FARM NOTES

By County Agent

By V. T. Jones, County Agent
The Corn-Hog Referendum will be voted upon on October 26th. There will be six balloting boxes in the county, with a Corn-Hog Committee in charge. The ballot boxes will be at New Home, Tahoka, Wilson, Draw, O'Donnell and Wells Store. The ballots are marked: "Do you favor a Corn-Hog Adjustment Program to Follow the 1935 Program which Expires November 30, 1935?" All Corn-Hog Contract Signers are eligible to vote and also the fram operator or owner of farms which produced corn or hogs in 1935 whether they signed a 1934 Corn-Hog contract or not.

We have had a number of inquiries relative to the Government 2c subsidy on cotton. This is about the way that thing will work. Any producer who has signed a reduction contract or who will agree to sign a contract in 1936 is eligible for this subsidy payment. In either case the producer pledges himself to sign a contract in 1936. The amount of payment made to the producer above his selling price, is the difference between 12c and the average price on ten designated spot markets on the date the cotton was sold. For example: A man sells cotton to his local ginner for 10 1-2c per lb. On that same day if the price of cotton on the ten markets was 11c per pound the producer would receive an additional 1c subsidy payment, which would give the producer a total of 11 1-2c for his cotton. As soon as the necessary forms are available, and we think it will be within the next few days, each cotton supply and the producer can have a buyer in the county will receive the buyer fill out these forms from his records, and turn the original form in at the County Agent's office. Any cotton sold prior to August 1, 1936 is eligible for the subsidy payment. We do not know when the subsidy payments will be made, but it is probable that two or more payments will be made by August 1, 1936. Cotton put in the 10c loan is eligible for the subsidy payment if sold before August 1, 1936.

A number of inquiries have come to this office in regard to buying certificates out of the county. This is permissible this year by the seller executing a transfer at the county agent's office in the county in which the certificates originated. Certificates can only be bought for cash at 5c per pound and must be transferred in order to be used by the buyer. Any price other than 5c per pound subjects the certificates to cancellation and makes the buyer liable to a fine of $1000.00 or sentenced to not more than one year's imprisonment, or both.

We have several thousand pounds of certificates listed for sale by local producers. We believe it is better for the buyer to purchase certificates locally. If he should lose the certificates we have a record of them and could get them replaced. In order to get out of county certificates replaced the buyer would probably have to go back to the county in which they were issued in order to get a record of them in case they should be lost.

A new 4 year wheat adjustment contract plan will be offered to the producers within a short time. The farmers that are eligible for a wheat contract are the farmers that grew wheat each one of the base years from 1928 to 1932 inclusive, or where wheat was grown in 1931 and 1932, or where wheat was grown only in 1932. We will be glad to go over the wheat contract program with any interested producer who will call at our office. In a short time we plan to have a county wide wheat meeting for eligible contract signers and will go into the program in detail.

MOVES TO TAHOKA

Rev. J. M. Hale and family removed from Brownfield to Tahoka this week. They are occupying a residence just west of the Larkin Weathers home. Rev. Hale has been pastor of the First Baptist Church of Brownfield the past five years, having resigned just recently. He has not accepted work elsewhere yet. He is a most estimable Christian gentleman, and he and good family will be welcomed to Tahoka.

Tahoka Plays At Odessa Friday

Tahoka Bulldogs will attempt to conquer Odessa in a game in that city tonight, Friday.

Odessa formerly played Class A football, and always has a very strong team. Although Odessa is rated several touchdowns stronger than Tahoka, the local team is conceding nothing. They say they are going to Odessa to win.

Few fans will follow the team, due to the distance; however, it is predicted that those who go will see a real game of football.

Tahoka has won over Crosbyton, Meadow and Post and lost to Littlefield.

Calvin J. Edwards Died Saturday

Relatives here were advised Sunday of the death of Calvin J. Edwards of O'Donnell, which occurred Saturday in the City of Washington, where Mr. Edwards was visiting a son.

The remains were being brought to Waco, the former home of the deceased, for interment Monday. Two sons, Corroll and Wright Edwards of Three Lakes and the latter's family, John Anderson and family of O'Donnell, Mrs. Anderson being a daughter of deceased, and Burton and Jack Edwards of Tahoka, nephews, left Sunday to attend the funeral.

Mr. Edwards was 74 years of age. He had been making his home in recent years with Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson at O'Donnell but went to Washington a few weeks ago. He had been a highly respected citizen of Central Texas for many years before coming to O'Donnell to reside with his daughter, and he had made many warm friends in this county. He was a member of the Baptist Church and a most excellent Christian gentleman.

The relatives have the sympathy of many friends.

McGinty Twins Die At Birth

Twin daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred McGinty of the Wells community Tuesday morning. Obviously in a critical condition, they were rushed to the Lubbock Sanitarium, where it was hoped their lives could be saved, but one of them died about 2 o'clock in the afternoon and the other about 5.

They were buried here Wednesday at 10 a. m. Funeral services were conducted at the grave by Elder R. P. Drennon.

Mrs. McGinty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Draper of Midway.

Vegetables Sent In To The Editor

Last week the editor's wife was the recipient of a bucket of fine ripe tomatoes, given by Mrs. R. A. Ferguson of Grassland. Of course they are being enjoyed by the entire family.

At the end of the week Mr. and Mrs. Harry Woods also brought in a quantity of greens, peppers and okra. The editor can testify that the greens were fine, and the women of the household say the same thing about the okra.

Then early this week Mr. and Mrs. Lit Moore of Slide brought us a sack of wonderful October peaches, and there is where the editor shines.

Many thanks to all.

Little Cotton Was Ginned To Oct. 1

While the cotton crop in Lynn county this year will probably be four or five times as large as last year's crop, much less cotton had been ginned prior to October 1 than last year.

W. E. Holloway, special agent of the Bureau of the Census, reports that only 366 bales were ginned in the county prior to October 1, 1935, against 2,377 prior to October 1, 1934. The lateness of the crop is due to late rains that came in the summer.

COURT IN LAST WEEK OF TERM

Grand Jury Returns Indictments; West-Castle Suit Won By Plaintiff

After having returned into court twelve felony indictments, the grand jury adjourned finally on Wednesday. Its report will probably be published next week.

Eight of these indictments charged violations of the liquor laws. One charged two defendants jointly with chicken theft; one was for assault with intent to murder; one was for driving a car while intoxicated; and one was for forgery and passing a forged instrument.

Five of those charged with violations of the liquor laws entered pleas of guilty last week. Each was given one year in the penitentiary, with sentence suspended. The two chicken thieves also pleaded guilty and were each sent to the penitentiary for one year. They had been previously convicted of a similar offense in another county. Walter Collins, colored, was given two years for assault to murder; one young man was given a two years suspended sentence for driving a car while intoxicated.

In the civil suit of West vs. Castle involving the title to the tract of land involving the title to the tract of which the silica beds are situated, judgment was given for plaintiff. Defendant filed a motion for a new trial, which was over-ruled by the court, and defendant gave notice of appeal.

Little Davis Girl Buried Saturday

Following an illness of ten days, little Virginia Nell Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Davis, died last Friday afternoon.

Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist Church Saturday afternoon, Rev. H. C. Smith officiating. Burial was in the Tahoka cemetery under the direction of Harris & Applewhite, funeral directors.

Born on January 29, 1932, little Virginia Nell was a little less than four years old. But she had lived long enough to bring many a ray of sunshine into her parents' home and to sweeten their lives. It seems so sad that she had to be taken, but sometime doubtless the parents will understand. In their grief they have the sincerest sympathy of numberless friends.

ERROR CORRECTED

Last week we gave the name of Odis Scroggs as scoutmaster here. This was an error. John Kirkwood, teacher at Central Ward, is scoutmaster.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Applewhite and Mrs. Bill Burleson made a trip to Dallas this week. Bill had gone down a day or two earlier. Jack and Bill, we understand, went down to see about the new Ford that is coming out soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Beecher Sherrard have a little new comer in their home. He was born Monday morning, and they have given him the name of Roy Gene. Both mother and baby are doing well.

Winners Of County Club Fair Named; Many Individuals Take Off Prizes

Following is a list of the prize winners at the Lynn County Women's Home Demonstration Club and 4-H Club Fair held last Thursday Friday and Saturday:

TAHOKA WINS GAME AT POST

First Conference Game Was Full Of Thrills; Crowd Of Fans Followed Team

Tahoka's 8 to 6 defeat of Post last Friday night was the first time in history the Bulldogs had conquered the Antelopes in their own lair. In fact, it was the third game Tahoka has won over Post in fifteen or twenty years of football relations.

But Friday's game made up several losses.

With all odds of the game against her, Tahoka won a much deserved victory. Post has this year and has had practically every year in the past a very strong team. Every time Tahoka started an offensive, or got a "break," it seems, she drew a penalty. Though Capt. James Minor was in the game playing stellar football again, Eby Dyer, the smashing back was handicapped by a foot injury.

Friday night's game, played before fully 200 Tahoka people, in addition to Post's crowd, was a battle between two offensive teams, and the game was not on ice until the final gun. The first half, Post made many fine gains, with Tahoka making a strong defense only when Post approached the goal line. Finally the Bulldogs pushed their opponents back against their own goal line, and forced them into a safety. Score: Tahoka 2, Post 0.

In the second half Tahoka came back with power. The line, for the

1721 Bales Cotton Ginned In Tahoka

Nine hundred and ten bales of cotton were ginned in Tahoka this past week, according to reports given to the News by the five gins here.

Up to 9 o'clock Thursday morning, 1721 bales had been ginned, counting round bales as half bales. Up to the same time last week, 811 bales had been ginned.

The price continues to pick up a little also. Cotton is now selling at 10:70 to 11.05. Seed continued to advance in price also, the local market price now being $33.00 per ton.

With the exception of some heavy dews, which slightly retarded picking, the weather for the gathering of the crop thus far has been ideal, but showers Thursday morning spoiled operations. The crop is very late and farmers are fearful of an early freeze, which would cut the crop very materially.

ON JUDGING TEAM

Cleveland Littlepage, student of agriculture in Texas Tech, has been selected as a member of the College stock judging team, and will tour the Middle West next spring with the team. He is a Tahoka High School graduate.

Mrs. R. B. Floyd and daughter, Miss Maxine, returned Monday from Britton, Oklahoma, where they had visited two weeks. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Floyd's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Aubrey Floyd, and her friend, Mrs. Stevens, who remained here till Thursday, when they departed for their homes.

Warning Is Given On Trailer Lights

Farmers and others are hereby advised that the law requires a red burning light on the rear end of every trailer and a burning light or red reflector on the rear of every horse-drawn vehicle on the public highways. It is extremely dangerous to the traveling public for this law to be ignored. You are therefore advised that hereafter complaints will be filed in the proper courts against all persons so offending.—Jack Reaves, State Highway Patrolman.

Circus Will Be Here Wednesday

Harley Sadler was here Monday greeting a few of his many friends and seeing that proper publicity is given to the big circus that he is bringing to Tahoka on Wednesday of next week. He was accompanied by Harry Phelps.

