Number 25

Lynn Ninth In Texas Cotton Production

1935 Farm Census Results Given Out "DUST BOWL" COUNTY COMES TO TOP TO REBUKE "BRAIN-TRUST"

CROP FAILURE RECORD GIVEN

Number Of Farms Is On Decrease; Many Tenants Are Put Off Of Lands

Out of a total of 322,042 acres intended for harvest in Lynn County in 1934, there were 171,508 acres of crop failure, according to a preliminary report for the 1935 Federal Farm Census released today by William L. Austin, Director, Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce.

The harvested acreage of all crops in 1934 was only 150,534 acres, or about 52 percent of the acreage for 1929. There was an approximate 120,000 acre reduction in the cotton crop over this five-year period. Acreage of grain sorghums decreased 13,966 acres, or 46 percent, with production reduced from 246,232 to only 79,832 bushels. Hay, and sorghums for forage, representing more than one-third of the crop acreage harvested in 1934, was cut from 50,954 acres with a production of 15,426 tons, as compared with 37,544 tons harvested from 46,962 acres in 1929. Wheat made a notable increase in the same period from 300 acres and 1,740 bushels to 2,281 acres and 15,292 bushels.

Cattle enumerated on January 1, 1935, totaled 14,825, including 8,317 cows and heifers two years old and over. Other livestock on farms and ranches consisted of 5,517 horses, 3,621 mules, 5,115 hogs, and 2,257 sheep.

Lynn county had 2,001 farms and ranches in 1935, with an average size of 258.1 acres and an average value of $7,014. In 1935 there were 137 fewer farms and 143 fewer tenants.

The 1935 figures for this and similar releases for all counties and the State are preliminary and subject to revision.

Complete tabulation of the census figures are given below.

3,035 Lynn People Pay Poll Taxes

Although poll tax payments in Texas this year are said to have broken all previous records, the number paid in Lynn county is not so large as it has been during several previous election years.

County Collector Aubra M. Cade reports that 3,035 poll taxes were paid in this county prior to February 1, while 177 exemption certificates were issued.

This is 171 short of the number paid two years ago, which was 3,212, but it is 607 more than were paid four years ago, which was only 2,428.

This is the record for the several preceding election years: 1930, 3,019; 1928, 3,300; 1926, 3,012; 1924, 2,658.

Amateur Hour Is Friday Night

An "Amateur Hour" with a Major Bowes in charge will be held in the High School auditorium Friday eve at 7:30 o'clock, for the benefit of the football letter-sweater fund.

Raymond Weathers will act the part of Major Bowes, dressed in Tuxedo and all. Instrumental and vocal numbers, readings and tap dancing will be included on the program, which will be furnished high school pupils, grade school kiddies and town people. A "knock-out" program is promised all music and fun lovers.

Coach Prentice Walker, who is sponsoring the program, says that all funds derived from the program will go toward buying letter-sweaters for last fall's football team. An admission charge of 15 cents will be made to school students, and 25 cents to adults.

Bill Burleson returned Wednesday from a business trip to Dallas.

RENEW SCOUT WORK IN CITY

Tahoka Will Affiliate With South Plains Area Council Of Boy Scouts

A number of Tahoka citizens met with Scout Executive Earl M. McClure of Lubbock on Wednesday morning to discuss plans for carrying on Boy Scout work in Tahoka more efficiently.

As a result of the conference, G. H. Nelson was elected as the chairman of a committee to secure sustaining club membership sufficiently large to put the work over.

An early morning breakfast is to be held down town at 7:45 Monday morning, when the drive for membership will begin. It is the purpose to procure a sufficient number of members at $1.00 per month to make possible an organized plan of scouting, with a leadership training school for adults; regular services by the Boy Scout executive; first, second and tenderfoot badges to be furnished the local scouts, the use of camp posts and camp equipment, and participation in all special events, such as council field day, Boy Scout circus, and other activities.

Boy Scouts At Luncheon Club

Earl N. McClure of Lubbock, Boy Scout Executive of the South Plains Area Council, was the principal speaker at the Business Men's Luncheon Club Tuesday.

His purpose was to renew interest in Boy Scout work in Tahoka and to induce the business men of the town to get behind the local organization and assist it along.

Eight Boy Scouts, under the direction of Mr. Kirkwood of Central Ward School, gave a demonstration illustrating the purposes of Scout work as indicated by the Scout oath.

Prof. Kary Mathis led in a short sing-song.

G. H. Nelson was appointed to have charge of the program next Tuesday.

W. C. COWAN NEAR DEATH
W. C. Cowan, pioneer citizen of this county, became seriously ill about a week ago and has apparently been at the point of death most of the time since. There has seemingly been little change in his condition the past two days.

Waldo McLaurin For Commissioner

Waldo McLaurin has expressed his willingness to serve the people of his precinct again as county commissioner. His home is in O'Donnell and he represents precinct No. 3.

His name will be found in our announcement column this week.

Mr. McLaurin is now serving his third term. He is one of the most prominent citizens of O'Donnell and one of the most successful farmers in Lynn county. He owns several good farms in the Wells and Newmoore communities and has as deep an interest as anybody in the matter of good roads in his precinct, and he is devoted to the best interests of the county generally. As a commissioner, he has been fair and just in his attitude toward other sections of the county, and yet he has rendered the highest possible service for his own precinct.

His experience of more than five years as county commissioner has enabled him to become thoroughly acquainted with the needs of the county, and no doubt he is better able to render efficient service than ever before.

He will appreciate your vote and influence.

COUNTY COURT HELD MONDAY

Two Civil Cases Are Heard; Negro Found Not Guilty Of Assault On Wife Charge

Two civil suits and one misdemeanor were tried in the county court here Monday and Tuesday.

The first suit was upon a claim for rentals by Mrs. J. S. Wells against G. V. Cobb, who resided on the Wells farm southeast of town two or three years ago. The plaintiff claimed that the defendant Cobb owed one-third of the rentals whereas the defendant claimed only one-fourth was due. The jury rendered judgment for the plaintiff, amounting to about $76.00.

In the second case B. R. Tate was suing H. B. Armstrong for a balance alleged to be due on a note. Defendant claimed that settlement had been made in full. The jury found for the defendant.

The misdemeanor case was a charge of aggravated assault against Will Mack, colored, who resides near Southland. He was alleged to have made an assault with an axe upon his wife. The wife, however, did not appear in court as a witness against him and Mack told a story that "went over" with the jury. It decided that the State had failed to make out a case. Mack will probably handle his axe with a little more discretion hereafter, however.

Edgar Edwards Seeking Office

Edgar Edwards announces this week as a candidate for county tax assessor and collector.

Edgar is probably the only native-born son of Lynn county that has announced for any county office thus far this year. He was born right here in the little town of Tahoka 26 years ago. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Edwards, still reside here and are among the best known residents of the county. Edgar is well known himself, for he made the race for this office two years ago, succeeded in getting in the run-off, and made a most creditable race.

Reared in Tahoka, Edgar is a graduate of Tahoka High School, and he was one of the most popular students the school ever had. Then he attended the Tech awhile and later was a student in the University of Texas.

A little more than two years ago he married and he and his young wife have continued to make their home in Tahoka. During these years he has been employed as agent for an oil company, a service station operator, and as a gin employee.

Industrious, honest, courteous, and ambitious, there is no doubt but that Edgar would devote himself assiduously to the duties of the office and make a faithful and efficient official.

He has many friends in Tahoka and throughout Lynn county who hope that he may succeed in realizing his highest aspirations.

He says he expects to make a thorough canvass of the county and a vigorous campaign for the office.

Terracing School At Dixie Next

Bill Stubbs, teacher of vocational agriculture in the Tahoka High School, announces that a terracing demonstration will be given in the Dixie community early next week. The exact time and place will be announced later.

The next regular farmers night school will be held at the High School building on Tuesday night, February 18.

J. B. Pickle and H. W. Bartlett of Big Spring were Tahoka visitors Wednesday.

Ex-Service Men Apply For Bonds

The American Legion Post has established its service post in the Assessor and Collector's office at the court house for the purpose of assisting all ex-service men in making application for their bonds issued in lieu of Adjusted Service Certificates. I have received a limited supply of application forms. Bring your Discharge and Pink Slip that was issued to you when you received loan on Certificate. Finger printing will also be made at this office.

A. M. CADE, Post Adjutant.

Teachers Meeting In Lubbock Soon

The News has received the program of the West Texas Teachers Association, which is to convene in Lubbock on Friday and Saturday, February 14-15.

Dr. Bradford A. Knapp, president of the Texas Tech, is to give the welcome address and the response is to be given by Superintendent A. B. Sanders of Littlefield. Mr. Sanders will be remembered as principal of the high school here several years.

Many of the educational leaders of this part of the state are to appear on the program. Perhaps one of the discussions of most general interest will be that of Dr. W. C. Holden of Texas Tech History Department, his subject being "Texas and West Texas Yesterday and Today." He speaks at 10:20 Friday night.

Two prominent Tahoka citizens will also appear on the program. At 9:30 Friday night, Sen. G. H. Nelson will speak on "Legislative Reforms for Texas."

At 11:05 Saturday morning Hon. Tom Garrard, member of the State Board of Education, will discuss "The Part of the State Board of Education in the Production of a Vitalized Curriculum."

Superintendent W. C. Blankenship of Big Spring, President of the Association, says that 2,000 teachers are expected to attend the two-days meeting.

Jim Hill, who suffered the fracture of a leg in a scuffle a little more than two weeks ago and who was taken to a Lubbock sanitarium for treatment, was able to come home a week ago, and the injury seems to be healing satisfactorily.

Farmer Meeting Held Saturday

W. G. Kennedy, Muleshoe, representing the Texas Cotton Advisory committee, spoke to about 100 farmers in the district court room Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

C. H. Day, Plainview, chairman of the committee, was scheduled to speak, but was called to the state meeting at Waco, and sent Mr. Kennedy to fill his date. John Heck of Wilson acted as chairman of the meeting.

Mr. Kennedy presented the argument that farmers must be organized more strongly in order to get proper hearing before Congress and the government officials at Washington, and after his talk plans were discussed and allotments made whereby each farmer may have a part in financing the farmer move on Washington.

The speaker criticized the Supreme Court decision invalidating the AAA as being "unjust—the biggest steal in American history." He also took cracks at Congressmen and other public officials not in sympathy with the program. He urged local farmers to write the representatives in Congress, letting their wants be known to them.

