Tahoka And Slaton Meet Here Today

FARM NOTES

By County Agent

A telegram has just been received by this office that the price of Tax-Exemption Certificates has been lowered to 4 cents per pound effective immediately. This will enable farmers to buy these at $20.00 per bale and will be a substantial saving over the old price. We have certificates on hand at the office that we can deliver to the purchaser any time that he may need them.

It is the time of the year now for your hens to be laying if you show a profit on the year's operation. Likely many of the older birds are moulting but the pullets should be in production or near that point.

Feeding is the most important thing to remember in egg production. An egg is a complete food, and to produce it economically a hen must get the materials in about the same proportion as she puts them into the egg, otherwise some surplus feed is wasted in the process, and lower egg production results. A balanced ration should supply the various food requirements of the hen for the production of eggs and may be a very simple ration, composed largely of home grown feeds.

A strictly grain ration, together with plenty of milk, green feed and mineral may be a very economical ration and produce good egg production, however, the milk or green feed often runs low and this seriously affects the ration, so it is wise to keep some balanced ration mash feed before the hens from now on until next summer.

There are numbers of good commercial egg mash feeds on the market that are fine. I have listed below a good home mix ration if you care to make your own mash.

100 pounds, corn meal or milo meal.

100 pounds, ground oats or barley.

100 pounds wheat bran (or 200 pounds finely ground wheat).

100 pounds wheat shorts.

100 pounds meat scraps (50 per cent protein).

5 pounds salt.

Provide plenty of oyster shell and grit.

This grain part of this ration may be juggled around without serious results, depending on the kind of grains available or upon the relative cost of the various grains.

This ration should be fed with about equal part of whole grain and plenty of green feed. When you do not have plenty of green feed, 25 lbs. of a good quality of alfalfa meal should be added to this ration. Also if plenty of milk is available the meat scrap may be lessened by at least half.

The feeding of a wet mash with milk as the liquid, about noon will cause the hens to consume more mash feed and will greatly aid in bringing the hens into production. Let's take better care of our poultry flocks and get in on the good egg prices for the next few months.

The forms for applying for the 2c subsidy on cotton have been received and distributed to the ginners and other cotton buyers of the county. If you have sold cotton and want to apply for the subsidy payment, see the buyer that bought your cotton and have him fill out this form and deliver one copy of the report to the County Agent's Office.

Don't forget the Corn-Hog Referendum Saturday. Ballots have been mailed to Contract signers, but non-contract signers who have or will produce corn or hogs in 1935 are eligible to vote.

The Government is offering a new four year wheat adjustment contract to wheat growers. This wheat program will be presented to the farmers of Lynn County in a series of community meetings. The base period for the eligibility of a farm are the years 1930-31 and 32. Farmers who are interested in the wheat program should plan to attend one of the meetings listed below. If you cannot attend one of these meetings (Cont'd on last page)

BULLDOGS LOST ODESSA GAME

Game Here Today Expected To Be One Of Hardest Contests Of Season

Slaton Tigers, one of the strongest football teams Tahoka will meet this season, are coming here for a game this afternoon, Friday, at 3:30 on the Bulldog gridiron. They will be accompanied by the pep squad, band, and a large crowd of fans.

The Bulldogs are primed for the game, while it is possible that the visiting team will be experiencing a let-down. Though Slaton is rated a better team than Tahoka, the game this afternoon is expected to be a good one. Fans are urged to attend and give the Bulldogs a boost.

The game at Odessa, written up elsewhere in this issue, was said to have been much better than the score indicated. Odessa is a former class A team returned to class B, and has not been defeated in six starts this season. Tahoka was the second team to score on them out of the six. The score was 24 to 6.

A large crowd of fans followed the team to Odessa and were treated to a good game of football, though their favorite lost.

W. D. Nevels Car Stolen Sunday

The V-8 Ford Coupe of W. D. Nevels was stolen from the street in front of his residence here Sunday night. It had been standing in the street only a few minutes, when some person, without taking the trouble to find out if it would be all right with Bill, drove it off and forgot to bring it back.

Mr. Nevels discovered the theft soon thereafter and notified the sheriff, and the sheriff's department has been on the job since. It is hoped and believed that the car and the driver will be found.

On Sunday morning a stolen Lubbock car was found standing on the street here near the Rafe Richardson residence. The Richardson's were gone from home, and Aubra Cade noticed the car standing there early Sunday morning. When it had not been moved at noon Mr. Cade notified the sheriff's office, and the sheriff immediately notified the sheriff of Lubbock county. The car, an Oldsmobile coach, belonged to H. M. Fowler, living six miles south of Lubbock. The gas supply had been exhausted when the car was found here Sunday. It had been stolen the preceding night.

A car stolen at Littlefield Saturday night was also found a few miles south of Lubbock Sunday morning, gas supply exhausted. On the same night a Buick was also stolen at Lubbock and abandoned a few miles south of the city.

It is believed that the same persons committed all these thefts.

Three Convicts Taken To Pen

Sheriff B. L. Parker left Monday with three convicts for the penitentiary. The three were Cecil Morehead, convicted here under the name of Cecil Nolen, Jack Tatum, giving his name here as Pete King, and Walter Collins, a local negro.

Nolen and King were convicted here at the recent term of court for burglarizing a chicken house and stealing a bunch of chickens. They had been previously convicted of car theft in Dallas and Bosque counties. Walter Collins was convicted of assault to murder, stabbing his victim, Charley Malone, with a knife.

PLAY OVER RADIO

Kenneth Reid, Lage Shumake, Ben Ike Scott, "Uncle Ben" Lee, and "Rosy" Lee played a program over radio station KFYO at Lubbock Monday morning. Vocal solos were by Lage and Ben Ike, while the entire group formed an orchestra.

P. CLAYTON 49, PASSED AWAY

Another Pioneer Citizen Died Last Sunday At O'Donnell, Buried Here

Another pioneer citizen of Lynn county has passed away.

Perry Clayton, 49, died at his residence near O'Donnell Sunday after a lingering illness. He had been in bad health for about three years but his condition was not regarded as serious until a little more than two months ago, since which time he had been in a most precarious condition. Death was the result of heart trouble.

Funeral services were conducted in the Methodist Church in O'Donnell at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. Rev. W. K. Horn, a former pastor of the O'Donnell Baptist Church but now pastor at Meadow, officiated, assisted by the Methodist pastor, Rev. G. W. Montgomery, and the former pastor, Rev. W. C. Hart. Burial was under the direction of Harris & Applewhite in the Tahoka Cemetery.

Perry Clayton was born in Hamilton county on March 3, 1886. While yet a child he removed with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Clayton, to Jack county, and later the family came to Haskell county. In December, 1906, they again yielded to the urge to "go west," and so they unpacked their prairie schooner at Tahoka early in that month. This time they settled down for the remainder of their days. But the father died about eighteen years ago and the mother ten years ago.

In October, 1922, Perry Clayton was married to Miss Tulas Ferguson, who resided near the town of O'Donnell. To this union, four children were born, Perry Jr., Darthula, Meda, and Jamie, all of whom survive. Besides the wife, deceased also leaves surviving him one brother, Sumner Clayton, and three sisters, Mrs. A. H. Hussey of Lubbock, and Mrs. Howard Henderson and Miss Meda Clayton of Tahoka. One brother, McMill Clayton, died about ten years ago.

Perry Clayton had been a resident of Lynn county for almost 29 years, residing in the vicinity of Tahoka and O'Donnell. He was a good citizen and enjoyed the esteem of a large circle of friends. Though not a member of any church, he professed faith in Christ some time ago and entertained no fears as to the future.

Another sturdy frontiersman has just crossed over the last divide.

Former Post Agent Has Arm Amputated

D. A. Adam, who at one time was county farm agent at Post, suffered so severe an injury to his left arm Saturday morning near Fort Worth that amputation became necessary. The injury occurred when a truck side-swiped the car in which Mr. Adam was riding.

Mr. Adam is now county agent at Graham, having gone to that place recently from Lamb county, where he served as county agent for several years.

Tenant Farmers Officials Coming

J. O. Butler of Memphis, Tennessee, president of the Southern Tenant Farmers Union, will be in Tahoka next Saturday afternoon, October 26, according to Fred Matthews of Grassland, to interview cotton pickers, dispossessed tenants, and other agricultural workers.

He will be accompanied by a national organizer for the Union, Mr. Matthews says.

NEW CLERK HERE

R. E. Lamb, formerly of Lubbock, has accepted a position with Harris & Applewhite, dealers in farm implements, hardware, and household furnishings. Mr. Lamb will have charge of the Maytag washing machine department. Until his acceptance of this position here, he was employed by Sherrod Brothers in Lubbock. He and family removed to Tahoka last week.

MACHINE AGENCY

J. W. Wilson, agent for Singer Sewing Machines, has opened a headquarters at Wells Store, to handle sales and services on these machines.

Garrards Victims Of Hard Luck

"Misfortunes come not singly but in battalions," said the Bard of Avon.

He probably didn't have Mr. and Mrs. Tom Garrard in mind when he wrote this immortal line but it fits their case just the same.

The latest and most serious of the misfortunes that have recently befallen them—which, by the way, is even more serious to Sam than it is to the parents—is an injury which he sustained a few days ago in a football game. He was taken to Lubbock Monday for an x-ray examination, and it was found that two bones of one of his arms had been broken. The cap bone of the elbow was broken off and another bone, fractured at the elbow. It is quite a serious injury and will probably require a long time to heal completely.

On Saturday, Mr. Garrard's son, T. T. Garrard and his wife were painfully though not seriously injured and narrowly escaped death, when an automobile in which they were riding on the highway between Georgetown and Belton was struck by a passing CCC truck. Two other persons in the car, Representative Huddleston of Coryell county and Mr. Sterling of Killeen, an employee in the Capitol, were more seriously hurt. At last reports Mr. Sterling was in a critical condition. They had stopped to fix a flat, it is said, and their car was struck by the CCC truck while they were stopped. (Contin'd on last page)

Billman Is Winner Salesman Contest

F. M. Billman, local employee of the Texas Utilities Company, won second prize in a lamp sales contest conducted recently by The Texas Utilities Company and the New Mexico Utilities Company jointly. Billman scored highest of any contestant in Texas but a Clovis, New Mexico, man beat him to first place in the territory served by the two companies. Billman's prize was $10 in cash, and he also received commissions on sales.

There were 38 contestants, representing 21 towns in the two states. W. S. Anglin of Tahoka was also a contestant and made a good record himself.

Preceding the contest, each town was awarded a quota, based on its population and the number of clients. Tahoka made the highest score of any town in the district. Its sales were 325 per cent of its quota. Only three cities in the entire territory made more sales than Tahoka. These were Lubbock, Plainview, and Clovis; but necessarily their quotas were larger than Tahoka's. Their percentage of sales over their respective quotas was not as large as Tahoka's.

So, in the entire territory of the two companies, Tahoka heads the list.

ACCEPTS PASTORATE

Rev. R. A. Hoover, late manager of the Jones Dry Goods Company here, who recently re-entered the work of the ministry, has been called for half time as pastor of the Baptist Church at Wells in this county.

Garth Fugusy, who is a student in John Tarleton College at Stephenville, spent the first of the week here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Fugusy.

Highway 9 South Is Finally Assured

Many Talk At Lunch Club Meet

There was no set program at the luncheon club Tuesday, but a number of brief talks were made.

Bill Sewall called attention to the football game to be played here Friday between Tahoka and Slaton and urged a good attendance. Slaton has long had a crack team but Bill thought Tahoka would probably give them a surprise Friday afternoon.

Superintendent W. G. Barrett was also called on for an expression and he gave assurance that the Bulldogs would give a good account of themselves in Friday's game.

Alvin Hicks reported that the Bulldogs certainly did play a good game at Odessa last Friday night, even though they did not win.

Buster Fenton suggested an attendance contest for the luncheon club. President J. K. Applewhite appointed Buster Fenton, Rev. H. C. Smith, and Coleman Wells as a committee to work out plans and report at the next meeting.

Mr. Applewhite announced that for the next several weeks there will be a different toastmaster each week. Each toastmaster will be responsible for his own program.

"Grant" Is "Gift" Again Explained

The News is making no fight either for or against the issuance of bonds for a school building. All we are trying to do is to state the facts pertaining to the matter so clearly that nobody need misunderstand.

Yet, in spite of our clear-cut statement last week that the promised PWA aid is to be an outright grant and not a loan, we are advised that some are not clear as to what the word "grant" means and have been led to believe that the Tahoka Independent School District will eventually be compelled to pay the money back to the Government after all.

Such is not the case. The $32,728.00 furnished by the Government is to be a pure gift. The Tahoka Independent School District will never be required to pay it back, nor any part thereof. Of course the people of the United States, through some means or other, will finally be compelled to pay all the billions of dollars that the Roosevelt Administration is spending. Included in this will be the little sum of $32,728 granted or given to the Tahoka Independent School District as well as the millions that are being spent on other projects in this state and the billions that are being spent throughout the nation.

The crux of the matter is that the Tahoka Independent School District now has an opportunity to get a $72,000 building for the sum of $40,000. These are the sheer facts, and we do not know how to make the matter any clearer.

Cotton Market News Service Offered

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, has recently opened a Cotton Market News Service office in Dallas, Texas, to serve the State of Texas and Oklahoma.

This service consists of a Cotton Market Review and a Premium Staple basis sheet, both of which will be mailed without charge on Saturday of each week to persons interested.

Cotton growers and others desiring the service are invited to address William D. Espy, Division of Cotton Marketing, P. O. Box 1369, Dallas, Texas.

NEW PHARMACIST

Walter Bond of Brownfield has accepted a position as pharmacist at the Tahoka Drug Store. Mr. Bond was employed at this store a few months in the winter of 1928-1929, when he made many friends here. Recently he has been employed in Lubbock.