Mr. Sadler recently purchased the Bailey Bros. three-ring circus, and this will be its first appearance in Tahoka. Harley declares that he has the best elephant stunts of any circus on the road. Also in his menageries there will be lions, camels, apes, and other beasts of the jungle. He has also recently added a lot of new aerial acts. And, of course, all the kiddies will get a thrill out of the big street parade at noon. And the grown folks will like it too. The first performance will begin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the second at 8 at night. It is declared to be the best show for the money on the road.

Mr. Sadler has long been the king of showmen in the tent theatre field in Texas, and now he has gone into the circus business. His friends are predicting that he will be just as successful in this new field as he has been in the old.

$32,728 For School Outright Grant

The News has several times heretofore stated that the PWA is proposing a grant of $32,728 to the Tahoka Independent School District for the construction of a new grammar school building provided the District would provide the sum of $40,000 for the same purpose.

Yet, in spite of this published information, furnished us by the school authorities, we have been asked if this PWA aid is to be a grant or a loan. Thereupon we again called Alvin Hicks, president of the school board, who has been in touch with every phase of the program from the beginning, who made the application, and who has made two trips to Fort Worth with respect to this matter, and he again stated unreservedly and unconditionally that it is a straight grant. Furthermore he proposes to publish the order showing this to be the fact, but we do not have time or space for it this week. Carl Griffing, secretary of the board, is in possession of the record and can show the same to any person desiring information.

Pelican Is Reported Around Draw Lake

Mrs. J. R. Mathis of Draw sent in the following interesting news item Wednesday. It may be that others in the county have seen these birds here before. Mrs. Mathis says:

Dear Editor: I wish to tell you about a large white pelican being out here on a big lake. He seems to have drifted in with the wild ducks, as he stays among them. We noticed him on the lake yesterday eve but he was gone this morning, but was back again about noon. I have never heard of a pelican in these parts. We at first thought it was a large swan but found it to be a pelican.

Mrs. Mathis lives one mile south, one mile east and another half mile south from Draw. The lake, she says, is on the Sherrill place.

Creed Ray, a business man of Leveland, stopped here a short time Wednesday to see his old-time friends, Skip Taylor and C. A. Lawrence.

EXPLAINS CORN HOG PROGRAM

Nine Points Figure In Outlook For Corn and Hogs, Jones Declares

(By V. F. Jones, County Agent)

No less than a nine major factors will have to be weighed by Lynn County farmers before they mark their ballots in the nation-wide corn-hog referendum, Saturday, October 26, according to Joe Poindexter, President of the county corn-hog control association.

Not one of the nine points can be slighted, he said, in reaching a sound "Yes" or "No" decision on the referendum question: Do you favor a corn-hog adjustment program to follow the 1935 program which expires November 30, 1935?

First in the outlook is the country's small livestock population. Unprecedented drought which cut the corn crop and the harvest of other feed grains almost in half last year forced farmers to strip their herds and flocks down to the smallest number of grain-consuming animals on farms in 34 years. Furthermore, the country's livestock population will not have been rebuilt to any great extent by the beginning of 1936.

Second, although farmers have 15 per cent less livestock than they had during the five-year period 1928-1932, it is estimated that at the close of this year's harvest, they will have enough feed supplies for almost as many animals as the average during the five-year period. The grain supply per animal this winter is therefore expected to be larger than in any year since the World War, except 1926.

Third, if there is no adjustment program in 1936, farmers will be likely to harvest more than 100 million acres of corn. They harvested about 105 1-2 million acres in 1932 and 1933, and a recent government report indicates a 1935 harvest of nearly 94 million acres. Acreage this year was held down to 94 million only because corn-hog contract signers retired about 11 1-2 million acres. With harvest yields an uncontrolled acreage of corn next year would mean a production of more than 2 1-2 million bushels. Since it is doubtful that the number of grain-consuming animals will be increased enough in 1936 to bring the grain supply per animal back to normal, the amount of feed per head would continue high during the 1936-37 feeding season.

Talks Are Heard At Lunch Club

The program at the luncheon club Tuesday was under the direction of Mrs. S. E. Reid.

With Mrs. Reid at the piano, Bill Sewell gave a couple of vocal selections, and Mr. Babb and Miss Mary Jane Weathers favored the diners with a cornet and violin duet. Miss O'Bern Forrester gave a reading. The entire program was much enjoyed.

In the absence of the president, J. K. Applewhite, Vice-President W. S. Anglin presided. He threw the meeting wide open for general discussion and called upon Alvin Hicks to make a statement as to the proposed school bond election. Mr. Hicks explained that he and Bill Burleson had just returned from Fort Worth, where they interviewed the WPA authorities and found that everything is ready to go as soon as Tahoka gets ready. The government money has been set aside in the sum of $32,728, he said, and will be available as soon as the Tahoka Independent School district votes bonds for $40,000 and lets contract.

Judge W. E. Smith was called upon for a statement about highways. He was bothered somewhat on account of the failure of the state highway commission to let contract for the topping of six miles on highway No. 9 south from Tahoka, as they had previously announced. The reason given was that the commission had been advised that there was not sufficient relief labor available at this time. Judge Smith emphasized the fact that it is necessary that the people of Tahoka shall keep on the job constantly in behalf of highway work in this county.

Mayflower Became Barn, Says Retired Sea Captain

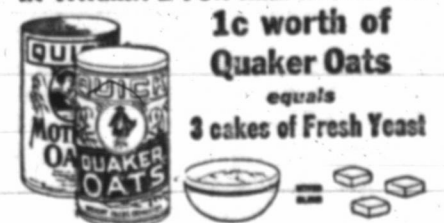

Historians have long tried to learn what became of the Mayflower, the ship that carried the Pilgrim fathers to America. An old retired sea captain, Henry D. Smith, of Atlantic City, declares that on a trip to London years ago, he learned of a tradition believed to be true that the old ship came to an ignominious end. After being tied up at Plymouth Rock a long time, serving no useful purpose, farmers of the struggling colony dismantled it and pulled the hull ashore. Doors were cut into its sides and it served as a stock barn for their cattle and pigs.

What a shrine this old vessel would be now had it been preserved. Also it would make it possible to check on its capacity, which, judged from the number of persons who came over in it purportedly, must have been unusually large for a ship of that time.

Italians Invade Ethiopia and Capture Aduwa

MAKING good on his threats and promises, Benito Mussolini sends his armies crashing across the border of Ethiopia, starting a war that gave all Europe the jitters. Under the command of Gen. Emilio De Bono, chief of the Italian colonial armies, the Italian troops laboriously advanced from Eritrea, crossing the Mareb river frontier and capturing Addigrat and other towns that had already been practically ruined by bombardment from planes. The immediate objective was Aduwa, the scene of the terrific Italian defeat 39 years ago.

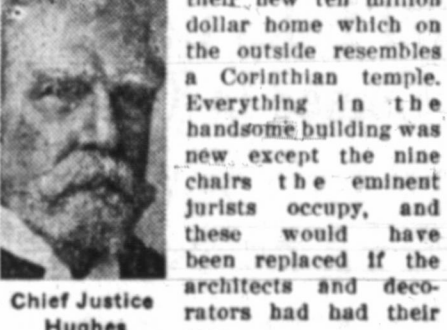

Italy officially announced that all of Tigre province was in Italian hands, and at the same time her columns were advancing into Ethiopia from the south and east, with the city of Harar and the country's one railway as their objective. Squadrons of bombing planes were flying here and there, destroying towns and killing many of the inhabitants.

Meanwhile, in Geneva, the League of Nations council, after hearing the report of a committee of six, found that Italy had resorted to war in violation of the league covenant. This automatically must be followed by sanctions, beginning with the severance of all trade and financial relations with the aggressor nation.

WASHINGTON DIGEST

National Topics Interpreted BY WILLIAM BRUCKART NATIONAL PRESS BLDG. WASHINGTON, D. C.

Washington.—The President and his two chief relief advisers, Harry L. Hopkins and Secretary Ickes, have just completed a cross-country tour and are now in possession of information on which to base the future course for management of the relief job this winter.

The New Deal was swept into the governmental control upon the twin arches of recovery and relief. The recovery arch seems to be holding up. The relief arch, I believe, can be said to be teetering.

Some months ago Mr. Roosevelt announced with emphasis that the job of taking care of the destitute must be turned back to the states and private charity. It was, he said, no longer a federal proposition.

That brings us to a phase of federal administration, a new circumstance and problem, confronting the nation. I describe it as a new problem which in fact it is when considered in the light of developments since the New Deal took control.

whom they have taken back on the jobs, taken them off of relief rolls, are unwilling to do their jobs efficiently; they seek to fill in their time and just get by, and they resent any admonitions from foremen or bosses that a certain amount of work is required of them if they are to remain on the pay roll.

President Roosevelt has introduced an innovation into federal administration by making public what amounts to a preliminary summation of federal financial requirements. He ordered it compiled and released for publication at this early date, he said, in order that the country may know what confronts it in the way of expenditures for the fiscal year beginning last July 1, and ending next June 30.

A careful analysis of the summation and the revision of estimates of expenditures for the current fiscal year rather indicates that it will be the most expensive in New Deal history. This is true despite Mr. Roosevelt's declaration that a sharp up-swing in business activity will result in a marked curtailment in relief expenditures.

On this basis then, some observers persistently inquire where the substantial and sustained economy in government has been effected either by the administration or by the business improvement. It is difficult to answer. It is more difficult, in the opinion of Chairman Henry P. Fletcher of the Republican national committee, because of the frequent references which Mr. Roosevelt made during his 1932 campaign to a program of enforced economy in government.

SYNOPSIS Theodore Gatlin adopts a baby, "Penelope," in an effort to solve his marital troubles. But his wife has never wanted her, and their affairs end in the divorce court. At a baseball game a ball strikes ten-year-old Penelope on the nose. Mrs. Gatlin spirits the child to Europe. Gatlin will Penelope all his money, and is about to begin a search for her when a motor accident ends his life. Some ten years later, in San Francisco, Stephen Burt, young psychiatrist, is presented by Dan McNamara, chief of police, with a new patient—Nance Beiden, a girl with a dual personality, for which her "saddle nose" is in part responsible. McNamara does not think she is a criminal and obtains Burt's testimony in court. Lanny, the doctor's office nurse, is also won over. Nance's criminal record outweighs Doctor Burt's explanation of her case and she is sent to San Quentin penitentiary. Nance escapes, and goes to Lanny's apartment. From one of the men in the boat on which the girl escaped McNamara learns that her real name is Penelope Gatlin. He also discovers that she is a resident of 4750.000. Penelope McNamara. In his official capacity, Nance flees. Lanny finds her in her apartment, asleep. Then she disappears, and McNamara learns that she is living in Paris. He also discovers he is in love with Lanny. Stephen warns Penelope by cable to leave Paris, as her whereabouts are known. She flees before the French police get on her trail, and pops back into Lanny's home in San Francisco.

CHAPTER X—Continued —23— "We'll not fix it in this city, my boy," Thus McNamara. "Why not?" "Because when that girl is well she'll probably elect to live her life here, and I don't want a soul in this city, with the exception of ourselves, to know that once she had a saddle nose and a dual personality." "We can trust the ethical integrity of the man I purpose—" "I'll trust nobody but myself—and then not too much. Where is the best plastic surgeon in this country?" "In New York city."