LYNN CO. CROP OVER 45,000 BALES

Last week we called attention to the fact that the official government report showed that 45,306 bales of cotton of the crop of 1935 had been ginned in Lynn county prior to January 16, but at that time we did not have the government report as to other counties in the state. These figures show that Lynn county stands ninth in production among all the counties of the state and second among the counties of the South Plains.

The government report further shows that both first and second places have been wrested from the black land belt, Nueces county in the far south standing first, and Jones county in the heart of the West standing second.

The ten counties topping the list in Texas are as follows:

1. Nueces	87,719
2. Jones	60,729
3. McLennan	52,233
4. Ellis	52,047
5. Navarro	52,018
6. Hill	50,099
7. Williamson	47,944
8. Lubbock	47,545
9. Lynn	45,306
10. San Patricio	43,521

It will be noted that Lynn county has fallen only 2,638 bales below Williamson and only 6,741 bales below Ellis, the two counties which have oftentimes led the state during the last quarter of a century. It has outstripped such counties as Bell, Milam, Falls, Limestone, Hunt, Collin, Grayson, Red River, Lamar, and others which have long stood near the top.

While Lubbock and Lynn are the leaders in this section have made a fairly good showing, though not nearly so good as they have made in other years. We give a few of these counties as follows:

Lamb	29,071
Dawson	26,384
Hockley	26,161
Terry	25,014
Hale	25,014
Crosby	17,844

All these counties lie in the so-called Dust Bowl of the United States. The sandstorms last spring were the most severe since this has become a farming region if not within the history of the country.

Many of our own people became unduly alarmed and exaggerated the damage that had been done to the country by the winds. People of other sections got the impression that this country was just about ruined. Some of the brain-trusters of the Department of Agriculture at Washington predicted that within a hundred years the whole country west of St. Louis would be a barren desert swept daily by hot winds, even as the Sahara is today, and that all the cities of the region would lie under a bed of sifting, unproductive sands. They wanted to turn all this vast region back into cattle ranges and goat pastures in a frantic effort to save it from such a dire calamity.

But it took old Mother Nature to show up these wise gentlemen of the brain-trust fraternity in the greatest style. Along in May and June she sent her copious showers, and in a few weeks the barren, worthless desert had put on the aspect of the delta of the Nile. Garbed in robes of resplendent green, which changed in the fall to white and gold, she rose up in her majesty to mock her detractors in Washington and elsewhere throughout the country.

MRS. REDWINE IMPROVED
Mrs. M. M. Redwine continues to be very seriously sick, although it is said that she now appears to be slightly improved.

Mrs. Ida Hicks is seriously ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Bartlett, near Central Ward school, though she is now showing slight improvement.

GAS, GAS ALL THE TIME, CAN'T EAT OR SLEEP

"The gas on my stomach was so bad I could not eat or sleep. Even my heart hurt. A friend suggested Adlerika. The first dose I took brought me relief. Now I eat as I wish, sleep for and never feel better."—Mrs. Jas. Miller.

Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels while ordinary laxatives act on the lower bowel only.

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York, reports: "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adlerika greatly reduces bacteria and colon bacilli."

Give your stomach and bowels a REAL cleansing with Adlerika and see how good you feel. Just one spoonful relieves GAS and chronic constipation.

Cardui Helped Three Times

"I used Cardui when a girl, for cramps, and it helped then," writes Mrs. Ike Wright, of Sealy, Texas.

"I was miserable," she says. "I did not have an appetite. I was very blue and upset. I remembered Cardui had helped me, so took it again and soon began to pick up. I ate and had more strength. I kept up the Cardui and did not have any more trouble. Is it any wonder that I recommended Cardui to all my friends?"

No Need to Suffer "Morning Sickness"

"Morning sickness"—is caused by an acid condition. To avoid it, acid must be offset by alkalis—such as magnesia.

News Review of Current Events the World Over

Southerners Launch Talmadge's Presidential Boom—Kansas Offers Landon to Republicans—Bonus Bill Passed Over Roosevelt's Veto.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

TWO THOUSAND or more "grass root" Democrats, representing 17 southern and border states—though most of them were Georgians—

The platform adopted by the meeting called for preservation of the Constitution, of state sovereignty and of the American form of government.

"We do not regard the occupant of the White House as a Democrat. He has broken the pledge of our party and violated the platform of 1932."

It is not easy yet to estimate the possible results of the Talmadge movement. The administration leaders refuse to take the Georgia governor seriously or to admit that he can imperil their control of any of the southern states.

The situation in the South is further complicated by the sudden death of Gov. O. K. Allen of Louisiana. He was the devoted and complaisant adherent of Huey Long and had been selected to fill out the unexpired term of the late senator. Lieutenant Governor Noye succeeded to the governorship, but who will now be the leader of the Long forces was not immediately determined.

WHAT is known as the Bankhead-Jones bill for soil conservation, the administration's substitute for the AAA, was given the hesitant approval of the senate agricultural committee by a vote of 15 to 2.

Secretary Wallace let it be known that officials of the Agriculture, Treasury and Justice departments were cooperating in an effort to collect for the government the $200,000,000 ordered returned to processors by the Supreme court, but he gave no details of the plan.

KANSAS Republican state committee members, the Kansas Day club and many party leaders from the Missouri valley region, celebrating Founders' day in Topeka, presented to the country Gov. Alf Landon, presented to the country Gov. Alf Landon, presented to the country Gov. Alf Landon.

Activities of the Townsend old age pension advocates are proving most annoying to many congressmen, and it is likely they will be investigated.

IF PLANS announced in St. Louis by leaders of world Jewry are carried out, there is to be another exodus, this time from Germany where the Jews are greatly oppressed by the Hitlerites.

PAYMENT of the veterans' bonus by means of baby bonds payable on demand was enacted into law by congress, and the money for the ex-soldiers may be available on July 1.

The Harrison compromise bonus bill that went through the senate and house easily, was vetoed by President Roosevelt. The house immediately and enthusiastically repassed the measure.

The galleries were filled and there was wild cheering when the vote was announced. Republican senators amused themselves and the spectators by twitting the Democrats on their failure to stand by their chief, the most voluble of the twitters being Senator Hastings of Delaware.

"WE CAN either take on the mantle of hypocrisy, or we can take a walk; and we'll probably do the latter."

These words of Alfred E. Smith in his speech at the American Liberty league dinner in Washington were perhaps the most interesting and significant of his utterances on that occasion.

Of course all of this is just plain bunk. The potato control act was passed largely by Republican votes over the protest of the Democratic secretary of agriculture, and in addition, no prosecution of any kind has ever been instituted.

HITS LIBERTY LEAGUE LEADERS The strongest words I have heard in the senate recently, were those of Senator Schwellenbach of Washington, describing the tax evasion efforts of two of the heaviest supporters of the Liberty league.

So, by a series of transactions which are commonly listed under the head of "rubber checks," they appeared to sell each other their various collections of stocks, but money changed hands, and each man had just about what he had when he started.

Senator Robinson's reply to Alf Smith's speech consisted in the main of quotations from previous utterances by Smith in which he advocated a course quite as radical as that pursued by the New Dealers in combating the depression.

Anti-Roosevelt Stuff Too Raw

Some So Bad It's Barred From Mails; Hit Tax Dodging of Big Financiers

By EARL GODWIN

WASHINGTON.—A steady stream of defamatory anti-Roosevelt printed matter is now being spread by opponents of the administration.

Some of this was miniature stamp cartoons, to be attached to letters in the mail, one of which portrayed the President grinning over a gravestone.

THE FARM PROBLEM The administration's attitude toward the farm problem is one of extreme patience.

Of course all of this is just plain bunk. The potato control act was passed largely by Republican votes over the protest of the Democratic secretary of agriculture.

As far as taxes go, the real objection that the Republican leadership has to the present income tax, is that it takes a more nearly proper proportion from the incomes beginning with $50,000 and upward.

PAYING THE BONUS The full effect of the bonus veto has not yet developed, but the enormous amount of work necessary to print and handle the soldiers' claims and the baby bonds claims has been described in congress.

It is so happens that both of these gentlemen were so close to the ammunition business in the World war, that their fingers could have been burned by the powder and other explosives from the Dupont ammunition works.

PRESIDENT STARTS SOMETHING The other day, when Roosevelt told a group of Works Progress administrators that "if we can boondoggle our way through the depression," that queer term would be accepted as a "grand word" he was starting something There is a current of ridicule against much of the work now taking the place of the direct cash dole, and it is easily misunderstood unless it is explained.

The crazy word "boondoggle" means about what "thingamabob" meant in a previous day. It's just a funny word with a thousand different meanings.

Now of course many people have the idea that all relief work should be of the pick and shovel variety, but this depression took opportunities of work away from people who know nothing about the use of a pick and shovel.

So a rather small proportion of the relief fund has been used for so-called "white collar" projects—otherwise these men and women would not have had any work.

The farm problem is one of extreme patience. The Supreme court has made it difficult to solve any national social or economic problem, and there is doubt that any substitute for AAA will stand up under the baleful glare from the majority of the court.

Well, it seems that the Supreme court makes it necessary to step ahead immediately into that long range plan. There may be weeks of debate over the bills to effect this program, and the legislation may be changed so that its parents (Senator Bankhead of Alabama and Representative Marvin Jones of Texas) would not recognize it.

Following the knock-out to AAA, certain large millers appealed to have restored to them the processing taxes collected under the law.

This is chaos to the constitutional lawyers in congress. This same Supreme court ruled exactly the opposite in another case several years ago.

It was Chief Justice William Howard Taft himself who read the court's opinion, which the government here has always relied upon in cases of this kind.

The full effect of the bonus veto has not yet developed, but the enormous amount of work necessary to print and handle the soldiers' claims and the baby bonds claims has been described in congress.

Blanks must go to each soldier, to be filled out and returned to Washington, which means the printing of at least 3,518,191 forms.

Senator Thomas of Oklahoma figures that the baby-bond bonus payment will require the printing of 100,000,000 pieces of paper from first to last.

"She's not unhappy." "She would be, if she knew." "She mustn't know."

"LARRY, you remember last week, when we were talking, when Aunt Meg came in?" "I had meant to say then what I'm trying to say now. But we had so little time."

"No, my dear, there's only one way. I'm not going to see you again. We'll pass each other in the elevators sometimes; I'll be downstairs in the city room only when I can't help it. Except for that, I'm going to try to forget you. I'm going to tell you now—once and for all—I've been so hungry to say just this to you—"

"You're going down to Monterey tomorrow?" "Yes, Cliff's driving me. His girl is at Pebble Beach for Easter week. I'll be with Brenda."