CONTRACT LET FOR NEW ROAD

Highway No. 9 Will Be Completed If Present Plans Are Carried Out

Highway No. 9 is soon to be paved all the way from Tahoka to the Dawson county line together with the O'Donnell loop, if present plans are carried out.

On Tuesday the state highway commission received bids for the construction of 6.2 miles from the Dawson county line northward and about 1.6 miles loop through O'Donnell. Brown & Root of Austin were the lowest bidders, their bid being $57,864. The proposal calls for caliche base course with asphalt base preservative. Contract will be awarded after approval of low bids by the Bureau of Public Roads, it is announced.

The state highway commission is now advertising for bids for the construction of the remainder of the gap to the southern limits of Tahoka.

Just when work will begin and when these jobs can be finished will depend largely on weather conditions. It is doubtful if the surfacing can be done before next Spring.

Bids were also received Tuesday for the completion of sectors of highway 9 in Howard, Concho, and McCulloch counties.

The Howard county project calls for 17 miles of caliche base course and double asphalt surface from Big Spring northwest. The lowest bid was $116,202 by Thomas & Raliff of Rogers.

In Concho county the project is 13.5 miles caliche base course and triple asphalt surface from Eden to McCulloch county. The lowest bid was made by H. B. Zachry Co., Laredo, $91,388.

In McCulloch county: 8.1 miles caliche base and triple asphalt surface, from San Saba River to Brady. Lowest bid: $73,572 by Morgan Construction Co. of Dallas.

Ask New Bids On South Sector

The state highway commission on Monday called for bids for constructing 7.88 miles of highway No. 9 from the southern limits of Tahoka southward toward O'Donnell, and notice of same is being published in the News this week. This will take the pavement on No. 9 to a point just south of the big lake.

Construction is to consist of caliche base course with asphalt base preservative, similar to the work north of town. Bids are to be received on November 5.

Bids for this work were called for some time ago to be received on October 8, but bids were not received at that time on the alleged grounds that sufficient labor was not available.

Last week Judge W. E. Smith and Commissioners Waldo McLaurin and Levi Nordyke appeared before the highway commission to protest any further delay in the letting of this contract and to convince that body that sufficient labor is available. In Austin they were joined by Senator G. H. Nelson, who assisted them in presenting the matter to the commission, or rather the state highway engineer. He promised action, and the publication of notice this week is the result.

It is to be hoped that contract for the south half of this sector of No. 9 extending to the Dawson county line at O'Donnell will also be let soon.

Negro School Will Open on Monday

Announcement is made that the colored school will open in Tahoka on Monday, November 4.

This will enable the negroes to have the benefits of a seven months school.

ADDING MACHINE ROLLS new is stock at The News office.

FEAR: REAL AND UNREAL; LATTER IS MOST DEADLY

There are, of course, two sorts of fear. One is immediate anxiety—for the next meal; for the safety of some one close and beloved; for the job; for the rent money. These are bad fears, but they have one advantage. They can be faced, and they can indicate direct action. There is something to be done, something which has to be done. One can take these fears out and look them over. The wolf is at the door, but perhaps he can be kept out; and there is always the hope that he is only a coyote after all.

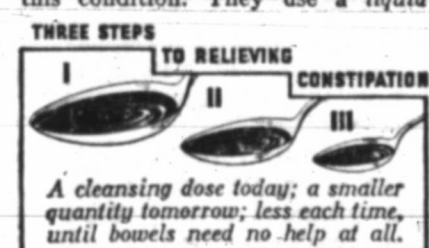

The other fear is far more deadly because it deals with the spirit and feeds on the imagination. It senses about it some hostile force, but does not know precisely what the danger is. There is no more defense against this fear than against a ghost. It comes through the keyhole and hangs over the bed; and men kill themselves to escape it, or retire into asylums and sit huddled in dark corners.

It is a psychosis—if that is the word. It has no actual reality. Each of us either builds it for himself or lays himself open to it. It destroys but never builds. It can take the strong and turn them into old men with shaking hands. It is more destructive than any fact. We can face hunger better, for hunger is a real thing. And the only way to fight it is to know it for what it is: sheer apprehension, despondency, funk, without reality except in the human mind.—Mary Roberts Rinehart in Cosmopolitan.

THE DOCTORS ARE RIGHT

Women should take only liquid laxatives

Many believe any laxative they might take only makes constipation worse. And that isn't true. Do what doctors do to relieve this condition. They use a liquid

A cleansing dose today; a smaller quantity tomorrow; less each time, until bowels need no help at all.

laxative, and keep reducing the dose until the bowels need no help at all.

Reduced dosage is the secret of aiding Nature in restoring regularity. You must use a little less laxative each time, and that's why your laxative should be in liquid form. A liquid dose can be regulated to the drop.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara—both natural laxatives that form no habit even with children. Syrup Pepsin is the nicest tasting, nicest acting laxative you ever tried.

Italy Is Outlawed by the League of Nations

BECAUSE it was prosecuting an undeclared war on Ethiopia, Italy was condemned as a violator of the covenant of the League of Nations and virtually declared to be an outlaw against which economic and financial sanctions are to be applied. That was the decision of 52 members of the league in a memorable meeting of its assembly in Geneva. Three nations, Italy itself and Austria and Hungary, refused to associate themselves with the assembly's action. The Austrian and Hungarian representatives already had announced that they would not participate in any sanctions against Italy because of their political and economic relations with the Fascist government.

If any of the nations concurring in the league's decision wishes to declare war on Italy, it now has the legal right to do so. The nature of the penalties to be imposed and the manner of procedure was to be determined by a committee including all members of the league council, except Italy, and all Italy's neighbor nations except Austria and Hungary.

First of the sanctions announced by the league committee was an embargo on shipments of war materials to Italy, and at the same time the ban against such shipments to Ethiopia was lifted. This was followed by the adoption of six financial penalties against Italy designed to break all financial and credit relations of members of the league with Mussolini's government. Next, according to the plan of the big powers which were directing all this, was to be a trade boycott for the purpose of crippling Italy's imports and exports.

The meeting of the assembly first heard an eloquent speech on Italy's behalf by her chief delegate, Baron Pompeo Aloisi.

He charged that the league had been unfair; that it had used "two weights and two scales" in its work, that it had acted against Italy where it did not act against Japan in the Manchurian crisis, that it did not even consider Italy's complaints against Ethiopia.

"Why not Japan?" he asked. "Why not Bolivia and Paraguay in the Chaco war? Why Italy?"

Before the decision nation after nation registered its adherence to the league covenant.

"I shall make only a brief declaration," said Pierre Laval of France. "France will face her obligations. I repeat it before the assembly. The covenant is our international law."

"Action must now be taken," said Anthony Eden of Great Britain. "I declare the readiness of his majesty's government to take full part in such action."

Austria and Hungary cannot of themselves supply Mussolini with much in the way of raw materials for war; but there is the chance that he may receive, through those countries, materials from Germany if the neutrality proclaimed by Hitler does not prevent. Recent reports from Addis Ababa said the Italian minister, whose departure had been requested by the emperor, announced that the Italian forces in the north sector had occupied the holy city of Aksum, the ancient capital of the queen of Sheba.

Mussolini Now Ready to Talk Peace

ETHIOPIA'S representatives in Geneva were told by delegates of several nations that Mussolini was ready to end the warfare if he were given considerable concessions of territory and certain large economic advantages. This tentative offer was transmitted to Addis Ababa, and the reply of Emperor Haile Selassie was a determined "No." The Italians want virtual control over the entire country, and the emperor is not willing to give up a yard of territory.

The Italians in northern Ethiopia were jubilant over the desertion of Degiac Haile Selassie Gussa and several thousand warriors. This Gussa is not related to the emperor but is a descendant of King John who reigned in the last century. There was a report that Mussolini planned to create a puppet empire from the occupied territory with Gussa on the throne—after the Japanese fashion in Manchuria.

Troop movements indicated the next serious fighting would be in the southern sector, where the emperor's son-in-law, Ras Desta Demeu, was leading an army of 100,000 by forced marches to attack the Italians in the flank. The latter, under Gen. Rodolfo Graziani, were moving toward Harrar from the Somali frontier.

Liberals Are Winners in Canada Elections

PARLIAMENTARY elections in Canada resulted in the defeat of Premier Richard B. Bennett and the Conservatives who have been in control since 1930. The next premier will be Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberals who won 158 out of 245 seats in the house of commons. The new deal policies of the Bennett government were repudiated by the electors.

In the program outlined by King, in case he won, the great emphasis was laid on relieving unemployment and lowering tariffs back to 1930 levels. A reciprocal trade agreement with the United States was one of his strong arguments. Nationalization of the Bank of Canada, to control credit inflation and deflation was another plank.

Appeals Court Upholds Sentence of Hauptmann

UNANIMOUS decision of the New Jersey court of errors and appeals is that Bruno Richard Hauptmann was given a fair trial on the charge of murdering Col. Charles Lindbergh's baby son; that his conviction was in accordance with the evidence and that his death sentence was legal. Every contention raised by the defense was overruled. In its opinion the court said:

"Our conclusion is that the verdict is not only not contrary to the weight of the evidence, but one to which the evidence inescapably led. . . . From three different and, in the main, unrelated sources the proofs point unerringly to guilt—viz:—

(a) Possession and use of the ransom money.

(b) The handwriting of the ransom notes.

(c) The wood used in the construction of the ladder.

Hauptmann's attorneys immediately began preparations for an appeal to the Supreme court of the United States. Their only way is to ask that tribunal for a review of the New Jersey court's action.

Supreme Court to Decide Two Vital Cases

CONSTITUTIONALITY of two New Deal projects—the AAA processing taxes and the TVA operations in generating and selling power in competition with private power companies—is to be determined by the Supreme court of the United States, and an early ruling on both is expected.

Among the court's negative rulings was a refusal to consider the latest habeas corpus proceedings brought in behalf of Thomas Mooney, California's most famous prisoner. The court also refused to hear an attack on a law which strengthened the political machine of the late Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana.

Col. Roosevelt's Ideas on Campaign Issues

IN SOME quarters Col. Theodore Roosevelt is credited with considerable influence among the Republicans of the eastern states, and often he is mentioned as a possible Presidential candidate. Another potential candidate, strong in the West, Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, recently wrote to Colonel Roosevelt proposing that the 1936 Republican campaign be based on a "trust-busting" issue.

The colonel turned down the plan. He replied that, while he was in sympathy with the senator's attitude on monopolies, he felt there are many other issues as great or greater. Among these he named "scandalous waste of the people's money, government extravagance, multitudinous taxes, and attempts to subvert our type of government."

"I entirely agree," Colonel Roosevelt wrote, "that monopolies are evil, for I am a firm believer in the established American principle of competition. I have stated this over and over again during the last eighteen months."

"This is one of the reasons that I opposed so strenuously the NRA, for that organization gave governmental sanction to monopolies and upheld them by the police force of the nation. I believe in the Sherman anti-trust laws."

"I believe that the Republican party should take a clear and unequivocal stand on this issue."

"I do not agree, however, that this will be the major issue of the campaign."

Carter Glass Won't Help Split His Party

SENATOR CARTER GLASS of Virginia has had his differences with the Roosevelt administration and is likely to have others, but he remains a loyal Democrat. He says he is "a constitutional Democrat within the Democratic party" and adds:

"I would not support any movement to split the party. I refused to join the Liberty league and have refused to join any organization whose aims run counter to the party."

Mr. Glass is certain that President Roosevelt will be re-nominated without serious opposition. "There is no organized opposition to his nomination in sight within the party," Glass says. "If he lives, he will be re-nominated by the Democratic party. Not to do so would be a confession of failure."

Washington Digest

National Topics Interpreted

By WILLIAM BRUCKART

NATIONAL PRESS BLDG. WASHINGTON, D. C.

Washington.—It may be, and possibly is, true that the bulk of our people pay little attention to the fact that gold is pouring into the United States in an unprecedented volume. I can understand how the wheat farmer of the plains country or the cotton farmer of the South or any other type of farmer can fail to become excited over the influx of gold in the last five or six months. It appears to be a far cry from the grain fields or the cotton fields or the quarries or the small town to the heavy concentration of yellow metal to which the United States has been subjected. But the link nevertheless exists. It exists as surely and as definitely as night follows day and, therefore, it becomes a subject in which all of us are vitally interested.

Since the beginning of September a widespread flight of capital from Europe has manifested itself in the shape of gold exports to the United States. Three or four hundred millions of dollars in gold have landed here in that time. They bring the net inflow of gold for the year well above $1,000,000,000. And, going a bit further, this addition plus another $1,000,000,000 places our gold stocks in excess of $9,400,000,000, or roughly $2,000,000,000 more than was held here when the dollar was devalued under President Roosevelt's instructions.

It seems impossible to attribute this heavy and prolonged inflow to any single cause. Immediately after devaluation of the dollar, there was a steady stream of yellow metal headed for the United States which was due almost entirely to a desire of American holders of gold, temporarily stored abroad, to repatriate. But even in that case, there was a contributory factor to be considered. Monetary manipulation by the American government had a temporary effect on our exports, increasing them to some extent and it was increasing the balance of payments due to this country. So, we find our policies—that is, policies of the Roosevelt administration—responsible for the start of the inflow.

Later, another influence developed. Under the pressure of American monetary policies, foreign powers found their allegiance to the gold standard severely strained. Silver purchases by the treasury had an effect. The combination was primarily responsible for the second rush of gold.

Subsequently, the Italian-Ethiopian controversy began to take serious form and a new flood of gold to America developed. This was different than that which had immediately preceded it because this movement was related to international conditions of a political nature whereas the previous movement had resulted without relation to international strife in a military way but centered wholly upon American monetary policies and their effect upon economic conditions abroad.