"Lanny, I'll ask the police commission for a sixty day leave of absence. We'll be married at once and take this child to New York with us, put her in a hospital there and have the job done. While it's being done we'll have our honeymoon." "Three is a crowd—on a honeymoon," Stephen warned. "It's nothing of the sort," Lanny defended. "Stevie, you mind your own business. Dan and I know our way about."

"Indeed? Well, just because you're so contemptuous, I'm going to tell you something. If I hadn't promoted this engagement, you and Dan would not now be engaged. Dan had you up on a pedestal—which is where you never belonged—and you're so naturally manly you never even learned the rudiments of the come-on as practiced by the dullest, so I talked the matter up!" "You didn't talk it up to me." "No, but I listened sympathetically when you raved about what a grand man Dan McNamara was, and my neck is still stiff from nodding agreement. I told Dan you were crazy about him and worked up his courage—" "You're a liar," McNamara charged, feebly and without malice. "Dan McNamara is one man who doesn't have to have help with his courage or thinking," Lanny declared proudly. "And you do, Stephen Burt. You're adept at lording it over your befuddled patients, but Rebecca P. Lanning is a horse of another color."

"I think I'll go home," Stephen retorted, and went. He was back in the morning with the impediments of his profession. Penelope greeted him gravely. "Good morning, Doctor Burt." He started. The strident note of Nance Beiden was gone from her voice. She spoke now in the low, level tone of the girl of breeding. Then she sat down, and they conversed for half an hour on topics of general interest, but during that time she did not move once from her seat. Her vocabulary was free of underworld expressions, her diction perfect, her sentences grammatical.

"You have had a good night's rest, Miss Gatlin," he ventured. She nodded, smiling a little. "I am not at all nervous this morning, Doctor Burt. When I am very tired, or excited about something, I am always horribly nervous." "And you got dreadfully depressed, do you not?" She nodded. "So depressed that at times I want to die." "Well, we might as well start your physical examination. I'm going to try to ascertain why you can't be cheerful always. There's a reason, of course, for your nervousness and depression, so I want to examine you very meticulously and see if your trouble can be charged up to some physical condition. Let me feel your pulse."

It was eighty-three, full and strong. Stephen's examination of the girl was as complete as modern medical science could make it, and when the last laboratory report came in three days later he called Lanny in to discuss the girl. "With the exception of a subnormal chest expansion, Lanny, that girl is without doubt the healthiest young woman I have ever examined. Her sole physical defect is her nose. But for that I think she'd be a husky little athlete right now. She told me she always wanted to excel in tennis, golf and dancing—well, of course she'd want to excel in something. She couldn't compete in good looks. I'll write up my report on her and you can hand a copy of it to the man who is to do the operation. I've wired him that I was sending on a patient, and he has agreed to care for her. I see by this morning's paper that Mac has been given a leave of absence." Lanny nodded. "When are you and Dan to be married?" "Tomorrow. We're flying to Reno to avoid the three-day notice of intention to marry demanded by the California law." "Penelope flying with you?" "Naturally. She's my bridesmaid!" "Who's going to give the bride away?" "Nobody. Dan and I are too old to stand for a long-drawn-out marriage ceremony."

"Well, I suppose I'm stuck for a wedding present. How much money have I got in the bank?" "Approximately twenty thousand. I'm going to buy you some Argentine bonds today. There's no reason why those bonds shouldn't be selling at—"

"Lanny, you're mercenary. I don't care for a dissertation on bonds. Draw yourself a check for ten thousand and spend it all in riotous living. Give old Dan a real blow out—" "Stevie, you're mad!" "Quiet, please. Love from the boss, Lanny, and no back talk from you. And for heaven's sake get a half-way intelligent nurse to take your place while you're away." "I've engaged Miss Ordway." "Horrible. Her face would stop a parade. She's efficient, but terrible to look at." The tears were welling in Lanny's eyes. "Oh, Stevie, I want you to be safe—while I'm away," she choked.

She Nodded, "So Depressed That at Times I Want to Die."

"No hoity-toity—youth thing—with her sweet smile—and winning ways—and you such a—softy—oh, Stevie, Stevie, I can't bear to leave you. If I do, something dreadful will happen to you." And Lanny laid her head on her desk and sobbed quite heartily. However, Stephen knew what was good for Lanny. "You make me ill," he said coldly. "You carry on like a girl of sixteen." Instantly Lanny was furious. "You don't appreciate me," she charged. "Be still. Where's the check book? On an occasion such as the present I suppose I should sign the check myself."

"It wouldn't do any good if you did, darling. You've never registered your signature at your bank and you have no authority to sign checks on your own bank account. How funny!" and Lanny commenced to laugh. "How lucky I thought of that before leaving!" Thereupon Stephen put both arms around her and kissed her three times and told her she was as the shadow of a rock in a weary land; that she was very dear to him; that whatever she did was O. K. with him and he'd miss having his daily fight with her; and finally so softened her that she consented to let him fly to Reno and give the bride away. It developed that she had always wanted him to do this but loathed pestering him to do such trouble.

At the expiration of his leave McNamara returned to duty, but Lanny remained with Penelope in New York. Performed by a master, the operation had proved successful thus far. The actual work of the operation had been the least of it; the subsequent care of the bone and skin graft, and the surgeon's artistry in reshaping the nose were what required time and patience. Lanny reported that the patient would not be discharged for at least three months more.

"How did Penelope approach the operation?" Stephen queried of McNamara. "Happily. Not a whit nervous. Lanny had complete control over her." He grinned. "I passed over her Uncle Dan and the wife as Aunt Lanny. Lanny saw to it that the girl didn't do any talking while the doctor was present." "You're a good fellow, Dan."

moon, I'll admit. However, we'd set our hands to the job and we couldn't turn back, God help us." "Well, you have this consolation, my friend. Your job is over, and mine will commence when Lanny returns with the girl." "D'ye think you can pull her through, lad?" "I'm sure I can, Dan. A psycho-neurosis generally is impossible to cure unless you know its causative factors and can remove them. If you can do that, it's as simple as removing a wart. Dan, have you looked up the girl's ancestry?" "I have not."

"Then do so immediately. We might run into a situation that will shed a bright, effulgent beam of light on my job." "The attorney that handled Gatlin's affairs ought to be a good man to start with, Stephen. I'll motor to San Jose tomorrow and look him up. The bank will know who he is."

The bank president did know the name of the attorney, but added the disconcerting information that the man had been dead six years. McNamara thereupon called the man's widow to ask if she still retained her late husband's files. He had a faint hope that if she would permit him to look into the Gatlin file he might find a clue. He was informed to his amazement, that about two years and a half before, Mrs. Merton had called upon her, asked for the file and had been given it.

There was but one club in the city—the Elks—and McNamara wondered if Theodore Gatlin had belonged to that. He discovered Gatlin had, and from the dining room steward, who remembered Theodore Gatlin very well, he ascertained the names and addresses of three men with whom Gatlin had according to the steward, seemed very friendly.

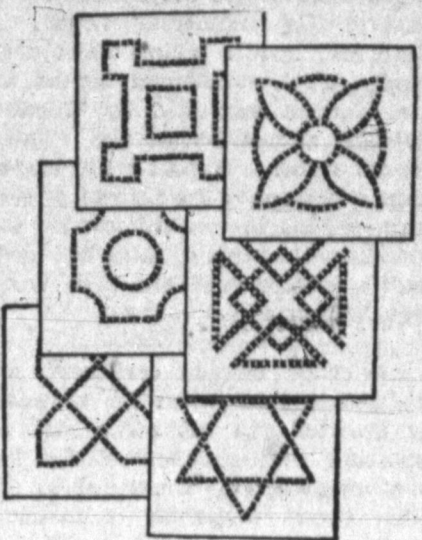

Of these three men, one was dead and the others were unable to shed any light upon the parentage of Gatlin's adopted daughter, although one man had a hazy recollection that the child's father had been an army officer and had been killed in the Philippines. The chief's questionings, however, elicited the names of two women who had been friendly with Mrs. Gatlin, so McNamara called upon both. They could furnish him no information beyond the fact that Mrs. Gatlin despised the child Penelope; that she had never been enthusiastic about the adoption; that she had never been kind to the girl; that Gatlin and Penelope had been inseparable pals. They had a feeling that Mrs. Gatlin, while apparently delighting in persecuting her husband, was, nevertheless, insanely jealous of his love for his adopted daughter; that up to the day of her accident, Penelope had been a bright, healthy, normal child, fun-loving and affectionate and humorous, and the delight of her foster father.

CHAPTER XI Dan reported to Stephen, somewhat depressed, because he had returned, he thought, without a scientific worthwhile information. Stephen, however, thought otherwise. "I'll have to question Mrs. Merton again," he decided. He rang for Miss Ordway. "Telephone to Mrs. Merton," he ordered, "and tell her I wish she'd drop in here some day soon. Tell her I'd like the latest report on her health."

"What are you going to do?" McNamara asked. "Hypnotize her again, of course. I've got to release her from the mental inhibition I set upon her in the case of her adopted daughter. Otherwise she'll not talk." A minute later Miss Ordway entered the room. "Mrs. Merton says she will be down for her interview in half an hour, Doctor."

"When she arrives, Dan, you step out into the nurse's office until I have her under control; then I'll admit you. I want you to take copious notes." Mrs. Merton fluttered into Stephen's consultation room forty minutes later. "Oh, Doctor Burt," she whined, "I'm so glad you've sent for me. My insomnia is worse than ever," she wailed. "Oh, Doctor, do you think I'm going crazy?" "Not at all, not at all," he soothed her. "You are excited over nothing. But you are in a highly nervous condition, of course, and until you have settled down it would be useless for me to attempt to examine you. If you could have a little nap for, say half an hour on the couch in the next room, I'm sure you would awaken much refreshed."

CROSS-STITCH QUILT BLOCKS

Cross-stitch is about the simplest thing in handwork. Little girls make their stitches in cross-stitch. These six-inch blocks are stamped in cross-stitch designs on white muslin and little girls to grandmothers will enjoy making them into everything from small dollies to pillow tops, scarfs and bedspreads. Easy to carry around, working one at a time and then assembling into article wanted when all the squares are finished. Outfit No. 46-4 consists of 6 of these six-inch stamped squares and will be mailed to you for 10 cents. Address Home Craft Co., Dept. A, Nineteenth and St. Louis Ave., St. Louis, Mo. Enclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply when writing for any information.

New It's Rat Fur It needn't be a matter for surprise if you learn that some new curly fur on the market with a fancy name came from an animal the ancestors of which are traceable to the common rat. For a curly-coated variety of these rodents has been developed at Wistar Institute, the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, by Dr. Helen Dean King, who has been making a study of the breeding of rats for scientific purposes. Among her rats are breeds with chocolate, cinnamon and pale lapin colored coats.

