service At Baptist Church

Recognition for that person oldest in service for Christ, that one who had lived longest in Lynn county, and that one who had attained the greatest age, was a feature of the beautiful and very impressive service held in the Baptist Church Friday morning for all the elderly people of the community.

The presentation of the awards—beautiful bouquets of roses—was made by Mrs. H. P. Cavness, president of the Baptist W. M. S., with appropriate remarks to each recipient. Mrs. A. S. Coughran received two bouquets, having been a Christian 75 years and having lived in Lynn county 35 years. Uncle Ben Rogers was awarded the roses for the oldest person present, being 83 years of age. Preceding the presenting of awards, a number of old-time gospel hymns were sung, and Rev. J. B. Rowan delivered a beautiful and impressive sermon on "The Healing Shadows."

Handshaking and the exchange of greetings and good wishes concluded the program, which was attended by 33 men and women 60 years of age or above, as follows: Uncle Ben Rogers, Mrs. A. S. Coughran, Mrs. L. J. Walker, Mrs. A. N. Thomas, W. C. Cowan, Mrs. W. C. Cowan, E. N. Weathers, Mrs. E. N. Weathers, Mrs. Martha Stroud, B. P. Barrington, Mrs. J. H. Drennon, Mrs. J. C. Clark, Mrs. N. J. Barton, Mrs. A. N. Hughes, Mrs. M. A. Tankersley, W. D. Smith, W. P. Bussell, G. W. Douthit, Mrs. M. C. Huffman, Mrs. J. S. Wells, Mother Finch, J. F. Stuart, Mr. Vale, Mrs. J. H. Nelms, Mrs. J. L. Craig, Mrs. Barnett, Mrs. M. C. Sherrod, Mrs. G. W. Douthit, D. T. Rogers, Mrs. G. E. Hogan, Mrs. A. A. Walker, W. M. Quarrels, E. I. Hill.

Of this number, the following had been Christians 65 years or over: Mrs. W. C. Cowan, Mrs. E. N. Weathers, Mrs. L. J. Walker, Uncle Ben Rogers, Mrs. A. N. Thomas, and Mrs. A. S. Coughran. Those who had lived in Lynn county 25 years or more were: Mrs. Barnett, Mrs. Stroud, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Weathers, Mrs. J. S. Wells, Mrs. M. C. Sherrod, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cowan, and Mrs. A. S. CHURCH OF CHRIST NOTES

The meeting at Southward closed last Sunday night with a full house and good interest. While there were no conversions we feel that much good was done.

We are all set for our revival which will begin Friday night. Brother Nelson will do the preaching and brother Caskey will lead the singing, both are capable men and we are expecting a great meeting. Everyone is invited.

The members are especially urged to be at their post of duty. Services morning and evening, beginning Sunday. A welcome awaits you at the friendly church. R. P. Drennon.

DR. GARVIN PREACHES AT METHODIST CHURCH

Dr. W. P. Garvin of Lubbock filled the pulpit at the Methodist Church Sunday morning, in the absence of Rev. H. C. Smith, the pastor.

Dr. Garvin is a very able speaker and brought a helpful message. Rev. H. C. Smith will be here Sunday. Let's give him a good hearing.

Choir rehearsal will be Thursday night this week. Come and help us; we need you.—Reporter.

4-H CLUB GIRL COMPLETES GOAL OF CO-OPERATOR

Melba Evans, 4-H club girl of South Ward, has completed the co-operator's goals in garden work, having put up 175 containers of vegetables and other foods. She is doing second year club work and is the chairman of her club. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Evans.

The following is a list of her canning achievements.