"We're taking Caroline down to show her the sights. But I'm coming up, Sunday night." "You'll not be at Joe's housewarming, then?"

"No, I think it's better this way." "It all seems so blank," Tony said, after a silence. "Blank," the man said briefly. "It's a nightmare—"

CHAPTER XX

Benny had a square, round little boy with a shock of black hair on his head; even Tony admitted that he was one of the fascinating tiny babies of the world, and Brenda regarded him as she regarded Alvin, or rather perhaps as she had once regarded Alvin; with reverential awe.

sidered, spelled full and glorious living to Brenda. "Tony, you're not keeping anything from me?" "Darling, what should I keep from you?" "I mean—are you still making yourself unhappy, are you still—I mean, how much do you see Larry Bellamy?"

"I do not." "But, Tony, you know what I'm trying to find out. Do you still feel as you did last winter?" "Yep."

"Life went on in the contented, almost smug groove that Brenda and Alvin had chiseled out for themselves. The baby went to sleep, and there were tomato salad and brain muffins and a cold custard for supper, with Alvin discoursing upon the superiority of the meatless meal."

"Now, listen, don't expect too much," Joe warned her. "It's only a shanty, really, but I've sort of fixed it up—"

"I'll love it." He turned in at a field gate, followed a wavering dirt road toward the shore, brought them triumphantly to a small bare white house that stood ridiculously square and harsh upon the edge of the cliff. Joe enthusiastically displayed the four-square rooms that he had had cleaned, cut into more spacious proportions. This wasn't finished—this was going to be great, but it was hardly started, of course. Here was where the bath was going to be—wouldn't that be great?

"Safer for girls than for boys, though," Tony observed, listening attentively. The doctor fervently agreed; nothing ruined boys like too much money.

And all the while Larry was close; perhaps playing golf on the Pebble Beach links, his white shirt open at his brown throat, his dark head bare. The blue sea rippled in a dazzle of spring sunshine, and the gulls flew about crying their shrill piping cries, and the Blys fluttered about like gulls too, pleased when the guests admired the wide porch and the view, so urgent with the little damp sandwiches and the fruit punch. Mary Rose in white; Geraldine and Heloise in blue; Pauline in yellow. The youngest of them, a gawky and beautiful sixteen, was fondly called "Baby," and the sisters interrupted each other in eagerly telling Tony how smart she was, and how the boys liked her already.

It was a hot day, a rarely hot day for the ocean shore. It had brought forth an eruption of picnics and excursions; cars tinkled in black lines along the cliffs; every little cottage was gay with guests. Tiresome glare—tiresome people—rich, sticky, silly food; Tony endured them all with a sort of clinging of mental and spiritual forces. At Del Monte and Pebble Beach everything would be cool, elegant, ordered; the men in white, the women on the awniced terraces and in the cool deep rooms in frocks that had come halfway around the world.

If tomorrow were like today Joe would have heavenly weather for his housewarming. Ruth, Mrs. Patterson, Caroline would be there—not Larry. He was going back to the city; he did not dare come, he did not dare risk meeting this girl in white who was so dutifully amusing the Blys, so respectfully raising blue eyes to tiresome old Dr. Bly at the head of the long table.

"I Am Afraid You Will," He Said In a Hard Voice. erous and wonderful and good. He deserves a wife like Mary Rose!" "Well, she's a good child, she's a good child!" And the doctor took off glasses to wipe his smiling eyes.

"Now, listen, don't expect too much," Joe warned her. "It's only a shanty, really, but I've sort of fixed it up—"

room and put a big terrace off toward the north. "Well, blast it, those are just the things I want you to tell me!" Joe protested. They were down on the damp sand now, among the big rocks; there was shade here from the headland that ran out to sea, on the south; the waves were creaming in in lazy interlocking circles.

"We-e-e, this is what I bought, after all," Joe reminded her, well pleased. The rotund buns were toasted; the coffee poured like smoking amber into the white tin cups; the chops were sizzling in the last stage of perfection when there was a hall from the cliff. The four women and Joe looked up. It was Larry.

"Only," Tony answered, "when they have garlic and tomatoes and onions and eggs and cracker crumbs to disguise them. They're like clams. You have to have everything else to go with them."

"How goes it, Tony?" "Badly," the girl answered, with a brief little rueful laugh. "Yes, I know. It goes badly," he agreed solemnly.

"Ah, Larry my dear, never be afraid of that! I'm not like that, I've never cared before, not for anyone. I'll never care again this way. We have to separate, and to—to get over it—"

"I like it just as it is!" Tony, laughing as she stretched a hand to his, stepping carefully over the boulders he took like a stairway, stopped and corrected herself. "I could like it," she said. "I'd tile the floor of the big

Tony considered, her color fluctuating. "When would we get into town?" "About half-past one." "Oh, Larry, I would love it so!" "Get out of your engagement, then, and I'll pick you up at the hotel at half-past nine. You can get some dinner there?"

"I see," he said, troubled. "But what?" he asked, in the unencouraging, the almost harsh manner he had used throughout. "I shouldn't." "How'd you mean you shouldn't?" "I mean," Tony said hesitatingly, "that I won't tell Brenda. That sort of feeling."

Onions Good Crop In Lynn County

The News has clipped the follow-ing item from the February issue of The Earth, a publication issued by the Santa Fe Railway Company: J. R. Butler and A. L. Dunagan farmers living near Tahoka, Lynn County, have found onions to be a good crop for the county. Both farmers have raised small acreages that have produced exceptionally well. Mr. Butler in the New Lynn community, reports onions grow well in mesquite beds.

Old-Time Editor Appreciates News

Last week we sent a copy of the News to Mr. L. B. Russell, lawyer and for many years a newspaper publisher, at Comanche. This week he sent us the following nice letter.

Dear Sir: Somebody has sent me your paper, The Lynn County News. I looked for some marked article to indicate the sender but failed to obtain a clue. So, I must presume the editor sent it, on a venture that I would like it.

I sure do. If I actually needed it—that is, if I were within its terri-tory, I should certainly want it and subscribe for it. . . . It is one of the nicest, cleanest, and most sen-sible county papers I have seen.

Parenthetically, the piece of verse by the old darkey on the prodigal son is a new one on me, and full of the Old South's negro philoso-phy, and very amusing. Courteously, L. B. Russell.

Mr. Russell is one of the most colorful and interesting characters of Texas, a man of great ability and integrity. He still writes articles fre-quently for the Dallas News, and they are always crammed full of good common sense. We appreciate his kind words.

Appoints Mrs. Long As U. S. Senator

Important political events have been happening rapidly in Louisiana recently.

On Wednesday of last week Gov-ernor O. K. Allen, chief lieutenant of the late Senator Huey P. Long, died suddenly. Lieutenant Governor James A. Noe took the oath of office on the same day as governor. On Friday he appointed Mrs. Huey P. Long United States Senator from Louisiana to serve out the unexpired term of her late husband.

Mrs. Hattie W. Carraway of Ar-kansas is the only other woman senator. She was first appointed to serve the unexpired term of her late husband, Senator Carraway and was then elected to the office.

Miss Mary Ellen Conway, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Conway, underwent an operation for appendicitis in a Lubbock sanitari-um Tuesday morning. She is said to be convalescing in a satisfactory manner.

Mrs. C. R. Rigby of Oklahoma City is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Johnson.

Texas Centennial Stamp Is Selected

Postmaster General James A. Farley announced recently that the special Texas three-cent commemo-rative postage stamp, which is to be issued by the Post Office Depart-ment in connection with the state-wide Texas Centennial Celebration this year will be placed on first-day sale at the Gonzales, Texas, post offices throughout thshrdlu teetas offices on March 2, 1936. The new stamp will be available at post of-fices throughout the country the following day or as soon thereafter as distribution will permit.

The Texas stamp will be the same size as the Current Special Delivery stamp, 84-100 by 1, 44-100 inches, arranged horizontally. It will be printed in purple ink and will be enclosed in a double line border. Within upright oval panels on either side of the stamp will be portraits of Sam Houston at the left and Stephen F. Austin at the right, with their names in dark Gothic letters in narrow curved panels at the base of the ovals.

In the upper center of the stamp, over a large white star will be the inscription, "United States Postage, Texas Centennial, 1836-1936," in dark Gothic, arranged in three hor-izontal lines. The lower part of the central design will be a reproduction of the historic Alamo, with the title "The Alamo" in dark Gothic, in a narrow horizontal panel at the lower edge of the stamp. The de-notation designated "3c" will be in square panels with white back-ground in each lower corner of the stamp.

Stamp collectors desiring first-day cancellations on March 2 may send a limited number of addressed cov-ers, not to exceed a total of ten, with cash or postal money order remittance payable to the Post-master, Gonzales, Texas, covering the value of the stamps required for affixing. In order to receive the March 2 postmark, covers must reach the Postmaster, Gonzales, be-fore the close of business on that date.

Brand Collection For Centennial

Lubbock, Feb. 9.—A display of 500 cattle brands for the Texas Cen-tennial will be in charge of Gus L. Ford, head of the history depart-ment at Texas Technological Col-lege, who has been granted a leave of absence during the spring semes-ter in order to gather data and ma-terials for the exhibit. Ford was named history supervisor of the cattle brand exhibit last July by the Centennial commission.

The display will consist of plaques with lettered brand designs in burnt color against a contrasting back-ground, several branded cow-hides, maps and charts showing the de-velopment of the cattle industry in Texas from colonial days to the present, and portraits of cattle bar-ons during the last 100 years. A protective rail for the exhibit will be made of branding irons.

The survey to be made by Ford in the next few months will include research in libraries of the state to obtain unpublished material dealing with cattle brands, their origin, ownership, and extent of use, and examination of several private col-lections of cattle brands in various parts of the state, particularly San Angelo, San Antonio, El Paso, Abi-lene, and Plainview. He plans to send 500 letters to persons through-out the state asking them to nomi-nate brands for the display.

"Successful preparation of such a display necessarily will depend on the assistance of numerous individ-uals throughout the state who are familiar with the cattle industry with cattle brands," Ford said. He added that many have written him already, offering assistance.

Ford will resume his teaching duties during the summer session.

Tahoka Ginnings Now Total 9,606

The ginning season in Tahoka is just about over. In fact very little cotton has been ginned since the first of January. Most of that com-ing in now is of a very inferior grade. Good cotton would bring a-round ten cents but most of that ginned recently has been of the 6 or 7 cent class.

The number of bales ginned in Tahoka up to Thursday morning, counting round bales as half bales, is 9,606.