World's Most Famous Babies Eat Oatmeal

The Dionne Quintuplets, wards of the King, eat the same cereal that is eaten by millions of babies who don't get their names in the papers—oatmeal. The Canadian government chose a staff of special experts for the care of the Quints. And these experts, their scientific knowledge endorsing the instinctive choice of mothers the world over, have chosen oatmeal for the cereal of the famous five. Oatmeal, eminent medical authorities agree, has an abundance of everything a child's cereal should have—body-building minerals, muscle-building protein, and the supreme important Vitamin B for keeping fit. Food science says that Vitamin B is the best safeguard against those dangerous enemies of childhood—nervousness, constipation, and poor appetite due to lack of that vitamin in the diet.

Dark Ignorance Ignorance is the night of the mind, but a night without moon or stars.

NO UPSETS

The proper treatment for a bilious child

ANY mother knows the reason why her child stops playing, eats little, is hard to manage, Constipation. But what a pity so few know the sensible way to set things right! The ordinary laxatives, of even ordinary strength, destroy all hopes of restoring regularity. A liquid laxative is the answer, mothers. The answer to all your worries over constipation. A liquid can be measured. The dose can be exactly suited to any age or need. Just reduce the dose each time, until the bowels are moving of their own accord and need no help. This treatment will succeed with any child and with any adult. Doctors use a liquid laxative. Hospitals use the liquid form. If it is best for their use, it is best for home use. The liquid laxative they generally use is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Any druggist has it.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Any erroneous reflection upon the reputation or standing of any individual, firm or corporation, that may appear in the columns of The News will be gladly corrected when called to our attention.

Our United States Supreme Court is a truly great tribunal. Men are appointed upon this court by the President of the United States because of their recognized legal ability, integrity. Every appointee must be confirmed by the Senate, and usually this body scrutinizes very closely the character and the record of any man nominated by the President for a place on this court. In all the history of the United States only a few unworthy men have been appointed. The members are appointed for life, and they are swayed less by political considerations in the performance of their duties than are members of Congress, Senators, Presidents, party leaders, and most private citizens. In fact the members of this court are not only great lawyers, but they are noted for being fair-minded and intellectually honest. Sometimes they have been divided in their opinions, but each member has usually been able to give strong reasons for his position.
When the decision of this court is unanimous, its position may safely be assumed to be impregnable. Its opinions are not infallible, it is true,
but even a great and honest lawyer
will hesitate to criticize a unanimous opinion of this great tribunal. The ignorant, the prejudiced, or the partisan may do so. We sometimes hear these classes casting aspersions
upon this, our greatest court, and impugning the motives of its members, but we have rarely ever heard a great and learned man do so.

It may be that the League of Nations will not be able to choke Italy off before she subdues the simple Ethiopians, fighting only with crude implements of war.
Nevertheless, we wish to add our word of praise to the League for its efforts. Its commercial boycott of Italy will have a telling effect eventually. This commercial boycott was the weapon suggested by Woodrow Wilson, and although the United States refused to follow his leadership and go into the League of Nations, yet his work still lives. We still maintain that this country has never had a greater President than Woodrow Wilson.

Governor Allred certainly was right last year when he repeatedly asserted in his campaign for governor that members of the legislature should be compelled to disclose their corporate connections
while serving as members of that body. Many of the senators and representatives threw up their hands
in holy horror and vociferously protested that such a demand was a reflection upon their integrity. Reflection or no reflection, a senator or representative should be willing for all the world to know who is his paymaster while he is reputedly serving the people.

We wonder how many of the present members of the legislature at Austin were on the pay roll of the repeal forces in this state last summer. One West Texas member, who does not reside over a thousand miles from Tahoka, was on their pay roll, if current and reliable reports are true. There is no law to prevent a legislator from accepting such employment, but the people have a right to know if he has such connections, and they should forever hereafter elect him to stay at home.

Already we have been reminded that Christmas is coming. Our main regret is that we must see the word butchered up and written "Xmas" about ten thousand times. It would be just as sensible to write "Xtian" for Christmas. We hate to see the word marred just the same as we do a flower, or a brick in a beautiful building, or a human face. We wish people would quit writing it that way—but they won't.

Preacher Jones had never seen so many of his flock in church at one time as appeared on Easter mornings. Several were doing their "once a year" and, knowing that many would not be present again for months, Pastor Jones closed his sermon with a bit of a stinger. Said he: "And now my brethren, while I have this opportunity, I would wish you all a very Merry Christmas."

One of the biggest auto accidents of the year happened the other day when a motorist stopped his car to see if he had really killed the skunk that he ran over. He hadn't.

TRENCH SILOS

For the third year, Victor Kunkel of Olney, Young county, has filled his trench silo. Three other farmers are following his example and putting in trench silos this year.

A trench silo with cemented sides
has been constructed in sandy soil on a ranch in Stonewall county. The filling of it will be made the attraction for a meeting of neighbors to observe the process.

Interest in trench silos in the South Plains section of the State is so great that a demonstration on filling such a silo given in Fisher county recently was attended by farmers and ranchmen from near by counties. The big feed crop this year and the recurring drouths have combined to arouse this interest.

Swapping eight acres of red top cane for 16 acres of the same sounds like a poor bargain for somebody.
But it isn't if the exchange is made by the increase in feed value between the feed stacks dry and that put up in trench silos. Mr. Horace Bryant of the Martin Ranch in King county accomplished the "sway" in August by filling a trench
silo.

All King county is in earnest about conserving feed in trench silos.
A barbecue followed the demonstration silo filling on the Martin ranch and after that a farm-to-farm canvass of the county was planned to sell the idea.

North of Weinert Chester Jones
put in a trench silo and southeast of Weinert B. T. Bridges planned to begin on one in September as a result of a trench silo demonstration
given on the Pace farm southwest of Haskell late in August. More than 75 farmers watched the process on the Pace farm.

Frank Luig of Scotland in Archer county made the first trench silo in his county John Herndon of the Back Flat section dug and filled the second one in August.

Thirty farmers and stockmen gathered on the J. C. Miller farm in the Deer Creek community in August to watch a trench silo being filled with bundles of corn and grain sorghum. The "singling" method was used.

TOM CONNALLY WILL HEAD PHILIPPINE GROUP

Marlin, Oct. 14.—United States
Senator Tom Connally is sailing from Seattle on Oct. 16 for the Philippines to attend the inauguration of the first president of the new island republic. He is accompanied by his son Ben Connally, an attorney of Houston.

Senator Connally is one of a group of American officials who were invited by the new Philippine government to attend the ceremonies. The party will be headed by Vice-President John N. Garner,
Speaker Joseph W. Byrns and Secretary of War George H. Dern. The group will sail on the S. S. President Grant and will go first to Yokohama, Japan, from whence they will visit Tokyo and Kobe. Proceeding from Japan, the next stop will be Shanghai and then Hong Kong.
The party will arrive at Manila on November eighth. The inauguration is on the fifteenth, and the American officials will leave Manila on the twentieth. On the return trip they will stop at the same ports in the Orient again and then visit Honolulu. Returning, they will reach Seattle aboard the S. S. President
Jefferson on December fourteenth.

The Texas Senator is a ranking member of the powerful Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate, and at present has two other important assignments on sub-committees of the Senate having to do with world affairs. One of these is the special sub-committee considering the proposals to "take the profits out of war," of which Senator Connally is chairman, and the other is the sub-committee which handled the recent neutrality legislation in Congress.

Upon their return from the trip,
Senator Connally and Mr. Connally will return to Texas immediately and the Senator will regain in the state until the next session of Congress convenes on January third.

When Weak, Nervous

"I can't say enough for Cardui if

writes Mrs. L. H. Caldwell, of Statesville, N. C.
"I have used Cardui at intervals for twenty-five years," she adds. "My trouble in the beginning was weakness and nervousness. I read of Cardium in a newspaper and decided right then to try it. It seemed before I had taken half a bottle of Cardui I was stronger and was soon
up and around."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU,

Martin Co. Man Gathering Apples

For the first time in several years,
Henry Barrow, Ector county ranchman is gathering sound mature apples from his large trees, according to H. L. Atkins, Jr., county agricultural agent.

The infestation of codling moths had become so bad that during the past three years all apples failed to mature. This season, two sprays of lead arsenate, one in the bloom stage and the other just as petals
were falling from the blossoms, brought most of the fruit to maturity.

OPEN SEASON ON COLDS HAS ARRIVED

Austin, Texas Oct. 17.—"The
'open season' for the so-called common cold has again arrived. Victims of this general complaint will constantly increase during the winter months, large numbers of persons will become temporarily incapacitated,
many will become dangerously ill, while yet others will succumb to complications," stated Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

In spite of the wonderful strides in disease prevention made in the last few decades, the problem of the common cold yet remains to be solved. If the situation lent itself to mass control, there possibly would be no problem. Unfortunately, however, the matter cannot be handled in that way. The solution, in view of present-day limitations, rests somewhat upon the intelligent cooperation of the individual. So far,

Get Rid of Poisons Produced by Constipation

A cleansing laxative—purely vegetable Black-Draught—is the first thought of thousands of men and women who have found that by restoring the downward movement of the bowels many disagreeable symptoms of constipation promptly can be relieved. . . Mr. J. P. Mahaffey, of Clinton, S. C., writes: "I have found that Black-Draught is very effective in the cleansing of the system. When affected by the dull headache, the drowsiness and lassit-tude caused by constipation, I take Black-Draught."

BLACK DRAUGHT A Natural,
Purely Vegetable Laxative

this has proved to be an insurmountable barrier. The trouble arises because the victim fails to appreciate the possibility of 'only a cold.' In fact, with the day's work to be done,
it is difficult to be self-persuaded that one should remain at home,
and possibly in bed, if overtaken by such an infection. Feeling quite able to move around, it is hard to realize that rest and care represent the best treatment not only for the cold itself but as a preventive of more dangerous supplemental conditions.

The average person argues that home and bed are all right when one is too sick to be any place else.
However, the scientific facts prove that most of the calamities now charged to the common cold could be avoided if one would at least stay at home when this infection appears and remain there until it is cured.
In fact, on a business basis, it is the economical and wise procedure.
For 'only a cold' may develop into a very real illness; therefore, every precaution should be taken to minimize the spread of this infection.

How Calotabs Help Nature
To Throw Off a Bad Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fifth night if needed.
How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs is one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminants, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of
the germ-laden mucus and toxins.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the system. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.
Calotabs are quite economical:
only twenty-five cents for the family
package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

Nelson Thanks Voters of Area

BY G. H. NELSON
(State Senator, 30th District)

I hope the people of my district will forgive me for the delay in expressing my appreciation of their support. Immediately following the election I came to Austin to take my seat in the Senate. Suffice it to say I have stayed busy since arriving here, in an attempt to prepare myself for an intelligent vote on pending legislation. I do appreciate deeply this opportunity to be of service to the people of the 30th Senatorial District. Though I have served only ten days as your State Senator, I am aware that I will be unable to have everything go my way.