- 50 No. 2 cans of corn.
- 26 pints shelled butter beans.
- 10 pints cream peas.
- 6 quarts of black-eyed peas, one fourth snap and three-fourths shells.
- 10 quarts of snap beans.
- 19 1-2 quarts of tomatoes.
- 6 quarts of bread and butter pickles.
- 20 quarts of cucumber pickles.
- 12 quarts of peaches, canned.
- 16 half pints of peach jelly.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S RALLY AT NAZARENE CHURCH

There will be a Young People's Rally at the Nazarene Church in Tahoka, Saturday night and Sunday, according to Rev. J. C. Allen, the pastor. The evening services will begin at 7:45, and an all-day service will be held Sunday, beginning at 9:00 A. M. and closing at 4:00 P. M.

"Many interesting subjects regarding young people's work will be discussed by minister and layman," says the announcement. "Our Lamesa zone president, Rev. J. A. Gray, will have charge of the entire session."

"The public is invited to attend these services; bring a well-filled basket and enjoy the day together."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends for their great kindness and the assistance given us in the great bereavement that has come to us in the sudden and accidental death of our son and brother, John Grider. We shall ever remember your kindness with gratitude.—Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Grider and children.

Appropriate Huge Sum for South Plains Road Work

Next 15 Months To See Great Changes; Over Two Millions Of Dollars To Be Expended On Highway Improvements

"Out of the mud," a phrase which for the past decade has gone the rounds of 19 counties in district 5 of the Texas Highway department, will be much nearer "We're out of the mud" under present plans for improvements.

A total of $2,138,000 will be doled out within the next 15 months, to develop further a network of paved state roads within the South Plains region information from George M. Garrett, division highway engineer indicated.

The funds are to be derived from a number of sources: Works Projects highways, Works Progress Administration, Works Projects state, Federal Aid program, regular state aid.

Status To Change

Present status of 1,106 miles of highways under maintenance by the state at the present time, with 500.2 of that total paved, will show a considerable change.

By next spring, two highways traversing the span of the division will be completely paved.

Highway 7, from the south Garza county line to Farwell, in Farmer county, will be the first to be completely hardsurfaced. By November 25, the gap from Farwell to north Bailey county line will be hardsurfaced. In 25 more working days, Mr. Garrett said, the other gap in the road from north of Sudan almost to the Hockley county line, will be surfaced.

Plans for paving the two remaining gaps in Highway 9 by next spring have been made. By the middle of October 3.5 miles of the gap south of Lynn county line will be paved, and the remaining stretch to Tahoka is a WPA project. Bids for 7.8 miles of caliche base and asphalt preservative from Tahoka south will be taken Oct. 8, and the gap from there south to O'Donnell will be closed at a later date.

Other improvements to be made on highways within the next 15 months include: Highway 15, formerly highway 83, hard surfacing from Dawson county line to Lamesa, a WPA project; contract to be let within six months for grading, drainage structures and select base material from Lamesa through Seminole to New Mexico state line.

Highway 51, hard surfacing south of Brownfield to Wellman, a WPA project; hard surfacing from Well-

Lubbock Man Kills Brother

Lee Tubbs, a pioneer citizen of Lubbock county and residing a few miles west of the city of Lubbock, has been charged with the murder of his own brother, Jack Tubbs, the homicide having been committed soon after midnight last Friday night. The offense is alleged to have been committed with a shot gun.

The brothers, up till then o'clock that night, had been at the residence of a widow living on the farm of their aged father, Isham Tubbs. The widow stated that the men had been drinking but that they were not drunk when they left her residence in Lee Tubbs' car about ten o'clock. Lee Tubbs' married daughter said that her father appeared at her residence about 12:30 in a dazed or addled condition and asked her to go with him for his car. He soon left, taking a shot gun with him, and soon afterwards she heard two shots. Tubbs then went back to the residence of the widow and told her that he had killed his brother Jack.

The body of the slain man was found lying on a shot-gun, both barrels of which had been fired. There were evidences that a struggle had taken place in Lee Tubbs' car.

In addition to a number of brothers and sisters, the slain man left surviving him one son and a gray-haired father, 83 years of age, Isham Tubbs, the father, is an honored and highly respected citizen of Lubbock county. What a pity that he must now go down to his grave under the shadow of this terrible tragedy.

man to Gaines county line will be completed by Sept. 28; grading and drainage structures south of Dimmitt to Center in Lamb county; paving to be completed north of Brownfield to near Ropesville within the next week.