Are girls smarter than boys? The Junior class has two boys who share honors in being the youngest members of the class, James Thompson and John McCulloch, both fourteen years old.

Mary Ellen Conway, sophomore, was taken to Lubbock Monday night suffering from appendicitis.

Mrs. J. H. Tunnell drove to Lubbock Monday after school on business.

Mrs. Harvey Assiter visited friends and relatives in Floydada over the week end.

Miss Altha Wayne Jennings is back in school after a brief absence.

The Home Ec. 111 class has started the study of cooking. They studied clothing during the first half of the year.

The prize winner in typing last week was Clifton Rogge, who had an average of 21 words per minute and five errors. He received a ticket to the show. Carol Holloway ranked second, having an average of 23 words and thirteen errors.

Mr. W. G. Barrett, superintendent of the High School, is away on business this week in Austin. He is expected to be home the latter part of the week.

Miss Helen Roth Bell, freshman, has recently enrolled in the Freshman class. She formerly attended school at Dixie.

Friday night, Feb. 7, at the High School auditorium, under the supervision of Mr. Prentice Walker, an amateur night show will be given. The show is being presented in order to complete the funds for football sweaters. Mayor Wowles will be played by Raymond Weathers. There will be some grade school pupils, some high school pupils, and some town people who will participate in the event. The admission is 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for school children. Everyone is invited to come.

Monday afternoon track and football training was started. About twenty boys have come out for football, and according to Coach Walker the boys intend to choose up and play at the end of the season.

The students in advance arithmetic and civics have had a substitute teacher this week. Mr. J. T. Carter has taught these classes during the absence of Mr. Barrett.

Some of the local FFA members attended the district FFA meeting Saturday, Feb. 1, at Lubbock. There were eight members from here there. They are as follows: Hiram Snowden, Rudolph Snowden, Alvin White, James Price, G. C. Price, Arvil Akin, F. E. Redwine, Trust Cooper, and Mr. Stubbs, advisor.

The boys left Tahoka at 7:30 and arrived at Lubbock at 8:20. The meeting started at nine o'clock. A meet show was set for March 30, 31, and April 1. All Vocational Agriculture boys having livestock projects are asked to show at that time. Also, a representative of this district was elected to go to the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show. W. J. Masters of Plainview was elected. How to secure certificates of merit was discussed along with a few other things, and the meeting adjourned. The local boys got home about five o'clock.

Last Wednesday in chapel, the students were asked to vote upon some girl from the Senior class who would represent the school in a contest, sponsored by the D. A. R., in which one girl will be sent to Austin, where, out of the State, there will be sent one to Washington. Four girls were nominated: Eva Douthitt, Beatrice Estes, Pansy Tankersley, and Ina Bess Hicks. The students voted upon these four girls and Pansy Tankersley was chosen. Of this group, Pansy Tankersley was selected by a secret vote of the faculty.

Etha Humphries has been absent the last few days because of the illness of her grandfather.

The Sophomores are glad to have Aletha Goodnough, who was ill last week, back with us.

Gwendoline Baker, a Sophomore, girl, has withdrawn. She will attend school in Lubbock.

Honor Roll:
 Sophomore: Joe Alice Brooks.
 Freshman: Dick Bosworth, Sara Lou Rumbo, Mary Margaret Tunnell and Bryan Wright.
 Junior: Lois Montgomery, Luda Strasner, Lottie Jo Townes.

A. L. Dunagan brought to the News office Monday six varieties of vegetables still growing and thriving in his garden in spite of the intensely cold weather that has visited this section recently. The samples brought included mustard, turnips, carrots, lettuce, cabbage, and Bermuda onions.

Mr. Dunagan explains that every time a severe freeze comes, he floods the ground with water from his well, and this saves vegetables from serious damage.

SISTERS VISIT GEO. SMALL HERE SATURDAY, SUNDAY

George Small reports that he had one of the most pleasant surprises of his life late Saturday afternoon when he reached home and found there his three sisters, whom he had not seen together for fifteen years. They were Mrs. J. D. Hester of Spearman, Mrs. S. P. Burns of Brownwood, and Mrs. J. H. Burns of Plainview.

The three had gotten together and hurriedly planned a surprise visit. George says the youngest of the three is 61 years of age and the oldest 73 but all of them are spry and healthy. It was a great reunion occasion. They returned to their homes Sunday afternoon.

AN OLD DOCTRINE THAT HAS GROWN STRANGE

Last week we heard a good man proclaim a strange doctrine. "It is not the business of the government to support the people," he said. "It is the business of the people to support
the government."

That was the doctrine of Jefferson and Jackson and Cleveland and Wilson. It was the doctrine of the Democratic party for years and years and years. "Equal rights to all and special privileges to none" was a powerful Democratic battle-cry.

But what about it now?
Well, it may be the doctrine of the Democratic party yet, theoretically, but we haven't heard much about it lately.

It seems that nearly all of us are now asking special privileges of the government.

A lot of us seem to be depending upon the government for everything.

Some of us have come to believe that the government owes us a living, and if the wages it offers are deemed too low, we go on a strike, refuse to work, and sit around and whine expecting a free government hand-out.

The bug seems to have bitten
many of our good farmer friends, too, and they are demanding a subsidy, or bonus, or some kind of special remuneration—a "farmer's tariff", they call it—to match the protective tariff levied for the benefit of the American manufacturer.

Well, as a matter of fact, it would seem that they are as much entitled to special favors from the government as the manufacturer is;
but the old-time Democratic doctrine is that no class is entitled to special privileges. That is one of the baneful features of the protective tariff policy. When one class of our citizens are granted special favors, other classes demand special favors too.

So, instead of shutting off special privileges to the manufacturers, our government is undertaking, it seems, to grant special privileges to everybody.

First it came to the aid of the railroads, then to the banks, to the insurance companies, to Big Business generally, to organized labor,
to the unemployed, to the farmer,
and to the stock man.

Each of these programs of government aid was first started as a mere emergency measure but it is now proposed that some of them be continued as a permanent policy.

If the government is going to help everybody all the time, who is going to furnish the money and support
the government?

"Everybody," they say. "This is the new social order; the day of individualism and cut-throat competition is gone forever."

Yes, that is the doctrine the socialists have been proclaiming from the top of soap-boxes and beer-kegs for half a century. Let the government support everybody—but if it does so, everybody must divide up.
Sometimes we get sick and tired of the whole mess.

To meet an emergency, we have plowed up our crops, we have killed
our cows, we have got pay for hogs
we never raised, we have been drawing pay from the government for not planting our land in cotton and incidentally driven many tenants from the farms to the relief rolls, and we have come to look to the government for half the profits of farming.

And yet, it has taken us longer to recover from this depression than from any other depression in our history; and nearly as many men are out of employment today as in 1933.

Maybe these programs can be justified as emergency measures but surely we can not think of making them permanent and remain true to the genius of Democratic government.

We would like to see America get back to American ideals.

We would like to see the Democratic party get back to Democratic principles.

Let it start in by smashing the Smoot-Hawley protective tariff law

that hampers foreign trade.
Let us get back to the doctrine that the government should grant special privileges and favors to nobody; that it guarantees equal rights to all before the law; but that the federal government is a government of delegated powers, that it has no powers except those granted, expressly or by necessary implication, by the Constitution of the United States, and that all powers not so granted are expressly reserved to the states or to the people.

Adhering to these principles, this government would abandon the futile attempt to act as a Santa Claus for everybody, for every class and group of our citizenship, and yet it would have abundant powers to carry on its great program of public works, and otherwise to promote the general welfare and prosperity of the country.

Let's get back to Democratic principles.

THE AAA AND THE TARIFF

"The Texas Weekly, that ably-edited publication by Col. Peter Molyneaux, has this to say," points out the Marshall (Texas) News,
"about the AAA being unconstitutional:

"Amid the clamor which has followed the AAA decision of the United States Supreme Court . . .
may we be permitted to make one simple suggestion? There is a perfectly constitutional way of dealing with the cotton situation and with our economic situation generally.
The American tariff wall is not sacred under the constitution. Congress has complete power to lower it to any level it chooses. . . . Why are the gentlemen of congress and the farm leaders willing to undertake almost any legislative task . . .
rather than tackle the job of getting down the tariff wall?"

"Colonel Molyneaux is insistent in advocating that our tariffs are our greatest hindrance to recovery and especially does he claim they bear heavily on the farmer. And . . . as Mark Twain said about the weather,
'Nobody ever does anything about it.' As far back as our memory goes . . . every Democratic orator has been decrying the inequities of the tariffs but it ends just after a campaign is over. The present Congress with its large Democratic majorities has not even had a bill introduced to lower the tariff walls. The present day idea is that this country is self-sufficient and we do not need foreign trade but this idea means that we should only raise about 6,000,000 bales of cotton, for that is all our domestic textile mills consume. The South up to the time the cotton control plan began to operate was exporting an average of 8,500,000 bales annually while now we are sending to foreign nations less than 5,000,000 bales. . . . Our course has caused other cotton-producing countries to largely increase their cotton acreage and isn't there danger that when the bonus days are over
. . . we will only produce enough for our home mills? The three and one-half million bales we have lost, at least temporarily, to our foreign customers would have brought to this country last year, if sold at 10 cents a pound, the nice sum of $175,000,000.

"But if The Texas Weekly is correct we have lost this export business permanently unless we reduce our tariffs so foreign nations can sell us their goods.

The south should look at the matter from the results in the long run and not grow arrogant as we cash
our bonus checks."

MAKING POOLS OF OURSELVES

When people get excited, blinded by passion or prejudice, they often make fools of themselves.

We know by experience; we have tried it.

Often, when we have gotten all wrought up over something, we have done and said things that we realized later were perfectly foolish and silly. While in this condition we have said mean things that hurt us far worse than they hurt the character or reputation of the other fellow.

Usually we get wrought up most when we know least. Frequently our strongest beliefs and prejudices are based on the rankest kind of misinformation, or pure old ignorance.

Lots of us now are hearing and believing the wildest kind of tales about men and things at Washington. Rabble-rousing speakers are mis-interpreting facts, going off half-cocked, and making rash and absurd statements about men and measures and institutions in our Nation's capital. Some of us are drinking in this slush and permitting ourselves to become wildly excited.

We should like to suggest to all such that they get off to themselves somewhere, cool off a bit, and then do some sober thinking.

Our President, our Courts, and most of our Congressmen are doubtless trying to do the right thing.