The State Monopoly System of sale of whiskey favored by me was defeated in the Senate by four votes. It was likewise defeated in the house by about five votes. None of the wets favor this system for the reason that it takes vast profits from the liquor dealer. A few dregs, enough to defeat the bill, hesitate for sentimental reasons to put the State in the liquor business. I doubt that any law passed on the old license system will give proper protection to dry territories. Such a system has heretofore been tried. In order to secure any appreciable amount of revenue the license must be reasonably high; high prices of liquor has and will, in my opinion, encourage bootlegging.

The main trouble with passage of an Old Age Pension Law is that no one wants to be taxed to get the money. All special interests favor a General Sales Tax, because from this source ample revenue can be raised and the consumer will pay the whole bill. I have not supported the Sales Tax because I know there are sources not yet touched from which revenue can be drawn.

I feel there is no necessity for making the tax load heavier on the masses. I believe it is safe to say that an Old Age Pension will be provided for within the next thirty days.

As to Officers' Salaries, may I say that each precinct, county, district and section of Texas presents a different problem? Each member of the legislature has his idea of what each of the various classes of offices should pay and how the money shall be handled. It is a difficult matter to work out a satisfactory bill governing officers' salaries in so short a time, more especially when you have on the same calendar the other problems herein mentioned.

I shall at all times welcome ideas and views of my constituents in regard to any legislation pending before the Senate and shall be glad to help you with your personal problems at any time I may be able to serve you.

Mary Ellen Inman, Reporter

There was a large crowd out for Sunday School and church last Sunday morning Bro. Garnett preached after Sunday school.

Several went to singing at Edith Sunday night.

We were truly glad to have Mrs. Theima Attebery of New Home, and her sister Miss Mary Ella McGinnis of Coolidge at Sunday school. They are formally of this place.

Mr. Jack Liston of Ladonia is here visiting his sister Mrs. Marvin Walker and family.

Mr. Thurman Moore of O'Donnell spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. Jesse James.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Wood accompanied Mr. Woods parents of Lamesa to Glen Rose Sunday. Luther returned Monday leaving Mrs. Woods and his parents there to take treatments for a few weeks.

The following spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. T. E. McGinnis and family. Miss Mary Ella McGinnis of Coolidge, Miss Theima McGinnis, and a few other relatives from Hubbard.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hardt and children visited their daughter, Mrs. David Moore and family of Snyder Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheep Fluit of Greasland spent Saturday night and Sunday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gandy and family.

Misses Mable Maggard, Ophelia Mason and Mary Ellen Inman visited Miss Marie Owens of Edith Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Garrett of Edith spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Smelser.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wilkens and two daughters, Misses Wanda Payne and Mary Lou visited Mrs. Wilkens mother Mrs. James and family Sunday.

Miss Lodema Garnett of the Edith community visited Ornetha Inman Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Campbell and daughters, Zelta, Evelyn and Geroldine, and Miss Key of Wilson were Saturday night visitors of Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell and daughter Avis.

Miss Mable Maggard went to Hale Center and Lubbock Friday and Saturday of last week.

Medical Student: I've heard fish referred to as a good brain food. Is that true?

Prof: Yes, it is sometimes recommended.

Student: Well, what would you recommend for me?

Prof: A whale a week for six months ought to help a little.

Leonard Harris and Wayland Womack of Marietta, Cass county, came out last week to spend some time here. Leonard is a nephew of W. M. Harris and formerly resided here and attended school. He is a graduate of the Tahoka High.

How America Answers Her Critics

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN

National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

We have been hearing a lot of criticism lately concerning our American methods and principles.

For a while the detractors were content to sneer at our art, our literature, our simple recreations and pleasures. More recently, however, they have broadened their scope. Today their hardest attacks are directed—often from within—at our democratic form of government, with its effective guaranties of freedom and opportunity for all. They favor, instead, certain European patterns which vest all power in a highly centralized government rather than in the people.

Such criticism has not gone unheeded. It is bearing greater fruit than many of us realize. Its arguments rebound from the stump. Its influence appears in much of our recent legislation.

How can we combat it? One method is to apply the acid test of realism. Why not turn to such critics and ask:

"Under what other form of government has a free people developed the wilderness into a nation as great, as wealthy, as productive as our United States?"

"Under what other form of government has citizens attained as high a standard of income, of living, and of general well-being as has been enjoyed by successive generations of Americans?"

"What other government has offered to its poorest boys such opportunities to rise to the height of their capacity as are illustrated by the careers of Lincoln and Edison?"

"What other government has accorded to all its citizens—to the least as well as to the greatest—the political power guaranteed under our American Constitution?"

And finally:

"How many of these advantages are offered to the average man by the modern European forms of government—with all their planned economy, their regulations, and their strong central authorities dictating to every citizen how he shall labor, how he shall live, how he shall think?"

When—and only when—the critics can answer these questions to our satisfaction should we take their proposals seriously.

When—and only when—they can prove that the men who work and earn are better off in other lands than in our own, should we consider scrapping our constitutional guaranties for their un-American theories and projects.

Our heritage of freedom and opportunity is far too precious to swap for a mess of foreign potage.

Where are The "Twin Sisters Of Texas?"

Austin, Oct. 8—Where are the "Twin Sisters" of blessed memory? Were they buried, burned, or carried far from Texas?

The Texas Centennial state publicity department at Dallas, delving into the remote archives of Texas history, today issued an appeal for old-timers throughout the State to plumb the recesses of fading memory to solve the mysterious disappearance of these "heronnes" of the Texas revolution.

The "Twin Sisters" were not girls. They were guns—two six-pound cannons donated by the city of Cincinnati to the struggling Republic of Texas a century ago. They were all the artillery Houston had at San Jacinto, and they were used in history records, "with terrible effect."

The "Twin Sisters" remained in Texas until the republic became a state, when the federal government sent them to Louisiana and they were later sold for junk. But an appeal from the Texas people for the historic guns, which were called the "little darlings" of the revolution, caused Louisiana fifteen years later to contribute $700 to remount the cannons and restore them to Texas. They then spit "grape and cannister" through the War between the States.

Late in the war, when federal forces landed at Galveston and demanded the surrender of men and arms, three Texas soldiers and a negro cook are said to have slipped away under cover of night and buried the "Sisters" near Harrisburg. That much is legend, to be sure, but it was substantiated years later when one of the group "confessed" his part. But those whom he named as his confederates and passed away, and their stories with them.

There are many who believe that the rusty cannons now standing guard before the state capitol in Austin are the famed "Twin Sisters," but historians are uniformly agreed that they are not the San Jacinto pieces.

So now, nearly a century after that warm April afternoon at San Jacinto when they became immortal in Texas history, the "Twin Sisters" are again the objects of a State-wide search. Are they in truth buried in Texas soil? What old-timers still live who can supply the answer?

Mrs. and Mrs. Tom LeMond and two little sons, Tom and Jerry of Lubbock, were here Saturday night and Sunday as guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Harris.

File Suit On Right-Of-Way For No. 9

We learn that a suit against Dr. J. T. O'Barr of Glasscock County, has been filed at Austin to condemn lands belonging to him for the purpose of a right of way for State highway No. 9.

When the right-of-way is obtained across the O'Barr land the road bed on highway No. 9 will be practically clear from Big Spring to the Gulf. It will bring Big Spring ten miles nearer to Sterling City by cutting off the crooks in Glasscock County. As soon as the court gives judgment for the State, work of paving the last link of the road between Sterling and Big Spring will begin.

For several years, Big Spring, San Angelo and Sterling City, together with a number of the citizens of Glasscock County have endeavored to obtain the right-of-way but have failed. The Commissioners Court of Glasscock County has been repeatedly impounded to institute condemnation proceedings, but that body has failed to do anything about it.

The matter is now in the hands of the Attorney General who thru an assistant has filed suit at Austin. The case is to be heard soon and the owner will have to go to Austin to show cause why the road should not be built through his pasture.—Sterling City News-Record.

WATCH 'EM GO—JIM & JOE

Jim and Joe are toddling tots. Their months are just eighteen; Jim's not so hot, but little Joe's—the cutest ever seen.

Jim coos and goes and makes the most

Outlandish sounds I've heard; But Joe is different. When he talks I understand each word.

Jim cries for every little thing— He's spoiled as he can be; Joe cries too, but not that way.

As anyone can see. Joe's an angel—Jim is not— Where can the difference be? Why, little Jim's the neighbor's child.

And Joe belongs to me.

W. E. Heathman of Littlefield was a visitor here Sunday.

Clothing Merchants Meeting at Lubbock

Lubbock, Texas.—The 11th semi-annual West Texas-New Mexico Wholesale Clothing market will be held in Lubbock, Oct. 19 to 22nd, inclusive, Lubbock Chamber of Commerce officials have announced.

From 75 to 100 lines of ready-to-wear, millinery, shoes, hosiery, general merchandise, men's wear, and specialty items are expected from Dallas, Kansas City, St. Louis, San Antonio, Los Angeles and other markets, and from 200 to 250 retail merchants from a radius of two hundred miles of Lubbock are expected.

Monday, Oct. 21, is to be the big day at the market.

Monday evening, at the Lubbock High School Auditorium, a style show will be staged under the direction of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, with the cooperation of the visiting wholesale merchants. Styles for fall in sport and street wear, afternoon and evening dresses, coats, wash frocks, pajamas, millinery, hosiery and other merchandise will be paraded before visiting merchants, modeled by members of the younger sets of Lubbock.

Following the style show, a dance will be held honoring visiting retail merchants.

Retail merchants, their employees and a few choice customers will be admitted free to both the style show and dance.

"I have spent nearly $20,000 on that girl's education," complained the aggrieved father, "and here she goes and marries a young feller with an income of only $1,000 a year."

"Well," said the friend of the family, "that's 5 per cent on your investment. What more can you expect in these times?"

BAPTIST W. M. S.
Although the Gospel according to Matthew is impersonal, official and formal in style and holds Christ up as King and Ruler it depicts sufferings that no impostor would undergo and proves Christ to be not a mere Martyr but a Redeemer for all who believe," said Rev. Geo. A. Dale in the W. M. S. Bible study hour Monday at the First Baptist Church.

Rev. Dale explained that Matthew grouped his writings by subjects, basing what he had to say of Christ's birth and early life very largely on 18 books of the old Bible, quoting from these more than one hundred times, the Psalms, Isaiah, and Deuteronomy, being the chief sources of these quotations.

This, like all Bible lessons in the W. M. S. program, was most interesting and helpful to those attending. Such Bible studies are always a treat to all who attend.

Mrs. Jim Burleson presided in the absence of Mrs. Caveness who was ill.

TAHOKA MUSIC CLUB
The Tahoka Music Club held a special meeting Monday night at the home of the president. Interest in the meeting centered around the pending District Convention at Pampa this week-end. Mrs. Sudarth will leave Thurs. noon to accompany a party from Lubbock in time for attendance at a banquet complimentary to the District Board and a Board meeting to follow. Representatives from the Minor Baton and the Melody Maids will go up Friday afternoon to participate in the Saturday Junior Day program. All will return that evening.

The Minor Baton Trio sang an arrangement of "The Londonderry Air" to illustrate the lesson on folk song. "A musical romance" and inspection of the two club scrapbooks furnished entertainment. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. S. D. Francis of Beaumont is here visiting County Superintendent and Mrs. H. P. Caveness. She is a sister of Mr. Caveness. She has also been visiting her brother, C. B. Caveness, of Gordon.