Highway 84 On List

Highway 84, hard surfacing through Garza county to Post under the WPA program; from Tahoka to west Terry county line, drainage structures, grading, select base materials, a WPA project; from Plains to New Mexico state line, a WPA project.

Highway 24, 10.5 miles of grading and drainage structures from Lubbock to Hockley county line, bids to be opened Oct. 8; 16.621 miles of caliche base from Lubbock county line to Leveland, a WPA project; 16.39 miles grading, drainage, hardsurfacing from Morton west to New Mexico state line, a WPA project.

Highway 207, 21.2 miles grading drainage structures from 4 miles from Ralls to Floydada, a WPA project.

Highway 214, 15 miles of grading and drainage from Cochran county line to Needmore, WPA project.

Highway 194, completion of survey and plans for grading and drainage structures from 4 miles northwest of Plainview in Hale county to 8 miles southeast of Dimmitt.

Highway 86, 7.6 miles of grading and drainage with select base material from Quitaque to Hall county line, a WPA project; from the sparock to Silverton, contract will be let within 45 days for hard surfacing; from Silverton to Swisher county line, surveying being completed for road bed; through Swisher county, constructing grading and drainage structures, a WPA project.

Highways improvements to be made under the WPA program will cost an estimated $1,050,000, providing labor for 1,220 men for the period of a year.

Other federal aid, works projects and state aid highways will be constructed under a contract program calling for expenditures of $1,088,000.—Lubbock Avalanche Journal.

Sealed proposals for constructing 7,880 miles of Caliche Base Course with Asphalt Base Preservative from 6,201 miles north of Dawson County line to Tahoka on Highway No. 9, covered by U. S. Works Program Highway Project No. WPH 613-B Control 68-3-2 in Lynn County, will be received at the State Highway Department, Austin, Texas, until 9:00 A. M., October 8th, 1935, and then publicly opened and read.

The attention of the bidders is directed to the required special provisions covering subletting or assigning the contract, the use of domestic materials, the selection of labor, hours and conditions of employment, required employment, methods of undertaking the work and violation of Special Provisions.

Except as otherwise specified, the minimum wages paid to all laborers, workmen or mechanics employed on this contract shall be Seventy-five (75c) cents per hour for "Skilled Labor," Forty-five (45c) cents per hour for "Intermediate Grade Labor," and Thirty (30c) cents per hour for "Unskilled Labor."

Attention is directed to the special provisions, included in the proposal to insure compliance with the requirement of House Bill No. 54 of the Forty-Third Legislature of the State of Texas.

Type of Laborer	Prevailing minimum Per Diem Wage Based on (8) Hour working day	Prevailing minimum Hourly wage Rate
Skilled labor	$6.00	.75
Intermediate
Grade Worker	3.60	.75
Unskilled Labor	2.40	.30

For the classification of particular position under the above types of Laborers, Workmen, or Mechanics, see the Required Special Provisions.

The above prevailing minimum wage rates shall govern on this contract. Overtime and legal holiday work shall be paid for at the regular governing rates.

A local employment agency from which the Contractor shall obtain employment list will be designated prior to the award of contract. Plans and specifications available at the office of G. M. Garrett, Division Engineer, Lubbock, Texas, and State Highway Department, Austin. Usual rights reserved. 6-2tc

TED H. ROGERS BABY DIES

Little Franklin D. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted H. Rogers died quite suddenly Saturday evening, five minutes after seven o'clock, in the Lubbock Sanitarium. Many friends and relatives were shocked and torn with grief as his little body was lowered beneath the sod. It is almost unbelievable that a child so loving and sweet should be snatched away so suddenly by the arms of death. Little Sonnie Boy stayed with us only thirteen months. He was one year and one month old Saturday, the day his little soul took flight. He was born into this world on the twenty first day of August 1934.