Now, let us consider what can happen. Those acquainted with finance recognize in the existence of a gigantic stock of gold—the largest in American history and approximately 45 per cent of the entire world stock—the existence of a potential, if indeed it is not a probable, base for inflation. There is so much gold held by the American government, which holds virtually all of the gold stocks in this country, that no end of paper money can be issued against it. Those who believe in that type of currency policies say that it would be perfectly safe; that the government could pay off dollar for dollar or even more than a dollar for every paper dollar outstanding from the gold it holds. This school of thought contends that there is actually a shortage of money in circulation and insists that this is one reason why the country has not recovered from the depression more rapidly than conditions show. Of course, a cold appraisal of that argument catalogues it as the same old demand for inflation of the currency and everyone knows what inflation will do in the way of wrecking the person who works for wages or whose sole income consists of a compensation (delivered to him in the form of weekly, semi-monthly, or monthly pay checks. The size of that check never has and never will catch up with the increase in prices which that individual must pay to live.

Then, there is another potential danger in this tremendous hoard of gold. It is in many ways similar to that which I have just related. It is, however, more of a psychological condition than the first. I refer to the attitude usually adopted by those who pull for inflation when they see a government possessed of vast stores of precious metals.

In this instance, the tangent of inflationist sentiment is joined with the sponsors of the silver buying program. "We Want More Money" They see, all of this gold and silver and they simply cannot resist the opportunity for continued howling. Their speeches and their conversations are almost like a college yell: "We want more money," the more money which they desire being nothing more nor less than currency run off in the printing presses of the great bureau of engraving and printing in Washington.

Whether it is the first or the second type of inflation that is demanded, whether it is the printing press money or the money issued against gold as security, the results are the same. It is to be remembered in this connection that none of us can obtain gold from the treasury. The Roosevelt administration demanded of and obtained from congress legislation which definitely prohibited payment of gold for monetary use by the treasury under any circumstances except for the settlement of balances owed foreign nations. But that fact has not deterred demands by inflationists. They are calling and will continue to call for more paper money, and with every call the prices you pay for commodities are bound to increase—that is, they will increase until or unless there is a release of gold again for circulation as money.

So, it is quite apparent that as long as this influx of gold continues and as long as other nations are harassed by monetary manipulation in the United States, we are continually threatened with a "business boom" which is nothing less than inflation of credit. The real danger confronting this country, then, lies in that direction. Summarized, the threat is this: If that inflationist "business boom" gets started, no power on earth is able or will be able to stop it. The next and final step after that is complete destruction of our currency, and medium of exchange.

Political developments in the last few weeks have been completely dominated by the splurge of activity on the part of former President Herbert Hoover.

Stirred by Hoover
pot shots at the New Deal in several speeches have agitated the Democrats much more than they are willing to admit and, notwithstanding assertions of satisfaction, they have thrown a new fear into the laps of the Roosevelt New Dealers.

But, if the Hoover speeches have excited the New Dealers and the conservative Democrats, they have almost precipitated a riot among the Republicans of whom he must be said to be, at least, the titular leader. The bulk of the Republicans look upon Mr. Hoover, because of these recent speeches, as a potential Republican nominee for the Presidency against Mr. Roosevelt next year. They look upon him, further, as an individual who is likely to disrupt plans that contemplate reconciliation, a love feast, among the various factions of the Republican party. They have been struggling to lay a base for this love feast and because of the intense hatred that some of their number have for Mr. Hoover, his activity has opened this breach again, made it a blood-red wound.

Political observers and commentators have shown all manner of excitement because Mr. Hoover has made no statement whether he will or will not be a candidate for the Republican nomination. In plain words, they have been trying valiantly to conduct a campaign that will smoke out Mr. Hoover and make him say whether he is or is not a candidate.

All of the efforts to find out what Mr. Hoover proposes to do have failed and will continue to fail, even with the underground work of the New Deal, to bring from him a statement as to his purposes. He will announce them in his own good time and his statement will be definite when it is made.

Personally, from all of the information I have been able to assemble, I do not believe that Mr. Hoover has any intention of seeking the nomination. I am convinced his purpose is directed wholly and completely to one end: he fears the New Deal and he is trying with all of the power that he possesses to acquaint the country with his views which are obviously in opposition to the theories and policies and experiments of the New Deal. From sources which I consider to be faithful, because they always have been accurate heretofore, it is apparent to me that Mr. Hoover desires to lend his help in acquainting the country with the things in the New Deal which he regards as dangerous to our nation's well being and that beyond such a purpose he is content to enjoy life as a fisherman and vacationist.

But there is another phase of this situation which seems to me to warrant consideration. While some of the anti-Hooverites have been denouncing him, even calling him names under their breath, Mr. Hoover has done the Republican party a big favor. By his attacks on the New Deal; by his condemnation of the things in it which he regards as certain to be destructive; in short, by his activity which many construe as a campaign for the nomination, he has made the Republicans conscious of the job they have to do. He has awakened them and has put fight into them which three or four short months ago did not exist.

Do You Ever Wonder

Whether the "Pain" Remedy You Use is SAFE?

Ask Your Doctor and Find Out

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

THE person to ask whether the preparation you or your family are taking for the relief of headaches is SAFE to use regularly is your family doctor. Ask him particularly about Genuine Bayer Aspirin.

He will tell you that before the discovery of Bayer Aspirin most "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as bad for the stomach and, often, for the heart. Which is food for thought if you seek quick, safe relief.

Scientists make Bayer Aspirin among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and the pains of rheumatism, neuritis and neuralgia. And the experience of millions of users has proved it safe for the average person to use regularly. In your own interest remember this.

You can get Genuine Bayer Aspirin at any drug store—simply by asking for it by its full name, BAYER ASPIRIN. Make it a point to do this—and see that you get what you want.

—24—

"You are so kind, Doctor Burt," she said.

He resumed his passive stroking of her forehead and cheeks; in a low, monotonous tone he commanded her to answer all his questions. Then suddenly:

"Have you thought of your daughter, Penelope, of late?"

Grinace of distress flitted across the beautiful face. "No distress or bad luck will attend the thinking while you are with me, understand? I command you to think about her—to remember her and to answer truthfully all my questions regarding her."

"Yes, Doctor."

"Why did you and Mr. Gatlin adopt her?"

"He wanted a baby and I couldn't give him one."

"Could you, if you had cared to?"

"Yes, Doctor." Her tone was very peevish.

"How old was she when you adopted her?"

"About a month."

"Where did you find her?"

"In the Infants' Shelter in San Francisco."

"Did you know who her parents were before you had decided to adopt her?"

"Yes, Doctor. A Captain and Mrs. Robert E. Elliott."

"Why did the Elliotts abandon their baby?"

"The captain was killed by the Moros and his wife died in this city in childbirth."

"Do you remember what branch of the service the captain was in?"

"He was a captain of cavalry."

"When you and Mr. Gatlin adopted Penelope, did you have any written record of her parentage?"

"We had a letter from the matron at the Infants' Shelter. And we had a letter from the doctor who attended Mrs. Elliott at St. Dunstan's hospital, and some letters from old neighbors of the Elliotts."

"Why did you get the letters from the old neighbors?"

"Theodore was concerned about the baby's ancestry."

"And was it the best?"

"I do not know. It satisfied Mr. Gatlin."

"What has become of all the records pertaining to Penelope?"

"I burned them."

"Why?"

"To keep Penelope from getting them."

"Then she wanted them, did she not?"

"Yes, Doctor. She demanded them."

"When was this?"

"On her eighteenth birthday."

"How did it happen that she waited until her eighteenth birthday before demanding them?"

"Up until then she thought she was our own flesh and blood."

"Ah! Why did you burn these records rather than give them to Penelope?"

"I hate her."

"When you refused to give them to her, what happened?"

"She cried and laughed and screamed and attacked me. She said she hated me. Finally she fainted, and I had the maid put her to bed and lock her in her room."

"Did you give Penelope any information at all, at any time, regarding her parentage?"

"There was a slight hesitation. I lied to her. I wanted to hurt her because she wouldn't recognize my moral right to half of Theodore's estate. So I told her she had negro blood in her veins."

"What made you invent such a horrible tale?"

"Penelope is a decided brunette. I thought even if she did not believe me, my statement would create in her mind a doubt and a fear that would drive her crazy."

"What happened after that, Mrs. Merton?"

"In the morning she was gone."

"How did she go?"

"She made a rope of sheets and blankets."

"Have you seen her since?"

"No."

"Is she dead?"

"I do not know. I hope so."

Stephen turned to Dan. "Any questions?"

McNamara shook his head owlishly. "I can revive most of the record—perhaps all of it. The captain's record is in the army files; when he married, a notice of it appeared in the Army and Navy Journal; with that and what I can get out of the officers who soldiered with the captain, I'll get a pretty complete picture."

Stephen resumed his cross examination.

"Did you ever beat Penelope? Did you ever pinch her and slap her and lock her up?"

"Yes, Doctor."

"Wake the fiend up and send her home," McNamara roared.

"I will—as soon as I look up her memory of Penelope," Stephen replied. He impressed upon her the fact that she was not ill at all. He commanded her very earnestly to forget that she had ever heard of him.

Then he awakened her, as McNamara departed, gave her a long look, felt her pulse, told her she was much improved and handed her some soda-mint tablets. She departed in a somewhat happier mood.

"Well," McNamara demanded, when he and Stephen found themselves alone again, "what do you think of that one for a hell-cat?"

"I do not think, Dan. We merely accept such people as we accept sunlight and rainfall."

"Do you think you'll see any more of this woman, Stephen?"

"I hope not. I hope the hypnotic suggestion I gave her is strong enough to overcome her acquired instinct for illness."

"Were the things she told you illuminating?"

"Very. I suspected most of them and she confirmed my suspicion. We know now that Penelope is of sound ancestry. Her father was not a neurotic. If he hadn't been a normal, gallant fellow and physically fit he would never have become a captain of cavalry. He was killed in action. But we have arrived at a starting point, Dan—the reason for the mental shock that gave Penelope a dissociated personality."

"I didn't get that—at least not quite, Stephen."

"For some reason best known to themselves, the Gatlins kept from Penelope the fact that she was not their own flesh and blood. However, while we have definitely established the date of the mental shock and the character of the shock, we have also established its causative factors leading up to the shock. Penelope had a most unhappy childhood. From earliest childhood she was the victim of bitter, rebellious thoughts. Then that baseball wrecked her nose. This was a mental and physical shock. The separation and divorce of the Gatlins was another terrible shock, because she lost Gatlin and there was nobody to protect her. And Gatlin's death was a severe shock. Then, as she emerged from childhood into maidenhood, the knowledge that her nose made her hideous naturally became an obsession with her."

"Now, Dan, by this time there was no further necessity for concealing the facts of the child's birth. Gatlin, dead, had left his entire estate in trust to Penelope, and on her eighteenth birthday she was free to do as she pleased. She could leave her hell-cat of an adopted mother now. She carried her own check book. The knowledge that she was not flesh and blood of the beloved Gatlin came as a terrible shock and with it, of course, came other terrifying speculations."

"More piling on of the inferiority complex," McNamara interrupted. "And she cracked under it. Then she made up her mind to forget Mrs. Gatlin—and she did."

"A clear case of auto-hypnosis, Dan. Now you've got to run down the record of our Penelope and that of her parents. She must have it and it must be proof of the most convincing character, because such proof is necessary if we are to restore to her her mental tranquility."

"Well," said Dan, "I'll be back presently with the girl's record, and then—"

"Out of the darkness into the sunlight, Mac."

"Well, the next one I find in the darkness will stay there," the chief growled.

The absence of the capable Lanny was a constant reminder to Dr. Stephen Burt of his sole experiment to date in a case of dual personality. He yearned with an aching scientific yearning to get to work on Penelope Gatlin, and when Dan McNamara appeared at the office one day he saw by the satisfied smirk on the McNamara countenance that all had gone well.

"Let me see the documents," Stephen demanded.

McNamara handed over the pile of papers.

"Well, you've done your full duty and have kept the police of various cities busy for a few days," said Stephen. "What do you hear from Lanny?"

"He'll be home next week. The skin graft on the girl's nose was a complete success."

"And how does the girl feel about the situation now?"

"She's crazy about her new nose and spends hours examining it in a hand mirror."

Stephen smiled. "Naturally, she would."

"Lanny says the girl's been her real self more than half the time since that first look."

"She would be. And now I'm going to add to her happiness by sending her this record, which I shall supplement with a report of my own on her case. She'll study it, and in this convincing proof that she is not what Mrs. Merton told her she was, she'll probably get well. These cases are simple, Dan. All you have to do is to discover the cause and remove it. Nature does the rest. She will have no more rebellious thoughts, because the despot can do her no further harm. Her black moods of depression will not come again; she is organically and mentally sound, the product of a sound ancestry on both sides of her family."

"But she knows she was an inmate of San Quentin. She'll remember she was a thief."

"She will, of course, feel great shame when fully restored to her normal personality. In her other personality, with her acquired instincts of morality and convention smothered in her subconscious mind, she had, of course, no sense of remorse or shame. I think that when I have explained this to her she will understand just what her mental condition was. And her fear that the world will discover her sorry record will, I feel certain, be alleviated by her knowledge that it would be impossible for anybody who knew her as saddle-nosed Nance Belden to recognize her as good-looking Penelope Gatlin."

"All I've got to say, young fella m'lud," the admiring McNamara declared, "is that you're one hell of a smart man!"

Some two weeks later, Lanny walked in on Stephen. "Well," he declared acidly, "you're certainly taken your time about getting back on the job. You're looking mighty particular, Lanny. Happy?"

"Stevie, dear, I never knew there was such complete happiness in the world."

"Where's Penelope?"

"She's gone back to Paris—on a new passport."

"Well, well, well," Stephen chided her, "tell me things."

"Stevie, she's as lovely as a May morning."

"And the operation?"

"A phenomenal success. Of course," Lanny added, "she could never stand a sock on the nose."

"Just what is she going to do in Paris?"

"Close out her apartment and dismiss her servants."

"And coming back to San Francisco?"

Lanny nodded. "How do you stand Miss Gatlin as your office nurse, Stephen?"

"Rather well, I'm sorry to say. She's very competent and much more tactful than you."

"And do you want me back, darling?" she queried.