Little Jane Donaldson, who underwent a mastoid operation in the Lubbock Sanitarium early last week, is still in the sanitarium but is improving satisfactorily.

Mrs. S. J. Freeman and daughter, Miss Mary Douglas of Abilene, have been visiting their old time friend, Mrs. B. L. Millman.

Soup-Eaters, Read This

"All I could eat was soup and strained vegetables, and even these gave me terrible stomach pain," declared I. H. Johnson, well-known farmer near Leonard, Texas. "This went on for 15 years. I spent $75 or $100 trying to relieve a terribly acid, upset stomach, gas, bloating, and all the other things that go with acid stomach trouble. For years, worked only half-time for 5 months was too sick to work at all. Then I started on Gordon's Compound. In 3 days all distress was gone. But whatever I like, feel fine, gained weight. I certainly recommend Gordon's."

METHODIST CHURCH SERVICES

There was a fine attendance at S. S. and both church services. W. E. Smith is general Supt. of the S. S. Let us all give him our support in every way. Rev. H. C. Smith brought two wonderful sermons as he always does. If you were not there to hear him you are not quit as good a Christian this week as you could have been, for both sermons were very practical and helpful, and you needed to be there. We are living beneath our privilege, when we are not in our place for church services and S. S. If we all will stop and think of the vows we took, when we went into the church, I am sure we would not be so indifferent. Be in your place Sunday and let us all have a good day together in a worshipful attitude.

Come to Choir rehearsal each week.

CHURCH OF CHRIST NOTES

Services last Lord's day were not up to par, just a let down after the meeting. I wish the members were just as zealous all the time as they are during the big meeting.

I am hoping and praying that we shall catch a vision of the great work before us. It is as Jesus said "The fields are white already to harvest."

We shall be glad when the city officials shall see their way clear to keep out dirty carnivals. For we are sure they do not do our town any good but much harm.

Services next Lord's day as usual.

Worship with us and be helped.
R. P. Drennon

EUZELIAN CLASS ENTERTAINED

Tuesday evening, October 15, Mrs. E. I. Hill assisted by Miss Berta Hill entertained members of the Euzelean Sunday School Class in the home of Mrs. Hill. The house was beautifully decorated in Autumn flowers. After a brief business meeting, we repaired to the lawn where Hallowe'en was in evidence in the exciting games, that were played and in the refreshments consisting of roasted wieners, salad, around a brightly blazing camp fire.

One guest having partaken too freely of the refreshments needed the immediate attention of a trained nurse and an experienced physician. Mrs. W. M. Harris and Mrs. R. C. Forrester immediately took charge of the situation and successfully performed an operation to the relief of the patient and surprise of the gasping on-lookers since they did not know Mrs. Harris was a trained nurse and Mrs. Forrester was a skilled welder of knife and saw.

Aw shucks! by this time it was late and we were forced to go home.

Mrs. H. P. Caveness, who has been sick for more than a week, is much better and is able to be up most of the time.

Mrs. Irvin Stewart has been quite sick a few days this week. Mitt Finch is in Mineral Wells for his health.

Reader Opposed To New School Bonds

Has your attention been called to the election and the purpose of said election?

A few weeks ago a petition with a few signers headed with the name of the Hon. J. K. Applewhite was presented to the honorable school board requesting that said board call for an election. For what purpose? That they might have the power delegated to them that they, the school board, at their own discretion, may raise the Central Ward school building, that has cost the tax payers of the Tahoka Independent School District $85,000, and take what material they can use and construct a school building with 12 class rooms with an addition of $40,000 bond issue to be paid by some one some day by the tax payers of the Tahoka Independent School District but to be placed on or near by the high school building. In addition to this the WPA or the Federal Government will make a grant of $33,000 for a gymnasium in connection with the 12 class-room building.

If there was only one consideration and that one from an economical standpoint, there is not a business man in this independent school district but what would say it is ridiculous.

But that is not the only demoralizing aspect to the situation. Space is too limited for a full discussion but here is the argument of the proponents of the above statements. The old building is growing old and rickety (however, it was built in 1917) and the modern state inspector says that if something isn't done we will have to condemn it. But I ask you to go and examine this building yourself, and carry a man in whom you have explicit confidence and who is a first class mechanic, and examine the foundation and the walls and the top of this building and then report to the honorable board of trustees. I am sure the top may not be in first class order; however the board of trustees spent not long ago $6,000 for a new roof. They had access to the people's pocket book (no not theirs). Who was responsible?

I took upon myself a short time ago to visit this old, out-of-date, dilapidated Central Ward school. I took particular pains to examine the foundation, outside walls, then I entered the hallways and class rooms and auditorium, and to my surprise I found every aspect of the interior very inviting. Far beyond my rural school day. Then I drew the comparison of my school days in a Baptist College at Scottsboro, Alabama, and the North Texas Normal at Denton, Texas, and as late as the spring and summer of 1905 in the State University, and this old dilapidated Central Ward building was just as attractive outside and in as the main University building was in 1905, where some of the greatest men and women have gone out prior to 1905 and blessed the world through their service.

Second Proposition—Have you ever stopped to think where the school population of Tahoka lies with reference to the new site? Think of the distance the little tots would have to go, and it would be an impossibility for them to attend during cold or rainy days. Don't speak to me about Christianity and the love you have for humanity and go and vote this bond issue and handicap at least 80 per cent of the poor children of town, whose parents are not able to carry them to school. I feel sure if you were to take the high school as a center and a radius of one half mile, you wouldn't reach over 25 school children. Are you able to think of the expense the City and citizenry of this little town have gone to, to make it possible, by way of sidewalks, for the poor children to get to school? When you go to vote follow the Scripture, "Do unto others as you would that they should do unto you."

I unreservedly make this statement: To vote these bond issues would be an affront to humanity and society.

—TAPAYER

Editorial Note—Just to keep the record straight, we wish to call attention to a few errors or misleading statements in the above article. First, the Central Ward school building did not cost the taxpayers of the Tahoka Independent School District $85,000. Second, the Central Ward building was not constructed in 1917. Bonds in the sum of $15,000 were voted and the old portion of this building erected in 1911. Another bond issue of $30,000 was voted in 1920. With this, the auditorium and basement were constructed as an addition to the old building, a two-room building was constructed at South Ward, and equipment was purchased for the two buildings. The original investment in Central Ward building including the auditorium and equipment and South Ward building combined was $45,000.

Mrs. Tom Garrard attended the funeral services in Lubbock Tuesday of E. R. Crews, pioneer Andrews County ranchman, who was a long time friend of Judge Garrard's. The Judge was in Austin and was therefore unable to be present at the funeral.

"CHINA SEAS" SEASON'S MOST EXCITING FILM

The south coast of China, last frontier of the sea, is the unusual setting of one of the season's dramatic photoplays.

The picture is "China Seas," with a cast headed by Clark Gable, Jean Harlow and Wallace Beery, and including a dozen other celebrities. Tay Garnett directed. The picture comes to the English Theatre, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The entire action of the plot takes place aboard a coastwise steamer between Hongkong and Singapore, and includes the photographing, for the first time on the screen, of one of the violent typhoons that have made this part of the Pacific the graveyard for thousands of stout ships.

The recent pirate pillaging of a British ship in these waters provided front page news for a week. Piracy still exists in this lonely section, the pirates being outcasts from the Malay Archipelago, and Chinese brigands whose armadas, for the most part, are clumsy junks.

"China Seas" tells the story of a group of European cosmopolites whose lives and safety are threatened by pirates and by vicious storms common to this section. Love, hate and intrigue are blended in the plot.

Miss Harlow is presented as Supporting the stars is a cast that includes Lewis Stone, Rosalind Russell, Dudley Digges, C. Aubrey Smith, Robert Benchley and many others. Tay Garnett directed.

Pep Meetings
 This year we have been having pep meetings before school. In the past years, this has not formerly been the case. Pep meetings were formerly held after school hours. If the meetings are held before school, we have plenty of interest and energy and we are willing to co-operate and really yell. We find that early in the morning when we are fresh, we can yell a great deal better than we can if we have put in a day's work or study.

If student's seem noisier this year than they have been formerly, it is probably due to the increase in the number of students rather than the pep meetings. The pep squad this year consists of around thirty-five or forty girls. They really yell and have co-operated well. This year the uniforms are princess style, with buttons down the front. The material used is blue indianhead. The white buttons with the white tie make the dress very attractive. The pep squad sponsor this year is Mr. Stubbs and he is a good one. New yells are being learned and the formation is a T.

Our next game is scheduled for Friday night Oct. 18, against Odessa at Odessa. We hope to have a good game and a successful one. Everyone is invited to attend this game and to yell for the Bulldogs.

HOME EC. DEPARTMENT

Freshman
 The girls are doing nice work in making their pajamas. They hope to have them done soon.

Sophomore 221
 Dinner menus are being planned by the girls. They hope to start serving dinners next week.

Christmas cards are being sold to raise funds for sending delegates to the State Rally at San Angelo next spring.

Junior 331

In making children toys the juniors have the pleasure. Also they are studying child guidance and child care.

The Home Ec. Classes

About twenty four pillows have been made for the comfort of the people when home games are being played. They are blue and white. The pillow is blue and it has a T of white.

The Pep Squad

Last Friday night, when the Tahoka Bulldogs played the Post Antelopes, the Tahoka pep squad went and made a very nice showing. The pep squad had plenty of yells and they all yelled. They made a pretty formation during the half; they formed a T. It seems that the majority of the pep squad is made up of Junior girls. The pep squad helped out by encouraging the football boys. The pep squad expects to go on many more trips.

The Sophomore Girls Home Room
 There are fifteen girls enrolled in the sophomore home room. They are not getting many demerits this year, we haven't figured out why.

It is rumored that Joe Belle Milliken is going to Hollywood so we understand she has been elected as a double for Shirley Temple.

Robert Taylor from Bartlesville, Oklahoma enrolled last week in the junior class. Two girls from Brownfield have recently enrolled. They are Gwendolyn Baker, a sophomore at twelve and Marquerite Clark, a freshman.

Mr. Bill Stubbs, Agriculture teacher is in the Lubbock Sanitarium where he underwent an appendix operation Monday evening. The students and faculty miss him very much.

HONORED AT TECH

J. D. Donaldson of this city has been elected president of the Texas Tech Tennis Club at a meeting of the organization last Friday night. Try-outs for the Tech team will soon start.

Stomach Gas

One dose of ADLERIKA quickly relieves gas bloating, cleans out BOTH upper and lower bowels, allows you to eat and sleep good. Quick, thorough action, yet entirely gentle and safe.

Automobile Is Power Of Death

Austin, Sept. 26.—Comparatively few people seriously realize the automobile's deadly power, but according to Dr. John W. Brown State Health Officer, over 1500 Texans are killed each year by autos. Very logically considered as a major recreational and useful mechanism, its ability prematurely to maim and kill makes little impression upon most of us. In fact, the daily list of casualties in the papers indicated indifference to the situation. Nevertheless, as a menace to life and limb the automobile unfortunately represents a real hazard.