Funeral services were held in the Tahoka cemetery Sunday evening at three thirty by Rev. Dale of the Baptist church of Tahoka.

Surviving relatives of the family were Mr. and Mrs. Ted H. Rogers and little daughter Hazel John.

Preacher's Hair Tonic

PAIRED BY Plainview Lady
Says Mrs. J. T. Deacon, "Preacher's Hair Tonic has cleansed my scalp of dandruff and chronic, terrifying itching, a form of Eczema. Cannot praise it too highly as I have used most everything with no relief until I used this famous tonic." Positively restores gray hair. Use and tell your friends. Sold by all Good Drug Stores, Barber Shops or Beauticians.—Thomas Bros. Drug Co., Tahoka Drug.

For Bad Feeling Due to Constipation

Get rid of constipation by taking Black-Draught as soon as you notice that bowel activity has slowed up or you begin to feel sluggish. Thousands prefer Black-Draught for the refreshing relief it has brought them. Mrs. Ray Mullins, of Lufe, Ark., writes: "My husband and I both take Theford's Black-Draught and find it splendid for constipation, biliousness, and the disagreeable, aching, fired feeling that comes from this condition." With reference to Syrup of Black-Draught, which this mother gives her children, she says: "They like the taste and it gave such good results."

Lady Took Cardui When Weak, Nervous

"I can't say enough for Cardui if I talked all day," enthusiastically writes Mrs. L. H. Caldwell, of Statesville, N. C. "I have used Cardui at intervals for twenty-five years," she adds. "My trouble in the beginning was weakness and nervousness. I read of Cardui in a newspaper and decided right then to try it. It seemed before I had taken half a bottle of Cardui I was stronger and was soon up and around."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

Frock That Puts Accent on Youth

PATTERN 9343

9343

Always a good beginning, this youthful tailored collar on the simple yoke makes a demure foil for the dainty softness of the bodice. The prettiness of the chic frock is furthered with a graceful flare sleeve—or it may puff, if you prefer. The results are so satisfying you'll find it real fun to run up this little dress in a dainty printed silk or cotton. A soft handkerchief linen would be pleasing, too, and so easy to top. Buttons and belt can pick up a color in the print and make a striking accent.

Pattern 9343 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 18 requires 3 1/2 yards 20-inch fabric. Complete, diagrammed sew chart included.

SEND FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, the STYLE NUMBER and SIZE.

Send your order to the Sewing Circle Pattern Department, 222 West Eighteenth Street, New York, N. Y.

DOAN'S PILLS

As to College Wardrobe, Here's What

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

A LOGICAL way to assemble the all important "back-to-school" wardrobe is to divide it into two types—the "musts" which are absolutely necessary, and the "would like to have," which make clothes a thrill and a venture.

In the "musts" smart shirtwaist frocks in the new silk weaves should alternate with sweater and skirt outfits. We speak particularly of "new silk weaves" because that's what they really are—"new." Handsome, practical, dependable-wearing silks which have the "look" of wool, are the last word in smart fabrics. Don't overlook, especially, the new spun silks which have a rustic-looking rough-surfaced texture. These noil silks, as they are sometimes called, are practically crushless, and though they look like wool they are much cooler for early fall days and steam-heated class rooms. They launder nicely, too.

The girl seated in the little inset picture is off to class in a strictly tailored frock of plaid noil silk which, to look at, you would think was wool. The dress buttons down the back and has cuffs and Peter Pan collar of pique. The shirtwaist dress is full of bright ideas this fall. Round yokes, jeweled or fancy metal buttons, fur Peter Pan collars glorify the new silk models. Skirts have silk pleats; box pleats placed just above the knee all around are new and girlish looking.

The two-piece type of dress vies with one-piece styles. Perfect for campus wear is a two-piece frock as pictured to the left in the illustration. It is made of one of the chic tie-silks which are having such a pronounced vogue. This one is wine color with green dots. The blouse has flap pockets and the skirt buttons all the way down the front.