"There you go, fishing for a compliment. Of course I do, but—it isn't necessary. You could come in once a week."

"Not for a great many weeks, Stevie."

He glanced up at her sharply. "How come, Lanny?"

Lanny's face was the color of an old rose. "I'm going to have a baby," she whispered.

And then Stephen Burt stood up and took dear old Lanny in his strong young arms and hugged her. At last she was going to have her little slice of life!

"Of course," Lanny said presently. "You'll be the baby's god-father?"

He nodded. "Of course."

Three months passed—to Stephen Burt remarkable by reason of the fact that Mrs. Rudolph Merton did not call upon him. At last, to satisfy his curiosity, he telephoned Rudolph Merton to ask him how his wife was.

"I don't know," Merton replied complacently. "She's gone."

"Dead?"

"No such luck. She's gone to Southern California to join a new religious sect. A colony on the fringe of the San Bernardino desert with a prophet in command."

"And what are you doing about it, Mr. Merton?" Stephen asked.

"I'm subsidizing the prophet so he'll stay in business ten months longer. Mrs. Merton has deserted me, thank you."

Wars come, wars go. Standard Oil goes on forever, working.

Walter Teagie, head of Standard Oil of New Jersey, with oil wells scattered over the world, offers to buy every barrel of oil that Russia exports, many million barrels a year. To avoid ill feeling, Mr. Teagie would let British Royal Dutch-Shell and Anglo-Iranian have part of Russia's surplus.

In some of these tribes, what pleases the natives would seem strange to us. For instance, among the Danakils a lady will not marry a gentleman until he proves that he has killed at least four men. And he must prove it by bringing back the easily identified fragments of four mutilated bodies. Married life with such a lady should never be dull.

Your Uncle Sam is very rich now, never had so much gold in his life. The total pile, "an all time high," amounts to more than fifteen billions of dollars.

It wouldn't be such a big pile of gold if the government had not ingeniously raised the price of the gold ounce.

Gold has been coming rapidly from Europe lately, including some gold that frightened Americans sent abroad for its health.

The United States is becoming more and more a gambling nation, and, in consequence, less and less a thinking, working nation. Gambling makes real work seem not worth while. Why work if you can play the horses? Can you imagine Washington, Lincoln or Edison studying "past performances"?

John Bunyan's Flute

While John Bunyan, who wrote Pilgrims Progress, was in prison his jailers heard music coming from his cell. They decided to take away his instrument, but the music ceased as they drew near the cell, and they could find nothing to show how the music was made. From time to time the music sounded, but only Bunyan and his book were found. What had happened was that Bunyan had made a flute from a loose rail of his stool, and on hearing the goaler's step he would slip it back into its place and go on with his book.

BRISBANE THIS WEEK

No Core, No War
Sloan Sees Light
The Holy City Falls
G. B. Shaw Writes

A small boy, asked for the core of his apple, said: "There ain't going to be no core."

Laval, French premier, tired of dangerous goings on in the Mediterranean, goes on in the Mediterranean, announces bluntly: "There ain't going to no war," requesting England to remove her battleships from the Mediterranean.

The wise British have known all along that there was to be no war, but thought it well to indulge in virtuous demonstrations.

Britons rarely make diplomatic mistakes; diplomats of other countries are children to them, although France is an exception to that rule.

Washington believes the war will end in 60 days, and has probably been told so by somebody in Europe.

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors, announces "all signals set for increased automobile sales next year," and no doubt about it.

He approves an automobile show in November, instead of January, as giving the people more time to realize that the important car is the winter car, when the automobile "wears the rubbers" for the whole family.

Capturing Aksum will impress Ethiopians. The holy city, surrendered by the Ethiopians without a shot, contains the tombs of all Ethiopian rulers since the time of Sheba. The Coptic Christian bishop of Aksum voluntarily gave the keys of the city to the Italian Gen. Emilio de Bono, at Addis Ababa. He accepted the keys, proclaimed Italy's annexation of Aksum, sent a force to surround the city and prevent looting the monasteries and the ancient cathedral of St. Mary Zion.

In that cathedral the original Ark of the Covenant is believed to be preserved. Ethiopian history relates that when Solomon sent the son of his high priest, with other sons of great dignitaries, to accompany Sheba's son after his visit to his father, the son of the high priest took the original Ark of the Covenant with him, substituting an imitation ark, much to the indignation of Solomon and that high priest. In justice to the high priest's son, it must be stated that an angel appeared and gave him instructions about stealing the ark.

George Bernard Shaw discovers that

Ethiopia, so-called, is an aggregation of tribes, one ruled fairly well by Haile Selassie, who is called "Emperor," the others doing about as they please.

In some of these tribes, what pleases the natives would seem strange to us. For instance, among the Danakils a lady will not marry a gentleman until he proves that he has killed at least four men. ## Forgotten Hospital, Complete, Is Found

Forgotten for half a century, a hospital has been found on the seacoast of Denmark, and government officials are considering what to do with it. It was built in 1879 for cholera patients, there having been a cholera epidemic in Europe and a recurrence was expected. Soon after the opening a sailor believed to have had the dread disease, was admitted. He proved to have nothing worse than measles. No other patients came, and the place was closed and forgotten.

A young journalist found the hospital, with everything complete, from beds ready to use, to medicines and salt collars containing salt put there 54 years ago. The discoverer has suggested that it be converted into a vacation resort for poor children of Copenhagen.—Montreal Herald.

WHY WE ARE LOSING OUR FOREIGN COTTON MARKETS

Peter Molyneux of THE TEXAS
WEEKLY is an inveterate foe of the AAA, and for months he has been setting forth facts and arguments to the effect that this feature of the New Deal policies together with our high tariff walls are destroying our foreign cotton markets.
We quote at length from last week's issue of THE TEXAS WEEK-LY. The figures may become tedious but they are illuminating.

"Two striking instances of what really is happening to American cotton are those of Italy and Germany. One of the reasons Italy is attempting to seize Ethiopia is the prospect of opening up a new cotton growing area, under the Italian flag so as to escape as far as possible the necessity of finding foreign markets for products of its own in order to pay for cotton. Cotton is Italy's chief import, and it is by far the chief export of the United States to Italy. In 1929, for example, Italy bought $115,000,000 worth of cotton from other countries, of which $79,800,000 was for 770,000 bales of American cotton. That year the total exports of the United States to Italy were valued at $153,- 968,000, which means that more than half of the bill Italy had to pay us was for cotton. When we turn to the things we bought from Italy that year, it becomes clear how much difficulty Italy must experience in paying us for what it buys, particularly the big bill for cotton.
The biggest item on Italy's bill to us that year was for edible olive oil, but it amounted to only $12,400,000.
Next in line was $10,000,000 worth of Italian cheese, $10,000,000 worth of canned tomatoes and tomato paste, and $8,000,000 worth of fur-felt hats. These four leading items only paid about half of the bill for American cotton alone, and aside from $8,000,000 worth of raw silk, there was not another item on our list of purchases from Italy that year which came to as much as $5,- 000,000. It can be seen how difficult it must be for Italy to find means of paying us and the rest of the world for the things it is compelled to buy from other countries. For example, in 1929, in addition to having to pay for $115,000,000 worth of cotton, it also had to pay for $90,- 000,000 worth of wheat, $81,000,000 worth of coal coke and briquettes, $52,000,000 worth of iron and steel,
$50,000,000 worth of machinery,
$36,000,000 worth of wool and $33,- 000,000 worth of corn. Italy bought $1,173,670,000 worth of goods of all kinds from the rest of the world that year, and succeeded in selling the rest of the world only $901,412,- 000 worth of Italian goods. But cotton was the biggest single item on its list of purchases, and more than two-thirds of that came from the United States. And it amounted to

Many a Friend Recommends
BLACK-DRAUGHT

People who have taken Black-Draught naturally are enthusiastic about it because of the refreshing relief it has brought them. No wonder they urge others to try it! ...
Mrs. Joe G. Roberts, of Portersville,
Ala., writes: "A friend recommended
Black-Draught to me a long time

CONSTIPATION, BILIOUSNESS

more than half of its total purchases from the United States that year.
Moreover, the average annual consumption of American cotton by Italian mills during the five-year period ending with 1934 amounted to 602,000 bales. When President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull told the American people about a week ago that they would trade with Italy at their own risk, they were speaking chiefly to cotton shippers, and the producers most directly concerned were the cotton farmers. But the point here is that because Italy finds it extremely difficult to obtain the means of paying us for cotton, chiefly because of trade barriers like our high tariff, it is seeking an area in which it can grow its own cotton. That is one of the reasons it is now waging a war of conquest against Ethiopia. And to the extent that it succeeds in providing its own cotton, it will quit buying American Cotton. Germany's case is similar, though it is adopting a different method. It is requiring that payment be accepted in German goods.

Germany's method is different from that of Italy, as we say, and in consequence we already are feeling the effects of it. In 1929 Germany bought 1,465,000 bales of cotton from the United States for $146, 600,000, and the biggest item it was able to sell to us was $35,600,000 worth of chemicals. But during the fiscal year ending last July 31st, Germany bought only 342,000 bales of American cotton. About one-third of the cotton Germany bought from us in 1929 was for resale to other countries, but more than 1,000,000 bales of American cotton was consumed in German mills during the fiscal year of 1928-29. Indeed, during the five years ending July 31, 1934, German mills consumed an average of 835,000 bales of American cotton a year, and yet last year
Germany purchased only 342,000 bales of American cotton, or the equivalent of only 40 per cent of the average German mill consumption of American cotton during the previous five years. Germany's imports of all kinds of American goods in 1929 amounted to $426,500,000, while we imported only $255,000,000 worth of German goods. According to the United States Department of Commerce our exports to Germany during the present year will not exceed $75,000,000! In other words, we will not sell Germany this year more than the equivalent of 18 per cent of the value of the goods we sold Germany in 1929. Germany's method of dealing with its problem is that of making agreements binding other countries to buy as much from Germany as Germany buys from them. About a year ago Germany made a proposal to the United States to buy 800,000 bales of cotton, provided German goods were accepted in payment. It proposed to pay in registered marks, which are good only for the purchase of goods from Germany and are not payable in gold or the exchange of other countries. The State Department refused to approve this arrangement, because such an exclusive agreement would tend to restrict rather than expand trade generally.
And so Germany took its registered marks to Brazil and made a deal with that country. Germany is insisting on such agreements with all countries from which it buys any great amount of goods, because it has no means of paying except its own goods. It was because its treaty with the United States bound it to give this country as low tariff and other trade concessions as it gives to any other country, that a year ago Germany gave notice that it was terminating the "most favored nation" arrangement with us. It wanted to be free to give to other countries more favorable trade concessions than it gave the United States, and so the commercial treaty with Germany was terminated on last Tuesday. This means that the highest American tariff rates will henceforth apply to German goods, but Germany was willing to accept this penalty for freedom to make any terms it pleased with other countries. This will reduce trade between the United States and Germany still further, and again it is cotton that will be the chief sufferer.

No doubt there are some members of the legislature who needlessly waste the time of that body. No doubt there are some who use obstructive and dilatory tactics in order to prolong the session and thus continue to take down their $10.00 per day, as many people charge. But there is also a lot of foolish criticism of the legislature.
Most of the members who use obstructive and dilatory tactics do so not for the purpose of prolonging the session but for the purpose of defeating legislation that they oppose. If all members of the legislature could agree readily on all major matters of legislation, it would require little time, of course, to put any given measure through that body. But there are 150 members of the Lower House and 31 members of the Senate. Each one of these is entitled to his own opinion as to any matter of legislation. The members represent different constituencies, with varying views. It is natural, therefore, that there should be sharply conflicting views on any important measure. These differences of opinion must be fought out in committees and on the floor of the House and of the Senate. Besides, every intelligent and really capable member of the legislature realizes that he does not know all that there is to be known about most matters involved in legislation. He wants all the light possible.

It takes some time to investigate and to gather necessary information. The process of passing laws, therefore, must necessarily be slow.
This country has suffered more from hasty and ill-advised legislation than it has from delay in passing bills. As for us, we do not want the legislature to act hastily and illadvisedly. We want it to work with deliberation. It should take time to eliminate all ambiguity and uncertainty in the provisions of the bills it enacts into law and thus save a lot of confusion and a lot of expense in having them construed by the courts later. Let's quit hurling so much foolish criticism at the legislature on the score that it is doing nothing.

Our good friend A. W. White of Los Angeles, California, who is now here looking after property interests, brought with him a cartoon clipped from one of Los Angeles' daily papers illustrating conditions as they now exist in Los Angeles respecting liquor. The picture was that of a beer palace on one of the busy streets, with a fat bartender in apron standing in the door, a tricycle and other children's toys left on the sidewalk, indicating that the family was inside, and above it was some such superscription as this: And they told us we would have no more saloons. Mr. White says that since repeal, beer, wines and whiskey are sold everywhere, especially in the so-called drug stores, cafes, and restaurants. These are visited not only by boys and girls, but by women of the most questionable character, who disport themselves in an unseemly manner; and that dance halls are scattered everywhere, frequently in close proximity to the drinking places, to which the drinkers retire to carouse. Moral conditions, he declares, have grown much worse since repeal and that they are now simply rotten. Since liquor may be sold almost everywhere, it is impossible to suppress the illegal traffic, and Los Angeles is a bootleggers' paradise. Bootlegging is greatly encouraged and stimulated by reason of the Government and state taxes that are levied on hard liquors. He warns the people of Tahoka never to permit such conditions to exist here or in this state if they can prevent it.

Three blood transfusions were necessary to save the life of the lady patient. A brawny young Scotchman offered his blood. The patient paid him $50 for the first pint, $25.00 for the second pint—but after the third pint she had so much Scotch blood in her she just gave him a letter of recommendation.