Each is endeavoring to do his duty as he sees it. At least we should give them credit for being as patriotic, as honest, and as sane as the average of our Presidents, Courts, and Congressmen of the past have been. It is true that many Congressmen are often swayed from the path of right and wisdom and rectitude by political and partisan considerations. Presidents are likewise swayed sometimes by like considerations. Even our courts occasionally make mistakes, and it may be that a Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States is occasionaly influenced by improper motives or considerations, since they are mere human beings as the rest of us are, but we are persuaded that this occurs very rarely.

Why not concede that the President, the members of Congress, and the judges and justices of our courts are just as honest and just as patriotic as we the people ourselves?
And certainly they are far better informed as to their respective duties than any of us are.

So, folks, let's quit pulling our hair, and frothing at the mouth, and calling everybody crooked that doesn't see things as we do. In other words, let's quit making frantic fools of ourselves.

Thomas T. Waggoner of the Claude News knows all about the money question. He has been specializing on this subject most of his life. He would solve all our ills by issuing paper money. Last week he informed us that President Roosevelt is off his ca-zip about how to get the money to pay the bonus.
Mr. Waggoner points the way.

"The right way to pay this over two billion dollars," he says, "is to issue paper money backed by our Government, without being out one penny for tither principal or interest. All other Government indebtedness should be paid the very same way, until we have enough money in actual circulation to start all kinds of industries to humming, place the price of cotton at 20 cents a pound and wheat at $1.75 a bushel and all other farm products raised in price proportionately."

If we can pay our debts simply by issuing paper money, why not abolish taxes altogether?

Our national debt is now more than 32 billion dollars. Our population is about 125 million. If we were to issue enough paper money to pay all our debts, that would put 32 billion additional paper dollars in circulation or $256 per capita. Boy!
wouldn't that start the industries to humming! It would start us all humming. Provided, the value of the dollar didn't drop down to about seven cents or lower. But that's the fly in the ointment, Mr. Waggoner.

It will be noticed that most succides being committed by men are the result of financial worries, while most of those being committed by women follow drunken carousels.

The evils of the legalized liquor traffic in this state are already beginning to show up. There has apparently been a decided increase in drinking and in drunken driving.
Liquor dealers are flagrantly violating the law and in places defying the authorities. The liquor interests are filling the large daily newspapers of the state with attractive liquor advertisements. Whiskey is being made attractive to the young people.
Such a policy will in time bear its fruit. Liquor men know that it pays to advertise. If advertisement of liquors did not increase the consumption of liquor, the dealers would cease to advertise. The increased consumption of liquor means increased crime, increased poverty, increased automobile accidents. Let the present trend continue for ten years, or even five years, and we will see terrible conditions in this state again as to drunkenness and crime.

Laxative combination folks know is trustworthy

The confidence thousands of parents have in good, old reliable, papered Theford's Black-Draught has prompted them to get the new Syrup of Black-Draught for their children.
The grown folks stick to the powdered Black-Draught; the youngsters probably will prefer it when they outgrow their childish love of sweets.
Mrs. C. W. Adams, of Murray, Ky.,
writes: "I have used Theford's Black-Draught (powder) about thirteen years, taking it for biliousness.
Black-Draught acts well and I am always pleased with the results. I wanted a good, reliable laxative for my children. I have found Syrup of Black-Draught to be just that."

National Conoco Program Boosts Texas Centennial

Attend the Texas Centennial Exposition! Visit Texas scenic and historical shrines during 1936!

Continental Oil Company, through its February newspaper advertisements is inviting more than 25 million people living in 36 states and the District of Columbia to spend their vacations in the Lone Star state this year.

The first of this series of advertisement appears in today's news. It will also be reproduced in nearly 1,200 other newspapers, according to Wesley I. Nunn, Conoco advertising manager.

Today's advertisement includes an invitation to enjoy the Centennial, while the second of the series, due to appear during the week of February 9, calls attention to "famed San Jacinto" and the Centennial. The third and final advertisement of the Texas series, scheduled for the week of February 23, refers to "The Alamo-Texas Centennial high-spot."

Readers are asked to make their jaunt to Texas even more pleasurable by taking advantage of the free trip planning service of the Conoco Travel Bureau, Denver, Colo., largest organization of its type in America.

Centennial Essay Prizes Offered

Dallas, Texas, Feb. 9—Sixteen cash prizes totaling $1500 will be awarded the State winners in the Woodul Historical Essay Contest being sponsored by the State Headquarters of the Texas Centennial Celebrations. This contest is open to all public, private, and parochial schools in the state.

Only one month remains for students to prepare their entries for the first elimination will be held within each school during the first week in March.

Subjects for this contest are to be drawn from the history of the county in which the student now lives. The essay will deal with those phases of the county development which are ordinarily not included in recorded history. These topics are being gleaned by students from old newspaper files, public records, diaries, letters, and interviews with living pioneers.

Second eliminations will be conducted by County Centennial advisory Boards early in April, and the winning essay in the four divisions will be submitted by this Board to the State finals not later than May 1. State winners will be announced after May 15.

Rules governing this contest may be acquired by writing the Public School Division, State Headquarters, Texas Centennial, Dallas.

How Cardui Helps Women To Build Up

Cardui stimulates the appetite and improves digestion, helping women to get more strength from the food they eat. As nourishment is improved, strength is built up, certain functional pains go away and women praise Cardui for helping them back to good health. . . . Mrs. C. E. Ratliff, of Hinton, W. Va., writes: "After the birth of my last baby, I did not seem to get my strength back. I took Cardui again and was soon sound and well. I have given it to my daughters and recommend it to other ladies." . . . Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

PENSIONERS, CAT-FUR AND GOURDS

Editor Lynn County News:

In your Jan. 31 issue is an article ostensibly a contribution by "Uncle Bill", derogatory to the Townsend Pension Plan, which is ably written, and bears the imprint of superior analytic thought and profound reasoning. Not only so, it also portrays superlative dignity and refinement—all "in a pig's eye"; nevertheless, it needs the dextrous retouches of an artist to bring to the surface more vividly the full modicum of its meaning—if any. So, with your grant of space, I shall briefly, yet pleasurably consummate that bit of clerical drudgery for your readers. Though, for my pains, I cherish but the ghost of a hope of making any impression on Uncle Bill.

In his sixth paragraph he says: "As I understand the Townsend scheme the pensioners would eat the taxpayers to the tune of $200 a month, and in turn the taxpayers would eat the pensioners at the rate of $200 per month." But to stay in the confines of the exact, he should have said, "as I mis-understand" and so on.

He doesn't understand the proposed plan at all. He doesn't understand why the cat-hair-raising scheme failed, but merely opines that it was "some how". Now, here is the reason: There were on that East Texas ranch some prehistoric animals known as "cata-rata-mounts" which grew large and fat on both cat and rat diet; and these the syndicate's "brain-trust" advisors were intent upon keeping on the premises, even as our present brain-trusters cater to the modern counterparts of the said carnivorous monsters, the money sharks and corporations. So it was that the cata-rata-mounts ate or chased to their holes all the rats, catching and skinnin g alive the cats, thus furring up their own dens, just as the said money powers are doing to the inhabitants of the big U. S. ranch.

Next he says: "The pensioner would not be allowed to work any. He would have to hire lackeys to wait on him. At any rate, he must go broke at the end of each month." His last sentence is true; and all that's wrong with the first two is: The not in "would not" of the first should be shifted to follow "would" in the second. But which is worse, to "go broke" at the end of the month, with a check due the first or "go broke", as many do before the middle of the month, with no prospect of a check next month.

Now, where is the point in the story of the boy with the gourds tied to his toes? It bears about the same analogy to the Townsend plan that the French parliament does to a fried pie. Listen further at Uncle Bill: "If Dr. Townsend could show us how to lift ourselves into the air by our boot straps, or make something out of nothing, he might be able to show us where the money was coming from to pay these pensions." Well, I don't know who Uncle Bill is, and wouldn't wound his feelings for 1000 acres of cats nor all the rats in Lynn county, but really, if he is hankering to get up "in the air", maybe it's his boots or his feet that keeps him in contact with terra-firma; and if he would disengage himself of their weight he might quickly realize his coveted stratospheric leap. Quien sabe? But, as to the Dr. making "something out of nothing", that is beyond his plan. Indeed, where nature and environment have failed, the case is a hopeless one.

—N. W. ALLPHIN.

NOTE—The article signed by "Uncle Bill" which we published last week should have been credited to the Sterling City News-Record, of which "Uncle Bill" is the editor. Failure to give credit was an oversight. The Editor.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

The State of Texas.
To the Sheriff or Any Constable of Lynn County, Greeting:
You are hereby commanded to summon Kate Cassel by making publication of this citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Lynn County, Texas, to be holden at the courthouse thereof in Tahoka, on the 3rd. Monday in February, 1936, the same being the 17th day of February, 1936, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the first day of January, 1936, in a suit numbered 1085 on the docket of said court, wherein V. S. Cassel is plaintiff, and Kate Cassel is defendant, said petition alleging the marriage of said parties on the 30th day of January, 1910, and their separation as man and wife on or about the 27th day of July, 1935, same being caused by cruel and harsh treatment and improper conduct of the defendant toward plaintiff, by reason of which plaintiff was compelled to abandon defendant, none of which conduct was caused by plaintiff; that the conduct of defendant toward plaintiff generally are of such a nature as to render their further living together as husband and wife insupportable; asking that said marriage relations be dissolved and a divorce granted and for costs of suit.

Refreshing Relief

When You Need a Laxative
Because of the refreshing relief it has brought them, thousands of men and women, who could afford much more expensive laxatives, use Black-Draught when needed. It is very economical, purely vegetable, highly effective. . . . Mr. J. Lester Robertson, well known hardware dealer at Martinsville, Va., writes: "I certainly can recommend Black-Draught as a splendid medicine. I have taken it for constipation and the dull feelings that follow, and have found it very satisfactory."

about your winter gasoline

You can be your own "gasoline scientist" right now, and you won't have to believe anything but your own car. This is a month of weather when you can't mistake what's actually happening out under your hood. When Winter Blend Conoco Bronze gives you regular rapid starts that remind you of June, you just simply know it. . . . you don't need any arguments. Nobody has to tell you that you are letting go of your starter and choke much quicker with Conoco Bronze. . . . you just know it. Nobody has to tell you that Conoco Bronze is helping to keep your battery vigorous. . . . you just know it. And so that's how you know for yourself that your Conoco Bronze is faithfully blended just right for the weather in this vicinity today. Continental Oil Company, Established 1875

New Chevrolet Truck on Economy-Safety Run

Carrying a 10,000-lb. cement block from Los Angeles to New York, a 1 1/2-ton Chevrolet truck—one of the new 1936 models just introduced—demonstrated that safe driving means economy. Speed limits were observed in every community, with 35 m.p.h. the maximum on the open road. The 3511.4 miles were completed on two quarts of oil and 308.6 gallons of gasoline, at a cost of 0.16 cents per mile, or one-third of a cent per ton mile. The entire run was completed without any mechanical failure, repairs, or even a scratched fender. The illustrations show the test truck and features of the new 1936 models. Coupe type cabs with solid steel roof, full-floating rear axle, and full-length water jackets, are some of the improvements. In the lower right, Harry Hartz, who drove the cross-continent test, is seen beside the 10,000-lb. block. The test was officially observed by the American Automobile Association.