From-trotting daughters can really let themselves "go" on the subject of clothes. They can be glamorous and exciting and sophisticated and gloriously young, too, in satin, silk velvet or one of the new metal silks. This year's evening frocks go in for mated bodices and waistlines, wide belts or sashes and fullness spreading gently from the waist. Bodices are tricky. Sometimes they are merely a straight band of the fabric held up by camisole or "shoestring" straps. Again they are built up to cover the front of the throat in elaborately twisted, draped and winged treatments, with low-back décolletage.

Girls adore black. Let your daughter wear black in gleaming slipper satin or black velvet and then tell her to have her beau send her flowers for her hair instead of her corsage. If she wants to be swish, Daughter will be very grand in a black slipper prom frock as pictured. It has the high-in-front, winglike effect above mentioned, contrasting the low-cut décolletage at the back. The shiny belt is all-over-stitched, which is the latest wrinkle for belts.

If your young hopeful is going to a co-ed college, she will want a few soft dressmaker-type afternoon dresses. For tea dancing nothing could be more ideal than a black silk-satin ensemble. Don't merely ask the salesman for "satin." For satisfaction in wear and appearance specify silk satin and insist upon it. The dress should have a cowl neck—that means glittering clips to daughter. The jacket should be cut on the classic lines of her sports jacket, with patch pockets and notched lapels. The skirt should come just below the break of the calf. Worn with one of the new baby bonnets of black silk velvet with ostrich plume tips, daughter will be devastating to her date.

EVENING ENSEMBLE

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Velvet for evening, velvet for daytime, velvet, velvet, velvet! All signs point to a velvet season. The evening ensemble pictured is of deep red stiff velvet—a Chanel model. Luxurious marten collar and cuffs add to the glory of this superb creation. Note the button fastening of the gown. Many of the Paris dresses show a down-the-front button closing. Often on sheer or lightweight materials dozens upon dozens of tiny buttons are placed as close as possible and the effect is utterly feminine and charming.

FASHION SIGNALS GREEN FOR AUTUMN

Yellow, the sun's own color, is usually a summer favorite. This year has been no exception; yellow with brown, yellow with black and yellow with green is yellow still. This brings to mind that green is being waged on as the follow-up color.

When utterly satiated with the idea of current fashions it's a relief to be able to peer into the future. On a recent peek behind the scenes the discovery was made that green looked good to many manufacturers whose fall lines are in preparation. And why not? It's one of the Renaissance colors and a change from the inevitable browns, reds and rust. Each autumn brings a change also from the blues in which we have been steeped all summer.

There are a number of likely looking green woolen dresses ready to make their shop window debuts. Some of them are sure to win applause. It won't be long now before shopping throngs will flatten their noses against the plate glass front which shields the cloth-clad mannequin from the street.

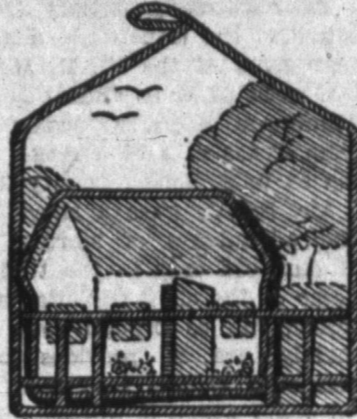

Green, White Jade Having Tremendous Vogue in Paris

Green and white jade is having a tremendous vogue of popularity in Paris now. One-third of every jewelry shop window is devoted to fascinating carved necklaces, pins, clips and earrings, white fat rounded bracelets of uncarved jade are matched by carved jade rings. Knick-knacks of carved jade such as small, fat Buddhas on jet stands, ugly little monkeys and awkward elephants are made in green, and white jade and vary in size from tiny miniatures to statuettes of 8 or 10 inches in height.

Fall Fabrics
Materials used by smart designers for evening clothes include velvet, lame, metal fabrics, "cellophane" mixtures, brocades and lace.