Tests Save Wheat
Farmers Big Sum

Farmers in Lipscomb county have been saved the time and expense of reseeding a large amount of wheat this fall by germination tests of the wheat they had saved for fall seeding, according to C. M. Gay, county agricultural agent. Wheat harvested this year in the county was below the average in quality and germination tests made on various samples of the wheat ran from 10 to 50 per cent germination with a large proportion of the sprouts weak.

Farmers have been advised of the

Lady's Painful Trouble
Helped By Cardui

Why do so many women take Car-dual for the relief of functional pains at monthly times? The answer is that they want results such as Mrs.
Herbert W. Hunt, of Hallsville, Texas, describes. She writes: "My health wasn't good. I suffered from cramping. My pain would be so intense it would nauseate me. I would just drag around, so sluggish and 'do-less.' My mother decided to give me Cardui. I began to mend. That tired, sluggish feeling was gone and the pains disappeared. I can't praise Cardui too highly because I know it helped me." ... If Cardui does not

Colder this Sunday?

SIT IN PEACE, IF YOUR ENGINE OUT THERE

stays oiled

When your car's in cold storage at the curb this winter, don't have misgivings.
Simply do what no oiling system can do by itself ... make your engine stay oiled at a standstill, by changing to Conoco Germ Processed Oil.

Then when the thermometer slides, so will every part of your engine. You can come out calmly, as late as you like, to an engine that's oiled IN ADVANCE —clear to the top—before you've touched door-latch or starter. No more cruel, scraping starts, without half enough lubrication. And right there, you know, is where engineers lay more than half the blame for worn-out motors.

But the Conoco Germ Process ... patented ... spares you all that. How?
By giving this oil the startling power to COMBINE with metal. That's what gives you the famous Hidden Quart, which won't drain down. It's up there for starting, and then while you're running it backs up the high-durability Germ Processed Oil film.

You may have one of the newest cars —with their copper-lead, high-lead, or cadmium-alloy bearings. Or you may have an older model—with babbit bearings. But you can be sure that any bearing—or any other moving part—is safer with Germ Processed Oil.

This season don't merely change your oil ... change your car's whole future ... all for the better. Get to your

Local Music Lovers Attend Pampa Meet

At the Seventh District Convention of Federated Music Clubs held in Pampa last week-end there were eight members of three of the local Federated Clubs in attendance. The Tahoka Music Club was represented by Mrs. Rubie D. Suddarth, the Minor Baton by Eva Douthitt, program representative, and Vance Gildersleeve as delegate, while the Melody Maids sent their president, Rudelle Prater, and Mary Margaret Tunnell for a program number. Ruth Suddarth went officially as Counselor of the Melody Maids and Marjorie Wells, member of the Minor Baton, as their accompanist. Corbin Douthitt, former members, took the young people to Pampa.

They all report the largest and best Convention in 7th District history, with 196 of the 400 registrations being Junior members. Preceding the board meeting-Thursday night, board members were complimented with a turkey banquet, then a "pioneer" luncheon on Friday, a brilliant Spanish-Mexican tea in the afternoon and a Fine Arts program at night which consisted of numbers furnished by the Senior Clubs of the District. "A midnight frolic" ended the day's full program. The Junior luncheon was Saturday noon, followed by a truly marvelous Fine Arts program presented solely by the Junior clubs.

At all business sessions and the luncheons there were outstanding musical offerings, the local guests feel that it was a veritable feast of good music and good fellowship, (as well as "good eats") and they returned home with renewed ambitions and higher aims.

Mrs. I. D. Cole, of Amarillo, State President of T. P. M. C., with her corresponding secretary, Mrs. Grace Godard, of Houston, were honored guests of the Convention.

As recording secretary, Mrs. Suddarth had the honor of presenting to Miss Mattie Mae Swisher, of Hereford, District President, the gift of the District Board, a Federation ring, and also, as Counselor of the Minor Baton, had the pleasure of receiving the district Junior loving cup—gift of and presented by Mrs. Cole as highest efficiency award. She was appointed to fill a vacancy in the office of vice-president which term expires next June, having been regularly elected for the two year term beginning at that time. She plans to attend the State Board session in Austin, Nov. 1st and 2nd, which will include dinner at the Governor's mansion and other delightful features.

Pampa was found to be a real city, evidently accustomed to doing everything in a big way. Sessions were held in the spacious City Hall which can boast of a beautiful auditorium and club parlors.

The Convention thruout left absolutely nothing to be asked in the way of hospitality, courtesy, or cultural entertainment.

METHODIST CHURCH SERVICES

The Sunday School attendance was very good. Mr. Mathis made a very fine talk.

Keep a Good Laxative always in your home

Among the necessities of home is a good, reliable laxative. Don't be without one! Do your best to prevent constipation. Don't neglect it when you feel any of its disagreeable symptoms coming on. . . "We have used Theodor's Black-Draught for 21 years and have found it a very useful medicine that every family ought to have in their home," writes Mrs. Perry Hicks, of Belton, Texas. "I take Black-Draught for biliousness, constipation and other ills where a good laxative or purgative is needed. I have always found Black-Draught gives good results."

said. If he had not come, all would be darkness, but his coming brought light, hope, love, and contentment. Christians should shed forth light wherever they go. So let each one take this message home with us, live it as nearly as we can, and all will be well.

A very splendid quartet was enjoyed by all.

The evening lesson was from Exodus 4:2: "What Is That In Thine Hand?"

We are all very much like Moses. The Lord performed miracles then as well as now. If we would only accept Christ with that child-like faith—but instead we stumble over so many little things. So let us lay aside every weight that so easily be-sets us and run with patience the race before us, with a simple child-like faith, and all will be well.

There are only three more Sundays of this Conference year. Let us all be in our places. If you will do this you will help in no small way. Come and help with the music. We need you, and you will get a blessing if you do your part. It will help your pastor more than you know, if you will be in your place.

Quarterly Conference will be Wednesday evening at 7:45. Give Brother Pierce a good hearing, for he will bring a good message for you.—Reporter.

MINOR BATON CLUB

The Minor Baton met on October 21, at the home of Robert Maddox.

At the conclusion of a short business session, the members who attended the district convention at Pampa over the week-end gave a detailed report of their trip.

Mrs. Suddarth gave the second lesson the study course during which "The Turkish March" from the Ruins of Athens, by Beethoven, was played as a piano solo by Marjorie Wells, and Eva Douthitt sang a Chinese number "Ching Ling Lee" with her convention number "Sweet Miss Mary," as an encore.

Delicious refreshments of a salad plate and hot tea topped off with a dainty confection were served to the members and one guest.

The next meeting will be on November 4 at the counselor's home with Robbie Milliken as hostess.

"Dope-Head" Runs Amuck At O'Donnell

Efforts of local officers to trace down and arrest a transient narcotic addict following an attack on a local doctor Saturday have so far been unsuccessful, but it is believed that the man will be apprehended somewhere down the line soon.

The man left a companion in their car, a Chevrolet coupe, while he was in the office of Dr. J. F. Campbell. Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Belle Knight, office assistant to Dr. Campbell, and E. M. Heblson were in the office when the man entered and asked to speak to the doctor privately. The first intimation that there was trouble came to the others when the door into the consultation room was slammed shut, followed by the sound of a blow. Mrs. Campbell ran to her husband's assistance, while Mrs. Knight ran to the telephone to call officers.

Later Dr. Campbell told officers about their conversation, how the man demanded a narcotic, saying that he "just had to have it," and how he went completely to pieces when his demand was refused. When Dr. Campbell flatly refused to give him the narcotic or a prescription, the man became abusive and when he was ordered out of the office, struck the physician a violent blow with his fist, leaving a bruise on his right arm, and almost flooring him by its force. He ran through the office and fell into his car, driving out of town as fast as he could. Mrs. Campbell retained presence of mind enough to follow him to the door and secure the numbers on the license plate.

All local doctors report that there have been a number of addicts thru town recently, and for this reason it might be advisable to see that your house is locked before leaving, and that your car is locked. We are told that a drug addict will steal anything he can get, hoping to trade it for the drug he craves, and this seems to be the time of year when most of them feel an urge to travel.

Dr. Campbell sustained no bad effects, other than the bruised, sore arm.—O'Donnell Index.

Miss Fay Nevill, who has been sick of an aggravated case of tonsillitis the past ten days, is now much improved.

A New Grade School At A Bargain

To argue that the present 24-year old Central Ward school building is a modern structure and fit for many years of future use is positively ridiculous.

The lighting of the rooms is very poor. Many children are required to face the light, and on dark days electric lights are required. The heating is worse. Water has been known to freeze in one part of a room while children near the heat were so warm as to be uncomfortable.

The new part of the building, built in 1920 at a cost of $30,000 (including the South Ward building) has been abandoned almost entirely for several years. The auditorium is used possibly a half hour each week for chapel exercises. The principal has his office there. One room in the basement is used as a lunch room, and this year the school has been forced to use one room as a class room. But, heating and lighting in the new part is so poor that this part is being used only because the 24-year old part is over-flowed.

The entire building is a fire hazard, and liable to condemnation at any time. Should a fire break out, we would not be too surprised if we lose a lot of our children. The dairy barn or the stock judging pavilion at Texas Tech would be more suitable for a grade school building in Tahoka if either could be moved here.

Plans for the proposed new building approved by the Government agency, call for 12 classrooms, offices, and a combination gymnasium auditorium. All would be on the ground floor, with no stairs to climb. There would be proper heating and lighting, and nice restrooms that would not compare with the deplorable ones at the old building.

The gymnasium would be used for classes in physical education for the entire school—not just for basketball games—for public gatherings such as banquets, H. D. club fairs, parties, etc. The gym could be used by rural schools, as well as our local schools, for games. With the exception of O'Donnell, Tahoka is possibly the only school of its class in this part of West Texas that has no gymnasium. Wilson, Post, Brownfield, Lamesa, Meadow, all have adequate gyms.

Now, to bring our school system up to modern standards, will cost our district $40,000, to be paid by us in small installments spread out over a forty-year period. If we vote these bonds, the Government, which is spending huge sums in practically every community, will make us an outright donation of $32,728. The Government will furnish the building superintendent, the materials in the old building will be utilized, and work will be furnished many men in tearing down the old structure and erecting the new one. In fact the major part will go for labor, all of which will be of immediate benefit to our people.

As in some other towns, Tahoka unfortunately has a few ultra-conservative citizens, most of whom are on the down-hill side of life, or who have no children, or whose children have finished school. For the next few days they will be out trying to defeat the bonds. None of us want more taxes, but we do want to see our children properly educated and attending school in a building where their health is not endangered. Many of these opponents of progress have a selfish motive. Because they do not now have children to educate, they want to spend as few pennies as possible on civilization.

Try CARDUI For Functional Monthly Pains

Women from the 'teen age to the change of life have found Cardui genuinely helpful for the relief of functional monthly pains due to lack of just the right strength from the food they eat. Mrs. Crit Haynes, of Essex, Mo., writes: "I used Cardui when a girl for cramps and found it very beneficial. I have recently taken Cardui during the change of life. I was very nervous, had head and back pains and was in a generally run-down condition. Cardui has helped me greatly."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

They can not see a barbsin when one is offered them, for it is a dead clinch that we are going to be forced to build a new grade school before many years. Why not take advantage of the Government's gift now?

THE NEW FORD V-8 FOR 1936

Why do we say The New Ford V-8 for 1936?

What is new about it?

Of course, the newest engine in the low-price car field is still the V-8 engine. Since Ford made it available to all car users (keeping it as economical as cars with fewer cylinders) the Ford V-8 has been the newest engine on the market, and remains the newest for 1936.

You may buy a car on minor "talking points"—some specially advertised feature "with the car thrown in"—but after all, it is the engine you buy when you buy a car. Hence we put the engine first.

Other new points about the car make a long list.

Its lines are much more beautiful. The hood is longer and sweeps forward over the distinctive new radiator grille, giving the car a length and grace that are instantly impressive. The fenders are larger, with a wide flare. Horns are concealed behind circular grilles beneath the headlamps. New steel wheels.

Ford upholstery—always of sterling quality and excellent taste—is rich and enduring. The appointments of the car have a new touch of refinement. There is no question about the increased beauty of the Ford V-8 for 1936.

In more practical matters, many improvements have been made—Steering is made easier by a new steering gear ratio. The cooling system circulates 5½ gallons of water through a new, larger radiator. Natural thermosyphon action is assisted by two centrifugal water pumps. New style hood louvers permit a rapid air-flow around the engine.

Easier, quieter shifting of Ford gears—The gear shift lever now travels a shorter distance.

The two qualities you want in brakes—Brakes that stop the car with ease and certainty. Ford Super-Safety Brakes of the long-tested, fool-proof, mechanical design.

Safety—as always—in the electrically welded genuine steel body. Safety Glass all around at no extra cost. Hundreds have written grateful letters because this glass has protected the safety of their families.

A car you can drive without strain all day, if you like, in city or country. Steady, holds the road, responds to the driver's touch like a well-trained horse. You don't have to "push" or "fight" the Ford V-8—driver and car easily get on terms of good understanding with each other.

An engine has much to do with the roominess of a car. Very much indeed. A long engine uses up car space. The compact V-8 engine permits much of the ordinary engine space to be used by passengers.

It really is a great car in every way, this 1936 Ford V-8—the finest, safest, most dependable Ford car ever built. Now on display by Ford dealers.

"Well Begun's Half Done" When Making Your House Frock

There was never a truer phrase than that, and how well it applies here! For before you know it your dress is cut and ready to stitch. This pattern is so easy to follow. There's everything new about the lines of this fetching house frock, with its contrasting surplice facing and doesn't it look like a different dress when buttoned up to the neck—see small sketch—with those enormous buttons? When household chores are finished, button up the deep pointed surplice and wear the frock to market. It's smart enough. Try it in colorful novelty cotton or flannel.

Pattern 9614 may be ordered only in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 requires 4 yards 36 inch fabric and 1/4 yard contrasting. Complete diagrammed sew chart included. Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE.

Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept., 232 West Eighteenth St., New York, N. Y.