In addition to its pleasure and utility factors, the motor-car has its devastating side also. Decidedly this fact should not be overlooked. And in this connection education alone can be relied upon to bring results. There is no serum, no drug, no quarantine procedure, nor any effective mass control against the automobile's damaging power. Automobile accidents caused more deaths in Texas last year than the combined death from typhoid fever, smallpox, measles, diphtheria, scarlet fever, whooping-cough, and infantile paralysis.

Whether human nature can be sufficiently bridled by public opinion as to result in more careful driving and more cautious walking remains to be proved. But the fact is that a major health and life problem is involved in the present circumstance.

Safe water, clean milk, disease control, slum clearance, sanatoria and indeed modern medicine and surgery are all of small avail to the speed-maniac who kills himself and others. Medical science also is equally powerless to save pedestrians who are knocked down by the careless driver, or who carelessly connect with careful drivers.

Citizens generally could well seriously consider this ever increasing challenge to life and health. Upon them rests much of the obligation definitely to reduce the ever increasing casualties.

"What did they sock you in jail for?"
 "Competition."
 "Whadye mean, competition?"
 "I made the same kind of ten dollar bills the government does."

Will Honor Texas Heroes

Students of Tahoka High School will cooperate in the selection of a Hall of Fame for Texas State College for Women (CIA), according to Principal.

Plans are under way for the election of ten prominent Texans to comprise the original group. A committee in charge of the Hall of Fame has prepared a ballot of 22 names, and students from approximately 850 high schools in the state will vote the last week in October to select their favorite Texas heroes and heroines.

Students will also be permitted to add any individuals to the ballot who they deem worthy of the recognition. No living person is eligible for the Hall of Fame, but no other restrictions have been made.

Names that will appear on the ballot are Moses Austin, Stephen F. Austin, Baron DeBastrop, Thomas H. Benton, James Bowie, David G. Burnet, Richard Coke, David Crockett, James S. Hogg, Sam Houston, Richard B. Hubbard, Anson Jones, Mirabeau B. Lamar, Robert LaSalle, Ben P. Milam, Roger Q. Mills, Elisha M. Poase, John H. Reagan, O. M. Roberts, Thomas J. Rusk, William B. Travis, William H. Wharton.

The original Hall of Fame, which will be housed in the T. S. C. W. library, will be enlarged from year to year. This is a Texas Centennial project in keeping with the program of the year.

For Bad Feeling Due to Constipation

Get rid of constipation by taking Black-Draught as soon as you notice that bowel activity has slowed up or you begin to feel sluggish. Thousands prefer Black-Draught for the refreshing relief it has brought them. Mrs. Ray Mullins, of Lufe, Ark., writes: "My husband and I both take Theford's Black-Draught and find it splendid for constipation, biliousness, and the disagreeable, aching, tired feeling that comes from this condition." With reference to Syrup of Black-Draught, which this mother gives her children, she says: "They like the taste and it gave such good results."

Leaf tobacco being sold to highest bidder

United States Treasury Building

From 1900 up to 1934 the leaf tobacco used for cigarettes increased from 13,084,037 lbs. to 326,093,357 lbs.; an increase of 2392%

It takes mild ripe tobacco to make a good cigarette.

During the year ending June 30, 1900, the Government collected from cigarette taxes $3,969,191

For the year ending June 30, 1934, the same taxes were $350,299,442 an increase of 8725% —a lot of money.

Cigarettes give a lot of pleasure to a lot of people.

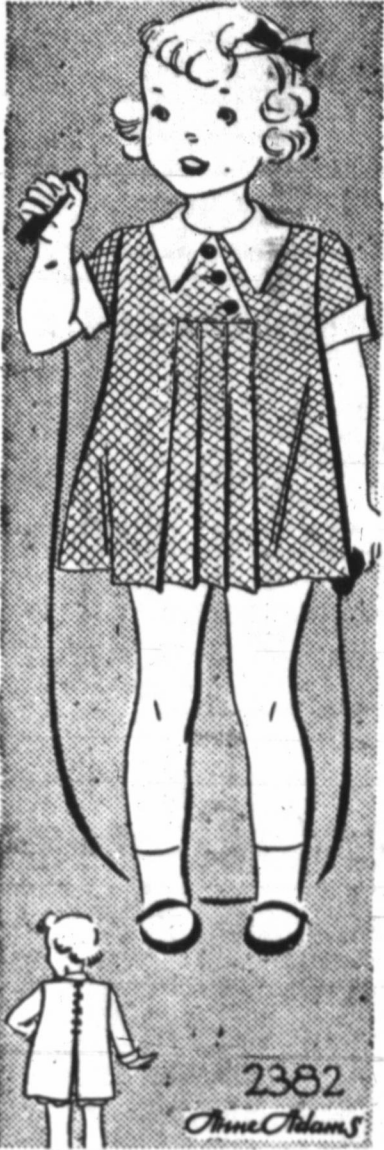

More cigarettes are smoked today because more people know about them—they are better advertised. But the main reason for the increase is that they are made better—made of better tobaccos; then again the tobaccos are blended—a blend of Domestic and Turkish tobaccos. Chesterfield is made of mild, ripe tobaccos. Everything that science knows about is used in making it a milder and better-tasting cigarette. We believe you will enjoy them.

Smart Play Frock That's Easy to Sew

PATTERN 2382

2382
Chas. Chas.

Pleated for play, in a very new way, this child's frock gives her plenty of room for rope-skipping. Her mother will find this smart frock so easy to cut and put together, and a very economical pattern, since bloomers are included with the dress. You can make these up in the same material, or just plain white to wear with other frocks, and no child can have too many pairs. The buttoned closing of the frock takes a new slant, and don't worry about those four pleats! They're as easy a decoration as you've ever made. Colorful novelty cotton for that crisp look and a choice of short or long sleeves. Pattern 2382 is available in sizes 2, 4, 6 and 8. Size 6 takes 2 1/4 yards 36 inch fabric and 1/2 yard contrasting. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

Address orders to the Sewing Circle Pattern Dept., 243 West Seventh Street, New York City.

AGREEABILITY

"Why don't you try to make yourself agreeable?" asked the reproving friend.

"My dear," said Miss Cayenne, "a desire to be agreeable has spoiled my disposition. You can't be agreeable to some people without saying sharp things about others."

Whether the "Pain" Remedy You Use is SAFE?

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unsound Preparations

THE person to ask whether the preparation you or your family are taking for the relief of headaches is SAFE to use regularly is your family doctor. Ask him particularly about GENUINE BAYER ASPIRIN.

He will tell you that before the discovery of Bayer Aspirin most "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as bad for the stomach and, often, for the heart. Which is food for thought if you seek quick, safe relief.

Scientists rate Bayer Aspirin among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and the pains of rheumatism, neuritis and neuralgia. And the experience of millions of users has proved it safe for the average person to use regularly. In your own interest remember this:

You can get Genuine Bayer Aspirin at any drug store—simply by asking for it by its full name, BAYER ASPIRIN. Make it a point to do this—see that you get what you want.

Quick, Complete Pleasant ELIMINATION

Let's be frank. There's only one way for your body to rid itself of the waste matter that causes acidity, gas, headaches, bloated feelings and a dozen other discomforts—your intestines must function.

To make them move quickly, pleasantly, completely, without griping. Thousands of physicians recommend Milnesia Wafers. (Dentists recommend Milnesia wafers as an efficient remedy for mouth acidity.)

These mint flavored candy-like wafers are pure milk of magnesia. Each wafer is approximately equal to a full adult dose of liquid milk of magnesia. Chewed thoroughly in accordance with the directions on the bottle or tin, then swallowed, they correct acidity, bad breath, flatulence, at their source and at the same time enable quick, complete, pleasant elimination.

Milnesia Wafers come in bottles of 20 and 48 wafers, at 35c and 60c respectively, or in convenient tins containing 12 at 20c. Each wafer is approximately an adult dose of milk of magnesia. All good drug stores carry them. Start using these delicious, effective wafers today.

Professional samples sent free to registered physicians or dentists if request is made on professional letter head.

Mussolini at the Phone Who Is the Man? No Fear in Vatican City A Shot at a Bird

Something new in war is Mussolini sitting in his office at the Palazzo Venezia in Rome, talking on a short-wave radio telephone with Gen. Emilio de Bono, his commander in chief in Ethiopia. Mussolini should have been photographed as he received the message. "We have just taken Addis, where 8,000 of our colonial troops, 6,000 of our Italian troops, were killed 40 years ago, and Italy humiliated."

Arthur Brisbane

That was a proud moment in Mussolini's life.

After Mussolini gets the news by radio-telephone he telephones it to the Italian king's summer residence.

For a change from war, consider this incident. Before the entrance to the "Recess club" frequented by Wall Street's "Who's Who," stood George C. Haigh, banker; Matthew S. Sloan, who used to run New York's electric light and now runs the "Katy" railroad, a learned friend of Mr. Sloan's and this writer.

Mr. Sloan said, with finality that marks greatness, "Mr. Blank," mentioning the name of a well-known Republican candidate, "will be elected in 1936." Your narrator buttonholed the first man passing; a Wall Street denizen, well-dressed, asked him "Who is Mr. Blank?" mentioning the name of Mr. Sloan's candidate.

"Never heard of him, don't know who he is. Who is he?" the pedestrian replied and went on. Of the next ten, nine would have said, similarly, "Never heard of him," but all ten would have heard of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Republicans must take somebody whose name is known if they can find him; falling that, they would do well to select him now and see to it that his name is known before election day comes around.

Despite possibilities of widespread bombing of cities if "that war in Europe" should come, Vatican City, ruled by the pope, does not consider anti-bomb defense necessary. Ossevatore Romano, representing the Vatican, denies reports that shelters against air raids would be provided in Vatican City. It says:

"The Holy Father has reason to believe that the dome of St. Peter's, regardless of whatever the occasion might be, is the most inviolable defense, firstly, because of the celestial protection of the Prince of Apostles, for whom the dome is the sacred sign and symbol, and because its mass indicates so clearly the holy place, respected and venerated during the most obscure centuries."

That the magnificent building erected by Michelangelo, with his priceless statues and paintings within it, would be respected by even the most barbarous invader seems certain.

Little things start big things. Doctor Potter, formerly professor of political science in the University of Wisconsin, one of an international committee of four that tried to settle a quarrel between Italy and Ethiopia in 1934, says that Italy has good ground for complaint against Ethiopia, and that a soldier's casual shot at a bird probably caused the present trouble.

Mr. Joseph E. Uihlein, an able citizen of Milwaukee, who takes information with him on his travels and is therefore able to bring information back, returns from England with the impression that, despite greatly improved conditions in Britain, English and other Europeans are expecting something unpleasant to happen. What it is, where it will start, what will cause it, nobody is prepared to say, but there is a feeling of apprehension, a vague anticipation of some catastrophic event.

The President assures the nation that on this occasion America will not meddle with what does not concern it.

What will the United States do about selling food to Italy, if, through "sanctions," the League of Nations tries to starve out the Italians, as Germany was starved?