The Way of Inflation

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

If a merchant, or a farmer, or the average householder persistently spends more than he earns, he goes broke. He pays for his folly in the wreck of his business, his property, and, perhaps, his career.

With governments it can be different. From time to time various nations have indulged in continued reckless expenditures, yet escaped immediate collapse. How? By resort to the desperate remedy of inflation—whether of currency or of credit.

The difference is that the individual bears the brunt of the blow himself, while governments pass it on to their citizens.

History has demonstrated this on many occasions. Perhaps the best remembered example of recent years is that of Germany, where post-war inflation brought hardship and hunger to millions of workers. Records do not show that the clever politicians who brought it all about, or the very rich, went hungry. That was reserved for the average run of citizens, who saw prices rise so swiftly that neither earnings nor savings could keep pace with them.

For a while the situation grew so serious that workmen found it necessary to demand pay for their services at the end of each day's labor. They knew that if they waited, prices might mount so rapidly that even a week's pay couldn't buy one bowl of soup.

Germany's experience was not an isolated one. It has been duplicated to a lesser degree in many countries and in many periods of history. It is because of the evidence such experiments offer, that an increasing number of thoughtful Americans oppose the course of reckless government expenditure that causes inflation.

The concern of such citizens is not for the very rich and the very shrewd—who know just when to buy and sell, or how to rig or play the stock market. It is rather for the average family that depends on a weekly or monthly wage for income, and a savings account or life insurance policy for security. Those are the people who shoulder the burden and suffer the hurts of inflation.

And those are the people who can stop its course.

They face a great responsibility. Under our Constitution the conduct of national affairs rests ultimately in their hands. If they insist on reasonable economy, the men who represent them in government must obey, they encourage either the burden of increased taxes, or the still heavier toll of inflation with all its golden opportunities for the speculator, and its grim penalties for the worker.

more than the preaching of our corrective and stabilizing Gospel for all conditions challenging Christians and the Church of today. A man said the other day: "I never did hear a Presbyterian sermon preached." I asked him in what school or intelligent community was he raised. His reply explained in full why he had never heard a Presbyterian sermon. If you don't go somewhere else, be in our Sunday morning service. Always glad to have our members and visitors in our Gospel services. You are invited.—W. K. Johnston, Minister.

MINOR BATON CLUB

The Minor Baton had a pleasant evening Monday in the home of Miss Lottie Jo Townes, hostess. Following the business session, the Counselor gave the study chapter beginning the origin and development of the pipe organ.

The annual hymn memory contest for which this year five new hymns are required was started with a Christmas carol, "Joy to the World".

After hot chocolate and cakes had been served to members and one guest, games were enjoyed until time for adjournment.

The next meeting will be in the Snowden home, when the annual program of Texas compositions will be rendered.—Reporter.

MRS. LEE SHORT HOSTESS TO DIXIE H. D. WOMEN

"The five largest cities of Texas are San Antonio, Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth, and El Paso," said Mrs. Lee Short to the Dixie Home Demonstration club members at her home February 5.

San Antonio is noted for its historical buildings, more especially the Alamo, where 172 Texans led by Travis fought off 4,000 Mexicans until over-powered. It is also noted for its beautiful scenery and plazas. The Alamo plaza is rich in historical lore.

Dallas and Fort Worth are two of America's most progressive cities. They are noted for their numerous factories, packing houses and beautiful buildings.

Houston is a large cotton shipping center.

A U. S. Cavalry post is situated at El Paso and it is a mining center also for gold, silver, copper and lead.

Mrs. A. L. Dunagan was elected council representative.

Means of raising funds for the treasury were discussed and also the preparation of foods for the Meat Show at Lubbock.

Members present were: Mesdames Lee Short, A. L. Dunagan, G. L. Cobb, Foy Todd, and F. E. House. Visitors were: Mesdames Jess Taber, G. M. Murrah, C. B. Cabe, and J. W. Lowrey.

MR. AND MRS. M. P. CLINTON HONORED, BIRTHDAY FEAST

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Reece of Dixie entertained with a 12 o'clock surprise birthday dinner Sunday, Feb. 2, honoring Mrs. Reece's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Clinton, celebrating Mr. Clinton's seventy-fifth birthday and Mrs. Clinton's sixty-ninth.

A beautifully decorated cake centered the well-filled table of good eats.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hornbeck and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Foreman of Lamesa, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Russell and two children of Joe Stokes; Mr. and Mrs. Claud Grey of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Morris and two children of Dixie; Morris Meddlin, Mrs. Lizzie Hill of Eldorado, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clinton and three children of Tahoka; and the honorees, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton.

There were 25 present, all honoring the honorees with nice presents.

CHURCH OF CHRIST NOTES

Last Lord's Day services were fairly well attended. Brother Benson and family, who have moved near Brownfield, were with us, as well as several other visitors.

We have several members of the Church in our midst who have not put their membership in with us. If I understand the Bible teaching on this point, it is that when we move, our membership is moved too, just like our household goods. And why some people wait two or three years before taking membership is more than I can understand. We are working, planning and praying for our Spring meeting, which will be held the last two Lord's Days in July. I feel we are very fortunate in securing men of Brother Wallace and Doran's ability to help us.

Another thing that bothers me, why church members can get up at five o'clock Saturday and Monday mornings but have to sleep until seven or eight on the Lord's Day. Remember Sunday is the Lord's Day.

Another thing that seems strange to me: How God's people have money for, and take a daily paper, but cannot afford a religious paper. Come worship with us next Lord's Day. Subject: "Why Christ Suffered", morning: "Paul Reaches Rome" evening.

The friendly church, where you are a stranger but once.
—R. P. Drennon.

Mrs. Elbert Rogers was called to Brownfield Sunday by the serious illness of her mother, but she returned home Monday night reporting her mother much improved.

WILSON H. D. CLUB LADIES MEET WITH MRS. BAKER

"Home must be a partnership," said Mrs. L. B. Thornton to the Wilson Home Demonstration club at the home of Mrs. B. W. Baker February 4.

"Home must be a partnership. Each must be considerate of rights and opinions of the other. Husband and wife need to consult each other about the many problems of the home. Each needs the help of the other in rearing the children."

"In order to be a pal to your children you must trust them and win their confidence," said Mrs. Crosby.

"Children have to have money, so I consider it better to let them earn it. By assigning chores and paying them, they have their own money and learn to value it more. Of course in some cases this might cause them to forget their sense of duty about the home. But as children like to handle their own money, some plan should be worked out which will provide the children with money of their own," said Mrs. Brandon.

Mrs. R. A. Kahlich, Mrs. J. C. Key, and Miss Clara May came as new members.

The finance committee suggested a plan for raising money by making a quilt to be given with a lucky ticket. Mrs. Miller will have the blocks cut and ready for distribution at the next meeting.

Mrs. H. G. Cook was a visitor. Members: Miss Clara May, Mmes. J. C. Key, L. B. Thornton, M. W. Todd, Jack Miller, M. J. Scaer, J. W. Wilson, R. E. Finley, P. D. Serber, H. B. Crosby, R. A. Kahlich, B. W. Baker, and M. C. Brandon.

NEW LYNN 4-H CLUB

The Club met at New Lynn school house with our Home Demonstration Agent Miss Robb. She gave us a club book for the year. She told us some more about our aprons. We hope to have them all finished by next time. Allene Bartley is our garden demonstrator, and Mary Gladys Waggoner is our clothing demonstrator. We sang the song "Beautiful Texas."

The following were present: Lillian Jones, Effie Waggoner, Pauline Perkins, Geneva Bingham, Venell Walker, Gracie Crouch, Juanell Cearley, Mezzie Mae Baker, Mary Gladys Waggoner, Jean Hill, Louise Newman, Mildred Gary, Juanita Jones, Imalou Newman, Isoril Meeks, Gladys Carter, Eloise Meeks.—Reporter.

FOLLOW the FUNNIES

Here are real friends whose life's business is making you happy!

FRIENDS who never fail to make you laugh can always make you forget the painful pressure of your corns or taxes. On the Funny Page of this newspaper are a group of friends whose riotous antics shoo the blues away week after week.

For instance, there are Gene Byrnes' "Reg'lar Fellers," as likely a band of youngsters as ever busted a school-house window. Jimmie Dugan, Aggie Riley, Puddin'head and Pinhead, Bump Hudson and the dog Bullseye are worth a chuckle in every line.

DESPERATE Ambrose, who becomes doubly dangerous when donning his vendetta hat, Pop Wimpus and Old Timer have become national institutions in the uproarious strip, "S'Matter Pop?" by C. M. Payne. One of the wildest, craziest comics in the world, this is still as true to life as cold oatmeal or corned beef hash.

SLIGHTLY daffy, of course, are "The Feather-heads," but only daffy enough to do the things that all of us do that are good for a million laughs in our daily lives. Cartoonist Osborne's funny folk also come to you every week in this paper.

AND Finney. "Finney of the Force" is the answer to the charge that nobody loves a policeman. This genial flatfoot's humorous adventures, as portrayed by the young artist, Ted O'Loughlin, are a lot of fun for him and even more for you as you watch him walk his beat.

"MESCAL IKE" by S. L. Huntley brings you Mescal himself, Pa Piffle, Miss Sally Price, Dirty Shirt Mulloney, Muley Bates and the other salty citizens of Cactus Center. This hilarious strip has the excitement of a diamond-back's rattle, a kick like an untamed Mustang and all the dry humor of a desert mule.

UNUSUAL insight into human nature and a keen sense of humor are the stock in trade of Magnus G. Kettner, who ranks among the truly great cartoonists of the day. In "Our Pet Peeve," "Along the Concrete," and his other cartoons, there is always a chuckle, often a real, constructive thought, but never a sting. Especially has Kettner caught the warm humor of small town and rural life.