JUST AS GOOD

The lady customer entered the store and headed straight for the proprietor.

"You sold me some rotten apples yesterday," she said, "and I'm bringing them back to you."

"That's all right, lady," hastily apologized the merchant. "You needn't have taken the trouble to bring them back. Your word's just as good as the apples."

A Hard Job

"Yes," said the doctor, "you're worrying too much about yourself. The thing to do is to sink your self in your work."

"Oh," groaned the visitor. "I'm a cement worker!"

LOVES OATMEAL MORE THAN EVER

Once you learn that oatmeal is so rich in Vitamin B for keeping fit, it is any wonder that thousands stick to oatmeal breakfasts? Many are nervous, poor in appetite, system out of order, because their daily diets lack enough of the precious Vitamin B for keeping fit. Few things keep them back like lack of this protective food element. So give everyone Quaker Oats every morning. Because in addition to its generous supply of Vitamin B for keeping fit, it furnishes food-energy, muscle and body-building ingredients. For about 1/2c per dish. Start serving it tomorrow for a 2-week test. Quaker Oats has a wholesome, nut-like, luscious appeal to the appetite. Flavors, surprisingly good. All grocers supply it.

BELSHAZZAR'S FEAST (Temperance Lesson.)

LESSON TEXT—Daniel 5:1-31. GOLDEN TEXT—Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whose ever is deceived thereby is not wise. Proverbs 20:1. PRIMARY TOPIC—Daniel Solves a Riddle. JUNIOR TOPIC—At the Feast of Belshazzar. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What Drink Leads To. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Facts About Alcohol.

I. Belshazzar's Impious Feast (vv. 1-4).

1. Those in attendance (vv. 1, 2). Those present were Belshazzar, his wife and concubines, and one thousand of his lords.

2. Their behavior (vv. 3, 4).

a. They drank wine and engaged in drunken revelry.

b. They committed sacrilege. They drank wine from the sacred vessels taken out of the temple at Jerusalem.

c. They worshiped idols.

II. The Handwriting on the Wall (vv. 5-10).

1. The time of (v. 5). It occurred "in the same hour" in which they were engaged in their drunken debauchery.

2. The effect upon the king (v. 6). "The joints of his loins were loosed, and his knees smote one against another."

3. The king's behavior (vv. 7-10).

a. He called for the astrologers and soothsayers, offering them rewards of gold and of position (vv. 7-9).

b. Daniel brought in at the suggestion of the queen (vv. 10-10). The queen was perhaps the wife of Nebuchadnezzar who remembered Daniel's service in interpreting the dream of her husband.

III. Daniel Interprets the Writing (vv. 17-25).

1. Daniel's address to the king (vv. 17-24).

a. He brushes aside his promised gifts (v. 17). He would not have his speech limited by the king's gift.

b. He reviewed before Belshazzar the history of Nebuchadnezzar (vv. 18-24). He showed clearly that Belshazzar should have profited by the experiences of his father.

2. The interpretation of the writing (vv. 25-28).

a. "Mene" means "numbered" (v. 26). "God hath numbered thy kingdom and finished it."

b. "Tekel" means "weighed" (v. 27). "Thou art weighed in the balances and art found wanting."

c. "Peres" means "divided" (v. 28). "Thy kingdom is divided, and given to the Medes and Persians."

IV. The Judgment Executed (vv. 29-31).

So rapidly did the divine judgment fall that Belshazzar was slain and Darius the Median took the kingdom that same night. The Chaldean dynasty ended with Belshazzar. We may, therefore, interpret this whole scene as pointing to the conditions at the close of the time of the Gentiles, and as adumbrating their prevailing conditions. Let us note

1. The stupidity of men. Belshazzar, like people today, did not learn by example. Nebuchadnezzar's fate should have deterred Belshazzar.

2. The magnificent splendor. This great feast was characterized by pomp, display and parade. How characteristic of our own age!

3. Luxury. The famous hanging gardens of Babylon were a noteworthy example. Signs of luxury abound today on every hand.

4. The licentiousness of the king with his many wives and concubines. Licentiousness is likewise notoriously prevalent today.

5. Blasphemous sacrilege. The sacrilege of this day may be in excess of that of Belshazzar's day and expresses itself in a. A profession of religion for pecuniary gain, social and political preferment.

b. The use of the pulpit of the Christian ministry for notoriety and even for the propagation of false doctrine.

c. Uniting with the church and attendance at the Lord's table so as to cover up secret sins.

d. The use of the Word of God to give point to a joke.

e. Denying that the Bible is God's Word, making it a book of errors, myths, and legends.

f. Sneering at the virgin birth, repudiating Christ's deity and setting aside his vicarious atonement.

6. Drunken carousals. The handwriting is on the wall. His judgments shall eventually fall. Conditions in the world indicate that the time is drawing near. Are you ready?

HOW ARE YOU TODAY

DR. JAMES W. BARTON Talks About

The Alkaline Reserve

ONE of the points that is often forgotten in reducing weight is that as the weight goes off, owing to the food intake being reduced, there is a tendency to acidosis—that listless, tired feeling that makes the individual feel that he or she is faint from lack of food. It is often not the lack of food so much as not enough of fruits, and the cutting down on white potatoes, that is making the blood and tissues less alkaline than they should be.

You are hearing and reading a great deal about acidosis—the effects upon the system of "acid-forming" foods.

You are told that as a nation we eat too much of the acid-forming foods—eggs, meat, fish, breads, cereals, pastries, and not enough of the base or alkali-forming foods—milk, fruits, vegetables and nuts. The result is the condition known as acidosis in which we feel "tired" all the time just as if we had worked hard physically.

This is because these foods and hard work both form acids; acids consume a great amount of oxygen and so we feel tired.

The best alkaline foods or alkalis are the fruits, which not only have an acid taste but do contain acid. This is due to the fact that the acid we taste (organic) is the kind the body can easily burn up or oxidize as fuel in the tissues, while the rest of the fruit contains a great amount of base or alkali-forming elements, so that an alkaline ash is left in the body after the food is burned in the tissues.

About the only organic acids which the body cannot burn are found in cranberries, rhubarb, prunes and plums.

Apples, bananas, oranges, muskmelon, raisins, peas, beans, and white potatoes are foods which have been found to be very efficient in reducing the slight acid condition of the body caused by eating too much of the acid-forming foods for a long time.

As mentioned above too much acid-forming food uses up too much of your body energy in trying to overcome its acid qualities, and you feel lazy and listless. Thus lecturers and health writers do well to warn you about acidosis which is the name given to these symptoms.

In fact so insistent are some of these writers and lecturers about the danger of acidosis that there is actually set up in some individuals who follow this advice too closely a condition of "alkalosis," where the blood and tissues are too alkaline to do their work properly.

Now we all want to be at our best, to be not only able to work but anxious to do it, and while we must eat the acid-formers—eggs, meat, fish, bread, and cereals,—to maintain the "structure" of the body and supply energy, we must not eat so much of them that so much oxygen is used up in burning or oxidizing them that we are left listless and tired. Because, after all, our "snap" or "pep" depend to a great extent in maintaining the "alkali reserve" of the body. Any departure from this alkali reserve, that allows the blood and tissues to get more nearly to the acid condition means just that much lack of energy or desire to work.

Another important point is that our resistance to infection is lessened if the alkali reserve is not maintained. "Recent experimental work has produced quite conclusive evidence that resistance to the organisms of infection depends to a large extent in maintaining an excess of the alkali elements in the tissues." This explains why our mothers, without knowing much about alkali reserve, gave us, as youngsters, the half or more teaspoons of baking soda when our stomachs were upset, or we were threatened with a cold. It is real scientific treatment to give baking soda under these circumstances.

The thought, then, is that the blood and tissues in good health contain more alkali than acid elements and your best health depends upon maintaining this alkali reserve.

Some health writers advise a certain percentage of alkali to acid foods but no such rule can be advised for everybody; there are differences in body build, in the amount of work done, in the way a particular body handles particular foods.

Generally speaking, however, most of us would be well advised to eat "more" of the alkali-forming foods—fruits, vegetables and milk.

The Weight-Reducing Drug

In an editorial on dinitrophenol, because of its widespread use, the Journal of the American Medical Association states:

"There seems to be agreement at present that dinitrophenol is a drug with a certain degree of danger when used without supervision. Its sale should be restricted to that ordered by the physician's prescription and its use by medical men should be carefully supervised. Probably it should be used only when reduction of excess weight is important and when the ordinary reducing diets have failed."

Records of Bible Confirmed

Scientific Research, Aided by Spades of Explorers, Affords Positive Proof of Truth of Events Chronicled in Sacred Writings.

A. B. COOPER, in the London (Eng.) Magazine, Answers.

The essential truth of the Bible is not dependent upon the accuracy of its history, and there are many passages in the Sacred Writings which must be interpreted in a symbolic rather than a literal sense.

It is remarkable, however, how Old Testament history, after being labeled as "legendary," or, at best, "exaggerated," has recently been confirmed as a result of independent research.

For instance, a little while ago, destructive critics simply laughed at the story of the Flood, and at such incidents as the crossing of Jordan dryshod and the collapse of the walls of Jericho.

But today excavations on ancient sites in Palestine, Egypt, Mesopotamia, and elsewhere have vindicated the Bible narrative completely, even on the points most seriously challenged.

To take an example, it used to be urged that Abraham must have been merely a nomad, quite unlettered, and utterly incapable of the acts and words and vision attributed to him.

We now know, from discoveries at Ur of the Chaldees, that, as a youth in that city, he was a member of a community enjoying a high degree of civilization. The land of Ur had great cities, settled laws, a state religion, a thriving commerce, schools and monasteries and libraries.

Springing as he did from an influential family, Abraham would partake of the culture and learning of Ur. In short, the circumstances of place and time as we now know them, are not opposed to the Bible narrative.

But let us see what modern methods of investigation have revealed about specific incidents. Take the Flood, upon which so much scorn has been cast. During the winter of 1928-9, the excavators of Ur in Babylonia came upon a stratum of alluvial deposit which made a clear break in the succession of civilizations occupying that site. They came to the conclusion that it could only be explained by a flood of great extent and duration, occurring about 3000 B. C. or earlier.

So, quite apart from the account in Genesis, and the one on the Babylonian tablets in the British museum, it would appear that the account of a great flood, which destroyed cities and people over a vast region, is not legend but history.

The very existence of Sodom and Gomorrah, which the Bible tells us were destroyed in Abraham's time, has been doubted, yet, only last year, an airman flying over the Dead Sea saw through the crystalline water what appeared to be extensive ruins. Further investigation is to be made. But other ruins have been found, covered with ashes, in the neighborhood of the Dead Sea.

We learn from the Bible that Lot, Abraham's nephew, chose the valley of Sodom because of its extreme fertility. Today there is, perhaps, no more desolate region.

What happened to it? In the heavily bituminous soil there probably occurred one of those terrible explosions and conflagrations which have been noted in the similar geological formations of the oil districts of North America.

In such soil vast reservoirs of oil and accumulations of gas occur. These may suddenly be released either by their own pressure or by earthquake. The gas explodes and flings up masses of oil which return in a fiery rain which will go on blazing even when it falls on water.

Saline mud may also be ejected, and these things combined render a fertile land utterly barren. Such a phenomenon would account for all the statements in the graphic Bible narrative.

Now turn to Joshua 3:14-17 in the Revised Version, in which is related how Israel crossed the Jordan dryshod. Moffatt translates: "The waters that flow down-stopped and were dammed up at a distance at Adam, while the waters that flow to the Salt sea were cut off and failed."

Adam was a city 14 miles upstream. Here there is a ford now known as Jisr ed-Damleh, and during the earthquake period of 1927 the west bank of this ford collapsed, and part of the cliff so dammed the Jordan that no water flowed down its bed for 21 hours!

On three occasions during comparatively recent times a similar result has ensued from great falls of rock and earth. It seems likely that some similar event took place when Israel crossed the river on their way to Jericho.

There followed immediately the much-discussed and often ridiculed collapse of the walls of Jericho. Professor Garstang, who is still occupied on this site, says: "There remains no doubt that the walls of the city fell outward so completely that the attackers were able to clamber up, and over, the ruins into the city."

He suggests an earthquake as the possible cause, and earthquakes have occurred in this region recently.

Readers of the Bible know that, although the Israelites had large

Disreputable Starling Enemy of Jap Beetles

The aggressive European starling may be an undesirable alien because it defouls buildings and parked automobiles, but it is a first-class fighter against the destructive Japanese beetle, according to the biological survey, United States Department of Agriculture.

Food-habit experts of the bureau have found the starling one of the most effective of the bird enemies of this pest of early ripening fruit, corn, and truck crops. In one locality 14 out of 23 starlings collected had fed on Japanese beetles. In some instances nearly all the birds' food was from this source. In certain limited localities starlings are known to have reduced the population of grubs of the beetle from 100 per square foot to 5 or 6.

The starling, however, says the biological survey, is only one of 17 bird species in whose stomachs Japanese beetles are found. The other birds are the ring-necked pheasant, bobwhite, eastern kingbird, crested flycatcher, common crow, catbird, brown thrasher, robin, wood thrush, English sparrow, meadow lark, red-winged blackbird, purple grackle, cardinal, vesper sparrow, and song sparrow.

Initial successes in their invasion of Canaan, they failed to subjugate the whole land, and the Jebusite city, which was later known as Jerusalem, held out until the time of David. It was exceedingly small compared with the modern city, occupying the summit of a great rock called Ophel, the area being not more than some ten acres.

When David invested it, the inhabitants felt so secure that they said the blind and lame could hold it against him. David said: "Whoever smiteth the Jebusites let him go up to the watercourse" (A. V. gutter).

It used to be understood thus: Whoever smites the Jebusites let him hurt into the watercourse (i. e. down the precipice) the lame and blind.

Then excavation takes place and makes the whole thing simple. "Warren's shaft," named after the excavator who discovered it, provided the key to the city.