PEASANT COTTAGE POT HOLDER SET

HITCH-HIKING FLY SPREADS DISEASE

The common house fly is a hitch hiker. However, the fly doesn't bother to jerk a thumb and ask a ride; it flies into moving autos or even trains or airplanes without permission and often travels hundreds of miles before leaving its chosen vehicle.

This habit of flies traveling great distances on other power than their own has made local fly eradication campaigns less effective than the campaigners hoped. Cases have been found where a fly carried disease germs on its legs and body for miles and infected people in the community where it settled. No previous cases of the disease were in existence in the new community and health authorities could find no other source of infection than flies.

Repeated warnings of physicians and health officials have apparently failed to instill a proper fear of the house fly in the average mind. However, a more thorough knowledge of the habits of a fly would increase the respect for this tiny insect, according to authorities on the subject.

Decent cleanliness in any home requires protection against the menace of flies. Whether a fly is home-born or a hitch-hiking visitor, he is a danger. Fortunately, an effective fly-killing program can be conducted in any home by the use of a reliable fly spray containing an ample quantity of Pyrethrin, a product derived from Pyrethrum flowers, which is death to flies, when sprayed in a fine mist.

LION WOULD LEARN

"Time after time," said the big game hunter, "the lion sprang at me, and time after time as he leaped I threw myself forward and he went harmlessly over my head. Eventually the animal gave up the attempt to fell me and trotted off into the jungle. The following day I came to a cliff overlooking the sea, and there on the beach I saw the same lion. I stood transfixed at its antics."

"What was he doing?"

"What was he doing?" said the hunter, dramatically. "Perhaps you won't believe me, but that lion was practicing short jumps."—Tit-Bits.

"I've discovered Calumet's big, new 10¢ can!"

"No more 'by-guess-and-by-golly' baking in this house now!"

says Mrs. Owen H. Fleming, 1215 Judson Ave., Evanston, Ill.

Mrs. Fleming was one of the first women to get the big, new 10¢ can of Calumet, the Double-Acting Baking Powder.

"No need for any woman to take chances with her baking now," she says. "That new 10¢ can of Calumet certainly means that the very best can be bought at a bargain."

Ask your grocer to show you the new, bigger 10¢ Calumet can!

A SIMPLE TWIST... and the Easy-Off Top lifts off. No rolling, no broken finger-cakes!

WHY DOES CALUMET give such astonishing "baking luck?" Why is Calumet different from other baking powders? Because Calumet combines two distinct leavening actions. A quick one for the rising bowl. A slower one for the oven... And Calumet's famous double-action is so perfectly balanced and controlled that it produces perfect leavening—every time.

All Calumet prices are lower! Calumet is now selling at the lowest prices in its history. The Full-Pound Can now sells regularly for only 25¢. And if you want a smaller size—get the new, big 10¢ can—a lot of good baking for a dime—with Calumet, the Double-Acting Baking Powder.

Show Importance Of Trench Silos

Approximately twenty-five men attended the trench silo demonstration given at the W. H. May farm last week by E. R. Eudaly and O. G. Tumlinson of the Extension Service from Texas A. & M. College, according to V. P. Jones, County Agent.
 Mr. Eudaly gave a short talk on the advantages of storing a part of our feed crop in the trench silo. Some of the chief advantages of the trench silo as brought out by Mr. Eudaly are: it provides a cheap means of storing feed from plentiful years where it will be safe from the weather, fire, rodents, and weevil until it is needed in years of short crops. Feed properly put in a trench silo will keep for many years, and will come out with a greater feeding value than when put in. All forms of Grain Sorghums and Sweet Sorghums make good silage, and is a desirable feed for all kinds of livestock kept on the farm. Feed may be placed in the silo in bundles or chopped, and the size of the silo will depend on the number of livestock kept on the farm.
 Quite a few farmers are making plans to "can" a part of their feed crop this year in a silo. It is one of the best forms of storage, and is good insurance against a short feed crop year.
 Mr. May has himself already stored away about two hundred tons of feed in one silo, and on Tuesday he began the construction of another silo. Mr. Jones suggests that other Lynn county farmers go out to the May Farm and see this work.