Follow the doings of these friends of yours. They'll make your life gayer, your lot easier and your digestion better.

Mother Stroud Hurt In Fall Down Steps

While down town on a charitable mission Monday morning, Mrs. Martha (Mother) Stroud had occasion to visit at the court house. As she started to descend one of the stairways leading from the second floor to the basement, she lost her footing and fell and rolled almost all the way down the steps. Luckily no bones were broken but she sustained a number of painful bruises and one or two bad contusions.

Friends helped her to a car and took her to the Parkhurst home, where she resides. Her injuries are said to be healing as well as could be expected.

Centennial Coins To Be Ready Soon

Thirty thousand bright new shining half-dollars, designed as Texas Centennial coins, are being molded by the Denver and San Francisco mints, according to an announcement from N. M. O'Reilly, assistant director of the United States mint.

The coins are being minted as an observance of Texas independence and the formation of the Republic of Texas. Distribution of the new coins will be made through the Texas department of the American Legion, profits of which will be used as a fund to build a great Texas Memorial Museum, to be located on the campus of the University of Texas. The memorial will be in honor of the men and women who built Texas.

Credit for creating the idea of minting the Texas coins goes to A. Garland Adair, chairman of the American Legion Texas Centennial Committee.

The attractive coin, soon to be the envy of numismatists, was designed by Pompeo Coppini of San Antonio and New York City, internationally famed sculptor.—Texas Centennial Review

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Harris left Sunday with their niece, Miss Mildred Harris, for Denton, where the latter entered the C. I. A. They were also accompanied to Denton by Mrs. Harris' sister, Mrs. Lida Pogue, who had been visiting here several weeks, and who was returning to her home at Sulphur Springs.

"QUOTES"

COMMENTS ON CURRENT TOPICS BY NATIONAL CHARACTERS

Opinions expressed in the paragraphs below are not necessarily concurred in by the editor of this newspaper.

AAA BENEFITS

By EDWARD A. O'NEAL, Head of the American Farm Bureau Federation. THE program launched by organized agriculture must go forward. The American farmer will continue to fight for economic parity. Under the operations of the Agricultural Adjustment act the agricultural march toward parity, by giving farmers a purchasing power, has stimulated business revival throughout the country. We are going to look to congress to take specific steps which will provide by legislation the mechanism by which agricultural parity is to be continued. It is up to congress to provide that legislation within the provisions of the Constitution.

THE PARALLEL

By PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT. SOMETIMES at the close of a day I say to myself that the last national election must have been held a dozen years ago—so much water has run under the bridge, so many great events in our history have occurred since then. And yet 34 months—less than three years—have gone by since March, 1933. History repeats in these crowded months, as in the days of Jackson—two great achievements stand forth—the rebirth of the interest and understanding of a great citizenry in the problems of the nation and an established government which by positive action has proved its devotion to the recovery and well-being of that citizenry.

A DEFENSE OF CAPITALISM

By JOHN S. THOMAS, President of Clarkson College. WE LISTEN with rapt attention while our intelligentsia tell us that the chief interest of business men is to bring on periodic collapse; that our farmers are failures; that we who work are oppressed; that our statesmen are stupid, venal and hired; that criminals rule our cities; that we owe ourselves so much money we are bankrupt, and that what we do not owe ourselves, we have lent to Europe. And poor old capitalism! Capitalism has not a leg to stand on. Being tried for life, she seems not to have a friend left in court. And all of this, mind you, in spite of the fact that capitalism and the principle of competition in business working together in this country since 1789 have given us the most marvelous 140 years ever enjoyed by any people, anywhere, at any time.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

By MR. HOOVER. THE most ominous note of all was the President's warning that the power he has assumed would be dangerous in other hands. "In thirty-four months," he says, "we have built up new instruments of public power. In the hands of the people's government, this power is wholesome and proper." It just happens that the ideal upon which our government was founded and hitherto conducted is that it is dangerous to the people to have any man possess such powers, or to allow any man to thus aspire to personal government instead of a government of laws. The question is, not that these powers, having been created and now in the hands of the good, might be transferred to the hands of the wicked, if the New Deal is not continued. It is that they never should be possessed by anybody in these United States.

Piece of True Cross Stolen

Priceless religious relics valued at more than $700,000 have been stolen from Pamplona cathedral, Spain. It is believed the thieves escaped over the frontier. A portion of the True Cross is among the loot. The culprits succeeded by making themselves familiar with the cathedral routine and obtaining keys to open the treasure chests. Chalice, crosses and gems were taken by the thieves.

Going Out of Ourselves to Refresh Our Thoughts

Doctor Richardson tells us there is nothing so wholesome for an active mind as to secure rest by variety of work. A man can do five or six times more than he expects if he varies his work. I have found that to be so in my own life. By varying his work a man obtains fresh spirits, and renewed powers for the duties of daily life. There is so much that is discouraging and depressing in the world, that we must sometimes go forth, as it were, out of ourselves for fresh thoughts and fresh air. The greatest workers, when they go out for a holiday, are not idle; they find rest by change of occupation. Life is too short to admit of idleness in any body.—Erskine Clarke.

5 P.M. is a test of how you FEEL

"How do I feel... Rotten! why do you ask?" "Because, you are not yourself!"

Advertisement for SSS Tonic. Text: 'IT is all so simple, too! That tired, run-down, exhausted feeling quite often is due to lack of a sufficiency of those precious red-blood-cells. Just build up these oxygen-carrying cells and the whole body takes on new life... food is really turned into energy and strength... you can't help but feel and look better. S.S.S. Tonic restores deficient red-blood-cells... it also improves the appetite and digestion. It has been the nation's standby for over 100 years... and unless your case is exceptional it should help you, too. Insist on S.S.S. Tonic in the blood-red cellophane-wrapped package. The big 20-oz. size is sufficient for two weeks' treatment... it's more economical.', 'SSS TONIC Makes you feel like yourself again'.

Cactus in Ethiopia Came From Somewhere in America

American barbed wire manufacturers are said to be refusing orders from the belligerent powers in Africa. But something from America, almost as wicked, was at the front long before Romans and Ethiopians began taking pot-shots and spear-jabs at each other.

Uncommon Sense By John Blake

A rich man can endow a laboratory or a hospital, but neither of them would be of any use were it not for the scientists who form the staffs.

The scientist is the real philanthropist. He not only restores the ailing to good health but he contributes in one way or another to every activity which is for the betterment of the human race.

Not long ago, I visited the town where I was born. When I left it we used cordwood for fire, got water from a pump outside the house, and if we took a journey we either rode on a train that was capable of no speed greater than twenty miles an hour, or else on a buckboard.

Today business men are trying in every way to cut down waste. Worst waste called upon to do of all definite jobs in definite times.

The value of time is known by every employe. It is understood by every employe in every large establishment. But it is wasted to a greater or less extent by more than half of the people of this country.

Nothing of importance or usefulness. The time that he has then is his own. He could spend it reading. He could spend a part of it thinking, without any strain on his brain.

It was in his spare time that Benjamin Franklin discovered the power of electricity and laid the foundation for the vast electrical development today.

The Crown Remains Veterans Reach the Top The Useful Red Cross Oxygen Is Life

Behind the gray walls of Windsor castle, on the hill above the Eton school, where young England learns discipline and cricket, King George's coffin was lowered into the vault to lie beside his father, King Edward VII, and his grandmother, Queen Victoria.

The services were broadcast, new feature of a royal funeral. The simple Church of England burial service, read by the Archbishop of Canterbury, was heard far over the earth, wherever Britain's 400,000,000 subjects live.

Veterans having successfully climbed the long, long road, the government began the biggest "pay-off" job in history, the printing of two billion four hundred million dollars' worth of bonds, to be distributed among 3,518,191 World War veterans.

Interesting news from Ethiopia sent by an American correspondent says the residence of Haile Selassie's son has on the roof a large red cross, although it has nothing to do with the Red Cross.

"The Blood Is the Life," according to an old Hebrew saying, and oxygen is the life of the blood. No oxygen means death, in three minutes or less; too little oxygen means premature death, inferior health meanwhile.

All five walk, all have gained weight during the past month, and have new teeth. Annette has three new ones, twelve in all. All have beautiful big eyes, high foreheads, pretty faces and look as French as the Marsellaise; get plenty of oxygen, but wrap up well.

Lloyd George says the new king, Edward VIII, has the magnetism of his grandfather, Edward VII; that he comes to the throne with such great troubles ahead as few kings have ever encountered, but "his courage and his sure instinct will not fail him."

The unnecessary air disaster in Hawaii, two United States bombing planes destroyed in collision while flying "in formation" and six men killed, causes aviators to say that they object to night formation flying. They may well object; nothing more densely stupid could be imagined than sending up planes to fly at high speed, almost wing to wing, inviting disaster and death.

Mr. John Horan of Milwaukee, called by his fellow workers "Soda Ash Johnny," first used soda ash to clean locomotive boilers, a discovery that should have made him rich, but did not.

The statement that imagination is worse than reality applies to everything—death included, let us hope. When a colony of nudists move on San Diego, Calif., the strongest protest comes from San Diego's Braille club, an organization of blind people. They could not actually know whether the colonists were dressed or not, but they do not like the idea.

Lesson for February 9

JESUS INSISTS ON RIGHTEOUSNESS

LESSON TEXT—Luke 6:39-49. GOLDEN TEXT—Why call ye me, Lord, and do not the things which I say?—Luke 6:46. PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Tells Us What to Do. JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus' Code for Helpers. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Overcoming Our Faults. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Test of Our Religion.

In verses 20-26 Jesus sets forth the inner spiritual condition of those who are members of his kingdom. In the lesson text for today he sets forth the principles governing the life of his followers.

I. Love Your Enemies (v. 29). Love here is not mere natural affection. Love is not sentiment but is the sincere desire for the welfare of another, and the willingness to do all in his power to accomplish that which is good for the individual. To love friends is easy, but to love enemies is only possible to those who have been born again.

II. Do Good to Them Which Hate You (v. 27). Love is positive in its nature. The disciple of Christ will not merely refrain from doing injury to one who hates him, but will be concerned with and engaged in doing good to him.

III. Bless Them That Curse You (v. 28). To bless means to speak well of, to invoke a blessing upon. IV. Pray for Them Which Despitefully Use You (v. 28).

It is obligatory upon the Christian to pray for those who heap abuses upon him. The best commentary on this is Christ's own example. "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do" (Luke 23:34). When Christ was reviled he reviled not again; "When he suffered, he threatened not; but committed himself to him that judgeth righteously" (1 Pet. 2:23).