This "shaft" had been constructed to form a safe, sheltered way down to the "Virgin's Well," from which water was drawn during a siege. So what David said in effect was this: "What we have to do is to climb into the city by way of the water shaft."

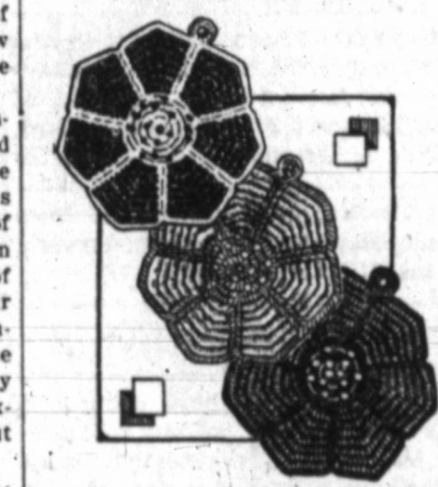

The appearance of Joab and his companions took the garrison completely by surprise, the city fell, and became the nucleus of Jerusalem, the City of David.

These examples suffice to show how notably the Bible narrative is being confirmed by records long hid in the depths of the earth and now being revealed by modern research.

Pretty Brave Sol. J. Lupoff, a passenger on the liner Dixie, which stranded on a reef off the coast of Florida, went back to New York with mingled feelings about women. What puzzled Lupoff was that the women were scared as they wore awkward life-belts and braced themselves against slipping furniture, but they continued to dab their noses with powder and apply lipstick.

CROCHETED FLOWERS FOR POT HOLDERS

By GRANDMOTHER CLARK

Pot holders crocheted with heavy string are very practical and when made in flower forms are really lovely. They are heavy enough to protect the hands without requiring padding. These three pot holders are crocheted in the same manner but in different combinations of red, yellow and green. The petals are crocheted separately of one color and then slip stitched together and finished in contrasting colors. Size when finished about six inches.

Instruction sheet No. 731 with illustrations and instructions how to crochet these holders, also how to arrange the colors, will be mailed to you for 10 cents. Material can also be bought from this department. Information and price are given when mailing instructions.

How Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Bad Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fifth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs is one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminators, thus cleaning the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the system. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

If you feel tired, run-down, nervous and out of sorts

—there is usually a definite reason for this

Now let's reason sensibly.

Don't try to get well in a day... this is asking too much of Nature. Remember, she has certain natural processes that just cannot be hurried.

But there is a certain scientific way you can assist by starting those digestive juices in the stomach to flowing more freely and at the same time supply a balanced mineral deficiency the body needs.

Therefore, if you are pale, tired and run-down... a frequent sign that your blood-cells are weak—then do try in the simple, easy way so many millions approve—by starting a course of S.S.S. Blood Tonic.

Much more could be said—a trial will thoroughly convince you that this way, in the absence of any organic trouble, will start you on the road of feeling like yourself again.

GARRARD ARE VICTIMS OF MUCH HARD LUCK

Mr. Garrard says that these personal injuries sustained by members of the family came close on the heels of misfortunes to their live stock. While Mr. and Mrs. Garrard were away last week, the finest Jersey cow they had died from the effects of eating too much green feed. She was a fine registered animal of the Buttercup breed, and Mr. Garrard says they thought almost as much of her as if she had been a child.

But that is not all. Two weeks ago, their horses were attacked by this malady known as sleeping sickness, and one of them died and two others came very near dying.

Mr. and Mrs. Garrard are trying to figure out what may happen next, but they hope that their string of misfortunes will not continue.

THE WHOLE FAMILY WILL ENJOY "BONNIE SCOTLAND"

Again Laurel and Hardy have done it! They've produced for theatre-goers another laugh hit—perhaps their best since their advent as a team. They run the gamut from high expectations to disillusionment through the feature length Hal Roach-M-G-M comedy, "Bonnie Scotland," which begins a 3 day run at the English theatre Sunday.

Laurel, as Stanley McLaurel, is notified that he is mentioned in the will of a wealthy uncle in Scotland. So accompanied by his grand-ol' friend, Oliver Hardy, he arrives in the heatherland to take over the magnificent estate of the late relative. But the estate so far as Stan is concerned consists of some valueless heirlooms. After this disillusionment, the pair become involved in a hilarious situation which ends with them being recruited in the Scottish Highlanders and assigned for foreign duty in India in His Majesty's Service. From this point on the two, attired in kilts, romp through a series of exciting adventures.

Undoubtedly the brief separation of Laurel and Hardy last spring reacted favorably to the temperaments of the duo. At any rate the "vacation" must have given an added zest and vigor to their respective performances, for they are the Laurel and Hardy of old—gay, rollicking buffoons.

Romance finds a goodly place in "Bonnie Scotland" with June Lang and William Janney interpreting the roles of Lorna McLaurel, a sweet Scottish lass who falls heir to the bulk of her wealthy grandfather's fortune, and Alan Douglas, a poor but ambitious law clerk. Both acquit themselves with distinction and will doubtless gain much added prestige for their fine performances.

David Torrence as Lawyer Miggs is superb. This veteran character actor has never had a part better suited to his peculiar talents. Anne Grey, a newcomer to American movies but a star in her own right in England, lends to the role of Lady Violet Ormsby an importance that it richly deserves and gives promise of attaining the same popularity in this country that she has enjoyed abroad.

Others in the cast who are worthy of special mention are Vernon Steele; James Finlayson, tried and true comic; Maurice Black; Daphne Pollard, Marry Gordon and Lionel Belmore. For his fine direction of "Bonnie Scotland," James Horne is deserving of recognition as are the cinematographers who have turned in a splendid job. The story, an original, was written by Frank Butler and Jeff Moffitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Rafe Richardson spent the week end visiting relatives at Brownwood.

Ruby Payne, Reporter

Every one present enjoyed the message delivered by Bro. Smith of Draw Sunday. We ask all to come back each Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and children spent the week end with their daughter who lives near Odessa.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Nelson and family of New Lynn spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Anderson. Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Anderson and Mrs. Nora Sandirs visited them Sunday afternoon.

Miss Dorothy Payne spent part of last week with her sister, Mrs. Dudley Martin of Draw.

Miss Merry Gene Tippit returned home last week from Petty, where she has been visiting Miss Reunell Galleghor for some time.

Miss Annie Belle McGonagill made a business trip to Lubbock Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Watson of East Texas are here visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joe Anderson, Mrs. Matson being their daughter. They will stay here some time.

Those present enjoyed the musical given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Owens, Saturday night.

There are several new people in our community. We are asking them to attend Sunday school and singing.

Singing was well attended Sunday night. We were proud to have with us Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Nowlin of Tahoka, we ask them and all other visitors to come back each Sunday night.

Turkeys Clean Up Worms On Farm

BRADY—All the leaf worms, boll worms, and grasshoppers on the 50 acres of cotton belonging to Frank V. Hurd of McCulloch county have been cleaned up by 300 young turkeys, thus saving him at least $50 which he would have spent on poison, he reports to James D. Brewitt county agricultural agent.

"While most farmers have been spending money and time on poisoning cotton fields and wondering whether or not they would save their crop, I have been wondering whether or not I would have enough insects to feed my turkeys," Hurd said.

The cost of feeding the young turkeys through the summer months has been practically nothing because of the large number of insects. Besides the insects, grass, and field seed, the turkeys eat a light supplemental grain feed just before they go to roost.

Report Of Grand Jury Interesting

The following report of the Lynn County grand jury to District Judge Gordon B. McGuire was made at the close of the district court term last week.

We, your Grand Jury, in open court, all members hereof being present, and through our foreman most respectfully make the following report of our work as grand jurors:

We have spent during this term of court less than one week of deliberation with the assistance of our district attorney in the investigation of the various crimes that have been brought to our attention. During our investigation we have investigated many phases of the crimes that are upon our statutes. Most prevalent, however, is the violation of the liquor laws. We have also investigated other crimes, including theft cases, forgery, swindling and driving while intoxicated.

It is our opinion and we find from a careful investigation that the burglar, the thief, the swindler and other kinds of law violators are still at work in our county, but we are glad to report that their activities have decreased from what it has been heretofore. However, this grand jury has returned 12 bills of felony indictments.

One of the most dangerous criminals that we have had cause to investigate, is the person who drives a car while intoxicated. We cannot express too much condemnation of that person who becomes intoxicated and gets on the public highways of this State and endangers not only his own life, but subjects any one that he might meet with great danger. We implore the officers and good citizens of this county to help apprehend such offenders.

We further find from our investigations that a few people in this county attempt to use the criminal courts as a collection agency to collect a debt that should be brought in civil suits, and in order to do this in a few sentences we have found that they made false statements to get a complaint filed against those indebted to them. We are of the opinion that such persons making such false statements should be prosecuted and we recommend to the law enforcement officers that they use every force at their command to prohibit such practice. We have also found that many mail boxes have been torn down on the highways. We recommend to our officers that they prosecute such offenders and if necessary report such matters to the Federal authorities.

We have investigated the courthouse and jail and find them to be kept in a sanitary and good condition, the prisoners are well cared for and receive good treatment.

We wish to thank our District Judge, our sheriff, our bailiffs, our district attorney and all others in any way connected with our work. We also want to thank the citizenship of this county, who have assisted us in giving their testimony and by various other ways and believe that if we shall all stand squarely behind our officers in their efforts to enforce the law against the criminal and the criminal inclined that we will eventually make our county a better and more desirable place to live.

Uncle Ben Rogers Honored By Senate

During the recent first called session of the legislature, the Senate adopted a resolution of respect to the memory of the late Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield. Among the tributes paid to Senator Duggan was one by his successor, G. H. Nelson. Soon thereafter Senator Nelson also introduced and the Senate passed the following resolution honoring "Uncle Ben" Rogers of this city, who also served as a member of the senate from the Palestine district from 1897 to 1901.

Senate Resolution No. 22
Senator Nelson sent up the following resolution:

A tribute to Ben F. Rogers: Whereas, Hon. Ben F. Rogers, formerly of Palestine, Texas, and now of Tahoka, Texas, is believed to be the oldest living man who has served in the Senate of Texas, he being now past his eighty-eighth birthday, and

Whereas, He has given the best years of his life to the promulgation of Christian ideals, clean living and patriotic service, and

Whereas, It should be the policy of the people of this State never to forget the services rendered and sacrifices made by our predecessors through which we have come into possession of the liberties and opportunities we now enjoy;

Be It Therefore Resolved by the Senate of Texas, That this body express their appreciation to this noble and patriotic Christian character for his services rendered to the people of his State; that we lay this rose of gratitude on his living head rather than upon his grave;

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be printed in the Journal and one copy each be mailed to his home paper, The Lynn County News at Tahoka, Texas; to the paper of his former home, The Palestine Daily Herald at Palestine, Texas; and one copy to him.

NELSON, COTTON.
Senator Holbrook moved that all the Senators' names be added. The motion prevailed.

The resolution was adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

V. N. Schultz and little daughter, Alice Ann, of San Antonio spent the week end here visiting his sister, Mrs. Hansford Tunnell, and looking after a farm which he owns up in Lubbock county. Mr. Schultz is connected with the state highway department in San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Rollin McCord of New York City are here visiting Mr. McCord's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McCord, and other relatives. They will probably remain here two or three months.

stable place to live.

We ask that a copy of this report be handed to the local paper and to the paper at O'Donnell for publication.

We feel now that our work is complete until the next grand jury can take up our work. Having finally finished our work as grand jurors for the term, we most respectfully ask that we be discharged for the term.

A YOUNG PIONEER

When several hundred families were sent to Alaska from the Middle West to settle the Matanuska Valley, the Red Cross sent a nurse, Madeleine de Forest, to remain with them for a year to help protect their health. Among the first friends she made were the little pioneer, Arthur Hack, 4 years old, and "Prince", the pup who went with his young master to Alaska.

Interesting Folk-Lore In Bulletin

Austin, Texas, Oct. 24—A rich and intriguing collection of folk-tales gathered from the Indians and Mexicans along the Rio Grande are brought together in the Texas Folk-Lore Society's latest publication, entitled "Puro Mexicano," this volume, under the editorship of J. Frank Dobie, author and professor of English at The University of Texas, contains a veritable treasure-house of folk-tales, some of them mere fables, corresponding to our Mother Goose jingles and fully as hoary with age, while others assume the proportions of legends of considerable literary and artistic composition.

Contributors to "Puro Mexicano," besides Mr. Dobie, whose "Catarsis" is a tall tale of a Yaqui Indian who ate only once in fourteen days but then ate fourteen hectolitres of frijoles, fourteen dozen tortillas and drank fourteen gallons of coffee, include the following: Riley Aiken, "A Pack Loan of Mexican Tales," including 26 Mexican fables; Dan Storm, "The Wonderful Chirton-era," Sahah S. W. L. Burleson and J. K. Appleswhite of the Tahoka Motor Company have had on display here since Saturday a couple of the new 1936 Ford V-8 cars, one a coupe and the other a Sedan.

The new cars are the most attractive Ford has ever put on the market. There is no change in the engine, the principal improvements over the 1935 car being in the chassis, the body streamlining, and the front end treatment.

The briefest description of the new Ford that we can think of is that "She is a dandy."

School Election Is Set For Thursday

Rainy Weather Stops Ginning

Cold and rainy weather is interfering with the gathering of the cotton crop in Lynn county. A light shower and misty weather brought .42 of an inch of rain during the latter half of last week, and rainfall Wednesday and Thursday of this week had amounted to about a half inch at noon Thursday.

A cold wave from the north Tuesday morning brought the temperature tumbling down. The mercury early Wednesday morning reached a low of 34 degrees, only two above the freezing point. Thursday morning it stood at 35. The prospects are that not much more cotton will be gathered this week.

Up to Thursday morning 2259 bales had been ginned in Tahoka, counting round bales as half bales. Only 538 bales had been ginned since our report of last week.