If a chain is no stronger than its weakest link the chain that makes up the human race is not strong.

Authorities in Java report fifty natives of New Guinea, including seven children, arrested as "head-hunters." They got the heads of two native women and ate the two women.

Mussolini spoke to twenty million Italians gathered in Italy's public squares, and to the people of the world. You could not mistake the meaning of that voice.

Newspaper men, gathered near the radio, said: "His voice made the shivers run up and down our backs, although we could not understand a word of it." Shivers do not often run up and down those backs.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. P. S. FITZPATRICK, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, & Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for October 20

THE MESSAGE OF JEREMIAH

LESSON TEXT—Jeremiah 7:1-28. GOLDEN TEXT—Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people. Jeremiah 1:23. PRIMARY TOPIC—What Jeremiah Said. JUNIOR TOPIC—Jeremiah's Stirring Message. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Doing What God Commands. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Will of God for Our Times.

The prophet stood in the gate of the temple in order that the multitudes might hear him. The occasion was the coming together of the people from all over the country to attend a feast. From this place of prominence Jeremiah called the people to obedience.

1. What God Requires (vv. 1-7).
  1. Amend your ways (v. 3). This means that their course of living should be reformed by exchanging bad deeds for good ones. On the basis of this change God would permit them to remain in their city and country. Failure to comply with this demand would result in their expulsion.
  2. Personal experience (v. 4). The people regarded the temple as a charm against evil, irrespective of the condition of their hearts. Without a heart experience, the most sacred institution and ordinances are valueless. Trusting in religious forms while lacking a vital experience is the height of folly.
  3. Social Justice (v. 5). The proof of their having reformed was the execution of justice between man and his neighbor. The evidence of one's being in touch with God is his fair dealing with his fellow men.
  4. Not to oppress the helpless (v. 6). The stranger would likely be ignorant of the laws of the land. The widows and orphans would usually be imposed upon. Protection and defense of the weak is a sure sign of godliness.
  5. Not walk after other gods (v. 6). The worship of idols and conformity to heathen customs go hand in hand. True morality is determined by the individual's attitude toward God.
11. Some Solemn Warnings (vv. 8-15).
  1. The teachings of false prophets (vv. 8-11). These false prophets taught the people that attention to ceremony and observance of religious form exempted them from strict attention to morals. Those who heeded the words of the lying prophets did not hesitate to steal, murder, commit adultery, swear falsely, and practice idolatry. They would even come into the Lord's house and claim freedom to practice such abominations. The sacred temple itself, filled with such worshippers, would be a den of robbers.
  2. By the destruction of Shiloh (vv. 12-15). God caused his tabernacle to be set up in Shiloh, but in Eli's time he gave it into the hands of the Philistines because of the idolatry of the people (Ps. 78:56-60). The prophet declared that God would do even so with the temple, the city and the whole country. This he had already done with Israel and the northern kingdom.

III. The Hopeless Condition of the People (vv. 16-20). Their propensity to do evil was so strong that all efforts at reclamation were futile.

1. Pray not for them (v. 16). There is such a thing as sinning unto death, in which case prayer is useless (v. 16; cf. I John 5:16).

2. Entire families devoted their energies to that which provoked God's anger (vv. 17-19). This was done by young and old, men and women. They did it with the definite purpose to provoke God's anger. The prophet assured them that the outcome of such conduct would be their utter confusion.

IV. Judgment Sure to Fall (v. 20). Because the people poured out their offerings to idols, the furious anger and wrath of God would be poured out upon men, beasts, trees and the fruit of the ground. How this has been fulfilled the history of the Jews makes clear.

V. Obedience to God Better than Sacrifice (vv. 21-26).

The prophet appealed to history to show that God requires heart service rather than the observance of religious forms. Blessings came to Israel through obedience, while curplings followed disobedience. On condition of obedience to his requirements God promised to own them as his people and to bless them.

The Seventh Wave The man who waits for some seventh wave to toss him on dry land, will find that the seventh wave is a long time coming. You can commit no greater folly than to sit by the roadside until someone comes along and invites you to ride with him to wealth or influence.—J. B. Gough.

Conciliation The essence of all fine breeding is in the gift of conciliation. A man who possesses every other title to our respect, except that of courtesy, is in danger of forfeiting them all. A rude manner renders its owner always liable to affront. He is never without dignity who avoids wounding the dignity of others.—Lytton.

Duty He who in questions of right, virtue or duty sets himself above all ridicule is truly great.—Lavater.

Djibouti, French-Owned African Port, Livens Up

A key port of France's colonial empire, set down in a desolate desert that is one of the hottest spots on the globe, is the dazzling white little city of Djibouti, French Somaliland now thronging with adventurers, refugees, and French colonial troops.

"This small settlement, with less than 12,000 population in normal times, now occupies world attention not only as a French outpost commanding the Red sea next door to Italy's Eritrea, but as the terminus of the only railroad connecting Ethiopia with the ocean," says the National Geographic society.

"Djibouti is a city of strange contrasts. It boasts movie theaters, cafes, and a radio station, though its normal white population is less than 700; and in the desert behind it wander tribes not far removed from savagery. Night, when the blistering sun has disappeared, is Djibouti's busy time. At midday, from eleven to three, white and black alike shrink into whatever shade there is, and activity slows to a minimum.

"The only French port of call on the Suez route to Madagascar, French Indo-China, and other French colonial possessions in the east, Djibouti is of considerable strategic importance. French Somaliland, of which it is the capital, shares command of the entrance to the Red sea with the British protectorate of Aden, 150 miles opposite on the coast of Arabia.

"Djibouti lies on a coast consisting chiefly of sand and volcanic rock with here and there a patch of low scrub. The Gulf of Tadjoura, on which it stands, bites into the coast to a depth of 36 miles. Cliffs of volcanic stone form the shores of this gulf for many miles. Five miles inland from the tip of the gulf is Lake Assal, Somaliland's 'Little Dead sea,' nearly 500 feet below sea level. Its shores are encrusted with salt deposits, and the gathering of this salt is a major industry.

"France has held part of Somaliland since 1864, when the Port of Obok was bought. The colony achieved real importance, however, only with the completion of the railroad from Djibouti to Ethiopia's capital, Addis Ababa, about 500 miles away.

"The railroad was built at tremendous cost, and before the World war its passenger fare was about 25

CHEAP LABOR

The bridge built in 1772 which carries the western highway over the Seine at Neuilly-Sur-Seine, France, has become inadequate for modern traffic and is to be replaced. The new bridge, however, is likely to be more costly than the old. Accounts still preserved show that the contractor in 1772 paid his masons 46 cents, carpenters 45 cents, and laborers 26 cents a day, and they were not 8 hour-days, either. But living was cheaper then.

OH, MISS— I'D LIKE MY CHECK, PLEASE

YOU'LL HAVE TO WAIT A MINUTE ... I CAN'T BE EVERYWHERE AT ONCE!

ASK HIM IF HE'D LIKE A CUP OF COFFEE — DOWN THE BACK OF HIS NECK!

WHY MARY! THAT'S NO WAY TO TREAT MR. JENKINS! DON'T YOU KNOW HIS FATHER IS THE RICHEST MAN IN TOWN?

I DON'T CARE — HE'S JUST ANOTHER FUSSY CUSTOMER TO ME!

TELL HER THAT IF SHE HAD YOUR HEADACHES AND INDIGESTION, CUSTOMERS WOULDN'T GET OUT OF HERE ALIVE!

I KNOW YOU'RE NOT FEELING WELL, BUT DIDN'T THE DOCTOR TELL YOU TO GIVE UP COFFEE AND SWITCH TO POSTUM?

YES, BUT WHY SHOULD I? COFFEE NEVER HURTS ME!

OF COURSE NOT! PAY NO ATTENTION TO SUCH TRIPE!

WELL, MARY, IF YOUR DISPOSITION DOESN'T IMPROVE WE'LL HAVE TO GET ALONG WITHOUT YOU! CUSTOMERS ARE COMPLAINING!

THEN — I SUPPOSE I'LL HAVE TO TRY POSTUM!

CURSES! THAT LICKS ME! I NEVER COULD STAND UP AGAINST POSTUM!

WHY IS MARY LEAVING? SINCE SHE SWITCHED TO POSTUM SHE'S BEEN OUR MOST POPULAR WAITRESS!

OH, DIDN'T SHE TELL YOU? SHE'S ENGAGED TO MARRY YOUNG MR. JENKINS WHO COMES IN HERE EVERY DAY!

"I THOUGHT only children had to avoid coffee ... how could it have been harming you?"

"Oh, many adults, too, find that the caffeine in coffee upsets their nerves, causes indigestion or prevents sound sleep!"

If you suspect that coffee disagrees with you ... try Postum for 30 days. It contains no caffeine. It is simply whole wheat and bran, roasted and slightly sweetened. It's easy to make, and costs less than half a cent a cup. Postum is delicious and may prove a real help. A product of General Foods.

Raises Ton Of Food In Garden

Dimmitt, Sept. 26—"A ton of food has been taken this year from my garden plot of about 100 feet by 200 feet," Mrs. Edd Peacock of Castro county has reported to Miss Izora Clark, home demonstration agent. "Of this amount, half has been used to supply the family table and the other 1000 pounds canned," she said.

Mrs. Peacock lives in one of the driest areas of the Plains country, and she has been able to have this garden by use of an ample supply of water from two storage tanks.

"We have eaten from our garden since early May, and now with our first good showers of the entire year our garden is producing the heaviest yield," she said. "We have had ripe tomatoes since the first of August, and have gathered two tubs of English peas. More than 200 pounds of cabbage have been made into kraut, and there is still more in the garden. We have 700 Bermuda plants and when all are harvested, we will have several bushels of sweet onions."

EXPLAINS CORN-HOG PROBLEM FOR FUTURE

Fourth, with a large supply of corn and too few animals to utilize it, the trend of prices of corn during the coming year is expected to be downward. With uncontrolled production next year, the farm price received for the 1936 crop may be expected to average much less than the price received for this year's harvest.

Fifth, it is possible for the hog population to increase rapidly during the next two or three years. Furthermore, farmers would be forced to resort to this means of utilizing their feed supplies if production was uncontrolled. With unlimited farrowings in 1936, a total pig crop 25 to 30 per cent larger than the 1935 crop may be expected. This would lead to a similar increase in 1937, causing 1937 farrowings to total from 50 to 70 per cent heavier than in 1935.

Sixth, in the past ruinously low farm prices have always resulted from unlimited increases in corn and hog production following periods in which live-stock numbers and feed supplies have been out of balance. If no control program is adopted low prices for hogs can be expected, beginning in 1937.

Seventh, it is likely that the gradual economic recovery which has been underway since 1933 will continue, but no improvement in the export demand for pork products can be expected. Since the war American exports of pork and pork products have declined gradually by the equivalent of 8 million head of live hogs.

Eight, a considerable increase in hog production above the present drought-reduced level is desirable from the standpoint of both the farmer and the consumer. On the other hand, an unlimited increase in hogs is not to the interest of either.

Ninth, an adjustment program can allow for a healthy increase in hog numbers and at the same time keep corn acreage at a more desirable level.