Records Broken At Plains Fair

Lubbock, Sept. 26—All time attendance records are being smashed here this week at the Panhandle South Plains Fair, and there is a reason.
 Fair directors have assembled the biggest array of free attractions for the visitors that has ever been offered in this section.
 On top of all that, exhibitors have filled every building to over flowing with the largest quantity as well as the best quality of exhibits ever to be grouped here.
 Fair patrons have been keeping the rides at the Western Exposition Shows busy and the shows well filled. The last three days of the week, banner crowds are expected to see Harley Sadler's snow 3-ring circus on the mid-way and the down town parades at noon.
 The boxing and wrestling shows and fireworks each evening the Martin V. 8 Daredevil riders, the Alfeta ladder and Captain Jack's 90 foot dive have been attracting mobs of fair visitors.
 Friday, Press Day is expected to rival that big attendance marked up last Wednesday on School Day. Hon. Harry Hines, Chairman of the Texas Highway Commission will be the principal speaker at a luncheon at 12:00 noon at Lubbock Hotel when South Plains newspaper editors will be honored by the Fair Association and Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. After the luncheon, newspapermen will visit the fair in a group.
 Fair Manager A. B. Davis and Parker Prouty, President, have promised to "shoot the works" Saturday, closing day. All free acts will be presented and some new features will go on for the amusement of the crowds that will jam the grounds for a last look at the big fair.

Five Generations In Single Family

It is very seldom one runs into five generations of a family but such can be found down at Tahoka and vicinity.
 Rev. Mr. R. M. Hocker, pastor of First Church of the Nazarene and president of the Lubbock Ministers association, recently held a meeting at Tahoka and met members of this unusual family. He brought a picture of them to The Plainsman and a fine, upstanding bunch of folks they are, too.
 The group consists of Mrs. A. B. Coughran, age 87, the great-great grandmother; her daughter, Mrs. J. J. Atkinson, the great grandmother; her daughter, Mrs. H. P. French, the grandmother; her daughter, Mrs. Shorty Brown, and her son, Walter Roy Brown.
 Mrs. French lives in Tokio and Mrs. Brown and her son live in O'Donnell. The others live in Tahoka.
 The Plainsman congratulates them and wishes for them long, continued lives together—and another link or two in their chain! —Plainsman in Lubbock Journal.

JOHN B. KING DIED AT SLATON MONDAY

 He was a familiar figure on the streets of Tahoka.
 A mere youth when the Civil War broke out, he did valiant service for the Confederacy in that terrific struggle, and was one of the few remaining Ex-Confederate veterans at the time of his death. While a mere lad he became a member of the Presbyterian Church and retained his membership therein until death removed him from the walks of men. For more than fifty years he had been a member of the Masonic fraternity and was a member of the lodge here at the time of his death.
 In December, 1932, his wife and companion for more than 62 years died, leaving him alone during the past three years. He leaves surviving him the following sons and daughters: J. H. and J. O. King of the Dixie community in this county; H. C. King of Uvalde, and W. P. King of Lindrith, New Mexico; Mrs. Neal Williams of this county near Slaton, Mrs. E. J. McDaniel of Lindrith, New Mexico, and Mrs. H. M. Simpson of Arkansas, most of whom were present at the funeral.
 Ripe in years and experience, a good man has gone to his reward.

Nervous, Weak Woman Soon All Right

"I had regular shaking spells from nervousness," writes Mrs. Cora Sanders, of Paragould, Ark. "I was all run-down and cramped at my time until I would have to go to bed. After my first bottle of Cardui, I was better. I kept taking Cardui and soon I was all right. The shaking quit and I did not cramp. I felt worlds better. I gave Cardui to my daughter who was in about the same condition and she was soon all right."

CARDUI
 Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.