The price of cotton is quoted at 10:50 to 11:25 cents per pound. The price of seed continues to climb. At the gins it is quoted at $36.00 per ton, but a street buyer has been paying $38.00. This is the highest price seed has brought for a number of years.

District Attorney Truett Smith is busy conducting grand jury investigation at Post, Garza county, this week, the fall term of district court having opened there Monday morning.

New Building Bonds Proposed

An election will be held here on Thursday, October 31, for the purpose of determining whether or not bonds in the sum of $40,000 shall be issued for the purpose of erecting a grammar school building in the Tahoka Independent School District.

According to the election order, "None but resident property tax-paying qualified voters of said Tahoka Independent School District, who own taxable property in said district and who have duly rendered the same for taxation shall be allowed to vote at said election."

The bonds are to be spread out over a period of forty years, bearing five per cent interest. If the bonds are voted, the Federal Government proposes to donate $32,728 of PWA funds to the district, to supplement the local funds.

Plans for the new building as drawn by the architects and approved by the PWA authorities indicate that the building is to be a spacious and attractive structure. Yet it is planned for service and utility. There is to be no second story, no stairs for children to climb, and no lost space. It will spread over a vast area, with a long frontage. It will be built according to modern school plans, so as to give the best possible light, heat, and ventilation. The building and its equipment will cost approximately $72,000. If the property tax payers of the district will provide $40,000 of this sum the Federal Government will furnish $32,728, or 45 per cent of the total.

The people are to decide next Thursday whether or not this donation from the Government shall be accepted and the new building constructed.

R. C. CAMPAIGNS TO PREVENT ACCIDENTS

Program Inaugurated in Local Chapters to Cut Down Farm and Home Accidents

The American Red Cross has launched a nation-wide campaign to eliminate hazards in the home and on the farm that now take an annual toll of nearly 35,000 lives, according to a recent statement by James L. Fieser, vice chairman in charge of domestic operations.

"Every Red Cross chapter is being asked to play a part in this campaign," Mr. Fieser said. "Hazards in the various communities will be pointed out. The children in our schools throughout the country will be given a list of the home hazards and asked to enroll parents or relatives in the fight against them."

Nearly five million men, women, and children were temporarily disabled in the homes of America last year by accidents, officials of the National Safety Council have revealed. Most of the accidents in which persons were killed and injured could have been prevented, according to this safety agency, this fact alone largely motivating the Red Cross drive for accident elimination.

Active cooperation of social, civic, educational, veterans' and other groups has been secured. Red Cross inspection forms or home check lists will be distributed to homes where there are no children with the help of these organizations.

Due to inaccessibility and lack of compensation coverage, little or no pioneering has been done in the field of farm safety, the Red Cross states. However, more people were accidentally killed in agricultural pursuits last year than in any other occupation, making the need for safety education and farm home inspection apparent.

Other agencies now active in the accident-prevention field point to the fact that, because of its nearly 13,000 chapters and branches, the Red Cross has a unique opportunity to successfully promote a project of this nature.

Home accidents injure many more than do automobile accidents; they kill nearly as many, claiming an average of about 80 lives daily. In terms of dollars and cents, for the practical minded, home accidents cost more than $1,000 per minute.

Accidents of all types are Public Enemy No. 4. Only three diseases cause as many deaths each year, heart disease, cancer, and cerebral hemorrhage.

"The home is not the place of safety it is commonly supposed to be," said Mr. Fieser in commenting on the new Red Cross service to the community. "The Red Cross, as a part of its chartered obligation to prevent death and alleviate suffering, is conducting this humanitarian program to cut down the mounting toll of avoidable personal injury and death in the homes of the country."

The annual Red Cross roll call, running from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day, is one of the means of backing such a campaign. All citizens of the United States are offered the opportunity to join and assist in the work of the organization.

Red Cross Has Busy Year; Statistics Impressive; Services Varied

Figures gathered at random from the year's report of the American Red Cross reveal the magnitude of the work being carried on by that organization.

Red Cross workers assisted 54,305 veterans; 587 Red Cross Public Health nurses paid 921,455 visits to 186,326 patients; 98,441 first aid certificates were issued while 46,693 persons were trained in life saving. Volunteer workers produced 3,102, 343 surgical dressings, with 89,301 volunteers doing on active duty throughout the year.

First Aid Treatment Taught Thousands By Red Cross

More than 187,000 certificates showing completion of first aid courses were issued last year by the Red Cross. This shows a gain of 56,000 certificates over the previous year. Approximately 64,200 boys in C.C.C. camps throughout the country passed first aid tests. Since the Red Cross first entered the field of first aid teaching, being one of the first organizations in the world to do so, almost one million persons have been trained in handling emergency treatment.

The annual report of the Red Cross further reveals that more than 327,000 copies of the Red Cross Aid Handbook have been sold at home and abroad.

The Red Cross has assisted 54,305 veterans in clearing their cases through the U. S. Veterans' Bureau this past year.

Last year 3,377,941 persons became members of the Red Cross. The annual roll call takes place each year between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving Day.

Junior Red Cross members increased by 402,000 enrollments during the year which has just passed. Junior members carried on an exchange of correspondence with junior members in 82 other countries having Red Cross Societies.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Whiteside of Lubbock were here Monday. Mr. Whiteside was formerly associated with Hansford Tunnel in the cotton business in Lubbock.

TAHOKA HOME D. CLUB REPORT

The Tahoka H. D. Club had a very interesting meeting Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. K. Woosley.

The appearance of Hallowe'en was seen throughout the beautiful decorated home.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. M. C. Finch. Following a business meeting, Miss Vaughn from College Station, who is working with the Kerr Jar Company, gave a demonstration on canning that was helpful to all that saw it.

Plans were completed for the annual club banquet that is to be given on October 30 in honor of the club ladies' husbands.

A lovely plate of pumpkin pie, coffee, and peanuts was served to Miss Vaughn, Miss Robb, Mrs. M. C. Finch, M. O. Canaday, W. S. Anglin, A. C. Weaver, R. L. Richardson, W. C. Jones, Lee Baldrige, G. M. Reid, Claud Wells, A. M. Cade, and three new members, Mrs. Rogge, Mrs. W. S. Taylor, Mrs. Boswell Edwards, and the hostess, Mrs. Woosley.

CHURCH OF CHRIST NOTES

The attendance was back to normal last Lord's Day. We were pleased to see many new faces in the audience at the morning service, and we tried to make the service so helpful that they will want to come again.

While we have so many new people in our midst, what an opportunity for the church to do some missionary work. Don't forget, Brethren, that we are responsible for the saving of the lost to the extent of our ability and opportunities.

Subjects for the next Lord's Day, Morning: "Alone With God"; evening: "The Conversion of the Jailer." Come and bring a lost friend.

R. P. Drennon

MRS. REID CANS 35 VARIETIES OF FOOD

"Canning is a pleasure instead of work," declares Mrs. G. M. Reid, farm food demonstrator for the Tahoka H. D. Club. I have 35 varieties in my pantry with a total of 703 containers and yet my canning is not complete for the year.

By the use of my pantry, cold frame, summer and fall gardens I am able to serve my family very attractive and well balanced meals this year around. This makes meal planning a pleasure at any time."

YWA GIRLS ENTERTAINED AT HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Fifteen members of the YWA of the Baptist Church were entertained with a Hallowe'en party in the home of Mrs. Homer St. Clair Monday night.

The house was decorated in Hallowe'en style. Refreshments were, hot chocolate served from the witch's cauldron, and doughnuts.

Miss Jewell Redwine of this city and Mrs. Waldo McLaurin of O'Donnell are in San Antonio this week attending the Grand Chapter of the Eastern Star.

MR. Finch returned Sunday night from Mineral Wells, where he had spent two or three weeks for his health. Milt says he came back feeling much improved.

Chevrolet Expansion Program Announced

M. E. Coyle, president of the Chevrolet Motor Company, revealed today that the company has completed during the current year a $25,000,000 program of plant expansion, increasing the production capacity of the ten Chevrolet assembly plants in the United States by 25 per cent, and raising the capacity of the company's own manufacturing plants, devoted to the making of axles, engines, transmissions and other units, to enable them to keep pace with the enlarged assembly plants.

The expenditure of $25,000,000 was made for the erection and equipment of new buildings at assembly and manufacturing plants, and for the re-equipment and complete modernization of existing buildings. With few exceptions, most of the operations were undertaken and carried out without announcement to the public, the list of completed improvements given out today being the first publication of details of the program.

Announcement of the virtual completion of the company's 1935 expansion plans was made by Mr. Coyle to a group of newspaper automobile editors today as incidental to his statement that all ten Chevrolet assembly plants have been changed over within the last several weeks to produce new models of the Master deluxe and Standard Chevrolets for 1936, to be introduced in November, and that the manufacturing plants and assembly plants are already producing the new cars.

Production is increasing daily, Mr. Coyle said, and the company will have built an ample supply of the new models to stock its 10,000 dealers with the 1936 cars before their introduction early next month, and to insure immediate delivery to retail purchasers on and after announcement day. Increased schedules have been set for November and December, in order to replenish dealers' stocks as rapidly as is necessary to provide for quick deliveries to purchasers.

While the great part of Chevrolet's expenditure of $25,000,000 was to obtain increased capacity in preparation for an expected increase in demand during the coming year, Mr. Coyle declared that during the current year the company had carried out a comprehensive program of construction at assembly plants for the purpose of equalizing employment. This has been accomplished by providing greatly enlarged storage space at the plants, to receive and hold manufactured units till they are needed in assembly.

With the new storage facilities, plants will be enabled to spread their production more evenly over the year, building up the stock of stored parts during months that normally are regarded as slack production periods and drawing on these reserve stocks during peak production periods. Thus during the coming winter, it is expected that regular employment will run higher than heretofore, since the manufacturing plants will be creating parts and units that may be drawn upon during the annual spring peak season. The storage capacity now available will serve not only to ease the seasonal employment problem, but also to prevent car shortages or delayed deliveries.

The Freshman class had a business meeting on Tuesday, October 15, and at this meeting they elected officers and the sponsor for the year. The officers are as follows:

Dick Bosworth, President; Bryan Wright, Vice-President; Rudolph Snowden, Secretary and Treasurer; Mary Margaret Tunnell, Reporter.

Sophomore Boys

Mr. (Bill) Stubbs is missed very much by his home room class (the Sophomore boys) and we hope that he can be back soon.

The Home Ec. Department

The Freshman classes are completing their pajamas which are looking nice, according to the girls. The Sophomore class is planning dinner menus and working in the laboratory.

The Juniors are studying the unit on Table Service and they are learning to be good hostesses. They have completed their toys, which were made well.

The Home Ec. classes hope the people will come out Friday to see the football game and rent the pillows which the girls made. They are nice and will help the people who use them to be comfortable at the home games.

Rose Mary Gable of the Freshman class is in the Lubbock Hospital under-going a throat operation. Her condition is said to be improved. The Freshman class plans to send her some flowers.

The Ball Game At Odessa

The Bulldogs went to Odessa last Friday night to play the Broncs. After about the first four plays there was an upset on Tahoka's side, by Sam Garrard, left tackle, getting his arm dislocated and maybe fractured. This disturbed the team considerably, but the Bulldogs never stopped fighting. Even though they beat the Bulldogs 24-6, the game was not that much one sided. However this game was not a conference game. We are proud of our boys for true sportsmanship. The Bulldogs scored their touchdown in the fourth quarter and it looked as though they were going to score several more just before the final whistle blew.

There was a surprisingly large number of Tahoka people there. The Bulldogs were not expecting many people because of the distance.

The Bulldogs will play our second conference game, Friday, with Slaton, at three thirty, here, on our own field.

Last Friday night when the Tahoka Bulldogs played the Odessa Broncs, there were a good many Tahoka people there. The Juniors that were there were: Dottie Turrentine, Gona Lee Thompson and James Thompson. There isn't any use to mention the score of the football game but the Tahoka boys played a nice game, according to the students.

The Odessa pep squad had a very impressive formation. They made a T and O. There was about 100 in the pep squad.

The Tahoka pep squad will make a formation Friday when the Tahoka Bulldogs play the Slaton Tigers, although their leader and director, Mr. Stubbs, is ill. Mrs. Lucille Bludworth will help the pep squad with their formations and yells during his absence.

The F. F. A Chapter has held four regular meetings in which they have discussed their plans for the year. Officers were elected at the first meeting. They were as follows:

Truett Cooper, President; Jim Woods, Vice-President; Benita Brower, Secretary; James Thompson, Treasurer; Hiram Snowden, Reporter.

They have drawn up a number of objectives and are going to have plenty of recreation. On Saturday, Sept. 28, vocational F. F. A. boys went to Lubbock to attend the annual district F. F. A. meeting.

The Tahoka F. F. A. boys were honored by having one district officer, James Thompson, who will act as treasurer.

Last week the F. F. A. boys entertained the Home Ec. Girls with a picnic at the sand hills. They had plenty to eat and lots of fun.

South Ward

Mary Ellen Inman, Reporter

There was a pretty large crowd at Sunday school last Sunday morning.

Come out for Sunday school and Church earlier next Sunday morning. It is Bro. Dyke's day to preach. Everyone is striving to make our Sunday school the "best". So you have a special invitation to attend.

We had a real good singing Sunday night. We were glad to have one of our old South Ward friends, Mr. John Hood of Hopkins county, with us. We especially want to invite visitors in our neighboring communities to come out for singing the first and third Sundays of each month.

The following were visitors in the James home Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Elbridge, Margie and Harold of Post, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin James and family of Grassland, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wilkins and little girl of New Home, Mr. and Mrs. James Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gandy and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Inman and children, Barbara and Norman of Snyder spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Inman and family.

Everyone that attended the musical at Miss Marie Owens' of the Edith community last Saturday night, reported a good time.

The birthday dinner given for Miss Noxette Mason in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Mason, was really a good feast for the great number present Sunday.

Miss Mable Maggard spent the week-end with home folks in Hale Center.

There will be services at the school house each Sunday afternoon. Everyone is welcome.