V. Patiently Endure Wrong and Injury (v. 29). The Christian is not to bristle in defense of his rights, but rather to suffer insult, injury, and even loss. This expresses the law which governs the individual's action and should not be pressed so far that evidences go unchecked. Rightly constituted government has been ordained of God for the protection of the innocent and punishment of evildoers (Rom. 13:1-5).

VI. Give to Every Man That Asketh of Thee (v. 30). This text does not authorize promiscuous giving, neither does it mean that any request made by the idle, greedy, and selfish should be granted. There is a giving which injures the one to whom the gift is made. It would not be proper to give a man money to buy whisky. The principle enjoined is to give the thing needed to the one asking. The supreme need of every able-bodied person is to be given a way to earn his living.

VII. Do to Others as You Wish Others to Do to You (v. 31-35). This is called the Golden Rule. It is the sum total of Christian duty as it pertains to human inter-relations. If this rule were lived up to, the problem of capital and labor would be solved, war would cease, international relations would be peaceably adjusted, and all profiteering in business would end.

VIII. Be Merciful (v. 36). This means to be filled with pity and compassion; to enter into sympathy with every need of others. Our supreme example is the Heavenly Father. IX. Censorious Judgments Condemned (v. 37). This means that the evil or false in others should not be sought out. We should not sit in critical judgment upon the action of others. This does not, however, prohibit the estimation of others by their deeds.

X. Compensations of Right Living (v. 38). The believer who gives freely of money, loves sincerely, makes the Golden Rule the standard of his life, shows mercy and kindness to others, and refrains from imputing the motives of others, will be fully rewarded.

XI. Danger of Following False Teachers (v. 39). The teacher who does not know God and the way to heaven will lead others into ruin. Only such as know God should be followed. XII. Those Who Reprove Others Should Live Blameless Lives (vv. 41, 42). Evil doing should be removed from our lives before bringing others to account.

XIII. The Sin of Profession Without Fruitbearing (v. 43-46). The one who is in fellowship with God will practice the principles which reveal God's nature.

A Rose Every rose is an autograph from the hand of the Almighty God. On this world about us he has inscribed his thought, in those marvelous hieroglyphs which sense and science have been these many thousand years seeking to understand. The universe itself is a great autograph of the Almighty.—Theodore Parker.

Some Club Luncheon Ideas for the Puzzled Hostess

It is a Sensible Custom to Serve at Regular Meal Hour.

Herewith is given a menu for a very simple club luncheon, to be served before the afternoon bridge. It is such a sensible custom to serve a luncheon at a regular meal hour instead of refreshments at an hour which will be so near dinner time that appetite is lost.

Another good reason for serving beforehand is that most women feel it necessary to get home before the children's supper hour, and when there is a distance to be traveled, they are anxious to leave as soon as the game is over.

As far as the hostess herself is concerned, it is usually easier for her to serve before bridge than after. She can then play her hand without worry as to whether the coffee is boiling over or the sandwiches drying out.

For a club that is original in its idea of what may be served at luncheon, the hostess of the day invited the eight members to a break-fast party served at ten o'clock. She provided melon as a fruit course and then served coffee, small baked sausages, creamed potatoes and waffles. There were plenty of waffles and they made the dessert as well when the stirup was passed.

Another woman, who had been sent a Virginia ham from her southern home, gave her guests ham and eggs and hot waffles with grapefruit as a starter. The clever hostess does not feel that she must follow accepted formulas for refreshments for her parties, and her guests always agree with her.

Luncheon Menu. Chicken turnover. Celery Pickles. Ice cream with meringues. The meringues can be bought at the bakery. As they are often rather long for an afternoon service, the small "kisses" can take their place.

Find 800-Year-Old "Bowl" Where Games Were Played

Discovery of a large oval "bowl" where prehistoric America's exciting games were played 800 years ago is announced at Flagstaff, Ariz., by Dr. Harold S. Colton of the Museum of Northern Arizona.

The discovery, pronounced amazing, was made in northern Arizona near Flagstaff, by a joint expedition of the Museum and Arizona State Teachers College of Flagstaff, led by J. C. McGregor.

The find surprises archeologists, because never before has it been realized that ball games—national sport of Mayas, Aztecs, and other Indians of Mexico—were popular over so wide an area of ancient America.

The bowl court now excavated is an oval bowl about 100 feet long and 45 feet wide, with slightly pointed ends. The sloping sides, Doctor Colton said, must have been seven or eight feet high, and the floor was level. A goal was made of four rocks in the floor.—Science Service.

ture. Place on lee to harden, and repeat. A ring mold is attractive when it is turned out—and then the center can be filled with sliced cucumber mixed with whipped sour cream seasoned with onion and tarragon vinegar. When the mold is set, turn out on a platter and garnish with lettuce or romaine. Pass the sour cream dressing or mayonnaise.

Chicken Turnover. Cut pastry into long rounds and spread with a filling made of minced cooked chicken seasoned with onion juice, salt, pepper and moistened with cream. Fold the pastry over, press edges together, brush with milk and bake about ten minutes until brown in a hot oven (450 degrees Fahrenheit).

Slenderizing Surplice Tops an At-Home Frock

PATTERN 9609

What if you do wear a forty-six? No need to sacrifice femininity on that account, for a frock with gracious, slimming lines can make you look as young as you feel. Why not choose an easy pattern with surplice bodice for your next "at home" style—like the one sketched today? Simplicity is the keynote of those sweeping lines that outline the collarless, surplice yoke. The slenderizing effect carries right on down into the skirt—a clever piece of designing, we'd say!

Pattern 9609 may be ordered only in sizes 16, 18, 20, 24, 26, 30, 34, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 requires 3 1/2 yards 36 inch fabric. Complete, diagrammed sew chart included. SEND FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE.

Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept., 232 W. Eighth St., New York, N. Y.

Business Census Will Be Taken

J. B. Walker has been appointed supervisor of a business census to be taken of Lynn county.

This is being done under the direction of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C. It is for the use of this department of the government only and may not be used by any other department for any purpose. Even Mr. Walker, the county supervisor, is sworn not to reveal to any person any of the information which comes to him acting in this capacity.

It is hoped that the business men of the county will cheerfully cooperate with him in gathering this information for the Department of Commerce at Washington, which is to be used for statistical purposes only.

Cupid Gets Results. Three Couples Wed

C. W. Gary and Miss Minnie Whittington of New Lynn were united in marriage here Wednesday of last week, Rev. W. P. Bussell officiating.

D. B. Bigham and Miss Katie May King were married here Saturday, with Rev. Robert Hodges of the Nazarene Church reading the marriage vows.

On Tuesday Blanton Payne and Miss Opal Hatch of Slaton appeared before His Honor W. S. Swan armed with a marriage license, and the Judge proceeded to do his duty. The couple left happily, as husband and wife.

The News joins many friends in wishing all these young couples long lives of happiness and prosperity.

Tech's Museum Will Start Soon

Lubbock, Feb. 9.—First unit of the West Texas museum at Texas Technological College will be built south of the college bookstore, it was decided at a meeting of the Tech Board of Directors recently. Appropriation of $25,000 for building the museum was made by the Centennial Commission of Control last fall.

Present plan for the museum, made at a meeting of the building committee and approved by the Board of Directors, is to construct a basement as the first unit. The West Texas Museum association, however, hopes to obtain additional funds from local contributions before the contracts are let. If these contributions are obtained, a museum building may be constructed.

Final plans for the museum must be approved by the State Board of Control. Work on the unit will start as soon as the contract is let by this Board. Pres. Bradford Knapp of the college said.

Will Give O'Donnell Postmaster Exam.

A civil service examination for applicants for the postmastership at O'Donnell will be held in Tahoka at an early date. Applications must be in Washington by Friday, February 21. Blanks can be procured at the O'Donnell post office.

The purpose is to appoint a successor to the present postmaster, Hal Singleton, who has held the position for twelve years and whose present term will soon expire. It is understood that there will be quite a number of applicants.

Mr. Singleton has been in the service of the Government in one capacity or another for more than forty years. He is a brother of our own Dr. J. R. Singleton.

Bullock Is Out For State Superintendent

The News has received announcement of the candidacy of A. A. (Pat) Bullock for State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Mr. Bullock was reared in Mitchell and Scurry counties and taught several years in Scurry county. Then he was elected county superintendent of that county and served in that capacity several years. His announcement states that he is 41 years of age and has been active in the schools of Texas for 20 years. For two and a half years he served as Director of the Rural Aid Division of the Department of Education, going to the Works Progress Administration on September 3, 1935, where he established the WPA Emergency Education Program in Texas.

The editor of this paper has known Mr. Bullock personally for 15 years, and we know him to be an active, progressive, and proficient school man and a gentleman of the highest type.

Letter Sweaters Are For Lettermen Only

At a meeting of the T-Club at the High School Tuesday afternoon, a decision was reached to allow no one to wear a Tahoka High School letter sweater who has not legally been awarded one by the school. Those who have not lettered and who are wearing letter sweaters will be courteously asked to refrain from wearing such sweater or to remove the T from the sweater.

J. K. Applewhite was a business visitor in Amarillo the first three days this week.

Sing-Song Directors Meet Here Saturday

The Sing-Song directors of the various schools of Lynn county will meet in the Baptist Church here at 10 o'clock Saturday morning for the purpose of organizing and making plans for the county-wide singing to be held here later, according to County Superintendent H. P. Caveness.

Prof. L. B. Waldrep, principal of the Dixie school, is general director.

Mrs. H. M. Snowden and Hiram have each been sick several days this week.

Mrs. H. W. Calaway Reported Improving

H. W. Calaway of Draw, former citizen of Tahoka, was here Tuesday and reported that Mrs. Calaway had almost completely recovered from the injuries sustained in an accident that befell her while in Tahoka a few weeks ago.

While at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. K. Woosley, she started out onto the walk with a little child in her arms. She tripped and fell, resulting in the fracture of her shoulder blade. While it was a very painful and quite serious injury, yet it has healed remarkably well for a person past the meridian of life.

Cowboy Segrist Is After State Office

Kal (Cowboy) Segrist of Dallas has announced as a candidate for commissioner of agriculture. He states that he was reared on a farm at Hico in Hamilton county and has the support of business men and farmers of that section.

He attended John Tarleton College and Simmons University, for six years was a professional baseball player, was employed in the U. S. Reclamation Service in Arizona, served in the Medical Corps of the U. S. Navy during the World War. He is 39 years of age.
